No Change In Rail Walkout Picture

President Still Hoping For Last-Minute Settlement; Steelman And Railway Mediator Start Conference; Strike Date Set For Tuesday

Washington, May 5 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman still hopes for a settlement to avert the threatened railroad strike.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the President holds out hope despite the collapse of efforts to mediate the wage dispute.

Ross talked with reporters just before Frank Douglas, head of the National (Railway) mediation board began a conference with Presidential assistant John R. Steelman.

The conference was for Douglas to report on the collapse of negotiations at Chicago looking to an agreement between representatives of the railroad brothers and of the carriers.

The strike has been called for next Tuesday.

In reply to questions, Ross said he knows of no tangible evidence that an agreement can be worked out. He said that "there's still a possibility the proposed strike will be settled," and said "the President has not given up hope."

He added that until the last minute before a strike there is "always a chance" for an agreement. He said Mr. Truman was clinging to that hope.

At the same time he said he did not look for any important developments today. He did not know whether representatives of the carriers and brotherhoods would be called to the White House.

Government attorneys say the President has power to seize the railroads, but that would be a step of last resort.

Other high administration officials want to avoid this step because of the uncertainty they foresee in getting men to run the trains if the government should step in.

Chief Executive has assigned his labor adviser and mediation experts the job of finding a way out of the strike threat. Presumably Steelman and Douglas will consider whether to recommend that Mr. Truman call in carriers and brotherhood representatives for a personal talk with them.

British Tobacco Buyers Plan For Heavy Purchases

Richmond, Va., May 5 (AP)—Spokesman for British tobacco buyers said here today they would ship to the United Kingdom "as rapidly as possible" some 80,000,000 pounds of flue-cured leaf purchased from the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Stabilization Corporation.

The tobacco, purchased from 1946 and 1947 crops, held by the growers cooperative, was estimated to cost upwards of $40,000,000.

Final plans for the purchase were made here late yesterday by co-op officials, representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture and British buyers.

Company officials said here today it was not clear when further purchases might be made.

Foreign Trade Debate

Foreign Trade Affects Everybody, Housewives, Businessmen, Farmers And Laborers; The Argument Over Tariff Laws; Reciprocal Trade Treaties

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 5 (AP)—If you're a housewife you may not think of "foreign trade" as something that affects you. But it does, sooner or later, because a lot of our prosperity, and world prosperity, is wrapped up in foreign trade.

If you are an American businessman or farmer, with things to sell here or abroad, foreign trade affects you directly. And now once more, as in other years, Democrats and Republicans are quarreling over the way we handle our foreign trade.

The root of the argument goes deep. But it is not hard to understand if you look back a bit into American history. Here's the background:

You made shoes. A man in France made shoes. He was able to sell his shoes here cheaper than you. He was ruining you.

You appealed to our government for help. The government set up a tariff to protect you from the foreign competition.

Which meant: there was a tariff or duty or tax on every one of the Frenchman's shoes coming in here for sale.

If that tariff was high enough, he'd have to sell his shoes here at a higher price than yours, if he

Backers Of Oleo Tax Repeal Bill Score In Senate

Vote 47 To 30 To Send House-Passed Measure To Finance Committee

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Backers of the oleo tax repeal bill scored a victory today as the Senate voted 47 to 30 to send the House-passed measure to the Senate Finance Committee.

The Senate thus reversed the decision of its presiding officer, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

The vote was on appeal by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) to set aside Vandenberg's ruling that the bill should be handled by the Agriculture Committee.

Backers of the margarine measure have contended the bill would have a better and quicker chance of winning approval if assigned to the Finance group.

However, senators on both sides said before the balloting that they did not regard today's vote as an indicator of the bill's final fate.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) is chairman of the Finance Committee which now will study the measure.

Vandenberg decided in favor of the agriculture group yesterday. Then he invited an appeal. Fulbright took him up on that, asking that the controversial measure be referred instead to the Finance Committee.

The Senate agreed to vote on the issue at 1 p.m. (EST) today.

Foes of the oleo repealer, mainly from the belt and producing states, want the Agriculture Committee to get the bill. Backers of the measure believe it would have a better chance in the Finance Committee.

Both sides insisted that today's vote would not be a barometer of the bill's final fate.

Senator Alken (R-W.V.), an Agriculture Committee member, said he expects the Republicans to line up solidly behind Vandenberg with a number of Democrats going along on the ground that the oleo measure is mainly an agriculture matter.

"The outcome won't indicate how the Senate would vote on the bill itself," he said.

Seek Settlement In Phone Dispute

New York, May 5 (AP)—Company and union officials arranged to meet with a federal mediator today in an effort to settle a wage dispute involving 24,000 long lines telephone workers in 42 states.

The union yesterday turned down an offer of the long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to extend the present contract for two years without a general wage increase.

The contract expires at midnight Saturday.

Fred Royster Cautions Against Over-Optimism

Raleigh, N. C., May 5 (AP)—The president of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association thinks growers should "not get overly optimistic" over a British purchase of 80,000,000 pounds of leaf tobacco.

Fred S. Royster of Henderson expressed gratification at the purchase but said that even if the

Seek Arab-Jewish Truce In Holy City

Neutrals And Two Arab Leaders Believed In Jericho; Quiet Returns To Judean Hills; Typhoid Spreads In Acre

Jerusalem, May 5 (AP)—Four neutrals and two Arab leaders were reported to be trying for an Arab-Jewish truce for Jerusalem today.

United States, French and Belgian consuls general, members of the United Nations truce commission, and Col. Roscher Lund of the UN are believed to have gone to Jericho to meet Ahmed Hilmi Pasha of the Arab higher executive, and Taqquidin Al Solh, brother of the Lebanese premier.

The meeting was to have been held yesterday, but failed to take place because of a communications breakdown.

Haganah loudspeakers were moved close to Arab quarters in Jerusalem during the night. Appeals were broadcast to the inhabitants in Arabic to "live in peaceful cooperation" with the Jews. The speaker urged the Arabs to change their leaders.

The southern Judean hills were quiet again this morning after yesterday's battle in which Jews claimed Arab legionnaires shelled Kefar Etzion settlement and tried to storm it. Jewish sources said five Arabs were killed by mines and 23 vehicles destroyed.

Acre, Palestine, May 5 (AP)—Authorities expressed fear today of a typhoid epidemic. Eighty-two cases—46 of them British—already have been reported in this crowded city.

A city official said the mayor and head of the Acre health department are in Lebanon appealing for serum to inoculate Acre's 15,000 inhabitants.

An Arab spokesman in Haifa said the Lebanese government had promised to send typhoid serum and a team of about 10 doctors and nurses to fight the disease.

Forty of the British victims are soldiers from one company of the Middlesex Regiment. The other six are constables. British military sources said five other British soldiers are regarded as suspect cases.

