Thorez Proposed New Premier By French Leftists

Communist Leader Is First To Visit Auriol As Schuman Falls

Paris, July 20—(AP)—Communists proposed today that their leader, Maurice Thorez, be designated the new French premier to head a coalition government of Socialists and Communists.

Thorez was the first majority party leader to call on President Vincent Auriol, who is searching for a new premier. France's middle-of-the-road government, headed by Robert Schuman, toppled last night after a dispute over the army's budget.

There was no immediate prospect of Thorez being invited to share in the government. He called on Auriol first because the Communist party has the largest representation in the National Assembly. They and affiliated groups have 186 out of 518 deputies. They were not represented in the last cabinet.

Following Thorez was Andre Colin, secretary general of the Popular Republican (MRP) group with 153 members in the assembly. Schuman is a member of the MRP, and many believe he will be called upon to form a new cabinet.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, also a Popular Republican, was hurrying back to Paris from The Hague, where he attended the meeting of the five-power Western European union.

Socialists also called upon Auriol. They have 103 members in the assembly, and like the MRP were represented in the Schuman cabinet. Guy Mollet, Charles Lussy and Alex Rubert made up the Socialist delegation.

Auriol was expected to try to find a premier who could reunite the "third force" coalition of Popular Republicans, Socialists and radical Socialists. Under Schuman's leadership they had opposed the Communists on the left and Gen. De Gaulle's French People's Party on the right.

Andre Marie was mentioned as the candidate of the radical Socialists. Former Premier Paul Reynaud, an independent Republican, figured also in the discussion.

Schuman's cabinet, which was in office Nov. 22, 1947, contained no Communists. An indication that the Communists may make a serious bid to get a place in the new cabinet was contained in an editorial in L'Humanite. The Communist newspaper spoke of the "formation of a government of democratic union in the heart of which the working class and its Communist party would play a decisive role."

Inquest Tonight Death Of Negro

By CHESTER WALSH
Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse will hold an inquest at the Courthouse tonight at 7:30 into the death of James Little, Negro, who allegedly was shot by Robert Daniel, Negro, at Patectus, Sunday evening, July 11, following an argument over a gambling debt.

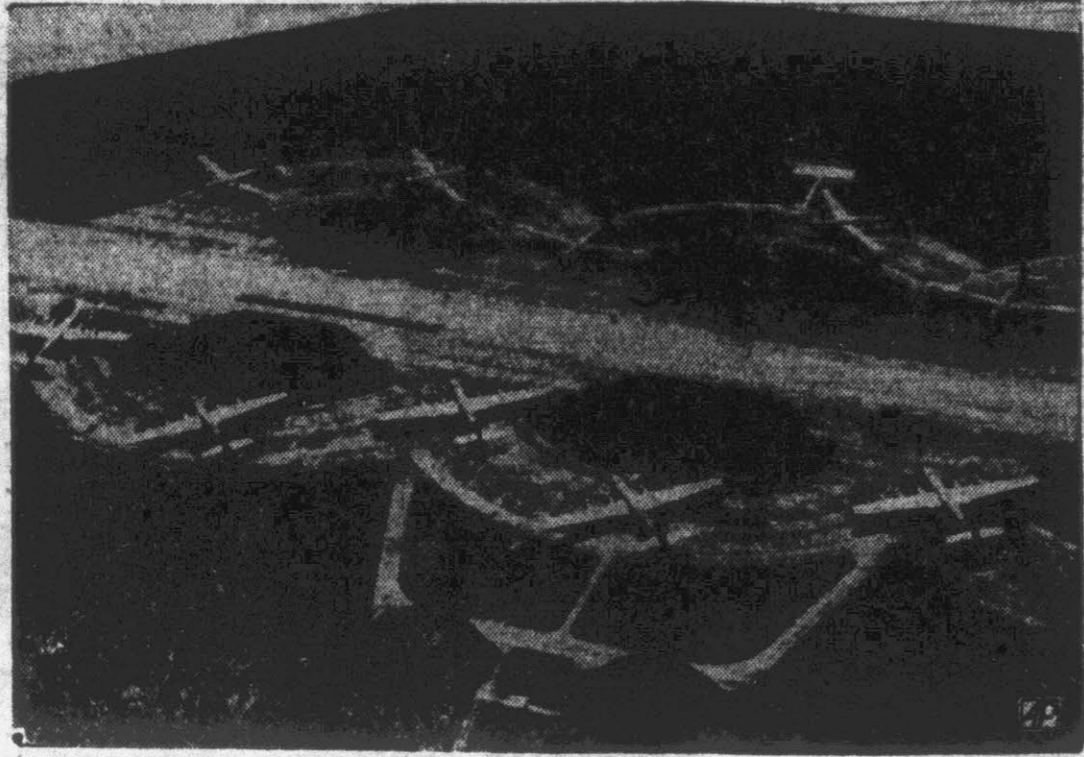

Arresting officers also charge Daniel with shooting Ed Powell, Negro, and seriously wounding him at the same time and with attacking two officers, Deputy Sheriff Loyd Manning and ABC Officer Claude Manning.

They said Daniel fled to woods after the shooting. Bloodhounds were used to capture him. Beaufort and Martin County highway patrolmen and Greenville police assisted in the manhunt.

Solicitor W. J. (Dick) Bundy will sit in on the inquest proceedings tonight.

Foreign Agents Known In U. S.

Many Immune To U. S. Law; Grand Jury Offers Indictments

Washington, July 20—(AP)—State department officials have told Congress that several hundred known or suspected subversive foreign agents have entered this country as employees of the United Nations and similar organizations.

Robert C. Alexander, assistant chief of the department's visa commission, has testified to a senate judiciary subcommittee that nothing can be done about it under present laws. The committee is studying immigration problems.

He said such persons are covered by the international organization's immunity act.

New York, July 20—(AP)—A special federal grand jury which reportedly has been investigating Communist activities for more than a year today handed up sealed indictments.

Earlier, the New York Sun said the grand jury was expected to indict at least a dozen Communist officials, charging them with operating a Moscow-directed move to overthrow the U. S. government.

First tip to the FBI on the alleged Moscow-directed ring in the United States came from a woman member of the Communist party, the Sun said. The news story added: "Initially the Red ring contained 150 suspects who were tagged and placed under surveillance by the FBI. Action against this number, however, will follow only if the department of justice is successful in upholding the indictments against the Red party leaders. If successful, it is assumed that all Communist party members face the likelihood of the same charge."

Record Personal Income For May
Washington, July 20—(AP)—Personal income rose in May to an annual rate of $208,100,000,000, the Commerce Department reported today.

That was the highest since last January. Total income received by individuals then reached a record annual rate of $211,400,000,000.

Futile Attempt To Kill Japan's Top Communist
Tokyo, July 20—(AP)—A new labor drive for political power is expected to follow last night's attempt to assassinate Communist leader Kyuchiro Tokuda.

