Time Is Running Out In Soft Coal Contract Talks

Barely Three Weeks Left To Avert Nationwide Strike; Pressure Mounts

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Pressures mounted on both sides of the soft coal contract talks today with barely three weeks left to avert another nationwide strike.

The present wage pact expires June 30, but an industry-wide vacation to July 5 makes that the actual deadline against which John L. Lewis and the operators are working.

The bargainers were scheduled to resume their efforts this afternoon. Lewis on Saturday began talking contract terms for the first time in a week of conferences. Up to then he had insisted on winning a commitment from the operators to assume nearly $20,000,000 worth of distress payments to miners which he lined up under the nearly spent welfare fund of 1946.

The 1946 fund was established during government operation of the mines. The operators themselves did not take part directly in setting it up or in spending it. Lewis and other members of the fund's board of trustees agreed to a series of payments which would carry over as long as another year from now.

But the operators refused to accept those obligations. The fund which they agreed to establish last July, known as the Welfare and Retirement Fund of 1947, has been "frozen" because Lewis and Ezra Van Horn, the operators' trustee, could not agree on a miners' pension system.

It was decided next Saturday by Justice T. Alan Goldborough. Van Horn has asked the judge to stop Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), the neutral trustee for the 47 fund, from spending any of its $40,000,000 without Van Horn's signature. Van Horn contends the Bridges-Lewis pension plan would violate the Taft-Hartley Act.

Bridges voted with Lewis last Friday evening to free the 47 fund and take on the liabilities of the 46 fund—subject to changes after a newly authorized study of costs completed about August 1. Van Horn again voted "no."

Lewis regarded the Bridges vote as so important that he told the operators the next day they already had lost the battle over the new contract.

He also changed his tactics and started taking contract details without getting specific about his demands, however. Pressures on Lewis come from the miners who were idle for from four to six weeks in the recent pension strike.

The operators get the pressure from steel, auto and similar industries which fear a coal shortage would quickly shut them down.

Arrest Eleven Musicians; Face Dope Charges

Roanoke Rapids, June 14 (AP)—Eleven members of Danny Long's A-Negro orchestra today faced federal narcotic charges. Police Chief T. J. Davis reported.

The musicians were arrested. Davis said, when two of them got into a fight at a dance where the band was playing.

They were given a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner W. S. Swain of Rocky Mount who found probable cause and ordered them bound over to federal court for trial in November.

Federal Narcotics Agent W. F. Atkinson said that about a pound and a half of marijuana was found, part on the band's bus, part in a car owned by Franklin Jones, and part in a briefcase allegedly belonging to Horace Edwards.

The Unwanted Throne

Uncle Sam Now In A Position Where He Can Virtually Dictate All of the Economic and Industrial Activities For the Rest of the World; How It All Came About

By SIGRID ARNE

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Uncle Sam is sitting on an unwanted throne. From it he can virtually dictate which nations build what industries and when.

He can pass on everything Europe wants to buy here. He can send stuff to western Europe which he denies to Russia and her satellites.

He can decide whether Europe or Latin America gets stuff that is scarce—like power generating equipment. He can decide between Europe and the Far East.

He could cut off help to western Europe if it should sell anything to Russia which the Soviets could use for war.

He has left one gate open. Canada can buy anything she wants. For good or evil, the U. S. must make the decisions: whether world markets can stand one more textile mill in France, whether Brazil needs power lines worse than Austria.

This unsought power stems from the fact that only American factories to date can pour out the flood of goods the world wants.

The need to make intelligent choices on where to send these goods has had government trade experts down to shirt sleeves and black coffee for months. They have just

Half-Dozen Major Bills Facing Discard To Meet Adjournment

Washington, June 14 (AP)—It's a case of too much too late once again as the drive to adjourn Congress this week threatens to brush into the discard half a dozen major bills.

Congressional leaders said privately today that only a reversal of present plans to quit Saturday night can save the Oleomargarine tax repealer, pay raises for federal employees, the tideland measure, the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill, an anti-lynch bill, an anti poll tax proposal, and a long-range farm measure.

While there is no certainty that the 80th Congress will close up shop for keeps at the end of the week, that is the target being aimed at by speaker Martin (R-Mass) and Senator Taft (R-Ohio), each boss of his branch of Congress.

Both believe they can make it. And barring a change of mind, when the house and the Senate adjourn next Saturday they will quit until next January unless GOP leaders recall the legislators before then.

Martin wants to tie to the adjournment resolution. Without it, only President Truman could reconvene Congress.

In addition to the usual departmental money bills which always clog up the closing days' calendar, there are on the "must" docket bills to:

- 1. Draft men 19 through 25 into the armed services.

This has passed the Senate and seemed likely to clear the House rules committee today.

2. Set up a housing program. The Senate has passed the Taft-Kilgore-Wagner bill, with a public housing section. The House Banking committee, upsetting its GOP leadership, has approved the Senate plan but still needs rules committee clearance before it can take the bill to the House floor.

3. Extend the reciprocal trade agreements act by which the United States has been making tariff-cutting contracts with foreign governments.

4. Finance the Foreign-Aid program.

Peace In Palestine As Truce Is Taking Effect

UN Mediator Setting Up Headquarters For Negotiations; Truce Observers Report All Quiet On Northern Front

Cairo, June 14 (AP)—The Arab Jewish truce was reported to have brought quiet to Palestine at last today. The United Nations mediator was on Rhodes setting up headquarters for negotiations toward lasting peace.

Both Jews and Syrians charged new violations in Northern Palestine yesterday of the four-week armistice that began Friday morning under U. N. sponsorship. The Jews said they had been forced to fight back. The Syrians threatened to do so.

But two truce observers, United States Naval officers, got back to Tel Aviv from the Northern front last night and reported all quiet there. A Jewish communiqué said the fighting stopped yesterday morning.

The Jews welcomed 420 immigrants to Tel Aviv last night. They got their first food convoy in over seven weeks through from there to Jerusalem yesterday, using a bypass built around Arab roadblocks. Both moves created problems for U. N. truce checkers.

The U. N. mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, flew into Rhodes, Greek Mediterranean Island off Turkey, and said he had word the Holy Land had "called down."

He would say nothing about future negotiations.

King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan told an interviewer in Amman Arab acceptance of the truce "does not mean in any way that our determination to fight Zionism has weakened."

Israel has insisted upon statehood in a partitioned Palestine. Abdullah called for a unitary Arab state in which the Jews would have full citizenship and local independence.

LUTHERAN CONVENTION Birmingham, Pa., June 14 (AP)—Lutheran ministers and laymen from a nine-state area gathered here today for the 17th annual convention of the eastern district of the American Lutheran Church.

The first will be in Greensboro Wednesday afternoon. Representatives from 20 Piedmont counties will be present.

Dr. C. P. Stevick of Raleigh, state epidemiologist, will be one of the discussion leaders.

Drive Forming In UN To Move Headquarters

Lake Success, June 14 (AP)—A move is quietly in the making here to switch United Nations headquarters out of the United States.

Those nations supporting the idea are taking no open steps and are laying the groundwork carefully. The drive may emerge as early as

Social Security Measure Vetoed

President Says Bill Would Bar Too Many From Benefits

Washington, June 14 (AP)—President Truman vetoed today a bill increasing needed age benefits asserting it would bar 750,000 persons from old age insurance.

Mr. Truman said he was acting on the bill in "adequate time" for Congress to change it. He assailed "these piecemeal attacks" on the Social Security program.

