

Stassen Favored In Pennsylvania Write-In Primary

Piles Up Surprising 4,900 Lead Over Dewey; Delegates Not Pledged

Philadelphia, April 28—(AP)—Industrial Pennsylvania, following recent Nebraska and Wisconsin trends, today gave White House hopeful Harold G. Stassen a slim but apparently conclusive margin in the state's Republican Presidential popularity contest.

The former Minnesota Governor piled up a surprising 4,900 write-in vote lead over New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey, with 6,569 precincts of 8,267 reported in yesterday's perfunctory primary.

Stassen had 67,019; Dewey 62,063. Trailing far back in third place with 26,551 votes was U. S. Senator Edward Martin, the keystone state's favorite son candidate.

Stassen won thumping majorities in the state's two industrial metropolitan centers, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. He led Dewey by nearly 12,000 in these two cities.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur also showed surprising strength. He polled 13,692 votes to take fourth place in the contest. Ohio's U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft was fifth with 12,890.

Michigan's Senator Arthur Vandenberg had 7,259. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 4,183. Henry A. Wallace 1,161. Pennsylvania's Governor James H. Duff, 899, and Governor Earl Warren of California 585.

The vote in the primary does not bind the state's 73 Republican delegates. They go into the National convention unpledged.

Four years ago Dewey captured the Keystone state popularity contest primary and went on to win the GOP Presidential nomination. Stassen, then, was last in a field of seven candidates. He received only 1,692 votes to 146,706 for the New York Governor.

President Truman was the only name on the Democratic ballot. He roused up 225,871 votes in 8,223 precincts. Eisenhower got 3,680 Democratic write-in votes while Wallace polled 3,304.

Anti-Poll Tax Measure Is Sent To Upper House

Washington, April 28—(AP)—An anti-poll tax bill was sent to the Senate today by its rules committee.

Chairman Brooks (R-Ill.) said the group approved without change a measure passed by the House on July 21, 1947.

That bill would make it unlawful for a state or municipality to require a poll tax for voting in any national election. This includes election of the President, vice-president and members of Congress.

Brooks said action was by "voice vote" but Senators Stennis (D-Miss) and Hayden (D-Ariz) said they opposed the move.

Stennis said the measure "is unconstitutional." Hayden said he does not oppose the bill but "opposed the method."

"I think this should be done by an amendment to the constitution with the states passing upon it," he said.

'No War', But A Reckoning Ahead

Berlin, April 28—(AP)—"There will be no war," the Soviet-controlled press in Berlin said today.

"There will be a political reckoning with those who chose Berlin as their political adventures," it added.

Margarine vs. Butter

As Butter Prices Rise, Margarine Sales Increase; Butter Sales Still Far Ahead But Dairy Farmers Don't Like "Substitutes"; Big Handicaps For Oleo Makers

Washington, April 28—(AP)—This is an ABC on the fight in the kitchen over margarine and butter. The average price for those two bread spreads is: margarine, 42 cents a pound; butter, 94 cents a pound.

The higher butter prices go or stay, the more customers there are for the cheaper-priced margarine. Still, far more butter is sold. Last year the sale was: margarine 745,000,000 pounds; butter 1,700,000,000. Those figures are from the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers.

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows. This is the makeup of margarine: 15 per cent skimmed milk; 5 per cent salt and seasoning; 80 per cent vegetable fats—oil from soybeans, cottonseeds, peanut.

Margarine is sold on the market in two forms: already colored yellow like butter; or plain white, with coloring attached for the housewife to mix to get the butter-yellow color. About 90 per cent of all margarine eaten is the kind bought un-

Train Wrecks In Ravine, Kills 2, Injures 31

Two persons were killed and 31 were injured in the derailment of the Miami-Chicago passenger train, "Sun Chaser," on curving track in a ravine near Adamsville, Ala. The locomotive (arrow) lies at the bottom of the steep embankment. On the side of the ravine are six overturned cars. The train was operated by the Illinois Central Railroad. (AP Photo).

Arabs In Jericho, Status Is Clouded

Trans-Jordan King Says They're Advance Scouts, But Troops Say Know Nothing Of Such Orders; Battle For Jaffa At New Pitch

Jerusalem, April 28—(AP)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan said today scout troops of his Arab legion have occupied Jericho, less than 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem.

A company of the Arab legion was found by an Associated Press reporter to be in control of Jericho. The officers and men, however, insisted they were there to protect the British evacuation and knew nothing of their king's claim they were there to fight the Jews.

And Jewish sources in Haifa said Arab legion gunners shelled a Jewish settlement near Naharain, on the Trans-Jordan frontier. Ten Jews were reported killed.

Other reports to Haifa said the Jewish militia Haganah captured two police fortresses near the Trans-Jordan frontier in the night. The Jews fought with Arabs, they said, after British forces abandoned the fortresses as part of the general British withdrawal incident to ending of the mandate May 15. The fortresses are at the all-Arab town of Samakh and at Jir El Majmieh.

The Jewish underground, Irgun Zvai Leumi, claimed to have captured the entire Manahieh quarter of the all-Arab port of Jaffa adjoining Tel Aviv. The battle for Jaffa rose to new intensity. Irgun and Haganah fighters, newly allied, fought side by side in four key suburbs of the city. The Jews won control of Haifa last week.

It was officially announced in Jerusalem that British army units had gone into action this morning "to break up the attack by Jews on Jaffa."

Jericho, destroyed and cursed by the prophet Joshua in biblical times, lies 20 miles west of Amman, Trans-Jordan capital. Abdullah has said he will personally lead armies of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Iraq, and Lebanon into Palestine this week to fight Zionism.

He told the Associated Press from his capital in Amman that the force which occupied Jericho, less than 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem, was made up of "scout troops which always precede the regular army."

His statement was a contradiction of denials by the British army, which said yesterday that members of the British-trained Arab legion in Jericho consisted of one company under British army orders as a part of the evacuation.

Union Calls For Buyers' Strike In Meat Tie-Up

Washington, April 28—(AP)—The CIO called today for a nationwide buyers' strike against meat produced by six packing firms whose Union workers walked out 44 days ago in a pay fight.

CIO President Philip Murray appealed to his organization's 6,000,000 members and to the public at large to boycott products of the six firms. Murray listed them as the Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, Morrill and Rath Companies. They have been operating on a partial basis since the March 16 walkout of 100,000 members of the CIO Packinghouse Workers Union.