Behind that will be a sharper clash between radicals and conservatives—with only the presence of General MacArthur's troops preventing what MacArthur himself once predicted could be "a blood bath."

A former Communist, brought home to Japan from a wartime Russian prison camp, threw a dynamite filled pop bottle at Tokuda.

"Communism is no good for Japan," he told police to whom he surrendered.

Couple Wage And Price Increases
Pittsburgh, July 20—(AP)—Republic Steel Corp., of Cleveland today coupled announced wage boosts with a notice that the price of pig iron was advancing $4 at Birmingham, Ala., because of "increased costs."

The nation's third largest steel producer granted the same 13 cent average hourly pay boost given U. S. Steel Corp. workers. The raises, ranging from 9 1/2 to 25 cents, are effective as of July 15.

Epidemic Speeds Towards Record

736 Cases Reported; Near Total Of Worst Year, 1944

Raleigh, July 20—(AP)—North Carolina's mounting polio epidemic brought reports of 29 new cases to the State Board of Health today.

A corrected total of cases reported since Jan. 1 put the figure at 736 cases, the board reported. It said two cases previously listed as polio had been removed from the list.

In a statement released with the figures, the board made some comparisons between this year's outbreak—the state's second most severe—and the 1944 epidemic, the state's worst.

The sharp increase in cases which grew into this year's epidemic came at an earlier time than was the case in 1944, it reported, and has "persisted beyond the peak week of 1944."

The total of cases for 1944 was 816. The 734th case that year was not reported until Sept. 23. This year's attack rate, the board said, through yesterday stood at 19 cases per 100,000 population, compared with a rate of 23 cases per 100,000 in 1944.

Today's reports, all of July cases, sent the month's total of cases to 320.

Meanwhile, R. J. Peeler of N. C. State College announced that all Future Farmers of America camps in the state will be closed for the remainder of the season because of the epidemic.

'Strong Protest' Over Yak Planes

Real Sacrifice For U. S. In Outlay For Foreign Aid

Washington, July 20—(AP)—Foreign Aid is costing Americans more this year than the total outlay for schools, police and fire protection and similar local services.

Paul G. Hoffman, who is directing the European recovery program, made this assertion today in a radio address to be beamed to Europe by the World wide broadcasting foundation.

The economic cooperation administration, striking back anew at Communist criticism of the aid venture, declared: "No Communist claim has been more ridiculous than the charge that we are dumping surpluses on Europe."

Then, detailing the sacrifices he said Americans are making, Hoffman added:

Israeli Report Fighting In Third Day Of 'Truce'

Cairo, July 20—(AP)—Jewish forces in Haifa said today fighting still was going on in northern Palestine on the third day of the truce imposed by the United Nations.

A main Cairo thoroughfare was blasted last night when a single unidentified plane raided the Egyptian capital. Investigators of the Egyptian interior ministry and explosives experts said the plane dropped an "aerial mine" which damaged a motion picture theater and two department stores.

Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha led a cabinet meeting and rushed to the scene of the explosion. He told newsmen: "If the plane proves to have been a Zionist

London, July 20—(AP)—The deputy U. S. consul in Glasgow said today the American aircraft carrier Sicily will land 75 jet-propelled Shooting Star fighters in Scotland Aug. 4, to bolster American fighter strength in Germany.

The U. S. Air Force in Wiesbaden, Germany, confirmed this, as did sources in London who refused to be quoted by name.

An American official in Germany commented: "We are very happy to have them." He said the jets comprised a full group of fighters, adding that he did not know how long they would remain in Europe.

Loses Petition To Gain Freedom

Still Has To Serve 3 Life Terms And 40 Years In Prison

By CHESTER WALSH
Laurie D. Taylor, Jr., of Greenville, who pleaded guilty to three charges of second degree burglary and four charges of larceny at the January 1947 term of Superior Court here, and was given three life sentences and four 10-year sentences (the terms to be served concurrently with the first life sentence) in the State Prison, lost his petition for freedom in habeas corpus proceedings before Judge John J. Burney in Wilmington Monday, District Solicitor W. J. Bundy said today.

In his petition, Taylor contended that he was charged with three capital offenses, that he was unable to employ a lawyer, that the court did not provide the services of an attorney for him, and that he thereby was deprived of his constitutional rights. Solicitor Bundy said that the Pitt County court records showed Taylor was offered the services of an attorney, and that he declined, and preferred to plead guilty to second degree burglary and avoid the possibility of forfeiting his life if convicted. Judge Burney ordered that the Pitt county court records (Continued on Page Eight)

New Delhi, India, July 20—(AP)—Digambar Ramchandra Badge, who turned state's evidence in the Gandhi assassination case, testified today that the eight defendants also planned to "finish off" Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and H. S. Suhrawardy, prominent Moslem leader.

Mohandas K. Gandhi was shot to death at a prayer meeting here Jan. 30. Narayan Vinayak Godse, Poonawalla newspaper editor, is charged with firing the shot.

Suhrawardy was last premier of United Bengal and was associated with Gandhi in working for Hindu-Moslem amity.

Go-Slow Policy Toward Soviet Taken At Five-Power Conclave

The Hague, Holland, July 20—(AP)—The five powers of the western European union agreed today on a go-slow policy toward Russia in Germany.

The representatives of Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg were represented as considering the crisis "extremely grave."

A usually well informed source said the five-nation council reached complete agreement on a cautious policy for all five countries in the dispute with Russia over Berlin.

This, in effect, presented the United States with a united front of the countries of western Europe interested in Germany. It showed them opposed to any show of force or an ultimatum to Russia.

France prepared to propose formation of a federation of western Europe. The spokesman of the French delegation said, however, the strength of the proposal was weakened considerably by the fall of the Paris government last night. Most conference observers said the French plan would receive little more than cursory inspection before being passed over for consideration at the council's next meeting in October.

There were no details of the plan it was believed, however, it would suggest linking Norway, Sweden, Denmark, western Germany, Italy, Spain and Portugal with the five nations in an airtight federation.

Maj. Gen. Lyman L. Lemitzer, deputy commander of the U. S. National War College, and seven other U. S. officers, are in Europe as observers at the meeting of the military committee of the western European union.

The council studied means of tightening their military alliance but reached no important decisions, a conference spokesman said. The question of a single military chief-tain for western European armed forces was held over further study, as was the question of adopting common materiel for all their armies and coordinating military production in the five nations.

The five-nation alliance is meeting here to set up a common defense linked with American armed might. The delegates have before them a series of memoranda on recent talks in Washington between western European representatives and U. S. government officials on possible American military aid.

The conference on the Berlin deadlock was attended by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak, Luxembourg Premier Pierre Dupont, and Dutch Foreign Minister Baron Van Boetselaer Van Oosterhout.

Russians Offer Food In Propaganda For Berlin

Berlin, July 20—(AP)—With great propaganda fanfare the Russians announced today that they were prepared to supply food for all Berlin including the 2,000,000 German inhabitants of the western sectors whom they have blockaded for more than a month.

