Makes Phi Beta Kappa
David Whichard, a senior at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, has been officially notified that he has been chosen Phi Beta Kappa, the highest scholastic international fraternity. Induction ceremonies will take place in May.

At its annual convention last Saturday, the North Carolina Division of the American Association of University Women endorsed unanimously the following resolution, recommended by the Resolutions Committee:

"Whereas, the A.A.U.W. has always stood for international fellowship, and

"Whereas, this organization's membership realizes the extreme seriousness of the world situation, it wishes to go on record for World Government as the only sure means of securing lasting peace."

A second resolution submitted by the Durham branch of A.A.U.W. was also unanimously endorsed. It reads:

"Whereas, the national, state and local chapters have worked for the passage of the European Recovery Program as a step towards World Peace, and

"Whereas the present structure of the United Nations has proven inadequate in the task of preserving World Peace,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the State Convention of the A.A.U.W. be urged to recommend to North Carolina congressmen and senators the passage of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24 and House Resolution No. 89 (as attached), providing for the immediate strengthening of the United Nations, and

"Be it further resolved, that the North Carolina State Convention of the A.A.U.W. recommends to the national officers, adoption as a nationwide project of A.A.U.W. an immediate plan for individual and collective support of the state chapters for the passage by Congress of the attached resolution to strengthen the United Nations so that it can become capable of enforcing, interpreting and enforcing world law to prevent war."

In two other important resolutions unanimously adopted by the convention, the North Carolina Division of A.A.U.W. urged its members to accept jury duty whenever selected and to bear pressure upon their representatives in Congress to use every possible influence to have the bill for Federal Aid to Education, reported out of committee.

The two state projects are rapidly progressing. The organizational work for the North Carolina County Histories competition has been completed. The first award is to be made in December, 1948.

A report of the international project, which calls for material aid and exchange of plans and ideas with branches of the International Federation of University Women, shows that approximately 1,700 pounds of food, clothing, books and school supplies have been sent by all the branches of the North Carolina Division to branches of the I.F.U.W. and a number of letters have already been received.

The convention speakers were Robert Lee Humber of Greenville, Dr. Hubert M. Potat of Wake Forest and Miss Laura Beam from the National Association, in Washington, D.C.

The incoming treasurer, Mrs. Edwin Ford, of Shelby, was introduced. Mrs. Robert Lee Humber, of Greenville, state president, Mrs. J. W. Moore, of Asheville, vice-president, and Mrs. D. S. Spain, Jr., of Greenville, secretary, will be in office until June 1949.

The convention adjourned to reconvene in Raleigh in April, 1949.

Hostesses At Delightful Club Meeting
The Sans Souci Book Club was beautifully and elaborately entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James on Saturday evening at six o'clock when four of the club members, Mrs. James, Mrs. Judson Blount, Mrs. W. I. Wooten and Mrs. J. T. Cheatham, were hostesses for this outstanding social meeting of the year.

The club members, with their husbands and a few friends, were invited to meet in the garden of the James home. About 50 guests were present and on arrival were greeted by the hostesses, who stood in a grouping of beautiful plants and spring flowers growing high in the background bordering this charming garden.

The guests made a happy picture as they mingled "without care" in this colorful and lovely setting. Mrs. Margaret Scales served delicious orange punch from a festive table decorated with pantries.

At seven o'clock the hostesses invited the guests into the house where an elegant buffet dinner was served. The home was exquisitely decorated with bowers of roses and the dining room table was especially lovely with lace cloth, silver candelabra and red roses. Mrs. Blount and Mrs. Wooten were seated and served old ham and pressed chicken with Mrs. Cheatham and Mrs. James assisting with accompanying dishes and salad.

At the conclusion of this course, surprise strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March were heard and a bride's bouquet was presented to Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, the occasion being her 22nd anniversary. She and Mr. Waldrop were escorted to the dining room where they cut the cake and served the guests, receiving many congratulations and good wishes. After dinner coffee was served.

Following this lovely dinner, the club had a real program treat. Mrs. Wooten introduced Dr. Lucile Charles of ECTC faculty who delighted the guests with a reading of a "smash hit" comedy by an outstanding Broadway playwright. Dr. Charles' tremendous talent was at its best and her reading was superb. Singing by the guests in general, with Miss Martha Cammack from the college faculty, at the piano, concluded this beautiful occasion. Lovely corsages were presented Dr. Charles and Miss Cammack in kindest appreciation.

Sunday was too hot to turn.

Christian Science Service
"Probation After Death" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, April 25.

The Golden Text: John 5-21. "As the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death." (Psalm 68:20.) And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. It will master either a desire to die or a dread of the grave, and thus destroy the great fear that begets mortal existence." (Page 426).

Referendum For Potato Growers In Pitt Tuesday

S. L. Dilda, Chairman of the Pitt County Agricultural Conservation Association, stated that a referendum is to be held in Pitt county on April 27 at which time Irish potato growers will cast their ballots at the county ACA office, Town Hall in Bethel, and W. I. Bissette's office in Grifton on a proposed marketing agreement and order.

Chairman Dilda said that all producers with potato acreage allotments have been mailed copies of the proposed marketing agreement and order, and additional copies may be obtained by producers who for some season or another have failed to receive them. Every grower in Pitt county, who is engaged in the production of potatoes for market, is eligible to vote.

Chairman Dilda pointed out that a referendum is the most democratic way of determining the wishes of eligible voters on important issues or questions, and regardless of the opinion Pitt county growers form on the potato program they should vote either "yes" or "no". "It's up to the growers," Mr. Dilda said, "whether they really want a potato marketing agreement and order, and the referendum is the best way they can voice their wishes in the matter."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, after a series of public meetings in North Carolina and Virginia, decided to recommend that a referendum be held. The date for the referendum in Virginia is the same as in North Carolina.

