Battle For Ohio By Taft, Stassen Will End Tonight

Both Candidates Voice Confidence As Primary Scheduled Tomorrow

Cleveland, May 3.—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft and Harold S. Stassen wind up their Ohio delegate battle today amid signs that the outcome may sway early GOP presidential balloting at Philadelphia.

Both candidates planned last hour appeals over state-wide radio hook-ups tonight in their contest over 23 of Ohio's 88 presidential nominating votes.

Both camps expressed confidence in the result when upwards of 700,000 Republicans go to the polls in tomorrow's primary.

Politicians were watching the outcome for its possible effect on footloose delegations from such states as Illinois and Pennsylvania, where the bloom of favorite sons might fade quickly.

From the Taft camp came reports that a majority of the 56-vote Illinois group is ready to come their way speedily at the national convention.

In fact, some of the Taft followers are predicting the Ohioans can have 51 on the first ballot, despite previous plans to back Guy D. Wright Green as a favorite son.

Stassen's backers concede that the Illinois-Pennsylvania delegate lineup may be the deciding factor in a stop-Stassen movement.

Control Fire At Carolina Beach

Carolina Beach, N. C., May 3.—(AP)—A fire that threatened the state Capitol Sea-side assembly grounds at nearby Fort Fisher was controlled yesterday after damaging a few small assembly buildings.

The Carolina Beach and Kufes Beach fire departments put out the flames that swept through underbrush from the Cape Fear River vicinity.

The fire departments were helped by hydrants left at the Fort when it was part of the Camp Davis anti-aircraft artillery range during the last war.

Woman Driver Is Record Claimant

South Pasadena, Calif., May 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Jessica F. Merrill says she guesses she can claim the record for driving an automobile longer than any other woman.

"If any woman has been driving since 1907, I bow," says the 60-year-old former antique dealer, "but I drove my father's 1908 one-cylinder Winton. He was an inventor of farm machinery and factory equipment. People used to flee the streets when they saw me driving."

Mrs. Merrill is driving a 21-year-old Buick but she plans to go east and get a new car.

Jobs Before Congress

Many Tasks To Wind Up Before Important Summer Events; Elections And Campaigns; Some Major Pieces Of Legislation Unfinished; Hard Work Ahead

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 3.—(AP)—Congress has its hands full to finish up before the important summer coming up.

The Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 21 to nominate a candidate for President. The Democrats pick their candidate there in July.

The Democrats and Republicans in Congress want to finish before June 31 so that:

- 1. They can take part in the conventions.
2. Use the time between the conventions and the elections in November to campaign for their own re-election.
3. One-third of the 96 Senate seats and all 435 House seats will be at stake in the elections.
4. And what Congress does this year will be part of the campaigns.
5. The two biggest things Congress has done since starting its 1948 work in January are the income tax cut and the Marshall plan aid for Europe.
6. But there's plenty of big stuff to be done before the conventions start. And probably not all will get done because some will mean long debates.
7. Here are some of the major items still unfinished:

Zionists Persist In Claims Of Invasion In Northern Palestine

Jerusalem, May 3.—(AP)—Jews insisted today, in the face of denials, that Syrian and Lebanese armies have invaded northern Palestine.

The British rushed soldiers back into the country to deal with what they called a "seriously deteriorated" situation, less than two weeks before the May 15 date they have set to end their rule.

They guarded a new 48-hour truce between Jews and Arabs in the southern Katamon quarter of Jerusalem while they negotiated for a truce to cover the whole city and its Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrines.

The truce, enforced by the Highland Light Infantry, apparently was being respected. Its spirit was evident all over Jerusalem. Not a single shot was heard today from within the city, either in the new or in the old quarters. Sporadic fighting was audible from some outer suburbs.

The first British reinforcements were an estimated 1,000 soldiers in full battle dress who reached Haifa yesterday from Cyprus aboard the troopship Empire Test.

Before that, competent sources had estimated British strength in Palestine at 25,000 troops, including skeleton armored and gun forces. The British army has been shipping out under a pledge to be gone by August 1.

Official sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, said Thursday Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Egypt and Iraq would send at least 30,000 regulars to "rescue Palestine" before May 15.

The strength of the Jewish militia Hagannah is estimated unofficially at 53,000 and that of the Jewish underground Irgun Zvai Leumi and Stern group together at 2,500 to 7,000.

Haganah, which had announced an Arab invasion Saturday of Palestine's northernmost thumb, said in Tel Aviv last night attacks on five Jewish settlements there had been beaten off but Syrian troops still were massing on the border.

The latest announcement said Ramot Naftali had been attacked with tanks, armored cars, 25-pounder cannon and mortars, and Lahavot Habashan, Kefar Szold, Dan and Dafne also had come under assaults which had subsided.

British statements yesterday made no mention of an invasion. The Royal Air Force said flights over the whole northern frontier showed "no Syrians in sight."

Tactics Termed 'Star Chamber'

Critics Clash Over Hearings On Reciprocal Trade Pacts

Washington, May 3.—(AP)—Republicans and Democrats traded charges of star chamber proceedings today. The occasion was the start of closed door hearings on extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act.

The 14-year-old law runs out June 12. Its intent is to increase world trade by giving the administration power to cut tariffs in return for lower duties abroad on American goods.

Democrats criticized the decision of Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.) to question witnesses at private sessions of the Ways and Means subcommittee heads.

Rep. Doughton (D-NC), top-ranking minority member of the full committee, said Gearhart's action bordered on "star chamber procedure."

But the Californian, who said the subject had been thoroughly explored at previous hearings, said "there's no time for public hearings now," he retorted.

"If anybody in the world is master of the star chamber, it is those who handle our trade agreements. Everything they do is done in absolute secrecy."

"We're going to do the best we can in spite of the interference and lack of cooperation by the State Department."

Gearhart set May 15 as the deadline for House passage of some form of extension legislation.

Suicide Verdict In Coed's Death

Hillsboro, N. C., May 3.—(AP)—The death of a University of North Carolina coed who collapsed at her dormitory has been ruled by Orange County Coroner J. H. Walker a "plain case of suicide."

Flora Elaine Patton, 24, died in convulsions April 23 a few minutes after collapsing.

"Miss Patton died from cyanide poisoning," Walker said, "and the study of the autopsy report shows it was suicide."

Top Billion Mark

Greensboro, May 3.—(AP)—Federal tax collections in North Carolina for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1947, passed the billion-dollar mark during April.

Marking the third year on record that receipts have exceeded that figure.

A report on receipts from April released here today by Charles H. Robertson, Internal Revenue collector for the State District, left little doubt that collections for the year will set a new record.

No Contract, But Workers On Job

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 3.—(AP)—Despite a lack of a labor contract with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, members of Local 22, United Tobacco Workers, FTA-CIO, today reported for their work at the regular hour without incident.

The union, whose contract with the company expired at midnight Friday, yesterday voted its executive board power "to authorize any unified economic action necessary to enforce collective bargaining."

Persons in the section reported the workers went into the factories at the usual hour with no outward signs of any demonstration. A check-up at 8:30 a. m. revealed the factory district was quiet. A company spokesman said the plants were operating normally.

At the mass meeting yesterday, held on the grounds of the Woodland Avenue school, an audience of approximately 2,000 persons, mostly Negroes, adopted a resolution demanding a raise for the workers as "down payment" on the 26 1/2-cent increase asked by the union for the 1948 contract.

The company has refused to negotiate with the union on a new contract, contending that it (the company) believes that Local 22 no longer represents a majority of its workers.

There had been speculation that the end of the contract might bring some type of labor stoppage at the plant, since many unions observe a "no contract-no work" policy.

Methodists Vote Pay Increase For Their Bishops

Boston, May 3.—(AP)—The 3 Bishops of the Methodist Church in the United States today were granted $1,500-a-year cost of living increases.

The general conference, legislative body of the denomination swinging into the first full day's business in its ten-day meeting here raised the Bishop's compensation from $7,500 a year to $9,000 a year. A previous grant of $1,800 to each Bishop to maintain a residence was increased to $2,000. The salary increases were the first in eight years.

Allowances of retired Bishops were increased from $3,000 a year to $3,600. Annual pensions to widows who were wives of Bishops for at least 15 years before their deaths, while their husbands were active as Bishops or traveling preachers—were raised from $1,800 to $2,100.

Allays Fears Of Impure Medicine

C. D. Ward, business manager of the Pitt General Hospital, today allayed the concern of several local citizens when he announced that none of the contaminated glucose solution, Cutter's CMB164, was in the hospital's medical supplies at the time warnings were issued to doctors and hospitals to check their stocks.

"Pitt General Hospital does not use the solution from this concern," said Ward, adding that a number of people had made inquiries there.

Twin Industries In Crucial Period

Last-Minute Efforts To Avert Rail-Auto Walkouts

By The Associated Press

Labor-management relations entered a crucial period today in the railroad and automobile industries.

Strikes in both have been set for next week, but last minute efforts are being waged to stave them off.

The nation's major meat packers meanwhile, reported some success in their back-to-work drive, but the CIO meat handlers union said its members were holding firm.

Members of the National Railway Mediation board resumed conferences in Chicago designed to avert a strike of some 190,000 railroad workers set for May 11.

Three days of conferences last week proved fruitless, but Board Chairman Frank Douglass said conciliators still were hopeful of finding some basis for settlement.

The conferences are the last stage provided by law for avoiding a strike of engineers, firemen and engine-men and switchmen. Railroad workers do not come under the Taft-Hartley law which provides for possible court injunctions to stave strikes that endanger the nation's welfare.

In the six weeks old strike of nearly 100,000 CIO United Packing-house workers, packers reported a back to work trickle of strikers. The Chicago strikers had been given until today to return, the packers advising their jobs would be filled by other workers if they failed to show up.

Myron C. Taylor On Paris Visit

Paris, May 3.—(AP)—Myron C. Taylor said today he is "in Paris on a special mission for the President, but I'm working for Mr. Truman and he does the talking."

Taylor, the President's special representative at the Vatican, said he could not discuss a report he was sounding out European governmental leaders on the possibility of outlawing Communist parties.

He arrived here last night from London.

Handcuffed, But At Large Again

Birmingham, Ala., May 3.—(AP)—Howard Thomas Wallace, 38, apprehended in North Carolina as a fugitive from Alabama, is at large again.

