Congress Begins Task Of Defense

Senate And House Committees Convene To Write Ultimate Form For Defense Measure; Royall And Symington Appear In Closed Sessions For Testimony

Washington, April 27 — (AP) — Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) today termed Secretary of Defense Forrestal's 66 group Air Force proposal a "lot of poppycock" and a "camouflage" for Universal Military Training.

Johnson told reporters the 70 group program the House has voted to get underway is the least needed for national security.

The Colorado senator lit into the Forrestal compromise plan as committees on both sides of the Capitol kept at the job of charting military preparedness. Here is the picture:

1. The Senate Armed Services Committee called Secretary of the Army Royall to a closed session for details on a plan to blend the proposed temporary draft and long range UMT.

2. The House armed services group assembled to start section-by-section voting on a draft bill. As introduced, it provides for induction of men 19 through 25 and registration of those 18 through 30. The committee hopes to finish its job by tomorrow night.

3. A Senate appropriations subcommittee scheduled an afternoon open meeting (2 p.m., EST) to hear Secretary for Air Symington and other Air Force officials on the 66 air group plan.

Symington has been one of the leaders of the battle for 70 groups. He spoke out first when the Administration was advocating only 55 groups.

But Forrestal told an appropriations subcommittee yesterday that the Air Force now is backing the 66 group plan because of the need to limit military spending to prevent too great a blow to the domestic economy. Forrestal said that from a purely military standpoint he and the joint chiefs of staff agree there should be 70 groups.

Johnson called the Forrestal proposal "a compromise without substance—a play on words." He said the backers of 66 groups "are trying to get out of having an adequate Air Force," and added:

"What they want is UMT—period. All the other is just a camouflage for it."

Johnson is not a member of either Senate committee considering the preparedness program. But he was a high ranking member of the old Senate Military Committee before the 1947 reorganization which merged that group with the Naval Committee.

The Colorado lawmaker is opposed to UMT "in any form, extent or guise." He says he will vote for a temporary draft if that is the only way the manpower of the services can be built up for an emergency.

The proposal which brought Royall before the Armed Services Committee provides for combining the draft and UMT training programs temporarily.

Sen. Vandenberg Hints Alliance Against Soviets

Warns Americans To Root Out And Destroy Treason At Home, In Address

Washington, April 27—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg tossed out a fresh hint to Russia today that the United States may join Western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression.

The Michigan senator—chief Republican exponent of this country's bi-partisan foreign policy—at the same time served this warning on Americans:

"We are suicidal fools if we do not root out and destroy any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States."

Above all, Vandenberg said, Premier Stalin should understand that "we shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made his pronouncements in a surprise speech last night at a dinner given by Michigan Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations for the state's congressional delegation.

He declined afterwards to expand on his remarks. But Vandenberg appeared to be adding his own support to mounting indications that America will throw its military as well as its economic weight against Communist expansion in Europe.

Rapping what he called Russia's uncompromising refusal to let the United Nations perfect its own peace machinery, the senator declared:

"We have not yet even scratched the surface of the possibilities of its (the U.N.'s) regional arrangements, as exemplified in the Rio treaty. There can be vital progress in this procedure—and I venture to predict there will."

The Rio treaty drafted last fall provides that all other Western Hemisphere nations will come to the military aid of any one of them attacked by a country outside this hemisphere. Vandenberg helped write the treaty and led the fight for its ratification by the Senate.

Business Asked To Lend 'Brains' For ERP Work

Washington, April 27—(AP)—A plea that American business quickly volunteer its best management brains to Europe's recovery effort was delivered today to the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Clem D. Johnston of Roanoke, Va. chairman of the Chamber's International committee, voiced the appeal to more than 2,500 businessmen attending the organization's 56th annual meeting.

Johnston said in a prepared speech that every industry should offer to Paul G. Hoffman, economic cooperation administration, a list of "qualified men" able and willing to work directly with European industry.

The keynote address of the session, delivered by President Earl O. Shreve, of New York City, carried a demand for Federal economy through the period of heavy foreign aid and steeply mounting national defnse costs.

PREMIER RETURNS

Taft Steps Up Campaign In Ohio

Dayton, O., April 27— (AP) —Sen. Robert A. Taft, after a week of intensive campaigning in Northern Ohio, moved into the southern part of his home state today.

The Republican organization's favorite son candidate scheduled three Dayton appearances and one in nearby Hamilton today.

Taft has a similar heavy schedule through Saturday. Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota Governor challenging Taft in the May 4 primary for 23 of Ohio's 53 convention delegates, also spent a day in this area last week.

Battle Of Margarine

The First Of Two Stories About The Fight In Congress; Background; Tactics Used By Two Sides; All Action Still In House; If Passed, Senate Must Okay It

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 27—(AP)—The battle of the fats—butter and margarine—is coming to a head.

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows.

Margarine is made of vegetable fats—oil from soy beans, cottonseed, peanuts.

For years the dairy farmers and the butter-makers have had an advantage over the margarine-makers and the growers of vegetable fats.

How? By blocking any attempt in Congress to knock off the special federal taxes and fees for making or selling margarine.

Above all they've fought against letting margarine be sold in yellow color—like butter—without some special tax or label.

Some of the details in this fight will be given tomorrow, but here is a little Congress background.

About 18 bills were introduced in the House this year to wipe out the margarine fees or taxes.

In March the House Agriculture Committee for days held hearings on these bills, listening to a stream of witnesses.

Most of the witnesses were on the side of margarine. They included spokesmen for retail grocers, educators, hospitals, a veterans group, labor organizations, college women and consumers.

But when the hearings were all over, the members of the committee voted—16 to 10—to sit on the bill. Which means the full House would not get a chance to vote on that.

Then some margarine-minded congressmen got up a petition in the House to drag the bills away from the committee.

To make such a petition work, they needed the signatures of 218 congressmen, or just more than one-half of the 435 members. Finally they got the 218. That was the signal for the full House to act.

So yesterday the full House voted—235 to 121—to force at least one of the bills out of the committee to the floor where the whole House could debate and vote on it.

This bill would wipe out all federal taxes and fees on margarine.

After a couple of days of argu-

Dairy Men Drive For Concessions In Oleo Struggle

Would Change Oleo Packaging; Concede House Will Repeal Federal Tax

Washington, April 27—(AP)—Dairy state lawmakers drove hard today to require triangular-shaped oleo packages so the product can be "clearly distinguished from butter."

They brought forth this proposal as they conceded that the House will vote tomorrow to repeal the 62-year-old federal taxes on oleo.

However, they still hope the repealer bill can be stopped in the Senate.

The oleo forces won their first test against the butter bloc yesterday. The House voted 235 to 121 then to discharge its agriculture committee from further consideration of various repealer bills and to put the issue squarely to the house floor for a showdown. The Agriculture committee had voted 16 to 10 to shelve the bills.

Tempers flared during the opening debate before jam-packed galleries.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the Ways and Means committee shouted a direct threat at the south that limits on cotton imports will be lifted the southerners continue their battle to remove the oleo tax.

"I am chairman of the committee that can do it," he said. Cotton seed and peanut oil are used in making oleo.

At Republicans supporting the oleo tax repealer, Knutson stormed:

"You poor saps. I want to pay my compliments to the sap Republicans. The New Deal Congress had 16 years to do something about this, and it was too hot for them. Now look at you."

Stassen Backers Claim New Votes

Boast Of Strength In Washington State Convention

Washington, April 27 — (AP) — Growing signs of a stop-Stassen movement were countered today by claims that Harold E. Stassen may grab a share of Washington State's 19 GOP presidential nominating votes.

Stassen spokesmen here said supporters of the former Minnesota governor, by working down into the precincts, have put themselves in position to challenge Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's men for control of the satte's May 15 GOP party meeting.

That gathering will name the 19 Washington delegates to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia this summer.

The story told by Stassen's backers is that his workers showed up in force at precinct meetings and succeeded in naming many delegates of their choosing to several county conventions, including the one in Spokane.

With this as a starter, the Stassen supporters contend they are certain to break into the national convention delegate lineup. That group had been generally regarded as likely to shift largely to Dewey after possible early ballots for Senator Harry Cain (Wash.) and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Dewey backers retorted, however, that Stassen is only whistling to keep up his courage in Washington. They said control of Seattle and Tacoma delegations will freeze the Minnesotan out at the state convention.

Yadkin Votes On School Program And Bond Issue

Yadkinville, N. C., April 27.—(AP)—A program to bring Yadkin county's school system up to date with an expenditure of approximately $480,000 today went before more than 4,800 eligible voters at the polls.

If good weather continues throughout the day, a heavy turnout is expected in all of the county's 13 voting precincts.

The balloting got off to a brisk start as many farmers dropped into the polling places before they started their day's work.

If the school program is approved, it will authorize the issue bonds not exceeding $480,000 to erect new school buildings, enlarge existing structures and acquire land and equipment for them.

Sentence Jap In 'B-29 Beatings'

Yokohama, April 27— (AP) —An Eighth Army tribunal today sentenced Sgt. Hirooazu Tanaka, former Osaka prison guard, to eight years at hard labor for participating in the B-29 beating of Allied prisoners.

The B-29 beatings derived their name from the fact that every time the big bombers appeared over Osaka, Tanaka and another sergeant would beat the captives whose numbers turned up 29th at evening roll call. Since there were 13 prison groups, 13 men got beaten every time the B-29s appeared.

Zionists Demand UN Halt Invasion

Jewish Agency Says Jews Of Palestine Making Preparations To Meet Attack; Russia Joins Trusteeship Body

Lake Success, April 27—(AP)— The Jewish agency today demanded firm action by the United Nations to halt an invasion of Palestine by regular armies of Trans-Jordan and other Arab countries.

The agency also warned the U. N. that the Jews of Palestine themselves were "making every possible preparation to meet the next phase of the onslaught with our own forces."

The Jewish position was set forth by Moshe Sherton, head of the Jewish agency's political department. He spoke before the 58-nation political committee of the U. N. special Palestine Assembly.

The U. N. trusteeship Council met simultaneously in an effort to work out emergency police machinery to guard the Holy places of Jerusalem against destruction. Russia ended her year-long boycott of the Council to take part in the discussions.

After Francis B. Sayre of the United States, Council president, welcomed Soviet delegates Senyon K. Tsarapkin to the table, a man arose in the audience and demanded the floor.

He was hustled out by two uniformed U. N. guards, crying: "Shame, shame."

In the political committee; Shertok said:

"If trans-Jordan brings war to Palestine, the British government will be responsible, and if the whole issue is not placed on the agenda of this committee and of the Security Council, then it cannot be said that the United Nations is dealing with the realities of the Palestine crisis.

"I ought to make it clear, Mr. Chairman, that while we believe that this threatened invasion of Palestine by the regular armies of the Arab states around us calls for firm action by the United Nations, we ourselves are making every possible preparation to meet the next phase of the onslaught with our own forces.

"Our strength may be limited but there is nothing that a people conscious of its past and cherishing its future will not do in defense of its life and liberty."

Rapidly Nearing Strike Deadline

Railroad Wage Negotiators Have Until Midnight Tonight

Chicago, April 27 —(AP)— The possibility of a strike which would stop the nation's rail service flavored wage talks here today between the carriers and three operating unions.

The last legal barrier to such a strike will vanish at midnight with expiration of a 30-day cooling off period which followed a federal fact-finding board's recommendations for settlement of a wage and rules dispute.

The unions, representing more than 125,000 firemen, engineers and switchmen, have decided that failure to reach agreement with the railroads today will bring about setting of a strike date "as soon as possible."

No word came from the conference on progress toward a settlement. The talks have been in process since April 14. Three unions have rejected a 15 1-2 cent hourly raise recommended by the fact-finding panel as inadequate. The railroads accepted the recommendation.

Two other operating brotherhoods, the railway trainmen and railway conductors, accepted the wage increase last November. Members of non-operating unions settled their wage case for the 15 1-2 cents an hour raise last September.

David B. Robertson, president of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said in Cleveland a strike date must be set if the carriers and unions fail to reach an agreement before midnight.

Asks Probe Of Police Assault In Meat Strike

Washington, April 27. — (AP)— The CIO today asked a federal investigation of what it called a "wanton assault" by Kansas City, Kan. police on striking packinghouse workers last week.

CIO President Philip Murray requested action in separate letters to President Truman and Attorney General Tom Clar. He said:

"The inhumane actions of the police of Kansas City, Kans., mark a new low in police activities and make a mockery of the law which the officers are sworn to uphold.

