More Transports Assigned Berlin

Templehof Airfield Also Expanded By American Command; Goal Of 160 Big Planes Set By Air Force For Use In Air Lift; Informant Reaffirms British Reinforcement

Berlin, July 13 (AP)—The Americans came up with two counter measures today to the protracted Russian blockade of Berlin. They assigned more transports to the air lift into the city and went to work expanding the facilities of Templehof Airfield.

Meanwhile, the British were reported sending fresh ground troops into Germany, with many said to be slated for Berlin duty. The report was officially denied in London, however.

Five C-54 Skymasters arrived in Frankfurt today from the United States and four more are expected in the next few hours. The new group is under command of Col. Glen R. Burchard of Bay City, Mich.

In announcing the plane step-up last night, U.S. Air Force headquarters in Washington said the nine additional Skymasters will bring to 160 the total of two and four engine transports at American disposal in Germany.

Authoritative government sources in London insisted that Britain has been sending a "considerable number" of troop reinforcements into Germany. They made the reaffirmation in the face of a denial from the British War Office which said: "There is no truth in the report that considerable numbers of troops are being flown from England either to Berlin or to the British zone of Germany."

The government informants contended that deployment of the fresh forces, mainly young conscripts, was a tip-off of talks in London yesterday between Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor in Germany, and military and government officials.

A Moscow radio broadcast heard in London urged that a German peace treaty be concluded quickly, so that the occupation troops of all nations might be withdrawn within a year after the signing of the pact.

The broadcast recalled that recommendations along those lines were made at the recent Warsaw conference of Russia and her satellites.

"The presence of foreign troops in the center of Europe cannot be regarded as a normal thing," the broadcast said.

The Moscow radio added, however, that "it would be wrong to isolate the proposal of withdrawal of troops from Germany from all other proposals made by the Warsaw conference." Those included four-power control over the Ruhr's heavy industry and formation of an all-German government.

N.C. Turnage Is Returning 'Home'

Washington, July 13 (AP)—Needham Coy Turnage is going home to North Carolina today to get well.

The 40-year-old State Commissioner is taking a leave of absence from his duties as an arraignment magistrate for the first time in 25 years because of chest infection.

A native of Clayton, Turnage also lived in Wilson before coming to the National capital where he has handled more than 30,000 cases.

Wilson's First

Wilson, July 13 (AP)—Wilson county's first polio case this summer was reported today by Health Officer Dr. D. C. Franklin. The patient is a two-year-old girl of near Sharpsburg.

Atomic Loyalty Check

Atomic Energy Commission Mostly Concerned With People Who "Talk Too Much" And Likely To Disclose Secrets; Powers Of AEC Limited; Policy Of Commission

Washington — Some atomic scientists are objecting to the way the government has handled accusations against the loyalty and character of people working on secret atomic projects. The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has not disclosed how many employees may have been released for security reasons. Some scientists say that because there has been no announcement it is likely not more than a very few people, if any, have been dismissed.

But M. Gerson and M. L. Lesser, atomic scientists at Oak Ridge, Tenn., writing in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, say two research men at Oak Ridge have been suspended pending a hearing and six others notified there is "uncertainty" over their cases. T. H. Davies, assistant professor of chemistry and member of the Institute of Nuclear Studies at the University of Chicago, says in the same issue that several employees in the Argonne National laboratory at Chicago several at the Brookhaven, N. Y., laboratory and one at the Hanford, Wash., plant also have been notified.

32 New Cases Of Polio Reported Board Of Health

Brings Total For The Year To 544; All Known Measures Of Value Being Taken

Raleigh, N. C., July 13 (AP)—Thirty-two additional cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the State Board of Health today.

The new cases brought the total for the year to 544, the figure for July to 134 and for June to 284.

Meanwhile, an official of the U. S. Public Health Service conferred with State Health officials regarding the Polio epidemic and asserted that "I feel everything is being done by the state and local public health personnel that is known to be of value."

Guliford county, one of the hardest hit in the state, reported six of today's cases.

Rowan county reported four, Catawba, Davidson and Durham counties reported three cases each. Cleveland, Craven, Mecklenburg, and Orange reported two cases each; and Buncombe, Nash, Onslow, Rutherford and Stanly counties reported one each.

In Cabarrus county, health officials recommended that camp boys not be opened Sunday as scheduled after the county's third and fourth cases of the year were reported.

Mecklenburg, where the 43rd and 44th cases of the year were reported, made plans for airplanes to spray the county with DDT.

In Cleveland county, discovery of the sixteenth and seventeenth cases of the year, brought an indefinite postponement in the opening of rural schools. The schools were scheduled to open July 26 for a split term.

Dr. Roy Norion, State Health officer, said that Dr. A. J. Asemeyer, Chief of the Epidemiology Division of the U. S. Public Health Service's communicable disease division at Atlanta, arrived yesterday to confer with health officials regarding the epidemic.

"The public may rest assured that all measures known to be of value are being taken and that adequate treatment facilities are available," Dr. Asemeyer said.

Plan Organizing Of Warehousemen

Florence, S. C., July 13 (AP)—The South Carolina Tobacco Warehouse Association, Inc., will be organized here tomorrow, resending of the short period separating the opening of the various belts.

The five-cured marketing committee, meeting recently at Raleigh, set July 22 as opening day for markets on the Georgia-Florida belt, Aug. 3 as opening day for the border belts of the Carolinas, and Aug. 19 as opening day for the Eastern North Carolina Belt.

92 Convention Votes In The Bag For Ben Laney

Philadelphia, July 13 (AP)—Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas, States' Rights candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, has 92 convention votes in the bag today.

Arkansas, it is agreed, is certain to give him 22 more, and he can expect support from at least portions of the delegations from Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Georgia and possibly Virginia.

Laney sympathizers say he will get support from still other states. The Texas delegation, which is bound by the unit rule, voted 33-21 last night to cast its 50 convention votes for Laney as long as he remains in the framework of the Democratic party—Does not bolt the convention.

Mississippi pledged its 22 and South Carolina its 20 without qualifications earlier.

While some of Laney's most enthusiastic supporters said he might get close to 300 votes on the first roll call of states, Laney himself confided to a reporter that he has no chance of nomination here.

The 51-year-old Laney said whatever convention votes he gets will be in support of a doctrine of states' rights and in opposition to President Truman's civil rights program and to the chief executive himself.

"I'm in until the end," he told a reporter. "I do not compromise or retreat on a matter of principle."

Fugitive Is Back In Custody After Escaping Prison

Artillery Thrown Into Battle For Jerusalem Road

Counter-Attacking Arab Columns Fail Retake Lydda; New Truce Anticipated

Cairo, July 13 (AP)—Israeli and Arab legion commanders threw artillery into a mounting battle for the road to Jerusalem today after two counterattacking mechanized Arab columns had failed to retake Lydda, front dispatches said.

Guns hammered away around the rocky approaches to the Judean hills within sight of Lydda and Er Rameh which the Jews took after two days of fighting.

An informant associated with the Israeli foreign office said in Tel Aviv there seemed every reason to expect a new Palestine truce probably by the end of the week. He said it would stem from modified proposals which Count Bernadotte, the U. N. mediator, is expected to place before the Security Council.