They claimed they would be able to do this with 100,000 tons of bread grains imported from the Soviet Union.

An announcement of the official Soviet news bureau told western Berliners they must buy this food with Soviet-sponsored German currency which circulates here as a rival to the western-sponsored Deutsche-mark.

The announcement was timed to coincide with a statement by the western allies that they were unable because of the Russian land blockade to deliver proposed increases in food ration scales for their sectors of the city.

Thus the Soviet announcement was a double barbed attack on the western powers. Not only did the Russians claim they could feed all Berliners but their announcement sought to discredit western sponsored currency as worthless for the primary function of buying food.

In Frankfurt Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, showed skepticism of the Russian offer to feed all Berlin.

"The proof is in the performance, not in the statement," said the U. S. commander, whose planes have been flying nearly 1,500 tons of food and coal a day over the Russian land blockade.

Clay flew to Frankfurt from Berlin for a meeting of the British, French and U. S. military governors with German officials to discuss plans for forming a new German government in the three western zones.

Russian-controlled newspapers in Berlin again attempted to discredit the American-British air lift which is supplying the blockaded western sectors of the city with cargoes flown from western Germany.

Dealings With Russia

Analyst Discusses "Forceful Measures" And "Measures Of Force", Two Different Matters; Western Allies Now Conferring On Actions To Take; Counter Moves

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
We hear from informed quarters in Washington that the western allies—America, Britain and France—are expected to reach agreement this week on a program aimed at countering, with forceful measures, the Russian food blockade of western Berlin.

That means a major show-down, because this savage attempt to starve the civilian population of the German capital has become a symbol of the Russian challenge to democracy. If the Bolsheviks can get away with that barbarity, then they can get away with anything.

However, let's get it straight in our minds just what that expression "forceful measures" means. It does not necessarily mean "measures of force," that is, strong arm action. It presumably does mean economic or political sanctions (or both) which would be calculated to put a fierce squeeze on the Moscovites.

Rather a lot of talk about "measures of force" is being bandied about. In its essence that is war talk. Such talk doesn't win wars, but it can breed them. We've already seen one sharp reaction in the heavy slump on the stock market.

There might come a time when "measures of force" would have to be used, because the democracies have no intention of backing down. However, that would be after "forceful measures" had failed.

There are various ways in which powerful sanctions could be applied to Russia if she persists in her efforts to force the hands of the western allies. One of these would be through action by the United Nations which could apply sanctions after it becomes convinced that the Russian challenge to democracy is a crisis—what then? Well, the democratic bloc could get together and apply the sanctions outside the U. N. Such sanctions might mean not only a severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and her satellites but the stoppage of all trade with the Communist bloc. That would be strong medicine.

Not only are America, Britain and France in constant consultation, but officials of the recently formed western European Union—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—have been meeting in the Hague to discuss their common interests in the battle of (Continued on Page Eight)

Will Public Benefit?

With All The Arguments Over What Was Behind A Special Session Of Congress, Main Point Is—Was It Necessary, And Will They Do Something?

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, July 20—(AP)—While the politicians beat one another over the head with sticks, the public can sit back, grin and say: "Well, maybe we'll get some good out of this special session of Congress, no matter what happens to the fortunes of the Democrats or Republicans."

If the special session is really necessary—and if it does something for the general welfare—then the public benefits.

And that's the main point. Right now the politicians are arguing with a lot of noise, about President Truman's calling the special session.

The argument goes something like this: "He pulled a cheap political trick in calling the Republican-controlled Congress back into session because he only wants to embarrass the Republicans and build up campaign ammunition for his own re-election."

He pulled a smart stunt in calling the special session because in this way he can try to force the Republicans to show whether they really mean the promises they made in their 1948 campaign platform.

The background of the special call is simple to state: Mr. Truman, a Democratic President, last November recommended to the Republican Congress that it do a number of things he considered important.

For example: give him power to control prices, if and when he thought necessary; set up a big housing program; help education; and so on.

The Seven Pines Club Holds Picnic
The Seven Pines Club held their family night picnic at the Farmville Recreation Park. About 80 members, husbands, children and friends enjoyed this occasion which included a delicious picnic supper, group singing and a picture on "Home Beautification," shown by Mrs. Fred Langford, Home Agent.

Red Banks Club's Annual Picnic
The Red Banks Family Night was held at the attractive country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker. To make the occasion most successful the Tucker family had provided a table on the lawn for the members to spread their picnic supper. They had arranged orange crates covered with blankets in order for members to be comfortable while sitting. They had also provided flood lights about 125 members and invited guests which included their husbands, children, and friends enjoyed a delicious picnic supper. Then Mr. Vance Corey led the group in the old time Virginia Reel and called numbers for Square dancing on the well lighted lawn after which Mrs. B. L. Tyson of the Red Oak club led group singing which was enjoyed by every one present. To make the old fashioned picnic real Mrs. Tucker directed the group in a Cake Walk. Mr. Riddick, a guest from Greenville, was the lucky person. He received a homemade cherry cake made by one of Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker's famous recipes.

The period of registration will extend through July 25. Class work began on Tuesday morning. The summer session will end on August 27 with commencement exercises for graduates, and the fall quarter will begin on September 7.

KAISER
FRAZER

Service wherever you go

In just two years we've built and sold more fine cars than any other new manufacturer in automobile history.

Why? Because America fell in love with the KAISER and the FRAZER on sight. Folks are streaming into Kaiser-Frazer showrooms and learning from present owners how dependable these two great cars are. They're learning—from people who drive them—how soundly they are built... how economical they are... how much joy there is in owning one.

THESE ARE THE MOST-COPIED CARS IN AMERICA, road-proved by 250,000 owners in two billion miles of driving.

Because plenty of Americans insist on comfort, convenience, style and value, traditional leaders had to "move over"—as Kaiser-Frazer became the fourth largest manufacturer of motor cars in the world in two short years.

Why wait? Enjoy your new car this summer. You'll get fair treatment and highest trade-in allowance.

Strength FOR THE DAY WHEN TO GET ANGRY. An Indian legend tells of three braves who went hunting. All day they hunted, and two of them gradually shot all their arrows as rabbits and squirrels, without seeing anything big. Just before sundown on their way home, they encountered a huge bear face-to-face on the trail. The two younger men, all their arrows gone, were panic-stricken. But the third, an old warrior who had scorned to waste his arrows on small game, held his ground and killed the bear. How often we, like the two young Indians, expend our energy on the small things and have nothing left for the big ones. Everyone has heard of righteous indignation—the kind of anger, in behalf of a good cause, which spurs us to action. Anger is a good thing occasionally, if it is directed against some great wrong or injustice. But most of our anger never goes to support great causes, for we have already wasted it on trivial ones. We get annoyed and upset over petty matters every day, and our wrath is so commonplace that it loses its force. People regard us merely as irritable, and so pay no attention when we really do have an important grievance. If we saved our arrows for the big game, how much more good we could do!

