Supply Trains To Berlin Cut Off Due To Deadlock

American Rail Service Halted As Russians Institute Inspection Policy

Berlin, June 21—(AP) — Supply trains for Berlin's 10,000 or so Americans are at a standstill today because of a United States-Russian deadlock stemming from currency reform.

The Soviet commander in Germany later declared the money reform completes the division of Germany.

U. S. freight trains to Berlin must pass through the Soviet occupation zone and American authorities stopped them last night rather than submit their cargoes to Soviet inspection. The air remained the only supply channel.

Russian officials insisted inspection was necessary to keep smugglers from bringing currency worthless in the western zones into the Soviet zone and Berlin, where it is still good.

Germany's old Reichmarks lost their worth in the U. S., British and French zones under a currency reform begun by the three western powers yesterday to fight inflation and the black market. They are being replaced by a new unit—the Deutsche mark—whose value is to be made known, probably next week.

This reform was announced Friday night. Marshall Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet commander and military governor for Germany, then barred western-zone money, both new and old, from his zone and "Greater Berlin."

The Russians set up controls to keep the money out, effective Friday midnight. Last night, the first Berlin-bound U. S. military freight train to enter the Russian zone since Friday was halted at Marienborn, Soviet check point. The U. S. Army pulled the train back.

"The Russians wanted to open the cars and inspect the cargo, whereas previously the presentation of cargo lists was sufficient," said an American transport official. "We said, 'No.' xxx this issue has been reported to the highest [illegible] for decision."

In a letter made public early today, Sokolovsky said the money reform breaks big four agreements and completes the division of Germany.

Arrest Two Men Alleged Larceny Corn From Mill

Deputy Sheriff Loyd Manning arrested William Strickland Saturday night for larceny of a quantity of corn from Guy Sutton's grist mill on the Falkland highway. The miller's son told the officer that he saw two men after the corn at the mill and called the sheriff. Manning apprehended Strickland. The other man fled. This morning Deputy Elmer Haddock and ABC Officer Claude Manning arrested Robert Taft, colored, on the same charge. The officers recovered the corn.

Strickland and Taft will be given a hearing in Magistrate H. L. Jenkins court .

Amnesty Given To Hukbalahaps

Manila, June 21—(AP)—President Quirino tonight proclaimed amnesty for the Hukbalahaps after Luis Taruc, leader of the armed peasants, voluntarily had surrendered.

Taruc and his estimated 50,000 followers were given 20 days to surrender their arms.

Quirino and Taruc shook hands after the amnesty proclamation was signed—ending almost two years of fighting in central Luzon.

Military Leaders Prepare To Act When Draft Becomes Law

Washington, June 21 — (AP) — The nation's military leaders were ready today to swing speedily into action building a 2-million man defense force—when President Truman pushes the draft button.

Not until 90 days after Mr. Truman signs the Selective Service revival bill can men—19 through 25—be inducted into the armed forces.

But the defense chiefs were rushing plans to set up the training machinery for the thousands of peacetime draftees. Congress gave them over $14,000,000,000 to do the job of strengthening the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army Chief of Staff, said passage of the draft bill is a long step "toward preventing foreign conflict."

He told a news conference in Los Angeles yesterday it will "back our leadership in the world and will strengthen our foreign policy."

As to the chances of an emergency arising, Bradley said:

"We're faced with the possibility anything might happen. No one knows—unless it would be 14 men in the Kremlin."

Bradley's forces received the major share of the defene billions Congress handed out and will get the largest number of men through the peacetime draft.

On the dollar score, the Army got $6,767,668,163, the Navy $4,749,059,250. A $3,224,000,000 appropriation to build the Air Force up to 70 groups, also included funds for the Army and Navy.

Military authorities have estimated it will take about $1,700,000,000 to draft and train the future inductees.

Gen. Bradley said some key personnel may be brought home from overseas to help in the training program. Reserve and National Guard officers already have been put through special courses to administer the peacetime draft.

The fanfare which featured the beginning of the previous drafts will be missing this time.

There will be no drawing of numbers from a goldfish bowl in Washington. Instead of a lottery, the order of induction will be decided by age.

Tentative plans call for beginning the draft with 21-year-olds. Under this plan men who turned 21 on Jan. 1 would be first in line for induction, Jan. 2 next and so on through Dec. 31.

Whether all eligibles in the first age group will be called before drafting is started from another group still is to be decided.

Approximately 4,000 local draft boards will be set up. There were 6,442 boards during the wartime draft. The local boards, like before, will be appointed by the governors.

The Army probably will call between 200,000 and 225,000 inductees during the first 12 months of the new draft.

Platform Committee Is Split On Foreign Policy

International Tone Of Plank Objected To By Some Republican Legislators; Document Will Go Before Convention Soon

Philadelphia, June 21 —(AP)— A battle on foreign policy threatened today in the GOP platform committee. Several members were reported balking at what has been called the "most international" plank ever proposed for the Republican party.

They are mostly members of Congress, held in Washington for the late adjournment, who only got around today to close study of the preliminary draft of planks prepared by members of the resolutions committee in pre-convention sessions.

Rep. Harness (R-Ind), a resolutions member just arriving, told reporters he expects an effort to be made in the 104-member committee later in the day, to pull "some of the international teeth" of the foreign plank.

"I have a very definite feeling," he said, "that we should go a little bit slow in making commitments this far in advance on foreign legislation. We should be able to look the situation over next year and make decisions based on conditions at that time."

The preliminary draft of the proposed foreign policy plank has been kept secret, but is reported to have been approved by Senator Arthur Vandenberg. Presumably it is in line with his foreign policy views.

Backers of the plank said they are confident they can beat any efforts to tone it down.

By and large, the proposed platform is reported to follow this idea: accept President Truman's challenge and pitch it largely on the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., arriving in Philadelphia to take over the role of permanent convention chairman tomorrow night told reporters: "The record of the 80th Congress makes a platform the Republican party can stand on and win on."

Cadets Arrive At Pope Field Base

350 West Pointers Will Study Ground-Air Warfare

Pope Field, N. C., June 21—(AP) —Military transport planes today landed at this U. S. Air Force base with 350 West Point Cadets studying air-ground warfare.

Through Friday the Cadets, members of the U. S. Military Academy, class of 1950, will see demonstrations by the 82nd Airborne Division and planes of the Ninth Air Force bases.

A parachute drop by a battalion combat team of the 82nd is scheduled tomorrow. Battle equipment also will be parachuted.

During their stay here the Cadets will see Ninth Air Force planes dive-bomb and strafe simulated enemy positions while fighter planes protect the "battle area."

It's part of West Point's summer curriculum to show the future officers the role of tactical air operations in modern warefare. The Cadets also will visit two South Carolina Air Force bases, Greenville and Shaw Field at Sumter.

Another 350 of their classmates are to make a similar tour next month.

Ford Co. Offers New Wage Rates

Detroit, June 21—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today offered a 11 to 14 cent an hour wage increase to its 110,000 CIO United Auto Workers.

The proposal called for a 14 cent an hour boost to employes making $1.50 or more an hour. Those making less than $1.50 would receive 11 cents an hour.

The Union had asked Ford for a 30 cent an hour increase. The average wage now is slightly above $1.50 an hour.

Military Talks Slated Over Defense Alliances

Washington, June 21—(AP)—Representatives of the western European countries soon will begin military talks with United States defense chiefs. These talks, probably to be held in Washington, will open a new phase in the development of American policy toward Europe.

Officials said today the conversations, in a sense, would be based on the Senate - approved resolution drafted by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich). It put the Senate on record as favoring United States support of regional defense alliances where they serve this country's security interests.

One such regional alliance is the still developing western European Union of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

These nations have laid down plans for broad political, economic and military cooperation which the American government hopes will provide the nucleus of a United States of Europe.

One agency of that group is a military committee functioning in London. This committee is understood to have made extensive studies of strategic problems of defending western European countries.

The prospective talks will give the American high command its first information on the results of those studies. They also will be aimed at establishing a close liaison.

It is expected that political talks will follow eventually. The objective will be to associate the United States with the union in some way that would assure the members of American support in event of armed aggression.

Winterville Chief Grateful For Help

George Cox, chief of the Winterville Fire Department, today extended thanks to the Greenville and Ayden fire departments for assistance in controlling the fire at the Winterville Cotton Oil Company's plant Saturday afternoon. Cox also expressed appreciation for the valuable aid given by plant employes and other citizens, and to Major W. H. Stanley for providing hot coffee and refreshments donated by Winterville merchants.

Inquiry Board To Hear UMW Boss

Board Has Wednesday Deadline For Making Report

Washington, June 21—(AP)—The government rushed legal proceedings today to head off a new coal strike over miners' pensions.

A three-man presidential inquiry board called in John L. Lewis and soft coal operators for questioning on their contract dispute.

The board has a Wednesday deadline for sending a report to the White House. Once that report is in President Truman's hands the administration can seek a strike banning court order under the Taft-Hartley law's emergency procedure.

The miners start a ten-day vacation this Saturday, but before they are due to return to work July 6, the present contract expires. To date no progress has been made toward a new one.

But there is one chance for getting a new coal agreement before the miners' vacation starts.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough has announced he will rule tomorrow on major points involved in the miners' welfare fund legal tangle.

All along the coal operators have contended that Lewis' plan for $100 monthly pensions for aged coal diggers are illegal and too expensive.

Lewis counters that the mine owners have "stalled" a full year in paying pensions and other agreed benefits from accumulating a 10-cent a ton royalty.

Man Wounded In Shotgun-Rifle Duel Saturday

By CHESTER WALSH

William Dunn was wounded in the back of his head during a shot-gun rifle duel with Hubert Jones, colored, at Dupree's Cross Roads, between Fountain and Falkland, Saturday night, Pitt County Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson reported today. Dunn was painfully but not seriously wounded. The wounded man was treated by a Fountain physician.

Sheriff Tyson said the two men had an altercation; that they separated, went to their respective homes for weapons, and returned to the scene of altercation and opened fire on each other. Jones' shotgun slugs wounded Dunn and ended the duel. Dunn's rifle shot went wild. The sheriff said he charged both men with assault with a deadly weapon. Fountain Police Chief Wheeler assisted in the investigation.

Arabs Complain Violations Of Holy Land Truce

Cairo, June 21— (AP) —The Arab league reported today new complaints of Jewish violations of the Palestine cease-fire have been made to Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations Mediator.

The league secretariat general made public a cable received from the Syrian government accusing the Jews of setting fire to four Gelilee Arab villages, the latest last Thursday. The villages were Samakh, Abidiya, Khalfa and Zanghariya.

"The Syrian government submitted a protest to Count Bernadotte against the continuation of Zionist aggression and asked Bernadotte to take the necessary measures to put an end to these acts," the cable read.

Hollywood Party For Earl Warren

Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—One of the gayest of the official Republican convention parties promises to be the Hollywood Republican club's reception for Gov. Earl Warren of California tomorrow night.