"It is important," Murray said in a statement, "that the packing companies feel the whiplash of public opinion to move them from their arrogant position of refusing to pay any attention to the living needs of their workers."

Plane With Two Aboard Overdue

Washington, April 28—(AP)—The air force reported today that a training plane with two officers aboard is missing on a flight from Dayton, Ohio, to Bolling Field here.

The plane, an AT-6, left Wright Patterson air base at Dayton yesterday at 12:10 p. m. (EST) and was due at Bolling at 2:30 p. m. (EST). Search planes have been sent out from Selfridge Airbase, Michigan, Westover Air Base, Massachusetts, and Pope Air Base, North Carolina.

ATTACKED BY AIR Jerusalem, April 28—(AP)—A Palestine government spokesman said British Royal Air Force planes struck today at Jewish positions in the Bath Yam resort section adjoining Arab Jaffa on the south.

Renew Effort To Head Off Train Strike Threats

Nat'l Mediation Board Schedules Meeting With Railroads And Unions

Washington, April 28—(AP)—The National Mediation Board decided today to make a new attempt to head off the threatened railroad strike May 11.

It scheduled a meeting in Chicago Thursday with the railroads and disputing unions in an effort to mediate wage controversy.

Board Chairman Frank Douglas told a news conference all other procedures under the Railway Labor Act has been exhausted.

"This is the last thing we can do as a board," Douglas added.

The agency first had attempted to arbitrate the dispute. Then it asked President Truman to appoint an emergency board to investigate.

The emergency board recommended a 15 1-2 cent hourly wage increase but that was rejected by the three brotherhoods involved.

They are the locomotive engineers, firemen and engine men, and switchmen. About 150,000 workers are represented by the three unions.

Douglas said that he and mediation board member Francis A. O'Neill will leave for Chicago tonight and meet with the parties at 10 a. m. (GMT) tomorrow.

Douglas said the action was taken because direct negotiations had "reached an impasse" last night.

"This failure to reach an agreement represents a serious threat to the economy of the nation in that a stoppage of all rail transportation in the country may follow," he said.

N.C. Industrial Employment For March Increased

Raleigh, April 28—(AP)—Employment in North Carolina industry showed an increase in March, the State Department of Labor reported today.

O. H. Pritchard, Labor Department statistician, reported that employment in manufacturing industries showed an increase of 5,000 over February and 10,000 over March of 1947. Total employment in manufacturing industry at the end of March was reported at 385,000.

Textile mills showed an increase of 2,100 workers, and the entire textile industry had a labor force of 227,500. Logging camps and sawmills gained 2,600 workers during the month.

Detroit Police Exhaust Leads In Reuther Assault

Detroit, April 28—(AP)—Police trying to track down the would-be killer of Walter P. Reuther had run out of tangible leads today.

Late yesterday officers released an unidentified Detroit Steel plant worker who was reported to have carried a gun at the CIO United Auto Workers Atlantic City convention last November.

There, three tipsters reported, he remarked he would like to "take a shot" at the red-haired president.

Inspector Joseph V. Krug said a check of the man's factory time card proved he was at work the night of April 20 when a shot-gun blast fell and seriously wounded Reuther.

Marshall And Advisors Hold Secret Meetings

Washington, April 28—(AP)—Top American officials are gravely disturbed today over reports that Arab nations are prepared to send armies into Palestine.

The main fear is that while the United Nations is still trying to find some way to keep peace in the Holy Land, both the Jews and Arabs may take steps which will make outright war there inevitable.

In this respect, American authorities draw a sharp distinction between the current fighting in Palestine and the involvement of either Arab or Jewish forces from outside the Holy Land.

At the moment it seems certain that the appearance of external forces would confront the United Nations with an act of aggression which would test the U. N.'s resources and stain its prestige to the utmost.

There appeared to be little doubt, therefore, that the Palestine situation figured prominently in a secret meeting Secretary of State Marshall held last night with three of his top advisors.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, U. N. advisor John Foster Dulles and Undersecretary of State Lovett met with Marshall at Blair House, the government's official residence for Foreign dignitaries.

American policy on Palestine for the past several months has been aimed primarily at one objective: To get the Jews and Arabs to stop fighting and, at the very least, to agree to live together temporarily under an armed truce.

Strike Date Fixed By Railroad Unions

May 11 Slated For Nationwide Railroad Strike; Negotiators Fail In Efforts To Settle Prolonged Wage Dispute

Chicago, April 28—(AP)—May 11 was set today for a nationwide railroad strike.

The date for the start of the walkout of 150,000 union members was made public in Cleveland while union spokesmen were preparing a formal announcement of the date in Chicago.

The strike will start at 6 a. m. on May 11, the Cleveland sources said. The strike would paralyze the country's transportation system by pulling locomotive engineers, firemen and engine men and switchmen off the jobs.

Two years ago a strike cut off rail service for two days until President Truman intervened.

What legal steps might be undertaken to head off the crippling walkout remained a question. The wage dispute between the unions and the nation's class one railroads has passed through all steps of machinery set up under the National Railway Labor Act.

Railroad workers are excluded from coverage by the Taft-Hartley law. Hence the government cannot ask for an anti-strike injunction as it did recently against John L. Lewis' coal miners.

There was no immediate word from the White House whether Mr. Truman might step into the dispute as he did in May, 1946.

Hopes of averting the strike, which would paralyze the country's railroad system, faded last night. Union and rail officials, who have been meeting for the last two weeks in efforts to settle their six months old wage dispute, broke up their meeting shortly before midnight.

Last midnight was the deadline set by the unions for setting a strike date if an agreement had not been reached. The unions and carriers have exhausted all remedies provided in the railway labor act for avoiding a walkout.

In Cleveland, David B. Robertson, president of the Firemen, said that once the strike date is set there is no reason why negotiations should not continue. However, there was no indication that further wage talks were planned.

After a breakup of the negotiations, Alvanley Johnston, president of the Locomotive Engineers, said in Cleveland that "I don't believe the railroads showed any disposition to work things out. From what our negotiating committee says, the railroads wouldn't do anything to try to settle the dispute."

Washington, April 28—(AP)—A team of city Republicans and Dixie Democrats lined up in the House today to push an Oleo tax repeal bill past dairy country opponents.

