

U. S. Demands Russia Lift Siege Of Berlin In Protest

Secretary Marshall Presents Protest To Soviet Ambassador Personally; Britain And France Similarly Protest Directly To USSR Government

Washington, July 6—(AP)—The United States demanded directly of the Soviet government today that the Russian blockade of Berlin be lifted.

Secretary of State Marshall presented the American note of protest personally to Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panushkin.

Immediately afterward, State Department Press Officer Lincoln White issued this statement:

"Ambassador Panushkin called on the secretary at 11:30 o'clock (EDT) this morning and was given a note regarding the situation in Berlin.

"The ambassador was informed that it is not the intention of this government to make the contents of the note public until the Soviet government had a reasonable period of time to study the note and make reply."

The United States acted in concert with Britain and France in protesting strongly the Soviet blockade of the German capital.

White officially gave no intimation of the line which Marshall took.

Other diplomatic informants said there appeared no doubt that he demanded the immediate lifting of the Berlin blockade, and protested Russia's recent policies in the German zone.

White did not define what was meant by a "reasonable period of time" in which the Soviet government could study the American note but presumably it meant several days at least.

The contents of the note from the three western powers are not expected to be disclosed for several days. Notes similar to that of the U. S. were understood to have been handed the Soviet ambassadors in London and Paris.

Panushkin said Marshall had not expressed his disapproval of any lines on Berlin. He did not say what they talked about during the time he was in the secretary's office.

Panushkin told reporters as he left the department that he had received a note from Marshall but didn't know what was in it. He was in Marshall's office for 14 minutes.

American sources had said Marshall would protest Soviet policies in Berlin and present a demand for lifting the Russian blockade in the German capital.

Marshall was reported acting jointly with Britain and France in protesting the blockade and making a direct approach to Moscow to insist on its removal.

At the same time, ambassadors of five western European powers and Canada were called into conference with Undersecretary of State Lovett. These talks are the first of what may prove to be a historic series of meetings on American military support for the western European bloc.

French Claim Proof Of Strategy In Berlin

Foreign Office Says Has Received Documentary Evidence Of Russian Plot To Drive Western Allies From City

Paris, July 6—(AP)—The French Foreign Office announced today it has received from the British Embassy documentary evidence of a Russian plot to drive the western allies from Berlin.

The Foreign office said the British information was that Communists in Berlin were instructed by Moscow to touch off incidents which would cause intervention by Soviet forces.

French diplomatic informants said the Kremlin has ordered demonstrations leading to street fighting which would give Russian troops a chance to intervene and occupy all Berlin.

Referring to a statement carried by the conservative Paris newspaper Le Figaro, which claimed to have a copy of the Soviet order, one source said: "I cannot vouch for that particular communique, but everything in it is true."

The statement which appeared in Figaro was broken down into eight parts:

1. Disorganization of electricity and other essentials.

2. Demonstrations in all sectors calling for unified government and a unified monetary system.

3. Communists' demonstrations will be attacked by police and it must be assumed that there will be numerous dead and wounded.

4. When this situation has been created, Soviet troops will occupy the entire city of Berlin, plus the suburbs. Soviet forces will order the western allies into limited territory where their safety can be guaranteed.

5. A state of general public crisis will be declared at a mass meeting of workers and a provisional government set up by our Sondergruppen.

6. This will take place only in case of aggravated tension between the U. S. and the western powers.

7. All decisions shall be referred beforehand to the central committee of the party. Detailed orders will be released later.

8. The present document shall be destroyed as soon as special officers and delegates of the central committee have taken due note of the information they need.

Wind Damages Apex Buildings In Storm

Apex, July 6—(AP)—A severe wind which followed a rain storm here yesterday blew the roofs off two stores and uprooted several trees. No one was injured.

The roofs landed on power lines across the street from the stores and knocked out the town's power for several hours.

Persistent Los Angeles, July 6—(AP)—Three times the persistent burglar tried to loot her home, Joyce Lyne Murray, 26, told police, explaining:

First she surprised him in the bedroom. He ran out the front way.

Fifteen minutes later he was on the back porch. She slipped on the light. He fled.

Soon she looked up to find him in the living room, a gun in his hand. She screamed and threw the nearest jar.

Third time was the charm. It was vanishing cream.

Berlin Blockade Again Tightened

Controls Placed On Trucks Entering Western Sectors

Berlin, July 6—(AP)—The Russians' 18-day-old blockade of Berlin was tightened today when strict controls were placed on trucks entering the western sectors of the city, western licensed German newspapers said.

American officials said they still were checking but that the press accounts "apparently are true."

The newspapers said acting police chief Gaidel in the Soviet sector ordered his forces to inspect the loads of German trucks heading for western Berlin from the Russian section of the city. He directed the confiscation of foodstuffs, scrap building materials and telephone equipment.

Such an order would be another barrier through the heart of the city, dividing the eastern from the western parts as did the introduction of two rival currencies by the Russians and western powers.

The new Russian move was reported as bad flying weather at Frankfurt lamed the American air fleet which has been carrying essential supplies to Berlin.

At mid-morning Tempelhof airport said two U. S. cargo planes had arrived since midnight. Normally more than 50 planes have unloaded their supplies here by that time.

British officials reported weather conditions in their sector were good and the RAF flying normally to maintain its end of the allied air bridge from western Germany to Berlin.

Eisenhower Says World Kinship Basis Of Govmt

New York, July 6—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that Americans should "recognize kinship with all the world and conduct government in that concept."

He addressed students of the 49th Columbia University session after daily disavowing political ambitions last night with a statement that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

Speaking to an estimated 10,000 persons from the steps of low memorial library, the new president of Columbia said:

"The other governments of the Americas and western Europe where men remain free are related to us and we have a common interest with them."

Apparently Read Book On Hanging

Davenport, Ia., July 6—(AP)—Apparently reading a book titled "The man who wouldn't hang," John H. Bailey, 39, director of the Davenport Public museum, hanged himself, coroner Frank Kepply reported today.

The coroner said Bailey was wearing a rubber swimming cap and a gas mask when the body was found in the museum about midnight last night.

A handman's knot was used, the official added, and not far from the body was the book which also contained several news clippings about hanging.

No Opposition In NEA Nomination

Cleveland, July 6—(AP)—Miss Mabel Studebaker, for the past 23 years a teacher at Erie, Pa., today was nominated without opposition for election Friday as president of the National Education Association.

She teaches in Strong-Vincent High School in Erie.

A graduate of Smith College, with a master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh she is a former president of NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers. In 1945 she visited Great Britain as an NEA representative.

Military Aid

Washington, July 6—(AP)—Western European diplomats and state department officials talked over the question of American military aid for western Europe today at a conference behind tightly closed doors.

The conference was the first of what is expected to be a long series.

Officials indicated that the talks will continue here for three or four months and that no information about their progress will be made public until decisions are reached.

Those in the meeting were Under Secretary of State Lovett, Canadian Ambassador Hume Wrong and Canadian Undersecretary Lester B. Pearson, British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks, French Ambassador Henri Bonnet, Belgian Ambassador, the Belgian ambassador, and Ambassador Elco Van Kliefden of the Netherlands.

Formally Decline Bernadotte Plan

Israel Refuses Count's Peace Proposal; Truce In Doubt

Cairo, July 6—(AP)—Israel today formally rejected Count Folke Bernadotte's Palestine peace proposal, and neither Arabs nor Jews gave a definite reply on the United Nations mediator's bid for an extension of the Holy Land truce.

Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok handed Bernadotte a 1,000-word reply to the mediator's proposal to turn Jerusalem over to Arab rule, make Haifa a free port and regulate immigration.

The reply said Israel leaders were deeply wounded by the Jerusalem proposal. The Jews expressed emphatic opposition to any restriction on immigration, and urged Bernadotte to reconsider his whole approach to the problem. This letter was taken as an indication that the Jews are willing to extend the truce if new talks develop. The truce expires Friday.

A dispatch from Tel Aviv last night quoted an Israeli government spokesman as saying 77 cabinet members voted against the Bernadotte proposal and four abstained, after a three and a half hour cabinet session.

Bernadotte planned to leave Tel Aviv for Cairo tonight to resume conferences with the Arabs and to return to Tel Aviv Wednesday to hear a Jewish reply on the truce extension.

In Cairo an Egyptian cabinet source said there is little doubt the Arabs will resume fighting in Palestine when the four-week truce ends despite U. N. appeals for an extension.

Marchers Cheer Benes In Giant Prague Parade

Prague, Czechoslovakia, July 6—(AP)—Cheers for resigned President Eduard Benes rang through Prague today from the throats of 80,000 marchers in the Sokol Congress parade. Klement Gottwald, the Communist premier who succeeded Benes, got silent treatment.

There were cheers also for Yugoslavia and Premier Marshal Tito, denounced recently by the Communists as a heretic from the Marxist line.

"We have no true republic without T. G. Masaryk and Benes," the marchers chanted as they tramped through central Prague in the rain.

Masaryk was founder and first president of Czechoslovakia.

Scientists Claim Tempers Are Affected By Sun Spots

Philadelphia, July 6—(AP)—If tempers flare and emotions are unbalanced, it may be due to the ultraviolet rays from the sun spots now nearing their maximum number and intensity for the first time in 11 years, says Dr. Roy K. Marshall, director of Fels Planetarium.

These beams of invisible energy coming from the sun 93,000,000 miles away can easily affect tempers of people, he said today.

