Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—The Republican party's 1948 platform, adopted by the convention here, is a pretty carefully worded document.

Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—The result of compromise. It's a careful, cautious statement, particularly so when it touches on social problems. For example, on education the platform says: "We favor equality of education opportunity for all and the promotion of education and educational facilities."

Already Talking On Who Should Be Vice Presidential Running Mate; Aides Work On Acceptance Speech; Anti-Dewey Forces Desperately Try To Halt Swing

By JACK BELL

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey rode an apparently rising tide of votes today in this crowded with delegates to pick a Republican presidential candidate.

BULLETIN

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—When 46 states had voted in the first Republican Presidential nominating roll call today, the unofficial count stood:

Dewey 423, Taft 217, Stassen 135, Warren 55, Vandenberg 65, J. Martin 19, Green 56, Baldwin 19, MacArthur 3, Driessell 35, Reece 15.

Backers of the New York governor were so confident he had the nomination that they were talking about who should be his vice presidential running mate. Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana was getting most frequent mention.

Col. Robert E. McCormick, Chicago publisher who backed Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, said Dewey had promised second place to Halleck. McCormick said that was the understanding when Halleck came out yesterday for Dewey.

Before the shirt-sleeved delegates started filing into the hall, Dewey's boom got boosts from Massachusetts and West Virginia.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall, "favorite son" candidate of Massachusetts, got out of the race as Dewey's personal support to Dewey.

Just think of the time, money and energy spent in the race for governor. If there had been any real issue, something that should have been brought before the people, then such a course might have been justifiable. But the campaign was largely a quarrel between two men, and has added nothing to the real knowledge of the people. The state should not have another such campaign.

Miss Hannah Honored at Luncheon

Mrs. L. T. Shotwell and Miss Muriel Shotwell entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon on Wednesday at 1 o'clock honoring Miss Nancy Hannah, bride-elect of Saturday. In the dining room the table was overlaid with a handsome cloth and centered with three horse hair hats in pastel shades and green ribbon, filled with snapdragons, sweetpeas, daisies and gypsophelia, also in pastel shades.

tel shades. The unique place cards were handpainted wedding slippers bearing the names of the guests. A three course luncheon was served. The honoree and Miss Ruby Moyer of Maury, bride-elect of this month, were each presented a hand painted wedding invitation in an antique frame. Mrs. Richard Gaylord, a recent bride, and Miss Ann Glass of Danville, Va., house guest of Miss Shotwell, were also remembered with attractive gifts. Guests included members of the wedding party.

During the evening members who attended the convention of the N.C. State Federation of Women's Clubs gave impromptu sidelights on their convention experiences. ## Quadruplets Are Reunited Upon Returning Home

Latrobe, Pa., June 24—(P)—The Zavada quadruplets were reunited today. Three little girls—all blonde and blue eyed—were taken home yesterday to join their brother, John Michael. The quads were born last Feb. 15 two months prematurely. Andrew and Barbara Zavada—the parents—brought a sleepy-eyed John Michael to the hospital when they called for the rest of their family. John Michael yawned and shut his eyes at the homecoming. Mother Zavada, 26, smiled and said she expected to have lots of fun with her "human treasure." Zavada said optimistically, "I only hope they'll sleep until 5 a. m."

Wesley Players In Radio Presentation On Sunday Evening

The Wesley Players, dramatic organization of Methodist students attending East Carolina Teachers College, presented on last Sunday evening the radio drama "Fishermen in the Night" by James Warren of Greenville. The program, which was given over Station WGIC in Greenville, was the first to be presented by the group.

"Fishermen in the Night," a story of religious significance, has its setting on the Pamlico River in eastern North Carolina. Warren, the author, was formerly a student at East Carolina Teachers College. Recently he completed the requirements for a master's degree in drama and radio at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

Those taking part in the program included Richard Powers, St. Paul; William H. Durham, Jr., Rocky Mount; Roland Braswell, Goldsboro; and Rodney Roberts, Greenville. Sound effects were in charge of Sam Strickland, Greenville, and Otis Peele, Washington.

'Operation Bootstrap'

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
Washington—Atomic scientists are talking more and more about a major atomic project—Operation Bootstrap. In simple words, its goal is to "breed" atomic fuel from other atomic fuel, getting more than the original amount. At the same time heat and electricity would be produced. Thus atomic fuel would be "pulling itself up by its bootstraps."

Dr. Robert F. Bacher, the only scientist member of the Atomic Energy Commission, called this project "revolutionary" in a recent speech. He added that "it certainly is exciting." He says Operation Bootstrap possibly may answer the question whether atomic plants ever will provide a major amount of the world's power. It may answer other questions, too, but this one is of prime importance. Here's why:

Even if scientists discover ways to build atomic power plants on a large scale, the basic raw material—uranium—is scarce. Operation of the plants would be limited to the amount of uranium that can be found in the world. Operation Bootstrap is investigating one way to get around this.

Atomic bombs and power plants must have a fissionable material as a base. A fissionable material is an element whose atoms will split by chain reaction and give out energy.

In the atomic bomb project the fissionable material is produced from uranium by the huge atomic installations at enormous cost. Uranium is divided into sister elements, U-235 and U-238. U-235 is fissionable U-238 is not. There are 140 times as much U-238 as U-235. The U-238 can be turned into a fissionable material, plutonium, but the present process uses as much U-235 as it creates plutonium out of U-238. So there's no profit in it.

Now scientists hope to "breed" fissionable material from U-238 and from another element, thorium. The quantity of fissionable material they create would be much greater than the amount consumed in the process, and in addition it would create heat and electricity as a by-product.

There are two big advantages of the new method: (1) U-238 is 140 times as abundant as its sister element, U-235. That means the raw product from which they come, uranium, would be made to produce much more fissionable material than by present methods. If U-238 can be used efficiently, and (2) it would add a new element, thorium, to the raw materials from which fissionable materials can be produced in quantity. There is estimated to be from three to four times as much thorium as uranium in the world.

The "breeding" is done this way: The scientists start off with a pile of U-235. They place the other materials, called "fertile materials"—U-238 and thorium, which are radio active but not fissionable—in the pile. This "fertile material" then becomes fissionable and thus is itself an atomic fuel.

The success of Operation Bootstrap depends upon how efficient the scientists can make the process. At present most fissionable material has to come from the elaborate atomic plants that have been constructed at a cost of more than two billion dollars. The new process, if successful, would permit more material to by-pass these plants.