"There is not the slightest justification for the wanton assault and irresponsible destruction of property to which the police resorted."

Huge New Cyclotron To Be Built To Study Atom

Berkeley, Calif., April 27—(AP)—A $9,000,000 cyclotron which may be the ultimate tool for solving the mysteries of atomic energy will be built at the University of California with government money.

It will be a racetrack-shaped magnet 110 feet in diameter which will whip atomic bullets around its course until they reach speeds exceeding 60,000 miles an hour. These speeds will give them striking force ranging from 6 billion to 10 billion volts.

With these bullets scientists will bombard atoms to produce mesons, which are mighty little packets of energy and matter and which apparently are the key to the deepest secrets of nuclear energy.

The project was announced last night jointly by Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, cyclotron inventor, and David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Construction probably will require about five years.

The AEC chairman said that the plans reflect the determination of the United States to remain "preeminent" in the development of atomic research as long as the prospects for international agreement on atomic energy control remain poor. He described the present prospects as "remote."

Heavily Armed Youths Rob Tel Aviv Bank Of Million Dollars At Gunpoint

Tel Aviv, Palestine, April 27 — (AP)—Heavily armed youths who said they were members of the Jewish underground Stern group pulled a $1,000,000 daylight bank robbery today under the eyes of Haganah guards.

The youths, just after dawn, visited the homes of all directors and cashiers of Barclay's Bank. At gunpoint they took the matched keys needed to open vaults. Some of the bank officials were beaten to make them surrender the keys.

Just after the bank opened, two of the group, wearing military police armbands, asked admittance to inspect the armed guard kept by Haganah, the Jewish militia, because of the wave of recent robberies by dissident underground groups.

When the doors opened, a larger group of youths rushed up. They disarmed the guards, herded the employes into one room, and opened the vaults with the matched keys. They escaped in two waiting taxis with 250,000 lbs. ($1,000,000) in cash and negotiable bank securities.

Primary Election In Pennsylvania Holds Spotlight

Sampling Of Voters' Preference Seen In Write-In Ballots; Light Vote Seen

Philadelphia, April 27—(AP)—An expression of presidential preference by write-in balloting drew the principal interest in today's Pennsylvania primary election as Republican aspirants matched strength in the politically important Keystone state.

On the Republican side of the ledger, a blank space on the ballot was expected to provide a sampling of voter sentiment on the party's leading candidates although the balloting will have no pre-convention effect on the state's 73-member unpledged GOP delegation.

Democratic voters, at the same time, were selecting their 74-member convention delegation which already has been pledged to support the candidacy of President Truman.

Only about 30 percent of the state's 2,676,972 registered Republicans and 1,779,096 Democrats were expected to visit the polls, open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

A light vote was anticipated partly because of a lack of statewide contests and partly because none of the presidential candidates had campaigned actively in Pennsylvania prior to the primary.

A similar write-in vote four years ago gave Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York a majority that presaged his later nomination at the Republican National Convention. At that time Dewey received 146,706 votes to 1,502 for Harold E. Stassen.

The write-in vote will bring Dewey, Stassen and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio up against Pennsylvania's favorite son candidate, U.S. Senator Edward Martin.

Martin, a former Pennsylvania governor, is expected to receive the state delegation's support at the GOP convention in Philadelphia in June, at least on the first ballot and until a trend is indicated for another candidate in sufficient strength to warrant a shift.

Tension Rising Around Trieste

Italians And Yugoslavs Clash In Border Patrol Fight

Rome, April 27—(AP)—An Italian soldier and a Yugoslav officer were killed last night in a border patrol fight near Trieste.

Amid rising tension, British and American authorities tightened precautions today against any Communist infiltration of their zone of the free territory for May Day demonstrations.

The Italian foreign ministry said the clash occurred in a narrow strip of territory which Yugoslav forces had seized "in one of their many sallies" out of their lines.

Three other Italian soldiers were wounded in the brief skirmish, one critically. The clash occurred near the village of Rauna Di Lucio in Venezia Giulia, just northwest of the free territory.

The defense ministry said the Yugoslavs have refused to return the body of the dead Italian soldier. Its communique said the Yugoslav commander had refused to leave his headquarters to talk to an Italian general who went to the scene. It added that an Italo-Slav military commission already has begun to investigate the incident.

The ministry said the clash occurred in a short strip of territory 200 yards deep, west of the line laid out by an Allied commission. It said the Yugoslavs arbitrarily took over this strip, just west of Drenchia and north of Nabries Pass.

Wandering Dog Back Home Again

Seattle, April 27—(AP)— Tuffy, the Howard Bishops' wandering dog, was back home today after a four-year disappearance.

The 11-year-old Husky-Spitz dog wandered away four years ago while the Bishops were living halfway across the nation in Lisle, Mo.

The Bishops don't know how Tuffy got back, but he previously had made the journey from Seattle to Lisle by car and they believe he remembered the way and walked back.

"He looked tired," said Mrs. Bishop.

Chief Of Berlin Police Escapes

Sanctuary In U. S. Zone; Charges Soviet Kidnap Try

Berlin, April 27— (AP) —American authorities announced today they will demand an explanation from the Russians as to why Berlin's Chief of police fled to the western zones of the city.

They said the chief, Hans, told them he ran to escape being arrested by Soviet officials questioning him about the discipilaning of a policeman who lured a German citizen into the Russian sector to be kidnaped.

The western licensed Socialist Press reported a new kidniping of a German civilian today and one paper published safety rules titled: "How to guard yourself against kidnaping."

The paper said a German living in the Soviet zone was seized by two armed Russians who held off German police and civilians with a pistol, then took their man away in a car.

The newspaper warned Jittery Berliners: "Be careful, distrustful of strangers, and defend yourself with all means."

The Russian-controlled press, meanwhile, stepped up its propaganda against the United States and the Marshal plan, Taegliche Rundschau, the official Soviet Army newspaper in Berlin, said the Americans are trying to organize the Germans for a new war against the Soviet Union.

"The Americans are trying to make cannon fodder out of the German people," the paper said.

Liner To Pause For Ceremony At Site Of Death

Manila, April 27.—(AP)—The liner President Cleveland, on leaving the Philippines tomorrow, will pause briefly off the jungles of Bataan. Then Henry A. Wilson of New York will keep his wartime promise to a twin brother.

Wilson and his brother, Maj. Charles N. Wilson, pledged that they would celebrate the war's end with a bottle of champagne saved especially for the purpose. The officer was captured by the Japanese interned at Davao—and died when a prison ship sank off Bataan.

Tomorrow, after traveling 10,000 miles, Henry will keep his promise.

The Rev. Stephen S. Barron, retired chaplain, will say brief services for rthe lost major and his companions. The ship's bugler will sound taps. Wilson then will offer the final salute—he will toss the bottle of champagne into the ocean at the spot where the Americans perished.

Egyptian Troops Said In Palestine

Arab Source Says Part Of Armored Division Crossed Palestine's Southern Frontier At Dawn; Trans-Jordan Legion Reportedly Occupies Jericho

Jerusalem, April 27—(AP)—A reliable Arab source said troops of an Egyptian armored division crossed Palestine's southern frontier at dawn today.

The report came on the heels of a Damascus report that a Trans-Jordan Arab legion had occupied the town of Jericho and was moving into the Dead Valley of Palestine.

This was discounted here since legion security forces are on loan to the British under both the old and new British-Trans-Jordan treaties.

Reports that Haifa is being shelled from Acre across the bay, were unconfirmed.

An official British army spokesman in Jerusalem said one company of the Arab legion "under British army orders" had entered Jericho on specific duties.

"When their duties are finished," he said, "they will be withdrawn."

A Palestine government spokesman said that "any Trans-Jordan troops now in Palestine are under command of the British general officer commanding and their conduct is not in question. We have not heard of any declaration of war and consider any such declaration as extremely unlikely."

A Jewish agency spokesman told newsmen Jews had learned that last night the Trans-Jordan parliament agreed to King Abdullah's demand to send troops into Palestine and ordered a general mobilization.

Armies of the four Arab nations which encircle Palestine are reported ready to invade the Holy Land before the week ends.

The reports said the forces of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Egypt will launch the thrust in defiance of the British mandate, now scheduled to end until May 15, and of the United Nations Security Council, which has ordered a cease-fire in Palestine.

(In London, the Foreign Office announced that Britain will resist any Arab "incursions" into Palestine before the British mandate ends.)

Two Britons were killed in Jerusalem today, as tension increased over the threatened invasion.

Machine guns chattered in Jerusalem all morning, after a night-long Arab-Jewish skirmish in the Katamon area for control of the city's suburbs.

Large scale fighting was reported in half a dozen other parts of the Holy Land.

A traveler from Lydda said Arabs looted the customs house there and set it afire. He said the flames ruined some $60,000 in stores.

William Knudsen Dies In Detroit Following Illness

"Greatest Production Genius Of Modern Times"; Rags-To-Riches Story

Detroit, April 27—(AP)—William S. Knudsen, World War II coordinator of America's industrial might, died today following a long illness.

Death came to the 69-year-old former president of General Motors Corp. at 4:48 a. m. (EST)

The white-haired Danish immigrant was known by fellow industrialists as "the greatest production genius of modern times."

He gave up the presidency of General Motors, the country's largest producer of automobiles, in 1940 to head the mammoth rearmament program initiated by President Roosevelt.

Knudsen was commissioned a Lieutenant-General, the only civilian ever to move directly to that high military office.

Although the well-known automobile pioneer had been seriously ill for 16 months, death did not seem imminent until shortly after midnight, when he lost consciousness.

His wife, Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Knudsen, and their four children were called to his bedside. Doctors Charles E. Lemmon and A. C. Ernestine were in attendance.

Close associates said he never fully regained the vigor of the early war years when he directed the rearmament program.

Arriving here from Copenhagen in 1899, the young son of a Danish Customs Inspector went to work in a shipyard and as a shophand on the Erie Railroad.

He soon found his way into the new automotive industry. By 1913 he had served as assistant manager of a Buffalo concern which later merged with the Ford Motor Co., and then entered the Ford Detroit plant.

Becoming a citizen in 1914, he directed the Ford boat-building activities in the first world war.

Knudsen joined General Motors in 1922. Soon he was named vice president of the Chevrolet division.

When he left General Motors to head the vast wartime program, Knudsen had a word of gratitude for his adopted country.

"This country . . . it has been pretty good to me," he said. "I felt that if I could do something, I'd like to do it."

Railroad Profit Showing Increase

New York, April 27—(AP)—Ernest E. Norris, President of the Southern Railroad Co., said today after a directors meeting that the road earned net income of $4,286,000 in the first quarter of this year.

This is equal to $2.72 a share on the common stock and compared with earnings equal to $1.86 a share in the first quarter last year.

Vote To Confirm Housing Chief

Washington, April 27—(AP)— The Senate Banking Committe today voted 11 to 0 for confirming Tighe Woods as Housing expediter and Rent control Chief.

Woods' nomination, which goes now to the Senate, first was submitted by President Truman last December 15. The committee took no action on it during the 1947 special session and Mr. Truman resubmitted it January 9.

Stassen Moves Into West Coast

Portland, Ore., April 27—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen said last night the nation should outlaw the Communist party and take steps to create a strong world police force to halt war.

His address was filled with references to what he called the menace "of the Communist totalitarianism of Russia."

"The real danger of the World is that the leaders of the Kremlin may make a mad move toward war," he declared.

BETS IN BRAILLE

Quincy, Mass., April 27—(AP)—Daniel J. Lynch, 39, pleaded guilty in district court yesterday to registering horse race bets and was fined $100.

Lynch, totally blind, kept his horse plays in Braille.

The Palestine Crisis

Its International Importance; Russia's About-Face; Complicated Background; The UN Trusteeship Council; Big Power Chess Game; Why Russians Want 'In'

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The Palestine crisis has taken on fresh international importance as the result of Russia's sensational about-face in joining the United Nations trusteeship council after boycotting that body for 13 months.

The Muscovite action apparently is an effort to further a double ambition: (1) to gain a foothold in the militarily strategic and oil-rich Middle East, and (2) to prevent extension of American power in that vital area.

The development has a somewhat complicated background, but on thumbnail it is this: the U.N. political committee, comprising the entire membership of the peace organization, has for some time been considering an American plan for trusteeship over Palestine. Russia has opposed any trusteeship, claiming that the U.S.A. is maneuvering for military bases and petroleum in the Middle East.