Then too emotions are controlled by various glands of the body which readily may be disturbed by the sun's ultraviolet rays, Dr. Marshall said.

For instance, blockouts in radio and telegraphic communications have been traced to sun spots.

Holiday Accident Death Toll Tops 500 Mark; Higher Than 1947's Toll

The nation's death toll in violent accidents over the three-day Independence Day holiday soared far past the 500 mark today and higher than the total in 1947.

Plank On States Rights Talked In Platform Group

Writers Try For Compromise Satisfactory To South Over Civil Rights

Washington, July 6—(AP)—Democratic platform drafters talked today of writing in a strong states rights plank to help cool off Southern bitterness over civil rights.

The issue of granting greater rights to Negroes and other minority groups has stirred up a major problem for the platform writers as they get ready for their first meeting in Philadelphia tomorrow.

This is the reported aim of the platform committee, headed by Pennsylvania's Senator Francis J. Myers.

To find some compromise satisfactory to the backers of President Truman's controversial civil rights program and to the Southerners who have threatened to split the party wide open over that program.

The group plans to hold public hearings tomorrow, Thursday, and probably Friday. The convention opens on Monday. The civil rights question is expected to get a full—and possibly heated—airing before both the committee and the full convention.

Leaders of Negro groups, representing substantial voting strength have asked to be heard by Myers' committee. They are expected to demand a plank calling for anti-lynch law, anti-lynch fair employment and other civil rights legislation.

Meanwhile, at Minneapolis, Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey, a member of the platform committee, announced that 50 party leaders, including Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., will try to squeeze Mr. Truman's entire program into the platform.

Any such move would be sure to set off furious Southern reaction.

Caught between the two disputing groups, the compromisers were reported to be considering this tack as a middle ground which might hold the support, however reluctant, of both factions:

1. Put into the 1948 platform the same general language on civil rights that was incorporated in the 1944 platform after a bitter struggle.

2. Follow this up with a strong plank stating the party's opposition to federal interference with states' rights.

Winning Nominee And Cherry Talk

Raleigh, N. C., July 6—(AP)—W. Kerr Scott, Democratic nominee for Governor, dropped by Governor Cherry's office today to "just pay my respects."

Scott acted as any other visitor waiting to see the busy governor. He signed the guest register book as "W. Kerr Scott, Haw River," chatted with others also waiting to see the Governor, who was in conference and cracked that he won a heavy vote from the Haw River section "because I didn't claim I was from Burlington."

Auto Inspection Rules Effective

Five Deadlines Set For Car Models, Remainder Of '48

Raleigh, N. C., July 6—(AP)—The State Department of Motor Vehicles announced today a new set of rules and regulations, effective immediately, designed to speed up the mechanical inspection program of vehicles.

The regulations set five deadlines for the remainder of 1948 during which various models of vehicles must be presented for inspection.

The new rules were made necessary, according to Arthur T. Moore, director of the department's mechanical inspection division, because at the end of June only 250,185 of the state's 862,252 registered vehicles had been inspected.

The new requirement require that:

1. All motor vehicles of year models up to and including 1936 and vehicles of year models 1947 and 1948 must be inspected by Aug. 31.

2. Year models 1937 and 1946 must be inspected by Sept. 30.

3. Models 1938, 1939, 1943, 1944, and 1945 must be inspected by Oct. 31.

4. Models 1940 and 1942 must be inspected by Nov. 30.

5. Models 1941 and 1948 must be checked by Dec. 31.

The commissioner of motor vehicles is given power under the Mechanical Inspection Law Act passed in the last legislature to make such rules and regulations as he deems necessary to administer the law.

Anthracite Coal Miners Due Back After Vacation

New York, July 6—(AP)—Hard coal miners are due back at work today after a 10-day vacation during which a new agreement was reached between anthracite operators and the United Mine Workers.

The agreement reached here over the weekend gives 80,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners wage increases of a dollar a day and increases the employer contribution to the health and welfare fund from 10 cents per ton to 20 cents.

Union Vice President Thomas Kennedy said the union now could plan to provide a pension system for its men similar to the $100 a month pension planned for soft coal miners after the age of 62.

Kennedy said he regarded the new agreement, an extension of the present contract, as "the best agreement negotiated in the United States this year."

Sailing Orders For Warships In Mediterranean

Rome, July 6—(AP)—U. S. Warships in the Mediterranean were on the move today.

Four ships, headed by the aircraft carrier Kearsarge, sailed from Naples in a southerly direction. The naval attaché at the U. S. Embassy here said the ships were under secret orders. Also sailing were the destroyers Meredith, O'Hare, and James C. Owens.

Earlier an Istanbul dispatch said three U. S. cruisers and an escort carrier had sailed from there a day ahead of schedule. They were the Chuslers Fargo, Huntington and Juneau and the Carrier Palau.

Istanbul sources close to the staff of Vice-Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, commander of the U. S. sixth task force, said urgent messages regarding the Palestine situation were received yesterday.

Many Leaders Of 'Draft' Move Plan Continue Efforts Despite Flat Disavowal Of Political Ambitions

New York, July 6—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower last night made a flat disavowal of political ambitions with a statement that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

Eisenhower broke a political silence of almost six months to take public cognizance of the booming draft-Eisenhower movement within the Democratic party.

Jersey City, N. J., July 6—(AP)—Frank Hague, state Democratic leader, today called on President Truman to request Gen. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

But many leaders of the draft movement said they would not take the general's "No" for an answer and would continue efforts to win the top spot on the Democratic ticket for him.

Eisenhower's statement, released by Robert Harrow, Columbia University director of public information, said:

"I will not, at this time, identify myself with any political party, and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President and California Democratic chairman, insisted on going ahead with plans to nominate the wartime supreme commander.

Roosevelt said that "General Eisenhower's statement confirms his desire not to seek partisan political office. The people of this country, at this time I believe, desire a national unity candidate, x x x."

General Eisenhower's statement clearly indicates that he will not serve as a partisan president but will answer a call to national duty, I am tonight, therefore, reissuing the call for the caucus to be held in Philadelphia this coming Saturday night."

Roosevelt and 17 other leading Democrats had issued a call for the pre-convention caucus to discuss Eisenhower's possible nomination.

Frank Hague, Democratic national vice chairman, who threw New Jersey's 36 convention votes to Eisenhower Sunday, was not available but one of his lieutenants said the matter might not "necessarily be finally closed."

Head Of Legion Pledges Support For School Aid

Cleveland, July 6—(AP)—The American Legion commander and the head of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers today pledged to help the National Education Association get a federal-aid-to-schools bill through congress.

The Legion, said National Commander James F. O'Neil "stands four-square behind proposed legislation to extend federal financial support for schools."

"More specifically," he added, "I favor that congress be recalled into session this summer to take up and pass legislation for federal aid to schools and to resolve other major issues x x x neglected x x x during the regular session."

A senate-approved measure to provide federal aid for equalizing educational opportunities failed to reach the house floor for consideration in the 1948 session.

Communists Doing Themselves No Good In Terms Of World Opinion By Tactics In Berlin, Slapping Down Marshal Tito And Setting Up Cominform In Far East

Little Finland's daring swing towards the political right in her national election has given the Bolsheviks another set-back in their cold war against European Democracy—but the Reds are making progress in the Far East where developments give fair warning that we are in truth dealing with world revolution.

For some months observers have noted a decided increase in Muscovite activities in the Orient, quite apart from the major operations in China and Korea. More and more the Russians have been flinging their agents into Burma, Indonesia and Siam to take advantage of the unsettled conditions in those areas.

Now we get a further important and highly significant move. More than forty Russians are in Bangkok, Siamese capital, establishing their first legation. There would be no call for such a big staff for the conduct of normal affairs, and this fact fits in well with a remark the other day by a friend just back from the Far East:

"I think you may expect the Russians to establish a branch of the Cominform in Bangkok in the immediate future. From that strategic point they will direct their drive in that whole vast area of south-eastern Asia."

"Appropos of the general situation" (AP) Correspondent Spencer Davis reports that Edwin F. Stanton, American Ambassador to Siam, told him:

"The game Moscow is playing is not just a European game or a China game—if all Southeast Asia becomes a solid, hostile Communist bloc, it will be a cause of great concern to all the world."

Well, it looks as though the Reds had established that Asiatic Cominform as predicted. And we are reminded by the "American-owned Bangkok Post" that "the vacuum caused by British withdrawal from many areas in Asia is slowly being filled by Russian ideology. The process may be slow, but it seems to be a certain one x x x."

Meaning that Finnish election, which appears to have reduced the Communist front from first place to third in Parliament, must be a nasty dose of medicine for Moscow to swallow. And maybe the Russians won't swallow it, though they perhaps would be showing more daring than professed to try any strong-point they will direct their drive in

Lessons For Politicians; Whole Country Will Be Listening To Demo Convention On Radio And Television; Prolonged Oratory, Boring Delays May Cost Votes

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 6—(AP)—Television should teach the politicians a lesson but it will take them time to learn it.

That's why the Democratic convention in Philadelphia next week will be pretty much like the Republican convention there two weeks ago.

There'll be the same long speeches, the same hokey demonstrations intended to show the great joy of the delegates, or something.

And the endless hours will drag on Monday—July 12—and probably end up on Friday. It, too, could be wrapped up in a couple of days. For example:

Instead of starting at 9 a. m., the Republican convention got under way around noon.

After a couple of hours of speeches and business the first three days recessed until 9 p. m. for more speeches, instead of going right on. In the past delegates have gone to conventions, reconciled to sweating it out by a lampacked hall for five days.