Boyle's Column. New York (AP)—It isn't every sergeant in the army who is promoted for splashing mud all over a full ranking General. J. Norman ("The Old Serge") Lodge believes he is the only sergeant in the U. S. army who got a higher rank by giving Gen. John J. Pershing an impromptu mud bath. Lodge, an Associated Press correspondent overseas during the second World War, served as an enlisted man with Pershing in Mexico and in France. Serving as a sniper with the infantry, Lodge was placed in one early engagement in the first World War and hit in both legs by German machine gun bullets in another battle. When he recovered, he was assigned to duty as a motorcycle dispatcher. "In spite of the shell-torn roads we had to keep a schedule," he recalled. From Souilly to Chaumont, Pershing's headquarters, it was two hours—an almost impossible feat. "One day I was late and tore into the Chateau yard at Chaumont just as Pershing was emerging, neatly dressed as always. "It had been raining—it always rains during a war—and as a skidded up to the steps the motorcycle splattered Gen. Pershing with mud. "His quick temper flared. His short riding crop, which was as much a part of his uniform as his highly polished boots, came up and down across my knuckles. "Lodge, his knuckles stinging, saluted. Pershing took a look at the sergeant's stripes on his sleeves and said sternly: "What is your name, Private?" "Lodge, sir, 65986, headquarters, 101st Infantry, 26th Division." are surrounded by large arid territory. It is of record that several liquor stores at Fort Mill S. WASHINGTON LETTER. Washington — The capital's one and only one legitimate playhouse—the National Theatre—will switch to movies in September. The decision is the theater's answer to a long-standing "ultimatum" from the Actors' Equity Association that its members wouldn't play the National after Aug. 1 unless the management let down the box-office barrier against negroes. Local civic and dramatic groups, hoping for the opening of another legitimate house, are looking to the capital's famous old Belasco Theater on Lafayette Square for stage facilities. Representatives of the American National Theater and Academy (ANTA) recently expressed confidence in efforts to obtain the old Belasco for use with a policy of non-segregation. The Belasco, often called the "Theater of Presidents," is now but a shell. It is owned by the government and has been used by the Treasury Department as storage space. However, the government has offered to put it up for a 10-year lease. Although several groups are interested, there are major obstacles—the expense of rebuilding and a government stipulation that it might have to be vacated on a year's notice. The Belasco threw open its doors "under very favorable auspices" on Monday, Sept. 30, 1890. Everyone turned out in full dress—diplomats, cabinet members, officialdom and local society. Lillian Russell presented "La Traviata," written especially for her by De Koven and Smith and based on a Russian theme. Later De Wolf Hopper appeared in a Sousa opera, "El Capitán," with Edna Wallace Hopper and Nella Bergen. Trixi Frigansen and Eva Tanguay, recalled as a "whirling dancer of marvelous endurance," also played there. Another presentation was "Rosemary" with John Drew as Jasper Thorndyke and Maude Adams as Dorothy Cruikshank. Also in the cast were Anne Adams, Maude's mother, and Ethel Barrymore. That was in 1890. The following year, Maurice Barrymore, Ethel's father, was presented. The Metropolitan Opera Company played there in 1908 with Caruso and Tetrazzini in "Lucia." It was at the Belasco that Florenz Ziegfeld signed Will Rogers for the "Follies." President Wilson saw Percy Mackaye's new play, "George

Around Capitol Square. By LYNN NISBET. WRITE-INS—An election device often used by citizens dissatisfied with regular candidates is to scratch out the printed names on the ballot and write in others. Apparently there is no way in which a voter can make his wishes ballot count for a president or vice president, although it can be made effective for every other elective official down to town-ship constable. ELECTIONS—That is because the U. S. constitution provides for election of every federal or state official by direct popular vote, except the president and vice president. They are named by electors; one elector for each member of the Congress. Prior to the 1866 presidential election the names of candidates for president and vice president did not appear on the ballots. Citizens voted for electors by name. There is still some in some states. CHANGE—The 1868 general assembly amended the North Carolina law so that in 1868 and subsequent presidential elections the names of party nominees were printed on the ballots, while names of electors were filed with the secretary of state. The law says "a vote for such candidates shall be a vote for the electors of the party by which such candidates were named, and whose names have been filed with the secretary of state." (GS 163-108). EFFORT—If the law had not been changed any citizens desiring now to vote for Henry Wallace or Strom Thurmond or any other person could have substituted names of electors pledged to them in place of the names printed on the ballot. But substitution of Wallace or Thurmond for Truman or Dewey on the ballot this year will be wasted effort. The vote will not count unless there shall have been previously filed according to law a list of electors with the secretary of state. And such filing cannot be made until the state board of elections has recognized the filing group as a political party. That now seems improbable as to the Wallace party and impossible for the Dixiecrats. BLOCKED—So, while any North Carolina voters may write in Joe Doakes or Mortimer Snerd in place of Kerr Scott or George Fritchard and have it count as a vote for governor, there seems no way to make a write-in vote for president count. LIQUOR—ABC stores in 24 counties and three municipalities sold $3,263,338.15 worth of liquor during the month of June. That topped records for the month of June. But—sales in the twenty-five counties which operated stores last June were off 17 per cent, or nearly half a million dollars. Mecklenburg county's $727,239.15 business more than doubled that of any other unit. Asheville's municipal stores came second with $339,632.70. In neither instance is the business regarded as "new" or as reflecting larger consumption of liquor. It is business that last year went to South Carolina stores and bootleggers. The $23,592.59 sales at Franklinton and Lenoir are regarded as principally business that formerly went to Durham, Henderson, Raleigh and Warrenton. ARID—Asheville and Charlotte

Boyle's Column. (Continued from previous page) "The name wasn't given just because of his soldierly bearing," said Lodge. "There was only one way to do things in Pershing's army—the Pershing way. "It made no difference to the old man whether a man who swerved from the Pershing way was a full chicken Colonel or the rawest recruit. He caught old Ned, no matter who he was." WASHINGTON LETTER. Sentry Keeps Vigil At Gen. Pershing's Grave

Washington, July 20—(AP)—A sentry kept a lonely vigil today over the Arlington grave of General of the Armies John J. Pershing.

Until sundown Thursday night a single guard will watch the spot where the 87-year-old leader of American forces in France in World War I was buried yesterday.

By custom, a guard is maintained for 72 hours over the graves of famous men buried in the national cemetery. For the next 30 days, flags will fly at half-staff at all Army posts.

The stirring tribute that the military gave the general was matched by the unplanned, spontaneous farewell from the public. More than 300,000 men, women, and children stood through a beating Washington rainstorm to see the long cortege and the caisson with its flag-draped casket roll by.