Acre is located across the bay, eight miles from Haifa. After Jewish forces occupied Haifa two weeks ago, thousands of Arabs fled to Acre.

Proposes Bonus To Get Recruits

Idea Is Substitute For Draft; Inducements To Join Services

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Draft foes in Congress found their first definite rallying point today—a bonus-studded, grass roots recruiting plan.

Its sponsor is House Rules Chairman Leo Allen (R-Ill.), whose powerful committee has kept up a Universal Training Bill bottled up for more than nine months.

The midwesterner told a news conference he was sending up a trial balloon to see what opponents of an outright draft think of his idea. He said he is willing to wait as long as two weeks to find out.

This, Allen said, makes it almost certain that the Andrews bill will be put in the rules committee cooler for at least a week or two. He added, however, it does not mean the Andrews bill is headed for the same deep-freeze as the UMT bill.

"If this is not received very well," he said, "there is no disposition on the part of the rules committee to hold up the draft bill."

The plan would give recruits the option of enlisting for two or three years. At the end of their terms, the two-year men could claim bonuses of $1,000 each, and the three-year men could get $1,500.

Or, if they preferred, they could take advantage of the educational, loan and other benefits of the "GI Bill of Rights."

The reaction of Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services Committee to Allen's proposal was prompt and blunt. He said: "You cannot buy security. If you want to break the country, that's a good way to do it."

Delay Deporting Of Eisler And Four Associates

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today approved papers delaying the deportation of Gerhard Eisler and four others from the United States for alleged Communist connections.

Under a preliminary injunction granted by Goldsborough, the five will have to be given hearings by examiners not connected with the immigration service investigating and prosecuting branches.

The injunction was sought by Lee Pressman and Joseph Forer, attorneys for the five.

The attorneys told Goldsborough that immigration officers have been holding the hearings.

All five are out on bail pending a hearing for deportation.

Wallace Closes Tour In Midwest

Peoria, Ill., May 5 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, assailing racial bans and what he called "big business exploitation" of laborers and farmers, quietly ended an eight-day midwestern campaign tour at a rally in strike-stricken Peoria last night.

About 600 supporters of the third party candidate for President paid $1 each to cram themselves into a small hotel ballroom.

They donated about $3,000 to his "new party" drive for "Peace and Abundance."

Tobacco Demand Is Good, Asserts Federal Official

Thigpen Says Dollar Shortage Is Problem; Leaf Exports Expected To Rise

Washington, May 5 (AP)—The top tobacco man in government, James E. Thigpen, said today most people want more American tobacco than they can buy. They just don't have the dollars.

The former North Carolina tobacco farmer has twice succeeded Charles Gage as director of the tobacco branch of the Department of Agriculture. He was assistant to Gage.

Thigpen told a reporter chances for tobacco exports, including 500,000,000 pounds (87 farm weight), scheduled under the Economic Cooperation Act to aid Europe, look about like this for the year beginning July 1:

Flue-cured "up to 500,000,000 pounds."

Burley "better than 50,000,000 pounds."

"Dark-fired should show improvement, total about 40,000,000 pounds." The total just about equals the amount of flue-cured shipped in 1946.

During the war total tobacco exports were as low as 200,000,000 pounds a year. It's a new start, he said, for burley and dark-fired.

Last year's crop of about 1,300,000,000 pounds was hit hard by the British ban, dollar shortage in other countries and by the tendency in recent months to buy food instead of tobacco, he said.

Domestic manufacturers bought 800,000,000 pounds but exports for the year ending June 1 will drop to 350,000,000 pounds, only about half as much as in the year before. Except for a slight easing up as a result of the Economic Cooperation Act, he said, the total would be less than 350,000,000 pounds. Tobacco men earlier expected exports of 500,000,000.

Alabama Vote Against Truman

Electors Opposing Truman Leading In Demo Primary

Birmingham, May 5 (AP)—Alabama Democrats today apparently made certain that President Truman cannot get this state's 11 electoral votes for another term.

Whether any other regular Democratic nominee would get those votes was a moot question.

Presidential electors pledged against Truman because of his civil rights program were leading on incomplete returns from yesterday's party primary.

They have the right, under a state Supreme court ruling, to vote for any man of their choice. They have announced they will not vote for any Democrat who supports the civil rights measures, which would change this section's racial laws.

Alabama has given its electoral votes to every Democratic nominee since 1872.

The outcome of another move to take Alabama from the regular Democratic ranks—this one in the delegation to the party convention at Philadelphia—still is inconclusive.

In this race, a slate of delegates pledged to bolt the convention if a civil rights plank is adopted in the party platform, or if Truman is nominated, shared top places with an anti-bolt group.

The anti-bolters, however, are against both President Truman and the civil rights measures. They propose to fight both within the party.

Thousands Have Chests X-Rayed

Wilmington, N. C., May 5 (AP)—A total of 24,892 persons out of an anticipated 35,000 have completed their chest X-rays in New Hanover county.

The mobile units left here last night for Smithfield. They are under the direction of the State Board of Health and various county boards of health.

Claim Russian Is Safe In Britain

London, May 5 (AP)—The Daily Herald reported today that Lt. Col. J. D. Tassojev, a Soviet officer who the Russians say was kidnapped in Germany at California, is in hiding in Britain as a political refugee.

The British Foreign Office refused to confirm or deny the report.

Political Tour

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) said today President Truman will tour the Pacific Northwest when he goes to Berkeley, Calif., for a speech at the University of California June 12.

Magnuson talked with reporters just after a conference with Mr. Truman.

He said the President will stop at Spokane, Seattle and Olympia, Wash.

Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington, an old friend, will be the host at Olympia.

Taft Takes Lead In Test Of Strength Against Stassen

Marshall Against UN Revision If Soviet Left Out

Declares Step May Destroy Organization And Rival Military Alliances

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today the Soviet Union can "live side by side in peace" with the western powers in the United Nations.

He made that argument in opposing any drastic shake-up of the UN without Russian agreement. Such a step, Marshall said, probably would destroy the organization and mean setting up rival military alliances.

He appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is considering proposals for reorganizing the UN with or without Russian cooperation.

What the world needs today, he said, is not new structures for peace but better use of the organization which already exists.

His testimony amounted to a plea to Congress not demand a major shakeup in order to express its impatience with the present UN and its objections to Russian conduct. Lawmakers have complained especially about Russia's frequent use of the big power veto.

In advance of the hearing, Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont.), said Latin America would go along on any move to curb the big power veto in the UN. Mansfield attended the Inter-American conference at Bogota as an observer for the House committee.

Marshall told the committee "the problems today presented to those who desire peace are not questions of structure."

He added: "Nor are they problems solvable by new forms of organization. They require performance of obligations already undertaken, fidelity to pledges already given. Basic human frailties cannot be overcome by charter provisions alone, for they exist in the behavior of men and governments."