This was all right for them, since they were the ones enduring it and they knew they were trapped when they started.

"God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, July 4.

Golden Text: Exodus 20:23, "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other Gods before me."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God." (Isaiah 44:6). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God." (Page 228).

Cake Cutting For Bridal Party
Farmville—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mayo of Maury and Mr. and Mrs. W. Jesse Moye were hosts at the Farmville country club Tuesday evening at a cake cutting immediately after the Stokes-Moye rehearsal.

Guests were met on the porch by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moye and the hosts greeted them at the door.

The two refreshment tables were covered with white cutwork cloths and centered with all-white arrangements of daisies, feverfew, gladioli and Queen Anne's lace flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra. The punch bowl, over which Mrs. J. O. Pollard presided, was placed on one and the bride's cake on the other. Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson and Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., assisted in serving punch.

The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Members of the wedding party pulled satin streamers attached to favors concealed under the cake. After the bride-elect cut the first slice, the cake was served by Mrs. Lawrence Moye and Mrs. Richard C. Stokes, Jr., mothers of the bride and groom-elect.

Assisting in serving were Miss Jean Moye, sister of the bride-elect, Miss Ann Hardy and Mrs. Leonard Hardy of Maury, Miss Ann Moye of Tarboro and Mrs. L. E. Flowers. Green and white mints, cheese straws and nuts were passed. Floor baskets and vases of pastel shades of mixed flowers were used. The mantels were banked with magnolias and illumination was furnished by white tapers. On one end of the mantel nearest the refreshment tables a miniature wedding scene was placed.

Mrs. G. Alex Rouse rendered piano selections during the evening.

Local Girl Wins Award
Mrs. H. K. Herrin, the former Thelma Tucker Cherry of Greenville, was awarded the Lanier cup for the best original play entered in the annual contest sponsored by the literature department of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs, the presentation taking place Thursday afternoon in Hendersonville, where the federation is holding its annual convention.

Paul Green judged the plays entered in the contest, and accorded Mrs. Herrin's cup-winning entry, entitled "The Doctor In", the highest praise, according to Mrs. J. F. Colwell, state chairman of literature. Mr. Green's comment on the play was that he considered it an outstanding piece of amateur work, and that it has great possibilities for selling and production.

Mrs. Herrin is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, and her post-graduate work was pursued at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. While a sophomore in college, she won first place in a nation-wide essay contest sponsored by the American Chemical Company and open to students of all colleges and universities in the United States, receiving a cash award of $500.

Before her marriage, she taught for five years in the schools of Columbus County and Fayetteville her subjects being English and dramatics.

Open House Honors Bridal Couples
Farmville—Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pollard entertained at open house Monday evening from 10 to 12 o'clock at the D. A. F. chapter house honoring Miss Ruby Moye of Maury and Charles Stokes of Greenville and Miss Rosemary Holmes and Bernice Turnage, bridal couples-elect.

Guests were met at the door by the hosts and the honorees. The mantels held magnolia blossoms and pink tapers in crystal candelabra. Floor baskets of mixed flowers were carried to the pink and white color scheme. Punch, decorated cakes, sandwiches.

Garden Party

Tarboro—In a natural setting of summer flowers and foliage, Misses Olivia Sollee and Betty Gaines, brides-elect, were honored at a garden party Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bruce Fountain. With Mesdames Bruce Fountain, Sam Williams, Rush Stancil and George Howard Fountain hosting, forty guests were served refreshing iced punch and attractively designed sandwiches and cakes, augmented with nuts and mints. Mrs. R. M. Gaines and Mrs. Miriam Sollee, mothers of the brides-elect, presided at the punch bowls.

Mrs. Hart Hostess to Club Grifton—Mrs. Milton Hart was a gracious hostess to members of her contract club and invited players for four tables of bridge on Thursday evening at her home here. Lovely arrangements of summer flowers made a pretty setting for the games which were played progressively. Club trophies went to Mrs. Wiley Gaskins, Mrs. Nannie McGlohon and Mrs. Josh Worthington. The guest award went to Miss Walenah Quinley. Other players were Mrs. Gendel Tucker, Mrs. Carey Garris, Mrs. Sam Nelson, Mrs. Elmo Smith, Mrs. Roy Jackson, Mrs. Walter Patrick, Mrs. Roger Johnson, Mrs. Edward Hart, Mrs. Ben G. Tucker, Mrs. Claud Hart, Miss Hazel Jarrell, Miss Ida Margaret Hart.

Mrs. Hart served a delicious salad plate with sandwiches and tea at the conclusion of the games.

Hostess to Contract Club Grifton—The Thursday Contract Club met in a delightful supper session with Mrs. L. D. McCotter as hostess at her home on the Ayden highway on Thursday night. Mixed bouquets of summer flowers were used to decorate the home throughout. After supper, bridge was played at three tables. During progressions the high score for club members was made by Mrs. H. P. Quinley, the second high by Mrs. J. L. Quinley and the visitors prize went to Mrs. H. C. Oglesby. Other players were Mrs. Alton Chapman, Mrs. Eleanor Gower, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. W. I. Bissette, Mrs. Vance Wall, Mrs. Robert Mewborn, Miss Louise Mewborn, Miss Hazel Patrick and Miss Bert Johnson.

Buffet Supper Honors Miss Moyer and Mr. Stokes

Farmville—In compliment to their niece, Miss Ruby Moyer of Maury, and her fiance, Charles L. Stokes of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Moyer of Tarboro and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moyer were hosts at a buffet supper Monday evening at the D. A. R. chapter house.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Jesse Moyer and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moyer, the latter of Maury, met the guests on the terrace. The hosts greeted them at the front door.

Mrs. Lawrence Moyer, mother of the bride-elect, was seated at one end of the table and served chicken salad. The groom's mother, Mrs. Richard C. Stokes, Jr., served stuffed tomatoes and pineapple from the other end. Relishes, potato chips, cauliflower, sliced cucumbers, carrot curls, hot rolls, iced tea and individual cakes decorated with pink and green completed the menu.

The main table was covered with a pale green organdy cloth and centered with pink and white verbenas, snapdragons and feverfew flanked by pink tapers in silver candelabras.

Assisting in serving were three of Mrs. Howard Moyer's sisters, Mrs. Mamie Harris, Mrs. F. A. Jordan and Mrs. Dal Cox, all of Greenville.

Mixed flowers were used throughout the house.

Return From Extended Trip

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Brooks have returned from a three weeks' vacation. They attended the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance convention in Atlantic City for three days, June 14-16. Then they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Brooks of Washington, D. C., for a week in New York, West Point, Hyde Park, Niagara and Canada as far north as Montreal and Quebec and back to the United States through New Hampshire and southern Maine into Boston. Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Brooks returned to Washington by train from there.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Brooks visited Mrs. Brooks' nephew and wife, Dr. and Mrs. C. Glenn Sawyer, of Boston, and continued their trip to Plymouth, Provincetown, Cape Cod, back southward by way of Rhode Island, Connecticut and into Pennsylvania for a visit to Valley Forge, Gettysburg and later across Harper's Ferry and down the Skyland Drive in Virginia with a side trip to Monticello. Then by way of Greenville, S. C., for a short visit with their son, the Rev. N. C. Brooks, and their daughters, Mrs. T. A. Merrill of Charlotte, and Mrs. E. L. Greene of Raleigh.

Stokes-Moyer

In an impressive June ceremony of picturesque loveliness, Miss Ruby Evans Moyer and Charles Laughinghouse Stokes were united in marriage at the Christian Church in Farmville, N.C. on Wednesday at five thirty o'clock with the Rev. E. B. T. Cox performing the double ring ceremony.

For the service, the church was decorated elaborately with its background of palmato palms, huckleberry, salal leaves, scholastic green, tall philodendrons and centered with a sunburst of New Orleans glads.

The altar was encircled with garlands of improved smilax where single candle holders covered with florets of glads and gypsophelia and holding tall cathedral candles were placed. Other arrangements of white flowers, greenery and candles were used throughout the church. The pews reserved for the two families and closest friends were marked with pew candle holders and tied with white satin ribbon, softened with improved smilax and gypsophelia.

As the guests assembled selections from Berceuse from "Jocelyn" (Gardard) Ave Maria, (Bauch-Gounad), To A Wild Rose (McDowell), To An Evening Star (Wagner), Prelude (Chopin), My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice (Saint Saens) were rendered by Miss Peggy Davis of Raleigh as organist, Miss Mary Wells Dunting of Bethel, as soloist, sang "I Love Thee" by Greig and Schubert's Ave Maria. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Acting as ushers were R. C. Stokes, III and John Lee Stokes, brothers of the groom, Charles Rice, Byers Adams, Dal Laughinghouse, all of Greenville, and Milton Williamson of Farmville, cousin of the bride.

The bride chose as her honor attendant here sister, Jeanne Moyer. Her bridesmaids were Misses Barbara Folger of Mount Airy, Marion Gailther of Newton, Margaret Carter of Rocky Mount, Agnes Quinley of Farmville, Helen Stokes, sister of the groom, and Mrs. James Croome of Greenville. All attendants wore ice blue tulle dresses styled with drop shoulder necklines, fitted bodice and full hooped skirts and light blue horse hair braid hats. They carried arm bouquets of Better Times Roses and Adiantum tied with satin Better Times Ribbon.