Alabama authorities hunting him hoped that the fact that he was handcuffed when he escaped early last Saturday might lead to his recapture soon.

Twister Shatters Small Towns In West Virginia

Clarksburg, W. Va., May 3.—(AP)—Their way lit by lightning flashes and portable searchlights, rescue workers hunted for dead and injured early today in the wake of a slashing tornado.

Hospitals reported at least six fatalities and from 75 to 100 injured, many of them critically after the whirlwind shrouded more than half dozen rural communities in the Clarksburg area with a thick layer of mud and debris.

Clarksburg hospitals filled rapidly. Others were alerted at nearby Fairmont, and all available doctors and nurses were called to duty. Among the towns struck were West Milford, Lost Creek, Wolf Summit, Big Isaac, Mount Clare, Quiet Dell, and Hupp Hill. The last three were hardest hit.

Long lines of automobiles seeking to reach the leveled town of Hupp Hill found U. S. Route 19 blocked by parts of homes, wrecked automobiles, trees, and debris from nearby strip-mining operations. Only ambulances, utility and rescue workers, and police made their way through.

At Big Isaac and Mount Clare churches were among the buildings blown to the ground. At several points hearses were being used as auxiliary ambulances.

Margarine Test Vote In Senate Will Be Tip-Off On Fate Of Federal Tax

Washington, May 3.—(AP)—A test vote in the Senate this week will tip off the probable fate of the bill to wipe out federal taxes on oleo-margarine.

An oleo supporter, Senator Maybank (D-SC), put it this way: "The bill has an excellent chance to pass the Senate if it goes to the Finance committee. If it goes to the Agriculture committee, that would be the end of it."

Tornadoes, High Winds Do Havoc In Seven States

Weekend Storms Kill Many; Property Damage Estimated In Millions

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes and violent windstorms plipped across seven states over the week-end, killing at least 19 persons and injuring more than 100. Property damage was estimated in the millions.

West Virginia and Kentucky communities were lashed by tornadoes last night. Twisters hit in Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas Saturday. High winds and heavy rains occurred in Indiana and Illinois.

The death toll by states: West Virginia—six; Kentucky—two; Oklahoma—five; Missouri—three; Kansas—two; Illinois—one.

In West Virginia, tornado winds ripped through six rural communities near Clarksburg in the Northern part of the state. State police reported more than 65 persons here injured.

In Kentucky a tornado hit Alpha, a town of 140 in Clinton county. The storm wrecked the Davis Chapel church where an estimated 125 were attending services. At least 15 persons were reported injured in the county. Many of the injured were in the church.

A storm struck in the Grand Lake area of Northeastern Oklahoma, hitting the resort towns of Bernice, Whiteoak and Grove. Five persons were killed at Bernice. Thirty-one persons were injured in the Grand Lake area.

Sixty miles north of the Grand Lake area, twisters hit near Erie, Kan., killing two persons and injuring five.

Tornado winds whipped across the lake of the Ozarks in Missouri damaging hundreds of cottages and houses. Three members of a fishing party drowned when their boat overturned.

Three separate tornadoes were reported in Kansas, the first being observed about 7:30. (P) Saturday. Numerous farm buildings were destroyed or damaged.

Three hours later twisters hit in Oklahoma.

Howard Hughes Branching Out In Another Venture

Hollywood, May 3.—(AP)—Howard Hughes, who does things in the grand manner, has readied another eight or nine million dollars to sink into a new venture.

The shy, reserved 43-year-old bachelor who developed an oil tool business into a vast fortune, branched into movie production, got out of it and into the airplane business, has taken an option to purchase control of RKO studios.

Not content with boasting one of the world's biggest commercial airlines and building and flying experimental planes, Hughes last night announced that he had reached a tentative agreement with Floyd Odom for the purchase of the latter's 928,000 shares of RKO stock.

The Shell Bore carries a crew of 35.

Two-Year Draft Law Voted By House Committee, 25-5

Would Place Holy City In Red Cross Protection

Agency Agreeable To Caring For Specific Sectors; Final Arab-Jewish Acceptance Is Still Required For Project

Lake Success, May 3.—(AP)—Informed sources reported here today that negotiations are under way to place Jerusalem, or sections of it, under protection of the International Red Cross.

Final Jewish-Arab agreement was said to be the last barrier.

The sources said the Red Cross had agreed to handle certain areas of the Holy City where women and children—both Arab and Jewish—would be sheltered. These sections would be shut off from the adult male population of both sides. Provisions would be made to feed and protect the women and children.

It also was understood that hopes to place the entire municipal area under the Red Cross had not been abandoned.

The project also would provide for continuation of municipal services in Jerusalem by appointment of a neutral official to a municipal council divided evenly between Arabs and Jews.

It could not be learned here immediately whether the movement of additional British troops into the Holy Land had any connection with this plan.

Sources familiar with the project stressed that the Red Cross protection for the women and children hinged on Arab-Jewish agreement.

Not All Harmony In Bogota Talks

Economic Cleavage Still Exists; Latins Wanted Money

Bogota, Colombia, May 3.—(AP)—The ninth Pan-American conference here has demonstrated that the American Republic can work together on many projects, but also disclosed a still existing economic cleavage between the United States and Latin America.

Conference sessions lasted more than a month, including an interruption caused by the Bogota riots. The conference closed Sunday with the signing of a 21-nation economic pact.

Aside from the actual work accomplished, a notable development was the cordial cooperation between the U. S. and Argentina.

U. S. delegations probably encountered less coolness at Bogota than at other hemispheric conferences, but diplomatic language could not conceal some ill feeling that came here intent on getting large scale U. S. economic aid. They were disappointed when U. S. Secretary of State Marshall told them in the first week that European rehabilitation comes first. The delegates complained him publicly for his frankness, but privately many did not hide their disappointment.

The official closing ceremonial occurred April 30 when delegates signed the charter of the organization of American States and other charters and resolutions.

Most of the chief delegates had left before yesterday's session. Ambassadors and assistant delegates bargained the economic pact in their stead. There was no dissenting vote.

Hold Sutor In Explosion Death

Conway, S. C., May 3.—(P)—Sheriff Ernest Sasser, investigating an explosion that killed a prosperous farmer and his daughter early last Friday, said today he was still holding the girl's sutor but had released two Negroes.

The Horry County Sheriff said Marie Elliott, about 22, a boy friend of the dead girl, steadfastly denied any knowledge of the explosion that splintered her home.

Forrestal Calls Measure 'Excellent'

Chairman Of House Armed Services Body Assured That Bill Will Be Called Up For Debate Next Week

Washington, May 3.—(AP)—The House Armed Services committee today approved 28 to 3 a two-year draft bill.

The vote puts the issue for selective service formally before Congress for the first time since the last war.

Before voting, the committee heard Secretary of Defense Forrestal call the measure "excellent."

"There is an immediate and imperative demand for something to augment the size of our armed forces," he said. "This bill provides it."

Chairman Andrews (R-NY) called Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royal in for a final look at the measure before a formal committee vote. Royal said it is "thoroughly acceptable to all the services—army, navy and air force."

They did not ask that the committee put in any provision for limited training of 18-year-olds, but Forrestal emphasized that he still believes universal military training is needed.

Andrews has been assured by House leaders that the bill will be called up for debate next week.

As the committee gathered, there was a possibility that one of its members might try to hook a delayed action universal military training amendment onto the draft bill when it goes before the House. Other members did not think much of the idea.

Andrews stood on the sidelines for this argument. He said the only thing on his mind right now is getting the draft measure out of the committee's hands and onto the floor.

These are the bill's principal provisions:

- 1. It would raise the total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,000,000—army 837,000, air force 502,000, and navy 661,000, including the coast guard. The present total is 1,534,500.
2. A 24-month draft through 30 would be registered with those from 18 through 25 liable for two years' service. Men in the 18-26 group could enlist voluntarily in the regular army for two years, but in no other service.
3. Most veterans would be exempt from service, but those under 31 would have to register.
4. Industrial plants could be seized by the government if they refused to give top priorities to armaments orders, or if they did not provide equipment at what the secretary of defense considered reasonable prices.
5. Doctors up to 45 years old could be drafted for two years' service. The armed forces would be allowed to call for doctors up to five per cent of their total manpower and dentists up to two per cent. At full strength that would put some 100,000 doctors and 60,000 dentists into uniform, counting those already in service.
6. Ministers, divinity students and some conscientious objectors would be exempt from service. Objectors willing to perform noncombatant service would be inducted for such service only.
7. Deferrals for schooling, dependency and occupation would be determined by the President.
8. The law would expire two years after it went into effect.

CANNOT ENFORCE PACTS

Washington, May 3.—(P)—The Supreme court ruled 6-0 today that restrictive real estate agreements which bar colored persons from all-white neighborhoods cannot be enforced by state or federal courts.

Twelve Days Of Grace

Britain Ends Holy Land Mandate In Twelve Days, And Lid Will Be Off Arab-Jewish War; Can UN Successfully Intervene? Situation Is Deteriorating

By DEWITT MACKENNIE

Twelve days from now Britain will surrender her mandate over the Holy Land and the lid will be off the Arab-Jewish war—unless a harassed United Nations can evolve a plan to prevent a catastrophe.

Twelve days—just the flick of an eyelid as time goes when a fast-moving emergency like this is faced! At best, the U. N. will have to pull a rabbit out of the hat to handle the situation. At worst, this Middle East conflict could develop into another world upheaval.

And when one stops to survey the whole complicated muddle the question naturally arises whether there would be greater danger in continuation of the Palestine upheaval or in an inability of the U. N. to do anything about it. Certainly a failure of the peace organization to do something constructive would be a terrible blow to the morale of its supporters.

Anyway, England is giving up her mandate on May 15, and expects to have her troops out of Palestine by August 1. Furthermore, the British say that after the surrender of the mandate they will employ their diminishing armed forces merely defensively to protect the completion of their withdrawal.

In short, all restraints will have been removed from the developing conflict—unless there is U. N. intervention.

Meanwhile the situation in Palestine is (to use the language of the British army) "seriously deteriorating." Yesterday the Britons announced that they were rushing troops, tanks and guns to the Holy Land from Malta and Cyprus to cope with the worsened conditions. This was to supplement a force estimated by competent observers to be about 25,000 troops.