"One of the chief benefits of a marketing agreement and order," Chairman Dilda said, "is that it enables producers to uphold the quality of their potato shipments. Under this kind of a potato program, provision may be made for regulating the grade, size, and quality of potato shipments. The grade and size regulations would be initiated by a

Lay Beside Body Of Husband For Six Long Days

Newton, April 26—(AP)—For six days a 73-year-old invalid wife lay helpless beside her husband's body in their farm home before she was able to call for help.

Mrs. Thomas Horner was in Catawba County hospital today under treatment following her harrowing experience.

Sheriff Ray Pitts said Thomas Horner, 75, a retired business education teacher, died last Monday of a heart attack and that Mrs. Horner was unable to attract attention of passersby.

Saturday, Sheriff Pitts continued, Mrs. Horner crawled to the back porch and called to George Sigmon, a neighbor, for help. Sigmon said Horner's body had started decomposing.

Blue Mold Causing No Special Alarm

College Station, Raleigh, April 26—Blue mold is now known to be present over the eastern half of North Carolina with the exception of eight tobacco-producing counties in the northeastern section, Howard R. Garriss, extension plant pathologist at State College, said today.

"Occurrence of the disease can be interpreted as generally present over 10 counties, and in scattered locations over the remaining counties where it has been reported. Damage generally is light to moderate with severe injury and killing of plants occurring in a number of isolated cases," he said.

Western limits of known occurrences are Lee, Moore and Scotland counties, with unconfirmed occurrences as far west as Guilford County in the Old Belt. Northern limits are Martin, Edgecombe, Nash, Vance, and Guilford.

Although tobacco bed stands generally are good throughout the flue-cured area, a period of cool, damp weather could cause more widespread damage from blue mold and consequent delay in setting the crop, the pathologist stated. "But," he added, "if warm, dry weather should persist, we do not anticipate severe damage and delay in transplanting."

Murfreesboro.—Mrs. Annie B. Lee, 68, wife of the late Smith Lee, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Lee Dickens, here late Saturday night after a long illness.

"Fermate dust and spray are being widely used," the extension specialist said. "Good control of blue mold is being obtained where treatments were begun ahead of the disease and are otherwise being properly applied."

Cancer Clinic Is Ready To Open

Wilmington, April 26—(AP)—A public cancer detection clinic believed the first in North Carolina will open with ceremonies here tomorrow.

The clinic in James Walker Memorial Hospital is sponsored by the New Hanover County Medical Association.

Opening day speakers will be Dr. Ivan M. Proctor of Raleigh, director of the State Health Board's cancer control division, and Mrs. George M. Marshall of Mount Airy, commander of the state division of the American Cancer Society.

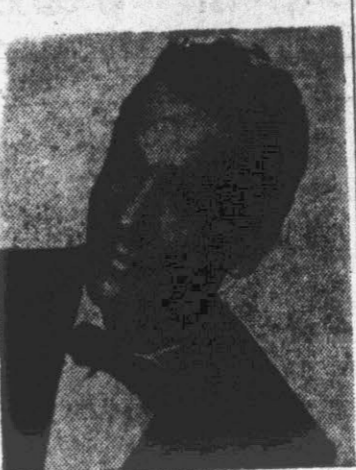

Decline In Tobacco Exports Is Shown

College Station, Raleigh, April 26. A recent report of the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations of the U.S. Department of Agriculture shows that unmanufactured tobacco exports were 24 percent lower in 1947 than in 1946, according to C. Brice Ratchford, extension farm management specialist at State College.

U.S. exports of unprocessed tobacco in 1947 totaled about 507 million pounds valued at 271 million dollars, while in 1946, 663 million pounds valued at 352 million dollars were exported. However, the 1947 amount exceeded that of 1945, when exports totaled 473 million pounds, and the 1935-39 average exports, which totaled 421 million pounds valued at 128 million dollars.

Exports of flue-cured leaf decreased from 546 million pounds,

Strength FOR THE DAY
A BIRD'S-EYE VIEW
We are all familiar with the expression of "bird's-eye view." Generally we think of it as meaning a view from far above whatever object or scene is described—a view such as a bird might have as it flew past.

But the eye of a bird is one of nature's marvelous organisms. It is both telescopic and microscopic—that is, it can see clearly objects far away, like a telescope, and it can also examine very tiny objects, like a microscope. Thus, a bird can perceive a grain of corn or a tiny particle of food from a much greater distance than a man can see the same object.

The mind of a man, when it is well developed, is something like the eye of a bird. It is both telescopic and microscopic. The mind, at its best, can consider objects or circumstances far away; when it considers objects still in the future, we call this ability "foresight." When it considers matters of interest primarily to others rather than to itself, or projects itself into another person's position, we speak of "breadth-mindedness." At the same time, the well-trained mind is capable of viewing a subject intensively at close quarters, like a microscope, and arriving at the truth about that subject. Truly, we should all learn to take a "bird's-eye view" of things.

sense. There are still many fields in which more State funds can be used; such as the teacher and school needs, the medical care program, road programs, and the problem of further agricultural development.

No, Mr. Barker, former servicemen have a lot of pride; and while a few scatterbrains may chant "we want a bonus" don't rely too much on the veterans' vote for that plank alone in the coming election.

A "FOREIGN LEGION" FOR AMERICA?

If this government of ours really wanted to quickly build up a large armed force, either in conjunction with the Draft, or to replace the Selective Service System, it could be quickly done.

The material can be found easily, all over the world. The idea of a "Foreign Legion" for America has been proposed in Congress, but no action on the matter has been taken.

Whether in our individual opinions we favor or oppose such a step, the fact remains that there are thousands of young men and women in Europe, Africa and Asia who would grasp at the opportunity for such service under the American flag. They would not require the inducements of our current high pay and

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Soviet spies in Berlin are now stealing—of all things—congressional directories.

An American back from the German capital, which is now an inland island to the Western Allies, reports widespread espionage by German employees in secret league with the Russians.

"It is rather amateurish though," he said, "because the Germans like to tattle on each other."

"If a worker in your office is a spy and goes through your desk after you leave, the other Germans break their neck to get on a phone and tell you about him."

