Forrestal Backs UMT Substitute

Compromise Plan Includes Limited Universal Training And Temporary Draft; "Maximum Strength At Minimum Of Cost" Says Defense Head

Washington, April 24 (AP)—A compromise plan wrapping up a limited universal military training program with a temporary draft had the support of Secretary of Defense Forrestal today.

Faced with mounting congressional opposition to a separate UMT program, Forrestal yesterday agreed to accept—temporarily—a merger proposal advanced by members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

In a second major strategy switch on defense plans, Forrestal said in a letter to Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.): "I believe it will give us a maximum military strength for a minimum of cost." But he added: "I do not regard this proposal as an adequate substitute for UMT."

He asked that the compromise be followed "as soon as possible" by a permanent universal training program.

The drive for abandonment of the separate UMT plan broke out at yesterday's closed session of the Senate committee. Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.) and others asked:

1. That UMT trainees be taken only for six months instead of the proposed six months basic training plus six months special training with one of the regular services.

2. That they be trained with other recruits, including draftees. This, they said, would (a) avoid setting up separate camps and barracks costing extra millions and (c) dispense with more than 35,000 officers and men who would be needed as instructors.

3. That after six months the UMT trainees be allowed to enlist in the National Guard or some other reserve unit. This would enable them to remain at home or in school while completing training.

Forrestal did not agree to these terms. He said the armed services would supply their own ideas later.

Chairman Gurney said the plan should allow the armed services and active reserve units "to fill their ranks with trained men almost immediately."

"But I still think we must have a long range UMT in order to cut down the costs and size of large regular forces in the future," Gurney said.

Forrestal's action marked the second revision in the administration's defense program. Earlier this week he agreed to expand the air force from 55 to 66 groups and boosted manpower ceilings by 61,000 to a 1,798,000 total for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Exchange Strike Still Deadlocked

New York, April 24 (AP)—A meeting between top officials of the American Federation of Labor and the New York Stock Exchange ended in a deadlock yesterday after mediation was resumed in an attempt to end the 27-year-old strike against the exchange.

Four AFL officials joined negotiators for the United Financial employees while Emil Schram, president of the exchange, headed the management delegation. Another session was scheduled for Monday.

Accident Is Settled With Pair Of Shoes

Corning, N. Y., April 24 (AP)—An accident report in the Corning police records reads: "A woman 'settled for a pair of shoes.'"

Mrs. Vera E. Newell told police a car she was driving had a broken fender. The fender tore a pedestrian's shoes. So Mrs. Newell drove the man to a store and bought him new shoes.

Mr. Paul G. Hoffman

The New Director Of Economic Cooperation Administration, Which Will Handle Marshall Plan Aid, Has A Tremendous Job; Relies On Experts For Details

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman is a middle-aged, middle-sized, pleasant-looking man who goes in for double-breasted suits.

He looks like a successful businessman, and that's what he is. He was head of the Studebaker Corporation.

He also looks like a man who can keep his temper pretty well, and he'll probably have to before he's through with Washington. He's now the head of ECA—the economic cooperation administration—which will handle the Marshall plan help for Europe.

Hoffman called a news conference yesterday and about 50 newsmen, radio commentators and magazine writers showed up.

Sawyer Nominated For Cabinet Post

Hold Number Of Violent Leftists

Rome, April 24 (AP)—The government's Carabinieri are jailing some alleged Communist agitators in both northern and southern Italy in the wake of last weekend's election, which the Communist-led Popular Front lost to the government, Christian Democrats.

Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti has promised his followers will refrain from violence. Yesterday Vice-Premier Rinaldo Ossola said a Communist uprising is out of the question.

But arrests are reported to have been made in Modena in the north and near Foggia in the south. A dispatch from Modena, Communist stronghold, said police there had received word of armed formations in the nearby Appennine Mountains.

Two unidentified men broke into a navy arsenal in Venice early today, scuffled with guards and fled shouting, "Sooner or later the arsenal will blow up."

A dispatch from Venice said they entered the Sanguineti barracks in the San Pietro Di Castello section and were overheard by the son of the commander, Giovanni Pingolas, who came down armed with a revolver.

One of the men attacked Pingolas and succeeded in getting hold of his revolver. Sailors rushed to help Pingolas. The men broke away and escaped, crying their threat.

Dispatches to Milan newspapers said the intruders overcame Pingolas, tied him up and were trying to get into the commander's office when the sailors came to his rescue.

The Venice attack was the sixth in the last week against Italian armed forces installations.

Briton Maintains Arab Provoked Attack On Haifa

Palestine Commissioner Says Battle Followed Series Of Arab Outbreaks

Jerusalem, April 24 (AP)—Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham, British High Commissioner for Palestine, maintained today that Arabs provoked the Jewish attack in Haifa.

Cunningham cabled this statement to London, Washington and all Arab capitals last night in reply to Arab assertions that the British aided the Jews in overrunning the great port city Wednesday and Thursday. He also asked that it be conveyed to Abdel Rahman Amam Pasha, Arab League secretary general in Cairo.

No Arab comment was available immediately.

"The Jewish attack on Haifa was in direct consequence of continuous attacks by Arabs on Jews in Haifa," Cunningham declared. "The Arabs in Haifa were thus themselves responsible for the outbreak despite our repeated warnings. x x x"

He said the British military commander at Haifa did everything possible to stop the fighting by negotiations.