Reports of developments are conflicting. Syrian, Lebanese and Egyptian troops apparently have massed on the Jordanian frontiers and may even have invaded the Holy Land. Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan and Iraq are said to be ordering forces to the battle zone. However, when you have sifted out all the known facts, the rumors and the questionable reports, the situation seems to boil down to this:

Thus far the Jewish army in Palestine has had the advantage in the fighting and has improved its positions. Moreover, AP Correspondent Daniel De Lencastre from Jerusalem says he talked with Arab refugees bound for Trans-Jordan and that they were acutely skeptical of reported agreement by the Arab government to wipe out the Zionist state. May Queen Is Crowned At Greensboro College

Greensboro.—Jane Massey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Massey of Greenville, reigned as May Queen over the annual May Day exercises held on the front west campus of Greensboro College Saturday afternoon. Miss Massey, wearing a white satin gown of colonial design, was crowned by Jill Dellinger of Lincolnton, maid of honor, in blue.

The queen's attendants were gowned in pastel organza dresses also of colonial design and wore matching picture hats. They carried nosegays of spring flowers centered with an orchid. Christian Science Service

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, May 2.

Golden Text: Psalms 34:21.22. "Evil shall slay the wicked; and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate. The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption." (Psalm 136:7). And from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The purpose and motive to live aright can be gained now. This point won, you have started as you should. Working and praying with true motives, your Father will open the way. Who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?" (Page 326).

Seven Students From Pitt To Be Honor Guests

Seven Pitt County students at East Carolina Teachers College will be among those honored by the Greenville Phi Beta Kappa Association, local alumni branch of the national honor society, at a meeting this evening at the Protcor Hotel. The fourteen seniors at the college who hold the highest scholastic records for four years of college work have been invited to attend a dinner given by the Association in their honor. The dinner is the second to be given for East Carolina seniors by the Greenville chapter of the honor society, the first having been held last spring for graduates of the class of 1947. Five of the students included are from Greenville, and two are from Bethel.

Those to be honored at the dinner are Elizabeth Carter, Amos Clark, H. Winfield Carter, James Bullock, and Mattie Harris Mayo, all of Greenville, Bettye Jean Whitehurst and Ruth Myra Frank of Poplar Branch; Joseph W. Hines, of Washington and Dorothy Marie Bennett of Edward.

Among the Pitt County students Bettye Jean and Frances Young Whitehurst are sisters, and Elizabeth and H. Winfield Carter are brother and sister.

Jean Lane, faculty member of East Carolina Teachers College and president of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, will preside at the meeting. The principal speaker will be Dr. John D. Messick, president of the college; Isaac N. Reynolds the senior holding the highest scholastic rank in the class of 1948, will also speak.

Members of the chapter of Phi Beta, who will be hosts and hostesses at the dinner, are Miss Lane, Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, Ellen Rison (Crawell), Elizabeth Walker, Mary H. Greene, Dr. L. F. Brewster, Lois Grigsby, Dr. Calvon Claudel, of the college faculty; and J. H. Rose, superintendent of the city schools, and D. H. Conley, Pitt county superintendent of schools.

looking like a chaperone of a reform school. "Another thing, we wouldn't mind getting in at the curfew hour, as a regular thing, if only Mom would listen to reason when we are a little late, occasionally. Sometimes by waiting an extra half hour it is easier to leave a party without being labeled a wet blanket. Or, perhaps the gang will decide to stop for a hamburger when you are practically to your own front door. What's wrong with that? In any case it is a little embarrassing to meet Mom at the gate or see her leaning out the window. Worse than that and added misery is to be bawled out in front of the gang.

"And while we're on the subject of mothers who pick," continues Sally,

"we would not mind postponing a date 15 or 20 minutes so Mom could nag or scold us before the date arrives. It seems everytime an extra-special nice boy comes to the house Mom starts a routine about 'you mean you're going out before you dry the dishes?' or 'you didn't put up your gym suit?' or 'be home early.' "Sometimes Mom will make small scenes while a party is going on. We'd certainly be happy to help her clean up after a party if only she wouldn't walk in every few minutes to empty ashtrays and inspect table tops and rugs for burning cigarettes. A kid sitting on the arm of a chair feels like a criminal when he's caught in the act by Mom. Actually, it is easier for the kid who is hostess to say 'how about getting off the arm of the chair?" than to have Mom sound off about 'the inconsiderate younger generation'." All in all the kids really want a home life that is smooth and they all want to get along with their mothers. But somehow Mom doesn't realize a teen-age girl is a grown-up girl. Maybe if Mom would try treating her teen-age daughter as an adult, Daughter might be willing to baby Mom.

Strength FOR THE DAY

TRANSFUSIONS FROM GOD

The miracle of modern medicine has, step by step, perfected the technique of giving blood transfusions. There was a time when the doctors did not know of blood typing. Anybody might give a transfusion to any patient, and with time and patient experimentation, doctors came to realize that blood is of different types in different people, and that only those with the same type of blood should give transfusions to each other. In this way alone is the transfusion successful and the patient aided at a critical time.

Let our relationship with God be much like a blood transfusion. Let us be of the same "type" as God. Let us lay ourselves open to his infinite mercy and unceasing love, and in our lowest ebb of helplessness and distress we shall feel his power surging through our veins, giving us a new grasp on life. Suddenly we have had a transfusion from God, a transfusion for the soul.

The heart that has lost a loved one is quieted and the ache is not quite so unbearable when God comes to the man who faces almost un-sustainable business worries and responsibilities suddenly feels a lightening of the burden and a rush of calm assurance as God's guiding hand takes over. And if we too would receive a miracle "transfusion" from God, then we must have faith that he will help us and strengthen us as we come to Him in prayer and penitence.

WE MUST WIN OUR "COLD WAR" QUICKLY

It will do us more harm than good to bury our heads in the sand, or play ostrich when we are confronted with federal outlays considered necessary today for our maintenance of world leadership.

A very large part of the world is being carried out of the depths of despair and privation by the American dollar; but we cannot continue the Herculean task indefinitely.

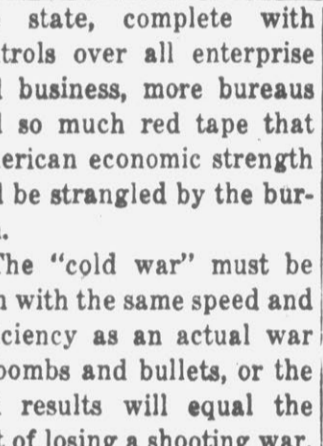

Over five billion dollars have been promised for ERP, more billions lent or given to the support and financing of nations whose downfall would mean defeats for democracy and the loss of strong friends for America.

Today, as an implement of foreign policy and self-defense, we are on the verge of committing more billions to build up our armed services. All these sums, foreign aid and defense appropriations, represent just one year's outlay. Both policies will require more huge expenditures each year. No one knows just how long the drain on our resources and the strain on our economy will last.

But should these expenses continue for too many years, we face a ruinous inflation. Unless there is some cheaper and more effective way of preserving freedom, we shall lose it by virtue of the very effort we are making to preserve it.

The ghosts of price and wage controls are already hovering in the background; so too, are plans for allocations, rationing and additional taxation in prospect.

We can carry on our present concept of the "cold war" for only a limited time; to prolong it is to bring unchecked inflation or the actuality of a "benevolent" police state, complete with controls over all enterprise and business, more bureaus and so much red tape that American economic strength will be strangled by the burden.

The "cold war" must be won with the same speed and efficiency as an actual war of bombs and bullets, or the end results will equal the cost of losing a shooting war.

WASHINGTON LETTER
By JANE EADS

Washington—It was something to give genealogist pause when a dozen or more patriotic societies, each claiming to out-ancestor the other, met here at the same time that the Daughters of the American Revolution held their annual meetings. Members of most of the groups, which were also holding annual meetings, are DARs. They were covering two or more conventions with one trip.

There was the Order of the Crown, for instance, and the National Society of Americans of Royal Descent. Members of the first have to prove descent from a crowned head of Europe. The second is made up of persons who can definitely establish their connection with the royal houses of Europe. Then there was the Society of the Daughters of the Barons of Runnymede. This society boasts a membership of 675 "proven" lineal descendants of 16 of the 24 barons who 733 years ago gathered on the meadows of Runnymede, England, and forced King John to sign Magna Charta. A committee of this society is formed of those who claim their forebears were knights of the Bath or knights or ladies of the Garter.

Also meeting here were Daughters of American Colonists, descended from folks who came over and pat-

In the Black Hills, S. D., May 1—(AP)—A jailbreaking bear, a mooching mountain sheep, a coyote that eats ice cream, a duck that resents being called "hammerhead."

These are a few of the pets with personality I've met here in the Black Hills, a natural wonderland for animal life.

The mountain sheep—Known as "Minnie the moocher"—and molasses, the jailbreaking bear, live in the Custer state Park, a 128,000-acre tract in which roam some of the world's largest Buffalo, Deer and Elk herds.

Minnie, who by nature should be wild and shy, is the park's biggest handout artist. She makes morning and afternoon calls on 15 families living along Grace Coolidge creek and she isn't a bit sheepish about asking.

"She loves dry bread," said Mrs. Carl Burgess, wife of the park superintendent. "But she is getting to be a problem child. She'd walk right into the house now if she got an invitation. Last winter I had trouble feeding two deer because Minnie kept chasing them away. She's jealous. The only animal that doesn't get out of her way is the porcupine.

Molasses is a two-year-old Bear cub with a Houdini touch.

She disappeared from her cage one night. Three days later the keepers found her back inside again. By watching they found she had learned a way to twist her large head through the bars and then slither free.

On one of her sprees she was treed and a telephone repairman hauled her down with a lasso. When a bystander laughed at her plight, Molasses promptly bounded over and bit him in the foot. Now Molasses is in a brown study—a brown black bear study—trying to figure out a way to beat past a new electric wire strung around her cage.

In Deadwood—Wild Bill Hickok's last resting place—Fred Borsch, son of a pioneer family, has hand-raised "Tootsie," a coyote now a year old.

Fred and his wife, Esther, treat this pet as gently as a child. At night Tootsie sleeps on their bed and looks forward to her regular weekend treat—a double dip of ice cream.