The bride entered with her father, Lawrence Anderson Moyer, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man W. R. Minschew, Jr., of Greenville, N.C. Her wedding gown was a white satin Nettie Rosenstein original with applied swiss organdy bertha on white satin, silk net yoke, bustle back gathered from full length train and Mary Queen of Scots' sleeves. Her head dress was a bonnet of applied swiss organdy with full length veil of illusion caught with orange blossoms at the back of the neck. She carried a bouquet of Polcans Orchids and Valley lilies. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Moyer, mother of the bride, chose for the wedding a periwinkle blue lace with scalloped neckline and sleeves and with scalloped applique on skirt and wore a coronet of matching blue illusion and a Pink Polcans Orchid.

Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., mother of the groom, was becomingly gowned in aqua silk crepe with crystal beaded front and matching gauntlets, pink maline hat and a cattleya Orchid.

For traveling Mrs. Stokes wore a "Pat Premo Original" heather linen suit with pale pink panel insertion in jacket with heather and pink accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Mr. Stokes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Anderson Moyer of Maury. She received her education in the high schools of Maury and Greenville and was graduated from Salem College, Winston-Salem, N.C. in June.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr. of Greenville. He received his education in Greenville High School, Fishburne Military Institution and East Carolina Teachers College.

After a wedding trip through the mountains of Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. Stokes will be at home in Goldsboro where Mr. Stokes holds a position with the J. P. Taylor Tobacco Co.

Immediately following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Anderson Moyer entertained at a brilliant reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse Stokes in their home in Maury, N.C. The entire lower floor of the home was beautifully decorated in roses, gladioli, baby's breath and myriads of burning tapers. At the front door greeting guests as they arrived were Mr. and Mrs. John Pollard of Farmville, N.C., at the drawing room door they were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. David Evans of Greenville, N. C., and introduced to the receiving line. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, their parents and members of the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds May of Greenville directed the guests to the dining room where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Moyer of Tarboro. An exquisite arrangement of gladioli, baby's breath and white carnations graced the dining table.

Seated at either end of the table were Mrs. Esther Tucker of Maury, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. R. C. Stokes of Lynchburg, Va., grandmother of the groom. They were assisted in serving by Miss Martha Harrison of Charlotte, Misses Peggy Mitchell and Lib Kittrell of Greenville and Mrs. Wait Dixon of Raleigh. Mr. and Mrs. Pisto Evans of Greenville directed the guests to the hall where Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moyer of Maury presided over the register. Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Evans of Greenville received in the gift room and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moyer of Farmville directed to the library where Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moyer of Farmville received. Mrs. R. C. Stokes III of Greenville and Mrs. Henrietta Williamson of Farmville served punch from a silver punch bowl on a table covered with a green linen hand embroidered cut work cloth. Further appointments in this room were in pink and green. Assisting in serving punch and potato puffs were Misses Anne Moyer of Tarboro, Connie Edwards of Snow Hill and Anne Hardy of Maury. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Friselle of Maury.

The ukelele is not a native Hawaiian instrument as is generally believed but was introduced to the Hawaiians by Portuguese sailors in the 18th Century.

Strength FOR THE DAY

HAPPINESS
Aldous Huxley in one of his best-known works, "The Doors of Perception," depicts a mythical world of fabulous luxury and universal happiness. Each person is created especially to fill a particular position necessary to a stable economy. Everyone is conditioned to enjoy his own task and position in society. There is no loneliness, frustration, or sadness. Everybody is happy.

Mr. Huxley's world differs greatly from our real world. But let us think for a moment about one aspect of this picture of happiness. Do we get happiness out of the mere act of going to the movies or playing golf? When we take to a concert or read a novel, why are we happy? These things, in themselves, do not primarily constitute our happiness.

What, then, really is happiness? Often it has been defined as the absence of pain, mental or physical. It is the result of a complete sense of well-being. We work ceaselessly, we worry, we drive ourselves and are driven. Then we give ourselves a concert, or a good book, or taking part in some sport. We are happy because the cares and worries of the day are temporarily forgotten. But if there were no pain and sadness and striving, life would lose its meaning; all pleasures would become stale and monotonous routine. Happiness is contrast—that is why it is happiness.

Around Capitol Square

BY LYNN NISBET
NO SPECIAL—It is as certain as anything political or governmental can be that there will be no special session of the legislature in 1948. There is still some sentiment for a special session, but pressure upon the governor to call it has decreased substantially since spring. Governor Cherry has made no secret of his reluctance to convene the assembly, but he intimates that if sufficient cause could be shown he would consider the call. During the spring months heavy pressure was brought to bear upon him, but he was not convinced a special session was justified. He indicated to his press conference the other day that he could see no justification now for a special session.

FACTORS—Several factors are known to have influenced the governor's thinking. Chief among them is the fact that the legislature would have to revise upward nearly all appropriations for salaries, institutions, hospitalization and public welfare. Most of these items can be taken care of by retroactive legislation at the regular session. A few hardship cases cannot benefit then, but a big majority of all needs can be, if the regular session desires, afforded retroactive relief. The governor would never say it in so many words, but many of his conferees got the impression he would not have objected to a special session if matters could have been limited to appropriations. Under the constitution they cannot be restricted. The assembly is an absolute law unto itself. There were such matters as truck and bus regulations, mechanical inspection of motor vehicles and re-examination for drivers license, laws affecting adoption of children and a conglomerate mass of local legislation which legislators were believed to want changed, as well as contemplated revisions in the tax structure. The fiscal year's experience record had not been written to the point it could have been regarded as a standard of measurement for these contemplated changes.

LAME DUCK—Principal reason for no special session now is that it would be composed largely of lame duck members. There were fairly obvious objections to a special session while the primary campaign was in progress. Objections are more obvious now. Not only has a new governor been nominated and assured of election, thus destroying whatever prestige the chief executive's recommendations might have, but a great many members of the 1947 general assembly either did not stand for re-election or were defeated in the primaries. Furthermore there is a new Democratic platform. The newly nominated governor and members of the legislature will be bound, in the regular session and through the next administration, by that platform and by issues affecting the 1948 campaign. Members who would sit in a special session this summer would be committed to platform and primary issues upon which they were nominated more than two years ago. So—there isn't gonna be no special session of the legislature this year.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington—The Washington Criminal Justice Association says 8,002 serious crimes were reported to the police of the nation's capital during 1947, an increase of 23 percent over the previous year.

The association, formed in 1936 by leading citizens "to promote and obtain an efficient administration of criminal justice," explains how-to improvement in reporting methods and is not indicative of any great annual increase in crime.

Housebreaking, grand larceny, robbery and aggravated assault contributed the greatest volume of serious offenses, the association says in its 12th annual report. Of the crimes reported, the police cleared 4,107 or 51.3 percent.

Over 10 years the Washington Criminal Justice Association has followed approximately 550,000 cases from original report to court disposition. Formation of the association was the result of congressional investigation of the local crime situation.

"Washington had an intolerable crime situation in those days," says Edward J. Flynn, managing director of the association, in a report. He says that an analysis of the capital's crime record for 1934 showed that "those who commit felonies have approximately a 22 to 1 chance that no one will be arrested. The chances are 6 to 1 that no one will be indicted, 10 to 1 that no one will be convicted, and 15 to 1 that no sentence will be served. In the event that a felon is sent to prison the chances are 2 1/2 to 1 that he will be released on parole."

The committee said that "no improvement can be effected until the people of Washington become convinced of the unpleasant truth and until the city, facing the facts of the situation, determines to wage unceasing warfare against the forces of vice and crime."

"The citizen of any community gets just as much protection as he demands," says Mr. Flynn, adding that one of the greatest threats to democracy is disregard for the law on the part of the citizens. "A continuing and realistic vigilance is part of the price we must pay for the privilege of democracy." The crime rate in any community, he says, is indicative of at least partial failure on the part of the home, the school, the church, the welfare agencies, and the community as a whole for its failure to provide those things essential to the welfare of youth.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
Staten Island, N. Y.—(AP)—Eighty-two-year-old Capt. Charles Chase sits and watches with watery blue eyes the sea that first called him at the age of 12.

But the sea calls him no more. He gave it his life and his daughter and he's through with it now forever.

Capt. Chase, a man who knew the science of putting canvas against the wind, was crowded out by men who had learned the science of engines and turning propellers.

"I never had any use for steam—and I still don't," he said stubbornly.

Few veterans of the era of sail are still alive. There are only two—Capt. Chase and George O'Neill, 91—among the 400 retired mariners living at the "Sailors' Snug Harbor" here, a home for old sailors.

"The others aren't sailors—they're just poor old crippled hypocrites," said Capt. Chase. He thinks neither the seamen nor the ships of today measure up to those in the days of the clippers.

He ran away himself from his Maine home at 12 to work under sail. He was in the Pacific Island trade.

"I loved sail and I guess I stayed with it too long," he said. "When I turned from sail to steam it was too late. I never did get to understand steam."

Capt. Chase spends his time now carving models of the graceful ships with crowding sails in which he spent his life.

"I remember there used to be three to five ships leave San Francisco every day," he said. "They were small ships—only about 100 feet long. He used to have two to three hundred pigs and maybe half a dozen mules on deck. About the third day the deck would be covered with flies, and the passengers'd begin to complain.

"The only way we could get rid of the flies was to stand to against the wind. That'd blow most of 'em off."

"Of course it was rough," mused the old Captain. "Rough beyond anybody's knowing today. You wouldn't believe the truth of it. But being young and liking it—as a lot of us did—I can't sit here and tell you it was too bad.