The vetoed bill carried an additional $184,000,000 annual federal contribution at the rate of $5 a month for needy aged persons and the blind, and $3 a month for dependent children. The states match these grants. Mr. Truman said these increases "fall far short" of what he requested.

But another section of the bill blocks extension of old age insurance—financed by payroll taxes—a group composed largely of salesmen who work for commissions and over whom no employer exercises direct control.

The veto message assailed this section.

Truman Switches Campaign Talks To Home Issues

Aboard Truman train en route to Los Angeles, June 14 (AP)—President Truman shifted his pre-convention speaking campaign back to price control and housing today and completed plans to stump in eight more states.

He will make the last of a series of five "major" addresses of his cross-country railroad swing at Los Angeles, Ambassador Hotel at 3:15 p. m. (EST) and aboard his special train at 9 p. m. (EST) for Washington, where he is due late Friday.

Mr. Truman will make rear platform talks at Albuquerque, N.M., and other points en route to Kansas City, Mo., where he will spend Wednesday night and probably make a speech.

Urgently Appeal For No Cuts In Defense Outlay

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall and Gen. Omar Bradley urged to appeal to the Senate today not to slash army funds.

Royall told a Senate Appropriation subcommittee that House cuts of more than $600,000,000 from budget estimates have "various implications." He asked the committee at a closed session to restore $492,000,000 of the amount.

Bradley, the army chief of staff, said: "The world situation, which dictated the necessity for this expanded (military) program, has not changed. We must still measure the capabilities of other nations without trying to guess what they will do."

Postpone Talks On West Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, June 14 (AP)—By request of the French, the American and British military governors have postponed talks with German leaders here on a west-German federal government.

They did so because the French national assembly has not yet approved a six-nation agreement to set up such a government. The assembly ends debate on the matter tomorrow. Paris observers predict approval by a slim margin.

Uphold Contempt Conviction Of Gerhard Eisler

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The contempt of Congress conviction of Gerhard Eisler, called "America's No. 1 Communist" by a House committee, was upheld 2-1 today by the United States court of appeals.

Eisler was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 for refusing to answer questions before the House un-American activities committee.

The 60-year-old German-born Eisler also is under conviction of concealing his Communist associations when he asked the state department for a permit to leave this country. He was sentenced to serve from one to three years on this charge. The case is awaiting a decision on appeal.

Shipping Tie-Up Is Averted By Court Injunction

Maritime Strike Had Been Slated For Any Time After Tomorrow Midnight

New York, June 14 (AP)—A U. S. district court judge today granted the government temporary injunction restraining a threatened nationwide strike of more than 100,000 maritime workers.

The strike had been threatened by the seven unions involved for any time after tomorrow midnight. It would involve dock workers on the East, Gulf and West Coasts as well as the seamen who man most of the nation's merchant shipping.

The injunction, asked by the Department of Justice acting under orders from President Truman, was granted by Federal Judge John W. Clatsby.

The petition, filed in U. S. District Court, asked the court to order the unions and the ship operators to resume collective bargaining "in good faith."

Before the petition was filed, Joseph Curran, president of the CIO National Maritime Union—largest of the seven—had said his union would not "defy" the law. He added that it "will fight to the limit" against the injunction in court.

The Justice Department charged the threatened tie-up endangered industry and it permitted to occur would imperil the national health and safety.

Unless enjoined, the complaint continued, the impending walkout would cause the United States to "suffer irreparable injury for which it has no adequate remedy at law."

The suit was filed by Joseph M. Friedman, special assistant to Attorney General Tom Clark. The department acted under instructions from President Truman who said last Saturday a maritime walkout would affect the nation's public health and safety.

Speechmaking At Convention Cut Arrangements Committee Wants Talks Cut By About Half

Philadelphia, June 14 (AP)—Delegates to the Republican National convention will have to spare the words and get to the point when it comes to speechmaking.

Walter Hallanan, chairman of the arrangements committee, said yesterday the committee has recommended "the usual 30 minute time allotted to nominating speeches be cut to 15."

Hallanan added that "the recommendation, of course, has to go to the Rules committee which will meet next Monday after the first recess of the opening day's program. However, we have no doubt that it will be approved by both the Rules committee and the convention."

The West Virginia national committeeman said the new time limitations are expected to speed up the nomination of the GOP standard bearer for president.

Hallanan said it's "going to be a difficult job" to choose the GOP nominee and that "it may take as long as two or three days."

Under the present arrangements, nominating and balloting for president and vice president are expected to get under way Wednesday night, June 23, on the third day of the convention.

"This hinges," Hallanan cautioned, "on successful adoption of a Republican platform in Wednesday's daytime session."

The National Republican committee will go into session on Thursday to draft a platform for presentation to the convention.

War Contract Renegotiation Act Is Upheld

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld constitutionality of the War Contracts Renegotiation Act.

None of the justices dissented on the issue of constitutionality.

Validity of the law was challenged by three companies which fought government efforts to recover $156,610 in asserted excessive profits made on contracts during the last war.

In urging the high tribunal to uphold the act, the Justice Department said a great many similar cases are pending in U. S. district courts and the U. S. tax court. Also, the department said, scores of out-of-court efforts by the government to recover excessive profits awaited a decision on validity of the statute.

Jet Planes To Cross Atlantic

London, June 14 (AP)—The Air Ministry said today six Royal Air Force jet planes will take off around the first of July for the first trans-Atlantic hop by this type of aircraft.

The planes, Haviland Vampire II's, are due to fly to Canada and the United States. The Air Ministry said they will take part in U. S. Air Force air support and interception exercises under field conditions at the Ninth Tactical Air Force base at Greenville, S. C.

Committee Votes To Send Draft Bill To House Floor

Red President

Prague, June 14 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's first Communist president was elected and took office today.

Premier Klement Gottwald was elected by a show of 286 hands in a public parliamentary election held in 16th century Vladislavsky Hall, and was hailed by Speaker Odrich John as a socialist president in a socialist country.

Apart from Gottwald and a woman deputy who resigned three days ago, only two voters were not accounted for among the 300 members of parliament, who include 214 Communist party members.

Gottwald, who has been Czechoslovakia's premier since July 3, 1946, was the only candidate and thus became this nation's third president. Sixteen years ago he stood for the presidency against Thomas G. Masaryk, the country's first chief executive, but received only a handful of votes.

Widen Scope For Old Age Security

House Sends Bill To Senate; Affects 3,500,000 Persons

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The House passed by a thumping 237 to 2 vote today, and sent to the Senate a bill to open the way for 3,500,000 additional persons to participate in old age insurance.

The Legislature was presented to the House under a late session procedure that required a two-thirds vote. However, it is not certain that the senate will act upon it if Congress adjourns Saturday.

The bill is short of what President Truman proposed. He asked Congress in a special message in May to bring 20,000,000 more persons into the Social Security program, for a total coverage of 50,000,000 persons.

Moreover, Mr. Truman asked that benefits be increased by at least 50 per cent and that the Social Security taxes be boosted also. This is not in the bill.

Rep. Reed (R-N.Y.) author of the legislation, said it would permit employees of State and local government bodies to join in the insurance program, if the local governments give their approval.

Employees of non-profit organizations also could participate if their organizations choose.

Pass Measure To Boost Pensions

Washington, June 14 (AP)—A bill estimated to be increased by $100,000,000 a year, the pensions of widows and orphans of World War I and II veterans was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

The roll-call vote was 360 to 0. The bill affects dependents of veterans whose deaths resulted from their war service.

