

Rumors Fly Over Cominform Move

Diplomatic Sources See Groundwork To Send Soviet Troops Into Yugoslavia; Tito's Fate In Doubt Following Denunciation By Group

London, June 29—(AP)—American diplomatic sources in Rome said today Russia may be building up a case to send troops to Yugoslavia. The Kremlin-controlled Cominform denounced the Communist rulers of the Balkan country yesterday. Premier Marshal Tito, his whereabouts still a mystery, was castigated by name and told in effect either to adhere to the party line or be replaced.

The Italian radio said Marshal Tito was declared in Yugoslavia, but a dispatch telephoned from Belgrade said this was emphatically denied in the Yugoslav capital.

The Belgrade correspondent of the Associated Press said there was a story that Marshal Tito was declared under NIS, near the Bulgarian border, to allow police and soldiers to evacuate persons from a flood zone.

The Cominform had accused Tito and other Communist leaders of pursuing a "wrong" policy toward Russia, leaning toward the Western powers, conducting a "wrong" foreign and domestic policy and departing from the Marxist-Leninist line.

A former Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations said he thought Tito was dead. A high Yugoslav diplomat in Rome said Tito still was in power. The fact remained that weeks had elapsed since the strutting Marshal, once a general in Russia's Red Army, had appeared in the news.

The Cominform ostensibly is only a Communist information bureau without disciplinary power so far as is known. But since the Russians control the Cominform, it is evident they can force Tito out of the Cominform, out of the party and out of Yugoslavia if they choose.

Communists in the past who have been chastised by Russia customarily have denounced themselves, left the party in shame and given the reins to others. The denunciation of Tito and his lieutenants was a dramatic move by the Yugoslav Communist party. But they also are heads of the government.

French Communists said Tito's "betrayal" had been an open secret among leaders of the party throughout Europe for weeks.

It was the first open quarrel to erupt behind the Iron Curtain among the bloc of Eastern European states Russia dominates. Yugoslavia had been considered one of the most ardent of the new Communist regimes.

At Lake Success, Dr. Jan Papanek, former Czech U.N. delegate, expressed belief that Tito may be in grave personal danger, while high U.S. diplomatic officials in Washington expressed the opinion that the Yugoslav Marshal and his associates may already have been "taken care of."

By "taken care of," they meant Tito may have been removed as head of Yugoslavia's government, or merely "immobilized" for a period of thinking and repentance—or liquidated.

Narcotics Found Aboard Airplane

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 29—(AP)—A metal box containing 10 to 12 pounds of heroin was found today secreted in the extreme tail of an air France plane which arrived yesterday from France.

Garland H. Williams, district supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, said in New York City the heroin was worth approximately $100,000 an ounce, or between $100,000 and $120,000.

Presidential Campaign

Should Be A Pretty Rough Affair; Position Of The Two Parties; Responsibility For Both Sides; National Interest; Republicans May Have More Ammunition

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 29—(AP)—The presidential campaign ought to be pretty rough.

On one side are Governors Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California looking for election as president and vice president.

On the other, President Truman if the Democrats nominate him, and somebody, not even mentioned now, running for vice president.

There's so much guessing as to whether the Democrats will run Mr. Truman; that no one ever seems to guess about a vice presidential running mate for him.

Neither Dewey nor Warren has had any experience in the federal government or in Washington. Their biggest jobs have been as governors. So they can't very well be blamed for what has or hasn't happened here.

And both men have fine records as governors in their own states.

But Mr. Truman, as President for going on four years, has had to make decisions which his opponents certainly will attack.

So the position of the two parties will be something like this, unless this writer figures it wrong:

The Republicans will bang away

Predicts Truman Nomination On The First Ballot

McGrath Confident Despite New "Draft Eisenhower" Boom Within Ranks

New York, June 29—(AP)—Sen. J. Howard McGrath, National Democratic chairman, maintained today that President Truman would be nominated on the first ballot at the Democratic convention next month despite a new "Draft Eisenhower" boom.

"I don't regard Gen. Eisenhower as a candidate and I think the delegates to the national convention understand that he is not," McGrath declared in a news conference here.

McGrath's statement contrasted sharply with views voiced by Elliott Roosevelt, who told an Eisenhower-for-President rally last night.

"If he (Eisenhower) likes the Republican ticket, then he better come out right away, because there are going to be a lot of Conservatives and a lot of Liberals who are going to put his name up to the Democratic convention."

Roosevelt made his statement after reading a hitherto unpublished letter from Eisenhower dealing with the subject of a possible political career. It said:

"When I made a public statement last January referring to a possible political career, I did it only after earnest study to determine the field in which I might possibly be of some future usefulness."

"I am anxious to do my duty, but felt that it was my own problem to determine whether or not a sense of duty could call me into the political field."

Roosevelt said the letter was written June 15 to Leslie E. Schwartz, president of the New York City Washington Heights branch of the Americans for Democratic Action. It replied, Roosevelt said, to an invitation from Schwartz asking Eisenhower to attend last night's meeting.

Later, Roosevelt was asked if the letter made him feel more optimistic about his general's attitude toward a "Draft-Eisenhower" movement at the Democratic National convention.

"Yes," he replied.

Roosevelt told the meeting that Eisenhower—now president of Columbia University—"has failed to state in any way that he would not regard a true draft as an overriding reason" for dropping his opposition to political candidacy.

Starts Campaign For Eisenhower

Republican Wants General For Democratic Candidate

Philadelphia, June 29—(AP)—A 38-year-old manufacturer who says he's always voted straight Republican has converted his office into an Eisenhower-for-president headquarters.

Joseph Nachman says he plans an intensive drive for the nomination of his five-star favorite at the Democratic National convention opening here July 14.

Nachman has lined his office windows with pictures of Eisenhower in uniform. Loudspeakers on a window sill of the Arch street building already are blaring campaign propaganda.

The slogan Nachman has printed on Eisenhower-for-President stickers says:

"This man portrays our ideals and hopes for the world of tomorrow, one of eternal peace."

Campaign manager Dale G. Matern, of Altoona, Pa., a 35-year-old South Pacific war veteran says his plans include a girl's brigade to pass out thousands of buttons inscribed: "Boost Eisenhower for President."

A booth in center city to get signatures to petitions urging Eisenhower's nomination, also is planned. Matern said, along with recruiting volunteers to appear at the Democratic convention with Eisenhower placards and the use of sound trucks bearing huge Eisenhower banners.

Mass Walkout Closes Plants

Chicago, June 29—(AP)—Nine International Harvester Company plants employing more than 35,000 persons were closed today by a walkout of CIO United Farm Equipment Workers.

One plant, at Canton, Ill., employing 3,200, was reported working. The company said it had no report from the 11th plant at Rock Falls, Ill. It employs 850.

Striking Dock Workers Vote To Halt Walkout

London, June 29—(AP)—Striking London dock workers voted at a mass meeting today to go back to work tomorrow.

Confronted by a Labor government to smash the 16-day old work stoppage which has slowly pinched off London's food supplies, the dockers voted by a wide margin to get back on the job. The strike was a wildcat affair, never authorized by a union.

A national emergency was proclaimed last night and the Labor cabinet immediately moved to arm itself to beat down the costly strike.

