Negotiations Between Coal Operators, Lewis Collapse

Two-Day-Old Wage Talks Break Up Over Seating Of President Of Southern Producers Association; UMW Policy Committee Meets Tomorrow

Washington, May 19—(AP)—Contract negotiations between John L. Lewis and the coal operators collapsed today.

The two-day-old wage talks broke up over the issue of seating Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, in the conference.

The operators voted to seat Moody and Lewis' United Mine Workers voted against it. A vote then was taken on a union proposal to go ahead with conferences covering the balance of the industry.

The operators opposed that. The union voted for it.

Lewis got to his feet and said: "I make the observation that there is now no conference."

"The operators have voted themselves and the mine workers out of a conference."

"The United Mine Workers Policy Committee will meet at 10 a.m. (9 a.m. EST) tomorrow."

The fight over seating Moody started at the opening session of the negotiations yesterday.

Lewis said that the Southern Coal Producers Association were not complying with their contract when they did not appear at the conference as individuals to bargain for a new agreement.

The union's present wage agreement expires June 30. Traditionally, the miners have refused to work without a contract.

While Lewis yesterday did not make a direct threat of a strike because of what he called a breach of contract, that possibility existed nevertheless.

His call for a meeting of the UMW's 200-man policy committee tomorrow indicated he has some more in mind.

The union will go under a court injunction prohibiting renewal of the recent strike over pensions for miners, but the court might rule that another walkout would be a brand new dispute. In such a case, a new injunction might have to be sought by the government under the Taft-Hartley Act procedure.

The government yesterday sought dismissal of the anti-strike injunction, on the grounds that mines are in full production, the pension dispute is being handled in the courts and the public interest is "secure."

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough deferred a ruling on the request.

Moody, center of the dispute at the negotiating conference, is the new president of the Southern Coal Producers Association. He never sat in the negotiations, but Edward R. Burke, former Nebraska senator and Moody's predecessor, was a regular member of the industrywide negotiating committee.

However last July Lewis was sore at the Southern Association for trying to get a separate contract and he would not permit the association officers to sign the present contract as such.

Instead, he forced the individual groups making up the SCPA to sign separately.

Strike Poll For Atomic Workers

Why Did U.S. Refuse?

In Which An Analyst Gives Reasons For State Department's Coolness Toward Talks With Russia; Peace Machinery Ready; Kremlin Blamed For Past Failures

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 19—(AP)—Why has this country so far thrown cold water on the idea of sitting down with Russia to work out world peace?

Maybe this will explain it. In the past week the Russians—Premier Stalin and Foreign Minister Molotov—have expressed willingness to sit down and talk with us.

President Truman froze up. So did Secretary of State Marshall. And yesterday the State Department chilled the idea some more. Why? Put in plain language, this is what the United States has told Russia:

We're not going to talk with you head-to-head on things that affect other countries or the world.

If you want to talk about something that affects just you and us—like trade between us—that's all right.

But if you want to talk about things affecting other countries, then they're going to take part in our talks.

(For example: any talks about a peace treaty on Germany would have to include us, Russia, Britain and France. All have an interest in it.)

And, further, this country told Russia:

There are all kinds of machinery—the United Nations—already set up for talking about world problems and trying to settle them.

If you really want to settle them, then do the settling inside the United Nations or through whatever machinery covers the problem.

Speculation?

Washington, May 19—(AP)—The issue of speculation was injected today into the hot congressional battle over oleomargarine.

Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn.) said the Procter and Gamble Company made a profit of $338,400 in a two-way contract of cottonseed oil used in the butter substitute.

Andresen, chairman of a special House committee investigating commodity speculation, said he had information that the soap firm and Best Foods Corp. cornered the entire May market in the cotton by-product. The result, he said, was a price rise from 23.75 cents a pound to 43 cents between April 7 and May 14.

Floyd M. Barnes, vice president of Procter and Gamble, testified yesterday that his company bought 47 cars of cottonseed oil only before supplies were getting "very tight" due to a 21 percent heavier demand than last year.

Members of Pitt County Post 39 of the American Legion in regular monthly session last night unanimously elected T. K. Fountain post commander for the coming year.

Together with a full roster of new officers and named nine members to fill vacancies in the Legion-sponsored Pitt County Fair Association.

The post also voted to send two boys to the Boys' State to be held in Chapel Hill this summer. The meeting held at Airport Inn was presided over by Commander James S. Jenkins.

The matter of the decoration of veterans' graves on Sunday, May 30, was placed in the hands of a committee headed by S. A. Whitehurst and including V. Vance Bunting, Ed Smith and Coy L. Forbes. Chairman Whitehurst stated that he had a fairly complete roster of all veterans' graves in the county up to a year ago but he urged that anyone who knows where veterans have been buried in this county during the past year notify him of the names of the veterans and the location of the graves in order that no grave would go undecorated.

In making his report on Boys' State, James S. Worsley stated that the Forty and Eight, the Pitt County Bar Association and the Rotary Club would each send one boy to Chapel Hill and the post voted to send two boys making a total of five. Other organizations are invited to sponsor boys for the meeting if they so desire.

In a brief talk Commander Jenkins thanked all the officers and committees who have made this a successful year for the local Legion post and also thanked the YWV but.

Eisenhower Continues Democratic Dark Horse

Washington, May 19—(AP)—Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's name may be the first placed in nomination for the presidency at the Democratic national convention.

When nominating time comes, the roll of states is called alphabetically. If present plans pan out, the Alabama delegation may use its top listing to try to start an Eisenhower name before President Truman's name is put up.

Alabama electors already have been instructed never to vote for Mr. Truman. His delegation, once completed in a runoff primary soon, is primed to walk out of the convention if a platform supporting Mr. Truman's civil rights views is adopted and if the President wins the nomination. Most politicians regard the latter outcome as almost certain.