"The suggestion that a revised United Nations or some form of world government, should be achieved, if necessary, without those nations which would be unwilling to join, deserves special attention."

"Such a procedure would probably destroy the present United Nations organizations. The result would be a dispersal of the community of nations, followed by the formation of rival military alliances and isolated groups of states. This result would weaken us and expose us to even greater dangers from those who seek domination of other states."

Marshall said he would like to see a break in the flow of supplies during the period could have irreparably jeopardized what the long range program is expected to accomplish," Mr. Truman said in a letter transmitting the report.

"The effectiveness of interim aid has made it possible for the European recovery program to build on sure foundations which nowhere are undermined by the inevitable ravages of intolerable hunger and cold. No better proof is needed of the wisdom of providing this interim aid."

The interim aid program for France, Italy and Austria was administered by the state department.

Heavy Losses In China Reported

Nanking, May 5 (AP)—Northwestern Communist forces have been reduced from 80,000 men to 40,000 in 10 days of fighting, a government spokesman said today.

The spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-yi, said he did not know how many of the Chinese Reds had been killed. He reported 6,000 had been captured and 3,000 wounded.

Senate, House Meeting On Defense Needs Seen

Washington, May 5 (AP)—A conference of Senate and House Republican leaders was proposed today to seek an agreement on defense legislation, including the proposed draft and universal military training.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, took the lead. He announced after a meeting of the committee: "I will try to have a consultation on the matter."

As things now stand, the Senate armed services committee and the similar House group are working out sharply different manpower measures.

The Senate committee proposes a draft of 161,000 18-year olds for one year of training as well as a draft of men from the 19-26 age bracket for regular service. The House committee has turned down training of 18-year olds.

Further, Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill.) has come up with a plan to offer bonuses to volunteers and try to get along without a draft. Allen heads the powerful House committee. That group has kept a universal military training bill bottled up for nine months.

The Senate policy committee set for Senate action tomorrow an appropriation bill that calls for a start on building a 70-group combat air force.

This $3,233,200,000 (B) measure passed the house by a 343-3 vote.

Analysis Of Europe

Ernest Bevin Views Expansion Of Five-Power Alliance To Include All Western Europe As Insurance Against Aggression; A Relative Calm; The Next Blow

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

This column yesterday tried to analyze President Truman's view that the current year "may well determine the world's future," and pointed out that the number one issue of the period is whether the cold war will develop into a shooting war or whether it can be kept within bounds.

Britain's outstoken Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, now enters the discussion with the statement that "the chaotic separation of the western (European) powers, if allowed to continue, would leave them open as a prey." A prey to what? Well, very obviously to Communist aggression, which almost inevitably would turn the cold war into a hot one.

Bevin was addressing the House of Commons and was dealing with the proposed expansion of the new five-power alliance among Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg into an economic and military union of all western Europe. He declared that such a union wouldn't lead to war and added in effect that "chaotic separation" might lead to it.

The greatest danger of war isn't that any power would deliberately precipitate it. Rather it lies in the chance that some nation, or group, might inadvertently do something, through rashness or stupidity, which would set the world aflame again.

I believe that represents the consensus of close observers. Indeed none other than General Eisenhower subscribed to this view in a press conference. He was asked whether he thought the United States was closed to war with Russia than a year ago, and replied that "no great country, including Russia, would deliberately provoke war at this time." He said war possibly could be started by "some stupid act" or a deadlock of some kind, in which neither side could retreat.

Unfortunately Europe is so tense that it might react much more quickly to "some stupid act" than it would under normal conditions. There have been plenty of flashes of fire between the Russians and western allies in Germany and Austria recently, but caution on both sides has prevented difficult situations from getting out of hand.

One big threat of trouble lies in the fact that the present relative calm in Europe is merely a lull in the Communist world revolution.

With the absorption of Czechoslovakia, Russia got as far as she could go in her offensive without a display of force which would be asking for war. Moscow tacitly recognized this by holding Italy's big Communist convention.

Senator Has Edge Of 15-8 Over Former Minnesota Governor In Incomplete Tabulation; Both Falling Short Of Pre-Election Victory Claims

Columbus, O., May 5 (AP)—Swelling ballot totals pointed today toward Senator Robert A. Taft as the probable winner of 15 of Ohio's 23 contested GOP presidential nominating votes.

Any such final result would hold Harold E. Stassen to eight delegates, four less than the majority of 12 he predicted he would get.

On nearly complete returns Taft had nailed down 11 delegates in yesterday's hard-fought primary with Stassen. The Ohioan had excellent prospects of getting an additional delegate-at-large. His candidates led in three other races.

Stassen, with six of his candidates elected, held the lead in two other races.

Taft predicted in Washington that he will go into the Philadelphia convention with the backing of 45 of the state's 53 delegates. That figure includes the 30 he collected automatically when Stassen failed to enter candidates against them.

Unless the tabulating trend alters sharply, he appeared almost sure to capture the sole delegate-at-large post for which Stassen entered a candidate. This would give Taft 12, the majority which Stassen predicted in advance he would take away from the senator.

Stassen apparently had elected six delegates and his candidates were leading in two other races, for a total of eight.

Returns from 7,663 of the state's 9,385 polling places in the state-wide contest gave: Ed D. Schorr, Taft candidate 268,290, and Carrington T. Marshall, Stassen supporter, 242,426.

Although Stassen's chance to capture a majority of the delegation had almost faded out of the picture, he still had a chance to reach the 10 which most politicians said he would not have to get to call his Ohio invasion a success.

Taft, fighting to keep alive his hopes to control the Republican nomination, demonstrated widespread strength in his home state.

Although he got the small end of the ballot in many of the industrial centers where Stassen had picked his field, he ran well in some of these sections.

The Ohio Senator already had said he would not quit the presidential race, even if he took a political laceration from Stassen here. If he holds Stassen to less than 10 delegates, his friends said the Taft campaign will get a new impetus.

But both contenders for the Republican nomination appeared certain to fall short of victory claims. Backers of Taft, the favorite son, had predicted the Minnesota challenger would win more than six delegates. Stassen had predicted he would gain at least 12.

The Ohio Senator was outpacing the former Minnesota governor in their only state-wide contest, for a single delegate-at-large. Taft's candidates were ahead in all nine at-large races, with Stassen's lone entry trailing.

Meanwhile Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was following the Oregon trail in his bid to win that state's 12 GOP convention votes from Stassen in the May 12 primary.

Dewey scheduled a major foreign policy talk tonight at Eugene, the Minnesotan is due to make a return visit May 17 for a three-day campaign wind-up.

The Ohio election also featured state contests for governor. Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche defeated Ray T. Miller, former Cleveland mayor, in their battle for the Democratic governor nomination. Republican Governor Thomas J. Herbert won re-election.