Jews throughout Palestine celebrated recent victories over Arabs today as they moved into Passover Week.

At sundown last night some 700,000 Hebrew worshippers throughout the Holy Land gathered for the traditional Seder ceremony opening the Feast of the Passover, which commemorates the exodus from Egypt.

Five hundred armed Haganah fighters, many with bandaged wounds, met in the Syrian orphanage here with David Ben-Gurion, premier and war minister-designate of the Jewish state. Together they broke unleavened bread and drank blessed wine.

Ben-Gurion in a Haganah radio broadcast called upon Holy Land Jews to "mobilize all hidden resources of strength, will power, devotion and ability." He formally announced the Jewish capture this week of Haifa and Tiberias.

Even as he spoke thousands of Arabs continued their self-imposed exodus from Haifa. Arab leaders agreed upon evacuation of the port city Thursday rather than accept Haganah surrender terms.

Explosion, Fire At Oil Refinery; No Casualties

El Segundo, Calif., April 24 (AP)—An explosion and spectacular fire broke out early today at the treating plant of the Standard Oil Company's El Segundo refinery.

Forty-five minutes after it broke out a company spokesman said it appeared the fire was being controlled.

Minor burns to several fire fighters were reported by the company. A huge pillar of flame and black smoke visible at least 10 miles away rose from the scene.

All available fire equipment of El Segundo and nearby communities of Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach, Hawthorne and Inglewood came to the aid of company firemen. Los Angeles sent assistance.

While police tracked down slum dwellers in their manhunt for Reuther's assailant, the red-haired labor leader was heartened by news that he may yet have the use of high right arm—nearly torn off in the attack.

Dr. Barnes Woodhall, a Duke University neuro-surgery professor who during the war was an expert on gunshot wounds, checked Reuther's progress yesterday and expressed belief that a nerve injury could be corrected.

Daylight Saving Time For Only Part Of Nation

New York, April 24 (AP)—Some 60,000,000 of the nation's 146,000,000 people will go on daylight saving time tomorrow. The switching hour is 2 a. m. when conforming clocks will be set forward 60 minutes.

Although "fast time" has won new converts this year, widespread observance will be pretty much limited to the heavily-populated northeastern section of the country. As usual, rural areas in general will shun it.

Most railroads and airlines will continue to operate on standard time.

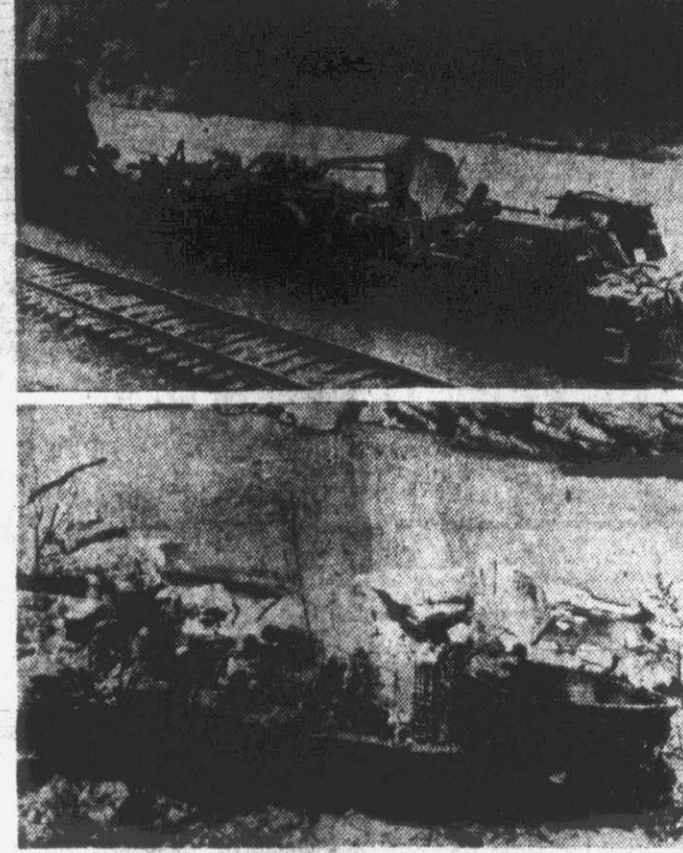

Three radio networks, CBS, ABC and MBS, will move their programs ahead an hour.

Most of the country will return to standard time Sept. 26.

London, April 24 (AP)—Plans to allot newsprint to Britain, under the European recovery program, drew praise in private quarters today but the government's attitude was undisclosed.

Locomotive Explodes, Kills Two

The under-carriage (top) of a huge Slinchfield Railroad locomotive remains on the track after the boiler exploded and killed two crewmen at Caney Bottom, N. C., 10 miles south of Erwin, Tenn. The wrecked boiler (bottom) is beside stream 125 feet from the under-carriage. It was blown there by the explosion. Engineer Ed Davenport, 54, of Spruce Pine, N. C., and Fireman Rex Phillips, 33, of Erwin, were killed instantly. The locomotive was pulling 70 coal cars on the run from Elkhorn City, Ky., to Spartanburg, S. C. (AP Photos.)

Police Believe Clues Withheld

Detroit, April 24 (AP)—Police Inspector Joseph Krug said today he believed Nelson Davis, a self-styled Communist, "is" telling all he knows about the Walter Reuther shooting.

