Liaison Officer Installed Despite Soviet Protests

British Control Commission installed a liaison officer today in the Communist-controlled central police headquarters of Berlin, over the protests of the Soviet military administration.

All three western powers had served notice last week they intended to assign such officers, despite Russian claims it was illegal and meant interference by the western allies in German police operations.

U. S. occupation authorities intend to set up a similar office in the headquarters of the uniformed police and the French in the criminal police headquarters. All three buildings are in the Soviet sector of Berlin.

An office was not made available immediately to the American liaison officer, V. N. Kovacic of Forest Hills, N. Y., when he went to uniformed police headquarters this morning. French officials said they had not yet sent their representative to the criminal police.

American officials said Rudolf Wagner, acting chief of the uniformed police, requested an order from the allied Kommandatura's public safety committee. The committee has not been functioning since the Russians walked out recently when the western powers sought to cross-examine Paul Markgraf, Police President. Wagner is a member of the Soviet-sponsored socialist unity party.

Col. James Stewart, British public safety official, said Markgraf did not want to provide the British liaison man an office at first because he had received Soviet instructions to ignore the western allies' moves.

U. S. officials have warned German Communists they will be arrested if they campaign in the American zone for Germany for their pledge to the unification of Germany. The campaign, barred in the U. S. and French zones, opened yesterday to continue three weeks.

Receive Motion For New Trial Of Robert Best

Boston, May 24—(AP)—A motion for a new trial for Robert H. Best, convicted of treason April 16 for broadcasting from Germany during the war, was taken under advisement today by federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford.

Charles E. Bartlett, counsel for the former resident of Sumter, S. C. argued Best's motives in broadcasting were to help the United States; not to betray but assist his country.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Gerald J. McCarthy said evidence showed Best wanted the United States to lose the war and that no valid argument exists for a new trial.

Best in a statement said the indictment against him was irregular, that the verdict was against the weight of evidence, and that the defense was denied the right to present vital facts to the jury.

Patrol Arrests 7,120 In April

Raleigh, N. C., May 24—(AP)—State Highway Patrolmen arrested 7,120 drivers during April, including 628 charged with drunken driving, patrol headquarters reported today.

The patrolmen, who traveled 1,272,476 miles during the month, investigated 746 accidents in which 43 persons were killed and 444 injured, the report said.

Walkout Threat Aimed At Nation's Telephones

New York, May 24—(AP)—The nation is threatened with a strike of 30,000 telephone equipment workers which a union official says would stop all phone service.

The threatened work stoppage will affect all telephone offices throughout the United States. Dan V. Harris, fourth vice-president of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers (ACEW) said yesterday.

A dispute between the Union and the Western Electric Company is the root of the impending walkout of WE's installation division workers who handle telephone central office equipment.

Harris said the strike threat arose because the company has given a "flat rejection" of union demands for a wage increase of 31 cents an hour. He said W-E has not made a proposal.

Harris said his union is conducting a strike vote by mail.

The company, a W-E spokesman said, is "always anxious to continue negotiations." Harris said negotiations were broken off last Friday after two weeks of meetings here which were held under a wage reopening clause in a two-year contract running until May 1949.

Harris said most members of the Union earn less than $1 an hour and the starting rate is 82 cents an hour. He said the result of the strike vote probably would be known in about two weeks although it could be done faster.

Woman Dies Of Severe Beating

Fayetteville, N. C., May 24—(AP)—A 28-year-old mother of four children died today of what attaches at a Fayetteville hospital termed "a severe beating." Her husband was held without bond.

Mrs. Milton Rich was brought to the hospital last night.

Her husband is an automobile mechanic. The office of Sampson county sheriff P. B. Lockerman reported that Rich was being held in the county jail in Clinton without privilege of bond, pending a fuller investigation.

Chiang Selects Scientist For Premier's Post

Nanking, May 24—(AP)—Slight, 59-year-old Wong Wen-Hao, rated China's leading scientist, was confirmed today as premier. He was President Chiang Kai-Shek's surprise choice.

The action carried the generalissimo over the most serious internal challenge to his leadership in two decades. But it is not likely to end the struggle for power building up within the government.

The new legislature, whose members forced Chiang to abandon efforts to retain Premier Chong Chun, gave Wong reluctant but obedient confirmation. The vote was 469 to 94. The legislature defeated a motion to require Wong to explain his policies to it.

Without a political machine or power of his own, Wong—who weighs less than 100 pounds—must depend on strong support by Chiang to enforce his program.

Georgia Senator Sees Need Of 'Strong, One-Term President'

Washington, May 24—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) said today the voters ought to elect in November "a strong, one-term president who can set this country on the right course."

George, who has been mentioned as Georgia's favorite son candidate in the Dixie Civil Rights battle against President Truman's nomination, told a reporter he doesn't think Mr. Truman "is the answer to the nation's prayer for leadership."

"We need a strong, one-term President who will forget politics and bring expenditures down to the point where we won't go bankrupt," the Georgia Senator declared.

"Unless we change the trend we are in now," George said, "we are heading for expenditures that may reach 48 or 50 billion dollars in calendar year 1949. We are heading for a deficit and increased taxes and I don't think the country can stand it."

The Georgian indicated he may not go along with one proposed Southern move to put the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower before the Democratic convention.

Eisenhower was quoted in Chicago last week as saying he isn't going to give public support to either the Republican or Democratic nominee for President. Published reports said he declared he had no intention of opening his mouth about the various candidates.

This seemed to throw cold water on a back stage move by friends of some Republican and Democratic hopefuls to get the Columbia University president to take sides in favor of their man.

It was somewhat pleasing, however, to the Southerners who think

Northwest Faces Danger Of Flood

More rain was forecast today for the drenched Pacific Northwest as dozens of rivers and streams continued to pour over their banks and flood major portions of the area.

A tug with two men aboard vanished in the swollen Columbia river yesterday but no other casualties were reported.

The weather bureau at Spokane, Wash., said yesterday's steady rain brought the month's total to 4.55 inches, an all time record for May. The previous high was 3.42 inches in 1908.

A 31-foot dike protecting 2500 acres of rich farm land at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, collapsed and two Canadian dams broke, pouring water into Grand Forks, B. C., to a depth of eight feet in places.

More than 200 army engineers from Fort Lewis, Wash., were rushed to Bonners Ferry to aid in defending 40,000 acres against the raging Kootenai river.

Farmers and townspeople joined the soldiers in sandbagging other dikes. Dynamite was used to blast a bigger hole in the broken barrier to relieve pressure on other sections.

A major effort was being made last night to build up a dike protecting 4000 acres and it appeared that the water might be kept back.

The flash flood struck so suddenly at Grand Forks that one taxicab was stranded in the center of the street and its driver had to be evacuated by rowboat.

Oppose 2-Year Terms For AEC

Washington, May 24—(AP)—Five Democratic lawmakers said today it would be both "unwise and dangerous" to extend for only two years the terms of the Atomic Energy Commissioners.

In a minority report of the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee, they urged that the recommendations of President Truman be carried out. The President on April 20 renominated Chairman David E. Lilienthal for a five year term and the other commissioners for terms ranging from one to four years.

The Democrats said a bill introduced by Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) "would seriously impair the efficiency of the atomic energy program."

The bill would extend all of the terms to June 3, 1950.

The bill was approved by a majority of the committee last week. In a report at that time, the majority said any hasty decisions as to a permanent administrative pattern for the commission are "unwarranted and unwise."

Hickenlooper told a reporter he hopes to get the Senate to act on the bill sometime this week. He said he thinks it will be approved handily.

Name President Of Reserve Body

Raleigh, May 24—(AP)—Lt. Col. Joe L. Pleasants of Charlotte is the new president of the North Carolina Department of the Reserve Officers Association.

He was elected yesterday at the closing session of the two-day convention of the department. He succeeds Lt. Col. Dennis H. Holliday of Raleigh.

Infant Strangles In Her Play Pen

West Los Angeles, May 24—(AP)—While her twin sister played happily beside her, 14-month-old Judith McGill strangled to death in her play pen yesterday.

