Dixie Caucus To Be Convened By Foes Of Truman

South Carolina's Governor Announces Pre-Convention Meet By Southerners

New Castle, N. H., June 15—(AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina announced today that a caucus of Southern states opposed to the nomination of President Truman will be held in Philadelphia before the Democratic National Convention.

Thurmond said the meeting was decided upon by seven Southern governors at a private session during the National Governors' conference here.

He said the caucus would be held a day or two before the Democratic convention and that some western delegations would be invited.

"We are against Truman," Thurmond said, "we feel he is not the right man for president. If he is nominated we don't think he can be elected. At any rate we are against him."

Thurmond has been one of the leaders of the so-called Southern revolt against Truman which was touched off by the President's Civil Rights program. The Southern governors who met with Thurmond discussed several candidates for the nomination but would probably get the nomination if he wanted it.

"But he does not stand a chance of being elected," Thurmond said. "President Truman will only hurt the party if he accepts the nomination." Thurmond said, "I hope he will see the futility of accepting."

Thurmond said South Carolina will not vote for Truman in the election and neither will it vote for the Republican candidate.

The state will vote, instead, he added, for an elector.

"We have made a fight of this against President Truman on the basis of state sovereignty. It is not a fight for American principles and should interest every citizen."

Thurmond said "nearly all the people of the South are against Truman. We are going to fail to vote for the Democratic nominee even if Truman is named."

Attending the conference with Thurmond were Governors Beauford H. Jester of Texas, Millard Caldwell of Florida, William M. Tucker of Virginia, Earle C. Clements of Kentucky, Ben T. Laney of Arkansas and Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi.

Town Is Sold At Public Auction

Norris, Tenn., June 15—(AP)—Norris, the town a dam built, was sold at public auction today for $2,107,500.

The successful bidder was Henry David Epstein of Philadelphia, who said he was representing "a group of Philadelphia business men."

The Tennessee Valley Authority built the town in 1933-34 to house personnel working on nearby Norris Dam. Later, many of TVA's high-ranking officials, including former chairman David E. Lilienthal and incumbent Gordon R. Clapp, settled here.

Midwest Hit By Freezing Cold

Chicago, June 15—(AP)—Freezing weather hit parts of Northern Wisconsin today as cool air spread over sections of the Midwest.

The mercury dipped to 32 at Land O'Lakes, Wis., and registered 33 at Pellston, Mich. It was in the 30's in parts of northern Michigan and Northern Minnesota. The cooler weather covered sections of the upper Lakes, the upper Mississippi valley and the northern plains states.

Vandenberg Resolution

In the Late Rush Now Going On In Senate, Don't Overlook Historic Step Involving A More Militant Foreign Policy; Result Of Close Study; What It Is All About

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 15—(AP)—Don't in the huge rush of news from here—overlook an historic step taken by the Senate.

It has just passed the "Vandenberg resolution," only seven paragraphs long.

That resolution gave the President a signal to start great wheels turning. Before they stop:

1. We may be arming the countries of western Europe.

2. We may be in military alliance with those countries.

3. The world may be divided into two armed camps, one led by the United States, the other by Russia.

Every word in the seven paragraphs of the resolution was gone over with the utmost care by the State Department and the Senate Foreign Relations committee. They took months doing it.

The committee members, made up of Democrats and Republicans, approved the resolution. And the chairman, Senator Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, introduced it in the Senate last Friday.

So carefully was the language of the resolution chosen that Vandenberg asked the Senate not to tamper with a word of it.

He spoke in detail about its meaning. He said it was aimed at no one.

See House Passing Draft By Nightfall

Certain House Passage Anticipated In Matter Of Hours; Minor Differences With Senate Version To Be Ironed Out

Washington, June 15—(AP)—A two-year revival of the draft came up today for certain House passage. Republican leaders predicted the bill would be okayed by nightfall. And even the bitterest foes admitted their chances of blocking the measure are practically nil.

It will take more than House approval, however, to start any actual inductions of men 19 through 25.

First, Senate and House conferees will have to compromise minor differences in the two bills.

After that—if the House gets its way on the Chief point of dispute—President Truman will have to wait 75 days and then order the draft machinery into motion by a formal proclamation.

Military authorities have estimated they will have to draft some 200,000 men this year and next to reach manpower levels provided for in the bill.

The fight for House passage was led by Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the House armed service committee.

Arab Leaders In Policy Meeting

Holy Land Quiet As Bernadotte Carries On Truce Plans

Cairo, June 15—(AP)—The Arab countries' political delegates and army chiefs of staff met here today Arab League Secretary-General Abdel Rahman Azam Pasha said their purpose was an "exploratory discussion" of the Palestine problem.

Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator, left Rhodes for Cairo. He plans to meet with the Arab leaders here and then go to Tel Aviv Thursday to confer with Jewish authorities before returning to his Rhodes headquarters.

The Holy Land continued mostly quiet on the fifth day of a truce arranged by Bernadotte to pave the way for negotiations toward lasting peace there.

The Arab League political and military committees met together for five minutes and then the military leaders withdrew to a separate meeting.

Before the joint session, the secretary general told reporters the political committee was waiting for Bernadotte's reply to Arab charges of Jewish truce violations.

He said the mediator has not proposed formally to the Arabs any roundtable Arab-Jewish conference though he may have made verbal hints to some "representatives." He would not forecast Arab acceptance or rejection of any such proposal.

The new cases were reported from the following counties: Catawba 1, Cumberland 2, Guilford 2, Mecklenburg 1, and Warren 1.

Senate Prepares To Take Up Long Range Farm Bill

Speedy Passage Predicted But Must Settle Differences With House

Washington, June 15—(AP)—The Senate prepared today to approve a permanent system of farm price supports and then thresh out with the House a basic dispute over whether this is the time to adopt such a program.

Backers and foes of the pending long-range agriculture bill joined in predicting speedy passage. And Senator Aiken (R-Vt.), floor manager of the measure said he thinks the chances are good the House will accept it.

The House last Saturday passed an 18-month extension of the present price support law. House farm leaders indicated opposition to taking up the long range proposal this late in the session. They hope to avoid a party line fight now on a topic bound to provide a major election campaign issue.

Aiken, however, told a reporter he is going to insist that something more permanent be written into law.

"Failure to act now would jeopardize the establishment of a sound and sane program for years to come," he said.

The Vermontor beat President Truman to the punch in drafting the long range plan which calls for a sliding scale of price supports. Mr. Truman sent a special message to Congress a few weeks ago, shortly after Aiken's committee completed work on its bill, asking very much the same objectives as those outlined in the Aiken measure.

Mr. Truman listed a long range farm bill as one of the eight things he said in Los Angeles yesterday Congress should pass, even if it means working through the summer.

Aiken's bill sets up a permanent system of price supports by which the government puts a floor under agricultural commodities—either through crop purchases, loans to farmers or other means.

In addition, the measure provides a change in the method of fixing parity prices—which are designed to assure farmers and those who buy farm products a fair price balance.

The bill would retain the old formula based on the 1909-14 average but add a modernizing factor to figure in crop price averages in the most recent ten years.

Contract negotiations which started a week ago have bogged down over Lewis' request that the operators take on about $20,000,000 in old claims to families of distressed and ailing miners.

The talks were scheduled to resume at 1 p. m. (EST).

The operators, through spokesman Charles O'Neill, say they're just as "humane" about widows and orphans as the United Mine Workers, but that the 10-cent tonnage royalty they are contributing for welfare and retirement of miners won't stand all the burdens Lewis has signed up for.

The 10-cent royalty created by the one-year contract of last July has raised more than $40,000,000 but not a penny has been spent. Lewis and Ezra Van Horn, the operator trustee, have differed over how to divide the funds for pensions and other claims, so nothing has been paid out.

Van Horn has asked Justice T. Alan Goldsborough to grant another injunction against Lewis to keep the Union chief and Senator Bridges (R-NH) the neutral trustee from making any payments.

But that was far fewer than the number Mr. Truman wanted included. He had asked Congress to add 20,000,000 persons to the 30,000,000 now on the social security rolls.

Washington, June 15—(AP)—An overridden presidential veto today opened the way to large benefit payments to blind people and dependent children but barred federal old age pensions to some 750,000 job holders.

Mr. Truman objected to the bill on the grounds (a) that the increased benefits were not high enough and (b) that more, rather than fewer, people should be brought under the social security program.

Shortly before the veto message was read in the House, that chamber did vote to extend the program's coverage to some 3,500,000 more persons—mostly employees of state and local government agencies and non-profit organizations.

Washington, June 15—(AP)—A Senate hearing on nomination of Superior Court Judge Wilson Warlick, of Newton, N. C., to be federal judge of the Western North Carolina District was postponed until later today.

Washington, June 15—(AP)—The Chamber of Commerce directors at a meeting last night passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the proposed $1,500,000 utilities bond issue to provide funds for additions and improvements. President Charles B. Bissette presided. The bond election is scheduled for Monday, June 28.

The representative group of business and professional men composing the trade body's board of directors heard a report by Supt. Martin Swartz of the utilities plants' present capacity, future demands, their valuable earnings, the system of management and the vital part the various utilities, especially electricity, are having in the development of Greenville and the adjacent territory.

The directors, men who are successful in their own respective lines of business, indicated that they had studied this utilities problem and reached a conclusion that Greenville must go forward, and then pledged their influence to the success of the utilities bond election.

During the round table discussion, it was revealed that the Chamber of Commerce had thoroughly investigated the utilities problem; that it had a report of disinterested engineers and auditors concerning the soundness of the operation of the utilities, the correctness of its report of expenditures and earnings; the accuracy of its engineers in their estimates of what is needed to make

Washington, June 15—(AP)—National campaign managers for three GOP Presidential candidates have opened shop in Philadelphia, each confident that his man will win the party's nomination.

First on the scene was Ted R. Gamble, 41-year-old Portland, Ore., theater manager and campaign chief for Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Gamble said yesterday "Stassen leads in his popular appeal to all people and he is the strongest in reserve delegates strength."

But Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, who heads the forces for Sen. Robert Taft, said the Ohio Senator "is the man to beat."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign manager, former GOP national chairman Herbert G. Brownell told newsmen:

"Governor Dewey will bet more on the first ballot than any other candidate."

Lake Success, June 15—(AP)—Russia is expected to renew her fight today to put three chains of American-held Pacific Islands within range of the United Nations veto.

The former Japanese Mandated Islands, comprising the Marianas, Carolines and Marshalls, are being occupied and administered by the United States under a U. N. strategic area trusteeship. They include such war bases as Guam, Saipan, Tinian, Truk, Eniwetok and Kwajalein.

Washington, June 15—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers won a 13 cent an hour increase from the Hudson Motor Car Co. today, a few hours before opening negotiations with the Ford Motor Co.

The Hudson pact, agreed to after an all-night session, covers about 17,000 employees. Their average wage has been about $1.50 an hour. Negotiations began about a week ago.

The wage increase is retroactive to June 7 if Local 154, UAW-CIO approves it. It continues the contract for two years with provision for a reopening on wages one year from today.

Dangerous Pest

By CHESTER WALSH

Some farmers in Pitt county have reported to the county farm agent the presence of green plant lice (aphids) in their tobacco fields. These insects have caused considerable damage in Georgia.

Officials of the county farm agent's office stated that plant lice cannot be killed with stomach poison, such as arsenate of lead and Paris green, but a contact insecticide that will hit the body of the lice must be used. Since the lice are on the under side of the tobacco leaves, this creates a difficult problem in controlling the insects.

There will be a public meeting at the courthouse in Greenville Wednesday night, June 16, at 8 o'clock, to discuss this tobacco insect problem. All farmers, white and colored, who have plant lice in their tobacco fields and others are urged to attend this meeting. All available information about the pest will be presented at that time.

Washington, June 15—(AP)—The Senate struggled today to blast loose a $16,500,000,000 log-jam in appropriations.

The big money bills piled up in the last-week adjournment rush—all of them are "must" measures that cannot be ignored.

On top of the heap is the $41,000,000 government corporations bill which includes the controversial $4,000,000 Tennessee Valley Authority steam plant to generate electricity.

Others include the $6,609,937,000 Army-Air Force bill, $3,812,170,250 for the Navy, and $1,125,700,000 for foreign aid, including the European Recovery Program.

The TVA bill hit the Senate floor last night with a verbal bang. Before Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) could place the bill formally before the Senate, an argument broke out between friends and foes of the proposed steam plant.

Ferguson and Republican Senators Thye (Minn.), Revercomb (W. Va.), and Baldwin (Conn.), all opposing the plant, entered into a heated exchange with Democratic Senators McKellar (Tenn.), Sparsman (Ala.), and Hill (Ala.), stout friends of TVA.

