Politicians Look For Axe In Wake Of Scott's Win

Swift Housecleaning Of State Offices Expected Following Inauguration

Raleigh, N.C., June 28 (AP)—The fear of a political axe hung heavily over a host of high state officers today as they awaited W. Kerr Scott's inauguration as governor.

Scott is headed for almost certain victory in North Carolina's general election in November.

A decisive winner over State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson in Saturday's Democratic primary runoff, the 52-year-old ex-commissioner of agriculture will take office.

It is then that a number of state appointive officials expect to join the ranks of job seekers. More than a score of important officers are appointed by the governor.

Political oldtimers recalled today the swift housecleaning Scott gave the Department of Agriculture when he took over that office 11 years ago.

Scott in campaign speeches promised that "there are certain appointive department heads who know they will lose their jobs if I am elected. They know that I will not put up with feather-bedding the state payroll with department heads who devote more time to trying to elect a governor they will reappoint them than to attending to the people's business."

The Democratic nominee, however, has denied rumors that he would "indulge in an indiscriminate orgy of replacing faithful and efficient employees."

Scott charged during the campaign that disloyal workers had been "buckpinned" with threats of losing their jobs if they did not support Johnson. The Raw River man promised to end "political browbeating" among state employees.

Expect Thousands Dead In Jap Quake

Western Honshu Town Of 85,000 Has Most Of Homes Destroyed; Tidal Wave Warnings Issued; Relief Sent District

Tokyo, June 28 (AP)—Great earth shocks late today twisted the western Honshu town of Fukui like taffy, destroying the homes of most of the 85,000 population and killing possibly thousands.

Japanese newspapers estimated that casualties in Fukui would reach 5,000.

Fires sprang up after the series of quakes which began at 4:12 p. m. fanned by a brisk wind, the fires destroyed half the city. They still raged six hours after the tremors. Forty thousand were homeless.

A fully equipped U. S. army relief train was rushed to Fukui, coastal city fronting the Sea of Japan.

Army reports from its men on the scene said 60 persons were injured at Daishoji, but there were no known dead. Previous Japanese reports had said 300 killed there. Five hundred Daishoji homes were destroyed.

Other army reports said there was no fire and damage was slight at the big manufacturing city of Kanazawa. A long slide from the city of 18,000 persons had produced fears of a heavy toll.

Few American occupation personnel are stationed in the quake area. Tidal wave warnings were issued, remembering the 44,000 who died in the 1923 Tokyo quake, were jittery.

The heaviest damage appeared to be in three prefectures, Fukui, Ishikawa and Toyama.

Captured

Fayetteville, June 28 (AP)—The highway patrol today reported the capture of a 36-year-old man who allegedly kept a 16-year-old farm girl captive in a woods for a month.

M. C. Shaw, radio operator at the Fayetteville police station, said he had been messaged by the Bladen county highway patrol that Norman Beard was captured today.

The officer added that the patrol said Beard would be brought to Fayetteville this afternoon.

Fleet Of Planes Flown To Break Berlin Blockade

Huge Cargo Planes Will Be Used To Ferry Food Supplies Into Sector

Washington, June 28 (AP)—The United States rushed a fleet of huge cargo planes to Germany today to help break a Russian blockade of ground transport to western Berlin.

As food supplies dwindled for 2,000,000 Berliners, diplomats predicted the western powers shortly would make a direct demand on the Kremlin to lift the traffic noose from their sectors.

Air Force headquarters announced here last night that about 39 of the big four-engine C-54 flying boxcars had been ordered to Germany to help ferry food and other urgently needed supplies into the American sector of Berlin.

The action gave one more indication of the determination of the United States, along with Britain and France, to stand fast and resist Soviet efforts to block rail, highway and canal transport into the city.

Officials here interpreted the Russian actions as designed primarily to force the three western powers out of Berlin and then convert it into the communist-controlled capital of an eastern German state.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said yesterday in London that the western nations were considering a direct "approach" to Moscow evidently in an effort to obtain an order from Premier Stalin which would reverse the Soviet policies in Berlin and ease the highly dangerous situation developing there.

State Department officials had no comment on the British statement.

The London spokesman did not make clear what form the "approach" would take, whether in a single note or three similar notes.

Foreign Aid Plan Is Signed Into Law

President Says Appropriation Of $6 Billions Represents Combined Will Of The Executive And The Congress

Washington, June 28 (AP)—The $6,000,000,000 foreign aid program became law today.

President Truman signed the appropriation bill swinging American full force into the most ambitious world economic program in history.

It pledges to western Europe and Far Eastern countries to spend within 15 minutes—within a year if necessary—this vast sum in the cause of recovery and political freedom.

Authors of the bill also made it clear the intent also is to throw up a barrier against the spread of communism by strengthening governments outside of the Iron Curtain.

In a statement the President said the appropriation represents "the combined judgment and will of the executive and the congress."

"It was evolved in the spirit of cooperation and not of partisan conflict," Mr. Truman continued. "It demonstrates the united determination of our people to make good our pledge of cooperation to those who like ourselves, are striving to achieve enduring peace and prosperity among all nations."

The President said that the act "furnishes concrete evidence and assurance to the free peoples of the world that we stand ready to work side by side with them to preserve peace."

Dewey And Earl Warren Fighting Over-Confidence

Nominees Schedule Meeting For Discussion Of Campaign Problems

Pawling, N.Y., June 28 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey and his running mate, Governor Earl Warren of California, today were arranging an early huddle to kill a widespread belief among Republicans that the presidential election is a GOP walkaway.

The Republican presidential and vice-presidential nominees are expected to meet tomorrow at Dewey's farm here. Warren, accompanied by his family, was visiting in New York City today.

The New York governor will canvass "extensively" with Warren "the problems of the campaign," a Dewey aide said.

High in the list of problems is how to choke off the air of over-confidence that the Dewey forces feel too many members of the party have been inhaling giddily.

At their conference, it is understood, Dewey and Warren will chart a vigorous campaign that will take them across the country several times.

The New York governor's policy always has been not to count the game won until the final inning is played. Warren feels the same way.

In his 1944 campaign for reelection as governor, Dewey knew weeks before the balloting, through privately conducted polls, that he would beat the Democratic nominee, James M. Mead, then U. S. senator. His workers, too, sensed an easy victory and were inclined to ease off.

But Dewey directed his top campaign aides to combat the tendency. They did—and the governor won by a record majority.