In a practical way, here's what Operation Bootstrap: The British use about 50 billion kilowatt hours of electricity a year. They estimate it would take 1,000 tons of uranium to produce that much of electricity. But the world's entire production of uranium in 1939—the last year for which figures are available—was only 1,600 tons.

How much uranium there is in the world and the rate at which it is being mined are official secrets, but the British say the known figures are significant. They say that on this basis, atomic energy on a great scale, doesn't seem feasible.

If operation Bootstrap is successful, the whole picture is changed, because the supply of "atomic fuel" would be increased many times. Meanwhile this is Bacher's advice: "Don't believe all the wild predictions you hear of atomics."

Big Eaters Go To Chicago, As Statistics Show

Chicago—(AP)—Visitors who have left Chicago with a "fed-up" feeling need no longer wonder why. It was something they ate.

The Chicago convention bureau says in a year's time 900,000 conventioners come here to meet—and to eat. The men and women, on the average, stay three days. That means 3,100,000 meals.

The itemized bill of fare includes 11,965,000 pounds of meat, 2,565,000 pounds of fish, 18,000,000 potatoes, 2,025,000 pounds of vegetables, 3,312,000 eggs, 9,000,000 slices of bread, 3,400,000 pieces of pastry, 3,600,000 scoops of ice cream, 9,000,000 cups of coffee.

TB Is Fatal For Many In Poland

Warsaw—(AP)—Poland's health agencies are fighting a hard war against tuberculosis. It has been claiming as high as 18,000 lives monthly—more than 200,000 per year. Millions of Poles are suffering tuberculosis in some form.

The health ministry, assisted by the Danish Red Cross, the Norwegian Red Cross, the Polish Red Cross and other agencies, plans tuberculosis examinations within the next two years for approximately 2,000,000 persons aged 2 to 18 years. The Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations is slated to give substantial aid in this big drive to detect, arrest, cure or prevent tuberculosis.

Strength FOR THE DAY

A ROSE-BED
Man is something more than a creature. He was made in the image of God, and unless he retains that spiritual side of his nature, he is something less than a man.

A friend of mine planted roses
on either side of a garden path.
But the roses failed to flourish as the gardener had hoped. At first he wondered if perhaps the light was not enough. But he counted the hours of sunshine that fell upon the bed and found that the light was sufficient. So he consulted a specialist in roses to ask for his advice.
And this was the answer which the expert gave. "Your roses have suffered from lack of water. The roots of the trees over there? The roots of the trees reach into this rose-bed and are taking away the nourishment which your roses need."

This is what so often happens to us in this world of ours. We have plenty of light from God. But many things—worth-while things to be sure, though not the best—send their roots into our lives and use up all the nourishment which we need for spiritual strength.

If we are to develop into something better than a mere creature, let us beware lest our secular interests overshadow him who is the Light of the World or prevent the nourishment of our souls which comes from him who is the Bread of Life.

LET'S VOTE FOR OUR OWN GOOD

We're not overstating the case when we say that the coming utilities bond issue election is more important to us in Greenville than who will be elected our next governor. Governors will come and go, but our community is here for keeps; we who live here must play our respective roles of good citizenship by taking part in the obligations of government and the building for the future.

The Greenville Utilities
have long been the only profit-making institution operated by the city. Each year a sizeable sum has been turned back to the community to help cover the expenses and costs of services that accompany government. As a business, the Utilities present a sound enterprise of which we can all be proud.

At present, the power plant is capable of handling community needs, if nothing breaks down; but the reserve set-up is not adequate for anything like full service in times of emergency, nor can the utilities continue to indefinitely serve this rapidly expanding city without some expansion of its own.

Big homes and small homes are mushrooming into existence in all quarters of Greenville. The town keeps expanding, and the accompanying needs are being met by the utilities.

Newly-included sections require more services, and it is no small undertaking to fill the increasing needs with only limited facilities.

Buying power from the outside is no permanent solution. It is to our best interests to keep our utilities
on a par with current needs and capable of meeting eventualities. The program for expanding these services is also part of a forward-looking administration which is tem would take over the governor's office.

CANDIDATES — There are two active and one "Barkis is willing" candidates for the post. Julian Alls-brook of Roanoke Rapids and J.
Carlton Pittman of Sanford are campaigning for the office and D. L.
Ward of New Bern has taken the Barkis role. He may become as active as the others before the assembly convenes on January 5, 1949.
All three candidates are successful lawyers.

ALLSBROOK—Allsbrook will be serving his third time in the senate from Halifax county. He came to the senate in 1935 and to the house of representatives in 1941. He was nominated again in 1942 but resigned from the ticket before the fall election to enter the navy. In 1945 he was placed on inactive duty as a naval lieutenant and in 1946
was again elected to the senate.
This year he was nominated without opposition. He is the only candidate for the post of president pro tem with a war service record and was voted by legislative reporters as the most valuable member of the 1947 senate.

PITTMAN—Pittman will also be serving a third time as senator from Lee County. He was first elected to the 1937 session. Rotating agreement in the 13th senatorial district gives Lee County a senator every other time. Pittman was elected again for the 1941 and 1945 sessions, and this year was nominated without opposition. He has no experience in the House of Representatives, but has come to the Senate every time Lee was entitled to the place within the past ten years.

WARD — Ward has the longest continuous legislative record. He came to the house of representatives from Craven County in 1933, was re-elected for the 1937, 1939, 1941 and 1943 sessions, serving as speaker in 1939. He was one of the two senators from the seventh district in 1945 and 1947 general assemblies and like the other two candidates for president pro tem was nominated this year without opposition.

TRIPS—Each of the three candidates will be serving a third term in the senate, although Allsbrook was nominated (equivalent to election) for one additional term. The overall legislative service record will be

Around Capitol Square

PRO TEM — A lively contest is brewing for the position as president pro tem of the 1949 senate. This will probably be the only serious scrap in connection with the legislative organization next January. H. P.
(Pat) Taylor, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, is assured election in November and will preside over the senate. Kerr Orange Ramey of Rowan is slated to be named speaker of the house of representatives without opposition — or at most with only token opposition. The lieutenant governor and the speaker name the committees, including two members each of the advisory budget commission, and usually the post of senate president pro tem is an almost empty honor.
Its genuine importance lies in the fact that the president pro tem is second in line of succession to the governorship. If both the governor and lieutenant governor should become incapacitated or disqualified for any reason, the president pro

WASHINGTON LETTER
By JANE EADS

Washington—The Philippines, celebrating the second anniversary of their independence on July 4, are now proud of the progress they have made as a fledgling republic. They are proudest of all that their new government has been able to balance the country's budget. It started out almost bankrupt two years ago. An embassy spokesman told me he believes, as do all Filipinos, that this is the late President Manuel Roxas'
most distinguished accomplishment.