When it became obvious no agreement could be reached, the bill was passed over until today. Another verbal tilt is certain when the bill is called up.

Smart-Forrest

The marriage of Miss Betty Thorne Forrest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Guy Forrest, and William Glenn Smart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milan Gowan Smart of Forest City, was solemnized in the Eighth Street Christian Church in Greenville, June 12, 3:30 p.m.

The Reverends H. G. Haney, pastor of the Christian Church, and R. W. Bradshaw, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, presided at the double ring ceremony.

A program of wedding music was presented by Leon Fleming, organist, after which Miss Geraldine Allgood, soloist, rendered "Because" and "Ain't Sweet Mystery of Life."

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin with a fitted bodice. The round scalloped neckline was joined by a yoke of Chantilly lace with matching pointed long sleeves. The full skirt, gathered at the waist and outlined with satin cording, extended into a short length train. The bride's fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara, embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a three-strand necklace of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. The bridal bouquet was a purple orchid carried on a prayer book with a spray of ribbon entwined with lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Rachel Brooks of Greenville served as maid of honor, wearing a pink dotted swiss gown with off-the-shoulder sleeves and a fitted bodice. The full skirt was outlined with pink cording. Miss Mary Jane Forrest, sister of the bride, was junior maid of honor. She wore a dress of identical design to the senior maid. Her gown was fashioned of blue dotted swiss. Both attendants wore a halo of pink roses to match their colonial nosegays of pink rosebuds. They wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bride.

Miss Jolinda Brewer, cousin of the bride, dressed in a white dotted swiss gown, served as flower girl. Her dress, of identical design to the other attendants, was edged with ruffles, which extended from the back of her gown around the skirt. Her colonial nosegay was also of pink rosebuds.

Wilbur Smart, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Vick Forrest, Tom Forrest, Ed Fuller, and Jessie Brewer, uncles of the bride.

Mrs. Forrest, mother of the bride, wore a gray printed silk dress and a corsage of yellow Tullman rose. Mrs. Smart, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy blue silk dress with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Durwood Russell, who presided at the wedding ceremony on June 12, was Miss Betty Hathaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hathaway of Route 4, Greenville, N.C. Mr. Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Russell of Fountain, N.C.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a gray and black bolero butler suit, with black patent accessories. Her corsage was the purple orchid from the bridal bouquet.

Following the rehearsal on Friday, the bride couple were entertained at a cake-cutting in the Proctor Hotel dining room by Mrs. William Brewer and Mrs. Edward Fuller. A three-tiered wedding cake was placed on the bridal couple's table, which was attractively decorated with a bouquet of mixed summer flowers. Other refreshments, including lime ice punch, mints and nuts carried out the green and white bridal theme.

Mrs. Smart recently graduated from Woman's College, where she received her A.B. degree in English and history. During the past year she has been teaching English in Kannapolis.

Mr. Smart, after attending Ellenboro High School, served in the army artillery with the 86th division in the European theatre of war and also with the division in the Philippine Islands. He is now engaged in farming near Forest City, where the couple will make their home after the wedding trip.

Greenville Minister Honored in Texas

Rev. Edward B. Ferguson, son of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson and the late Mr. Ferguson, 609 West Fourth Street, who was ordained a priest in St. Paul's Episcopal church here, in 1940, and who began his ministry in Clinton, was one of four priests named as canon by the Rt. Rev. C. Avery Mason, bishop of Dallas, Texas, on St. Barnabas' Day, June 11. Canon Ferguson, who went to Dallas from the New York School of Social Work, will have charge of the social agencies of the diocese of Dallas.

Historically, the office of canon in the Episcopal church has not only been an honorary office, but has also been the extension of the bishop's function in missionary, educational, pastoral and social effort.

Dad Makes His Suggestions On Father's Day

Dear Family: At first I thought a Communist spy plot was cooking around the house, the way you have all been whispering and scuttling around. Now I've remembered Father's Day is in the offing.

I'm going to adore the neckties. I'll douse myself with the after-shave lotion. I'll wear the tie clasp at least once. I'll certainly use the golf balls. And I'll probably tear up this letter and you'll never, never see it.

This is strictly dream stuff. But I'd like Father's Day to be a sort of New Year's event. I love the presents you're all going to buy "out of your own allowance, I hope" but if I had my way, you'd shower me with lists of resolutions—to be kept (the resolutions, for I'll put the lists in my safe deposit box) for a solid year.

I'm starting with some suggested resolutions for your mother, kids, but I'm going to give her a going over first only because she's joint head of the house and it's more polite that way—the way you always serve the guest of honor first.

Not to look my gift horses in the mouth, some things like the following would make every day Father's Day.

1. Razor blades, if used to rip hems, cut linoleum or sharpen pencils, will not be replaced in the razor.

2. My new sweater should remain my exclusive property. But if it is borrowed, it will not be left in the school locker for more than over night.

3. All and any damage to the automobile including ripped fenders, will be reported to me, and not quietly repaired with funds saved from the food budget (that month of meat-loaf last winter didn't fool anybody).

4. If Nancy insists on sitting with the neighbors' children, the neighborhood parents (and not me) be required to escort her home.

5. Playing of Be-bop records will be limited to two hours daily, preferably during daylight hours with no repeats under a half hour apart.

6. The bathroom shower rack will be reserved at all times for the shower curtain, not female unmentionables and silk stockings.

7. My old gabardine golf pants will not be sent to the cleaner's with out consulting me, nor will they be locked in a trunk in the attic. The same applies to my old woolen bethrobe which has been a good friend all through my married life.

8. The lawn mower will be oiled semi-monthly or Jack will forfeit his mowing money.

9. Afternoon bridge sessions will be terminated 15 minutes before my scheduled time to arrive home, and dinner those nights won't be left-over salad and parfait.

10. Steak and french fries will be served at least once a week.

11. Parties given by Nancy or Jack for their friends will be arranged at least 24 hours in advance, or at least long enough for me to make plans to play poker with the boys.

12. Socks in my bureau will have no holes in them; shirts will have their full complement of buttons—or they won't be in the drawer.

13. There will be an oversupply of bath towels in the bathroom at all times, and guest towels will be out only when there are guests actually in the house.

Evangelist

REV. ELBERT WILLIAMS

Rev. Elbert Williams of Wilmington, Youth Evangelist, is conducting a revival at the Church of God, 1807 Broad street. Services are held each evening at 7:45. The meeting will continue through Sunday. Special services will be held Saturday night. Rev. L. I. Harris, pastor of the church, invites the public to attend these services.

all times, and guest towels will be out only when there are guests actually in the house.

14. And if my tuxedo must be borrowed by Jack, SOMEONE will see that (a) the shirt is sent to the laundry and (b) studs and links are returned to that little black box in the right-hand, top drawer.

By MARY FOWLER

President Mildred McAfee Horton, of Wellesley College, announces that, under the auspices of the Mayling Soong Foundation, a Wellesley student will be selected each year for study at mission supported Yenching University, Peking, China, and that a Chinese girl will attend Wellesley. The Foundation, named in honor of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, alumna of Wellesley, is developing between East and West through scholarships, lectureships, institutes and library exchanges.

Using American church funds relief materials sent through Church World Service the "War Widow and Orphan Committee," church-directed, has undertaken the education of orphans and the care of widows in the Philippine Islands—most of them victims of the recent war. The orphans have been given small scholarships and classes in many trades and crafts have been formed and sewing materials and other equipment have been furnished widows so that they may start on the road to making independent livings for themselves and their families. Sewing courses for girls and tailoring courses for boys are among the most popular educational projects.

When the assembly of the World Council of Churches meets this summer in Amsterdam, Holland, there will be presented a report on "The Life and Work of Women in the Church" which may prove highly disturbing to some high churchmen present. For the report, to be made by Mrs. Samuel McCrea, wife of the head of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, after a worldwide survey, will indicate that women are tired of being relegated to the place of "ladies aid workers" and want to be on equal terms with men in both the ministry and in lay ranks, and that they want fuller recognition of their place in the ongoing movement of the church as well as in past history. In many churches and in many countries, the survey reveals, women are the main supporters and attendants at churches, and rear their families to believe in the teachings of the church, yet have scant recognition in either professional or volunteer ranks. Mrs. Cavere's study, which will probably be the basis of recommendations by the council, was made in 58 countries, among more than 100 denominations, and is based on 20,000 questionnaires to women leaders.

Wine-tasters never drink wine; they sniff it for bouquet and aroma and then sip a little—but they never swallow it when on the job.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

Writer Gertrude Atherton Passes

San Francisco, June 15—(AP)—Novelist Gertrude Atherton is dead victim at last of the years she had so long defied.

As beguiling and as timeless as many of her nearly 60 novels, she had steadfastly refused to grow old—until her 90th birthday, last Oct. 30. Then, at a civic ceremony in her honor, she said she was growing weary, would write no more, and "don't expect to live more than a year longer."

Death came late yesterday at Stanford Hospital, where she was admitted May 27 after a light stroke.

The question of how arteries and veins in the human body were connected remained unanswered until 1661 when an Italian anatomist discovered tiny connecting vessels with the newly invented microscope.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CHRISTIANITY AND THE ITALIAN ELECTIONS

One of the most important facts about the Italian elections, but one which should surprise nobody, is that organized atheism has again failed to shake the attachment of a European people to their religion. The struggle, at the core, was not between communism and capitalism, or communism and socialism, but between communism and the Catholic religion. The outcome, as everyone recognizes, is a signal victory for Christianity.

The Italian communists should have foreseen this. History affords them many examples. The anti-clerical Jacobins in the French Revolution abolished Christianity and set up a worship of reason; but Napoleon, a few years later, had to bring back the Church. The Bolsheviks of 1917 swept the Orthodox Church from Russia, but a few years later Stalin admitted the dechristianizing plan had failed and reopened the churches. And now the Italian communists, campaigning on an anti-religious platform, go down to a two-to-one defeat.

This should prove to the communists that the great masses of the people can never be turned to atheism. They may turn against the churches, but they will never turn against God.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NESBIT

(Having to be away for a few days and thinking that regular readers of this column might like to see from the usual state style and stuff, your reporter asked Carl Sink, assistant director of the State News-Advertising Division, to fill in with some of his experiences in processing pictures and stories for big magazines. This is the first of two articles by Sink.)

Although it took two weeks of concentrated effort by six men and 2,000 miles of driving, the story and pictures about Squire Lunsford, "Minstrel Man of the Appalachians," finally got published in the Saturday Evening Post. It's all over now, the groundwork having been done in March and the publication in May, but the experience haven't been forgotten.

WEATHER—Leaving Raleigh in perfect early March weather, Sink picked up Johnny Hemmer, state photographer at Pinehurst. By that time the long leaf pines at America's winter golf capital were covered with sleet and snow was reported to westward. The assignment was to move leisurely toward Asheville, doing four stories a day during the leisure, then contact the Peskin brothers, SEP photographers, and on to Turkey Creek to pick up Bascom Lamar Lunsford. Meantime the party was to find Harold Martin, who was to do the writing for the Post year.

WORKS—First official stop was at Charlotte to get a picture story of an earthworm ranch. There are more than a score in the state, and seldom a day passes without inquiries about location of others. (Some of the agricultural politicians could do a good deed for North Carolina farmers by finding homes for earthworms, while maneuvering for rentfree homes for themselves.) Just as Osmond Barringer was winding the first worm out of winter pasture with a fiddle bow well waxed and saved against the pasture fence, and giving a stimulating talk on digging dishes with dynamite—when he also does—the snow started.

SNOW—The snow continued until it was ten inches deep by the time Hugh Knox's record of 1,243,111 cow-test pulls over 26 years of milking 30 cows a day had been recorded for the archives. Further west the snow was said to be 20 inches deep. That discouraged both Sink and Hemmer, and disproved Hemmer's claim that it never snows enough in North Carolina to make a good snow picture. It almost broke the Plymouth. Frequent detours were made along the route through Shelby, Chimney Rock and Hickory Nut Gap to Asheville. (We doffed our hats to road crews who so quickly cleared the snow off the highways in Buncombe county.)

LUCK—Arriving at Waynesville the picture-taking story-writing men wanted to contact the Alexanders at Cataloochee Ranch—three miles straight up. A proposed telephone line had not been completed and it looked like a hard hike. Just then the climb was being reluctantly contemplated, up drove the

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—The Lord has drafted another good chef. And he's taken him—Cesare Antonio ("Papa") Moneta—from a land that is getting short of good chefs and could use again some of the stately customs of a day that is dead.

Time is tearing down the great mansions of the rich, and a change in living standards has also destroyed other patterns of the glided age. Some were bad, but some were good—too good to lose. And among them was the leisurely enjoyment of fine food, a dying American tradition.

