Demo's Platform Writers Expect Rugged Problem

Vote-Getting 'Harmony' Platform To Meet Up With Disunity On Major Issues

Philadelphia, July 7—(AP)—Democrats buckled down today to the task of hewing a vote-getting "harmony" platform out of knotty logs of disunity on several major issues—Particularly civil rights and labor.

But the builders—meeting five days ahead of the party's national convention—figured to get off to a good start on what may turn out to be the hardest job ever given a similar group.

Easy agreements on planks touching upon the international scene were forecast by U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania, chairman of a 104-member resolutions committee chosen to draft the platform.

Myers said it appeared certain Democrats would advocate (1) a "strong" international policy and (2) a powerful national defense to back up that policy.

The fireworks on civil rights and labor was set for Thursday and Friday. Today's work—in the hands of an 18-member subcommittee—was limited to hearing proposals of major farm organizations for the party's agricultural plank. These groups are fairly well agreed as to what they want for the farmers.

Thursday's schedule calls for a parade of witnesses on the question of whether the party should commit itself to President Truman's civil rights program to which southern Democrats object violently—or strike a compromise.

But on Friday is an airing of views of labor leaders on the Taft-Hartley labor act. They have endorsed its repeal. On this issue—as on civil rights—the Democrats in government and sharply divided.

President Truman vetoed the legislation, but many Democratic lawmakers voted to override the veto.

Myers said the signs of a platform comparing favorably with the party's 1944 record of less than 1500 votes.

Major groups asked to be heard today included the American Farm Bureau Federation, The National Council of Farmer Cooperatives and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation.

Prominent Woman Dies Here After Prolonged Illness

Mrs. Susie E. Warren, 87, died at her home, 413 West Fourth street, at 6:45 o'clock this morning after being critically ill for two weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. J. A. Neilson, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Warren, daughter of the late Simon B. and Martha Brown Wilson, was born and reared in Greenville. After her marriage to Ollen Warren, Jr., on December 17, 1885, they lived in Edgecombe county for a number of years before moving to Greenville in 1903. Mr. Warren died in 1935.

Mrs. Warren was one of the oldest native born citizens and a member of one of the oldest families in Greenville. She was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Mrs. Warren was the mother of four sons, Cary M. Warren, who died in 1937, Burney S. Warren of Greenville, Norman O. Warren, who died in 1944, and W. B. Warren of Asheville; four daughters, Mrs. H. L. Hodges and Mrs. E. T. Lloyd of Greenville, Mrs. E. H. Smith of Weidon, and Mrs. George Sharpe of Burlington. She is survived by 11 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, a sister, Miss Lill B. Wilson of Greenville.

Rumors Fly, But Officials See No Military Action By Moscow

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, July 7—(AP)—The wave of nationalist feeling sweeping Eastern Europe has spurred a flood of rumors about possible drastic moves by the Russians to tighten their hold over the satellite countries.

These rumors include unconfirmed reports of Soviet troop movements in Romania and Bulgaria toward the Yugoslav border. They also disclose a revival in Europe of the old speculation that Russia may try (a) to annex Romania and Bulgaria as Soviet republics and (b) to put the Red Army back into Czechoslovakia, from which it withdrew at the end of the war.

About the most that can be said for the rumors at the moment is that they are receiving careful study at the State Department and national defense establishment.

The prevailing opinion among Washington officials seems to be, however, that while the Russians find themselves in a tough spot in their own satellite sphere they will try to solve their difficulties without resorting to the open use of military power.

But this situation could change instantly. A Yugoslav move against Albania, for instance, would give the Russians a perfect excuse for coming to the "defense" of an ally.

Belgrade has been tossing out warnings to Albania since that country sided with the Cominform in the celebrated Yugoslav dispute. Early today a Tass dispatch from Tirana said Albania is taking "strong measures" to guard her borders with Yugoslavia and Greece against "hostile elements." But there was no mention of any actual border clash.

The view that Russia will refrain from any outright military move also is expressed by officials here in discussing the Berlin situation.

There the Soviets have run headlong into a stone wall of opposition from the Western powers. Diplomats said today that any doubt remaining in the Kremlin about the intentions of the United States, Britain and France to hold their places in the beleaguered city must have been destroyed by the notes which all three governments sent to Moscow yesterday.

Strikes Spread In Coal Fields Of Pennsylvania

Sympathy Walkouts Shut Down More Pits; Industry Awaits Action By Court

Pittsburgh, July 7—(AP)—Sympathy strikes in commercial soft coal mines spread today in western Pennsylvania while the nation's bituminous industry waited possible court action at Washington in the two-day shutdown in steel company owned "captive" pits.

Three new walkouts were noted in the Pittsburgh district's commercial mines as diggers stopped work in sympathy. Over the nation, nearly one-fourth of the 40,000 soft coal miners were away from their jobs.

About 40,000 of the idle were miners in the steel company owned "captive" pits. They declined to work without a contract.

The steel companies did not sign the new United Mine Workers wage agreement because of its union shop clause.

Another 51,000 commercial miners in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana stayed away from work yesterday as the 10-day mine vacation ended.

West Virginia UMW leaders said the 35,000 commercial miners idle in that state were merely slow in starting back after the vacation period.

But a spokesman for the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators' Association said the 13,000 idle in 40 commercial pits in its area were undoubtedly engaging in sympathy walkouts.

"There usually is high absenteeism after a holiday but these shutdowns are too widespread to be explained as absenteeism," he said.

However, the spokesman was optimistic the commercial miners in his area would soon return. He said he had been assured by local UMW leaders that a "favorable reply will be forthcoming" to a telegram he sent UMW Chief John L. Lewis. The message said:

"Notwithstanding the fact that this association has a signed contract with you, more than 30 mines are being worked by members who are striking today. We demand that you notify the men to honor the contract and return to work immediately."

Whitley Bay, Eng., July 7—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin pledged today Britain will use U. S. gifts under the Marshall plan wisely.

"Britain is not going to have a night's debauch" with the funds, he told the annual conference of the National Union of Mine Workers.

"If we take Marshall aid today we take it in the spirit that we are going to use it wisely," he said. "We are going on with austerity because we are determined to hand over to our children a free, independent and up-to-date nation."

Parliament approved last night the accord with the U. S. under which Britain will get about $1,300,000,000 during the first year. France also approved a similar agreement by which she will get $750,000,000.

The out-spoken Bevin told the mine unionists the belief that diplomacy must be carried on over the heads of the people is "all moonshine."

"Foreign affairs is common-sense people hoping to talk with other common-sense people," he declared. "All this business of concealing your thoughts is just tommyrot. It is because we are moving into this plan that disagreements sometimes seem to be more acute."

London newspapers hailed acceptance of the Marshall plan generally as the turning point in the British struggle for solvency.

Inquest Tonight In Child's Death

Gastonia, July 7—(AP)—An inquest will be held tonight (at 7:30 o'clock) into the June 17 death of eight-year-old Rhonda Pearl Mitchell.

The child was found in bed at her home in the Spencer Mountain community with eight bullet holes in her chest. In another bed was her mother, Mrs. Jimmie Mitchell, with six 22 caliber bullet holes in the chest. The mother is recuperating at a hospital here.

Shortly after the shootings were discovered, sheriff Hoyle Eiford reported the finding of a note at the home which he said indicated Mrs. Mitchell may have killed her daughter and then attempted suicide.

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 7—(AP)—Back and forth, back and forth the rescue squad worked in City Lake.

Would Tie Berlin To East Germany

Communists Set Forth Two-Year Plan; Warn Berliners Not To Count On Air Bridge; Americans Start Flying In Coal

Berlin, July 7—(AP)—The Communists announced today a two-year plan to tie Berlin economically to the Soviet occupation zone of Germany. They warned Berliners not to pin their hopes for the future on the western air bridge over the Soviet blockade.