Respite For Flood Area As Crest Flows To Sea

Portland, Ore., June 14 (AP)—The third and apparently the last of the Columbia river's summer flood crests swirled seaward today from this area.

Hope that the greatest flood disaster in the Pacific Northwest was tempered by army warnings that there will be no respite from menace of high water in the lower valley for several weeks.

Troops and sandbag crews still work today to save rich farmlands and industrial mills guarded by flood weakened earthworks. The Columbia yesterday was back up to its June 1 area, but was expected to start dropping today.

Rehabilitation of 60,000 homeless and restoration of utilities, roads, rails, industries and farmlands in the stricken river basin will require months and perhaps years to complete. Damage in the stricken valley is believed over $140,000,000.

Shelter and relief of refugees goes on. But the tremendous job of rebuilding has barely begun. The immediate problem to many stricken communities is public health and water supply. Scores of towns have

Committee OK's Anti-Lynch Bill

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved 10 to 3, a bill to make lynching a federal crime. A Southern opponent promptly promised to "fight it to the bitter end."

The bill, conceded only a remote chance of Senate passage during the closing week of this session, would provide criminal and civil penalties against members of a lynch mob.

OLDEST MASON DIES Bessemer City, N. C., June 14 (AP)—Caleb Andrew Thornburg, 99, said to be North Carolina's oldest Mason, died at his home here yesterday after several months' illness.

'Favorite Sons' May Stretch Out GOP Convention

Second Or Third Ballot Promises Of Support Generally Withheld

Washington, June 14 (AP)—A new holdout trend among favorite sons threatens today to stretch out the Republican national convention's presidential balloting.

Followers of some major candidates report that several of their colleagues with single-state backing have become increasingly cagey about making any second of third ballot promises of support.

Gov. Earl Warren, for instance, has served blunt notice to those who have been wooing his backing that he is going to hold out to California's 53 votes for several ballots at Philadelphia to see what happens.

Warren's friends contend he has a better chance for the nomination than anyone else if none of the big four most frequently mentioned can crash through. These are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Senator Robert A. Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

The feeling has been growing among Republicans generally that the convention beginning June 21 will develop into a drawn out fight for the nomination.

Stassen's latest prediction that he will win the prize on the ninth ballot is a sample of how that thinking goes.

Dewey, however, insists he will cop the prize "after not too many ballots."

The New Yorker gave a "definitely not" response to reporters who asked him whether he looks for a prolonged deadlock.

The questioning took place at the national conference of governors, now in session at New Castle, N.H.

Warren, also on hand for the meeting, sidestepped questions about his own chances. He said, however, he intends to talk to as many other governors as possible.

There are indications that Taft, like Dewey, believes the issue will be settled fairly soon, but Rep. Clarence Brown, Taft's manager, has said there may be seven ballots.

Showers Help To Control Flames

Toronto, Ont., June 14 (AP)—Weekend showers checked forest fires in some areas of northern Ontario and northwestern Quebec, but shifting wind; added to the fire fighters' troubles.

Flames have spread over 200,000 acres in the Mississippi region and 250,000 acres in the Chapeau region. A 10-minute shower gave the first respite in 20 days to firefighters in the Manikawic district, north of Ottawa. That is pulp and paper territory.

Dewey's Claims 'Too Optimistic'

New Castle, N. H., June 14 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey's prediction he'd win the Republican presidential nomination today met challenges from supporters of two others mentioned.

Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl of Minnesota and Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan said they thought the New York governor was "too optimistic."

Youngdahl is all-out for Harold E. Stassen; Sigler wants to draft Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

Russia And Palestine

What Lies Behind Soviet Recognition of Israel? Long Policy of Anti-Zionism; Disturbing Influence; Partition Sets Precedent for Middle East Policy

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, June 14 (AP)—What is Russia's game in Palestine? For many years the Soviets were anti-Zionist. Now they have recognized the new state of Israel.

Both of these diametrically opposed policies follow a report published by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The author was Sidney Glaser, acting chief of the Near East section of the Library of Congress.

The USSR policy throughout, says the report, has been "the weakening of the British Middle East empire from within."

This the story therefore tells: While Britain strove to find a peaceful way to establish a Jewish homeland in Palestine, the Soviets opposed it. Arabs were encouraged to resist the growth of the Jewish community.

The party line, according to a confidential open letter of Nov. 26, 1930, was that "Zionism is the exponent of x x x and the Hebrew bourgeoisie x x x a weapon of British imperialism."

A reversal of the Soviet attitude became apparent after the British issued their white paper in 1939 proposing that an independent Palestine state be created within 10 years

Measure Squeaks Through By 6-4 Vote; Debate Scheduled On House Floor Later This Week; Bottleneck Is Broken By Action

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The rules committee voted 6-4 today to send the draft bill to the House floor for debate later this week.

The decision has been pending in the rules committee since May 7. Before the vote was taken Chairman Andrews (R-N.Y.) of the House Armed Service committee appealed for the measure to be cleared to the House floor.

Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.) leading draft opponent in the House, opposed the action by the rules group. Passage of the bill is considered virtually assured. Similar legislation passed the Senate last week.

The committee balloted after a final two-hour open session and a half-hour behind closed doors.

Chairman Leo E. Allen (R-Ill.) refused to say how committee members voted. He said, however, that only one rollcall was taken.

A motion to table the bill was defeated 7 to 3, Allen said.

The committee decided to allow three hours of general debate on the bill. It will be open to amendments, and one motion to recommitt the bill to the armed services committee will be allowed.

Republican leaders have the measure on their "must" schedule for tomorrow, and they expect it to pass with but a single day's debate.

Even the bill's most energetic opponents concede it will pass easily once it hits the floor.

Rep. Short (R-Mo.) leading House foe of the draft revival, told reporters: "Our best chance is to hold it in the rules committee, and there is only an outside chance of doing that."

That chance rested with Rep. Harness (R-Ind.). The committee's 12 members stood committed, officially or unofficially, this way over the weekend: Six in favor of sending the bill to the floor; six opposed.

Warren, a purple heart veteran of World War I, a former infantry lieutenant, and once Indiana State Commander of the American Legion, has been outspoken to both the draft and universal military training.

However an associate said Harness might vote to let the bill out of the rules committee, with the understanding he would speak and vote against it on the floor.

The measure, setting up a two-year peacetime draft, would make men from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service in uniform. Similar legislation passed the Senate 78 to 10 last Thursday. Both bills would exempt most veterans.

Army authorities have estimated about 200,000 unmarried non-veterans would be drafted the first year.

The church was decorated in schferri greenery, palmetto palms, and oregon ferns. Large standards of white gladioli and white snapdragons, tall cathedral candles in seven nine, and twelve branch candelabra made a picturesque setting for the candle light ceremony. Christian Science Service
"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, June 13. Golden Text: Numbers 6:24-26. "The Lord bless thee, and keep thee; the Lord make his face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee; the Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace."
Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. . . . But seek first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Matthew 6:25-33). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need" (Page 694).

Many little girls, like Mary S., miss a lot of fun because their vision is defective. They are nervous and tired and "dull" because their eyes use up so much energy straining to see clearly. If their vision were corrected, they'd feel and act better. And they'd progress much faster in school.

Strength FOR THE DAY

LEARNING THE HARD WAY
Eight weeks ago today I went down before the most serious illness of my life. Things were grim for a time, but I believe I have learned more in these weeks than in any corresponding period of my life.