The Dairy members, virtually all Republicans, conceded defeat in the House. But in the last ditch battle, they sought to pin an amendment on the tax repealer to force packaging of Oleo in triangular shaped sticks—to distinguish it from butter.

The Oleomargarine industry issued a statement saying if the amendment passes the housewife could not get colored margarine probably for three years—because triangle molding machinery is not available.

But Rep. Rivers (D-SC) leader of the Oleo forces, predicted the outright repealer will pass "as is" at least a two to one vote.

In a preliminary test Monday, the House voted 238 to 212 to put the measure on the floor immediately, by-passing the House agriculture committee, which had shelved it.

House passage of the bill, however, will not mean that the Housewife soon may go to her grocer and buy colored, untaxed margarine. The bill first must be passed by the Senate. And besides 62-year old Federal taxes, 22 states impose their own levies on Oleo.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) told a reporter he will lead a drive to secure Senate passage of the repeal measure.

Teacher To Live In Home Built By Work Of Pupils

Aurora, Colo. — (AP) — Thirty Aurora high school boys are building a house. Divided into two classes, the youths spend 15 hours each week during school hours. They started last November, reading blueprints and designing the five-room home. They put in foundation, masonry and studding. Now they're nailing on sheathing.

The projects, first of its kind in the Denver suburban area, represents fulfillment of a longtime dream of E. M. Place, teacher of the school's trade and industry courses.

"I've been hoping that someday I could put the boys to work on a real house so they could learn the practical way," Place says. "I think it's paying off in increased interest and better training."

M. R. Moorehead, superintendent of Aurora schools, agrees house-building is the best way to teach manual training, adding: "Speed is not important. Good workmanship and learning are."

Moorehead has more than a professional interest in the project. Under his contract providing both pay and a home, he'll move in when the house is completed.

Anti-Communist Measure Ready

Washington, April 28—(AP)—Legislation to permit criminal prosecution of Communist party officials and to expose party members and fronts was approved unanimously today by the House Un-American Activities committee.

The committee hopes to bring the bill before the House for action next week.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 28—(AP)—The power to call strikes within the CIO textile workers union was removed today from subordinate organizations and concentrated in the hands of Emil Rieve, the general president.

The action was taken in a resolution that amended the union's constitution. It drew protests from many delegates in an hour-long debate, but was approved by a voice vote.

Defense Hearing Bewilders Solons

On Air Program

Symington First Asks 66 Groups, Then Talks 70-Group For Two Hours

Washington, April 28—(AP)—The thinly patched crack in the military's not-so-solid front gave way anew today, leaving the question of 66 or 70 air groups wider open than ever.

At the same time, House leaders insisted that any effort to combine universal military training and draft revival will torpedo both projects.

Thus President Truman's six week old plea for quick action on a military expansion program designed to back up this country's stop-Russia policy appeared to be headed for further delay.

The biggest road block at the moment is the issue of air power.

Secretary for Air Symington spent the first few minutes of his appearance before the Senate Appropriations committee yesterday saying he supports the 66-group compromise worked out by his cabinet boss, Secretary of Defense Forrester.

Then Symington spent the next two hours backing up—with the assistance of his chief of staff, Gen. Carl Spaatz—the original 70-group plan already pushed through the house.

A number of senators told newsmen privately after the session that they are bewildered.

Symington began his testimony by reading a brief formal statement in which he backed the 66-group compromise and asserted the air force was not trying to underestimate the needs of either the army or navy.

But under questioning by Committee Chairman Bridges (R-NH) Symington conceded that Russia now has better jet fighters than this country and some good long range bombers which "we have photographed from the air."

Bridges then recalled Forrester's testimony on Monday that the military would attempt to fortify the moon if it had its way and asked Symington what he thought of that.

Symington said he did not want to comment on his boss' statement.

Two Men In As Arms Cache Is Found By Police

New York April 28—(AP)—Two men who said they were members of the Soviet Youth Movement were jailed today after police uncovered a cache of ammunition and arms, including 200 rifles and revolvers, in a raid on an industrial building in Manhattan's west side.

Police said one of the men identified himself as Joseph Ulanovsky, 19, son of Author-Editor Louis Ulanovsky. They listed his companion as Isiah Warsaw, 30-year-old watchmaker's apprentice. The two were booked on charges of violating the Sullivan anti-weapon law.

Raiding officers said some of the arms and ammunition were wrapped in packages addressed in individuals in Palestine.

Russian-Finnish Treaty Approved By Parliament

Helsinki, Finland, April 28—(AP)—Finland's parliament ratified the Russian-Finnish treaty of friendship and mutual assistance today.

The government bill was approved 157 to 11. Thirty-two members abstained from voting.

The treaty was signed by Russian and Finnish delegations in Moscow April 6.

A three-hour debate preceded the vote. Leaders of all major parties endorsed the accord.

Approval always was certain. The little opposition that was heard was inspired mainly by issues in the coming parliamentary elections, political writers said.

We Must Keep Alert

Italian Minister of the Interior Scelba has warned his people that they must be ever vigilant against possible Communist violence despite the sensational recent defeat in the recent national elections.

Scelba, head of the country's police forces, by virtue of his cabinet post. He was moved to give his warning by fear that the public might be lulled into a feeling of security because of the election results.

"When you have in the house as many Communists as we do" (some 30 percent of the voters cast their ballots for the Communist-led Popular Front), he said, "you cannot ever be safe against all attempts at violence. X X X I am still convinced that if a favorable occasion turned up, the Communists would not fail to take advantage of it and that they would do everything they could to dominate the country."

That's sound advice for Italy, and it's equally sound for every other country, for we are dealing with world revolution. There's only one way for the democracies to meet this menace, and that is to battle it to a finish, individually and collectively—and never relax vigilance. The trouble is that every time there is a hill in the behavior of sensitive wishful thinkers let their fears die down. Some say: "It won't happen here." There's no such an embassy to Stalin, bearing frankness and soft words, in an effort to appease him. The answer to all this is that it can happen "here," and we see approximately what on Hitler.

Fortunately, so far as concrete joint defense the democracies are swinging into action with corresponding energy. Communist holdouts are displayed in the ruins of Czechoslovakia and the grave threat to Italian independence has shocked the western nations into realization of the danger of another war.

We see the results in the beginning of the western union of Europe, the moves to implement the Marshall Plan, and such actions as that taken at Bogota by the Inter-

Mrs. Willmann Gives Program
The Literature Department of the Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. J.H.B. Moore Tuesday afternoon, April 27, at four o'clock.

