Truman Signals Start Of Second Peacetime Draft

Signs Two-Year Selective Service Bill Into Law; 'Greetings' Readied

Washington, June 25 — (AP) — United States military officials dusted off those "greetings" today for delivery to thousands of youthful draftees next fall.

President Truman signalled the start of the nation's second peacetime draft when he signed the two-year Selective Service bill into law at 4:40 p.m. (EST) yesterday.

Earlier he okayed a $10,000,000,000-plus fund to build up the Army, Navy and Air Force to a strength of 3,000,000 men.

The first result of Mr. Truman's signature on the draft bill was to shut off the flood of enlistments in the National Guard and other reserve units.

The draft bill provided that men 19 through 25 who were signed up in those organizations before the measure became law would not be inducted into the regular forces.

Legal advisers of Defense Secretary Forrestal agreed that the Selective Service law became effective last midnight.

Registration for the draft will get underway as soon as the nation's machinery is set up, perhaps about August 15—some 4,000 local draft boards must be organized to handle the thousands of men 18 through 25 who must sign up.

But new draftees won't start marching off to training camps until September 22 or later. The law provides that 90 days must elapse between enactment of the bill and the order to shoulder arms.

Up to 225,000 men 18 through 25 may be called up for 31 months' service—mostly in the Army—in the first twelve months. Another 181,000 youths 18 years old may volunteer for one year's training to escape drafting later.

But the 18-year-old volunteers must put in six extra years in the reserve. All draftees must serve at least three years in the active reserves or five years in the inactive reserves after their 21-month hitch.

Most veterans are exempt. In addition, the President is authorized to defer married men and those in essential occupations or in scientific and medical research and study. High school students will be deferred until graduation, or until they are 20, and college students will get a delay until the end of the school year.

Russians Seize AP Employees, Other Newsmen

Berlin, June 25 — (AP) — The Russians acknowledged to American authorities today they are holding two German employees of the Associated Press, seized last night while driving through the Soviet sector of Berlin.

The Russians said they are holding the pair on "suspicion of disseminating propaganda against the Soviet occupying power." They said they did not know when they could be released. The detainees are AP photographer Fritz Remus and an assistant, Kurt Platen.

Also in Russian custody were a German photographer for Acme News pictures and a reporter for the German news agency, Dena. All four were returning from covering a Socialist rally in the French sector of the city.

Dewey Won Because He Had the Assistance of Three Political "Pros" and a Thoroughly Planned Campaign; How They Worked; the Big Third Roll Call

By JAMES MARLOW

Philadelphia, June 25 — (AP) — Thomas E. Dewey won the Republican presidential nomination with the big help of three political "pros."

Those three men were his political braintrust: Herbert Brownell, Jr., 44; J. Russell Sprague, 61; and Edwin Jaecke, 53.

All three are New York lawyers. They ran his campaign for the presidential nomination in 1940, when he just missed it; again in 1944, when he got it; and now again, when he got it again.

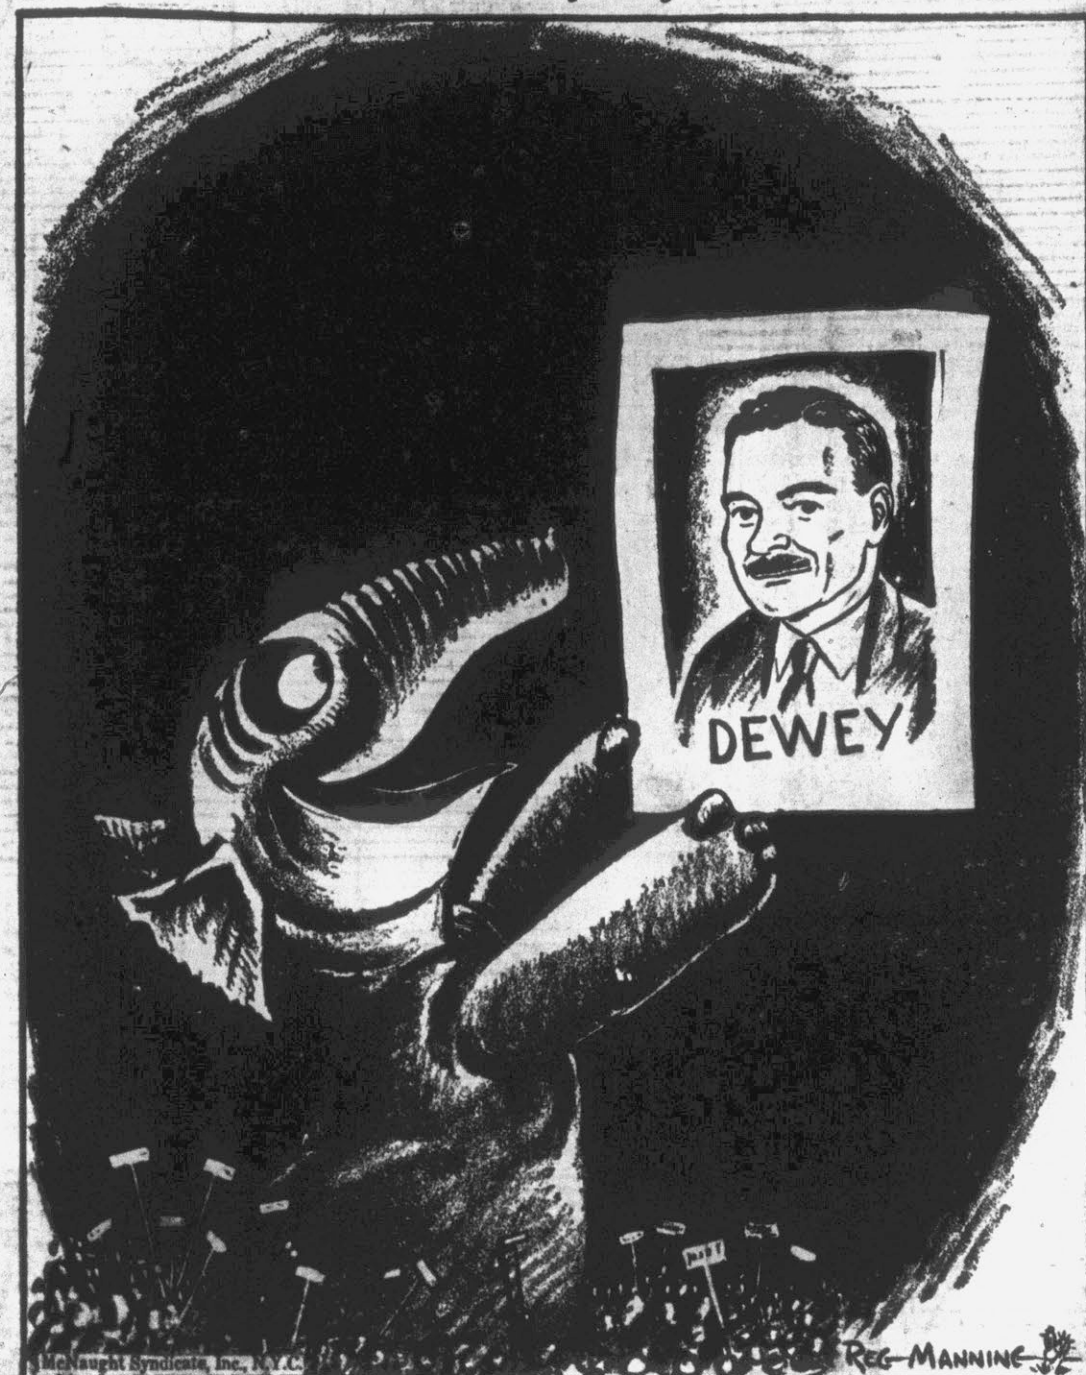

Both Brownell and Sprague have been around the country a lot, whipping up Dewey support, and all three have worked unceasingly here in Philadelphia.

Against their kind of carefully worked out campaign to snag votes for their man, the chances of some of the other candidates at this convention must seem like the chances of amateurs.

For instance, Governor Earl Warren of California wanted the nomination and the 53 delegates from his state voted for him solidly, but very few others did.

The Dewey forces had 25 rooms on an upper floor in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel here and they rented the huge main ballroom on the first floor.

Polio Outbreak In June Growing

Month's Total Now Amounts To 125 Cases For State

Raleigh, June 25 — (AP) — The June outbreak of infantile paralysis mounted to 125 cases today when nine new cases were reported to the State Board of Health. Sixteen cases were reported yesterday.

Moore County reported three cases today, and one case each was reported by Buncombe, Burke, Mecklenburg, Rockingham, Wake and Wilkes counties.

So far this year there have been 248 cases of polio reported compared with 300 during all of last year. Meanwhile, Phillip B. Randolph of Chapel Hill, representative of the National Association for Infantile Paralysis, said that a portion of Camp Butler may be used as a convalescent hospital for polio victims.

"Most of the hospitals in the state are crowded in as many patients as possible, and we think they'll keep on trying to find space," he said.

"But if cases continue to crop up like they have recently, we're going to need more convalescent space within the next few weeks."

A list of the June cases by counties prepared by the Board of Health showed that most of the polio cases have occurred in the central section of the state.