No charges have been placed against Davis, and Prosecutor James N. McNally has been ordered to give a "specific" reason why he should be detained longer at a habeas corpus hearing today.

Circuit Judge Arthur Webster refused yesterday to grant the writ freeing Davis, whose attorney claimed he was "manifestly innocent."

Mine Operators Consider Giving Royalty To UMW

Talk Of Tossing Whole Problem Of Pensions Into Lap Of Union Leader

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Mine operators talked today of tossing the whole thorny problem of pensions for miners into the lap of union leader John L. Lewis.

An industry spokesman said operators are considering a plan under which they would pay Lewis' United Mine Workers 10 cents a ton on all coal mined—instead of paying it into a fund—and then let the union use the money as it sees fit.

The aim would be to remove all operator control over miners' pensions—and avoid disputes like the one which caused the six-week mine strike now pending.

The present contract, due to expire June 30, has piled up a $33,000,000 pension fund from a 10 cent tonnage royalty paid by the operators.

An agreement reached by two of the fund's trustees—Lewis for the miners and Senator Bridges (R-NH), neutral member—would pay $1000 monthly pensions to all miners over 62 years of age who retired since May 29, 1945 with more than 20 years in the pits.

The operators, through Ezra Van Horn, the industry trustee, opposed that settlement. Van Horn has attacked the Bridges-Lewis agreement in court, arguing that the Taft-Hartley Act would be violated if any payments are made without his signature.

Nevertheless, the strike which started March 15 was on the way to a peaceful end today and normal production was expected to resume by Monday.

Before that was achieved, Lewis and the United Mine Workers had been fined $1,420,000 for criminal contempt of a court back-to-work order of April 3.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, who once before had spanked Lewis and the union for disregarding a court order to end a strike, yesterday postponed indefinitely any further sentence on a second charge of civil contempt.

Destroyers Race To Assistance Of Burning Ship

Miami, Fla., April 24 (AP)—Two Navy destroyers sped to a position 10 miles of Kingston, Jamaica, today in search of the French steamship St. Domingue which reported herself afloat and being abandoned.

The French ship, of 3,150 gross tons, became afloat after a final radio message which said: "Ship sinking, abandoning ship."

Coast Guard search and rescue officers at Miami broadcast a general alert to vessels in the Caribbean Sea advising of the distress call and asking any craft nearby to proceed for rescue service.

The Navy destroyers Putnam and Keith replied that they had put out and were making all possible headway for the spot.

Some Features In Draft To Affect Guard Says Gov.

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Some features of pending draft legislation would be detrimental to the National Guard, Governor R. Gregg Cherry of North Carolina contends.

But those features may be corrected by the armed services committee, in the opinion of Rep. Carl Durham (D-NC), a member.

Governor Cherry especially opposed a provision to reduce the maximum strength of the National Guard. He also disapproved a section that would make guard affiliations between 19 and 26 subject to the draft. That, Cherry said, "would mean that young men enlisting in the guard between 17 and 18 years of age could serve only until they become 19, and would practically prohibit enlistment of men between the ages of 19 and 26."

San Francisco, April 24 (AP)—Agents of Foreign governments, their pockets bulging with American credits, are buying up war surplus "couldn't give away" a few months ago.

Yesterday buyers for Norway, Austria and Finland bid so eagerly for locomotives, wire cable, construction machinery and like items that prices kited out of reach of American Commercial buyers.

Marshall Returns From Bogota Talk

"Important Events" Bring Secretary Of State Back To Washington Scene; Marshall Satisfied With Results Of Pan-American Conference

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall returned to Washington today to deal with the "important events" he said necessitated his leaving the Bogota Inter-American conference.

The Secretary's plane reached the airport here at 9 a. m. after an overnight flight from Bogota.

Marshall stepped off looking chipper despite the long hours on the plane. With him were William McClesney Martin, President of the Export-Import Bank, and Marshall S. Carter, an aide.

Talking with reporters, Marshall gave no indication of the "Important Events" which he said yesterday in Bogota necessitated his return to Washington.

The Secretary said he was sorry to leave the Bogota conference before the end, but added that he expects it will wind up next week with agreement on a number of important matters.

"We had reached decisions on most of the fundamental considerations particularly as to the organic pact," Marshall continued.

"There remains the problem of economic consideration but very good progress has been made in reaching a decision regarding many issues involved."

"Mr. Martin played an important part in connection with economic matters but was compelled to return with me by the pressure of business here."

"Mr. Armour (assistant secretary of state) has been over chairmanship of the delegation and he is strongly supported by Ambassador Walter Donnelly, former Ambassador William Pawley, Paul Daniels of the Latin American section of the State Department and others."

"Donnelly is Ambassador to Venezuela and Pawley recently resigned as envoy to Brazil."

Although he did not say what the "events" are, officials here pointed to at least four major policy problems which will confront him on his return.

Before leaving the Bogota conference, "Donnelly's resignation" was reported in President Truman's plans, the Associated Press, Marshall told fellow delegates at the Inter-American conference only that "important events demand my return to Washington."

Officials here generally expressed the view that the secretary was coming home not to deal with any particular crisis but to tackle problems which accumulated since he left March 25.

Suggest Martin 'Favorite Son'

Providence, R. I., April 24 (AP)—Rhode Island Republicans toyed today with the idea of adopting House speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of neighboring Massachusetts, "favorite son" for the GOP Presidential nomination.