Top Arab state chiefs were in Aleh, Lebanon, for a meeting of the Arab League's political committee. No date was set for the session, which will watch closely developments at Lake Success.

A delayed dispatch from Jerusalem told of considerable air activity by both the Jews and Arabs over the Holy City Sunday night. It was believed the Israeli planes bombed Arab Legion concentrations in Jerusalem's northern perimeter.

The Arabs attempted for a second time to storm out of the old walled city and take Jewish positions on Mount Zion but were beaten back, the account said.

An Egyptian defense ministry communique said Egyptian mobile forces had attacked south of Jerusalem penetrating Jewish lines in the Katamon, Mekor Haim and Alamein camp districts.

The bulletin also reported continued air activity over Tel Aviv, Aqir airport and Jerusalem's western suburb of Ein Karem.

The Jerusalem dispatch said Israeli ground troops had taken two heights overlooking Ein Karem which is inhabited by Arabs.

Perhaps 1,000 men supported by tanks and guns were employed by Arab Legion commanders in the counterattack in the Lydda-Er Rameh area. Boiling down out of the hills from a base at Ramallah, 13 miles north of Jerusalem, the Trans-Jordan legionnaires burst through the front line of the Israeli forces, field advisers said.

Belt Nabala and Deir Tarif, three to five miles northeast of Lydda, fell to the legionnaires who came within shell range of the Jewish-captured Lydda airport, a major objective for both sides.

From there the legionnaires tried to crash through into the city of Lydda but were thrown back by the fire of Israeli troops who knocked out two armored vehicles.

Welford, W. Va., July 13 (AP)—George Washington Smith, 88-year-old farmer, left a total of 214 descendants when he died at his home here yesterday.

A complete roll call would number six sons, three daughters, 87 grandchildren, 1111 great-grandchildren, and seven great-great-grandchildren.

John Schaefer, president of the local, said the two men were "branded poor security risks" by the Navy which has contracts with the plant for gas turbine engines for aircraft.

A union meeting today was told by Frank Bradley, union business agent that the two men—Frank Carner, 30, an engineer, and Herbert Lewin, 28, sheet metal worker, were given identical letters by the Navy. He quoted the letters as saying: "This is to notify you that the Westinghouse Electric Corp. has been directed to deny you access to classified material and restricted areas pertaining to naval work. You have your rights and you may make an appeal to the Industrial Employment Review Board, Provost Marshal General, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C."

State Board Of Agriculture Has Increased Budget

Raleigh, July 13 (AP)—The State Board of Agriculture today adopted a budget of $1,044,784 for the current fiscal year. This compares with $1,027,407.41 spent last fiscal year.

Agriculture Commissioner D. S. Coltrane said that smaller receipts for this year are anticipated. He pointed out that expenditures last year exceeded receipts by about $134,000, the additional funds being drawn from an accumulated surplus.

Coltrane expressed the opinion that in the not too far future the surplus would be "wiped out" unless general fund appropriations to the Agriculture Department are increased.

Strike Called By Gov't Workers

Paris, July 13 (AP)—Approximately 20,000 French Civil Servants were called out on strike today in a movement which may snowball into a paralyzing stoppage affecting 1,000,000 government workers.

The executive committee of the non-Communist Workers' Force Union called the strike because the government refused to grant certain employees a flat $500 franc ($12) monthly wage increase.

Demo Donkey Overlooks Convention

On Sidelines

Philadelphia, July 13 (AP)—The South Carolina delegation standard stood firm last night in the prolonged demonstration on the floor of the Democratic convention for Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

Most of the South Carolina delegates present watched the demonstration while standing in their chairs.

Some unidentified person grabbed the standard from the section allotted to the South Carolina alternates, however, and had it in the stomping, singing parade until it was rescued.

Protest Actions Halt Production

Stoppage At Plant Starts Over 'Security' Suspension

Philadelphia, July 13 (AP)—Production ground to a complete halt today at the huge Lester, Pa. plant of Westinghouse Electric Corp. as 6,000 CIO workers continued a protest strike against the suspension of two members for "security" reasons.

The stoppage began with a brief sit-down yesterday following a mass meeting of Local 107, United Electrical Machine and Radio Workers. It spread at subsequent shift changes to virtually all production workers and most of the office staff.

The plant at suburban Lester is eight miles southwest of Philadelphia.

John Schaefer, president of the local, said the two men were "branded poor security risks" by the Navy which has contracts with the plant for gas turbine engines for aircraft.

A union meeting today was told by Frank Bradley, union business agent that the two men—Frank Carner, 30, an engineer, and Herbert Lewin, 28, sheet metal worker, were given identical letters by the Navy. Jet Fighters At Labrador; Wait For Adjustments

Bangor, Me., July 13 (AP)—Fourteen F-80 Shooting Stars were poised at Bangor, Labrador today for the U. S. Air Force's first jet-propelled crossing of the Atlantic.

The sleek jet fighters, bound to Germany, dropped down on the far northern base last night—about two hours and 74 miles out of Dow Air Force base here.

Two more jets which began the historic flight at Selfridge Field, Mich., yesterday stayed here overnight. They were held up for engine adjustments.

Primed for flight today the two ships awaited a weather report from Goose Bay.

Jet Fighters At Labrador; Wait For Adjustments

Fort Bragg, N. C., July 13 (AP)—Governor R. Gregg Cherry will review a National Guard parade here July 19. More than 4,000 North Carolina guardsmen, members of the 30th division, are in training at the reserve training center here.

Truman 'Happy' To Accept Barkley As Running Mate

Intend Platform To Avert Floor Fight

Drafters Look With Confidence On Results Of Long Toil; States' Rights Omitted But Wide Range Of Issues Covered

Philadelphia, July 13 (AP)—Embattled Democratic platform drafters today skipped a point-by-point endorsement of President Truman's civil rights program.

But, in a compromise move intended to re-unite the Southern and self-styled "liberal" party wings, they wrote what some Truman supporters called a "strong" race issue plank.

Phrased only in general terms it is reported to omit the far-reaching states' rights declaration angry Dixie delegates had demanded.

The 4,500-word document, drawn by a subcommittee for action late today by the 108-member full platform committee, calls for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and for an increase in the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour.

Some of the drafters voiced confidence that the compromise will avert any floor fight when the platform goes before the national convention tomorrow for ratification. Others, however, were not so sure.

One said the race plank was adopted despite White House pressure for "much more" on civil rights. President Truman was in frequent touch with the platform writers throughout their long toil. They put the last words to the semi-final document at 4 a. m. today.

Reports leaked out that, in addition to the race and labor planks, it proposes on: Living costs—a broad attack on inflation including standby price and rationing controls, as requested by Mr. Truman last fall.

Foreign affairs—a strong plank for continued and strengthened international cooperation for world peace.

Palestine—revision of the arms embargo to permit shipment of arms to the new state of Israel; immediate and full recognition of its territorial integrity; economic aid to Israel and the internationalization of Jerusalem.

Housing—federal encouragements for home-building, and government construction of low cost housing and slums clearance.

Education—federal financial aid to schools.

Agriculture—continuation of farm price supports.

Taxes—a sharp condemnation of the Republican party for "lowering taxes on the rich and putting the burden on the poor."