The Eisenhower move apparently is designed to give Southern civil rights leaders a name to rally around in a fight against Mr. Truman's nomination.

Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, has said that what he wrote in January about not being available for the Republican nomination goes for both parties. But some Southerners say they don't think Eisenhower could turn down a nomination actually voted by the party.

Thus far J. Howard McGrath, Democratic chairman, and other administration aides have found no effective way of stopping the Eisenhower talk among Southerners and some other members of the party.

Two CIO Unions Threaten Strike In GM Dispute

Detroit, May 19—(AP)—General Motors Corp. faced strike threats from two CIO unions today as the Chrysler strike passed the first week without a sign of a break.

The United Electrical Workers (UE) joined the United Auto Workers (UAW) in preparations for a walkout at GM, the car industry's biggest producer. Both have been negotiating with the company more than two months.

UE officials yesterday called for a strike vote among their 40,000 members in five GM plants. A short time earlier the UAW filed a 10-day strike notice covering 225,000 of the corporation's employees in more than 90 plants across the country.

GM and Chrysler, together with the Ford Motor Co., make up the industry's big three and account for roughly four-fifths of all car manufacturing.

If a General Motors walkout is called while the 75,000 Chrysler strikers still are out, it would be the first strike in history to hit two of the big three companies simultaneously.

The auto workers threatened to leave their jobs at GM unless a contract dispute is settled by May 23. They are asking a 25-cent hourly wage increase, of which 10 cents could go for a pension plan, and other fringe benefits.

A four-hour negotiating session was held yesterday but no progress was reported.

The electrical workers, whose average wage is about 12 1/2 cents lower than the $1.50 an hour paid UAW members, have asked a "substantial" but unspecified raise. The GM contract is the UE's only major one in the auto industry but has set the industry wage pattern for the past two years.

Brewery Strike Brought To End

Milwaukee, May 19—(AP)—Milwaukee's famed brew began to flow toward the nation's spotlights again today.

A strike which had closed the Schlitz, Pabst, Miller, Blatz, Independent and Gettelman breweries since April 25, ended last night as CIO brewery workers voted to accept a $6.80 weekly wage increase.

Cardiff Giant Ends Odyssey In N. Y. Museum

Cooperstown, N. Y., May 19—(AP)—The Cardiff Giant, one of history's huge hoaxes, quietly ends a 79-year odyssey today.

The bogus Behemoth, an international sensation when "discovered" in 1869, goes on permanent exhibition here in Farmers' Museum of the State Historical Association.

Marveling thousands, including scientists, educators and clergymen, first accepted the Goliath as a "petrified human."

The giant, measuring 10 feet, four and one-half inches tall and weighing 2,990 pounds, was unearthed near Cardiff in Central New York by unsuspecting well-diggers.

The stupendous stone statue had been "planted" a year earlier by a Binghamton tobacco dealer, George Hull.

Marshall Cool To Russian Proposal

Secretary Of State Says Future Russian Cooperation In Settling World Issues Will Determine Sincerity

Washington, May 19—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today future Russian cooperation in settling world issues will determine Premier Stalin's sincerity in calling for greater understanding between nations.

Marshall said also that he certainly would see Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov if Molotov ever should come to Washington.

But Marshall refrained from saying he would be glad to see Molotov.

This reply concerning Molotov was given to a news conference question. Marshall omitted the "glad to see Molotov" phrase and only grinned when reporters laughed at the omission.

As to whether he had noted any recent increase in Russian cooperation toward solving issues before the United Nations and other international bodies, Marshall said there has not yet been much opportunity.

The Secretary noted that the exchange between American Ambassador W. B. Smith and Molotov was accomplished only ten days ago and that Premier Stalin's broadcast statement was issued last Monday night.

Stalin's statement was that of a public reply to an open letter from Henry A. Wallace, third party candidate for President. Wallace listed issues on which he advocated U. S. Soviet agreement: Stalin replied they offered a basis for agreement.

Marshall was asked whether it might now be considered that—from the American point of view—the

Mundt Bill Heads To Vote In House

Passage Of Anti-Red Measure Seen By Advocates, Foes

Washington, May 19—(AP)—The Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill headed for House passage today in the face of storm warnings raised by Chairman Taft of the Senate GOP policy committee.

House passage of the controversial measure was predicted by friends and foes alike. But a strong hint that it may suffer a different fate in the Senate was given by the Ohio senator in a radio talk last night.

He said the bill "may be so punitive as to drive all the Communists underground" rather than risk admitting their affiliation.

While he said he favors requiring Communist organizations to register and list their membership, he added:

"I do not think we can make it illegal to be a Communist or to think Communism or to talk Communism if it does not go to the extent of advocating the seizure of the government by violence."

Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, appearing on the same program, called the House bill "unwise and unsound." He said "it seeks to get at Communism through a side door."

The measure also was opposed by former Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold. He said he would be possible, he said, to cope with Communism under present laws.

The legislation was defended as protection against "subversive activities" by Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) who wrote the bill with Rep. Mundt (R-SD).

Jews Report Army Smashes Into Old City Of Jerusalem

Reprisal Move

Berlin, May 19—(AP)—The American Military Government banned today the import into the U.S. zone of all publications authorized by Russia.

The action was a reprisal for interference with the distribution of U.S.-controlled publications in the Soviet zone of Germany.

Col. Gordon E. Textor, director of the Information Control Division, said the prohibition will remain in force until Soviet authorities gave assurance of reciprocal treatment in the international exchange of publications.

The order does not apply to Berlin. Newspapers and other publications of the four zones are sold here under rules of the Allied Kommandatura.

Atomic Weapons Vastly Improved

Honolulu, May 19—(AP)—The United States has atomic weapons vastly improved over the wartime Hiroshima and Nagasaki types.

Aside from this fleeting peek under secrecy's curtain, the details are hidden.

Republican leaders want to get a compromise because if they don't there will be a terrific and time-consuming row when the draft bill comes up in the Senate, probably next week.