In Greenville In Diminutive Auto

By CHESTER WALSH

Little Johnny Morris, Jr., nationally known and "good will traveling ambassador" for Philip Morris cigarettes, who is touring the south, was in Greenville yesterday, hobnobbing with distributors and dealers. He was a visitor in the Daily Reflector office, where he was given a typical southern welcome. He has a pleasing personality, is a clever conversationalist, likes people, and said some mighty nice things about the people of Eastern North Carolina and this part of the country. Johnny made a hit with a crowd in the newspaper office when he said "I like this section because you grow mighty good tobacco here and a lot of it goes into our Philip Morris cigarettes."

While in Kinston he visited a school for tobacco auctioneers and was allowed to try his hand at the sing-song chanting, but he decided he would stick to the radio and good-will ambassadoring.

Johnny's motto, he said, is "Call for Philip Morris!"

Candlelight Service On Commissioning
Of Group's Officers

A candlelight service of meditation and communion was held on Sunday night, May 2, on the event of the commissioning of the newly elected officers of the Wesley Foundation at East Carolina Teachers College. The service was held in Jarvis Methodist Church.

Music was by the Wesley Choir, composed entirely of students, and under the direction of Rodney Roberts of Greenville and Nina Abernethy of Rocky Mount, organist, both students at the college. The service opened with the Choir Processional, each member bearing a lighted candle. The Invocation was read by Marion Burton of Bethel. During the reading of this, two vested ushers, Ophelia Kirven of Sumter, S. C. and William Sutton of New Bern, lighted the altar candles. The other two ushers were Doris Teachey, Kinston, and Ruth Taylor, Greenville. Meditation speaks and Nina Abernethy of Rocky Mount, organist, both students at the college. The Rev. J. G. Phillips, executive secretary, N. C. Conference Board of Education, commissioned the Wesley Foundation officers as they stood before the Chancel. After they received the Sacrament, the officers one by one knelt before the altar. Then the minister lighted a candle at the altar, passed it to the director of the Wesley Foundation, Miss Mamie Chandler, who lighted the candles held by each officer, and led the Processional of officers from the Sanctuary.

Officers who compose the Wesley Foundation Council for the ensuing year are: Sammie Lee Jones, Wilmington; William Durham, Jr., Rocky Mount; Mildred Oakes, Hookerton; Sam Strickland, Greenville; Rachel Floyd, Orrum; Evelyn Kornegay, Seven Springs; Carolyn Mason, AT; Jantie; Roland Braswell, Goldsboro; James; Rathedge, Advance; Claude B. Elizabeth Drake's
Piano Recital Earns Audience Applause

Elizabeth Drake of Scotland Neck, faculty member at East Carolina

Teachers College, appeared in a piano recital before an appreciative audience gathered in the Austin auditorium on the campus last Monday evening.

Miss Drake, whose appearance was sponsored by the department of music at the college, gave a program featuring works by Beethoven and Ravel and including selections by Rameau-MacDowell, Schumann, and Liszt; and the modern composers Prokofiev, Rachmaninoff, and Gerahwin.

Her performance showed excellent technique and an artistic interpretation of selections of varied types. Particularly popular with her audience was a group made up of Schumann's "Aufschwung," Op. 12, No. 2, and "Arabesque," Op. 18, and Liszt's "Waldesrausch" and "Sonetto 104 del Petrarca."

Four hundred million library books were circulated in the United States in 1939.

Foreign Trade . . .

The beginning of the world-wide depression. Our foreign trade, badly smashed by the depression, was shot to pieces.

The Democrats came to power in 1933. To revive our foreign trade the Democratic-controlled Congress in 1934 passed the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act. It worked like this:

If a country would take some of our goods, lowering their tariffs, we'd take some of their goods, lowering our tariffs.

This didn't apply to all their exports. He'd lower tariffs only for certain agreed-upon items. That law now permits our tariffs on certain items to be cut as much as 75 per cent below what they were in 1934.

The Trade Agreement act was not set up to last forever. Every three years or so since 1934—in 1940, 1943 and 1945—it has come up in the Democratic-controlled Congress to be reviewed, and renewed or killed.

On June 12 the three years are up again and the whole act dies unless Congress once more renews it. And now for the first time a Republican Congress will decide what to do about the act.

On March 1 President Truman asked Congress to renew it for another three years.

Some of the Republicans have balked. They argue that cutting our tariffs has hurt a number of American businessmen.

Will the Republican-controlled Congress renew the act again? Probably, but maybe for only one the act further, they could make a big come in its years of life since 1934.

There's no time between now and June 12—when the act dies unless renewed—until a long investigation.

The Communist party in lead during the recent national elections. It was clear that use of force by the Reds would endanger world peace.

However, there isn't the slightest indication that the Muscovites have abandoned their effort to absorb western Europe. Communism often works by stealth and indirection. It attempts a coup only when it has carefully prepared the ground, or when chance has done the job for it. But we may be sure that the Bolsheviks will reach for more territory if and when the time seems ripe.

Where will the next blow come? Of course Italy and France are the immediate prizes at which the Communists are aiming, but those countries are tough objectives. Circumstances will pick the next victim—if there is another—though quick consolidation of western Europe might block the Red advance. Indeed it might halt it permanently, taken in conjunction with the Marshall plan for rehabilitation.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15 1/2 cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15 1/2 cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified. Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employees in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board, after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?
Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!
How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and the disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Strength FOR THE DAY
"A FELLOW CAN DREAM, CANT HE?"

There are dreams, and also day-dreams. The former are the activities of the sub-conscious mind which just happen to merge into consciousness as we wake up. We are able, therefore, to remember the sequence as a dream. All of the other thousands of fantastic images of our minds, so active while we sleep, are lost. Only the few that we catch as we awaken stay with us. Bizarre as they may be, due to the manner in which the subconscious has it, or to symbolism, the substance of dreams can only come from experience and thought. There is nothing de novo or original there. True, the experience or sensation may be long forgotten, or be so distorted as to be unrecognizable, but experience it has been.

Day-dreams are of different stuff.
They belong to the conscious mind,
a phantasy which may give pleasure or stimulus to achievement. It is only when phantasy usurps the time and energy needed for accomplishment that day-dreams are bad. No matter how nasty or evil the phantasy may seem to the dreamer, if he can relegate it promptly to limbo, it should do him no permanent harm. Mental or physical activity, purposeful if possible, is the antidote for excess phantasy.

CELEBRATING MOTHER'S DAY
With the coming of the month of May our thoughts turn to the observance of Mother's Day and to the reason for it.

Mother's Day is not in the memory of any one famous mother, but rather is observed as a tribute to all mothers. Undoubtedly, many famous men and women in history achieved their greatness partly, if not wholly, through their mothers' wise training in preparation for their life work.