Displaced persons—a demand that 400,000 European war refugees be allowed to enter this country rather than the 200,000-odd provided for in the present law. That law is described as "un-American" because of "race and religious discriminations."

Washington, July 13 (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced loan rates on all grades of 1948 free-cured tobacco, ranging from nine to 14 cents a pound.

In line with provisions calling for price supports at 90 per cent of parity, the loans will average 43.9 cents a pound. They are available to all cooperating growers on a grade basis. Last year's average was 40 cents.

In Georgia and Florida, where tobacco is unlied, loan rates will be four cents a pound less.

Loan rates on top grades, with the 1947 rate listed first and the 1948 rate second, are: Choice Lemon wrappers (A1L) 68 and 70; Choice fine wrappers (A1F) 68 and 68; Choice red wrappers (A1R) 58 and 62; Choice Lemon lugs (B1L) 58 and 62; Choice orange leaf (B1F) 54 and 60; good dark red leaf (B3D) 32 and 32; Choice Lemon slinging leaf (H1L) 60 and 66; Choice Orange Smoking leaf (H1F) 56 and 62; Choice Lemon cutters (C1L) 62 and 68; Choice orange cutters (C1F) 62 and 68; Choice Orange lugs (X1L) 56 and 62; good Lemon primings (P3L) 46 and 48; nondescript (N1F) 9 and 9; nondescript (N1G) 8 and 9.

Negotiations continued after Reuther walked out.

Alert Aircraft Carrier To Locate Mutiny Ship

London, July 13 (AP)—The U. S. Navy alerted the aircraft carrier Coral Sea today to prepare to send planes to locate the U. S. freighter William Carson, whose master radioed his crew was mutinous.

The Campbell is estimated to be a day's trip from the Carson. It started its trip from the English Channel off Dungeness on Navy orders.

"Is assistance still needed? What is the position now?" There was only silence from the Carson. The Hampton Roads merely acknowledged the message.

Critical Week-End Over Berlin Situation Has Produced A Tautness In International Relations Unequaled Since September, 1939; Four-Power Conversations

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The tug of war between the Bolsheviks and the democracies over Berlin has produced a tautness which can't long continue without something snapping.

The big question, of course, is what sort of break it will be. The conservative London Daily Mail, for example, declares that "this has been the most critical weekend of its kind since September, 1939" (the beginning of World War II).

The Mail says if Russia ignores the Western power demand that the Soviet food blockade of Berlin be ended immediately "the situation will deteriorate to the point where an explosion becomes almost inevitable."

The conservative Daily Graphic likewise asserts that "this may be a fateful week for Britain and the world."

These serious editorial estimates have coincided with hurried conferences among American, British and French officials. An authoritative source in London said Britain had sent considerable numbers of new troops to Western Germany because of the tension. A spokesman for the British war office denied this, whereupon the authoritative source reiterated the statement.

All signs had pointed strongly to Barkley for the last 12 hours although some big city leaders, including Frank Hague of Jersey City and Paul Fitzpatrick of New York, were taking the view that some younger man should have the No. 2 spot.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judge,
Beach parties are in full swing and young people everywhere cart a basket of goodies to a lake or beach, sit around a glowing fire, sing and play games.

With the advent of frozen foods, fare for these parties has changed considerably within the last few years. You don't have to depend on hot dogs and hamburgers (always succulent in a pinch, however) when you can get frozen chicken a la king, beans and French fried potatoes which can be heated in pans on a grate over an open fire.

Spanish rice can be made at home and reheated at the picnic scene by adding another can of tomatoes. Some people bring chickens which they broil on a spit (easy to make by setting up two forkshaped sticks, and using a metal skewer with a handle to turn the chicken). If beach parties are frequent, inexpensive contraptions of this sort can be found at local department and hardware stores.

A delicious variation of iced tea can be made by mixing orange juice and lemon or lime and adding to the tea. This takes away the too-tangy flavor of the tea. It can be kept cold in thermos jugs.

Bring a portable radio or phonograph and get the crowd to sing. If a porch party is in order, a buffet usually is the best bet with cold cuts, hot dogs and macaroni salad the mainstay. The salad can be cooked, cooled and the mayonnaise, green pepper and celery added long before the crowd arrives. You can make buckets of it for a picnic.

A teen-ager who really wants to be a hit with her crowd can entertain her friends with her own improvised soda fountain. Before the crowd arrives she can whip up the trimmings for the sodas and sundae. Syrup can be made out of

"We are concerned with the way in which the second principle can, in practice, be abused," the two men write. "Assuring that employees are completely trustworthy" may be changed to "assuring that employees hold exactly the same political opinions as those held by persons in political power."

They recommended that all accusations be backed up by witnesses; that the prosecution be required to prove the accusations are true, as in a court of law, and that the prosecution be required to explain why the accusations, if true, might lead to a future disloyal act. Under present rules, prosecution witnesses are not necessary. Thus the accused may not have the chance to confront his accuser, may not even know who he is. Officials of the AEO say this is necessary because:

1. They do not have authority to subpoena witnesses. 2. The FBI investigates the cases, and the FBI feels it is necessary to protect the people who give it information.
Furthermore, AEO spokesmen say, the accusations are not "charges," in the legal sense, but represent information about an employe which it seems necessary to have the employe explain. But Lesser and Gerson say an adverse decision can seriously cut the earning power of caused by functional "middle-age" Do you suffer from hot flashes, weak, nervous, irritable, clammy feelings, due to the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.)? an employe, because of the cloud cast upon him. The Bulletin article suggests all decisions should be subject to review by federal courts.

The employe now has the right to appeal to the commission's personnel security review board, headed by former Justice Owen J. Roberts, but not to the courts.
A statement by the Oak Ridge association says at least some accusations are not more than "unsubstantiated" rumors. AEO officials emphasize these accusations did not come from the commission itself but are statements from people who know the employe involved and in the interests of security must be investigated. They also emphasize they want to work out a way to do this which will be the least objectionable to atomic workers. Present rules, they say, are subject to any change that might erase some of the problems.

Charge Negro Youth With Trespassing On College Grounds
O. C. Wilson, 16-year-old Negro youth, of 1711 Clark street, was arrested by Greenville police yesterday and charged with trespassing on the college grounds and in the woods and vagrancy. Complaint had been made to police that Wilson had been loitering there frequently and that he had no visible means of support.

Wilson is also charged with disorderly conduct, vulgar and profane language and assaulting with a stick Jerry Wilkerson. He will be tried in Police court Friday.

Kiwanians To Visit In Roanoke Rapids
The Greenville Kiwanis Club has received an invitation from the Roanoke Rapids Kiwanis Club for its members to be guests of that club at supper there on Thursday, July 22, at 6:30 p.m. and guests at the baseball game when Greenville plays Roanoke Rapids.

President N. C. Brooks said he expects a large delegation to attend. The invitation was signed by Don P. Tillar, chairman of the Inter-Club Relations Committee.

Grifton Man Is Named To FHA Group For Pitt

Appointment of Fred C. Taylor, Route 1 Grifton, to a three-year term on the Farmers Home Administration County Committee for Pitt County was announced today by J. B. Slack, State Director.