As the bill now stands it says "there shall be no discrimination against any person on account of race or color" in carrying out the draft law.

The measure's main provisions are (1) a revival of selective service to permit a draft of men 19 through 25 years for two years of service in the armed forces, and (2) a plan for training 161,000 18-year-olds as a reserve.

It was learned that Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) is drafting the Republican so-called compromise. He proposes to offer it as a substitute for an amendment backed by Russell and other Dixie Democrats.

Russell and Senator Maybank (D-SC) want an amendment saying that every enlisted man and draftee hereafter will be given the right to request service with units made up only of men of their own race. This would permit "mixed" units of men who did not request other assignment.

A disillusioned man, he returned to the United States some years later and was arrested in Massachusetts on a fugitive warrant. He began serving his sentence February 1, 1938. He was paroled in 1942.

J. L. Emanuel of Raleigh, Beal's attorney, presented affidavits before Superior Judge Wilson Warlick today in behalf of his client. Appearing as private citizens opposing the restoration of citizenship were Solicitor Basil L. Whitener and Lawyer Stephen B. Doley of Gastonia.

Statements were presented for Beal from Socialist Norman Thomas; Louis Nelson and Rowland Watts, both of New York, officials of AFL Garment Workers Union; the Rev. Dr. J. H. Washington, May 19—(AP)—State government expenditures increased more than 25 per cent during the 1947 fiscal year, while state revenue collections rose only 17.8 per cent, the Census Bureau reported today.

In that period—the 12 months ending last June 30—the 48 states spent a total of $8,146,000,000. This was less than a fifth of the federal government's $42,505,000,000 outlay.

Expect 4,000 To Attend Convention At Raleigh

Raleigh, May 19—(AP)—Candidates put on a rush today to get in a last few campaign ticks prior to tomorrow's Democratic state convention here.

About 4,000 are expected here for the convention, including about 3,500 delegates, according to State Chairman Wilkins P. Horton.

The civil rights issue will draw a large share of convention interest. Party leaders here attempted to present open trouble within the party over President Truman's program such as Democrats in other Southern states have experienced.

The convention is expected to vote to send an unstructured delegation to the national convention in Philadelphia next month, and to include in the state platform a plank opposing the civil rights program. North Carolina will send 40 delegates to Philadelphia to cast 32 votes.

Keynote for the convention will be Col. William T. Joyner, Raleigh attorney and former chairman of the State Board of Elections. Horton will recommend Maj. L. P. Mc-Lendon, Greensboro attorney and

Execution Stay Granted Number Convicted Nazis

Washington, May 18—(AP)—A stay of execution has been granted a number of Germans sentenced to die for the wartime Malmédy massacre of unarmed American prisoners.

Secretary of the Army Royall held up the death sentence which he said involved 17 men—late yesterday after the supreme court had refused by a 4 to 4 vote to consider a release petition for the condemned men and others convicted in the same case.

Royall said Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Germany, will investigate "serious allegations" made in the petitions.

The appeal charged the United States with using "sham" courts, threats and third degree methods to force confessions from the Germans.

S.C. Democrats Open Convention

Columbia, S. C., May 19—(AP)—South Carolina Democrats opened their biennial convention here today on a wave of opposition to President Truman and his civil rights program.

The convention was scheduled to receive a recommendation calling for nomination of Presidential electors opposed to:

1. Election of President Truman. 2. Any other Presidential candidates sympathetic to the President's civil rights program.

But Dispatches From Inside Old City Say Area Still Surrounded By Arab Ring Of Steel And Situation Appears Hopeless; Military Camp Seized

Tel Aviv, Israel, May 19—(AP)—The Jews said Israel's troops smashed through the Arab-held Zion Gate to the old city of Jerusalem today, linked up with Jewish defenders and widened a breach in the Arab ring in heavy fighting.

(An Associated Press dispatch from inside the old city said, however, that artillery and infantry of King Abdullah's Arab Legion formed a ring of steel around the city and the strategic outlook for the Jews seemed hopeless.)

(And in Cairo an Arab League spokesman reported Arab troops were in complete control of Jerusalem. He said all Jews in the Holy City surrendered last night to Abdullah's warriors.)

Jewish headquarters here claimed that the Jewish army seized the huge Sarafand military camp 15 miles southeast of Tel Aviv and Jaffa, in a night-long battle. The former British military camp is astride the main road to Jerusalem. It virtually adjoins the Arab stronghold of Ramle, which is under attack by Irgun Zvai Leumi forces. Irgun's commander said Israeli and Trans-Jordan troops defending Arab Ramle have appealed for help.

If foreign reports that Egyptians from the south and Syrians from the north linked up in the vicinity of Lydda and Ramle are true—and they are doubted here—the Jewish capture of Sarafand Camp would cut those forces in two again.

Capture of Sarafand is important from another standpoint. It has housing facilities for at least 20,000 refugee immigrants and is expected to develop into a city of its own. The report here is that the Jews once offered the British $2,500,000 for Sarafand, but when the British mandate Arabs moved in, Jewish headquarters here said fighting for the Zion Gate to Jerusalem raged through the night. The Jewish attack, headquarters said, was launched a few hours after the Jews captured Mount Zion in a frontal assault.

Jewish headquarters also announced: Jewish forces evacuated the village of Hatruv near Jerusalem.

The Arabs were repulsed yesterday in their attack on Kfar Sava, which the Jews captured two days ago.

An Irgun communiqué said Arab casualties at Ramle, 12 miles southwest of here and about 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem, ran into the hundreds. It said Israeli and Trans-Jordan troops defending the city have appealed for help.

Irgun, formerly one of the underground forces of Jews in Palestine, now is one of the Jews' secondary fighting forces.

(In Cairo yesterday, Arab sources picked up a Beirut broadcast saying that Trans-Jordan troops had made junction at Lydda with Egyptian troops driving up from the south. Lydda is less than five miles from Ramle.)