Mrs. R. R. Willmann gave the program. She discussed entertainingly, with many interesting and humorous details, her varied work as one of Dr. Harry M. Fosdick's secretaries at the famous Riverside Church in New York. Then she reviewed Dr. Fosdick's popular book, "On Being a Real Person," and brought out clearly his healthy vigorous philosophy.

Mrs. J.H.B. Moore, Mrs. Bill Sermons, and Mrs. Bertha Parker, as hostesses, served punch and sandwiches, and cookies at an attractive table lovely with delicate pink rose buds from Mrs. Moore's own garden.

Miss Eunice McGee made a brief but timely plea for a wider understanding of the problem of teacher load in North Carolina. She told her audience that North Carolina now ranks at the bottom of the 48 states as to teacher load—that many teachers here are trying to struggle along with 40 or more pupils to a room.

Co-hostesses To American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary held its monthly meeting Monday night, April 26, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. C. Harris, 710 Third Street. Mrs. J. B. Spilman presided over the meeting due to the illness of the president, Mrs. Jimmie Jenkins.

Plans for Girl State were discussed, and two delegates are to be chosen to go. The date for the meeting of Girl State, and the Greenville high school examinations conflict, so it is doubtful if any delegates can attend. A motion was passed to donate $5 to the Cancer drive.

There is to be a district meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in Tarboro on May 11, at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Walter Cherry and Mrs. H. R. Rogers were elected as delegates to attend this meeting. There is a prize for best attendance, so anyone wishing to go, call Mrs. Frank Taylor or Mrs. Jimmie Jenkins as soon as possible.

Mrs. Frank Taylor represented the Auxiliary at the recreational supper meeting held at the parish house on April 22.

Gifts for ten children in France that were forgotten at Christmas time, are to be selected and sent by Mrs. W. R. Jones.

Mrs. Spilman told the Auxiliary about the memorial to Mrs. Ruth Bird, the late state president of the American Legion Auxiliary. This memorial is to be a three year scholarship for a student nurse to attend Duke hospital. Each chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary is to contribute to this memorial.

Mrs. Frank Taylor, chairman of the nominating committee presented the slate for the new Auxiliary members for 1949: Mrs. Jimmie Jenkins, president; Mrs. J. B. Spilman, first vice president; Mrs. H. R. Rogers, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Renfrew, secretary; Mrs. W. S. Stafford, treasurer; Mrs. Willy Brown, chaplain; Mrs. W. R. Jones, historian; Mrs. George Forrest, sergeant-at-arms and Mrs. W. C. Eagles, reporter.

These officers were unanimously elected for the coming year.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mrs. Spilman presented the guest speaker for the evening, Mr. L. L. Murray, principal of the Grimesland school. Mr. Murray gave an inspiring talk on rehabilitation, which was thoroughly enjoyed by each member of the Auxiliary.

At the close of the program ice cream and cake were served.

The assisting hostesses were Mesdames H. R. Rogers, J. Hicks Corey, Willy Brown, F. A. Bendall, George Forrest, Charles Fife, H. A. Hudson, John Horne, G. A. Taylor, R. D. Whitehead, Jr., and Miss K. Whitchard.

City Primary Election Here Next Monday

The deadline for candidates to file for the city primary election was last Monday.

Next Monday is election day. The polls will be open at the Courthouse and City Hall from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Four aldermen's time expires June 30. They are C. B. Mayo, second ward; L. M. Buchanan, third ward; R. S. Moye, fourth ward, and Berry Bostic, fifth ward. They are candidates for reelection. Richard R. Forrest is opposing Buchanan; J. Ed Waldrop is opposing Bostic, and James E. Collins is opposing Moye.

At Precinct No. 1, Courthouse, Wards 1 and 2, J. C. Tyson is registrar; J. E. Ross and Mrs. Edna McMillan are judges.

At Precinct No. 2, City Hall, Ward 3, 4 and 5, Mrs. P. T. Anthony is registrar; Mrs. Rosa Brown and E. R. Conway are judges.

In a speech at a Michigan congressional dinner in Washington Monday night, threw out what observers took to be a fresh hint to Russia that America may join western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression. The signing of such a pact would rock the house of Bolshevism like an earthquake. Britain and the other western European nations insist that this is the one thing needed to solidify them against Communist aggression.

And — the more margarine was sold, the more the butter-makers would suffer in the long run.

So it's been to the interest of the butter-makers — the manufacturers and the dairy farmers with the cream-giving cows — to see that margarine is sold under handicaps.

And for years it's been sold under big handicaps that didn't apply to its competitor, butter.

And for years the margarine-makers — the manufacturers and the growers of those vegetables that go into margarine, like soybeans, cotton, peanuts — have been trying to get the handicaps removed.

So it's been one group of manufacturers and farmers against another. Until now the butter boys have been winning. Here are some of the handicaps on margarine:

Margarine manufacturers must pay a yearly federal license fee (tax) of $500, whether the margarine is colored or uncolored. Wholesale must pay a yearly federal fee of $480 if they handle colored margarine, $200 if it's uncolored.

Retailers — neighborhood grocers — must pay a yearly federal fee of $48 to sell colored margarine, $6 to sell the uncolored kind.

Then there's a federal tax of one-quarter of a cent a pound on uncolored margarine and 10 cents on the colored kind.

Northeast District W.C.T.U.

The annual meeting of the Northeast District of W.C.T.U. was held Friday, April 23, at the First Baptist Church in New Bern. The meeting was well attended, with deep interest and a firm determination to press forward characterizing the entire program.

Mrs. J. L. Hodges of New Bern, district president, presided. Mrs. B. B. Slaughter, state vice-president, led the devotional and after kind words of welcome extended by Mrs. Karl Herrington and responded to by Mrs. C. T. Mallison of Greenville. Mrs. J. R. Courtney and Mrs. J. T. Pearson, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas W. Fryer, sang "Have Faith in God, He is On His Throne."

JOHNSON ON RADIO NETWORK

Charles M. Johnson, candidate for governor of North Carolina, subject of the Democratic Primary to be held May 29, will speak over WPTO and the Tobacco Network tomorrow night from 6:30 to 6:45.

from the New Bern Ministerial Association. These were some of his words: "We have a great evil to fight. We stand ready to fight with you and bid you God speed."