Imports and exports of the country have tripled their prewar volume and will net the country some $800,000,000 if estimates are borne out. The Philippines export chiefly copra, a product of the coconut, which is used extensively in the making of fine soaps and as an ingredient in vegetable oils. The United States is the Philippines' largest importer of copra. This year the Philippines hope to export some sugar to the United States as well.
Before the war they were the largest exporter of sugar to this country, shipping us some 1,000,000 tons.

A large public works program is under way, with priority given to new hospitals, bridges, roads, ports, schools, water systems and other public projects are getting under way. An industrialization program has been started, including the development of water power. Gold, copper and coal mines are being developed.

Three million youngsters are going to school—one third more than attended before the war. Women, who have had the right to vote for 10 years, elected their first senator last year. There also are women members of the House of Representatives. The head of the Government's Public Welfare Bureau is a woman.

In the matter of foreign affairs,
the Philippines have adopted a policy based on the principles set up by the U. N., of which they are one of the original members and an active participant. They emphasize the "friendliest of relations" with the United States and their oriental neighbors. Elpidio Quirino, just sworn in as the Republic's new president, has already announced he will "carry out Roxas' policy in regard to the island's attitude to the United States." Roxas made a firm friendship with this country the foundation stone of his foreign policy.

British Thinking Of Homes In Australia

Canberra —(AP)— Interest of British people in migrating to Australia is continuing, says Immigration Minister Arthur A. Calwell. The minister says 100,000 inquiries from prospective British migrants were handled by the Australian Migration Branch in London in the first four months of this year. "Each of these inquiries represents, on the average, two-and-a-half persons,"
he says.

By HAL BOYLE

Philadelphia, June 24 —(AP)— Convention sideglances:

The people's voice, filtered through 14,000 Republican larynxes, wore down to a whisper today after nearly seven hours of yelling for their seven "peoples' choices."

The grand old party's grandest old party began with a stirring exchange of war whoops and boos between people for and against Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

It ended at 3:02 a. m. with a hoarse tired cheer for General Douglas MacArthur in a hall three fourths empty.

By then the hall looked like it held a semi-nudest convention meeting in the wreckage of a hurricane.
Cobwebs, torn streamers, discarded sandwich scraps littered the floor.

The men delegates long since had discarded their coats, their neckties and ripped open their collars.
Many 147y delegates had slipped their feet out of their shoes.

As the delegates filed out, the janitors awoke from catnaps and went to work.

Had the dawn come up like thunder today it would have sounded only like a whimper to the weary Republicans dreaming sweet victory

dreams—for Tom Dewey, Or Taft Or Warren, Or Stassen, Or Baldwin
Or Vandenberg, Or MacArthur.

Last night the voices named these seven. Today or tonight or tomorrow votes will pick the one survivor—the 1948 nominee.

One elderly marcher, after trudging half an hour in the Dewey parade around the hall, sat down next to his wife and said:
"All right, mother, I've knocked myself out."

Another delegate grabbed a friend and tried to get him to march around again:
"Come on, Ed!"
"I'm for him all right," said Ed,
"but my feet aren't." As the parade for Gov. Earl Warren of California got under way patrolman Joe Pisano nailed two characters busy lifting badges from coats left on chairs by two delegates.
"We wanted to see up real close,"
one of the badge grabbers explained virtuously.

This happened after the speech nominating Stassen.

First voice: "What did he say?"
Second voice: "I couldn't hear.
Yell anyway."

Johnson Assails 'Machine' Tag Charged By Scott

High Point, N. C., June 24—(AP)—State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson last night struck out at tacking of a "machine" tag on his campaign by his opponent in the gubernatorial race.

Johnson also declared in a statewide broadcast that W. Kerr Scott in 1946 rode into office "on the coat-tail" of the winning candidate for governor, called him a "hatchet man," and derided his "great hoorah about what a great friend he is to the farmers."

In 1936, when Scott ran for commissioner of agriculture against W. A. Graham, who Johnson said was publicly opposing Clyde R. Hoey for governor, Scott "seized upon this opportunity to ride into office on the coat-tail of Hoey," Johnson asserted.

"Mr. Scott had nothing to say about a 'machine' at that time" nor on the two occasions he ran for reelection, Johnson went on. "But now when he is a candidate for governor, he can talk of nothing else but 'machine.' If there is a 'machine' within the Democratic party, I know nothing about it," he added.

When Scott took over as agriculture commissioner in 1937, Johnson asserted, he dismissed employees "wholesale, from the top to the bottom and in utter disregard of efficiency of length of service."

"This hatchet man," Johnson declared, "ranged all the way down the list even to include the elevator operator. The unpardonable sin in Kerr Scott's setup is to vote against him."

Lightning Bolt Kills Son-in-Law Of S.C. Senator

Charleston, S. C., June 24—(AP)—A bolt of lightning yesterday took the life of George D. Paul, son-in-law of Senator Burnet R. Maybank. Paul was killed and six others were injured when lightning struck a tree on the Charleston Country Club's golf course.

Those injured were Norman Stevenson, John Cheshire and James Bond, who were playing with Paul, and William Pincney, Robert Miles and Joseph McBride, teen-aged cadets for the foursome.

Paul, an automobile dealer, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson Paul. He married Miss Roberta Maybank.

Senator Maybank was notified of Paul's death while touring the state in his race for renomination. He left immediately for Charleston.

At that time Lt. Colonel William D. Brown, who is in charge of ROTC work at East Carolina, will explain the entire program and will answer questions for those who wish information.

Probe Cause Of Basement Blast

Winchester, Va., June 24—(AP)—Authorities today sought the cause of a basement explosion which wrecked a three-story department store, killing one person and injuring 17 others.

The blast ripped apart the first floor of the Raylans' Department Store yesterday morning and hurled debris and merchandise into the streets.

Store employees and early shoppers were trapped by the fallen timbers.

The most seriously injured were two employees, who were in the basement at the time of the blast. They were burned badly by a fire which followed the explosion.