She broke the law only once—to kill a couple of tempting chickens. But Fred sprinkled red pepper on her feathered prey. Since then Tootsie won't have anything to do with chickens—dead or living. She prefers cooked hamburger to raw meat, and likes it done medium well.

Friends think in time she will revert to the wild, but Fred doesn't. She roams at will during the day. The wild Coyotes in the Hills, however, won't answer her howls or have anything to do with her. They don't like a coyote that wears any man's collar.

"I spanked her once and for two days she wouldn't come when I called," Fred said. "I decided then that no matter what she did I would never strike her again. The only thing she responds to is love and kindness.

Donald, the duck that doesn't like being called "Hammerhead," is the chief joy of Bernice Muskamp, a robust lady whose picturesque vocabulary, skilful skill and battles with tax collectors are legendary in the Black Hills. Donald is a king of "wack duck." He quacks and pecks at Mrs. Muskamp at night to awaken her if he hears a prowler.

"He just like a dog that way," she said. Donald bows formally when asked to say, "howdy do" he wears a red jacket but hates to be restrained his wings. So he pecks at the buttons until it comes unfastened. I expressed some doubt that a duck cared what name you called him, and was invited to "try and see."

"Hi, you old Hammerhead!" I jeered. "How's the old Hammerhead?"

Donald's head shot up. The tempo of the quacking became faster. He waddled over, hissing and quacking and pecked vigorously at my shins with his blunt beak. He quit only after I apologized three times.

In these mountains podner, you got to smile when you call a duck a Hammerhead.

Scott To Speak Here On Tuesday

Kerr Scott will bring his campaign for Governor to Greenville tomorrow with a speech in the Pitt County Court House at 3 p.m.

The former Commissioner of Agriculture will arrive in Greenville in the early afternoon from a tour of western counties. Although he has been in the race for Governor only two and a half months, Kerr Scott has already visited 80 of the state's 100 counties—a campaigning record that is unequalled.

His headquarters in Raleigh reported that he expects to announce his campaign committee for Pitt County during his visit here.

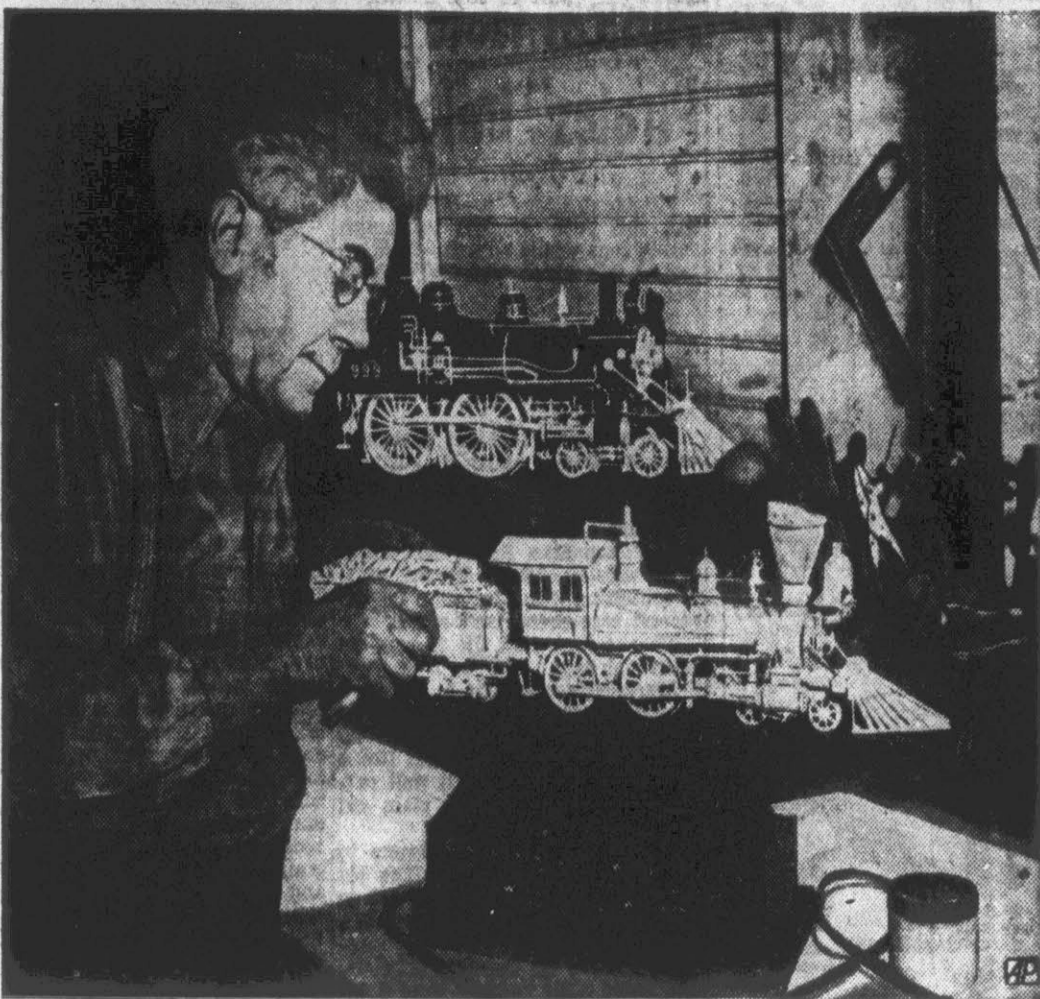

Scott is running as the people's candidate. He says there is one big, single issue in this campaign. It is: Are we going to go forward again as a state, or shall we be content with a lagging, ring-controlled government?

"I came into this campaign late, but the people who are supporting me have been in it for some time. They urged me to take the leadership to restore the dynamic, forward movement that once characterized North Carolina and boosted her to first place among the states of the South," said Scott.

"There are things that must be done to keep North Carolina going forward. They include:

"Schools—Our schools must not be allowed to disintegrate because discouraged teachers are being starved out of the teaching profession, and children of school age are permitted to remain out of the classrooms.

"Roads—Lack of vision in planning must not be permitted to pre-

MASTER CARVER—Ernest Warther, 63, of Dover, Ohio, works on a model of an early-day locomotive he carved from ivory for the New York Central Railroad. Warther, who learned to whittle as a boy, worked in a steel mill until the railway learned of his hobby and hired him as a full-time carver. vent removal of the mud tax — which is the heaviest tax we are paying today. We must develop a dependable road system that will guarantee all-weather accessibility to both markets and schools, and we must do this without neglecting our main highways. We should use funds we have now to do this before considering plunging into debt.

"Taxes—We must subject our tax system to constant scrutiny. There are inequities in the sales tax which should be removed, and we must avoid discouraging productive enterprise by too heavy levies. I am a substantial taxpayer myself, and I also know what it is to meet a private payroll.

"Health—The state must make its medical care program available to all its people. This can be done, in the case of counties unable to pay the whole cost of such service, by state aid under a closely supervised equalization program.

"Municipalities—Our cities and towns must have financial relief. The state has tied their hands in some fields of taxation unwisely. They are entitled to more help for street maintenance. Despite the fact that I live on a farm, I realize that the state's well-being depends to a great extent upon prosperous municipalities. As Governor, I would approach their problems with utmost sympathy and consideration.

"Agriculture—We must realize that we are living on a dying soil, because we are taking out much more of its mineral content than we are putting in. We must reverse this by increased cover crops and animal husbandry and reducing our reliance upon row crops. We must increase interest in diversification and the extension of agricultural education to many more young men. We must increase farm-to-market roads and extend rural electrification. These things are essential to raising farm income, which is vital to balanced prosperity.

"Democracy—We must kill the gag rule. The people have a right to express themselves by majority vote on any issue. The General Assembly should not be hamstrung with technicalities that defeat majority rule, whether the issue be liquor, taxes, or any other matter vitally affecting the well-being of the people.

Kiner, Mize And Williams Retain Home-Run Wallop

Associated Press Sportswriter
This may be a new baseball season, but Major League pitchers are finding out, much to their sorrow, that Ralph Kiner, Johnny Mize and Ted Williams still pack that old home run wallop.

Each of the three home run kings of 1947 crashed four-baggers yesterday to lead their respective teams to important victories.

Kiner, whose 31 homers tied Mize for the National League championship, cracked two to pace the surprising Pirates to a 6-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds in Pittsburgh. Both were hit off Lanky Evel Blackwell, the second coming with two men on base. They were his second and third of the season.

The victory was Pittsburgh's eighth against four-seating and enabled the pace-setting Pirates to retain their half-game lead over the New York Giants in the National League. The second half of the scheduled twin-bill was postponed by rain.

Mize slammed a home run with one mate aboard to break a 1-1 tie and inaugurate a four-run sixth inning as the Giants went on to defeat the Boston Braves, 5-1, in New York.

It was the slugging first baseman's third home run of the year and helped Larry Jansen gain his second triumph against one loss.

Williams was the whole works in the 7-1 Red Sox triumph over the New York Yankees in Boston. Trumpan Ted, who paced the American League with 32 home runs last year, tripped in the first inning off righthander Karl Drews to drive in two runs. He banded his fourth home run of the season in the eighth off leftyhander Joe Page with two mates aboard for a day's total of five runs batted in. Ted now leads the American league with 14 RBIs.

The rebounding Detroit Tigers handed the Indians their second straight defeat before 57,450 fans in Cleveland, 4-2. Previously the Tribesmen had won their first six games.

The Philadelphia Athletics vaulted into second place by whipping the Washington Senators for the third straight time in the capitol city, 4-3. It was the Senator's fifth consecutive defeat. The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was postponed by rain after the A's had taken a 3-1 lead in the first half of the second inning.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman pitched a four-hit shutout for Philadelphia in the National League to give the Phillies a split in their doubleheader with Brooklyn. The Phils won the afterpiece 2-0 after the Brooks had pasted four pitchers for 13 hits and a 9-4 win in the first game.

Ed (Duke) Snider, rookie outfielder, led the Dodgers' first game attack with two home runs, a triple and a single in five times at bat. He drove

In four runs, Curt Simmons, Philadelphia's $60,000 bonus beauty, suffered his third loss of the season.