Japanese In Protest Over Price Increase

Tokyo, June 25 — (AP) — Sixty thousand Japanese gathered in the plaza outside the Imperial Palace today to protest the newly announced 70 percent average increase in prices. Many bore banners of Leftist dominated unions.

Speakers told of plans for a one day protest strike July 1.

Told To Stop

Washington, June 25 — (AP) — Army Secretary Royall telegraphed all state adjutants general today to stop recruiting National Guardsmen immediately.

He told them congressional leaders will not favor extra appropriations to pay more guardsmen than the regular budget provides.

The budget for the next fiscal year provides for a total National Guard strength of 341,000. The rush of enlistments by men more than the regular budget eligible for the draft is believed to have pushed the strength nearer to 375,000.

Demands Revised By Auto Workers

Nearly Double Wage Offer Stipulated By Ford Co.

Detroit, June 25 — (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers countered the Ford Motor Company's offer of an 11-14 cent hourly wage increase with revised demands of its own today totalling twice that much.

A UAW spokesman said the demands would cost Ford at least an additional 28 cents an hour.

The union demands include:

1. A flat 14-cent an hour pay raise;
2. A company financed hospitalization, health and medical care program equal to another eight cents an hour;
3. Elimination of what the union called "differentials in economic standards" between Ford and its competitors. This would include higher night differential pay, more vacation pay, elimination of "so called merit spreads," more call-in pay and other fringe benefits, adding up to six cents an hour.

Ford, earlier this week, offered a 14-cent raise to all of its 110,000 employees making more than the average $150 an hour and 11 cents to those making less.

The UAW's original demands included a 30-cent hourly wage increase and numerous other concessions.

Dismisses Suit By Third Party

Raleigh, June 25 — (AP) — Judge W. C. Harris today upheld contention of the state that the Progressive Party of North Carolina is not yet a legally-constituted party.

The judge upheld a demurrer by Attorney General Harry McMullan and dismissed a suit by the party against the State Board of Elections.

Election Party

The Daily Reflector will conduct its customary election party tomorrow evening. Associated Press wire will be available for early reports on results in the run-off primary between Charles M. Johnson and W. Kerr Scott.

Due to the nature of this election it is anticipated that the outcome will be known comparatively early. Pitt County's returns are expected to be quickly completed if the pollholders telephone the results to the Reflector as promptly as in past elections.

South Prominent In Warren's Win

Tarheel Delegate Says State Will Go Republican

Philadelphia, June 25 — (AP) — Southern Republicans figured prominently in the nomination of Governor Earl Warren of California for vice-president at today's meeting of the GOP convention.

Chairman Claude O. Vandamm of Alabama yielded his state's No. 1 spot on the roll call of states to Oregon for the nomination of Warren.

John Wilkinson, North Carolina delegate and GOP nominee for the senate, seconded the nomination of the Californian. Immediately after that, Speaker Joseph Martin, convention chairman, put the question of nominating Warren by acclamation.

North Carolina was ready with 26 Warren votes, South Carolina was solid with six for Warren, and Alabama with 16.

Wilkinson said the South was vitally interested in the party's naming the strongest possible ticket and he believed that the convention had done just that.

"We're going to make North Carolina Republican in November," Wilkinson told a cheering convention. "We're out to redeem the South from one party domination. That can best be accomplished with Dewey and Warren. That's the team we want."

Scott, Johnson Campaign In Final Stage Tonight

Raleigh, June 25 — (AP) — Charles M. Johnson and Kerr Scott will lose their final verbal blasts tonight in their run-off for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The two candidates have slugged it out for the last four weeks with bitter charges and counter charges. On Saturday the voters will have their say.

Political observers said they expected the vote to be light. They counted on fewer than 350,000 voters going to the polls, far below the 423,000 ballots cast in the first primary on May 29.

Johnson was top man of the six candidates in the first primary. Scott came in second with 8,848 votes behind Johnson to qualify for the run-off position.

Both candidates planned to make statewide radio broadcasts tonight. Johnson will remain in Raleigh and vote here Saturday. Scott planned to go to his home in Alamance County Saturday to vote and then return to his Raleigh headquarters.

Scott issued a statement from his headquarters here in which he asserted backers of Johnson have "divided the state into districts and bank officers are combing them in a desperate effort to raise additional funds to buy the election."

Scott claimed that he possessed a letter allegedly written by Earl Warren of the Bank of Elkin to other bankers suggesting a "financial vote of confidence" in gubernatorial candidate Johnson. In addition, Scott said that the United National Bank of Charlotte wrote letters to its depositors soliciting support for Johnson.

Key Communists Urge Formation 'Democratic' All-German Gov't

Warsaw, June 25 — (AP) — Russian and seven European satellites urged today that a "provisional Democratic, peace-loving all-German government" be set up.

They did so in a communique by their Foreign Minister, who ended a two-day conference at midnight in Willanow Palace, eight miles east of here.

(The communique was broadcast by the Moscow radio and distributed in London by the Soviet news agency Tass said an all-German government should be created by Big-Four agreement.)

Max Reimann, chairman of the United States, British and French ones of Germany, told a Frankfurt political meeting yesterday west-German Communists "will be glad to participate" in any all-German government set up in the Soviet zone.

Western Berlin Sectors' Food Shipments Halted

Soviets Stop Supplies From Their Zone; Rail Traffic From Western Zones Also Blocked By Russian Maneuver

Berlin, June 25 — (AP) — The Russians ordered today that no more food from their zone be sent into the western-occupied sectors of Berlin.

They stopped traffic yesterday on the single railroad line supplying those sectors with food from the western occupation zones.

The blockade left the air the only way to get food in to the 2,000,000 inhabitants of the American, British and French sectors. Allied experts said that would prove unworkable in the long run.

American and British authorities said a month's food stocks are on hand in the western sectors and nobody will starve.

The people remained calm in the face of efforts of the Soviet-controlled press to spread fear of hunger and unemployment and a Russian threat to keep the rail freight tieup on indefinitely.

L. J. Steck, American military government food chief, said the Russian food embargo order was delivered to the central food board of the German municipal government.

He said one immediate effect would be to deprive the children of western Berlin of fresh milk. Powdered milk is being distributed.

By their action the Russians withdrew from the four-power food pool which for nearly three years has been feeding Berlin.

Each occupying power has been contributing to this pool, administered by the Allied Kommandatura and the city government.

Dissolving the pool means splitting Berlin down the middle from the standpoint of food supply.

The Russians can feed the 1,000,000 Germans in their sector from their surrounding occupation zone.

The western supplies have to come in from the western occupation zones. They can't come in so long as the rail line is blocked.

In the American, British and French sectors, Germans began trading their money for the new Deutsche mark, which was put in competition here with the eastern Germany money the Russians introduced yesterday.

Long lines stood before exchange offices. American armored cars and machinegun-bearing jeeps patrolled streets of the U.S. sector on guard against disturbances.

The official Russian press said it is "difficult to predict" when repairs could be made on the rail line from western Germany.

Says Opposition Is More Evident

Arkansan Declares Truman Nomination Not Assured

Marianna, Ark., June 25 — (AP) — Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas said here today "it is becoming more evident every week" that nomination of President Truman as the Democratic standard bearer is not assured.

The chairman of the state rights Democrats opposing Mr. Truman's civil rights program, declared:

"Our support is not confined to the south. The movement is growing in all sections."

Laney spoke at a barbecue sponsored by the Arkansas Free Enterprise Association.

Laney said eight states' delegates to the Democratic National convention had agreed to attend a states' rights caucus prior to the convention and that others were expected to join the movement.

He predicted that if Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican Presidential nominee, is elected, "he will give you all the civil rights laws, if he can get them for you."

"That," he added, "is why the Democrats must reject Mr. Truman at Philadelphia."

Coal Agreement Is Signed Today

'Captive' Mine Operator Refuses To Accept Terms

Washington, June 25 — (AP) — John L. Lewis and most of the soft coal operators today signed a new coal contract providing a $1-a-day wage increase and twice as much money for the miners' welfare-pension fund.

An official of the steel industry-owned coal mines had announced earlier he would not sign the agreement.

A joint announcement by Lewis and the operators who signed said the new contract—except for the increased wages and pension funds—kept "all other terms and conditions of the previous wage agreement."

This includes an outright continuation of a union shop provision, despite a Taft-Hartley labor act ban against the union shop unless it is authorized by the National Labor Relations Board.

This union shop clause caused Harry M. Moses to balk at signing for the steel industry-owned "captive" coal mines.

The new contract is effective July 1 and will replace one expiring June 30.

The miners, however, begin their annual 10-day vacation tomorrow and will not return to work until July 1.

"I'm not in accord with the contract and I'm not signing it," Moses told newsmen.

He said he would issue a statement later. He indicated he feels continuation of the union shop clause in the contract is a violation of the labor law.

Gen. Wm. C. Lee Dies Following Lengthy Illness

Dunn, N. C., June 25 — (AP) — Major General William C. Lee, 53, retired former commander of the army's airborne forces, died at his home here early today.

The general's death was announced by H. C. Jackson, Lee's brother-in-law who called John A. Parks, publisher of the Raleigh Times.