To Miss Ann Jarvis of Philadelphia credit is given for the beginning of the observance of Mother's Day in the United States in 1908.
In 1908 the mother of Ann Jarvis died. The next year in memory of her mother Miss Jarvis wished to dedicate a day to all mothers with the belief that others shared her regard for the love and sacrifices of mothers she began her efforts to make Mother's Day one of tribute to motherhood. Her efforts met with great success.

The second Sunday in May was chosen as Mother's Day because it was the anniversary of the death of Miss Jarvis' mother. Philadelphia observed May 10, 1908 as Mother's Day. Miss Jarvis described it as a day "in honor of the best mother that ever lived—your mother."

On May 10, 1913 both houses of Congress passed a resolution recommending observance of Mother's Day by Congress and the executive department of the government.

The following year, 1914, Congress authorized the President of the United States to set aside by annual proclamation the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. This proclamation was first made by President Wilson on May 9, 1914. In it he called for its celebration and ordered that all government buildings display the flag of the United States.

He also urged that the people of every community display the flag on public buildings and at private homes as "a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country."

The carnation has been adopted as the floral emblem of Mother's Day. President McKinley was one of the first to adopt the custom of wearing carnation in his button hole to honor his mother. The custom usually is to wear a white carnation if one's mother is deceased and a colored one if the mother is living.
The carnation signifies sweetness, purity, beauty, endurance. Purity is signified by the whiteness of the carnation. The endurance of the carnation represents the faithfulness of motherhood. Few flowers keep as long. Just so are a mother's patience and endurance seldom equaled. In sickness and health a mother's desire is to help and to guide her children to successful living.

"My mother was the most beautiful woman I ever saw . . .
All I am I owe to my mother."

Chapter 3

Doctor Randolph Baird took excellent care of Hildred's arm, as she had assured Lucien Lanier he would. He, Doctor Baird, also reacted exactly as she had known he would.

Randy's reaction had been that Hildred—or "Hildy" as he always called her—should have known better than to have got herself into trouble. In fact he scolded her soundly all the time he was washing and dressing her wound.

"I hate to have Jimmy put in a home," Hildred returned, much as she had in trying to explain to Mr.
Lanier.

"You are taking a sentimental attitude," Randy observed, scowling darkly. "The boy will have to be placed in an institution eventually.
Best place for him."

"I might have been killed, Randy.
You don't appear to take that into consideration. It was mighty lucky that those two men happened to come along just when they did." She had told him, but only briefly, that two men had come to her rescue and driven her back into town.

"Well, you were not. Yes, that was lucky." And then he said the only thing that betrayed any personal feeling on his part. "Don't go back there again. Under any circumstances."

She said, "I won't go back again.
You need not worry, Randy." She knew he would miss the elaborate sarcasm behind those last words.
"I'll go get out of my uniform," she said, using her professional tone.

"Do that," Randy returned, as he had every time for nearly six hundred and some days. "I'll be ready shortly, just a few things to go over. Meet you downstairs." Which meant, as always, that she should wait in his coupe until he joined her, as he invariably drove her home.

"I'm not going home," Hildred said, for the first time in those six hundred odd times. "I'll see you tomorrow morning, Randy. Good night."

She might have been surprised, once more, could she have seen Doctor Randolph Baird staring after her with that perplexed, almost startled look that is often referred to as being "struck speechless."

Since she had told Randy she was not going home she could not very well go there. So she decided that she would do a bit of shopping.

She turned into a smart little French shop that displayed only one dress and one hat in its window.
She knew each item, as well as the others inside, would be well out of reach of her pocketbook. But that was why she chose this particular shop.

"Something in a dinner dress," she said carelessly to the saleslady who came to greet her. You might have supposed she bought a dinner dress every day—at least she hoped she had given that impression.

The dress was so simple and yet so perfect that Hildred knew it was what she wanted—the dress she simply must have—the moment the saleslady brought it back to hold it up silently before her.

"I'll take it!" Hildred finished the whole gamut of emotions with one last final triumphant flash of daring, much like her defiant toss of head. "How much is it, please?"
she asked indifferently, if with inward trepidation.

"Only seventy-five dollars, Madame," the saleslady purred in such a way as to intimate that that was practically giving the garment away as a present.

Hildred said, "I'll have to write a check, if you'd get a pen, please."
She said it as if used to writing such checks for such expenditures every day. It would take her a year or six months at the least, to make up that deficiency drawn from her savings account. But it was the first time in over two years she ever had drawn anything for purely selfish—and there wicked, in Randy's eyes—purposes.

Funny, how she measured everything by Randy's yardsticks; she had not realized until today how

East Carolina Counties Try To Interest Industries

The formation of a five county group to sponsor an industrial survey and efforts to interest industry in moving to this section was discussed by Chamber of Commerce representatives at a meeting of Airport Inn here yesterday.

Phillip Solovay, industrial analyst of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, told of similar surveys made in other sections and promised the aid of his department in any efforts to put forth by this section.

Another meeting will be held in about 10 days at which time it is hoped that the organization will be perfected and the business of beginning the surveys will be begun.

R. H. Davis, Chamber of Commerce secretary, and Manager Hannah, of the Tarboro radio station, represented by John G. Thomas, Chamber of Commerce secretary and City Manager Green.

The deadline for making applications for delegates to Boys' State is May 15, Worsley said.

Legion's Boys' State At Chapel Hill June 13th

By CHESTER WALSH

The American Legion, civic-minded organizations and individuals are entitled to send delegates to the eighth annual Boys' State, to be held at Chapel Hill June 13-20, under sponsorship of the American Legion.

Boys selected to attend the Boys' State program are outstanding high school seniors, who are sent to the University of North Carolina's wide-recognized government teaching branch, the Institute of Government, to hear lectures and discussions by public officials, faculty members and leading legionnaires.

Careful selection of delegates by American Legion posts is essential and cooperation of school officials is sought, James R. Worsley, chairman of Post 39's Boys' State Committee, said.

Boys' State provides an opportunity for rising high school seniors to study government—local, State, National and World, and to put into practice some of the theories they have studied.

Recreation and athletics, with use of the University swimming pool, gymnasium and other facilities, will cover about three hours each day.

The deadline for making applications for delegates to Boys' State is May 15, Worsley said.

Scott Speaks At Pitt Courthouse On Vital Issues

Kerr Scott, candidate for Governor in the State Democratic primary on May 29, spoke in the County Court house last night before a large and enthusiastic audience from all parts of the county.

Scott stated that cotton was no longer king in North Carolina; that tobacco, which was the state's biggest money crop, produced more than half of the state income and should be protected and promoted.

The former Commissioner of Agriculture ridiculed statements that he was against the auction market system for tobacco. "When they begin spreading falsehoods like this, it just shows how desperate the machine is," the candidate said.

