Senate Nearing Key Decision On Oleo Tax Issues

Efforts At Compromise Prove Fruitless; Fate Of Bill Hangs On Vote

Washington, May 4 (AP)—The Senate neared a decision today on what to do with the House-approved Oleomargarine tax repealer. The vote could decide the final fate of the bill.

Eleventh hour efforts to compromise differences between Oleo and butter supporters proved fruitless.

The bill, which the house passed last week after a bitter fight, was tangled up in the Senate in a complicated parliamentary snarl involving one rule which had not been invoked in more than a quarter of a century until yesterday and another in apparent conflict with that rule.

Senate President Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told reporters he was inclined to ask the full membership to vote on unscrapping the issue. It concerns whether the bill should go to (1) the calendar, where it would be subject to a vote at any time, (2) the tax-writing Finance Committee or (3) the Agriculture Committee.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.), a member of the Agriculture committee, tried to get a compromise with one of the advocates of the bill last night, but no agreement was reached.

Oleo supporters want the bill referred to the Finance committee. They think it has a better chance there of receiving prompt and favorable action than in the Agriculture committee.

Allen and five other interested Senators conferred for an hour and a half. He said the conferees discussed ways of guaranteeing that Oleo shall not be sold as butter in public eating places.

The objective was to get an agreement on such a provision with the idea that the Oleo supporters might then withdraw their insistence that the bill go to the Finance committee.

It still must be passed by the House and the Senate and be approved by the President before becoming effective.

The measure would require all executive departments to provide congressional committees on demand whatever information the committees decide they need.

The committees would decide by majority vote whether the information, or part of it, should be made public.

Upon a committee decision that the information should be held confidential, it would be a misdemeanor for anyone to divulge it or publish it.

Twister Strikes Town In Alabama

Skirmishing Continues In Holy Land; Jews Announce Successes

Jerusalem, May 4 (AP)—Jews claimed today the capture of Yehud, an Arab village which had barred the way to Lydda airport. Arab fighters were reported attacking the Jewish settlement of Kfar Etzion south of Jerusalem.

Other skirmishes developed elsewhere in Palestine, where the end of the British mandate is now but 11 days away.

A United Nations truce commission made up of the French, British and United States consuls general is believed to have gone to Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, to confer with King Abdullah and the Secretary-General of the Arab League, Rahman Azlam Pasha. Consulate sources decided to discuss their whereabouts. Abdullah has said he personally will lead the regular forces of Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Syria and Lebanon against Palestine Jews.

The Arab attack on Kfar Etzion was well underway by noon, according to reports received in Jerusalem. Jews last night attacked the 16th General Hospital on Mt. Scopus, held by Arab legion units. An Arab spokesman said the attackers were repulsed with "hundreds dead." A Jewish spokesman said the attack was retaliatory and only three Jews were killed.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground force now allied with Hagannah, the Jewish militia, announced in Tel Aviv the capture of the Arab stronghold of Yehud.

Yehud lies 12 miles east of Tel Aviv and about four miles north of Lydda airbase, where all air operations virtually have ceased.

Jewish military sources said Arab artillery shelled two Jewish settlements north of Jerusalem in the night.

The informants said 30 shells landed in the area of Neve Yacov and Atarot. Both settlements are on the highway between Jerusalem and Ramallah. They said there were no casualties and little damage.

Jerusalem was quiet during the night, although scattered firing was heard this morning in Mekeir Haim. Most of the Holy City was without light or power during the night, after a power station breakdown. It was only partially repaired by mid-morning.

The Arabs had a warning today from Lt. Gen. Gordon MacMillan that Britain will resist "with full force" any Arab invasion of Palestine before the British mandate, May 15.

Legislators Call For Revision Of Charter For UN

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Congress members of both major parties joined today in urging a stronger United Nations to promote peace—with or without Russia.

Reps. Hays (D-Ark.) and Judd (R-Minn.) called for the United States to take the lead in urging the U.N. charter. They spoke out firmly for going ahead with Russia if she will cooperate, but without Russia if she refuses to go along.

Hays said: "We do not want to junk the United Nations—we want to save it. x x x We want Russia as a participant in an agency for peace, but if Russia defeats every move toward perfecting the U.N., we must take steps without her. These steps would be anti-Russian; they would be pro-peace."

Judd said he believes three-fourths of the peoples of the world would join in an effort to revise U.N., so it can be a real instrument to preserve peace and freedom.

Hays and Judd were the first of a series of Congress members to appear before the House Foreign Affairs Committee on proposals to change the U.N. charter to get around Russia's frequent use of the veto.

The committee is starting hearings on the structure of U.N. and American's relationship to it.

About 30 representatives and senators have introduced similar resolutions which would put Congress on record for revamping U.N. All are aimed at the same objective but propose different methods. Generally they propose to end the veto on matters of aggression and armament and control of atomic and other deadly weapons, and to set up an international peace force to enforce world security.

Both the American-sponsored trusteeship plan and the British proposal were up for discussion this afternoon by the 88-member Political Committee of the special Palestine Assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said his delegation feels the British plan is worth considering but that the U.S. is not convinced it would work any better than a streamlined trusteeship.

It was emphasized, however, that no final U.S. decision had been taken on the British proposal and probably will not until it is elaborated in more concrete terms.

Large Maneuvers Begin Saturday

Camp Campbell, Ky., May 4 (AP)—The largest military training operation since World War II will begin Saturday.

The maneuver, in which an imaginary invader from the Caribbean area will be repulsed, will involve more than 30,000 troops. It is being staged jointly by the Third Army and the first stage of the maneuvers is scheduled Saturday, when thousands of 82nd airborne troops will be dropped on the Camp Campbell area from a fleet of more than 100 C-52 "flying boxcars."

Record Ohio Vote In GOP Primary

Columbia, O., May 4 (AP)—A near record outpouring of Republican votes for 1948 decided today how many—if any—of Ohio's 53 presidential nominating delegates Harold E. Stassen can wrest from Senator Robert A. Taft.

Stassen had hand-picked 11 districts—mostly in the industrial sections of northern Ohio—for his assault on the home defenses of the senator Democrats have dubbed "Mr. Republican" because of his GOP congressional leadership.

Upwards of 750,000 Republicans expected to file into polling places in the 12-hour period ending at 6:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, had a chance to vote for at least one Stassen delegate candidate.

He is Carrington T. Marshall, former state supreme court justice, running in a field of 10 at-large candidates.

Since all of his opponents favored Taft, the Ohio senator was sure of at least eight delegates there. His men were unopposed in 11 other district races in which 22 delegates are chosen.

With this 30 as a nest egg, Taft's camp maintained that Stassen would be squeezed out with a handful of delegates in voting expected to be multiplied by the promise of fair skies.

Any such result was calculated to revive Taft's dampened hopes that he can win the GOP nomination at Philadelphia. Politicians said Stassen's failure to get 10 or more would black-mark his shining record of primary vote victories in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania.

Stassen remained confident he will capture at least 13 of the 22 places he is contesting. Ohioans generally conceded any such result might put Taft on the sidelines as a presidential contender, but leave him in command of a considerable number of delegates from other states.

Stassen bid strongly in a Cleveland radio speech last night for backing in the districts where the farm vote will be top-heavy in naming eight of the delegates.

He urged that the cost of farm hired labor be included in the formula by which the government fixes a price floor under certain crops. This could only result, economists said in raising this floor.

Taft previously has said that the level of federal price supports ought to be lowered.

No Indictment Of Bertie Sheriff

Windsor, May 4 (AP)—The Bertie County grand jury today returned no true bills of indictment in the case of Sheriff Harry L. Smith.

Sheriff Smith had been accused of burglary and attempted rape. The charges were brought by Elizabeth Pitt, 40-year-old Negro school teacher, against the 36-year-old officer.

Manley H. White, foreman of the grand jury, returned the no true bills shortly after Superior Court convened this morning before Judge R. Hunt Parker.