The Communists also announced they are drawing up a constitution for a German republic—their answer to the projected western Germany constitutional assembly.

At the same time the U. S. Air Force attacked the growing fuel shortage in blockaded western Berlin, which in 19 days has cut factory operations 40 per cent. The first "flying coalman" winged into Berlin shortly after noon last 110 bags of coal. The Americans began the operation in the face of a veiled Russian warning on the safety of their air bridge planes.

The Communist-dominated Socialist unity party (SED) announced in the Soviet sector:

"Starting from the fact that Berlin lies in the eastern zone and is tied very closely to its economy, the Berlin unit of the SED has worked out a two-year plan aimed at systematically incorporating Berlin's economy into that of the eastern zone."

One aim, it said, is standardizing products and spurring production. Discussing this latest phase of the east-west battle for the German capital, the Soviet-licensed Berliner Zeitung said:

"If Berlin wants to live it has only one possibility at the moment—connection with the economic plan for the eastern zone. Berliners should seriously consider which is wiser; to build the future of Berlin on the swaying pillars of the air bridge or on a long-term plan."

The Americans arranged to send 25 C-54s with sacks of coal from Frankfurt to the western sectors of Berlin this afternoon. Each plane can handle seven tons of cargo. Heretofore the planes concentrated on building up food supplies. Western Berlin, meanwhile, further curved street cars as a fuel conservation measure.

The scope of the air lift is indicated by U. S. Air Force figures on the 18 hours from 4 p.m. yesterday to 10 a.m. today, when 115 flights brought 610 tons of food into the city.

After a night of good weather, heavy rains once again complicated the job.

The warning on the planes' safety came in a dispatch of the Soviet licensed news agency, Adn, reporting an American request for a change in procedure at their Berlin air safety center. The Russians replied, the agency said, that Americans are violating four-power rules for air traffic control and warned that U. S. authorities must take "full responsibility for the safety of American planes."

Baltimore Hunts Murder 'Maniac'

Apparently Motiveless Killing Of Child Spurs Police

Baltimore, July 7—(AP)—Every available Baltimore policeman was mobilized today to comb a wide area of the city's northern suburbs for trace of the "maniac" killer of 11-year-old Marsha Brill.

Marsha was stabbed yesterday while bicycling with two playmates along a wooded section a few miles from the Pimlico race track.

Less than two hours later, a 30-year-old Negro laborer was taken into custody as he emerged from a woods in the area.

He was viewed in a lineup by Barbara Lee Sapperstein, 11, and her brother Alan, 8, who were with Marsha when she was killed. Afterwards, the man was docketed as "held for investigation."

Early today, a second man was picked up for questioning.

Barbara Lee and her brother told police a Negro leaped in front of Marsha's bicycle from the underbrush as they were pedaling along the road.

They saw the man flash a knife. Then Marsha and the man disappeared in a few minutes later, bleeding from a deep chest wound. Police say she must have been stabbed while on the bicycle, as her bloody handprint was found on the road beside it.

She was given first aid at a doctor's office, but died enroute to a hospital in an ambulance.

Police emphasized the arrest of the two Negroes would not lessen the search which Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson termed the most intensive in the city's history.

Officials called the killing "maniacal" and "apparently motiveless."

Small Decline In Food Price Index

New York, July 7—(AP)—The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index declined slightly for the second straight week.

The sum total of the cost of a pound of each of 31 foods July 6 was $7.12, against $7.14 the previous week. A year ago it was $8.41.

Governor Dewey Will Try Invasion Of 'Solid South'

Accepts Invitation To Make Major Campaign Speech In North Carolina

Pawling, N.Y., July 7—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will try to crack the Solid South.

The Republican presidential candidate has accepted an invitation to make a major campaign speech in North Carolina, which has 13 electoral votes.

The time and place of the address have not been set, but it probably will be in mid-autumn in one of the state's largest cities. He campaigned for delegates in the state before the Republican convention.

Dewey's decision to invade the South comes at a time when the state below the Mason-Dixon line are protesting President Truman's civil rights program and many of them are threatening to vote against Truman's nomination at the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia next week.

The New York governor, who is combining rest with work at his 300-acre farm here, also plans to deliver a campaign speech in the border state of Maryland this fall.

His 1944 campaign for the presidency, and again last month in quest of convention delegates.

Until the end of July, Dewey will remain at his Pawling farm where he has been since Saturday night.

He told reporters he had spent most of the long holiday weekend resting and catching up on his reading. He said it consisted of "mostly newspapers and memoranda," including data on foreign affairs.

He said he had no political news to offer but he disclosed that he had talked by telephone last Friday with Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, and twice in the last few days with Gov. Earl Warren of California, his running mate, following Warren's return to Sacramento.

Dewey does not plan to leave the state until the middle of August at the earliest. He probably will return to Albany—the first of August and there receive GOP bigwigs.

Policeman Waits Hearing, Charge Of Beating Son

Lumberton, July 7—(AP)—Milton Johnson, member of the Red Springs police department, will be given a preliminary hearing Friday on a charge of assault upon his 13-year-old son, Albert.

Sheriff W. C. Britt said the mother reported Albert required medical attention after his father had beat him with a leather belt. The sheriff said the boy's back, shoulders and sides were a mass of welts and bruises.

Johnson is at liberty under $200 bond pending his hearing before County Recorder W. B. Ivey.

Sheriff Britt said that Johnson several weeks ago shot his daughter in the leg with a .44 caliber revolver. Johnson reported the shooting was accidental, the officer said.

Power Co. Asks Increased Rates

Raleigh, July 7—(AP)—Officials of the Duke Power Company told the State Utilities Commission today that increased rates for its large industrial power customers are necessary.

The Utilities Commission conducted a hearing on an application of the power company to increase rates on the larger customers by imposition of a fuel clause under which the cost of power would increase when the price of coal went up.

Showdown In Berlin

Pivotal Engagement Of Current Cold War Nears Critical Stage With Blunt Demand That Russia Lift Food Blockade; Western Military Talks; Weaknesses Evident

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The battle of Berlin between Russia and the Western Allies—pivotal engagement of the cold war—is moving sharply towards a showdown.

The blunt demand made by America, Britain and France that the Reds immediately lift the food blockade against the civilian population of western Berlin is calculated to bring things to a head. This blockade of course represents a savage attempt to force the democracies to evacuate the city by torturing the German people. Having got the Western Allies out of the way, the Bolsheviks could form a separate state in eastern Germany, with Berlin as its capital.

Washington, London and Paris struck simultaneously but separately, and for the first time directed their demand to Moscow rather than to the Soviet authorities in Germany. They have called Stalin's hand, and at a time when the iron curtain is showing considerable wear and tear at vital points like Yugoslavia, Finland and Czechoslovakia.

Equally impressive was the announcement in Washington that the ambassadors of Canada and five Western European nations had been called into conference with Undersecretary of State Lovett. The five Europeans are Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, which recently formed a "Blaireau" alliance. These conversations will have to do with possible American military support for the Western European bloc. This is the first time that Canada has been brought into discussions between the bloc and Washington, but her inclusion is a natural one since her defensive interests interlock with those of the United States and Britain. Solidarity between Canada and America is vital to the well-being of the Western Hemisphere.

Whatever official attitude may be taken by Moscow towards the demand from the democracies that the Berlin blockade be lifted, there can be small doubt that the general European situation provides an anxious moment for the Muscovites. The defiance and dislike being registered by the three satellite states comes from countries which are strategic points in Russia's battle front through Europe. Finland and Yugoslavia are the anchors for the northern and southern wings of the spectre, Czechoslovakia was de-

Arabs, Jews Fight On Tel Aviv-Haifa Highway

UN Makes Eleventh-Hour Effort To Extend Shaky Truce; Arabs Fire On UN Truce Team Trucks; Truce Ends Friday

Cairo, July 7—(AP)—Heavy Jewish-Arab fighting raged along the main Tel Aviv-Haifa highway last night as the United Nations made 11th hour efforts to extend the shaky Palestine truce.

Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator, told newsmen in Cairo that he would continue peace talks, even if his request for an extension of the four-week truce is rejected.

At Lake Success, N.Y., Britain drafted a Security Council proposal calling on the Jews and Arabs to extend the cease fire. The plan set no expiration date.

The truce ends Friday. Neither Arabs nor Jews have replied to U. N. extension requests.

There was no official indication as to how seriously Jewish authorities considered the highway clash which occurred in Israeli territory between Haifa and Tel Aviv, about 18 miles south of Haifa.

Two American marines driving U. N. truce team trucks were turned back by Arabs who fired on them for 40 minutes before they waved a white flag to stop the shooting.

Pvt. Charles Phalen, 19, of Bluefield, W. Va., and Pvt. Lewis Taylor, 19, of Jackson, Miss., said they were forced to pull their trucks into a ditch and crawl for cover under Arab rifle and machinegun fire.

Phalen said a youthful, English-speaking Arab leader finally agreed to let the trucks turn around and return to Tel Aviv. The marine quoted the Arab as saying the fighting began when 20 Jewish soldiers on a bus stopped two local Arabs walking along the road.

Another U. N. driver, Marine Pvt. William C. Canipe of Shelby, N.C., said his truck was fired on when he neared an Egyptian army road block near Gaza. He said his truck then was permitted to proceed.

Canipe said hundreds of Arabs and Egyptian soldiers stood cheering as King Farouk of Egypt drove through Gaza. This was the first indication the monarch was in the city.

Unconscious For 48 Days Today

Fayetteville, N. C., July 7—(AP)—Fayetteville's "sleeping waitress" entered her 48th day of unconsciousness today.

Mrs. Vickie Louise Kilby Thiere, a young waitress, has remained in a coma at Highsmith hospital here since she was injured in an automobile accident in May. She is a native of Mt. Pleasant, in Cabarrus county. Her body shows no outward sign of injury.

Boys Accused Of Burning School

Harrison, N. Y., July 7—(AP)—Two grade school boys have been ordered to appear in Westchester County Childrens court today on charges they tried to burn down the building where they go to school.

Detectives quoted the boys, aged 9 to 11, with saying they started the fire, which Sunday night caused $4,000 damage, because "we wanted to be sure we wouldn't have a school to go back to in the fall."

Seeing-Eye Dogs Relying On West

Berlin, July 25—(AP)—The Russian blockade of Berlin threatens 70 seeing eye dogs with starvation, the newspaper Tagesspiegel said today.

The report said 28,000 thoroughbred dogs also are in danger because of new Russian orders forbidding the export of meat and food from the Russian zone to western sector dogs. The Russians also forbade the city government to issue dog ration cards to owners in the western sector.

Truman Backers Voicing Optimism

Openly Elated Over Collapse Of Boom For Gen. Eisenhower

Philadelphia, July 7—(AP)—The drooping balloon of the Eisenhower boom hung low today over the forthright Democratic National Convention.

President Truman's representatives—highly encouraged by the General's couldn't-take-it statement—scurried back to Washington for fresh strategy orders.

The expectation was that they would come back to Philadelphia primed to put out the word on Mr. Truman's choice for second place on the ticket—a selection he has delayed while he awaited the latest word from the wartime European Commander.

President Truman's friends made no secret of their elation at the Eisenhower statement.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) said in Washington that he thinks it all will be over on the first ballot, unless Mr. Truman himself changes his mind. Hatch added that "I don't see that happening."

Around 60 children attended Bible school at the Ballard's Presbyterian Church last week.

Miss Falls from Assembly's Training school was director and taught the senior class. The other faculty members were from the community. Members of the Auxiliary served refreshments each afternoon.

At the close of classes on Friday afternoon, the children were taken to the Farmville park where they enjoyed swimming in the pool and later they were served a picnic supper.

On Sunday morning at the church a program was given showing some of the work accomplished this week.

Around 65 members from the Baptist Sunday school at Bell Arthur enjoyed swimming and a picnic supper at Whitchard's Beach on last Thursday afternoon last evening.

The annual picnic supper of the Grange was held at Ballard's community building last Thursday evening.

The supper was served on a table outdoors and the menu consisted of delicious barbecue, slaw, fried chicken, sandwiches, cake, pickles and lemonade.

After the supper, everybody was seated outdoors and slides were presented showing the preparation of foods to be preserved by freezing. Several short talks were made, one by Mr. Hendrix, on the spraying of tobacco for lice. Mrs. Andrews of Goldsboro made a talk on what it means to be a member of the Grange.

Mark Smith presided. Among those from out of the community present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hendrix, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Langford, Mr. and Mrs.

Exhaustive Study Under Way Over 'Resource-Use'

The use of natural resources of the state to make North Carolinians happier, healthier, and more prosperous has been under consideration for the past two weeks by members of the resource-use workshop now being conducted at East Carolina Teachers College as a part of a state-wide program.

The unit of work, organized and directed by Dr. Harold C. Jones, associate professor of science at the college, is the second to be carried out in the workshop. The first two weeks of the summer session were devoted to the social studies and their application to community life in the state. The study of natural resources, continued in this week, will be followed by a unit under the supervision of Dr. N. M. Jorgenson, chairman of the department of health and physical education at East Carolina. Lissie Pearce, supervisor in the Martin County schools and a member of the resource-use committee of the serving as an assistant and consultant in the workshop here.

Enrolled are teachers and principals in the eastern area of the state. A combined attendance of 73 is reported for the first two units of work.

The natural resources of North Carolina have been discussed with workshop members by a group of municipal, state, and federal agencies located in the state. Included among topics have been the land, forests, minerals, water supply and power development, state parks, and wild life. Emphasis has been laid on the use of these resources to develop commerce and industry and so to improve community life and on the part played by the public schools in resource-use education.

Speakers appearing on the programs based on natural resources include James W. Butler, secretary of the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce; M. H. Kline, district supervisor of the U. S. Bureau of Mines;

Jasper L. Stuckey, geologist; Kelly, assistant director of the Division of Commerce and Industry, and W. H. Riley, principal engineer of the Division of Water Resources, all of the State Department of Conservation and Development; Thomas Moss, state superintendent of parks; Robert Shaw, assistant state forester; H. S. King, assistant director of the wild life resources commission; Howard Doyle, area forester of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association; Frank Meacham, assistant director of the N. C. state museum; and Martin Schwartz, superintendent of the Greenville Utilities Commission.

Discussions in the workshop have been accompanied by field trips and by a series of films based on the conservation and development of natural resources.