One of them, Lawrence Owens, 23, assistant store manager, died last night in a Winchester hospital of burns suffered in the blast. The other, Chris Spanos, a stock clerk, was taken to the hospital in a serious condition.

Fourth of July Special

For a quick and easy Fourth of July dinner that's really super, serve a ready-to-eat ham. Slice it thin whether it's to go in sandwiches or on the plate with the rest of the dinner: deviled eggs, potato salad, and corn on the cob accompanied by cole slaw, radishes, and pickles. Be sure to have plenty of sweetened strawberries to serve over ice cream for dessert.

Hip! Hip! Hurrah!

Save Time and Effort
Make deviled eggs the easy way. Hard-cook Clear Brook Eggs and chill overnight. Cut lengthwise, mash yolks, and mix with Wilson's Mayonnaise. Sweeten slightly if desired.

The shield on the ham below is made of candied grapefruit peel, cut and shaped while warm.

Wilson's Tender Made Ham
(Ready-to-eat, Bone in)

Wilson's Tender Made Hams come in two styles: one with the bone in, the other with bone and skin removed, in a can. (See it in color in this week's Saturday Evening Post.) Both of these famous Wilson's Tender Made Hams are delicious, hot or cold. If heated, they may be glazed as shown in the photographs.

Wilson & Co.'s special secret processing makes each Tender Made Ham "The Ham You Cut with a Fork."

When you buy a Tender Made Ham, either bone in or boneless (in the tin), there's less waste because it's all ready to eat—there's no shrinkage if you serve it cold; very little shrinkage if you serve it hot, because of the short heating period.

Both of Wilson's ready-to-eat hams make delightful eating. So, choose the one that best suits your need.

Absent Warrior Nominated By Two Ill Men, Leaning On Canes

Philadelphia, June 24 (AP)—Two ill men leaning on canes—a nearly-blind lawyer and a partly-deaf old soldier—early today placed an absent warrior in nomination for the Republican presidential candidacy.

The absent warrior, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, got a brief burst of applause shortly before dawn in a convention hall three-fourths empty.

His advocates—Harlan W. Kelley a Milwaukee attorney, and retired General Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Bataan—were cheered even more heartily by the thin galleries and depleted ranks of delegates.

Guided to the speaker's table as he tapped with his red-and-white cane, Kelly lauded MacArthur as "an honest, honorable Christian gentleman who can unite all parties and creeds."

He said the job ahead was too big for any politician. He said that MacArthur's lips had been sealed by the War Department, but that he would resign from the Army if nominated.

"Politicians are a dime a dozen," Kelly said, looking around at the gathering of politicians he couldn't see. "But there is only one Douglas MacArthur."

He stepped back, still weak from a 100-degree fever that kept him in bed until last Monday.

Cheers bounced off the empty gallery seats. Supporters trooped around the hall with baskets carrying the 1,108,574 letters and telegrams endorsing MacArthur.

Then Convention Chairman Joe Martin called the last speaker of the evening—"Skinny" Wainwright. Wainwright had stayed to the bitter end at Bataan for MacArthur. And he stayed to the bitter end again at this nominating session, fighting his last battle for his old commander. It was 2:53 a.m. (EST).

He moved slowly forward, leaning on his cane. He is still in poor health for his long imprisonment by the Japanese. His gray hair was cropped short. He wore a light linen coat, tan trousers.

Citing the record of MacArthur in war and as the occupation chief in Japan, Wainwright said: "As a soldier he is unequalled in the world today and must go down in history amongst the great captains of all times."

"The movement to make him the next President of the United States is a movement of the whole of the people."

"Should the progress of this convention reach a point at which the delegates (those pledged to others) may feel free to consider another candidate, I urge them to turn to MacArthur."

As he finished, the delegates and spectators gave an ovation which was in large measure a tribute to "Skinny" as well as the man he spoke for. The nominating session ended.

"They were kind and generous to me," he said.

He was tired. He took his cane and wearily walked out of the empty hall—his final battlefield, a political battlefield he had no taste for. And it was a battlefield apparently already lost.

But he had done the duty he felt for the man he holds in "unbounded admiration." There was no more that "Skinny" Wainwright could do for Douglas MacArthur.

Conference Will Conduct Studies On Employment

The employment needs of business and industry in eastern North Carolina, methods of improving the training of prospective employees, and opportunities for employment in business and industry will be among the topics discussed at a conference to be held Friday, July 9, in the Classroom Building on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College.

The conference, which has been called by Dr. John D. Messick, president of the college, will be directed by Dr. E. R. Browning, chairman of the department of business education at East Carolina.

Invitations to attend have been sent to more than two hundred principals and superintendents and representatives of business in this area. Among those expected to be present are those engaged in work in insurance, the state tax department, chambers of commerce, certified public accountancy firms, business firms, merchandising, and advertising. High-school and college students interested in careers in business are also invited to participate in the conference.

According to present plans, the program to be presented will afford business men an opportunity to state the problems associated with the training of personnel in the schools of the state and will give representatives of schools the opportunity to reevaluate the work now offered.

Speakers for the conference will be announced by Dr. Browning at an early date.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judge
Gay celebrations helped out a period to the school year. All around the country teenagers were passing before getting into a serious "make-some-money-this-summer" frame of mind.
Five hundred of them on Long Island were treated to a shindig by the Nassau Daily Review Star which I attended. They ate turkey and saw several of their fellow students awarded prizes for special talent.
Some centerpieces, for which awards also were given, were tricky. First prize went to Median High School which had contrived a school building out of paper and plywood. Around the top of the building revolved a sign which gave out news flashes. A take-off on electric signs operated on newspaper buildings, the Methan sign was operated by a hand turner.
find roller skates. The city park peristyle a lot of fun, even if there are a few spills.

In Rochester, Minn., youngsters over 13 are enrolling in the baby sitting course given by the local YWCA which maintains a list of ten-age baby sitters who become eligible after six weeks training.
They learn all about preparing baby's formula, the "burp" technique, feeding youngsters, diapering and entertaining their young charges. They are told not to raid the ice box, tie up the telephone with idle chatter, or entertain boy friends.
If the sitter violates the rules she may lose her "license." And parents may find themselves sans sitter the next time, too, if they overstay the midnight deadline.
Many teen-agers who don't have to work this summer are signing up for travel camps and tours here and abroad. There are lots of interesting tours. One for rugged individuals—boys—combines a foot trip with a camp truck starting in New York and taking in Los Angeles and Lake Louise, Canada, to name a few stops.