Well now, any trusteeship would have to be handled by the trusteeship council. The Soviet Union belongs to the council but has been maintaining a boycott until now, when the council has suddenly assumed unusual importance. Hence Moscow's cool move at last in naming a representative to that body and thus getting set for action.

It is a tragedy that the sanguinary Jewish-Arab struggle over the Holy Land should be complicated by rivalry between Russia and the major western Allies for domination of the Middle East. These two element so dovetails as to constitute a grave menace to global peace.

However, we at least have the satisfaction of seeing the present phase of the Big Power competition confined largely to the United Nations. The hope naturally must be that it can be kept there.

The most important issue revolves about the question of sending an international force to Palestine to maintain peace. The Russians would give their shirts to get a Red army into the Middle East, thereby establishing a military grip which they could exploit as they have their hold on eastern Germany. That would get the Bolshevist boot into the door of one of the world's most

W. M. S. Executive Board

The Executive Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of Immanuel Baptist Church will meet with Miss Lelia Higgs Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

To Attend May Queen

Miss Ruby Moye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Moye, Maury, and senior at Salem College, Winston-Salem, will be one of 15 beauties to attend the Salem College May Queen, Barbara Folger of Mount Airy, at spring festivities on Saturday, May 1.

Maid of Honor is Jean Griffin of Rocky Mount, N. C.

Hostesses To Wesley Philathea Class

The Wesley Philathea class of the Methodist Church met Monday evening with Mrs. Hill Horne with Miss Sallie Cowell, Mrs. Ernest L. Willard, Mrs. W. C. Vincent and Mrs. T. A. Person assisting. The home was decorated throughout with lovely arrangements of spring flowers.

Mrs. Willard gave a most inspiring devotional on "Peace," bringing out the sevenfold peace mentioned in the Bible.

The business session, presided over by Mrs. V. P. Scoville, president, followed.

Mrs. Willard then introduced Mrs. Harvey Ward, who delightfully entertained the group with a "What's the Name of That Song" contest, winners of which were Mrs. Milton White and Mrs. Leon Evans.

Delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream, nuts and home-made cakes were served. During the refreshment hour, Mrs. Ward entertained with piano music.

West Greenville P. T. A. Meets

On Wednesday, April 21, the parents and teachers of West Greenville school met in the school auditorium.

The president, Mrs. W. J. Stell, called the meeting to order and gave everyone a most cordial welcome. We were glad to have Miss Fullilove's mother as our guest.

Mrs. E. M. Woolard led a devotional period, after which Mrs. Ebern Allen read the minutes of the May meeting and Mrs. George Gardner gave a treasurer's report.

The grade count was taken. As usual Miss Hadley's second grade won the attendance prize.

Mrs. Vance Perkins was the guest speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. Perkins' talk gave us much food for thought about the future needs of our city.

The new officers [illegible] President, Mrs. C. B. West, Jr.; vice president, Mrs. [illegible] secretary, Mrs. Ebern Allen; treasurer, Mrs. Georgia [illegible]

we were served ice cold cocoa colas by Mrs. Sherman Parks, Mrs. J. A. Piver and Mrs. Julius Whichard.—Reported.

Bride Honored At Tea

Bethel, N. C.—Mesdames Henry Rogerson, mother-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. R. R. Whitehurst entertained at tea in the club house on the evening of April 22 from 4 to 6 honoring Mrs. Wayne Rogerson, of Montreat, N. C. and Bethel, N. C.

The reception room was beautifully decorated with spring flowers in a color scheme of green and white and centered with a bowl of white rock roses, lilies and narcissus flanked by four burning tapers in silver candle holders decorated with green taffeta bows.

Mrs. Wadie T. Carson greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. A. J. Crane, the bride's mother, Mrs. Wayne Rogerson, Mrs. Henry Rogerson, and Mrs. Huldah Carson.

Mrs. W. C. Taylor, presented the guests with plates and napkins and directed them to the table where they were served cake by Mrs. W. G. Taylor and lime ice by Mrs. Ralph Carson.

Misses Patsie Rogerson, Ola Nell Edmunson, Vera Manning with the help of Mrs. Clara Roberson kept the table supplied with lime ice, cake, nuts, stuffed dates and mints.

Mrs. R. S. Whitehurst and Miss Janice Roberson had charge of the music.

Mrs. Don Carson presided at the register.

Goodbyes were said by Mrs. R. R. Whitehurst.

Between 85 and 100 guests called.

Geo. Morris Chosen YMCA President In Recent Election

George Morris of Winston-Salem was chosen in a recent election as president of the YMCA at East Carolina Teachers College and, with other new officers of the organization, will begin his duties immediately. Morris has also been selected to attend the YMCA-YWCA President's School, to be conducted at Columbia University in New York City during the summer.

Other officers of the college YMCA who will serve with Morris during 1948-1949 are Maynard Dean, Oxford, vice president; Joseph Roark, Oxford, secretary; and Morris Hill, Kinston, treasurer.

Together with representatives from the East Carolina YWCA, these students attended the state retreat at Camp Nawaka at Randleman last week-end. YWCA representatives were Jean Bostian, Wilmington; Evangeline Baker, Rocky Mount; Frances Wilson, Dunn; and Grace Daniel, Black Creek.

PTA Workshop Starts In June

Plans for a summer workshop at East Carolina Teachers College were made last Saturday morning, when leaders in Parent-Teacher associations in several counties in the eastern section of the state met on the campus.

Ann Redwine, college faulty member and teacher in the Training School at East Carolina Teachers College, presided at the meeting and acted a sconsultant to those present in discussions of the organization of the PTA workshop and of the topics to be considered and the activities to be carried out in the summer.

Dates for the workshop have been set for June 7-11. Expected to attend are teachers, parents, and other interested persons in the eastern counties of the state. Miss Redwine will act as director of the workshop and will be one of the instructors at the week's session on the campus.

The purpose of the PTA workshop, as stated at Saturday's meeting, will be to help parents, teachers, and administrators understand through PTA work what the home expects of the school, what the school expects of the home, and the child needs and has a right to expect from home, schools, and community. A program based on this purpose was worked out at the conference and will be announced in detail at an early date.

College Vacation Is Growing Into A Real Career

Guam—(AP) — What's the best way to spend a college vacation? Two bearded and browned students from the University of California at Los Angeles will tell you it's sailing the Pacific—if you don't care how long your vacation lasts.

Brothers Al and Joe Linesch joined a shark fishing expedition to Tahita during last summer's vacation from UCLA. They returned to Hawaii in a small Tahiti ketch, too late to make the fall term at school. So they signed on the missionary schooner Morning Star VI for the Marshalls and Carolines.

Now they have signed a year's contract with a trading company in the Pacific islands. Asked if they really intended to return to UCLA, they said "Yes, when our summer vacation is over."

Proclamation

Whereas the prayer of every man and woman of good will in the world today is for peace and security and the peace of the world depends upon a strong and prepared United States of America, and

Whereas a sound and stable economy is essential to a strong America and this is the urgent concern of business, industry, labor and management, government and consumer alike, and

Whereas the soundness and stability of our economy depend in the end upon the productive effort of each citizen and the thrift of each individual and family, and

Whereas the Savings Bond program of the United States Treasury Department encourages thrift and regular saving, works against further price increases and builds up buying power for the future, and

Whereas the Security Loan campaign for United Savings Bonds began in this community and across the nation on April 15th and runs until June 30th,

I, therefore ,as Mayor of Greenville, call upon all citizens to examine personal and family finances with the idea of buying as many extra Bonds as possible during the Security Loan campaign. I urge all who can take advantage of the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank, to sign up for regular, systematic Bond saving. I commend the School Savings program which implants the habit of thrift in our children. Finally, since the Security Loan campaign and the Savings Bond program depend upon the volunteer aid of public spirited citizens, I call upon all who can help sell Bonds to others to offer their services to the local Savings Bond Committee.

America's security is out security. Let us build it together.

(Signed) J. H. BOYD, Jr., Mayor.

Year-Old Baby Feels No Pain

Akron, O., April 27—(AP)—Year-old Beverly Smith never cries about a fall, a cut or a burn. She never will cry about them, either, because they cause her no pain, say Children's Hospital officials.

Doctors are calling little Beverly the "painless baby."

They say she was born indifferent to pain. A pin prick brings a laugh. Bumps and bruises never bother her.

Aside from complete indifference to pain, Beverly is a normal, active child.

Schoolboy Victim Of Attack By Dog

Mrs. Thomas Bell, 1305 Forbes Street, reported to the police yesterday afternoon that a dog attacked and bit her small son, Thomas, on a leg while he was on the way home from school. The police report stated that the dog was owned by Bruce Edwards and that the dog had not been vaccinated.

CONFIDENCE CAN WORK MIRACLES

T. K. Koo, the Chinese statesman, was telling a group recently how he became a Christian.

He had been trained from childhood in the ethical teachings of Confucius, and he, like almost every other Chinese boy, had been deeply impressed by them. Koo became a railway employee, and almost immediately upon taking office he began to be importuned to accept bribes by people asking favors. He resisted such advances, but as time went on he realized that he was standing almost alone. Everybody about him was becoming well off as the result of graft, and the idea kept growing in his mind that, after all, since everybody else was doing it, why should he refrain—Confucius or no Confucius.

On a train one night he met a godly Quaker gentleman who in the course of conversation said, "I know you are a Christian." Koo, who was not at that time a Christian, asked, "What makes you think I am a Christian?" "Because," replied the stranger, "I can see the light of God in your eyes."

Something happened to Koo's whole personality as the result of this chance meeting. He soon became a Christian, and today he is one of the great pillars of the Church of China. A man saw good in him and told him so.

Try it sometime. It works.

PLAYING IT SAFE

Each of the major wars in our history has meant a rapidly rising general price level, followed eventually by drastically falling prices. When the general price level of the country falls, prices of farm products lead the procession downward.

Changes in the general price level have made and broken more farm people financially than any other economic factor. The individual farm family can do little about controlling fluctuations in the general price level. But keeping debts at a safe level and building up a financial reserve in U. S. savings bonds when incomes are good will help to cushion the drop in prices that may come later.

ADD OUR BEST WISHES, MR. HUMBER

We citizens of Pitt County can all feel a touch of reflected glory in the recently awarded honor to Robert Lee Humber by the World Government News Associates.

While those of us who are his neighbors may sometimes forget the wider point of view, Mr. Humber's work is editorially conceded, by the Greensboro Daily News, to have brought much credit to all of North Carolina.

The Daily Reflector is both proud and happy to reprint the congratulations and eulogy which recently appeared in the Greensboro paper:

"If anyone anywhere has done more arduous, intelligent and unselfish work toward trying to get the world under some sort of government which will obviate world wars than has Robert LL Humber of Greenville, N. C., we can't think who it is.

"So we are very glad to see that World Government News Associates has made him a recipient of one of its three annual awards for "outstanding service to the cause of world federation." One of the winners last year was Emery Reeves, author of "The Anatomy of Peace," which had a sale of 3,000,000 copies. Membership of the board making the awards includes Albert Einstein, Grenville Clark and Thomas Mann; announcement of this year's awards was made by Carl Van Doren, chairman of the editorial board of World Government News.

"For the past seven years Mr. Humber has carried on a one-man nation-wide crusade for world government which has resulted in passage by 16 state legislatures of resolutions advocating a federated world government under a constitution limiting its powers to those necessary to maintain peace among nations.

"Mr. Humber is a Tar Heel lawyer and business man who lived abroad for some years; his powers of persuasion were such that he induced Governor Cherry during the last General Assembly to come out wholeheartedly for a North Carolina state art museum and the Legislature to make an appropriation for it.

"The Daily News takes pleasure in congratulating Mr. Humber on his deserved award. The State of North Carolina may well take pride in the fact that one of its most partiotic, public-spirited and far-seeing citizens has received the national and international recognition which has for some time been due him for the work he has done.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—The dry ice business—the sale of diamonds for the glitter trade or industrial use—is getting more of an American accent. And Uncle Sam is buying heavily.

Before the war 75 percent of the world's diamonds were marketed in the United States.

"Now it's about 85 per cent," said Joseph Baumgold, Secretary of the world's largest diamond cutting firm. "And business is up 35 percent over last year."

The number one customer is the man who wants to plunk down $200 to $500 for a ring as a gift to his wife-to-be or an anniversary present for his wife.

That will get him a stone of from one-fifth to one-half a karat— depending on its quality—or a ring made of "Melee"—Diamond pragments smaller than one-fifth of a karat.

Diamonds are mass rather than a class business. Only fifteen percent of it is on the luxury level—over $500 a stone.