Death came after a lingering illness which resulted from an attack of coronary thrombosis suffered by the general on Feb. 5, 1944 when he was in England with the army.

He was known as the father of the army's airborne forces.

Jackson said that the general died at about 9 a. m.

Dewey's Choice

GOV. EARL WARREN

McGrath Claims Can Whip Dewey

'Licked Him Before Can Do It Again' Says Spokesman

By The Associated Press

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's unanimous nomination as the Republican presidential candidate brought this equally unanimous reaction today from Democratic leaders: — We'll lick him.

While there was no comment from the White House Senator J. Howard McGrath, national Democratic chairman, said:

"This nomination comes as an endorsement of an effort for Governor Dewey on his unsuccessful 'me to' campaign of 1944. The American people also will play an encore in November."

Paul F. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the New York State Democratic committee, said "we've licked him before and we will do it again."

He added:

"Dewey's lack of success in seeking the presidency has become a habit without parallel in American history. Americans of both parties x x x when they go to the polls this November, will make certain that this habit remains unbroken."

House Democratic leader Rep. John W. McCormack declared that "Gov. Dewey is politically vulnerable and with the weak Republican platform and the high cost of living as the paramount issue we can hurl at the Republicans, we can start out with our chances of victory most favorable."

McCormack said the "strongest candidate the Republicans could have nominated would have been Senator Vandenberg."

New Unity Is Emerging

Communist-Imposed Dangers and Trials of Freedom Forging A Strong Opposition By Bringing Together Free Nations; American, Western European Nations

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Out of the fire comes the steel; out of the trials and dangers imposed by the Bolshevik drive to conquer the globe there undoubtedly is emerging a new unity among the free nations.

By treachery, trickery and aggression the Reds enslaved Eastern Europe before a trusting world as a whole was awake to this threat from one of the major Allies. However, with the full awakening the democratic nations are solidifying in a manner which couldn't have been foreseen. The Communist scheme of breeding division and discord is back-firing.

We see this in the fact that while idealists strove for generations to form a United States of Europe, the Muscovites unwittingly and unwillingly have set such a union well on its way in Western Europe in the brief period since the war. Moreover that's only half the story.

For the Soviet policy of aggression has driven Western Europe and America together in a manner which couldn't have been foreseen by any stretch of imagination.

The nucleus of a possible United States of Europe is the recently formed Western European union. This comprises Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The alliance is economic, Californian Gets Vice Presidential Nomination By Acclamation; Republican Convention Becomes History As Adjournment Is Accomplished At 12:30 p.m.

By JACK BELL

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 25 — (AP) — The Republicans made it a Thomas E. Dewey-Earl Warren ticket today and closed their convention cheering for a coast to coast victory hope in November's Presidential elections.

California's governor Warren got the vice presidential nomination by acclamation once New York's Governor Dewey, unanimously nominated last night for the Presidency, pointed him out as the man he wanted for a running mate.

The gavel ending the 24th National Republican convention banged down at 12:30 p. m. (EST).

Chairman Joe Martin ended it on the same note hit on Monday when it opened—victory. Just before the session's end, he introduced Warren as the "next vice President of the United States."

The cheering delegates left no doubt they believed him—that this is the year the GOP can end 16 years of Democratic rule.

Warren in an acceptance speech made "every bit of loyalty in me make-up."

Mrs. Warren and the Governor's three daughters, Virginia, 19, Dorothy, 17, and Nina, 14, accompanied him to the platform.

The smiling family group posed for five minutes for pictures. Mrs. Warren wore a blue suit and a wide brimmed white hat.

Warren took the speaker's stand and drew a laugh at the outset by saying:

"For the first time in my life I know what it feels like to get hit by a streetcar."

"Yesterday, I received something of a jolt. I had no idea I was going to be elected as today. And before you change your mind I want to say—I accept."

"Now the reason that I am so quick to say that is that I have not yet recovered my breath, much less my thoughts."

"If I let it go any longer, I'm afraid I'll forget to say even that."

"I am more grateful to you than you know for the great honor that you have given me."

"And then I pledge to you that if the people place their confidence in us, as I believe they will, that during the next four years I will give every bit of loyalty in my makeup."

As Gov. and Mrs. Warren and the three daughters—came up on the platform the band played "California Here I Come."

Warren had lipstuck on him, the result of some resounding smacks from the kids, who had been in the hall to hear the nomination speeches.

Once Warren got to the platform he ran into trouble, photographer trouble. Their problem was to get a picture of five people on one small platform and the chant soon went up from all sides:

"We want the girls! We want the girls!"

Finally they got the girls, and the Governor and Mrs. Warren, too.

While Warren spoke, the family was grouped directly behind him. He got a great cheer as he finished.

Martin groused for order and broke his fourth gavel. It's been a tough convention.

At 12:30 P. M., Carroll Reese of Tennessee, National Chairman, moved for adjournment.

And the 1948 Republican national convention became history.

Warren-Cox

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 19, at five in the afternoon at the Memorial Baptist Church, Miss Dorothy Elks Cox became the bride of Mr. Clyde James Warren. Reverend R. E. Hardaway, pastor of the bride, officiated.

The church was decorated beautifully with "I" baskets of white gladiolus, fern and evergreen. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Guy Smith, organist, and Miss Geraldine Allgood, soloist, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." "The Lord's Prayer" was used as the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned over a hoop skirt, with French lace at the neck and ended in long pointed sleeves. A pointed peplum fell from the fitted waist into a long train. The long veil fell from a Juliet Cap which was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids showered with baby orchids and white tube roses.

Miss Betsy Fyfe was maid-of-honor, and the bride's only attendant. Her gown was of sky blue dotted swiss fashioned over a hoop skirt, with a sweetheart neckline and pointed waist. She wore matching gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of white gladiolus, sprayed with pink tube roses and bound with pink and white satin ribbon. She wore a matching head-dress.

The groom had as his best man his cousin, Mr. Henry Warren, Brothers of La Grange, N.C.

Acting as ushers were Mr. Warren Aldridge of Richmond, Virginia, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Edwin Robertson of Vanceboro.

The bride's mother wore an aqua crepe dress, beaded at the waist with rhinestones, and she used black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The mother of the groom was dressed in grey crepe and her accessories were of white. She, too, wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Warren is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cox of this city. She received her education in the Greenville City Schools.

Mr. Warren is the only son of Mr. Benson Buffin and the late Mr. Clyde James Warren, Sr. of Vanceboro, N.C. He was graduated from the Farm Life School of Vanceboro in 1942 and attended State College. After having served three years in the Merchant Marine Cadet Corps, he has lived in Greenville where he has been employed by the Guaranty Bank & Trust Co.

For traveling, the bride changed to a summer suit of navy blue gabardine and wore white accessories. Her orchid was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Having returned from their honeymoon, the couple will make their home in this city.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Warren Aldridge, Richmond, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elks, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Buffin, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Huff, Mr. Marvin Aldridge, Mr. Rod Lancaster, Mr. Edwin Robertson, Mr. John Huff and many others from Vanceboro.

Following the rehearsal on Friday night, the bride's parents entertained the wedding party, out-of-town guests and close friends at a cake-cutting at their home on Colonial Avenue. After the guests were greeted, they were invited into the living room and dining room where beautiful arrangements of pink and white glads and mixed summer flowers decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Warren Aldridge and Mrs. Calvin MacGregor assisted in serving the wedding cake, ice cream, nuts and mint.

On Thursday night of last week, Miss Betsy Fyfe was hostess at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Cox. The dining table was centered with an original arrangement of white glads. Dahlias and larkspur were used in the living room.

The many lovely gifts were displayed on a table below the mantel in the living room.

Coca-Colas, sandwiches, nuts, mint and potato chips were served. The hostess presented Miss Cox a corsage of pink sprayed carnations and crystal in her chosen pattern.

Many friends attended and Miss Cox received a variety of beautiful and useful gifts.

Mrs. Victor Gaskins entertained Miss Cox on June 17th at her home in Vanceboro at a kitchen shower. The home was decorated with lovely arrangements of mixed summer flowers.

Mrs. Gaskins presented Miss Cox

a corsage of white glads. Also, Mrs. J. C. Cox and Mrs. Benson Buffin were remembered with corsages similar to that of Miss Cox.

A variety of games were enjoyed by approximately 35 guests, after which refreshments of punch, heart-shaped sandwiches, colored cupcakes, mints and nuts were served by Mrs. Walter Elks, Mrs. Gaskins and her mother.

Miss Cox received some very lovely and useful gifts.