"I'd like to see sail come back. But I know it never will."

Capt. Chase made money seafaring and lost it later through bad investments. He said he had only one regret in his life.

"We were coming home from China once," he said. "I had my wife and baby daughter, Maudie. Aboard. The baby was only 2 1/4 years old. In those times whose families was born and raised aboard ship.

"We'd run through a storm. O' those cold Nor'west winds a-blowin' down! When it calmed, my little girl came toddling out on deck. I picked her up and hugged her to me, forgettin' my wet olskins.

"A couple hours later my wife came up and said the baby had caught cold. I went below. My baby was terribly sick. She died that night of pneumonia.

"The next day he gave his daughter to the sea.

"All the years since then I been wondering whether she was still she caught cold," said the Captain. He looked around his small room.

"I been here eight years," he said. "It's a nice place. We're all better off

CHANGE OF LIFE?

Are you going through the functional "middle age" period peculiar to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, high-strung, tired? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect!

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everything food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restlessness, etc.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritious anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health!

here. Young people don't like to have old people around."

"But old people don't like to have young people around either, do they?" he was asked.

"Only the small children," said Cap'n Chase. "Oh, I tell you, I do miss the children!"

Foundation Gets Charter; Elects Board Officers

The East Carolina Teachers College Educational Foundation, Inc., established for the general purpose of the mutual improvement in teaching and fostering professional and promotion of general educational interest, has received its charter and has elected officers and a partial slate of directors, it was announced from the office of the corporation in Greenville.

James W. Butler of Goldsboro has been elected the first president of the foundation. He is an alumnus of East Carolina Teachers College, now serving the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association as executive secretary, and civic leader in his community, having also been a district governor of Rotary International.

Frank M. Woolen, Jr., of Greenville, a local attorney and alumnus of East Carolina Teachers College is secretary-treasurer and one of the four incorporators of the foundation.

The three other incorporators of the foundation are James A. Johnson, Jr., Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, and Louis W. Gaylord, Jr., all of Greenville.

Other officers of the foundation are: Vice-Presidents Jack W. Young of Ahsokie; Dan Waddell, Hendersonville; Donald Brock, Elkin; Theo Eason, Wilmington. Five directors have been elected, including Bob Young, Bethel; W. O. Jolly, Ayden; Henry C. Oglesby, Grifton and Washington, D. C.; J. H. Waldrop, Greenville; James T. Keel, Greenville. Other directors are to be elected at a later meeting.

The charter provides that the foundation may grant financial aid to persons engaged in educational work or in obtaining an education. The 21 directors will serve for terms of three years each, with one-third of the board's membership being elected annually. Provision is made for a director to succeed himself.

Robert David Smith Died This Morning

Mr. Robert David Smith, 39, died at Dr. Joseph Smith's Clinic Tuesday morning at 8:05 o'clock following an illness of ten months. Funeral services will be conducted at his home near Hudson's Cross Roads Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 by Rev. Warren Boyd, Free Will Baptist minister of Greenville. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Smith was born in Pitt County and spent all his life here. He was the son of the late Henry and Minnie Buck Smith.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mamie Ruth Smith; three sons, Floyd Lee, Norman Earl and David Smith, Jr., all of the home; two daughters, Louise and Betty Rose Smith, both of the home; a brother, Jimmy Smith of Galloway's Cross Roads; and six sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Andrews and Mrs. S. L. Everett of Greenville, Mrs. Clara Ketcham of near Ayden, Mrs. Wilbur Lee Everett and Mrs. John Elks, Jr., of Galloway's Cross Roads, and Mrs. W. L. Pilgreen of Falkland.

Amateurs Will Offer Show This Evening In Austin Building

An amateur hour will be staged in the Austin auditorium of East Carolina Teachers College at 8:00 o'clock this evening by students of physical education now taking a course in community recreation. During the winter quarter this year a similar performance attracted many amateur artists from Greenville and the surrounding area and was attended by more than 1,000 people.

Amateur performers in Pitt County have been invited to participate in the events of the evening. The program will feature singing, dancing, recitations, dramatic skits, acrobatic stunts, and selections played on various musical instruments. Prizes will be awarded to outstanding participants.

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, director of the department of health and physical education at the college, is in charge of the amateur show.

Bruce E. Carawan Died At Vanceboro

Bruce E. Carawan, 53, died suddenly at the home of his mother, Mrs. Emma B. Carawan near Vanceboro, Monday night at 6:30 following a heart attack. Funeral services will be conducted in Vanceboro Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Sidney Matthews, Episcopal Minister of Washington. Burial will be in the New Bern cemetery.

Mr. Carawan was born and reared near Vanceboro and was graduated from the Vanceboro Farm Life School in 1938. He attended North Carolina State College for three years and enlisted in the United States Navy, serving for about three years. Since then he had been employed in New Bern by the New Bern Tractor Equipment Company. He was a member of Doris Lodge No. 58 A. F. & A. M. New Bern, and the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry, New Bern, and Modern Woodmen's camp of Rocky Mount. He was married to Miss Valerie Ingram of Westville, N. J., in 1943.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Robert Earl Carawan; his mother; six brothers; Z. C. Carawan of Vanceboro, Lee M. Carawan of the home, Guy Carawan of Supply, N. C., Harold E. Carawan of New Bern, Larry E. Carawan of Greenville, and John H. Carawan of Jasper.

More Tenants Now Own Their Farms; Gratifying Trend

College Station, Raleigh, July 6—The trend from farm tenancy toward farm ownership which has been under way since 1930, has been even more pronounced since the war, according to Charles E. Clark, farm management specialist at State College. Clark bases his statement on a recent study conducted by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

As of January, 1947, 26.9 percent of the farms were operated by tenants. This is almost a 4 per cent decline from the 31.7 per cent tenancy of 1945.

The greatest relative decline has been in the South. Many plantation type farms formerly operated by tenants are now operated by owners.

This is a result partly of mechanization on the farm and shortage of farm labor.

Part owners have increased and a noticeable decline was shown in the percentage of farm land under lease. Many families who have come to Greenville in nearby cities have bought small acreages—many homes which the Census classified as a farm.

New veterans returned to farming after the war. Only 5.9 per cent of all farm operators were veterans in 1947 for the nation as a whole. Veterans represented 7 per cent of the farm operators in the South. Approximately 41 per cent of the veteran operators of the nation are tenants.

William H. Allen Funeral Held Today

William Harvey Allen, 74, of 116

Harding Street, died at Pitt General Hospital at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon after an illness of six days. Funeral services were conducted at S. G. Wilkerson & Sons' Funeral Home this afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. C. L. Patrick, Free Will Baptist Minister of Greenville, and Rev. R. N. Nimmart, Free Will Baptist minister of Micro. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Allen, son of the late James William and Martha James Allen, was born, reared, and spent all of his life in the vicinity of Greenville. He was a member of Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church and was married to the former Betty Roena Forbes of Pitt County in 1894.

Surviving are his wife; five sons, Dewey R. Allen of Buffalo, N. Y., Lloyd, Carr L., Howard and Shelby Allen, all of Greenville, four daughters: Mrs. Leon Smith and Mrs. Wiley Crawford of Greenville; Mrs. John T. Lang of Albany, N. Y., and Mrs. John Erwin Wilkerson of Farmville; 19 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren; and two sisters; Mrs. W. F. Evans of Flushing N. Y., and Mrs. I. A. Tripp of Greenville.

The word worsted, applied to a firmly twisted yarn of long-staple wool, combed in a certain way, is derived from the name of an English town where it was first made. The town's name is now spelled Worstead.

Locals Drop Both Ends Of Double-Header To Tarboro

Loss Afternoon Game By 6-2 In Greenville; Evening Contest Goes By Board

The Greenville Greens dropped both ends of a holiday twin bill with the Tarboro Tars yesterday. In the afternoon game here in Greenville, 6-2, and then losing the second game in Tarboro 7-6. The double loss for the Greens was their fifth.

Afternoon Game
The Tarboro Tars staged a big run rally in the sixth frame to defeat the Greens, 6-2. In the first of a double-header played here at Greenville.

Ray Urban led off the frame with a drive to Nesting a third who threw the ball while enabling him to advance to third, Neville walked, Richards singled to bring home Neville and Urban and then Ralph Caldwell poled a 340-foot homer over the left field wall to bring in Richards ahead of him.

The Tars scored two runs in the fourth frame when Urban singled, Neville forced Urban at second, Komaneky doubled, Richards hit to deep centerfield with Neville coming home on the out and Caldwell singled Komaneky home.

Greenville was held scoreless until the seventh frame when they pushed across one run on two walks and a single. Yohn and Nash walked, and Cohen singled home Yohn.

In the ninth the Greens scored again when Kee, pinch-hitting for Yohn, singled, Carter doubled, Nash walked, leading the bases and Cohen singled to bring home Kee.

Junior Yohn went the route for the Greens and gave up his second loss to the Tars this season. He gave up only seven hits but the Tars bunched five of their seven hits in the two frames which they did all their scoring. Caldwell with a homer and a single and Richards with a double and a single led the attack for the Tars.

Lefty Stiney Russell pitched the victory for the Tars but had to have help in the ninth frame. Joe Nesting with a double and two singles, Moe Carter with a double and a single and Bob Cohen with two singles led the 10-hit attack off the two Tar hurlers.

Night Game
Tarboro's league-leaders made it two in a row over Greenville with a 7-6 win over in Tarboro last night.