The two addresses of the morning were given by Mrs. W. H. Causey, of Winston-Salem, state promotional secretary, and the Rev. Byler of Okolona, Miss.

Mrs. Causey said to her audience: "This is your hour — a dark hour. We are in the midst of moderation. Total abstinence is the only way out. We must get ready for a referendum. There are more than 1,000,000 bar maids in the United States." Urging the enlistment of one million young recruits a year, Mrs. Causey said, "Put the White Ribbon around the babies and when they grow up they will not be bar maids." She told of the subtleness of the brewers and said it was up to the unions to organize and work. Her closing statements were: "Our cause is just, we have no fear."

Referring to the lost sheep and the lost coin, Rev. Byler reminded his hearers that people are much concerned about their lost money and lost sheep but indifferent about lost sons and daughters. Speaking of the popularity during the war of the song "God Bless America," he asked, "How can God bless America, when it has gone liquor mad?" He said that Franklin D. Roosevelt promised to get liquor back, but not the saloons, and today there are more than a half-million saloons in the United States dragging young men and women down to eternal destruction. In closing he pleaded for a deeper concern on the part of parents for the proper training and better environment for their children.

The noon-time prayer was led by Rev. J. L. Hodges, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, New Bern.

Delegates and other visitors were entertained at lunch hour at the Gaston Hotel.

An address by Mrs. F. P. Cook, state W. C. T. U. secretary of Charlotte, reports and round table discussions were features of the afternoon session.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Mrs. J. L. Hodges, New Bern; vice-president, Mrs. C. T. Mallison, Greenville; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. T. C. Briggs, Greenville; Y. T. C. counselor, Mrs. Paul Waters, Washington; L. T. C. counselor, Mrs. C. W. Brown, Greenville.

The closing feature of the day's session was a stirring appeal by Mrs. Hodges for more Bible study and earnest prayer on the part of each W.C.T.U. member.

The 1949 meeting was invited to Bethel.

According to Webster the word "progressive" means moving forward, or improving; but the adjective is being maltreated today it's losing that definition.

Today, as in the past, a large part of government has to do with a nation's economy. Indeed, the prosperity of a people is even taken as one of the yardsticks of success for a system or policy of government.

Schools Retain Priority In N. C. Political Issues

Raleigh, N. C., April 28—(AP)—North Carolina's schools today continued to hold high priority on the list of political campaign subjects. Two candidates for Governor in speeches last night called for state action for better schools, while a third charged other candidates with insincerity in their stands for school improvement.

Oscar Barker gave endorsement to North Carolina Education proposals for higher teacher pay. Reduced teaching loads and state aid in school construction. He addressed a joint Rotary-Civitan meeting at Fairmont.

Charles M. Johnson declared that positive action is necessary to prevent continued deterioration of schools. Speaking at Columbia, he said the state cannot continue to wait to increase teacher salaries and reduce teaching loads.

The fire came from Wayne Albright, in a statement issued at Greensboro, Albright said "everybody's straining his track shoes trying to out-scramble the others in climbing aboard the more-pay-for-teachers wagon."

He declared there is an absence of sincerity on the part of other candidates. This is "evidenced by the fact that none have called for a special session of the General Assembly to consider increasing school funds, he said.

Albright asserted that he is the only candidate for Governor who has made a public appeal for such a session.

Kerr Scott, another candidate for Governor, said in a speech at Mt.

Her most recent "ex" is Henry J. (Bob) Topping, who married Green Star Lana Turner Monday.

Nineteen Seats In Assembly Are Already Assured

Raleigh, N. C., April 28—(AP)—Occupants of 19 seats in the 1949 General Assembly have been picked without the casting of a single ballot.

Fourteen Democratic aspirants for House are unopposed by either Democrats or Republicans. Also with no opposition at all are four Democrats and one Republican who filed for the Senate.

A list of Assembly candidates which Secretary of State Thad Eure compiled also shows easy pickings for several other candidates once they win nomination in party contests.

Democrats who win out in the May 29 primaries will have no Republican opposition for 11 Senate and 24 House seats. In the 26th and 29th districts, Democrats to be nominated in convention will have no opposition for Senate seats.

N.C. Principals Elect O. E. Dowd Their President

At a recent meeting of the North Carolina Education Association held in Asheville, O. E. Dowd, principal of the Greenville High School, was elected president of the North Carolina Principals' Association. The Principals' Association is a division of the North Carolina Education Association and included the approximate 1400 principals in North Carolina. Mr. G. L. Edwards, principal of the Lakewood School in Durham, and a former teacher in Pitt County was elected vice president. Miss Mildred Moonenhan, principal of the Elementary School, Chapel Hill, was elected secretary and treasurer. The North Carolina Principals' Association includes all the District, City and Elementary principals of the state.

The Principals Association has already made plans for a summer conference to be held at the University of North Carolina on July 28-30. The planning committee for the conference includes Professor Guy B. Phillips of the University of N. C., N. G. Bryan of Graham and H. L. Hart of Apex and R. C. White of Rameur. This committee will meet in Chapel Hill on May 29th to work out the detail plans for the conference.

In addition the Legislative Committee of the North Carolina Principals' Association are at work on a legislative program. This committee includes E. N. Howell of Swannanoa, W. W. Hartsell of Kannapolis, H. A. Helms of Raleigh, C. B. Hunter of Dixon, G. P. Carr of Angier, H. L. Hart of Chapel Hill. Mr. Hart and Mr. Carr are former principals of schools in Pitt County. This legislative committee will meet in the N. C. E. A. headquarters in Raleigh Saturday morning, May 15th, to continue work on the association's legislative program.

Ballots Mailed To Polling Places For May Primary

Raleigh, N. C., April 28—(AP)—More than a million and a half ballots have been mailed out for the May 29 primaries.

Secretary Raymond Maxwell said the State Board of Elections has sent 1,302,000 Democratic and 277,000 Republican Ballots to local boards.

There will be at least 1,948 polling places, Maxwell added.

This is the board's latest revised figure on the number of precincts in the State. It compares with 1,932 for the voting two years ago.

Maxwell said the number of precincts may be higher by the time the primary rolls around.

Chapter 26

Kalanii's spacious freezing unit was a long room lined with menacing meat hooks and Spartan-white enamel lockers. Located beneath the pantry it was reached by narrow steps beneath the service stairs to the left wing.