Actor George Murphy, a California delegate, is running the show with assists from Hedda Hopper, alternate Harold Lloyd (last minute substitution for Bob Montgomery) Irene Dunne, and Samuel G. Morse, the Pebble Beach impresario.

Dixie Delegates Divided Between Taft And Dewey

Vandenberg Looms Likely To Grab Support Should Deadlock Develop

Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—The "best estimates" of Deep-South delegates to the Republican convention are that Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, are running neck-and-neck in bids for Dixie support.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) loomed likely to grab off sizeable groups of delegates from both the front runners, should they bog down after five or six ballots.

Harold E. Stassen, as delegates stand now, appears certain of nine, maybe more, Deep South votes on the first roll call. North Carolina's delegation has two definitely for Speaker Martin (R-Mass).

All delegates emphasized their "best guesses" are based on "conditions as they are today." All admit they were being courted politically as never before.

A run-down of figures from Dixie delegations on which it is possible to get more than one delegate to agree, showed (with "best guesses being used in all cases): Taft 73, Dewey 70.

W. H. Gillespie of Clanton, an Alabama observer and candidate for GOP elector, said a series of conversations with that state's 14-vote delegation indicate they will switch to Vandenberg in the event of a Taft-Dewey deadlock. None of the delegates, however, confirm the 70-year old Gillespie's summation.

A source close to Texas' 33-vote delegation said he believes the Lone Star state will go to Vandenberg in event of deadlock. As in the case of Alabama, however, this was not confirmed.

Lewis Loses His Political Voice

Influence With Republicans Fell Off In Last Four Years

Philadelphia, June 21 —(AP)— Four years ago John L. Lewis, a Republican, had a big voice in the writing of the labor plant in the GOP platform.

Times have changed.

The AFL and the CIO came to town and demanded that the party pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. But everybody, including the AFL and CIO, knows that there's not one chance in a thousand that this demand will be heeded.

Lewis' representative at the convention, K. C. Adams, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, says he doesn't even know what's in the labor plank of the forthcoming 1948 platform.

William Green, president of the AFL, said the same thing last night. Reporters found him in a hotel lobby, telephoning around to see if he could find out what the platform writers plan to issue on this subject.

Lewis himself would like to be here for the convention, Adams says, but legal goings-on before Judge T Alan Goldsborough and a Taft-Hartley board of inquiry are holding him at his desk in Washington.

Adams said Lewis may get here later in the week.

The GOP labor plank four years ago ran nearly 600 words.

The 1948 labor plank is expected to be much, much shorter.

Higher Pay For Federal Workers Awaits Signing

Washington, June 21—(AP)—Most federal workers will get bigger paychecks beginning July 1 if President Truman approves.

Approximately 480,000 postal employes would get a raise of $450 a year and 850,000 workers with civil service classifications $330 a year.

Congress sent the bill to Mr. Truman in the early hours Sunday after the House and Senate had ironed out their differences.

To finance the postal workers' raise, Congress voted to increase some postal rates, effective next Jan. 1. The increases: air mail, 5 to 6 cents; third class bulk mail, up 2 cents a pound; special delivery stamps, 13 to 15 cents. In addition, a new four-cent air mail postal card will be introduced.

Arrest 600 In Anti-Red Raids

Singapore, June 21—(AP)—Police arrested more than 600 persons today throughout Malaya in anti-communist raids.

They were held tonight in jails under heavy police guard. Communists have been blamed for organized terror campaigns in which 26 persons have been murdered in seven weeks and much property burned or smashed.

Dispatches from Kuala Lumpur Malayan capital, said most leading communists and members of the "killer squads" appeared to have escaped.

GOP Convention Opens At Philadelphia; Hall Jammed

New Marks

Frankfurt, Germany, June 20 —(AP)—Allied officials said tonight the issuance of 10,000,000-000 new marks has been authorized for western Germany.

The officials said this is the maximum amount of the new "Deutschemarks" German banks will be allowed to circulate after the completion of currency reform. Issuance of the new marks began yesterday in the United States, British and French zones.

Germany now has about 10 times more money in circulation than before the war. There are an estimated 100,000,000,000 marks circulating.

Series Of Blasts At Power Plant

Northern New Jersey Rocks To Unexplained Explosion

Kenvil, N. J., June 21—(AP)—a series of deafening explosions ripped through a section of the huge Hercules Power Co., plant today, killing three men and injuring at least two other persons.

A company official said the blasts, three in all, originated in three nitro-glycerine buildings. The structures were demolished.

There were only a small number of workers in and near the buildings at the time, a company spokesman said, adding that cause of the roaring explosions was not known.

The blasts rocked most of northern New Jersey.

In Wilmington, Del., where the firm's main office is located, officials issued a statement saying:

"An explosion about 12:45 p. m. EST today in the nitro-glycerine area of the Hercules Power Company dynamite plant at Kenvil, N. J., killed three men.

"Cause of the explosion is as yet undetermined."

The nitro glycerine buildings are located in a distant area of the plant grounds known as the "dynamite swamp." They are well away from the main buildings.

Kills Wife With Grass Sickle

Raleigh, June 21—(AP)—Ernest Person, 42, Negro, called the Raleigh police department last night, Police Lieut. G. E. Lasater reported, and said that he and his wife, Margaret, had had a "bad fuss" and " I reckon I killed her."

Detective Captain Robert E. Goodwin reported that the woman was found dead, stabbed in the breast above the heart and about the throat with a grass sickle. The woman held a hatchet in her hand, Goodwin added.

City Inundated By Great Flood

Nanking, June 21—(AP)—A great flood has inundated Foochow (Minhow), drowning 1,000 and leaving 200,000 of the city's 800,000 population homeless, reports from that south coastal city said today.

Legislators Look Back On Work Of Recent Congress

Still Dubious Whether There Will Be Additions To Record This Year

Washington, June 21—(AP)—More weary legislators today set about defending, or lambasting, the pre-convention record they finished writing in yesterday's dreary dawn wind-up of the 80th Congress.

Looking ahead to the November elections, Republicans asserted it was one of the best Congresses ever. Democrats took up President Truman's cry that it was one of the worst in history. In November, the entire membership of the House and one-third of the Senate come up for the voters to decide.

GOP leaders in the final gruelling two days and nights have given Mr. Truman a few of the things he asked for $6,030,710,228 for Foreign aid, a peacetime draft of men 19 through 25 and—literally in the final hour—a new system of farm price supports.

One major bill for which there had still been last minute hope didn't make it. No general housing legislation was passed, although a very minor part of such a bill squeezed through.

Whether there would be additions to the legislative record in this election year was left up in the air.

The Republican leaders retained the right to summon their colleagues back to Washington.

Mr. Truman can do so, under the constitution. But whether he would want to recall the Congress which rebuffed his recommendations so repeatedly was another question.

There was little fight left when Congress finally got around to approving the foreign aid bill in the early hours yesterday.

The compromise, which in effect was virtually what the Administration asked for, passed the house 319 to 2 and the Senate on an uncontested voice vote.

Taber, New York Republican who heads the House appropriation committee and who led the fight to chop about a billion dollars off the money bill, won only a token victory.

The compromise called for spending of the more than $6,000,000,000 over 15 months, as Taber had urged, but it gave the President authority to use all the money in 12 months if he sees fit.

Murder Suspect Gives Self Up

Bessemer City, N. C., June 21—(AP)—A murder charge today faced 26-year-old Tommie Limerick in the shooting of a policeman Saturday night.

Police Chief Bill Hoyle said that Limerick surrendered early Sunday after a fruitless all night search for him.

He was charged with shooting Patrolman Lloyd M. Parton, 38, father of eight children. Patron dropped with five bullets in his body.

Delegates Confident Will Name Next President; Today's Session Is Warm-Up For Later Balloting; Race For Nomination Wide Open; Key States Watched

By JACK BELL

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—Banners waving, Republicans streamed into their convention hall today cockily confident they are picking the next president but still as uncertain as ever over who that man is.

All the preliminary sparring before the first gavel's fall left the race for the coveted nomination apparently still wide open.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft acknowledgely were out in front, but lacking the votes at this time to assure the nomination. Each said he felt certain of winning.

So did Harold E. Stassen. Stassen said he would be a "strong third" on the first ballot and the winner on the ninth.

Senator Arthur A. Vandenberg's friends were not calling their shots in that manner. But they claimed Vandenberg is in a good position to step out toward the end and run off with the big prize. Backers of half a dozen others talked similarly.

The actual balloting will not start before Wednesday, or maybe Thursday. Meantime, the GOP's biggest oratorical guns will belabor the Democrats and the party will adopt its platform.

Today's first session was just sort of a warm up for that—prayer, song and welcoming talks, plus whamming of the Democrats by GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece.

In the nomination race, everybody was keeping the closest watch on the Pennsylvania and Illinois delegations. The final winner may depend on where these powerful delegations finally line up.

They talked things over last night, but kept their strength uncommitted so far as the leading candidates are concerned. In the early balloting Illinois will stick with favorite son Gov. Dwight Green; Pennsylvania with Senator Edwin Martin.

The first session of the convention was called to order by Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia, chairman of the arrangements committee, at 10:27 a.m. (EST).

The delegates were crammed into seats on the convention floor beneath scantly-filled galleries. Each state's delegates sat beneath red, white and blue placards bearing the names of the states.

It looked as though most of the 1094 delegates, or their alternates, were on hand.

They rose and cheered when Hallanan introduced Miss Virginia Davis, Philadelphia soprano, to sing The Star Spangled Banner, which traditionally opens every convention.

The Rev. Fred Pierce Corson, Methodist bishop of Philadelphia, led the first prayer.

Mrs. Dudley C. Hay of Michigan, first woman secretary of the Republican National committee, read the official convention call.

Then the delegates were formally welcomed by Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia, who told them "you are among friends" and called upon them to help "maintain the precious rights for which our nation stands."

"From this convention hall," Samuel said, "will come the courageous, clear-visioned leadership to march on to ever greater achievements."

Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania brought the Keystone state's welcome.

He urged the delegates to help give the world spiritual leadership. Duff said the world situation "is too profound to be resolved solely by drawing a dollar mark across the pages of history."

"The eyes of the whole world," Duff said, "are upon this convention."

Greek Army Opens Big Offensive In Civil War

Athens, June 21—(AP) — The Greek Ninth Division advanced four miles into Guerrilla territory north of Konista today in an opening move of the greatest offensive of the long Civil war.

Official sources said no opposition was encountered after the jumpoff, at 10 o'clock last night. Press dispatches said a Guerrilla force called Unite 670A, commanded by a "captain" Vafiades, is pitted against the Ninth Division.

It is one of six divisions, estimated to total 70,000 troops, moving to erase about 7,000 Rebels in the northern mountains near Albania.

Dwight P. Griswold, chief of the American Mission to aid Greece, made a radio speech appealing to Guerrillas to surrender.