Alabama Voters Decide Today On Party Loyalties

Montgomery, Ala., May 4 (AP)—Democrats voted in Alabama today on whether they will leave the party which has carried this state every election since 1924.

The issue is the civil rights program advocated by President Truman. It would force changes in southern racial laws, including those providing for segregation. His candidate in the major races today favors either Truman or his civil rights program.

Two methods of opposing the regular Democratic nominees for president and vice president are before the voters.

One method, unprecedented in recent history, is offered in the race for presidential electors. The state supreme court has ruled that the 11 electors, the men who actually cast Alabama's vote for president, may vote as they please in the electoral college.

Twenty-one of 36 candidates for these posts have signed a pledge they will not vote for Truman, or for any other party nominee who supports the Truman civil rights program.

The other method would be election of a slate of delegates pledged to walk out of the Democratic convention at Philadelphia if a strong civil rights plank is included in the party platform—or, if President Truman is nominated.

The delegate race has attracted the most attention of the voters. Eighty-four candidates seek the 75 places. Twenty-four are running for the eight delegate-at-large places.

Twenty-eight delegate candidates are pledged to bolt the Philadelphia convention if Truman is nominated, or if the civil rights program is included in the platform.

In addition to these two contests, a U. S. Senate seat and the state's nine seats in the U. S. House of Representatives are at stake in the primary, nomination in which is tantamount to election in this Democratic stronghold.

Push Action On Sending Cotton To Nippon Mills

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Early action on a bill to provide raw cotton and wool for textile industries in occupied countries will be sought by Southern congressmen.

Reps. Winstead (D-Miss.) and Vinson (D-Ga.) both said they will ask the House Armed Services Committee, of which they are members, for hearings in the near future.

Written by Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) and sponsored by numerous Southern senators, the bill was passed by the Senate last week.

It sets up a $150,000,000 revolving fund which the Army can use to purchase cotton and wool in a program designed to rehabilitate textile industries in occupied countries, especially Japan.

Under the plan as explained by Eastland the Army would borrow money from the fund, purchase cotton in this country and ship it to Japanese mills. The mills would process the cotton and sell textiles in the Orient.

UAW Extends Its New Pay Drive To Ford Co.

Detroit, May 4 (AP)—Demands for a 30-cent hourly pay boost and other concessions for 120,000 Ford Motor Co. workers today rounded out the CIO United Auto Workers' wage drive against the automotive industry's Big Three.

Armed with a list of 11 objectives, the Ford negotiating committee expected to start negotiations around July 15. The wage clause in the Ford contract will be re-opened on that date.

A hospital plan, pension setup and guaranteed weekly wage were among goals approved by the UAW's National Ford Council here yesterday. It was estimated the whole "wage package" demand might add up to as much as 50 cents an hour.

With possibilities of a May 12 strike hanging fire, the UAW was scheduled to meet Chrysler Corp. representatives again today. No progress was reported by either party on the union's demand for a 30-cent increase.

The union, through acting President Emil Mazyz, said today "our strike plan at Chrysler has not been altered" despite a legal ruling that a state-conducted employee vote is required before a strike would be legal.

Mazyz's statement followed the ruling by Michigan's attorney general that the balloting is required under the state's new Bonine-Tripp Act.

It is the opinion of the UAW-CIO, said Mazyz's statement, "that the strike vote provisions of the Bonine-Tripp Act do not apply to industries in interstate commerce and particularly to corporations which have plants in more than one state, as is the case of Chrysler Corp."

The union has met the strike balloting requirements of the federal Taft-Hartley law, but would not have time to conduct a state vote by May 12.

Split Developing On UN Schemes

Lake Success, May 4 (AP)—A split appeared to be developing today between the United States and Britain over the Palestine crisis.

This was indicated after the U.S. delegation held a special conference on Britain's new proposal to drop the American-sponsored plan for a Palestine trusteeship and create instead a neutral commission.

The U.S. already was at odds with Russia over the trusteeship scheme. Russia insists on carrying out partition of Palestine under the Nov. 29, 1947, decision put through the U.N. under joint U.S.-Russian sponsorship.

Informed quarters said the U.S. will continue to press for action on the trusteeship project despite Britain's declaration yesterday that such a plan would not work.

Both the American-sponsored trusteeship plan and the British proposal were up for discussion this afternoon by the 88-member Political Committee of the special Palestine Assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said his delegation feels the British plan is worth considering but that the U.S. is not convinced it would work any better than a streamlined trusteeship.

High Court's Ruling Important Decision On Whether Person Can Be Barred From Owning Or Living In Property Anywhere In U. S.; No Simple 'Yes' Or 'No'; The Conditions

Washington, May 4 (AP)—The Supreme court has given an important decision on this question: Can a person, because of race or color, be barred from owning or living in property anywhere in the United States?

The court's answer was not a simple yes or no. It was a kind of double answer. To understand it, here is the background.

In 1866, when Congress was eager to see newly-freed Negro slaves get equal treatment, the 14th amendment to the Constitution was adopted.

It says: "No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

In the years since 1866 the U. S. Supreme court has ruled that: It is contrary to the 14th amendment—and therefore unconstitutional—for any state or city to have a law barring a person, because of race or color, from owning or oc-

Austin C. Lovelace, distinguished North Carolina organist, will be presented in a recital at the Immanuel Baptist Church on Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock by the Greenville Music Club. The program will be given in observance of National Music Week and will be open to the public.

Lovelace, who is at present minister of music at the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro, has had a distinguished career as a musician. After graduation from High Point College, he went to Union Theological Seminary in New York City, where he was awarded the degree of Master of Sacred Music, with a major in organ, voice, and conducting. He has been a member of the faculty at the University of Nebraska and at Queens College in Charlotte.

During National Music Week Lovelace is making a tour of the eastern part of the state and is including Greenville in his itinerary. In the past he has appeared in organ recitals at Bruton Parish Church in Williamsburg, Va.; at Queens and Davidson, among state colleges; in Lincoln, Nebraska; and at Christ Church in Raleigh.

A composer as well as a performer, Lovelace has written anthems, works for the organ, and sacred songs. Eighteen of his numbers have been accepted for publication.

CAA Officials To Probe Crash

Andrews, May 4 —(AP)—Civil Aeronautics Authority officials came here today to investigate a plane crash which took the lives of two North Carolina highway patrolmen yesterday.

The two officers, Charles Elam Galloway, 29, of Murphy, and Joe Bob Davis, 22, of Webster, were killed when the trainer plane in which they were flying crashed at

Maryland Primary Has Small Turnout For Vote

Baltimore, May 4—(AP)—Maryland voters, participating in a particularly lackluster primary, put five incumbent Congressmen on the November ballot but one first term met defeat on the basis of unofficial returns today.

Rep. Hugh A. Meade, Baltimore attorney who in 1946 upset tradition by getting elected in the second district which usually chooses a "county" man, was more than 1,500 votes behind with almost all votes counted.

Meade carried Baltimore city but lost the lead early today to State Senator William P. Bolton of Towson, Md., after returns from Baltimore county neared completion.

With only one of 418 polling places missing, the vote for Bolton was 24,814 and for Meade 23,288.

The primary voting yesterday was only for Congressional nominations and for delegates to state Democratic and Republican conventions. The state delegates later this month will name delegates to the National Convention. They will be uninstructed. There was no statewide office at issue and no aspirant filed for a Presidential preference. This coupled with heavy rains held the vote to the smallest percentage in the memory of most living political leaders.

Observe 'Poppy Day' Here For Veterans Saturday May 29th

Memorial poppies which the people of Greenville will wear in honor of the war dead on "Poppy Day," Saturday, May 29, have been received by the Greenville unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The shipment came from the Veterans Hospital at Fayetteville, where the colored flowers were made by disabled veterans of both world wars working under supervision of the Rehabilitation Department of the Auxiliary.