"They steal the oddest things—U.S. postal guides, the World Almanac, reference books on America, and sundry benefits which we offer our own young people, to flock in droves for the privilege of service in an American Foreign Legion. All they would desire is the security which we can offer, and a chance to bear arms for our principles of liberty.

Scores of applicants for this non-existent "legion" have already been reported in foreign countries.

The benefits of this proposal are not all one-sided; we would gain, the "legionnaires" would benefit, and the forces of Democracy would be strengthened by the addition of discouraged souls who would find new hope and life in the service of Freedom.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EAP'S

Washington — A study of urban families in 1942 showed that city folks ate twice as many tomatoes and citrus fruits as farm families; one and a half times as much meat, poultry and fish; and more green and yellow vegetables. The survey also revealed they used only about two-thirds of the quantities of milk, sugars and sweets, grain products, dry beans, peas and nuts that farm families did. They consumed even smaller proportions of potatoes, fats and oils, and eggs.

What has happened to diets of city families in the past six years since the Department of Agriculture conducted this survey will be revealed in a new survey just getting started in 70 cities throughout the country. The purpose of the survey is to obtain current facts and figures for estimated potential use by city families of food produced by farmers. It is also being conducted to get material for developing programs to expand the consumption and improve the nutrition of consumers.

Contesting is as much an art as cooking, says Mrs. Florence Marshall Stollwag, who has just entered her 100th radio contest and has won so many contest prizes she's lost count. Mrs. Stollwag says contesting has a "language" all its own, magazines devoted to its activities and correspondence schools aimed at initiating the beginner.

There are long lists of people waiting to enroll in Mrs. Stollwag's classes on contesting at the local Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. Stollwag began entering contests 20 years ago. She contributed slogans, jingles, testimonials. Prizes began rolling in. The best prize she ever won, she says, is her husband. She met him because they both were interested in jingles.

Mrs. Gertrude Clarke Whittall, who gave the Library of Congress four Stradivarius violins and an endowment for concerts of chamber music, has just contributed a remarkable collection of musical manuscripts. These include original autographed manuscripts of Johann Sebastian Bach, Joseph Haydn, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Ludwig van Beethoven, Johannes Brahms and Max Reger.

Reserve Officers Favor Veterans On Local Draft Boards

By CHESTER WALSH
At a meeting of the Lenoir-Pitt Reserve Officers' Association at Respass' place Thursday night, Major E. Booth Marston of Kinston was installed vice-president. Major L. P. Sullivan, who had been elected president, was unable to attend. He is on temporary active duty with the Army at Camp Campbell, Ky. Capt. William E. Little is secretary-treasurer. Lieut.-Col. Meriwether Lewis of Kinston, the retiring president, presided.

The Reserve Officers' Association went on record as favoring and endorsing the appointment of World War II veterans on all local draft boards as far as possible. It was pointed out that the veterans would better understand the personal problems encountered by the military forces.

Lieut.-Col. Lewis of Kinston and Capt. Little of Grimesland were designated as delegates to the Reserve Officers Association state convention to be held at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh on May 22-23.

The Lenoir-Pitt Reserve Officers Association will meet at Respass place on June 2.

Winner Of Tom Mix Prize Gets On Radio

Greenville's radio station, WGTC, yesterday afternoon presented a special program at 5 o'clock, honoring little Miss Nell Brown Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh B. Lee, who recently won an aluminum bicycle as a prize in a nationwide contest to select a name for Tom Mix's dog. Her choice of a name was "Flash." While she did not win the grand prize, the judges were so impressed that they decided to award her a special prize.

With Charles Wheelbee as master of ceremonies and Chester Walsh assisting, Miss Lee made a fine impression over the radio and there were numerous guests in the studio. The all-aluminum bicycle has a radio, speedometer, siren, lights, shock absorbers, etc., and an insurance policy came with it. The Tom Mix Ralston Purina program is heard daily at 5:45 p. m. over WGTC and a nationwide hookup.

From the founding of the Macedonian Empire (336-323 B.C.) to the founding of the Seljuk Turkish Kingdom (1071-1081 A.D.), Asia Minor was dominated by the Greco-Roman civilization.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Contesting is as much an art as cooking, says Mrs. Florence Marshall Stollwag, who has just entered her 100th radio contest and has won so many contest prizes she's lost count. Mrs. Stollwag says contesting has a "language" all its own, magazines devoted to its activities and correspondence schools aimed at initiating the beginner.

There are long lists of people waiting to enroll in Mrs. Stollwag's classes on contesting at the local Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. Stollwag began entering contests 20 years ago. She contributed slogans, jingles, testimonials. Prizes began rolling in. The best prize she ever won, she says, is

Washington — A study of urban families in 1942 showed that city folks ate twice as many tomatoes and citrus fruits as farm families; one and a half times as much meat, poultry and fish; and more green and yellow vegetables. The survey also revealed they used only about two-thirds of the quantities of milk, sugars and sweets, grain products, dry beans, peas and nuts that farm families did. They consumed even smaller proportions of potatoes, fats and oils, and eggs.

What has happened to diets of city families in the past six years since the Department of Agriculture conducted this survey will be revealed in a new survey just getting started in 70 cities throughout the country. The purpose of the survey is to obtain current facts and figures for estimated potential use by city families of food produced by farmers. It is also being conducted to get material for developing programs to expand the consumption and improve the nutrition of consumers.

'Progressives' Found Party And Offer Platform

Winston-Salem, N. C. April 26—(AP)—A third political party started out today to revamp North Carolina's social and economic structure.

It was confident that it would get the names of Henry A. Wallace and Sen. Clegg H. Taylor (D-Idaho) on the ballots for the Nation's highest offices next November.

The progressive party of North Carolina was officially founded here yesterday. Approximately 200 delegates, the majority Negroes, adopted a constitution and platform with little discussion of amendments.

The party platform calls for: Abolition of the sales tax; repeal of "anti-labor" legislation; raising of minimum wages; extension of social security and unemployment compensation benefits; support of farm prices at 100 per cent of parity; and, death penalty for lynchers.