"I hope and pray that Greeks fighting against their own people and country will surrender to this bloodshed will end soon," he said.

The speech was translated and relayed in Greek. Griswold said the military situation of Greece is "vastly improved." He said it was unsatisfactory several months ago.

Griswold said American millions had brought about deciling prices in Greece, a balanced budget and a stable currency. He said reconstruction is going on in high gear. He called for "more democratic representative and economic management of people affairs in the provinces."

Wage Agreement At Westinghouse

Pittsburgh, June 21—(AP)—Approximately 70,00 production and salaried employes of Westinghouse Electric Corporation will receive an eight per cent wage increase under an agreement announced last night by the corporation and the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

The agreement—subject to ratification of U. E. locals by July 1 after prior approval by the union's policy board—provides that the increases be retroactive to June 11, date of an original six per cent offer made by Westinghouse.

Republican Conclave

Analyst Says Real Business of Selecting A Candidate Won't Begin Until Thursday; What Will Happen Befor That Time; Speeches, Procedure of Convention

By JAMES MARLOW

Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—(AP)—The Republicans opened their convention today, and they'll make a lot of noise for three days but—

Don't look for the real business till Thursday. That's when the delegates expect to begin voting on a candidate for President.

Meanwhile, the would-be candidates try to line up enough of the 1,094 delegates' votes to win. The winner needs at least 548.

What else happens between now and voting time? Talk, mostly. Speeches. At least 16 speeches are scheduled between now and Wednesday night.

These speeches will say, generally, the Democrats are a miserable crew unfit for office and that the Republicans are wonderful.

(The Democrats will say the same thing, except in reverse, when they open their convention here July 12.)

This is the way it goes at these conventions every four years because they all follow pretty much the same pattern.

There will be day and night sessions. This doesn't mean the delegates sit continuously in the convention hall, day and night.

Far from it. They don't arrive at the hall till around 11 a. m. (Philadelphia time,) do some business like listening to committee reports and speeches and then recess.

They go back to their hoters, rest, eat dinner, and go back to the hall around 9 p. m. for another session of speechmaking.

This will give you an idea of what's going to happed at the convention before the voting starts.

The job of opening the convention at 11 a. m. today was handed to Walter S. Hallanan of Charleston, W. Va., chairman of the arrangements committee.

As he takes his stand on the platform, under the blinding lights set up for newsreel and television cameras, the delegates will be milling around and talking.

Hallanan bangs his gaval. He bangs and bangs. Finally, the delegates sit down and become quiet.

The delegates from each state sit together, with a big sign standing beside them, the name of their state printed in hugh letters on it.

Hallanan solemnly says "the 24th convention of the Republican party will come to order . . . "

He tells everyone to rise and sing the National anthem. They do. When that's over, there's a prayer.

Those two things—singing the Star

Communists In Asia

Chinese Reds At Work Outside the Borders of Their Own Country; Influence Felt In Burma, Malaya and Siam; Even the Philippine Republic Saw Their Work

By JAMES D. WHITE

Chinese Communists work far beyond the borders of their own country, throughout Southeast Asia.

This fact has been forcibly brought to the world's attention during the past week by events in Burma, Malaya, and Siam. The influence of Chinese Communists has also been demonstrated in the Philippines, and may exist in the Netherlands Indies where there is another large Chinese minority.

One thing that has made this possible is the dual nationality which overseas Chinese often possess. They may be born far from China and have certain rights as nationals of the country or dependency where they were born (not always as full fledged citizens. But at the same time, they are considered Chinese by China.

This facilities the considerable travel which goes on among such Chinese to and from China—particularly among businessmen — and also keeps the flow of foreign exchange coming in through their remittances to families in China or to the government.

Now it becomes apparent that Chinese Communists have been doing some travelling too, and the effects are beginning to multiply.

An early example was the young Chinese Communist army officer who was stranded in Manila at the time of Pearl Harbor. He took to the hills and organized a band of Chinese guerrillas.

With a Filipino guerrilla outfit, this developed into the Hukbalanap organization which fought the Japanese and the post-war Philippines government. This Chinese taught the Filipinos how to fight the way the Chinese Communists fight, and no doubt refined their ideas on land reform.

Last week it became clear that Chinse Communists have played no small part in sparking the Communist movements in Burma and Malaya, and that they may be working on Siam.

From Burma, reliable reports say that the writings of Mao Tse-Tung, the Chinese Communist party chairman, are read there as widely as those of Russian Communists. Mao's land reform program, in particular, has been followed broadly by the Socialist Burmese government, whose Premier Thakin Nu last week said his country would "follow Russia."

Chinese Communists who led the anti-Japanese resistance in Malaya kept their arms after V-J Day. They

Mr. W. F. Evans has a grievance against the Atlantic Coast Line that will likely result in a suit against the company. The trouble seems to have been over a ticket he bought at Whitakers Saturday on which to return to his home in Greenville. Through a mistake the agent at Whitakers gave him a half ticket though the full fare was paid for it. Mr. Evans and the conductor on the Plymouth division of the Coast Line had a disagreement over the ticket that resulted in Mr. Evans being put off the train about half way between Bethel and Parmele and had to walk to the latter place in a storm. Reaching Parmele after all trains coming this way had left, he hired a team to bring him on home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Is the universe, including man, evolved by atomic force?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, June 20.

The Golden Text: 1 Corinthians 8: 5, 6. "Though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many) but to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens:" (Isaiah 48; 12, 13). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture" by Mary Baker Eddy; "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development" (Page 547).

ELKS MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

Greenville Lodge No. 1645, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Exalted Ruler J. Alvin Bunting will preside.

Wesley Players To Present Movie

"Beyond Our Own," a movie produced by the Protestant Film Commission, will be shown in the annex of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church Thursday, June 24, at 7:45 p.m. The film is considered by critics one of the best religious movies produced.

It is the story of two brothers and the choice which each made when faced with the opportunity for a life of service or one of wealth and position. A good plot, romance, and acting by professionals make this a movie with a message as well as good entertainment.

The movie is presented by the Wesley Players. A freewill offering will be taken which will be used to help renovate the Methodist Student Center.

Miss Moye Honored at Shower

Mrs. Barrett Hughes Sumrell and Mrs. Levis H. Churchill were hostesses at a floating shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Jeffrey Moye, honoring Miss Nancy Moye, bride-elect.

The mantel, stairway and dining room were beautifully decorated with white wedding bells framed by magnolia leaves and tied with large bows of white satin ribbon. White gladiola arrangements and white dahlias completed the color scheme of green and white.

The many lovely gifts were displayed on a table beneath the mantel in the living room. Both this and the dining table were covered with hand-made cutwork cloths.

The dining table was centered with an original arrangement of white dahlias, sweetheart roses and baby's breath flanked with magnolia leaves and candles in crystal holders tied with sweetheart roses and white ribbon. Miniature wedding bells tied with sweetheart roses adorned the corners of the table.

Punch was poured by Miss Edna Barnett of Washington, N.C. and heart-shaped sandwiches, bon-bons, mints and nuts were served.

The hostesses presented Miss Moye with a corsage of red roses and crystal in her chosen pattern. The mother of the honoree, Mrs. C. Jeffrey Moye, was remembered with a corsage of pink roses.

Many guests attended and Miss Moye received a variety of beautiful and useful gifts.

Miss Eva Keeter Resigns After 31 Years In Greenville Schools

Miss Eva Keeter who has taught thirty-one years in the Greenville City Schools has resigned and will leave Wednesday for her home in Marion. Miss Keeter is resigning her work in Greenville because conditions make it necessary for her to be at her home.

Miss Keeter taught in the Evans Street school and then was principal of the Evans Street school. When the Evans Sstreet School burned and the Third Street was built she became principal of the Third Straat school. She gave up the principalship of the Third Street school in order to accept a position as critic teacher in the Training School.

In speaking of Miss Keeter's work today, Supt. J. H. Rose stated that Miss Keeter is one of the most successful teachers and principals in the state of North Carolina. "She has the ability to handle teachers or handle boys and girls without ever raising her voice. As a principal she knew how to draw the very best work out of the teachers and as a principal and teacher and knows how to enlist the cooperation of all the students. Also in dealing with the public she has the knack of getting along with people," said Mr. Rose.

The members of the Board of Trustees of the Greenville City Schools, as a board and individuals, have appropriately expressed their regret because Miss Keeter is leaving. The chairman of the Board Mr. J. B. James, stated "Miss Keeter has been one of the greatest assets of the Greenville City schools in the time she has been here." The teachers with whom Miss Keeter has worked have also made statements expressing a feeling of loss because Miss Keeter is leaving the school system. Recently a group of the teachers got together and told Miss Keeter in words and with gifts how much she has meant to them.

Entertains For Miss Duncan

Honoring Miss Mary Ann Duncan, bride-elect of this month, Miss Joyce Corbett charmingly entertained at a luncheon on Wednesday at one o'clock at her home on Eastern Street.

Miss Corbett, Miss Evelyn Pettitt of Rocky Mount, house guest of the hostess, and Mrs. Corbett greeted the guests on the porch. The guests were then invited into the living room and dining room where beautiful arrangements of white and pink gladioli decorated the rooms forming a lovely background for the small tables that were arranged for luncheon.

Each table was covered with a handmade white grass-linen and lace cloth centered with gardenias in a low crystal vase tied with tulle. Place cards were tied with green ribbon to white net bags of rice carrying out the bridal colors of green and white. The bride-elect found her place marked with a corsage of white glodioli.

After a cantaloupe cocktail, a two course barbecue luncheon was served by the hostess' mother, assisted by Mrs. J. Hicks Corey and Miss Jackie Sears. The service plates held a single gardenia for each guest.

The honored guest was presented silver in her chosen pattern. Misses Ruby Moye of Maury, N.C., and Hennie Ruth Whichard, also brides-elect, were remembered with crystal and silver in their selected patterns.

Twenty of the honoree's close school friends enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Corbett.