Guardsmen Ready For Encampment

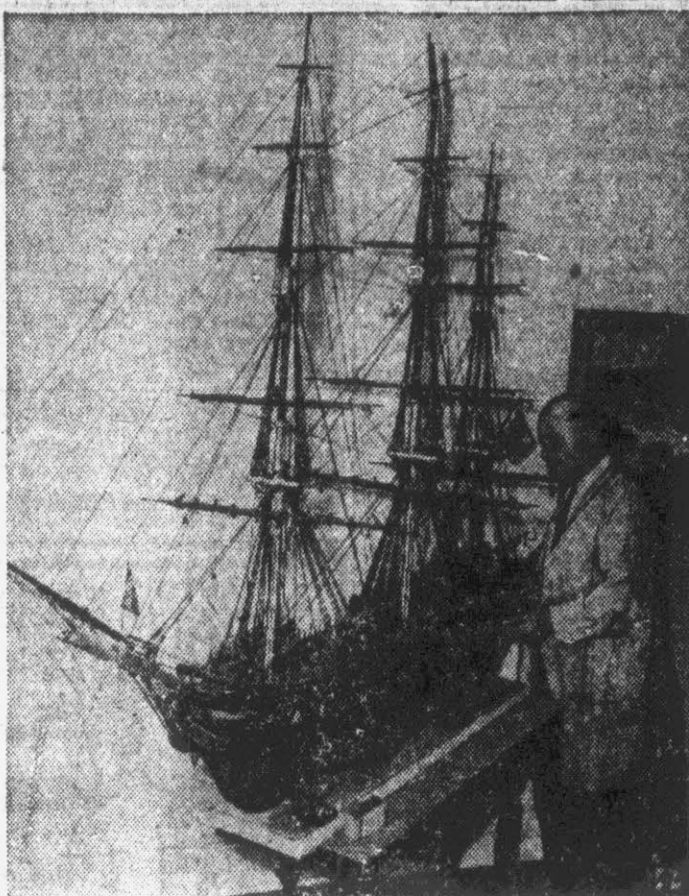

Raleigh, July 7—(AP)—Advance units of North Carolina's National Guard will leave tomorrow to prepare for the Guard's first post-war encampment.

The remainder of the Guardsmen will leave for camp Saturday and Sunday for a 15-day training period which begins Sunday.

Units of the 30th Infantry Division will train at Fort Bragg, and anti-aircraft troops at Camp Stewart, Ga.

The Guard units will include about 44,000 troops of the 30th Division and about 300 anti-aircraft soldiers.

Attorney Sues Minister Over Fees Owed Him

Baltimore, July 7—(AP)—A Baltimore attorney yesterday filed suit for a fee he says is owed him by a minister of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, whom he defended on charges of embezzlement.

Josiah F. Henry, Jr., told Baltimore City Court in his suit that he was counsel for Bishop Monroe H. Davis when the bishop was tried by a federal court and by ecclesiastical authorities at Little Rock, Ark., on counts of embezzlement and fraudulent use of church funds. He said he also represented the bishop before church bodies at Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., and Columbia, S. C.

Henry said he was also counsel for the bishop in Baltimore criminal court last February, when he was found innocent of possessing uninspected meats, and that $5,235 was owed the plaintiff in fees.

Bandit's Brother May Be Sheriff

Sallisaw, Okla., July 7—(AP)—E. W. Floyd, brother of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, one time "public enemy No. 1," apparently will become Sequoyah county sheriff next January.

On the basis of almost complete returns in Oklahoma's primary election yesterday, E. W. Floyd apparently has won the Democratic nomination with a 300-vote margin. He will have no opposition in the November general election.

The notorious "Pretty Boy" was killed in East Liverpool, Ohio, Oct. 22, 1934. He was shot by Federal agents after they surrounded him on a farm seven miles from the city. "Pretty Boy" lived up to his vow: "I'll never be taken alive."

And now his 40-year-old brother says he will live up to his vow—that of making a good sheriff.

His supporters think so, anyway.

SHEER TRAVEL MAGIC

THIS is the Buick America's car buyers are buzzing about. This is the one with travel magic flowing all through it.

This is the ROADMASTER with Dynaflo Drive*—where Main Street's dense traffic, the inviting open road and the long, stretching hills are bossed with equal ease by a toe-touch.

What's Different About DYNAFLO DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Here you let your left foot idle comfortably wherever you wish—there's no clutch pedal to push, ever.

Here your mind's free completely of remembering when to shift—no gears ever shift anywhere in the car.

Here, you glide over ground and grades in swift and utter smoothness as constant and unbroken as Niagara's flow.

For here you have the only passenger car in America where liquid replaces both the usual clutch and the low-second-high gear sequence of conventional transmissions.

Here you sit in blissful ease while the power plant itself meets and masters the thousand and one situations that come up in travel.

Gentle grades, steep hills, long straightaways, stop streets—once your lever's set, you simply step on the gas—and take them all in liquid-smooth luxury!

Does all this sound fabulous? It is.

So fabulous that folks are signing up in droves for the '48 fashion plate with this new-wonder drive.

So to take command of this traveler-touched-with-magic, come see us quickly and get your order in.

We'll take it in sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

Strength FOR THE DAY

TOWARD A PERFECT SOCIETY

In the second and fourth chapters of the Book of Acts, we have a picture of the life existing in the early Christian church immediately after it was created under the power of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost.

There was a serious religious zeal in this early church which has probably never been equaled in the past 2000 years. There was great joy among the members. There was a fellowship which was destined in 300 years to burst the fabric of the Roman Empire and establish a new social order. Most singular of all was the custom of holding their goods in common. This was not communism as we understand it today, but was the joyful willingness of all Christians to share anything they had with needy brethren.

This picture of the early church seems to have been incorporated in the New Testament as an ideal to which we have here the picture of an almost perfect society. The thing for modern man to ponder is that the secret underlying this marvelous social life was religious faith. We strive today for better world order. This is hopeless unless it is accompanied by a profound arousal of religious faith and a widespread consecration of human hearts to the will of Almighty God.

Around Capitol Square

ANALYSIS — North Carolinians have had ten days in which to study and analyze the results of the recent primary campaigns. This period included a long weekend incident to the Fourth of July holiday and announcement of official returns in the run-off of June 26. Advocates of the defeated candidates have recovered from the first shock, and supporters of the winner have had their original exuberance sobered by realization of the responsible task ahead of them. From the vantage point of ten days after, with wider perspective than was possible during and immediately following the primary, many incidents can be more accurately evaluated.

MACHINE — Most obvious fact is that there was, and is not yet, anything resembling an effective "state political machine." Second outstanding fact is that while there was some evidence in both primaries of consolidated Negro and organized labor voting, there were no solid "blocks" of material consequence. Bloc voting for United States senator and governor in four places, but by and large the four hundred thousand True Believers who participated in the two primaries voted not as farmers, or mechanics, or labor unionists, or lawyers but as North Carolinians. Less than half the qualified Democratic voters exercised the right and performed the duty of voting, but no serious question can be raised about the will of the people having prevailed.

HONESTY — A third accepted fact is the election was honest. There were local incidents involving questionable practice, and in a few precincts there might have been juggling of vote counts. The size of minorities in the two top races is evidence of honesty. Admitting, solely for purpose of argument, that there was some "stealing" of votes, it would have been impossible for experts to steal enough to pile up a 24,000 majority for Senator-dominated Broughton and 33,000 majority for governor-dominated Scott.

WHO'D UNITE — This is also the period of figuring out who or what contributed most to the final outcome. The air around Capitol square is as full of "ifs" as a blossoming sourwood tree is of bees. All over the state the air is full of claims by supporters of the winners that it was they, or he, or she who did it. For most part the experienced practical politicians just put responsibility on a Pete—and let it go at that. The Greeks had a word for it, but Americans do not.

JOBS — Significance of the who-done-it issue is that the accepted answer will influence the personnel on a hundred of so state and federal jobs. In operation of state government North Carolina has never quite subscribed fully to the Jacksonian theory "to the victors belong the spoils." Neither has the state gone all the way toward an ideal civil service program for evaluating officials and employees. It has more nearly followed the dictum of Ben Venue: "The horse that pulls the plow should eat the fodder; and the horse that eats the fodder should pull the plow." That was

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—The cry toward war gets louder. It goes into the bars, it reaches into the homes. It comes down on the elected heads of the people, and it reaches into the hearts of the men who may have to lead the American nation in the next war—if it comes.

One who considers it with no enthusiasm is the man whose orders cost more American lives in the second world war than any other commander. His name is Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, the Army's chief of staff. He is a tall gaunt homely man from Missouri—the state that produced "Blackjack" Pershing—who hates war more than any professional soldier I ever knew.

