New Party Opens Convention, But Spectators Few

'Injustices' By U. S. Deplored By Witnesses In Platform Hearing

By BELMAN MORIN
Philadelphia, July 22 (AP)—Gideon's army is here, shivering lances and slaughtering dragons amid a strange quiet.

It is in convention beneath the portrait of Henry Wallace who first gave it that name. But so far there is almost nothing to indicate that another convention, the third within a month, has opened in Philadelphia. There are no crowds on the sidewalks, and no traffic jams, either on the fine wide streets, or in the hotel lobbies.

Even at Convention Hall, where the New Party platform committee is at work, there are more newspapermen and policemen than spectators, although the hearings are open to the public.

The only visible signs to denote the presence of Gideon's army are on the marquee of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel which is studded with standards calling for "peace, abundance, freedom."

A portable loudspeaker, advertising the arrival Friday of Mr. Wallace and Senator Taylor, caused hardly a head to turn.

All this contrasts sharply with the clatter and clang of the warriors appearing before the platform committee.

They have attacked "American imperialism," and "colonialism."

They also ran full-tilt against Franco Spain, partitioned Ireland, embattled Indonesia, and the situation in Armenia, the Ukraine, Hawaii, and the continent of Africa.

Neither Russia nor the present situation in Berlin were mentioned in this global search for alleged injustices.

Arthur Kahn, of New York, director of the nationalities division of the party, explained it this way:

"What we are trying to show is a rounded picture of American imperialism around the world. The State Department is bringing fascists and terrorists to this country and supporting them. At the same time, our policy is to exploit and colonize the weak people. We no longer stand for liberty and freedom—just the reverse."

The witnesses appeared before a group of men and women, members of the platform committee, who listened politely and indicated that much of the testimony would be incorporated into the platform later.

They cheered loudly when one witness—advocating American intervention to end the partition of Ireland—said 2,000 unsolicited pledges of votes for Wallace had been collected in the Bronx.

Caution Against Over-Optimism In Polio 'Cure'

Houston, Tex., July 22 (AP)—Polio patients treated with a new sulfa-type drug, thiazaloyl, are up and walking again, but doctors warned today against over-optimism.

One doctor pointed out that many patients recover spontaneously from polio.

Some 70 patients were estimated to have been treated with thiazaloyl, but Houston doctors said yesterday only about 35 cases were being used for study and evaluation. The remainder of the cases were "thrown out" because of errors in diagnosis and dosage, they said.

"We feel that the drug is doing some good," one doctor said at the City-County Jefferson Davis Hospital, "but we just want to be sure before we make any claims."

Answers On The Draft

Many Points Still Vague; Steps To Be Taken; Who's Affected; When Will Inductions Start? Terms For Deferments Not Yet Worked Out; 18-Year-Olds' Chance

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, July 22 (AP)—Mixed up about the draft? Here are some answers to questions you may have in mind.

To begin with, plenty of points about the draft still are vague, and direct answers can't be given right now to all questions.

That's because selective service still is in the process of getting organized.

For example, 4,000 draft boards—with at least three members to a board—have to be set up, under state directors.

But, first, all the state directors have to be appointed. Then the members of the draft boards have to be appointed.

And they have to find office space to set up shop. All this is expected to be finished by the end of August.

Average Prices Above 1947 On Georgia - Florida Leaf Markets

Valdosta, Ga., July 22 (AP)—The first offerings on the 1948 Georgia-Florida cigarette tobacco market today saw the fine-cured leaf hit a top of 67 cents a pound and a low of six.

Both extremes were established at Nashville, Ga. Good lemon cutters brought the top figure and non-descript, the low.

Immediately behind Nashville was the Pelham (Ga.) market where the high was 65 cents and the low 35. Moultrie, Ga. was third with a high of 64 cents and low of 10.

Selling on all auctions was brisk and the average prices were above those in 1947. First reports indicated little of the crop was going under government loan.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported the estimated average for the first several rows of the larger markets were 53 to 56 cents per pound. The bulk of the offerings were better quality lugs, medium and quality cutters.

Ranges for a few grades were 60-65 cents for choice and fine lemon lugs and 53 to 65 cents for cutters. Better quality lugs predominated the offerings and were in strongest demand, the USDA reported. Green leaf grades had the poorest demand. General quality was about the same as last year on opening day.

The Blackbear (Ga.) market reported the first two rows averaged 49.5 cents and 42 cents respectively. Some good grades in the first row hit 62 cents.