First, I learned what a blessing it is to have a host of friends. Their gracious words and services will fill me with gratitude as long as I live. Also, I realized what it means to belong to a family and to feel the warmth of affection as each member snaps into an attitude of helpfulness and makes the crisis more endurable. Everyone, I believe, who has done any thinking must be impressed by the advantage of living in a day when science really has something to offer sick folk. A classmate, now a distinguished specialist, was on the scene in a few hours. A skillful doctor took the case through crisis and convalescence. Faithful nurses gave the service which only nurses can give in the struggle to overcome human ailment.

But best of all, this protracted illness gave me insight into the ways of God with men. Now I think that whether we live or whether we die is a matter which rests wholly in God's hands. Sometimes it takes a job to make us appreciate the mercy and goodness of God. Some of us have to face death in order to learn how to live.

Around Capitol Square

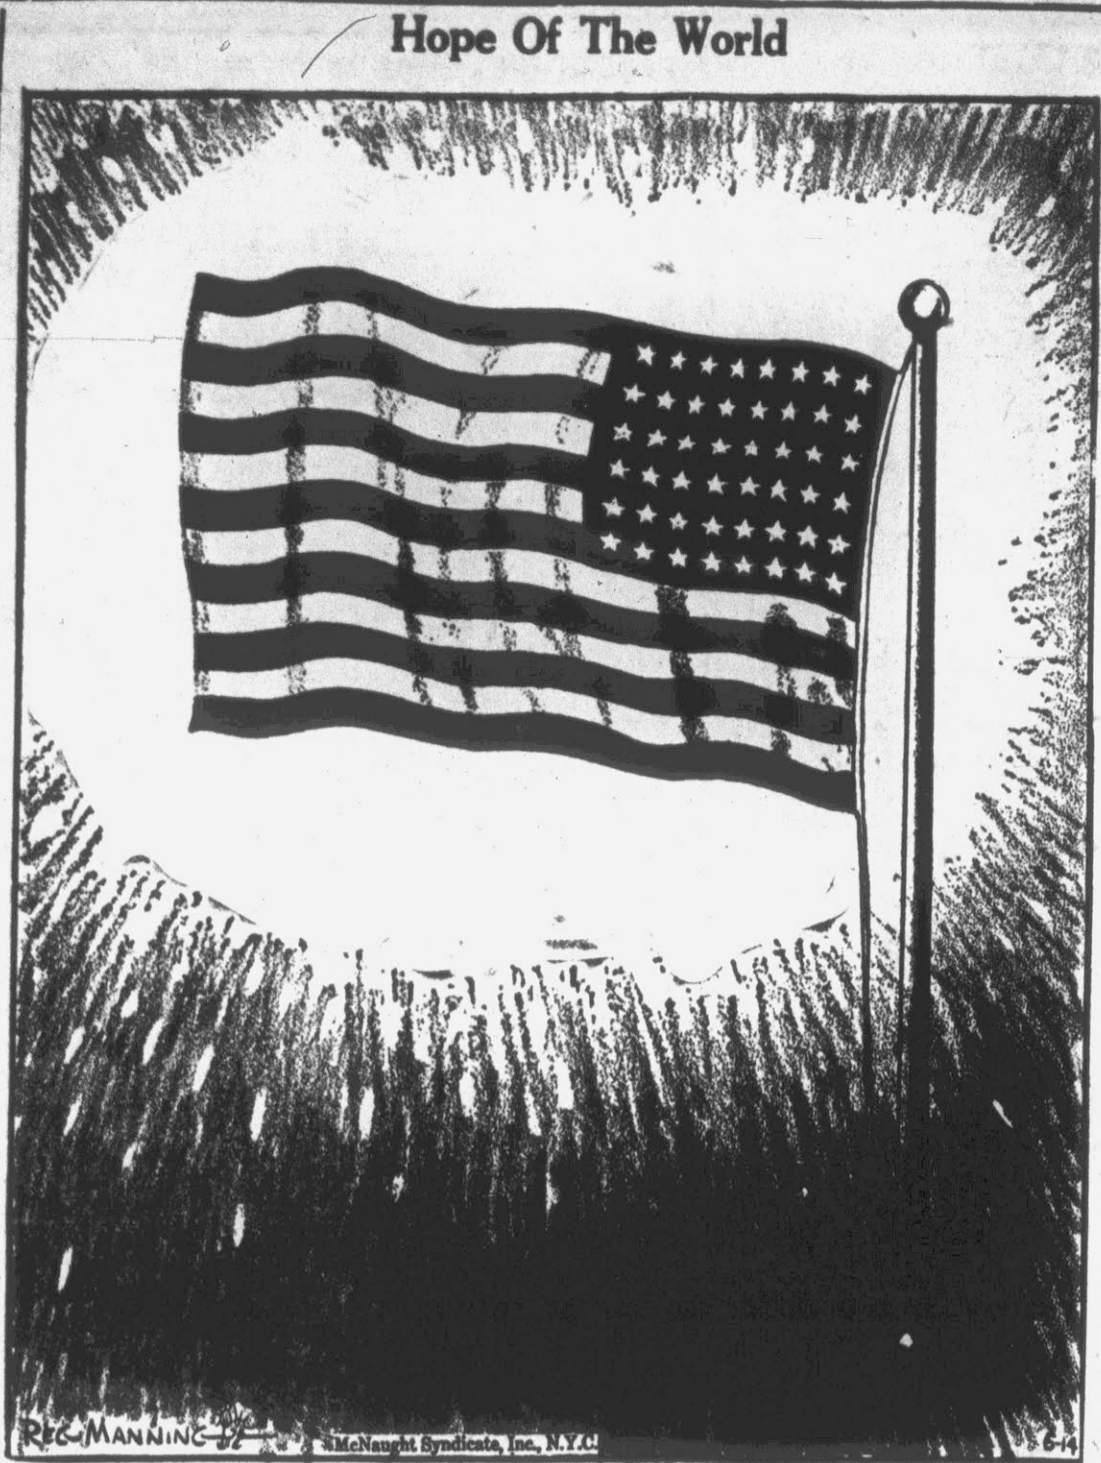

WARLICK—Most Democrats have come to the opinion there is very little hope for confirmation of Judge Wilson Warlick to be federal judge in the western district. Republican state leaders with whom your reporter discussed the matter last Thursday with the Dewey motorcade were sure the senate would not reach that item before summer adjournment. Democratic leaders in several western counties agreed with this verdict.

RESENTFUL—There is some Democratic resentment against the Republicans playing politics with the judiciary, and veiled suggestion was made that Democratic judges and solicitors in superior courts might re-taliate by making it hard on Republican lawyers appearing in their courts. This idea receives no encouragement from the judicial officers themselves, and very few people credit possibility of it happening. There is more marked resentment at Judge Yates Webb's failure to retire a few months earlier so that a Democratic successor would have had much better chance of confirmation. One Democratic office holder was almost bitter about what he called Judge Webb's "sacrificing Cook Warlick" by declining to step down earlier. He pointed out it would not have cost the Shelby jurist anything in honor or prestige or money, and would have benefited the Democratic party as well as honored the Newton judge.

ISSUE—The state highway set-up is getting to be an issue in the gubernatorial run-off. In the first district argument is being used in behalf of Johnson that his election means retaining Chairman Sandy Graham and Division Commissioner Merrill Evans, both of whom seem to be popular in that area. In the western counties it is being argued in behalf of Johnson that he will replace Chairman Graham and Chief Engineer Vance Baise.