The Tars struck for six runs in the fifth inning to take the win on four hits and two walks. Marko led off with a walk. See singled, Andrew walked, leading the bases, Urban singled home Marko and then Richards tripled to clear the bases and Ray Komaneky followed with a homer inside the park in deep center field.

The Tars scored a singleton in the first frame when Urban doubled and Komaneky singled to bring him home.

The Greens bunched eight of their eleven hits in three frames to do all their scoring. In the fourth, Wood and Carter singled, Cohen forced Wood at third, Nesting singled to bring home Carter and then Sposo hit through first baseman Caldwell with Cohen and Nesting racing home on the error.

In the fifth, Riggs led off with a single, Wood singled and then Cohen doubled into right centerfield to bring home Riggs and Wood.

The final run of the Greens came in the eighth frame when Nesting doubled and came home on Sposo's single.

Johnny Tate started on the mound for the Greens and was taken out in the fifth frame with some out after yielding 9 hits and all seven of the Tars' runs. The loss for Tate was his second to the Tars this season and his fifth in league play. Luis Arroyo went to his rescue in the fifth frame and pitched one-hit ball the rest of the way.

Ray Komaneky with a homer and two singles led the 10-hit attack off the two Greenville hurlers. Bill See, registering his 15th win of the season, went the entire distance for the Tars and scattered 11 hits very effectively.

Bill Wood with three singles in four trips to the plate led the Greens' attack.

Season Earnings For Ben Hogan Is Over $20,000

Detroit, July 6—(AP)—Belting Ben Hogan today counted his season's golf earnings at $20,197.50 and decided to pass up the next two big opportunities to add to it.

The Hershey, Pa., star, annexed the Motor City open and $2,600 yesterday, finishing with a two-over-par 73, just a stroke ahead of E. J. Harrison of Albuquerque, N. M., in the special playoff that finished the first motor city competition.

Harrison, who won $1,900 for a second place share with his 73, immediately prepared to move on to Columbus, Ohio, for the open meet that starts there Thursday. But Hogan will skip that affair, along with a Pittsburgh test that follows in the national tournament circuit, in favor of a few exhibition matches.

Outsiders Win In Utah Net Play

Salt Lake City, July 6—(AP)—The Utah Open tennis tournament ended yesterday with every adult title in the hands of out-of-state players—most of them Californians.

Third-seeded Sam Match of the University of San Francisco pulled an upset to win the men's singles with a victory over first-seeded Victor Seixas of Philadelphia. Match played a spectacular retrieving style of tennis to turn back Seixas 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Triple Crown

Wichita, Kas., July 6—(AP)—Golfer Skeet Riegel wore a triple crown today.

The Glendale, Calif., shot-maker won the western amateur golf title yesterday, defeating James McHale, the ex-professional from Philadelphia, 3 and 1, in the finals of the week-long tournament.

Riegel also holds the national amateur crown and the Trans-Mississippi tournament title.

'Boston Is Team To Beat'—Dyer

St. Louis, July 6—(AP)—Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals is convinced that Boston is the team to beat in the National League.

Dyer, whose Cardinals opened a long home stand yesterday with a double victory over the Chicago Cubs, declared in an interview: "Ed Stanky has helped Boston. Bob Elliott is having a great year and the Braves have two of the best pitchers in the league in Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain.

"The Giants are having pitching trouble, as everybody predicted," he added. "The Dodgers are handicapped by the loss of Hugh Casey and Bruce Edwards, while the Phillies and the Pirates are too young and inexperienced to be serious contenders."

Dyer hedged slightly when asked about the Cards' chances. "It depends on our pitching," he said. "So far it hasn't been any too good, although Harry Brecheen is having a great year. Our pitchers have been throwing too many wrong balls, especially the kind that get lost in the bleachers or outside the park."

"Red Munger has been the biggest disappointment but I still think he will come around."

Pat Seery
THE BURLY OUTFIELDER OF THE WHITE SOX

White Sox Socker

The deal which sent Pat Seery to the Chicago White Sox may have been just the thing to shake the stocky Irishman out of his batting doldrums. Since donning a Chicago uniform Pat has been pounding the ball with a consistency that was lacking while he was playing with the Indians.

Cleveland was most reluctant to give up on Seery. For seven years they went along with the big fellow, overlooking nothing that might help him realize on his tremendous potentialities. Special diets were devised and President Bill Veech even went so far as to hire a special tutor for Seery—Rogers Hornsby, one of the game's greatest batters—in an effort to enhance Pat's usefulness at the plate. That noble experiment was tried in the spring of 1947 and in early training sessions it looked as though Pat had caught on to the idea. Once the season got under way, Seery reverted to type and continued to strike out more often than he batted in a run.

The strike-out has been the bane of poor Pat's existence. He led the American league in 1944 and 1945 with 99 and 97 whiffs, respectively. In 1946, he tied for the dubious honors with Charley Keller of the Yankees with 101. Last season he fanned 82 times in 82 games and fanned 66 times. Even so, Seery is a threat every time he steps up to the plate because of his tremendous strength. There is always the possibility that he may catch one and knock it out of the lot.

Two Losses And One Win Listed For Other Tilts

During the week-end the Greens lost two of their three tilts, being halted by the Roanoke Rapids Jays Friday night, 5-3, here, then went over to New Bern Saturday night to win a 6-1 decision over the New Bern Bears and then came back home Sunday afternoon to even the two game series with the Bears by dropping a 6-3 decision.

In Friday night's game, Dante Amorosa, making his initial appearance on the mound for the Greens, lost his first game as he pitched the first three frames in which he allowed three hits—one a three-run homer by Herb May over the left field wall—to give the Jays their margin of victory.

In Saturday night's game over in New Bern Johnny Kovalchick registered his fourth win of the season over the Bears as he scattered eight hits effectively. The win for Kovalchick was his eighth of the season. He has four losses.

In Sunday's game Kelly Kee made his second appearance on the mound for the Greens but had to be taken out in the seventh inning after the Bears had collected nine hits good for four runs, to set him back for his first loss. He had previously pitched a five hitter to win his first game with the Greens against the second place Rocky Mount Leafs.

BOY'S LEAGUE BASEBALL

The Third Street Giants, winners of the first half, started the second half with a 7 to 5 win over the Orioles of the Training School. The game was close all the way and was not decided until the last inning. The Orioles went into the last inning with a 4 to 3 lead but the Giants staged a four run rally to win. John Sideris hit a triple with the bases loaded for the important runs for the Giants.

Sideris had a big day at bat for the Giants with two doubles and a triple to lead his team to victory. Bobby Lee was next best man with a double and single. Eddie Farley, Billy Brady, Billy Wooten and Leon Moore all got two hits for the losers.

The Dodgers, Third Street entry in the Junior League got off to a flying start in the second half with a 11 to 8 win over the Lions of West Greenville. The Dodgers had on their hitting clothes, clouting the ball long and often to run up the score. Tom Smoot hit a triple with the bases full and a double to lead the way for the Dodgers. Jimmy Hendrix, Key Norris and Pat Sawyer were the leaders for the Lions.

Schedule for Wednesday
Giants vs Orioles Training school 9:30 a. m.
Dodgers vs Red Sox Training school 9:30 a. m.

According to the latest figures from the Howe News Bureau, which includes games through June 28th, the following facts were revealed concerning the Greens: Bob Cohen with 21 doubles is third place in the league being topped by Jack Hussey of Goldsboro with 25, and David Fowler of Rocky Mount with 23. Wiley Nash is in fourth place with 20. Bob Cohen is leading the league in triples with 8 to his credit, while Nash is tied with eight other league players for second place with 7. Bob Cohen is leading the Greens in the number of round-trippers with 5—the entire Greenville club has hit 20 homers so far this season. In stolen bases Joe Nesting is in fourth place in the league with 15. In RBI's Wiley Nash has 56, Cohen 48, Nesting 28, Phillips 21, and Riggs 15 to lead the Greens in this division. In team batting the Greens continue to hold down the cellar position with a .261 percentage. This is perhaps the reason why the Greens cannot climb out of sixth place in league standings due to their weak hitting power as a whole. In team fielding the Greens dropped to fifth place with a .948 percentage. They are second in double plays in the league with 63 with Kinston leading with 73. They are fourth in the league with the number of errors committed with 143. In the pitching dept. the Greens have four hurlers pitching better than 500 ball with 1st place being Arroyo in any league. Louis Arroyo is in second place in the strikeout division with 119 to his credit, being topped by Helmer of Rocky Mount with 132. Arroyo is third in the number of free passes issued to first with 86, and has allowed 72 runs for fourth place honors in this division.

Here and There—The Wilson Tobs have returned Glenn Clark to Danville of the Carolina. Clark was returned in the trade for Gene Petty, the new Tob rightfielder. Max Wilson, who was released as manager of the Wilson Tobs several days ago and who was to have gone to Danville, will play with the Burlington Bees of the same league, it was announced by Brodie Hood, director of the Burlington club. Gashouse Parker has now taken over as manager of Edenton in the Albemarle League. The former Tarboro first sacker assumed his new role Monday. The burden of keeping the top pitching staff in the loop in shape is becoming a trial to Manager Bull Hammons of the Tars. Sore arms and injuries are commonplace in camp. Latest blow below the belt was a physician's report on Eddie Neville, current possessor of the top pitching average at 6-0, which stated that Eddie should take a long rest away from the mound. A stiff left wing had prompted the slinger to submit to examination. Jack Hussey of Goldsboro has the fans wondering how long it will be before he jumps to a higher category of ball. The big first sacker is setting one of the hottest hitting paces in league history. Rocky Mount's Red Benton has not only compiled the highest number of wins in the league, he also rates as the most consistent mound performer. Red has started 16 games and finished every one of them.