Constitution keynotes was Prof. Don West of Oglethorpe University. Introduced by Mrs. Clifford Durr, head of the party in Northern Virginia, he said that the third party was "founded to carry out the principles on which this country was

ABC Officers Get Still Martin County

Pitt County ABC Officers J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor, Claude Manning assisted Martin County ABC Officers Joe Roebuck, Roy Peel and Deputy Sheriff Buck Holloman Sunday morning in the seizure and destruction of one 60-gallon "pot" type copper distillery together with 500-gallons sugar and cornmeal mash and the arrest of Oscar Jordan and William Everett, both negroes of the Flat Swamp section of Martin, and Pitt county line. Both negroes were arrested as they arrived at the distillery to begin the day's operation. They were placed in the Martin county jail pending trial in County Court May 3.

Not Joking

Beckley, W. Va., April 26—(AP)—Three boys watched a companion drown this weekend, in a modern version of Aesop's Fable about "The Boy Who Cried Wolf."

Fire Chief Bernard Martin said Robert Lee Tyree, 16, of nearby Dry Hill, apparently became sick while swimming in a fish pond here. James Lively, 14, one of the party, said Tyree called for help, but his companions at first thought he was joking as he had at other times.

Chairmen Of Cancer Drive Make Progress

Vance Perkins, in charge of the county-wide campaign, said today. Ayden and Grifton have gone over the top; other places hope to make their quotas before the last day of this month.

The various chairmen are: Mrs. E. McKay Johnson, Greenville; Mrs. Grady Dixon, Ayden; Mrs. R. A. Fountain, Sr., Fountain; Mrs. Cecil Satterthwaite, Pactolus; Mrs. W. C. Spencer, Chocod; Mrs. M. Brown Hodges, Grifton; Mrs. Alton Gardner, Gardner's Crossroads; Mrs. Woodrow Wooten, Falkland; Mrs. Tabitha DeVisconti, Farmville; Mrs. William F. Stokes, Stokes; Mrs. Pau Hunsucker, Winterville; C. W. Everett, Bethel; and Miss Jeanie Outlaw, Grimesland.

Educators . . .

guidance centers throughout the nation in revealing the favorable aspects of teaching to those whose aptitude tests indicate competence for teaching and interest in the profession. The publication and distribution by the college here of a bulletin based on letters and papers solicited from successful teachers was suggested as a means of publicizing the benefits of teaching through professional literature.

Reduction of the teacher load, substantial lessening of the amount of red tape required in reports, salary increases, provision of scholarships for worthy students, selling the progressive ideas of teachers to legislators, and increased interest among teachers in the programs of state and national professional organizations were suggested as necessary means to progress and as ways of improving conditions in the public schools.

Dr. Ralph McDonald, Washington, D. C., prominent educator and representative of the National Education Association, was a featured speaker at the conference. Others taking part in the programs were Dr. James E. Hillman of the State Department of Public Instruction; Phebe Emmons, Washington, N. C. teacher; Mrs. Paul Davenport, Pactolus, representative of PTA groups; and President John D. Messick, Dean Leo W. Jenkins, Dr. J. L. Opleit, and Dr. Allan S. Hurburt, all of East Carolina Teachers College. The conference was planned and directed by Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, director of the Bureau of Field Services at the college here.

Hit-Run Collision Sunday Afternoon

Police today reported a hit-and-run collision at Chestnut and Broad Streets yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock when a car driven by Charles Moore, colored, who lives on the Harvey Tripp farm, collided with a car driven by Louis Day Little, 508 Tyson Street. Little's car was badly damaged. Policeman C. H. Christopher, who is investigating the case, said.

Quadruplets Born To Auto Worker's Wife

Detroit, April 26—(AP)—One boy and three girls were born today to Mrs. Anna Borg, 30-year-old wife of a Ford Motor Co. auto worker. The quadruplet births were her first. Dr. Edward D. King, her physician, said the babies were "doing fine."

About 1,000,000 fires are expected to occur in the United States in 1948.

it was cutting prices $25,000,000 so this—except for the $3,000,000 difference—seemed to wipe out the $28,000,000 price increase of February.

On Friday Westinghouse posted its new prices—down $3,125,000. In announcing the U. S. Steel cut, Fairless said it was an effort to halt rising living costs. At the same time Fairless turned down the CIO Steelworkers' demand for a pay increase. Fairless said: "We told Mr. Philip Murray, the president of the union, that in our judgment the granting by us of such a wage increase will not in the long run bring benefit to anyone, as it will lead to other substantial wage increases in other industries and to higher prices generally."

Murray said his union has a two-year contract with U. S. Steel and so will not strike, even though denied a wage raise. But Murray pointed to U. S. Steel's profit of $127,000,000 and said the company not only could afford to cut prices more than the announced $25,000,000 slice, but: "Still retain sufficient profit margin to grant the union's just demands for a real wage increase."

The $25,000,000 cut is less than 1.2 percent of U. S. Steel's total sales of $2,122,786,243 in 1947.

On Friday, one day after Fairless' statement, General Electric's wage talks with the CIO Electrical Workers Union went into "recess." The company would not grant the kind of pay raise the union wanted.

The Emperor . . .

hold on the people remains so strong that when the Communist party organized a propaganda attack on him, the plan had to be abandoned because of public resentment.

And what's the answer to all this? Well, the Emperor is a spiritual symbol of the state. Moreover, he is the head of Shintoism, a religion which partakes of ancestor worship, and may be described as a code of living.

When he renounced his "divinity" it had no marked effect on the people. He accepted without question what he said. But he still remained a symbol for their reverence.

It is because of this public attitude that the American command has kept the Emperor on the throne as a steady influence and a bulwark against Communism. He is the symbol binding the people together.

BEER—America's Beverage of Moderation

SUCCESSFUL

Because It Helps You!

Solid success has rewarded our program to raise the standard of beer retailing in our state—success, we feel, that stems largely from the benefit it brings the North Carolina public.