It was pointed out here that the Republicans face the job not only of winning the presidency and vice-presidency, but of defeating the opposition in contests for Senate and House seats and for myriad state and local offices.

Dewey continued to take it easy today at his farm on Quaker Hill just outside this village. But he had some work to do, including consideration of appointments to state offices which he must make soon.

He arrived at Pawling Saturday evening on a special train from Philadelphia, accompanied by Mrs. Dewey and their sons, Tom Jr. and John M. The home folks, about 3,000 strong, gave the governor a hero's welcome. They met him at the railroad station and escorted him to Pawling Trinity School.

Eleven Cars Of Freight Train Derailed Sunday

By CHESTER WALSH
Eleven cars of a 14-car freight train on the Norfolk Southern Railroad were derailed yesterday near Frog Level, about four or five miles from Greenville, and tore up a considerable length of track. No person was reported to be injured.

Wrecking crews had cleared the track at noon today and were removing the derailed cars. Bags of Irish potatoes were taken from the derailed cars and stacked near the track.

It was learned that the 11 cars to leave the track were in the middle of the 14-car train. The derailment occurred about three miles north of W. S. Harris' service station on the Farmville highway.

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, June 27.

Golden Text: Isaiah 2:5. "O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death upon them hath the light shined" (Isaiah 9:2). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ, as the spiritual or true idea of God, comes now as of old, preaching the gospel to the poor, healing the sick, and casting out evils" (Page 347).

Strength FOR THE DAY

IDOL WORSHIP PERSISTS

We read in the first chapter of Genesis that God made man in his own image and after his likeness.
It is interesting to note, however,
that through the succeeding ages man has been creating God after his image. In other words, men unconsciously fashion God after their own ideas of what is right or desirable.

In a play which appeared some years ago, a character who had never prayed before and I don't know how, but keep me safe here and I will be a better man. I'll get that Spring Valley church fixed up, the one that's falling down. I can do a lot for you, God, if you let me live. This reminds one of the man who admitted that he was not a church member but declared that he intended to join one soon because his health wasn't so good as it used to be.

Let us stop worshipping a false conception of God, which we have created after the image of our own miserable little distortions. Let us open the Bible and observe the kind of Being God really is. He made us in his image and toward that perfect image we are expected progressively to grow.

FARM LANDS—Selling prices of farm land in North Carolina increased 135 percent between March, 1939, and March, 1948, while the national average increase was 102 percent, according to the bureau of agricultural economics. Six states had a higher rate of increase than North Carolina and forty had lower rates. Indiana tied with 135
while Colorado reported 157, Wyoming 156, Tennessee 149, Kentucky 146, Montana 139 and South Carolina 136 percent increase. Massachusetts showed the lowest percentage of increase with 38.

LATE—The increase in North Carolina values has been more noticeable during the past three years. The May issue of "Banking," a trade magazine published in New York, analyzes government figures to show an increase of seven percent in national farm land values
during the year March '47 to March
'48. The analysis does not give state by state figures, but does note that California, Florida and Louisiana are the only states showing decline during the year. A two-page layout of charts, maps, however, indicates that the farm land price in North Carolina jumped farther since 1945 than the average state, and went to highest point.

MAPS—The maps take 1912-14 as a base period and give it 100. On that basis North Carolina stood at 224 on March 1, 1945, and at 324 on March 1 of this year. That rate of increase was exceeded only by Mississippi, which jumped from 165 to 238 during the same period. However, during the past year North Carolina's rate of increase was five percent, compared with the national average set at seven percent, and ranging from a decrease of seven percent in Florida to an increase of 20 percent in North Dakota.

REASON—Relatively lower prices
for fruits and relatively higher prices for grains and meats are given as explanation of the wide variance in Florida and Dakota figures last year, while exceptionally good returns from tobacco explain
the big three-year jump in North Carolina farm land values.

DEBTS—Another reason for the general higher prices placed upon land is the mortgage situation.
Farms are in sounder financial position and do not have to be sold on national plan. The farm mortgage debt at end of World War I was just about half what it was at end of World War II. While non-mortgage debts, or those not secured by mortgage liens on land, had tremendously increased the overall farm assets had grown much more.

SIGNIFICANT—The fact that magazine indulges in big figures, both as to dollars and as to percentages, to show relationship between farm values, income and expenses. One significant sentence is italicized: "It should be reminded that when prices in general start to recede, those on farm commodities tend to drop faster than those on things the farm buys; then a reduced net income may not support a debt placed on land purchased during high prices."

WAR—Another interesting factor is the effect of war upon farm prices. Banking charts show that

McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C. 6-28

the only periods since 1910—which is as far back as they go—when relatively prices received by farmers for products sold exceeded prices paid by farmers for things they had to buy were the war years. The graph shows wide variation. Taking 1910 as basis and giving it the key number of 100, prices received went to 220 and prices paid to 200 during the first world war. This dropped in erratic curves to ratio of 70 received and 120 paid in 1932. By 1940 both lines took sharp upward trends until 1946 when the curves showed 310 received and 250 paid, as compared with the base 100 of 1910. Taken alone these graphs would indicate that farmers profit in financial return. Agricultural experts, however, insist this is not true when the whole picture is presented.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—The majestic 95-foot elm tree, in whose shade many Americans high and low have stopped to rest in front of the Capitol, has died of old age. Estimated to have survived 60 years beyond the normal 100-year life span of the American elm, the friendly landmark is being chopped down.

W. A. Frederick, landscape architect and horticulturist for the Capitol, says he has received hundreds of requests for bits of wood from the tree for souvenirs. Most people,
many of them members of Congress,
want the wood for gavel. Mr. Frederick, who has been on "The Hill" for more than 30 years, tells me he is trying to meet the requests, after the bark, infested with eggs of the European elm beetle is removed and burned.

The elm, which stood on the lawn
immediately east of the Senate wing of the Capitol building, has long been identified as the George Washington elm. Mr. Frederick says he hasn't been able to trace any definite data on the subject, but tradition has it Washington sat under the tree with architects' back in 1793 when they were envisioning the landscaping around the Capitol.
Scientists arrived at the approximate age of the elm by counting the rings in the wood.

Mr. Frederick estimates there are about 2,800 trees now on the Capitol grounds. There are some 50 different varieties. Oak, elm and ash are the dominant heavy types, but he likes the sophora trees, which were brought in from Europe.
Visitors, however, seem to like the southern magnolia best, especially when it is in bloom and its waxy
green leaves are at the waxiest.