Wiley Nash Homers Over Left Field Wall In Seventh To Save Locals From Shut-out

By BERT MOYE Manager Harry Soulas' New Bern Bears collected 17 hits off two Greenie hurlers to trounce the Greenies 12-1 here last night to even the two game series between the two clubs.

The Bears scored in all but three of their frames last night and two runs on two hits, two walks and an error in the first inning was sufficient for the win last night. The Bears added one run the second on three hits and an error, one in the fourth on two singles and a stolen base, and had a scoring party in the fifth when they scored six runs on four hits, one of which was Grady Stott's homer over the scoreboard in left field with two mates aboard, scored one in the sixth on a walk, single and a double and ended their scoring for the night with a tally in the eighth on three successive singles.

Wiley Nash homered over the left field wall in the seventh frame to save the Greenies from a shutout. Johnny Tate, starting hurler for the Greenies, was credited with his third loss for the season as he yielded 12 hits in four and two-thirds frames and 10 of the Bear's runs. Kenneth Brooks was touched for five hits and two runs in the four and one-third frames which he pitched. Bakle Palmer with four singles in five trips to the plate and Grady Stott with a homer and two singles in five trips to the plate, led the Bear's 17-hit attack of the two Greenie hurlers.

Tommy Thompson, making his first appearance for the Bears, pitched four-hit ball and held the Greenies hitless until the sixth frame. All four of the Greenies' hits were among as many players with Nash's homer being the feature hit.

Chapman Laid Up For Two Weeks

Philadelphia, June 24—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will be without the services of outfielder Sam Chapman for at least two weeks. Chapman flew here from St. Louis Tuesday after being injured while sliding into third base in the eighth inning of a night game at St. Louis Monday.

Winston-Salem, N. C. June 24—(AP) Hearings were scheduled in municipal court here today for four men charged with baseball "fixing" involving a Carolina League game here May 14.

Two of the principals have been banned from organized baseball for life. They are Emanuel (Ed) Weingarten, former North and South Carolina minor league official, and Barney DeForge, former pitcher-manager of the Reidsville club of the Carolina loop.

Weingarten, DeForge and W. O. McWaters, automobile dealer of Clover, S. C., have been charged with bribery in connection with the alleged fixing of the May 14 Reidsville-Winston-Salem game.

The fourth defendant, charged with conspiracy in the base was arrested yesterday. Capt. W. R. Burke of the Winston-Salem Police department identified him as Tommy Phillips, also of Clover and a used car dealer.

Weingarten and DeForge were banned from organized baseball June 1 by minor league head George Trautman following investigation of the May 14 game.

Yawl Apparently Wins Second Bermuda Race

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 24—(AP)—The Baruna, a 71-foot yawl owned by Henry C. Taylor of New York, apparently has won its second R.I.-to-Bermuda yacht race.

Results are still unofficial although the sleek, black hulled craft is assured of Class A honors. The Baruna completed the 875 miles in three days, 15 hours, nine minutes and 45 seconds. It had a handicap of 10 minutes and 35 seconds, making its official corrected time three days, 14 hours, 59 minutes and 10 seconds.

Sidelights: — The win for the Bears last night evened the series between the Greenies and the Bears with each club having five wins. Johnny Tate's loss was his first to New Bern, he had won from them on a previous occasion. The Greenies added two more double plays last night while the Bears added one. The game was delayed 90 minutes last night due to the wet condition of the grounds. A paid attendance of 1,425 witnessed last night's game. Bill Phillips, who handles the scoreboard at the park, was passing out cigars last night, or should I say cigarettes, as he grumped from ear to ear over his latest arrival—a daughter. Linda Diane which was born Tuesday at the Pitt General Hospital. Both mother and daughter are doing well. Augustine DeLeVelle has been given his release by the Greenville club.

Jim Oudger, Leaf hurler who recently graduated from Western Teachers College, will become head football coach at Monroe (N.C.) High School this fall. Dave Fowler, Leaf backstop and leading hitter of the club, had his hitting streak stopped at 35 games when Ernie Sawyer, New Bern hurler, head the Leafs hitless on last Friday night in New Bern. The Goldsboro Baseball Club has signed Hank Smith of Duke University. Smith, used primarily as a pinch-hitter with the 1948 edition of the Blue Devils, was a regular in 1947. He will play outfield and fill in as a reserve catcher when needed.

Heavyweight Match May Again Be Delayed By Rain

By WILL GRIMSLEY
New York, June 24—(AP)—Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott fought today while the elements pondered a suitable time for them to settle their dispute over the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

Falling like needles on the tense atmosphere, a heavy downpour shortly after noon yesterday forced postponement of the 15-round engagement at Yankee Stadium—Louis' 25th title defense and, he says, his last fight.

The contest immediately was rescheduled for tonight at 9 p.m. EST, weather permitting.

The weather bureau, in a rut, promised more showers and thunderstorms today and tomorrow. It washed out a second time, the bout will be staged Friday, and so on.

Even the odds seemed to react to the uncertainty of conditions and fluctuated between 8 to 11, and 9 to 13, favoring the champion, in brief overnight betting activity.

How the two principals, 34-year-old veterans, tuned to a sharp fighting edge, and the gate will be affected by the delay remains to be seen.

The Twentieth Century Sporting club still figured the crowd would be around 55,000 with a gate of approximately $300,000, exclusive of television and radio receipts.

The two Jews appeared tight-strung at the weigh-in ceremonies. Although they stood so close that at times their muscles almost touched, they didn't speak.

Once the champion, coldly impassive, and the challenger, his ring-marked features determinedly set, swapped glances—just for a moment, then both looked away.

Of the two, Walcott seemed looser and more relaxed despite the camp's reputation for tremendous calm.

Know Your Golf Shots

By HERMON BARON
Written Especially for (P)
Newsfeatures

One of golf's most difficult shots comes when you're in a sand trap. These are the four things to remember:

1. Take a full swing with the ball in the center of your feet.
2. Be sure you hit down into the sand about 2 or 3 inches in back of the ball.
3. Make a full follow through.
4. Head still remains stationary with eye on the ball throughout the entire swing.

This is the explosion shot which is played out of any trap which guards the green.

Of course, different clubs may be used in playing out of traps. It all depends on your lie, what's in front of the trap and the distance from the green.

$10,560 Purse Is Prize Offering Of Round-Robin

Toledo, O., June 24—(AP)—A purse of $10,560 hung at the end of 128 holes of play today as 16 of the nation's top-flight professionals launched the 11th Inverness best-ball round-robin invitational meet.