Such a program aids law-enforcement agencies in controlling the few dealers who do not conform to the laws you have made. It serves by safeguarding the millions in taxes contributed by the brewing industry to our State treasury and to the counties and municipalities wherein beer is licensed to be sold. It reduces the problems of licensing and regulation.

A program good for you is good for us, too. And we gladly affirm that the cooperation you are giving is our strongest support.

Chapter 24
Iris' eyes bulged with horror. "Where did that come from?" "It's your bag," Johanson observed dryly. "Suppose you tell us." Bud Donovan crossed to his wife's chair and put his arm protectively around her shoulders. He reminded Vince of a bantam game cock—on the defensive and with several feathers missing but not ready to concede defeat.

"Someone is trying to frame us," he insisted angrily.

Johanson tipped his thumb across the corners of the bills. "I could rig up an excellent case against you two based on circumstantial evidence alone. You came here to blackmail Manny; he refused to take the bait so Donovan here, an expert with a knife, let him have it then robbed him. You could have murdered him just before two o'clock and returned to your room for your chat with Palmer while Manny was dead."

It sounded convincing but Vince knew Johanson didn't believe it any more than he did. Manny himself had said, "We can eliminate the Donovans."

"We didn't take it," Iris' eyes were growing dull and hopeless. "I can't imagine how it got into my knitting bag!"

"I can! I know!"

"They all stared. Hugh Manny was peering in at the half-open window.

Johanson actually looked shocked. "Have you been there all the time?"

"Yes, all the time. I heard everything you said."

Everything! Then he had heard of Simon's death yet he showed no anguish or surprise. Was it possible that Sophie had told him after all?

Hugh perched on the sill like some wary bird. "The French lady put the money in there last night," he announced triumphantly.

"How do you know?" Johanson demanded sternly.

"I saw her just before you turned your flashlight on me. I was peeking through the window and she was just the other side of the glass with the moonlight shining on her. When Vince came over to her she took the package from the front of her dress and put it in the knitting bag."

Johanson eyed him as though he were on a witness stand and were undergoing cross examination. "Would you swear to that?"

"Yes, I swear it. I swear it!" Hugh giggled with excitement.

The investigator turned to the Donovans, a rueful smile pulling at the corners of his mouth. "That will be all for now then."

Iris didn't forgive easily. "So we're no longer considered murderers!"

"If I were positive you were murderers, you'd be under arrest," he replied. "I merely said I could rig a convincing case, and I still can."

And don't you forget it for one moment, his eyes warned them. It took more persuasion to get white at the knuckles.

"Then you know why I took the money from Seemee's safe . . . ?" "The afraid not. Surely your alliance with Manny was a profitable one. A man of his wealth must have gratified every whim of yours."

"Ha, how little you know! Seemee was a miserable peeg! He liked to see me dressed expensively but he never gave me so much as a centime. When I told him the truth about why I was in America he laughed at me, and when the war was over and I asked him to help me, he taunted me with the reminder that I was a spy and would deserve the gallows under international law! And you ask me why I steal!"

Her voice broke; tears began to course down the damascene cheeks. "I weel tell you. Eet ees because I haef a child, a leetle girl, Sari, the one theeing that made my life with Hugo von Proski bearable. And now I do not know whether she ees alive or dead. Een your newspapers I see the pictures of enocent men, women and cheildren being slaughtered. I see the crematories at Lublin, the chambers. I see the piles of children's shoes and I do not know but what my leetle Sari's shoes are among them!"

Ted Horn Thinks This Time Is 'It'

Arlington, Tex., April 26—(AP)—Handsome Ted Horn, kingpin of the dirt track racers, says "this is it" about the Indianapolis Speedway Classic next month.

The Paterson, N.J. blond is undefeated for the season among the daredevils of the roaring road, his latest victory being in the Arlington Downs 100-mile race here yesterday.

"I think the 500-mile race at Indianapolis is going to be mine this time," he said after finishing the gruelling grind three laps ahead and pocketing $2,478. "I'm getting old, you know, and I need to win it pretty soon if ever."

Horn, 38, has been American Automobile Association champion for two years and is well on his way toward another title. He picked up 200 points with his victory here yesterday. It was the first of the races over the country to determine the AAA champ. The Indianapolis Speedway Classic is next.

Horn never has finished lower than fourth at Indianapolis.

All-Navy Award Instituted For Sportsmanship

The latest in sportsmanship promotion is a Marine Corps-Navy policy under which the Navy Department will give a trophy to the athlete who best demonstrates the principles of good sportsmanship throughout All-Navy tournaments.

The All-Navy Sportsmanship Trophy is the name of the new award and a loser can win it. It will be awarded at each All-Navy tournament in which teams participate and in boxing and wrestling. Officials and playing members of all teams will cast ballots for sportsmanship award candidates. Team members will not be allowed to vote for other members of their own team.

This year a separate trophy will be awarded the selected athlete after All-Navy finals in basketball, boxing, swimming, softball, baseball and football.

Saturday's Big Sixth Frame Wins First Game Of Season For Locals; Jays' Manager Hurls Win Sunday

By BEET MOYE
Manager Bill Phebus and his Greenville Greenies split their weekend bill with the Roanoke Rapids Jays, winning the Saturday night affair here in Guy Smith stadium, 8-7, and losing the game over in Roanoke Rapids Sunday afternoon 8-4.

The Greenies registered their first win of the current season here Saturday night as they edged out the Roanoke Rapids Jays 8-7 in a game that was a thriller until the last ball was thrown.

The Greenies trailed until the sixth frame when they put across six runs to take a 7-5 lead, and then put across what later proved their winning run in the eighth frame when Danny Lastris' single, an infield out and Bob Cohen's timely single brought Lastris home.

The Jays started their scoring in the first frame when Jim Coleman walked, and then came home on Bill Bolick's double into centerfield.

The Greenies came back in their half of the first to knot the count at one-all when Lastris walked, Carter sacrificed him to second and Bob Cohen brought him home with a single.

The Jays went out in front run in the fourth when Meyer walked. Stalls doubled, and Parker's hit through third baseman Thrush for an error allowing Meyer to score.