Mr. Frederick plans to let the ground where the George Washington Elm stood rest for about a year
—until the rotted wood is out—before he plants another elm in its place.

New Drug Beats Typhoid Fever In Only Three Days

Baltimore, June 28—(AP)—Two physicians have told of a new drug that takes only three days to arrest typhoid fever.

Previously it has been considered a 30-day disease.

Dr. Theodore E. Woodward of the University of Maryland Medical School, and Colonel Rufus L. Holt, commander of the Army Medical Department's Research and Graduate School in Washington, said the drug was used in three separate cases in Baltimore, and each time it brought down the fever within three days.

Known as chloromycetin, it is derived from a fungus.

It was first used clinically against scrub typhus, a disease to which many servicemen succumbed in the South Pacific.

This had been an almost uncurable disease, with a death rate of 15 per cent. Dr. Woodward said para-aminobenzoic acid had proved "only partially effective" against it, but chloromycetin has brought 24-hour cures.

Dr. Woodward recently returned here after spending the spring with a scrub typhus team, sponsored by the University of Maryland and financed by the Army, in Kuala Lumpur, Malaya.

He said the drug's effectiveness against typhoid fever was discovered by accident when it took three days to work on two supposed scrub typhus patients. Investigation showed that the subjects had been suffering from typhoid fever, a disease communicated by food or water. Scrub typhus is carried by an insect called a mite.

Italian talc, noted for its high purity, is almost 99 per cent magnesium silicate.

Waitress Starts Her Internship

Los Angeles, June 28—(AP)—An attractive and determined blonde who worked as a waitress so she could become a doctor of medicine is here to start her internship.

Dorothy Sell, 25, is starting her service as an intern at California Lutheran Hospital to prepare for specializing in internal diseases.

On June 17 she was a waitress in a Chicago restaurant. On June 18 she received an M.D. from the University of Illinois School of Medicine.

For years she had averaged four hours sleep a night while she spent her "spare time" cramming for exams.

"I worked nine years in that one restaurant," said Dr. Sell in an interview here. "You should have seen the look on the faces of my old customers and fellow employees when I walked in with my degree, prepared to go to work as usual." (She worked out the week at the restaurant.)

"People's attitude toward Dorothy Sell, waitress, and Dorothy Sell, M.D., was different, to put it mildly," she said. "One, a doctor, had always treated me with contempt. I think I forgave him when I saw how ashamed he was."

The United States has $21,000 miles of pipe that carry manufactured, natural and liquefied gases from their sources to places of application.

Bandits Eluded Police Man-Trap

Chicago, June 28—(AP)—Five machinegun bandits who held up an alleged gambling and handbook spot Saturday and shot two policemen in a running gun battle appeared today to have eluded the biggest man-trap in Cook County history.

Police expressed belief the gunmen slipped out of a ring of 200 officers on a freight train after they had been surrounded in a nearby stone quarry in the southwestern section of the county.

Treasury agents and police said they might have found some tell-tale evidence, however, in guns, ammunition and the abandoned car. About $1,000, the bulk of the holdup loot, also was found with the guns at a spot where the robbers were believed to have forded the Desplaines River in their escape from the police trap.

Police were checking the weapons and car for fingerprints. Federal Treasury agents were tracing serial numbers on the guns, a carbine, three .45 caliber pistols, a shotgun and a submachinegun.

The chase began as the gunmen left the holdup scene. A child who said she saw the men shoot a look off the door quickly informed a nearby filling station operator who called police.

Police Court

The following cases were tried in Police Court last Friday:

Drunk: Jerry Patterson (and disorderly conduct), $15; Thomas E. Smith (and profane language), $15; Ben Cox, colored, not guilty; Jesse Jones, $15.

Probable cause was found in the case against Robert C. Ward, charging breaking, entering and larceny. Probable cause also was found against Dan H. Satterfield, charged with receiving stolen goods. Both were bound over to Superior Court.

Roland Jefferson, no chauffeur's license, not proved.

James P. Erwin, paid $15 for crashing a red light.

The case against Edward H. Dukeshire, charging disorderly conduct, was not proved.

Jesse H. Coburn was not guilty of assault and paid court costs in the non-support case.

Wright Smith, Jr., colored, paid $100 and costs and his driver's license was ordered revoked for a year for driving drunk.

Lee Onger Mooring, colored, paid $25 and costs for not having a driver's license.

Charles L. Westbrook, convicted of reckless driving, appealed to Superior Court.

Will Ship Drug Gift To Russia

Philadelphia, June 27—(AP)—The American Friends Service plans to ship a $25,000 gift of life saving streptomycin to the Russian people as "a testimony of good will."

The Friends Service committee said yesterday 3,000 five-gram vials of the miracle drug would be distributed by the Russian Red Cross and Red Crescent to help "promote the health of the Russian people."

This country is estimated to have 400,000 miles of service and residential gas pipes.

A pipe-line system more than 150,000 miles long is used by the petroleum industry.

Storage Space

Storage space is vital to a comfortable home. Be sure you have enough closets.

Minimum depth is most efficient. For clothes closets should be 24 to 27 inches.

If you like a light in your closet, a spring switch in the door is handy. When you open the door, the light goes on; when you close the door, the light goes out.

Accuse Five Of Beating Trooper

Wise, Va., June 28—(AP)—Five men were accused today of beating a State trooper into unconsciousness as violence flared again over efforts to organize small truck mines in this section.

Trooper J. W. Williams Jr., said the men slugged and shot at him with his own gun and then left him at the bottom of a 40-foot ravine near Carfax, a Wise county mining town.

Two weeks ago Governor Tuck directed Attorney General J. Lindsay Almond Jr., to prosecute 178 Buchanan county miners charged with a mob assault on a non-union strip mine near here last April.

Williams said he was called yesterday morning to investigate a disturbance at a small truck mine between Coeburn and St. Paul, where union members had been trying to organize other miners.

He said the five men who attacked him were riding in automobile he had stopped on route 658, six miles west of St. Paul.

Later all five of the men were arrested before dark by a posse of state and county police who scoured the mountainsides for them.

Outside of a possible broken nose, Williams said he was not badly injured. He received bruises about the face and legs he said.

HERE'S HOW North Carolina Cities, Towns and Counties are using BEER TAX REVENUE

Last November, $1,794,826 in beer taxes (representing July, August and September collections) was distributed to North Carolina municipalities and counties wherein beer is licensed to be sold. How is this money being used? The results of a recent survey held great interest for the State's taxpayers.