As Vince and Julia made their way down the rubber-treaded steps she looked back at him with an amused quirk pulling at her lips.

"Johanson is certainly a surprising individual. I had no idea that he's given Lin Gook any grouse to put in the freezing unit."

"Well so much happened the night of his arrival I suppose he forgot to mention it. Damn glad he finally remembered it though."

"So am I. There's nothing like stuffed grouse with wild rice and some of Lin Gook's chestnut gravy."

"Stop it, you'll have me drooling," Vince laughed.

The massive automatic lock on the refrigerator room door responded instantly to Julia's light touch and they entered leaving the door ajar.

"Look Vince, here are Johanson's grouse," Julia walked to the far end.

"Aren't they beautiful creatures? It seems a pity to kill them." She ran her fingers caressingly over their septa breast feathers.

"Yes, beautiful. An unusual color too, very intriguing."

"Something in his tone made her turn. 'You're not looking at the grouse!'"

"That's right. I find it rather difficult keeping my mind on game birds when a bird of brighter plumage is standing right beside me."

"You make such pretty speeches, Vince, but I never know if you mean them or if it's just the natural gallantry of a southerner." Her voice was wistful.

"Don't you? Well, perhaps actions will speak louder than words."

Slowly he drew her toward him; her arms stole around his neck and her lips were firm and fresh and responsive to his. For one miraculous moment Kalanii with its atmosphere of fear and suspicion faded into the background.

Vince started down into pupils grown enmeshed with emotion.

"How was that, Julia?" he whispered.

"Wonderful! Do it again!"

He laughed. "You're a shameless hussy," he told her. "A brazen woman, but I love you for it and I'm taking you at your word."

He repeated the kiss, this time with more skill and certainty of response. Unconsciously as their lips drew apart he was aware of a sharp click and the encompassing darkness as the brilliant lights went out.

"Vince! . . . the lights! . . . they've gone out!"

"There was terror in her voice. 'What's wrong with that?'" he soothed.

"You don't understand—the lights are controlled by the opening and closing of the door. Someone has shut it—we're locked in!"

Her body trembled against his. The stygian blackness seemed to drape itself around them like a velvet curtain, sound-proof and impenetrable.

Vince squeezed Julia's hand and with the other groped his way to the door, a door he remembered now as being of steel with heavy rubber stripping and a devilishly efficient automatic unbreakable lever on the outside.

"Keep your chin up, Julia . . . Johanson knows we came down here—he'll investigate if we're not back shortly."

He tried to make his voice reassuring but Julia didn't answer and he knew she was wondering if Johanson would give them another thought. He had no reason to worry about them . . . he wasn't waiting for their return.

"Keep moving," he ordered. "Go to keep our circulation going."

"That shouldn't be hard to do—it's a mere thirty degrees in here."

Julia moved her legs and beat her arms together while he hurried himself at the door. The metal was icy and unresponsive; he'd never felt so thoroughly inadequate. "Let's try yelling," he suggested desperately.

"Anything to oblige," Julia laughed. "What will it be?"

"Know any Navy yells? They're easy and they've got rhythm."

He recited a few and they screamed them in unison again and again. Nothing happened. It was getting late . . . they'd be preparing for dinner upstairs now, wouldn't they? Something seemed to have happened to his watch. It said only five o'clock!

"Vince. I've got to stop," Julia panted beside him. "I'm so tired . . ."

"We've got to keep on . . . mustn't get chilled . . . they'll come for us soon."

He was beginning to feel a terrible consuming need for rest. If he could only stop for a few minutes, just shut his eyes and sleep briefly.

A sob escaped Julia's clenched lips. She swayed and sagged against him.

"None of that!" he said sharply. "Here, let's get to the door."

He had noticed a long cardboard packing box containing waxed cases for holding frozen food. Now he moved it against the door and straddling it sat down and pulled Julia down next to him so that she was sitting in the hollow made by his legs and leaning back against his chest. He began rubbing her wrists briskly but the motion seemed to require enormous effort. I must keep on, he thought and the idea pounded against his brain like a tiny hammer. He buried his face in the soft hollow between her neck and shoulder. "Julia," he whispered. "I love you . . . I want you to know"

It seemed terribly important that she realize his feeling for her. He was nodding. His chin rested heavily on her shoulder. "I love you," he said again, "always remember, Julia." Vaguely he wished she would answer him but then he couldn't expect that could be when she was breathing so quietly . . . so rhythmically. Not when she was sleeping . . . sleeping . . . sleeping.

Sidelights—Stolen bases, M. Blackwell; sacrifices, Faircloth; double play—Greenville, Lastres to Thrush to Nash; left on bases—Goldsboro 6, Greenville 7; hit by pitcher, by Faircloth, Thrush; wild pitch, Chitty; unobscured, Tolle, Donahue and Simon; time of game, 2:15.

Last night's game was forty-five minutes late getting started due to some light trouble, but when it did get started things began to hum quickly with the Bugs jumping into a five-run lead in the opening frame. Danny Lastres at short continued his brilliant fielding last night for the Greensies, handling five chances without a miscue and some which looked impossible to make. Ray Goodman, of Williamston, president of Coastal Plain League, was among those attending last night's game here.

The reason that the public address system was not working at the park last night was due to the fact that there was no room in the press box for an announcer to sit—thus no announcing. With Greenville and Goldsboro stations both carrying last night's game, the press box with its five occupants was more than crowded.

The first no-hit, no-run game pitched in the Coastal Plain after it became a member of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues in 1937 was May 16, 1937. Tarboro's Danny York did the trick to gain a 1-0 victory over Snow Hill. His opponent, Joe Molsinger, gave up just three hits, but lost when Earl Carnahan singled in the fourth, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on an error.

Howard H. Strickland, business manager of the Kinston Baseball Association, announced yesterday that catcher-outfielder Clay Croom had been returned by Concord of the North Carolina State League and had been released outright by the Eagles. Croom was sold to Concord earlier in the season but failed

Will Retire

Sacramento, Calif., April 28—(AP)—Ernie Lombardo, in his 23rd year of organized baseball, is going to retire. Twice batting champion of the National League, the catcher has hit .243 in 13 games this year with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. Lombardi asked for voluntary retirement and explained he wants to be near his wife, ill in an Oakland, Calif. hospital.

to report . . . Other roster changes effected by the Eagles included the release of infielder Buck Phillips and rookie catcher Ed Foster. Frank Nerl, rookie outfielder, was returned to Providence of the New England League . . . At the same time Ralph Winstead and Elvin Davis were cut loose by the Eagles . . . Lonnie Smith, limited-service infielder from Danville, has been added to the roster of the Rocky Mount Leafs . . . Smith has been battling with Frank Tepedino for third base honors at Danville, and the ex-Kinston player finally took the nod to stay with Herb Bretz's outfit. . . Smith has had two years of service with the Virginia organization.