Three more runs were added by the Jays in the fifth when Kempf walked, went to second on Little's wild pitch and Bolick doubled to bring him home and Val Gonzales homering over the right field wall to clear the bases.

The Greenies' big inning was the sixth when they put across six runs on three hits, two errors and a walk. Phillips reached first on an error by Kempf, Thrush doubled, Pasteris hit to Kempf who threw home to catch Phillips, but catcher Pavlich dropped the ball, Biasi hit to pitcher forcing Thrush at third, Kovalchick singled to lead the bases, Lastris walked forcing in Pasteris, Carter hit to short forcing Lastris at second, Cohen doubled to bring in Biasi and Kovalchick; and Nash doubled bringing in Cohen and Carter.

The Jays threatened to tie the count in the ninth frame when they tallied twice. Coleman walked, Bolick hit to Nash who threw the ball wild to second with Coleman taking third and Bolick advancing to second and Meyer singled to bring home both Coleman and Bolick.

Val Gonzales with a homer and a single and Bill Bolick with two doubles led the seven-hit attack off the two Greenie hurlers.

Bob Cohen, whose double and two singles drove in four of the Greenies' runs, led the eleven hit attack off the two Jays' hurlers. Every man, with the exception of Phillips, collected a hit off the offering of the two Jay hurlers.

Score by innings: R
Roanoke Rapids 100 100 002-7
Greenville 100 000 011-8

Sunday's Game
The Greenies hooked up in Sunday's game with Pete Kunis getting the better of Manager Bill Phebus of the Greenies as the Roanoke Rapids Jays took an 8-4 win over the Greenies to even the two game series between the two clubs.

Manager Phebus, who had to take himself out of the game in the third frame, was touched for nine hits, seven runs, struck out one and walked two.

Pete Kunis went the entire route for the Jays pitching seven-hit ball and got into difficulty only in the early stages of the game when the Greenies took a 4-0 lead by scoring three runs in the first and one in the third frame but after that held the Greenies scoreless.

Kenneth Brooks went into the game in the third frame with two men out and pitched the balance of the game allowing only six hits, one run, walking one and striking out none.

Bob Cohen and Emil Carter each with two hits led the attack of the Greenies. Gonzales with three for four was best for the Jays, with Lee the leftfielder hitting a homer with one mate aboard in the big third inning.

Score by innings: R
Greenville 301 000 000-4
Roanoke Rapids 007 000 101-8

Two Entries In Kentucky Derby Listed One-Two

Louisville, Ky., April 26—(AP)—The 74th renewal of the Kentucky Derby still is five days away but the only unanswered question here today is whether Citation or Coaltown will prance off with the roses and gold.

Calumet's dashing two-year-old remained solid one-two favorites, just as they were when Col. Matt J. Winn released his Derby nominations a few weeks ago.

Ben F. Whitaker's My Request was a solid third choice—but no better, despite his impressive victory in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday. It was his fourth triumph in four starts this season.

So firmly installed as one-two-three favorites were the Calumet and Whitaker horses that indications pointed to the smallest Derby field in 34 years. Only seven are regarded as sure starters. The same number that went to the post in 1914 when Old Rosebud got home first.

Six of the seven are here. They are Calumet's Citation and Coaltown, Walmac Farm's Billings, W. L. Brann's Escadru, Charles A. O'Neill's Galeo and Mrs. Payson Adams' Grandpere.

My Request will ship to Kentucky tomorrow. Trainer Jimmy Conway said in New York he was confident the flashy son of Requested will give the Calumet pair a run for the money in the $100,000 mile and a quarter gallop at Churchill Downs Saturday.

Trainer Ben Jones said he would enter both Citation and Coaltown in tomorrow's Derby trial mile but "probably won't run only one."

Citation is expected to do the honors. He hasn't had any competition for nine days and never has raced in his native Kentucky. The only others expected to go to the post are Escadru and Howard Wells' Eagle Look.

Sport Slants by Pap

Steve O'Neill is convinced that Art Houtteman is destined to be a winning pitcher for the Detroit Tigers. Houtteman is the young right-hander who was recalled from Buffalo midway in the pennant race last season to bolster the Tiger hurling corps. Art had won only three games for the Bisons, having been absent from the line-up for a long spell because of illness. He had won 16 for Buffalo in 1946, but showed lack of control when the Tigers looked him over the following spring. Houtteman won seven for the Tigers in the last two months and was charged with a pair of losses. One of the defeats, a 3-2 loss to the Browns in an extra-inning night game, was strictly of the hard luck variety.

The winning experience Houtteman gained last season has given him the confidence he needed and has served to improve his control. He has developed a sinker which has served him well in tight places. Twenty-one years old and a product of Detroit's sandlots and high school leagues, Houtteman was discovered by Scout Wish Egan, the venerable slough who has unearthed so many of Detroit's talented players.

Golfers Back Up Bobby Locke For PGA Tournament

Richmond, Va., April 26—(AP)—Golf Stars Jimmy Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum today opened a campaign to make South African Bobby Locke eligible for the forthcoming PGA tournament.

Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., and Mangrum, of Chicago, said they didn't like the "attitude" of the Professional Golfers Association in barring Locke from the St. Louis event May 19 to May 25. And they added they'd like to see something done about it.

Said Demaret:

"Bobby Locke is a visitor in this country and has helped our business. He doesn't belong to the PGA because he's not an American. Because he doesn't belong, the PGA has ruled he's ineligible to participate in its tournament."

"Bobby Locke has done a lot for American golf—more than any other foreigner has been able to do. And I definitely think he should be allowed to play."

Stokes Athlete Is Member Of Top Flight Quintet

Wiesbaden, Germany, April 26—A member of the Camp Lindsey "Commanders," championship basketball team of the 1948 European Command season, is Sergeant Edward Warren of the U.S. Air Force in Wiesbaden, Germany. Sergeant Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warren of Stokes, N.C.

As an all-around athlete, he also was a member of the Commander Football squad of 1947-48, which won the Western Division Championship, then lost to Berlin-Tempelhof for the EUCOM title.