Det. Jack Fergis said the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. McGill, apparently had stepped up on a bottom crossbar of the play pen. Her feet slipped outside the pen and she hung by her throat from an upper crossbar, her head wedged between the uprights.

'Must' Bills Cast Shadow On Plans To End Congress

Washington, May 24—(AP)—A thick stack of "must" bills cast a dark shadow today over plans of Republican leaders to adjourn Congress June 18.

Senators probably will go an extra hour shift this week and begin night sessions later in an effort to jam through a bundle of controversial bills.

But unless the lawmakers somehow can avoid the usual session-end squabble, the best guess today is that they will be able only to recess for the Republican and Democratic national conventions and then return to finish the job in Washington's hot and muggy summer weather.

Complicating the tightly-packed legislative schedule is a report that one top-ranking Republican senator is carrying an anti-poll tax bill around in his pocket. He plans to offer it as an amendment to any House-passed bill that affords any kind of peg for it.

That would be certain to cause a filibuster by Southern Democrats. Many of them have promised to talk indefinitely to prevent enactment of any of the civil rights measures asked by President Truman.

The Senate planned to resume debate today on the annual farm appropriation providing more than $1,000,000,000 for the Agriculture Department.

Closer Scrutiny For Labor Laws

Washington, May 24—(AP)—The nation's labor laws are up for three weeks of congressional scrutiny starting today.

The story of the Senate-House watchdog committee set up under the Taft-Hartley Act may lead to some changes. But few if any are expected this year.

The one proposal regarded as having a chance for quick action was at the top of the discussion list (9 a.m. EST) as the group headed by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) opens its first public hearings 11 months after enactment of the Taft-Hartley law.

That proposal would eliminate a requirement that a union shop be set up only if a majority of employees vote for it. Under a union shop, employers can hire anyone they choose, but workers must join the union later.

Senator Ives (R-NY) and Rep. Landis (R-Ill.), both members of the joint committee assigned to study the whole field of labor-management relations, are sponsors of bills to abolish the union shop vote.

They were slated to testify first. Next on the list are Paul M. Herzog, chairman, and Robert N. Denham, general counsel, of the National Labor Relations Board.

Nearly all of the union shop votes have carried overwhelmingly. The argument against them is that they unnecessarily burden the NLRB, which conducts the elections, and are a waste of money.

Bomber Flights To Near East Are Suspended

Frankfurt, Germany, May 24—(AP)—Training flights of American B-29 Superfortresses from Germany to Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, have been suspended because of "unsettled conditions" in countries along the route, the air force announced today.

A spokesman said the "unsettled conditions" referred to the Arab-Jewish war. He said the flight of American bombers near the battle area, even though they were on practice missions, might be misinterpreted by either, or both, of the warring factions.

The four-engine bombers will continue to make training flights to other destinations from their base at Fuersten-Feldbruck.

Young Athlete Is Not Expected To Survive Fall

Wilmington, N.C., May 24—(AP)—One of the state's most promising high school athletes was not expected to live today following a three-story fall from a Carolina Beach hotel balcony.

The injured youth, Bill Uren, is the star pitcher on Gastonia's state AA baseball championship team. He was in a "very critical" condition at a Wilmington hospital early today and hospital attendants said they held little hope for his recovery.

The 19-year-old right-hander, a senior and co-captain of both the basketball and football teams at Gastonia, fell from the third story of the Royal Palm Hotel early yesterday, Deputy Sheriff R. B. Ming and T. Butler reported. He had gone to the resort with his team to celebrate winning the championship from Wilson, 18-0, last Friday night.

Civil Term Superior Court In Session

Judge Henry L. Stevens of Warsaw is presiding over a one-week civil term of Superior Court here this week. Hearing of divorce cases occupied the better part of today's forenoon session.

Gov. Proclaims Pappy Day For State

Raleigh, May 24—(AP)—Governor Cherry today proclaimed next Saturday as Pappy Day in North Carolina.

The governor urged "all citizens to observe the day by wearing the memorial pappy" in honor of those who died in the two world wars.

Arabs Seek More Time For Cease-Fire Consultations

Washington, May 24—(AP)—Charles Franklin Brannan was nominated today to be secretary of Agriculture. He now is assistant secretary.

The President sent Brannan's name to the Senate shortly before it convened at 11 a. m.

Brannan, a native of Colorado, succeeded Clinton P. Anderson, who resigned May 19 to run for the Senate in New Mexico.

The President also nominated Frieda B. Henock, a New York City lawyer to membership in the Federal Communications commission. Miss Henock was named to succeed Clifford J. Durr, who said sometime ago he did not want a new term.

Miss Henock, named for a seven-year term starting July 1, is the first woman ever appointed to the commission.

Detroit, May 24—(AP)—Gov. Kim Sigler stepped into the Chrysler Corp. strike today and brought both sides back to the bargaining table.

The governor capped a dramatic night-long session by telling news-papern that the CIO United Auto Workers and Chrysler had agreed to sit down Wednesday and try to settle the 13-day-old walkout.

They will meet in the governor's Detroit headquarters, Sigler said. The time is 2 p. m. Wednesday.

If the meeting comes off as planned, it will be the first get together since May 11, the day before the 75,000 Chrysler production workers hit the picket line.

The UAW-CIO has asked a 30-cent hourly wage increase. Chrysler at one time offered six cents but this was rejected. The union later reduced its demand to 17 cents but received to 30 cents when the strike was called.

Sigler moved quietly and fast. He came into Detroit Sunday. He immediately got in touch with top UAW-CIO officials. Emil Mazey, acting president of the big union, went to his hotel suite.

With him went Norman Matthews, who has headed the union's fight against Chrysler.

Sigler talked to them. Then he conferred with Robert Conder, Chrysler's director of labor relations, and his assistant, John Leary.

Then the governor brought the four men together.

"They left his room in a very friendly, receptive attitude," Sigler told the press at an early morning conference.

Sigler said he proposed no formula for settling the strike.

"I asked them to make a sincere effort to solve their differences," the governor said.

Sigler said neither state nor federal mediators would have a part in the conference. He won't even be there himself, he added.

"It will be strictly a company and union affair," he explained.

Rebuilding Germany Has U.S. Arms Aid As Price

London, May 24—(AP)—France is reported to be demanding that the United States guarantee military aid to the Western European alliance as a price for approving an American plan to rebuild Germany's industry.

Diplomatic officials said today the French demand has blocked an accord among the Western powers on Germany's economic and political future. American officials are described as unwilling to commit themselves on a military pact.

Officials close to the conference report the French delegation, with the support of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, has approved in principle a plan to give to the Western Germans a government of their own with a large measure of economic independence.

But they have raised simultaneously a demand the United States commit itself to American support if any of the Western European alliance countries is attacked.

United States officials remained confident an agreement will be reached on the American plan, which would give Western Germany a full partnership in the European economic recovery program.

Socialism In Britain

Britain's trial of socialistic government has taken a highly interesting turn—a pause for consolidation of "gains."

This indicates that Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet are fearful of over-extending their communications if they continue an all-out offensive. It also means, I believe, that the high command notes a decided increase in public resistance to further Socialist experiments undertaken already under their aegis.

It's three years now since the Labor party (Socialists) under leadership of Attlee came to power in the sensational general election, which resulted in the downfall of England's famous war-time leader, Winston Churchill. The Socialists didn't conceal their aims from the voters but on the contrary laid down a platform which called for nationalization of some 20 percent of British industry. This was a tremendous venture for capitalistic England, but she took the chance and put Socialism in the saddle for what, under normal circumstances, would be a five-year period.

In three years the Attlee government has nationalized coal, inland transport, civil aviation the Bank of England, foreign communications electricity, and now is in process of

UN Deadline For Truce Appeal Passes Without Rejection Or Acceptance By Arabs; Ask 36-Hour Extension; Spokesman Indicates UN Appeal Will Be Fruitless

Lake Success, May 24—(AP)—Paris E. Khoury of Syria said today the Arabs would ask the United Nations for a 36-hour extension of the Security Council's Palestine cease-fire appeal.