"Making these flowers has provided interesting employment for veterans at the hospital during the winter and spring months," explained Mrs. T. K. Fountain, poppy chairman of the Auxiliary unit. "It has helped keep their hands and minds busy, relieving them of long hours of tedium and contributing its occupational therapy value toward their recovery."

"Such of the money is sent home by the veterans to help support their wives and children, who often have a difficult time when the veterans require hospitalization and are unable to work for long periods. It gives the veterans a decided lift in morale when they are able to send something to their families. Those without dependents use the money to create a nest egg for themselves against the day when they leave the hospitals and endeavor to re-establish themselves in life."

"The poppies are fashioned by hand, veterans working in their beds, in wheel chairs or in occupational therapy shops. Materials are provided by the Auxiliary and the finished products collected regularly by Auxiliary workers. The poppies are made of crepe paper in replica of the little wild poppies of France and Flanders, which grew on the battlefields and cemeteries of the two world wars," Mrs. Fountain said.

Certificates To Students Basic Sales Classes

President William H. Taft of the Greenville Merchants Association presented certificates to 22 students that they had completed a 10-hour course in basic selling technique at the conclusion of the classes at the City Hall this morning. The classes started April 19. This is one of two classes under auspices of the State Distributive Education Department, sponsored by the Greenville High School and the Merchants Association.

Mrs. Gaither C. Frye, the instructor, emphasized the sales person's personal preparation, the progressive steps in making a sale, and the fact that the sales person must assist the customer in making his purchase, and reminded the students to "take a minute to say Thank you."

Those receiving the certificates were: Mrs. Betty Jane Hassell, Doris Marie Davenport, Alice Hall and Bert Sutton, from Belk-Tyler's; Mrs. Beulah Lamm, Mrs. Reba Buck, from Sears-Roebuck; Mrs. Mary Fulford, Mrs. Mildred Sugg, Mrs. Olive Hodnes, Mrs. Dorothy Hatem, Lillwood Heath and Howard Sumrell, from Blount-Harvey's; Mrs. Cleo Nichols, Mrs. Edith Smith, Elizabeth Case and Lillie Mae Kite, from Rose's Store; Mrs. Estelle Corbett, Mrs. Ada Smith, Mrs. Sarah Stokes and Margaret Weber, from McLellan's Mrs.; Gertrude Nichols, from Efrid's Store; and Jane Broadwell, from the Diana Shop.

Falkland Citizens Elect New Mayor

At yesterday's municipal election in Falkland H. A. Nelson was elected mayor of the enterprising and progressive town. He succeeds Mayor Hugh C. Smith, who did not seek re-election.

The three members of the Board of Commissioners elected for a two-year term are W. J. Little, Col. T. K. Fountain and W. W. Wooten. Little and Fountain succeed themselves. Wooten will be serving his first term.

DO BRAN EATERS HAVE TASTE BUDS?

"You bet," say folks now enjoying Nabisco 100% Bran and the relief it helps to bring from constipation due to lack of diet-bulk! For this is the finer-flavored bran that tastes downright delicious! Extra-good as a "bulk" food, because Nabisco 100% Bran is finer-milled to make it milder—easier in action. (See a doctor if constipation persists.)

Flood Report — Crest Due Today

Strength FOR THE DAY IS SATAN A MYTH? Few people today believe in the existence of a personal devil. One recalls, however, the oft repeated statement of the evangelist Billy Sunday: "I know there is a personal devil," Sunday often shrieked as he pounded the pulpit, "and the reason I know is that I've done business with him."

Someone has said that the smoothest piece of work the devil did was to spread the report that he had died. "Do you believe in the devil's soul," said a little boy to his pal. "Naw," said the other little boy. "I see, it's like Santa Claus, it's your Pop."

But the Bible undoubtedly teaches that a supernatural evil personality (referred to as Satan, which means "Adversary") is at work countering the plans of God and destroying men's souls. Martin Luther thought he beheld Satan on one occasion and threw an inkwell at him. We may smile at Martin's excitement, but that doesn't explain away the devil.

The Bible writers knew nothing about impersonal force. To them all supernatural power is personal. They believed and taught that there is a supernatural power working over the world, just as there is a divine supernatural power working for good. And even a cursory reading of the Gospels reveals that Jesus shared this belief.

WASHINGTON LETTER By JANE EADS Washington — Rural women all over America are currently surveying their home-making activities and studying the special needs of their communities in a concerted effort to "better today's home for a better world tomorrow."

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE Deadwood, S.D.—(AP)—Day after day goes by here in this crossroads of the old west and nary a man falls, bullet-sliced in his own gore. The thud of gold pokes has given the way to the rustle of $5 bills. The bus has replaced the stagecoach. The soft scraping of "the kyards" is heard only behind locked doors, and so is the clicking roulette ball. The brick high school outshadows the biggest wooden saloon. The night is lit by the neon sign instead of the flaming six-gun, and the thudding boots of the outlaw's treading poe only in the pulp magazines. You get a ticket now for parking in the wrong place. The grandsons of the posers that chased the bad men out of town hold conclave on how to welcome the good tourist. Yesirree, podner, old Deadwood, capital of that vanished frontier where "the coward never started and the weak died on the way" has gone respectable. "Wild Bill" Hickok and "Calamity" Jane, asleep in their hill cemetery, wouldn't know the town they helped make famous—or infamous. Its present attack of civic virtue-gambling was banned two years ago — is deplored by some of Deadwood's citizens. They'd like to keep it the wide open town it was for 70 years, a place where the mirer, the stockman and the stranger could risk their stomachs at the bar and their pocketbooks at the blackjack table. But not 78-year-old D. M. McGahey, curator of the Adams Memorial Hall, a museum of Deadwood's crowded past. He feels that Deadwood's flamboyant characters — Hickok, "Deadwood Dick" and "Calamity Jane," army scout and lady tosspot—have had entirely too much attention. He calls them "the long hairs" and grudgingly keeps a case of their relics in the museum only out of deference to public interest. In the case is "the dead man's hand" — ace and eight of spades, ace and eight of clubs and queen of hearts — held by "Wild Bill" when the frontiersman, a man with 36 notches on his guns, was ventilated through the back by Jack McCall in the No. 10 saloon. "Wild Bill Hickok was never anything but a gambler here," grumbled McGahey. "As for Calamity Jane, the best you can say for her is that she never did anyone any harm except herself!" He disdained even to mention "Poker Alice," famous gimlet-eyed, cigar-smoking female card sharp. And as for "Deadwood Dick," the man who foiled the stagecoach robbers in a thousand western pulp tales, listen here. "Deadwood Dick—or at least one of the four men who called themselves that—was the dumbest fool that ever came over the pike," snorted McGahey. "He didn't know which end of a gun to hold away from him when he pulled the trigger. "What did these long-hair celebrities ever do for the country: people should pay more honor to the real pioneers who built up the west. Men like W. E. Adams, who came here in 1877, with a team of mules and a load of hardware and went into business. Adams, who died in 1934, left $100,000 to establish the museum. But Wild Bill and Calamity Jane, whatever their morals when alive, still draw hundreds of thousands of visitors here. The gunman and the amorous lady are buried in adjoining graves—which is closer than Hickok cared to be to her during his lifetime. "Some people try to make out that those two long-hairs were in love," grumbled McGahey, "but Wild Bill couldn't see her." Wild Bill finally lost his head to a souvenir hunter. It was stolen at night from the red sandstone statue over his grave.

Ballard's X Roads News

At the regular meeting of the Grange last week Mrs. L. B. Bennett, Ray Crawford and Durward Tyson were received into the Grange as new members. It was announced that Harry B. Caldwell, State Master of the Grange, would be in Walstonburg on Monday, April 26, to make a talk and answer questions in the interest of organizing a Grange in Walstonburg. Members of Beaver Dam Grange were invited to the meeting at Walstonburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Tyson honored members of their families and other invited guests at a dinner at their home on Sunday. Barbecue, saw, sandwiches, deviled eggs, bread, cake and tea were served picnic-style in a beautiful oak grove in front of their home. Approximately 75 guests enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Tyson's hospitality. Those attending from out of the community included Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Olinger and Mrs. Seymour Olinger of near Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Outlaw of Seven Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dixon and Mrs. Joe Jenkins of Saratoga, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hendrix and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roper of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. William Sugg of Farmville, Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Sugg of Greene county and Mrs. Roper of Hyde county. Mrs. Paul Barnes of Lucama is a former resident of Australia.