Amassing 19 hits off five pitchers, the Chicago Cubs buried the Cardinals under a 13-4 score in St. Louis. A seven-run Cub eighth inning ended all hopes for the Redbirds. Veteran Mill Nicholson and rookie Hal Jeffcoat drove in three runs apiece for the Cubs, who still are nilast place in the tight National League race, but only three games from the top.

Whitewashed By Eagles, 9-0, Greenies Topple Wilson By Scoring Two Runs In First Frame Sunday

By BERT MOYE

Manager Bill Phebus' Greenies split their week-end tilts by taking a white-washing job from the Kinston Eagles over in Kinston Saturday night, and then came back home yesterday afternoon to blank the Wilson Tobs, 2-0, in the first of a two-game series between the two clubs.

Saturday's Game
Manager Steve Collin's Kinston Eagles flew high Saturday night as the Eagles shutout the Greenies, 9-0 behind the one-hit hurling of Sam McLawhorn. The win for McLawhorn was his third of the current season against no losses.

The Eagles scored four runs in the first frame on a walk, five singles and a passed ball to clinch the game and came back in the third to score four more runs on three walks, a single and two errors, and scored their final run of the evening in the sixth on a double, infield out, a long fly to deep centerfield.

Jerry Chitty started on the mound for the Greenies and was relieved in the first frame after allowing five hits and four runs and received credit for the loss, his second of the season. Kenneth Brooks went in to pitch the next two innings and allowed only one hit and four runs, and John Kovelchik pitched the remainder of the game, allowing one run and four hits.

McLawhorn was robbed of a no-hitter by Danny Lastres, the Greenies' stellar shortstop, who got a double in the sixth frame.

Turk and Pligg each got two hits apiece to lead the Eagle's ten-hit attack of the three Greenie hurlers.

The Greenies registered their third victory of the season here Sunday afternoon by blanking the Wilson Tobs, 2-0, behind the superb pitching of Kenneth Brooks. Although the Tobs out-hit the Greenies, they were unable to hit in the clinches as Brooks really bore down on them when a hit would have meant a run.

Greenville scored their two runs in the first frame. Danny Lastres led off with a single, Emil Carter singled with Lastres taking third, Carter attempted to steal second but was put out. Bob Cohen doubled into right field to bring home Lastres, and Wiley Nash singled to bring home Cohen from second.

The Tobs had three chances during the game to tie the count, but their hitting power disappeared at those times as Brooks bore down on them in the clinches.

Charlie Nordmeyer, the Tobs' hurler, pitched seven hit ball, but the Greenies got four of them in the first frame to get the shutout victory. Danny Lastres with two singles led the local's attack.

Brooks allowed a total of nine hits which were scattered among seven of the nine innings. Sanner, Sposs and Moss got two hits apiece to lead the visitors.

The Greenies journey over to Wilson tonight to meet the Tobs in the second of a two-game series and on Tuesday night they play the Rocky Mount Leafs in the first of a two game series at Guy Smith Stadium.

In selecting Rex Barney for the chore of opening the season against the Giants in the Polo Grounds, Manager Leo Durocher declared that the young fire-ball hurler had earned the honor through his consistent hurling on the training tour. In an effort to further build up confidence in the potential mound great, Durocher announced that Barney would be a regular starter, working every fourth day. Barney's response was to start the Dodgers off on the right foot by beating the Giants.

The most impressive thing about Barney's hurling this spring has been that he appeared to have gained a measure of control. He still has enough wildness in his system

Citation, Arcaro Found: Defender Aim For Records For Wrestling

Louisville, May 3—(AP)—The "rock-em-and-sock-em" combination of Kentucky Derby record smasher Citation and Jockey Eddie Arcaro, set dead aim today for a few more marks in their quest for the coveted triple crown—America's diadem of three-year-old racing supremacy.

While old Louisville slowly returned to normalcy after Citation and Arcaro showed how a horse race should be run Saturday, all eyes were turned on the approaching Preakness and Belmont stakes.

Usually the Preakness, to be run at Pimlico in Baltimore May 15, comes one week after the Derby but there'll be no bustle and bustle to the railroad car and the trip to Maryland this time. The trainers can bide their time, and speculate on the apparent futility of challenging Citation and his fifty-stepping stablemate, Coaltown.

The Belmont stakes at New York follows June 12, and completes the triple crown lineup.

Arcaro could be the first jockey ever to ride two triple crown colts. Only seven horses have been able to grab the elusive triple since the first Derby was run in 1875. Citation's Whitlaw and Eddie himself did the job once in 1941.

The 74th Derby had been tagged for Citation months in advance and the Calumet speedster merely followed the scrip before some 90,000 at Churchill Downs. He collared his stablemate, Coaltown, coming into the stretch and then won by three and a half lengths.

All-Navy Boxing Tourney Tonight

San Diego, Calif., May 3—(AP)—Pist-swinging bluejackets and marines start battling tonight for eight all-Navy boxing championships and a chance at the Olympic games.

On hand to watch for Olympic material is the naval academy's Hamilton "Spike" Webb, coach of the U. S. boxing team.

Villanova, Pa.—(AP)—Two brother combinations are coming up from Villanova's freshman grid squad to seek varsity posts this fall. Ends Mike and Jack Bogan are from Philadelphia. Ray and Rudy Mantone, of Phillipsburg, N.J., are guard and tackle candidates, respectively.

Fungus Found To Have Uses For Golf, Sculpture

Sydney, Australia—(AP)—A strange Australian fungus, commonly known as "blackfellow's bread," offers possibilities for sculptors—and golfers.

This fungus, which is often turned over in lumps of 20-lb. or so, resembles potato when it is dug up and can be easily cut with a pocket knife, but when it has been dried in the sun it bakes into rocklike hardness. Whether the Australian aborigines actually ever ate it is doubtful.

Children in the Australian backcountry lumps of blackfellows' bread into the shape of a ball and use it for playing cricket. It has been claimed that golf balls made from the fungus are as good as the rubber ones. Small statues and ornaments carved from the fungus can be given a high polish after they have been dried in the sun.

Musical Note In Pirates' Infield

Pittsburgh, May 3—(AP)—Baseball this year promises Pittsburgh Pirates fans thrills aplenty—from an infield trio which whistles while it works.

The musical note has been injected by Frankie Gustine, Ed Stevens and Danny Murtaugh. They hold down third, first and second base respectively.

The whistlers use this particular form of noise making to augment the time honored line of chatter sprayed over a diamond to bolster a pitcher's morale.

Shortstop Stan Rojek isn't much of a whistler. Monty Basgall, who is contesting with Murtaugh for the second base chore, isn't either.

They're tone deaf, the 30-year-old Murtaugh says.

Murtaugh's whistling is the most musical. It's a fair take off of a bird's trill. Twenty-three-year-old Ed Stevens' shrilling sounds like a blood relative of a robust wolf call. Gustine just unmutes a plain old whistle.

It's not rare for ball players to vent their appreciation in the old American style by whistling but so much tooting from one infield is a bit unusual.

The Bucco lip doodlers all claim the habit dates back to knee pants days.

All three insist a good loud whistle does more for a pitcher than a whole chorus of chatter.

"It saves wear and tear on the larynx too," chuckled Stevens.

"Besides you get in a rut if you keep on that talking you find yourself saying the same thing over and over again."

French On Verge Of Elimination

London, May 3—(AP)—Just one more good show and France is out of the European zone Davis Cup tennis trials.

Romania's surprising net stars, who swept two singles matches from the French yesterday, could finish the job in today's doubles.

That falling, there are still two more singles Tuesday—with only one victory needed by Romania to clinch a second round berth.

Ted Horn Wins Sixth Straight

Reading, Pa., May 3—(AP)—Ted Horn, national dirt track champion from Paterson, N. J., won the 25-lap feature event at the Reading Fairgrounds yesterday, his sixth straight big car victory of the 1948 campaign.

Pole Chitwood, Reading, Pa., finished second behind Horn, while Bill Holland, also of Reading, runnerup in last year's 500-mile classic at Indianapolis, was third.

To be called a timber, a piece of lumber must be 5 inches or more thick and 8 inches or more wide.

Washington, May 3—(AP)—Four straight rounds in the sixties brought Skip Alexander a six-stroke triumph in the National Capital Open Golf Tournament.

He shot the final round—a four-under-par 68—in the rain yesterday for a 271 total that didn't leave runner-up Bobby Locke's 277 even close.

Business Manager Bob Doty announced last night that Charlie Chute had been sold to the New Bern Bears. The Bears have been under Charlie for sometime it is understood. Doty also said that he expected shortly to have at least four new players, possibly more, which would include a third baseman, catcher, outfielder and pitcher.

Wiley Nash, the Greenies first baseman at the present time, went over to Wilson last night to meet his wife and child who will live here during the season. A pair of bifocal eyeglasses was found in the grandstand following Sunday's game and the owner may get same by calling at Kares' Restaurant. It will in all probability be Garland Little or Jerry Chitty on the mound when the Greenies tackle Wilson tonight, with Monk Webb on the mound for the Tobs.

O-O-O

Ray Goodmon, league prexy, has recently been on a scouting trip throughout the league checking up on his staff of umpires. For years the league prexy has been hounded with complaints, some just, but many others unjust, about the arbiter's association. He has taken the boys in hand like a father this year, and is hoping for the best. Goodmon on a recent trip to the local park says, "I really think I have the best staff ever. Sure, they'll miss 'em. Everybody does. But game-for game, I think they will do a good job." He explained that his umpires were all experienced men, and many had played ball themselves. Also there is a system of working that he hopes will produce better results in calling game. "I have 10 men at my disposal," says Goodmon, "and they will work every night. Right now, they are broken up into two groups of three. The more experienced men work in pairs, while I'm hoping to train the newer umpires in teams with three each." After 16 days, the various umpire teams are broken up and substitutions made. Years of experience has proved that this leads to smoother sailing. Although the prexy realizes that everyone can't be pleased by the umpiring, he hopes to field a group of men that will win the respect of both players and fans. That's a tough job, but Goodmon is aiming high.

Lombardo Races Tempo VI For New Speed Title

Salton Sea, Calif., May 3—(AP)—The weather was clear and hot and Guy Lombardo hoped his speedboat, Tempo VI, was the same today as when he attacked American and world speed records.