Some party leaders suggested the maneuver as a way to give little Rhody's eight delegates a freer hand at the National Convention in Philadelphia—along with the possibility of being on the winning bandwagon.

Spies Are Swarming

Russians Complain Getting More Than Their Share Of Spies; Maybe So, It Would Be Blunder If Democracies Omitted Espionage; Life Of Spy Is Dangerous

So let's talk about spies. Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper published in Moscow, says imperialist powers (unnamed but obviously the major western democracies headed by the United States) are sending two to three times as many spies into Russia as into any "bourgeois" state. The paper demands alertness throughout the Soviet armed forces to defeat imperialist espionage.

Well, I don't know the ratio of spies assigned to Russia as compared with "bourgeois" states, but it wouldn't be surprising if Red Star were right. Personally I should be greatly disturbed and shocked to learn that the democracies didn't have an army of spies in Russia and Bolshevik satellite countries—just as the Soviet Union has in every other country on the face of the globe.

As a matter of fact in these dangerous days spies are swarming everywhere, like flies on the ceiling of a farm-house kitchen on a frosty morning. Naturally governments don't advertise their secret agents, but every major nation has them.

There doesn't have to be an "M" in the month to make spies in season, for they are with us always. Of course, when the dogs of war begin to bay at the moon, they start to scurry about. Consequently there is much more activity now in all countries because of the dangerous clash between the Communist bloc and the democracies.

The employment of spies perhaps strikes the average person as unethical, but the custom is general. Most nations employ agents to try to ferret out the secrets of other countries, especially in times of stress. It's an unpleasant thing to contemplate—this spying of nations on one another. Still, when a nation is raising like castanets, it's a matter of national security for countries to know the strength and plans of their enemies.

The real sin is on the agent's own head—when he gets caught. He is the one who has to pay—frequently with his life. When an agent is caught he generally has to face the music alone, for his government obviously is almost never in a position to help him. (Continued on Page Three)

Shrine Club Holds Regular Meeting On Thursday Evening

The Greenville Shrine Club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night April 22 at the Airport Inn. President James W. Brewer presided. In addition to the regular business, plans were discussed for the Greenville club's participation in the Sudan Temple's spring ceremonial in Wilson May 19 and 20. The local club, with the exception of the provost guard, will march as a unit, preceded by the Greenville High School band. A beautiful float for the parade has been promised by Walter E. Lee, chairman of the committee on decorations.

To help finance the transportation and other expenses of the 75 members of the high school band, the management of the State Theatre is co-operating by donating a part of the price of each ticket sold by the Shrine and their representatives for the movie "Son of Rusty," which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, April 28 and 29. Tickets sold at the box office will not be included in the offer. The price of admission will be the same as regularly charged by the State Theatre. All members of the club are asked to get tickets to sell from C. D. Ward, chairman of the ticket committee.

The Greenville Shrine Club is one of the many active Shrine Clubs in Sudan Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine, which comprises the eastern part of the state, and has about 5,000 members. Under the leadership of James W. Brewer, the Sudan Temple's Provost Guard was formed, largely with members of the local club. This uniformed organization received much praise for their efficient work and snappy appearance at the fall ceremonial at Manteo and the winter ceremonial at New Bern and Cherry Point. The club is also active in support of the Imperial Shrine of America's program in behalf of crippled children.

Williams-Ange
In an informal private ceremony at the Methodist Church on April 23, 1948, Miss Glendora Ange of Washington, North Carolina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ange of Jamesville, North Carolina, became the bride of George Clyde Williams, son of Mrs. G. C. Williams and Mrs. late Mrs. Williams of Pactious, North Carolina. The Rev. C. Freeman Heath was the officiating minister. The bride wore a dress suit of cloud pink gabardine with black accessories. Her hat was of matching pink straw. She wore as her only ornament a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Williams was graduated from Jamesville High School and received her diploma from the Taylor hospital School of Nursing in Washington, North Carolina, affiliating in medicine and pediatrics at Gallenger Municipal hospital and Children's hospital both in Washington, D. C. She is the granddaughter of the late Rev. M. W. Ange of Jamesville.

Mr. Williams was graduated from Pactious High School and served six years in the Navy, having seen active duty in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters of war.

The bridal couple left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to unannounced points.

picture into an extremely dismal affair. I believe it is more important this year than usual for all buyers and sellers of farm commodities to keep a watchful eye on weather conditions from now on. They may well be the clue to profitable timing of purchases or sales of farm products in the months ahead.

What About Prices? Can farmers this year reasonably expect to get good prices for their wheat, corn and other crops? Here, again, uncertainty enters the picture. It does seem to me, however, if present crop indications are borne out, especially as regards wheat, that agricultural prices in general are likely to move still lower, despite any intermediate upturns that may result from crop scares or other temporary factors.

Do not forget that European crops are reported to be making generally favorable progress. Good crops in Europe this year would materially lessen dependence upon imports of American grain and other foodstuffs. Should some untoward event precipitate war with Russia next year, exports of grains and food products to Europe could largely cease. Lessened foreign demand would put some downward pressure on U. S. farm prices.

Another Good Farm Year? Nevertheless, I do not expect the bottom to fall out, whatever happens. Domestic demand will continue unusually large, since employment and wages should hold at high levels. In any event, the government is committed to support agricultural prices at 90 per cent of parity—a level that would assure farmers a fair return for their work and products.