Earlier, Irgun Zvai Leumi said Jewish fighters are pressing in on Ramle, an Arab city astride the vital Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.

Stalin's Offer Deserves Closest Kind Of Study; Does Kremlin Plan Halt To Program Of 30 Years? Bewildering Features Include Some Doubtful Points

By DEWITT MACKENSIE

There is much virtue in the old saying that one shouldn't look gift horse in the mouth but, like most generalities, there are exceptions to the rule.

We are faced with an important exception, or so it seems to me, in the case of Premier Stalin's announcement that Moscow is willing, if America is, to accept Henry A. Wallace's recent open letter to him as the basis for peaceful settlement of Russo-American differences.

There is more than a little doubt as to what sort of steed we are being offered.

The big question we have to answer, of course, is whether this is a real peace offer or whether it is a shrewd move to bolster Russia's position and the Red revolution for the spread of Communism. It's a mighty uncomfortable thing to have to challenge what purports to be a peace gesture. However, we are forced to do it by Bolshevik aggression which has been going on unceasingly, with the resulting enslavement of numerous small nations and a threat to the rest

Kiwanis Club's Minstrel At College Tonight

By CHESTER WALSH

A preview of the Kiwanis Dixieland Minstrel at rehearsal last night convinced selected spectators that the show is better than ever. The minstrel takes place on the Mississippi River steamboat "Robert E. Lee." The scenery and costumes are dazzling, the lighting effects prismatic. The orchestra, composed of college students, is good enough to go on the big time circuits.

The end men, led by Tige (Sweet-pea) Gardner, enact their parts like professionals. Ell Bloom, the producer, is interlocutor.

The chorus is the best the minstrel has had. The songs and specialties numbers are tuneful and sparkling. The dance numbers, directed by Marie Smith Wallace are good enough for Broadway. It's a great show. Don't miss it.

The minstrel is given under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club's Underprivileged Child Committee and all proceeds go to worthy causes.

Tonight's performance at Austin auditorium at the college starts at 8:15. Tickets may be obtained from Kiwanis and from J. Hicks Corey's office, 515 Dickinson Avenue. They also will be on sale at the door. The minstrel will be given again tomorrow night.

"How to Make Lamp Shades" or "Time Saving Methods and Working Posture for Better Health," is the demonstration given at the Home Demonstration Clubs this month. During the demonstration on Making Lamp Shades the agents showed the steps which are: Cutting a pattern to fit rings, covering the rings, cutting the lining, cutting the cover, sewing the lining to the rings, attaching the cover, and putting on the trimming.

From the demonstration on Time Saving Methods and Working Posture for Better Health, the club women learned that there is a correct body position for every activity, whether it is bending, stooping, lifting, carrying, sitting or standing. Learning the right way and using the right way will help to eliminate fatigue, improve your looks and eliminate nervous tension.

Her rule for good posture is: "Sit tall, stand tall and think tall." This rule when practiced eliminates fatigue, adds to looks and degrades nervous tension. She pointed out that one-fourth of the bones in our body are found in the feet, therefore, comfortable working shoes are very important. Correct and incorrect positions for scrubbing, sweeping, lifting, and pushing heavy objects, preparing vegetables, ironing, etc., were shown. Numerous other rules and ideas most helpful to all were given. After the demonstration our hostess, assisted by Miss Edith Hawkins served delicious strawberry shortcake and iced tea. Prominent Speakers Will Be Commencement Guests

Commencement exercises at East Carolina Teachers College, to be held on Saturday, June 5, through Monday, June 7, will bring to the campus as speakers the Honorable J. C. B. Ehringhaus of Raleigh, former governor of North Carolina, and Dr. John Bright of the Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, Virginia. Ehringhaus will deliver the principal address on Monday, when graduates of the college will receive their diplomas. Dr. Bright will preach the commencement sermon on Sunday, Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina since last September, will preside at the exercises.

Ehringhaus will be particularly welcome on the campus here because of his connection with the early history of the college. When in 1905 plans for a normal school for eastern Carolina were being discussed in the state, Ehringhaus, then a young legislator from Elizabeth City, introduced into the House of Representatives the first bill providing for the establishment of such an institution. After his bill passed the House but died in the Senate, Ehringhaus continued his efforts toward establishing the normal school by working with committees of the Legislature. Ehringhaus, a native of Pasquotank County, served as governor of North Carolina from 1933 to 1937, is now an attorney in Raleigh, and has been identified for many years with public affairs in the state. Dr. Bright is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond in the class of 1931. After teaching there until 1935, he entered Johns Hopkins, where he studied until he received a doctorate. During this time he was twice a member of archaeological expeditions to Palestine, and also served in pastorates at Durham, N. C., and at Cantonsville, Md. He returned to the Seminary in 1940 and shortly afterward was granted a leave of absence to serve as chaplain in the army during the last war. At the present time he is again teaching in Richmond.

Other events of commencement will include meetings of the Alumni Association and a recital by students of the department of music on Saturday and the annual YWCA-YMCA vesper service on Sunday afternoon. President and Mrs. Messick will entertain alumni, seniors, and faculty members at a tea on Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. A. J. Hobbs, District Supt. of Methodist Church for Rocky Mount District, will be the guest speaker for the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, May 23, at 11:15 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Katherine McClees Foreman will conduct the singing. Dr. C. Sylvester Green, Editor of the Durham Morning Herald will deliver the commencement address on Monday night, May 24, at 8:00 o'clock. Dr. Green is a graduate of Wake Forest college and Duke University. His topic will be "The Evaluation of a Patriot." Katherine Council, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Council is the valedictorian of the class, and Ann White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie White is the salutatorian.