Mr. Taylor succeeds Mark H. Smith, whose term expired June 30. Also on the committee are Julius C. Parker of Route 1 Tarboro, and T. Heber Fleming of Stokes. A committee of three serves in each agricultural county throughout the nation in which the agency makes farm ownership loans. Appointments are scheduled so that a com-daughter of Mrs. Hazel Dickinson, Greenville.

mittes has two experienced members.

The Pitt County committee has an important place in making supervised credit available to local farm-ty committee. In the case of farm ownership loans, the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved must also be approved by the committee.

"The members know agricultural conditions in the county, are often familiar with the farm the applicant plans to operate," Mr. Page explained.

In addition to approving loans the committee cooperates with the county supervisor in overall administration of the program in the county. Periodically they review the progress of borrowers to determine whether they have reached a financial position that would enable them to refinance their loans through private lenders. A farmer who is eligible for credit from regular lending sources is not eligible for a loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

Big Forest Fire Is Under Control

Norfolk, Va., July 13—(AP)—A forest fire which has been raging through the Eastern North Carolina marshlands about seven miles south of Plymouth since Tuesday was under control today, a representative of the John L. Roper Lumber Company, over whose timber properties the fire swept, told the Ledger-Dispatch by telephone. A shift in the wind, however, carried the smoke away from the Norfolk area.

Hugh Dudley, manager of the company, said that the fire has burned over 6,000 to 7,000 acres of land and still was burning along three miles of fire lines.

He said the blaze still was spreading underground in highly inflammable peat to canal banks.

Crews composed of volunteer workers, North Carolina foresters and men from the Roper Company still were in the field. Dudley said it will not be necessary to call for outside help unless a high wind shoves the blaze across the fire line.

Siamese May End Sunday Standard

Bangkok—(AP)—Sundays may soon go by the board in Siam. The Siamese Cabinet Council is considering a switch in the Buddhist calendar, which celebrates as religious holidays the beginning and the end of the waxing and waning stages of the moon.

The Buddhist system, adhering to the country's religious traditions, is used now in many schools and offices in the provinces. One argument for its official adoption is that school children would be able to attend special services and observe Buddhist rites.

Funeral Rites For World War Veteran

Final rites for Pvt. Junior V. Basnight, who was killed in action in France July 25, 1944, will be held at the Greenville Free Will Baptist Church at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. C. L. Patrick the pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Full military honors will be given by the Charles Gray Morgan Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Pvt. Basnight, son of Mrs. Mittie Sprull Basnight of Greenville and the late Benjamin Edward Basnight was born and spent his early life near Creswell, N. C., in Washington county, moving to Ayden with his parents when about 12 years of age. Then they moved to Columbia, N. C., in September, 1937. He enlisted in the United States Army in 1939. He was inducted at Fort Bragg, trained in Hawaii, came back to the United States in December, 1941, and took further training at Fort Bragg. In October 1942, he was sent to North Africa where he served in the initial invasion and the entire campaign. He also participated in the D-Day invasion of France on June 6, 1944. He was killed in action in France in July at the age of 23.

He is survived by his mother, a brother, W. E. Basnight, and a sister Mrs. E. A. Rogers, both of Greenville.

"Miss Arkansas"

Blond, blue-eyed Van Louis McDaniel of Forest City, Ark., has been elected "Miss Arkansas of 1948" and will represent her state in the "Miss America" beauty pageant at Atlantic City, N. J., in September. The 19-year-old is a student at Rollins College in Winter Park, Florida.

More Than One Way To Rescue A Kitten

Chicago—(AP)—A tink kitten was marooned in a tree 40 feet above the ground. The standard procedure would be to summon a small boy or call the fire department. But Mrs. Clarence Ogden had a more original idea. She put the mother cat, Pluffy, as far up the trunk as she could reach. Pluffy climbed the rest of the way, took a gentle jaw nod on the nape of the kitten's neck and backed down safely.

LOSES ARMS, LEG, HAS JOB

Grimsby, England—(AP)—A. C. Snell, who lost both arms and a leg in a 1942 air raid, now works full-time as a typist. He has two artificial arms.

Visitor From Washington Is Rotary Speaker

By WYATT BROWN

The value of fellowship was the subject of a talk by Wes Veasy of Washington, N.C. when he addressed the Greenville Rotary Club last night. After stating that one should develop opportunities for fellowship in view of its value and a producer of happiness in human life the speaker listed several very helpful practical suggestions for the club.

Prior to the speaker J. H. Rose told the Rotarians about the new Community Center that the Greenville Recreation Commission and the city schools had worked out in the dining hall at the old NYA

Center. He said it was now being used by the youth for a recreation center but that it was available for groups and individuals. He said a married couple were resident there and another will settle there soon.

The program last night was presented by P. L. Goodson, chairman of the Fellowship Committee. Guests of the club were Charles Simone of New York City and Bryce B. Brown of Schenectady, New York, E. L. Willard, club president, presided. President Willard read a letter of thanks from the Girl Scouts for the Scoutships given by the Rotarians and also the thanks of the Girl Scouts for the clean-up the Rotarians gave Camp Hardee.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Police yesterday arrested Allen Streeter, colored, on a charge of assaulting Lanell Streeter, colored, with deadly weapons—a chair and bottles. He will be tried in Police court Friday.

The period of gestation of the Indian elephant is not accurately known but is believed to be about 18 months. It sometimes lives to be 60 years old.

Strength FOR THE DAY

CHURCH IN THE HOME

"Paul . . . unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow labourer . . . and to the church in thy house." Thus begins a letter to the apostle Paul to one of his followers. By "the church in thy house" he meant the meetings of Christians which were then held in private homes.

The family unit is the heart of the world. Raise children with loving care, with tender affection, with a sense of family responsibility, with a feeling of "belonging," and as the family is put in order, so the nation will be put in order, and eventually the world also. The real tragedy of the broken home is not that they are broken, but that the damage cannot be mended, that the children are grown and moulded and gone forever.

Religion is the heart of the family. A family that can hope together when dark days come, that can offer up thanks for daily blessings that can kneel in devotion and prayer in the morning and in the evening—that family has something even more binding than love and security. Paul refers to a physician at "church in thy house," but in these days it is imperative for world peace that each family look to "the church in thy home."

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
EXPENSES—Discussion continues about amounts of money spent in political campaigns, both for purpose of individuals obtaining party nominations, and for the party general election program. The inordinate sum believed to have been spent, and the meagre amounts reported under the corrupt practices act, have occasioned revival of the proposal that all campaign expenses be paid by the government, either state or federal as the case might be. A group of interested men argued about this the other night. The group indicated supporters of winning and losing candidates in major state primary contests, and they even permitted a Republican to have his say.

VEOTED—The verdict was unanimous against the proposition. It was admitted that the plan would hold down excess spending, but not one of the men in the group thought it would contribute to fair elections or genuine determination of the people's wishes. Chief reason for this attitude is the fact that government is administered by individuals who have either been elected in previous plebiscites or appointed by persons who were elected. If government should be allowed to spend the taxpayer's money to pay election campaign expenses, there would be too much temptation for the "ins" to perpetuate themselves in power. The group decided there's enough of that sort of thing already and it would be very unwise to make it easier for the insiders to use public funds to build a dictatorship.