Ted Williams boosting his batting mark to .415 is setting one of the hottest paces in the last 26 years. The Boston slugger, banging nine hits in 20 trips last week, upped his clip four percentage points for a 52 point lead over second place Lou Boudreau in the American League hit column.

The immortal George Sisler wound up the 1922 season with 420 duplicating Ty Cobb's record in 1911. No American leaguer since this pair ever finished a race higher than the blistering .415 pace being set by Williams. The Beantown better himself, came closer when he notched

Holiday Crowds Jam Ball Parks And Race Tracks

New York, July 6—(AP)—Eight major league baseball double-headers vied with the race tracks for drawing holiday sports fans yesterday and it was almost a tie.

The baseball games attracted 269,924, paced by the 59,042 turnout at Cleveland which swelled that club's attendance for the year to over the million mark.

Eleven race tracks drew 285,332, with a record throng of 46,490 at Arlington Park in Chicago to watch Citation run.

Both crowd totals fell below last year's figures.

New York, July 6—(AP)—Incredible Citation was more firmly established today as "Horse of the Year" while Ben Whitaker's My Request, sneaking from the shadow of the Calumet Flyer, had a strong bid in runner-up honors among the season's three-year-olds.

These were the principal conclusions of a holiday racing program that saw a total of 292,132 fans turn out at 11 tracks and wager $14,339,168.

Citation, having beaten the best of his age in winning the triple crown, took on a formidable field of older stars in the $56,100 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park and won by two lengths.

A record track crowd of 46,490 saw the three-year-old sensation tie Arned's mark of 1:49 1-5 for the mile and an eighth route in winning his seventh in a row.

Eddie Arcaro brought the Calumet star home in front of Augustus and Nahm's Eternal Reward and Hal Price Headley's Pellicle, who trailed in that order. Bracketed with My Request as an entry, Citation paid $2.60 to win and $2.20 to place with no show betting.

Meanwhile, My Request was showing a return to his spring form at Adequate in speeding to an easy victory in the $37,300 Dwyer Stakes.

The first three winners in each event, with the exception of four in the 100 meter dash, will gain berths on the U.S. team. The fourth sprinter will roundout the 400 meter relay team.

Midwest power lies with its collegians, 42 of whom qualified in the N.C.A.A. meet. In the A.A.U. at Milwaukee over the week end the East earned 36 places and the Pacific Coast 24.

Southwest 18 and the South and Rocky Mountains seven applied. Rounding out the field are four men in the U.S. Army Air Forces.

Site of the climatic showdown is Northwestern University's Dyess Stadium with a seating capacity of more than 40,000. Starting Friday and continuing for nearly three hours, various preliminaries as well as finals in six events will be held.

The 11 other finals will be run off Saturday.

Older Stars Fall To Calumet Racer

New York, July 6—(AP)—Incredible Citation was more firmly established today as "Horse of the Year" while Ben Whitaker's My Request, sneaking from the shadow of the Calumet Flyer, had a strong bid in runner-up honors among the season's three-year-olds.

These were the principal conclusions of a holiday racing program that saw a total of 292,132 fans turn out at 11 tracks and wager $14,339,168.

Citation, having beaten the best of his age in winning the triple crown, took on a formidable field of older stars in the $56,100 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park and won by two lengths.

A record track crowd of 46,490 saw the three-year-old sensation tie Arned's mark of 1:49 1-5 for the mile and an eighth route in winning his seventh in a row.

Eddie Arcaro brought the Calumet star home in front of Augustus and Nahm's Eternal Reward and Hal Price Headley's Pellicle, who trailed in that order. Bracketed with My Request as an entry, Citation paid $2.60 to win and $2.20 to place with no show betting.

Meanwhile, My Request was showing a return to his spring form at Adequate in speeding to an easy victory in the $37,300 Dwyer Stakes.

Arrest Two Men For Possession Of Liquor

Pitt County ABC Officers J. M. Ward and Claude Manning and Deputy Loyd Manning and Detective M. E. Corbett arrested two Negro men during the week end and charged them with possession of moonshine liquor. George Forner of First street, had one-half a gallon, and Johnnie Gardner of the North side of the river, had two and one-half gallons of the same variety. They will be tried this week.

Former Greenville Banker Is Promoted

Edward H. Foley of Charlotte has event in Greenville this year. The weekend holiday was not marred by any unusual accidents. Several deaths of natural causes occurred in the section. Nearly all business places were closed Monday. A general exodus of vacationers and holiday-seekers to seaside and riverside summer resorts marked the week-end. Law enforcement officers reported that the holiday was unusually quiet.

Elementary schools were founded in England before the Reformation, but received impetus by the founding in 1689 of an organization to promote charity schools for children.

Gift To College From '48 Graduating Class

The graduating class of 1948 at East Carolina Teachers College has appropriated a sum of approximately $80 from their funds to buy draperies for the office of Dr. John D. Messick, college president. In making a gift to the college at the time of their graduation this year's seniors follow a tradition at East Carolina. Francis Coiner of Newport News, Va., is president of the class of 1948, and Elizabeth Carter of Greenville is treasurer.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 22

"Oh," she said, "Jackson Yates, I was wishing you were here."

"Get hold of yourself and hang on," I told her, catching her by the elbows and clamping them hard to steady her. "How did it happen?"

"I don't know."

I walked to where Alchies lay, stooped down and studied him. Then I went to Beninger, who lay on his back. Right in Beninger's head, between his black eyebrows, was a round hole. There was some smudge around the wound—it hadn't been a contact shot, but pretty close in. The hole size was just short of 45 diameter—the same bore, say, as Ealing's derringer had fired. Alchies' face down as he was, would show me no wound unless I turned him over, and I wasn't dumb enough to do that.

I went back to J. D. "If you don't know how it happened, just what do you know?" I asked.

"She said, 'I had a note at the office—'

"Isaw it. Holmgren pointed it out to me."

"Well, I came out here. I knocked and rang, but nobody answered. The door wasn't tightly closed, though it wasn't all the way ajar. I pushed it open and saw— There they lay. Both of them."

Back to Alchies, I stooped and touched his cheek with my finger. It was cool, but not cold. I went to Beninger. His hand felt the same. "Not dead very long, either."

"Go back to the office. Remember everything you've seen here. Every single thing. Be ready to tell the truth, except for one lie."

"Lie?" she echoed.

"Here's the lie, and commit it to memory. Lou and I came in together. I hopped out of my taxi just as you got out of your car. We came in at the door side by side. We both saw each other, and neither of us saw the bodies first. They were dead when we came in. That way we can alibi each other."

She went out, as quietly obedient as a little girl listening to teacher. I watched her. The fresh air must have helped her, for she got into the car all right and drove off. As she came to the corner, she was already driving at her usual ball-hooting clip. Then I went back to the phone and called the police. "Give me homicide," I said.

There was the click-click of the connection. "Homicide," rumbled the voice of Winkle.

"This is Jackson Yates, the investigator," I said. "Is your boss there—Ranley?"

A moment of silence. Then a new voice. "This is Ranley. What do you want, Yates? Maybe you're ready to make some sort of statement. I'm about ready to pull you in, anyway."

"I'm returning good for evil," I told him. "I'm doing some of your work for you. There's been a double murder at Dr. Stokes's home, Al Beninger—you know who he is—don't you? And Alchies, the doctor's house boy."

"You wait right there," said Ranley. "If you aren't there when I come, I'll pull you in."

"I wouldn't be anywhere else for the world," I said, and he hung up.

I went back to look at the two bodies. The room felt stuffy, though not warm. If I hadn't been double-schooled in how to act at the scene of a murder, I'd have opened a window. I looked at a thermostat that automatically regulated the furnace—it registered about seventy-two or -thirty degrees, but it was still stuffy. Or, I asked myself, was it my imagination?

Then I stopped that and looked at Beninger. There was something funny about his position.

Because of that slug in his brain, of course. A bullet between the eyes shuts off the meter right then and there, without waiting a split second. Nine times out of ten you fall forward and lie still, unless it's a .45 bullet with a big hopper of cordite back of it, like a serving from a police special or an old-time frontier model. That's enough of a belt to throw you backward bodily, wherever it hits you. But then a .45, with the usual charge that goes with it, doesn't stop inside the head. It goes right on through, opening up the back of the skull. I looked at the wound again. It wasn't quite a .45—even without any callipers, I figured a hair less, a .41. Such as comes out of a derringer.

Life Ends Abruptly For Actress Carole Landis

Los Angeles, July 6—(AP)—The glamorized movie career of Actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end yesterday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Clutched in her hand was a satin ribbon with the Lord's Prayer imprinted in gold lettering. On a nearby dresser was a final note addressed to her mother.

Capt. of Detectives Emmett Jones said: "This is definitely a suicide." The detective said there were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room. He said an empty bottle was found near the body.

Capt. Jones reported the beautiful blond actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by Film Actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

The officers said a maid was in the home but had thought Miss Landis was still in her bedroom and did not notice the body huddled in a corner of the bathroom.

Harrison told police that Miss Landis had been ill for a week, suffering from an amoebic infection she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific. The actor said he and Miss Landis had been discussing plans for a film they were to make in England.