This vast body of water in the middle of the California desert was the mecca for speed fanatics who wanted to see whether the sleek bandleader could:

1. Push his 25-foot inboard racer past Gar Wood's mark of 124.918 land miles per hour, the American record set Sept. 20, 1932.
2. Take the "big one"—Sir Malcolm Campbell's world standard of 141.74 mph set Aug. 19, 1939, at Lake Conston, Eng.

The Tempo VI was souped up and Lombardo confident that he would pass Malcolm's mark later in the afternoon.

Counties affected by the May 1 closing date are: Onslow, Duplin, Currituck, New Hanover, Sampson, Bladen, Columbus, Brunswick, Cumberland and Robeson.

In all other counties where shad and herring occur, the season closes June 1.

Ted Has 'Touch'

New York—(AP)—Jockey Ted Atkinson has never lost a race on Rellé—or his sire, War Relic. In 1941, Atkinson scored three victories on War Relic, one of them over Whirlaway in the Narragansett Special. Last winter at Hialeah he rode Rellé to victory in the Hibiscus and Bahamas before the Circle M colt was forced out of training with a pulled muscle.

Tourists spent a record $28,000,000 in Canada in 1947, or $17,000,000 more than the previous high set in 1946.

Kerr Scott Calls On Treasurer To Resign His Post

Raleigh, May 3—(AP)—The political campaign moved into the last four weeks today with charges still resounding.

Kerr Scott, a candidate for governor, reiterated a call to an opponent, State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, to resign. In a statement released here Saturday, Scott declared Johnson is violating the law by not staying in his office and attending to public business.

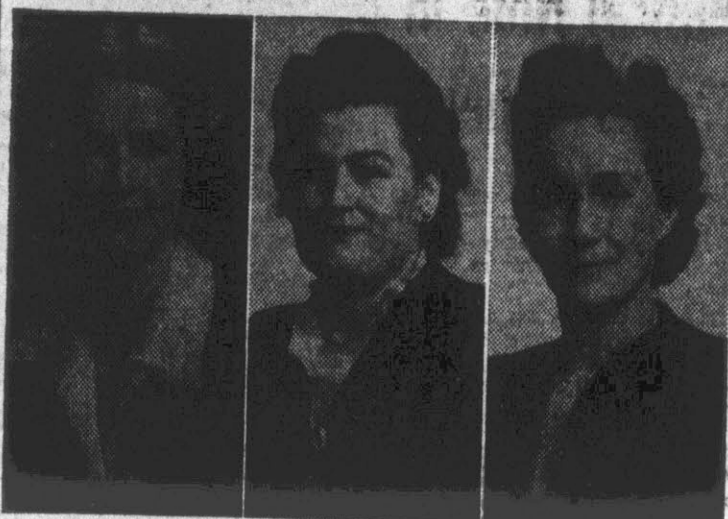

The statement quoted a law requiring that "the treasurer shall keep his office in the city of Raleigh and shall attend there between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 p. m., Sundays and holidays excepted."

Scott said the treasurer has been "busy campaigning for governor at the taxpayers' expense."

Johnson spoke Saturday night at a meeting here of Phi Alpha Delta, Wake Forest College legal fraternity. North Carolina veterans are vitally interested, Johnson said, in the kind of economy and society in which they must live and rear their children.

"Opportunities should be afforded our veterans," he declared, "to go into business and a system of taxation devised to allow them to compete in business. It is also a responsibility of the state to provide them with the proper type of schools for their children, a health program to safeguard their families."

Former Governor J. Melville Broughton, a candidate for the Senate seat held by William B. Umstead, said in a speech that the United States government needs the support of all citizens in its efforts to establish and maintain world peace. He addressed a political rally in Fayetteville.

County Home Demonstration Clubs Observe 'Week' With Big Program

The members of the Home Demonstration Clubs of Pitt County are glad to join in celebrating the Third Annual National Home Demonstration Week, May 2-8, 1948. Here in the county there will be radio broadcasts, displays of various kinds and a husband's night dinner at the Women's Club. Under the efficient leadership of the Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Verona Lee J. Langston and assistant agents, Misses Verda Belle Lowery and Marjorie Shearin, and Mrs. Ruel W. Tyson, secretary in the Home Agent's office, Home Demonstration and 4-H Club work in the county is progressing rapidly. Under the supervision of State College there is a program reaches 21 communities in Pitt County. They are: Ballard, Bell Arthur, Belvoir, Bethel, Cannon, Clarke's Neck, Falkland, Farmville, Fountain, Littlefield, Pactolus, Pierce, Red Bank, Red Oak, Renston-Nobles, Seven Pines, Simpson, St. John, Stokes, Sweet Gum Grove and Chicod.

Homes of the Home Demonstration Club members in these communities are presided over by women who have discarded the name "housewife" for the much more fitting name of "homemaker." Homemaking to club women in Pitt County is a most worthwhile of all the professions.

When we put into practice the varied program that is given by State College Extension Service and demonstrated by our agents there is not much discussion as to "How're We Going to Keep 'em Down on the Farm?"

Seeing the need of a community center several clubs have built clubhouses and others are under construction. "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World" our motto. The homes in Pitt County are its very foundation and we of the Home Demonstration Clubs are trying to do our part to help create a world peace.

There are 600 Home Demonstration Club members in the county, and through the demonstration they have received many helpful suggestions. Their pantry shelves are filled, three meals are prepared each day by the basic food chart, equipment has been added that makes work much easier and by careful planning many of our homes have been made more livable.

T. J. Cannon Dies In Boat Accident

Tom J. Cannon, 25, was instantly killed about noon Sunday when he fell from his speedboat three miles below Bayview in the Pamlico River.

Cannon was almost decapitated by the boat's propeller.

According to other occupants of the boat, Cannon was sitting on a gunwale as the boat executed a turn. He apparently lost his balance and fell overboard.

Henry Renfrew of Greenville, one of the occupants, dived in after Cannon when he fell overboard. Because of the depth of the water, he was unable to recover the body.

Remaining at the scene of the accident other occupants of the boat summoned help from shore. The body was recovered 30 minutes later with grappling hooks.

Aboard the boat when the tragedy occurred were Renfrew, his wife, Frank Kilpatrick, Jr., of Ayden, who was piloting the craft, and Jennie C. Joyner of Greenville.

Coroner Bonner Paul of Washington investigated the death, and ruled it the result of an unavoidable accident. He said no inquest will be held.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of his mother, Mrs. Biggs T. Cannon, 113 Paris Avenue at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday by the Rev. J. A. Neilson, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church. Interment will be in Active pallbearers will be Bob Harrington, C. B. Rowlette, Jr., Hoyt Minges, Loyd Ballance, Roy P. Gaskins, Loyd Mills, R. H. Bland and Cary Lee Buck.

Members of the Tobacco Board of Trade of Greenville will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Cannon was the son of the late Biggs T. Cannon and Mrs. Cannon. He was born in Ayden, but moved to Greenville and attended city schools and Fork Union Military Academy in Virginia. He joined the U. S. Marine Corps in 1942, trained at Parris Island, S. C., and Camp Lejeune and was overseas in the South Pacific for 30 months. He was discharged from the service in November, 1945, and entered the warehouse business and trucking business with his late father.

He was a member of the Immanuel Baptist Church. Surviving are his wife, the former Ann McCormick of Greenville; his mother; a sister, Mrs. Carlton Dall of Greenville; and a brother, William T. Cannon of Greenville; two nieces and three nephews.

entertaining. She also has time by careful planning to select patterns and materials and make her own clothes.

Reading is an added pleasure and with the cooperation of the staff of Sheppard Memorial Library, we have been able to secure the required books recommended by the North Carolina Library Commission and have received certificates for reading the required number. With the use of the bookmobile, books are available for all.

The purpose of Home Demonstration work throughout the year has been to encourage its members to keep "physically fit, mentally alert, spiritually aflame"; to guard nervous tones in the home in order to keep alive children's laughter; and to understand the responsibility of each individual member in the united effort to achieve good family relationships.

Ex-Husband Is Charged With Serious Offense

By CHESTER WALSH

Sheriff's Deputies Jasper Lee Mills and Loyd Manning arrested Otis Ange of Plymouth on the charges of trespassing on his estranged wife's property in Chicod Township and incendiarism in connection with the burning of her jeep automobile about 1 a. m. Sunday.

The deputies said Mrs. Minnie Ange phoned Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson shortly after midnight and stated that she saw her estranged husband on the premises and that she wanted protection. Before the officers arrived at her home she saw a fire in her garage and that on investigation she discovered that her jeep was on fire in the garage near her new Studebaker, she said. When the deputies arrived, they said, they saw Otis Ange crawling on his hands and knees in the hog lot and arrested him.

HAUNTED HOLIDAY

Chapter 30

Vince Bonnyard stared curiously at Luki, trying to analyze his feeling for the man. He felt no repugnance or dislike. It seemed the irony of fate that Manny, a man so jealous of his own family name should meet death at the hands of one who also put pride of family above all else.

"Didn't you know you could have pleaded self-defense?" he asked. Johanson sighed regretfully. "And so you killed Miss Sophie too?"

"Luki admitted," Miss Sophie found out so I had to kill her. I had hidden the letter from my sister when she returned from town. When I heard the car coming down the hill I went up to Mr. Hugh's room. Everything was ready. Lin Gook had fallen asleep and did not know I had left the kitchen.

"But you didn't have to kill Miss Sophie," Vince said. "She never would have told on you, Luki—she hated Mr. Manny too."

The bright bitterness in the liquid eyes faded until they were devoid of lustre. "I do not understand what you mean, sir," Luki said slowly.

Vince explained briefly about Sophie's love for Eric Branson.

"You must remember, Luki," he reminded gently, "you were the little boy who brought her the note that night thirty-seven years ago . . ."

Luki stared at him unbelievably for a second. He drew his breath in a quick racking gasp, then, so suddenly that it threw them both off guard, he spun around and raced toward the Devil's Walk!

"The stars into the darkness watching the dim, drunkenly lurching figure cover the tortuous footpath with amazing skill as he plunged ahead to the very end. At the point he hesitated briefly and cried out a word that sounded like "Peel! Peel!" then vanished over the edge.

Weakly they turned toward the house but before Johanson had asked sadly of the night, "Why did it have to be Luki?"

Vince and Julia stood watching a tug with grasping hooks conducting its aimless, fruitless search for Luki's body. Tears were in Julia's eyes.