Strength FOR THE DAY

MOVIE RELIGION

Recent light comedy movies dealing with religious themes have made Christianity very attractive indeed. They show, astoundingly enough, that the clergy are just like other people; that angels come down to help us out with any difficult problems we might have; that miracles can happen at the drop of a hat. Not only that, but the angels are created in the image of a popular movie picture hero, and the most blessed of all the blessed—and the fittest subjects for miracles—are movie actresses who work hard.

Now nobody minds a little hokum once in a while. These movies are amusing, but are even less important than fairy stories. Fairy stories often have a real basis in human nature, and sometimes approach philosophical truth. But these movies seem to run counter to an important teaching of Christian faith. The hard fact is that Christianity is built on belief, righteousness, and sacrifice—and these elements are often conspicuous by their absence in modern plays and motion pictures. The great danger is that the complacent may think that everything will be all right if they only wait for some angelic being to drop down into their lives and square everything with the powers above.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

PEANUTS—The not so lowly peanut has entered the current political campaign. In what was generally regarded heretofore as indirect attack upon the administration of the department of agriculture during the past ten years by Kerr Scott, now candidate for governor, Charles M. Johnson charged in a speech at Oxford Monday night that money appropriated for peanut research had not been used exclusively for that purpose. The candidate was quoted in news stories as saying a test farm bought under authorization of the 1939 legislature is being used "for purposes other than experimenting with peanuts."

TARGET—While it is generally conceded the target of this criticism was the department of agriculture, Scott people were quick to point out the shots really hit the central experiment station at State College. Under the cooperative arrangement for conduct of the test farms, the state department of agriculture provides the physical equipment—land, buildings and machinery—and personnel for management of these facilities. The extension service at the college and the central experiment station furnish the technicians and have charge of conducting the experiments.

ERROR—Another error is noted in the Johnson figures. The law authorizing purchase of a peanut test farm was enacted in 1937 instead of 1939 and a tract of 246 acres of land adjoining the Upper Coastal Experiment Farm in Edgecombe County was bought in November, 1937. At the same time additional acreage was leased in Northampton, Halifax and Perquimans counties and experiments got underway early in 1938. The next legislature, that of 1939, appropriated for the first time in many years money out of the general fund for agricultural experimentation, including $25,000 for peanut research. This money went directly to the experiment station and has been contributed in varying amounts ever since.

LOCATION—Location of the peanut test farm was questioned at the time and has been several times challenged since. The 1947 farm census summary shows that peanuts are grown in commercial quantity in 95 of the 100 counties of the state, with more than 80 percent of the acreage in the sixteen counties known as the northern coastal group—mainly north and east of the Roanoke River. Growers in that area felt the peanut farm should have been located there. Actually many of the Carolina farmers in the northeast got that data on peanuts from the Virginia peanut station just north of the border Northampton is the biggest peanut county with 53,000 acres planted in 1947, followed by Halifax with 45,400, Bertie with 37,800 and Edgecombe with 25,800 acres. Bladen County, down in the southeastern corner of the state, had 9,000 acres, ranking tenth among the 100 counties in peanut acres.

DISSATISFACTION—There has been perhaps more expression of dissatisfaction about location of the peanut farm in Edgecombe County,

Boyle's Column

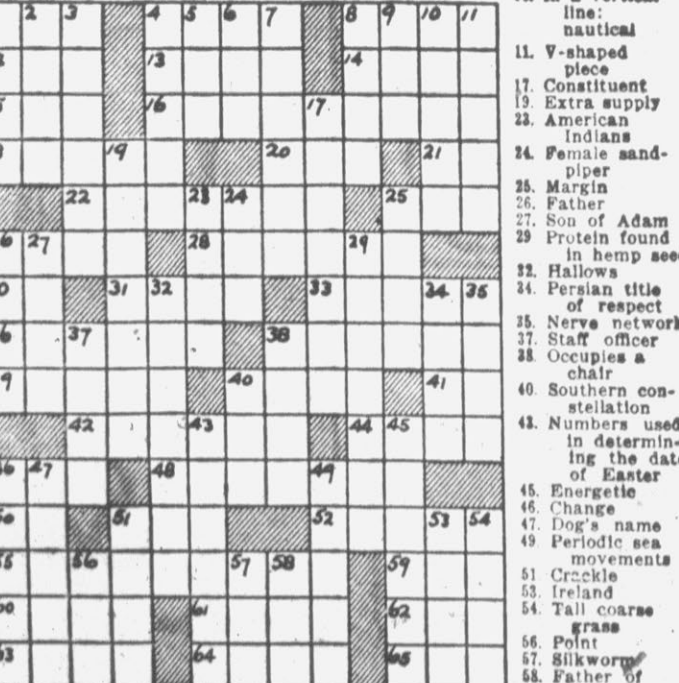

By HAL BOYLE
New York.—(AP)—To heck with push button war. I'm for a push button peace. It'll be more fun.

Now take these new fangled guided missiles—the buzz bomb and rockets. Every big country has its scientists straining their gray matter blue trying to figure out ways to make them more deadly. These trained electric boomerangs do promise to take a lot of exercise and hardship out of war. The top brass in all lands, the Admirals whose decks is a deck, can push buttons all day in their offices and still get home for the cocktail hour. The guided missiles would do the work. The only combat equipment needed by the men who pushed the buttons would be thumb guards to save wear and tear on their pinkies. But why develop guided missiles just to send them off to battle has but farmers who major in other crops have also protested location of test farms outside the areas of heaviest production. Since the tobacco farm was established at Oxford the center of bright leaf production has moved southeastward. The principal cotton test farm is at Statesville, near the border of the producing area. Main dairy test farms are in the west, while major dairy production is in the piedmont. These farms cannot be moved from year to year as the center of interest changes, and while each of the farms has a specialty, all of them devote some attention to many other crops. For example, the Willard farm, primarily for small fruits and vegetables, is giving a lot of attention to poultry and dairying. The Oxford farm, primarily for tobacco, has run valuable experiments in corn. The Statesville farm, chiefly for cotton and grain, has done a good job with sheep. And each of the several test farms carries on some experimentation in almost every phase of agriculture as practiced in North Carolina.