About 2,000 soldiers moved into the dock areas, where 232 food and commodity ships were tied in, to unload vital supplies for the port of London, where official figures show more than 18,000 men idle.

King-George VI last night under a 1920 law used only once before—the British general strike of 1926.

Prime Minister Attlee in a radio address last night declared his government "must see that the people are fed." He said "communist mischief" is partly responsible for the strike, which began when 11 dockers demanded higher pay for handling a "dirty cargo" of zinc oxide.

Transport Minister Alfred Barnes estimated the first 10 days of the strike cost £1,600,000. He said 229 ships were delayed one to 10 days in London during that time.

American Relief At Disaster Site

Shattered Fukui Area Feels New Tremors; Casualties Estimated At 2,500; Some Americans Slightly Hurt In Quake

By FRANK L. WHITE
Fukui, Japan, June 29—(AP)—The shattered Fukui area felt new earth tremors tonight. Military government officers estimated Monday's earthquake casualties would mount to 2,500 dead and injured Japanese.

No new damage was reported. All Americans in the stricken area escaped serious injury but a number were bruised and burned slightly. American relief reached the quake scene to aid the injured and homeless.

Military government officers said 200 children were crushed to death when a motion picture theater collapsed in the first shock. Their bodies have been recovered. At a school 22 more children and two adults were reported crushed.

Maj. Gen. Joseph W. Swing, U.S. Army First Corps commander, returned to Kyoto from Fukui and said he doubted the death list for the whole stricken area would exceed 500 but the total injured may eventually reach 5,000. He said there was no evidence of any tidal waves striking the shore from the Sea of Japan.

The governor of Fukui prefecture estimated 3,155 were killed in the violent quake. (The Tokyo newspaper Asahi gave the number of dead and injured in the prefecture as 16,000. It reported 300,000 homeless.)

American relief reached the quake scene to aid the injured and homeless.

The first tremors burst water mains. Fires flashed but Americans and Japanese without water were helpless before the flames.

Half the city, rebuilt wooden houses and structures, went down in the first tremor or so. Ninety-five per cent of what was left was burned and scorched and turned into rubble.

A few of the Americans here suffered minor injuries—mostly cuts, bruises and burns. Many lost their possessions.

Step Up Efforts In Rail Dispute

John R. Steelman Confers With Heads Of Three Unions

Washington, June 29—(AP)—The White House stepped up its efforts today in seeking a solution for the railroad labor dispute.

Frank P. Douglass, chairman of the National Railway mediation board, conferred with President Truman and Presidential assistant John R. Steelman, who has been leading his attempts to get an agreement between railroad management and three rail unions.

Steelman also called in for a morning conference the heads of the three unions whose strike threatened government seizure of the roads May 10.

Associates said Douglass' call on Mr. Truman had nothing directly to do with the rail dispute.

The army technically has been running the railroads since May 10. That was the day Mr. Truman ordered the roads seized and the government obtained a temporary court order from Justice T. Alan Goldsborough to prevent the unions from striking.

Goldsborough is to decide Thursday whether he will continue that strike ban.

Report Ten New Cases Of Polio

Raleigh, N. C., June 29—(AP)—Some 10 new cases of polio were reported today to the state board of health today. Twelve new cases were reported yesterday.

Burke County reported two new cases to bring its total to 31, and Guilford county reported one new case for a total of 29.

Mecklenburg county reported two new cases for a June total of 13, and four cases reported from Gaston brought its June total to seven. Iredell county reported one case, its first of the month.

New Retirement Benefits For Armed Services Reserves Go Into Effect

Washington, June 29—(AP)—President Truman today signed a bill providing retirement benefits for reserve officers and men of the army, air force and navy.

In a statement, the President said "the way is now open to the development of an ever-ready reserve as an integral part of the United States armed forces." He added:

"As Commander in Chief, I call upon the regular services to work with the reserves in full partnership in maintaining a vigorous and effective national defense."

For the first time, reserves are given retirement credit for time spent in the reserve. Heretofore, they have been entitled to pensions only if they had enough time on active duty or were disabled in active service.

Upon reaching the age of 60, reserves can retire if they have been in the reserve 20 years or longer. Those now in the reserve must have been in active service during world war I or World War II.

Retired pay will be computed at two and a half percent of base pay for the highest rank held multiplied by the number of years on active duty, plus one half of one percent of the same base pay multiplied by the number of years on inactive status. In no event, however, can the pension be greater than 75 percent of the highest active duty pay the person receiving the pension.

The law generally overhauls the army and air force promotion and retirement systems.

British Pledge Finance Reform For U. S. Relief

Stiff Terms Stipulated In Agreement; Earlier Version Is Toned Down

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Britain promised today to keep her financial house in order in return for more than $4,000,000,000 in American aid over the next four and a quarter years.

In a lengthy agreement made public by the State Department, the British pledged that in exchange for U.S. assistance under the European Recovery Program their nation will:

"Stabilize its currency, establish or maintain a valid rate of exchange, balance its governmental budget, create or maintain internal financial stability and generally restore or maintain confidence in its monetary system."

While the agreement must be approved by the British parliament by July 3 if American aid now flowing under a temporary pact is not to halt, such ratification was expected with little trouble. If the agreement is okayed after the deadline American shipments would be resumed.

The 10,000-word document contains numerous provisions designed to insure British cooperation in a coordinated recovery effort in western Europe. But chief interest centered on the section dealing with Britain's currency.

There had been reports of vigorous disagreement between British and American negotiators over that point. The final wording of the clause represents a victory for the British officials.

They had insisted on toning down an earlier version to avoid an impression the American government wanted power to revalue the pound sterling at will.

Although the full amount of American assistance is not specified in the agreement, State and Treasury department officials have estimated that Britain's share of the vast program will fall between $4,000,000,000 and $4,500,000,000 by the time the international project ends June 30, 1952.

Denies American Vessel In Battle

Naval Attache Gives Proofs To Arab League Secretary

Cairo, June 29—(AP)—The Arab League reported today that the American naval attaché had given "proofs" that a U.S. warship could not have shelled Arab positions in Palestine as Syria contends it did.

The American rebuttal was reported by Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the league.

Azzam Pasha made his statement after a conference with American Charge d'Affaires Jefferson Patterson and the naval attaché, Captain William R. Headen.

Earlier in the day Muhsen Al-Arabi, Syrian interior minister, said his government protested to Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations peace-maker for Palestine, that an American ship on truce patrol for the mediator intervened in an Arab-Jewish battle at Al Arwa. This point is about eight miles inland from the coast of northern Palestine.

Azzam Pasha said Patterson supplied him with all information the American representative had gathered on the incident. The American embassy said a thorough check was being made and that a statement would be issued tomorrow.

A high Arab source said meanwhile that Arabs "will resume war while pursuing peace talks" if negotiations toward a settlement in Palestine are unfinished at the end of the month-long truce expiring July 9.

Can't Afford To Keep Post With Federal Gov't

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Dr. J. W. Studebaker resigned today as U.S. commissioner of education, saying "I can no longer afford to remain in the federal government."

President Truman accepted the resignation, effective July 15.