Mrs. James Hunter Groome

Groome-Duncan

In a formal candlelight ceremony at 9 o'clock, Saturday evening, June 19th, on the 25th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, Miss Mary Anne Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Henry Duncan of Greenville, became the bride of Mr. James Hunter Groome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Talmadge Groome of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., formerly of Greensboro. The Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, the bride's pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with a background of Palmetto and Oregon ferns and Schefferri greens. Tall baskets of white gladioli, snap dragons, lilies and gypsophelia, interspersed with standards of seven, nine and twelve branch candelabras holding ivory cathedral candles made a lovely setting for the impressive ceremony. Pew candle holders with cathedral candles outlined the center aisles.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Paul Toll, organist, Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick, aunt of the bride, and Mr. George Clark, of Wilson, soloists. The program included "Schubert's Serenade," "Song of Love," "Clair de Lune," "At Dusk," "Through the Years," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Lydian model of Goddess lace over satin. A deep bertha accented an off shoulder neck line. The long sleeves ended in Calla lily points. The bodice was tight fitting and a full skirt extended into a long train. Her full length veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of matching Goddess lace. She carried a bouquet of brides roses centered with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Sarah Kirkpatrick, as maid of honor. She wore a gown of nile green marquisette with a sheer yoke accented by a bertha with a double row of ruffles. The full skirt ended in a ruffle. A coronet trimmed with dainty ruffles and gauntlets of matching material completed the costume. She carried a Colonial nose gay of pink Briarcliff roses with streamers of matching satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jane Massey, Miss Joyce Corbett of Greenville; Miss Irene Dixon, cousin of the bride, of Rocky Mount; Miss Elizabeth Vining, of Tryon; Miss Ruby Moye, of Maury; and Miss Betty Groome, sister of the groom, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor in pastel shades of pink, yellow, and lavendar, and carried Colonial bouquets of delphiniums, painted daisies, roses and gypsophelia with streamers of matching satin.

Bill Davis of Wilson acted as best man.

Acting as ushers were Richard Duncan, brother of the bride, Phil Goodson, Jr., and Joe Goodson, cousins of the bride, J. B. Smith, Jr., Phil Moore, Jr., of Greenville; Carl Perkinson, of Asheville; James Montague of Oxford; and Ken Younger of Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Duncan, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Flemish blue chiffon and Alencon lace trimmed in matching sequins and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Groome, mother of the groom, wore an aqua crepe gown with gold accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Groome was graduated in June from Duke University where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Groome is a senior at Duke University and will receive his degree in Business Administration in January. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He was in the Merchant Marine for three years and graduated from the Merchant Marine Academy of Great Neck, N.Y. and served in the European war theatre.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at the Greenville Country Club for the wedding party, out-of-town guests and friends.

For going away the bride wore a white linen suit with a matching white linen hat trimmed in kelly green ribbon. She wore green snake skin shoes and carried matching bag and gloves. The couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. Upon their return they will make their home in Durham.

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at the Greenville Country Club for the wedding party, out-of-town guests and friends. The club house was beautifully decorated with festoons of evergreens and tall standards of giant gladioli. For the two mantels magnolias and white tapers were used with a large wedding bell suspended over each. Mrs. H. W. Abbitt, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Moore greeted the guests and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rawl Sr. introduced them to the receiving line. Receiving were the parents of the bride, the bridal couple, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Higgs, grandparents of the bride, Mr. J. H. Roane, grandfather of the groom, and the bride's attendants. Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Goodson invited the guests to the punch bowls which were presided over by Dr. and Mrs. M B. Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moye of Maury and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rawl Jr. and Miss Nancy Hannah and Sidney Dunn. The punch table placed against a background of evergreens which was effectively centered by a tall standard of white gladioli in a mammoth fan arrangement and was flanked on either side by similar fans of gladioli. The exquisite beauty of a hand-made cloth of Chinese embroidered linen used on the table was enhanced by a simple center arrangement of candles and a pair of silver cresents filled with dainty white flowers and sprays of ferns. Out-of-town relatives receiving were Mrs. H. W. Abbitt of Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gill, Mrs. W. H. Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Burnette of Rocky Mount.

Ice cream, nuts, mints and wedding cakes were served by Misses Lillian Wooten, Lib Kittrell, Jane Smith, Shirley Savage, Peggy Rose Smith, Peggy Mitchell, Marty Hadley, Emily Laughinghouse, Hennie Ruth Whichard, Betsy Nobles, Betsy Hellen and Mrs. Sarah Frances Ebert. The bride's book was presided over by Miss Lelia Higgs, Miss Jesse Moye and Mrs. Howard Porter. Good-byes were said to Dr. and Mrs. M. P. Hoot and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Waldrop.

Miss Duncan and Mr. Groome were the recipients of many delightful courtesies on Friday and Saturday preceding their marriage. Miss Jane Massey was hostess at luncheon in the Magnolia Room of the Proctor Hotel. Three courses were served from a beautifully appointed table.

Mr. Phil Moore honored Mr. Jim Groome and his groomsmen at a gracious batchelor supper at the Airport Inn prior to the rehearsal. A three course supper was served.

Following the marriage rehearsal on Friday evening, Miss Lelia Higgs was gracious hostess to the wedding party and guests. The home at 1202 Dickinson Avenue was lovely with garden flowers and candlelight. Miss Higgs, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Higgs, grandparents of the bride-elect, welcomed the guests at the front door and Miss Jessie Moye, Mrs. Emily Hadley and Mr. Joseph S. Moye received them in the library and drawing room. Mrs. Helene Kirkpatrick and Miss Annie Shields VanDyke invited them into the dining room where a pink color scheme was carried out in all the decorations. The cake was cut from a table centered with a large oval reflector on which was an arrangement of pink larkspur, painted daises and gypsophelia in a silver bowl, surrounded by pink candles in silver Georgian holders. Mrs. Harry Abbitt of Wilson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Novella Moye Williams served the cake and mint ice which floated a wedding ring of golden ice decorated with a wreath of orange blossoms. They were assisted by Miss Marty Hadley and Misses Lib Kittrell, Jane Smith, Betsy Hellen, Peggy Mitchell, Shirley Savage, Peggy Rose Smith and Betsy Nobles.

A large number of college friends of Miss Duncan and Mr. Groome called during the evening and added much pleasure to the informal delightful occasion.

On Saturday Miss Jane and J. B. Smith Jr. honored Miss Duncan and Mr. Groome with a delicious three course wedding breakfast at their home. Covers were laid for thirty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Groome entertained at a wedding supper in the Magnolia Room of the Proctor Hotel for the Groome-Duncan wedding party and out-of-town guests. The table of the bridal couple was decorated with a lovely arrangement of gladioli, dutch iris and fern. Covers were laid for forty guests.

Out-of-town guests besides the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Groome of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Groome, Miss Ellen Groome, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Groome Jr., Mrs. Herman Brame of Greensboro, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Dick, Chapel Hill.

NOW OPEN TO HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

THIS is important news to every young man from 20½ to 28 who has graduated from high school or who can pass equivalent education examinations. Under a new ruling, you may now enlist in the U. S. Army for the specific purpose of attending Officer Candidate School, provided the quotas are not filled.

You must be a citizen of the United States, and a man of high moral character, able to meet the necessary physical requirements.

To take advantage of this unusual privilege, you may submit your application to the Commanding General of the Army area in which you live. If you are selected, you will be enlisted in the Army as Staff Sergeant. If you have not had basic training or its equivalent, you will be given this training before entering Officer Candidate School.

If you are a successful candidate, you will be commissioned as Second Lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps and placed on active duty for two years, during which time you may compete for a Regular Army Commission. Should you fail to complete the course successfully, you will be released from the Army.

The opportunity to qualify for Officer Candidate School is, and has been, open to men in the Army. But never before during peacetime has such a remarkable opportunity to become a commissioned officer been open to civilian high school graduates. Get all the facts about it today at your U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

Something To Think About

ONLY 40% of the ENTIRE vote throughout the State in the First Primary was cast for the Machine Candiate.

WHILE 60% was the Combined vote of other candidates. (Pitt County percentage was practically the same, 39.8% FOR and 60.2% AGAINST).

THIS would definitely indicate the TREND in Pitt County and all through the State AGAINST the ERA that is PAST and GONE.

Thousands upon top of thousands of NEW VOTERS in this election, voting for the first time this YEAR, present an entirely different picture than ever before. Voters whose absence from Home and Fireside for a long time, have had plenty of time for thought and consideration.

These VOTERS are DETERMINED that

NOW is the TIME to return the STATE government of North Carolina to the PEOPLE of the STATE instead of a CONTINUATION of GOVERNMENT BY a FEW.

THESE VOTERS are more DETERMINED that the principles for which they fought shall not be in vain ,and,

We are therefore confident that

KERR SCOTT — THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE

Will Be The Next Governor Of North Carolina

Believing this, we know it is of VITAL importance to PITT COUNTY what KERR SCOTT'S attitude is toward our Highway problems, and the personnel of the splended Highway Organization now existing in this County. This question is not only of tremendous import to the personnel of the Highway Organization, but to the merchant, the farmer, the business and professional man, and all others who have dealings with the Highway Department, for, should there be any disruption of the Highway set-up in Pitt County, those NOW properly benefitted, would be seriously damaged.

KERR SCOTT, not only in the Courthouse in Greenville during the First Primary, but through the newspapers and to many friends and supporters in Pitt County, declared himself without hesitation on this subject, BUT, to KEEP THE RECORDS STRAIGHT, here are some assurances that KERR SCOTT stated in his speech and through the press that as Governor of North Carolina,

"1. The State Highway Garage and Maintenance Department now located on the Bethel Highway will be continued as at present.

"2. No employee on the payroll of this Department will be discharged except for inefficiency. In fact I expect to see to it that the conditions under which they work shall be improved.

"3. There has been no commitment by me as to appointment of the new Highway Commissioner for the Second Division, but I can assure you my appointment will be for the best interests of all Counties comprising this Division. I intend there shall be an end to the abuse of highway authority for political reasons in locating and building roads, and to business dealings with the contractors."

Strength FOR THE DAY

ARE WE READY?

Some days ago I received a letter from one of my readers which contains the following: "It is no wonder Russia, Mexico, and other nations have put a curb on religious teaching. God hasten the day when the fallacy of ancient Bible teaching will cease throughout the world. Then and only then will the people of the world begin to understand life and have peace."

In a statement of this sort, Catholics, Protestants, and Jews have the issue squarely put before them. There seems to be today a definite and well-organized attempt on the part of certain persons to destroy religion and the institutions which have grown up about it. This desire may have existed in the past; now it seems to be implemented and supported by a definite and persistent program of action.

Are we ready to meet this challenge? We see in a statement of this sort what would happen to us if communism got any foothold in this country. If we had learned anything from the past war, it is that ideologists cannot be destroyed by military equipment. They must be destroyed by the power of a better ideology. The only cure for atheism is deeper and better religion on the part of those who now profess it. Letters like this cause one to wonder whether we are ready for the challenge.

Around Capitol Square

(Guest writer today Sam M. Blount, Director, North Carolina Division U. S. Brewers Foundation.)

TWIST — The prohibitionists of North Carolina apparently have switched their major attention from liquor to beer, which is non-intoxicating under ordinary conditions of consumption. They seem bent on driving beer underground, where illegal sales will enrich bootleggers, burden taxpayers and increase crime.

They seem to forget that prohibition never prohibits, that it has been a costly and dismal failure everywhere it has been tried. They overlook the fact that beer will continue to be sold and consumed—not under legal control but under the lawless control of a criminal element — wherever they succeed in outlawing legal beer.

We have authentic reports that illegal beer is sold and consumed right now in counties which have outlawed beer this year—sold at premium prices by bootleggers while the counties and their municipalities get not one penny from it. People who want beer are going to find it, either in their own county or in the next county or across the state line. They are doing it every day, and prohibition can't stop them!