Rough Going For Young Southpaw In Major League

New York, April 28—(AP)—Curt Simmons, the $60,000 bonus kid from Egypt, Pa., is finding the going rough in the National League.

The 18-year-old southpaw has failed to finish two starting jobs. Wildness has been his trouble—that and the inept fielding of his Philadelphia Phillies mates. "The only way a kid like that can get control is by experience," said Manager Ben Chapman. "I'm going to keep right on pitching him every fifth day. He'll be all right." Actually Chapman has little choice in the matter. As a bonus player, Simmons can not be sent out for more seasoning without getting waivers from all over clubs. He would be snapped up for the $10,000 waiver price before you could blink an eye. Simmons might have been all right yesterday, if it hadn't been for a leaky infield. Two of the eight walks he gave the New York Giants were intentional. He probably would have gone the route if rookie Shortstop Granville Hammer hadn't messed up a double play ball in the seventh. Even so the Giants got an eye-ful. He struck out Johnny Mize with two on base in the first inning, prompting Manager Mel Ott to observe, "He's really fast." When he was in trouble, he continued to pour that fast one toward the plate. Too often, it was outside the strike zone. Of some 130 pitches, 70 were balls.

Just a year ago, Simmons was a schoolboy. Scouts camped on his trail every time his high school team played. As soon as he graduated the offers began to flow in from major league teams. Last May the Phils scheduled an exhibition against his school. The game wound up in a 4-4 tie with Simmons striking out 11 Phils. Although only 700 people live in his home town, 7,600 fans crowded the surrounding hills to watch their pride.

Citation Takes Derby Preview

Louisville, April 28—(AP)—The weather and Calumet Farm's ram-paging cyclones, Citation and Coal-town, provided most of the Kentucky Derby discussion today as pre-race indications pointed to one of the smallest fields for the classic since its inaugural in 1875.

So, while the Browns are only a couple of steps behind the league leading Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox are struggling to stay out of the cellar. The criticism against the Cubs was that Manager Charlie Grimm was chained down with too many players who have outlived their usefulness in the majors. Well, the Cubs' vets apparently have plenty of kick left and Chicago's pitching has been excellent. Not one of the team's losses can be traced to the hurling.

Oldest Class A League Opens

Williamsport, Pa., April 28—(AP)—Baseball's oldest class league—the Eastern—opens its 1948 campaign today. The opening day contests will take Scranton to Wilkes-Barre, Elmira to Williamsport, Utica to Binghamton, and Albany to Hartford.

Dick Sisler was determined to play baseball day in and day out so when he signed a Cardinal contract this spring it was with the understanding that he would be in the line-up every day or be traded off to some club which could make daily use of his talents. When Manager Eddie Dyer decided that Sisler was not the first baseman he was looking for, President Bob Hannegan shipped him off to the Phillies in exchange for Shortstop Ralph Lapointe and a bundle of cash reported to be $20,000.

Lowly Cubs, Browns High In Their Respective Loops

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer Tomorrow the beautiful dream may be over for the St. Louis Browns and Chicago Cubs, but today the major leagues' two "ugly ducklings" are riding high.

Each club has a winning streak of three games still alive. The Browns whipped the Detroit Tigers for the second straight day yesterday, 9-8, for their fourth in six starts. The Cubs knocked off Ewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds, 7-2, for their fourth triumph in seven outings.

A short time ago the Browns were being severely criticized for selling most of their stars to the rich Boston Red Sox. A solid choice for the basement, the 1947 last placers were expected to win even fewer games than the 59 they copped last year.

Continuing their terrific extra-base clouting, the New York Giants shellacked the Philadelphia Phils, 7-1, behind the three-hit flinging of Larry Jansen. Curt Simmons, the Phils' $380,000 bonus beauty, was the victim of the Giants' assault. A home run by Walker Cooper with two mates aboard in the third inning was the most damaging blow. The win, New York's sixth straight, gave the National League leaders a two-game advantage over the Cubs.

The Braves made it two in a row over Brooklyn as Charley (Red) Barrett limited the Dodgers to six hits in pitching Boston to a 2-2 victory. Bob Elliott, the league's most valuable player last season, drove in all Boston runs with a home run and two singles off Rex Barney. It was the Dodgers' third straight defeat.

The New York Yankees turned back the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-2.

Forty-Five Pitt Students Rated New Honor Roll

Four students at East Carolina Teachers College during the winter quarter, all North Carolinians, received special recognition for excellence in scholarship on an honor roll for the period recently released by Dr. J. K. Long, registrar. Each of these students made an average of one, having received the highest possible grades in all courses taken.

Those receiving special recognition are Joseph Hines, Washington, senior; Patricia Lyon, Ayden, junior; John S. Mayo, Route 4, Greenville, freshman; and Luther S. Nelson, Jackson, sophomore.

The honor roll for the winter quarter issued by Dr. Long contains the names of 183 students at East Carolina whose scholastic records during the winter quarter were outstanding. Of these 169 were North Carolinians. Men held a slight lead over women; 93 men and 90 women are mentioned in the registrar's list. The total number represents approximately 14 percent of the

Crop Prospects Bright In This Part Of State

By CHESTER WALSH
Scattered showers over this area yesterday and this morning were needed and farmers are hoping for more. Prospects at noon today were that more rain was on the way.

Transplanting of tobacco was generally underway in this county, and plants are abundant in the beds. From an airplane the plant beds are the greenest spots in the country. What little blue mild exists did slight damage to the plants, which were so well developed that the fungus disease had little effect. Farmers in this county applied more fertilizer to their plant beds than heretofore and with good effect.

Sam C. Winchester, county farm agent, said today that the most of the 27.52 per cent acreage taken off tobacco in Pitt county is being planted to corn—that's about 10,000 acres. Some of the tobacco land is being planted to peanuts, cotton and miscellaneous crops. When there is more corn planted, naturally, farmers raise more hogs, and indications are that there will be a substantial increase in swine, Winchester said.