El Khoury disclosed the Arab plans shortly after the noon (EST) deadline for the truce passed without any acceptance or rejection from the Arab countries.

He said he had received instructions a few minutes after the deadline to ask for more time.

El Khoury said consultations on the truce were in progress now, or would begin shortly, at Amman Trans-Jordan.

He said he was instructed to inform the Council the cease-fire appeal was received too late to enable the Arab countries to consult before the deadline.

Shortly before the deadline a high Arab representative here said the Arab countries would not agree to an unconditional cease-fire. U.N. officials, however, said they had received no communications from the Arabs.

Paris E. Khoury of Syria, only Arab member of the United Nations Security Council, told a reporter the Arabs would cease fire only if the provisional government of Israel ceased to function.

This virtually ruled out a truce in the Holy Land war.

El Khoury made his statement less than an hour before the cease-fire deadline set by the Security Council late Saturday. The Council called on both Arabs and Jews to stop the war by noon (EST) today.

The Council was scheduled to meet at 1:30 p. m. to hear the results of its appeal. El Khoury said he was not sure whether he would speak.

As expected, the State of Israel promptly announced it would order cease-fire. The Arabs would. The Arabs, however, had insisted in Council debate that they could not agree to stop fighting as long as a Jewish state existed in Palestine.

The U.S. is reported planning a new move to get forceful U.N. action if the truce appeal fails. Whether this will come today is not known.

Informed quarters said Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin probably would be inclined to wait a day or two to allow plenty of time for official answers to the cease fire appeal.

The Council's agenda today also included the Czechoslovakia question, which some delegates believed might get most of the attention while the Council tried to get a full report on the truce move.

Candidates Go Into Final Drive

Raleigh, N. C., May 24—(AP)—Political candidates today set out on ambitious home-stretch schedule of campaigning for Saturday's primary.

The four major gubernatorial candidates and the two senatorial aspirants will be on the road today. From now until Friday night's primary-eve windup they'll have little rest.

Christian Science Service
"Soul and Body" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, May 24.

Golden Text: II Corinthians 3:16
"What agreement have the temples of God with idols? For ye are the temples of the living God."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "For we are laborers together with God; ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building, show ye not that ye are the temples of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (II Corinthians 3:9,10). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear, this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, whose builder and maker is God." (Page 426).

Greenville Garden Club

One of the most enjoyable events of the spring, was the picnic of the Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. M. K. Blount on Rock Spring Drive on Friday at 1 o'clock. The beautiful home was made even lovelier with spring flowers and the arrangements would have done credit to a flower show.

A delicious picnic lunch of barbecue and fried chicken with all the accessories, was served on the back terrace by the hostesses. After the lunch the members and their guests had a social hour and wandered around the spacious grounds admiring the beautiful flowers and shrubs.

Although this was the last meeting of the year for the club, no program was planned as the members had expressed the desire to have this just a social get-together.

At the close of the social hour, a short business meeting was held. This business session was presided over by Mrs. W. J. Stell, the chairman. The following guests were recognized and welcomed by Mrs. Stell: Mrs. M. B. Massey, Mrs. J. K. Long, Mrs. Ed Batchelor, Mrs. Fulford of Asheville, Mrs. Harvey Dall, Mrs. Posey, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Guion of New York, Mrs. Alex Dall of Richmond.

A resume of the work done by the club during the year was read by the chairman. Some of the outstanding events during the year, were the Christmas Show, the weekly radio program, the planting of dogwood trees and the flower show.

A report from the nominating committee was given by the chairman, Mrs. R. M. Garrett. Mrs. J. H. B. Moore was nominated for chairman to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. W. J. Stell. The club voted to accept unanimously the report of this committee and Mrs. Moore was installed as the new chairman.

Mrs. Stell thanked the executive board and the entire membership for the fine support given her during the year and asked for their continued support for Mrs. Moore. The chair was then turned over to Mrs. Moore who urged the members to make plans this summer for the work of next year, so that the Club could move on to bigger and better things.

The picnic and social was a very fitting climax to a successful year's work.

Visit Williamsburg

Williamsburg, Va.—Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Joyner of 207 East Fourth Street, Greenville, were here this week visiting the historic city that has been restored to its 18th century appearance by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

While in the city they were guests at the Williamsburg Inn and toured several of the buildings that have been restored or reconstructed as they were two centuries ago when this city was capital of England's largest and wealthiest American province, the Virginia colony.

Wake Forest, May 24—The Wake Forest College Chapter of United World Federalists, an organization devoted to the fostering of peace and better understanding among nations, has elected Marcel Humber, Greenville freshman, as its new president.

Bob Nowren, Rome, Ga., sophomore, was chosen vice president and Lamar Suecage, new born sophomore, was named secretary-treasurer.

Gen. Hal Turnage Speaks At VFW Convention Here

By CHESTER WALSH

General Hal Turnage of Farmville, United States Marine Corps, retired, speaking at the First District Convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars banquet at the VFW Hut at Greenville Airport Saturday night, painted a dark picture of what could easily happen to this country—to our standards of living, as well as our everyday life, unless we suppress Communism and continue to be prepared in a military way.

The distinguished military Pitt County man praised the Marshall Plan as a way of helping the unfortunate war-torn nations which could not hope to continue to exist without the aid of the United States as "a nation of the people and by the people." He expressed his belief that this American aid under the Marshall Plan will be a potent and effective factor in suppressing Communism.

"The United States is the greatest peace-loving nation on earth. It is a non-aggressive nation and the most powerful," Gen. Turnage declared, and he urged the veterans to do their best toward keeping it that way.

Commander Carroll Chaucery of Charles Gray Morgan Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presided. Bill Williams, former marine, introduced General Turnage.

Mayor Jack Boyd welcomed the delegates to Greenville. He praised the Pitt County Veterans of Foreign Wars Post for its community service and its patriotic objectives. He congratulated the local post for equipping and furnishing its hut, formerly the marines' mess hall when their air force was stationed here during

Finland's Docks Idled By Strike

Helsinki, Finland, May 24—(AP)—Communists paralyzed Finnish docks with a walkout today and were reported planning a general strike to support Yrjo Leino, dismissed Communist Minister of Interior. Leino was ousted after Parliament voted non-confidence in him last week. Finnish leaders said they expected a general strike call would fall because of the strong opposition of the leading social democrat party.

Some 34 ships were idle in Helsinki harbor. Strikes excepted a Russian ship and unloaded it promptly. In Turku, the strikes spread from the harbor to all leading factories.

Half the ships tied up in Helsinki are foreign and the government must pay their owners strike compensation in scarce foreign currency. Communists walked out of a Helsinki dockyard, but social democrats stayed at work. The yard's output goes mainly to Russia for reparations.

Government sources said efforts will be made to settle the crisis by compromise, probably tomorrow. The government prepared to use troops to operate Helsinki port.

Old Theater Is Victim Of Fire

Greenville, S. C., May 24—Fire gutted the Bijou, Greenville's oldest theatre, before dawn today. Adjacent buildings to the old theatre in the 100-block of North street suffered smoke and water damage. The blaze was discovered about 4:30 a. m.

was held at the VFW Hut. District Commander Hugh Marr of Elizabeth City presided. Numerous proposed policies were discussed and several resolutions were passed. The commander urged a large attendance at the State Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Winston-Salem this summer.

VFW posts of Farmville, Washington, Ahoskie, Elizabeth City and Greenville, the convention host, were well represented at the convention here.

The Barnes Aircraft Service, lessees of the Pitt County-Greenville Airport, put on an air show after the business session Sunday afternoon.

Members of the VFW Auxiliary decorated the building and tables in red, white and blue color scheme. Mrs. Larry Averette is president of the Auxiliary.

Lives Saved By Quick Bystander

Wilmington, N. C., May 24—(AP)—Six men carrying sheet steel were saved from severe injury or electrocution Saturday when the metal touched a power line and a quick thinking bystander cut the switch. Lee Paden, a bystander, grabbed the switch and shut off the power, Williams said. Four of the men were treated for minor burns.