The winners get $3,000 of the melon, and practically everyone expected goldom's golden boys, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, to pick that check after Sunday's final round.

The two transplanted Texans have won three of the last four Inverness classics, and Ben is the current leader in the money class as well as national open and PGA champion, the first guy in a quarter-century to take both big titles the same year.

The Duke of Wellington never met Napoleon, whom he defeated at Waterloo.

Sport Slants by Pap

Bobby Brown has done some remarkable work in his role of utility infielder, spelling for Phil Rizuto and George Stirweiss. Brown is just about the best utility infielder in the major league and is capable of doing a better than adequate job of covering any infield position, including first base. On any team other than the Yankees, Bobby would be a regular.

Brown presented quite a problem for Manager Bucky Harris when the Yankees assembled in training camp. Bobby was a week late in reporting because of examinations in the Tulane Medical School and, in his absence, Harris was plagued by the schibes who wanted to know what use would be made of Brown. A youngster who had batted .300

No Boasting On 14 Stolen Bases

Boston, June 24—(P)—When one Francis himself as a slugger, he does not go around with chest expanded because of larceny on the baselines, Earl Torgeson insists.

That is why the Boston Braves speed merchant is not impressed by his ability to steal 14 bases in as many tries this season. The fact is, he appears a bit ashamed about those spectacular performances.

"If my little babe was old enough to talk and ask you what you were doing this season, Daddy?, I would much rather reply I got 14 straight hits than 14 stolen bases," Torgeson laments.

But the likeable first baseman, rated as one of the National League's fastest going down to first base, does admit he has given the art of base-stealing much study.

"When you're hitting third ahead of Bob Elliott, you've got to get on and then advance to where a single will enable you to score," together explains. "That's why I've studied the moves of every pitcher I've batted against. You learn a lot watching the moves they make with their shoulders, elbows and knees, and when they make one I like, I take off."

Dodds Again In Spectacular Run

Newton, Mass., June 24—(AP)—Oil Dodds, who will run a special mile at Bloomfield, N. J., Saturday turned in another amazing performance in training when he traveled 1,500 meters in three minutes 49.8-10 seconds against Coach Jack Ryder's stop watch.

Dodds' effort, only one and eight-tenths seconds above Jack Lovelock's Olympic record and four seconds faster than any American has done this season, was accomplished yesterday at the Boston College track.

Williams Is Again Top Vote-Getter

Chicago, June 24—(AP)—Ted Williams, the American League's top hitter, retained his position today as the highest individual vote-getter in the All Star baseball poll to determine the starting lineup for the 15th annual All Star game in St. Louis July 13.

Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugger who had regained... spot after yielding it for five days to Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, ... 114,782 of the 368,798 ballots tabulated to date. The Indians manager-shortstop is runnerup with 112,254 votes. Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees is in third spot with 110,958.

The National League's leading vote-getter still is Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals with 108,064. He is followed by a teammate, right fielder Enos Slaughter who has 106,154 votes.

The balloting which is being conducted by 452 newspapers, magazines and radio stations will end at midnight July 5.

Budge Patty Is Doubtful Entry

London, June 24—(AP)—Budge Patty of Los Angeles meets Yugoslavia's Franjo Puncec in the third round men's singles of the Wimbledon Tennis tournament today and the match has everybody guessing.

The big question: does Patty really want to win the title enough to go all out?

The 24-year-old former American junior champion was the giant killer of the 1947 championships. An unsung entry, he stamped out the hopes of two seeded stars—John Bromwich of Australia and Jaroslav Drobný of Czechoslovakia.

Then against Tom Brown in the semi-finals he bowed in straight sets without even stretching one to deuce.

That's Patty. He glides effortless around the court. He is brilliant in spurts. Then will come a day when he seems to make no effort at all to win.

Convention Battles Have Precedent 'In Old Times'

By ALEXANDER E. GEORGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Washington—Sharp battling is expected at the national political conventions, but the doings will be desirable compared with gun-toting pow-wows of early years.

Back in 1856, when the Republicans held their first nominating convention in Philadelphia, delegates from the far west came east by stage coach, carried long rifles to ward off Indians and mountain lions. It took some of them seven weeks to make the trip to the convention city.

The controversy over extension of slavery was at shooting stage in "Bloody Kansas." Rival factions had captured towns and burned houses.

An abolitionist senator from Massachusetts said: "President Pierce goes to the Democratic convention with the light of the burning dwellings of Kansas flashing upon his brow."

A Democratic newspaper called a rival publication which had assailed Presidential Possibility James Buchanan: "A know-nothing, lying Black Republican journal."

Gen. John C. Fremont of California, Mexican war veteran and Indian fighter, was nominated for president by Republican delegates who shouted: "We'll go for Fremont. He grappled with the grizzly bear and he beat the Indians. He can lick the slave-drivers."

The 1856 Democratic convention assembled in Cincinnati to the rear of the Empire Club's artillery. The Thomas Benton delegates from Missouri, excluded from the convention hall, knocked down the door-keepers to gain entrance.

"Bowie knives and revolvers were brandished but no great harm was done," a newspaper reported.

By 1860 the nation was on the verge of civil war. Chicago, "young Babylon of the west," was jammed with visitors to the Republican convention—bearded men in tall hats, long coats and black boots. Women in poke bonnets, shawls and hoop skirts.

While the followers of William H. Seward, the leading candidate, staged a fancy parade in Chicago's streets, Abraham Lincoln's managers packed the big convention hall with rooters for the Rail Splitter.

Every vote for Lincoln brought tremendous cheering. On the first ballot Seward led Lincoln by 71 votes, but Lincoln picked up 73 the second ballot and Seward gained only 10. The third ballot showed Lincoln only 2½ votes short of a majority.

Delegate Carter of Ohio stood on his chair and said: "I rise to announce the change of four votes from Mr. Chase to Abraham Lincoln."

A large charcoal picture of Abe was displayed in the gallery. One hundred guns were fired from the roof of the Fremont house. A Richmond newspaper said: "The union is sundered."

The longest contest for a Republican presidential nomination was at the 1880 convention, when dark horse James A. Garfield was chosen on the 36th ballot to break a deadlock between Gen. Grant and James G. Blaine. Grant's backers were trying to nominate him for a third term.