The April meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Arthur Christian church opened by singing the theme song, "Jesus Calls Us." The devotional, taken from "The World Call," was given by Mrs. L. B. Bennett. After the devotional, Mrs. Bennett reported on the district missionary rally held at Farmville Christian church recently. Mrs. Roy Nichols, assisted by other members of the society, presented the program for the afternoon. The program was based on several articles which appeared in "The World Call." There were 14 members present. Mrs. Fannie Willoughby was a guest. At the business meeting plans were made for "Children's Day in the Church." During the social hour the hostesses, Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Earl Hemby, served angel food cake and heavenly hash, topped with whipped cream and cherries.

On last Friday evening, Mrs. Mark Smith, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Sheppard of Snow Hill, entertained at an informal party in honor of the senior class of the Arthur High school of which Mrs. Smith's son, Mark Hassel, is a member. After the guests arrived, they played several games. Between the games, home-made candies were served. Dancing was then enjoyed by all present, after which everyone was invited into the dining room and served punch and cookies. Misses Louise and Jo Ann Tyson, Virginia and Malvina Crawford and Henry Dunn, from the Ballards Presbyterian Youth Fellowship, attended a district meeting in the Washington Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon and evening. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Elks attended a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Elks' sister, Mrs. Annie Laurie Riggsbee, in Durham Sunday. Friends of Miss Ardenne McLawhorn will be glad to know she has returned home after an operation in Pitt General Hospital, Greenville. Mrs. Linwood Braxton of Oak City spent last week with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Levi Braxton. G. T. Tyson, Paul Rasberry, Mark Smith, Moses Tyson and E. M. Tyson attended a meeting in Walstonburg Monday evening when State Grange Master Harry B. Caldwell was guest speaker. Mrs. Linwood Baker and son, Bobby, were week end guests of Miss Lou Manning near Oak City. Mrs. Mamie Ruth Holloway and Mrs. Bertha Briley attended the Rountree Christian Church Sunday and were dinner guests of Mrs. Heber Rogers. Misses Melvina Crawford and Jo Ann Tyson were guests of their teacher, Mrs. Amos Sexton, at E. C. T. C., Greenville, Thursday night. Mesdames Joe Jones, C. L. Jones,

Flying Lessons Are Available Under The 'GI Bill Of Rights'

By CHESTER WALSH The Civil Aeronautics Administration has approved Wings, Incorporated, (formerly Barnes Aircraft Service), as an advanced flying and ground school of aviation. It is now eligible to give instructions in commercial and private flying. Gene West is president, Tommy Sellers, vice president, and Charles F. Steinmeyer is secretary-treasurer. Heretofore the school was qualified to give primary flight instruction. Hugh Stokes of Greenville, a student at the school, made his first solo flight Sunday. Wings, Inc., is now qualified to give flying instruction under the "GI Bill of Rights" to ex-servicemen without cost to the student. The government pays for the tuition and the lessons cost the student nothing. He may take the lessons in his spare time while engaged in a gainful occupation. Sellers, Marine Reserve pilot, said today. Wings, Inc., Flying School has five trainer planes — one Stinson Station Wagon plane and four Aerocnas. Planes are available for long or short trips. Incidentally, planes are for hire daily and Sundays for short flights over the city.

Vote Negroes On Church Council

Boston, May 4—(AP)—The Methodist general conference today voted unanimously to have Negroes serve on the church's important judicial council.

The action followed a recommendation of the committee on Judicial Administration headed by the Rev. George W. Warner, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Church, San Diego, Calif.

The Judicial Council is composed by church leaders to the supreme court. It is made up of five clergymen and four laymen, all of them lawyers.

Their work is in the interpretation of points of church law.

The new action makes it mandatory to have a Negro elected to the judicial council. Previously Negroes have been nominated to the council but none has been elected.

The conference voted to increase the annual world service budget, by one third. The total set for the next four years was $7,903,379.

No Power, Water For Entire City

Dyersburg, Tenn., May 4—(AP)—Fire destroyed the power plant here early today, leaving the entire city without electricity or water.

Mayor Pagan Hart said the city of about 10,000 persons would be without water until an emergency generator could be brought in.

A lightning bolt struck the plant about 11 p. m. (CST), during a heavy electrical and rain storm.

RECORD ENROLLMENT

Raleigh, May 4—(AP)—A new record for spring term enrollment has been set at N. C. State College. The current figure is 4,894 compared with the previous high of 4,478, Registrar W. L. Mayer reported.

New, Independent Union To Invade Textile Industry

Gastonia, N. C., May 4—(AP)—A new, independent union today prepared to recruit southern textile workers.

The brotherhood of textile workers was founded at a meeting here over the week-end. Roy P. Seymour, a spokesman, said the workers from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, and Mississippi were at the organizational meeting.

He said the union will be affiliated with neither the CIO nor the AFL.

Seymour said the meeting passed a resolution that "the CIO especially is guilty of causing many unnecessary strikes resulting in the loss of many thousands of dollars from the workers' pay envelopes—and usually for nothing."

Rations Too Low For German Arts

Munich, Germany, May 4—(AP)—Actors and opera singers of Munich complained today they were too hungry to perform.

So both the Kammertheater, a house of plays, and the Bavarian state opera theater, closed their doors.

Eight actors of the Kammertheater presented certificates from their doctors that they had multiple diseases, all caused by malnutrition. The opera troupe did likewise. Both get the lowest category of rations.

Rat Responsible For Jail Alarm

Detroit, May 4—(AP)—A rat turned in a jail break alarm that sent police scurrying through prisoners' quarters last night.

Officers who heard the general alarm bell hurriedly converged on all exits to police headquarters. Others checked the cell blocks, but found everything in order.

Then the search was extended to the basement, where Lt. Richard Bowen discovered rats had chewed through a wire. That caused a short circuit that turned on the alarm.

B-29 CRASHES
Fuerstenfeldbruck, Germany, May 4—(AP)—An American B-29 crashed here shortly before midnight last night, killing one crew member and injuring two others. Nine other U. S. airmen aboard escaped injury. The $300,000 plane burst into flames and was destroyed.

Family Tragedy Follows Eviction

Allentown, Pa., May 4—(AP)—Mrs. Grace Feiertag, 39, was held on a murder charge today in the slaying of her crippled 14-year-old daughter Esther, an invalid since birth.

The girl was found dead yesterday in the Lehigh county home, a short time after the family had been taken there for temporary shelter. They had been evicted from their home.

"The eviction was the last straw," State Policeman Michael Wargo quoted Mrs. Feiertag as saying.

The officer said Mrs. Feiertag told this story of the tragedy:

The family—mother, father and five children—were evicted from their rented home in the morning, and were given shelter at the county home when they could not find another house.

Raymond Feiertag, a steelworker, was in Allentown when his family ate their noon meal at the county home. The oldest child, June, 16, was at school and Mrs. Feiertag sent the three youngest children for a walk.

Then she took Esther to the sun room, stuffed cotton in her mouth and held a handkerchief over her face.

Dr. R. W. Bachman, physician at the county home, found the girl's body in the sun room several hours later.

Clubs 'Dried Up' By Court Order

Carthage, May 4—(AP)—Eight swanky night clubs in the Southern Pines-Pinehurst resort area have been dried up.

The operators lost their beer and wine licenses after court trials yesterday, and drew fines ranging from $250 to $700.

They pleaded guilty to possessing tax-paid liquor for sale. The charges came after raids on the clubs 11 days ago by state ABC board, county and city officers.