Postmaster Has Stamps Rationed

Millsboro, N. J., May 19—One cent stamps were being sold on a rationed basis at the local post office today after the word got around about some quick 400 per cent returns on each penny purchase.

Burdened with some 50,000 old 1916 issue stamps ordered by a special purchaser many years ago but never called for, postmaster John P. Leonard put them on sale finally when he found they would fit a newly installed vending machine.

The stamps show the profile of George Washington in an oval frame surrounded by wreaths in varied shades of green. They look good, Leonard conceded—but he was never prepared for the rush of would be buyers.

Someone with a stamp catalogue found the 1916 issue now was worth four cents each to collectors—and that set off the stampede. Purchasers who jammed the post office building asked for lots of several hundreds.

Business, Leonard concluded, was too good. He ordered a rationing system set up. Ten stamps to the customer are the limit today.

Plan Annual Event

Robersonville, May 19—The Robersonville Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring their annual Beauty contest and dance to be held in the Central Warehouse here on Tuesday evening June 15.

"Miss Robersonville" will be selected at that time to represent this city in the statewide contest to be held at a later date. Roy Cole and his University of North Carolina band will furnish the music for the dance.

Julian Carro Gibbs Funeral Held Today

Julian Carro Gibbs, 66, died at his home in Farmville early Tuesday morning after several years of declining health. He was born in Hyde County and came to Farmville in 1919 where he was employed by the Farmville Oil and Fertilizer Co. until his retirement two years ago.

Funeral services were held at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, in which he was a member of the vestry, today at 3 o'clock, conducted by the Rector Jack R. Rountree of Kinston.

Burial was in the Hollywood cemetery in Farmville.

Surviving are his wife, the former Etta L. Watson; a daughter, Mrs. J. P. Valnright of Greenville; three sons, B. B. Gibbs of Greenville, R. L. Gibbs of Kannapolis, and J. M. Gibbs, of Farmville.

Orchestral Work By Students Is Finest Of Year

The Greenville high school orchestra, under the direction of E. B. McDowell, presented one of the finest high school music programs of the year last evening in the GHS auditorium. The audience was small, but enthusiastic.

The orchestra is a development from the school string classes, with addition of wind and percussion instruments from the band to complete a full group.

Juanita Stokes, concert Mistress, played the fourth Air Valse by Dancels as a solo, with Miss Ona Shindler at the piano. A quartet of violins played two numbers. The group was composed of Miss Stokes, Mr. McDowell, John Humber and Mitchell Sales, with Kitty Smith as accompanist.

The string section of the orchestra, assisted by four students from the college, played four numbers.

Biggers Is Going To Perquimans County As Superintendent

John T. Biggers, principal of the Winterville High School the past three years, has resigned to become superintendent of schools in Perquimans County. Don H. Conley, Pitt County superintendent, announced today. Biggers made a fine record at Winterville and the school prospered under his administration, school committeemen said.

He has had 18 years' experience as teacher and principal. He taught science at Raeford High School four years; mathematics and history at Tarboro High School two years; was principal of the Conetoe High School in Edgecombe County six years; was principal of the Grifton High School in Pitt County for three years before going to Winterville.

Biggers is a member of North Carolina Education Association and the National Education Association, and is immediate past president of the Northeastern District of the NEA. He is active in fraternal and community work.

University Escheats Fund Nears Million

Raleigh, May 19—(AP)—A payment from railroads will send the Greater University of North Carolina's escheats funds almost to the $1,000,000 mark.

Three leading railroads will turn over $275,596 to the escheats fund in settlement with the state, it was learned yesterday.

(Continued from Page One) tures of Marshal Stalin's statement is his assertion "the U.S.S.R. government considers that, despite the difference in the economic system and ideologies, the co-existence of these systems and a peaceful settlement of differences between the U.S.S.R. and the United States are not only possible but also doubtlessly necessary in the interests of a general peace."

Of course general peace would be dependent on peace between Russia and America. However, the thought that the ideologies and economic systems of the two nations could be reconciled completely reverses everything that Communism stands for. The Bolsheviks long ago swore that capitalism must be wiped out. They have been working toward this end steadily right up to now, and we have the right to ask whether they are making an about face.

Why Did U.S. . . .

This country long ago offered a plan for international control of atomic energy through the U. N. Russia didn't like our plan and offered some ideas of her own in the U. N. for control of the atom. The U. N. atomic energy commission — the U. S. and Russia are members—and some subcommittees were set up to work out an agreement. About 200 meetings were held.

No agreement. Two days ago the commission just suspended further talks. Why? The State Department blames the failure on Russia. It blocked proposals that nine other nations on the commission were trying to accept.

Here's the A-B-C of Dynaflo Drive*

First, there's a highly efficient new-type pump like this, filled with oil. Driven by the engine, it spins, shooting out oil under pressure from the channels indicated by the pencil.

Then there is a true turbine, like this, with its blades curved sharply to catch the speeding oil. Entering in the openings indicated, oil makes the turbine spin too, thereby turning the rear wheels.

Finally, there is this unique "super-charging assembly" — three ingenious elements not found on any other car. Mounted between the pump and turbine, they control the force and direction of oil to adjust driving power to different driving conditions — starting, accelerating, hill climbing, etc.

PUT all these together and they spell Dynaflo—the first American passenger car drive that requires no changing of gears in normal driving.

Functioning entirely on their own in an oil-filled drum, these parts give you the equivalent of low gear, second gear, high gear — and an infinite number of "gears" in between.

When you start, they give you smooth starting power. When you want to accelerate, they give accelerating power. When you cruise, they give an efficient cruising ratio — all without gear changing on your part.

Just set a lever and press the gas treadle—the power plant does the rest. Once started, you'll never need to touch the selector lever in normal driving until you're ready to park or back up.