Construction In South Going Up

Baltimore, July 6—(AP)—Southern construction contracts awarded during the first half of 1948 showed an increase of 59 percent as compared with a year ago, the Manufacturers Record reported today.

The publication said contracts awarded in the southern states have been valued at a total of $1,382,278,000 for the first six months of this year. The amount for June—$246,782,000 showed a 12 percent drop as compared with May, but was 26 percent ahead of the corresponding month a year ago.

Predictions for the months to come indicate a continued high level of national construction values, in which the South has shared heavily.

A total of $406,183,000 in private building south of the Mason-Dixon line contributed in a great measure to the strong six-month total. The second largest category was work financed by public funds, amounting to $304,452,000 worth of construction contracts.

Highway and bridge work came to $242,596,000, with industrial awards totaling $240,261,000. Engineering construction was given as $189,756,000.

Negro 4-H Club News

"Milk Drinks for Health" was the title of the demonstration which won 2nd place honor in the North-eastern District Contest for its team Rhebia and Lucille Taylor, sisters of Winterville 4-H Club. The demonstrators were divided in two groups—Winterville won 1st place in the contest.

I bent down to look at his clothes. They weren't terribly mussed up. His loud jacket was fastened with one button and it looked almost neat on him—too neat, if he'd fallen and been turned. Perhaps somebody had buttoned the jacket again. I peered at the button and it shone as if it had been polished. Whoever had touched it last was leaving none of nature's little calling cards.

I looked at my watch. Ten-twenty by now—Ranley was five minutes late and called the office of Dr. Stokes.

His receptionist hesitated about connecting me if I wouldn't say what my business was, but I bullied her into it. The doctor's voice came on. "You'd better come out to your house," I told him. "There's been a murder here. Two murders. Come on out."

Enos J. Dail Visits Lisbon Aboard Ship

Enos J. Dail, fireman, USN, son of Mrs. Ruth Virginia Dail of 1315 Washington Street, Greenville, arrived in Lisbon, Portugal, while serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Macon, one of the 13-vessel Midshipmen Practice Squadron on its annual summer cruise.

The personnel of the Macon was extended a warm welcome by the Portuguese whose capital is periodically visited by ships of Admiral Conolly's Northern European Task Force.

Rotarians Meet; Discuss Program

By WYATT BROWN

The Rotary Club got its new administration under way last night as Ernest L. Willard, the new president, appointed the standing committees for the year. Howard McInnis, the new chairman of the program committee, discussed the year's programs and got each member to fill out a questionnaire that would indicate each member's preferences. There was some discussion from the floor as to program content.

The Rotarians who had previously indicated a desire to purchase season tickets in cooperation with the college Entertainment Committee, were given the opportunity last night to buy their tickets. A large number purchased tickets, some bought two or more. Charlie White, who handled the matter with the Rotarians, advised that there would be no other season tickets sold by the college this year.

Ernest Browning extended his fellow Rotarians an invitation to attend a conference of business men and business teachers of Eastern Carolina to be held July 9 at OTC. He said there would be a panel discussion led by sixteen of the most prominent business men of Eastern Carolina from 9:30 to 12:30 followed by a luncheon at 1 p. m. to be addressed by J. G. Greer.

Ned Hawks of Ayden was the only visiting Rotarian last night. Guests of the club were Herbert Waldrop, Jr., and two out-of-town guests, Sat Harrison of High Point and Bryce B. Brown of S. h. n. c. t. y. New York President Ernest L. Willard presided.

arm staff against the Finns now, in view of the difficulties with Yugoslavia and her chesty dictator, Marshal Tito.

Yugoslavia appears to be maneuvering for a showdown with Moscow and the other Communist countries over the status of Tito, who is charged by the Cominform with having deserted the Moscow party line. The Yugoslavs have invited all other Communist parties to attend the fifth Congress of Yugoslavia's party in Belgrade on July 21. The response to this invitation is likely to be illuminating.

The other big issue of the moment remains the Russian effort to starve 2,000,000 civilians of Western Berlin by a food blockade. The purpose of this devilish plot is to force America, Britain and France to withdraw their occupation forces from the city and thus leave the Russians free to establish a Bolshevik state with Berlin as capital.

The week-end saw American and British air forces continuing their sensational efforts to break the blockade by flying supplies to the beleaguered metropolis. They were getting ahead with the job, too. At the same time the three Democracies were planning direct demands on Moscow to end the blockade.

It is difficult to see how the Bolsheviks can fail to recognize that they are doing themselves no good in world opinion by such an exhibition of ruthlessness. They maintain a brazen attitude of not caring a tinker's dam about world opinion—but they do care.

Cyclists Disrupt Convention City

Riverside, Calif., July 6—(AP)—As the last of "those wild motorcycle boys" chugged off, citizens of Riverside began sweeping their way today out of the dust and debris.

Sighs of relief were audible on all sides, but perhaps the loudest came from Sheriff Carl F. Rayburn, sponsor of the three-day meet which disrupted the city.

"That's the last time I'm inviting the motorcycle crowd," said the sheriff. "I don't think it's a good thing for a little town like Riverside."

Sheriff Rayburn, however, placed the blame on a bunch of "crazy kids," and said American Motorcycle Association members were not responsible for the wild riding down main streets and fist throwing in sundry bars.

When the 2,000 cyclists departed, the box score stood one dead, one injured and 54 arrested.

Flying beer bottles, firecrackers and fists punctuated near riots which brought all available police and sheriff's officers into action.

Television . . .

And nobody except themselves and their friends and relatives in the galleries, saw what was happening or took part in it.

Soon the whole nation can sit in its living room and watch the performance on a television screen, passing judgment.

Throwing a convention in the face of the nation, by way of the television screen, for five days is asking for a lot of patience.

As they're arranged now, the convention speeches and demonstrations are too long-drawn out to keep a television audience interested a whole week.

So what good will the high-flown speeches and cooked-up demonstrations do if they turn a television audience away in disgust or boredom?

They may lose plenty of votes since it's the audience that's going to do the voting.

Dr. M. M. Sauls Died Early Today

Dr. M. M. Sauls, prominent Ayden citizen, died of a heart attack about 2 o'clock this morning while in an ambulance on the way to a Kinston hospital.

Funeral services will be held at the Ayden Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burial will be in the Ayden cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Kathleen Burruss Sauls, formerly of Virginia; two daughters, Mrs. Sam Pierce and Mrs. Berkeley Rutledge of Ayden, and one son, Beverly Sauls of Hagerstown, Md.

Dr. Sauls was widely known. He was the pioneer druggist in Ayden. He took an active interest in religious, educational and civic affairs and was a leader in the progress and development of Ayden and the community.

Doctors Warn Of Ray Effects

New York, July 6—(AP)—A warning to keep X-rays and Gamma rays away from bones because the rays can cause bone cancer was issued today in "Cancer," a new medical journal.

This publication is a monthly started by the American cancer society. The bone cancer warning, covering more than 20 pages, is by Doctors William G. Cahane, Helen Q. Woodward, Normal L. Higinbotham, Fred W. Stewart and Bradley L. Coley (all of New York City).

The first practical electric bulbs were produced independently by Thomas A. Edison and J. W. Swan between 1878 and 1880.

Rotary Supports Book Exchange

Chicago, July 6—(AP)—Directors of Rotary International recommended to all member clubs today for exchange of books and magazines among the youth of all nations.

Rotary Clubs of North Carolina initiated the exchange plan in 1947. Since then more than a million books have been sent to the youth of Germany and Austria. The directors passed the idea along to other member clubs for whatever use they could make of it.

Grain Market

Chicago, July 6—(AP)—The July corn delivery broke the 8-cent daily limit shortly before noon today at the board of trade. Today's selling was a continuation of Saturday's liquidation, and spread to all corn deliveries. Later some recovery was made.

Wheat was weak on mill and commission house selling, the result of record receipts of wheat of 4,578 cars at Kansas City over the long holiday. The previous high was 3.579 for three days set at Kansas City July 5, 1938.

At the finish wheat rallied sharply and closed unchanged to 3-4 higher than Saturday's close July 2.28 7-8 to 3-4. Corn was unchanged to 4 1-2 cents lower, July $2.08 1-4 to 08. Oats were 1-8 lower to 3-8 higher, July 87 3-4 to 88. Soybeans were 1-2 to 3 1-2 lower, July $4.96.

Hog Market

Raleigh, July 6—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hogs, steady to slightly stronger, $26.50 at Kinston, Rocky Mount, Greenville, New Bern and Washington. Richmond steady to slightly stronger, practical top $26.50, extreme top $26.75.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, July 6—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady to slightly weaker, 34 to 35. Eggs, a large 51.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, July 6—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 70 cents to $1.00 a bale lower.

Late afternoon prices were 40 cents to $1.45 cents a bale lower than the previous close, July 34.95, Oct. 32.25 and Dec. 32.04.

Futures closed 70 cents to $1.70 a bale lower than the previous close.

ON BIG JURY

Thousands of women—a tremendous jury—have tried and approved a way to marvelously improve the fruits they freeze and can.

The secret is easy—just one simple change in your canning and freezing syrups. Yet it lets the syrup penetrate the fruit, plump it up, bring out its luscious natural color and flavor.

The free, 32-page 1948 edition of "Finer Canned & Frozen Fruits" gives step-by-step directions. Also recipes . . . helpful hints on pickles, relishes, preserves . . . new ways of serving fruits you put up—a whole mine of valuable information for experts and beginners alike.