He further stated that as he had lived on a dirt road all his life, he could well understand the trials and tribulations of the man and his family who lived on dirt roads in the winter when the going was rough; in his section, the best progress could be made sometimes by slipping backward.

Scott said that he could not understand why rural school teachers who taught where roads were so frequently impassable or impossible during the winter seasons should be docked for circumstances over which they had no control, while the pay for employees of the state, working under similar conditions, was continued. "As Governor," he said, "I will endeavor to correct this discrimination."

He declared himself to be an advocate of good roads; both crop-to-market, as well as main highways, but there was room for improvement in the manner in which these roads were built in some instances. "There are cases," he stated, "though I am sure such a thing could not happen in this section of the state, when roads are projected it is with the understanding that those receiving the benefits from the new road construction are expected to vote for the continuance of the present system of choosing Governors by some small clique which sells the voters of the state for whom they shall vote 4 years hence as well as in the present campaign. This is not the Democratic way, nor is it the North Carolina way of government, and such a way will be abolished by the voters when they go to the polls."

Scott said that it had been reported should he be elected Governor, the splendid state highway division maintenance plant on the Bethel highway of this county would be closed down. "This," he said, "would cause great inconvenience and discomfort to the employees engaged in this work and residing here, to say nothing of the tremendous expense to the state. I wish to assure you, as your governor, the physical set-up of your highway division office here will not be disturbed, nor should there be a change in your highway program on account of my election."

Kerr Scott was introduced by Hugh C. Winslow, Pitt County Chairman of the Scott for Governor committee.

Young Florida Candidates Will Be In Runoff

Jacksonville, Fla., May 3—(AP)—A couple of young World War II veterans who made their marks in politics before the war will face each other in a runoff for governor of Florida.

They are Dan McCarty, 36-year-old citrus grower and cattleman of Fort Pierce, and Fuller Warren, 42, a Jacksonville lawyer.

They easily outdistanced all others in a field of nine candidates running for the Democratic nomination in yesterday's primary election. Whichever wins the nomination in the second primary May 23 is certain to reach the governor's chair. Democrats in Florida outnumber the Republicans 14 to one.

With 793 of the state's 1,537 precincts reported, McCarty had 100,132 votes to Warren's 93,081. Warren generally had been looked upon as the leading man in the campaign.

Small Boy Injured When He Collides With Side Of Car

Donald Wooten, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Levy Wooten of near Fountain, was seriously injured Monday afternoon in Falkland when he ran into the side of a passing car, and received possible fractures of the skull. He was taken to Pitt General Hospital in Greenville in an unconscious condition.

Information from the hospital today indicated that he was showing signs of rallying.

State Highway Patrolman S. G. Gibbs who investigated the accident, said from what information he could obtain, the boy ran out from behind a parked car in Falkland and collided with the side of it. A door handle was knocked off by the impact. William Floyd Harris, Route 5, Greenville, driver of the car, stopped to render assistance. No arrest was made.

Farmville Soldier's Funeral Friday 3:30

Funeral services for Thomas Herman Rouse, Jr., who was killed in action with the Marines on Iwo Jima, in the Pacific, in March, 1943, will be held at the Farmville Funeral Home in Farmville, Friday afternoon at 3:30. Rev. E. S. Coats, Presbyterian minister, will officiate. Burial will be in Hollywood cemetery. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will accord full military honors and a firing squad. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rouse of Farmville. It was erroneously stated yesterday that the funeral would be held today.

Durham, N.C., May 3—(AP)—An argument over religion by a 40-year-old mill worker and his wife was given by police today as reason for her staying here Monday.

The worker, identified by Sheriff E. G. Bevin as Lonnie D. ... was being held in connection with the hammer slaying of Mrs. Ida Tingen Barefoot, 41. Her battered body was found in a galow yesterday, a bloody hammer nearby.

A "star" in any car!

If you're "shooting" for smoother engine performance...for less added oil between drains... make a date, today, to OIL-PLATE... with Conoco Nit6 Motor Oil

This extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls, won't all drain down, even overnight! That means your engine is extra-safe from harmful combustion acids... extra-safe from "dry-friction" starts... extra-safe, too, from sludge and carbon caused by wear.

Make a date to OIL-PLATE!

This is the one, of course, that you spot at a glance.

This is the one that sends a string of facts racing through your mind—if you know automobiles—the instant you see the name ROADMASTER spelled out on its fender.

Up to one hundred and fifty Fireball horsepower. Eighteen feet big—and spring-coil lively.

Gorgeously finished. Coil-spring cradled on all four wheels. Shod with oversize tires that take extra low pressures for added comfort.

Convenient too—with push-button controls not only for the top, but for door windows and the front-seat adjustment as well.

This, too, is the only passenger car in this country where the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here's the one place you'll find Dynaflo Drive,* in which liquid replaces not only the clutch and manually operated low, second and high, but mechanical gear-changers as well.

In short—here's liquid ease and smoothness in delightful new degree, through a sort of "magic muscle" that lets you forget about gear-changing practically entirely.

No wonder, then, this car is looked up to.

Looked up to for impressive appearance—looked up to for superlative ability.

Looked up to for what's newest in engineering advances.

If your standards call for a real performer—and for quality a cut above the ordinarily good—specify ROADMASTER when you see your dealer (with or without a car to trade) about getting an order in.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLO DRIVE?? To an efficient new pump (left above), built and an ingenious new supercharging camshaft (in head) which produce a torque-hauling result in starting and accelerating. The passenger car which employs liquid to fill four, second and high gears, the usual manual selection of a simple control gives you directional selection of power ranges and *

Police Uncover Marijuana Hoard

New York, May 5—(AP)—Fifty pounds of marijuana — largest amount ever seized at one time in New York—was taken yesterday in a police raid on the apartment of a cook.

The marijuana was valued by police at $20,000, but they said it would be worth $500,000 in cigarette form.

The cook, Boyd Terrell, 21, was arrested in the raid. He said that two men with whom he shared the apartment owned the suitcases in which the contraband was found.

Suspend Sande For Sixty Days

New York, May 5—(AP)—Earl Sande, the "Handy Guy" of the saddle who made riding history a generation ago and later turned rac horse owner and trainer, has been ruled out of the nation's major tracks for 60 days.

The Jockey Club stewards handed out the suspension yesterday, 24 hours after the 49-year-old former jockey had been arraigned on a federal charge of illegally possessing narcotics.

The Jockey Club issued a statement that the presence of a drug was found in a saliva test of Big Stage, a Sande-owned horse and a Kentucky Derby nominee which won the third race at Jamaica April 21 at odds of 12-1 for 2.

The suspension bars Sande from the grounds of any track under the jurisdiction of the Turf ruling body for the period the setdown is in effect.

Sande's foreman, Eugene Donaldson, and a groom, Francis Booth, were suspended for 30 days and denied the same privileges.