You get good engine braking on hills—with more in reserve at a touch on the lever. You get smoothness unimaginable—a new "sweetness" to the whole car — a relief from things-to-remember that makes all-day driving noticeably less tiring.

Look into Dynaflo if for no other reason than to be up to date on what's newest in automobile drives. Your Buick dealer will take your order with or without a car to trade.

Visiting Nurse

by Kathleen Harris

Chapter 14
Much to Hildred's surprise Randy phoned that Sunday morning to ask if there was anything he could do to help out with Jimmy's visit.
"He's going for a drive, with mother, in the country this afternoon. So there really is nothing you can do, Randy, though it is mighty nice of you to ask."
"I'm glad it's working out so well," Randy returned heartily. "I suppose I am to come for supper as I have every Sunday night?" Hildred said, "Yes, of course. But don't come any earlier, Randy. I won't be here. I'm having tea this afternoon with Lucien Lanier and his mother."

flippant, or as confident, about meeting Lucien's mother as she had tried to sound to Randy. What did you wear when you were to be presented to a countess?

Lucien had said for her just to be herself. So maybe that was what she would do. She would wear what she would have worn any other Sunday afternoon, and she would have to hope that it would be all right.

And it must have been, as the first thing Lucien said when he saw her was, "How lovely you look! I like you in white, Hildred, better than in any other color."

They did not go to his own private quarters, but to the large formal drawing room. Hildred was dismayed to discover that there were other guests. She recognized two of them as Mr. van Duren and his wife. They were influential people in the town—Mr. van Duren being its banker—and members of the clinic's board of directors. That would help some, knowing them. The others were all strangers.

Mamie had said that the Countess was "a sight in herself"; and as usual, Mamie was right. Hildred had never seen a more beautiful woman.
She had snow white hair, but her face was as unlined and fresh as a young girl's. She had Lucien's wonderful dark eyes. She was sitting at the far end of the room on a divan, much as one would sit on a throne.

"Here she is, Lis," Lucien said.
"My mother, the Countess de Macena, Hildred."

She smiled on Hildred extending a gracious hand. "I have looked forward to this moment," she said.
"I would like very much to know you as well as my son apparently believes he does."

Hildred knew that she had been right; Countess, or not, Lucien's mother was like every other mother in the world. She had come sooner in order to look Lucien's new friend over for herself.

Fortunately at this moment Mr.
van Duren turned to step forward and welcome Hildred in such a warm manner as to leave no doubt of his sincerity. "Well, my dear Miss Hildred," he beamed on her. "How nice to meet you here."

Mrs. van Duren helped matters along by putting in her word. "It is nice to see you, dear child." She came up to give Hildred a light kiss on one cheek. "How is your mother these days? I've been meaning to drop around to call on her. You must tell her I shall very soon."

Hildred thanked them both, not only with words, but with her eyes.
She knew they had deliberately come to her rescue, to show their hostess that this intruder had their warm and hearty approval.

She did her best to act natural, as Lucien had told her to, but she felt distinctly like an outsider, if not like the intruder she was confident Lucien's mother considered her to be.

She also was certain that the Countess would never like her, nor accept her as a friend of her son's.
But Hildred decided not to let that bother her. She had promised Lucien, making that solemn pledge, that no one should come between them.

Greenies Drop Twin Bill To Rocky Mount Leafs

Rally In Sixth Frame, First Game, Falls Short; Second Game Goes By Board Via Walks And Errors

Manager Bill Phebus' Greenies lost both ends of a double bill to the Rocky Mount Leafs here last night, 9-5 and 9-4, as Walt Barton went all the way to win the first game and then came back as a relief pitcher in the nightcap and got credit for the second win.

In the opening game the Leafs had very little trouble in subduing the Greenies as they started off by scoring three runs in the third on three singles and then came back in the fourth to put across what proved their winning runs in the fourth on two singles and "Pepper" Martin's homer over the scoreboard in left field with two mates aboard, added one more in the fifth on two hits and a sacrifice, and in the sixth scored two more runs on a walk, two singles, a sacrifice and a double steal.

Greenies managed to put across one run in the fifth on a walk and two singles and rallied for four runs in the sixth on two doubles, a single and one error.

Ken Brooks started on the mound for the Greenies and pitched the first three and two-thirds innings in which he allowed seven hits and six of the Leafs' runs to receive credit for the loss. Johnny Kovalchick pitched the remainder of the game and allowed five hits and three runs.

In the second game the Leafs had an uphill battle all the way but pulled into a tie with the Greenies in the seventh frame at 8-8, and then came back in their top of the ninth and put across one run on an error and two singles to win the second game.

The Leafs scored three runs in the first on one hit and five walks issued by Jerry Chitty, the starting hurler, but the Greenies came back in the second to put across four runs on four hits and an error, and then scored two more in the third on a walk and two singles.

Junior Yohn, who went in to relieve Chitty during the first frame, pitched the remainder of the game and allowed nine hits and six runs and got credit for the loss.

The Leafs used three hurlers in the game with Walt Barton coming in at the start of the fourth frame to hold the Greenies to four hits and two runs to get his second win of the night over the Greenies.

The Greenies made five errors in the second game, all of them figuring in the Leafs' scoring.

The Greenies journey over to Rocky Mount tonight to play a return game with the Leafs and then return home Thursday to open another two-game series with the Kingston Eagles.

Studies Film To Avoid Mistakes

New York, May 19—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis says he's going to get ready for his return bout with Jersey Joe Walcott by taking in the movies.

But they're not just ordinary movies. They're scenes of that first scrap back in December when Jersey Joe banged the champ to the canvas twice before dropping a disputed, split decision.

The Brown Bomber, arriving east yesterday to begin the final phase of his training, announced that a study of the first pictures would be an important part of his preparation at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

He wants to look over his mistakes and be sure not to make them again under the big lights at Yankee Stadium June 23.