RE-ORGANIZATION—Mayne Albright, during the first campaign, proposed reorganization of the highway department. Last week Johnson came out for a modified reorganization. He proposes smaller divisions, with consequently larger number of commissioners in order to provide closer personal attention to highway needs. Meantime, partisans of each candidate claim the other has made so many promises about location of roads and appointments to the commission that some shuffling of the set-up will be almost certain. With respect to this as well as several other matters involved in the governor's race, there seems to be different desire on part of eastern and western sections of the state.

RULES—The recent visit of Governor Thomas E. Dewey to North Carolina proved that the great game of American politics is played by the same rules, whether the race be for township constable, a governor, or a president of the United States. Following closely behind Harold Stassen, Joseph W. Martin and Robert A. Taft in their common effort to line up the North Carolina Republican convention votes, Dewey

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York.—(AP)—Louis is a twelve year-old boy who lives on borrowed blood but never asked anybody to lend him any courage.

Looking up at a doctor in the Kings County hospital giving him his four-hundredth blood transfusion, Louis said cheerfully: "I sure get tired of coming to the hospital all the time. But one of these days I'll get over this, and I won't have to come back again."

He doesn't know the odds against him. He doesn't know that all victims of his strange malady must keep periodically refueling themselves with other people's blood—or die.

At seven months Louis was stricken with Cooley's Anemia, a rare disease which strikes chiefly among children of Mediterranean descent. Until recent years, the small victims of his obscure ailment simply weakened progressively until death took them. There was no cure. There is no cure. But it was found they could be kept alive by repeated transfusions.

How long Louis is one of the children who is living that answer. Since his seventh month the body has existed only by the borrowed vigor tapped from the veins of his father and strangers he has never seen. He began by taking a fifth of a pint at each transfusion. Now every few weeks he needs four pints. Later he may require even more.

As he lay on a bed in the Kings County hospital receiving his 204th pint of blood, Louis joked with the nurses. He didn't look ill. He is a little undersized, but his brown eyes sparkled, and he talked gaily of how soon he could give the hospital back its peppermint-striped pajamas and go for a trip to the country.

"I used to get the blood from my father," Louis confided. "He'd bring me here and he'd give as much blood as they'd let him."

"That's right," said Dr. Harvey Gollance, Deputy Medical superintendent, "his father literally would bleed himself white for the boy."

Now the blood is provided by the American Red Cross, which collects it in Brooklyn and other areas for patients such as Louis.

"It is always possible that someone will discover a cure," said Dr. Gollance. "Not too long ago we'd have had to give Louis up for lost in his infancy. But now we can keep him alive for many years, as long as we have the blood to give him. And he can lead a reasonably normal life. But he'll have to keep coming back for transfusions as long as he lives."

The doctor spoke too low for Louis to hear. The boy was impatient to leave.

"I like to work on the farm in the country," he said. "I like to plant things and take care of horses. But when I grow up I'm going to be a baseball player. Like Joe Dimaggio. I play in the outfield myself."

Louis leads a normal life. He is an excellent student and will start Junior High School next fall. He likes soccer, football and baseball. But after four or five weeks his strength wears out. His lips begin to swell. His skin turns yellow. And Louis knows then he has to go to the hospital.

"My legs feel heavy, and my arms feel heavy, and I feel awful tired all over," he said.

"But a couple of hours after I get the blood—as soon as it has a chance to go through my body—I feel swell."

The average adult has more than ten pints of blood. In his brief life Louis has taken about twenty times that amount into his small body. Sometimes he wonders who it came from and what they are like. Some day he would like to meet a donor who has helped him.

"First I would say 'hello' and 'thanks' to him," said the boy. "Then I won't know what I would say. It's hard to think what to say to somebody who gave you his blood. What would you say?"

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington.—It was truly an international show the children of Washington put on to raise money to buy food for the hungry children of Europe and Asia. The children of more than 20 different embassies and foreign legations here and the school children of the District of Columbia took part in the program, which drew throngs of capitalists to Constitution Hall.

The first American Thanksgiving, complete with Indians, pilgrims, peace pipes and prayers, keyed the festival—"We who have plenty give thanks and wish to share our bounty with others."

The local program was one of the many featuring the Crusade for Children, sponsored in this country by the American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children. The AOA-UNAC is the organization set up through the United States secretaries of state and agriculture to raise funds to feed the 230,000,000 hungry children abroad.

UNAC is to get $21,000,000 of the $60,000,000 sought. This is the share of the American people in the community chest being raised in 45 countries to feed as many of these starving children as can be reached.

The remainder of the money has been allocated—after thorough study of all projects—to 25 American aid groups, including Protestant and Catholic Church, the Friends and Unitarians, labor's overseas relief activities and nationality agencies.

In Washington the children of each embassy presented a scene, tableau or dance that gave the flavor of their country in music and song. The daughter of His Royal Highness Prince Wan Waitayakon, the Ambassador of Siam, gave a pretty dance called the "Chui Chai." Miss Kalindi Kowshik of the Indian Embassy impersonated the mischievous god Krishna. Miss Hanje Vanlemp, whom the Netherlands embassy staff picked as its prettiest young lady, was the bride in a Dutch wedding scene.

Young Latin American children appeared in a gay and colorful Fiesta. A Greek pantomime was played against a background of moonlight on Mt. Pindus. The Italian embassy presented a scene in a piazza in Florence. Sweden's embassy presented "Santa Lucia and the Star Children" with the youngsters wearing crowns of lighted candles. Children of the Chinese embassy gave a pageant, "Fashions of Cathay," and a kilted band of 14 bagpipers represented Great Britain. Poland presented an ancient wedding dance, the Philippine embassy gave "Album of the Philippines," and Czechoslovakia showed a Christmas scene complete with Saint Nicholas and the Devil himself.

Expected Twins; Now Have Quads

Bristol, Eng., June 14—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Good, 26, who was expecting twins in July, is the mother of quadruplets today. Father Charles Good, 37, is hunting around for more baby clothes.

The four girls were born Saturday by a Caesarean operation which lasted 46 minutes. Dr. Percival Phillips, medical superintendent at Southmead hospital, said quadruplets by Caesarean were a rarity. "I've never heard of any other."

No said circumstances developed which convinced the medical staff there would be a better chance to save the babies if they were delivered without delay. Bridget was the first to arrive, weighing 3 pounds 16 ounces. Frances weighed in at 4 pounds 1-4 ounce; Elizabeth at 4 pounds 8 ounces; Jennifer 3 pounds 14 ounces.

"Only Jennifer is a little delicate, but we have every hope that we shall be able to save them all," Dr. Phillips said.

The Goods have one other daughter, Janet Susan, 2. Mr. Good is a farm manager at Coalpit Heath, near Winterbourne, Gloucestershire.

"I'll have to be scouting around for more baby clothes," he said. "We have only one set. But I'm proud and delighted about the whole business."

The world's largest anti-friction bearing, about the size of a night club dance floor, is used to turn the four-deck 16-inch gun turrets on U. S. battleships.

The Elks regularly observe annual "Flag Day" with appropriate exercises. The organization is the only fraternal group that does so, it is understood.

Another Outlay For Foreign Aid

Washington, June 14—(AP)—The Economic Cooperation Administration has dealt out another $96,610,000 in recovery goods for Europe and China.