All in all, the odds, in my opinion, favor another good year for American farmers in 1948. Although they are tightening their purse strings a bit at present, they should prove good but wise spenders when 1948 crops are in. Merchants should prepare now to make the most of pro-

Panel Opens On Recruitment Of Needed Teachers

Discussions of the problems of providing the public schools of the state with an adequate supply of good teachers were held at East Carolina Teachers College yesterday as a two-day conference on recruitment of teachers got under way.

A series of talks, panels, and comments from the floor made up the programs in the afternoon and the evening. Representatives of various groups, such as principals, superintendents, classroom teachers, and representatives of Parent-Teacher organizations discussed the reasons why young people are not attracted into teaching and why teachers leave the profession to take up other work, and began the preparation of a series of recommendations to improve conditions in the teaching profession.

The program continued this morning, with Dr. Ralph McDonald of Washington, D. C., as the featured speaker. A number of educators from the eastern section of the state were on the campus today to attend the meeting and to take part in the discussions scheduled.

The conference is being held under the general direction of Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, director of the Bureau of Field Services at the college. Among those at East Carolina who are serving as discussion leaders are President J. D. Messick, Dean Leo W. Jenkins, and Dr. J. L. Oppelt.

Attend Annual Meet Of N.C. Bird Club

Five representatives from East Carolina Teachers College are attending the annual meeting of the North Carolina Bird Club, which is being held in Wilmington over the week-end. Dr. Mary G. Cougher, Dr. Christine Wilton, and J. O. Derrick, faculty members of the science department, and Floyd Collins of Robersonville, both students of science at the college, are in Wilmington for the event.

Mrs. Burney Hostess to Club Griffon—On Thursday night Mrs. Clay Burney was hostess to members of the Thursday Contract club at an enjoyable party at her home here. Four tables were placed for the games amid a setting of mixed spring flowers, roses and iris predominating. During the progressions Mrs. Glendel Tucker and Mrs. Roger Johnson compiled the highest scores for club members and Mrs. Paul Bradley among the visitors. They were remembered with attractive gifts. Players included Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Norwood Lockhart, Mrs. Milton Hart, Mrs. Roy Jackson, Mrs. Carey Garris, Mrs. Edward Hart, Mrs. Julius Chauncey, Mrs. Wiley Gaskins, Mrs. Joeh Worthington, Mrs. Elmo Smith, Mrs. Sam Nelson, Mrs. Ben G. position to acknowledge him and back him up. It's the code of the secret agent to take his punishment with sealed lips.

Hunting lions in the jungle is no more hazardous to life than the profession of secret agent. In time of war the firing squad and the executioner take their toll. In peace times the prisons get a lot. I encountered some ex-spies eating their hearts out on notorious Devil's Island off the coast of French Guiana when I visited there a few years ago, and theirs' was a terrible punishment.

I've encountered many other secret agents in one country or another. I knew one American agent abroad—a brilliant and charming woman. She got spotted while operating in a European country and all but lost her life. She escaped, but her usefulness was ended because her identity had been disclosed. She was a reserved, middle-aged little lady, as lovely and fragile as a primrose—a very deceptive appearance, for she coupled cleverness with the fighting heart of a tigress.

Sure, there are secret agents busy the world over these days.

Kiwanians Had Great Meeting; Music Feature

By CHESTER WALSH

At the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night, Jack LeGrande of Wilmington, lieutenant-governor, Seventh Kiwanis Division, reviewed the club's achievements, praised the good work and said some nice things about J. Bryan Brown's Attendance Committee, complimented President N. C. Brooks and the other officers and directors, and urged the members to keep up the good work and make 1948 another good Kiwanis year. Walter Lee had charge of the program.

The Kiwanis Quartette, James Ray Pittman, Aubrey Tilley, Ed Conway and Tige Gardner, with Mrs. Christine Smith at the piano, received an ovation for their sparkling program. Dr. John D. Messick led the singing of Kiwanis songs.

THE STUDY OF WORLD RELIGIONS

There is a great interest today in the study of comparative religion. This is a good thing, unless it conveys the impression that in reality religion is about as good as an other; they are all attempts to achieve the same ends. No Christian or Jew can, of course, agree to any such conclusion.

Why not? Because the adherents of Judaism, and of the Christian religions which grew out of it, are quite sure that in their religions one encounters God reaching down to man, while all the other religions represent man's upward reach toward God. There is much commendable in these non-Biblical religions, but that they do not have the power to transform life basically is immediately apparent to anyone who has ever traveled in countries where the non-Biblical religions hold sway. The statements of the people who believe in them is disproved by the fact that often, because of these religions, the most degrading customs and superstitions are fastened upon their adherents.

Man reaching up to God, God reaching down to man—power and peace are to be found in the latter type of religion, not the former. Man's aspiration is noble, but God's revelation of his loving purpose for man is redemptive.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Dr. Luther Evans, Librarian of Congress, who presides over more than 8,000,000 books and countless manuscripts daytimes, makes reading his night-time hobby, he says, "also I'd never get any reading done."

As head of the Library of Congress, most of Dr. Evans' time is occupied with administrative and policy problems. Dr. Evans says he starts reading every night at 8:30 and reads until he goes to sleep. His tastes are miscellaneous. He reads a good many novels, like biographies and histories. He has read nearly all of Tolstoy and Maugham and says they are among his favorites. He even wrote a book once—"The Virgin Islands from Naval Base to New Deal." He wrote the book while he was teaching at Princeton University. It was published in the spring of 1945. He had spent two summers in the islands, but most of his research was done in the records section of the Department of the Interior and Navy.