Postal Clerks To Convene At Beach

Carolina Beach, May 24—Half a thousand North Carolina postal clerks will open the 1948 convention season at Carolina Beach the first week in June when the 27th annual convention of the North Carolina Federation of Post Office Clerks and the Auxiliary will be held Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5. Congressman J. Bayard Clark and National Legislative Representative E. C. Hallebeck head the list of distinguished guests.

Await Return To Face Accusers

Chapel Hill, May 24—(AP)—Police today awaited the return to the University of North Carolina a student who is charged with stealing a $2,000 stamp collection. The student spent the week-end out of town. Police Officer Bill Blake said the collection was stolen from Robert Rossfield, a Montclair, N. J., graduate student.

Palestine War . . .

From the north—Syria, Iraq and Lebanon attacked with about 9,000 troops; from the south—Egypt and Saudi Arabia moved with about 6,000 troops; and from the east—Trans-Jordan struck at Jerusalem with 8,500 troops.

In addition, perhaps 10,000 poorly organized Arabs within Arab Palestine began fighting. So that's a total of about 35,500 Arabs attacking the Jews.

What of the Jews? What's the size of their fighting force? It's about twice the size of the present force of Arabs attacking them. The Jews have about 85,000 troops, all part of the Jewish fighting force called Haganah.

So far only parts of Haganah have gone into action. But what of the success the Arabs have had in crushing Jewish resistance in Jerusalem?

That's been a limited success. As noted, Jerusalem is deep within the Arab part of Palestine. And—

Jerusalem is really two cities: 1. The old, walled city with narrow, crooked streets where Jews, Arabs and Christians live. But the Jews there number perhaps 1,500 or 2,000.

2. The modern city of Jerusalem with wide avenues, offices, apartments, restaurants, theaters. The population there is about 100,000 Jews and 100,000 Arabs.

Almost all the fighting has been in the old walled city where the small Jewish force, far outnumbered by the Trans-Jordan Arab troops, have received limited help from the Jews in modern Jerusalem.

So until now the fighting in Jerusalem and elsewhere in Palestine is far from a final test of strength between Jewish and Arab fighting forces.

It's in the old city that the Jews, Arabs and Christians have their sacred shrines: Church of the Holy Sepulchre (Christian); Walling Wall (Jews); Mosque of Omar (Arabs).

Socialism . . .

(Continued From Page One) equipment so that we can look forward in 10 or 15 years to a really efficient and modern British industry." He noted bluntly that "vast checks have been drawn upon our national resources" and then declared:

"We have no hope of meeting these checks unless we produce a lot more than we are doing at present. Don't let us think that we can meet this bill as a whole simply by squeezing the capitalists further, or by any other short cut other than producing more both to sell abroad and for our own needs."

So far so good, but there is a bit more to the pause for consolidation. Socialism is looking forward to the next general election which normally will come two years hence. The government will have to be able to present a good report of stewardship if it is to be returned to power by a public which, as a whole, has no ideological leaning towards Socialism. Many of those who voted for the Socialists in the last election didn't belong to the party but decided to give the Laborites their chance.

Thus we see the government em-

Strength FOR THE DAY

CLEAR THE TRACK

Perhaps you have seen single-track railroads which run on and on for miles, with seemingly no sidings. As the trains thunder past at various intervals during the day, one often wonders how so many of them can come and go and still not smash into each other. Just the single track. Of course, there are skilled men at distant points on the railroad who know exactly when to start each train so that it won't run into another. These men prevent utter chaos and untold confusion on the railroad.

Have you ever thought that domestic happiness is something like a single-track railroad? In a single family there are different personalities, different likes and dislikes, love, affection, jealousy, envy, and a hundred other characteristics all mixed up together. In most families the events of the day lead in varied directions—to the office, to school, tending and cleaning the home, and cooking and laundry. And each member of the family at the end of the day is tired, anxious to be the center of attention.

To keep a happy family, to interweave all these human souls into a harmonious whole, requires a guiding hand and a skillful head. It may seem like a gigantic task to any father or mother, but once the knack is acquired of sorting and sending each person smoothly down the family track, family happiness is assured.

MONEY—With deadline for filing preliminary financial reports three days past, there still remain one or two delinquent candidates. Senatorial and gubernatorial candidates who are permitted to spend $12,000 on the first primary campaign have filed their reports with the secretary of state. They provide interesting reading, as such for omissions as for items included.

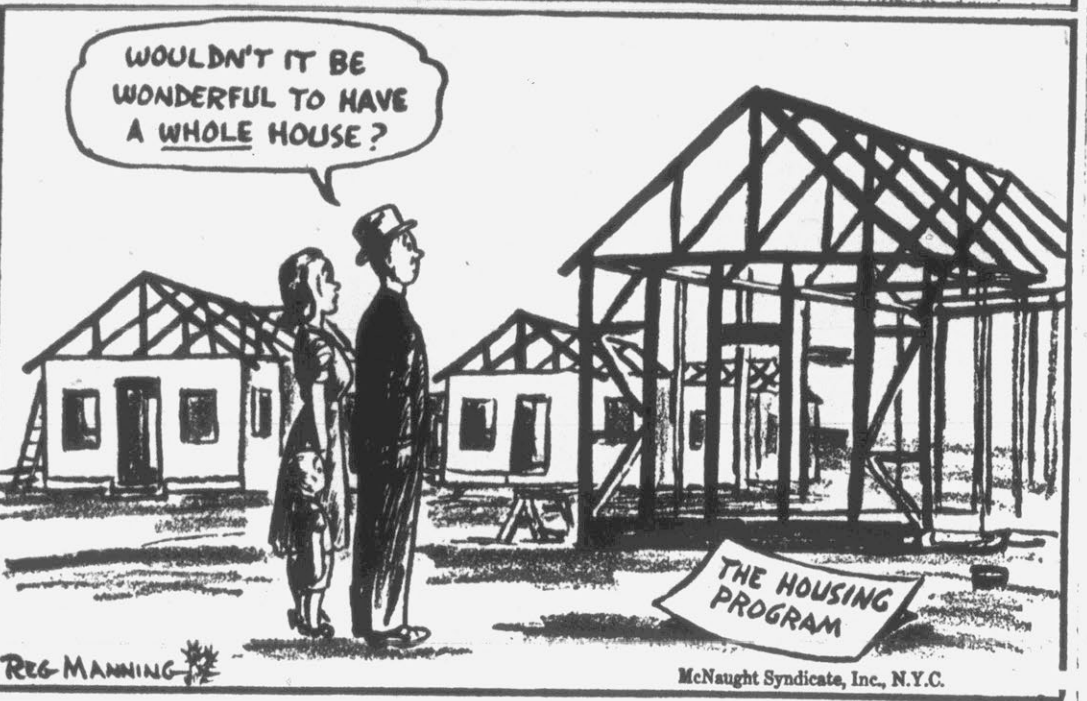

SPENDING—The two candidates for the United States senate had spent up to date of the reports $13,164.27, while the four top candidates for governor had spent $20,171.99—a total of $33,342.26 put into circulation by these two campaigns. Casual mental addition of amounts included on reports of candidates for other state, congressional and judicial offices indicates slightly more than an equal sum involved. That means an aggregate of about $75,000 reported as spent in the primary. To this must then be added the sums spent by county candidates for local offices, making a grand total well in excess of $100,000. Actually, as is well known and generally accepted practice, the spending has been several times the reported amounts.

CONTRIBUTIONS—Senator William B. Umstead, according to the record, spent a good deal more of his own money than any other candidate. He reports contributions of $2,635 and expenditures of $7,858. Senatorial Candidate J. M. Broughton on the other hand shows contributions well in excess of spending—$7,300 received and $5,306 paid out. In the governor's race Oscar Barker is the heaviest spender out of his own pocket, reporting contributions of $550 and expenditures of $2,713. Mayne Albright has, on the record, put about a thousand dollars of his own money into his campaign, the ratio being $1,652 contributed and $2,616 spent. Chas. M. Johnson has received more and spent more than any other candidate reporting, but he was still ahead by a few dollars with $8,078 contributed and $8,015 spent. Kerr Scott reports contributions of $7,241 and expenditures of $6,832.