Biggest buyer today after the prospective bridegroom is—Uncle Sam.

" The government is stockpiling diamonds again," said Baumgold. "They are a strategic mineral."

He wouldn't go into any detail. The two things diamond dealers dislike discussing most are the extent of government purchases and those by moneyed men who buy diamonds for women they aren't married to and don't intend to marry. Smart buyers tend to get diamonds for their wives at one store and those destined for other ladies at another shop. It cuts down embarrassing errors — the kind a man doesn't like to make.

Two customs the dealers are trying to encourage: The buying of "melee" diamonds for women's wedding rings and the practise some wives have developed of giving their husbands gold wedding bands containing one to three diamonds.

"They figure it's worth the money to them if he wears the ring that warns other women that their man's off the matrimonial market," said one dealer cheerfully.

War has changed the diamond market in several ways. Few people know or remember that the diamond is the hardest thing on earth—tougher than a banker's heart in a depression. Industry has found nothing to take its place to cut and grind metals.

"Before the war 95 per cent of the diamonds here went into the Gem trade," said Baumgold. "Only 5 percent were used industrially. Now it's about 25 percent.

"Diamonds cut through aluminum and other light metals developed for war use like they were so much butter."

Most large gem stones—one-fourth karat or larger—have been cut here for years. The melee and industrial diamond cutting trade centered in Antwerp and Amsterdam.

But when the Germans invaded the "low countries" they ended the diamond trade there. American dealers had to set up schools to teach American cuters to deal with the small stuff.

"There were 500 diamond cutters in the United States in 1940," said Baumgold. "Today there are 3,500. The business hasn't gone back to Europe, although everyone predicted it would."

Diamond cutters are tightly unionized and make from $2.50 to $7.50 an hour for a 35-hour week. Top cutters on the large stones make up to $200 a week or more.

The only thing that can cut a diamond efficiently is another diamond. Diamond dust from the last diamond, rubbed with oil on a whirling, incredibly thin steel blade, is often used to cut the next diamond.

It is one business where they can't afford the old lumber industry slogan:

"Let the chips fall where they may."

The U.S. death rate for women in the United States was reduced more sharply for men than for women between 1946 and 1947.

Although they sometimes prayed to horses, American Indians treated them cruelly as a rule.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—The U. S. Office of Vital Statistics wants to make clear that it does not favor tattooing numbers on all babies born in this country after January 1, 1949. It seems a lot of folks got that idea, and other ideas just as out-of-this-world, when the Office backed a proposal for standardizing the numbering of birth certificates in the States.

The standardization project was generally agreed upon by state registrars of vital statistics in a "work conference" sponsored by the statistics office here in March. The idea is merely to make the registration of all births in the United States "simpler, more positive and cheaper" by a standard method adopted by all the states. There would not be a centrol federal file of birth registrations, and the project if carried through depends entirely on the states' adoption of the system.

Montana and the District of Columbia have already voiced approval of the idea and other states are following suit, says Herbert P. Dunning, acting chief of the Office of vital statistics. He says that although there are approximately 3,750,000 births in the United States annually. It would take more than a generation to get an appreciable portion of the population included in the newly numbered group. If the project goes through it will be done this way with three groups of figures printed on each birth certificate.

1. The first serial will consist of three figures indicating the registration area in which a child is born The first figure will be the numeral 1, which will stand for United States. The second number, or second and third number, will represent the state, territory or city. (Canada uses a similar system. Its serial numbers start with "2". If other nations join the system they will use "3", "4", etc.)

2. The second serial will consist of two digits, indicating the year of birth—'49—'50—'58 and so on. Births are already wiled and indexed by year in most registration office through the country. 3. The third serial will list six digits, indicating whether the registration lists the first, fortieth, 600th, or 999,998 certificate to be filed in that state within the year.

Mr. Dunning says that most people will accumulate from five to 25 numbers in a life time anyway—Social Security Numbers, numbers on driver's licenses, insurance policies, bank accounts and charge accounts.

Defining its Purposes and Duties.

WHEREAS, the General Assembly of North Carolina, 1943 Chapter 160, Sections 22, 23 and 24, authorized the establishment and operation of Municipal Planning Boards; and,

WHEREAS, it appears to be advantageous to the general welfare of the City of Greenville, that a comprehensive and continuous planning program be undertaken; and,

WHEREAS, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen need the active assistance and constant cooperation of the civic minded, far-seeing citizens in their best interests to serve all the people and to direct the City's physical growth along good civic lines; NOW, THEREFORE,

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville Do Ordain:

Section 1. That a municipal planning board is hereby created for the City of Greenville, to be hereinafter referred to as the "Planning Board," with such powers, duties and obligations as shall be conferred by this ordinance, and to be governed by the following provisions:

(a). Membership and Vacancies: The Planning Board shall consist of five members, citizens of the City of Greenville, to be elected by the Board of Aldermen. One member shall be elected for a term of one year; one, for two years; one, for three years; one, for four years; and one for five years. As the terms of these five members expire new appointments for terms of five years shall be made. Vacancies, occurring for reasons other than expirations of terms, shall be filled by the Board of Aldermen as they occur for the period of the unexpired term. Faithful attendance of the meetings of the Planning Board is considered a prerequisite for the maintenace of membership on said Board. Any member of the Planning Board may be removed at the will of the Board of Aldermen after notice to such member.

(b). Organization, Rules, Meetings and Records: Within thirty days after appointment, the Planning Board shall meet and elect a chairman, and create and fill such other offices as it may determine. The term of the chairman and any other officers shall be one year from their appointment, with eligibility for re-election. It shall adopt rules for the transaction of business and shall keep a record of its members' attendance, and of its resolutions, discussions, findings and recommendations, which record shall be a public record. The Planning Board shall hold at least one regular meeting monthly, and as many more meetings as the chairman may call. All meetings shall be open to the public.

(c). General Powers and Duties: It shall be the duty of the Planning Board to map, plat, and chart a comprehensive plan for the physical development of the City of Greenville and its environs. Such plan, with the accompanying maps, plats, charts, and other descriptive matter, shall show the Planning Board's recommendations to the Board of Aldermen for the developments of said territory, including among other things, but not limited to, the general character, location, width, and extent of streets, walk-ways, alleys, bridges, boulevards, parkways, playgrounds, parks, squares, off-street parking grounds, aviation fields, cemeteries, and other public ways, grounds, and open spaces; the general location and extent of public utilities and terminals, whether publicly or privately owned or operated, for water, light, sanitation, transportation, communication, power, and other purposes; the removal, relocation, widening, narrowing, vacating, abandonment, change of use or extension of any of the foregoing ways, grounds, open spaces, buildings, property, utilities or terminals; the planting of trees and shrubbery along the streets, ways, and in the parks, playgrounds, and open spaces, and the removal of the same therefrom; the manner, plan and extent of drainage systems in and adjacent to the City; and recommendations relating to the general plan of lots, streets and other public ways within any subdivision within the City of Greenville and-or within one mile of the corporate limits of the City at any time.

(d). Purposes: In the preparation of such comprehensive plan, the Planning Board shall make careful and comprehensive surveys and studies of present conditions and future growth of the City, with due regard to its relation to the territory adjacent to the City. The plans shall be made with the general purpose of guiding and accomplishing a coordinated, adjusted and harmonious development of the city and its environs which will, in accordance with present and future needs, best promote health, safety, morals, order, convenience, prosperity, and the general welfare of the citizens of the city, as well as efficiency and economy in the process of development, including, but not limited to, adequate provision for traffic and safety of pedestrians, the promotion of safety from fire and other dangers, adequate provisions for light and air, the promotion of the healthful and convenient distribution of population, the abatement of nuisances, the promotion of good civic design and arrangement, the adequate provisio nof public utilities, services, and any other public requirements or necessities.

(e). Powers of Review: The Planning Board shall, at the request of the Board of Aldermen and as often as the said Board of Aldermen may deem expedient, explain and review any recommendations it may desire to make with said board in relation to any matters herein conferred upon said Planning Board. However, the recommendations of the said planning board shall be only advisory to the Board of Aldermen and shall be without legal efficacy until acted upon by the Board of Aldermen.

(f). Miscellaneous Powers and Duties: Before the adoption by the Planning Board of such plan or plans for submission as recommentions to the Board of Aldermen for its consideration and possible approval, the Planning Board, in its discretion, shall hold at least one public hearing thereon.

(g). Annual Report of Activities, Etc.: The Planning Board shall, in May or June, of each year after the year 1948, submit in writing to the Board of Aldermen a written report of its activities during the year, list in detail any expenditures made, if any, and file with the Board of Aldermen its request for funds for the next ensuing year. The Planning Board is authorized to receive contributions from private agencies, organizations and individuals, and to disburse the same under the provisions and for the purposes conferred by this ordinance. The Planning Board is authorized to appoint such committees, and to authorize such expenditures as it may see fit, subject to the limitation of funds provided annually for the Planning Board by the Board of Aldermen.

Section 2. Any ordinance or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed, and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after the date of its adoption. And should any section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of the ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Adopted this 1st day of April, 1948.

Leaders Outline Plans For Sale Security Bonds

By CHESTER WALSH

County chairmen and workers from sixteen northeastern North Carolina counties attended a meeting here last night to outline plans for the U. S. Government's Security Bond drive. W. H. Woolard, president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, chairman of Region 1, presided. He presented Allison James of Greensboro, state director for the sale of Security Bonds.

He appointed R. M. Reddick, president of the Hertford Banking Company, Hertford, as chairman of the drive.

The government representative paid tribute to Mr. Woolard for his good work as chairman of the War Bond committee in Region 1 in World War II, and complimented Eastern Carolina bankers for their work during that war.

"We know that Eastern Carolina will sell the bonds and meet the quotas, with so many of the same workers on the job, he said. He presented Ted Merrill of Greensboro his assistant, who outlined plans for making the Security Bond sale a success.

The Security Bond campaign meeting was entirely informal. Mr. Woolard talked frankly. He recognized a representative group of newspaper editors present, and called on them for expressions. They offered timely suggestions, and individually pledged the support of their papers. They spoke briefly, but to the point. They were Herbert Peele, Elizabeth City Advance; Bill Manning, Williamston Enterprise; Mayon Parker of Ahoskie, the Hertford County Herald, and D. J. Whichard, Jr., of Greenville, Daily Reflector

Allison James spoke plainly to the workers who will carry on the drive to sell Security Bonds. He said: "To remain a positive force for peace in the world America must be strong. We cannot be strong if we have periods of "booms and busts.' We must have stable economy. Every citizen must have a high degree of security —financial security. The nation's financial security is the total financial safety of its individual citizens. The Security Bond Drive is to urge each and every citizen to provide financial security for himself and his family by investing to the limit in the world's best investment —United States Savings Bonds. This will operate to offset inflation," he added.

The government speaker said the purchaser of an E bond for $75 gets $100 in 10 years and described the F and G bonds and explained their interest value. He urged the buying of a savings bond each month.

Chairman Woolard gave special recognition to Mrs. E. N. Elliott of Tyner, chairman of the Woman's Division of the U. S. Security Bond Division for Chowan County.

A feature of last night's meeting here was its informality. Before the meeting, and during its program, and afterwards, there were serious talks and conferences. At the conclusion of the meeting Chairman Woolard thanked them for attending, and said he had faith in their ability to carry on the Security Bond drive with success.

Mrs. Mabel Blow of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company and Mrs. Cora S. Powell of the Merchants Association contributed much to the success of the meeting. Prof. Ralph C. Deal made an entertaining short talk.

Student Fined In Extortion Case

Statesville, April 27—(AP)—Broadus Caudle, Lenoir-Rhyne College student, was fined $500 and placed on probation yesterday for attempted extortion.

Caudle did not contest the charge. J. E. Broyhill, Lenoir capitalist to whom Caudle allegedly wrote the extortion note, was not here to prosecute.

Federal Judge E. Yates Webb suggested to the boy that he sell his automobile to pay the fine and other debts.

Still Possibility Of Oil Shortage Claims Indutsry

Atlanta, April 27.—Although petroleum supplies of record proportions will be available to the nation during the coming year, according to an official estimate released today, "the race to meet the enormous increase in consumption will be close," said Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the Southeastern District, Oil Industry Information Committee, quoting William R. Boyd, Jr., president of the American Petroleum Institute, in making public a report of the Institute's National Oil Policy Committee.