In his letter to Mr. Truman, Dr. Studebaker said he has continued as commissioner for 14 years "through the darkest years of economic depression, the period of defense preparations, the strenuous years of war, and three very difficult years of post-war readjustment."

"Along with too many other men, the time has now come when I can no longer afford to remain in the federal government," he said.

Mr. Truman in reply expressed regret, and told Studebaker:

"I can fully understand the situation."

Bolshevik Citadel Has Its Failings In Satellite State Of Yugoslavia; Full Significance; Tito's Sins; Good Example Of How Moscow Rules The Roost

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

So the Bolshevik citadel which Lenin and Stalin built isn't without weakness of structure after all! The Red Cominform's blistering condemnation of Yugoslavia's cocky dictator, "Marshal" Tito, and his captains discloses a serious disaffection in one of the most important satellite states. This is the first big explosion of its kind to come to public knowledge and, as one would expect, Moscow has struck swiftly.

Tito's sins are not detailed but are summed up generally with the statement that Yugoslav Communists have departed from the Marx-Lenin line and that Tito and his colleagues have followed a course which is hateful to Soviet Russia. The Cominform accuses them of being Trotskyites, which is the supreme insult in the parlance of the Muscovites.

To get the full significance of this Trotsky slap it must be recalled that Stalin and Trotsky battled for leadership at the time of Lenin's death. Stalin won and Trotsky was expelled. The refugee wandered from country to country and finally wound up in Mexico where his brain was mysteriously beaten out with a spade.

These facts can be of small significance to Tito—if he is still alive. He is reported to be at Bled, the Yugoslav summer capital.

The way it looks from here, Moscow finally decided that the Marshal had got too big for his breeches. This peasant's son who worked his way up to leadership and displaced the Yugoslav monarchy, long has been regarded as a one-man band and a law unto himself. He improved on the customary Communist tough-guy bullying and bluster. On several occasions he got tangled with the United States, and even defended his airmen in shooting down unarmed American planes over Yugoslavia, in one instance with the death of five U.S. aviators. His regime also has been charged with supporting the Communist rebellion in Greece.

Tito has ruled Yugoslavia with an iron hand, and his dictatorship has been a bloody one. Under his regime hundreds of priests have been executed in a drive against the church. The toll of political deaths probably never will be known.

However, that presumably would have been all right with Moscow if "Comrade Tito" had stuck to terrorism against anti-Communists and bullying the democrats. But

Diplomatic Moves To End Blockade

Berlin Prepares Plea To UN For Help In Blockade

Washington, June 29—(AP)—United States officials were reported reading new, tough diplomatic moves today to crack Russia's land blockade of Berlin.

Although White House and State Department officials maintained a tight-lipped silence, indications mounted that a diplomatic stroke aimed directly at the Kremlin might be unleashed tomorrow or Thursday.

The nature of any such plan was cloaked in strictest secrecy, but signs pointed to a stern note demanding that Russia lift the eight-day old blockade and quit other anti-United Nations tactics—or take responsibility for the consequences.

The Air Force meanwhile stood ready to rush more cargo planes to the beleaguered German capital if needed to help ferry food and other urgently needed supplies to 2,500,000 residents cut off in the western zones.

Already some 39 giant C-54's were winging their way to Germany from as far away as Alaska and the Caribbean.

An Air Force spokesman said no further requests for planes had been received from U.S. occupation authorities. But he told a reporter scores more of the transport craft were available.

Meanwhile diplomatic and military officials held a fast-breaking series of conferences here and abroad which pointed to an early break in the Berlin impasse.

These were the major developments:

1. Undersecretary of State Lovett conferred with President Truman yesterday and later attended a White House cabinet session. There was no official word on the topics under discussion, but it was learned that one of them was the Berlin situation.

2. Undersecretary of the Army William Draper and U.S. Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas went into a London huddle with Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. Draper then flew to Berlin to join Lt. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer of the U.S. General Staff for conferences with the American commander, Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

3. Prime Minister Attlee summoned Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the British Imperial General Staff, to a special cabinet session last night.

Bevin meantime put off until Wednesday a statement on a small British policy in Germany which he had been scheduled to make before parliament yesterday.

Th series of conferences seemed to indicate American and British officials were speeding groundwork for the diplomatic moves presumably being worked out at top levels.

British Commander Denounces Russian Action As "Ruthless Inhumanity"

Berlin, June 29—(AP)—The British military government today denounced as "ruthless inhumanity" the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Meanwhile, the German city government prepared an appeal for United Nations intervention. Reports from Copenhagen said approaches had been made to the Danish government to transmit the appeal.

The British commander, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, made his denunciation at a meeting of the German advisory council for the British zone at Hamburg.

His strong language indicated he probably had received a rebuff from the Russians on his demand of last Saturday that they lift immediately their transport embargo on Berlin or take blame for starving 2,000,000 Berliners of the western occupation sectors.

Sir Brian said continuation of the blockade would constitute an act of ruthless inhumanity unparalleled in world history and would earn world condemnation.

"The people of the world will condemn unhesitatingly this effort to gain political advantage by an attempt to starve the helpless," he asserted.

He added that Britain's course in the Berlin crisis was firm.

Erau Louise Schroder, Berlin's Socialist Lord Mayor, said the city government had decided the United Nations was "the only institution to which Berlin can appeal in its present distress."

The city's parliament is to meet late today to consider the appeal. Frau Schroeder said it would be communicated first to the chiefs of the four occupying armies and then transmitted to Lake Success through a neutral military mission, probably either Danish or Norwegian.

NLRB Complaint Issued Against Miners' Union

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Robert N. Denham, National Labor Relations Board general counsel, issued an unfair labor practice complaint today against District 31 of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of America.

Denham charged that UMW members obstructed entrances of four West Virginia coal mines and refused to let non-union workers come up from underground until they signed UMW membership cards.

The incident occurred during the six-week mine shutdown over the miners' pension dispute in March.

The complaint is based on charges filed by four firms—Ruthell Coal Company, Hartman Coal Company, Borgman Coal Company, and George Kefover Coal Company.

Dewey, Warren Draft Campaign

Pawling, N. Y., June 29—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren put their heads together today to map an election campaign designed to make the most of their respective vote-getting talents.

As the Republican presidential nominee, Dewey is expected to assume the leading role—a sustained frontal assault on the Democratic administration's conduct of foreign policy.

On the broad shoulders of his running mate will fall a large share of the burden of winning the West for the GOP next November.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
June 29, 1908

Always after a nominating convention is over there is more or less talk as to whether the defeated aspirants for office will come to the support of the victors and help secure their election. Of course that is what everyone should do, for the candidate who goes into convention in good faith does the real honorable thing when he abides by the decision of the majority.

Two Japs To Die For Death March

Yokohama, June 29—(AP)—Two former Japanese officers, Maj. Gen. Yoshitaka Kawane and Col. Kurataro Hirano were sentenced today to be hanged for responsibility in the 1942 Bataan death march.
Both were convicted by a U.S. Eighth Army tribunal.
Approximately 10,000 American and Filipino soldiers died in the Bataan march and 25,000 Filipinos died later at Camp O'Donnel.