General Bradley, who threw a baseball farther than any man who ever went to West Point, was the architect of victory in the field in Europe during the second world war but didn't get overseas during the first fight.

He once said he had spent the intervening period explaining why he titles to back up our diplomatic commitments. Increase our sources and stockpiles of critical and strategic materials. Encourage in every way discoveries in this country and the hemisphere of new sources of metals and minerals, including petroleum. All of the foregoing, while essential important, will be of no avail unless it is supported by the mobilized spiritual resources of all our people.

The NSRB has a Division of Production that is concerned with manufacturing. The Division of Production has a materials group covering fuels, chemicals, minerals, forest products, textiles, fiber and leather and food. There is also a utilities group.

Another division of the NSRB is concerned with transportation and storage. There is also a Human Resources Division and an Economic Management Division concerned with such things as price and wage controls and rationing.

hadn't. And when he was asked how he could order hundreds of thousands of soldiers to undertake missions that might mean their deaths, he replied soberly: "I spent 30 years of my life preparing for this."

It was said in complete honesty and sincerity—As is typical with General Bradley.

From El Guettar in Africa to the River Elbe in Germany no field commander had more to do with the allied triumph than Bradley. He was Eisenhower's right hand and his stainless instrument of victory.

General Bradley commanded more fighting troops overseas than any other man in American history. He was a kind of gentle but firm wedding of U. S. Grant and Robert E. Lee.

He was perhaps even more a military Abraham Lincoln, able to weld a selfless devotion to his duty as he saw it to a stubborn certainty that he would win his aims. He never lost.

And his chief weapon was character. That was and remains his finest armor.

One test of a commander is the loyalty he stirs in the men around him. In General Bradley's case it was never the blind adoration given to an insistent leader. It came completely from the heart.

It comes—years after Tunisia, Sicily and Normandy—from my heart. Of all the men I met in years of trooping with the colors in combat I can say with an admiration beyond any I have given to another man, dead or alive.

"Omar Nelson Bradley, to the best of my ability to judge men, is the finest man, in war or peace, I have met in my time."

It would be superfluous to say I would risk my life for him—because so many have done that already. And I was lucky and still have mine. And so many who weren't lucky lost theirs. But I would still go with him anywhere.

There he is, a simple, unprepossessing man who detests war more than any mother who lost a son. Because he lost a lot of friends, and a lot of boys he regarded almost as sons. He thinks we've got to learn to do a world agency to rid the universe of war. But if it comes again in our time, he can't conceive of a sounder, safer, more considerate—and yet more adventurous leader—than General Bradley.

I don't know a man who knows war better or likes peace more. He gave the orders once. He doesn't want to give them again.

Practical Learning

By CHESTER WALSH

When a student graduates from the "Veteran Farmers' Training School" at the Winterville High School he has a thorough knowledge of farming, especially the mechanics of the industry, and he has acquired much of it by practical experience under direction of Prof. J. H. Mobley, the supervisor, and W. R. McLawhorn, H. H. Forrest and D. C. Buck, the other teachers. The students ranged from buck privates to lieutenants in World War II and some of them are married.

An evidence of the excellent practical experience the GI students receive in the school is the 36 by 46-foot workshop and class room building which houses $11,000 worth of machinery and other equipment. The students volunteered to enlarge the structure by adding 19 feet to the building. Under direction of Prof. Mobley, they dug the foundation and laid the brick, did the carpenter work, installed electric and plumbing equipment, tinned the roof and built the chimney and then did the finishing work.

The students volunteered under the GI bill to do the work and they have completed a $4,000 structure and saved Pitt county about $2,000 for labor. The students made the furniture and other shop and class room equipment. They did this work before botococ curing time set in. The government paid married students $90 a month for their work and single men $65.

The GI students must spend 300 hours a year in school. They must each have several projects on the farm. The project may be pure-bred hog or cattle raising or dairying.

poultry raising or gardening or field crops. A rule of the Veteran Farmers' Training school is that the three assistant agricultural teachers must visit each student on the farm at least four hours a week.

The 57 GI students take pride in the training school and they were loud in their praise of it when a reporter visited them while erecting the annex to the workshop.

All phases of technical knowledge, theory and practice, are taught. The students, in groups, from time to time visit different experiment field stations and special farming or livestock projects. They are better farmers since taking the courses. They are learning to care for machinery and can haul their broken down machinery to the workshop and repair it and that's a credit on their course. They are learning all of the mechanics of farming—how to take care of equipment and how to repair it when it gets out of water. They are learning the science of agriculture in a way that will be permanently profitable to them, and their success on the farm proves this.

Poland To Penalize Drinking Husbands

Warsaw, Poland — (AP) — Husbands who like to drink and fail to get along with their wives are headed for "allimony road" in Poland. A new section of Poland's marriage laws provides that a court may order all wages or other financial income of a drinking husband to be paid fully or in part to a needy wife.

HANDY GADGET

As souvenirs, folks at a meeting recently received auto key chains. Attached to these were coin slots, to hold nickels for parking meters.

You don't need this handy gadget when you visit Goldsboro. Parking is free. And the Goldsboro News-Arrow would fight its editorial hardest at any suggestion that parking meters be put in Goldsboro. With 4 rows of angle parking on Center street, parking meters would be absurd.

'Bat-Bomb' Used On Old Warship

Pearl Harbor, July 7 — (AP) — The tough old veteran of the United States fleet, the Battleship New York, turns her armor-plated hide today to the navy's weird new "Bat Bomb" — The first weapon to be used in her sinking.

The 30,000-ton warship, which emerged unscathed from two wars and survived two atomic blasts at Bikini, has been towed to a point 50 miles south of here to test the strength of task force 38.

Rear Adm. Marshall R. Greer, Task force commander, said the radar-guided "Bats" were used against the Japanese late in the war but—by that time—Nippon had no major ships left for targets. He said this evening's assault will be the first use of the "Bats" against a ship of the New York's size.

"Bat" attacks also will be launched tomorrow morning. They will be followed by air, surface and underwater vessel tests until the 34-year-old vessel is sunk. The New York is still radioactive from the Bikini tests.

The navy said the "Bat" Bombs are the first fully automatic guided missiles used in combat. They are regulation 1,000-pound bombs, rigged with glider-like wings and tail. They have a radar directional mechanism which can be fixed on the target by the plane launching them. Radar apparatus then guides the bomb into the target regardless of evasive action of the target ship.

P. U. Craver Serves As Head Of Summer Graduating Class

Paul U. Craver of Lexington, senior at East Carolina Teachers College, is serving as president of the summer graduating class at the college, a group made up of both seniors and graduate students. Elizabeth Cates of Timberlake is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Craver, who has been engaged in a number of extra-curricular activities on the campus here, was president of the college YMCA last year. He has also been an officer of the Student Government Association and a member of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business education fraternity; chairman of the Wesley Foundation, organization of Methodist students; keeper for the senior play in 1948; and a member of the Veterans Club. Among activities being planned for graduates this summer is a luncheon to be given in August in the north dining room on the campus. With the help of college authorities, Craver and Miss Cates are making arrangements for the event.

Three Involved In Larceny Cigarettes

Police arrested Thomas R. Simmons, colored, 33, during the week-end on the charge of the larceny of a case of cigarettes from the Bilbro Wholesale Company, on Dickinson Avenue. They also arrested Jack Teale, colored, and John Oliver Mitchell, colored, and charged them with receiving stolen goods. Teale and Mitchell operate small stores. Authorities said that Simmons sold one-half of the case of cigarettes to Teale, the other half to Mitchell.