Dr. Evans was born and grew up in Bastrop County, Texas. He was graduated from the University of Texas and got his doctorate from Lehigh University. He taught one year at New York University, two at Dartmouth and five at Princeton.

He was director of historical records survey for the WPA from 1935, when he went to the Library of Congress to head up the legislative reference service. He was made chief assistant librarian in 1940 and librarian in June 1945.

He lives in a suburb of Washington with his wife and young son Gill, 12, who also likes to read but is currently too busy with baseball and Boy Scout activities. Dr. Evans says he grew up on a farm, therefore stays from gardening. He likes to make canoe trips with his wife, and that's about his only recreation—outside reading.

Mrs. Evans was a librarian before he was. She was in the children's room of the Public Library at Princeton, N. J. She has written a book too—a cook book. Her husband says she's the best cook he ever knew. "Relating to the general area of desserts, she's unexcelled," he says. "Her snow puddings and angel cakes are something that will make your head swim."

Even though he hasn't had time to read books at the Library, Dr. Evans says he has learned in his job a good deal about rare books and the great books.

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

By Cameron Dockery

Chapter 23

Open on two sides the game room was the most cheerful room in Kalani's somewhat gloomy interior. Under the filtering rays of morning sun the wall mural of Waikiki beach seemed to come alive, beckoning the onlooker to a land of eternally balmy breezes where life was forever unconfined. Vince stared at it with longing as Johnson talked.

"Too bad Donovan snapped that bow string," the investigator commented. "Now we won't be able to test the servants."

"They were all accounted for at the time of Sophie's death anyway," Vince said. "As a matter of fact I don't see what your little trial proved."

"Well, for one thing it proved that Julia wasn't trying to hide anything, which should be a load off your mind, and it proved that Bissett was."

"He did seem to hold back," Vince mused. "What about Donovan?"

"I'm going to quiz them as soon as I get Palmer off for town."

"You're sending him in?"

"Yes—he's got the jimjams badly. I don't want him going berserk."

"Is he under arrest?"

"Naturally. Illegal possession of narcotics."

He turned as Bates appeared in the doorway. The deputy's face was florid from irritation. "We've got Palmer out in the station wagon, boss."

Johnson frowned and knocked out his pipe. "Okay. Take the game warden with you to keep an eye on the Doc—we don't want him trying to wrestle you for the steering wheel. Be back in a minute Bonny; wait, will you?"

Vince nodded and Johnson returned in a minute followed by the Donovans. They looked frightened and defiant as the investigator carefully placed them in chairs apart from each other yet facing him. With that separation their mutual strength and defiance seemed to dissolve.

"I'd like to know why you two came to Kalaiah," Johnson said bluntly.

"We'd known Mr. Mannley in Honolulu," Bud Donovan explained haltingly. "When we heard he was here we thought we'd come over for a visit."

Johnson's light brows tangled themselves. "You come for a visit without an invitation? Without knowing if you'd be welcome?"

Donovan gulped and his wife paused in the knitting she had taken up.

"Let me explain it, Bud," Her eyes glittered as she faced Johnson. "We read about Mannley's being here in a San Francisco paper in August but it didn't mean much at the time. Bud was sick and I was working in a department store. It was after we saw the specialist that we remembered."

"The specialist?"

"Yes. Bud needs an operation bad. There's only two doctors in the country can do it and it will cost plenty." Her voice trembled then picked up. "We did Mannley a favor once; we thought he might lend us the dough."

Johnson looked skeptical. "Why didn't you write to him about it?"

"Because Mannley was hard," Iris said bitterly. "He'd ignore a letter."

"And what did he say to your proposition?"

"He said if he lent us the money he'd charge six percent interest."

Vince stifled the oath that rose to his lips. The sweet molasses aroma of tobacco filled the room as Johnson began packing his pipe. "What were you and Palmer discussing in your room at two o'clock in the morning?"

Iris' eyes went to her husband; they held a question pleading with him, and he gave a barely perceptible nod. "We were talking blackmail," she said.

Vince was startled but Johnson nodded as though he had been expecting it.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Spring housecleaning used to involve only a determined wife, an unwilling husband—and a few arguments.

For a day or two the place looked like it had been hit by an untidy typhoon. The lady of the house disarranged the furniture, knocked an old clock around her head and began madly flailing the walls, floors and ceilings with mop, broom and dust cloth.

When all the dirt had been shooed out, the glass died down in the lady's eye, and she slipped to her couch for a long afternoon nap—victory at rest.

The husband's role in the entire procedure consisted largely of self-pitying grunts as he shoved the furniture back into position over the worn places in the rug. But all the cost him was a few sore muscles. His pocketbook wasn't bruised much.

Today "housecleaning" is as complex as a military amphibious landing—and about as expensive. You don't need the advice of a decorator so much as you do the help of a banker.

At least that is the situation in my cliff-dweller's cave at the moment. Frances began by describing it as "a housecleaning." For two weeks I came home each night to find battalions of strange people swabbing the joint, slapping paint at the walls and waving samples of varicolored bunting that would blanch a chameleon.

"I guess this year we are really refurbishing as much as we are plain housecleaning," Frances finally said. "After seven years I think we can stand a change."

I looked at the price of a drapery sample she held in her hand. My hair rose in horror.

"Per acre?" I asked.