PRELIMINARY—The figures contained in these reports have little real meaning and small relation to known actual financial operations. (The word "known" is used here in the sense of court evidence; many things are known which cannot be proven by legally admissible evidence.) The reports are preliminary, most of them covering the period from January 1 this year up to around May 1. Traditionally heaviest spending occurs in the last two weeks of the campaign. It must also be remembered that the law does not require report on contributions and expenditures prior to the calendar year in which the election is held. Any amounts handed before January 1 are not included in the sworn statements.

MINUTIAE—The contributions listed include no items above $1,000 and range from that down to the listed "two cigars" in Scott's statement. Many fifty cents and dollar

Yesterday — And Today

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

Items are meticulously set down. Some infinitesimal expenditures are itemized such as one 54c telegram. At the same time, many of the larger items are grouped under such heads as "printing," "newspaper advertising," "radio time," and "clerical help."

OMISSION—Lack of itemization as well as omission of expenditures obviously made has come in for criticism from time to time. As soon as the Johnson and Scott statements were filed Mayne Albright issued a press statement vigorously attacking their lack of honesty. However, some of the things he most violently charged were omitted are found to be included in the statements—such as rental for hotel quarters, pay of publicity men, and similar expenses. And a lot of people would like to know how Albright could visit each of the hundred counties in the state with an automobile trailer, operate hotel headquarters and do the other things he has done for $2,616—an average of $26 per county. There have been obvious omissions in every one of the big campaign statements.

parently bought the house to rent. But in the lease he has a clause that no matter who moves in, the tenant must permit the ladies to have their party just the same.

Mrs. Harriman, who dubbed herself Daisy in childhood, because of a daisy-trimmed hat, loves "Uplands," her former hilltop home overlooking Washington and the Potomac. She told us its story the other day at a tea in her residence in Georgetown, as she moved about the room lighting candles.

It seems that back in 1774 a Mr. Foxhall came over from England in a sloop, and as he sailed up the Potomac to Washington, he noted the site. He decided that there was where he wanted to build. He got King George to give him the land and he built the house of raspberry bricks he had brought over from England. The house is exactly as it was then except for two porches. Of course, Mrs. Harriman had to introduce plumbing, gas and electric lighting.

She also put in some marble floor tiles she got from an old hotel near the Capitol where Andrew Jackson and Daniel Webster had once lived. There are a couple of tobacco spots still traceable in the tiles.

Mrs. Harriman, who escaped from Oslo when the Nazis stormed the Norwegian capital back in 1940, was decorated by King Haakon a couple of years ago. He conferred upon her one of the country's highest awards—the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Olav.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York, May 24 (AP)—When are the test tube savants and the bunsen burner boys going to isolate the gossip bug and develop a truth serum to detect it?

Gossip today wastes more energy than is locked up in the most muscular star atom. It wrecks more homes than floods, tornadoes or a million over-activated casanovas.

Gossiping is the vice dearest to the human heart. It is a vice no animal ever had but fed people are completely free of it.

Gossip thrives on chaos and its end product is more chaos. In its petty form it is a device to protect one's vanity and self-esteem from admitting the worth of a better man or woman. In other cases it is merely an envious guess somebody else is enjoying a moribund pleasure the gossip would like to indulge in himself.

In its most deadly form it is a reflection of one's own inner feeling of doubt, terror or panic.

Gossip can be spread by an artful leader to create a war. The idle malice of the unfettered tongue is perhaps even now one of the greatest barriers to international good will.

In a half a hundred countries it is a hidden force against peace, raising murky suspicions about the motives of American charity abroad. It is an unseemly termite that can destroy the morale of a home, an office, a nation or a world—if unchecked.

Gossip is accusation without responsibility, trial without witness, persecution without reason.

It touches all subjects. The other day, for example, a taxi driver told a friend of mine:

"See that skyscraper? It's going to fall down someday. They didn't anchor the foundation right."

The building happens to be one of the most modern in the world. No, the taxi driver admitted, he didn't know anything about engineering. But he still didn't feel the foundation had been put in right.

Gossip touches all people. No name is too high or too low for its stain. It concerns itself with every President's health—and every movie star's habits.

The headquarters for gossip today are the right club, the barroom, the cocktail party, the bridge table, the soda fountain, the country club, the beauty parlor, the backyard fence and the office water cooler.

The office gossip is the affliction of the business world. There is no defense against him. He comes around and says, "don't you think Jones is stupid?"

"I wouldn't say that, but he hasn't set the world on fire," you answer genially.

And off goes the gossip to tell Jones:

"Well, I know one guy that don't think you'll ever set the world on fire."

And what can you do about it? In the army they have a healthy army term for baseless gossip—"latrine rumors." The navy boys dismiss it as "scuttlebutt."

But we need a truth serum to detect gossip and a penalty to punish it. When a fellow bays down priceless bit of misinformation down your neck, you could grab him and rub some truth serum on it. If it turned red, you could believe him. If it turned green, you could dismiss him as a gossip.

How to punish him? The old Anglo-Saxons tied gossips to ducking stools and immersed them a few times so cool off their hot rumors. The Puritans locked them in the stocks and ridiculed them.

Before Columbus came the Quim-baya Indians of Colombia had a golden gag for gossips. It was a nose ring to which was attached a large golden flange, hung with tiny bells that dangled below the chin. Every time the gossip even whispered, the bells jangled in warning.

But if these gags even came into use again women might flout them as a new style feature. And if we gagged every beauty parlor gossip with gold, Fort Knox soon would be emptied. Science will have to develop that anti-gossip truth serum.

Big Showing For State By Lions

Waleigh, May 24—North Carolina Lions will make a big splash for the Tar Heel State during the Lions International convention in New York in July.

A committee meeting here yesterday picked the 100-piece Elizabeth City High school band to lead a parade of North Carolina Lions on Fifth Avenue on July 25. It also approved plans for an exhibit occupying 500 square feet of floor space in Madison Square Garden to advertise the state.

International Counsellor Norman H. Trueblood of Elizabeth City was designated to take the band to New York as the official representative of North Carolina Lions. The band also will compete in the Lions International band contest.

International Counselor Okay J. Allison of Winston-Salem heads the parade committee. International Counselor Sam Alford of Henderson heads the exhibit committee.

STATUE OF MAN O' WAR—Plaster statue of Man O' War is viewed in paddock at New York's Belmont Park by Johnnie Loftus, who rode "Big Red" 10 times in 1919. It will be cast in bronze and erected at horse's grave in Lexington, Ky.

Youths Held As Suspects In Fire

Rockingham, N.C., May 24—(AP)—Three youths were booked for a hearing in Juvenile Court here today after a Richmond County forest fire destroyed 350 acres. District Ranger N. T. Faulkner termed the weekend blaze "definitely of incendiary origin."

Faulkner declined to identify the boys. This, he explained, was in accordance with U.S. Forest Service policy concerning minors.

Four score fighters controlled the fire after a morning and afternoon battle yesterday. Third District Forester J. A. Pippin said it had gained headway when discovered yesterday morning between U.S. Route 1 and the Pee Dee River. He said he believed the fire had started Saturday night.

Deputy Sheriff J. J. Heaney said the three youngsters had gone to a stream in the vicinity Saturday afternoon to catch minnows for bait.

Pippin meanwhile declared a state of emergency in Richmond and six adjoining tinder-dry counties. He ordered all trash burning permits cancelled in Richmond, Anson, Lee, Montgomery, Moore, Scotland and Chatham Counties. He alerted forest wardens in those counties.

Deputy Sheriff Has Badge Taken

Los Angeles, May 24—(AP)—Most embarrassed officer in town today was Deputy Sheriff Louise M. Coffman.

When she stopped her car for a traffic signal, five youths milled around and one grabbed her purse, took its contents and tossed it back to her.

The loot, she reported, included $80, her official identification card and badge.

Forest Fire Is Under Control

Rockingham, N.C., May 24—(AP)—More than 75 fire fighters were called out yesterday to battle a forest fire which covered 350 acres and caused unestimated damage seven miles south of here.