Twenty-six municipalities and 26 counties report that the new beer revenues would enable them to REDUCE TAXES, and three other counties said it would help in that direction. Thirty-four municipalities and 34 counties indicated it would aid in PREVENTING

TAX INCREASES. Other welcome uses included MEETING INCREASED EXPENSES and APPLICATION ON DEBT SERVICE.

In some instances, EXTRA CITY AND RURAL POLICEMEN are being employed from the funds, resulting in improved law enforcement.

Other uses include STREET IMPROVEMENTS, PURCHASE OF EQUIPMENT and SANITARY SEWERAGE EXTENSION.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS are being planned, SCHOOL EXPENSES met, and county HEALTH AND WELFARE programs financed—from beer tax revenue.

Other constructive utilization of these funds includes: COUNTY LIBRARY BUILDING, NEW FIRE STATION, COURTHOUSE ENLARGEMENT, PURCHASE OF PROPERTY for county purposes.

And so on—an impressive array of sorely needed services and facilities made possible by the apportionment of beer tax revenue to towns, cities and counties licensing the sale of beer.

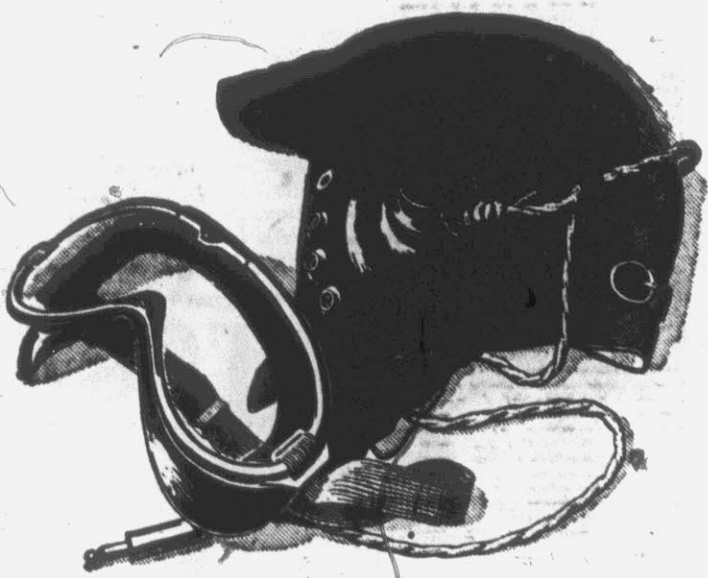

USING 1947 beer taxes as a basis for estimate, nearly $4,000,000 of this "bonus" revenue is anticipated for North Carolina municipalities and counties this year—money that will relieve the burden of hard-pressed taxpayers. Safeguarding these millions is an objective of the Self-Regulation Program of the North Carolina Division, U. S. Brewers Foundation. You help us mightily when you give your patronage only to those beer retailers whose places of business reflect complete respect for North Carolina law and North Carolina civic and social standards.

"U. S. AIR FORCE"

is more than a new name

Never in its history has young Air Force faced heavier responsibilities. First line of defense in an unsettled world, it must continue to progress and be ready for instant action.

Today, only the best-fitted prospects are being accepted by the Air Force. But young men who measure up will have a choice of unequalled opportunities. Here they are:

1 By enlisting for three years, you may choose assignment to the U. S. Air Force.

2 If you are a high school graduate, between 17 and 34 years old, the Aviation Career Plan allows you to select and qualify for any one of more than 40 Air Force Specialist Schools before you enlist.

3 Veterans of the Armed Forces who are qualified in one of 300 skills and trades may re-enter service in advanced non-commissioned Air Force grades commensurate with their previous training and experience.

4 You can win your wings with the Aviation Cadets. The world's finest pilot training is open to you if you are single, 20 to 26½ years old, and have completed at least half the credits for a college degree, or can pass an equivalent examination.

High pay... excellent training... interesting, vital work... these, too, are important considerations and strong reasons for launching your career in the Air Force. Complete details on each opportunity are available at U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Stations.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 17
In the homicide detail's front room Winkle was at his desk, glowing, and Raniel sat on the edge of it, smiling upside down.

"I don't see how you could have done the job alone," he said to him. "You're fresh in town. Probably somebody phoned you here for it.
When I tell you we know you framed Dr. Stokes, maybe you'll get smart and tell us the rest of the story."

"I framed Dr. Stokes?" I repeated. "Don't make me laugh."
"I don't aim to make you laugh,
Yates. I aim to make you talk.
Fasten the door shut, Winkle."

Winkle got up, tramped past me to the outer door and snapped a lock on it. Then he turned around and faced me. He took off his blue serge coat and hung it on a nail
on the inside of the door.

"So," I said, "you're going to play rough."
"He thinks we're going to play
rough," said Raniel, and Winkle laughed a whinnying laugh.
"You won't get away with it," I warned them.

"He thinks we won't get away with it," said Raniel. He smiled again and winked at his partner.
Winkle grumbled like a bear with a hangover, deep down in that big cotton-bale chest of his. Raniel shrugged—it was a graceful shrug, inside his well-cut clothes—and put his bony hand up to his mouth and pried out his upper plate, then his lower plate. He dropped them into the side pocket of his coat. He came toward me, walking gingerly, and stopped just too far away for either of us to smack the other.

"I don't get it," I said.
"Your fingerprints," Raniel told me. "Or anyway the print of your right thumb. It's the only print on that note you said was sent to Dr. Stokes."

"I must have stared, for he laughed and laughed.
"I found that note, envelope and all, in a book at Dr. Stokes's house," I said. "I told you all about it. And all about Oporto, the bird with the accent, who gave me the tip over the phone."

"Oporto's a gag," said Raniel.
"Tell us the truth, the whole truth,
and nothing but the truth."
"Or else," added Winkle.
I shook my head again. "You make me sick," I said.

Raniel moved in and drove his fist at my face. He was quick and cute. It would have caught me if I hadn't been ready and waiting.
I ducked and weaved in past the punch and hooked him with the mouth with my left. Raniel went all rubber-legged, staggered backward,
and brought up against the desk,
catching hold of it. "Take him, Winkle," he muttered.

Winkle walked forward toward me, slow and heavy. As he came up to me, he quickly lifted his revolver and smacked me with the long, heavy barrel.