It was the biggest single outlay authorized since the Marshall plan was started. Commitments under the program now total $393,737,029.

Nine European countries, the French zone of Germany and China share the new package. Britain gets the largest single parcel, $36,300,000 in metals, sulphur, cheese and tobacco.

ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman, announcing the approvals yesterday, said that approximately $27,000,000 worth of cotton and $7,427,000 worth of tobacco will be included in the goods to be brought and shipped from the United States.

Purchases of other materials—including metals, oil, coal, copra and potash—will be made in Canada, Germany, South America, Poland and the Philippines.

Members of both chapters of the Eastern Star will compose the choir for the program. Rev. E. N. Staten will preach the annual sermon.

All monies collected from this program will be sent to the Oxford Orphanage at Oxford, N.C. The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

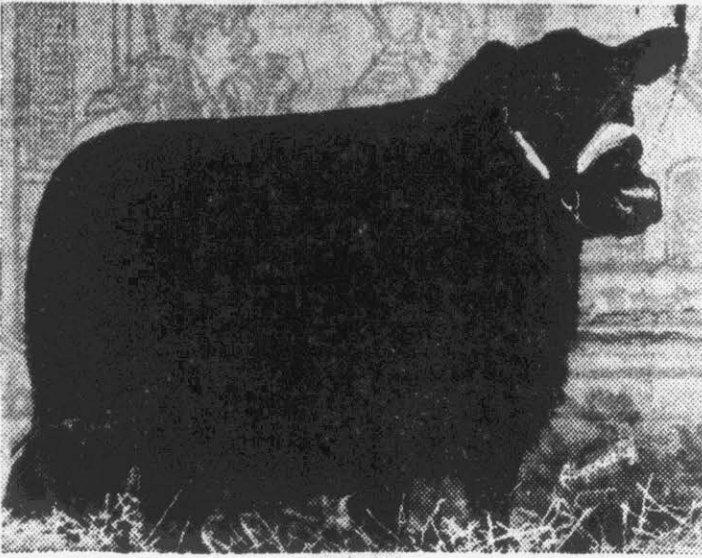

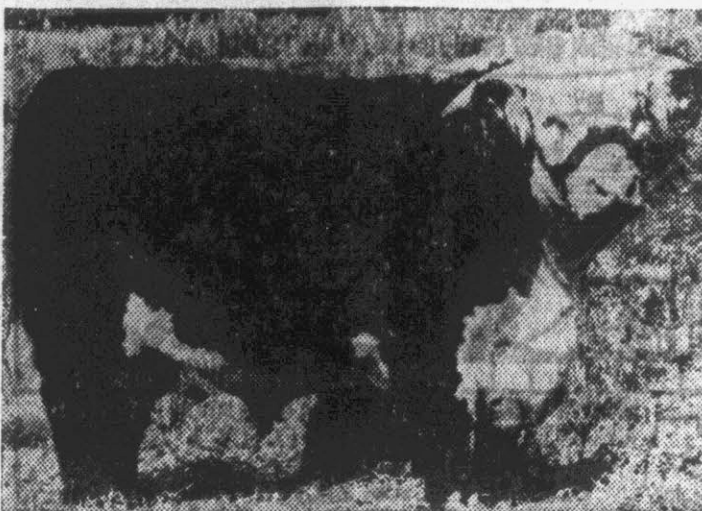

All members of Mt. Hermon Lodge No. 38 are asked to please be present on Monday, June 14. A very important meeting will be held. All Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Approved As Custom Mixing Station Here

Pitt Milling Company, owned by John L. Askew and Walter Glenn Garner, local feed distributor, have just been made an Approved Custom Mixing Station, according to an announcement just received by them from the Ralston Purina Company, Johnson City, Mo.

"We are fully qualified," they say, "to render the type of custom grinding and mixing service the Ralston Purina Company authorizes in the announcement. We are completely equipped to grind the farmer's own grains and mix with them a balancer that the Purina Laboratories and Purina Experimental Farm have found to be practical and economical. By grinding the farmer's own grains and blending with them the proper Purina balancer, it is possible to increase the return a farmer gets from his grains when he market them through his livestock in the form of pork, beef, eggs or milk."

Certain definite standards had to be met before they could become a Purina Custom Mixing Station, according to them.

"We have been provided with the Purina Rations Service which entitles us to the help of the Purina Laboratories and Farm on any special needs of our customers, in addition to having these Laboratories provide a complete set of rations made of corn, oats, wheat, barley, rye, sorghum grains and Purina balancers. As a Purina Custom

Mixing Station we send samples of mixtures as made by our grinder and mixer to the Purina Analytical Laboratory so they can check the efficiency and accuracy of our machinery.

"This arrangement," they say, "makes it possible for us to render an unusually high standard of accurate, uniform and profitable feed mixing service to the farmers in this vicinity—a service particularly adapted to local feeding conditions."

In recent years Americans gave churches and welfare institutions little more than $1.50 out of every $100 of their expenditures—considerably less than they spent for either tobacco or alcoholic beverages.

U.S. Army Reviving Chains Of Hostels

Heidelberg—Germany's famed youth hostels, abolished by the Nazis, are being revived under U. S. Army auspices. Chains of hostels, a one-day's hike apart, were located throughout Germany in the pre-Hitler era. They were meeting places for the youth of Germany and other countries. The Nazis abolished them because the resulting exchanges of ideas and experiences was considered detrimental to Nazism.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 5

Smith City's courthouse is a big stone fort with the date 1884 cut on the cornerstone. We were there early. Four or five people were already in the corner's room. Among them was Bensingler. That showed how right J. D. was about the gathering of private dicks. Almost behind us entered Diane Ealing and Jim Kuhl. When they spotted us, she turned a little pale and he walked over.

"Did you come to make trouble?" she asked me, with his hands clenched and held low.

I started to get up, but J. D. hooked her arm through mine and kept me in my seat. "We're here to protect the interests of Richard Ealing's heirs," she said. "His will is in my office."

"Mrs. Ealing has retained me," Kuhl announced. "I demand that the will be surrendered to me."

"Suppose you bring her to my office to discuss it," said J. D.

He turned and went back to Diane Ealing.

The doctor came in, very spruce in a pepper-and-salt tweed. He paused near us and smiled at J. D. I noted the buttons on the suit. They were pepper-and-salt, too—black with white flecks in them. He was the kind of dresser who'd go for a detail like that. He went on and sat behind Diane Ealing and Jim Kuhl, leaning forward to speak to them. Others came in, spectators and witnesses. The corner showed up, a man with a sour lined face. Six shabby men sat in the jury box.

The jury was sworn and a young deputy prosecutor began asking the questions.

The first witness was the medical examiner. He described Ealing's condition as "dead," and told of seeing a pistol in his hand. Powder burns, he said, showed that the death weapon had been held directly against Ealing's body. Time of death he was slow about stating, but thought it had occurred between three and five o'clock.

He was followed by a police detective who told about the sound-proofing of the room, and the broken door. The key, he said, was on the inside and turned in the lock. N. C. Must be able to stand physical examination and furnish bond. Job now paying $76.36 per week. Good man can make more. See E. A. Ramsey, Proctor Hotel between 7 and 9 p. m., Wednesday, June 16, 1948. 14-3

Then came another policeman, who said his name was Holmgren and that he was a ballistics expert, assigned to the police laboratory. Holmgren identified the gun he had seen in Ealing's hand in the gun room, and testified that he had made tests to show that the bullet now in evidence had been fired from that same gun.