PARADOX — What's behind this strange shift on the part of the prohibitionists? Do they regard beer as a sitting duck, easier to knock off than a county's ABC liquor set-up?

The Fayetteville Observer of June 7 had an interesting editorial aptly entitled "Here We Go Again." The editorial pointed out that prohibition in the past has proven unenforceable and a failure, and then it touched on current agitation by the prohibitionists.

"Paradoxically enough," said the editorial, "in spots this has shown up in a tendency to prohibit the sale of beers and wines rather than hard liquors, which, even in the prohibition set-up, seems to us in the nature of getting the cart before the horse.

"We do not believe that prohibition will work a solution to the intemperance problem in any form but if it should be tried again we believe a smaller degree of failue would be encountered if the so-called temperate beverages, beer and wine, were left out of the prohibited list."

BEST METHOD — Our organization maintains—and we have ample facts to back us up—that legal control of beer is the best method. Keep it in the open; let the community benefit from the taxes; keep crime down.

Beer, after all, is a drink of moderation. We know, of course, that a man arrested for intoxication will swear in court that he had "only two bottles of beer." We also know that man lied!

BOOTLEGGERS—Right now the prohibitionists are asking for local-option elections on beer in 22 counties. In a number of counties they have the wholehearted support of liquor bootleggers. Time and again our field representatives report: "Blank said he hoped beer would be voted out as he would sell more bootleg liquor."

We know there are bad beer retailers. We have five men traveling the State constantly, working day and night, to weed out the undesirables. We shut off their beer supply until they show a willingness to operate their places decently; we help get the licenses of lawbreakers revoked, working closely with the State Department of Revenue. This year alone we have been instrumental in withholding retail beer licenses from many scores of people whom the brewing industry does not want handling its products. On an average, we find about five per cent of North Carolina's 7,500 beer retailers need corrective or disciplinary action. That's a pretty fair record.

The bulk of our work, however, is of an educational nature. We are constantly drumming into retailers the thought that the best and only way to operate a retail beer business is to observe all laws govening the sale of beer and all rules of decency.

Body Of Missing Minister Found After 18 Years

Sylva, June 21—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of the Rev. W. T. Hawkins 18 years ago was solved today.

The Methodist minister vanished when he walked from his Whiteside Cove home to search for the family's cows on March 18, 1930.

Saturday, Ernest White, a surveyor for a logging operation, found the remains of a body in a swampy section of the cove about five miles from the minister's home.

Mrs. Geneva H. Wright of Cashiers, identified a gold watch, a billfold, shoes and glasses found with the body as those of her father.

Coroner Lum Dills said the family is certain there was no foul play and that no inquest would be held.

The 73-year-old Hawkins had been subject to heart attacks, the coroner said.

SCOTT IN MECKLENBURG

Charlotte, N. C., June 21—(AP)—W. Kerr Scott was scheduled to speak at the Mecklenburg County Courthouse here tonight in his campaign for the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination.

Sunday Fire Hit Business Center In Madison, N.C.

Madison, N. C., June 21—(AP)—A Sunday morning fire roared through Madison's business district and caused damage estimated at nearly a half million dollars.

A bus driver spotted the blaze and called firemen. Fire companies from Reidsville, Stoneville, Mayodan, Greensboro and Winston-Salem were called for assistance and the fire was brought under control at 9 a.m.

Mayor T. A. Mashburn said damage might amount to $500,000 and added the cause had not yet been determined.

Seven places of business were destroyed or severely damaged.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Fear has a home in you. It has a home in every man.

Fear is a color—yellow. Fear has a taste—and men in war know its acrid flavor. Fear is a hand clutching at your throat, or squeezing your vitals.

Fear is a parasite and a cannibal, feeding on you and on itself. And as it feeds it grows.

Fear wears many faces and moves with many sounds. To a soldier on patrol it is a football in the dark. To a mother it may be a new note in her baby's cry. To a drunk it is the last drop in his last bottle. To the family man it is the pink dismissal slip in his pay envelope. To the miner it is the warning rumble of falling rock.

Fear is every place in the world. But different places have different fears.

People who live in big cities have fears all their own. These fears came with the cities, and will pass perhaps only when the cities are gone.

One of the strangest big city fears is that of being hit by something falling. It is a fear that becomes stronger with many persons the longer they live amid Manhattan's high canyon walls.

What could hurt them? Icicles crashing down hundreds of feet from skyscraper towers in winter. A window washer's bucket slipping from a ledge. Lighted cigar stubs tossed from a high window. A flower pot falling from a penthouse farmer's garden. Miscellaneous objects thrown from upper-level apartments by quarreling couples or playful children.

There is a long chance here that a person afraid to live can hurtle down in a suicidal plunge and kill someone below who is afraid to die. This indeed is a strange meeting of fears. But it has happened more than once in this metropolis where strange things are the rule. Only a few days ago there was an odd variation of this pattern. The head from a clothing dummy fell from a department store window and knocked a woman on the sidewalk unconscious.

This fear of falling bodies—human bodies—is prevalent among window washers who work high above the street. Some worry less about falling themselves than they do about being torn from their perch by a suicide who has jumped from above them.

New York is a city of tunnels, and most of its passenger traffic moves underground on the subways. Many of the tunnels burrow beneath rivers, and there is always fear in some riders that the tunnel walls will give way, crushing the trains with concrete and water.

Perhaps the greatest fear among women is to walk a dark street alone. A wave of "muggings"—robberies by prowlers who choke their victims—creates terror in millions of hearts.

The fear of being lonely here is common, but it has a terrible quality in New York, because it is always worse to be lonely in a crowd. But crowded as the city is, it also has its share of strangers to humanity who fear their own kind more than they do being alone. There are more hermits in this city than in all the deserts of the west.

The fear here isn't what your neighbor may think of you, but rather that he'll try to become friendly—and expect something from you. The fear of being late to work, home, or play explains why New Yorkers are always in a hurry. This is a phobia with commuters, who fear twice each day they may miss a train.

But the fear of fears in this market place of the world, where every kind of talent seeks a buyer, is the fear of failure—the fear of falling behind the mob that clamors for what you seek. This is the fear that makes the human race—so hard.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington— Stocky, mild-mannered Wayne C. Grover, recently appointed archivist of the United States, is the latest career man to rise to a top position in the government.

Dr. Grover, a native of Utah, and one-time editor of the "Desert News" Salt Lake City, joined the staff of the National Archives in 1935. This was a few months after it had been established by Act of Congress and just about the time of the completion of the handsome $13,000,000 Archives building on Pennsylvania Avenue.

He served in the agency as a specialist in the records of the War Department and related agencies until 1941, when he was transferred to the Office of Strategic Services. Commissioned a captain in the Army in 1943, he rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and was assigned to records management. He did such a good job he was awarded the Legion of Merit.

The National Archives boasts some 850,000 cubic feet of documents. They represent a record of our nation's experience from the Revolutionary War through World War II.

The records which come from Congress, the White House, every executive department, most of the independent agencies and several of the Federal Courts are preserved chiefly for the information that is in them. Included are many records of the discontinued World War II emergency agencies. A large portion of the 10,000,000 cubic feet of records accumulated by these outfits had to be disposed of.

About 100,000 people visit the Archives building annually. Thousands make use of the records, either first hand or through photographic copies provided for out-of-town folks.

Sound recordings of broadcasts from enemy countries made by the government during World War II were loaned by the Archives for use in the recent treason trials of Douglas Chandler and Robert Best at Boston. Many observers say it was the sound recordings that were largely responsible for their conviction.

Dr. Grover succeeds Solon J. Buck, who resigned to become Chief of the Division of Manuscripts and incumbent of the Chair of American History in the Library of Congress.

Johnson Goes To Duplin County

Raleigh, N. C., June 21—(AP)—State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson went to Duplin county today at the start of a busy final week of campaign before Saturday's Democratic Gubernatorial run-off primary.

Johnson will speak at the Beulaville school tonight.

Tomorrow he will go into Richmond and Stanly counties during the morning, and in the afternoon to Rowan county.

Saturday's Run-off Vote Is Second In Twelve Years

Raleigh, June 21 —(AP)— North Carolina's second gubernatorial run-off primary in 12 years will give Democrats a nominee Saturday.

In the contest are State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, No. 1 in a six-man race last May 29, and W. Kerr Scott, who resigned as Commissioner of Agriculture to try for the nomination.

Johnson gained an 8,848 vote lead —though not a majority— in the first primary. Scott exercised his option, asking a run-off first in a Democratic gubernatorial race since 1936.

In that year's first primary, Clyde R. Hoey topped a four-man field, with a lead of 4,468 votes and went on to the governor's chair after the November election.

Unlike in 1936, when Hoey had the support of third-place A. H. Graham in the second primary, neither of this year's run-off contestants gained the backing of the No. 3 runner, R. Mayne Albright.

After three days of overtures from supporters of both Johnson and Scott, Albright announced he would take no part in the second primary beyond voting.

The No. 4 man, Oscar Barker of Durham, threw his support to Johnson. The other candidates, William F. Stanley, Sr., of Kinston and Olla Ray Boyd of Pinetown, said they would remain neutral.

Both the Scott and Johnson camps have picked up workers from the Albright ranks to augment their organizations for the second campaign.

Radio Prizes For Pitt Countians

Three Pitt Countians, appearing on the nation-wide broadcast "R.F.D. America" from Chicago, yesterday were awarded valuable prizes for their participation in the program and for correct answers to questions about farms and agriculture.

Mrs. Howard Moye of Farmville route two, won second place in the quiz contest(being edged out by a farmer from West Virginia who had won the program for three previous weeks. Mrs. Moye was awarded several prizes among which were a $300 sterling silver service for eight and an all-purpose 4,000 pound farm jack.

Dick Barnhill and Hilton Carson both of Stokes, route one, did not reach the finals in the quizz program, but won several prizes. Carson was awarded an inter-communication system for his farm and a vacuum cleaner. Barnhill was given a complete camping outfit which included a tent, a camp stove, a portable ice box, a gas lantern and a clipper seed cleaner.

All three were given an all-expense paid round trip to Chicago for the broadcast.

Police Court

The following cases were tried in Police Court last Friday:

Willie Bud Moore and Albert Lee Smith, both colored, paid $25 each, costs deducted, for forcible trespass, profane language and disorderly conduct.

Lester Acklin, colored, paid $25 and costs for driving without a driver's license; Hattie Lee Shepard, colored, also paid $25 and costs for a similar offense.

Major W. Lewis paid $20, costs deducted, for reckless driving.

Roy L. Little, colored, paid $25, costs deducted, for assault on a female.

Drunk: Romie J. Jones, guilty, appealed; Charlie Pittman, $15 and costs.