Colored News

Notice to all P. T. A.-C. I. O. members—There will be a membership meeting at the Mount Calvary Church Thursday night, July 8. It is requested that all members be present.—Mrs. Annie Streeter, acting chairman. Mrs. Annie F. Little, recording secretary.

Mr. Robert Overby, born February 20, 1912, departed this life June 28, 1948. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion. He was a partner in the colored veterans baseball team. Mrs. Bertha Overby, wife of the deceased, extends her sincere and heartfelt thanks to everyone who was so kind while her beloved husband laid in state. Your kindness and sympathy are more deeply appreciated than words can express and too for the floral designs from friends.

Car Gets Around

Hickory, N. C., July 7 — (AP) — Used cars get around nowadays. That's brought to light in the tracing of a bill-of-sale number for an automobile sold in Hickory. The investigation extended from Hickory to Lisbon, Portugal, to Vera Cruz and Monterey, Mexico, to San Antonio, Tex., then back to Detroit, Mich., where the car was built.

Crossed Wires In Telephone, Radio

Huntington, W. Va., July 7 — (AP) — The multiple party line is relatively private compared to what happens when telephone and radio get mixed up in Huntington.

Mrs. Edwin Fleming says the sound of a woman calling a local department store came over her radio while she listened to a program here yesterday. She distinctly heard the interloper ask for the glove department. And Program Director Ted Eiland of WSAZ here said he heard a Chicago telephone conversation B. Wheeler responded to a telephone alarm. He dashed out with the fire engine to help extinguish a blaze in his own car.

But before housewives had rushed to their radios in hopes of tuning in on the lady upstairs, a spokesman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here had ventured an explanation. He said phone cables are used to pipe programs over networks, and some of them might have gotten crossed.

Russia Planning Huge Urals Dam

Moscow — (AP) — Thirty thousand workers will be soon building an immense dam across the Kama River in the Northern Urals.

Building a power station which will be the second largest in the Soviet Union and furnish immense quantities of cheap electric power to this important industrial area, the workers will have to move twenty million cubic meters of earth and install 60,000 tons of structural steel.

TAXES HIT JAP LIQUOR
Tokyo, July 7 — (AP) — Liquor prices in Japan jumped as much as 60 per cent today as new taxes became effective.
A sho (two quarts) of sake jumped from 600 yen ($2.22) to 900 yen

($3.70). A sho of beer rose from 41 yen to 70 yen.

HAROLD'S ESSO SERVICE

HE'S NOT ON OUR PAYROLL...

but we couldn't do business without him!

When you take your car to an Esso Dealer Station for gasoline, motor oil, or a complete lubrication job—you're not really "doing business" directly with Esso Standard Oil Company, even though we make the fine products you get.

Instead, these 25,000 Esso Dealers from Maine to Louisiana are local, independent business men. You deal with the owners themselves—men who have invested their money and their initiative in building their own futures on serving you.

From many competing brands of gasoline and oil, these local business men have chosen Esso products. Year after year, they have seen first-hand evidence of the satisfaction to the buyer that Esso quality stands for.

As of today, these able business men have, on the average, handled Esso products for 12 years each.

Many have bought from us for 35 to 40 years. Obviously, we couldn't do business without these men. And naturally we're proud of them—just as proud of them as we are of the 28,000 workers who are on our company payroll.

Both groups—our own employees and these "partners" in their independent businesses—express this company's basic belief that individual enterprise, given its fair chance to earn fair rewards—is the best way and the American way to make progress with and for all the people of this country.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 23

I hung up and waited again. It wasn't very long before Raniel and Winkle came boiling in—they must have driven at J. D. Thatcher speed.

"Let me speak the first word, Raniel," I said to him, as quickly as I could get it in. "I didn't kill these men. I called you up as soon as I was sure they were dead, and I didn't touch either body. So help me."

"You'll have to prove all three of those things, especially about killing them or not," he said, tramping into the room. "Winkle, try the medical examiner's number again."

Winkle went to the phone and I joined Raniel beside what was left of Alchisez.

"I can prove that first point," I said. "My boss, Miss J. D. Thatcher, was here with me. We got a note from Alchisez at our office. She can clear me and I can clear her. Why don't you find the real bird that's doing all these murders, and let me alone? I could be a big help to you if the mood was on me."

OZARK IKE

Kovalchick Hurls And Hits 4-3 Victory Against Jays

Challenger Finds His Left Hand Is A Potent Weapon

Philadelphia, July 7—(AP)—When Champion Ike Williams placed his lightweight crown on the line against Beau Jack at Shibe Park Monday, he'll find the former Atlanta bootblack has added an effective left jab to his rough and tumble style of fighting.

Beau Jack came out of the battle royal rings seven years ago with a two-fisted attack that was decidedly lacking in the finer points of fistcraft.

Yet his style of lowering his head and baring in with both hands flailing was a crowd pleaser. It carried him to record gates at Madison Square Garden and the 135-pound title. He won the title from Bob Montgomery only to lose it back to him.

Now he is shooting again for the title after twice recovering from a broken knee cap.

He still goes in there swinging with both fists but he's not adverse to a swift jab that carries plenty of power followed with his idea of a right cross.

Against two sparring partners yesterday, Jack repeatedly rocked them back on their heels with that left.

"He's been using his left that way more and more since returning to the ring last November," said Trainer Sid Bell. "But notice he hasn't lost any of his power. If anything he's hitting harder than ever."

Charlie Smith, who twice dropped split decisions to Williams and has a style much like the champion, tried to keep the hustling Beau at a distance. But Beau would stand with his left two or three times and then swarm all over him.

"That's the way he goes to beat Williams," said Joe Gramby, former manager of Montgomery. "Williams isn't used to having his opponents come after him. Beau will break right through Ike's defense."

Father And Son In Olympic Event

New York, July 7—(AP)—Hilary H. Smart, 22-year-old Harvard senior from Noroton, Conn., and his father, Paul H. Smart, will represent the United States as the star yacht crew in the Olympic races later this month.

The Smarts finished the five-race eliminations in lower New York Bay with a total of 32 points, although their boat, Hilarious, was beaten in the final test yesterday by Lockwood Pirie's twin star of Wilmette Harbor, Ill.

According to the latest averages Willie Mauney, ex-Greenville now with Concord of the N. C. State League, is hitting at a .353 clip. . . . The Evansville Club of the Three-I League, who held their spring training here in Greenville, is now in second place in league standings, according to the latest reports which includes games through Thursday July 1st. . . . They have won 36, lost 21 for an average of .532 percent.

Benny Crowe, who played center-field for the Greens during the 1941 season in which he hit at a .307 during the season, is back in town for a few days with his wife, the former Miss Doris Allen of this city, visiting friends. Benny says that he is playing baseball near his home town in Massachusetts. Benny says it is the first time in six years since he has been in Greenville. . . . Joe Spessa's parents of New Jersey, who were here during the past week-end, returned to their home yesterday.

More than 3,700,000 votes for the major leagues' All-Star teams, exceeding last year's total of 1,973,493, have been cast by fans, according to the latest tabulations through July 2nd. In the spoli's race, Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder, leads with 968,963 votes; Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, is second with 961,265; Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, is third with 942,974, and Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's manager-shortstop, is fourth with 894,584. . . . The All-Star game will be played in St. Louis, July 13th.

Days to honor four members of the Yankees have been scheduled at the New York Yankee Stadium. Tommy Henrich will have his July 17; Bill Johnson, July 26; Phil Rizzuto, August 29, and Charlie Keller, now on the injured list, September 25th.

In all games against the Dodgers this season, Stan Musial of the Cardinals has hit .438. He completed a .507 average, with 17 hits in 28 trips, at Ebbets Field, and hit only .167 against the same club at home.

Lee Tannehill, Cub shortstop, set a new record by pulling two unassisted double plays, August 4, 1911, against the Dodgers.