The committee estimates the total supply of petroleum available to meet domestic consumption for the 12-month period starting April 1, 1948, will average 6,025,000 barrels a day, or approximatley 8 percent above the demand in the similar period starting April 1, 1947. "But, even with this increase, supply and demand promise to be in delicate balance," Mr. Moore continued to quote Mr. Boyd.

This estimate is based in part upon the forecast of the U.S. Bureau of Mines that, for this period, imports of oil will average 102,000 barrels per day more than exports.

"If conditions outside of its control do not retard the continued expansion of the oil industry," Mr. Moore declared, "all former records will be surpassed by quantities of gasoline and fuel oil produced during the coming 12-month period, and, if the public will practice reasonable restraint, deliveries will probably meet the increasing demands."

In arriving at this estimate, it was assumed that—

"There will continue to be freedom from governmental interference or controls;

"The excess of imports over exports will be at the levels estimated by the Bureau of Mines as of March 25, 1948;

"There will be no major interference with the industry's expansion resulting from strikes or disasters; and

"There will be no unusual delays or supply failures in the flow of materials, on order and planned, which are required to carry out the expansion programs during this period."

DEMOCRAT—Mrs. India Edwards was named executive director of Democratic committee's women's division.

Women IN THE CHURCH by Mary Fowler

"God's Design for Children" is the topic, and "Every child is my child" is the slogan of the "May Fellowship Day" which will be observed by Protestant church women across the nation on Friday, May 7. The observance of the day is sponsored by the United Council of Church Women, and Mrs. George Martin is chairman of the planning committee. The day "is a time when we celebrate the fact of our unity in the service of Christ in thousands of communities," say the women who will meet in interdenominational and community-wide (sometimes county-wide) groups for special services. The general program of the day calls for an address (by a judge, or social worker, or church or school leader) on "God's Design for children" followed by a panel discussion on the same topic by young people and by women; and a poll of four questions related to the welfare of children in the local community.

Church World Service, Inc.,—through which the major Protestant churches of the United States channel their relief giving for Europe and Asia—is one of twenty-six participating agencies in the "Appeal for Children" now being currently made throughout the United States by American Overseas Aid, and sponsored by the United Nations. The national campaign seeks $60,000,000 for the aid of children.

May 2 to 9, inclusive, will be observed throughout the United States as National Family Week by Catholics, Jews and Pretestants, in their respective places of worship. While this is the sixth year of this general observance, the lessening influence of the home upon American life is causing all communions to reenforce their efforts to emphasize the value of family life for both adults and their children.

The first "Mr. and Mrs. Club" in China—an institution now popular in churches throughout the United States—was recently organized in the Tieng Ang Dong Methodist Church in Tientsin, by Dr. and Mrs. Harold N. Brewster, missionaries. "This is a revolutionary idea in China," comments Mrs. Brewster. "The Chinese seat the women on one side of the church, and the men on the other; wives trot behind their husbands when or if they are ever together on the street.

Claude Harmon's triumph in the Masters tournament at Augusta may have come as a surprise to the average sports fan but the pros have long expected the chunky Winged Foot pro to crash through to a major triumph any time he elected to shoot for one. Harmon doesn't have time to hit the golf tourney circuit because his connections with the Winged Foot club in Mamaroneck, N. Y., in the summer and the Seminole club, Palm Beach, Fla., in the winter, keep him well occupied.

Harmon was born in Savannah, Ga., 31 years ago. He grew up as a golf caddy around Orlando, Fla., and played as an amateur in Florida. He turned professional in 1937 and accepted a position as Craig Wood's assistant at Winged Foot in 1942. When Wood quit the club in 1943, Harmon moved up into the post.

While Harmon appeared to win the Masters with ease when he posted his record-equalling 279, he had his share of anxious moments. On the second round, Claude's ball found a water hazard at the fifteenth. He removed his shoes and socks, rolled up his trousers and waded into the water to knock the ball up on the green. That incident recalls to mind an experience Bill Kelly, the Winged Foot secretary had while playing golf at Sea Island, off Georgia. An old caddy pointed out a lily pond and recalled the occasion when a young Southern golfer hooked the ball into the pond, the ball coming to rest on a lily pad. The golfer waded in and promptly knocked the ball on the green some 200 yards away. That golfer's name, the caddy recalled, was Harmon—Claude Harmon!

Arroyo Stands Out With Pitching And Hitting; Cohen Leads Locals At Bat With Triple And Two Singles

By BERT MOYE

Greenville's Greenies won their second game of the current season by defeating the Goldsboro Bugs, 6-3, in Goldsboro last night.

Luis Arroyo went the route for the Greenies, giving up eight hits, striking out 8, and walking 8, while his mates were collecting 12 off the offering of Whiteheart.

The Greenies went out in front in the third when they pushed across two markers never to be headed after that. Arroyo doubled Lastres singled into center field, bringing Arroyo nome and when Cochran errored ball Lastres advanced on down to second. He went to third on Carter's infield out and scored when Bob Cohen flew out to deep centerfield.

The Bugs scored singletons in the third, fourth and sixth frames. In the third Whiteheart walked and later scored in Merle Blackwell's single. In the fourth Balikis walked, Whiteheart singled and Whitener singled scoring Balikis. In the sixth Evans doubled, advanced to third on Carter's error and scored on Whitener's fly to deep right field.

The Greenies put across what proved their winning runs in the fourth with two markers. Chute singled, Phillips was safe on an attempted sacrifice, Tutterrow sacrificed both runners and after Simmons had struck out, Arroyo doubled home the two runs.

Two more runs were added by the Greenies in the ninth frame when Lastres singled, stole second, Carter reached first on Baliki's error, which advanced Lastres to third Cohen singled to bring home Lastres, Nash was safe on an error by Merle Blackwell to load the bases and Pasteris flew out to deep left field with Carter scoring.

Bob Cohen with a triple and two singles, Arroyo with two doubles and Lastres and Chute with two singles each led the 12 hit attack off Whiteheart of the Bugs.

Whitener, Merle Blackwell and Cochran each got two hits apiece to pace the Buga.

Diamond Dust

by Bert Moye

In the game at Goldsboro last night the Greenies looked as though they might have whipped the Yankees. They hit hard and often and although were charged with two miscues fielded clean and fast. Arroyo's mound work was all that could be asked for. Even his brief periods of wildness didn't prove costly with good infield and outfield support, especially on the part of Charlie Chute in the left field and Bob Cohen in the right field. His top-flight performance should end the growling of some fans about "no pitching" on the Greenie club.

Rick Ferrell, who should know, says a catcher stays up longer and makes more money than a player of equal talent at any other spot on the diamond. Rick did much to make Al Evans, a former member of the New Bern Bears, the catcher he has been with the Washington Senators. Snow Hill's Aaron Robinson was lucky, too, in having Bill Dickey for his teacher when he graduated to the Yankees.

If you've ever wondered why umpires allow a baserunner going into second to clip the fielder, and spoil the chances of a double play, here's the answer according to the umpire. He says it's impossible for a runner to upset an infielder who is covering the base properly. Naturally a fielder blocking the baseline is riding for a fall.

Veeck Is Hunting For Radio Time

Cleveland, April 27—(AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians today promised that he or a representative would storm the government for help in getting full radio coverage of Tribe Games.

Veeck told the Council that despite vigorous efforts the Indians management so far had been unable to get complete AM coverage. Station WJW, he said, had wanted to carry as many of the games as possible, but had been unable to get sponsors to relinquish the necessary time.

SCHEDULE

Barring interference by the weatherman, the Greenville Greenies meet Goldsboro here tonight, then move to New Bern for Wednesday night's contest. On Thursday evening, New Bern will play the locals in Guy Smith Stadium.

Giants Find Missing Link In Lineup; Pennant Threat

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It may be only a flash in the pan, but the New York Giants appear to have finally found that missing link—strong pitching—which added to their terrific batting power can make them the most feared outfit in baseball.

Combining the two yesterday, the Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phils, 5-1, for their fifth straight. They now enjoy a game and a half first place lead in the National league pennont race.

The surprising part of the Giants' surge, naturally, has been their air-tight pitching. And to make it all the more confusing, it has come from the most unexpected sources.

Take yesterday's masterful hurling by southpaw Dave Kislo. Manager Mel Ott had no assurance that Koslo would go the route, let alone pitch a seven-hitter and a near-shut-out.

Sunday the Giants got two splendidly pitched games out of old Bobo Newsom and rookie Sheldon Jones. Ace Larry Jansen showed well in his first outing and Ray Poat has a five-hitter to his credit. All or which has combined to put the Giants into the lead.

Not to be outdone by Koslo yesterday, the Giants power hitters slammed starter Schoolboy Rowe and his two successors for eight hits, five of which went for extra bases. Sid Gordon cracked a home run, the club's 10th in eight games.

Eddie Stanky, in his first crack against his former Dodger teammates, slammed a triple and single and drew a walk in four times at bat to lead the Braves to a 5-0 victory over the Dodgers in Boston. He also handled eight chances in the field in flawless fashion.

The Cleveland Indians outlasted the Chicago White Sox, 12-11 in a 14-inning affair lasting four hours and 20 minutes. A home run by Eddie Robinson, his second of the game and third of the year, decided the contest. Manager Lou Boudreau chipped in with five hits, including two doubles and two triples, and drove in four runs.

In all seven home runs, three triples, four doubles and 23 singles were hit for 68 total bases off 11 pitchers, seven for Cleveland and four for Chicago. Bobby Feller was called upon to retire the last three White Sox batters in the 14th.

Fred Sanford outpitched Dizzy Trout to give the Browns a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers in St. Louis.

In the only other scheduled contest, the Boston Red Sox won the first night game of the season, defeating the Senators, 6-0 in Washington.

Lefty Mel Parnell limited the Senators to five hits while Boston collected ten, including three singles and a double by Ted Williams, defending batting champion who had a perfect night.

Pennock Follows In Father's Step

Newark, Del., April 27—(AP)—He may not be a chip off the old block yet but Joe Pennock showed signs of it yesterday in pitching the University of Delaware to a 6-0 victory over LaSalle of Philadelphia.

The son of the late Herb Pennock—general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies—gave up only two hits, struck out ten and walked three in chalking up his first intercollegiate baseball victory. He was a first baseman last year.

There is one decided difference, however, between father and son. Herb was a southpaw. Son Joe throws from the right side.

The value of airplanes turned out by U.S. industry in peak war years was about six times that of the products of the U.S. automobile industry in its peak pre-war years.

Stanky Does His Part In Downing Brooklyn By 5-0

Boston, April 27—(AP)—A ball player's dream came true for the former "brat from Brooklyn."

Eddie Stanky, the little man with the big heart, figured in four Boston runs yesterday as the Braves blanked his former Brooklyn Dodger team mates 5-0.

He also played a fine defensive game to aid Bill Voiselle in pitching a three hit shutout for the first home campaign by either Boston major league club.

"No, I didn't play any different than I ever do but it sure is a ball player's dream to be instrumental in beating the club that traded you," he told a cluster of sports writers.

Stanky politely turned aside conversation about his former manager Leo Durocher whom he accused of "stabbing me in the back" shortly after the deal which made him a Boston Brave.

The two didn't meet at any time although Stanky visited the Brooklyn dressing room before the game to renew friendships.

"No, I didn't avoid him," he replied in answer to a direct question.

Asked "what about that block you threw on Reese?" Stanky grinned:

"Oh that. Pee Wee didn't mind that. He's an old school ball player.

"That's part of the game. Afterwards, if you noticed, I patted him on the back and told him, 'that's one you owe me.' "I expect him to try to do it to me if he gets a chance."

In reply to other questions he said, "No the Dodgers didn't ride me any more than they would anyone else. Just called me 'muggsy' and 'Gromyko,' you know the guy who is always walking in the UN League, and a 'base on balls hitter' no rough stuff."

Durocher talked only to the Brooklyn pitchers when Stanky was batting. "He just shouted 'side arm him, get the ball over the plate, don't walk him."

All that Stanky did against his former team mates was walk, triple and single in four trips to bat and score two runs. Afield he handled eight chances, two of them corkers.