Speeding: Earl Lee Keel, $20 and costs; Francis E. Price, Jr., $20, costs deducted. The court recommended revocation of his license.

William A. Graham paid $200 and costs for driving after his license was revoked.

Fred D. Joyner, colored, paid $100 and costs for driving drunk, and his license was ordered revoked.

William A. Sawyer of Shelmerdine waived preliminary hearing on six charges of forgery, and was bound over to superior court.

Robert C. Ward, three charges of breaking, entering and larceny, probable cause was found and he was bound over to superior court.

Dan H. Satterfield, three charges of receiving stolen goods, appealed to superior court after he was convicted.

Hollis B. Atkinson, colored, non-support, ordered to pay court costs and $5 a week for support of his child.

Scott Attacking Secret Pledges

Raleigh, June 21 —(AP)— Kerr Scott asserted yesterday that his opponent for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination has made "numerous secret covenants" to win support.

In a statement Scott said that one of these has come "partly into the open" through publication of a letter from Mayor H. H. Baxter of Charlotte endorsing State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson for the nomination.

His opponent, Scott declared, "has promised to cut back large slices of general sales tax money and gasoline tax money from the State Treasury to the cities of the state." He added that "these promises should come fully into the open."

Scott said he knows cities "need financial relief" and that he had pleaded to help them. Every pledge, he added, "has been made in the open."

He declared that recent statement by Johnson advocating a larger highway commission was made to "cover up" promises of appointments and roads.

Expecting Crowd At Wallace Rally

Raleigh, N. C., June 21—(AP)—Leaders of North Carolnia's Progressive Party are expecting "several thousand" persons to attend a Wallace-for-President rally here tomorrow night.

At the meeting, Paul Robeson, famous Negro baritone who is co-chairman of the Wallace-for-President committee, will sing, and Dr. Clark Foreman, treasurer, will speak. The program also calls for an address by M. C. Dawson of Durham, a leader in the AFL Tobacco Workers Union and vice-chairman of the Progressive Party.

Give The East Its Governor

The 50-Year tradition of the Democratic Party of North Carolina should NOT be adjusted for the political ambitions of any man.

Kerr Scott lives in the West and he cannot rightfully claim to be an Eastern candidate. Alamance County has always been considered a part of the political west.

Thomas M. Holt was elected lieutenant-governor from Alamance County as a Westerner. The last three lieutenant-governors from the West have come from counties farther East than Scott's Alamance — Elmer Long of Durham, Sandy Graham of Orange and Reg Harris of Person.

In 1944, Mr. Scott, now seeking the governorship as a candidate for the East, sought support to run for the U. S. Senate against Bob Reynolds of Buncombe, as a candidate from the West.

With Mr. Scott it is apparent East is West and West is East as the political whim of the moment dictates.

Don't break this 50-year tradition! Vote for Charles M. Johnson, high man in the first primary, and the only candidate from the East in the race for Governor.

"Got anything actual to say?" he asked me. "If not, ring off. I've got a busy half day. I go off duty at noon."

"I think I'd like to talk to you." I suggested. "I mean, on your half-day off. Unofficially. About six miles off the record."

"Meaning you want me to do some work without pay," he laughed. "Sure. Come and meet me here at noon."

"Since it's unofficial, I'd rather meet you somewhere else."

"Well, there's a bar down the street from here, where most of the city hall eats—"

"Then let's meet at another. You are the only cop I want to talk to, or even have listening."

He named another bar. As I put the phone back on its stand, J. D. came in.

"Good morning," she said, smiling nicely.

"Did you have a good time last night, chief?"

"I was bored."

"Mmmm-hmmm," I said. "I can imagine."

"But the evening wasn't anything like a loss to the firm," went on J. D.

"No?"

"Dr. Stokes told me lots of things—things about Diane Ealing and Jim Kuhl. How far they were going with their affair he couldn't say, but Richard Ealing, as his close friend, was upset and angry. I think he'll tell me more tonight."

Just then the phone rang. J. D. answered it and then poked it toward me.

"For you, Jack. A lady."

I took the phone. It was Diane Ealing.

"Mrs. Pettigrew tells me you were here again last night," she said, in a voice very soft and pleasant for that time in the morning. "I'm sorry I wasn't here to help you."

"Me, too," I lied. "I'm bringing you back the derringer you lent me. I'm sorry to say I fired the cartridge that went with it."

I hung up, and not a word did J. D. say.

It was Diane Ealing who opened the front door for me. "I thought it might be you," she greeted me, and smiled a sort of special smile.

"Thanks for the loan of the gun," I said, and held it out to her.

"I was having a second cup of coffee," she said, "and I put out an extra cup for you. Won't you join me?"

I took the cup she offered me and had a sip. It was better than what Dr. Stokes had served to J. D. and me the morning before.

She picked up the derringer from where she'd laid it on the coffee table, snapped the barrel sideways, and squinted down the muzzle, holding her thumbnail at the breech to reflect light up and through. She knew about guns, all right.

"Thank you for cleaning it," she said after a moment. "And I'm not in the least miffed about your firing a test bullet from it."

"An investigator has to take every angle into consideration." I said, half apologizing. "When an angle is eliminated, he can forget it. Not before."

"So you're forgetting the angle that includes me?"

"The angle that includes that gun," I corrected. "There are a few other angles that interest me. I want to ask you some things about Dr. Stokes."

"Dr. Stokes was my husband's friend," she said. "Not mine. Dick and I each had our own friends."

"I've heard," and while I spoke Stokes used to be your friend, too." I was watching her, "that Dr.

"Yes, he was. As a matter of fact, I think it was he who introduced Dick to me. But he didn't stay my friend, not my close friend. Dr. Stokes can be difficult at times."

I said. "Anyway, he's a lady-killer."

"He didn't have his own way with me," she said. "I convinced him—the doctor—that the passes must stop. After that, he kept on being my physician. But nothing more. He isn't my type."

"You were drinking with him at about five-thirty or so, on the afternoon of your husband's death," I remembered.

"Is there anything wrong in that, Mr. Yates?"

"Not a thing. What I'm getting up to is that you were with him then. I wonder if possibly you remember what kind of a suit he was wearing."

"I remember very well indeed," she said at once. "It was an Oxford gray, double-breasted."

"Do you always remember things that well?" I asked.

"No, but I had a reason to notice his suit. He had blood on it."

"Blood!" I repeated it louder and with more excitement than I should have allowed myself.

"Why, yes," she nodded. "He'd been dressing Pettigrew's hand and he got a few splashes on his sleeve and his lapel."

"Now I'm going to ask some really personal questions," I said. "I don't have to start by asking you if Attorney James Kuhl is a close friend of yours, because plainly he is."

"I told you that Dick and I each had our own friends. We didn't feel that we had to have the same friends."

"Which means that your husband and Kuhl weren't good friends," I suggested. "How about Kuhl and Dr. Stokes?"

"They knew each other, but I doubt if they ever met except here, now and then. And no," she added, "they didn't like each other particularly."

"Now about your servants, the Pettigrews. Their whereabouts on the day of your husband's death. As I hear it, they were both gone most of the afternoon."

"Yes," she said. "I think they were."

She thought they were. I refrained from asking why she wasn't sure they were.

Democrats Talk Political Plans

Washington, June 21— (AP) —A campaign strategy meeting of about 15 top Democrats with President Truman was disclosed today by Presidential secretary Charles G. Ross. The session was held at the White House yesterday.

Mr. Truman gave the group a review of his 9,000-mile, 15-day western speech making tour, Ross said.

Numbered Houses, Named Streets For Convenience

By CHESTER WALSH

The tall metal standards or posts on which metal signs bearing the names of streets are to be installed at every intersection in Greenville have arrived. The name platees are in transit and work of installing the markers will start shortly, Mayor Jack Boyd said today.

The correct numbering of all dwellings and commercial buildings is nearing completion. Some time ago the board of aldermen employed a Raleigh civil engineer to make a map of the city and correctly number each building and each vacant lot.

The map shows the north and south dividing line of numbering at First street. Houses north of First street will be number so-and-so North.

Those south of First street will be numbered so-and-so South. It should be understood that when the city limits were extended and the Fleming's Cross Roads community was taken in the streets running north and south would be extended across the river, and numbered over there as north.

Evans street is the east-west dividing line for numbering. For instance ,houses east of Evans will be numbered as East and those west of Evans street, will be West. When the numbering of buildings is completed addresses will be described as north or south Evans, and east or west First street, the engineer explained.

The Greenville postmaster has a copy of the new map and he said it will greatly facilitate the delivery of mail and other things.

Incidentally, the Greenville oZning Commission has zoned Greene street as business sections Cotanche street to Seventh and Evans street to Eeighth. On the new map of the city a number is assigned for each 25 feet.

Much Damage In Saturday's Fire At Winterville

Fire which originated in the boiler room of the wood-working plant of the Winterville Cotton Oil Company in Winterville shortly after noon Saturday, destroyed two buildings, including the cotton gin, and damaged another. The cotton storage building was not damaged, Greenville Fire Chief George Gardner said. The plant is owned by J. H. Blount of Greenville and other interests. They had not estimated the extent of the damage.

Greenville and Ayden firemen, in charge of Chief George Gardner and Gene Smith respectively, were there with fire-fighting apparatus and helped to control th eblaze.

Major W. H. Stanley, head of the Pitt County Post of the Salvation Army, served refreshments to the fire-fighters during the several-hour battle, Winterville Fire Chief George Cox said. No residential property was damaged.

Parent-Teacher Meeting Starts

Leaves Scene

New Delhi, June 21 —(AP)— Lord Mountbatten retired as governor general today and free India's self-rule by her own people become complete.

Oriental splendor and western pageantry blended as elder statesman Chakravarthi Rajagopalachari took the oath as Mountbatten's successor, becoming the first Indian ever to held this important post.

A slender figure in white homespun national garb, Rajagopalachari, 69, stood against a background of rich red velvet drapes embroidered in gold and swore to perform the duties of his new office.

Farm Woman Grows 16 Vegetables In Columbus Garden

College Station, Raleigh, June 21—Growing 16 vegetables in one garden at the same time is the unusual accomplishment of Mrs. Leamon Stanley of Pireway, Columbus county, reports Charles D. Raper, county agent for the State College Extension Service.

The farm agent said he found the following vegetables growing in the Stanley garden earlier this month: Collards, pole beans, carrots, several kinds of radishes, cabbage, cucumbers, pepper, squash, okra, bunch butterbeans of three ages, peas of three ages, Irish potatoes of two ages, pole butterbeans, strawberries, tomatoes, and English peas.

"Mrs. Stanley has a right to be proud of her garden," Raper commented. "It means that the family will have plenty of vegetables and she will be able to can or freeze what's left. The garden will almost feed the family for the year, especially with the large amount of canned goods and frozen vegetables. Having to buy only a small amount at the grocery store means money for the other things which the family needs."