The second longest Republican contest was at the 1920 convention, when dark horse Warren G. Harding was nominated on the 10th ballot. Republican leaders in a "smoke-filled hotel room" picked Harding to break the deadlock among the leading candidates, Gen. Leonard Wood, Frank Lowden of Illinois and Hiram Johnson of California.

The biggest split in the Republican party came at the 1912 convention. It was a fight over the searing of rival delegates for President William H. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt.

When the balloting started, 344 accredited Roosevelt delegates abstained from voting in protest against the loss of other delegate seats. Taft was nominated on the first ballot.

Roosevelt followers held a separate convention in a nearby hall that evening and nominated the Rough Rider as the Bull Moose candidate for President. The split enabled the Democratic candidate, Woodrow Wilson, to win easily.

High Man In First Primary

Charlie Johnson started life in humble surroundings... he knows what it is to labor long hours... he has been at it all his life—from those early days when he followed the plow on a small farm in Pender county...

When Charlie Johnson says that the State's obligations to the aged, the dependent and afflicted is inescapable, he talks with a warmth of understanding... for the gift of hearing and of speech were denied his father and mother at birth...

When Charlie Johnson proposes advancement for North Carolina's school system, he does so with great sincerity... when he declares that services to the state's farmers must be expanded, he talks as one who knows their problems...

Charlie Johnson has a sympathetic understanding of the veterans' problems... he served as an enlisted man in World War I... and his son fought with General Patton's troops in World War II...

Charlie Johnson has an abiding faith in North Carolina... he believes in clean politics and in good government... he wants to be Governor because of the opportunities it offers for greater service to the people—ALL the people—of North Carolina...

Newspaper Men Seeking Better Trained Workers

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, June 24—Newspapers that will be published in North Carolina five or ten years from now may not be any better than current vintage, but if plans of the North Carolina Press Association materialize they will be handled by better trained men and women.

Several years ago the association took a stand in favor of an improved and enlarged school of journalism at the state university. The goal has not been reached but progress has been made, and there is lively prospect the school will be fully accredited within the next year or so.

The newspaper folks realize that the most competent reporters and editors are of no real value unless the mechanical department of the newspaper plant can get the copy printed and distributed to readers. So at last week's meeting in Fontana plans were set in motion for establishment of a modern typographic and printing vocational school in connection with some state institution of higher education.

The state has several printing plants. There is a cracker-jack plant at State College, another at Central Prison in Raleigh, and one is at the school for deaf at Morganton. And there are several other less well equipped plants.

Put it where it is safe. Savings are insured up to $5,000 here. Put it where it earns money.

$1.00 opens a savings account for you.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 14
Dr. Stokes was about to say something else but he didn't say it. He only stared at me, then at Holmgren, then at me again.

"May I inquire," he said, "just who it is I'm supposed to have murdered?"

"It's Richard Ealing, Doctor."

"Dick Ealing committed suicide," said Dr. Stokes.

"You killed him," I said. "We've searched your house and we've found the evidence to prove the murder."

"Either you two are fools or crooks. Any more talking of the subject will be done through my lawyer."

"And who's your lawyer?" said Holmgren.

"J. D. Thatcher," Dr. Stokes said. "Althoese, call Attorney J. D. Thatcher at once. Come on, let's go down to your headquarters and get it over with. I have an engagement to-night."

We rode in silence to the police station and got out and went in at the main door. Holmgren knocked at a heavy door marked HOMICIDE DETAIL, then pushed the door open and waved for us to come in.

There was a big desk in the middle of the tiled floor, and several chairs were ranged along the walls. Behind the desk sat one of the biggest men I ever saw outside a circus.

"What you want?" the man asked Holmgren, twinkling little bright eyes at him.

"This is Mr. Yates, Winkie," said Holmgren. He didn't introduce the doctor. "We want to see Lieutenant Raniel."

Winkie's beady eyes crawled a little forward under their heavy lids, then he walked, heavily but not clumsily, to a door behind him, and knocked twice.

The door opened and Winkie started to talk, but Holmgren moved forward. "I'll tell you what it's about, Raniel," he said. "Yates, you and the doctor make yourselves comfortable over here."

Raniel opened the rear door a crack. "Come in here, Mr. Yates," he called.

I went in. Raniel sat down at his desk. "Let's have the evidence that Holmgren tells me you've got, and the story that goes with it."

I started to talk. At the right time I brought out one envelope and tilted the button out on his desk. He bent to study it without touching it while I explained all I knew about it. Then I brought out the envelope with the note in it.

Raniel was print-conscious. He shook the note out of its envelope without reaching in for it, and unfolded it with a paper knife. He read it, moving his lips silently. Then he grinned again, upside down and showing his great big teeth. I could see that they were false and didn't fit too well.

"And you say this is Richard Ealing's handwriting?" he asked me.

"I'm no handwriting expert, but it looks like what I've seen of it," I said.

"There's our motive, and the evidence of it," he said. "And this came out of a book in Dr. Stokes's house? Now about this phone call you say you got. How do you explain it?"

I went over the matter of the mysterious Oporty ringing me at my hotel. Raniel wrote down the name. "We'll get out the rake and bring him in," he promised. "He'll

Scott Speaker Asserts Rival Is A 'Me Too' Man

Greensboro, June 24—(AP)—Speaking in a series of gubernatorial candidate W. W. Scott, Ma. L. P. McLenndon of Greensboro last night termed Scott's opponent, State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, a "me too" advocate of the state's good health program.

McLenndon, who is chairman of the University of North Carolina Medical School Committee, said in a state-wide broadcast that Johnson became an advocate of the program after becoming a candidate for governor.

McLenndon said Scott's advocacy of priority for rural health facilities over construction of a four-year medical school at Chapel Hill was backed up by the University trustees themselves.

"At this point," McLenndon declared, "we might inquire where Mr. Johnson was and what his views were on this great program for public health, of 1947? So far as I am aware, if he had any views on this great movement and demand of our people, he kept them to himself."

McLenndon also talked last night at a courthouse rally for Scott in Rutherford.

"Friends of Mr. Johnson, like their candidate," he said "misjudge the temperament of North Carolina democracy. They forget that it has been traditional with the Democratic party in North Carolina that

Altrusa Club Is Organized Here

A dinner-meeting at the Fryback Hotel last night marked the organization of a new Altrusa Club in North Carolina with the election of Mrs. J. B. Spilman, president; Miss Mamie Chandler, vice president; Mrs. Mary McCrary, secretary; and Mrs. Lena Tyson, treasurer.