Upwards of 3,500 soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen marched the four-mile route from the capitol to Arlington—and marching with them were a dozen generals.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who in World War II was supreme allied commander in Europe, made the long trek, rain soaking through the uniform he donned again for the occasion. Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of staff, Gen. Jacob L. Devers, chief of field armies, and the commanders of the six armies in the United States strode through the rain and, later, the blistering July sun that followed it.

Refuses Help Of 'Rabble-Rousers' In Demo Rupture

Columbia, S. C., July 20—(AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the presidential candidate of rebellious Southern Democrats, says the advocates of states' rights neither need nor want the aid of "rabble rousers."

Thurmond yesterday refused an offer of support from Gerald L. S. Smith, leader of the Christian Nationalist Party, with these words:

"We do not invite, we do not need, the support of Gerald L. S. Smith or any other rabble rousers who use race prejudice and class hatred to inflame the emotions of our people."

In an interview he said that the states' rights movement "is not based on racial hate nor racial prejudice," and he predicted that most of the South would support the rebellious Democrats. He said he planned a vigorous campaign.

Rotarians Talk Childrens' Needs

By WYATT BROWN

The Rotarians talked about the needs of Greenville, especially as to the children, when a series of members participated in a discussion led by program chairman Howard J. McClintock. The subject was touched out by Dr. McClintock introduced by his indicating how men's lives are built around the child of today. The course of the evening some of the Rotarians spoke voluntarily, others were called on by the chairman.

Joe Mays led off with the suggestion that a permanent recreation program, properly supervised, worked out in conjunction with the schools, was essential for the future of Greenville. Wyatt Brown suggested material centers, needed from rivers brought out the importance of spraying for control of polio.

At this point Bob Bradshaw made an eloquent appeal for Greenville to invest in youth. He indicated that side issues took people off the scene. Ercell Webb next made the suggestion that more attention be given to the raising of children ones self instead of leaving it to some one else.

Next Dr. Fred Irons told of need of a right kind of recreational program. He said he had had the opportunity to see how difficult achieving that end was going to be. The slow way the Greenville program is getting under way, Dr. Irons explained, was due to the uncertainty as to the right way and what things to do first. He said he had not been much encouraged by what he has experienced so far in trying to get the program going.

James Keel spoke of the need of parental cooperation with the boy scout movement. He told how as a leader he had found himself left without any cooperation whatsoever. Parents should take a greater interest. Then he called on Wyatt Brown to tell something about how the situation is as to scouting now. Wyatt related how a small number of men like W. F. Young and John Fleming have been giving lots of time and carrying on the scouting program, but still slight cooperation from parents.

Floyd Hendrix, Herbert Waldrop, Keel Pace, Sam White and Hayward Dall contributed to the discussion emphasizing the need of right home training and parental interest in the right development of children into useful lives.

Visiting Rotarians last night were W. W. Dibble of Orangeburg, South Carolina and William T. Windley, senior and junior of Washington, and three from the Farmville club: Richard Joyner, Jesse Mays and Edwin Coates. Guests of the club were Bryce B. Brown of Shenandoah, N. Y., R. B. Reed of Charlotte, and Charles Pace. E. L. Willard, club president, presided. Hayward Dall suggested that the Rotarians indicate their appreciation of Sheppard Memorial Library by writing the donor, Mr. H. D. Sheppard, Hanover, Pennsylvania.

Official Denial Pinned On Tale Of 'Missing Ship'

Washington, July 20—(AP)—A statement by Rear Admiral Ellis Zacharias, retired, that a Navy ship carrying an atomic bomb sank without trace in the Pacific during the war had this terse official denial pinned to it today:

"No Navy ship carrying an atomic bomb ever disappeared."

The former Navy intelligence officer told a Mutual network radio audience Sunday that near the close of the war a vessel bearing an atomic bomb headed for the island of Tinian but disappeared before getting there.

A Mutual spokesman said Zacharias had identified the ship as a destroyer and had added that the story was once released by the Navy, but was generally overlooked in the flurry over the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic explosions.

Peaches Compete For Attention In Festival Friday

Rockingham, July 20—(AP)—Two kinds of peaches will be competing for attention in the annual Sand Hills peach festival here Friday.

The prettiest girls from more than a dozen towns will be running for the title of 1948 peach queen.

And thousands of other peaches—the kind that grow on trees—will be in the running for recognition as the finest in the five-county area.

Festival Director W. H. Eubanks meanwhile, announced that plans for the big show are getting their final polish.

The colorful program, sponsored by the Rockingham Merchants Association, includes, besides the beauty pageant, a parade of more than 20 floats, a night fireworks display, fashion parade, and a street dance.

Deadlines Push Car Inspectors: More 'Business'

Raleigh, N.C., July 20—(AP)—Since motorists have been given deadlines for having their vehicles inspected, the state's mechanical inspection lines are doing a much heavier business.

Arthur Moore, director of the program, said yesterday that the lanes are now handling about 2,000 cars a day, a jump of about 50 percent since the deadline regulations went into effect July 8.

The percentage of first rejections, which had averaged about 48 or 50 percent since the inspections began last Jan. 1, is climbing now that the oldest cars are being ordered through the lanes, Moore declared.

He said the percentage now is "running a little better" than half.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

By Florence Stuart

Chapter 4

When Aunt Mae had gone, Jane reminded herself that she had a thousand things to do. She reminded herself that it was her third wedding anniversary, and that nothing had really happened to spoil it. Nothing of any importance. Aunt Mae had simply come to her with a bit of gossip that might or might not be true. And suppose it were. What was so terrible about it? Suppose Carl had taken that girl to the Mayflower in Washington? So what? I think we'll go out to dinner; she decided suddenly.

What was the use in fussing all afternoon in the kitchen? She had planned on broiled squabs, and ice cream with a lot of green in it, and little cakes. Her lovely lace tablecloth. Softly lighted candles. She had a new white dress to wear. A dress that swooped and floated and made her look like a girl in a valentine. Maybe he's sick of a wife who looks like a perennial debutante, she thought.

She had gone up to her room, and she threw herself over the bed and began to cry. Her mind kept telling her that there was nothing to cry about. But her heart seemed to know better. She whispered into the pillow: "I wouldn't want to live if Carl stopped loving me. What would there be to live for?"

She forgot all about lunch. She always forgot food if she was worried or unhappy. Around one o'clock she dressed and went out.

Maybe, she thought grimly, what Carl wants is a girl with a lot of brains.

Maybe that was the kind of girl he should have married in the first place. She thought back, trying to remember if he had said anything recently that would indicate he was getting bored with her. Little trifles came to her mind. Such as the evening, maybe a month before, when she had complained about his spending so many evenings reading in his study.

And Carl had said, not really unpleasantly, but a trifle truthfully: "I wish you were more of a reader, honey. It would help to fill your evenings when I have work that must be done."

She knew that he was gathering material for a book that he wanted to do later on. She knew that he couldn't be expected to spend all of his spare time amusing her. And she doubted if he thought an adult person needed to be amused. Why did he marry me? She asked herself suddenly. After all, someone who was more of a mental companion...