Claim Taxation Will End Racing

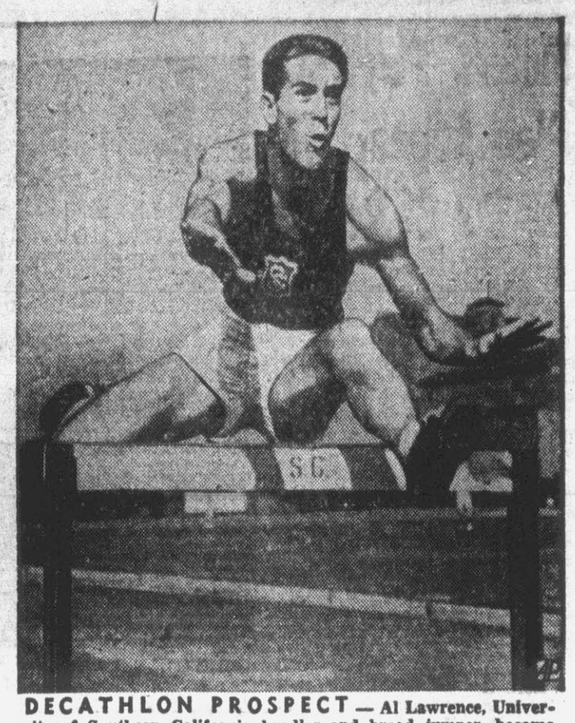
Boston, April 27—(AP)—Any hike in taxes on pari-mutuel racing in Massachusetts would drive the sport out of business, a race track spokesman said yesterday.

Passage of four bills to boost state revenue by $1,500,000 would be "disastrous," Robert J. Bottomly of the Revere Racing Association told the House Ways and Means Committee.

Before the committee were bills, increasing taxes on wagers at horse and dog races and giving to the state all instead of half the breakage.

Lou Brissie May Take Time Out

Philadelphia, April 27—(AP)—Lou Brissie, lanky left hander who became one of the outstanding baseball rookies of this year despite serious war wounds, may drop out of the ranks of starting hurlers for the Philadelphia Athletics—temporarily at least.



DECATHLON PROSPECT — Al Lawrence, University of Southern California hurdler and broad jumper, became definite prospect for decathlon honors in 1948 Olympics by scoring 6,973 points in his first try in the 10-event specialty.

German Press Is Anti-Schmeling

Frankfurt, April 27 —(AP)— Max Schmeling was on the ropes today, pinned there by German newspapers.

What right did the former world heavyweight boxing champion have to get an almost new automobile without a permit, the Frankfurter Rundschau wanted to know.

It takes months of waiting to get a permit for a new car in Germany these days. The Rundschau asserted Max got a "new" Opel sedan from the Opel plant near here. It quoted plant officials as saying the sedan was a second-hand job used previously as a test car.

"Doctors visit their patients by bicycles, journalists hunt their stories on foot—but Max Schmeling gets a new car without a permit . . . Now Max has his new car will he get permission to drive it, too

"According to the law, permission for driving can only be granted when there is public or economic interest," commented the newspaper.

Max could not be reached for comment.

The newspaper Neue Zeitung said Schmeling was touring the U. S zone acting as a referee in local fights.

Derby Trial At Churchill Today

Louisville, April 27—(AP)—Preliminary symptoms of the annual "Kentucky Derby Fever" broke out today as Calumet Farm prepared to parade Citation before the home folks for the first time in his young turf career.

The winter book favorite for Saturday's $100,000 mile and a quarter classic and his sensational stablemate, Coaltown, were cautiously entered with three other colts for this afternoon's Derby trial at Churchill Downs. Post time for the one mile affair from the chute is 5:20 p.m. (EST).

However, it was generally conceded that Coaltown, in razor shape trim, would be scratched. Coaltown captured the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, Ky., only last Thursday, and is all set for Saturday.

This would leave it up to William L. Brann's Escadru, Howard Wells' Eagle Look, C. A. O'Neil, Jr.'s Galedo, and Citation.

The trial will give the Maryland-bred Escadru opportunity to show what he might do when he answers the bugle on Derby Day. Galedo stretched his legs in a spring here Saturday, and his owner decided to send him out again for the trial.

How to check CAR WEAR

TRADEMARK UNDERSEAL BRAND RUBBERIZED PROTECTIVE COATING

protects against underbody rust and wear...keeps cars new

Your car shows its first signs of wear down underneath where flying rocks, gravel and corrosive chemicals attack metals every mile you drive. First, rust starts rotting fenders. Then noisy squeaks and rattles follow and soon your car looks and sounds old. But "UNDERSEAL" car protection won't let that happen! It's the new sprayed-on coating that covers under parts with a tough, ⅛ inch thick, rubbery "hide" that protects against rust, muffles noises, insulates against dust, heat, cold, fumes, drafts. Ask about "UNDERSEAL" Protective Coating today. It's guaranteed to protect for the life of your

Top Shotmakers Easily Qualify

New York, April 27—(AP)—None of the Big Berthas of professional golf apparently will be missing when the money boys get together in St. Louis next month for their own private feud — the National P.G.A. championship.

Most of the top shotmakers sat on the sidelines yesterday while a large part of the field was being decided in sectional qualifying tests.

Those "name" performers who had to work for an entrance ticket came through without mishap.

George Schneiter of Ogden, Utah, the tournament chairman of the Professional Golfers Association, fittingly set the pattern by firing a 10-under-par 134 at Salt Lake City.

This turned out to be the day's best individual effort. Former open champion Lawson Little of Monterey, Calif., and veterans Toney Penna, Horton Smith and Jimmie Hines managed to make the grade with a less spectacular try.

Hopkins U. Has Own Purity Code

By GEORGE BOWEN
(AP) Newsfatures

Baltimore—All this talk about "Purity Codes" suggests it's time for a check-up on the "Hopkins Plan" which is a model of amateurism at work.

The plan, basically providing sports for everybody and profit for nobody, has been in operation for 14 years at Johns Hopkins University. And it has passed its test of time.

Hopkins decided in 1934 to live up to the worn saying, "give the game back to the boys." It went farther and tried to give it to every boy.

While they called it de-emphasis, the Hopkins officials actually put a heavier accent on sports. They just eliminated what they termed the profit and "win at any cost" thinking.

Within a couple of years, more than 90 percent of the students were participating in sports, either intramural or varsity.

The few existing scholarship for athletes were eliminated. But the intercollegiate program was expanded from six to 13 sports.

Three years later Hopkins decided the program was incomplete because "it did not eliminate all of those elements which lead to commercialization and over emphasis," said Wilson Shaffer, Director of Athletics.

Miners' Pension Plan Appears To Be Out Of Reach

Washington, April 27—(AP)—The $100-a-month pensions John L. Lewis wants for retired coal miners still are out of reach today.

Lewis thus is in about the same fix he was in before the now-ended pension strike started six weeks ago:

He can't get an agreement for paying pensions out of the $33,000,000 miners welfare fund.

Lewis and his two fellow fund trustees held a two-hour meeting late yesterday. Apparently they couldn't agree, because each had only "no comment" for reporters afterward.

Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, conceded that no date had been set for starting the $100 monthly pensions to miners 62 years or older with 20 years' service he and Lewis had agreed upon on April 12.

The trustee representing the mine owners, Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland, has asked the federal court here to tag the Lewis-Bridges plan as illegal—and require the senator and union boss to make good any improper payments out of the fund.

Whether Van Horn's suit stopped Lewis and Bridges from going ahead with their plan; or whether Lewis, or Bridges, or Van Horn broached some new plan, was anybody's guess.

At any rate the three called another meeting for Wednesday afternoon.

The Romans, victims of periodic sackings, recognized the value of non-combustible material in bridges and buildings, and used bricks, stones and bronze in many public buildings.

Spring Fever?

If you're not feeling just right, can't enjoy the outdoors, due to a hang-over of winter sluggishness, chances are what you need is good old Calomel.

Calotabs, the improved Calomel Compound Tablets, are especially designed to make calomel-taking pleasant, safe and sure. No need to follow Calotabs with Salts — they do the complete job. Try Calotabs whenever you need a laxative as in spring fever, colds, biliousness due to constipation. You will like them. Follow label directions.

Quadruplets Fail To Survive Day

Detroit, April 27—(AP)—The last of four tiny babies born yesterday to Mrs. Anne Borg died early this morning in a Detroit hospital.

Born prematurely, the three girls and one boy were given a good chance to survive at first. But two died late in the afternoon, a third expired at 10:55 p. m. and the last succumbed at 1:25 a. m.

The 28-year-old mother was reported in good condition. Her husband Joseph, also 28, is a pipefitter employed by the Ford Motor Co.

The babies—each weighing less than two pounds—were delivered by Dr. Edward King at Providence hospital yesterday morning and placed immediately in an incubator. The Rev. Dr. Gerald Berry baptized them Joseph, Mary, Margaret and Anne.

Borg said he and his wife were expecting only one baby, and not for another two and a half months. They were married last year and have no other children.

Delinquency And Causes Told To Local Rotarians

By WYATT BROWN

The emotional factors emerge as important in juvenile delinquency, it was brought out by District Probation Supervisor Ada Jones last night in her talk to the Greenville Rotarians at their regular supper meeting at the Rotary Club building. Miss Jones' work is with adults on probation but she indicated that most adult delinquency and criminality follows juvenile misbehavior.

Miss Jones explained what probation meant and why it was widely used. Probation is used to save branding a person a criminal and because it is more economical and efficacious in criminal rehabilitation.

The speaker brought out that more is known about the atom than the causes and prevention of crime and delinquency. There is great urgency that more be known on the subject. So little can be done after the crime has been perpetrated.

Juvenile delinquency just does not occur among children from happy healthy homes in which parents realize their responsibility and live up to it. There is correlation between delinquency and home environment—the emotional factor. God in the home is of considerable significance. Miss Jones reported that probation investigations had revealed that indifference to church was widespread in the homes from which delinquents came.

Next Miss Jones mentioned three factors in delinquency: home of family tension—bickering and nagging; feeling that nobody cares; inadequate family life. In fact, the home and community environment in their many facets create by the absence of the proper factors being present the delinquency and crime.

At this point the speaker dilated on the role of recreation in delinquency. She cited that good recreation came next to good home training. In closing she exhorted the Rotarians to "look to tomorrow; for tomorrow is forever."

Prior to the speaker, J. B. Kittrell took occasion to thank all those persons and organizations who had contributed so satisfactorily and adequately to the success of the recent Boy Scout Camporee held in Greenville. He picked out for special mention Sherman Parks, W. F. Young and Bill Darden for their contribution of time and effort.

B. B. Sugg was a guest of the club last night. Visiting Rotarians from four towns were guests: Jasper Smith and Vance Bunting of Bethel; S. N. Peterson, A. F. Rowe, and Frank Kilpatrick of Ayden; John Mewborn of Farmville; and Leo Grutsch of Graham. Bob Bradshaw, club president, announced that the Rotarians had bought $49 worth of tickets to the Eppes High School Glee Club concert given last week. Lindsay Wilkerson, chairman of the Program Committee, presented the program. The usual good Rotary singing under the leadership of Johnnie Overton was enjoyed.

Five Nations To Meet In London

London, April 27—(AP)—Representatives of the five countries in the western European union will meet in London this weekend to start talking about joint defense.

A British cabinet spokesman said subjects to be discussed include greater standardization of arms by the five countries—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—and the prospects of getting military supplies from the United States.

CARE Package Was Not Tested

New York, April 27—The Manhattan College student who lost 2 1-2 pounds in ten days of eating only the contents of "a typical food package of the kind being sent to Europe" did not use a CARE food package in his experiment.

Paul Comly French, CARE's executive director, made this clear in a statement issued today in response to many inquiries received at CARE's office, 50 Broad Street.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Chapter 25

As Hugh and Vince Bonnay strolled along the beach the young naval officer found himself unable to forget the pitiful sob-racked picture of Sonia Deveraux von Proski as she confessed her part in the mysterious occurrences at Kalanii. Granted the woman was selfish and weak, still her love for her lost child seemed very genuine.

"Look Vince, a starfish!"

Hugh's urgent tugging at his sleeve brought him back to reality. He watched the odd little man carry the pink encrusted creature to the water's edge and saw that he was collecting the tiny crabs that hid beneath each stone.

"What are you going to do with those?" he said curiously.

"Use them for bait. Lin Gook and I are going fishing soon."

His happiness was infectious. "You like it here, eh Hugh?" Vince said.

"Yes, I do," Hugh said seriously. "Though there aren't as many strange fish as in the Islands. When we left Honolulu Luki was teaching me to go spearfishing. All the natives know how. Here you only do it for salmon."

"Perhaps you'll stay on here for awhile."

Hugh sighed. "I don't know what will become of me now that Sophie and Simeon are dead."

Vince's mind was whirling. "They told you about Sophie?"

"No, I just knew somehow. She is dead, isn't she, Vince?"

"Yes," the naval office said gently, "Sophie's gone, Hugh."