"Poor Luki, I wish it could have been in the warm Island waters," Johanson says he was probably killed immediately by the shock.

"I hope so. What made you suspect him, Vince?"

"We didn't until we had the handwriting expert's report. He found that the ink on the envelope was fresher than the ink of the letter it contained. We knew then that Luki had substituted an older letter, therefore the one that he received Thursday must have been of great importance to him. When we knew that the rest of the puzzle fell into place."

"But I don't understand about the trap, how did you—?"

"The messages I gave Luki all said the same thing, that I would be aloft in the summer house at ten o'clock. I hoped he'd read them, fall to deliver them and show up himself to retrieve the letter he believed I had. He probably meant to kill me and I was more or less prepared."

"The whole thing seems so futile; we never would have prosecuted him."

"He didn't know that. He only knew the Mannleys had wronged his family."

"That's where I come in, Vince."

"What do you mean?"

"Uncle Sim had quite a fortune and I'll probably get what's left after the law gets through haggling over it. I want to compensate some of the people he wronged, Vince. It will help them forget a little."

"And what about yourself, Julie?"

"I want no part of his money, Vince. I have the inheritance my father left me—that's clean and honestly earned—he worked hard for it."

"What about Hugh?" That was a problem that could not be ignored.

"The solution fell right into my lap. You see Kalamii belonged to Aunt Sophie with no strings attached and she left it to me. Last night Dr. Zentro told me he would like to convert it to a sanitarium and I told him I'd sell it on condition he took care of Hugh. He agreed without any reservations."

"And I suppose you're through with the Northwest forever?"

The disappointed scornful voice belonged to Johanson.

Julia flashed him a contradictory smile. "You couldn't be more wrong. Kalamii itself has too many unpleasant associations for me but I love the country around here. Sometime I want to return, sometime quite soon."

Johanson nodded approvingly then suddenly stiffened. His hand went to his pocket. "Damn, Bonnyard, I almost forgot! This came for you an hour ago."

Vince tore the telegram open and stared incredulously at the message.

"Julie!" His voice shook with emotion. "I'm to report immediately at San Francisco to take command of a new destroyer! My own ship! Imagine it!"

"How soon must you leave?"

"Right away. When the Navy says immediately that's what it means. It will postpone our marriage a bit, my dear."

She stared down at her hands. "I suppose I'll have to get used to that. They say Navy wives spend half their lives waiting."

"You can meet me next week in San Francisco, can't you?"

"I can try. There's a lot to do here. Until then I guess it's Aloha." He held her close. "Don't say that! Aloha means goodbye!"

Her lips curved with amusement. "To a malihini it does but to an Islander it means many things. This time it doesn't mean goodbye, Vince."

THE END

Negro Home Demonstration News

National Home Demonstration Week May 2-8.

Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World will again be the theme of rural women throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska as they observe the third National Home Demonstration Week May 2-8.

Recognition will be given to the contribution made over three decades ago by rural women, in our society and the professionally trained women. Many of the activities of this week will give concrete evidence of the progress club women have made applying science to their every-day living and homemaking.

Many a farm woman who was much concerned over little things in life has found a new outside interest through her home demonstration work that has made her a more efficient and useful citizen in her community and a more understanding mother and wife.

In North Carolina there are 2,221 home demonstration clubs with an enrollment of 56,051 women. Together they have worked voluntarily on projects chosen by the women themselves—such as foods and family nutrition, better buying practices, making new clothes from old, ironing the easiest way, tailoring, household drudgery by modernizing rooms and placing heavy loads on wheels, simplifying work. They save off that rainy day by developing home budgets, aiding with the financial planning for the family, while setting aside a nest egg for the children's education and for security in old age.

Women IN THE CHURCH
By Mary Fowler

Church-managed hospitals and nurses training schools are joining with secular institutions throughout the United States in an attempt to enroll 50,000 young women this year for nursing training and service. Ministers are looking over their memberships for likely prospects, and many are speaking and preaching on the Christian service rendered by the profession.

A fifty-year-old question is again before the general conference of the Methodist Church which is now in session in Boston, Mass.: Shall women be admitted to the travelling ministry? At present women may be ordained as "local preachers" and named to pastorates of churches, but they are not admitted to "full membership" in the annual conferences of the church and are therefore not "regular ministers." The dearth of trained ministers to fill the pulpits of Methodist (and other) churches in recent years, brings the long-debated question to the conference floor again.

There are 40,000 Jewish children under 18 years of age now in displaced persons camps in Europe, and some of these are being moved for resettlement in Palestine, Canada, Australia, South Africa, France, according to Miss Amelia Jgel, child care consultant of the American Joint Distribution Committee. She adds that there are about 150,000 Jewish children in Europe who need it. In addition to DP camps, there are 215 sheltering homes under the committee and these care for 15,500 children. Others receive special foods, medicines, clothing and schooling as funds and workers are provided.

So great is the need of the refugees on the border between India and Pakistan, that Miss Marie Johnson, R. N., of Yakima, Washington, a former U. S. army nurse who was preparing for missionary service in China, has flown instead to Karachi, Pakistan, to work in the refugee camps. Miss Johnson was released for this emergency service by her board, the Evangelical Missionary Covenant Church of Chicago, Ill.

Science Probing 'Growth Vitamin'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

Ames, Iowa—Ice cream and milk are good bets to be sure of getting the growth vitamin, B-2. They are better sources for humans than green peas or almonds, workers in the Nutrition Laboratory at Iowa State College report.

Nutritionists know pretty well just how much of the different vitamins are contained in different foods. But just as important is the question of how much of those vitamins the human body is able to take out of the foods and use. Dr. Gladys Everson and associates at Iowa State have just finished such tests with Vitamin B-2, or riboflavin. Women students were the guinea pigs of the test. For several weeks they ate exact test diets. First, the diet had pure riboflavin along with the given amounts of fats, proteins, and carbohydrates.

Then in other studies, they ate the same amount of fats, proteins, and carbohydrates, but had ice cream, then frozen green peas, and then almonds as the source of B-2. Chemical tests showed that all three of these contain about the same amount of B-2. Their bodies took out almost as much B-2 from the ice cream as they obtained when they had the pure B-2 vitamin. But only about 40 percent of the B-2 in the peas and almonds was absorbed by their bodies. In those foods, riboflavin wasn't as available for use.

Negro Home Demonstration News

National Home Demonstration Week May 2-8.

Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World will again be the theme of rural women throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska as they observe the third National Home Demonstration Week May 2-8.

Recognition will be given to the contribution made over three decades ago by rural women, in our society and the professionally trained women. Many of the activities of this week will give concrete evidence of the progress club women have made applying science to their every-day living and homemaking.

Many a farm woman who was much concerned over little things in life has found a new outside interest through her home demonstration work that has made her a more efficient and useful citizen in her community and a more understanding mother and wife.

In North Carolina there are 2,221 home demonstration clubs with an enrollment of 56,051 women. Together they have worked voluntarily on projects chosen by the women themselves—such as foods and family nutrition, better buying practices, making new clothes from old, ironing the easiest way, tailoring, household drudgery by modernizing rooms and placing heavy loads on wheels, simplifying work. They save off that rainy day by developing home budgets, aiding with the financial planning for the family, while setting aside a nest egg for the children's education and for security in old age.

Week's Schedule of activities: Sunday May 2 Open house and program. Shiloh Home Demonstration Club 4:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. E. Gardner. Pleasant Place Home Dem. Club 5:00 p. m. Mrs. Lydia Dixon, hostess. Cherry Lane Home Demonstration Club 3:00 p. m. Mrs. Martha Whichard hostesses. Clark's Neck Home Dem. Club 3:00 p. m. Mrs. Ella Johnson, hostess.

Trophy Awarded School's Paper

Chosen as best paper in the class, "GREEN LIGHTS" publication of Greenville High School, was presented the Group 3 trophy award at the annual Southern Interscholastic Press Association convention at Washington and Lee University.

Awards were announced at the final banquet of the convention Saturday night and presented by O. W. Riegel, Director of the S. I. P. A. Other trophy winners in North Carolina were Greensboro High School, Greensboro, N. C. and Black Mountain High School, Black Mountain, N. C.

This trophy is the third won by "GREEN LIGHTS" and the first since 1938. The other trophy was awarded in 1937.

"GREEN LIGHTS" was competing with twenty-eight high schools from ten southern states. The group it was in was composed of schools with an enrollment of between 301 and 700.

The paper was judged on make-up, content, typography, coverage, and features. The general criticism said, "This paper well deserves recognition. It experiments with make-up with considerable success."

The paper's policy is one of aggressiveness, which reflects service to the school—Editorials, like the other material, are well written, thoughtful, to the point, and useful."

"GREEN LIGHTS" also recently won National recognition by receiving the highest rating of the National Scholastic Press Association, that of All-American.

False Report About Boy Drowning Here

The fire department's rescue squad was called out Sunday afternoon when a Negro woman reported that her crippled son, who has an artificial leg, had fallen in Tar River and drowned while fishing from the bank.

On the way to the river the firemen learned that the boy's mother had found him alive some distance from his usual fishing spot. Some unidentified person had reported that the boy's fishing line and bait can were found on the river bank and that there was a place on the shore there that indicated that the youngster was in the river. The boy, whose name police and firemen did not get, had simply decided to do some river bank exploring and was found safe and sound farther down the river.

Statisticians estimate there is one mile of railroad for every 4,508 persons in the world.

Schedule Action To Back Demands

Winston-Salem, N.C., May 3—(AP) Union workers at the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company here plan to take "united economic action" to enforce their demands for a contract with the company.

Approximately 2,000 members of Local 22, United Tobacco Workers, FTA-CIO, met here yesterday and adopted a resolution which left detailed action in the hands of the union's executive committee.

The vote on the resolution was not interpreted as a strike vote, however. One union official, Edwin K. McCrea, told the workers that "the union recommends that you continue to build your union. Fight for unity until the workers are like a sea that will engulf the company's opposition. We must be so united that when it's time to move, everybody will move together."

A company contract with the union expired April 30 and company officials, saying that the union does not represent a majority of the approximately 10,000 employees, have declined to meet union officials in negotiations for a new contract.