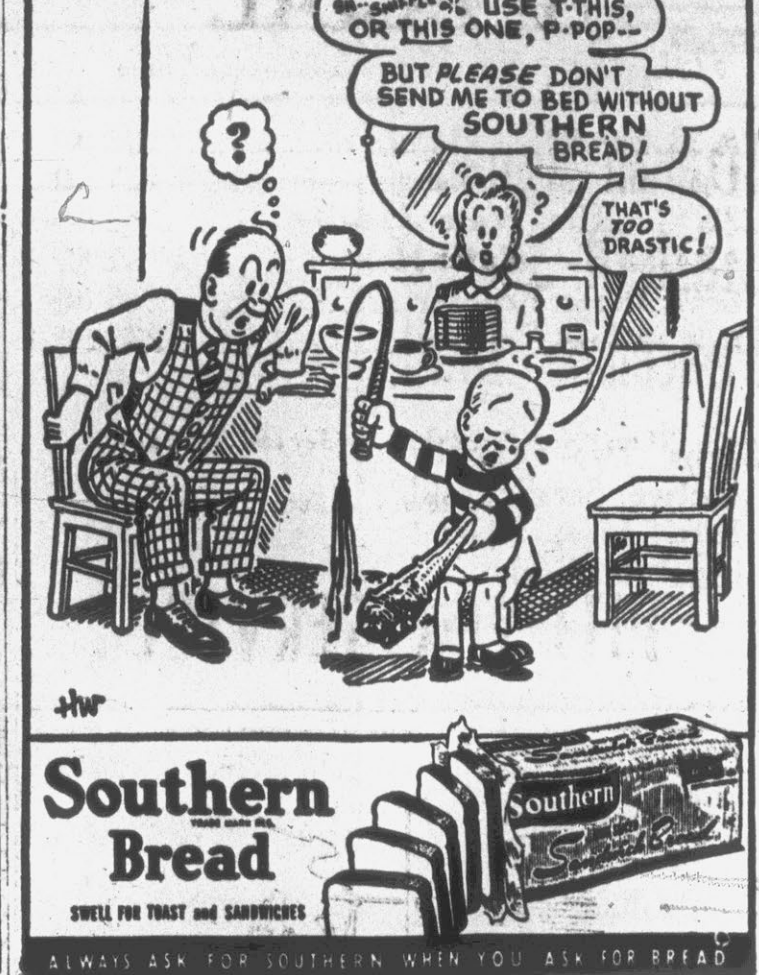

THURSDAY WAS HOTTEST DAY OF THE SUMMER

Yesterday—Thursday—was the hottest day of the summer—and summer began last Monday, June 21, the day of the summer solstice. Mrs. C. E. Maiden, weather observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce, reported that the temperature Thursday was 99 degrees. The mercury ascended to 97 last Sunday and again on Tuesday. The Weather Bureau thermometer this morning at 8 o'clock registered 84 degrees.

Mrs. W. W. Smiley and Mrs. J. K. Long honored the Willetts-Messick wedding party at a rehearsal party and cake-cutting evening at the "Y" hut on the college campus.

White gladioli and lighted tapers were used throughout the hut. The table was centered with an arrangement of white mixed flowers and crystal candelabra holding white tapers.

The mantel was decorated with magnolia greens and flanked with white tapers.

Mrs. J. D. Messick, mother of the bride-elect, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Fred Willetts Sr., mother of the bridegroom-elect, served the tiered wedding cake after the couple had cut the first slice. Miss Nell Stallings and Mrs. Agnes Barrett assisted in serving punch, mints and nuts.

There were approximately forty guests, including the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

Dance Honors Miss Hannah and Ensign Dunn

Dr. J. Hicks Corey, Pat Corey and Virgil Clark entertained at a dance Wednesday evening at the Country Club, complimenting Miss Nancy Hannah and Ensign Sydney Dunn.

Harold Grant and his college orchestra provided the music for the evening. The club was decorated in a green and white color scheme. Punch was served from two lovely tables and the floral centerpieces were composed of white gladioli, snapdragons, baby's breath and gardenias. Sandwiches, attractively garnished, cheese straws, decorated cookies, mints and other delectables were served. There were about 175 people present, including local and out-of-town guests.

Miss Hannah was the recipient of a three layer miniature wedding cake.

Program By Norman Cordon Was Pleasing To Local Audience

Norman Gordon, bass-baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, sang at East Carolina Teachers College on last Wednesday evening in a recital sponsored by the college entertainment committee.

The singer, introducing his own numbers informally, established friendly contact with his audience by referring to himself as a "Beaufort County boy" who was happy to sing in his home territory. Gordon was born in Washington, N. C. and spent eight years of his life there.

Particularly pleasing to the audience gathered in the Austin auditorium to hear Cordon was a group of Negro spirituals, including "Little David" and "Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel," and the encore "Old Man River." Other numbers on the program were four "Indian Love Lyrics" by Amy Woodford-Finden, a group of religious songs by Brahms, and arias by Mozart and Handel.

Also appearing on the program was John Ellis, pianist, who was Gordon's accompanist and who played selections by Schumann and Brahms.

Following the concert, President John D. Messick of East Carolina and Mrs. Messick entertained at their home on East Fifth Street in honor of the guest artists.

Elizabeth Drake To Be Presented In Recital On Thursday

Elizabeth Drake, pianist and faculty member at East Carolina Teachers College, will be presented in a recital on next Thursday evening, July 1, in the Austin auditorium on the campus. Miss Drake's recital will be one of several events to be sponsored during the summer term this year by the department of music.

For her program Miss Drake has chosen a varied group of selections, including works by composers of the romantic and the modern schools. She will play Beethoven's Sonata.

Op. 110; preludes by Rachmaninoff, Brokner, and Grieg; works by Schumann and Liszt; and Beethoven's "Sonata."

Miss Drake, whose home is in Scotland Neck, has been at the college for the past two years, and since she came to Greenville has appeared in piano recitals both on the campus and in the city.

Development Of Resources Cited By J. W. Butler

James W. Butler, secretary of the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Alumni Association of East Carolina Teachers College, was speaker on Wednesday at the Resource-Use workshop now in progress on the campus here. Butler, discussing the development of resources in eastern North Carolina, cited opportunities for the development of community industries and the possibilities of using to better advantage farm products of this area, processing them here, and distributing them through markets close at hand.

He stated that several small industries are more beneficial to a community than one or two on a large scale. Industrialization, he pointed out, means the improvement of an area and is marked by a rise in the educational level and accompanied by an increase of skilled workers demanding better economic returns for their services.

The schools he stated, can be influential in furthering the wise use of the resources of this section of the state. The lower grades should stress a general basic knowledge of the area, he said. The junior and the senior high schools, he continued, should develop the study of economic conditions in communities, with a view of discovering new opportunities and to encouraging North Carolina boys and girls to stay at home and promote better farming and improved community and industrial relations.

Birth registrations of leading countries indicate that one pair of twins is born to about every 90 single births.

CUTTING DOWN TREES FOR WIDENING FIFTH STREET

Workers are making good progress removing the obstructing trees on West Fifth street in preparation for the State Highway Commission to widen that thoroughfare—route 264—and pave it, 36 feet from curb to curb. When the project is completed there will be five-foot sidewalks and two and one-half park strips along the thoroughfare from Albemarle Avenue to the city limits beyond C. M. Epps Negro High school.

Strength FOR THE DAY

GET AT THE SOURCE
We read in the third chapter of Acts that as Peter and John were going up into the temple to pray, a beggar asked them for alms. Instead of giving the beggar silver or gold, of which they had none, they gave him healing so that the man stood up; and now being healed of his infirmity he needed no longer to be a beggar. He asked for a little gift and got a big one.

Charity has its place in life and probably will have until the end of time, but it is not a cure for anything. The cure is brought about when men and women are put in a position where they no longer need charity. This is no excuse for uncharitableness so long as the need for charity exists, but a perfect world would be a world without the necessity for charity. It would be a world in which economic systems were so just, government so free, and business dealing so fair that everybody would have the chance he needs to make good in life.

But a perfect world presupposes perfect people, which means that even a tolerably good world presupposes tolerably good people. Systems are never better than the people who create them. The way to cure poverty is to cure the conditions which cause poverty.

Around Capitol Square

HOSPITALS—The state board of hospital control has arranged a meeting to be held at Camp Butler on July 14 at which a comprehensive summary of progress in provisions for mental patients will be reviewed. Newspaper folks and others have been invited to sit in at the meeting. Tentative plans are for both review and preview of activities. One board member said he knew the job had been completed, and he is appalled at the continuing need for larger service. At the same time, he feels that much genuine improvement has been made within the past few years and he doubts that the public has accurate concept of the present situation.

MONEY—Governmental service, especially with respect to education and social welfare, is often evaluated in terms of dollar and cent cost. On purely monetary basis progress has not been as marked as in some other phases. Appropriations have been greatly increased but rising costs of materials, labor and other items have to considerable extent offset the enhanced appropriations. Actual progress must be evaluated in terms of improved service and fuller recognition of state responsibility, rather than judged by the amount of cash poured into the projects.

PERCENTAGE—The state is spending a great deal more money now than it spent a few years ago for the mechanics of government. It costs more now than ever before to operate the administrative departments—such as the governor's office, the department of justice and all courts, the departments of revenue, motor vehicles and highways. Administrative costs at all state institutions are up. But it is significant that on percentage basis appropriations of public money for actual service to citizens has grown several times faster than administrative costs.

SERVICE—Most of the additional money for schools has gone directly into instructional service rather than to administration. Much larger part of hospital appropriations and public health money has been dedicated to patient care. In the highway set up a bigger share than ever before of road money has gone within the past three years to serve the rural people of North Carolina rather than to the main interstate arteries of travel. Much as still remains to be done, the report on hospital progress is expected to show that a great deal has been accomplished.