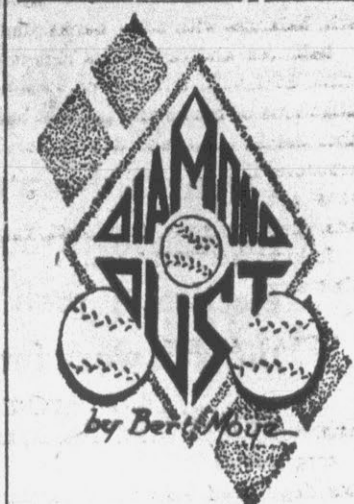

The Jockey Club tempered the punishment somewhat in Sande's case in announcing that if the former jockey finds it necessary to sell any of his horses he will be allowed on the track to do so.

The stewards ordered the purse Big Stage won forfeited and distributed "according to the method in force for a disqualification."

Cardinals Win At Night Following Tried Formulae

By JOE REICHLER
The St. Louis Cardinals this season are following an old National League custom—win at night and you win the pennant.

That proved to be the winning formula in 1946 and 1947. The Cardinals were the best night owls in '46, winning 32 and losing 22 for a .593 percentage. Brooklyn was second at night, 13 percentage points behind. The end of the season found the Cards nosing out the Dodgers in a playoff for the flag by almost the identical margin—43 percentage points.

Last year it was the other way around. Brooklyn had the best night game percentage, .703. The Cards were second with .689. That's the way they finished during the regular season, one-tyo.

The Cardinals have played twice under the lights this season, and won both times. They gained their second victory last night, defeating the Dodgers at St. Louis, 6-4. Last Saturday they whipped the Chicago Cubs, 4-0.

The Cards take undisputed possession of third place, a full game ahead of the fourth place Dodgers.

That was the only National League game yesterday. Rain washed out the scheduled day contest between the Philadelphia Phillies and Cubs at Chicago. A heavy downpour also put an abrupt halt to the Boston Braves-Pirates night game at Pittsburgh after the Bucs had taken a three-inning 3-0 lead. The New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds were not scheduled.

The bustling Philadelphia Athletics gained ground on the American League leading Cleveland Indians when they nipped the Tribe 4-1 in 10 innings at Philadelphia. The two teams are even in games. But the Indians lead by 53 percentage points, having played fewer games.

The New York Yankees moved up to third place, within a half game of the leaders, by thrashing the St. Louis Browns 6-1 at the Yankee Stadium.

The Boston Red Sox registered their third successive victory as they pasted the Detroit Tigers 6-3 at Fenway Park.

In the American League's only night game, the Chicago White Sox scored two runs in the top of the fifth inning to tie the Senators in Washington 3-3. Rain ended the game at the end of the fifth.

A new loop record for innings played in 1948 was set Monday night in the 18-inning game of the Greens and so far as can be learned is the longest game ever played in the Coastal circuit since its existence. Had the two clubs played seven more innings they would have set a world's record for the number of innings played in a single game as records show that a 24-inning game is the longest ever played.

Going back to the rain last night will bring back to mind what happened back in 1935 when the Coastal Plain was plagued by a long series of almost continuous rain. Finally Manager Joe Webb of the Goldbugs and Manager Doc Smith of the Ayden Aces decided to play on July 8 despite a very muddy diamond. The result was interesting. As much as twenty bases on balls were issued, eleven by Ayden and nine by Goldbugs. The Goldbugs eventually won 15-8, after a miserable afternoon of sloshing around.

The Goldbugs had the second triple play in the history of their club pulled against them on last Sunday afternoon by the Tarboro Tars. Fayetteville pulled one against the Bucs in 1948. The rarity in baseball came in the fifth inning. Meris Blackwell singled, Jack Hussey walked, Verne Blackwell hit a 2-1 pitch that appeared to be foul and the runners remained on bases. The ball was ruled fair, however, and both runners were retired along with Verne Blackwell, who was still standing at the plate. Incidentally, the Greens pulled a fast triple play against Snow Hill on August 14, 1936, and went on to subdue the Hillbillies by an 8-3 margin.

The Klinton Baseball Association yesterday added rookie righthander Don Purdy to its active roster, replacing Outfielder Tommy Lee who was put on the restricted list for failure to report following his acquisition in the trade with Greenville for Bob Cohen. Tommy was over here the other night talking with Bob Doty about a job but evidently did not come to terms. Tommy stated to your writer that he would in all probability play in the Albemarle League this summer.

The following story on Bob Coleman, manager of the Evansville Braves, who held their spring training in Greenville this year, appeared in this week's issue of "The Sporting News" and will be read with interest by the many friends with whom Coleman made during his stay in Greenville.

Bob Coleman, veteran Evansville manager, is starting his twentieth year in the Three-I League and his sixteenth as manager of the Class B circuit. The 37-year-old pilot, who managed the Boston Braves in 1944 and '45 and previously handled clubs in the American Association, Southern Texas, Bally and NYP leagues, broke into organized ball in the Three-I League in 1910 as a catcher, playing with Springfield and Danville. He played with Davenport the next three years and was sold to Pittsburgh, where he performed two seasons. Coleman returned to the minors as a player in 1915, and except for part of 1916, when he was with Cleveland, he remained in the minor leagues until he retired as an active player in 1927. He returned to the Three-I League with Terre Haute in 1921, as player-manager, and was back in the same capacity the next year. His other managerial stints in the league were with Evansville, 1928-'31; Decatur, 1932; Springfield, 1935; Evansville, 1938-'39-'40-'41-'42-'46-'47-'48.

McCotter Hurls Eight-Hit Ball To Topple ACC

Catch Jim Johnson's ECTO Pirates defeated the Atlantic Christian College Bulldogs, 7-4, here yesterday in a North State Conference game at Lefty Bob McCotter pitched eight-hit ball and struck out 11 ACC batters.

J. D. Thorne, the Bulldogs ace hurler, lost his second game of the season. He has eight victories. The defeat was the third in conference play for the Bulldogs. Their triumph was No. 3 for ECTO in the loop.

ECTO scored two runs in the first inning on Sammy Stell's homer inside the park, a hit batsman, and two singles. AOC tied the score at 2-2 in the third on two hits, two walks, and an ECTO error, but the Pirates went ahead again with four tallies in the third on two singles, a double, an AOC error, and a base on balls.

The Bulldogs got three more runs in and pulled even at 4-4 with a run in the top of the ninth. The Pirates won in the last half of that frame when Sammy Stell was hit by a pitch, poked to second on Benton's sacrifice, and scored as Smith, AOC shortstop, threw wild to first on Boyd's infield hit.

Sport Slants by Pap

First base was one of the few spots in the St. Louis Browns' lineup which caused Manager Zack Taylor no sleepless nights following the wholesale disposal of the most talented players on the Browns roster during the winter lay-off.