She remembered that day, long ago, when he had said teasingly: "Maybe I'm marrying you for your money, sweetheart." Her mind fell back, bitterly, on one of Aunt Mae's platitudes: "There's many a true word spoken in jest."

She decided to drive out to see Tess Haley. If he thought an adult person needed to be amused, why did he marry me? She asked herself suddenly. After all, someone who was more of a mental companion...

Smallpox Nearly Wiped Out In U.S.

New York, N.Y.—Smallpox is rapidly nearing eradication in the U.S., according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Only 173 cases of the disease were reported for 1947, which is a reduction of more than 50 percent in the single year from the 356 cases for 1946, and a reduction of 98 percent in the past decade from the 11,673 cases reported in 1937.

Continued progress is shown for the first 22 weeks of 1948 with only about one third as many cases reported as during the like period of last year.

Seventeen states and the District of Columbia were entirely free from smallpox in 1947, and six other states reported only one case each. The state of Washington, which had 88 cases in 1946 through the spread of infection brought in from the Far East, was one of the states with a perfect record for 1947.

The statisticians note the effectiveness of the mass vaccination campaign in New York City last year, in which more than 6,000,000 persons were vaccinated to combat virulent smallpox introduced into the city by a merchant returning from Mexico. The program succeeded in preventing the spread of the disease beyond the 12 cases contracted before the start of the campaign.

"The complete elimination of smallpox in our country is clearly in sight," the statisticians comment.

is urging conservative Malays to adopt mass weddings. "In these days of progressive development," he is quoted as saying, "we want to do things in a rapid, smart, efficient, attractive and economical manner."

The Sultan has even offered the use of one of his palaces for mass weddings. The idea isn't brand new in Malaya. During the occupation a mass wedding was attempted but failed because few people were interested. Today, though, according to a recent survey of Malaya public opinion, the younger generation favor removing some of the gingerbread from the traditional three-day-long wedding ceremony, which is primarily Hindu in origin, although the Malays are Muslims. Iceland has never had a war.

Athletes Train As 'Heat Wave' Strikes London

London, July 20—(AP)—Olympic athletes grooming for the world's biggest sports competition started their training today as a "heat wave" warmed up chilly old London.

After days of shivering in unseasonably low temperatures, a score of teams already assembled now are taking advantage of a warm sun to flex anxious muscles.

Watching his track and field squad performing in bare arms for the first time yesterday, Argentine Coach Francisco Mura said:

"The Argentine boys are hopeful now that the sun is out. The rainy, cold weather of the last two days had depressed them."

It was a typical comment as coaches piled in orders to the Olympic transportation pool to get their squads into action.

United States swimmers made the first splash in the Olympic pool at Wembley since it was drained the first week of the war in 1939. They held a brisk workout.

They were to repeat the act today along with swimmers of four other nations.

Meanwhile, there was good news from the box office.

Sir Arthur Elvin, managing director of Wembley Stadium where the games will be staged, reported ticket sales had reached $112,500—the estimated cost of staging the event.

"Judging by the present demand for tickets," he said, "this amount will be considerably exceeded before opening day July 29."

California Wins Baseball Laurel

Los Angeles, July 20—(AP)—The University of California walked off with the third annual national college baseball field competition and Michigan State's George Rutenar won the laurels as the best all-round baseball athlete.

After losing five of their last six starts the Greenies got as much needed rest when the game between the Goldboro Goldbugs and the Greenies scheduled at Goldboro last night had to be postponed on account of rain. However, these two teams will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock at Guy Smith Stadium, weather permitting. The postponed game of last night brings to three the total number of double-headers for the Greenies with the first to be played at Kingston on Sunday afternoon, the second to be played with Wilson here on next Tuesday night and the game rained out last night to be played in Goldboro on Saturday night, Aug. 7, the next meeting of the two clubs scheduled in Goldboro.

Here are some facts for consideration on the Greenies. For the week beginning Monday, July 13 and ending on Sunday, July 19th, the total runs made by the Greenies for the week was 24, being in seventh place in comparison with the other clubs. Wilson was the lowest in runs scored with 23. Goldboro led all other teams scored with 57. Roanoke Rapids scored 41, Wilson 36, Tarboro 24, New Bern 25, Rocky Mount 22.

Among the many things taken up at the meeting of the league directors here last Friday afternoon was the question that something had to be done to strengthen the league. The Coastal Plain has long held the reputation of the fastest Class D league in organized ball. Many players who have been assigned to the Coastal Plain from higher classification ball have expressed surprise at the caliber of play in the league. They have been frank to admit that

Lippy Leo Off To Splendid Start As Former 'Enemies' Come To Life And Take Three Of Four First Games

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leo Durocher is off to a splendid start in the toughest baseball job he's ever tackled—managing his erstwhile worst enemies, the New York Giants.

Preparing to tangle with the St. Louis Cardinals in a crucial series with second place perhaps at stake the Giants under Durocher have won three out of four games to pull up within a half game of the runner-up spot, now in a three-way deadlock.

More important than their victories, however, is the way these "new" Giants have so quickly caught the spark and fire of Durocher. Leo has been in charge only three playing days, but already he has his team hustling and running as never before this season.

Here are a few examples of the Durocher influence as exhibited in yesterday's 14-2 rout of the Reds in Cincinnati.

1. Whitey Lockman opened the Giants' half of the third inning with a base on balls and raced daringly to third on Ed Gordon's hard single to center. The alert Gordon scooted to second on the throw to third. Both eventually scored on a fly by Johnny Mize and a single by Willard Marshall. Bobby Thomson's three-run homer climaxed a five-run frame.

2. Billy Rigney singled to open the fourth and stole second. Lockman followed with another single and a minute later he, too, stole second. A long fly by Marshall and a home run by Walker Cooper rounded out a four-run inning.

3. Rigney again singled and on the hit-and-run play, was almost on second base when Lockman cracked a drive down the rightfield line. By the time substitute rightfielder Babe Young found the handle on the ball, Rigney had crossed the plate easily. It was another four-run inning.

4. Lockman walked in the sixth and stole his second base. Mize's two-out single scored him.

5. Mize walked in the ninth and hustled his lumbering frame to second for a surprising steal—the fourth of the game by Durocher's Giants.

This is quite a difference from the Giants of early season.

"You know, it's a good idea," one of the Giants said. "We may get back into the pennant picture if we keep playing this way."

"You can't help going all out for Leo," he added. "He just generates fire. You know, all he said to me was 'go out and gamble on a play. Don't wait for me to tell you. Take an extra base if you think you can. Or try a steal if you figure it might work. Remember,' he said, 'keep the other side surprised.'"

The Coastal Plain plays class C or Class B ball. One of the reasons for this is the player classification, four veterans, eight limited service players and four rookies. Of course there is speculation, too, among the fans that the $2,000 monthly salary limit exclusive of manager is just a clause on a piece of paper. Whether the salary limit is exceeded or not, of course, is known only to officials, but all of the directors agreed privately that steps must be taken to strengthen the league.