HARMONY—There can be too much harmony among public officials. Discussion, argument and actual disagreement make for better government. That is one reason some capitol square observers are pleased with prospect of vigorous dissenting opinions in several upcoming situations. Suggestion that the education commission recommend a starting teacher salary of $2,400 and an appointive rather than elective state superintendent of public instruction, is likely to precipitate some real argument. There is not much protest at these objectives for a long range program, but many observers doubt the wisdom of setting them at all.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
Philadelphia, June 25—(AP)—Conventions sideliners:

There is a look that doesn't come every day into a woman's eyes. It came at 8:19 (EST) last night into the eyes of one woman.

She is a handsome dark-haired woman and was wearing a pert black hat—the kind men like because it ain't foolish—a neat black suit, and a rope of pearls.

She stood on a platform in convention hall beside a man who had just won the Republican Presidential nomination. He was also the first Republican since the party's founding in 1856 who had gained a second nomination after losing to a Democrat.

The woman was Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, who once told an interviewer that the only career she desired was to be "my husband's wife."

And she was living up to her word. As Governor Dewey threw up a confident hand to the cheering crowd, she turned on him the look that every husband who loves his wife sometimes hopes to see in her eyes.

Her eyes said in shiny eloquence: "Look at my man. Isn't he something? My Tom. They're cheering you again."

And she knew that every woman in the vast crowd of 14,000 people there knew the pride she felt, for all women see these things in other women's eyes. And so do a lot of men, too.

I don't envy Tom Dewey his title and his worrisome campaign ahead. But I do envy him that look of proud loyalty that Frances Hutt Dewey gave him.

The average man gets it from his wife only on their night out together when he tells a snooty waiter to take her steak back and cook it the way she said. Her hero! Or maybe when he reaches down their small child's gasping throat and pulls out the chicken bone choking her.

O-O-O

The funny thing about getting that widely look of "you're-the-only-man-in-the-world-for-me" is that you don't have to be a winner to get it.

You are as likely to get it from the old girl when the world tabs you a loser as when you are the people's crowned savior of this-or-that.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg may have wondered at the last moment whether he shouldn't have made a real grab for the nomination that would have crowned his long career of public service. There were many many people who wanted him to.

But I think Mrs. Vandenberg was completely honest when she said she hoped her husband wouldn't get it. To her and to him, fighting for international unity is more important than to head one segment of a world—even our own big segment. I think she thought that the last best gift of life to her was his.

"Honey, you're my Presidency—and I've had you for a long time. Now we can have more time together."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington—What the Marshall Plan needs, says Congressman Helen Gehagan Douglas (D-Calif)—is the woman's touch.

"The 80th Congress might have produced a better version of the European Recovery Program more quickly had there been more women members," she told me the other day. And she believes our chances of making ERP work in the next few crucial years will be "much greater if more women are elected to the next Congress."

She says: "It will be the 81st and 82nd Congress that will decide whether U. S. aid to Europe is to be a force for war or peace. The election of even a handful of new congresswomen this year would be the best kind of peace insurance."

Only seven women, in addition to the seven who now hold seats, are running for Congress in the present campaign. An eighth was defeated in the primary.

Mrs. Douglas argues that women are born conciliators. She recently told members of the Woman's National Democratic Club: "They have to conciliate from morning 'til night. It's Johnny, don't talk to your father now... you'll get to the baseball game, but stop talking about it." The woman of the home, in running a household, copes with all the problems of a diplomat.

"Men," she said, "are prime donnas. Sometimes they get up with a temper in the morning, say what they please, never stopping to think they might have to eat their words later in order to keep the peace. Often in Congress we see the small boy come out in our men representatives whenever there is talk of weapons or warlike things. They are fascinated by guns and tanks and rockets. Left to themselves, they are too prone to let this fascination obscure the horror of what the weapons stand for."

Mrs. Douglas says that women are NOT constituted that way. "Women from the moment they give life protect life. That's their job, to hold the family together. And that's what we need to do—hold the world family together, or there won't be any family or any world."

She says people are distressed today because war is discussed so lovingly and seems to be accepted as an inevitable catastrophe. "It is the job of the United States to hold the world together. It is the job of women to hold Congress together."

Mrs. Douglas, former stage star and opera singer, is the wife of Melvyn Douglas, movie star. She has a son Peter, 14, a daughter Mary Helen, 9 and a foster son, Gregory 22.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 15

I heard Dr. Stokes's voice.

I made good time to my hotel, up in the elevator to my room, and back down to the lobby with the bundle under my arm. I almost bumped noses with J. D. Her eyes glittered like the muzzles of two guns with different blue jobs done on them.

"Where have you been?" she asked me. She was mad, and being mad made her voice almost too soft to hear.

"Pulling in a murderer for us, chief," I told her with a smile, but she didn't smile back.

"I've a telephone message asking me to represent Dr. Stokes. Is he your suspect?"

"Suspect nothing. I've proved it on him."

"And you didn't think it worth while to tell me about it?"

I began to get a little huffy myself. "You didn't give me much of a chance to tell you anything. I'd have told you at least part of it yesterday, but you were too busy fixing your hair to go out ringing doorbells with the doctor. And anyway, if you're going to be his lawyer—"

"How can I be his lawyer?" she almost yelled. "I'm supposed to discover Richard Ealing's murderer, not defend him."

"Then you admit that Dr. Stokes is the murderer? Good, you and I think the same thing for a change. Why don't you come along with me to the station?"

"I'm going to."

We went there together, J. D. looking almost as grim as Dr. Stokes had looked when I left him. I spent the time in transit thinking of clever replies to make to any other questions she might ask, but she didn't ask any. We walked down the hall of the station house, past the lecture that was just breaking up, and to the foot of the stairs.

Holmgren met us there.

"Hey, Yates," he said, and his face looked as long as a ladder.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"The fingerprints on that letter."

"What about them?"

"There's only one, and Doc Stokes didn't make it."

"What letter is this?" J. D. wanted to know. "What print?"

"The envelope's smudged over with plenty of marks," Holmgren continued. "I used everything I had to bring 'em out clear. There were some of Ealing's—I got his when I checked the gun he held—a couple that match Doc Stokes's, which I took just now, and some that must be yours. But the note itself, the note that was inside, shows only one thumb print, and it is not either thumb that Doc Stokes happens to be wearing tonight."

"That sounds crazy," I protested.

"It does unless Doc Stokes never touched the note. Unless it was a frame, the way he says it was, put there to make him look guilty. The best thing for us to do is to grab that guy you say phoned you—"

Oporto, wasn't that his name?—and ask him what and how."

Raniel opened the door above us.

ing's gun room, or anywhere else on the day he was shot, because it had been sent to the cleaner's two days before and came back to me the morning after. The cleaner verified that by phone." He tapped the sack-wrapped bundle. "Whatever this is, I advise you to use it to convict someone else. If you still have the crust to stay in the convicting profession."

He walked on out. Did I say walked? He strutted like a Shanghai rooster.

I trotted up the steps past Holmgren. I dumped the sack on the desk in the homicide room.

"You made a sucker out of us, Yates," growled Raniel. He was chewing a big cigar. Everybody was mad at me right then.

"Keep these things, Lieutenant," I said. "You say Dr. Stokes is in the clear. Well, it's a murder, anyway. You must realize that by now. So there's a murderer loose, and I'll help you catch him."

"Get out of this room," Raniel snarled. "Go help the murderer. That way we'll get him quicker."

I went back downstairs. Nobody waited in the hall. I walked out and there was J. D. by the main door.

"Just a minute, Jackson," she said, in that soft mad voice, just loud enough for me to hear above the evening traffic. "I've something unpleasant to say to you."

Psychiatrist Is Convinced Rain Has Hurt Louis

(Editor's note: A noted psychiatrist analyzing the championship fight gives his views on what the postponement means.)

By J. L. Moreno, M.D.
Copyright, 1948 by Associated Press

New York, June 25—(AP)—Last night's raindrops dealt a harder psychological blow to Joe Louis' chin than Joe Walcott's.

For Louis is the type who would suffer more from the enforced postponement. Walcott's greater sense of humor would help him survive it.

Louis is a more sensitive person and more vain. He's more inclined to be annoyed and irritated than Walcott. Jersey Joe has had to develop a lot of patience in his life, or else he wouldn't still be trying at his age to become the champion.

Fighters and fans alike are undergoing a feeling of anti-climax. It's like a hangover feeling without having had the alcohol. It's mentally painful to wait for someone with whom you have a date, and then not have the person show up.

The last-minute postponement was the worst feature, it would have been smarter management for the officials to have strung along with the weatherman this time. With the prediction of showers in the evening, they might better have announced early in the afternoon that the fight probably couldn't be held.

Poor Attendance Brings Threat To Move Browns

St. Louis, June 25—(AP)—A veiled threat to move the St. Louis Browns away from St. Louis unless attendance showed an improvement failed to start a stampede of fans to the ball park.

A scant 2,288 turned out for last night's game with the Philadelphia Athletics. This was the slimmest crowd of the four-game series and one of the season's smallest.

President Richard Muckerman, who took over the Browns in 1945, said in a statement last Wednesday: "It's up to the fans whether the Browns remain in St. Louis, but I am not going to be head of any organization in St. Louis if the fans do not want it kept in St. Louis."