ANSWER—Complete answer to the question may never be found, but the small group referred to agreed that if limit on spending is removed and real teeth put into a law requiring report as to source and destination of all campaign money, the situation will be greatly improved.

RECOVERING—Contact with several political leaders from far western counties during the past few days indicates that they are recovering from the stunning shock administered them by Kerr Scott and his 216,000 voting supporters on June 26. Scott carried 65 of the 100 counties; Johnson carried 35. Johnson's counties included all but two or three of those generally designated as "mountain counties." It was the first time in many years that this area guessed wrong on a governor. It had become almost axiomatic that the west nominated the governor, but the east elected him in November. Most of the state Republican vote has been in the west. During the past few elections there has been tendency for the Republican vote to move eastward. Now with the primary vote becoming more equally distributed, there is prospect for a more united all-front instead of rivalry between sections.

SERVICE—There is nothing new about service clubs doing a great deal for development of their communities. The recreation park at Laurinburg sponsored by the American Legion, provisions for picnic and other activities provided by the Kiwanis Club of Hendersonville at Jump Off Rock, and the Elks Camp for Boys maintained by the North Carolina Elks Association near

That's No Way For A Dummy To Act

Hendersonville, are not exceptions but serve to illustrate the point that service clubs are really rendering service in fields where it is most needed. The list could be carried on to include almost every community in the state as well as nearly every luncheon or social club.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY JANE EADS
Washington, July 13 (AP)—A capital city of which all Americans can be proud and with enough breathing space for more than a million residents. A master plan for the Washington of the future is now being prepared by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission with the help of a group of planning consultants. Here's what the planners hope to achieve:

A Washington without slums, with its poorly-housed residents in new, well planned low-cost homes. . . . An equalization of its population pressure in certain sections of the city by the geographic placement of new federal buildings. . . . A solution to its traffic problems by building through routes for through traffic. Development of the school and recreational facilities for the city's youth on a neighborhood-by-neighborhood basis. . . . coordination of future plans for the development of nearby Maryland and Virginia areas so they will be in harmony with the capital. . . . Preservation of the present skyline of the city so that one can still see the capital building from nearly every approach.

When George Washington hired Major Charles Pierre L'Enfant to design the Federal city he had in mind that the city should be designed to meet the needs of the entire nation, rather than those of capital residents alone. L'Enfant's plan was never fully carried out. Some parts were changed, some completely ignored for the next 100 years. In 1900 the plan was resurrected and later augmented by several groups.

These included the National Commission on Fine Arts, which reviews plans for public buildings and parks, and the National Capital Park Commission, with authority to begin planned park purchases. The last was succeeded by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, with authority also to plan and coordinate the expansion of Washington and surrounding areas.

There are other agencies, both Federal and District of Columbia in fact—which have a say in the construction of a Washington of the future. Early this year President Truman told the various planners he thought the planning was a federal rather than a District job. He asked for legislation giving the National Capital Park and Planning Commission the powers it needs for putting the master plan into effect.

Local population and plans for the federal government have been the largest single consideration in the drawing up of the master plan. One idea is to place federal buildings on the east-west axis of the city, with Constitution and Independence Avenues to handle traffic arising out of interchange of federal business. Another is to distribute the population within the city's four geographic sections more evenly.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
Philadelphia, July 13 (AP)—Dear Alben did it.

No dark horse but an old and honored wheelhorse of the New Deal—Sen. Alben William Barkley—rode to the rescue of the torpid Democratic National Convention. In 68 stirring minutes of old-fashioned sledge hammer oratory last night he welded the quarreling delegates together in a tremendous outburst of party enthusiasm. They gave him a 28-minute ovation. It was the first time the Democrats had found anything they could agree to cheer—or be cheerful about.

It was an antique bugle Barkley blew and an old but popular tune—the call to battle. It is the call that through the ages has made men bury their differences and fall in line.

Red Cross Plans Big TB Study

Copenhagen—(AP)—The Danish Red Cross will examine about forty million children and youths in European countries for tuberculosis during the next two years. Expenses will be covered by the United Nations children Salvage Fund with $2,000,000, by Denmark's government with $400,000 and by a nationwide collection in Denmark, which is supposed to produce $1,000,000 to $1,250,000.

The examinations will be made mostly in Finland, Austria, Bulgaria and Rumania. Up to now 1,700,000 persons in Europe have been examined by the Danish Red Cross.

Arrest Judge In Money Shortage

Newark, N. J., July 13—(AP)—Police Judge F. James Pellicchia, Jr., was arrested today in connection with a $630,000 shortage at the Columbus Trust Company, where he is vice president and counsel.

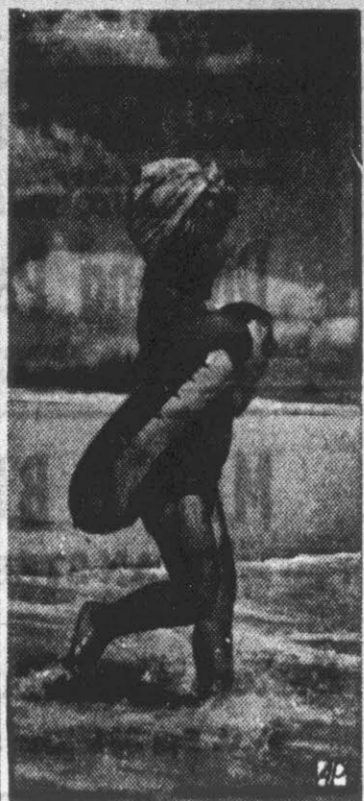

State banking commissioner John J. Dickerson quoted the judge, named last year as the nation's best dressed jurist, as admitting "sole responsibility" for the shortage.

The commissioner said Pellicchia related he "lost all of the money gambling on horses" and it was "nothing to lose $5,000 or $6,000 a week on the horses."

Dickerson said the Newark judge had covered up the shortages by "the loaning of money in fictitious mortgages" over a period of 2 1/2 years.

He said Pellicchia admitted he had forged the names of fictitious borrowers to mortgages, and also "forged the names of payees to checks made out for the amount of the mortgage loans and deposited the money in his personal account."

As a result of the shortages, Dickerson said, the bank's board of directors had met in his office and agreed to authorize the merger of their bank with that of the United States Trust Company.

Has Souvenir Of Last Air Attack

By CHESTER WALSH

Harold B. Dale, popular sports announcer for the Greenville radio station, who was a radar bombardier in the 15th American Air Force in World War II, and who had to "ball out" of his plane during an attack on the Ploesti oil fields of Roumania when the enemy shot out one of his ship's engines, while over the target, on July 15, 1944, has a souvenir of that conflict—a foot injury which handicaps him.

Hobnobbing with Dale at the radio station, he recalled that on July 14—the day before the tragedy—he was scheduled for a run against the enemy from his squadron's base at Ceregnoia, Italy. Bad weather kept the squadron on the ground.

By rules of the command, Dale was not in line for flight the next day, but word came from headquarters that the radar bombardier of that day's flight was ill and could not make the trip.

Heavy weather required that a radar bombardier lead the attacking squadron over the oil fields. Lieut. Dale was assigned the task. The commanding officer explained that the bomber could not make an accurate assault without a radar bombardier to guide the bomb site in finding the target.