Class D ball is the lowest classification of professional ball and should be a training ground for ball players—to furnish new players for organized ball. Directors agree that it is not possible when two-thirds of the rosters are permitted to be experienced men. Of course, there is nothing to keep a club from having all rookies, except the desire to win and to compete favorably with the other clubs which have the eight experienced men.

Some of the directors are known to have expressed the opinion that the classification should be changed to require eight rookies instead of four. Already plans are in the making to bring this about another year. Immediately after the close of the current season directors are expected to be called into a meeting to discuss this problem openly.

Hank Bauer, Cincinnati outfielder whose name is at the top of the list of home run hitters in the majors, laid down his first sacrifice of the season in his seventy-fourth game. The suicide bunt, in the eighth inning, helped produce a tally.

Jim Russell of the Braves had had only two hits in 38 trips to the plate before socking his grand-slam home run in the eighth inning of Boston's 7 to 4 victory at Ebbett's Field, July 7. The blow stopped the Dodgers' winning streak at 6 games.

The 15 hits collected by the Senators in their 9 to 4 victory over the Yankees, July 11, represented their biggest swat job of the season. Their previous high was 14, compiled in the 6 to 5 defeat by the Yankees, July 4.

Nat'l Crown For Slugger Musial

New York, July 20—(AP)—Barring a complete collapse, Stan Musial, the Dodger, Pa. gift to the St. Louis Cardinals, should capture the National League batting title.

Although he dropped 11 points during the abbreviated week of play, his .382 is still 29 points better than any other player in official averages through Sunday.

Second spot fell to Andy Pafko of the Chicago Cubs. The converted third baseman surged past Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies into the runner-up spot with .353.

Asbun, the fleet-footed rookie outfielder, fell to third with .340.

Alvin Dark, the rookie shortstop of the Boston Braves, who came to life after a slow start, is in fourth place at .322. Following Dark in that order were three of his teammates, Tommy Holmes and the incapacitated Eddie Stankov, each at .320; and Jeff Heath, .318.

Ed Gordon, the handy man of the New York Giants, was eighth with .312. Ninth spot fell to Pee Wee Reese, who climbed over the 300 mark for the first time this season. His average was .310. Johnny Blatnik, rookie Philly flycatcher, who began so well rounded out the list ten with .307.

BOY'S LEAGUE BASEBALL

The Dodgers, Third St.'s entry in the Junior League, had a rough day Monday losing both ends of a doubleheader by decisive margins. In the first game the Red Sox of the Training School mauled them 23 to 5. It seemed as if they could not do anything right in the field and very little at bat getting only four hits off the southpaw slants of Billy Bost who was on the mound for the Sox. On the other hand, the Red Sox scored almost at will and getting fifteen hits off the combined twirling of three Dodger pitchers. Dallas Evans with three singles and a homer was the big gun for the winners. He was ably assisted by Billy Johnson, Bobby Nunn and Bobby Faulkner who got two hits each. Even Hugh Duncan, one of the youngest boys to ever play in the league got a pinch single in his only time at bat. Bowen, Guy Smith, Jackie Cox and Red Balance got the Dodgers' four hits.

In the second game of the doubleheader the Lions of W. Greenville sent the Dodgers down to another defeat by the score of 13 to 1. Southpaw pitching again was bad medicine for the Dodgers. Billy Dunn another portlander, set them down with only three hits, while his mates hit two homers and two triples to run up the score. Pat Sawyer hit a single and homer, Jimmy Hendrix a single and triple, Gene Hudson a homer, Bobby Howell a triple and single to lead the Lions offense. Bowen, Smith and Cox got all of the losers' hits.

In the afternoon game that was cut short by rain, the Tigers of Third St. were leading the Greenies 10 to 2 after two innings.

In the Intermediate League, the Giants of Third St. tied the Orioles of the Training School for the league lead with a 13 to 7 victory. The Giants scored ten runs in the last two innings to come from behind for the win. Kent Lee with three singles and a triple and Larry Flye with three singles were the leaders for the Giants. Leon Moore with three singles and Bobby Watson with two singles led for the losers.

Schedule for Wednesday:
Giants vs Orioles, Train. Sch., 9:00 a.m.
Lions vs Dodgers, Third St., 9:00 a.m.

Final Year For Avery Brundage In Olympic Work

Aboard the S. S. America, July 20—(AP)—Avery Brundage, a stern critic of amateur sports for years, says this is the last time he will lead United States forces into the Olympic games.

The man who has guided U. S. Olympic affairs for nearly 20 years and ridden out numerous controversies made the announcement last night as the bulk of America's 1948 team neared English port.

"It is generally understood," he said casually, "that I will not accept the presidency of the United States Olympic Association again."

"I think it's a good thing for the presidency to be passed around."

The announcement came as a complete surprise to the U. S. Olympic delegation, numbering more than 300 athletes and officials, on board this giant liner.

Brundage has held the Olympic post since 1928. He was elevated after the 1928 games at Amsterdam at which Gen. Douglas MacArthur was the chief.

He has been reelected at every succeeding quadrennial meeting. The next is in 1950.

"They call me a dictator," he said today. "Everytime I have been elected it was unanimously and I have been upheld unanimously in every matter except going to Berlin."

Brundage led a bitter fight to send the American team to Berlin in 1936 and won it. His foes argued Hitler was using the games for propaganda purposes.

Dodgers Will Call Up Righthander

St. Louis, July 20—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have announced plans to call up Carl Erskine, the young righthander who has won 14 and lost six for Fort Worth of the Texas League.

Branch Rickey, Dodger president who scouted Erskine with Manager Burt Shotton, said the 21-year-old hurler would be added to the staff as soon as a replacement can be found for him at Fort Worth.

Educators Talk Health Problems In N. C. Schools

Health problems, especially as they relate to work in the North Carolina public schools, were the topic of a two weeks' unit of work conducted at East Carolina Teachers College as part of the resource-use workshop which has just come to a close at the college.

The health unit was the third to be discussed in the workshop this summer; two other units dealt with the social studies and science. A combined registration of more than 100 teachers and principals, largely from eastern North Carolina, participated in the discussions. Use of the resources of North Carolina, especially the state health agencies, to make a healthier and happier citizenry and a program in the public schools to be educated in the use of these resources received emphasis during the past two weeks.

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, director, and Neil Stallings, assistant professor, both of the department of health and physical education at the college, were planners and directors of the program on school and com-

Pitt County Health Officer S. J. Phillips today reminded that the State Board of Health has fined the area west of Raleigh as the police area and urged the people here not to travel west of Raleigh unless the trip is urgently necessary.

Dr. Phillips also warned against children under 17 years of age traveling into the police territory.

Mayor Jack Boyd praised the health officer for his action and suggested that the people follow Dr. Phillips' advice.

So far, no police case has been reported in Pitt County.