"Per yard."

A man came to rebuild two easy chairs and a love seat. He charged

Form New Club For Students Interested In Creative Writing

Members of the newly organized club for students at East Carolina Teachers College who are interested in creative writing met on Wednesday evening in Ragdale Hall, presented a program of compositions by members, elected new officers, chose a name for the group, and made plans for drawing up a constitution and securing a charter for the group from the student government association.

Geraldine Amundson of New York City was elected secretary to succeed Carl G. Conner of Windsor, who resigned. At the suggestion of Isaac N. Reynolds of Columbia, members chose "The Neographics" as the name of the club.

Appointed by Richard Powers of St. Paul, mediator for the group, committee of three members will prepare a constitution to be presented for approval at the next meeting, to be held on Wednesday, April 28. Members are Charles Williams of Erwin, Floyd Collins of Cerro Gordo, and Richard Tarravaccia of Syracuse, N. Y.

Cornelius Meets His Oldest Fan

Philadelphia, April 24 — (AP) — Connie Mack met one of his oldest fans yesterday, 90-year-old C. B. Morrow of Lancaster, Pa.

The 85-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics and the former ice cream manufacturer shook hands and then each made a prediction.

"I think we'll win this game," said Mack, referring to the impending Shibe Park American League opener with the Washington Senators.

Morrow commented that he thought the A's could win the pennant this year.

Mack's prophecy soon was shattered as the Senators rallied for two runs in the tenth inning to hand his team its first defeat after three straight successes.

Morrow, who now devotes his time to his hobbies—baseball and antique furniture—said he wasn't sure how many openers he's seen but reckoned, "I've been coming here for about 40 years now."

After his meeting with Mack, the Lancaster old timer remarked, "He's well preserved, isn't he?"

Tennis Tour To End On May 12

New York, April 24 — (AP) — Jack Kramer and Bobby Riggs, who started their cross country professional tennis tour here last December, will end it in Madison Square Garden May 12.

Kramer, who turned professional for the tour, lost the original match to Riggs, three sets to one, but now holds a wide margin over his opponent.

On the strength of his record of having won eight American League championships, one National League pennant and six world titles, it must be conceded that Joe McCarthy is a great manager. But anyone who has the notion that the other seven clubs in the American League are going to roll over and play dead just because the Boston Red Sox engaged McCarthy to manage the team this year is due for a rude awakening.

The Yankees for one are accepting the challenge and will bend every effort to knock off McCarthy's club, just for old time's sake.

The Red Sox will field a stronger team than they had last season. With McCarthy at the helm it will be a better directed team. But the players and the sportswriters who cover the club will have to get accustomed to McCarthy's abrupt, distant manner. He was that way with the Yankees. Players and writers who did not like him personally respected him for his ability as a baseball leader.

There is no way of explaining McCarthy except that he is a baseball genius. He makes daring moves which appear to be after long deliberation. He assigned Johnny Pesky to third when all Boston expected him to post Vernon Stephens in the hot corner since Pesky had been tried at third and indicated his dislike for that spot. After McCarthy talked with him, Pesky hopped to his chores and declared that he was very happy playing third. The chances are that he'll handle temporary Ted Williams equally as well.

'Overconfident'

Camden, N. J., April 24 — (AP) — Garden State racing stewards have suspended Jockey Rocco Sisto for 10 days for what they termed "an overconfident ride on the horse Escort."

The stewards ruled that Sisto failed to ride his mount as required by New Jersey Racing Commission rules. Escort finished second, a nose behind Harpstrings in yesterday's second race.

Chitty Goes Route On Mound Giving Up A Dozen Hits; Errors Prove Costly For Locals

By BERT MOYE

Manager Bull Hammon's Tarboro victory over the Greensies last night, 5-2, behind the six-hit pitching of Bill See, rookie right-hander.

The Tars scored their first run in the initial frame when Bill Jeffries singled into right field and went to third as Bob Cohen let the ball get away from him, later scoring on a timely single by Jake Daniels.

The Greensies knotted the count at one-all in the third frame when Danny Lastres singled, stole second and came home on Bob Cohen's double to left field.

The Tars went out in front in the fourth inning and were never headed after that. In the fourth Daniels led off with single, stole second, went to third on Carter's error and scored on Komanecky's single.

What proved the Tar's winning run came in the fifth frame when Johnson singled, Andrewsh followed suit with Johnson going to third on Bob Cohen's second miscue of the night, Jeffries hit to short forcing Andrewsh at second with Johnson scoring on the play.

The Tars led the game in the sixth when they put across their two final tallies of the night. Komanecky walked, Caldwell got an infield hit, Urban sacrificed and Johnson's timely brought home Komanecky and Caldwell.

The Greensies managed to put across another tally in the seventh frame when Wiley Nash doubled and scored on Jack Thrush's single.

Jerry Chitty went the route for the Greensies, allowing an even dozen hits, walked one and failed to strike out a man. However, Jerry's team-mates made three errors, all of which figured in the Tar's scoring.

Bill See, a rookie right-hander, allowed the Greensies six hits, three of which were two-baggers, with Bob Cohen getting two doubles to lead the attack. He struck out a total of six Greensies and issued only one free pass to first base.

All of the Tars' hits were singles with Daniels, Komanecky, Caldwell and Johnson each getting two a-piece.