I went down. I felt their hands on me and couldn't get control of my nerves and muscles to pull myself away. They lifted me under my arms and hoisted me upright, then dropped me into one of the chairs.

My voice was back. "You're killing me with kindness," I managed to say.

I leaned back in the chair and closed my eyes. An open, hard slap of my face, a great, big, hard open hand—Winkle's. It jarred my eyes open again.

"Don't you know how to talk?" he yelled at me.
His face was bent close to mine,
and below it dangled his necktie,
within easy grabbing reach.

I shot out my left hand and got a good grip on that necktie, just at the knot. As Winkle snapped himself up and back, I held on and let him pull me up on my feet. I kicked the chair away from me, held him still for just a second by the tie, and dug my right fist deep into him just below the end of his breast bone. I heard his wind come out of his throat in a quick wheeze and shoved him back. Letting go of the tie, I shifted shakily to get my feet well under me and threw my fists. One of them got home on his jaw. Next instant I was driving him backward across the room with a cluster of punches. He got up his arms to protect his face, but I hooked around and behind his guard and he settled slowly down on one knee, like a trick elephant. That was the last I saw. I felt all the power to stand or see leave me, as if it had been jerked out by the rope. I had a notion that I'd fallen down, but I couldn't be sure. My ears still picked up sounds, but faintly and strangely, the way you hear in a bad, bad dream. Then my hearing cleared a little—it's apt to be your first sense to come back when you've been gone over thoroughly—and I could catch what they were saying.

"Look out," Winkle was gurgling.
"He's lying there putting on some kind of an act."

"I get it," said Raniel. "He was really out cold, or near to, when he was sitting in the chair. And he saw into you by instinct, like a chicken hopping around with its head cut off."

"I was being shoved around again,"
I said. "Throw him into a cell," Raniel told Winkle. "When he comes out of it we'll pull him back up here

Good Quality Is Said Profitable

Quality materials and equipment
are the best insurance against home depreciation you can buy.

Of course, any house is going to grow old, but good materials definitely can give it a longer life span and greater livability and they can free the owner from unnecessary headaches.

Manufacturers go to considerable expense to test such products for durability. Laboratory tests simulate the effects of wear, heat, cold,
sun, rain and other punishment,
but the one thing that can't be tested quickly is the effect of age.
Therefore, experienced architects are conservative about specifying innovations that have not had the test of time and which may turn out to be expensive experiments for the home owner.

Architects are well equipped to advise you. One of their tools is a set of technical catalogues, each as big as an unabridged dictionary, listing virtually everything in the fields.

poration, 101 Park Avenue, New York

Baserunning At Shibe Park Was Fit For Annals

Philadelphia, June 28—(AP)—It was pretty hot at Shibe Park yesterday afternoon, but the heat could hardly be blamed for the weird base running.

Both the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies were parties to some of the dirtiest baserunning ever seen on a major league diamond. Two baseball maneuvers ended in double plays.

Here's what happened: In the first game, pitcher Curt Simmons of the Phillies walked Gene Mauch and Eddie Watkins in succession. Up came Hal Jeffcoat. Mauch feinted as if to make a break for third and Simmons backed off the pitching mound. Mauch was trapped and Simmons pegged to third baseman Bert Haas.

Then Mauch scooted back for second and Watkins sprinted to the same bag from his perch at first. Haas tagged Mauch a few feet from the bag. Watkins, who only a step from second, turned around (he didn't say why) and started back for first.

The play went from Haas to second baseman Granny Hamner, back to Haas, to Dick Slater at first and then back to Haas again. Thus Haas made both putouts of a double play. Then Jeffcoat struck out.

The Phils weren't to be outdone. Their baserunning shenanigans came in the fourth inning of the second game. Richie Ashburn singled and advanced to second.

Then Johnny Blatnik dribbled a roller to shortstop Dick Culler. Ashburn was trapped between second and third and Culler and third baseman Andy Pafko played catch trying to tag him.

In the meantime, Blatnik hotfooted it to second and was safe on the bag when Ashburn eluded Culler and slid back into the bag. That made Blatnik an automatic out, because two players may not occupy the same bag. Apparently Ashburn figured it another way, because he stepped off the base and started for third.

Pafko tagged him. It was scored another double play and again the third baseman made both putouts.

SARAZEN TO COMPETE
Reading, Pa., June 28—(AP)—Gene Sarazen will make one of his infrequent tournament appearances when he competes in the $15,000 Reading Open at the Berkshire Country Club July 22-24.

Badwater in Death Valley (about 330 feet below sea level) is the lowest land in the western hemisphere.

The following is the schedule for the Greensies during the coming week: Monday, June 28—Greenville at Rocky Mount; Tuesday, June 29—Rocky Mount at Greenville; Wednesday, June 30—Greenville at Kinston; Thursday, July 1—Kinston at Greenville; Friday, July 2—Roanoke at Greenville; Saturday, July 3—Greenville at New Bern; Sunday, July 4—New Bern at Greenville. Only one game will be played on Sunday July 4th with doubleheaders staged for Monday, July 5th.

Here is some dope on Billy Wood recently acquired by the Greensies as shortstop in the deal regarding Danny Lastres. Wood last year was a member of the Lumberton Club of Tobacco State League. He played in 47 games, had 180 at bats, scored 33 runs, collected 56 hits for 79 total bases which included 5 two-baggers, three triples, four home runs, for an average of .311 percent. He was issued 20 base on balls, was hit twice by the pitcher, batted in 23 runs and struck out 16 times. In his fielding he had 74 putouts, 128 assists, committed 19 errors, was in a total of 19 doubleplays and had a fielding average of .914 percent.

The Kinston Eagles have sold out right Bill Alexander, right handed hurler to Warsaw of the Tobacco State League. Rookie right hander Bill O'Brien of Waltham, Mass., a Phillies' protegee, has been added to the mound staff together with a new infielder, Edward J. McCarty, a limited service man, obtained from Warsaw. McCarty plays first and third and in an emergency could play outfield. The Eagles have also added David Watchman, a left-hander to the mound staff. Incidentally, the Eagles have not given up hope that Outfielder Tommy Lee, who was acquired in a winter trade with Greenville, will report to help Kinston in the last two months of the campaign. Charlie Richkus, plays in the outfield for the Eagles, is a graduate of State College where he starred in baseball and football.

There will be no Diamond Dust column in this paper tomorrow as your columnist is taking the day off at the seashore. Will be back on the job Wednesday, however.