Seixas And Flam In Semi-Finals

Los Angeles, June 25—(AP)—Victor Seixas of North Carolina and Herbie Flam of UCLA take the courts today in the feature semi-final match of the 1948 National Intercollegiate tennis championship.

Reds accepted 70 successive chances without an error over a stretch of 12 complete games and part of another before batting a grounder off Don Lund's bat in a game with the Dodgers, on May 23rd.

The Indians have the distinction of beating the Yankees three times in one day. The June 12 night game, won by the Tribe, 10-8 did not end until 12:20 a. m. and the Indians made it three in a row by taking an afternoon double-header.

Kinston's Sammy McLawhorn had little trouble notching his 10th victory of the season over in Kinston last night as he scattered 10 hits among the Greensboro players in pitching the Kinston Eagles to an 11-3 win over Greenville in a listless game.

Greenville scored two runs in the second frame to take the lead momentarily when Joe Nessing tripled, Larry Riggs singled him home, Kovachick singled with Riggs taking third who later came home on McLawhorn's wild pitch.

However, the Eagles came back in their half of the second frame to put across three runs and go out in front for keeps. Four singles and two Greenie errors gave the Eagles their three runs in this frame.

The Eagles allied for five runs in the fourth inning to salt the game away for the night. Three singles, a double and two walks gave the Eagles their runs in this frame.

The Eagles came back in the fifth frame to score a singleton as the result of three hits and then scored two more in the sixth on four walks and a single.

The Greens managed to put across a run in the ninth frame when Moe Carter led off with a double, advanced to third on Arroyo's infield out, and Ray Phillips long fly to left field enabled him to score from third.

The Greens used three hurlers in last night's tilt with Johnny Kovachick being credited with the loss. Kovachick, who worked the first four frames allowed 10 hits and eight of the Eagles' runs.

Jerry Chitty, returning to the mound after a long absence, is still not in shape according to his work on the mound last night. Chitty went in at the start of the fifth inning and was touched for three hits and a run in this frame. Then in the sixth inning he started his walking act by walking the first two men, the third man loading the bases on an infield hit, and then walked the next two men to face him to give the Eagles two runs in this frame. He had only 11 men to face him officially in the one frame which he worked.

Kenneth Brooks came in during the wildness of Chitty with the bases loaded and put out the fire with no more scores that frame. In the three innings which Brooks worked he allowed only one hit and no runs.

Moe Carter with two doubles, Nessing with a triple and a single, and Wiley Nash with two singles accounted for six of the 10 hits obtained from McLawhorn.

Pete Pters got three singles in three trips officially to the plate to pace the Eagle's 15-hit attack off the three Greenie hurlers.

William Underwood introduced the canning process of preserving food in the United States in 1820.

The directors of the Greenville Baseball club announced today the sale of Danny Lastres to Greensboro of the Carolina League. President Reynolds May and the other directors knowing the esteem in which the fans of Greenville held in Lastres wishes to make the following statement concerning the transaction. Here are the facts:

On Wednesday, June 23, Lastres notified the Greenville officials that he was giving them three days notice to get them a new shortstop. When asked what the trouble was, Lastres stated that he was dissatisfied because the Greenville Baseball club refused to pay Augustus Delaville's expenses back to Cuba.

Delaville was sold to the Greensboro club of the Carolina League and refused to report to them and stated he was going home. The club officials felt that this refusal eliminated them of all obligations as to paying Delaville's expenses home.

When the officials talked to Lastres after he had given his notice of quitting the club, they agreed to go ahead and pay Delaville's expenses home if Lastres would be satisfied and willing to stay. Lastres stated that regardless he was quitting the club and that he was dissatisfied and fed up with Greenville. He was told that if he jumped his contract with the Greenville Baseball club we would be forced to put him on the ineligible list. He stated that he didn't care.

On Thursday, June 24th club officials asked Lastres if he would report to another club if he were traded. He stated he would report to any club except one in the Carolina League or the Tobacco State League. Club officials immediately sought opportunities to trade him and succeeded in making a trade with the Greensboro Baseball club of the Carolina League for their shortstop Billy Wood.

The officials of the Greenville club feel that they have done everything they possibly could to induce Lastres to remain with the Greenville club. They regret the attitude of the Greenville fans toward Lastres and regret this unavoidable situation occurred, but thought it best to trade him rather than have a player on the team who says openly he is "dissatisfied and fed up with the city of Greenville."

BOY'S LEAGUE BASEBALL

The Red Sox from the East resumed their winning ways Thursday morning at the Training School diamond when they downed the Lions from W. Greenville by score of 7 to 3. The winners were happy to play for four runs in the fifth and sixth innings to overcome their rivals Gene Hudson and Jerry Phillips with two hits each were the leaders for the Lions. Leroy Quinn with two singles and a double and Preston Fields with a double and single were best for the Sox.

Third St. Tigers hit the ball often and hard but lost to the Greens by the score of 121 to 7. Their defense fell apart at critical times. With the score tied at seven all in the last inning the Greens scored five runs on two walks, three hits and a error to sew the game up. The Tigers hit two doubles, two triples and one home run off the pitching of Joe Clark but fast fielding by the Greens cut down the score. Two fast double plays by the winners held the score down.

Eugene Ayers with three singles and Taylor with two singles led the Greene attack. Walter Goor with a triple and two singles, Walter Perry with two doubles, Fred Jones with a homer and single and Julian Valbright with a triple and single led the hitting for the losers.

Schedule for Monday:
Red Sox vs. Dodgers, Third St. 9:30 a.m.
Orioles vs. Giants, Third St. 9:30 a.m.

Greens vs. Tigers, Train. School 2:30 p.m.

Frankie Parker Lopping Kramer At Wimpoleon

London, June 25—(AP)—There's no respite today for the expected new Wimbledon tennis champion and former Frankie Parker provides double feature entertainment on the showplace center court.

The top-seeded Los Angeles star, Lennart Bergelin in a fourth-round singles match, his first appearance in the spotlight after crushing the hopes of three lesser foes on other courts.

He returns after a short recess to team with 1900 Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif., in a second-round doubles match against a pair of men of Australia and Geoff Parish of Britain.

At this stage, Frankie has excelled the performances of last year's champion, California Jack Kramer.

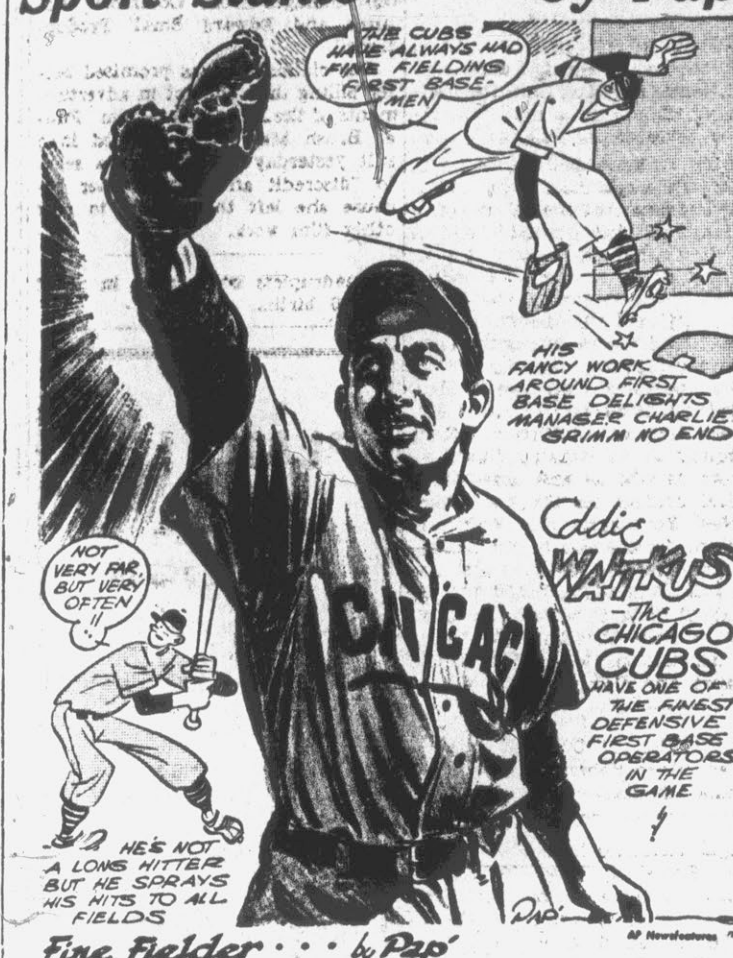

Harvard, Yale In Kenewal Or reud

New London, Conn., June 25—(AP)—Their Olympic ambitions took a temporary setback as the Harvard and Yale crews awaited the 33rd renewal of their private feud on the Thames river late this afternoon.

Powerful Harvard hoped to make it 10 in a row over scrappy Yale, and had lots of supporters.

Ever since the days of immortal Frank Chance the Chicago Cubs have been traditionally famous for fancy fielding first basemen. Charlie Grimm, current manager of the Cubs, was a real Fancy Dan around first base. Phil Cavarretta was no slouch around the initial sack until he was shifted to the outfield to make room for Eddie Waitkus. Waitkus—now there is a fancy fielding first baseman!