British Report 3 Tanks Stolen

Haifa, June 29—(AP)—Three British Cromwell tanks were reported stolen early today as the army moved aboard ships ready to pull out of Palestine within 24 hours. The tanks were said to have been driven away from under the nose of British guards at Haifa airport. One was found abandoned later with a damaged gear shift. Army sources expressed belief the tanks were taken by deserters on their way to join the Jewish army.

Noncommittal On Demo Prospects

Burlington, Vt., June 29—(AP)—Former Postmaster General James A. Farley says he is neither unduly optimistic nor pessimistic over Democratic prospects in the November presidential election.
Farley said he expected President Truman to be nominated on the first ballot even though Southern Democrats place the names of other candidates before the Democratic convention.
Farley, a New York delegate, told a press conference last night that he is not interested in a nomination this year "under any circumstances."

Resume Hunt For Lost Monoplane

Bedford, Pa., June 29—(AP)—State police and volunteers planned today to resume a search of the mountain areas for a small dark colored monoplane reported to have crashed yesterday.
Two farmer-brothers told police they saw a small plane hit a high tension wire, knock over two telephone poles and then plunge downward in the vicinity of Kinton's mountain.
A six-hour search yesterday disclosed the broken utility poles but no trace of the plane.

Texaco Pension Plan Increased

New York, June 29—The Texas Company announced today an arrangement to supplement the income of retired employees whose pensions under the Company's established Pension Plan are less than $75.00 per month at normal retirement after twenty years of service, or less than $100.00 per month at normal retirement after twenty five or more years of service. The Company will make supplemental payments sufficient to bring the monthly total including pension to $75. or $100.

"We recognize that living costs have increased considerably since the Texaco Pension Plan went into effect in 1937," the Company said. "Our active employees have received several cost of living increases over the past few years, and we feel that our pensioners, living on fixed incomes, also deserve consideration."

Protest Bombing Chinese Cities

Peking, June 29—(AP)—A movement against bombing of Chinese cities in the civil war was started here today by 122 university professors and students.

They acted after the recent air attack by government planes on Kaifeng in Honan Province. A large number of civilians were reported killed.

One American professor, Robert Winter of Tsinghua University, joined in the protest of the bombing.

Week-End Warriors Will Take Part In Maneuvers

Glennview, Ill., June 29 —(AP)—Two hundred "week-end warriors" from Glennview will participate in the second annual two-week maneuvers at the Marine Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C., July 10.

The men, members of Reserve Fighter Squadron VMF 121, Glennview Naval Air Station, are from Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Michigan. Eleven other reserve fighter squadrons from cities east of the Mississippi will be on hand. The pilots, ground officers, and enlisted men are known as "week-end warriors" because they only meet for drill on first and third Sundays throughout the year.

The pilots and officers are all combat veterans, who fought with VMF 121 in the skies over Guadalcanal, the Russells, Munda, Vella Lavella, Peleliu, and the Leyte landings. Most of the enlisted strength is from senior high school classes. Credited with shooting down 200 Jap planes and sinking two Jap destroyers, VMF 121 was the highest scoring leatherneck unit of the war. It is commanded by Maj. Robert S. Ingram, Chicago, a wartime dive-bomber pilot. Major Robert Bryson, La Grange, Ill., is the squadron's new executive officer.

VMF 121 was awarded the presidential unit citation for its work with the First Marine Division on Guadalcanal. It knocked out its first 80 Jap planes and the two destroyers there. Among its standouts were Maj. Joe Foss, winner of the Medal of Honor for shooting down 36 planes, and Lt. Col. Leonard K. "Duke" Davis, now in command of the Marine detachment at Glennview.

Also at the maneuvers from Glennview Air Station will be Ground Intercept Squadron 22 under the command of Capt. Lester Pertie, Chicago. The squadron will be one of three radar units at the maneuvers.

Red Oak News

All friends and neighbors of Red Oak and Piney Grove communities are cordially invited to a miscellaneous shower given by the ladies of Red Oak Church honoring Reverend and Mrs. Howard James who were recently married. The shower will be held at the Red Oak Club Center on Tuesday evening, June 29, at eight o'clock.

Circle No. 1 held a most enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Worthington, Sr. last Monday evening. Mrs. H. R. Allen read the minutes of the previous meeting, called the roll, and gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. F. L. Allen conducted the devotional. A neat sum of money from brooms, quilt squares and donations were added to the building fund. After delicious refreshments served by the hostesses assisted by her daughters, the meeting adjourned to meet next 3rd Monday evening with Mrs. Nan Barber. We missed all those members who for various reasons were absent, especially our president, Mrs. O. S. Kittrell. She and her son Billy were spending a week with relatives and friends at the Parkerson Hotel at Nags Head. She reported a wonderful week and a few "added pounds."

Circle No. 2 met at the home of Mrs. Leroy James last Monday evening. Plans were made for a full year's work next year and they will not have a meeting during July and August. This circle is not very large but they have done an outstanding piece of work since they have been organized. By sheer hard work and perseverance they have added about five hundred dollars to the building fund. We congratulate them on their fine work.

The Youthful Workers Club will meet at "Woodside," the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Tyson tonight, Monday, June 28.

Mr. S. T. Porter, who has had charge of the improvements to our Red Oak Church informs us that this week will probably find the job completed. We are very happy over the outcome of our plans and we face the future in our church with high spirits and great hopes.

In 1912 a proposal for a 50,000-mile U. S. national system of highways was assailed as a frivolous expenditure of public funds for the benefit of a few wealthy pleasure seekers.

Advice to The Man

of Fifty

If you are approaching fifty, your next birthday should be a signal to share the responsibility of your physical well-being for the coming years with your doctor. See him soon even if you feel perfectly well, then have him look you over again in a few months. In this way you will get the most out of the enjoyable fifties to which you have looked forward for so long.

GOD'S PRESENTS
A college student who is not very good at spelling recently wrote in an English composition, "God is conspicuous in the world by his presents." He meant to say, of course, that God was conspicuous by his "presence." But the original statement, though unintentional, is true:
God is conspicuous in the world by his presents.

God's presents are indeed conspicuous in the world. We live surrounded by them. If we are fortune-ate enough to live in a place where nature has not destroyed the beauties of nature and replaced them with man-made ugliness, we see God's presents in our physical surroundings. Majestic mountains, cool and sparkling lakes, fertile green fields, rolling forests—all these are God's gifts. And the loveliest, though smaller, delights are his presents too—dogwood in bloom, the velvet brilliance of the cardinal, the apple blossoms, the pattern of the frost.
These are presents in the truest sense, freely given to us, to be taken and enjoyed.

Even if our home is not in the lovely countryside, however, God's presents are still conspicuous everywhere. His best gifts, indeed, are not reserved for nature, but are in our fellow human beings. The love of our wives and sweethearts, the loyalty of our friends, the affection of our children, the generosity of our parents—these too are his gifts.
Truly, God is conspicuous by his presents.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

INQUEST—As always just after an important election, the chief occupation of Capitol square folk Monday was holding inquest over Saturday's plebiscite. There was surprisingly little manifestation of job on part of Scott partisans, and not much more gloom among Johnsonites than had been evident for some time. Assigned reason for the lack of extremes was summed up in a casual drink stand conversation. The Johnson folk were not wearing crepe because they have realized since the first primary the probability of defeat and were prepared for it. With victory for Scott partisans comes recognition of great responsibility, and so while happy they are not over-elated. They realize they have a real job ahead.