The hurried "ulcer stations" of the present—the soda fountain, hot dog stand, watered orange juice stands—have risen to replace many grand restaurants.

A victim of this gulp-it-on-the-run trend in eating was "Papa" Moneta, who at the age of 69 has gone to join his Master, Escoffier, in the heaven where Gourmets gather.

One of the great restaurateurs of his century, "Papa" Moneta came into the world when eating was a fine art and left it with the conviction too many people had come to accept food as only something one had to take to supplement vitamin pills.

He was a casualty of the growing American obsession for the wilted lettuce sandwich and a profile figure too slim to cast a shadow. He had about as much interest in the nine-day diet as a turtle would in a six-day bike race.

For diets were simply not of his world. His world was the world of the Gastronome and the Epicure—of wine and wonderful foods, savored well, eaten slowly and remembered long. It was the world of "Diamond Jim" Brady and Lillian Russell of the three-hour lunch and six-hour dinner. It was the world in which meals came in dishes instead of capsules.

"Papa" Moneta often bragged he was born with an iron spoon in his mouth. It was a kitchen spoon. And the rest of his life he kept close to kitchens. He began his career at the age of 14 in his native Italy, working as an inn handyman for a dollar a month.

Later he was chef or head waiter in famous hotels and restaurants in Nice, Berlin, Boston, Philadelphia and London, where he worked under Auguste Escoffier, the celebrated French culinary artist.

In 1918 he opened his own place on Mulberry street—first at No. 24 and later at No. 32—and for almost 25 years it drew international notables and plain citizens in town looking for fine food well-served.

"Papa" Moneta's cuisine was a mixture from many lands—French, German, Italian, and American. He blended them in a way those who ate there will never forget.

But to keep a fine restaurant going customers with a palate are necessary. And customers who will take the time to relish food. "Papa" Moneta saw the tempo of the times was against him. People no longer would drop in at 3 p.m. for a cocktail, order dinner at 6, finish it at 9 and dawdle over brandy, wine and conversation until midnight.

In 1942 he retired, mourning: "You can't make money these days running a fine restaurant and paying attention to good food. There are no gourmets any more. Everybody is in a hurry."

But "Papa" Moneta never was. Perhaps the household gods in heaven will let him run a real restaurant for the thousands who now throng up to the pearly gates still hiccoughing from their last meal on earth—a ham salad sandwich with a sodium bicarb chaser.

Time isn't so important, when you've no place else to go.

India's Refugees Costly Problem

New Delhi—(AP)—The government of India during the first nine months of its independent existence granted nearly $60,000,000 for the evacuation relief and rehabilitation of about 6,000,000 non-muslim refugees from riot-ravaged parts of Pakistan. A scheme to build 12 towns in East Punjab has been sanctioned by the government to accommodate refugees. It is expected to cost $7,500,000. Nearly 2,000,000 refugees have been settled by the government on land and in jobs. Others have settled themselves in business with money they had brought with them. Only about a million more remain to be rehabilitated.

Italians Increasing Power Production

ROME—(AP)—New equipment and extensive repairs to the war-shattered power plants will soon bring Italy's electricity production near its highest pre-war peak. The National Association of Electricity Distributing Industries reported that in the first quarter of 1948, production of electric power reached 4,405 million kilowatt hours. In last year's corresponding period, production was 3,336 million KWH.

During the month of June the Home Demonstration Clubs of Pitt County will continue the study of "How to make lamp shades" and "Working Posture for better health." The clubs who studied Posters in May will have the demonstration on making lamp shades in June. The clubs who had the demonstration on making lamp shades in May will hear the study on Poster in June.

The following club have sent in their report of the June meeting:

Pactolus Club: The Pactolus Home Demonstration Club meeting was held June 1 at the home of Mrs. W. F. Little, and Mrs. J. R. Baker and Mrs. George Cherry were co-hostesses. The meeting was called to order at 2:30 p. m. by the club president, Mrs. C. J. Satterthwaite after which the group joined in singing, "Hall Club Women Crowned Through Service." Seventeen members were present and two visitors. The club welcomed Mesdames Forrest, Guthrie, Cherry, and Little, teachers in our local school who are unable to meet with us during the school term. Mrs. George Cherry gave the sixth report on "Victories of Everyday Living" and the topic for discussion was "Restaurant Etiquette." Mrs. J. Paul Davenport gave two interesting book reports, "The Bishop's Mantle" and "Come a Cavalier." Miss Sidney Davenport stated that the Annual Community Picnic of the club would be held on Wednesday, August 18th at 6:30 at the Pactolus Community building. The demonstration was given by Miss Belle Lowery, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, who gave us most helpful suggestions on "Working Posture for Better Health." The hostesses served lime punch with cookies which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Red Oak Club: Red Oak Home Demonstration Club met at the Community Building with Mesdames H. R. Allen, Ola Kittrell and Leroy James as hostesses, on Wednesday afternoon, June 2 at 2:30 o'clock. The president, Mrs. Penner Allen, presided. Mrs. Leroy James, Secretary, read the minutes and called the roll. There were 15 members present. Mrs. C. W. Bright gave an encouraging report on the progress of the Curb Market. Mrs. James Allen gave a most helpful talk on "Little Courtesies to Remember in a Restaurant." There were three book reports given: Mrs. Ola Kittrell reported on "The Clever Sister"; Mrs. H. R. Allen gave a report on "Bright Promise"; and Mrs. James Allen reported on "Bishop's Mantle." The club went on record to have a picnic or an ice cream supper in August the date to be set later, and Mrs. E. A. Hooks, Sr., was appointed a chairman of the committee to make plans for the August outing. The demonstration, "Working Posture for Better Health" was ably presented by Miss Verna Belle Lowery, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent. During the social hour the hostesses served home-made ice cream, assorted cakes and peanuts.

Poland Keeping Armed Strength

Warsaw, Poland.—(AP)—The ministry of national defense is conscripting men 21 years of age for two years' compulsory military training. The army also is accepting volunteers aged 18 to 20. The call-up is a normal one. Poland's army absorbs about 100,000 new trainees annually to keep its strength at somewhere between 170,000 and 200,000.

Turks Encounter More Shortages; No 'Rationing'

Istanbul.—(AP)—Shortages are plaguing Turkey again. Sugar is virtually non-existent so far as the consumer is concerned. It is being "allocated" once again. The government will not use the word "rationing." Rumors of a shortage of matches started a run that wiped out supplies in virtually every store and stand within a single day. Actually, there are plenty of matches, but the run reflected a deep concern among buyers. Tea is virtually impossible to find.

The wheat content in bread has been reduced and, unless you bake at home or find a black market source, you must be satisfied with a very heavy, brown loaf that hardly tastes like bread. But there's no shortage of food in general—for those who can afford to buy it. Markets are jammed with lamb and beef, and any type of vegetable and fruit a person might desire.

MILLIONS HOMELESS IN JAPAN

Tokyo.—(AP)—Japan now has 5,780,000 homeless, a survey shows, and it all can't be blamed on the war. The housing shortage is growing, due both to the population increase and to the tremendous annual destruction of homes by fire, earthquake and flood.

Held Conference Of Production Credit Groups

F. L. Little, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer of the Greenville Production Credit Association, and J. P. Davenport, Pactolus, D. F. Harrison, Snow Hill, Mark G. Smith, Greenville, Jesse L. Tripp, Rt. 1, Ayden and R. B. Rayford, Snow Hill, have returned from a group conference of the twenty-six production credit associations in North Carolina held at Atlantic Beach, June 8 and 9.

According to F. L. Little, Jr., the program included a panel discussion of credit policies and an open discussion of general topics and legal matters. Julian H. Scarborough, president of the Production Credit Corporation, keynoted the conference in an address in which he emphasized the growing importance of cooperative credit to North Carolina farmers and stockmen.

Frank H. Jeter, editor, North Carolina Extension Service, Raleigh, addressed the conference on "Problems and Progress in North Carolina Agriculture."

Prior to the group board conference, the board of directors of the Greenville Production Credit Association held a special meeting to consider the resignation of Jno. R. Carroll, Winterville, as president, member of the executive committee and members of the board of directors because of increasing ill health. The board of directors accepted Mr. Carroll's resignation and elected Director J. P. Davenport, of Pactolus, to succeed Mr. Carroll as president and member of the executive committee. At the meeting no one was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Carroll as director.

WARSAW GROWS AGAIN

Warsaw Poland.—(AP)—Although war-ravaged Warsaw has an acute housing problem, Poles still are flocking into the capital from all parts of the nation. The city's population is 588,771. Its pre-war figures was 1,289,000.

Important Legion Meeting Tonight

Important business to come up at tonight's meeting of Post 39, American Legion, will include installation of Col. T. K. Fountain as commander and the other officers for the ensuing year and shaping plans for the special observance of next Armistice Day, November 11, Col. Jimmie Jenkins (the retiring commander) stated.

General Hal Turnage of Farmville retired U. S. Marine officer, will be the Armistice Day speaker. Tentative plans for the celebration are that this year's celebration will be day on which hostilities ceased in World War I in 1918 will be the most elaborate yet held.

Soufas Homers In Twelfth To Defeat Locals By 6-4

Greenies Drop Over-time Contest After Brilliant Play; Cohen, Nessing And Phillips Lead Team-mates At Bat

By BERT MOYE
Manager Harry Soufas' homer over the left field wall to bring in Grady Stott who had reached first on a fielder's choice with two out in the twelfth frame, gave the New Bern Bears a 6-4 win over the Greenies last night in New Bern in an overtime tilt. The loss for the Greenies was their second overtime defeat this season.

The Bears went out in front in the second frame when Bakie Palmer singled, and George Sullivan homered over the left field wall to bring him home. There were two men out at the time.

The Greenies came back in the sixth frame to knot the count at two all. Ray Phillips reached first on Palmer's error at third, Bob Cohen tripled into right field to bring him home and Joe Nessing's single brought Cohen home.

The Bears then scored another run in the seventh frame to go out in front when Pedro Santiago singled into left field and Wiley Nash let the ball get by him enabling him to advance to second and Kolback singled to bring home Santiago.

However their one-run lead was short lived as the Greenies came back in the eighth frame to knot the count at three-all. Ray Phillips doubled, advanced to third on Nash's infield out and Joe Nessing singled to bring home Phillips.

The Greenies then took the lead at 4-3 in the top of the eleventh frame by scoring a singleton when Joe Nessing singled and Joe Sposo doubled to bring him home.

The Bears knotted the count in their half of the eleventh inning at four-all when Brooks homered over the left field wall with two men out.

Junior Yohn went the route for the Greenies giving up 12 hits, striking out seven men and walking only two. In addition to his scattering effectively the dozen bingles he really played a beautiful defensive game and saved the game temporarily in the 12th frame when Santiago walked, advanced to second on Kolback's sacrifice and went to third on a wild pitch, and then Stott laid down a bunt down the third base line which Yohn scooped up on his back and threw home in time to head off Santiago who raced home on the bunt. Also playing a great defensive game was the work of Ray Phillips in centerfield, who on several occasions had to snag the balls off the fence to save the game.

Harry Soufas with a homer and two singles in six trips to the plate, and Santiago and Palmer with two singles each led the 12-hit attack off Lefty Junior Yohn. The loss for Yohn was his fourth of the season and his first to the New Bern Bears. He has four wins.

Ernest Sawyer, who went the route for the Bears, gave up nine hits, walked four and struck out seven men.

Bob Cohen with a triple and two singles, Joe Nessing with three singles which drove in two of the Greenies' runs and Ray Phillips' two doubles led the attack of the Greenies.

The two teams will meet here to-night in a double-header with the first game scheduled to get under way at 7 o'clock.

Top Tossers... by Pap

Charles Fonville is small judged by the standards of the human "whales" who dominated the shot putting field in the past but he more than makes up for his lack of bulk with speed and coordination. The University of Michigan pre-dental student is a solid 195-pounder but that would make him shape up as a mere whisp of a lad beside Jack Torrance, the 300-pound giant whose record he erased. When Fonville tossed the 16-pound shot 4 of an inch over the 58-foot mark he topped Torrance's world of 57 feet, 1 inch, and established himself as the greatest shot putter of all time. Barely 21, there is no telling how far Fonville will eventually put the shot.

Trainer Jim Hunt has his own notion about the source of Fonville's amazing feats with the shot. "It's his muscles—I've never seen such muscles," says Hunt. The muscle in the small of Fonville's back must be three inches deep," Coach Ken Doherty says. It is Fonville's unusual speed and co-ordination that enables him to toss the 16-pound ball so far.