Catcher Walker Cooper fears that he may do very little catching for the Giants this month, due to the failure of his bad knee to stand up following his May operation. At the conclusion of the Braves series, June 30, Cooper visited his doctor in New York to see what could be done about the knee, which had stiffened up badly instead of strengthening following several days of regular catching. Walker said his good knee also had become lame from favoring his ailing prop.

Had To Have Help In Ninth From Arroyo; Bob Cohen Comes Up With A Double And Four Singles For Perfect Night At Bat

By BERT MOYE

Johnny Kovalchick pitched and batted his fourth win against the Roanoke Rapids Jays at Roanoke Rapids last night as he scattered 11 hits in registering a 4-3 win over the Jays. The win for Kovalchick was his ninth of the season. He has five losses.

The Greens scored in the first and third frames to take the lead, which they held up until the fourth when the Jays knotted the count at two-all. In the first frame Wood walked, Carter singled advancing Wood to third and Bob Cohen singled, bringing in Wood. In the third, Cohen and Nessing singled, Spessa flew out to centerfield and when Ferra threw to Stu Martin at third, Martin let the ball get away from him with Cohen racing home on the error.

The Jays accounted for two runs in the fourth when Pavlich and Martin singled, Hammack walked, leading the bases. King reached first on fielder's choice with Pavlich scoring on the play and Bolick singled to bring in Martin.

The deadlock was broken in the sixth frame when the Jays scored a singleton to go out in front—a lead which they held until the eighth frame. Hammack singled and Bolick tripled to bring him home.

The Greens came from behind in the eighth frame to put across two runs for their margin of victory. McQuillen doubled to left and scored on another two-base blow by Nash. A wild pitch and Kovalchick's single brought in McQuillen with the winning run.

Johnny Kovalchick pitched the victory but had to have help in the ninth inning as the Greens had singled and had been sacrificed to second with the tying run on base. Luis Arroyo came to his rescue at this point and retired the next two Jays without any trouble.

Milt Bolick, Jays' second sacker, was the big gun for the losers, collecting a triple and two singles in five trips to the plate to lead the 11-hit attack off Kovalchick.

Manager Bob Cohen with a double and four singles had a perfect night at bat and Johnny Kovalchick got two singles and a double for a perfect night. Manager Stu Martin used three hurlers in last night's game who gave up a total of 13 hits.

In winning the National Collegiate 100 and 200-meter sprint championship, Mel Patton reassured American enthusiasts that interests of the United States would be well taken care of in the sprint events at the Olympic games in London. Any fears that the leg injuries which sidelined the Trojan Tornado for a few weeks this spring were of a permanent nature disappeared when Patton ran the 100 meters in 10.4 seconds and then took the 200 meters in 20.7 seconds, equalling the world mark for the distance around one turn.

Dean Cromwell, Patton's tutor at Southern California and coach of the U. S. Olympic team, rates Patton the finest sprinter in the world today. With the amazing array of sprint talent which Cromwell has developed in his years of coaching to back up his opinion, there must be much to what he says. Cromwell has developed many outstanding sprinters and five of his charges matched the world record for the 100-yard dash.

Howard Drew ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds in 1914. Then along came Charley Paddock, one of the greatest sprinters, who won the 100-meter Olympic crown in 1920. Paddock ran 9.8 several times and then created a new standard of 9.5. Charley Borah came along in 1926 to equal Paddock's 9.5 and he was followed by Frank Wykoff, who reduced the sprint mark to 9.4. The six-foot Patton is potentially the greatest of the lot. He has run 9.3.

Four Million Fans Name Teams In All-Star Contest
Chicago, July 7—(AP)—Starting lineups, chosen by fans in a three week poll for the all-star baseball game in St. Louis next Tuesday, includes players from six National and five American League clubs.

A record of 4,107,893 fans returned their selections during the balloting which ended at midnight Monday. The poll showed Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox as the greatest individual vote-getter with a total of 1,566,784. Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals was second with 1,532,592, and Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, the 1947 leader, was third with 1,519,182.

The lineup choices are for every position except pitcher. The rival managers, Bucky Harris of the Yankees and Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, will name their own mound staffs.

The two managers also will pick the remainder of the 25-player squads. They are expected to follow closely the fan voting at the various positions.

Here are the fans' lineups:

Top Woman Track Star Is Talking Of Retirement
Grand Rapids, Mich., July 7—(AP)—Stella Walsh, leather-tough track veteran of more than a score of years talked retirement today after outshining the cream of the nation's women's athletes in yesterday's national women's AAU track meet.

"I'll probably retire from track this summer or fall," said the lean and lanky star of the Polish woman's AC Cleveland, after a rousing triple victory performance that was good for firsts in the broad jump, the 100-meter and the 200-meter runs.

Miss Walsh, who is ineligible for Olympic competition because she competed for her native Poland in the 1936 games, said she would turn her attention to golf.

Gil Dodds Laid Up With Injury
Boston, July 7—(AP)—Ace distance runner Gil Dodds—unbeaten in his last 37 competitions—today suffered a strained achilles tendon in his left leg which his coach said may force him out of the final Olympic tryouts in Chicago next Saturday.

Coach Jack Ryder said the injury was the first one suffered in Dodds' career and caused the first cancellation of a scheduled workout—a two mile run.

Meet To Select Athletic Mentor
Raleigh, N. C., July 7—(AP)—The N. C. State College Athletic Council met here today to consider candidates for the post of athletic director.

Dr. H. A. Fisher, chairman of the council, said its executive committee will present the names of "three or four" men. The field of 50 applicants was cut to this number by the committee after it was charged last month with sifting down the list.

Ted Williams Has Trouble At Bat

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugger, has proved to be only human after all. He has hit a batting slump, just like other guys, but he still is far ahead in the American League hitting race with .388.

Williams cooled off with only five blows in 29 trips last week — his poorest showing since his sizzling pace into the 400's. He plunged from a breath-taking .415 percentage to the respectable .386—a nose dive of 29 points.

Lou Boudreau continued to be his nearest pursuer. The Cleveland shortstop-manager was 26 points behind with .360 in averages through Monday's games. Al Zarilla of St. Louis was third with .342 followed by Bobby Brown, New York, .324; Luke Appling, Chicago, .319; Johnny Lindell, New York, .314; Walt Evers, Detroit, .307; Barney McCosky, Philadelphia, .306; George Kell, Detroit, .304, and Joe DiMaggio, New York, and Bob Dillinger, St. Louis, .299.

Sign 'Satchel'
Cleveland, July 7—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced the signing of Leroy (Satchel) Paige, 39-year-old pitcher recognized as one of the "greats" in Negro baseball.

Tribe Manager Lou Boudreau did not disclose whether he intended to use the hurler in relief or starting roles, but said he would be in uniform tonight.

A tall, slim right-hander, Paige has been with the Kansas City Monarchs for about six years. Tribe President Bill Veck said he was signed after "we had searched the country in search of a capable pitcher."

Cincinnati Finds A Power-Hitter
Chicago, July 7—(AP)—Big Ted Kluszewski — whose wrist-powered drives provided the Cincinnati Reds with two consecutive ninth inning victories—may have found a major league hitting stride like the ones he showed in the two minor league batting crowns.

The former Indiana University star caught a slow curve in a nightcap at Pittsburgh Monday and turned it into a game-tying homer. The 400-foot blow over the left field fence put the 230-pounder among the few left-handed batters who hit homers over that fence. The blow started a Reds rally to a 6-4 victory.

The Reds trailed by one run going into the ninth last night at Pittsburgh, and again big Ted came through. He doubled with two away and the bases loaded, bringing in the tying and winning runs. Hank Sauer tallied on a passed ball to make the final score 6-4.