CASUALTIES—The campaign had some casualties, of course. It is significant that there was less talk about fresh air in state departments, use of the headman's axe and other similes for changing state personnel than was heard last week. Chief casualties were not among the ranks of state officials and employees, but among the politically ambitious outsiders. It has been known for months that some of Johnson's most ardent supporters in the official state family were ready to retire from public office in any event. It is almost certain that their successors will be different persons from those who would have taken over the jobs if Johnson had won, but change would have occurred anyhow. It is also accepted as certain that many faithful state workers who voted for Johnson will not be disturbed by advent of Scott to the governorship.

BAND-WAGON—The real casualties are among those who had no positive choice but fell for the propaganda that Johnson had the bandwagon. There were many more of these on county and local level than on state level. Time after time during the past eighteen months would the local leaders have been heard to say they had lost so often they wanted to be sure to get on the Johnson wagon early enough this time. Trouble is the band had moved off before they got on.

PEARSALL—Tom Pearsall, Johnson campaign manager, was perhaps the principal individual casualty. A successful, young lawyer-farmer-business man, Pearsall came to the legislature from Nash County in 1941 and moved rapidly up to speakership of the 1947 session. His prestige was such that many people urged him to run for governor himself, and it is known that about time the last general assembly adjourned he was definitely considering the matter. Then he evidently was convinced that the movement for Johnson had progressed so far it could not be stopped, and he cast his lot with the then leading candidate. He exerted some influence to keep Kenneth Royall, Libby Ward, Stag Ballentine and finally Kerr Scott out of the race. After Scott announced his candidacy,

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Ghosts have no daylight voices.
And so there is no way to say what ghosts were present in the crowds that last week attended one of the weirdest auctions in history.
It was a sale that revealed the dictum that in war the spoils belong to the victors. It was a sale to see that some of the spoils of the second world war went to the victors.

Up for auction was a small portion of many tons of Nazi loot seized in Germany and Austria and brought here. It will be sold over a period of months and the proceeds used to resettle and rehabilitate European displaced persons.

The first batch of loot, put on the block last week contained 828 lots and brought $188,435. This was 20 percent more than its value as estimated in advance.

It consisted of jewelry, expensive household wares and artistic bric-brac that couldn't be identified and returned to the original owners.

Many long since had been put to death in the gas pits at Dachau and robbed even of the gold in their teeth. Others had passed through the one-way portals of the concentration camp at Buchenwald, the earthly hell where Nazi guards greeted incoming prisoners with the macabre jest:

Abandon all hope ye who enter here.

The Nazi booty was brought here because this is the only land with cash to pay for it—cash to help the rootless victims of distress still encamped in Germany.

In the minds of successful bidders as the auctioneer's hammer crashed down to end each sale there must have been a wonder.

Whom had the piece he just bought belonged to? What woman in what country had lingered after dinner under the soft light shed by "lot 260, two pairs of repousse silver candlesticks?" Did she worry that her prized candlesticks had "some imperfections"—as the sale catalog bluntly said?

What wealthy housewife had lived in terror that some guest would chip a plate in her 24-piece Herend porcelain table service? It sold here for $1,300. What kind of tableware did she eat off in her own last hours? At Buchenwald there was only a bowl.

Who had toasted whom for what vanished moments of personal good fortune in the sixteen tinted glass hocks of "lot 2?" New people in a country an ocean away now will drink white wine from them.

Behind each lot as it came up was a story of some forgotten hour or lifetime of pleasure. Perhaps many lifetimes—for a large number of the items were anonymous. Not as anonymous as the treasures of broken households put up at auction in a strange place under the eyes of impersonal buyers.

The polished silver showed no reflection of the happiness it brought to other owners in another day. Nor did it reflect the panic team that came with the midnight knock of the Nazi at the door.

In the biggest sale of the week
one man paid $4,350 for four snuff boxes. These trinkets of an elder day must have been the joy of some old world collectors. And the man who forked out the $4,350 to get them must have been pleased his money went to a good cause.

It is doubtful, however, whether he enjoyed paying the 20 percent excise to help one person who has never been displaced—Uncle Sam.
For $870 he could have put a lot of snuff in those boxes.

Police Blocking

To Catch Killer

Asheville, June 29—(AP)—Police blocked the winding mountain roads north of Asheville last night, attempting to capture the driver of a hit-and-run car that killed a 16-year-old boy.

The victim, Joe Edward Thompson, 16, of the Elk Mountain section, was killed as he and seven teen-age companions were returning from swimming in the French Broad River. The car plowed into the group, injuring four of Thompson's companions.

The boys were walking south on the old Marshall highway five miles north of Asheville and the car was traveling north.

The four injured youths were admitted to Mission Hospital here.

Guilford Acting To Handle Polio Outbreak There

Greensboro, N. C., June 29—(AP)—As North Carolina's infantile paralysis outbreak continued to advance, Guilford county—one of the hardest hit areas—acted yesterday to make more room for patients.

The county took steps to make available 240 beds for 18 months for patients suffering from the disease. At Raleigh, the number of cases reported to the state board of health in the state during June rose to 150 yesterday. These brought to 273 the year's totals, and the number during the period from May 1 to yesterday.

At Greensboro, A. O. Smith, administrator of the Greensboro polio hospital, called Guilford's outbreak the worst the section has known and "there apparently is no letup."

He said 50 convalescent patients would be moved today from a clinic at former army buildings near Greensboro to a building in the city which formally housed a newspaper. He added that part of the equipment, on loan from the National Foundation for infantile paralysis, is en route from an abandoned hospital in New Orleans.

Miami, Fla., June 29—(AP)—A two-beer customer at Nat Zuckerman's grocery bagged $664.68 in cash and $80.39 in checks yesterday.

Zuckerman told police he had placed his day's receipts in the bag when a stranger came in and ordered two beers. His wife, said the grocer, placed the beer in a sack and handed it over.

It was the sack in which he had placed the money and checks.

City and county officials in a nine-county area around Guilford are being asked to meet at Greensboro Thursday to discuss a proposal for building a $50,000 three-wing hospital for polio treatment. The proposal was worked out by Greensboro, Guilford county, High Point and National Foundation representatives.

Counties which have been invited to participate are Alamance, Chatham, Davidson, Moore, Randolph, Rockingham, Forsyth, Stokes, and Surry.

James A. Doggett, chairman of the city-county group, said other counties would be asked to contribute toward the hospital in ratio of population.

Golden Gate Has Another Suicide

San Francisco, June 29—(AP)—A middle-aged man paid his ten cent and walked to the center span of the Golden Gate bridge.

A couple of young men came by "Boys, I'm from Mexico City, said the man. "Will you give me a cigarette?"

They did and moved on. Twenty feet later, they heard a yell.

The man stood on the rail, flipped away the cigarette and jumped. And so, at 1:18 p. m. yesterday, the Golden Gate bridge marked down the 100th suicide in its 1 years.