Greenies Had Early Lead Saturday But 9-Run Rally Is Fatal; Tarboro Comes From Behind Again Sunday, To Win 7-4

By BERT MOYE
Manager Bull Hamons' Tars swept the week-end series with the Greenville Greensies by handing them an 11-8 loss on Saturday in Tarboro and then came in their own back yard yesterday afternoon to win the second game of the series with a 6-4 victory. The two losses for the Greensies were their fourth and fifth straight.

Saturday's Game
Manager Bull Hamons' Tars led the Greensies 1-0 in the first inning. Tarboro Tars came from behind in the sixth frame to score nine runs on five singles, a double, two errors, two walks and a passed ball as 14 men paraded to the plate, to defeat the Greensies 11-8 over in Tarboro Saturday night.

The Greensies went out in front in the third frame when Manager Bob Cohen slammed a ball over the right field wall for a distance of 350-feet to lead off the frame. They increased their lead by two more runs in the fourth on a double, two singles and a walk, with Johnny Tate driving in the two runs in this frame.

The Greensies big frame was the seventh when they scored five runs on four hits, an error and two walks over two men had been retired. Nash walked, McQuillen singled, Nesting singled to bring home Nash, Sposka walked leading the bases, Riggs singled to bring home McQuillen and Nesting with Sposka taking third and second when Pitcher Hamons threw wild to third with Riggs advancing to second and who later scored when Ray Phillips went in to pinch hit for Brooks and came through with a single.

The Tars final run of the game came in the eighth frame on two hits a single and a double and an error by Wood at short.

The Greensies used three hurlers with starting pitcher Johnny Tate being credited for the loss after pitching 5 1/2 innings allowing 10 hits and 5 of the Tars' runs. Richard with a double and two singles and St. Germain with three singles led the 15-hit attack off the three Greensie hurlers.

Carl McQuillen with a double and two singles led the nine hit attack off the two Tarboro hurlers.

Sunday Game
Eddie Lustnasy's homer over the scoreboard in left field with two mates aboard proved to be the winning punch that gave the Tarboro Tars a 7-4 win over the Greensies here yesterday afternoon to make it two in a row over the Greensies.

Trailing in the fifth by two runs, the Tars put across five runs of three hits, one of them Lustnasy's homer, three walks, a passed ball and error to go out in front for keeps.

The Greensies went out in front with a two run lead in the third frame by tallying three markers after two men were out. Carter and Cohen singled, Wiley Nash doubled to bring home Carter and Cohen and McQuillen hit to shortstop St. Germain, who erred on ball with Nash racing home.

The final run of the Greensies came in the fifth frame when Nash singled, Nesting walked and Sposka singled him home.

In addition to their big five run scoring in the fifth frame the Tars scored in the second on Caldwell's double and St. Germain's single and then scored another singleton in the ninth when Lustnasy singled, St. Germain sacrificed him to second and Bill See singled him home.

Louis Arroyo started on the mound for the Greensies and was yanked out in the fifth with one man out after yielding seven hits and six runs. The loss for Arroyo was his ninth of the season as against nine wins. Johnny Kovalchick pitched the remainder of the game and yielded seven hits and two runs. Ken Andrews with three singles in five trips to the plate led the 14-hit attack off the two Greensie hurlers.

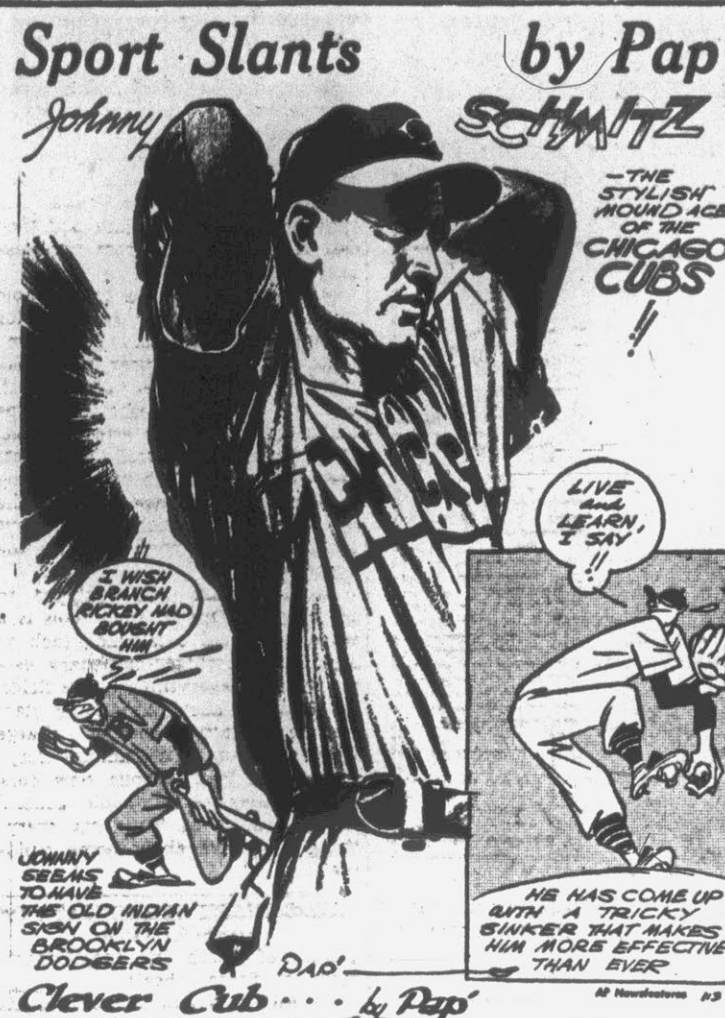

Bill See, pitching his 13th win as against three losses for the Tars, allowed 12 hits but scattered them well throughout the nine inning affair.

Manager Bob Cohen with three singles in four trips to the plate led the 12-hit attack off See.

No Favorites In Wimbledon Play
London, June 28—(AP)—Four Americans battle an Australian, a Swede, a Hungarian and a Briton today for Jack Kramer's Wimbledon tennis tournament. In as open a tournament as tennis pundits can recall, there is no outstanding favorite—not since the willowy Swede, Lennart Bergelin, ousted top-seeded Frankie Parker last week in one of the biggest upsets of Wimbledon history.

Red Smith picked up a catcher's glove, took leave of the sportswriters and waddled out to warm up Johnny Schmitz. Schmitz is Red's boy and no one else can serve as his warm-up pitcher when the big Redhead is around.