"I also examined the body of Richard Ealing," he added, "and made a nitrate test of the hand that held the gun."

"Did you examine this gun for fingerprints?"

"I did," said Holmgren, and went on to say that prints on the gun's stock and trigger matched those of the dead man's right hand and were of a nature to indicate that Ealing had grasped the gun strongly in shooting position.

Dr. Stokes was the next witness. He told the prosecutor what he had told us, in much the same words. After him came William Pettigrew, favoring his bandaged right hand. He corroborated Dr. Stokes' story and added that the key of the room was in the lock on the inside as the two of them broke the door down.

Finally Diane Ealing was called. Very wearily, in a soft voice, she identified the little gun as one of a pair her husband had bought and put into shooting trim about two years ago.

"Did your husband have any reason for committing suicide?" went on the prosecutor.

"I can't swear to that," she said, pale but cagey.

"In your judgment," repeated the prosecutor, "was your husband unhappy or moody?"

"He may have been, a little," Mrs. Ealing murmured.

"Have you any evidence that his death may not have been caused by suicide?"

Diane Ealing was looking straight at me. "That man there," she said suddenly.

Everybody turned to stare at me, you could almost hear the whish of air stirring with the single motion of their heads. "He bluffed his way into the house yesterday," went on Diane Ealing. "When cornered, he said he was trying to get a be-

Two Week-end Games Lost By Locals To Rocky Mount

Saturday's Game Finds Greenies On Short End Of 3-2 Score; Sunday's Contest Lost In Rocky Mount By 9-3

By BERT MOYER

The Greenville Greenies lost both their week-end tilts with the Rocky Mount Leafs, dropping the game Saturday night, 3-2 and then over in Rocky Mount yesterday afternoon victims of a 9-3 attack. The double-win for the Leafs put them at the top of the league.

Saturday Game
The Greenies lost a real heart-breaker here Saturday night as the Rocky Mount Leafs edged a 3-2 win. Going into the ninth frame with a 2-0 lead, Dave Fowler led off for the Rocky Mount half of the ninth with a single. Hanley walked, and then Martin hit a ball against the scoreboard in left field, which according to ground rules was a homer, to clear the bases and give the Leafs their three runs.

The Greenies scored their two runs in the fifth when Joe Nessing walked, stole second and then stole third. Joe Sposa walked, Moe Carter singled to bring home Nessing, Johnny Kovalichik singled leading the bases and then Danny Lastres singled with Sposa racing home and Carter was caught out at home trying to score. Johnny Kovalichik went the entire route for the Greenies and gave up only six hits with Dave Fowler getting two doubles and a single to lead the visitors attack. Kovalichik walked four men and struck out two. This was his third loss of the season and his first to the Leafs. He has five wins.

John Salanda started on the mound for the Leafs but ran into trouble in the fifth frame when he loaded the bases. He gave up the two Greenie runs in this frame. Red Benton relieved him at this point and got credit for the win, his 11th of the season. Danny Lastres with two singles was the only Greenie to get more than one hit off the two Leaf hurlers.

Sunday Game

Manager Turkey Tyson's Rocky Mount Leafs registered their sixth win of the season over the Greenies in Rocky Mount yesterday with a 9-3 win. The Leafs scored two tallies in the first frames to go out front for keeps and then back in the fourth frame to score two more for what proved to be enough to clinch the game. Webb and Smith were issued free passes to first, and successive singles by Helmer and McJunin wrought their home.

Kenneth Brooks went the route for the Greenies and gave up 11 hits, three home runs, and a triple, with Dave Fowler, the league's leading batter collecting two home runs and a triple to bat in six runs, and Quentin Martin hitting a homer for this third successive homer in as many days. Brooks walked five men and struck out only one. The loss for Brooks was his fourth of the season and his second to the Rocky Mount Leafs.

Lefty Harry Helmer held the Greenies to six hits, walked four and struck out three in gaining the win. Wiley Nash with a double and a single in four trips to the plate, led the attack for the Greenies.

Hogan Looks For Brighter Future

Los Angeles, June 14—(AP)—New U. S. Open Golf Champion Ben Hogan was taking it easy around here today, wondering where his next links title would come from. Meanwhile the smoke had cleared from the 1948 battle for the country's top honors, one that cracked more records than any other in the 54-year history of the big tournament.

Hogan had a gold medal, $2,000 in cash and a year's possession of the silver cup on which are engraved the names of every champion since the modest inaugural in 1894. The future also held promise of a far greater silver lining for the 37-year-old Texas-born fairway star, now playing out of Hershey, Pa. Hogan figures to capitalize on this title, probably the most highly prized in the world, to the extent of upwards of $50,000.

Here are the results of the tournament in capsule form:
Hogan breezed home late Saturday afternoon with a 72-hole total of 276, a new record for the U. S. Open. Ralph Guldahl's 281 in 1937 was the previous mark.
Besides Hogan, two others bettered the old record. They were Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., and Ojai, Calif., and Jimmy Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y. Demaret carded a 278 and Turnesa a 280 and each was the new record holder momentarily until Hogan settled in.

Over Hundred In Tennis Tourney

Davidson, June 14—(AP)—More than 100 young tennis stars were set for the opening of singles competition in the Southern Junior and Boys' tennis tournament at Davidson College this afternoon. The record-breaking field, about twice the size entered in the 1947 tournament, made it necessary to schedule a tournament opening a day earlier than the original Tuesday date.

The terrific batting spree which Joe DiMaggio enjoyed on the swing around the Western loop served to focus the spotlight on the veteran Yankee slugger. In Chicago, Joe treated the White Sox fans to some plain and fancy slugging when he hit for the cycle, with a single, a double, a triple and two home runs while the Yankees were thumping Chicago 13-2. When the Yankees moved on to Cleveland, DiMaggio belted three homers, two off Bobo Feller, in a game which saw the Yankees triumph over the Indians 6-5. The two slugging sprees brought Joe's home run total up to 10, exactly half of his entire 1947 home run production. The Yankees continue to depend on DiMaggio. He's the man who spared the Yankees to seven penants,

The records fell right and left in the game between Goldsboro and Tarboro at Tarboro Thursday night. Unofficially the following were marked up for the books:
The total of 29 runs was the greatest ever scored by one team in a nine inning game in Coastal Plain League history. Previous high was 27. The 29-8 score was the most decisive victory in league history. The difference of 21 runs compared with the previous 19-1 mark, a margin of 18 runs. When Sutt gave up 29 runs and 22 earned runs in one game he also set a record though not one at which to boast. Another record was approached but not beaten. The Tars stole ten bases during the evening. However, on the previous evening, against Greenville, they pilfered 12. At the same time Spot Cox came within one of tying the league record for individual stolen bases, when he pilfered four. Several league players have stolen five.

The Greenies travel down to New Bern tonight to play the first in a three game series with the Bears. On Tuesday night they return to Guy Smith Stadium where a double-header will be staged between the two clubs. Incidentally, this is the last of the double-headers on the Greenies' schedule.
Stu Martin, of the Jays, back in uniform after more than six weeks of sidelining after a bean-ball episode, still is doubtful concerning his starting status.
"My main concern at the moment is getting back into shape," says Sutt, a one-time major leaguer of some note. "I'm going to take it easy until I feel I can do both the team and myself some good when it comes to playing."
Julie Acosta, Cuban southpaw who pitched for Goldsboro in 1940 and who has been with the Milwaukee Brewers for the past four years, has been released by the AAA team and is trying to make a deal with Goldsboro. Julio now a free agent, is in Goldsboro conferring with Goldsboro officials.