A Coast Guard boat plucked the broken body out of the water a short time later. Papers in a coat pocket gave the name of Fortunato Ornelas Anguinao, 32, dishwasher.

A purse found on the bridge Sunday suggested that Mrs. Diancie Black, 31, was the 100th to die in the 240-foot leap from the bridge. But she isn't on the list. No one saw her jump. Her body has not been found.

Anguinao left a note. "Just bury me in the land of my ancestry," it read, "my own land . . ."

Wallace Reports Profits Greater Than War Years

Fryeburg, Me., June 29—(AP)—Jenny Wallace moved into Maine today on his three-day New England tour in quest of votes for his new party presidential candidacy.

He is scheduled to speak in this community before heading for Portland—the state's biggest city.

He told a Berlin, N. H., audience at night that "labor is not getting a just deserts from our present origin policy of spending vast sums in adventures overseas."

"Corporations are making a profit four times greater than during the war," he added, "and have money to pay wages as high as 1945-46."

He said that by spending billions of dollars overseas, the United States "preparing for war that will destroy us all."

Medals Available To Entitled Veterans

Raleigh, N.C., June 29—Medals for the European Theatre, Asiatic-Pacific Theatre, and American Theatre are now available for veterans of World War II. It was announced today by Colonel Norman McNeill, commanding officer of the North Carolina Military District.

Junkyard Car Is Declared Unsafe

Van Nuys, Calif., June 29—(AP)—A 19-year-old mechanic was committed to jail yesterday after police told the court they clocked his home-made car at 90 miles an hour.

They reported the vehicle had no fenders, bumpers, running board, tail light or hand brake and that the steering gear was loose.

The mechanic, James A. Seaberry, pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving, driving an unsafe vehicle and driving an unregistered vehicle. Seaberry admitted to assemble the car from parts acquired from junk yards.

"If you'll give me probation," he offered the court, "I'll take it apart and return the parts—as well as I can remember—to the junk yards." Police court Judge H. A. Decker turned down the offer, committing Seaberry to jail to await sentencing June 31.

Chapter 18
"Outside," said the old gray-headed turkey, standing in the lighted corridor beyond the barred door of my dark cell. "You're being sprung."
"Sprung?" I repeated. "Who sprung me?"
"Ask the desk sergeant," said the turkey, "or aren't you coming, maybe?"
He went stumping ahead of me and I followed, ready for any shape or form of ambush. There wasn't any ambush. He swung open another door, heavy and plated inside and out with iron.
Raniel was standing there, with his elbow braced in the corner of the window, arguing sourly with somebody back in the shadows. Then somebody stepped out into the light as I came in and I saw that it was J. D. Thatcher.
"Are you all right?" she asked me, as hastily and eagerly as if it was the most important thing in the world to her.
"In the pink," I said.
"You're getting a great big break," grumbled Raniel. "She's fronting for you."
"Yes," said J. D. "I got a habeas corpus for you. You've been hurt, Jack. How did it happen?"
"He ran into the edge of a door or something," volunteered Raniel. I walked out, trying not to show the aches and twinges J. D. came up beside me as I reached the sidewalk.
"Where are you going?"
"To bed," I told her. "Where else?"
At the hotel I got a goggle-eyed look from the night clerk and another from the elevator boy on the way up, but no cracks from either of them. In my room I stripped off my jacket, vest and shirt, and tenderly washed my face in the coldest water I could draw, then the hottest, and then the coldest again. It made me feel a hundred percent better. Somebody knocked softly. I pulled on a robe and went to the door. It was J. D.
"Here, I brought this," she said, and held out a package as she walked in. "It's beefsteak."
"Raw beef doesn't help bruises

"Let's forget it," I said.
"And start work again?"
"Tomorrow," I said. "What I need now is a peck of aspirin and a few hours of sleep."
"Oh, Jack, I'm sorry. I shouldn't keep you up like this." She rose too, with the package of meat tucked between her elbow and her side. As I turned around, she came up to me, with a crinkly frown of study and concern. She put a finger on my cheek where it puffed out most.
"How they marked your poor face!" she whispered, in a voice that shook. "Two of them against one, with the whole police department on their side—they ought to be killed. I could kill them myself and dance on their graves—"
All alone and quiet then, I sat down on the bed. Then I went to the bathroom and brushed my teeth, glad that they were still all there. I took a hot shower and cold-soaked my face for a last time. I downed three aspirins and finally crawled into bed without putting on my pajamas. It took some experimenting to find the position that hurt the least to lie in.

An increase in the number of fatal accidents in the United States was recorded each year in 1945, 1946 and 1947 although the number of fatal motor car accidents decreased slightly in 1947.

Unsung Relief Hurlers Are Real Flag Winners

Never Before Have
Major Leagues
Boasted So Many Fine Rescue Artists;
Joe Page And Hugh Casey Have Compete-

tion

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now is the time for all pennant-conscious managers to give a note of thanks to those athletes who hold the most thankless job in baseball—the relief hurlers.

Never before have the majors boasted so many fine rescue artists. As a matter of fact, Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York owe their lofty positions in the American League to the splendid work done by that game-saving crew. The same holds true of all the first division clubs in the National.

Last year, both Bucky Harris and Burt Shotton, respectively managers of the Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, were quick to admit that they never would have won the flag without their ace firemen, Joe Page and Hugh Casey.

This year, numerous pitchers have come up to challenge Page and Casey for the No. 1 rating. Casey has been temporarily sidelined due to an injury, but Page is still carrying on in flawless style.

In Casey's place have loomed such relief luminaries as Ted Wilks of the St. Louis Cardinals; Clyde Shoun, Boston Braves; Russ Christopher and Ed Klemm, Cleveland Indians; Charley Harris and Bob Savage, Philadelphia Athletics; Sheldon Hones, New York Giants; Harry Gumbert, Cincinnati Reds;

Team To Beat

Princeton, N. J., June 29 — (AP)—The eyes of eight college and two club coaches were on the University of Washington today as the favored Huskies concluded practice for the Olympic eight-oared rowing trials.

The Washington sweepstake, under the watchful eye of Coach Al Ulbrickson, will be the team to beat in the trials which get under way tomorrow over Lake Carnegie's 2,000-meter Olympic course. The Huskies will seek to repeat their 1936 feat of winning the Foughkeepsie Regatta and the Olympic tryouts, after which they swept aside all foreign opposition.

and Kirby Higbe, Pittsburgh Pirates. Other firemen giving a good account of themselves this season include Ed Heusser, Philadelphia Phillies; Willard Ramsdell, Dodgers; Jess Dobner, Chicago Cubs; Earl Johnson, Boston Red Sox; Hal White, Detroit Tigers; Frank Biscan, St. Louis Browns and Tom Ferrick, Washington Senators.

Best relief work of the year, day in and day out, probably is being turned in by Ted Wilks, the chunky little right-hander of the second place Cardinals. Wilks' won and lost record is not phenomenal. He has won three and lost two, but that tells only part of the story.

Ted has appeared in 21 of the Cardinals' 61 games, all in relief. Besides the three he received credit for, the 32-year-old native of Fulton, N.Y., has saved seven others. He permitted only 25 hits in 45 innings. In his last five appearances, Wilks has allowed only two singles in 10 innings. The Cards won three of these games by scores of 2-1, 4-1 and 6-4.