Schmitz has blossomed out as one of the outstanding hurlers in the National League. Johnny has enjoyed a high rating among the moundmen for several years, but today his artistry is appreciated by the fans. The Brooklyn Dodgers made a determined bid to buy him from the Cubs last winter and with good reason. Johnny seems to have the Indian sign on the Dodgers and always appears to advantage when facing the Brooklyn club. He was the top Chicago hurler with 13 victories last season.

The Smith-Schmitz combination goes back to 1938 when Red was managing the Hopkinsville, Ky., club of the Kitty league and Johnny was breaking into organized baseball. Schmitz recalls that Red gave him many pitching tips which shaped his career and still serve him well. Schmitz was only 18 at the time and he recalls that Smith left the club late in the season to take up his chores as assistant coach of the Green Bay Packers, just as he now leaves the Cubs when the football training season rolls around and helps Steve Owen tutor the football Giants.

The breakfast meeting was held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hut at the airport. Respects cooked the breakfast and served it cafeteria style.

Capt. Charles Steinmeyer, manager of the airport, and Mrs. Jackie Tyson and other airport officials extended every courtesy to the visiting pilots and their passengers.

Hogan, Demaret Triumph Again
Toledo, O., June 28—(AP)—Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret had their third consecutive—and final—four-ball championship plus a check for $3,500, tucked away today.

It was their final title, because Hogan announced at the 126-hole best-ball tourney's conclusion that he would not be back next year, and that he was curtailing his golfing activities by eliminating "the longer events."

Welters Slated Fight Tonight

Chicago, June 28—(AP)—Champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson, a little weary in his "battle of the scales," weighed in today for his scheduled 15-round title scrap in Comiskey Park with Bernie Docusen.

The twice-postponed fight is set for tonight, weather permitting.

But if the Harlem flash fails to make the required 147-pound limit in the noon ceremonies the Illinois Athletic Commission may declare his welterweight title vacant.

Robinson hit an even 147 when the bout was originally slated June 17. But rain washed it out, and four days later Sugar refused to weigh in when it was rescheduled. He admitted being overweight and the ring sharpies said he was up to as high as 154 pounds.

In the last week he began the drying out process all over again and is expected to make the grade. In addition to the threat of having his title removed by the commission should he fail, he faces forfeiture of a $5,000 weight bond. He also had $10,000 posted with the commission as an appearance bond.

The 32-year-old Docusen, a polished fighter from New Orleans who lost only two of his 58 scraps as a pro to gain recognition as the No. 1 challenger, is trim and anxious to go.

Trojans Capture Baseball Title
Kalamazoo, Mich., June 28—(AP)—The National Collegiate baseball title rests securely on the west coast for the second straight year.

Southern California's Trojans sealed into the championship over the weekend by snapping up two Little World Series titles.

The Trojans came back again to clinch the series with a 9 to 2 win in the second game of a double-header Saturday. Yale had squared the series in the first game, 8 to 3, after losing Friday, 3 to 1.

Hold Boat Races At Morehead July 4th
Morehead City—Sponsored by the Morehead City Sailing Club, the 91st annual Fourth of July races held in this area will be presented on Sunday, July 4. At least five and possibly six classes will compete for the prizes to be offered by the Sailing Club.

Commodore D. G. Bell, in charge of the race events, has stated that the classes to compete will include comets, dead sea skiffs, 16-foot class, a handicap, small 12-to-14 footers entered by Pat Crawford's Camp Morehead, and possibly a fleet of lightnings from Cherry Point.

Following the Fourth of July races, there will be regular Sunday races each week throughout the summer with a grand finale on Labor Day.

By one estimate, there are more than 170,000 miles of water pipe mains in the United States.

Last Three Holes Proved Costly To Babe Didrikson

Chicago, June 28—(AP)—there's a golf adage that big tournaments are "lost" rather than "won," but the new women's western open champion Patty Berg, the one time "kid" wonder from Minneapolis, wouldn't know about that.

Maybe a lot of folk would figure that Babe Didrikson Zaharias was beaten by herself rather than by Miss Berg, 1 up, in their overtime 37-hole battle for the western open crown at Skycrest Country Club Saturday.

All Patty knew was that at 36 holes she favored Babe had her on the ropes and was hammering her relentlessly in their very first match play meeting ever, despite both swinging as major leaguers since around 1935.

The Babe, entered from Pasadena, N. Y., was in front by four holes just six greens from the scheduled 36-hole finish. She was all set to march back to the clubhouse any minute as champion for the fourth time to slice a big cake in celebration of her 36th birthday.

Then the roof caved in. Mrs. Zaharias, obviously annoyed by a lowflying plane which plagued the latter stages of the match, went one over par on the 31st, two over on the 32nd and two over on the 33rd.

Everything happened to the Babe on those three holes. She was trapped on the 31st. Her tee shot off the 32nd buried in bushes for an unplayable lie. On the 33rd, a water hole, she splashed in the most.

That's where Miss Berg came off the ropes like a real champion and slammed into the reeling Babe with three straight pars to whittle her lead to one hole with three left to play.

The 30-year old sturdy redhead putted from four feet and 12 inches to halve the next two holes. Miss Berg's 12-footer on the 35th may have been the thing that broke Babe's back.

Mrs. Zaharias hooked into a trap on the 36th and the aroused Miss Berg took the hole, squaring the match, with a par four.

The Babe, who turned professional last year after becoming the first American to win the British Women's crown, along with fashioning a monotonous string of victories, faltered for the last and most costly time on the 37th hole.

Three Placed On Decathlon Team
Bloomfield, N. J., June 28—(AP)—Three American youths whose competitive spirit carried them through long, wearying hours of all-around track and field action in the face of almost impossible weather conditions emerged today as the U. S. Olympic decathlon team.

The three who finished on top in yesterday's final Olympic trials on storm-swept Foley Field were:

1. Bob Mathias, 17-year-old Tulare, Calif., high school boy, whose feat of winning the National Decathlon A.A.U. title and No. 1 spot on the Olympic Decathlon squad on his second try in the all-events competition is virtually without precedent in the track and field world.
2. Irving (Moon) Mondschein, New York University's football and track star, 1947 A.A.U. high jump titlist and sharer this year of the NCAA high jump honor. He competed for the New York Pioneer Club.
3. Floyd Simmons, Charlotte, N.C. hurdler and former University of North Carolina football back, who made the team in his second year of decathlon effort.