Important Cases Tried Monday In Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court yesterday Judge J. W. H. Roberts fined Louis E. Clark of Greenville and Mrs. Janie L. Love of Havelock $25 each after they pleaded guilty to fornication and adultery. It was testified by police that the man and woman had been living together several weeks as man and wife at Mrs. Mabel Mann's rooming house, 103 Grande avenue.

The case of Norman R. Everette, charged with driving while drunk, was transferred to Superior Court for jury trial, under $200 bond. Adrian T. Oakley was fined $15 and costs, and the court ordered him not to violate any law or drink intoxicating liquor for 12 months.

Pauline Blackburn paid $15 and costs for vulgar and profane language and disorderly conduct. Noah Lee Edwards paid $10 for failure to stop at a "stop" sign. Zachariah Hill, colored, paid $25 and costs for driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license. A police officer testified that Hill went to police headquarters Saturday and asked where he could buy a license; that he told him at the Highway Department, but they were closed until Monday. The officer quoted Hill as saying, "It's costing me a lot of money to hire somebody to drive my car." Later in the day the policeman caught him driving and arrested him.

The following paid $20 each for speeding: Robert Lee Vandford, James H. Gray and Tillman G. Chancy, and Jame Staton, colored. Preton Ewan, Frank Harri, Jr., and John H. Joyner, all colored, each paid $10 for gambling. Ben Wilson, colored, was not guilty. The following paid $15 each for being drunk: Jame Everette, Allen Kirkman, colored, Jame Killbrew, colored, John Will, colored, Alfred William, colored, Curtis V. Yarell and Willie B. Yarell, both colored, and Ed Stoke, each paid $20.

Dewey S. Crawford Funeral Tomorrow

Final rites for T-S Dewey S. Crawford will be conducted at the graveside in Greenwood cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Dr. H. G. Hane, pastor of Eighth Street Christian Church. T-S Crawford was drowned in England on August 19, 1943, while on maneuvers with Battery B, 24th Field Artillery, United States Army.

T-S Crawford was born and reared in Pitt County, near Greenville, and attended school at Bell Arthur, graduating in June 1938, from Bell Arthur High School. He was engaged in farming until he enlisted in the U. S. Army on April 20, 1942. He was trained at Fort Bragg, Fort Jackson, S. C., and Camp Blanding, Fla., before going to England. He was a member of Red Oak Christian Church and a junior deacon in the church.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Ethel Allen Crawford, three brothers, Burrill U. Crawford of Greenville, Clifton E. Crawford of Washington, and Travis Crawford of the home; three sisters, Mrs. Jarvis H. Allen of near Greenville, Mrs. James M. McKenna of Greenville, and Mrs. Charles T. Tucker of the home; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Harrington of Greenville.

Van Iderstine Is Guest Speaker At Lion's Club

At its weekly meeting on Monday night, the Greenville Lion's Club had as its guest speaker Mr. Van Iderstine, president of the newly incorporated "Old North State Insurance Company." The "Old North State," which, it is expected, will begin operations in the very near future, will bring to Greenville a locally owned and operated business to many persons in the home offices. In addition to the direct employment it will afford, the company is expected to add materially, though indirectly, in the general economic structure of the City.

Defining insurance as a practical device by which men protect themselves against the perils of life, Mr. Van Iderstine then spoke very interestingly on the background of the insurance field and the necessity for it today. Due to the great need which this business has furnished since the day of its inception, it is today the largest, wealthiest and most stable of all businesses. As was pointed out by the speaker, few persons would care to invest in any enterprise which could be completely destroyed by one carelessly thrown cigarette or match, leaving no assets with which to rebuild. As a very vivid illustration, Mr. Van Iderstine told of the tremendous explosion and resulting fire which occurred at Texas City some months ago. Had it not been for the prompt and equitable payments made by insurance companies to those persons and firms who suffered losses, that City would in all probability still be a shambles today.

Mr. D. J. Dowd, of Dunn, N. C., father of Lion O. E. Dowd, was a guest of the Club.

Berlin. The London Times says Russia will be closely watching this Hague conference, and adds: "It has long been clear that the Soviet government is seeking to complete its program in central Europe, and perhaps beyond, before the west is fully organized."

What is the Red program for central Europe? It calls not only for the consolidation of such shaky conquests as Czechoslovakia, but for the taking over of both Germany and Austria. The battle of Berlin is part and parcel of an effort to oust the western allies entirely from the Reich and incorporate it in the Communist Empire. With this achieved, Russia would hold an almost impregnable military position across central Europe from which to further her world revolution.

That is why Moscow is taking so many risks in challenging the western allies in Germany. Her central offensive has begun to bog down and she is acting in desperation. Therein lies the real danger of war.

of the trials be included in the habeas corpus proceedings. Taylor was present at the hearing.

The court record here shows that he broke into and robbed the homes of J. P. Smith, Wyatt Brown, the Servicemen's Home, Jesse Laughinghouse, C. R. Fleming, and A. J. Mayo. He was convicted of three second degree burglaries, and three of the burglary charges were changed to larceny, and he was also convicted of robbing W. E. Wase's automobile, four larceny charges.

The habeas corpus writ was signed by Judge W. C. (Buck) Harris in Raleigh on July 8. It was directed to Clyde O. Robinson, director of prisons of the North Carolina Highway and Public Works Commission, directing him to have Taylor at a hearing in Burgaw on July 19, but this term of Pender County Superior Court was cancelled, and the hearing was transferred to Wilmington. Judge Burney in his order said the petitioner, Taylor, was not entitled to the relief he prayed for, that his application for discharge be denied, and that he be returned to State Prison.

Taylor was described by the late Solicitor Dave M. Clark as the "one man crime wave" after he was arrested in January, 1947.

the government in the November elections won't take office till next January.

So that means—if no special session had been called—that the party victorious in November couldn't start carrying out any of its platform promises till next January.

And, knowing how slowly Congress works, that would mean nothing done on the big issues till many months after January. Then Mr. Truman stepped into the picture and, in effect, told the Republicans: "All right, you said that if elected you'd do a lot of things I've already said needed doing months ago. Why wait till next year to do any of them?"

"You control Congress right now. So come back into special session and carry out now—instead of waiting till next year, if you win—the things the Democratic and Republican platforms and myself say ought to be done."

But, going back to the beginning, the main point is this:

What difference does it really make to the public who wins—Republicans or Democrats—or which side gets the most political good out of the special session if that special session does things which are necessary—if they're necessary—for the public good?

ELKS LODGE POSTPONES BOYS' TRIP TO CAMP
The Greenville Elks Lodge, which sends a dozen or more worthy teenage boys to the Elks Summer Camp near Hendersonville, in Western Carolina, for two weeks as guests of the lodge, cancelled this year's trip, which was to have been made last Sunday. Herman Norris said today that the lodge deemed it wise to heed to advice of the State Board of health to not travel into the police infected areas of the state.