About half of Canada's World War II production came from plants which did not exist in 1939.

Canada's three leading industries are agriculture, mining and forestry.

A General Electric Home Freezer keeps game and fish fresh for months!

THIS YEAR you won't have to gorge on venison until you're ready to swear off hunting, and then hunger for the stuff half the winter.

With a General Electric Home Freezer, you just freeze the fish and game you get. You eat the food you want when you want it.

A General Electric Home Freezer is grand for freezing and storing vegetables and fruits, baked goods, and ice cream. Your wife saves work and you save money on these foods.

To be sure of every satisfaction a home freezer can offer, be sure you get a General Electric.

The sealed-in refrigerating system is the same type as that used in General Electric Refrigerators. More than 1,700,000 of these systems have been in service ten years or more.

In repeated laboratory tests, the General Electric exclusive Perfect Seal cabinet construction proved so efficient that it kept food frozen for several days after the current was shut off.

Do this—today!

Put on your hat, and take your wife by the hand to our store. Let us show you how the General Electric Home Freezer can pay for itself over the years... and what a wonderful convenience it is for you—and for her!

Mackmen Win On Road Campaigns

Philadelphia, May 4.—(AP)—Philadelphia's American League entry came home today in second place but Connie Mack wishes the A's could finish the season on the road. The train of thought behind that wish is reasonable enough—the A's haven't lost a game this season away from the home stamping ground.

And on the other hand, the Mackmen haven't been doing so well in Shibe Park, winning one game in six starts.

The Athletics opened the 1948 campaign at Boston by taking a three-game series and breezed in for the first home stand of the year in top spot in the junior circuit.

That home stand turned out to be a nightmare for Mr. Mack and the A's strategy board. The Mackmen managed to salvage only one game from a four-game series with Washington and lost one to Boston and another to New York.

That put the A's back down in fourth place in the league with four wins and five losses.

As soon as the team took to the road, however, things began to pick up again. In a four-game stand at Washington, the A's won three straight from the Senators and were well on their way to number four when the second game of a twin bill was rained out with the Athletics leading 3-1 in the second inning.

Hand It Over

Fuero, Colo.—(AP)—Here's one with a new twist about the old baseball-through-window situation.

Charles Reak was charged with disturbing the peace when he had difficulty regaining possession of a batted ball which entered the home of a neighbor.

Deputy Sheriff William Lloyd said the neighbor told him that after the ball went through the window Reak walked into the house and "attempted to retrieve it forcibly."

Famous Jockey In Narcotic Case

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Earl Sande the famous jockey of the '20s and '30s who now owns and trains his own horses, faced Federal Grand Jury action today on a charge of illegal possession of narcotics.

The charge was made, U. S. Attorney J. Vincent Keogh said, after one of Sande's horses was found to have been drugged when it won a race at Jamaica April 21.

Sande, 49, was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Edward E. Fay. He waived examination and was released without bail.

Meanwhile, Stewards of the Jockey Club were scheduled to meet today to study the case.

Specifically, the former jockey is accused of failing to register the fact he possessed morphine, and to pay a special tax on it.

Keogh said traces of a drug were found in the horse, Big Stars, when a routine saliva test was made after the horse won the third race at Jamaica April 21.

Unbeaten ECTC Golfers Topped

William and Mary's Norfolk Division golfers shaded East Carolina Teachers, 15-12, over a wind-swept course here yesterday.

ECTC freshman ace Bill Stalls, whose home is in Norfolk, took medal honors with an 81.

The summaries:

Stalls, ECTC, defeated Adams, 2-1. Kelly, W&M, defeated Delbridge, 2-1 to 1-2. Tyler, W&M, defeated Massey, 2-1 to 1-2. Perkins, ECTC, defeated Powers, 3-0. Ohrin, W&M, defeated Renshaw, 2-1 to 1-2. Reynolds, W&M, defeated Harper, 2-1.

East Carolina, undefeated in North State Conference meets, will play the High Point golfers here Friday.

Where's Elmer? Well, if it's Elmer Ward you have in mind, the chances are that you'll find him on a golf course around Boston, New York, Cincinnati or Sanford, Me. Ward makes most of his business trips to these points in his private plane and he totes along his golf clubs.

Ward, a former New England amateur golf champion, is the sponsor of the Goodall Round-Robin Invitation Golf Tournament, the all-star professional golf meeting which he inaugurated in 1938 at Cincinnati. Sixteen of the nation's top pros are invited to compete in the round-robin match play. They play in groups of four, each man playing the other three simultaneously at 18-hole match play. The pairings are changed in each of the five rounds so that each player meets every other player in the field. Sammy Sneed won the first Goodall tournament followed by Harry Cooper, Ben Hogan (twice) Paul Runyan and Bobby Locke.

A resident of Boston, Ward was an all-round athlete at Boston English high school and won all-scholastic honors in ice hockey. His son, Larry, scored the goal which enabled Harvard to defeat Yale, 1-0, on ice last winter. Ward, together with Bing Crosby, made a bid to buy the Boston Braves, National League baseball club, in 1940 but their offer was rejected because of Crosby's horse racing interests.

Musial May Find '48' His Greatest Year In Baseball

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This may be Stan Musial's greatest year since he came up to the major leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals near the end of the 1941 season.

In his first 11 games, the 27-year-old native of Donora, Pa., has built up a robust .383 batting average. But that is not the entire story.

Stan's 18 hits include four doubles, three triples and two home runs. All figures are high up among the leaders. He has driven in 14 runs, almost one third of the Cardinals' total.

Tuttarow with four more to go. Only Walker Cooper of the New York Giants and Hank Sauer of the Cincinnati Reds, with 15 each, have batted in more.

Quite a difference from his showing last year at a corresponding date, when he was hitting a puny .167 and had driven in only four runs.

East Carolina Netters Defeat Wake Forest

The ECTC netters continued their winning ways on the tennis courts here yesterday by downing the Wake Forest aggregation, 5-2, in a contest highlighted by the fine sportsmanship of both clubs.

The win over Wake Forest was the fourth in a row for the Pirates whose only loss for the season has been to the strong University of Richmond team.

Thursday and Friday, the Pirates meet High Point in a pair of conference matches that may well determine the top spot for the year.

The summary:
W. Harrison (ECTC) defeated M. Watkins, 6-2, 6-3. Hudson (ECTC) defeated R. Bland, 6-0, 6-1. Heath (ECTC) defeated Wall, 6-4, 9-7. R. Williams (ECTC) defeated P. Williams, 6-0, 7-5. B. Walker (WF) defeated G. Balle, 6-2, 6-4.

W. Harrison and Ben Harrison (ECTC) defeated Watkins and Wall 6-3, 8-6. Bland and Williams (WF) defeated E. Hudson and C. Moyer, 6-4, 9-7.

Streamlined Ski Travels Faster

London.—(AP)—A new streamlined ski designed in Britain and put through rigorous tests during the Olympic games at St. Moritz is claimed to be lighter and 10 per cent faster than any other.

Invented by Donald Gomme, technical adviser to the Ski Club of Great Britain, it is a combination of steel, plastic and wood. Embodying the latest methods of shaping wood and metal, the new ski is made with a complete high tensile steel shoe with an overshoe made from English ashwood.

After use by British Olympic athletes down Swiss glaciers, the ski is to be manufactured for export.

Kramer Enjoying Tremendous Lead

Albany, N. Y., May 4.—(AP)—Jack Kramer will seek his 60th triumph against Bobby Riggs tonight in the 7th duel of their cross-country professional tennis tour.

Kramer, 1947 world amateur champion, disposed of Riggs, 6-2 6-2, before 2,500 fans last night at Syracuse.

Lombardo Fails To Break Record

Desert Beach, Calif., May 4.—(AP)—Bandleader Guy Lombardo plans another attempt at breaking the American speed boat record next fall.

He disclosed his plans after failing in three tries yesterday to crack the American standard of 124.915 miles an hour set in 1932 by Gar Wood.