"Just watch Waitkus around that bag," says Manager Grimm. "The boy puts on quite a show. He has amazing stretch and reach for his height. He's one of the very best."

Since Grimm went into retirement the Cubs have tried a flock of first basemen including Rip Collins, Glen Russell, Zeke Bonura, Babe Dahlgren, Jimmy Foxx and Cavarretta. Cavarretta, of course, was a standard around the bag and at the plate. Waitkus was rated one of the finest prospects in the minors in 1942 when he went off to war.

Three years in the service with no baseball to speak of didn't help his development. But Waitkus, with an ideal baseball temperament, took over the first base chores when he returned, and proceeded to pep up the Cubs. A great team player, Eddie is bothered by nothing and nothing upsets his even disposition. He isn't a power hitter but he scores telling blows by spraying his shots all over the field, and mostly when there are men on base.

Weatherman Says There Will Be A Fight Tonight

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York, June 25—(AP)—The weather man predicted early today that the twice-postponed heavyweight title fight between Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott will go on tonight.

"There'll be a fight tonight," the U. S. Weather Bureau forecaster said on the basis of 6 a.m. (EST) data.

Tonight will be fair, he said, adding that scattered showers predicted for late afternoon are not expected to continue late enough to force a third postponement.

The two veteran fighting men, their nerves strained by two delays, are scheduled to try again in Yankee Stadium at 8 p.m. (EST) in their 15-round world championship bout.

The forecast for Saturday is fair and cool. The contest will be shifted to then if conditions don't permit it tonight.

The sponsoring Twentieth Century Sporting Club has through Monday to get the business out of the way. The New York Yankees come home Tuesday to take over their ball park. Prize-fighting is against the law in New York on Sunday.

The combatants will not be forced to weigh-in again. At the ceremonies Wednesday, Louis weighed 213 1-2 and Walcott 194 3-4.

Both fighters were in their dressing rooms and thousands of fans were either inside the park or milling at the gates last night when the area was struck by the full force of a thunderstorm—pouring rain, sharp lightning and sound effects.

The storm hit shortly before 7 p.m. (EST) and the fight was called off by Promoter Mike Jacobs and his assistant, Sol Strauss, at 7:25 p.m.

Ted Is Confident Red Sox Will Win

St. Louis, June 25—(AP)—Hit happy Ted Williams, in a hot hitting streak which has zoomed his batting average up to an imposing .417, says his Boston Red Sox teammates "are confident to a man we're going to wind up in the World Series."

The lean, lanky Red Sox outfielder also says he has a hunch that "the rest of the American League has a feeling Boston is going to win the American League pennant."

Williams, from all accounts, is doing more than his share of making his hunch come true. The league's leading outer has hit safely in his last 11 games, including both games of yesterday's double header with the Chicago White Sox.

He smashed two homers, boosting his season's total to 15; two behind the league leaders, Ken Keltner and Joe DiMaggio. He upped his RBI league-leading total to 66 and further increased his lead in runs scored and doubles, scoring twice and getting one two-base hit.

Williams' two homers with a man on base each time were the margin of victory for the Sox in the second game after they dropped the opener. About the Red Sox win streak of seven of their last eight games on their western trip, Williams said:

"When we were going bad I guess most of us just sort of gave up the pennant idea. Then we started to click all of a sudden and I don't think they're going to stop us."

Know Your Golf Shots

By HERMON BARBON
Written Especially for (AP) Newsfeatures

Putting is very important, in fact it's the most important shot in golf. It's on the greens that golf championships are won and lost.

Almost every pro star puts differently. I find the best method in putting is with an open stance. I put the ball off my left toe with my left elbow close to my left side and the right elbow slightly away from my right side.

I use the same overlapping grip in putting as in all my other shots. The only exception is that my left hand is turned under slightly with the back of my hand almost in a direct line with the cup.

Be smooth in your putting and grip the club very lightly. You can attain a smooth putting touch with a long, slow backswing of the left hand on a straight line and then swing the clubhead through the ball with right hand.

The word "sherry" is believed to be a corruption of the word "Jerez," a Spanish city famed for its wine.

"THE ONE-STOP SHOPPING CENTER"

Says Railroad's
Sale Imminent

Raleigh, N. C., June 25 — (AP) — Sale of the operating control of the Atlantic and East Carolina Railroad is imminent, a major stockholder revealed last night.
Harry P. Edwards of New Bern, one of the major stockholders, confirmed reports that New York bankers may soon buy out control from Tar Heel operators.
The roadbed of the line, which extends from Goldsboro to Morehead City and is known as the "Mullet Line", is owned by the state of North Carolina.
The operating franchise is controlled by Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Buchanan of Kinston, and J. A. Bolich, Jr. of Winston-Salem.
Edwards said he and Matt Allen, general counsel for the road, were in New York early this week negotiating for the sale of the operating franchise. He declared that the deal was not closed and said it would be "about 60 days" before a final decision is made. It is understood that the negotiations were with A. W. Benkert and Company.

Actress Seeking Damages Award

Los Angeles, June 25 — (AP) — Actress Janet Blair is asking $250,000 damages from Columbia Pictures and Edward Small Productions.
She claims she was promised better billing than she got in advertisements of the Red Skelton film "Pill-er Brush Man." She alleged in a suit yesterday that Columbia seeks to "discredit and punish" her because she left that studio to seek other film work.

Fellow Tobacco Farmers

VOTE FOR
CHARLES M. JOHNSON

SATURDAY JUNE 26TH

My mind is absolutely clear about the statement that there has been so much talk about in Time magazine, Oct. 9, 1939, issue when William Kerr Scott suggested sadistically that the market be reopened, the farmers left to squirm.

Last Monday I had business up to Louisburg and I asked my wife if she would like to go with me and we would go on up in the western central part of the state to see some friends.

As we were nearing Burlington we noticed a sign saying "4 miles to Kerr Scott's Farm." I decided to go up and see some things for myself. After turning in the road and seeing it a good rock and gravel road I thought I was wrong so I decided to stop and ask an old man I saw plowing corn. When I asked him he said, "You are on the right road. When you see a big barn beside road just up to the right that will be the place." I found the place but to my surprise he didn't plant any cotton, potatoes, tobacco or anything except feed for his herd. On seeing a man and little boy I stopped and asked him if he worked for Mr. Scott. He said he did: he helped with the dairy, that Mr. Scott had a herd of 300 cows and they were now milking 140—70 over at that place and 70 over to another place. He said he had been there two years and Mr. Scott did not raise tobacco, did not have a tobacco allotment.

I have been on the AAA Com. for a number of years and have learned that you have to have an allotment to make you eligible to vote for a tobacco program. And too I understand why he was not interested in the program of '39 To have him represent we thousands of tobacco farmers might be like the congressmen and senators up in Washington who fought us so hard on flue-cured tobacco that was included in the Marshall Plan.

After leaving Scott's farm we had dinner in Haw River and drove on through the sandhills down to Elizabethtown and spent the night.

Tuesday we drove down in Pender County. We learned we were near Charlie Johnson's home place and my curiosity took me there. On driving up the man who came out to meet me was Charlie Johnston's brother, Joe Johnson. After telling him I was a farmer and was interested in knowing what they raised he told me they raised a mixed crop—some trucking, tobacco, corn and such. I asked him, "Do you have a tobacco allotment?" He said, "Oh, yes, that is some of our tobacco right across the road." Then I asked, "Did Charlie Johnson vote for crop control?" To this he replied, "Yes, we always voted for tobacco control." Then Mr. Johnson wanted to know what I was doing—working for Scott?—and I told him, "No, I just wanted to satisfy my mind about which man was the most interested in we tobacco farmers."

On leaving their place I could understand that surely a man who planted our crop understood our problems better than one that knew nothing about it.

This is your election. Go to the polls Saturday June 26 and vote for Charlie M. Johnson.

College Begins Extensive Repair Work For Summer

Extensive repair work in the Austin Building and in student dormitories on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College will begin this week, according to F. D. Duncan, business manager.

The Austin, largest and oldest classroom building on the campus, will be renovated at a cost of approximately $18,000. The interior of the building will be painted during the summer months, and fluorescent lights will be installed in both classroom and offices. New flooring will be laid in several parts of the building.

The interiors of the Training School and of the student dormitories, Fleming, Jarvis, and Wilson, will be painted. In addition, new maple furniture will be bought and placed in Jarvis Hall, dormitory for women students. The baths will be rebuilt in Wilson hall, dormitory for men students, in one wing of which several apartments for faculty members are located. New furniture for the reception rooms of several student dormitories will be purchased.

The cost of the work on the Training School and the dormitories is estimated at approximately $25,000, according to Duncan.

Voters Hope For Best Candidate

By CHESTER WALSH
The two gubernatorial candidates, W. Kerr Scott and Charles M. Johnson, headed toward home today after concluding their appeals in personal speeches and over the radio and in messages in the newspapers.

The last part of the political campaign, the prelude to the climax—casting of ballots—will be worked out tomorrow, the day of the second Democratic Primary—when the candidates will have to do what all campaigners in a second primary find necessary to do to "get by," set their machinery in motion to haul voters to the polls. There is an old saying that "Many listen to campaign speeches, but few vote in second primaries, unless there's a lot of transportation."