The squadron was away early over the target, one of the plane's engines was shot away and fire spread to a wing. The pilot, Lt. James R. Bush of Henrietta, Okla., maneuvered to hold the plane up until "all bombs were away." Then he swung his ship to a 5,000-foot downward sweep to brush away the flames from the left wing, and miraculously headed the ship toward Bulgaria.

Then the crisis—all had to ball out. The gunner, Sgt. Vic Karstens of Ward, South Dakota, was killed. Friendly underground workers transported his body on a wooden sled over the countryside to Montenegro, where he was buried with full military honors.

Lieut. Dale as to why his country manifested anti-American and Communist tendencies, Tito nodded and solemnly said, "What can we do when Stalin and the Russian hordes are right behind us, threatening, demanding and commanding?"

Dale reminiscently recalled the events of that day in Tito's country; his kindly but oppressed spirit, and wondered how Americans now hold anything against him for the myriad of events which have transpired since then.

"Tito's underground forces were the means of thousands of American fliers escaping from the enemy. He and his forces were humane and understanding. I hope that country revives successfully from the disastrous war," Dale said.

Harold Dale remembers July 15, 1944. He has a kindly feeling for his Yugo-Slav rescuers, much esteem for Marshal Tito and a recollection of his gladness when he sailed from Naples, Italy, to Charleston, S. C., for further hospitalization in American hospitals.

"The Russian 'iron curtain' is a strong and impelling force on adjacent countries over there," he said. Incidentally, the co-pilot on Lieut. Dale's bomber was Lieut. D. A. Starnes of Hickory, N. C.

Polish Peasants Are Going Left

Warsaw, Poland—(AP)—Peasants of Poland are joining Leftist political parties in increasing numbers.

Organizers for the Polish Socialist party reported a total of 123,800 peasants had joined. These peasants represent 1,800 communal groups and 6,500 village groups. The peasants who have thus signed up with the Socialists soon will be Communists—at least technically. The Socialists are merging with the Communist Workers party on or about October 1.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 30

I looked and looked at that gun he was pointing at me. It was a double-barreled all-steel job, black as a toy locomotive, the sort of gun that was being made up until recently.

"So it wasn't a two-gun man who shot Aichse and Bensing, after all," I said. "You gave them a slug apiece out of that double-barrel."

"They were rats and blackmailers," said Dr. Stokes, without any more hesitation or feeling than he'd shown in talking about the last days of Gwynne Ealing.

He paused, and smiled again. "You're really a capable man, Yates. Everybody underestimates you. Even I did, until the last few minutes. It's a pity you're through here in Smith City."

"Through in Smith City?" I repeated.

"Yes, through in Smith City. The best you can hope for is my help in getting out of town by the next and fastest train, and staying out."

"That sounded like a silly deal to me. In his place, I'd never have even suggested it. I kept us both talking."

"Your motive was the toughest to find," I said. "But I found it—Aichse was studying up on Gwynne Ealing, and before you put the police off with a cute explanation, I'd already figured on it. Richard Ealing had left you his gun collection—"

"Worth thousands of dollars," he said, "and long overdue to me from Dick."

"But it wasn't all you killed him for. Not even that museum piece of Oliver Cromwell's, and the Jeweled number from the Orient. I think you had another motive. You didn't want anybody else around who knew you'd murdered Gwynne Ealing, and who might tell his half of that deal."

"Now you don't sound so capable," he said. "Everybody knows that Gwynne Ealing's heart stopped on him."

"After it was starting to get well," I said, glancing to where Mrs. Pettigrew lay, so limp and quiet. "That didn't suit you. I went on. 'So you gave him medicine, something to work his heart overtime, so it would stop for lack of the blood it needed.'"

"You were talking about motives a moment ago," he said. "What motive would I have to kill Gwynne Ealing? He was rich, but his money went to Dick, not to me."

"Because you helped him die, part of that money was to come to you," I said. "And you got tired of waiting for his uncle to die. You told him so, and he put a cap on it by reminding you that you couldn't afford to hurry him."

"It's really too bad you're going to fracture Mrs. Pettigrew's skull before you leave this room," he said. "Even now, with proper treatment, she might recover from her concussion and tell the world what she seems to have told you about eavesdropping on Dick and me. All right, since she's going to be found dead here—half a dozen things, any one of them, would stop Gwynne Ealing's rickety heart. I played safe by dosing him with three different items. He took them like a lamb, sure he was going to feel better. Get up from behind that desk."

"I'm to die standing?"

"What else do you know, or think you know? While you're talking, take a sheet of paper out of the drawer and feed it into the roller."

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning
That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, if you do not have the urge to be up and doing why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and of color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-obese nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juices when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh all out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Important Meetings For Pitt Farmers Dated For July

By CHESTER WALSH

Two important tobacco meetings have been arranged for Pitt County farmers during this month, Farm Agent Sam C. Winchester announced today.

The first will be held at the Lower Coastal Plains Tobacco Research Farm, near Greenville, July 16; and the second at the Tobacco Experiment Station near Oxford.

Farmers who attend the first meeting next Friday, at 2 p.m., about 2½ miles south of Greenville, on the Old Tar Road, will have an opportunity to observe: (1) different varieties being grown in the field and quality test. These varieties will include several strains of Black Shank resistant, along with some strains that are being produced in an effort to get both Black Shank resistance and Granville Will resistance in the same variety. (2) Use of hormones for sucker control, and (3) improved curing techniques.

Make plans now to attend this meeting, and take your neighbor.

The second meeting, near Oxford, will be held Tuesday, July 20, at 1:30 p.m.

Farmers who visit the tobacco experiment station at Oxford on this date will have an opportunity to study the tobacco research program being conducted there. Fertilization and variety experiments, and research in curing will be discussed with the groups.

The Pitt County delegation will leave the County Agent's office in Greenville, at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday July 20.

Notify the County Agent's office by Saturday, July 17, at noon, if you plan to go on the Oxford trip. If your automobile will be available for this trip, he will appreciate your notifying him of this also.

Nationalists In Effort To Win Peasant Backing

Sian, China—(AP)—The government is trying to win the support of the peasants in its fight against the Communists in this section of northern China.

The peasants appear to be skeptical. They ask why the government, which has been fighting a civil war for two years, hasn't done this before. Maj. Gen. Chang Ming deputy director of the Ministry of National Defense, said he couldn't answer that question. "Nationalist troops used to carry their own rations," Chang said. "When they ran short they took food from the peasants, often without paying for it. From now on, they will get their food from the peasants and pay for it."

At several villages the peasants sullenly refused to provide the troops with water. No attempt was made to force them. At another village the peasants grumbled loudly when asked for water and food. When they were paid for it they appeared bewildered. The government also is using an effective method of praising the peasants.

"Without the help of the peasants," says General Chang, "we can't beat the communists, even with American help."

Lightweight Ike Breaks Loose In Sixth For TKO

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—Ike Williams finally found an opponent who didn't know what it meant to back track and the strong bean kid from Trenton, N. J., used him as a medium to prove he's a great lightweight champion.