Lombardo registered top speed of 119.601 on one lap of his third trial run in his $100,000 boat, Tempo VI. He averaged 116.050 for the run. He averaged 117.845 on his first run over the measured mile on Salton Sea.

Hunters Wasted A Lot Of Time

Cheyenne, Wyo.—(AP)—Here's a statistical picture of disappointment. The state game and fish department estimates that of more than 20,355 hunters who sought big game in Wyoming last year, about 12,000 were disappointed.

These 12,000 unfortunate hunters spent an average of 3.5 days in the field, a total of 42,000 days.

In other words they wasted more than 100 years on the trail of mountain goats, bear and deer.

Patience Needed In Table Tennis; Dangerous, Too

(AP) Newsfeatures

South River, N. J.—Don't laugh, but table tennis has its physical dangers, too.

Lou Pagliaro, who probably has played and won as many tournaments as any man alive, tells of how once during a crucial match, he came dashing in from about 20 feet before the table for a shot that barely cleared the net. Only trouble was, he couldn't stop, and went sailing under the table.

"The same thing happened to a fellow in New England a couple of weeks ago," said Pagliaro, who put on a trick shot exhibition here. "He really flew under the table, but fortunately he got out without being hurt—except for a few scratches."

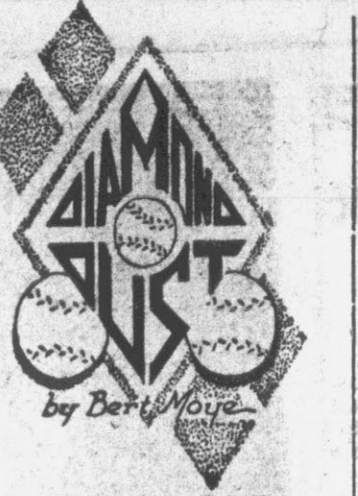

Pagliaro and his two partners, Henflatta Wright and Hamilton Canning, are touring the country in exhibition matches, and they put on a man sized show with Lou playing himself. He madly dashes back and forth from one side of the table to the other, blasting cigarettes off the corner of the table (which is real sharpshooting—try it sometime).

Pagliaro says the game is no joke, and the demonstration seemed to bear him out. He and his partners played on a table that was in the middle of the pace got so fast the rivals were whacking the ball back and forth at each other from the foul lines—no kidding.

Pagliaro, a short, dark-haired fellow, is a serious student of the game and has been for 18 years since he began his career in a New York City boys club.

Lou says that if you ever want to become a good player, you've got to have a good eye and some fast footwork. Then he comments, about a year of practice and you learn to master the rudimentary strokes. That, of course, is only the beginning. The next step is to get to work on the more complicated strokes, after which you can call yourself a "good" player.

The feminine part of the team, Miss Wright, for example, says she has been a tournament and exhibition player for 10 years, but still has a great deal to learn. She says she has not completely mastered the science of the top and bottom spin.

Business Manager Bob Doty announced yesterday that Jack Thrush rookie first sacker from Columbus, Ohio, who is signed to a Seattle contract by Detroit and was here on option, has had his option transferred to the Wilmington Club of the Tobacco State League. It was also announced that Paul Simmons, who caught part of the season with the Greenies last season before receiving an injury, has been sold outright to Fitzgerald, Ga., of the Georgia-State League.

Although the official Coastal Plain League schedule calls for Greenville to play in Rocky Mount tonight, the game was switched about a month ago and the two teams will open their first in-a-two-game series at Guy Smith stadium here tonight with the teams moving to Rocky Mount for Wednesday's night . . . Luis Arroyo, the little Puerto Rican southpaw, who pitched for a total of 14 innings against Kinston last Friday, will be on the mound for the Greenies tonight when they tackle the league leading Leafs . . . Another new Greenie player has arrived and will make his initial appearance in the Greenville line up tonight. He is Fernando Ramos, a limited service infielder, who comes to the Greenville club well recommended as a long ball hitter . . . He is a Puerto Rican.

The Greenies played their first errorless game last night of the season and really showed fans how to hit, collecting a total of 21 hits during the eighteen inning affair . . . Two more double plays were made by the Greenies last night . . . A tied up game is the same as a rained out game and means that the Greenies and the Tobs will have a double-header to play when they meet over in Wilson on May 15th.

Chuck Harrison, a member of the Tars pitching staff has gone home. The highly-recommended right-hander has been unable to find his stuff since going to Tarboro from Rocky Mount last year. He expects to go back home for about a month. He says he'll report back to Tarboro at the end of this time, if he feels his arm is in better shape. Otherwise he'll forsake baseball this season . . . And latest word from up Durham way is that Beaumont of the Texas League is returning Eddie Neville's contract. Rumor has it that the crack southpaw will do his hurling in Tarboro this year. He lead the league last year and has expressed the desire to toss for the Tars once again.

Here and there—Vernon Blackwell, now of the Goldsboro Goldbugs, but last year a Rocky Mount Leaf, spent 10 months in the Pacific as a lieutenant in the Air force . . . ## Koslo Is Another Mound Surprise

Cincinnati, May 4.—(AP)—Dave Koslo, New York's stylish southpaw, is spiking the theory that the Giants have a one-man pitching staff in Larry Jensen.

The 28-year-old native of Menasha, Wis., in two starts this season has done everything expected of any pitcher, and a little more besides. He has won both in superb fashion, allowing but one run in 18 innings.

Koslo registered his second victory last night with a neat four-hit shutout over the Reds in Cincinnati. He fanned five and showed near perfect control, walking only one batter.

The lefthander made his 1948 debut exactly a week ago, limiting the Philadelphia Phillies to seven hits in registering a 5-1 victory at the Polo grounds.

Koslo's feat last night was all the more remarkable for two reasons. First, the stocky elbow-erwerent an operation for the removal of some chips in his pitching elbow only last January. He missed most of the spring training season and Manager Mel Ott had not figured on much help from him until mid-May at the earliest.

Second, Koslo was facing his jinx team yesterday. In three years, he had beaten the Reds only once before last night. The Reds gained five decisions over him, including three for three in 1947.

Only three Red batters reached him safely yesterday.

Barker Says Vet Bonus Can Come Out Of Surplus

Raleigh, N.C., May 4—(AP)—Oscar Barker, who advocates a state bonus for war veterans, says the money could come from the state's surplus.

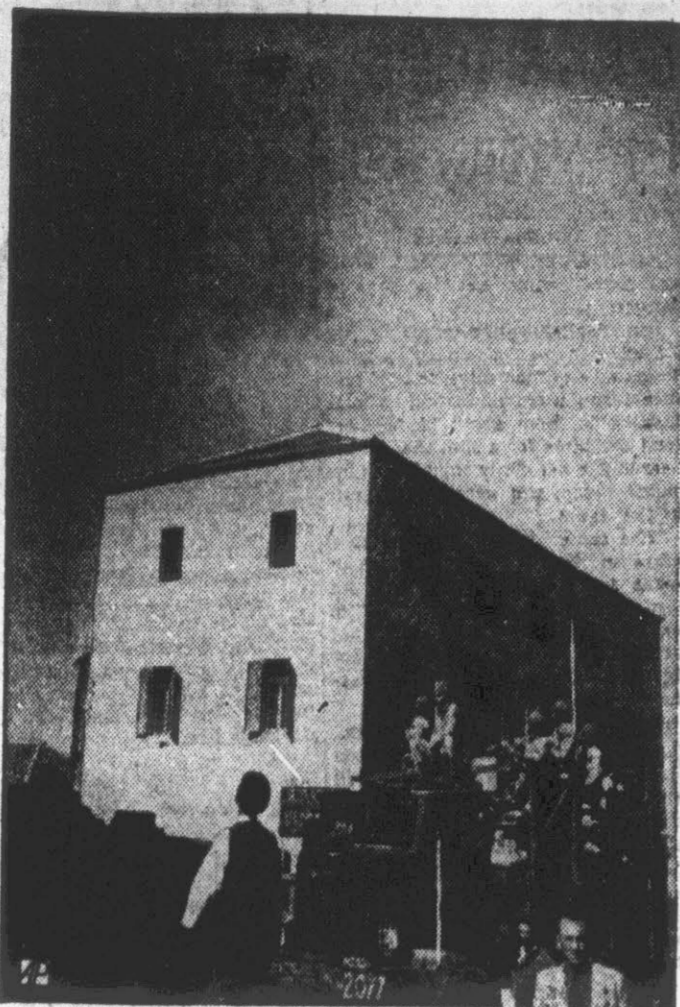

In a speech in his campaign for governor, Barker told the Morehead City Junior Chamber of Commerce last night that veterans need cash to aid their reestablishment in civilian life.