Locals Lose To Goldsboro, Defeat Wilson On Weekend

Nessing's Homer In Seventh Gives The Greenies 1-0 Margin Over Tobs As Kovalchick Registers Shutout; Big Rally In The Ninth Wins For Goldsboro

By BERT MOYE

The Greenville Greenies split their week-end bill with a loss to the Goldsboro Bugs Saturday night at Guy Smith stadium, 7-4, and then traveled to Wilson Sunday to shutout the Wilson Tobs, 1-0, for the third shutout of the season handed the Tobs.

Sunday's Game

Joe Nessing's 350-foot homer over the left field wall in the seventh frame, gave the Greenies a 1-0 triumph over the Wilson Tobs in Wilson yesterday afternoon. The round-tripper was Nessing's second of the season.

Johnny Kovalchick registered his seventh win of the season as he held the Tobs to four hits, only one of which was for an extra base. He walked two men and struck out three. Al Rehm, Tob's shortstop, got two singles in four trips to the plate to account for two of the hits.

Fred Pittman, on the mound for the Tobs, gave up nine hits, walked three and struck out two.

Joe Nessing, in addition to his homer, collected three singles to have a perfect day at bat, and lead the Greenies' attack. Joe Sposa got a double, and Wiley Nash and Ray Phillips each got a triple for the other extra base hits of the game.

Saturday's Game

Jack Hussey's grand-slam homer in the ninth to bring in Chiles, who had reached first on Lastree' error, Whitener, who had walked, and Verne Blackwell, who had loaded the bases with an infield hit, gave the Goldsboro Bugs a 7-4 win over the Greenies here Saturday night in a game that was packed with thrills from the start to the finish.

The Bugs scored in the first frame when Chiles and Whitener were issued free passes to first. Verne Blackwell sacrificed, and Jack Hussey hit a fly to deep left field with Chiles scoring on the out.

The Greenies matched this run in their first frame when Lastres and Phillips walked, Cohen forced Lastres at third and Nash forced Cohen at second, but second sacker Chiles threw the ball wild in an effort to catch Phillips at third, who raced home on the bad throw.

The Bugs then went out in front by scoring singletons in the third and fourth frames. Verne Blackwell walked and Hussey tripled to bring him home in the third frame. In the fourth inning, Merle Blackwell singled and Smith tripled to bring him home.

The Greenies scored one run in the seventh when Joe Sposa slammed out a 340-foot homer over the right field wall.

They staged a two-run rally in the ninth frame when Sposa and Carter singled, Lastres reached first on Smith's error to load the bases and Ray Phillips singled, scoring Sposa and Carter.

John Tate, pitching his third game for the Greenies, was credited with his second loss of the season. He gave up 11 hits, six walks and struck out five men. Jack Hussey with a homer, triple and a single, and Ted Jones with a double and two singles led the attack for the Goldbugs.

Bill Kaires, registering his eighth win as against four losses, allowed four walks and struck out only two Greenies. Joe Sposa with a homer and two singles in three trips to the plate led the eight-hit attack off Kaires.

Featured afield for the Greenies was the work of Danny Lastres at shortstop, who on several occasions scooped up hard hit balls and threw with bullet-like precision to first and his catch of Verne Blackwell's ball back of second base to rob him of a hit and throw him out at first in the seventh frame.

The following is the schedule of play for the Greenies this week: Monday, Wilson at Greenville; Tuesday, Greenville at New Bern; Wednesday, New Bern at Greenville; Thursday, Greenville at Kinston; Friday, Kinston at Greenville; Saturday, Greenville at Tarboro; and Sunday, Tarboro at Greenville. The Greenies are at the present time having no double-headers stare them in the face and have played all their games so far this season.

Sidelights: Jerry Chitty, who was given a 10-day suspension by club officials recently, has been placed on the active list . . . Bob Doty was in town Saturday renewing old acquaintances . . . said he was looking for some ball players . . . One of the best shorts in baseball is playing currently at the Pitt for the last time today, it is called "Big League Glory" . . . It gives the low down on real spring training . . . Jack Thrush at the present time is hitting .256 for the Wimington club of the Tobacco State League . . . Willie Mauney is hitting at a .335 clip for Concord of N. C. State League . . . Lefty Junior Yohn will be on the mound for the Greenies tonight when they play the Wilson Tobs in the second of a two-game series.

Due to the mishap in which Charles Alltop, catcher for the Raleigh Capitals in the Carolina League, suffered a broken finger, Clay Sheehan, New Bern's extra catcher, who was sent to New Bern by Raleigh to replace Bill Brooks when the latter received injuries and was placed on the sick list of the Bears last month, was recalled to Raleigh to fill the chores of Alltop . . . Other changes in the Bear's roster includes the release of Lou Counes, who was sent back to Raleigh when the Bears found they could no longer use him . . . Raymond Wisneski, a limited service man who played in 1946 before going with New Bern, has been added to the hurling staff . . . He is from Waterbury, Conn., and has played Class B ball against the Bridgeport Bees who held their spring drills in New Bern . . .

Know Your Golf Shots

By HERMON BARRON
Written Especially for (AP) Newsfeatures

For the No. 5 iron shot I still advise the square stance and the same grip on the club. The ball should be played in the dead center of your feet.

This is a little different than when you use the No. 2 or No. 3 iron where the ball is played slightly toward the left foot.

With the medium iron you stand up fairly straight and move closer to the ball. Keep the backswing slow and smoothe and hold your head down until the swing is completed.

Again the relation of your legs and feet are very important to keep your balance.

Always spread your feet about the width of your shoulders, never any more.

Still take a full swing. Let the clubhead do the rest.

Navy And Cornell Rowers Favored

Pougheepsie, N. Y., June 21—(AP)—The experts like navy and Cornell from the east over Washington and California from the west in tomorrow's 46th renewal of the Poughkeepsie regatta.

The experts don't agree with the record book . . .

The record book shows that since 1923 Washington has won the event seven times and California five times, all at the old four-mile distance. During that time Navy took it four times and Cornell once.

In the same span, Washington collected five seconds and six thirds; Cornell five seconds and three thirds; Navy three seconds and three thirds and California three seconds and one third.

So the record book would make it west over east.

But the record book doesn't take into consideration that most of those old races were over four miles, and tomorrow's is the three miles. Nor does it consider the wartime cessation of rowing at many of the competing schools, notably the two far western powers. Many think the westerners still are at least a year away from regaining their pre-war greatness.

Navy, meanwhile, goes into tomorrow's ring as defending champion, having outdistanced Cornell, Washington, California and Princeton in that order a year ago today. Seven of the eight sweep-swingers in Coach Buck Walsh's boatload are veterans of last year's winning ride.

Weight Limit Is Major Obstacle

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson has a 15-round title date with 21-year-old Bernard Docusen at Comiskey Park tonight, provided a noon-time date with the scales doesn't further mess up the off-and-brawl.

Robinson's third title defense originally was scheduled at Comiskey Park last Thursday night, but the promoters called it off because of rain.

The four-day delay in re-scheduling the affair resulted because the Chicago White Sox had to do some baseballing in their park over the weekend.

And because the postponement was longer than 48 hours, the Illinois Athletic Commission ordered a loudly-protesting Robinson to weigh-in for a second time this noon.

Robinson, beaten only once in 88 bouts since 1940 and a knockout winner 58 times, had to starve and peel down to complete nakedness to make the 147 welter poundage last Thursday noon.

Docusen, a fancy Johnny-come-lately from New Orleans with only two defeats in 58 fights, tipped the commission beam at a lean 145 1-2 in the first scaling.

When Julius Caesar invaded Britain, a flat from bar about 11 ounces was the "pound sterling" of the era.

Sport Slants by Pap

Belting Brave . . . by Pap

A 17-game batting streak carried Tommy Holmes to the top of the National League batting list and projected the belting Boston Braves into the thick of the fight for individual batting honors. He has been "Old Reliable" at the plate this spring and his solid hitting has kept the Braves within striking distance of the leaders in the pennant chase. Tommy has been shifted up and down the batting line-up by Manager Bally Southworth like a monkey on a stick. Because Holmes has been getting his base knocks so consistently, Manager Southworth has been using him to plug the weak spots.

When Ed Stanky turned up with the flu, Holmes was shifted to the lead-off spot and he went right on getting his share of hits. He has batted as low as sixth as well as in the clean-up spot, fourth, and second. And always with the same result—base hits. He has the speed and is versatile enough with the willow to fit into any slot.

Holmes is a quiet, modest ball player and most popular with his teammates and the boston fans. His effortless style attracts little attention and too often he is taken for granted. It would take something like winning the individual batting championship of the league to focus attention on Tommy, and, the way he has been hitting, this could be his year.

Locke's Win Is One For Golf's History Books

Chicago, June 21 —(AP)— The boys dusted off the record books today after Bobby Locke captured the Chicago Victory championship with a 72-hole total of 266—18 strokes under par and a margin over Ellsworth Vines of 16.

The chipping and putting wizard from South Africa fired a final round 66 over Midlothian's par 35-36—71 layout. He posted a pair of 65's to break the course record in his first two trips of the tournament and added a third round 70.

His 16-stroke winning edge was the best since 1945 when Ben Hogan blasted 261 to beat Byron Nelson by 17 strokes in the Portland, Ore., Open. Locke's 266 was the second best total of the season. Skip Alexander of Lexington, N. C., won the 1948 Tucson, Ariz., Open with 264.

Track And Field Prospects Look Bright For U. S.

New York, June 21—(AP)—Ten Olympic track and field victories in London appear in sight today for the United States team, with four more possible.

Ten would keep unbroken America's long line of triumphs in the games. In 1936 at Berlin the United States won 12 firsts, and in 1932 at Los Angeles scored 11. There are 24 events in the sport that is the center of the Olympic program.

America's great strength is in the field events and hurdles. The list of ten probable first places conservatively takes no account of the 100 and 200 meter dash which Mel Patton of Southern California win if his legs hold out.

Solid foundation of the American team are men who have bettered world records—Charles Fonville of Michigan with 58 feet 1-4 inches in the Shot and Harrison Dillard of Baldwin Wallace with 13.6 in the high hurdles. Patton, with 09.3, has cut under the world 100-yard mark. Fortune Gordien of Minnesota has come close to the world standard in the discuss. Reinforcing Dillard is Clyde Scott of Arkansas who did a brilliant 13.7 for the 110 meters hurdles at the National collegiates.

Picking Olympic winners is hazardous both because obscure athletes always pop up in the games and because the challenge of competition makes mediocre men rise to great heights.