Third District Forester J. A. Pippin directed efforts to extinguish the flames from the time of its discovery at 8:30 a.m. until it was brought under control at 5 p.m.

POSSIBLE WITHDRAWAL

London, May 24—(AP)—A Whitehall informant says Britain may withdraw 40 British officers serving with the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion if the Arab states ignore the United Nations' call to cease fire today. It is emphasized here, however, that this ranks only as a "possibility."

Sacred Concert At Christian Church Sunday

By CHESTER WALSH

The evening of sacred music, "The Life of Our Lord," presented at Eighth Street Christian Church last night by singers from various Greenville churches, was a "sermon in music," and it was one of the most impressive religious exercises held here in many years. Throughout the sacred program those in the congregation were in an attitude of reverence and fervent prayer. Dr. H. Glenn Haney, the pastor, presided. Mrs. Moye Dull directed the chorus.

The organ prelude was "Arioso," by Handel, and Adagio in A Minor," by Corelli. The response to the evening prayer by Dr. Haney was "Lord Have Mercy Upon Us," by the choir.

Part I. "His Advent"—"How Beautiful Upon The Mountain." (Harker), Miss Jean Lane; "O Come Thou Long Expected Jesus," (Prichard), The Choir.

Part II. "His Birth"—"Silent Night Holy Night," (Franz Gruber); "The First Noel," (Traditional); The Choir.

Part III. "His Ministry"—"Cast Thy Burden Upon The Lord," (Mendelssohn); "Consider The Lilies" (John P. Scott), Mrs. William May; "Jesu, Friend of Sinners," (Grieg), The Choir.

Part IV. "His Passion"—"O Sacred Head, Now Wounded" (Hassler-Bach); The Choir; "Were You There," (Arr. by H. T. Burleigh), Mrs. William May.

Part V. "His Resurrection"—"The Strife Is Over," (Palestrina), The Choir.

Part VI. "His Everlasting Glory"—"All Hail The Power of Jesus Name," Choir and Congregation.

Benediction by Dr. H. G. Haney. Choral Response and Postlude. Mrs. R. R. Willmann and Mrs. J. Paul Davenport were organists. E. F. C. Metz was violinist.

Greenies Lose Three Tilts Over Saturday And Sunday

Goldsboro Takes Twin Bill Saturday By 40, 16-7; Visiting Bugs Take Third Game 7-2 Here Sunday

By BERT MOYE
Manager Bill Phebus' Greenies suffered three losses this past weekend, all at the expense of the Goldsboro Bugs, who took a double bill against the Greenies Saturday night, 4-0 and 16-7, over in Goldsboro, and then came in their own back yard yesterday afternoon and handed them a 7-2 drubbing.

Saturday's Games
In the first game of the double-header Saturday night, Manager Bill Phebus' boys whitewashed the Greenies 4-0, for the fifth shutout this season suffered by the Greenies. Manager Bill Herring took the mound for the Goldsboros and held the Greenies to seven scattered hits and allowed only one man to reach base during the entire game.

The Goldsboros put across one run in the first three frames and added another in the fifth to give Manager Herring the win. Wiley Nash led the seven-hit attack off Herring, getting two singles and a double in three trips to the plate.

Jerry Chitty went the route for the Greenies and received credit for his sixth straight loss of the season and his third against the Goldsboros this year. Chitty was touched for ten hits, Manager Herring getting three singles in three trips to lead the Goldsboros' attack.

Score by innings:
Greenies 000 000 0-0 7 0
Goldsboro 111 010 3-4 10 1
Chitty and Sweet; Herring and Jones.

In the second game of the double-header the Goldsboros collected a total of 19 hits, including five doubles, a triple and a homer by Hussey with the bases loaded to take a one-sided victory from the hapless Greenies, 16-7.

The Greenies went out in front in the first frame by scoring one run on a hit, three stolen bases and two walks, but the Bugs came back in the second to put across four runs on four hits and a walk, after which they were never headed.

Junior Yohn, starting hurler for the Greenies, was credited with the loss, his third of the season as against one win. Yohn, who pitched the first six frames, was touched for a total of 18 hits and 16 runs. Kenneth Brooks came to his rescue in the seventh frame and allowed one hit the remainder of the game. Joe Nesting with a triple and a single and Danny Laster with two singles led the nine-hit attack off Yohn, Brooks (7) and Blasi; Faircloth and Jones.

Sunday's Game
Manager Bill Herring's Goldsboros walked off with their third straight win over the hapless Greenies here yesterday afternoon, 7-2, as Bill Kalres registered his third win of the season.

Luis Arroyo, who started on the mound for the Greenies, was credited with his seventh loss of the season. The Goldsboros collected a total of six hits off Arroyo in three and one-third innings, which were good for six of their runs. Johnny Kovalchick pitched the remaining five and two-thirds innings and was touched for one run and three hits.

The Goldsboros' nine hits included homers by V. Blackwell over the scoreboard in left field and one inside the park by Clyde Whitener with a mate aboard. In addition to his homer Whitener got a triple and a single to lead the Goldsboros' attack.

Wiley Nash with a triple and a double and Ray Phillips with a double and a single led the six-hit attack off Faircloth.

Score by innings:
Goldsboro 013 201 000-7 9 2
Greenies 000 001 010-2 6 4
Kalres and Jones; Arroyo, Kovalchick (4) and Sweet.

This past weekend marked the third time in a row that the Greenies had lost both ends of a doubleheader. Since last Monday the Greenies have won two games, both from Kingston, while dropping seven for the week, which included a doubleheader with Rocky Mount here last Tuesday night. A pocketbook was turned in at the press box yesterday afternoon but there was no money in it. Evidently the loser of the pocketbook had bet on Greenville. Greenville played their third errorless game of the season in Goldsboro Saturday night.

Bob Cohen, ex-Kinston player, now with Greenville, hit safely in 24 of the first 26 games for the club. His present mark is well above the 350 mark. Pappy Williams, an ex-major leaguer and now at Kinston, is working the fans with his heavy pounding of the ball in early games. Pappy swings from the ground, and the umpire often has to put a new bill into play. Rocky Mount's Red Benton took time off to take his Charles L. Cooch High (of Wilson) baseballers to the state finals, held at Gastonia last Saturday. Red, the ex-UNC athlete, is head diamond coach at Wilson. The league parks are still finding the turnstiles moving, with last season's mark of 738,895 all in early games. Willie Mauney, who is playing with Concord of the N.C. State League, is hitting at a 314 clip at the present time. Jack Thrush, who was sold to the Dunn-Erwin club of the Tobacco State League, is pounding the ball at a .333 clip.

Joe Cronin, former manager of the Boston Red Sox and now head of the club's farm system, will conduct a baseball tryout camp in Kingston on June 1 and 2. He will be accompanied by Roy Dinsinger, Red Sox scout, and a corps of instructors. The tryouts are open to any boys in Eastern North Carolina from 18 to 24 years of age.

Congratulations to East Carolina Teachers College on becoming a full member of the North State Conference. The college was voted on at the annual spring meeting held in High Point Saturday. The meeting ended a year's conditional membership in the conference for East Carolina Teachers College. The vote was unanimous for ECTC.

The Greenies will play the Rocky Mount Leafs in a series of two games starting here tonight at 7:45 o'clock with the second game to be played in Rocky Mount on Tuesday night. Greenville is the only team in the loop that has failed to win at least one game from the Rocky Mount Club.

The Giants' board of strategy wasn't looking for too much help from Dave Koso this spring. The stylish left-handed hurler won 15 games for the Giants last season but he lacked consistency. Several chips were removed and the operation was a complete success.

Close Flag Race Says Cubs' Pilot

Modesto, Calif., May 24—(AP)—This country's Olympic track and field team is shaping up slowly as sectional meets and relay programs peel off the calendar.

Except for the handful of stars whose superiority has been established beyond doubt, the race for position is pretty much open.

The preliminaries are still underway, but such key men as Harrison Dillard, the Baldwin-Wallace hurdler; Charles Foville, Michigan's mighty shotputter; fortune Gordien, Minnesota discus thrower; and Southern California's sprinter Mel Patton, are proved performers.