"Our state surplus accumulated while the men and women in the armed forces were spending their time and in many instances their future well-being for the folks at home," he declared.

Three other gubernatorial candidates—Kerr Scott, Mayne Albright and Charles M. Johnson—also were busy in the battle of words leading to the May 29 Democratic Primary. Scott said in a courthouse speech at Danbury that "the political machine trying to grab control of the government in Raleigh is under-rating the intelligence of the people of North Carolina." But the people, Scott declared, "aren't suckers" and they "love their liberty too well to put their heads into the yoke the machine has ready for them."

Albright predicted he will receive 200,000 votes in the primary and will land in a run-off contest. In a statement issued here, he added the forecast that he will carry 35 counties and break even in 35 more.

Johnson, in a speech before the Siler City Rotary Club, urged that people turn out and vote in the primary. "Personally," he said, "I would like to see the largest number of votes cast in the state's history."

Former Governor J. Melville Broughton, campaigning for the U. S. Senate, told the Charlotte League of Women Voters that "much credit for social progress in North Carolina and in the nation during recent years can be attributed to the influence of women." It was his third speech of the day. Previously he had spoken before the Greensboro Rotary Club and the Charlotte Junior Chamber of Commerce. Broughton's opponent, Senator William B. Umstead, planned to return to the state today from Washington for a radio address from Durham tonight.

Military Rites For Farmville Man Wednesday

Thomas Herman Rouse, Jr., who was killed in action with the marines at Iwo Jima, in the Pacific, in February, 1945, will be buried with full military honors in Farmville. The body will arrive in Wilson Wednesday afternoon and will be taken to the Farmville Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held there Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. Rev. E. S. Coats, Presbyterian minister, will officiate. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery in Farmville. The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will accord him full military honors with a firing squad.

Mr. Rouse, enlisted in the marines November 19, 1943. He was attached to the Fifth Division, 26th Battalion,

At Courthouse

Kerr Scott, who resigned as State Commissioner of Agriculture to run for Governor, will speak in the Pitt County Courthouse at 8 p. m.

Scott arrived here today after a swing through western counties and he reported that everywhere he went he found the people rallying to his cause.

"There is unmistakable evidence," he said, "that the people intend to elect their own Governor this year, and not have a candidate hand-picked by the machine rammed down their throats."

and had much service in the Pacific. His body was returned to this country on the SS Walter S. Schwenk. It arrived at San Francisco March 20.

The Farmville post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was named in honor

Upsets In City Election; Two Incumbents Out

In the city primary election yesterday to elect four members of the nine-man board of aldermen, two incumbents, Berry Bostic and Robert S. Moye, were defeated.

C. B. Mayo, second ward was unopposed received 20 votes; L. E. Buchanan, third ward, incumbent, defeated Richard Forrest, 80 to 76; James E. Collins, fourth ward, defeated Robert S. Moye, incumbent 77 to 30; J. Ed Waldrop, fifth ward, defeated Berry Bostic, incumbent 158 to 86.

Mayor Jack Boyd and Aldermen C. A. Bowen, W. Z. Morton, W. H. Smith and Noah G. Raynor are holdovers until next year.

The Board of Aldermen, sitting as a canvassing board, met at the City Hall at noon today to canvass the ballots and declare the winners. Mayor Jack Boyd presided.

The aldermen elected yesterday will be sworn in at the City Hall at noon on July 1.

Dog Responsible For Road Block

Rome, Wis., May 4—(AP)—A frisky dog cut off half of the road leading to this southeastern Wisconsin community yesterday.

The pup was trotting across the bridge over the Rock River, when Frank Beaver, 49, of Rome, drove along in his car. Beaver spotted the dog, braked his car and swerved into a steel girder.

The west end of the span plunged into the water, with Beaver's car atop it. He was slightly shaken up. The dog scrambled to safety.

The bridge, the only link to the northeast out of Rome, served the only road to the town of less than 200 population.

Listen!

The only time you've ever heard a motor give out with that proud, fine-car whisper, was in a car far above Mercury's price class. This 8-cylinder, V-type power plant is designed and built exclusively for the ALL-NEW Mercury.

Beq Pardon—but sitting is important!

This 1949 ALL-NEW Mercury gives you a lullaby ride on just ordinary roads—and even over the worst rut-roads. It has all-new spring suspension—a low center of gravity—down-to-earth roadability. And you'll be glad all over about Mercury's new fog-free, leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control."

The touch of your toe

proves that this ALL-NEW Mercury has all-new super-brakes. Press the pedal gently. Quickly, surely, you come to a velvety-smooth stop. Just knowing you can count on that kind of safety helps you relax and enjoy the quietest, easiest glide-ride you ever knew.

First look

tells you this car is more than a new model, it's the ALL-NEW 1949 Mercury! Longer, lower—with an eager look that's a standing invitation to jump in and take off. Wider, too—with its sturdiness skillfully hidden under a sleek, style-wise, curved-arch silhouette. A choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

Take the wheel, hands!

You don't over-steer a Mercury. You do take curves with more smiling confidence because of Mercury's perfect balance. And you do drive with more safety and comfort on Mercury's new, oversize, super-balloon tires.

You'll be happy, too, with an

Visiting Nurse

by Kathleen Harris

Chapter 1
"Why, this girl is a nurse!" Those were the first words Hildred heard when she regained consciousness.
"What would a nurse be doing out here? What could have happened to have made her come tumbling out of the brush like that?
And why, in heaven's name, would anyone want to shoot at her?"
Hildred decided, at this point, it was time to move in spite of being so comfortable. She fluttered the lashes that were so unbelievably long, stirred slightly.
Two pair of firm, strong hands instantly proceeded to hold her down.
"Lie still!" the authoritative voice commanded in such a manner as to show it was used to having all orders obeyed without question.
"Better take it easy, Miss!" another but rougher one admonished.

put up today.
"Why didn't you send someone else, Miss . . . I am sorry but I do not know your name."
"Hildred McNaughten," she made it as brief as he had. "There is no one else to send."
She was glad that they had reached the edge of town and would soon be at her destination.
She said, "I'd like to be put out at the next corner, please. And, even if you don't want my thanks—
I hope you won't think me ungrateful. Why, I owe you my very life,
Mr. Lanier!"
"Hardly that. Yet, perhaps, I shall claim some small portion of your life, Miss McNaughten."
She thought that an odd thing for him to say. She did not exactly like his saying it. "I never forget an obligation; I shan't forget this one. And now if you'll kindly have Robin pull up—this is the place. The clinic is on the second floor of that corner building."
"You know," he said, with a smile that was almost friendly, "you really ought to let us take you to a good doctor or a hospital. That wound of yours should be properly dressed."
"We have a very good doctor at the clinic." It was a good thing
Randy—Doctor Randolph Baird, head of the clinic—had not heard that "My arm will be taken care of, I assure you."
"Well then, suppose you have dinner with me tomorrow evening? So that I may see for myself that that arm of yours has been properly looked after. I'll have Robin call for you, here at the clinic around five-thirty."
"Well, I . . . I guess that will be all right." Her acceptance was none too enthusiastic or even gracious.
Apparently it not only satisfied her escort, it seemed to amuse him.
"I assure you," he bowed gravely in taking his departure, "that you will be perfectly safe—if that is what is bothering you, Miss McNaughten."