"They're dead," Hugh said lugubriously, "just like that old fellow there." He picked up a desicated crab shell and hurled it out into the water. "When you're dead nothing matters," he explained.

Vince didn't reply. There had been something in Hugh's voice as matter-of-fact and casual as if he'd been talking about a piece of wood or a broken toy—a thing no longer of use and therefore no longer of interest.

As they neared Kalanii a pudgy short man came down the wooden steps to meet them. His genial middle-aged face wrinkled in a friendly smile.

"You are Bonnay," he said with a trace of accent. "And I am Doctor Zendro. My good friend, Johanson, told me I would find you here."

Vince took the muscular hand in his then turned and introduced him to Hugh. The psychiatrist made a funny stiff little bow.

"Ah, Mr. Mannley, I am delighted to make your acquaintance."

Hugh giggled nervously. "Everyone calls me Hugh."

"Very well, Hugh it shall be. I like that better too. I am Jan."

The skin around Zendro's eyes formed tiny fleshy rolls that curved together and hid the piercing appraisal that Vince had glimpsed for a second.

"I came over to persuade Whitey to take a fishing trip next week but he seems too busy to discuss it. So I'll fish with you and the Chinee Hugh."

Hugh stared at him. "Do you know how to fish and hunt?"

"My dear fellow, I am a Finn, of course I know these things!"

"Finland! Then you must have seen reindeer!" Hugh exclaimed. He took Zendro's arm leading him toward the pier. "Come then," he urged, "You must tell me about them." With childish thoughtlessness he forgot Vince.

A murmur of voices reached Vince from Sophie's "gazebo." Through a gap in the matted canopy of rambling roses he caught the bright sunny glint of Julia's hair. But the voice he heard was John Bissett's. It was passionate.

"Julia, this is the first chance I've had to talk with you alone. . ."

"What is it, John? Have you found something for the police?"

"No, nothing like that. It's about you Julia." His voice shook. "You need me now, Julia. You're all alone, you need someone to look after you."

"I don't think I'll be able to afford a secretary," Julia teased.

"Don't joke! I love you Julia . . . I want to marry you."

"Are you sure it's love?" Her voice was kind yet steady. "Perhaps it's just the fact that we've been around each other so much."

"No, no," he protested sharply. "Believe me, Julia, I know."

"John, it's a great honor to have someone ask you to marry them. I appreciate that. But when I marry I want to be passionately in love. I want to love him so much that I'd follow him to the ends of the earth if he asked me to . . . I—I'm afraid I just don't feel that way about you, John."

"That's just a romantic storybook notion, Julia; it's silly."

"No, it isn't John. Anyway it's how I feel."

Bissett's tone was suspicious. "Are you in love with someone else?"

She answered slowly. "It would certainly be one-sided if I were."

"It's Bonnay, isn't it?"

Vince's heart gave a queer startled jump; every nerve seemed to tingle as he strained to catch her reply. "What makes you say that, John?"

Bissett's voice rose angrily. "You've hung on everything he said as though it were remarkable. Don't think I haven't seen you watching him!"

"That's ridiculous! Anyway there's simply no point in discussing it—Vince Bonnay doesn't seem to know that I'm alive."

"You've been trying hard enough to make him aware of you!"

"Please John, don't let's quarrel—there's too much happening."

Ears burning Vince tiptoed toward the house; he couldn't suppress a delighted grin at what he'd heard, but the sight of Dukane striding angrily from the game room startled him. He went inside and faced Johanson.

"What have you been doing to Dukane?" he asked. "He looked upset."

"Asking him about his quarrel with Mannley which you overheard."

The words dismayed Vince. So much had happened since he'd forgotten it.

"Did he give any explanation?"

Johanson's lips tightened. "He was almost too frank. Unbelievably so."

NOTICE

An Ordinance Prohibiting the Keeping of More Than a Specified Number of Dogs Upon Any Premises Within the "Residential District" of the City of Greenville; Fixing a Penalty for its Violation; and Providing for its Enforcement.

WHEREAS, the practice by a number of the inhabitants of the City of Greenville of keeping a great number of dogs upon their premises within the "Residential District" of the City in close proximity to other occupied premises is annoying to many citizens in the enjoyment of their property in that their peace, quiet and rest, particularly at nighttime, are disturbed by the barking of said dogs; and,

WHEREAS, such a practice is found to be insanitary and otherwise injurious to the health, safety and comfort of the inhabitants of the City of Greenville, and the practice should be prohibited; NOW, THEREFORE,

The Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville Do Ordain:

Section 1. It shall be and is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to keep more than two dogs at any time upon the premises of any such person, firm or corporation, and-or upon any other premises, lot or parcel of land, located within the "Residential District" of the City of Greenville, as said "Residential District" is now or shall be at any time in the future, defined and delineated under the provisions of the "Municipal Zoning Ordinance" of the City; provided, however, this ordinance shall not apply to any puppy, or litter of puppies, born to any bitch kept upon such premises by any person, firm or corporation, until such puppy or litter of puppies are six weeks old.

Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction by the court shall be fined $10.00 for each offense. Each and every day any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be violated by the same person, firm or corporation, shall constitute a separate and distinct offense hereunder.

Section 3. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its adoption.

Adopted this April 1, 1948.

A SLIGHT CUT

Medical science does not recognize any cut as a "slight cut", for all skin abrasions are potential sources of infection and disease. When you cut yourself, play safe, by all means first sterilize the wound immediately and if it does not heal promptly see your family doctor without delay. 'Slight cuts" have been the cause of many amputations that would have been unnecessary if the proper first aid treatments had been used.

To The Voters Of The

Fifth Judicial District

After the passing of the late Hon. D. M. Clark, I was appointed by the Governor Solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District to serve, as provided by law, until after the general election in November.

I am a candidate to succeed myself as Solicitor in the Democratic Primary on May 29 for the remaining two years of the unexpired term of the late Mr. Clark.

Since I have been your Solicitor it has been my purpose to perform the duties of the office with vigor and efficiency, fairness and impartiality. My record during the short time I have been Solicitor is my platform.

Due to having been in court five weeks since my appointment, and the other duties of the office, I have been unable to get out and see the voters as I would like to do. The duties of the office require my presence and attention, and I know you would not wish me to neglect them.

I take this method of earnestly soliciting your vote and support for the remaining two years of the term I am now serving. Your vote and support will be sincerely appreciated.

Reviews Advance In Atomic Power

At its weekly dinner meeting on Monday night, the Greenville Lion's Club had as its guest speaker, Dr. W. S. Deloach, a member of the Science Department at E. C. T. C. since 1941. Speaking briefly of "atomic power," Dr. DeLoach explained the rapid advances made by scientists in the field of atomic research since the birth of the "atomic age," 1938, and pointed out that the principal source of this power is, at present, to be found in uranium.

However, it was noted, thorium would, in all probability, be the chief source of this power in the very near future, and much research has already been done using this element as a basis for atomic energy. The use of thorium to produce atomic power is very signifgicant in that its far more abundant than uranium and is very much more wide spread over the surface of the earth, which, of course, means that more nations of the world will be able to produce atomic power.

Dr. DeLoach pointed out how much less it now costs to destroy than was true prior to the atomic age. It was estimated that during the immediate past world war it cost $10 per pound to transport explosives to the designated target.

Thus, to deliver 50,000 tons of the conventional explosives would cost approximately one billion dollars. To transport the equivalent destructive power in the form of atomic energy would be many, many times cheaper, General Arnold, of the air forces, has estimated that one dollars worth of T. N. T., or a similar explosive, would do fifty dollars worth of damage, whereas one dollars worth of atomic power will do an estimated three hundred dollars damage.

The speaker expressed the fervent hope that atomic energy would be harnessed and used for peaceful domestic uses, and not as a future source of destruction and death.

Fox Fools Pack; Trail Plowed Up

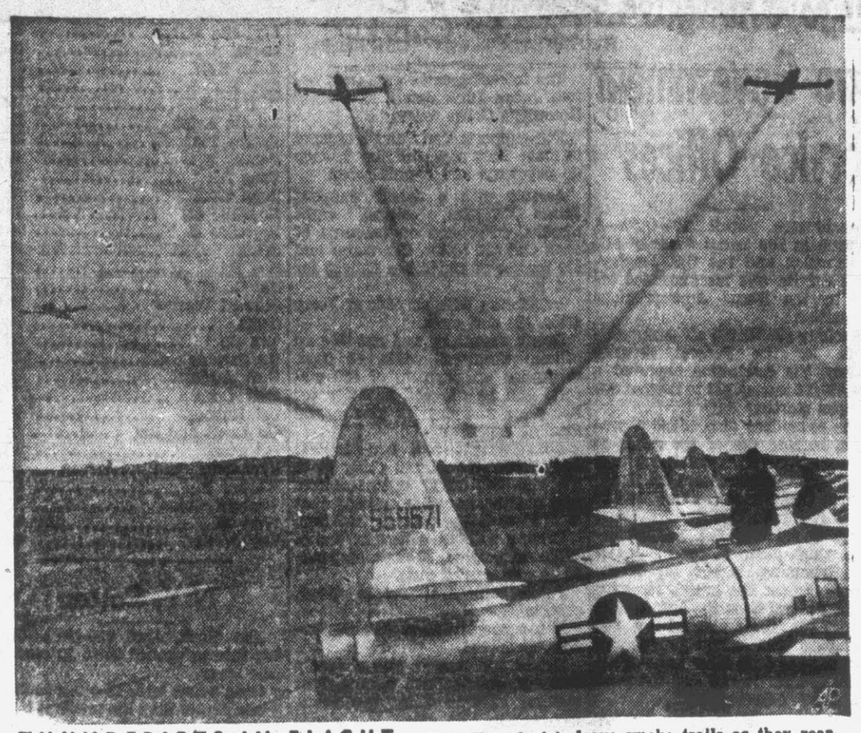
St. Joe, Ark.—(AP)—The atomic age hasn't dimmed the cunning of ol' Br'er Fox. In north Arkansas recently, a fox used this method to outwit his old foe, hounds.

Tiring of having dogs yapping at him for two hours, the fox came upon a field in which a farmer was plowing mile-long furrows. The fox ran down an open furrow and on the next round, the plow neatly covered Br'er Fox's trail.

This fox is believed to have been the same one which sprung a slick trick several months ago on a pack of hounds. He escaped by running through a herd of cows with young calves. The lone fox made it okay, but when the dog pack tried it, they brought down the wrath of mama cows, who charged the hounds and broke up the hunt then and there.

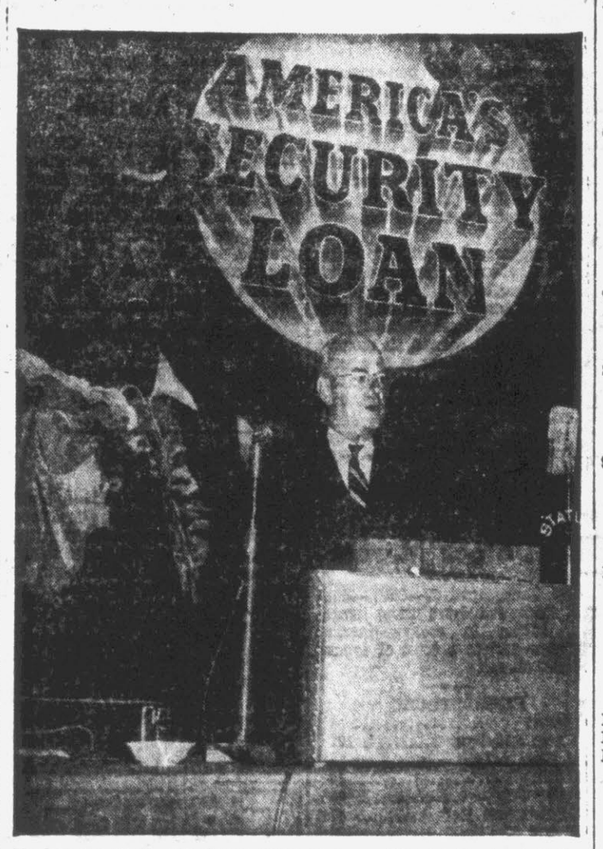
Appreciate Courage

Rogers, Ark.—(AP)—When a tornado approached this community April 19, 1947, Mrs. Marguerite Miller, telephone operator, courageously remained at her post. For her devotion to duty, Mrs. Miller recently was named "First Lady of the Year" in Rogers by the local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.



THUNDERJETS IN FLIGHT— P-84 Thunderjets leave smoke trails as they roar over Dow Base, Bangor, Me. Officials say their top speed is "590 plus" miles per hour.