Mrs. T. W. Huey, of Rock Hill, S. C., national and international representative, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Mary Lou Rothrock, governor of the Second district, Altrusa, described the formation of the club; and Miss Eva Wall, of Winston-Salem, told of the club's growth in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd attended the meeting, bringing their best wishes for the new organization, as did Mr. W. H. Woolard, Rotary president.

The Altrusa Club was described as the oldest of women's classified service clubs, being organized in Nashville on April 11, 1917 and incorporated August 21, 1917. Membership in the organization is exclusively for one outstanding representative of each particular business or profession within its territory, and by invitation only.

There are approximately 6,750 members in 210 Altrusa clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico and Asia, who work to carry out a program of service; to foster community, state national and international betterment.

One club was recently organized in London. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, a New York Altrusan, flew to London to present the charter.

Future Brightens For Couple Who Had Given Up Their Seven Children

Miami, Fla., June 24—(AP)—The future looked brighter today for Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, who gave away their seven children and planned a new start in life.

They had an offer to appear on a nationwide radio program (We, the People—CBS) next Tuesday night and Harvey said that probably would provide transportation to his father's farm in Springfield, Mass.

The Harveys were packing when the radio offer came late yesterday, the 36-year-old radio announcer said.

"We decided to wait and see what happens," he added. "We are scheduled to be in New York Sunday for the radio show Tuesday."

Destitute circumstances and his wife's illness caused Harvey to advertise their seven children, ranging in age from nine months to eight years, for adoption. All the children except two went to separate homes, he said, but Edith, 6, and Thomas Edward, nine months, went to one family.

Harvey said a Miami radio station had offered him his $75 a week job back but he and his wife hoped to get away from this area as soon as possible, change their names and start a new life.

"The children know my voice and it wouldn't do," he said regarding remaining in Miami.

Harvey said a physician had given his wife two to two and a half years to live because of a heart condition.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, June 24—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers weaker at 35 to 37; eggs steady, A large 50.

N. Y. Cotton

New York, June 24—(AP)—Cotton futures opened unchanged to 20 cents a bale lower.

Noon prices were 30 to 60 cents a bale higher than the previous close. July 24.47, Oct. 33.25 and Dec. 32.87.

1/4 Cotton futures declined sharply into new low ground for the day on a late flurry of commission house and New Orleans selling. Liquidation was induced partly by more liberal selling of the nearby July delivery by a leading spot firm which has been reported to have extensive long holdings in that month.

Futures closed 25 to 55 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 24—(AP)—The main direction of the stock market was upward today but a number of issues wandered off the road.

Rail issues once more took over market leadership with gains of fractions to more than 3 points. Turnover for the full day was at the rate of around 1,500,000 shares.

Higher prices were paid for Union Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Southern Railway, Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Firestone Tire, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Boeing Aircraft, Nash-Kelvinator, Eastern Airlines and International Telephone.

On the losing side were Richfield Oil, Maracaibo Oil, Gulf Oil, Woodworth, Commonwealth Edison, Westinghouse Electric, International Harvester, and American Smelting.

KERR SCOTT

"I shall support Honorable Kerr Scott for nomination for Governor because, after calm and careful consideration, I believe him to be the best qualified of gubernatorial candidates to give the State an aggressive, progressive, constructive, independent, liberal administration."—Dr. J. the poll tax than they did in this new 1944 platform. In 1944 the platform said:

"The payment of any poll tax should not be a condition of voting in federal elections and we favor immediate submission of a constitutional amendment for its abolition."

One of the main arguments of Southerners against any attempt by Congress to wipe out the poll tax by law, was this:

It would be an interference by the federal government in a state's rights and that one of those rights is having a poll tax, if a state wishes.

That's why the 1944 platform spoke of getting rid of the tax by an amendment to the Constitution. That would require approval by 36 states.

But while Southerners, Republicans and Democrats alike, are so over Mr. Truman's program. And this year, particularly, the Republicans have a chance to snatch up a lot of votes from the Democrats in the South.

This year's platform on the poll tax was simply: "We favor abolition of the poll tax as a requisite to voting."

Nothing is said about how the tax should be abolished. It merely puts the party on record as favoring getting rid of the tax. That's probably the least that could be said without costing the Republicans some Southern votes.

be nominated because the delegates realize he will be hard to elect" and declared:

"Everyone knows that the Indiana delegation was bought by the vice presidential nomination for Halleck after Gov. Green turned down the offer for the Illinois delegation."

Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan said reporters he would take a poll of his delegates to indicate where they wanted to go if the nomination appeared lost to Vandenberg.

He said:

"By the time we get down to the n's on the second roll call we ought to have a pretty good idea what's happening and I want to know what the delegates have in mind."

Dewey lieutenants claim there are at least 33 second choice votes for Dewey in the Michigan delegation.

Stassen had a pre-session conference with Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts. Lodge is plugging Senator Arthur Vandenberg for the nomination. There are reports that Stassen, if he can't get the big prize himself, would prefer to see it go to Vandenberg.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio conferred with members of the Utah and Kentucky delegations, and told reporters he also had been carrying on a lot of "telephone conferences."

Grain Market

Chicago, June 24—(AP)—Wheat firmed on the board of trade today but corn and oats showed no definite trend.

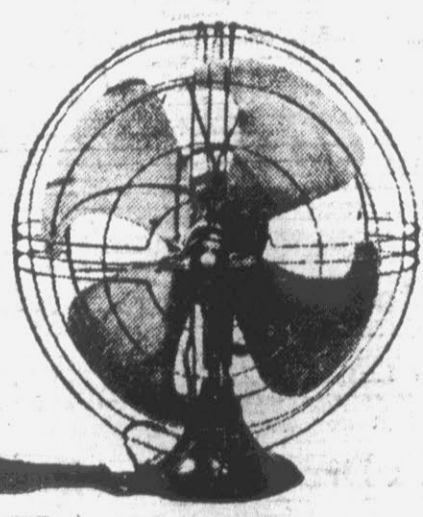

Part of the buying in wheat came from mills, reflecting overnight sales of flour to the government. An expected delay in harvesting the new crop in the Southwest, a natural development following heavy rains in that area, also helped steady the market.

Wheat closed 1/4-3/4 higher, July $2.33-3/4, corn was 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, July $2.22-1/2-23/4, oats were unchanged to 1/4 lower, July 93-1/2, and soybeans were unchanged, July $4.18.