Rotarians Induct
Seven Members
Monday Night

By WYATT BROWN
Seven new members were inducted into the Rotary Club last night with Carl Adams delivering the chief address of the occasion. The "baby" Rotarians were: Kenneth Allen, Allen Hurburt, Jack Howard, Erskine Duff, J. B. Kittrell, Jr., Alton Johnson, and Harold Thomas.
Rotarian Adams cited the Rotary ideal of service in the four main fields—personal, business, community and international—as providing Rotarians with a definite purpose in its effort and accounting for the success of Rotary. He elaborated on the idea of service through acquaintance: opportunity for service through acquaintance with other people, with an ideal, and for an ideal.
Further Dr. Adams pointed out that one should become cognizant with the significance of the public school system in maintaining the American way of life. The Rotary Club he sees as a bulwark for the school. Specifically as an example he mentioned how Rotarians might, after study of the merits, promote the adoption by the State of the idea of teachers salaries having a legal status.
In concluding Dr. Adams greeted and congratulated the new members. Then he had Roy Martin to present each with his Rotary pin, a copy of the Rotary Code of Ethics, and a pamphlet on Rotary information.
There were no guests or visiting
Rotarians last night. Roy Martin

Eisenhower Says 'Draft' Futile; Is No Candidate

New York, May 4—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says the "draft-Eisenhower movement" lapel buttons are "wasted effort."

The general, back in civvies and installed in his new home on the Columbia University campus, exhibited the Eisenhower grin when he made the remark yesterday as a newsmen held up one of the buttons to him.

He was asked at a news conference if he would accept the presidential nomination if he was nominated by either major party without his authorization. His answer was: "I wrote a letter last January which I expect you have read. As far as I am concerned, nothing has changed the conviction I expressed at that time. I stand by that letter."

Eisenhower had said in the January letter that he was not a candidate for political office.

"It was an honest letter," he told the newsmen. "I slaved a long time writing it. So far, I know of nothing that has changed my conviction in that regard."

The general, who becomes president of Columbia on June 7, said he feels like a "recruit" in his new endeavor—or "as they say here, a freshman."

Has Real Job In Filling Tax Forms

Philadelphia, May 4—(AP)—Filling out income tax forms for an itinerant day laborer was more than just a headache—it was practically a steady job.

Francis R. Smith, collector of internal revenue for the Philadelphia district, said yesterday that a man who listed his occupation as "freight unloader" turned in 104 W-2 Short Forms to complete his tax return for 1947.

Smith said the man, father of three small children, was employed by 51 different firms in seven states, being rehired by some employers during last year to account for the difference between the number of forms and job totals.

The mark of 104 Short Forms, Smith said, exceeded the previous record of 75 filled out by an individual. The government, Smith added, refunded the new record holder $100 in tax overpayment on his $80-a-week average pay.

Nightmare Ride On Gas Truck With No Brakes

Ogallala, Neb. —(AP)—It could have been a truck driver's nightmare but it was a real life for Norman Hester, of Grant, Neb. He rode a brakesless, runaway loaded truck of liquefied gas 12 blocks down Ogallala's main business thoroughfare without scratching a fender or bowing over a pedestrian.

His brakes gave out on a hill. He shifted to a lower gear but that wouldn't stop the heavy truck and the clutch was torn out, leaving the vehicle to roll free. By the time he reached the business district the truck was traveling 45 miles an hour. He avoided by split seconds an intersection collision. A freight train pulled across his path. He made a sharp turn and cleared the corner on two wheels.

The truck finally rolled to a stop.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✓ STOMACH GAS
✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morose, lousy, fretful, nervous, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing the flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalines to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps! Build Sturdy Health.

backs up such a private, restrictive agreement. Why?

Because then it is a state acting "without due process of law." Why? Because the court is acting for the state and the Supreme court already has ruled a state can't have a law barring a person from owning property on account of his race or color.

So, in short, the Supreme Court decision means:

You, Jones and Smith can agree among yourselves not to sell or rent to a Negro. You're not violating the 14th amendment by that.

"That amendment," says Chief Justice Warren, "protects no shield against merely private conduct, however discriminatory or wrongful."

But, from now on, you can't get a state court to back up your private agreement. And if a Negro can find a way of moving into your neighborhood, no court can order him out because of race or color.

The Supreme court decision speaks only of race or color. It says nothing about agreements that would bar anyone, such as a Jew, on religious grounds. One of the most highly-placed lawyers in the government pointed out this. He said:

"I would think that the Supreme court limited its decision to race or color. I certainly think the decision prevents a state from backing up an agreement that discriminated because of religion."

Maybe a test case will be taken to the Supreme court to get an outright decision on the religious question.

The prayer is that it may not have to be decided by a jihad, or holy war—the most terrible of all conflicts. Whether it can be settled by negotiation depends in large degree on the United Nations. And what of our peace organization: its fate fits in the general picture of this decisive year. The view of many close observers is that the U.N. will have to be remodeled to enable it to function. Then the nations of good will—which comprise a big majority of the globe's countries—would have a chance to do constructive work.

Storm-Battered Towns Reviving

McKinney, Tex., May 4—(AP)—McKinney and nearby Princeton began to snap back to life today after two north Texas towns were flooded yesterday by a violent tornado that killed three, injured 53 and caused widespread damage.

The storm, lashing out of a darkened hall-swept sky, lengthened the list of tornado casualties in six states within a 48-hour period to 22 dead and more than 156 injured. Storms hit Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The tornado battered the south part of McKinney and traveled on to Princeton, where heavy damage was suffered.

Two field kitchens were speeded here to help feed hundreds of homeless. One was fed here from Fort Worth and the other, a Red Cross mobile unit, from Oklahoma City. Mayor R. F. Newsome and Public Works Director J. R. Bryan estimated that damage in McKinney alone exceeded $500,000.

Annual Dance Revue For Benefit Of Wing At Pitt Hospital

At the last club meeting the Junior Woman's Club completed plans for sponsoring a dance revue—"The Magic Garden"—to be presented in Austin Auditorium Wednesday evening, May 12 under the direction of Miss Margaret Rose of Greenville and New Bern.

Miss Rose had planned a most delightful and varied program in which she consolidates the individual talents of each of her students. The costumes and stage settings, designed by her, promise to be colorful and attractive, forming interest and appropriate background for the dance interpretations of her proteges.

The proceeds of this venture will benefit the main year-to-year project of the Junior Club, that of the "Watson Memorial Children's Wings" of Pitt General hospital.

The United States is losing the equivalent of 500,000 acres of topsoil a year due to erosion.

Wooten, $15; Jim Freeman, $15; Della P. Coburn, $15.

Hitler's Jaw In Russia, He Says

Nuernberg, Germany, May 4—(AP)—Hitler's dentist said today he is sure the Russians have Der Fuhrer's jaw.

"I read in a German dentistry magazine that my former assistant, Katharine Heusermann, in Russian custody, identified the remains of a human jaw as Hitler's," Prof. Hugo Plaschke said in an interview.

"She cannot give a positive identification because she knows only some X-rays of Hitler's teeth. But what convinced me is that the author of the article ridiculed the old-fashioned style of the dentist's work."

"I used old-fashioned work when I made Hitler a bridge of 12 false teeth in his upper jaw in 1934. So I'm convinced the Russians have Hitler's jaw. Why don't the Russians show this jaw to me? I only need one look and can definitely state this is or is not Hitler's jaw."

Hitler reportedly died by his own hand in the Reichschancellery bunker just before Berlin fell. His body never was found.

Plaschke, 66, now is awaiting denazification. He said he studied dentistry at the University of Philadelphia from 1908 to 1911. He held the rank of major general in the SS (Elite Guard) in Nazi days, but said the position was "only social."