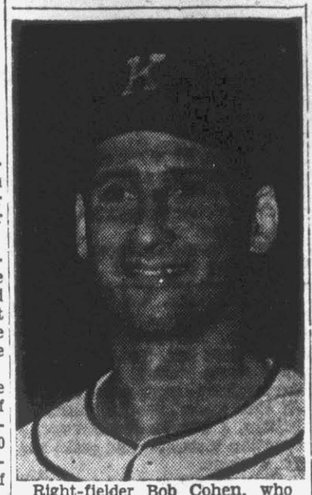
Louis Looks Better Than He Did For Dec. 5 Fight



Right-fielder Bob Cohen, who pinch-hit for Bill Phebus when the Greenies' manager was ill, has been appointed acting manager of the local ball club following Phebus' resignation.

New York, June 21—(AP)—Looking sharper and more vicious than he has been for some time, Joe Louis was almost ready today to make his next and perhaps final bid for fistic immortality.

Only a few finishing touches remained for the Brown Bomber before he steps into the Yankee Stadium ring Wednesday night for his 15-round return title bout with Jersey Joe Walcott.

After weeks of listless performances, the champion appears to have finally come into his own. In his last few workouts, the champ has shown some of the power punching that carried him to the heavyweight throne.

Saturday the Bomber was snaping out his left jab, one of his most potent weapons in the long ago, with plenty of the old power. He was hooking well to the body and crossing his right with plenty of zip. His concentration on body punching seemed to indicate his plan of action for the big fight.

Those who saw him work went sky high on the champ to repeat easily. Sunday Louis didn't look too hot. A crowd of about 5,000 watched the Bomber, but he obviously was not putting on any show, being content to practice with his left.

Louis is dead set on whipping Walcott. He has built up a cold anger against the veteran who carried him the full 15 rounds last Dec. 5 and almost scored an upset. For Louis, who won the crown from Jimmie Braddock almost 11 years ago, this 25th title defense is the last big obstacle.

The bookmakers figure the Bomber will make it. He's a 15 to 13 favorite to win and a 5 to 6 choice to flatten Walcott.

Phebus Resigns As Club Manager

Manager Bill Phebus, who has been manager of the Greenville Greenies since the start of the current season, resigned as manager of the local club Saturday afternoon. The resignation became effective immediately.

Phebus, who was forced to take a rest several days ago on account of being in a run down condition, gave ill health as his reason for quitting the post.

Bob Cohen, veteran outfielder of the Greenies, who handled the job as manager during Phebus' recent illness, has been named temporary acting manager of the local club and took over his new duties at Saturday night's game.

Phebus left for his home in Bartow, Florida, Sunday, but before leaving he stated that he wished to express his gratitude to the people of Greenville for the many hospitalities shown him and his wife during their brief stay here in Greenville and that his stay here will always be one for him to remember.

Louise Suggs To Miss Tourney

Chicago, June 21—(AP) — Four former champions will be on deck, but golfdom's gal-of-the-hour and the 1947 titlist, little Louise Suggs, will be missing as 140 stars tee off today in the 19th Women's Western Open tourney.

That apparently means easier sailing in a try at her fourth [illegible] open crown for Babe Didrickson Zaharias in the week-long [illegible] which opens with 18-hole medal firing for 32 match play berths.

GOING THEIR SEPARATE WAYS — Jockey Orlan Brown still hangs on to the bridle of Charioteer as he is tossed from the saddle after clearing the last hurdle in the Hibler Purse hurdle race at New York's Belmont Park.

4-H Members At Camp Last Week

Forty-four boys and girls, members of the Pitt County 4-H organization, spent Monday through Saturday of last week at the state 4-H camp on Roanoke Island. They shared the week's camping activities with 36 young people from Wayne County.

The Pitt County group was accompanied by Marjorie Shearin and Verna Belle Lowery, assistant home agents, and Bill Pruden, assistant county agent.

During the week the 4-H members attending the camp visited historical points in the area, including Fort Raleigh, the Wright Memorial, and took a trip on the Mann's Harbor ferry. One night they attended a practice of the second act of the Lost Colony peageant as guests of the cast.

The week's activities included recreation, handicraft and ocean swimming. Each member attending the camp made a mail box sign with his name on it as part of the handicraft class. Sixteen boys and girls learned to swim in the beginners' swimming class during the week.

"The group this year was the best behaved group I have ever seen at the camp, Bill Pruden, assistant county agent remarked.

The camp staff is composed of Director Jesse James, assistant State 4-H club leader, two life guards, a dietitian, a handicraft instructor, a recreation instructor and cooks and dish washers.

This year the campers are being housed in the former officers' club buildings on Roanoke Island.

Going West?

Denver—(AP)—You're heading west on your vacation and plan to do some mountain driving?

Well, take heed of these tips and you'll find it safer than barreling down those straight, concrete strips across the praries.

The Colorado Highway Patrol suggests:

Keep right. When you edge around a blind turn you expect your side of the road to be clear. The approaching driver has a right to the same expectation.

Take it easy on those brakes. When going down hill, shift into lower gear. Don't shift into neutral and coast. You have to keep your car under control.

Don't try to show how your car "pulls this hill in high." When it drops below 20 miles an hour, shift into second.

Don't stop your car along the road to admire nature. Up the road a way, the highway department has provided a parking space where you can stop without blocking the road.

Observe those signs "Deer on Highway" and "Bridle Path," because chances are a deer may come bounding across in front of your car.

Speed Typist Gives Demonstration Here

Albert Tangora, speed typist who seven times has been holder of the world's typing championship, will give a demonstration in the auditorium of the Classroom building at East Carolina Teachers College on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The demonstration will be sponsored by the department of business education at the college and will be open to the public. Dr. Elmer R. Browning and his associates in the department extend an invitation to all who are interested in seeing Tangora at the typewriter keys and hearing him comment on his methods of gaining speed.

In The Movies

Local movie-goers yesterday were surprised to see a home-town girl in a Paramount sports reel "Big League Glory" showing at the Pitt theatre. Miss Lillian Wooten, Greenville girl who attends Duke University, appeared in one of the scenes showing the Duke and Yale baseball teams and the spectators watching the game. Miss Wooten is the daughter of Mrs. W. I. Wooten and the late Dr. Wooten of this city.

No Absentee Ballot Democratic Primary Saturday, June 26

No absentee ballots are allowed in the Democratic Primary, J. Henry Harrell, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Elections, said today, in response to numerous inquiries. Only members of the armed forces may vote in absentia at a primary, he added.

The second Democratic Primary next Saturday, June 26, is strictly a Democratic Party affair. Democrats will be in charge of the polls.

In next Saturday's runoff are Charles M. Johnson and W. Kerr Scott for the nomination for governor of the state and Marvin Smith of Chicod and Wayland Hunsucker of Winterville, for county commissioner from the Fourth District.

Voting will be at the usual places. The polls will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Furniture Show Gets Under Way

New York, June 21—(AP)—Exhibitors at the New York Summer Furniture Market, which opened today, generally are optimistic as to the outlook for furniture business this fall.

The extent to which store buyers will place orders at this show, however, remains to be seen. Some manufacturers expect large buyers to shop the market here, but to hold off placing orders until the go to the Chicago market, opening July 5.

RELICS BACK IN POLAND

Warsaw, Poland— (AP) —Personal properties of Tedeusz Kosiuszko, Polish hero who helped Americans win their independence, have come back to their rightful resting place. Flage, uniforms, rifles, souvenirs and trinkets which were carried out of Poland by the Germans have been recovered and placed in the Polish army museum.

Start Work On Widening Street

By CHESTER WALSH

Preliminary work on the project of widening West Fifth Street from Albemarle Avenue to the city limits, just beyond C. M. Eppes Negro High school, was started today by the State Highway Public Works Commission. When the paving is completed the street will be 36 feet from curb to curb, with a five-foot sidewalk and a two and one-half foot parkway, Mayor Jack Boyd said.

Workmen were today cutting down trees. Several dwellings will be moved to clear the right of way and the Greenville Utilities Commission and the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company have been notified to move back to the sidewalks their electric and telephone lines. A State Highway Commission official said nearly all of the property owners on West Fifth street are agreeable to widening the street for safety, convenience and speeding up heavy traffic over that thoroughfare.

Chinese City Is Given Its Weekly 'Bath' By Plane

Tsingtag, China,—(AP)—This city where the U. S. Western Pacific fleet anchors gets a weekly bath of DDT. And as a result, says Marine Col. Lamson Scribner, it is the cleanest city in north China. As for flies and mosquitoes, it can be compared favorably with any American city.

The spraying, by a specially-equipped Naval transport plane, was considered necessary because of the long devastating effects of war and the influx of destitute refugees to Tsingtao.

Since early April, this navy blue craft roars over the city every Monday morning, only about 100 feet above the ground. Residents long since have become accustomed to its long wake of white cloud. This is a special mixture of DDT powder and Diesel oil. The oil helps the DDT spread on the surface of the water and other places where insects breed.

Spangled Banner and the prayer—open every session of the convention.

The clergymen offering the prayers at the various sessions are of different religious beliefs: Protestants, a Catholic, a Jew.

The first talks today are addresses of welcome by the Mayor of Philadelphia and the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Then the delegates hear the reports of the various committees already set up to work out the details of the convention.

Then, after a little more business they quit until 9 o'clock tonight.

There are two big speeches tonight:

1. By Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois. This is the keynote speech. He'll try to scorch the Democrats.

2. By Mrs. Clara Boothe Luce, who denounced the Democratc at the Republican convention in 1944. Expect a report performance tonight.

(Tomorrow night former President Herbert Hoover, who blasted the Democrats in the 1944 Republican convention, will speak again.)

Tourist Business

Schaffhausen, Switzerland—(AP)—Switzerland's tourist business in 1947 was worth about 117 million dollars to the Swiss economy, the Central office for Tourist Promotion reported to the members recently. Statistics for the first quarter of this year promised 1948 would be equally as fruitful.

Parachute Jumper At Air Show June 27

Jack Huber, celebrating his 20th year of exhibition parachute jumps, is shown entering the cockpit of the plane which will take him more than two miles high for his daring two-mile delayed opening parachute act. Huber has fallen through space more than 3,000 miles and will be featured in the Air Circus to be held at the Greenville Airport Sunday, June 27, under auspices of the Greenville Aero Club.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—Weather news provided the background for most of the activity on the board of trade today. With rains everywhere from the wheat territory of the Southwest through the Mid-West corn belt, little buying enthusiasm could be developed in grains.

Wheat closed ½-¾ lower, July $2.31, corn was ⅞-2⅛ lower, July $2.20⅞-¾, and oats were unchanged to ¼ lower, July 94⅛-¼. There was no trade in soybeans.

In normal times, most of the world's mercury is supplied by Italy and Spain.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, June 21—(AP)—A slow decline in the stock market gained momentum late today and leading issues declined fractions to around two points.

Richfield Oil ran up a spectacular 9½-point gain before receding. Other favored oils included Sinclair, Shamrock Oil, Maracaibo, and Panhandle Producing. Rails did pretty for a while but weakened toward the close.

Central Railroad of N.J., plunged around nine points at one time. Transcontinental and Western slid more than two points and Pepsi Cola was off more than a point at a new low for the year.