His latest rescue job came last Sunday against the Dodgers. Ted appeared in the seventh inning after the Brooks scored a run and filled the bases against Al Brazie with nobody out. He forced the first batter to hit into a double play and retired the next on a routine fly. He did not allow a hit the rest of the way.

Shoun has done almost equally well for the front-running Braves. The veteran left-hander has pitched in 16 games, 15 in relief. The veteran left-hander has pitched in 16 games, 15 in relief. He has won three without a setback and has saved three others.

The Indians are blessed with not one, but two fine "stoppers" in Christopher and Klemm. Christopher, purchased from the Athletics, has appeared in 17 games and the Tribe has won 12 of them. The tall right-hander owns a 1-1 record and lost record. Klemm has

Fighting Spirit And Connie Mack Keep A's Going

Philadelphia, June 29 — (AP)—The baseball experts have been analyzing the Philadelphia Athletics all most since the start of the 1948 American League season.

The boys would like to know what enables a supposedly second division club to maintain the pennant-leading pace the A's have carried up to the eve of July 4th—traditional day of baseball.

The answer to the question "What's holding the A's up?" is two-fold in the minds of those connected with the club—a fighting spirit and Connie Mack, the 85-year-old owner-manager.

The A's last home stand that ended June 13 showed a record of nine wins against ten losses—not the sort of tally that produces pennants.

On the road, the Mackmen could win only one of three games with Detroit and one of four with Cleveland, including a game in which the A's had a 3-0 lead over Bobby Feller.

At that point, Mack decided it was high time to take steps. He called a meeting of the players at their hotel in St. Louis.

According to one of those attending, there were no harsh words, just a word of confidence from Mack. He repeated the statement he'd made previously in an interview, to wit—"I'm very fond of this club."

That night, the A's dropped a 9-8 decision to St. Louis in a game that saw the Browns score four runs in the ninth inning.

Mack didn't have to call another meeting because the players took matters into their own hands. They got mad.

The next night, they choked off a ninth-inning St. Louis rally to win 7-6 and they haven't been beaten since, winning seven straight to come home only 11 percentage points out of first place.

Williams Setting Blistering Pace

Chicago, June 29 — (AP)—Ted Williams, boosting his batting mark to .415, is setting one of the hottest paces at the plate in 26 years.

The Boston slugger, bunched nine hits in 20 trips last week, upped his clip four percentage points for a 52-point lead over second place Lou Boudreau in the American League hit column.

The immortal Sisler wound up the 1922 season with 420, duplicating Ty Cobb's record in 1911. No American League since this pair ever finished a race higher than the blistering 415 pace being set by Williams. The Beantown Belier, himself, came close when he notched 406 in 1941.

In the National League, Rogers Hornsby's 424 pace in 1924 is the best since 1900.

Williams has slammed 90 hits in 217 times at bat. Cleveland's Boudreau has collected 82 blows in 226 tries for 363. New York's Johnny Lindell was third with 331 followed by Bob Brown, another Yankee, with 329. Al Zarilla, St. Louis, 328; Luke Appling, Chicago, 317; Walt Evers, Detroit, 313; Vic Wertz, Detroit, 312; Bob Dillinger, St. Louis, 307; and George Kell, Detroit, 305.

Musial Batting Over .400 Mark

New York, June 29 — (AP)—Stan Musial is threatening to become the first National League batter to hit 400 since Bill Terry of the New York Giants clouted 401 in 1930.

The slugging rightfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals boosted his average to .405 with a fine display of stickwork last week and gained a stranglehold on the league's batting leadership.

Helped by a five-for-five performance in Boston and a four-for-five in Brooklyn, Musial gained eight points to take a 53 point lead over Boston's Tommy Holmes, his closest pursuer. Through games of Sunday, Stan has been to bat 242 times and collected 98 hits.

Holmes' 350 gives him a five-point bulge on Chicago's Andy Pafko for the runner-up honors. The Cubs' converted third baseman is third with 345. Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia's flashy rookie centerfielder, continues to stay up among the elite with a fine fourth place 344. Sid Gordon of the New York Giants is fifth with 328.

Yogi Berra Tops League Catchers In All-Star Poll

Chicago, June 29 — (AP)—Larry (Yogi) Berra of New York, regaled first place among American League catchers in the All Star baseball poll today as balloting continued throughout the nation to select starting lineups for the 15th annual All Star game in St. Louis July 13.

Berra, with 298,114 votes, passed Birdie Tebbets of the Boston Red Sox, who has been named on 294,257 of the 1,672,697 ballots tabulated at All Star voting headquarters here.

The voting, which is being conducted by 452 newspapers, magazines and radio stations, will close at midnight July 6.

In the National League race for the starting catcher's berth, another New Yorker, Walker Cooper, of the Giants, also regained the No. 1 position with 419,328 votes. Phil Masi of the Boston Braves is runner-up with 408,712 ballots.

Ray Robinson Goes Route To Decision His Opponent

Chicago, June 29 — (AP)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson's 15-round decision over young Bernie Docusen to retain his welterweight crown is the story of a streak.

The machine-like Harlem slugger started himself for two days to make the 147 pound weight limit. Then after tipping the scales at 146 1-2 in yesterday's weigh-in, he drank a quart of beef broth and gnawed through a two-pound broiled steak. This was his first solid food in 48 hours of forced dehydration to shed four or five pounds.

That hunk of beef did it. During most of last night's title defense in Comiskey park against the 21-year-old New Orleans challenger six years his junior—Robinson was a blur of power and precision. He had to be to beat the "dook," a dead-pa-pa, polished little Filipino who made the champion go the route. The decision was unanimous. Docusen weighed 145 1-2.

When, and if, Robinson vacates the welterweight Bracket, you can put Docusen down as one of the best bets to succeed him. "Shoog," weary of battling the scales to make the 174 limit, will move up to the 10 middleweight set, if he can meet champion Tony Zale.

Robinson emerged from the scrap a leg-weary, thoroughly tired champion. After having the ninth round taken away from him for hitting low, "Shoog" opened up in the 10th and Docusen for the first time gave ground in a furious exchange. In the 11th, Robinson drove his opponent into the ropes, hounded him back to midring then nailed him for nine count with a left hook to the chin. It was the first time the youngster had been floored in a span of 58 victories in 60 bouts.

Docusen, however, refused to be the champion's 59th knockout victim in a remarkable record of 88 wins. He struggled up at the count of nine and stumbled into another vicious volley. But Robinson was so worn down from the flurry he couldn't finish him. Docusen brought the slim crowd of 8,833 to its feet cheering by lashing back. He battled the titleholder to a standstill until the bell.

Honeymoon For Johnny Lujack

Los Angeles, June 29 — (AP)—Bridegroom Johnny Lujack and the former Pat Schierbrok of Davenport, Ia., are en route to Hawaii today for a three week honeymoon there. They sailed yesterday.

The former Dame All-America football quarterback and Miss Schierbrok were married at Davenport Saturday.