Bowling Champ Missed Listing

Detroit, April 26—(AP)—The high board standings of the American Bowling Congress were conspicuous today for their omission of a name—Andy Vartapapa's.

The famous New Yorker world match game champion, muffed his three weekend appearances, failing to post a 600 and losing a chance to overtake Chicago's Joe Wilman in the ten-year averages.

Dyer Sidelined Following Injury

Chicago, April 26—(AP)—That line drive which rocketed against Eddie Dyer's head this spring has made him a "bench" manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and also a bit of a contented philosopher.

Eddie can't take much sunshine since he was felled by a liner off a Card rookie's bat on March 4 at St. Petersburg, Fla. He gets headaches from the slight concussion which resulted.

"So I stay on the bench and let Tony Kaufman and Clyde Wares work the coaching boxes," explained the affable Cardinal pilot. "There's a lot to be said for directing a team from either the bench or the field."

"I like to be up on the line where you are close to the action, but on the bench, you get a chance to concentrate better."

"There's something to be thankful for, and something for me to remember when I think the breaks all are going against me."

Bill Veeck Will Undergo Further Surgery On Leg

Cleveland, April 26—(AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians will enter Cleveland Clinic next Monday for additional surgery on his injured right leg.

Veeck, who suffered the injury while serving with the marines during the war, already has had two amputations on the leg.

He reported last night the nature of the new surgery would not be determined until after he re-enters the clinic. The leg now has been amputated to a point about eight inches below the knee.

Oldest Jockey Says Sobriety Is Key To Success

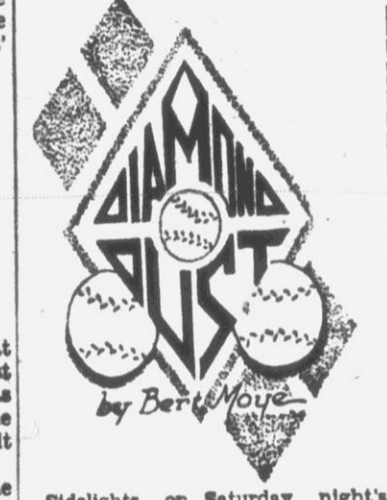

Brussels—(AP)—Julien Swijsen, small, almost toothless, claims that at the age of 88 he is the oldest practicing jockey in the world.

Swijsen, whose home is at Tournai, a historic town on the Belgian-French border, disputes claims that the world's oldest jockey still is in the United States. Last year's turf annuals, he says, recorded an 80-year old jockey in America. Swijsen, emphasizing he has not renewed his license, says: "I shall certainly not retire this year."

He recalls he started riding at the age of three "when, as an orphan, I was picked up by a horse trader." Since then his life has been spent with horses. His greatest success on the turf was with Apollon, which he bought "for a song" from a Dutchman. "For years Apollon won victory after victory on the turf in Belgium, France, England and Holland," he says. Swijsen attributes his fitness to the 40-mile bicycle rides he takes regularly and to the fact he "loves his work and keeps sober."

Spectacularly low death rates of under one per 1,000 were recorded for the United States in 1947 for ages 5 to 14 among white boys and 5 to 24 among white women.

About 83 percent of U.S. house-holders are now in urban areas.

Cleveland Sluggers Show Unexpected Hitting Power

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer
Manager Lou Boudreau has come up with his own "murderers row" at Cleveland to toss a temporary scare into teams with designs on the American League pennant.

The Indians have won four straight games to become the only major league club so far without a blemish and they have done it by following a very simple formula.

They have just knocked the stuffing out of the ball.

In the four games, Boudreau's Athletics have pounded out 45 hits, including five doubles, two triples and eight home runs. Only the slugging New York Giants of the National League, with nine in seven games, have more round-trippers.

Sunday was home run day in the majors with a total of 19 round-trippers around the two circuits.

Joe Di Maggio connected for a homer with two mates on base to contribute to the New York Yankee's 5-4 win over the Boston Red Sox before 68,021 at Yankee Stadium. It was the sixth loss for the Red Sox in seven starts this season.

Washington remained in second place with a 5-3 win and lost records when it gained a split in the doubleheader with the Athletics in Philadelphia before 22,150 fans. After 20-year-old Carl Scheib shut out the Senators, 4-0, on six hits in the first game, the Nats bounced back to defeat the A's, 7-3, in the second.

The Chicago White Sox won their first game of the season, trimming the Browns in St. Louis, 4-1, but Zach Taylor's men came back to win the second game, 7-6. Held hitless for four innings, the White Sox almost rescued the second game as they whittled down a 7-0 deficit. Bob Dillinger collected five hits for the Browns including a home run.

Getting exceptionally fine pitching from veteran Bob Newsom and rookie Sheldon Jones, the Giants whipped the Braves twice before 35,964 Boston rooters, 6-3 and 6-0. In making it four straight over the Braves, the Giants moved into first place in the National League.

Veteran Knuckleballer Dutch Leonard held the Dodgers in check before 26,231 disappointed Brooklynites at Ebbets Field while the Philadelphia Phils clubbed four Dodgers pitchers for 14 hits and a 7-3 victory.

With 43,476 home town fans showing approval, Russ Meyer pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 3-1 one hit triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Pittsburgh Pirates divided a double header before 28,086 fans. The Reds won the opener 7-6 on Hank Souer's ninth inning home run. The Pirates won the second 13-10 despite two more four-baggers by Sauer. Wally Westlake hit a grand slam homer and drove in six runs to lead the Pirates' second game attack.

Scientists estimate that the salt from the oceans, if dried and placed in a pile, would form a mound 4,500,000 cubic miles in size.

Train Accident Fatal For Pair

Adamsville, Ala., April 26—(AP)—An engineer and woman passenger were killed and 31 other persons were injured when a Miami-Chicago passenger train plumed down an embankment near here yesterday.

The locomotive and tender, a combination baggage-dormitory car and two pullman cars of the Illinois Central railroad's Sun Chaser plumed down the steep 100-foot embankment northeast of Birmingham.