Fonville started out by patterning his form after the style Bill Watson. Michigan's fine shot-putter of the late 30's, employed but modified it by gliding across the circle instead of leaping in order to gain greater balance and continuity of motion. The change brought about an immediate improvement and helped make Fonville the world's greatest weight tosser. The fact that Fonville has tossed the shot over 56 feet on half a dozen occasions indicates that his 58-foot toes was no mere accident. He could be saving his best efforts for the Olympic games.

'Splashketball'

Greton, Conn., June 15—(AP)—They combined basketball with water polo here today and a new sport called "splashketball" was born.

Two four-man teams operated in a hotel swimming pool, passing basketball around with the idea of tossing it into a basket suspended at either end of the pool. The diving and carrying the ball under water as permitted in water polo, was out in the new game, however.

Everybody, including several hundred spectators, had a lot of fun but nobody bothered to keep score.

Mother Acts As Warmup Catcher

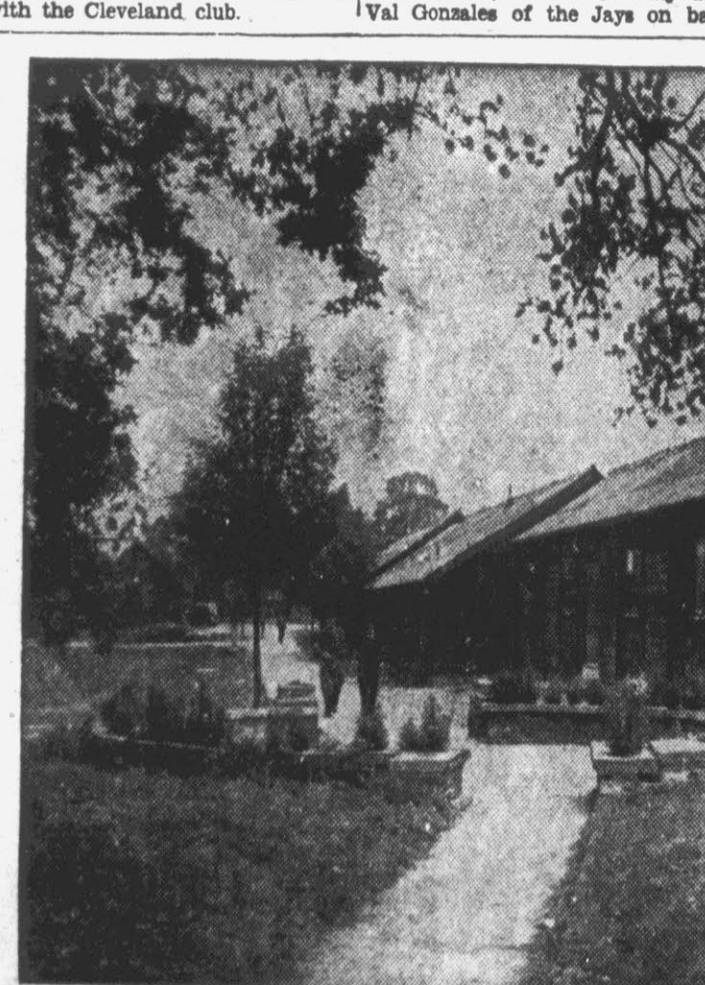

Fremont, O., June 15—(AP)—One regret that Rookie Pitcher Jim Driftmyer will have when he reports for duty at a Cleveland Indians farm club is that he won't be able to take along his warmup practice catcher—who happens to be his mother.

Jim, newly signed by the American League leaders for duty with Batavia, N. Y., in the Pony Circuit, can truthfully say that he owes most of his baseball success to his mother, hardy, 65-year-old Mrs. J. B. Driftmyer.

Mrs. Driftmyer's interest in her son's baseball career began 10 years ago when his father was hit on the arm by one of Jim's speedballs.

With the elder Driftmyer sidelined by the arm injury, Jim's mother donned the catcher's mitt and has been serving as her son's warmup receiver ever since. Jim's father wanted no part of his son's fire-ball pitching—and turned over the job to Mrs. Driftmyer.

Jim, a four-sport star at nearby Gibsonburg High school, was signed by the Indians after a workout with the Cleveland club.

'Big If' Involved As Louis Readies To Meet Walcott

New York, June 15—(AP)—Joe Louis looks strange in his new role of "Big If" for the return heavyweight title bout with Jersey Joe Walcott June 23.

Always before the champ has been the solid, known quantity. The challenger has been the question mark. Things have changed since last December.

Nobody worries about Walcott's weight. Little time is lost talking about his plan of battle. They figure he'll pull the same tricks that befuddled the champ six months ago.

Because of Walcott's smart battle in Madison Square Garden, few question his courage. It is generally accepted that Jersey Joe will not "freeze" in the ring. It is agreed that he can take it and that he can punch.

About Louis and his knockout power, they're not so positive any more.

Has he lost his punch? Has he slowed down? Can he get into tip top shape? Have his hands lost their speed? Can he solve Walcott's provoking style?

Those are the questions they're asking about the Brown Bomber who puts his crown on the line for the 25th time a week from tomorrow in the Yankee Stadium ring. They may sound silly the morning of June 24th but right now they're pertinent.

Boxing writers who again viewed the movies of the first fight yesterday had their memories refreshed about Louis' shortcomings.

They saw again how easy Louis was to hit with a right hand. They recalled how Walcott missed his big chance after hurting the champ in the fourth round. Once more they marveled how the ring officials gave the ninth round to Walcott after watching Louis batter the challenger to the ropes. When it was all over they still were split on the verdict in about the same manner as the official 2-1 vote.

Since that fight, Louis has been in England on an exhibition tour. Extra pounds that bulged his mid-section have melted away in almost two months of work. He is ready for a serious defense of the crown he will have held for 11 years and a day when he faces Walcott.

All previous return bouts have ended in disaster for his opponent. Willie Davis, Lee Ramage, Natie Brown, Max Schmeling, Bob Pastor, Arturo Godoy, Abe Simon, Buddy Bear and Billy Conn all were knocked out the second time around.

Now it's Walcott's turn to test the jinx and, strangely enough, they're putting the burden of proof on the champ.

It's a "big if" whether Louis ever again will be the super slugger who avenged his only knockout loss by annihilating Max Schmeling in 1938.

In fact, despite the 3 to 1 odds favoring Louis, there's a "big if" between the champ and another win over Walcott.

Arvin Stalls at the plate. Stalls swung hard at a pitch and sent it on a line to third. Smith, hot corner tender, speared the ball from its flight. May, who had taken a healthy lead off second, was easily tagged by Smith, who then tossed to Turkey Tyson at first for the third out. It was the first triple-killing in the Rocky Mount park in two years.

Bill See of Keyser, W. Va., Tarboro's rookie find, and Harry Helmer, Rocky Mount's second year southpaw, are the pace setters in the league when pitching is mentioned.

See, with only one loss to his name, recently won his ninth game of the season, while Helmer has taken 11 against two losses.

Bull Hamons, manager of the Tars says that a newspaper clipping is responsible for See doing his chunking for the Tarboro Tars. On a talent tour, Hamons happened to note the young hurler's picture in a newspaper article. He paid a visit to the town where See was tossing in an industrial league, and signed him on the spot. It was a wise move. See, a right-hander and fastball artist, is one of the most promising first-year men ever to play in the Coastal circuit.

Al Thompson, who with Lefty Eddie Haswell, went to the Raleigh Capitals from the Greensboro Club in a deal which involved Charlie Timm, has been sent to New Bern of the Coastal Plain League after difficulty with his control showed he needed more experience in a lower league.

BOY'S LEAGUE BASEBALL

Third St. Tigers won their second straight game over the Greenies of Training School yesterday on the Greenies home ground by the score of 7 to 6. The Tigers seemed to have the game on ice until the last three innings when the Greenies entered a scoring spree. Julian Vainwright sailed along without being scored on until the losers rallied in the last innings.

Sydney Briley and Vainwright with two hits led for the winners at bat. Tommy Lupton was the only Greenie to hit safely twice.

In one of the most dramatic finishes seen in any game this year, the Orioles of the Training School came from behind in the last half of the last inning to score seven times to win 7 to 6. The game was very close until the sixth inning. John Siderias had hit a homer for the Giants in the first to give his team a one run lead and this was the only scoring until the sixth when the Giants made five more runs on some weird playing on the part of the Orioles. Kent Lee and Eddie Farley had hooked up in a pitchers battle with Lee having the edge. In the last inning with the Giants seemingly having the game sewed up, the Orioles broke through with a barrage of base hits and when the dust had cleared away seven runs were across the plate and the game won.

Doug Morgan, after being walked to start the last inning, came to bat for the second time in the inning and hit a long one to score Taylor with the winning run. Joe Clark also hit a telling blow in the rally when he tripled with two on.

Training Schools Red Sox kept their winning streak going with an 11-6 victory over the W. Greenville Lions yesterday on the winners home field. The Sox have yet to be defeated. The winners jumped a comfortable lead in the first three innings and were never headed.

Folger, Faulkner and Nunn were the leading hitters for the winners. Winchester and Hendricks got two hits apiece for the Lions.

Schedule for Wednesday:
Orioles vs Giants, Third St., 9:30 a.m.

Red Sox vs Dodgers, Third St., 9:30 a.m.

Willing To Lose If He Can Learn

New York, June 15—(AP)—Norman (Scotty) Rucks, who has the best American collegiate quarter-mile time this year, is so anxious to meet him he is willing to lose in order to learn.

After nine straight victories Rucks entered an invitational meet against Herb McKenley, the world record holder, "just so in case I meet him in the Olympics I can try to figure out some way to beat him."

McKenley defeated Rucks by seven yards last Saturday at 400 meters, but Rucks said today he was satisfied.

The slender University of South Carolina graduate is a mysterious and amazing example of an athlete coming into his own late in his career.

Last year the best 24-year-old Rucks could do was 49.3, which is good but far from Olympic caliber. This year his best winning time for the quarter is 47.4, topping the collegiate list and making him a prime Olympic prospect.

"This year I've gotten a float," is the way he explained it. "I bang out the first 70 yards, and then go into the float at three quarters speed. When I come off the turn for the home stretch I start to build up because I know I'm a wear finisher. I'm strictly a front runner."

Hogan Out, As Chicago Victory Open Gets Stars

Chicago, June 15—(AP)—With PGA and National Open Champion Ben Hogan missing, the $15,000 Chicago Victory Open tournament starting Thursday promises to be a wide open race.

Hogan, defending champion, is making a motion picture short in Hollywood before resuming competition in next week's Inverness Meet at Toledo.

The Chicago field, however, will bring out most of the other stars, including Bobby Locke, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Dick Metz, Elsworth Vines, Jim Ferrier, Skip Alexander, Vic Ghezzi, Chick Harbert, Jim Turnesa and amateurs Frank Stranahan, Chick Evans, Jim Frisina, the Illinois state champion, and Chicago's ace, John Barnum.

Top Tennis Pros Vie For Crown

Forest Hills, N. Y., June 15—(AP)—Top-seeded Bobby Riggs of Alhambra, Calif., and Australia's Dinky Pails, who heads the foreign list, make their bids today for quarter-final berths in the National Professional Tennis championships.

Riggs plays Jerry Alder of White Plains, N. Y., seeded 13th, and Pails faces Wayne Sabin of Bretton Woods, N. H., No. 7 in the domestic rankings.

Winners will join Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., and Pancho Segura of Ecuador in the round of eight.

The two singles matches vie with opening doubles jousts at the West Side Tennis club.

Riggs, seeking his third straight pro crown, won impressively in his opening match yesterday, turning back Ernie Koslan of White Plains, N. Y., 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

Pails triumphed over George Seewald of Jackson Heights, N. Y., 6-2, 6-0, 6-1.

Ted Williams Is Tops At Bat In American League

Chicago, June 15—(AP)—The beanball slugger, Boston's Ted Williams, continued his torrid batting streak last week to run his average to a lofty .398 and sweep tie leads in RBI's, runs scored and number of hits.

Williams, aiming for the sensational 406 clip that gave him the American League batting crown in 1941, added seven points to his pace with seven hits in 15 trips. His .398 was 35 points better than the .363 by second-place Lou Boudreau of Cleveland through Sunday's games.

In third place came Detroit's George Kell with .352, compiled with 14 hits in 30 AB's during the week. He was followed by Bob Brown, New York, .342; Al Zarilla, St. Louis, .335; Johnny Lindell, New York, .333; Pat Mullin, Detroit, .329; Luke Appling, Chicago, .328; and Walt Evers and Vic Wertz, both of Detroit, with .315 apiece.

Despite territorial losses since World War II, the British Commonwealth of Nations still has more than half a billion people and covers some 13,000,000 square miles.

Clyde King Back With Brooklyn In Wacky Deal

Philadelphia, June 15—(AP)—Pitcher Clyde King is back with the Brooklyn Dodgers after an absence of less than a week, and thereby hangs the tale of one of the season's wackiest baseball deals.