The sun already had set when young Mathias came sloshing to the finish of the last of 10 events—the 1,500 meter run. His face and body were covered with mud, but in the tradition of great competitors he put on a dogged sprint even though he was fourth in his heat. Every second meant points.

Bowls Perfect Game; Couldn't See The Pins

Dunbar, W.Va., June 28—(AP)—Al Wells of South Charleston stood behind a curtain which kept him from seeing the pins, and bowled a perfect 300 game.

The occasion was a "blind" bowling contest here this weekend. Roscoe Stephens, co-owner of the Dunbar Bowling Center, said curtains was stretched across the alley, with a scorekeeper telling the player his score and the number of pins left after the first ball, if any.

Wells had never rolled a perfect game before, even when looking at the pins at which he was aiming. And, says Stephens, it was the first perfect game ever rolled on the Dunbar alleys.

New York State residents once presented a 1,400 pound cheese to President Jackson.

Rampaging Bull Gores Two Mules
By CHESTER WALSH
A stampeding bull from A. J. Johnson's farm, five miles northwest of Greenville, broke out of its pasture into G. M. Woolard's field, then broke into Woolard's mule lot, on the Guy V. Smith farm, five miles northwest of Greenville. Friday afternoon, and wreaked havoc with the animals confined there.
Woolard said the enraged bull gores two of his mules, one of them so seriously that it will take several weeks for it to recover.

Budget Surplus Hits New Record
Washington, June 28—(AP)—The government's budget surplus has climbed to another record high of $8,751,759,061, treasury records showed today.
The new peak was reached at the end of June 24, with just six days left in the fiscal year of 1948.
Heavy year-end spending is expected to reduce the figure below $8,000,000,000 before the books are closed Thursday.

Highway Deaths Increased in May
Raleigh, June 28—(AP)—Highway deaths in North Carolina increased during May for the first month this year, the motor vehicles department reported today.
Some 61 highway deaths were recorded in May for a 30 per cent increase over May of 1947, the department reported.
The May figure brought the toll for the year to 252.

Fire Destroys Home And Contents While Family Was Absent
Fire originating from a hot water heater destroyed the home and furnishings of K. Stokes, farmer, Saturday night about 10 o'clock, while the family was away at Whitehall Beach, below Washington. The building and contents were a total loss.
Stokes lives several miles south of Jack Boyd's service station on the Washington highway.
The fire had made considerable headway when it was discovered. ABC Officer J. L. Taylor, riding in one of the sheriff's radio cars, radioed to the Greenville Fire Department for assistance. Stokes remodeled his home last fall and had installed much new furniture.

Child Knifed To Death In Park
Washington, June 28—(AP)—A pretty, 11-year-old girl was brutally knifed to death late yesterday in Rock Creek Park where she had gone for a bicycle ride. Hundreds of Washingtonians were in the park seeking relief from a hot and humid afternoon.
The victim was Carol Bardwell, daughter of William P. Bardwell, a Federal Trade Commission examiner. She was found with her throat cut. The body was under a fallen tree in a wooded section of the park, which stretches for several miles through the heart of the capital.

Future Of . . .

bad mistake in judgment.
With the eviction of the Germans, the western areas of the Soviet Union resumed their place in the communist police state. But while they now had a bitter hatred for the Germans, they didn't like Red police rule any more than they did before the war. They accepted it because they had to.
Then came the Muscovite conquests in Eastern Europe. Country after country was taken over by strong-arm methods and "communist domination" was established. But the people by and large weren't communized. Many of them paid with their lives or liberty for their opposition to Communism. Others fled to free lands where they live in exile.
So we see in Soviet dominated territories of Eastern Europe a great mass of people who hate the servitude of Communism but thus far have found no way to escape it. However, close observers believe that one of these days the Red lid is going to be blown off somewhere. That very well could precipitate a general upheaval among those who are longing for escape from police rule.

Background . . .
But—Russian troops, as pointed out above, surround the city and the Russians previously had shut off any freight shipments into that part of Berlin occupied by the Communists' formed allies.
The food supply in that part of Berlin occupied by the western powers reportedly is enough to last for about 25 days.
Then what?
It's probably part of the Russian game to force the Germans—faced with starvation if United States, Britain and France continue to stay in Berlin—to turn toward the Russians for help and away from the three western powers.
Last week the Foreign Ministers of Russia and seven eastern European nations met in Warsaw. They called for an agreement between Russia and the three western powers on setting up a single government for all Germany instead of the one being set up by United States Britain and France in the western part.
They also said all occupation troops should be withdrawn from Germany.
France reportedly is willing to talk with the Russians about a settlement on the Berlin crisis but the American military government, Gen. Lucius Clay has said "the Russians cannot drive us out of Berlin by any action short of war."
If the Russians can use this crisis to drive a wedge between this country and France they've already done plenty of damage.

Poultry and Eggs
Raleigh, June 28—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers about steady at 35; eggs steady to slightly stronger at 50 to 51.

Grain Market
Chicago, June 28—(AP)—Grains rallied toward the close on the board of trade today, getting back a good deal of the ground lost during early weakness.
At one time prices were down around 2 cents with the July contracts showing widest declines. Deferred deliveries displayed more resistance to the early selling and it was these contracts which led the late rally. Much of the late buying was short-covering.
Wheat closed 1 to 2 cents higher, July $2.31½-¢, corn was 1½¢ lower to 1½¢ higher, July $2.20¼-¢, oats were 1½¢ lower to ½¢ higher, July 91½-¢, and July soybeans were ½¢ lower at $4.00.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, June 28—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 80 cents to $1.35 a bale lower.
Noon prices were 65 cents to $1.95 a bale lower than the previous close: July 35.21, Oct. 32.73 and Dec. 32.40.
Futures recovered into new high ground for the day in late dealings as more active mill buying and short covering met only limited offerings.
Futures closed 50 cents a bale lower to 20 cents higher than the previous close.

Sleep On

A PIL-O-Rest

Karpen Mattress

The relaxing comfort of sleeping on fluffy channel pillows, supported by a firm completed inner-spring unit, can be yours—only if you sleep on a Karpen PIL-O-Rest mattress. There's nothing to compare with this combination of just the right amount of "cushioning comfort" with just the right amount of healthful support. Karpen spent years in research to determine just how much cushion and just how much support was necessary . . . and the patented construction of the PIL-O-Rest is the result. We're proud to present this outstanding mattress.