Rotary Club Has New President

By WYATT BROWN
Bob Bradshaw descended from the dais of leadership "back with the mob" last night as he gave his final report for his term as president of the Greenville Rotary Club. He handed the panoply of office—president's pin and gavel with gong—to incoming president for 1948-1949 E. L. Willard.
Before stepping down Bob departed from the usual in that he commended the retiring members of the board of directors: Judson Blount, J. B. Kittrel, Hugh Winslow, Guy Evans, and H. J. McGinnis. He said he had found them loyal and faithful to their obligations. Next Bob held a kind of induction ceremony for the hold-over directors and new directors: Floyd Hendrix, Fred Trons, Bob Thompson; new members Leon Roebuck, Russell Tyson, Ty Wagner, and Sam White. Included in the ceremony were vice-president E. S. Webb and secretary-treasurer Wendell Smiley.

Due to the fine work of the committee chairman and the Board of Directors Bob said he could report a good year. He called special attention to the good work of the Classification Committee and the program committee. For this Bob said he was grateful.
In a brief personal word the retiring president said he had found so much in his associates that he wanted to enjoy them by living with them "as long as the law would allow"—he is a Methodist preacher. Ernest Willard, the incoming president responded to his presentation to the Club with words of appreciation for the high honor his office bestowed and promised his best to his obligations.
Guests of the club were Sidney Johnson and Bob Van Iderstine. At the first of the meeting Secretary-Treasurer Wendell Smiley presented his annual treasurer's report.

Jet Fighters To Cross Atlantic

Washington, June 29—(AP)—The United States Air force, which some day may need quick reinforcement in Europe, will send 16 jet fighters off on an exploratory transatlantic flight next week.
The mission of the trip, said a USAF announcement today, is "to determine the feasibility of ferrying jet-propelled combat aircraft over the route, study the logistical and operational problems involved" and get in some limited training overseas.
The first overseas flight of USAF jets will be along the stepping-stone North Atlantic route to England and Germany. The planes, from the 56th fighter group at Selfridge Base, Michigan, will leave about July 2 fly to Dow Base, at Bangor, Me., thence by a series of jumps to Labrador, Greenland, Iceland, Scotland and England.
In Britain, the fighters will pay a visit to the RAF base at Odiham from which a flight of British jets is scheduled to depart July 1 for a visit to the United States.
The American planes will then fly to Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, the base used by visiting B-29s of the USAF's strategic air command.

Mr. Jesse C. Briley Died In Fayetteville

Mr. Jesse Cornelius Briley, 61 died in Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville Monday morning at 12:15 o'clock following a year of illness. Funeral services will be conducted at the home, near Bethel, Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock by the Rev. L. D. Holt, Baptist Minister of Bethel, and burial will follow in the family cemetery near the home.
Mr. Briley was born, reared and spent all of his life near Bethel. He was a World War I veteran and a farmer.
Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Mageline Gray of Asheville, a grandson his mother, Mrs. Bettie W. Briley of the home, three sisters Misses Mittie Briley and Ackie Briley of the home, and Mrs. Lee Whitehurst of Stokes, and a brother.

Police Charge Man With Hit-And-Run

Police yesterday arrested Ernest Watson colored 202 East Second Street, with hit-and-run driving, driving on the left center of the thoroughfare and not having sufficient brakes in his car. The warrant states that Watson collided with a vehicle driven by George Wilcox on Dickinson Avenue. He will be tried in Police court Friday.

Tito had bigger ideas. He has given many signs of looking upon himself as czar of Russia's Balkan satellites. Well, now, you can't get away with that stuff in the Muscovite empire. Be it known that Tito isn't the only ambitious Communist leader, and anyone who sticks his head up too high is likely to get it lopped off.
We shall hear more of this rivalry among the Red chieftains, when Stalin finally relinquishes his rule, and maybe a dozen able but hard-boiled leaders compete for the Soviet dictatorship. But so long as Stalin is in the chair, there is only one boss.
The Tito situation apparently came to a head a couple of weeks ago when the Communists held a secret meeting in Romania. The Yugoslav delegates, for reasons unexplained, refused to sit—or were not permitted to sit—with those of eight other nations, including Russia. So Moscow has struck.

Brother Lonnie Vine departed this life, June 27, after a severe illness. The funeral services will be held Sunday, July 4, at York Memorial Methodist Church on Albemarle avenue of this city. Brother Vine was an important figure of the Elk's Lodge No. 234, and was loved by all who knew him.
He worked for the City of Greenville for a number of years and wore a friendly smile.
He has only gone to another land. Brother Vine will be glad to meet us when the heavenly roll is called. Join us and let us prepare to meet our Lord, our Maker and our God.
Respectfully submitted, The Family.

Armed Services Will Continue Seek Volunteers

Washington, June 29—(AP)—The armed services will keep urging men to volunteer after the draft is in operation.
Indeed, the Army expects to get as many as 300,000 volunteers in addition to the 225,000 to 250,000 draftees it estimates will be inducted during the fiscal year beginning next Thursday.
The Air Force and the Navy are expected to rely entirely on volunteer enlistments to replace men whose enlistments expire and to build up toward newly authorized total strength.
The National Guard's 341,000-man goal has been more than filled by the rush of draft age volunteers in the few days between congressional passage of the draft bill and the President's signature which made it law.

Four-Star Ranks Given Extension

Washington, June 29—(AP)—President Truman has signed a bill allowing the army and navy to keep surplus four-star commanders on active duty until 1950.
The new law temporarily suspends another limiting the services to five four-stars each.
The effect is to permit Generals Courtney Hodges, Thomas Handy, and Mark Clark, and Admirals Raymond Spruance, Thomas Kinkaid and Henry Hewitt to keep four-star rank until retirement.

Super Chief In Pile-Up Today

Winslow, Ariz., June 29—(AP)—The Santa Fe Super Chief piled up in the railroad yards here today but there were no serious injuries to passengers or crew.
The four-unit Diesel locomotive, a baggage car and a lounge car overturned. Two sleeping cars were derailed but remained upright.
Fifteen passengers, the engineer and the firemen were shaken up and received first aid treatment.

Presidential . . .

ans with Mr. Truman still President, have been in control since 1946.
If Senator Taft of Ohio, for instance, were the Republican presidential candidate, the picture might be a little different.
Then Mr. Truman could fire shots directly at the Ohioan since Taft is Republican leader in the Senate.
The same would be true if the Republican candidate were Speaker of the House Martin of Massachusetts, since he's Republican boss in the House.
Because of the national interest involved, most people probably have some familiarity with, and opinions on, what Mr. Truman and the Republican Congress have done or not done.
But who in Texas, for example, is apt to know much about what Dewey has done in New York or Warren in California?
So the Republicans probably have more ammunition—familiar to the public—to shoot at Mr. Truman than he will to fire back at them.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 29—(AP)—Prices moved in narrow range during today's session at the board of trade. Following an early dip wheat recovered and at times moved fractionally above the previous close.
Corn and oats could not develop much recovery drive, due largely to excellent weather for the development of the feed grain crop.
At the close wheat was 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher July $2.31 1/4-1/4. Corn was 1/4 higher to 1 1/4 lower, July $2.20 1/4-1/4. Oats were 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower, July 92-91 1/4. Soybeans were 1/4 lower to 6 cents higher, July $4.15.