Last week the Dodgers put the right handed hurler on the waiver list.

The Phils promptly claimed him for $10,000 with the intention of sending him to their Toronto farm in the International League. But to get him to Toronto the Phils had to get waivers.

This they did and who should bob up and claim him but the Dodgers. So the Phils have their $10,000 back.

"We were even giving serious consideration to keeping him with the Phils," a club spokesman said. "Guess the Dodgers decided they needed him after all."

At the close of the war, American merchant shipping reached 37 million gross tons.

Wagner-Marshburn Motor Co. Formal Opening June 17

New Firm Plans Make Its Debut Elaborate Event

The formal and official opening of the Wagner-Marshburn Motor Company, newly authorized Lincoln and Mercury dealers for Greenville, will be held Thursday evening.

Described as the most modern and attractive showroom in Eastern North Carolina, the new firm also has the last word in equipment available for use in its garage for the servicing of not only Lincoln and Mercury cars, but for all makes.

An elaborate program has been prepared for the formal opening. Entertainment, prizes and refreshments will be offered. An on-the-spot broadcast will be aired by Radio Station WGTC between 7:30 and 8:00 o'clock Thursday evening.

Mayor J. H. Boyd, Jr. and a number of leading Greenville citizens have been invited to attend the formal opening, as well as all of the Lincoln-Mercury dealers in this area. Major H.M.P. Cunningham, district manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division, Washington, D. C., and his staff will attend the opening and a dinner to be given Thursday night at the Proctor Hotel.

The Wagner-Marshburn Motor Company was formed last December. Members of the firm are: T. I. Wagner, president; Mrs. Rosamund F. Wagner, vice-president; Mrs. Ione H. Marshburn, vice-president; Owen Marshburn, secretary and treasurer.

Located in West Greenville, at the junction of the Ayden and Farmville highways, the home of the Wagner-Marshburn Motor Company represents an investment of around $50,000. A spokesman for the firm says, "It is complete. There is nothing more that could be added in order to provide better service."

Lincoln and Mercury automobiles are now completely new products of a separate branch of the Ford Motor Company. In a recent step towards reorganization, action was taken to divorce the Lincoln-Mercury division from the parent organization to such an extent that dealerships for these two automobiles will no longer be handled by regular Ford dealers.

On display in the luxury showroom of the Wagner-Marshburn Motor Company will be a complete line of the Mercury-Lincoln class. Deliveries of from ten to twelve cars each month has been promised the local dealership, says Owen Marshburn, and it is expected that the arrival of these new cars will help considerably to fill the still prevalent shortage of new automobiles.

A full line of Lincoln and Mercury parts will be carried at the Wagner-Marshburn plant, and will soon be available only at the local dealership.

Doctors Busy On Auto Death Seat Food Poisoning Is Beside Driver

Charlotte, June 14—(AP)—Charlotte's Negro medical facilities were taxed the limit last night as physicians battled for more than six hours to overcome mass food poisoning at Johnson C. Smith University.

Approximately 90 students at the Negro institution were victims of the malady which resulted, one physician reported, from food served during the noon-day meal.

Dr. G. M. Wilkins, staff physician at the Good Samaritan Hospital, blamed the poisoning on either potato salad or pineapple prepared in the university's kitchen. "The potato salad," he explained, "may have been prepared in the morning and left to sit too long in a hot kitchen."

The physician reported that 12 students were hospitalized and were in "fair" condition early today. About 80 students were seriously affected and treated at the university infirmary and a dormitory which doubled as a hospital ward.

Six doctors, scores of nurses and many volunteers worked to relieve the sufferers. Dr. Wilkins reported early today that the "emergency is over." He said he expected no new patients.

Yugoslavs Who Went Home Now Must Stay There

Belgrade —(AP)— Hundreds of Yugoslavs who have returned here from Canada and Australia have had their passports from those countries confiscated and according to Yugoslav law can have no further recourse to the services of representatives of those countries. Since it is almost impossible for an ordinary citizen to procure a Yugoslav passport that means these repatriates must stay here whether they want to or not.

A number of these people came with the idea of seeing their homeland again, perhaps visiting relatives for a while, and then returning to their adopted homes. They, of course, have been unable to do so. But they have been settled here and given good jobs, often as technicians.

Many, of course, returned voluntarily with the idea of staying in the new Yugoslavia. The authorities have treated them very well. But there are some who are dissatisfied. They have hounded British and Canadian consulates to absolutely no avail. They are Yugoslav citizens and that's all there is to it.

New York—The death seat in an auto is the front seat beside the driver, says Dr. Claire L. Straith, Detroit plastic surgeon, in the Journal of the American Medical Association. His name for this seat comes from a stream of women and girls going to Harper Hospital, Detroit, to have their faces repaired by plastic surgery. About 70 per cent of them had been occupants of the crash. In those crashes one-third as many drivers were hurt.

In one month's auto injuries in Detroit, of all kinds, he says, 372 passengers were hurt. Of these nearly 70 per cent were in the front death seat at the time of an auto crash and higher speeds, the death seat injuries and deaths are becoming more numerous. But Dr. Straith says speed is not the only cause of injuries and deaths in the front seat. Other causes are knobs, cranks, sharp ledges and drop-down ash receivers. Even at a speed of 20 miles an hour, a woman had her face badly mauled by gadgets when she fell forward.

A flat, wide cushion patterned to cover the dash so that a face will bump only a smooth, soft surface, he says, would reduce facial injuries immensely.

Windshields inflict many cuts, he says, and occasionally nearly decapitate the victim. He advocated hinged windshields so that they would be forced outward by a blow. Just short of the glass-breaking force.

Old German Schools Are Again Enrolling American Students

Berlin—(AP)— American students are again enrolling in German universities for summer courses. More than 120 American students are enrolled for study at the universities of Marburg, Munich and Heidelberg in the U. S. zone of Germany. In addition, 800 applicants have been received by the education division of the American military government from students in Sweden, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland and England.

The courses, open July 24. They are intended to foster international understanding among university students. Organized around a central theme such as "Man in Today's World," they are conducted in political science, economics, sociology, history and comparative religion.

Compulsory old-age insurance was first adopted in Germany in 1883.

Crowds Going To Carolina Beach

By JACK VOORHESS

Carolina Beach, June 15 — The largest crowds of the current summer season to date are converging on Carolina Beach each week-end in June, with beach officials estimating upwards of 25,000 visitors each Saturday and Sunday in addition to other thousands here on vacation.

Since the formal opening of the beach early in May when 10,000 were on hand, the week-end crowds have gained steadily in size, with 15,000 to 20,000 here the last two week-ends in May and June crowds going over the 25,000 mark.

The Baptist Seaside Assembly is now open for the summer season, with a series of 13 conferences running on successive weeks.

Convention time also is at hand. Two state-wide conventions, those of the North Carolina Association of Postal Clerks and the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, already have been held, and others are scheduled.

All hotels, guest houses, and cottages are now open for the season, with many reservations coming in each day. Because of an extensive building program during the winter months which has provided for more than 10,000 rooms this season, expectations are that the resort will be able to accommodate all crowds during the season.

Negro Home Demonstration News

Shiloh Home Demonstration Club

The Shiloh Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Alice Chapman June 2, 1948, at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Emelia Gardner presiding.

The meeting was called to order by singing the "Church in the Wildwood," followed by repeating together the Club Collect. Mrs. Lillie Mae Hooks, secretary of the club, read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll.

"Getting Color Into Your Meals" was the demonstration for the month, given by our home agent, Mrs. Capehart. She prepared a vegetable platter and peach surprise for dessert—emphasizing the best ways to add color to a meal is through the use of green and yellow vegetables and fruits. Not all vegetables and fruits have the same food value. That is why it is important for you to eat every day at least one serving of: (1) a green or yellow vegetable, (2) a citrus fruit, tomato or raw leafy green vegetable, (3) a potato, (4) and any other two vegetables or fruits you would like.

For the best of health eat a green or yellow vegetable every day. Take an extra helping when they are plentiful and color creates an appetite appeal in your meals.

Pleasant Plane H. D. Club
Fourteen members of the Pleasant Plane Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Ometa Allen Thursday afternoon, June 3, 1948 at 2:00 p.m.

All members assembled in the very roomy cool kitchen for their monthly meeting. Mrs. Lydia Dixon, vice-president, called the meeting to order. "My Country 'Tis of Thee" was sung and repeating the collect of club women of America.

The regular routine of business was in order followed by reports of all club members which included good gardens, clothing, chickens, health and food conservation. Mrs. Amanda Jones reported preparing garden peas for the freezer locker. Congratulations go to Mrs. Jones for being the first club member to carry out the demonstration. Freezing Foods for the Home, which was given in our May meeting. Mrs. Capehart, home agent, gave us another interesting demonstration on "More Color In Meals," although no one seemed to have been hungry when the meeting began but as she demonstrated the attractive vegetable dish and the peach surprise everyone was ready to be served again. Mrs. Capehart was assisted by Mrs. Allen.

After having been graciously served the meeting adjourned by singing the Farm and Home Demonstration song.

Annual picnic will be held June 29 at 7:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Blanch Roundtree.

Lewis Home Demonstration Club
On Friday afternoon, June 4, nine members of the Lewis Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Polly Joyner at 2 p.m. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Lottie Phillips, president of the club.

The meeting was opened by singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee," followed by repeating the club collect. The minutes were omitted due to the absence of the secretary. The club recommended giving a floral design to Mrs. Hettie Suggs, a club member, who passed away the night before the club meeting.

A demonstration on getting more color into your meals was given by Mrs. Capehart. An attractive vegetable platter, using three vegetables, was arranged. The dessert prepared was called "peach surprise."

Visitors present were Mrs. Queen McKenzie and Mrs. Jessie Mae Blow.

Helen H. D. Club
Mrs. Rheba Cannon of the Helens H. D. Club was hostess to members of her club and their husbands and friends Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, June 6.

The social was presided over by Mrs. Maggie Strong, president of the club. The hour was spent in songs and expressions by members and their husbands.

Mrs. Mary Williams brought greetings from the Pleasant Plane club. A dessert course was served. The club extends an invitation to all Home Demonstration club members and friends to be with them in their annual picnic June 18 at 1:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Nettie Tyson.

Congratulations

New Officers Of B.P.W. Installed

The Business and Professional Women's Club at a regular dinner meeting Thursday night June 10 at the Airport Inn installed the officers for ensuing year. Mrs. Susie Ragdale, first president of the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club, was installing officer. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive. She used as installing theme, "The Gospel of the Rainbow."

After the officers had taken the oath and pledge of office they lighted the yellow candles which made up the main centerpiece on the officers table.

The officers were as follows: Mrs. Ruth Meeks, president; Mrs. Clara Gower, vice president; Miss Frances Tucker, recording secretary; Mrs. Susie Webb, corresponding secretary; Miss Alice Ray Taylor, treasurer. The standing committee chairman lighted the remainder of the candles on the tables and were installed.

The new president, Mrs. Ruth Meeks, thanked the club for the vote of confidence they had placed in her and pledged her every effort to carry on.

The club elected the following members to represent Greenville at the state convention to be held at Mayview Manor, Blowing Rock, N. C. June 18, 19 and 20:

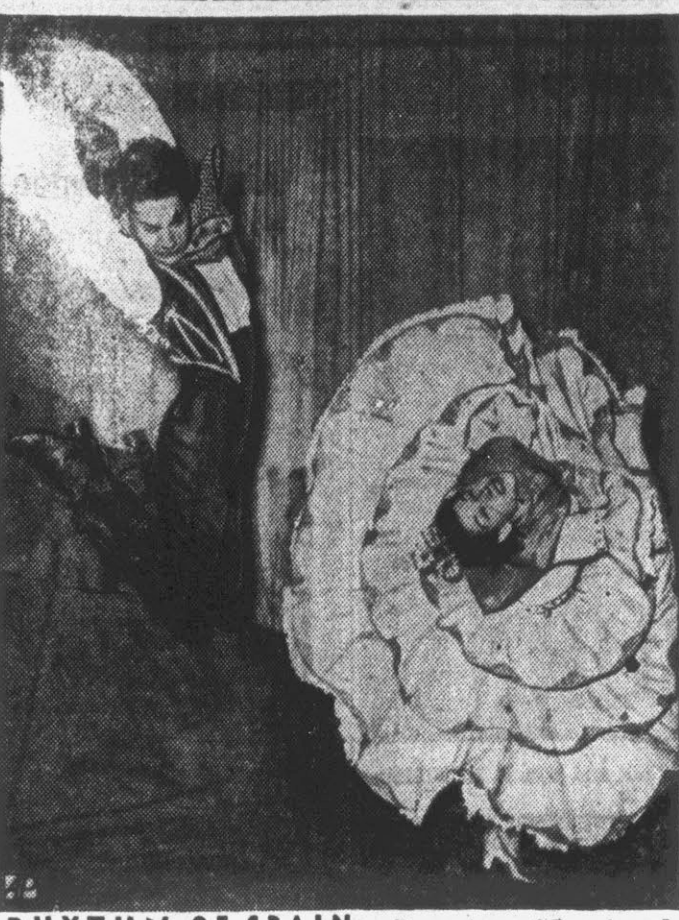

Mrs. Ruth Meeks, Mrs. Luray Robertson, Mrs. S. E. Gates, Mrs. Susie Webb, Miss Pink Manning, Mrs. Ada Fife, Miss Audrey Bottom, Miss Novella Egan, Mrs. Chester Walsh and Mrs. J. B. Spilman.