Only seven players started the 1948 American League season with a batting average of .300 or better—and two of them are members of the Chicago White Sox.
Taft Wright's seven-year mark at the plate is 320, while Luke Appling has poled 312 during 17 seasons in the majors. The others are Ted Williams, 351; Joe DiMaggio, 331; John Pesky, 330; Barney McCosky, 319; and Dick Wakefield, 303.

Records Fall In Motorboat Race

New York, June 14—(AP)—It takes less time this year to come down the Hudson from Albany to New York in an outboard motorboat.
John R. Whitehouse, a marine hardware manufacturer from Springfield, Mass., covered the 136 miles yesterday in three hours and 43 minutes. His average was 36.1 miles an hour while the old record, set in 1947 by Vic Scott of Forest Hills, N. Y., was only 31.7.
Twelve other boats in the annual race also bettered the old record. Whitehouse drove a class six boat.

Turning Point In Walcott's Luck Happened In 1935

By TED MEIER

New York, June 14—(AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott isn't superstitious. Nevertheless, the turning point in the career of the fighter some think may become the new heavyweight champion came 13 years ago. Jersey Joe didn't realize it at the time. Neither did anyone else.

The occasion was his fight with Roxie Allen, of Camden, N. J. in 1935. Among the spectators was Felix Boochicchio, Camden sportsman.
In the first round Allen floored Walcott. It didn't look as if Jersey Joe would get up. But he did and in the eighth knocked out Allen with a terrific punch.

The sock made an indelible impression on Boochicchio. Years later when he entered the boxing game in Camden he contacted Jersey Joe. "I never forgot that fight with Allen," Felix explained. "You know Allen told me later that he didn't know what he was doing until the next day. Anyone who can punch like that always is dangerous. Joe was walking as a calker in the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation early in 1945 when Boochicchio asked him to drop around.
It was a trying period for Walcott who, although he displayed natural ability in his early bouts had encountered only disappointment in the fight game. The father of six children and a devout churchgoer, he didn't see any use of coming out of retirement, but he agreed to talk it over.
"He was discouraged," Boochicchio said. He lived in a place where the front door had a hole in it and there were no window panes. His confidence was gone. I told him he wouldn't have to worry anymore. He finally agreed to try it just once more.
Thus Walcott became identified with Boochicchio.
"We put Joe on a weekly payroll, fixed up his home and arranged with the neighborhood grocer to send him anything he needed," Boochicchio said. "We restored his confidence. It made him a changed man."
Walcott's first fight under his new advisor resulted in a two-round knockout over Jackie Saunders.

Connie Mack Has Troubles With Stellar Hurling Corps

Best 'Lefty'

Philadelphia, June 14—(AP)—Connie Mack, already alarmed over the near-collapse of his pitching staff, had double trouble today.
The principals are the veterans of the hurling corps for Mack's Philadelphia Athletics—38-year-old Bill Dietrich and 36-year-old Nelson Potter.
Dietrich demanded his unconditional release and Mack said okay so long as the other clubs in the league waive Dietrich's services.
As for Potter, Mack tossed him off the ball club yesterday, then reportedly reinstated the screwball artist several hours later but Art Morrow, sports writer of the Philadelphia Inquirer said Potter considered himself still fired and left for his home in Chicago as the A's entrained for the west.
The Potter incident developed in the first game of a twin bill with the St. Louis Browns. Mack brought Potter in from the bullpen when Lou Brissie wavered after holding a 5-1 lead going into the eighth inning.
Brisse had yielded one run and left the bases loaded with none out. Potter then became the first Athletic pitcher to force in a run on a walk when he passed pinch hitter Joe Schultz.
Paul Lederer then socked a single to right off Potter and the tying runs scored. The winning run came on the same play on an over-throw.
Potter stuck around to give up one more hit and one more run. Then Mack waded him out. In a voice that could be heard in the seats near the A's dugout, Mack told Potter: "If that's the best you can do, get your check."
The pitcher promptly departed for the clubhouse. Later, he and the 85-year-old Mack were reported to have reached an understanding, but Morrow said such was not the case. Dietrich said he is "heart-broken" at leaving the A's, the best club I was ever with.

Yankees Retire Babe's Uniform

New York, June 14—(AP)—No longer will the number "3" grace a uniform worn by a member of the New York Yankees.
It was worn for the last time yesterday at the Yankee Stadium by the man who made it famous—Babe Ruth.
Ruth's uniform has been officially retired and presented to baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., where it may be seen along with the bat the Babe used in clubbing his 60th home run in 1927.
The Babe was on hand yesterday to participate in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the opening of the Yankee Stadium, along with all living members of the 1923 world champion Yankees.
A crowd of some 50,000 fans thundered a tremendous ovation as the Babe pidgeon-toed out of the visiting team's dugout, bat in hand.
The retirement of Ruth's No. 3 is the second uniform to be so honored by the Yanks. The other is the No. 4 worn by the late Lou Gehrig, Ruth's fence-busting mate in the twenties and early thirties.

Citation Called Greatest Horse Since Man O'War

New York, June 14—(AP)—Citation began a brief, well-earned vacation today, praised as the greatest American thoroughbred race horse since the days of Man O'War more than 25 years ago.
Fresh from his thrilling Belmont Stakes triumph Saturday, a victory which clinched the coveted triple crown, the Calumet Farm star prepared to move on to Chicago in search of further conquest.
"He's the best we've ever had," said Ben Jones, Calumet general manager, after Citation's mile and a half victory in the Belmont. "He's one of the best of all time." Son Jimmy Jones, the Calumet trainer, smiled and nodded agreement.
"There's no doubt that Citation is the best horse seen on an American race course in many long years— one of the 'horses of our time,'" Jimmy said.

Sweden, Hungary Seek Semifinals

London, June 14—(AP)—Sweden and Hungary were to decide today which is to join England, Italy and Czechoslovakia in the semifinal round of the European zone Davis cup tennis eliminations.
The Sweds took a 3-1 lead yesterday by winning the doubles. Lennart Bergelin and Torsten Johansson conquered Hungary's Josef Asboth and Andras Adam, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5 two singles matches were scheduled today.

Has 100,000 Weightlifters But Can't Win

London—(AP)—Britain has 100,000 weightlifters, but John Barra, 34-year-old coach of the Olympic team, doesn't think this country will win a title at the 1948 games.
Next time, says Barra, Britain's chances will be better.
Barra, who has written a million and a half words on weightlifting during the past two years—books, pamphlets and newspaper articles—will take the 11 men finally selected as the British team for intensive training at a south coast resort a few weeks before the summer games open at Wembley stadium on July 28.
The Olympic coach who has been a weightlifter for 18 years has a highly developed physique, is over six feet tall and has about the biggest biceps in this country.
A six year old son, Peter, even now handles barbells in a way that suggests he's going to be a champion, too.

Camp Carver, for Negro Scouts, is also used for picnics of Negro community groups.

Kerr Scott tells us today of his undying friendship for the tobacco farmer. It was different in 1939 when North Carolina's tobacco markets crumbled. The situation was desperate . . . tobacco prices broke below 11 cents . . . it was like the mid-west in drought time. The farmers of this State sought to keep the markets closed until an adequate marketing system could be worked out.