Williams scored a six-round technical knockout last night over Beau Jack, windmill-swinging former shoe shine boy who sought to make boxing history by becoming the first fighter ever to win the same title three times. Each fighter entered the ring at 134 pounds.

A disappointing crowd of 12,852 paid $83,787 at Shibe Park and saw the ever-advancing Jack swarm all over the champion in the early rounds. Williams, jabbing and counter-punching simply waited patiently for an opening.

In the sixth, the champion caught Jack with a left hook and, battering him with countless rights and lefts pinned him against the ropes. Ike looked to Referee Charley Daggert stop it but he said no.

"Keep fighting, Ike," shouted Daggert above the tumult of the crowd.

Jack wanted to fall but he couldn't and finally Daggert stepped in and called a halt after 33 seconds of the round.

The battle had been fairly even to that point. Daggert had scored it two rounds for each and one even; Judge Frank Knapenborough carried three rounds for Williams and two for Jack, while Judge Harry Laskey saw Jack win three rounds and Williams two.

place or a base?

Ans.: If the pitcher holds the ball so long, in the umpire's opinion, he is delaying the game unnecessarily that's a balk. However, chances are you'll go to baseball games the rest of your life and never see it called.

The balk rule is many sided. The balk most frequently called is when the pitcher does not turn and face directly toward the base to which he throws, but there are numerous other infractions that may be called.

It is a balk if the pitcher goes into his delivery motion and stops. Also, if he drops the ball either accidentally or intentionally while delivering.

And if he steps on the mound and takes his pitching position without the ball in his possession, that's also a balk.

The Coastal Plain homer kings do have their troubles. For several days Goldsboro's Jack Hussey was benched with a severe cold and missed his regular turns at the plate, where he had smacked out 19 homers by mid-season. Finally, Hussey got back on the active list.

Now it is the turn for Rocky Mount's John Hanley to do the resting. An arm injury in the Tarboro game of July 8 has resulted in a cast on the forearm of the current league leader. Medical reports do not list a definite time for his recovery.

Is it possible for the pitcher to be charged with a balk without making a motion to throw to either the

Errorless Play By Greenies, Abetted By Frequent Hits, Not Enough To Provide Win; Arroyo Is Credited With Loss

By RENE MOYE

Manager Bill Herring's Goldbugs registered their ninth win of the season over the Greenies here last night with an 8-6 win, but they had to resort to home runs to pull the trick.

Both teams went scoreless until the fourth frame when the Bugs shoved across two runs to go out in front when Merle Blackwell hit the first of his two homers for the night over the left field wall with Whiteheart aboard.

The Greenies came back in their half of the fourth and tied up the ball game at two-all after two men were out. Nash led off with a double, Sposas and Riggs flew out to outfield, Arroyo tripled to left center field, bringing in Nash and on a wild pitch by Kalres, Arroyo rushed across the plate.

The Bugs came back in the sixth frame to score four runs on five hits, including doubles by Hussey, Schroeder and Whitener and Merle Blackwell's second homer of the night over the right field wall with Whitener again on base.

What proved the Bugs' winning run came on Jack Hussey's circuit drive in the seventh—a blast that cleared the centerfield fence some 400 feet from home plate. They came back in the eighth to add one more run when Hank Smith reached first on a fielder's choice, Stamos walked and Sloboda singled to bring Smith home.

The Greenies' other big inning was the seventh when they scored four runs on six hits and a walk. Carter and Cohen singled, Nesting tripled to bring in Carter and Cohen, Mauney doubled bringing in Nesting and Sposas singled bringing in Mauney.

Luis Arroyo started on the mound for the Greenies and pitched the first five frames in which he gave up six hits and six runs. He received credit for the loss, his eleventh of the season. Johnny Tate pitched the final four frames allowing four hits and two bugs runs.

Warren Schroeder with a double and two singles, Merle Blackwell with two homers, and Jack Hussey with a homer and a double were the big runs in the 10-hit attack off the two Greenie hurlers.

Bill Kalres, pitching his fourth win against the Greenies had to have help from Stamos and Whiteheart to receive credit for the game. Kalres, who pitched the first six and two-third frames, was touched for 12 hits and six runs. The Greenies' 14 hits off the three Bug hurlers were well scattered among the Greenie players with every man on the team getting at least one hit with the exception of Wood and Tate.

Williams Upped Batting Average In Four Contests

Chicago, July 13—(AP)—Boston's Ted Williams batted seven hits in four games last week before being benched with a side injury to boost his American League leading batting average to .388.

In averages computed through Sunday's games, Williams held a 33 point margin over second place Lou Boudreau of Cleveland who dropped five points to .355.

Al Zarilla of St. Louis was third with .332 followed by Walt Evers; Detroit, 329; George Kell, Detroit, 327; Bob Brown, New York, 325; Barney McCoy, Philadelphia, 309; Vic Wertz, Detroit, 308; Hank Majeski, Philadelphia and Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, 306 apiece.

Williams was still tops in number of hits with 102, in runs scored with 66 and in two-bagger production with 21.

Some Big-Time Athletes Never Hit A Home Run

By RALPH RODEN

New York, July 13—(AP)—The thrill of belting a homer, a feat performed by countless major league ball players, has yet to be experienced by such veteran big time athletes as Emil Verban and Floyd Baker.

Verban, the flashy second sacker of the Philadelphia Phillies, has taken part in 650 games since he entered the National League with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1944. He has been at bat officially 2278 times but he still is looking for his first homer.

The Phil star has been at bat three times in two all-star games and 17 times in a world series without connecting for a boundary belt. During his nine seasons in the minor leagues, Verban whacked 11 circuit blows with his best output coming in 1937 when he collected four for Tiffin of the Ohio League.

Baker, third baseman of the Chicago White Sox, has been action 310 games and has hit 886 times but homer No. 1 has yet to roll off his bat.

While Verban and Baker are seeking their first round-trippers, some of the games foremost exponents of the art are striving for higher feats.

Joe Gordon of the Cleveland Indians and Bill Nicholson of the Chicago Cubs are on the threshold of entering the "200" club. Gordon, who has hit 17 homers this year, needs only one more to reach the 200 mark. Nicholson started the season with 182 to his credit, Nicholson is three homers shy of the 200 mark. The Cub slugger has hit 11 this year. He opened the season with 186.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox joined the 200 club early in the season. The Boston strong boy began the campaign with 197 batters. He made it 200 on April 29 when he hit his third homer of the season off Philadelphia's Bill McCahan at Philadelphia.

It is ironic that in this year in which the Cleveland Indians shape up as most serious contenders for the American League pennant, their bound ace, Bob Feller, should be experiencing one of the poorest seasons of his brilliant career. And the one thing that Rapid Robert would rather do than anything else is to pitch for the Indians in a World Series.

So serious has been Feller's loss of effectiveness on the mound that the fireball hurler has dropped all outside activities to concentrate on the all important task of winning ball games. Among the ball players there is a common opinion that Bob has lost the hop on his fast one and he isn't likely to regain it. They agree that he'll have a good game in his system every now and then but the days when he stood out as a

The Third St. Tigers ran away with the Greenies of the Training School yesterday, winning easily by the score of 16 to 6. The game was close for the first two innings with the Tigers leading 7 to 5 but after that the losers' defense fell apart and the Tigers made a rout of it. Julian Valwright, Gus Faulkner and Bobby Fye led the hitting with two hits each.