"The first thing the champ did upon his arrival from Bloomingdale, Mich., was to get clipped on the chin.

But it wasn't serious. The clipping was done by Joe's favorite Harlem barber, who divorced him from a magnificent batch of chin foliage cultivated while chopping down trees in Michigan.

Coming out from behind his 34-day growth of whiskers, Louis looked surprisingly trim.

"Just 222 pounds," the champion said with unadorned honesty. "I just have seven more pounds to take off."

Seeking Truce In Pro-Basketball

Chicago, May 19—(AP)—The National Basketball League held out an olive branch today in the so-called pro basketball war.

Doris Moore, vice-president and acting commissioner of the NBL, called an impromptu press conference last night to declare:

"There will be no war, no legal suits and no contract jumping between the NBL and the Basketball Association of America."

Manager Eddie Dyer was satisfied that Nippy Jones could hit when he called the youngster up from Rochester where he had been batting at a merry clip and had walked off with the individual hitting honors of the International League. With Rochester, Jones had been used as second, third and in the outfield. The Cardinals tried him at second and in the outfield but in neither spot did Jones flash a big league brand of defensive baseball.

It was a big gamble that Dyer took this spring in training camp when he tossed Nippy a first baseman's glove and told him to take over Stan Musial's post. Stan was anxious to return to his natural position in the outfield despite the fact that he had developed into one of the best fielding first basemen in the league. Jones caught on quickly, and in no time at all felt right at home. The double switch appears to have worked out well for Musial as hitting better than ever.

Jones hasn't had too much experience in organized baseball. After batting 304 for Sacramento in 1943, he joined the Marines. Returning in 1946 he played 71 games with Rochester and hit .344. In addition to winning the individual batting crown last season, Jones topped the International League sluggers with 36 doubles and 12 triples.

Braves Dispose Of Frank Kerr

Boston, May 19—(AP)—Boston's Braves today sent Catcher Frank Kerr to Milwaukee, the Tribe's class AAA farm in the American Association, on 24 hour option.

Kerr, who came to the Braves from the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League, has seen no action this season with the major leaguers.

The Braves now are within two of the 25 man limit they must reach by Thursday as last night they optioned right handed pitcher Ed Wright to the Milwaukee Brewers.

Mackerel Biting At Bare Hooks

Bradenton, Fla., May 18—(AP)—The record mackerel run here is continuing in such proportions that eight-year-old Shirley Brownell stopped for 15 minutes on the way to school and hauled in 10 of the fish.

Many individuals reported daily catches of more than 100.

When the water is clear the fish can be seen snapping hungrily at bare hooks.

Mrs. Chester Walsh, director of the Seventh District of the North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, installed newly elected officers for the club year 1948-49 at Aoshkie last

Mrs. Thornton Meeks, district secretary was unable to go because of illness. Mrs. Walsh urged that as many as possible attend the state convention at Mayview Manor, Blowing Rock on June 18-20, going with other members from this district via a chartered bus which will leave Rocky Mount at 12:01 a.m. June 18

Dr. Haney Speaker At Grifton Finals

Last Sunday night the Senior Class of the Grifton High School and parents and teachers of the community heard an inspiring sermon delivered by the pastor of the Eighth Street Christian Church of Greenville, Dr. H. C. Haney. He talked on two ideologies, the one to love and the other to kill.

The invocation was said by Mayor R. A. Nelson and the Scripture was read by William A. Evans. The Glee Club, under direction of Miss Betsy Hodges, rendered "The Holy City." A solo, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," was sung by Mrs. Frederick Cox.

Principal Paul Clark made announcements of the remainder of the school finals, the class exercises on Wednesday night and the graduation exercises on Friday night, with Dr. John D. Messick of ETC in Greenville delivering the address. He also presented the superintendent of schools of Pitt County, D. H. Conley, who in turn, presented Dr. Haney, the speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Mae Erue played the professional and recreational. The seniors were led by the mascot, Bette Purser.

Report Bombing Of Red Leaders

Nanking, May 19—(AP)—The government today announced one of its planes bombed a building in which Communist President Mao Tse-Tung and 200 other Red leaders were conferring.

The announcement, by Lt. Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, said 80 were killed or wounded by the bomb, dropped at Piping in western Hopenh Province on May 13.

In the past, several top Communist commanders, including Gen. Chen Yi, reportedly killed by Nationalist airpower usually reappeared.

These credited national intelligence agents in West Hopenh with the information on the bombing, but made no attempt to identify any of the casualties.

The announcement came as government forces suffered a setback in the rich Han River Valley; lost Lin-feng in Shanxi Province, and repulsed a Red raid on a Peiping suburb.

Great stores of food and gasoline fell to Communist forces when Red Gen. Liu Po-Cheng captured Loahokow, 300 miles northwest of the big government base of Hankow. The rich valley supplies much food to Central China.

Moscow, May 19—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace was pictured "for Russian readers today as a 'champion of peace' and a widely popular figure in the United States.

The newspaper Moscow Bolshevik published an article on Wallace in response to a reader who asked for a definition of the different political parties in the U. S.

"An important feature of the present election campaign," Bolshevik said in its reply, "is that there is a third party on the ballot.

"This is the new independent political party standing for defense of the democratic freedom of the American people. Wallace is the champion of the Roosevelt course for American policy. In his speeches Wallace has shown himself the champion of peace and security of the people."

"Everywhere Wallace struggles for a stable peace," Bolshevik continued, "for friendship between nations, for close cooperation of the United States with the Soviet Union and countries of the new democracy."

"Wallace's nomination for the presidency has aroused alarm and apprehension in the ranks of Democrats and Republicans," Bolshevik said. "Conservatives and reactionaries are afraid Wallace will win millions of votes, especially in the industrial states, that he may get the support of liberals who previously voted for the Republicans."