Lowery Out Of U.S. Golf Team In British Event

Sandwich, England, May 24—(AP)—California's Ed Lowery withdrew from the British amateur golf championship today, cutting the United States' challengers to eight men in the 63-year-old tournament.

Only one American, Dick Chapman, former U. S. champion, and runner-up last year to Willie Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., was scheduled to play in today's 33 first round tussles of the match play tournament.

With Turnesa defending, it appeared an American would take the title across the Atlantic for the ninth time in the last 44 years.

Actually, Bolanos has been begging for this match for two years to redeem himself.

It isn't generally known, but the belting bellhop, to the astonishment of his manager, George Parnassus, originated the demand barely five minutes after this same Ike Williams had deposited him four times on the floor in this same ring and had given him a sound beating before the match was stopped in the eighth round.

That was April 30, 1946, and since that Williams catastrophe he hasn't been whipped in 21 fights.

It was a close 15-round fight. Many of the 25,000 partisan fans thought Cerdan the victor.

Mexican Aims At Williams' Title

Los Angeles, May 24—(AP)—Enrique Bolanos, a young Mexican lad of happy disposition and a fearful wallop in either hand, carries a tremendous responsibility when he climbs through the ropes at Wrigley Field tomorrow night.

He will be seeking to dethrone World Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, a young Negro from Trenton, N. J., also of friendly if more equipt temperament and equally equipped with a terrible punch in either fist.

Minor Sports Given More Attention In North State

Ted Horn Given 'Chance' To Win

High Point, N.C., May 24—(AP)—The North State Conference is considering tournaments among its member schools in such minor sports as tennis, golf and track.

The move to give greater emphasis to sports other than the big three of football, basketball and baseball was launched at the annual spring meeting of the conference here Saturday.

A motion was carried to have a report on the possible minor sports tournaments at the December meeting of the conference.

The meeting also voted to hold the basketball tournament at Elkin again, and accepted East Carolina Teachers College into full conference membership.

The secretary-treasurer of the conference, Dr. David E. Faust of Catawba College, reported that last February's basketball tournament, held at Elkin for the first time, was a financial success.

The vote to accept East Carolina was unanimous. The Greenville college was admitted on a one-year conditional basis last spring.

Catawba was officially recognized as conference baseball champion. High Point won tennis and golf honors, and Appalachian was named the basketball champion.

Indianapolis, May 24—(AP)—Ted Horn's pre-war Maserati looked today to be the only foreign built automobile with much chance to beat modern American racers in the 32nd annual 500-mile sweepstakes at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 31.

American cars made the five fastest qualifying runs in the first two week-ends of time trials. Only the Maserati and Don Lee's pre-war German Mercedes were among the seven other cars that averaged over 124 miles an hour.

Women IN THE CHURCH

by Mary Fowler

The Woman's Society of Christian Service—a division of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church—is said to be the largest organization of women in the world. Its latest membership report is 1,508,924 women, organized around 40,321 churches. In 1947 the Society contributed $14,793,689 for local church activities and for missionary projects. Mrs. J. D. Bragg, of St. Louis, Mo., is national president.

farther away from that ideal than before the war. We must give material aid and spiritual vitality to nations turning to us."

The recent death at Gulu, Uganda, Africa, of Miss Margaret Wrong, M. A., secretary of the International Committee for Christian Literature for Africa, takes from that continent the pioneer in the production of modern teaching materials for the kraal and village schools, both government and mission-supported. A native of Toronto, and sister of the Canadian Ambassador in Washington, Miss Wrong devoted her life to the preparation of reading primers in numerous African tongues, the writing of books and articles on African life, and especially to the inspiring of natives and missionaries to serve in the field of literary and production of reading texts.

Louisiana Gas Stations Close In Tax Protest

Baton Rouge, La., May 24—(AP)—Louisiana service stations locked up their gasoline pumps today for a one-day statewide protest against a proposed two cents per gallon tax increase. The state tax is now seven cents.

Opposition to the levy, which would give Louisiana the nation's highest gasoline tax, came amid more protests against the Administration's pending bills to put a tax of five cents a bottle on beer and double the state's one per cent sales tax.

The gas tax, which is expected to come up for a house vote this week, would bring the state treasury an estimated extra annual revenue of $7,500,000.

Visiting Nurse

by Kathleen Harris

Chapter 18

Afterwards Hildred was to wonder why she had dreaded that weekend visit at the big plantation. Jimmy was, as she had known he would be, beside himself with delight. He spent most of his time hanging around the huge barns that stabled the cows and the horses. There was a new baby calf that won his heart and he was right in his element helping with the chores.

But the amusing part was that the little fellow completely won the Countess' heart. "He is a dear little boy," the Countess said, her own dark eyes suspiciously misty with unshed tears after Jimmy had said his good-nights all around and been led off to bed. "He reminds me of you, Lucien—or maybe I am thinking of the grandson I have not yet had."

"You know you will never have one!" Lucien said in such a sharp, hard tone that Hildred glanced over at him in surprise.

"Is that my fault?" The Countess' tone was not sharp; it was soothing. "My son is betrothed to his cousin, Dorothea Merling; but as they are first cousins they have agreed it would not be wise to have a family."

Lucien now said calmly, his anger evidently well in control. "You know why I am marrying Dodo, because you have made the arrangements and have insisted upon it as the only possible marriage for me to make. It is, as you may well guess, because of the money we Laniers are cursed with."

"Lucien!" His mother's voice was as sharp now as it could possibly get. She held up a lovely, heavily jeweled hand in a graceful gesture of reproof. "You are being somewhat rude, my dear boy. And I too had no right to bring up such personal subjects. We both owe Miss McNaughten an apology. Let us talk of something else. And it is time for a cocktail before dinner is served."

Lucien turned once more toward Hildred, his manner changing with his usual lightning-like rapidity so that he was all charm now. "Hildred will forgive me—and you, Hers is a most understanding heart. What will it be, my dear, the usual sherry?"

Hildred had wondered if there would be other house guests this weekend; she was relieved that there were not. However, the Countess proved to be an expert and entertaining hostess. She talked well, and wittily, on many current subjects.

Yet, though Hildred knew the Countess was actually putting herself out to be all charm now, Hildred still withheld it; not out of perversity on her part, but simply because she still doubted the sincerity beneath her hostess' chosen attitude.

More unobtrusively, Hildred sighed later on, after a pleasant if a bit dragging evening of more music—not all recordings this time as the Countess played exceptionally well and sang for them. She felt them again when his mother bid him a good night, with an attempt at a caress that Lucien skillfully avoided, if otherwise his response was polite enough.

And she saw the flicker of pain in the Countess' beautiful eyes, so that Hildred, impulsively, made her own goodnight more warmly responsive than before.

"It has all been so pleasant," she said, holding out her hand, which Lucien's mother took to hold in her own. "It is lovely of you to make me feel so welcome. And to have Jimmy, Well, truly, I wish I had words to than you, Countess de Maecena."

"You are a sweet girl!" The older woman obeyed an impulse of her own—one that must have been genuine; she stooped and kissed Hildred's smooth young cheek, adding, "May God bless you, my dear."

"Thank you," Hildred returned—and now she knew that in spite of herself Lucien's mother had won her, as had her son.

"I told you," Lucien said the next day when just the two of them were alone, "that my mother would take a great liking to you. I hope you will try to like her too—she's really a good old gal is Liz."

"Why don't you try, Lucien? Is it because you will not forgive your lonely childhood? Surely you can see that your mother now regrets that—look at her with Jimmy—and you can be man enough to forgive her and forget."

"She may adore me, as you say—but she wants to own me, soul and body."

"Women—and mothers—are like that," Hildred admitted. "I shouldn't think you would have to marry your cousin if you do not wish to do so—yes, even if your mother wishes it."

"There is much that you do not understand." He glanced up now and she caught the dark despair in his eyes.

"Which was why she ventured on. This is the twentieth century, Lucien, and again I remind you, you are a man—not a mouse!"