Kluszewski, who hails from Argo, Ill., currently is batting .373 and his 38 major league hits include 18 for extra bases. He has eight doubles, two triples and five homers. He has batted in 27 runs—six in two days.

The six-foot, two-inch first baseman was known as "Memphis" Mighty Mauler in the southern association last year. He pounded opposition pitching to a .400 tune most of the season and ended with .377—tops in the league.

BOY'S LEAGUE BASEBALL

Although outlit, the Tigers of Third St. won their first game of the second half Tuesday over the Greens by the score of 7 to 3. The Tigers had less hits but among their eight hits were two homers, two triples, and two doubles. Julian Valmwright led the hitting for the winners with two triples. Fred Joseph and Sydney Briel hit for the circuit for the Tigers Hilton Quinn with a single and homerun and Joe Clark with two singles were the leaders for the Greens.

The Red Sox played one of their best games of the year in defeating the Lions of W. Greenville yesterday by the score of 10 to 3. They hit often and for distance and played a steady defensive game. On the other hand, the Lions were not up to par getting only five hits and committed six errors.

Dallas Evans and Catlett got three hits each to lead the Sox. Ike Riddick and Bobby Faulkner were not far behind them with a pair of hits for the day. Jerry Phillips was the hitting star for the losers with two singles and a homerun.

Schedule for Thursday: Lions vs Dodgers, Third St., 3:30 a.m. Orioles vs Giants, Third St., 9:30 a.m. Greens vs Tigers, Third St., 9:30 a.m.

Hobo Hideout Is Located Under A Police Station

New Orleans, July 7—(AP)—Police hastily organized a raid on a hobo jungle here—when they discovered it sprawled beneath the first precinct police station.

To their amazement, they found yesterday a maze of passageways honeycombed underneath the old building, with electricity, water and steam heat conduits tapped for transient tramps.

The only hobo captured was a fellow found reclining on a mattress and reading a magazine under a brilliant light.

On a promise of immunity, he volunteered:

"That place was known as 'Hotel de Bastille'."

It has been in existence for months, perhaps years.

"Guests" entered this haven nightly with amazing simplicity.

It is accessible from 10 to 12 vents in the sides of the structure. Bushes shield the entrance ways.

Desk Sgt. Edward Fallon climbed through the many tunnels, with the hobo as guide and patrolmen at his heels.

Old clothing, liquor bottles and other evidences of tramp lodgings were found.

Police Capt. Arthur Maurilo, who was unable to squeeze his ample bulk through some of the narrow tunnels, said it was "easily possible" for underworld elements to have found sanctuary there for years.

Their unidentified guide even pointed out the "royal suite" containing a neatly dusted davenport, a bed lamp, lights strung to the police station wiring, and a supply of food.

Saved His Dog, Dog Saves Him

Newberry, S. C., July 7—(AP)—Farmer H. O. Long's bird dog became very ill last winter. He took the dog to a veterinarian in Greenville for expert treatment; after a while the dog recovered.

Last week a cow kicked Farmer Long, knocked him down and fractured his leg. The animal was attempting to gore the farmer when the dog raced up and drove the infuriated cow away.

Jaycees Plan Scrap Paper Drive Here

Sunday afternoon, July 18, the Jaycees will collect scrap paper from the homes of Greenville in order to raise funds for remodeling the old mess hall at the NYA center into a recreation building for the young people, president B. B. Sugg, Jr.

stated today.

This building was recently turned over to the Recreation Commission, which will use it during the next few weeks before turning it over to the Jaycees for further remodeling.

Trucks will start canvassing the town about 2 p. m. on Sunday, July 18th.

The people of Greenville are urged to: (1) save all scrap paper; (2) keep magazines separate from newspapers; (3) place securely in bundles; and (4) place bundles on front porches on Sunday July 18th.

Brutal Mother . . .

ings, improper relationships between the sexes, and other affronts against human decency.

Recently, he says, he picked up a copy of Mother Goose at the home of a friend who had just scored the night lights out of his child by chanting the story of the bough breaking and the baby falling.

Cousins says:

"That started me to thinking and reading. I borrowed Junior's copy of Mother Goose and began to read the rhymes rather than to chant them in supine and idiotic acceptance."

"And once I got away from rote, I discovered that there were no sweet, innocuous ditties but a series of vicious, seditious, gory, vengeful episodes camouflaged as children's ditties through the simple device of monosyllables and singsong rhythm."

Needing some example? The old woman who lived in a shoe and, because she didn't know what to do with all her children, whipped them before sending them off to bed.

Then there's the sexton who pushed the sow down the well; the woman who cut off the tails of the blind mice . . . there are plenty of examples.

Maybe some day Cousins will do a similar job on the fairy tales, like some of those of Hans Christian Andersen and the gloomy Grimm brothers.

There's no more brutal story in literature than Andersen's "The Tinderbox," the tale of a homecoming soldier who was made rich by a witch, thanked her by cutting off her head for no good reason, lived like a bum, stole some money, had an affair with a princess, married her, and bumped off her old man and her whole family with wild dogs.

There are no homely virtues in that story, although it can be argued it teaches young people realism by showing you don't have to be good to get what you want.

Company Raises Hard Coal Price

Philadelphia, July 7—(AP)—Hard coal price increases ranging from 50 cents to $1.10 per net ton were announced today by the Lehigh Navigation Coal Company.

The company said the increases, which reflect the wage boosts granted over the last week end to the United Mine Workers, will go into effect July 16.

The hike on coal prices will be the second within six weeks for anthracite consumers.

Judge Frizzelle To Preside Here

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill, who is riding the Fifth Judicial Circuit the last six months of this year, will preside over a civil term of Superior court here the week of August 23.

The Greene County jurist will preside over a mixed criminal and civil term the week of August 30. The mixed term will be devoted to trial of criminal cases, it is understood.

The criminal docket is unusually heavy and contains some important cases, including murder.

signed by the Reds to be the strong point of the center.

These signs of weakness developing in the Bolshevik battle-line certainly don't lend strength to the Russian campaign against the Western Allies in Germany. When the battle line still seemed unimpaired it was quite clear that Moscow was prepared to force the issue against the Western powers by all means short of actual gunfire. Russia hasn't wanted war, but in order to further her Red revolution in Europe she has been willing to take many risks in an effort to browbeat the democracies.

The allied notes calling for an force the Soviet to disclose whether it has carried its challenge as far as seems smart at this juncture.

Family Row Winds Up In Police Court

What started out as a family row in the Fleming's Cross Roads community last night ended as a Police Court case when officers last night arrested Dora Stancill, 31, colored, for assaulting Jessie Mae Stancill, colored, with a deadly weapon, a brick; and Frank Stancill, 37, colored, for carrying a concealed weapon, a pistol, on and off his premises. Jessie Mae Stancill signed both warrants.

The cases will be tried before Judge J. W. H. Roberts in Police Court Friday.

Grain Market

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—Wheat came to life and moved ahead a couple of cents in fairly active dealings on the board of trade today. Corn tried to gather some strength from the wheat advance, but ran into a number of selling bursts which often sent prices below the previous close.

Wheat closed 2½-3½ higher, July $2.31½, corn was ¼-1½ higher, July $2.08½-¼, oats were ¼-1½ higher, July 88½-¼, and soybeans were 1 to 2 cents higher, July $4.08.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, July 7—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady at 34-35, mostly 34. Eggs steady, A large 51.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, July 7—(AP)—The stock market vainly attempted to reach higher price territory today. Gains were fairly well distributed for a while but eventually many advances were either cut down or erased.

Volume ran a little under yesterday's 950,000 shares with the day's total around 900,000.

Among the losers were U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Firestone Inc., American Telephone, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Great Northern Preferred, Central of N. J., and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Clinging to small gains were Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Baltimore and Ohio, and Schenley.