Twenty-three baseball players from the Sheboygan (Wisconsin) Indians and the Cairo (Illinois) club of the Brooklyn Dodger training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., provided themselves heroes by rescuing passengers from the wreckage and administering first aid.

Injured passengers were high in their praise of the ballplayers.

One woman told how several players used sheets to pull her small daughter from a coach. Several of the injured were carried up the embankment by means of sheets tied together.

Will Install Street Signs And Numbers

Mayor Jack Boyd said today that the work of installing the street signs, giving the names of the streets and avenues, will get under way shortly. A survey made recently by a Raleigh engineer mapped all business and dwelling houses and vacant lots and fields in the city limits for the convenience of the public. Many houses were improperly numbered and sometimes several bore the same number.

Arrangements are now being made for attaching correct numbers on houses and business places. When the project is completed all streets will be designated by signs at the intersections and all building will be correctly numbered, the mayor said.

Inspection Lane

The motor vehicle inspection lane, reopened near the Curb Market and Fire Tower in the western part of the city, is now open daily, with Walter P. Dail of Winterville supervisor in charge. The state law requires that all motor vehicles shall be inspected once during 1948 and twice a year thereafter.

King And Queen Celebrate 25th Anniversary

London, April 26—(AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, whose domesticity has endeared them to home-loving Britons, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary today amid Empire-wide rejoicing.

As congratulations poured in from far-off Dominions, London plunged into the biggest display of Royal pageantry since Princess Elizabeth married Philip last November.

From early morning thousands streamed into the capital to watch the Royal family drive in state from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral for a National service of Thanksgiving.

Flags of virtually all nations decked the "silver bridal path" where thousands waited to cheer the rulers.

Reds Run Fourth In Two Elections

Frankfurt, Germany, April 26—(AP)—Communists ran fourth in community elections yesterday in two American son states, Bavaria and Hesse.

The Communists have lost ground in this area while rightwing parties gained.

Chinchillas live in communities burrow deep holes in the ground for living quarters, and sit up when eating, like squirrels.

Snipers Fire On Plane Off Korea

Seoul, April 26—(AP)—A sniper attack on an American courier plane on Cheju Island, off Southern Korea, was reported today by U. S. Army headquarters here.

The Army said the C47 of the Troop Carrier Command was fired upon by two snipers during a takeoff from Cheju Island airstrip Saturday.

U. S. military government headquarters at Cheju radioed that the snipers escaped. Army intelligence sought additional information, but had difficulty contacting Cheju by radio.

Air Force officers at Kimp'o Airport near Seoul said they knew nothing of the attack. They said the plane's crew made no report of any such incident. (This indicated the plane was not damaged and that the crew may not have known they were fired upon.)

Cheju has been the scene of political unrest for the past month. Nearly 30 persons have been killed in what the Army called Communist-led attacks on police boxes, election registration headquarters and homes of rightists.

Senator Taylor Addresses Union

Winston-Salem, N.C., April 26—(AP)—Lawyers today planned to obtain the release from jail of a milkman charged with slaying a rival for his wife's affections.

Fred S. Hutchins and John D. Slaughter, attorneys for Sam C. Hampton, 39, said they probably would start habeas corpus action.

Hampton was ordered held without bond for a Superior Court murder trial following a hearing Saturday. Detective Henry Rominger testified the milkman admitted killing Jack Arrington with a shotgun in a churchyard here three weeks ago.

Riverside Park To Be Religious Center

Churches of Christ, Roanoke District, which includes churches over a wide area of Eastern North Carolina, recently voted to buy Riverside Park on the Pamlico River, near Washington, as a permanent camp site for the district. The decision was unanimous at a meeting of church leaders, held at Roper recently. The park site will be taken over next year. The present owner will operate the resort this year.

Ample space and buildings for recreational activities are available. The plan is to use the river site for general church events. Sixty churches in Virginia and this state are cooperating in the movement to acquire the site.

Smith, local manager, said. The merit cards were signed by Railway Express Company President L. O. Head and countersigned by Divisional Superintendent M. B. Daniels.

Mayor Jack Boyd of Greenville, Capt. Lester Jones of the State Highway Patrol and Greenville Police Chief Buford Drum were present when the awards were made.

The Railway Express Company has a custom of honoring its employees who go through a year without an accident.

J. R. MOYE OF GARNER

J. R. Moye who was found not guilty of the larceny of a check from W. F. Phillips, an oil company employe, in Superior Court last week, lives at Garner, N. C. Judge Henry L. Stevens of Warsaw, presided over the one week criminal term, ordered a non-suit at the conclusion of the state's evidence. Testimony was that Moye and Phillips "matched" for the Phillips' check, and that the Garner man won. The judge told the jury that if it had brought in a verdict of guilty he would have set it aside. In Friday's court story the defendant's name given as J. R. Moye.

Transplanting Gets Under Way In Pitt

Transplanting tobacco plants is now getting into full swing in Pitt county, and by the end of this week, weather permitting, setting out will be well underway. There is an abundance of well grown plants. Some blue mold is reported in the county, but the disease struck the plants after they were well developed and did little damage, Farm Agent S. C. Winchester said.

Incidentally, more farmers are treating their plant beds this year against blue mold and are using Fomate.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, April 26—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 5 to 40 cents a bale higher.

Cotton futures sold lower today on liquidation, with the decline accentuated by stop-loss selling. Losses extended to more than $250 a bale before the market steadied on mill buying.

Confusion over the foreign aid program and to what extent they will tighten up old crop cotton supplies, accounted for some selling.

More favorable weather reports from the cotton belt, including needed rains in Oklahoma and Texas, brought some pressure on the new crop deliveries.

Washington reports indicated that it will take about two weeks to wind up all details of the private Japanese cotton credit program.

Noon prices were 70 cents to $1.45 a bale lower than the previous close. May $37.83, July 37.08 and Oct. 33.14.

Futures closed $2.45 to $3.50 a bale lower than the previous close.