Rubble Used On Berlin Graves

Berlin—(AP)—Berliners, surrounded by the ruins of a lost war, are digging into their rubble for material for grave markers. Recently the city's parks and cemeteries board issued an order that metal grave markers would henceforth be prohibited because it was a choice of "cooking pots or grave markers." Monument makers protested and met with the cemetery board. "Use wood and stone," they were told, "and as far as possible, get your materials out of the rubble piles. These should be cheaper than markers made of scarce metals and you can use your artistic imagination in fashioning them."

The transformers were demonstrated in the seventies and eighties of the last century at the Petersburg Exhibit of the Russian Technical Society, says "Ivestia."

Omaha, Neb.—(AP)—A lie detector which wasn't even used was credited with helping solve a burglary case. Deputy Sheriff Lou Adler and Highway Patrol Sergeant Jack Knudston took the detector along when they went to the county jail to question a suspect. Oil Firms Buy Land In China

Shanghai—(AP)—American and British oil companies are making substantial profits in China, but government regulations prevent remittances abroad. As a result, the oil companies have become substantial real estate owners. They prefer to put their profits into the land rather than let the money depreciate in Chinese banks.

One oil company informant said the intention was to use some of the land eventually for purposes such as erecting quarters for company staffs. But materials shortage, even on the black market, have held up such projects.

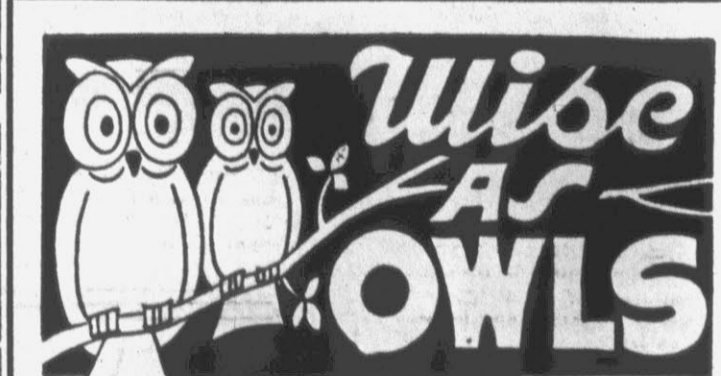

Her Hobby Turns Into A Business

Fountain Lake, Ark.—(AP)—Mrs. McGregor Snodgrass had three hobbies—painting, cooking and sewing. But now they're business. Recently she made a blouse and decorated it by painting symbols of her three hobbies plus her monogram. A neighbor saw it and asked Mrs. Snodgrass to make him a shirt.

The fad caught on quickly and Mrs. Snodgrass is kept busy turning out blouses and shirts with hand-painted symbols.

GHS Debaters Complete Highly Successful Year

Greenville High debaters have completed a remarkably successful season with a record of 13 victories and three defeats. The affirmative speakers were Betty Mobley and Shelley Beard. They ended their series of debates with a favorable score of 5 to 1. Rodney Fulcher and Frederick Brooks, the negative debaters, have a record of 8 victories and 2 losses.

To begin the year's debating in the North Carolina Triangular contests the local teams won by default over Raleigh and Washington. When the district elimination was held at ECTC, Fulcher and Brooks won for Greenville High School the right to enter the finals for the state championship at Chapel Hill. They eliminated other debate teams from Etendon, Kinston, Rocky Mount, Scotland Neck, Weldon and Perquimans High. The local affirmative team won over Weldon before losing to Etendon in the tournament at ECTC.

In the state final eliminations at Chapel Hill last Thursday, Greenville's speakers drew last year's championship school, Forest City, and were eliminated. This Forest City team with one of last year's debaters repeating won the Aycock Debate Cup in the final debate Friday afternoon.

At Princeton, West Virginia, in the Appalachian District of NFL Debate Tournament, Greenville's affirmative team had a perfect record by winning all three of their debates. This team won decisions from Maryville and Johnson City of Tennessee, and Concord of West Virginia. The negative speakers from Greenville won in the tournament four consecutive debates by defeating Erwin, Tennessee, Bramwell, West Virginia, and Bluefield twice. However, Greenville's negative debaters lost a 3 to 2 decision on the judges in the final championship radio debate to the host school, Princeton.

Both affirmative debaters, Betty Mobley and Shelley Beard, are seniors. Rodney Fulcher is a freshman and Frederick Brooks is a junior. These debaters were coached by R. B. Starling of the high school history faculty.

Recreation Meeting Here Tuesday Night

Representatives of all local organizations will meet at the high school library tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to further discuss plans for providing in Greenville a community building and recreational centers. Dr. C. F. Irons, chairman of the general committee, will preside. The Planning Committee, Mrs. P. B. Haar, chairman, met last Thursday night to prepare a report to be submitted to the general committee.

The recreation program was set in motion here at a meeting at the Episcopal parish house several weeks ago. Leading citizens—men and women—indicated that the necessary funds could be subscribed here for the recreation project.

Twelve Days . . .

"Talk of Arab governments resuming Palestine sounds like another case of 'too little and too late.' If they send all the 30,000 regulars they're supposed to have promised to send, the Jews have 45,000 trained soldiers here in this country and inexhaustible riches to draw on from overseas."

Whether this merchant was sure of his figures remains to be seen. Still, the indications are that the Jewish forces are relatively strong and have considerable excellent equipment. Furthermore, they presumably will be able to import further war materiel after the British mandate is surrendered.

There was one bright spot in an otherwise dark picture yesterday. Jews and Arabs agreed on a 48-hour truce in their battle for the Katamon Quarter of Jerusalem. Sir Henry Gurney, chief secretary for the Palestine government, intervened to secure a cease-fire order.

Surely this means that the position isn't hopeless from the standpoint of peace-makers.

Women's Clubs Assert Dickens Indirect Founder

By JANE EADS

Washington—Charles Dickens is called the father of the women's club movement in the United States. This is why:

Early in 1868 the Press Club of New York gave a dinner honoring Dickens. Mrs. J. C. Croly, Alice and Phoebe Carey and other newspaperwomen seeking admittance were told that no women were wanted. So Mrs. Croly, in March 1868, organized a club of her own—composed entirely of women.

This was the Sorosis Club. It is now described as "mother" of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which today represents a membership of some 3,000,000 women in this country and abroad. Several thousands of these members will meet in convention at Portland, Ore., the latter part of May.

Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, president of the General Federation, announces an ambitious convention program. The women will vote on a resolution urging the government to ratify promptly the International Bill of Human Rights.

Another resolution will urge the U. S. delegation to UN to press for prompt establishment by the Security Council of an International Police Force. There will be a resolution asking the General Federation to continue to "encourage sobriety and temperance". Holding that the consumption of alcoholic beverages in the United States has reached "alarmed proportions" the proposed resolution would deplore:

1. The promotion of drinking through increasingly intensive national advertising by radio, newspaper and magazine, and

2. Inclusion in motion pictures of drinking scenes which do not further the plot of the story."

The general Federation says there are approximately 40,000,000 persons who live in areas in this country where no public health units are established. Adequate health services for all the citizenry, will be urged. Other resolutions on the agenda call for immediate reform of the Office of Indian Affairs, support of immediate nation-wide action to safeguard the nation's forest resources and public grazing lands, and urge appointment of qualified women to responsible positions in the government.

Another resolution calls for renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires in June, and endorses the International Trade Organization, asking for Congressional authorization for United States' participation therein. The Federation is also expected to protest the current "undestable" trend in literature and to call upon book publishers and authors to assist in elevating the writing of the times. "Current literature frequently offends the good taste and sensibilities of the average reader and tends to lower the moral standards and literary appreciation of our youth," says Mrs. John M. Pierce, chairman of the Federation's Fine Arts Department.

Infant Industry

Memphis, Tenn.—(AP)—A new service was born in Memphis because Mrs. Ellen Rowe had a tough time on an out-of-town shopping trip. She had no one to take care of her baby, and the department store play rooms wouldn't accept children less than four years old. She got mighty tired carrying the child through the stores.

Now her baby shop here rents baby buggies and strollers for downtown use at 25 cents an hour.

Light Balloting In Election Aldermen

Balloting for four members of the Board of Aldermen whose terms expire June 30 was unusually light in today's city primary election. Those whose terms expire are C. B. Mayo, second ward; L. M. Buchanan, third; R. S. Moye, fourth; and Berry Bostic, fifth ward.

Mayo has no opposition. Dick Forrest is running against Buchanan. James E. Collins is opposing Moye. J. Ed Waldrop is opposing Berry Bostic.

Voting at the courthouse, where Mayo has no opposition, was extremely light.

Voting at the city hall, wards 3, 4 and 5, was more spirited, with about 200 ballots cast shortly after noon.

Jobs Before . . .

to wipe out poll taxes has been kicking around Congress for months. The Senate may tackle an anti-lynching bill this month. If so, the Southern Democrats will try to talk it to death. If it ever passes the Senate, the House still has to consider it.

7. Tidelands—The House last week passed a bill to give the states ownership of the land, rich in oil, off their coasts. The government says the government should control lands. If the Senate tries to act on this, to make it law, the whole business may get drawn in debate.

8. Atomic energy commission—The terms of office of the five members of the atomic energy commission, including chairman David E. Lilienthal, end August 1.

President Truman has asked the Senate to approve the re-appointment of all of them, with Lilienthal appointed for five years. There'll be a fight on this. The Republicans talk of a two-year limit. If there's a Republican President next year, they say, he should be free to name his own commissioners.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses issued this month were to the following couples:

Colored: James Askew and Luvenia Moore of Greenville.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—Grains were a little lower most of the session on the board of trade today. Rain in the southwestern winter wheat belt, particularly Kansas, was the major cause of the slightly easier tendency.

Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, May $2.42-43, corn was 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, May $2.29-30, $2.20, oats were 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.08 1/2, and soybeans were 1 cent higher, May $3.97.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, May 3—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 45 cents to $2.25 a bale lower. Noon prices were $1.60 a bale lower to 15 cents higher than the previous close. May 37.30, July 36.79 and Oct. 32.72.

Recurrent bursts of liquidation in the final hour of trading carried cotton futures to the lowest levels of the day. Losses extended to more than $450 a bale with the decline accentuated by stop loss selling, with heaviest dealings in the nearby May delivery. Mill buying and short covering in the final minutes of trading advanced prices about $1 from the extreme lows.