Approximately 12,000 people turned out for Tarboro's Hospitality Day yesterday to watch a mammoth parade and celebration of the opening game of the Tars this season. Approximately 5,000 fans jammed Bryant Park last night to watch the ball game between the Greensies and the Tars.

Tonight, when the Roanoke Rapids take the field against the Greensies, Manager Stu Martin will not be alone. He is under a doctor's care following being hit by a pitched ball, and it is regrettable to report that he may be out for the entire season. Club officials have informed the public that Stu's condition is serious, and a six-week minimum has been set for recovery. In his place, Pete Kunis, formerly of the Birmingham club of the Eastern League, has been hired. Pete, years ago pitched for Goldsboro, and many fans will remember his fine mound tactics.

Tarboro has one of the nicest press boxes in the league and is capable of taking care of a large crowd at one time. On the other hand the press box at the local park is one of the worst to be found in the league with hardly enough room for those responsible to take care of the coverage of the games. With so many nice improvements having been made at the park in recent weeks, it is a pity that they did not do something about the press box.

The Greensies last night looked more like last year's eighth place club than ever before as was evidenced on the loafing of one or two of the players.

It was officially announced this morning that Manager Bill Phebus will be on the mound for the Greensies tonight as they tackle the Jays.

SCHEDULE

The Greenville Greensies play Roanoke Rapids here tonight at 7:45 in Guy Smith Stadium. Sunday will see the locals in Roanoke Rapids and on Monday they will play in Goldsboro.

3,000 Winners Is Not Enough; Now Aims For More

San Mateo, Calif., April 24 — (AP) — Johnny Longden, the only jockey to ride 3,000 winners on American tracks, is "aiming for 4,000 now."

Longden wrote his name in turf history aboard Bub in the fourth race at Bay Meadows yesterday, hit 3001 with Sunfair in the sixth and is up on Mafofa, the favorite, in today's $10,000 added San Mateo handicap.

The 38-year-old veteran, a native of England but an American citizen now, has been riding professionally for 21 years.

He is not the first rider to win 3,000. That honor went some time ago to Gordon Richards of England who scored his 3508th Thursday. Overtaking Richards, who has been riding since 1921, is "a big order to fill but I am going to make a good try," said the tiny veteran. "I'm aiming for 4,000 now."

Cards-Phil Player Trade Found Good Deal For Both

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Dick Sisler-Ralph La Pointe trade is shaping up as a good deal for both sides. Sisler's hitting is helping the Philadelphia Phillies and La Pointe is plugging a gap in the St. Louis Cardinal infield.

Both managers Eddie Dyer of the Cards and Ben Chapman of the Phils should be satisfied. Both teams are tied for first place in the National League, thanks largely to Sisler and La Pointe.

Sisler, hitting at a .333 clip, socked two homers and drove in four runs as the Phils trounced the Brooklyn Dodgers, 10-2, yesterday.

La Pointe, subbing at second for the injured Red Schoendienst, home the Cards' only run in their 1-0 triumph over the Cubs in Chicago.

Until La Pointe came through in the ninth, the Cards managed only one hit off Southpaw Johnny Schmitz, an infield single by Nippy Jones in the fifth.

Schmitz started his own downfall by walking Erv Dusak to start the ninth. La Pointe failed twice to sacrifice and then doubled to left to score Dusak.

Harry Brecheen stopped the Cubs on nine at-bats before an opening day crowd of 26,591 fans.

At Boston, the New York Giants spoiled opening day festivities for the Braves as Ray Post pitched the Giants to a five-hit 3-1 triumph. Willard Marshall, with two singles and a double, drove in two runs to provide the Giants with their margin of victory.

The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3, to pull to within a half game of the dead-locked Cards and Phils. Frankie Baumholtz's seventh inning single scored Virgil Stallcup with what proved to be the deciding run. Elwell Blackwell pitched the first seven innings and received credit for his second victory of the season.

Meanwhile, the Cleveland Indians took over sole possession of first place in the American League.

The Indians, making their second start of the season, crushed the Tigers, 8-2 before 45,233 opening day fans in Detroit. The Indians are the only undefeated team in either circuit.

Ken Keltner batted in four runs and hit two homers to lead the Indians' offensive. Larry Doby and winning pitcher Bob Leman also batted homers.

The loss dropped the Tigers into a three way tie with the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators for second place. The Senators beat the A's, 5-3, in ten innings in the first American League game of the season in Philadelphia.

In another opening day game, the Boston Red Sox shutout the Yankees, 4-0 before 44,619 fans at New York.

Ted Williams paced the victor's attack with a homer and two single.

County League

A baseball meeting was held in the town hall of Ayden April 21 for the purpose of forming a county league. This new league will be known as the Pitt-Greene County League.

There are only four teams in this league. They are Ayden, Winterville, Ormondsville and Bethel. The league will open May 12 and the teams will play two games a week until August 15.

The officers of the newly formed circuit are: Ralph Highsmith, Bethel, president; Dennis Hardy, also of Bethel, secretary.

Records Falling At Penn Relays

Philadelphia, April 24 — (AP) — Having already bettered one national high school standard and another meet record, some of the nation's top athletes went to work today in quest of additional laurels in 48 events at the Penn relays.

The national schoolboy standard in the quarter-mile relay fell yesterday before the flying feet of a quartet of runners from Boys High of Brooklyn, N.Y. and the Penn relays standard for the shot put went by the boards when Michigan's Charley Fonville tossed the ball 56 feet.