After a short business session the club adjourned. There were 65 members and guests present.

Backache Due To Building A Home

Atlanta, June 15—(AP)—A 38-year-old expectant mother—for the 24th time—appeared at the city's hospital here seeking relief from a backache, acquired while digging a well and building a house.

Mrs. Maud Ethel Pope, whose eldest living child was born when she was 13—she had two who died before then—said the housing problem had been with her nearly all her life.

"Everytime I have another baby," she said yesterday, "the folks we rent from make us move. So I just got tired of the whole thing and decided to buy a lot and build a house."

"Bill—he's my husband—has all he can do working to support us," Mrs. Pope continued, "so I had to do all the work. He helped me lay the first beams because they were too big to tote, but from then on it was my job."

Mrs. Pope began working on the house and well in August of last year. She dug the well some 25 feet deep using just a pick and shovel.

"It was mighty hard on my neck and back," she commented. The Papes have 17 boys and four girls.

Columbia River Flood Receding

Portland, Ore., June 15—(AP)—Columbia River flood waters from the Rockies to the Pacific are receding at all river gauges today.

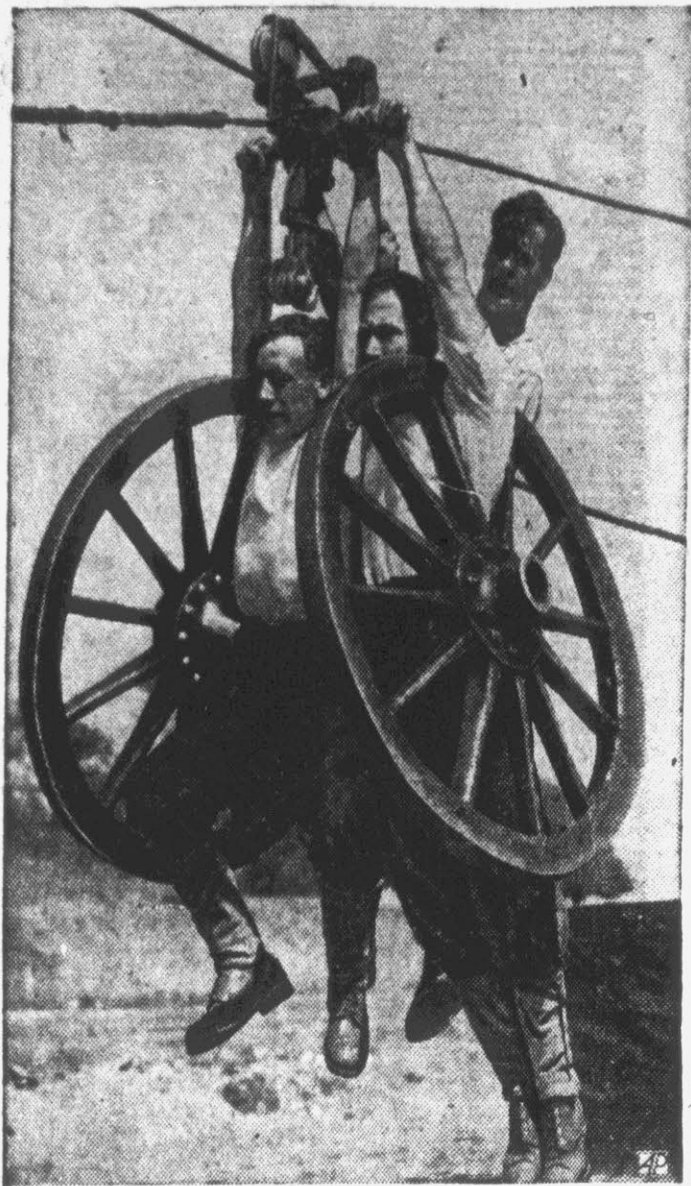

The river will remain above flood stage in the lower valley for three weeks while inching downward. The danger now is that weakened levees may collapse after 25 days of pounding.

There are 41 known dead in the wake of the region's greatest disaster in the 1,000 mile long river valley.

Some 60,000 are homeless in the U. S. and Canadian flood zones. Damage is in multi-millions.

Still a mystery is the exact toll in the Memorial Day destruction of the flimsy war-built apartment houses of 18,700 at Vanport, Ore. Five bodies have been recovered, but the Red Cross names 26 on its list of men, women and children missing since the tragedy. This list once totaled 121, was pared to 18 and then yesterday the names of ten bachelor tradesmen were added.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduce the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 888 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Pitt County Farm People On Nation-Wide Radio Hookup

Two of Pitt county's best farmers and an outstanding farm wife have been named to represent North Carolina on the nation-wide radio program, "R. F. D. America," which will be heard over NBC stations at 1 p.m. (EST) Sunday, June 20.

They are: Hilton P. Carson of Stokes; Richard Barnhill of Stokes; and Mrs. Dorothy Moye of Farmville. They will compete for valuable merchandise awards as they answer questions testing their general information as well as their knowledge of farm techniques. The winner will receive the title of "Master Farmer of the Week" and will win a return appearance on the program the following week.

To select the contestants, T. W. Lewellen, advance man for the program, visited Greenville and personally interviewed farm men and women of the county. He then asked eight of them to appear in an elimination program, judging each contestant on his score in the competition, his voice, radio personality and sense of humor.

Carson, who was just married this spring, took his bride to live on a 200-acre farm. Prior to becoming a farmer four years ago, he attended college 3 1/2 years. He specializes in tobacco, corn, and peanuts, and raises Black Angus beef cattle. He is a member of the Farm Bureau, and his hobby is experimenting with fertilizer.

Mrs. Moye and her husband, Howard D., have been married for 13 years and have three sons. Mrs. Moye graduated from Eastern Carolina Teachers College in 1930, having majored in mathematics and science. The Moyes own 80 acres, lease 250, and manage 140 additional acres on which they raise tobacco and corn. Mrs. Moye is a member of Ballard's Home Demonstration Club, Farmville Christian Church, and the Missionary Society, and is a former member of Farmville Junior Woman's Club. Her hobby is china painting.

Barnhill who tenant-farms 125 acres has an A.B. degree from college. He does diversified farming with his principal crops being peanuts, tobacco, corn, and small grains. His hobby is rabbit hunting.

Tobacco Workers Planning Appeal

Greensboro, N. C., June 15—(AP)—The CIO Tobacco Workers Union, loser in the first round of a $100,000 suit against the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem, says it plans an appeal to the next highest federal court.

The case concerns 56 union members discharged by the Company June 8, 1947 and not re-hired until the following September, when a new contract was negotiated. The Union claimed this was an unfair labor practice and asked $100,000 damages for itself and the workers, or such amount as decided by an arbitration panel.

Judge Johnson J. Hayes ruled in middle district court here yesterday however, that the discharge of the 56 workers was not discriminatory and they were not to be considered as working for the company until the new contract was signed and they were rehired. Judge Hayes also dismissed the Union's request for an injunction requiring the company to arbitrate an award.

Attorneys for the Union's Winston-Salem local 22 said they planned an appeal to the Circuit court.

Soldier Dies In 50-Foot Plunge

Fayetteville, June 15—(AP)—A Fort Bragg soldier died in a 50-foot plunge from a Cape Fear River bridge here late yesterday.

Army authorities identified the soldier as T-3 Eugene J. Thompson of St. Joseph, Mo., a member of the 307th Engineers of the 82nd Airborne Division.

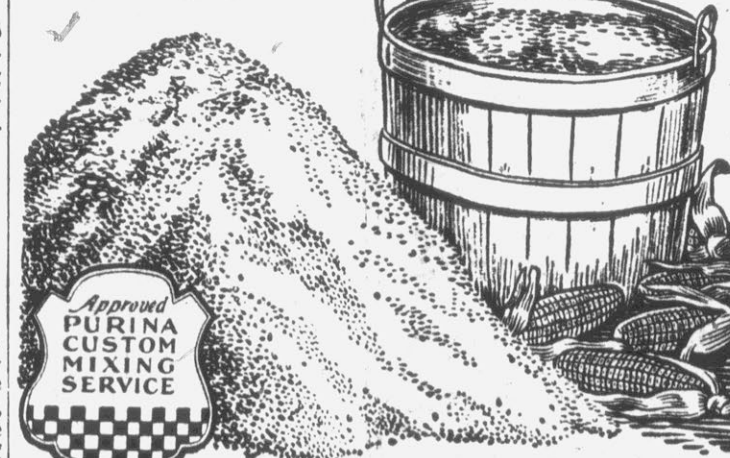

A witness told police that Thompson leaped from the bridge after removing his cap and jacket. Police said he called for help before disappearing under the water.

More Firms Are Subject To N. C. Employment Law

Raleigh, June 15—North Carolina firms, subject to the State's Employment Security Law, climbed to a new high in the numbers of their employees protected by the law, with an average of 640,307 workers during the last quarter of 1947, or an increase of 36.5 per cent over the average employment under the act in 1940, it is revealed by Henry E. Kendall, chairman of the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina.

Indicative of the industrial progress made in the State, a study made by the Bureau of Research and Statistics reveals that 882,179 workers were engaged in non-agricultural employment in 1947, an increase of 10.3 per cent over such employment in 1940. Out of a population of 3,718,000, Census estimate in 1947, the total labor force (as of 1946) was approximately 1,390,000 in the State, an increase of 4.2 per cent over the labor force in 1940.

By means of estimates and projections, figures are arrived at which show fairly accurately the total labor force, the covered employment in manufacturing and other figures for the 100 counties of the State.

Pitt County, this compilation shows, had a total labor force of 23,952 in 1946. In the last quarter of 1947, this county had 4,209 workers engaged in covered employment and had 797 workers engaged in manufacturing employment. In this county, 3.3 percent of the total labor force was engaged in manufacturing employment, and 18.9 per cent was in employment covered by the Employment Security Law.

In 1947, this county had an estimated total non-agricultural employment of 8,740 workers, and 48.2 per cent of the non-agricultural employment was covered by the Employment Security law.