In his first fling at managing a major league club, Taylor knew he could count on Chuck Stevens, a talented youngster brought back from the Toledo farm club after a year's delay.

Stevens played 120 games for the Browns in 1946 and covered the initial sack in acceptable style. His hitting however, failed to measure up to big league standards, being a mere .248. The Browns decided to pass up Steven in 1947 in favor of Jerry Witts, another Toledo product who boasted a tremendous home run record. Witts failed to measure up to his glowing minor league promise so the Browns brought back Stevens.

Stevens batted .276 for Toledo in 141 games last season and performed better than adequately in the field. With a clear shot at first base this spring, Chuck caught on and looked the part of a real big leaguer. In the training tilts the Browns held their own with major league competition and gained the confidence they needed when the barrier was sprung for the pennant chase. Stated for the cellar by many of the experts, the Browns have refused to roll over any play dead in the early championship tilts.

The French rallied after dropping the first two singles matches to expel Romania, 3-2, and to enter the second round.

Marcel Bernard, France's No. 1 performer, and Bernard Destremau completed the conquest yesterday after the doubles had been won Monday.

There are 2,360,000,000 tenant farmers in the United States operating 312 million acres.

Taylor Has Hope Of Happy Ending

New York, May 5—(AP)—Zack Taylor, a down-to-earth character who was condemned to manage the St. Louis Browns sees light through the bars. So far his charges, minus some $400,000 worth of peddled stars, are playing .500 ball.

"We got a bunch of boys," said Taylor "most of them can play ball pretty good. We're in there hustling and running, trying to make the most with what we got. We're going to win our share."

"No use kidding yourself. We don't expect to win any pennant. We don't figure to be contenders. All I say I hope we don't finish in the cellar. We don't know for sure what we have yet."

Zack, an active catcher from 1915 to 1940, pointed to the pitching mound from his station along the left field foul line.

"There's a boy who's going to make it," he said. "Name is Garver—Ned Garver—he won 17 at San Antonio last year. I'm going to be starting him one of these days."

Pitching, like everything else except third baseman Bob Dillinger and second baseman Gerry Priddy, is an unknown quantity with the Browns. Taylor figures on Neils Potter, Sam Zolada, Cliff Fanning, Fred Sanford and Bryan Stephens.

Somebody asked who had looked good during the club's surprising spring spurt.

What's behind the "Esso" Sign?...

THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS know the red-white-and-blue ESSO Oval as "The Sign of Happy Motoring." It is their roadside mark of quality in gasoline and motor oil, of fine Atlas Tires and Batteries and other motoring supplies.

But perhaps the most outstanding thing behind the Esso Sign is not just the great laboratories and refineries of Esso Standard Oil...

Instead...the greatest and most unusual thing behind that familiar sign is probably just the people who work at Esso Standard Oil and the kind of jobs they have!

Workers who have not had an important strike or labor disturbance in over 90 years!...Workers who today average over 14 years apiece of service with the company!...Workers with regular, paid vacations each year.

Workers with good wage scales and steady work. Workers with retirement income assured for life. Workers with opportunities for advancement, with company training to help them get it!...

These and other unusual employee benefits result from Esso Standard Oil policy that was set up many years ago. It is a policy that believes good jobs draw and hold good workers.

And it's a policy that gets worthwhile results for all concerned—including, right now, the greatest production and delivery of petroleum products in our history. The better you live, the more oil you need, and today we and all the oil industry are straining every facility to meet your record needs for gasoline and oil in cars and homes, planes and trains, factories and ships, and on the farm.

Council Meets For Community Center Project

By CHESTER WALSH
The Greenville Community Council, organized here as a result of widespread public demand for a community building and recreation center, is taking shape and getting down to the business of keeping Greenville abreast of the times. The Council met at the High school last night, with Dr. Fred R. Irons, temporary chairman, presiding. All local organizations have a representative on the Greenville Community Council. The council is developing plans for a surveying the situation and employing a professional community center planner to make recommendations as to how to complete the organization and what would be best for all of the people of the community. This will take a little time, but it is apparent that the council is proceeding wisely and judiciously. It appears that the general sentiment is that Greenville should provide an appropriate memorial in honor of the veterans of both wars. The prevailing sentiment is that the memorial should be something useful to the community. A community building which would provide places for recreation and other purposes; an auditorium of large seating capacity in which conventions and other large meetings could be held; a dining room in which banquets and other meals could be served; recreation place and equipment for the young people, and the adults as well, and, it has been pointed out that Greenville would have a commodious building where a convention or local meetings could be held, and above all else, a general place for community recreation. All of this is being discussed by the representatives Community Council, with a view to doing what is best for now and the future. When it is agreed just what the people want, then it is proposed to set up a trusteeship, and then go about raising by public subscription the necessary funds. Many citizens already have pledged donations and their hearty support.

Just as soon as the plans are developed they will be made known to the public, and then the Greenville people will set out to raise the funds for what will eventually will be the city's greatest public asset.

Stanley Lee Hardee Victim Of Accident

Stanley Lee Hardee, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Glenn Hardee, was fatally injured last night at the homeplace, on J. H. Boyd Jr.'s farm, on the Washington highway, several miles from Greenville, when his father backed his truck over the child. Thinking he had run over a root, he drove forward to investigate. He found that he had run over his child twice. The boy died at Pitt General Hospital shortly after last night. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said there would be no inquest. Funeral services will be conducted at 4 o'clock by Elder Carl Edwards, Primitive Baptist minister of Beaufort. Burial will be in the family cemetery nearby. Stanley Lee was born in Pitt County and had lived in the Greenville community all his life. Surviving are his parents, Horace Glenn and Ethelene Corey Hardee; two brothers, Robert and Horace Edwards Hardee of the home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stan Hardee of near Greenville, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Corey of Greenville.

Taylor Case To Higher Tribunal

Birmingham, Ala., May 5—(AP)—The conviction of Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) for disorderly conduct here last night was headed for higher courts today as a test of the state's racial segregation laws. The vice presidential candidate of Henry Wallace's third party was condemned by Police Judge Oliver Hall as a publicity-seeker, then fined $50 and costs and given 180 days in jail. Judge Hall, however, stayed the sentence and placed Taylor on six months' probation. The defense immediately filed notice of appeal. When notified in Peoria, Ill., of Taylor's conviction, Wallace commented, "The sentencing of Glen Taylor makes certain the destruction of the Democratic party. 'No party,' Wallace continued, "can claim to be liberal and still stand for Jim Crow. Glen was not violating any law, he was upholding the basic law of the land, the Constitution of the United States." Wallace's statement followed the defense's line of argument. Taylor's attorneys contended that while the charge was disorderly conduct, the basic issue was whether segregation laws violated the right of free assembly.