The East End Orioles won their third straight game Monday morning at the expense of the Giants from Third St. The Orioles scored seven times in the first two innings to take a commanding lead that was never threatened seriously by the Giants. The final score was 8 to 3. Eddie Farley, on the mound for the winners, was never in serious trouble except in the fifth when two errors and two hits enabled the Giants to tally twice. Larry Fye and Virgilus Hayes led the hitting for the Giants with two for three. Leon Moore, Hilton Quinn, Pat Sawyer and Hudson led for the winners with two hits apiece.

The Third St. Dodgers of the Junior League got off to a four run lead in the first inning but lost out in a close and exciting game by the score of 10 to 8 to the league-leading Red Sox of the Training School. The Dodgers held a one-run lead going into the last inning when the Sox got busy and scored four times which proved just enough to win after the Dodgers had scored twice in their half. Ike Riddick with two singles, Harold Edwards with a single and triple and Dallas Evans with a double and single were the leaders for the Sox. Guy Smith with two triples was the only Dodger able to get more than one hit.

Nationals Need A Victory Today

St. Louis, July 13—(AP)—The National League had everything to lose and little to gain today as it squared off against the American League rival in the 15th annual All-Star baseball game.

A victory over the battered and undermanned American League outfit is imperative, or the Nationals will lose a load of prestige. This is the one the senior circuitmen, who have suffered 16 pastings in 14 innings, must win.

The general feeling around the crowded hotel lobbies here is: "If the National leaguers don't win this one, they'll never win."

The odds have dropped from the American League favorite at 11-20 to almost even money.

The American leaguers, seeking their third straight, were minus their "big four" consisting of slugger Ted Williams and Joe Dimaggio and ace pitchers Hal Newhouser and Bob Feller. In addition, George Kell was selected as the league's No. 1 third baseman, was stricken as a starter.

Contests Upset Three-Day Rest

New York, July 13—(AP)—The annual all-star game usually means three days off for players not selected for either the National or American League squads but that isn't the case this year.

Yesterday, the first of the three idle days for big league clubs, saw seven major teams engage in exhibition games.

With the exception of a game between the St. Louis Browns and the Philadelphia Phillies at Cooperstown, N. Y., all of the contests took place at night.

HAPPY CHILDREN!

Nothing gives a parent more pleasure than to see his child really happy. The strenuous outdoor games played by youngsters call for an endless supply of energy and vigor that can only be derived from a body that is in sound physical condition. If your child is not in the game with other children something is wrong. A visit to your family Doctor will no doubt disclose the trouble and add much to the child's health and happiness.

Austrians Under Close Red Watch

Vienna—(AP)—A high Austrian government source says Russian military authorities have made increasingly stiff demands upon local officials in their zone of occupation for detailed reports on almost every phase of public life in certain sections.

Although Russian troops had been removed from some of the areas nearly two years ago, Russian officials recently approached local officials with verbal orders to list all former Nazis and all foreigners residing in the area, to report on all political parties and their activities and to report three days in advance on all public meetings to be held—even traditional religious processions.

The Russian officers also asked for complete local police rosters and demanded that any changes in personnel be reported immediately. They wanted lists of all hotels including details as to their capacity and the names of their owners. Post Offices were told to submit lists of newspapers coming into the area and the number of each distributed. All lectures and speeches by public officials had to be reported verbatim and they also demanded that each political party secretary give detailed account of the activities of his party on 10th and 20th of each month. And local officials were told to turn over lists of all trucks and other vehicles, all garages and names of their owners.

Negro 4-H Club News

Three 4-H club boys, Clifton Grimes, Joseph F. Patrick and Weldon Dixon all of Route 1, Winterville, N. C., attended the 4-H district contest in Washington, N. C., June 24. The 4-H pasture demonstration team contestants entering the district contest were Clifton Grimes and Joseph F. Patrick of the Winterville 4-H club. The subject of the demonstration was pasture in which the boys gave a demonstration on management and combinations for pastures to supplement the short corn crop and to reduce costs of milk production.

Although the boys did not win a prize, they made a fine showing. This team won first place in the county elimination contest.

Seven 4-H club boys—Joseph F. Patrick, Clifton Grimes, Weldon Dixon, Route 1, Winterville; William Daniels, Robert Daniels, Jr., Route 1 Grimesland; Earl Moore, Pactolus and James B. Crandel, Route 5, Greenville, will attend the 4-H Short Course August 9-14 at A. & T. College, Greensboro.

Clifton Grimes, a very active 4-H club boy, will run for one of the State 4-H club offices.

James B. Crandel, president of Grimesland 4-H club, president of the 4-H county council for six years, will be awarded a certificate for 1947 State Project champion for Pitt county—Dennis D. Dupree, Negro county agent.

Greenville Man Wins Guggenheim Special Award

Warren C. Scoville, associate professor of Economics at the University of California, Los Angeles, has been granted a Guggenheim Award for study and research work in Paris, France, for the year 1948-49. The Guggenheim Foundation was set up in the 1920's by the copper manufacturing and mining family, and each year awards are made to a selected group of scholars on the basis of their past records and proposed research programs.

Because of his published articles in learned economic journals, a recent book just published by the Harvard Press, and another book soon to be published by the University of California Press, Dr. Scoville was given an award to aid him in his research program of evaluating the effects upon French industry and economic life of the migration and persecution of the Huguenots before and after the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685. He will work with original manuscript material of the 17th century in the French National Library and archives.

Dr. Scoville has previously done eighteen months of research work in France, this research having been done on the history of the glass-making industry in France. Dr. Scoville, accompanied by his wife and two sons, will sail from New York on August 4th on the S. S. America to reside a year in Paris, France and will return to the States in August of 1949. En route he and his family will spend a few days in Greenville with his mother, Mrs. Virgil P. Scoville.

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—Former Governor and Senator Cameron Morrison carried the North Carolina standard last night in the lively Democratic convention demonstration for Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

Barkley has strong support for the vice presidential nomination. Morrison said "he led for Roosevelt" in former years and "we ought to let him lead now."

Morrison lifted the North Carolina standard up to the speaker's platform for Barkley to touch.

Although a group of delegates followed Morrison in the parade about the floor, the majority of the North Carolinians watched the demonstration by standing in their chairs. Governor R. Gregg Cherry, delegation chairman, said it was too hot for him to take part.

The Tar Heels left the steamy hall soon after the Barkley demonstration ended and did not stay for the rest of the long session.

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—South Carolina's delegation to the Democratic convention faced a contest today before the credentials committee. The South Carolina Progressive (Negro) Democratic party protested the seating of the delegation because Negroes did not participate in its selection.

The Negroes carried the contest to the credentials committee after it was rejected last Saturday by the Democratic National committee.

Police Declare War On Speeders By CHESTER WALSH Police Chief Lester D. Page today gave a final warning to motorists about speeding on the city streets, especially in the college view section, where residents have made frequent complaints. The streets running east and west are through thoroughfares and there are stop signs at intersecting streets. Complaints are being made that motorists ignore the "stop" signs and that screeching sounds of brakes and skidding wheels to avoid collisions are disturbing and alarming.