Allows Police To Shoot Squirrels

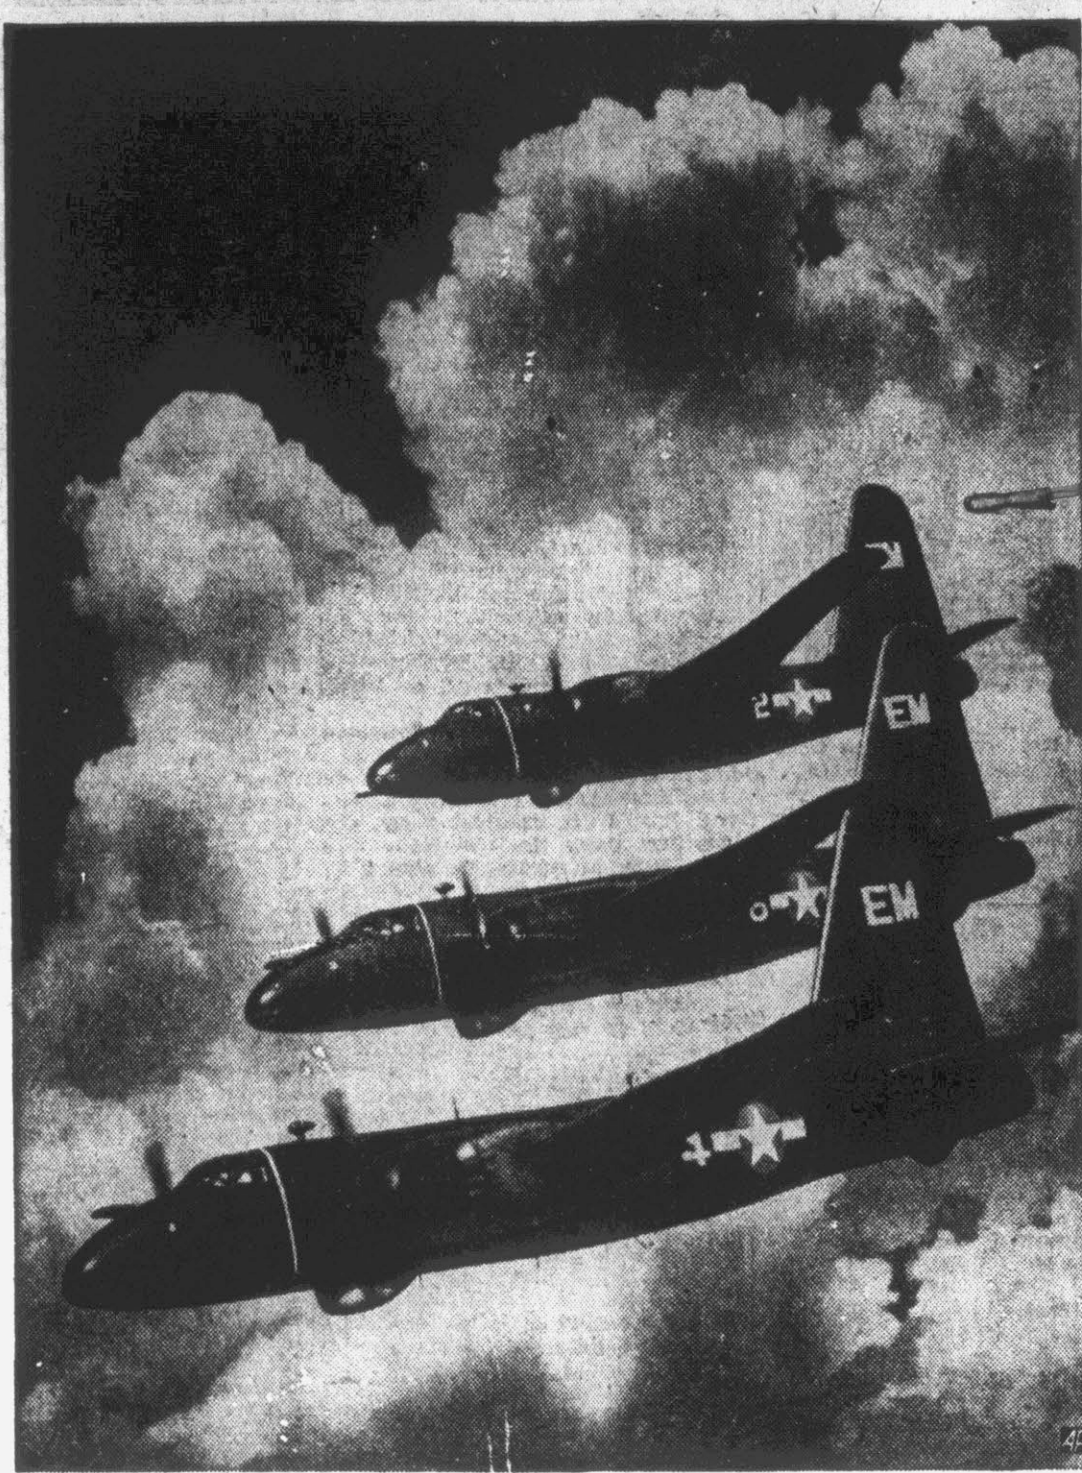

Denver, Colo., June 15—(AP)—Police potshots at squirrels in Denver were okayed yesterday by the Colorado Supreme Court.

The court justified city orders for police to shoot squirrels "running at large as wild animals." The decision arose from a challenge by Paul L. Atkinson, listed as a taxpayer who liked to feed the squirrels.

He sought damages from police for killing squirrels.

Scientists Will Check On Sounds Out Of Space

Sydney—(AP)—Two Australian scientists are going to New Zealand shortly to try to track down those tricky noises that come out of space. The noises are heard on ultra-short-wave radio receivers. Their cause is unknown. They are believed to come from the Milky Way. The noises sound something like the static that is heard on an ordinary radio receiver.

The two Australian scientists, J. G. Bolton and G. J. Stanley, are attached to the Sydney Scientific and Industrial Research Council.

Technical Secretary A. J. Higgs of the radio physics laboratory of the council says: "Bolton and Stanley are the closest of any scientists in the world today to establishing the exact source of strong cosmic noises. They are now on the road to finding out what stars may be responsible for the noises. They know the region—somewhere near the Milky Way."

Bundy Describes Shriners' Work

BY WYATT BROWN
Work of the Shriners of North America with crippled children without regard for race, color, or creed through their fifteen hospitals was presented by Dick Bundy, a former Shrine Potentate, to the Rotarians last night. In telling of the work he mentioned the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children at Greenville, South Carolina, in particular.

He cited a figure of 100,000 children who had been either cured or benefited from treatment in Shrine hospitals. He explained that the hospital at Greenville, South Carolina, is the nearest one to this community.

The efficient use of funds is assured at these hospitals by the choice of good business men as directors and who serve gratis. It takes $2,250,000 a year to operate the fifteen units. These funds, Mr. Bundy intimated, came from many sources—part of each Shriner's dues, donations from outsiders, the annual East-West Football game proceeds, the North Carolina-South Carolina All Star High School football games ($80,000 last year), and the Ladder of Smiles created by Shriners paying the amount of $60.00 as a life membership in the Crippled Children's Hospitals.

Entrance requirements of a crippled child are free of red tape. The child must be mentally sound, under fourteen years of age, condition must be such as can be helped by hospitalization, must not be able to pay for the treatment, must be sponsored by a Shriner and certified by a physician.

Mr. Bundy said he and all Shriners were grieved that there was such a long waiting list and hoped for the day when all who came could be treated promptly. At this point he told of a personal visit to the Greenville unit.

Guests of the club last night were Herbert Waldrop, Jr., and Rotarian Max Roebuck of Washington, N.C. There were five Rotarians from the Greenville club visiting the Greenville club last night: J. Brantley Speight, Snoddy Edwards, Noah Edwards, West Gooding, and Ralph Hardee.

Wednesday is the day of the Rotary "exodus" to Camp Hardie to do their annual clean-up job. A large number indicated their intention of going in person but some are sending substitutes. They are to leave Greenville at 1:30 p.m. The meeting last night was presided over by Bob Bradshaw, club president. John Fleming, chairman of the Program Committee, had charge of the program.

Russians Build Own Memorial In City Of Berlin

Berlin—(AP)—Red marble and stone from the chancellery Hitler built are being used to construct a big memorial to Soviet soldiers who fell in the battle for Berlin. The USSR is the only one of the victorious Allied powers to erect such a monument here. Construction work on the memorial in the Treptower park of Berlin is already well underway. It is expected to cost ten million marks before its completion by the end of this year.

The monument will bear the inscription "Eternal glory to the fighters of the Soviet army who gave their lives to free humanity from Fascist slavery." Sixteen reliefs, according to the Soviet licensed German press, will depict the life of Soviet men and women at peace, the sudden attack of Germany on the Soviet Union, the battles of Stalingrad, Odessa and Sevastopol, the siege of Leningrad, and the climax of the Russian offensive with the hoisting of the Red flag by Soviet soldiers on the ruins of the German Reichstag building. Centrepiece of the memorial will be a 36 foot high statue of a Soviet soldier trampling on the Nazi swastika.

It took more than four hours to persuade some of the animals that they wanted to go to Italy to join cattle breeders near Milan.

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep

ESSIE'S

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

What is the job outlook today, for the more than 200,000 college graduates and 1,000,000 graduates of secondary schools who find themselves "available" this summer?

The Department of Labor says it is good; that graduates are coming into a favorable labor market with employment at an all-time high.

In some fields such as engineering there will be competition. In chemistry, graduates with advanced degrees will have better opportunities than those with only bachelors' degrees.

But on the whole college graduates will have a big field from which to choose. There is a great need for well-trained personnel in all professional fields. Nearly ten million additional teachers will be needed within the next ten years if educational goals are to be met.

Among high school graduates, the Labor Department reports that girls probably will seek occupation in clerical and sales occupations. One out of every eight persons in the U. S. is a clerical worker, with secretaries, stenographers, and typists employed as the largest group of clerical workers. One out of every 17 has a sales job, which is another broad field for women aspiring to get into the merchandising and selling field.

Weigh your attributes first and decide what job you can best handle. Jobs in music and social work, as librarian or physicians, dentists or laboratory assistant shouldn't be passed up for lack of training. You always can learn.

Fewer than 5,000 women are employed as airplane stewardesses, actresses, astronomers, radio commentators, photographers, geologists, lawyers, psychologists. But if you feel especially qualified or are keen to learn, set your sails in that direction anyway.

Young people who want summer jobs can pick from a wide variety. In the west there are jobs at dude ranches, in the U. S. Forestry Service and in airplane plants. The northeast has plenty of hay to be pitched. There are berries to be picked everywhere. Baby sitting has become a big business and these jobs can be less of a chore at a summer resort. Camp counseling offers a splendid opportunity for a summer of exercise and fun—with pay.

Or you might go in for rabbit-raising. The Department of Agriculture reports that thousands of 4-H Club boys and girls and Boy Scout organizations make a success of it, after school and during vacations.

They suggest that the rabbit meat can be furnished to neighbors, hotels, church suppers and meat markets. It can be marketed cut-up ready to cook and packed, fresh or frozen.

Two to four does and a buck make a good unit with which to start. Pen and hutch, they say are not expensive and can be made in a jiffy. Rabbits can eat green feed and kitchen waste from vegetable roots and tops, and can be ready to sell for meat in about 8 weeks.

Some girls prefer to raise angora rabbits and shear them for angora wool which has a good market.

Investigation Of Legionaire Is Asked By Post

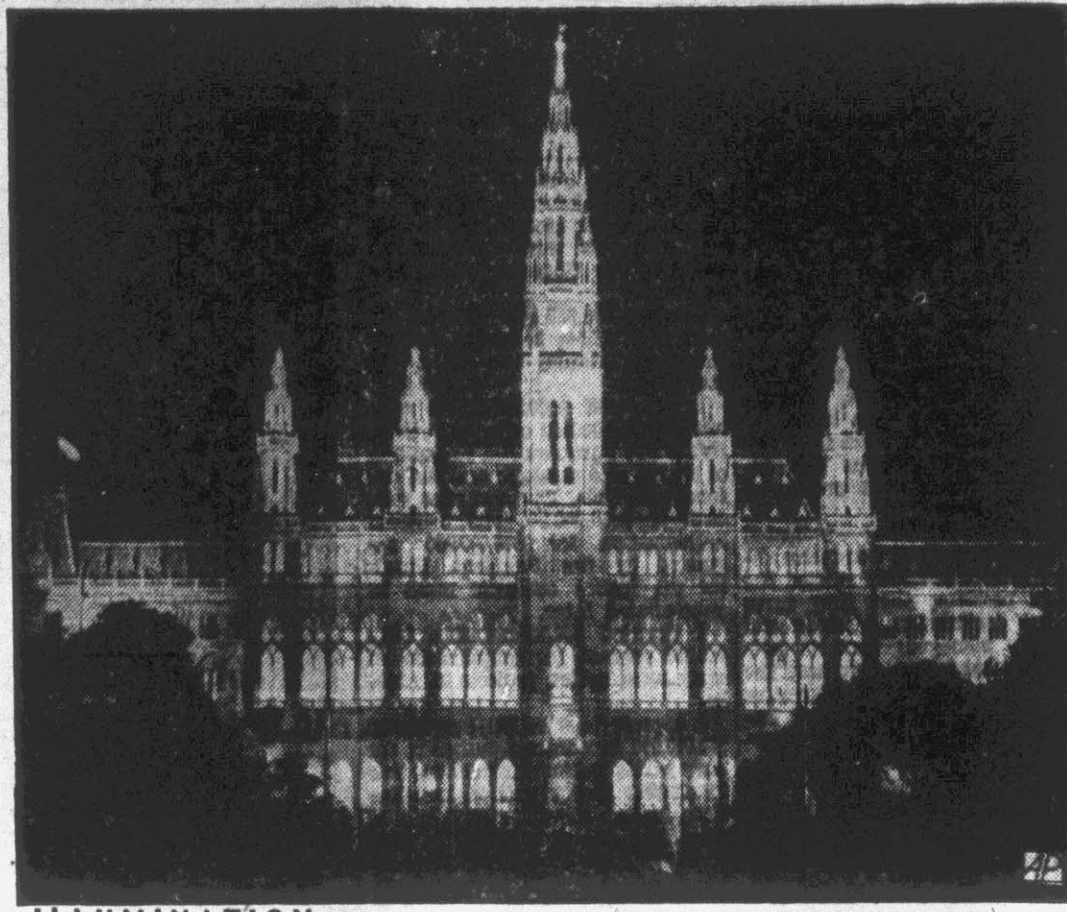

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 15—(AP)—The Clyde Bolling post 56 of the American Legion last night voted to ask the state department of the Legion to investigate the statements of M. Hugh Thompson, Negro, Durham attorney and state vice-commander of the legion, in a recent speech.