Farmers interviewed yesterday and today expressed the opinion that with timely and needed rain, the crop prospects are very encouraging. Reports from various points indicate that farmers are giving more attention to their gardens. The several canning and preserving plants in this county anticipate a heavy volume of business during the spring and summer. Numerous freezer locker plants established in this section during the past few years are prospering and the public is beginning to appreciate their value.

Report Senator May Resign As Trustee Of Fund

Washington, April 22—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) may quit as trustee of the miners' welfare fund if he becomes convinced John L. Lewis' pension plans are leading to a July 1 coal strike.

Bridges himself was silent, but this word came today from those in close touch with the still-pending dispute.

Lewis, meanwhile, called another late afternoon meeting of the fund's three-man board of trustees to talk over his and Bridges' plan for $100 monthly pensions to miners 62 and older with 20 years' mine service.

Tongue-Twisters In Club Competition

A "tongue twister" contest was the "special event" featured this morning on the regular bi-monthly program of the High School Forensic Club.

Louise Batson was first place winner, and Mitchell Saleed, was "runner-up" for honors. Other students who twisted their tongues were: Alice Foley Jones, Teresa Saleed, and Anne Cahoon.

The winner used the following tongue twister: "Billy Button bought a buttered biscuit. A buttered biscuit Billy Button bought. If Billy Button bought a buttered biscuit, where's the buttered biscuit Billy Button bought?"

Three student teachers from ECTC, Helen Hardy, John Both, and Charles Bracken, served as judges.

Music Festival

The third annual county music festival, an important event in the musical life of Pitt County, will be held this year at the Bethel and Ayden high schools.

The program will be presented at the Bethel school tomorrow at 8 o'clock, with the Bethel, Grimesland, Bethel and Falkland schools participating.

The festival program will be presented at the Ayden school Friday night at 8 o'clock, with the Fountain, Farmville, Chicod, Ayden, Grifton and Winterville schools participating.

Uncle Sam Plays Role Of Cupid In German Zones

Berlin—(AP)—One of the best assets a German—especially a marriageable woman—can have these days is relatives in the United States. "The good uncle in America" has become a famed figure despite incessant propaganda in the Russian-controlled press which attempts to portray America as greedy and monopolistic.

Perhaps the biggest factor in the "good uncle's" reputation is the flow of parcel post gift relief packages. These come in at the rate of about 1,500,000 per month, exclusive of tens of thousands of CARE food packages. Also thousands of tons of food are purchased with American and British tax monies.

Recently the "good uncle" has appeared in marriage offers advertisements. Husband-seeking women list with their charms and assets "have relatives in the United States."

Names Member For Truce Team

Washington, April 22—(AP)—President Truman today nominated Thomas C. Wasson of New Jersey to be American representative on the United Nations Truce Commission for Palestine.

Wasson is a foreign service officer and consul general at Jerusalem.

The Security Council of the United Nations established the Truce Commission for Palestine by resolution April 23.

Says Communists Organized Party

Atlantic City, N. J., April 22—(AP)—CIO President Philip Murray said today the third party was organized by the Communist party in New York last October. He did not mention Henry Wallace, party candidate for President, by name.

"This is no time to mince words," Murray said. "I charge x x x that the Communist party is directly responsible for the organization of a third party in the United States. There is no question about that."

Home Economics Program Friday

The vocational Home Economics Departments of Ayden, Bethel, Chicod, Farmville, Greenville, Grimesland and Winterville are sponsoring a program at Wright Auditorium, East Carolina Teachers College at two o'clock, Friday, April 30.

The program and exhibits will illustrate the different phases of the work which is being taught in Pitt County.

FOLDING MOTORCYCLE

London—(AP)—A collapsible motorcycle that does 130 miles to the gallon has appeared in England. It is a peacetime version of the paratroopers' collapsible motorcycle. With its handlebars folded, it stands 19 inches high and measures 53 inches long and 13 inches wide. It opens to 37 inches high, two feet two inches wide. It runs 30 m.p.h. and weighs 95 pounds.

Germans Trading Rags For Suits

By IRVINE SIMON
(AP) News Features
Berlin—Rags may be cast-off clothing in the rest of the world, but in Berlin they're the open sesame to a new suit.

Clothing stores carry signs in their windows reading: "Bring in a rag certificate" and "No suits without rag certificate."

To get a rag certificate you just cart fifty pounds or more of the stuff to the nearest rag man. The catch is that rags are even scarcer than the suits. Families have broken up over the "battle for rags." In a recent court case a woman asked for divorce "because he stole my good woolen dress and light summer coat to get enough rags for a suit."

Armed with the certificate you then look around for a clothing store. Clothing stores, however, are hard to find in Berlin, for few stores have windows and fewer still have clothing in them.

Almost as a by-thought the man will ask you for 250 marks. That represents the take-home monthly wage of the average typist . . . if you find the suit.

City officials in charge of the rag-and-suit business contend that suits must really be regarded as a premium for turning in the more important rags. They report that in the Soviet sector a special firm called Texta has been set up to handle the rags operation. This firm is supposedly responsible only to Soviet headquarters.

No one knows exactly where the Soviet sector rags go, but one rag wage figure he has the answer. "They're probably storing them for some future 'mopping up' operation," he said.

DESERT BASE FOR BRITISH

Cairo—(AP)—Water has been piped 73 miles from the mountains to the Taru Desert in Kenya for a new defense base. The pipeline was slashed through mountain jungles. And the pipe had to be buried to foil elephant herds. When the base is ready, work and goods will be transferred from the Suez area.

SNAKES SUBSTITUTE FOR CATS

Penang, Malaya—(AP)—Cats are being replaced as rat-catchers here by pythons. A rice mill owners' association announced tests had shown the giant snakes, up to 25 feet in length, kill two to three times as many rats as cats. So they are installing a tame python in each rice mill.

Savings Bonds Help To Curb Price Hikes

By Lloyd Brant, President First National Bank Boston, Massachusetts
By directing the attention of investors to the desirability of savings bonds and to the advantage of this type of investment, the United States Treasury is performing a real service. These bonds provide each of us with a real incentive to save from current income and, as a result, defer to the future purchases of goods and services now in short supply. This is a vital contribution in our effort to avoid the consequences of inflation.