Little interest is being manifested in the campaign by the average "man on the street" here and elsewhere in Pitt County. The drift of the current in political talk last night and this morning might be expressed in the way an "old-time" observer of political campaigns described it in front of the courthouse here today—"We've got to nominate a Democrat for governor of North Carolina, and we've only got two candidates. I hope we get the best man for the job."

The voting in tomorrow's runoff Democratic Primary will be at the usual voting places. The polls will open at 6:30 a.m. and close at 6:30 p.m. The ballot cast should be counted and totaled by 8 o'clock because it's a short ballot. Only men in the armed forces may cast absentee ballots in the primary.

The Reflector will announce the results of the primary as fast as the returns come in Saturday night.

Incidentally there is additional interest in the primary here because Marvin Smith of Chocod, incumbent and Wayland Hunsucker of Winterville, are contesting for county commissioners from the fourth district.

Men Volunteer For Children's Crusade

A group of businessmen, representing the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs, Junior Chamber of Commerce and American Legion, at a meeting Thursday, volunteered to make final plans for solicitations for funds for the "Crusade for Children" of war-torn countries. Pitt county's quota is $6,272.

Those volunteering for the canvass are: James S. Jenkins, Tyson Bilbro, John O. Reynolds, R. W. Shiplett, V. C. Fleming, B. S. Hodges, J. L. Harris, Elmer Browning, T. G. Dill, G. A. Brown, H. H. Duncan, Charles Cobb, C. B. Taft, P. L. Goodson, Ruland Davenport, Erskine Duff, Tom Webb, Bruce Sugg, Jr., Louis Gaylord, Jr., Melvin Whitford, G. V. Smith, John G. Fleming, E. Waldrop, George Wilkerson and Lindsey Wilkerson.

Triplets occur once in about 8,000 births.

WHICH SOLDIER

IS TALLEST

Because the wonderful human eye can see near objects and far ones, and is accustomed to perspective, this drawing is deceiving.

You expect to be deceived on optical illusions. But — is faulty vision deceiving you on important and serious matters? Are you seeing poorly, thinking you see well? Countless thousands of people have faulty sight without realizing it. Be sure your sight is right. Have it examined—now.

SALESMAN SUFFERED FOR YEARS BEFORE HE FOUND RETONGA

Famous Gastric Tonic Brought Prompt Relief From Distress Due to Acid Indigestion, Gas On Stomach, Restlessness. Has Regained 10 Pounds.

MR. HOYT C. STATON

"No one can be more grateful for Retonga than I am," declares Mr. Hoyt C. Staton, highly respected resident of 435 Hudson St., Gainesville, Ga., and widely-known salesman. A native of Hall County, Ga., Mr. Staton is a member of the Baptist Church. He gratefully goes on:

"It's hard to see how anybody could have suffered more distress from acid indigestion than I did. I just about lived on soft foods, and even they seemed to sour and cause cramping gas pains and bloating. I felt weakened and run-down and lost so much weight I was worried. Strong laxatives seemed necessary nearly every night, my elimination was so sluggish. I felt high-strung much of the time and slept so little I was worn out to start the day.

"Thanks to the relief Retonga brought me, I have a good appetite, my food agrees with me, and I sleep sound and restfully. I have regained 10 pounds of lost weight and feel more like my real self again. I feel that everyone suffering as I did should know about Retonga." Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at that everyone suffering as I did Bissette's Drug Store—Adv.

Four Brothers, Victims Of War, Are Together Again

Trenton, Utah, June 25—(AP)—The four Borgstrom brothers, who gave their lives in separate battles from Guadalcanal to Germany, are together again.

The sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alben Borgstrom, separated Oct. 12, 1940, when the oldest enlisted in the Marine corps. They had their picture taken together at a photo studio that day.

Today their bodies, home after honored escort from their temporary graves overseas, lay side by side in flag-draped caskets.

And tomorrow, Gen. Mark Clark, Sixth Army Commander, Gov. Herbert H. Maw of Utah, President George Albert Smith of the Latter-day Saints (Mormon) church and other dignitaries will honor them in full military funeral services.

The four brothers were killed within a less than six months period in 1944.

Pfc Clyde E. Borgstrom fell with the Marines March 17 in the Solomon Islands.

Pfc Elmer Leroy Borgstrom was killed in Italy with the 81st infantry division on July 22.

Sgt. Rolon Borgstrom's bomber limped down to a crash site in Germany Aug. 8 with his body in its wreckage.

Pfc Rolon Borgstrom, Rolon's twin brother, died 17 days later of wounds he received while the 38th infantry, second division was attacking Le Dref, France.

Col. Leonard R. Crews, Commanding officer of the sixth army escort detachment at Ogden, Utah, explained the reason for the solemn two-day rites.

"This is the only four gold star family on record in world war II," he said.

"Only the five Sullivan brothers, who all were in the navy and were serving on the same ship when it was sunk, constituted a greater loss. The Borgstrom boys were in separate branches of the service and in separate theaters of action, to make it more tragic and making it more important that we give them all possible honor."

Not For Bonus

Goldsboro, June 25—(AP)—Kerr Scott, candidate for governor, stated his position on a state bonus for World War II veterans in a talk here last night.

To pay each Tar Heel veteran $100, he pointed out, would cost $37,000,000.

He said he thought such a sum would do more good if used to improve school and health facilities. In that way, he declared, families of veterans would get more lasting benefit than if each veteran was paid $100.

Scott said also he favored stepping up the old age pension "just a little bit."

Jailers Release Wrong Prisoner

Chicago, June 25—(AP)—Police searched today for James White, 33, who yesterday was released by error from the Cook County jail where he was held on a charge of murder.

Warden Frank Sain said Edward E. Urban, jail clerk, had been dismissed immediately after the mistake was discovered. He said $5,000 bond was posted for release of James L. White, 33, held on a charge of rape.

The Whites, who are Negroes, were in the same day room when Urban called "James White." The man held on the murder charge responded and asked no questions when Urban told him to prepare to leave.

A few minutes later, however, a brother of James L. White, who had the bond money, asked when his brother was to be released.

"He just went out," urban said. The brother disputed Urban and the clerk went into the day room and found James L. White sleeping on a couch. Urban said he told him he had not heard his name called earlier.

and others felicitated the Altrusans on their organization. Ernest L. Willard, well known local insurance man and president of the Greenville Rotary Club, was one of the guests at the dinner meeting at Proctor Hotel and extended felicitations for the Rotarians.

Careful . . .

p.m. Pretty soon the delegates, looking for a sandwich and a cool drink, heard rumors of this.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, and Governor Earl Warren of California were using the recess time to have a conference to decide what they'd do about the third ballot coming up at 7:30 p.m.

All three rivals of Dewey had been trading badly. But what nobody knew was that Ohio's Senator Taft, Dewey's closest rival on the first two ballots, had called those three in conference at 7 p.m., and said something like this:

"There's no chance of anybody but Dewey winning now. I'm withdrawing and asking the Ohio delegation, which has been backing me, to throw its votes to Dewey."

When the delegates sat down at 7:30 p.m., Brownell, Sprague and Jaekel suddenly appeared on the speaker's platform for the first time in the convention and sat down with extremely pleased looks on their faces.

Almost immediately Ohio's other senator, Bricker, a friend of Taft, told the delegates that Ohio, upon Senator Taft's request, was throwing its support to Dewey.

That broke up the show. The other candidates then released all the other delegations from any promises to vote for them. And on the third ballot Dewey got the votes of all 1,094 delegates.

Brownell looked at Jaekel when Bricker finished talking and sighed: "This is the first time I've been able to relax in a long time."

These Russian tactics are, as remarked in a previous column, largely defensive. That is to say, their offensive has bogged down and they are trying to bolster it. But their tricks have lost their magic, and world democracy is uniting against further aggression.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 25—(AP)—Wheat prices dropped today on reports of better yields than had been expected in the Southwest and a belated export allocations for the July to September period will be released. Corn and oats also were down.

The selling in corn largely reflected the good outlook for the new crop, with some traders pointing out that the current situation is similar to that of 1946. In that year a record crop of more than three billion bushels was harvested.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower, July $2.31 1/2, corn was 1/2-2 1/2 lower, July $2.21 1/2-1/4, oats were 1/2-1 1/2 lower, July $2 1/2-1/4, and soybeans were 5/8 to 7/8 cents lower, July $4.08.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, June 25—(AP)—Demand picked up a bit in the stock market today after an early slight sinking spell. Morning losses in numerous issues were trimmed and in some cases converted into modest gains. Sales were at the rate of about 1,200,000 shares for the full session.

Nickel Plate Common, an odds-on favorite earlier this week, rose around 3 points to a new peak for the year and Western Maryland also hit the year's top with a gain of about a point. National Supply, a company which makes oil and gas field equipment, was another stock in the new high column.

Lower prices were paid for U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Caterpillar Tractor, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, and Texas Co.

Higher were Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox, U.S. Rubber, Firestone, N.Y. Central, Illinois Central, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, Eastman Kodak, and Goodrich.