"Dodo and I understand each other," Lucien straightened up now; there was a slight flush beneath the smooth plane of his tanned cheeks. How handsome he was! "We both know we are doomed."

"Such silly talk! How could you be doomed without your being at fault—and if you were, you should do something about it."

"I wish I could," he said, with so much bitterness that Hildred was added, looking deep into her eyes now. "More than ever, since I have met you, Hildred." Then, before she could ponder that riddle, he shrugged his broad shoulders and gave a short laugh. "However, even in this century, a man—unless he is the mouse you mention—does not break his betrothal, pledged almost before birth, to a girl."

Teachers College Alumni Day Will Be Held June 5

Alumni Day, to be held at East Carolina Teachers College on Saturday, June 5, as part of commencement exercises, will include reunions of six classes, conferring of the annual alumni award on an outstanding graduate, a luncheon for guests on the campus, a tea at the home of President and Mrs. John D. Messick, and an allegiance service at which this year's graduates will be received as members of the Alumni Association. Mrs. Ruth Garner, alumni secretary at the college, is in charge of arrangements for the day.

Classes returning to the campus for reunions will be those of 1913, 1918, 1923, 1928 in both the normal and four-year divisions, 1938, and 1947. This year's graduating class will be honor guests at a number of the day.

On the program of the annual alumni luncheon in the college dining hall, presidents of classes holding reunions will respond briefly to a toast given by Z. W. Frasselle of Richlands, graduate student at the college and president of the Pitt

Warmer Weather And Rain Are Needed In Area

By CHESTER WALSH

Sam C. Winchester, county farm agent, said today that warmer weather will greatly benefit tobacco in the fields. The prolonged period of cool nights has retarded its growth. Plants damaged by hail a week ago are showing signs of coming around. Damage over the county was not as great as first reported, Winchester added. Warmer weather and some rain would do much to brighten prospects of growing crops.

Corn and Irish potatoes are badly in need of rain and these crops are suffering in the dry period.

The farm agent said much of the acreage taken from tobacco has been planted to corn, and this means the production of more pork this year. Farmers were unable to do much planting of small grain last fall to take the place of reduced tobacco acreage, due to exceedingly wet

Goldsboro's Oldest Man Is Dead At 93

Goldsboro, N. C., May 24—(P)—G. G. Smith, Goldsboro's oldest male white citizen, died last night at his home here. He was 93 years old.

As a boy he sat on a rail fence and watched Sherman's army march into Goldsboro.

Vandals Break Out Window Glass At Falkland School

County school authorities reported today that vandals broke out 30 panes of window glass at the Falkland school last Friday after the school had closed and did other damage. Sheriff's officers are investigating.

This is the first serious act of vandalism reported at any of the county schools in many years, it was stated.

Sanitary Chairman Makes Suggestions

Alderman Heber B. Tripp, chairman of the City Health and Sanitation Committee, today issued the following warning about weeds, tall grass and mosquitoes:

"Aid the Health Department by cutting weeds and high grass around your home and vacant lots as there is an alarming report of snakes this year and several persons have been bitten.

Mosquitoes will soon be getting bad and harbor in weeds and grass, coming out at night and cloudy days. Rats also breed in these places and under trash and old lumber. Be sure not to throw old cans around where they will catch water and breed mosquitoes.

"Cooperate with the Health Department by reporting any mosquito breeding places as well as aiding us in keeping them down."

In 1940 only half the Americans between 15 and 19 years old were in school.

A Program of Service to Our State

All over our state are beer retailers—thousands of them—faithfully living up to the letter and spirit of the law. They, in common with the brewing industry as a whole, stand for wholesome conditions in their business.

What of the scattered few who fail to "live up"? They are unwelcome hangers-on; and when they refuse to accept suggestions for correction of unwholesome situations, this Division, in cooperation with law-enforcement agencies, takes action to see that they remedy their shortcomings or lose their license.

This is a program of action within the industry. We call it "Self-Regulation". You, by your support, have called it a program of real benefit to North Carolina.

Speaker Defends Budget Program

Washington, May 24—(AP)—House Speaker Martin came to the defense of his GOP colleagues today on the issue of trimming the federal budget.

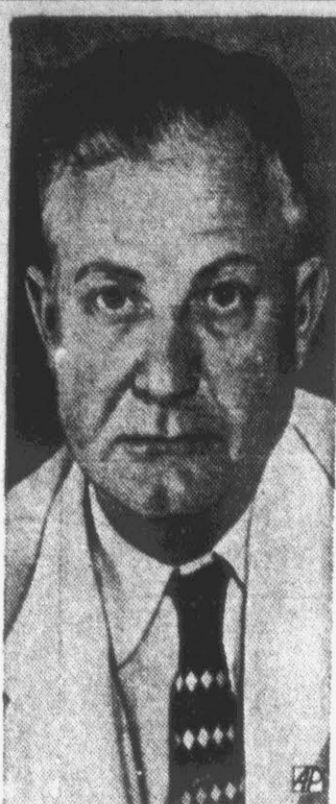

It's not the fault of Congress that no spectacular paring has been done; rather the Administration has been playing a "con game" in money matters, the Massachusetts lawmaker declared.

Johnson (Tex.), Hollifield (Calif.) and Melvin Price (Ill.)—said enactment of the bill would:

1. Disrupt the spirit of political non-partisanship in which the entire atomic energy program was conceived and established.
2. Impair the continuity in management of the project.
3. Create confusion among atomic workers.
4. Suggest to the American people the possibility of a complete turnover in commission membership and in commission policies two years hence.

Remains Of Pvt. Edw. E. Bowers To Arrive In Greenville Tuesday

The remains of Pfc Edward E. Bowers will arrive in Greenville Tuesday morning. Pvt. Bowers was killed in a plane crash in India, September 23, 1944. Funeral services will be conducted at the Bethel Cemetery at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. W. M. Howard, Methodist minister of Bethel. Full military honors will be accorded by the Charles Gray Morgan Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Pvt. Bowers was born, reared and spent practically all his life in Bethel. He attended the Bethel schools and was employed for a short time in Washington, D.C. before entering the U.S. Army Air Corps on February 18, 1943. He was married to Miss Lottie Scott of Robersonville, September 19, 1942, who survives. He trained at St. Petersburg, Fla., Salt Lake City, Utah, and Rapid City, S.D., before going overseas in November, 1943, arriving in India in December.

Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bowers of Bethel; five brothers, David and Arthur of Norfolk, Va., Frank of Anniston, Ala., Harold of Greenville and George of Bethel; four sisters, Mrs. James H. Whitchard of Greenville, Mrs. W. M. Huff Jr. of Hagerstown, Md., Mrs. Edward Hawkins of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Margaret Bowers of Bethel.

Employment Office Places 155 Workers In Month Of April

During the month of April, the Greenville office of the employment Security commission has placed a total of 155 workers on jobs, twenty-nine of these being veterans and two being handicapped workers who placed on jobs that they could not have obtained otherwise. Tests were given to high school and college seniors to help determine their interests and potential abilities in order to choose a career. These tests were given at the college, Greenville high school and high schools throughout the county.

There were 372 applications for work in April. Both employers and employees may visit the local employment office on East fifth street to inquire about jobs or place orders for workers.

'Must' Bills . . .

Truman only four of the more than a dozen appropriation bills which have to be passed before the new fiscal year begins July 1.

Perhaps the most controversial of the money bills will be the one making available actual funds for the European Recovery Program and other foreign aid projects. These now are being financed out of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds. The appropriation bill has not yet reached the House floor, where all money allotments must originate.

35 Children

New York, May 24—(AP)—Thirty-five children from four wives! The father—68 years old—was so flabbergasted yesterday when his 34-year-old wife gave birth to triplets that he hopped onto a neighborhood child's bicycle and fled from newsmen.

French-born Anthony DuPre, former circus trapeze performer and now a hotel kitchen worker, is the man.

The father claims this record fourth set of twins from the first wife 23 children from the second and third—and one from the fourth wife before yesterday's triple play.

Ind., second vice-president of the International Typographical Union, declared that "similarities between the Taft-Hartley law and labor laws passed in Germany as Hitler came to power are obvious."