LAUDS SECURITY VOLUNTEERS



Washington, D. C.—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder tells Security Loan conference that patriotic service of citizens in every community will enable attainment of local sales bonds goals.

Dear Judy:

Most kids think they can be good friends. But how many of them really meet the test? Here is a friendship quiz the kids got up to test their friend rating. Try it and see how you rate! Check the description that fits you best.

1. Are you a good companion?
   (a) Agreeable unless you are being taken [illegible]
   (b) See the other fellow's side of it occasionally?
   (c) Always want your own way?
2. Do you like people?
   (a) Genuinely?
   (b) Just tolerate them?
   (c) Would you rather be alone?
3. Are you kind?
   (a) Can you lend a helping hand without figuring an angle for yourself?
   (b) When you think about it?
   (c) Usually ignore your neighbor's problems?
4. Are you loyal?
   (a) Often try to defend a maligned person?
   (b) Lend a hand by listening eagerly to gossip?
   (c) Not only retell gossip, but exaggerate it?
5. Are you sincere?
   (a) Is it easy for you to praise people—and mean it?
   (b) Do you pay a compliment grudgingly?
   (c) Say one thing and mean another?
6. Are you considerate?
   (a) Do you try to avert unpleasant incidents?
   (b) Embarrass a member of your crowd by injecting sour criticism?

Firemen Gave First Aid With Oxygen

The fire department's emergency rescue truck proved its great value last night when J. P. Smith, 511 Greene Street, was found on his kitchen floor by his wife after he had suffered a heart attack. Mrs. Smith called firemen, next door, and Chief George Gardner, Assistant Chief Jasper Jones and Firemen Ray Smith and Paul Nethercutt rendered first aid with oxygen from a portable resuscitator until Dr. Fred M. Irons arrived at the home. Mr. Smith was taken to Pitt General Hospital. He died early today.

The fire department's rescue equipment has frequently proven its value. In one case the firemen used it to revive a small boy who had fallen into a well in the country.

Musical Revue At College Thursday Night Is Winner

By CHESTER WALSH

Earl Carroll of Hollywood, past master in selecting beauties, and Billie Burke, former star of the Ziegfold Follies, will not attend the "Fashion and Melody Revue," here Thursday night at 8 o'clock at Austin Auditorium.

The fashion show is sponsored by the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club. The proceeds will be allotted to the proposed Recreational Center, which former Mayor Marvin K. Blount and Greenville's wartime mayor, B. Bruce Sugg, so strongly advocated at a recent meeting of local organizations.

The "Fashion and Melody Revue" is going to present something new in eye-entrancing stage parades. The "new look," the "old look," (especially the bathing suits and there's nothing new in the beach haberdashery), is going to be a feature; and there's going to be some style model displays with will put a gleam in the eyes of the women—not forgetting the men.

High lights in the Business and Professional Women's "Fashion and Melody Revue" Thursday night will be numerous. The Diana Shop is providing the models and their adornments. Sixty-three girls will be models, and 77 costumes will be used. Incidentally, the costumes "include everything — including "wake up in the morning" attire, beach wear, sports suits, attire for bridesmaids, brides, negligees, shorts, slacks, and so forth.

Jim Tanner will be master of ceremonies; Christine Smith, music director. Tickets are 50 cents.

J. Preston Smith Died Early Today

J. Preston Smith Sr., 69, died at Pitt General Hospital Tuesday morning at 4:35 o'clock after being critically ill for only a few hours. Funeral services will be held at Immanuel Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Neilson. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

The body will remain at S. G. Wilkerson & Sons' Funeral Home until one hour prior to the time of services and then carried to the church.

Mr. Smith, a native of Freemont, Nebr., spent his early life in Greensboro and attended the Greensboro schools. He joined the United States Army at an early age and served in the Spanish-American War. He was married to Miss Christine Scott of Wilmington, N.C. on January 6, 1915. He came to Greenville to live in July, 1925, being engaged in the shoe repair business until he retired in 1938 because of ill health. He was a member of the Immanuel Baptist Church and the Modern Woodmen.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, J. Preston Smith Jr., of Zebulon, and James C. Smith of Greenville; one daughter, Miss Mary Frances Smith of Washington, D.C.

Active pallbearers will be H. L. Lewis Jr., C. B. Adams, Bobby Gaylor, Ray Smith, Berry Sumrell, W. O. Freeland, George Gardner and Milton Dixon.

Honorary pallbearers will be the deacons of Immanuel Baptist Church, members of the Modern Woodmen, and members of the Fire Department.

Steel Band Hurled From Lumber Plant

A heavy steel band on the flywheel of a saw at the Garris-Evans Lumber Company's plant in the western part of the city came off about 11 a.m. today and was hurled through a floor, then the roof and landed 75 yards away in the yard of Mrs. M. B. Carawan, 215 Ridgeway Street.

The singular feature of the accident was that nobody was hurt.

ment the House will vote. This is expected tomorrow. The House is almost sure to pass it, although some changes may be made in the bill.

All this will mean nothing at all unless the Senate later on also votes for such a bill and President Truman signs it into law.

At least one representative of Mr. Truman has told Congress he's for such a bill. But—

It's not certain the Senate will go along with the House or even consider the bill this year. If it doesn't that ends it. And the taxes and fees will stay on margarine unchanged.

But even if both Houses act and such a bill becomes law, margarine will still be at a disadvantage in many places.

Many states have special taxes of their own on margarine—and a new federal law would not change them—and 22 states won't let colored margarine be sold at all.

Washington has made it clear that the United States is firmly opposed to any UN plan which would involve the sending of Russian troops to Palestine. However, that's a ticklish position to maintain and observers anticipate that America will do all possible to avoid being maneuvered into a position of taking a formal position on the matter in the United Nations. Whether she will be able to avert a showdown is a matter of speculation, since the Palestine situation is fluid and the future is uncertain.

HOW TIME FLIES!!

Yes . . . and how history repeats itself. Maybe you are the fellow in the picture above . . . thinking back on that April Day . . . 1917 when one war began . . . or maybe you are an ex-GI . . . and the fellow in the picture is your dad. But aside from a different helmet . . . the meaning is the same.

Time flies . . . and you really ought to get a little bit busy and save some money from your regular income. Some of these days you may want to make a loan and buy or build a house . . . and it is a sensible idea to be acquainted with the folks who can help you.

The savings habit . . . which we stress . . . pays off in big money. Little money consistently saved has a habit of becoming big before you realize it. It is added proof of the speed of time.

We'll save a little book here for you. Stop in next time you come down our street. It can well be the best call you ever made.

Advocate More Funds To Treat Mental Patients

Washington, April 27. — (AP)—A $2,467,000 increase in funds to combat mental illness was recommended today by the House Appropriations committee.

The $10,278,000 fund approved for the fiscal year starting July 1 was more than a fourth larger than this year's appropriation. But it was $1,123,640 below the amount asked by President Truman.

The committee acted after receiving testimony that "personality disorders constitute our largest problem of national health."

Dr. Robert H. Felix, chief of the public health service's mental hygiene division, told the committee:

"In the next 40 years, the number of persons aged 65 and over is expected to double. x x x since the incidence of mental disease increases with age, we can forecast an increase of mental cases out of all proportion to the increase of total population."

Felix said present knowledge of mental illness is "about the same as knowledge of infectious disease at the time of Pasteur." But he added that many useful and effective weapons have been devised to fight it.

Dr. S. Alan Challman, of the University of Minnesota testified that proper treatment can cure more than 50 per cent of the cases sent to mental hospitals, or bring about enough improvement so the patients can go home.

Dr. William C. Menninger, Topeka, Kan., psychiatrist, said it is estimated that one out of every 22 adults will have some need of psychiatric hospitalization during his lifetime. About half the people who go to the average doctor, he said, have personality ailments.

SNAKE CAUSES ALARM

A large black snake fell from an oak tree in front of Mrs. J. J. Bullock's home, 203 East 13th street, yesterday and caused some excitement. Mrs. Louis Williams tried to kill the reptile, but it escaped. Neighbors blame the snake for the disappearance of eggs from their nests.

'Masquerade'

New York, April 27 —(AP)— Leon Henderson says Henry A. Wallace's third party "is a hideous masquerade that just barely conceals the awful police state intentions that are underneath the cloak."

"The principal supporters of a party like that would be those same people who have blown hot and cold with the Russian line," the national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action and former OPA administrator said last night.

Probably Won't Get New Packard

Winston-Salem, N. C., April 27—(AP)—A little Negro girl with long pigtails probably won't get her new Packard after all.

Ernestine Kinzer, 12, won the car in a drawing at the Winston-Salem Industrial Exposition last Saturday. Within a few hours she was besieged by used car dealers and others who wanted to buy it.

"I'se going to keep it for my very own," she told them. That was in spite of the little complication that presented itself when other members of the family were questioned. Not one of them could drive.

So they went into a family huddle. Ernestine's aunt, who lived in Camden, N. J., could drive. They decided to ask her to come down and act as chauffeur.

Then legal complications arose. Ernestine is a minor. The car could not be released to anyone but her qualified guardian. That will be her father, Frank Kinzer, an inspector for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Under the law, the guardian is liable for the full value of the minor's property, and must invest her money.

If the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the exposition, released the car to the little girl now, it would be liable for the car's full value when Ernestine reached 21.

Veterans Eligible For Special Courses

The County Veterans Service Officer, Arthur B. Corey, has been advised by the Division of College Extension, N. C. State College, Raleigh, N. C., that the school of Engineering offers summer courses in air conditioning, radio maintenance and repair, electric refrigeration, Diesel operation and maintenance, industrial electricity, radio sommunication, and drafting, the courses running from June, to August 20th, 1948.

World war II veterans are eligible for these courses, upon securing Certificate of Eligibility from the Veterans Administration. Any veteran who is interested in these courses, should call at Mr. Corey's office in the Blount building, and get detailed information regarding them.

Urge Changes In Two Government Service Offices

Washington, April 27—(AP)—A shakeup in the Social Security Administration and the U.S. Employment Service was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Slashing $20,673,000 off next year's funds for the Federal Security Agency, the committee approved a $969,050,000 money bill to finance operations starting July 1.

The committee also added a provision barring use of the funds to government workers belonging to a union whose officers have not signed the non-Communist oath required by the Taft-Hartley law.

The Social Security Administration, which came in for the major fund trimming, is but one of the agencies under the overall direction of the Federal Security Agency. The $969,050,000 recommended by the committee also would provide for operations of such other units as the Public Health Service and the Food and Drug Administration.

The bill includes these specific health and social welfare appropriations:

1. $1,000,000 for the Public Health Service to train dentists and dental technicians in the new procedure for using sodium flouride to check tooth decay.

2. $3,250,000 for research grants and scholarships to promote study of mental illnesses.

The bill, written by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.), recommended a "far-reaching overhaul" of the Social Security Administration. It pruned the "administrative superstructure" by:

1. Denying $50,836 asked for 11 jobs in the Coordinating and Procedure Division, saying "there is absolutely no need for this intervening layer."

2. Cutting the request for the agency's publications and information service from $109,997 to $30,000.

Suggests Comic Strips In School

Atlanta, April 27.—(AP)—A juvenile delinquency expert thinks that comic strip characters should replace King Arthur and Sir Galahad in reading matter for school kids.

And if heroes of the funnies need backing up, saps Miss Carmelite Janvier, why not ring in Van Johnson, Gregory Peck and some of the other movie stars?

Miss Janvier is director of the special services division of schools at New Orleans, La. Here to address a juvenile delinquency conference today, she balked against teaching today's children—attuned to comics and movies—"in terms of King Arthur and Sid Galahad."

The comic strips or the movies, she said in an interview, would be more interesting. Moreover, she added, if you get the child's interest you have a better chance of keeping it happy and out of trouble.

"Our generation," said she, "is a generation of comic strips and movies. That's more than a figure of speech. Why can't we teach children to read by teaching them to read the comics?"

In other words, she said, suit instruction to the present—not to the past.

Not 'Bitten' But Was Mishandled

Berlin, April 27—(AP)—The Russians said today they did not accuse American soldiers of biteing elderly German women on the streets of Berlin. It was all a translator's mistake, they said.

What Maj Alexander Kotikov actually said in the Berlin Kmmandatura meeting last year ,the Soviet Army's official publication reported today, was that a 60-year-old Berlin woman had ben "severely mishandled" by American troops; but the interpreter got it wrong and quoted him as saying "biten."