Thompson, speaking a week ago to post officers in Wilson, was quoted as saying that he had heard there was no segregation in Russia. "If this be true, Damned the Democracy, I want to be a Communist," Thompson was quoted as saying.

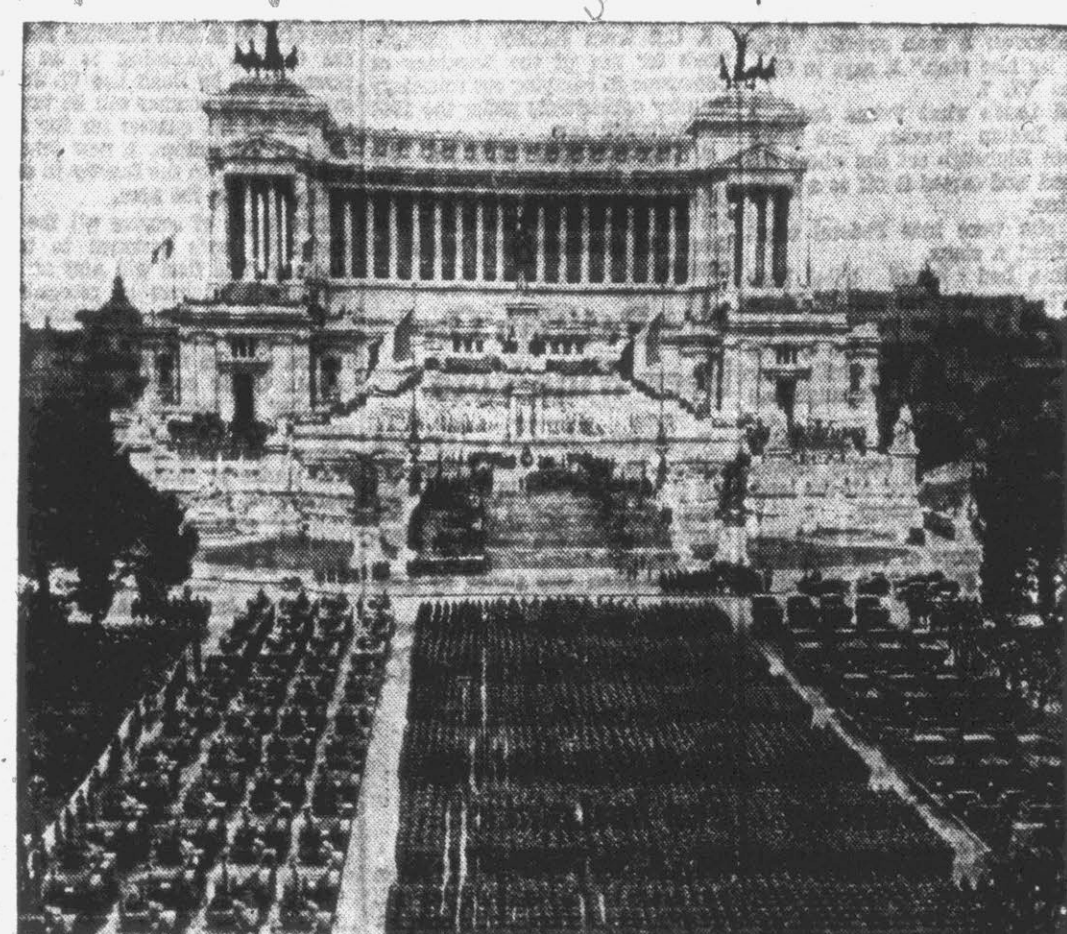

A formal resolution recommended that Thompson be investigated by the state officers and if it is found that the statement was quoted correctly, he be discharged from his legion office.

Blames Failures On H. S. Truman

Washington, June 15—(AP)—A. J. Glover, a railroad union leader, today blamed President Truman for the failure of negotiations to settle the railway labor dispute.

Glover, president of the AFL Switchmen's Union, told a congressional committee that presidential assistant John R. Steelman told union chiefs at a White House meeting on May 7 that Mr. Truman "insisted" they must accept the recommendations of an emergency board.

Appearing before the joint committee on Labor Management Relations, Glover said: "We think a settlement could have been made in these mediatory conferences with Dr. Steelman, except for the attitude of the President."

To prevent a strike by the engineers, firemen, and switchmen, Mr. Truman seized the railroads on May 16 and the government got a court order against the walkout.

Glover said that A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, settled with the railroads in November and shortly afterward "was reported by the press as meeting with the President of the United States at the White House."

CONCENTRATION IS MARVELOUS STUFF

One seldom discovers his powers of concentration until he is forced into it.

Once the knack is acquired . . . the rest is easy.

A man concentrates on obtaining a wife. He gets her.

A woman concentrates on acquiring a husband. She gets him.

They devote themselves diligently to having a family. They have one.

He finds it difficult to read the paper . . . but once again his powers of concentration comes to his defense.

That same will power will get you a savings account . . . regardless of obstacles. It will get you a home of your own . . . with room enough in it for the children in one end and you in the other . . . of course they love you . . . so they'll be in your end.

Try concentrating folks . . . it will get you what you want. Concentrate one hundred cents and you have a dollar. Work at thrift and it will grow on you and your dollars will grow with you.

Make a beaten path to our door with your savings dollars . . . and before long you will have a path right up to your own front door.

Taft Hoping To Get Pennsylvania

Washington, June 15—(AP)—Backers of Senator Robert A. Taft claimed today that Gov. James H. Duff may try to swing Pennsylvania to the Ohioan if the GOP presidential boom for Senator Arthur Vandenberg collapses.

Duff is reported to have told Taft last week he intends to do his best to get a large slice of Pennsylvania's 23 convention votes cast for Vandenberg, who says he isn't a candidate.

But if the move for the Michigan senator fails to indicate a chance for the nomination, Taft's followers think the Pennsylvania governor will shift to their man.

Duff is said to have expressed opposition to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, partly because of his belief that some member of Congress, rather than a governor or former governor ought to be the Republican nominee.

Duff contends that the Congressional Record is bound to become the chief issue in the presidential campaign.

GOP national chairman Carroll Reece, replying by radio last night to Mr. Truman's criticisms of Congress, declared that "the nation is disgusted and humiliated by the acts of its President."

telling the President to start something, anything he does can't work unless the Senate looks it over and says it's OK.

You may ask: well, then is the resolution so important if, in the end, the President can't do anything suggested in the resolution unless the Senate says it's all right?

In the first place, it clearly shows how far this country—and particularly the Senate, which years ago kept us out of the League of Nations—has moved from its old-time isolationism.

Before World War II we had carefully avoided—under the Monroe Doctrine—getting into any kind of military alliance in peacetime with any group of foreign nations.

Further, if we wind up in a military alliance with western Europe, Russia isn't likely to sit idly by, biting its nails.

The only purpose of such an alliance at this time in history would be to set up a wall of steel against any western move by Russia.

That would mean splitting the world into two camps: America and her friends whoever they happen to be, and Russia and her friends.

And at this point it would be hard to say what meaning would be left to the United Nations.

Is Burma . . .

(Continued from Page One) are of the capitalistic imperialism of western Europe, with which they have had plenty of intimate experience.

The relative merits of the two systems do not concern them particularly, except where the Soviet system seems to provide a handy way for some Oriental politicians to gain and maintain local power.

(The Kuomintang in China, fighting the Communists, uses roughly the same one-party system.)

The point is that the hotter the cold war grows in the west, the higher will be the bargaining power of Asiatic countries like Burma.

It may be no accident, actually, that Soviet Russia recently has traded diplomatic missions with both Siam and Burma, and that the British are currently having much trouble with Communists in nearby Malaya.

Maybe a second front in the cold war has not yet been opened up in Asia, but Russia could hardly hope to find a better beachhead than Democracy's most discontented flank.

C-of-C Directors . . .

(Continued from Page One) the utilities still more profitable and valuable to the growth and development of Greenville. It was a convincing revelation of sound business principles, a prominent business man present said after the meeting. A singularly interesting feature of the meeting was the statement, backed up by facts, that the Greenville utilities, is paying the city of Greenville substantial profits in addition to the money it turns over to the board of aldermen each year.

It was clearly pointed out that when a new subdivision is opened; when the city extended its corporate limits to take in the Bama, Hillsdale, Fleming's Crossroads and eastern Greenville, it created demands for water, gas and sewage pipes and electric lines, and the Utilities Commission installed these projects.

The city administration tells the Utilities Commission, "Go ahead, install water, gas, sewage, electric lines on such and such a street," and the expense of it is not shown on the city's records. Some city officials and others have overlooked this, it was stated.

Last night's meeting indicated that the Chamber of Commerce directors have thoroughly studied the utilities problem; that they agree that the commission is wisely and efficiently managed; that its estimates of what is needed to keep the plants up to date are conservative and that the additions and improvements are imperatively necessary now.

Filed Claims On Biblical Grounds

Oklahoma City, June 15—(AP)—"Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," it says in Galatians VI, 7.

And that's what Velma Jones, a Pona Indian woman, felt when Marvin Blubaugh cut the wheat she planted and carted it off to a grain elevator.

So she went into Federal court and filed a claim.

Velma had leased tribal land from the government and let Blubaugh use it for two years. After he plowed last fall she decided to take it back, moved in, and drilled her own grain in the soil Blubaugh had killed.

Several days ago, the wheat being ripe, Blubaugh got a county district court order to keep her off the land. He harvested the wheat.

They settled out of court here yesterday on a more or less scriptural basis. Velma gets $4,700, Blubaugh gets to keep the land until harvest is over, and then Velma gets that back, too.

Uncle Sam got the gleanings—$485 in back rent from Velma.

Celebrate Flag Day, On Lawn Elks Home

Greenville Lodge No. 1645, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, observed "Flag Day" on the lawn of the Elks Home, 629 Evans street, yesterday afternoon with impressive exercises. Exalted Ruler J. Alvin Bunting presided. Other officers participating were Esteemed Leading Knight Charles E. Blair, Esteemed Lecturing Knight Jesse R. Moe, and Esteemed Loyal Knight Jack Barrett, and Chaplain Chester Walsh.

E. Hoover Taft, a past exalted ruler, gave an interesting history of the flag, and Shelley Beard eloquently told why "Flag Day" is celebrated. Three Boy Scouts officiated at lowering of the flag and sounded "Taps."

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is the only fraternal organization that makes observance of "Flag Day" a part of its ritual.

Give Approval To Defense Outlays

Washington, June 15—(AP)—New millions for defense projects in Alaska and for stockpiling strategic war materials were recommended today by the House Appropriations committee.

In a $485,065,555 appropriation bill—cut $113,266,544 below the amount President Truman had asked—the committee:

1. Approved $300,000,000 in cash and $300,000,000 in contract authority for the purchase and stockpiling of critical and strategic national defense materials. This compares with cash of $360,000,000 and contract authorization for $375,000,000 requested by the President. Funds for the future contracts must be appropriated later.

2. Granted $32,700,000 of a $40,000,000 request for continuation of army construction projects in Alaska.

3. Approved $47,983,200 in cash and $50,000,000 in contract authority for navy public works construction, this including major defense installations in the Aleutians and Pacific areas, is a cut of $2,018,800 in cash and $16,500,000 in contract authority.

4. Approved $3,000,000 in cash and $5,000,000 in contract authority for construction of a commercial airport at Fairbanks, Alaska. The President had asked $4,000,000 in cash and $9,000,000 in contract authority.

5. Cut from $900,000 to $600,000 funds for use of the Secretary of Commerce in carrying out voluntary industry agreements under the 1947 anti-inflation law.

6. Recommended $6,000,000 for emergency flood repair work in the Columbia river valley. Another $500,000 was approved for disaster relief there and elsewhere as it might be needed.

Special Courses For Teachers Handling Exceptional Pupils

Special courses in education for exceptional children will be added to work in the training of teachers now offered at East Carolina Teachers College, according to an announcement by Dean Leo W. Jenkins. The new courses will be taught during the fall quarter for the first time at the college. A new teacher will be added to the faculty to offer instruction in the area.

Two types of courses will be included in work designed to train teachers. The first will aim at orienting all teachers in recognizing the needs of the exceptional, or handicapped child and in using effective aids in furthering his education. Other courses will provide training in specific areas, such as speech and hearing, and will be offered especially for those teachers who desire to become specialists in work with exceptional children.