The Statesboro (Ga.) market reported a million pounds on hand with the first row averaging 54 cents, compared to last year's 46 cents. At Valdosta the first row of 26 baskets averaged 55 cents with a high of 63 cents and a low of 40. The same market last year averaged 44 1-2 cents a pound.

Waycross, Ga. reported top prices of 61 cents with common grades bringing good prices. The quality of the leaf offerings was better than average.

The Beaufort, Craven, Allegheny, McDowell, and Richmond cases were the first reported this year in those counties.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today moved medical shock troops into North Carolina to battle the state's mounting polio epidemic.

An orthopedic surgeon and three nurses, specially trained in fighting the disease, came here to begin a tour of the state's medical centers. They will train doctors and nurses in the latest methods of caring for acute cases.

The aid team joined Dr. Kenneth Landauer, medical director of the National Foundation, who came here this week to assist in the fight against the epidemic which steadily is approaching record proportions in the state.

The majority of the nation's 3,603 cases this year have been reported from North Carolina, Texas and California.

The U. S. Public Health Service said in Washington that of the total new cases for last week, approximately 61 per cent were reported by the three states.

Dig Deeper Into Charges UN Is Harboring Spies

Washington, July 22 (AP)—Senate investigators dug deeper today into the story of two state department officials that Communist employees of the United Nations are undermining U. S. Security.

Subcommittee staff members called for more information from Robert C. Alexander, assistant chief of the department's visa division, who first made the charges last week.

Alexander was recalled to testify (P. 8, EBT) after secretary of State Marshall told a news conference he knows of no threat to American security by foreign agents who might be employed by U. N.

Senator Revercomb (R-W.Va.), chairman of the judiciary subcommittee, did not share Marshall's view.

He told reporters by telephone from his home in Charleston, W. Va.: "This investigation is revealing a very serious situation. We will follow through until there is a complete revelation of the facts."

Refugees Voice Hope They Can 'Live In Freedom' Now

Provincetown, Mass., July 22 (AP)—A hardy band of 29 Baltic natives who landed at this colonial port after 43 days aboard a small ketch on the Atlantic held hopes today they will be allowed to "live in freedom" in the United States.

The seven-family party of 15 men, seven women and seven children were headed for Boston, but turned in here yesterday when they ran out of fuel for the vessel's auxiliary engine and became short of food.

Food and other supplies were given to the refugees by residents of this town which is only a short distance from where the first Pilgrims landed.

The refugees, headed by Capt. John Rosenberg, 63-year-old master of the 64-foot ketch named the "Gundel," called today for Boston, where a U. S. Immigration official said his office probably would make an investigation.

Capt. Rosenberg said his party had sailed from Dover, England, with only a wrist watch and sextant to guide them.

They originally had fled Soviet-controlled Latvia to Sweden, where they lived for four years and pooled their resources to acquire the ketch for $12,000.

Rosenberg, who speaks excellent English, told Coast Guardsmen "We want to live in freedom. If we can't land in the United States, we will have to try Canada."

"We can't go back," he added.

Forty-Seven New Polio Cases Are Reported In N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., July 22 (AP)—For the second successive day, 47 new cases of infantile paralysis were reported today to the state board of health.

These pushed the total reported in the state this year to 830 cases. All but two of the cases reported today were of July onset. One was a June case and another a May case.

The total of cases for July now stands at 413; for June 290; and for May 73.

Yadkin and Surry counties reported four cases each, although one of Surry's was a June case. Others were reported by: Catawba, Mecklenburg, and Rowan, three each; Cabarrus, Cleveland, Forsyth, Gaston, Guilford, Iredell and Richmond, two each; and Allegheny, Beaufort, Craven, Caldwell, Davidson, Durham, Harnett (May case), McDowell, Montgomery, Henderson, Rockingham, Sampson, Stanly, Stokes, Wake and Rutherford.

The Beaufort, Craven, Allegheny, McDowell, and Richmond cases were the first reported this year in those counties.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today moved medical shock troops into North Carolina to battle the state's mounting polio epidemic.

An orthopedic surgeon and three nurses, specially trained in fighting the disease, came here to begin a tour of the state's medical centers. They will train doctors and nurses in the latest methods of caring for acute cases.

The U. S. Public Health Service said in Washington that of the total new cases for last week, approximately 61 per cent were reported by the three states.

Wallace Labeled Communist Tool

ADA Re-Asserts Communists Guide New Party Policies

Philadelphia, July 22 (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action today assailed Henry Wallace's third party as a tool of the Communists.

Even as Wallace lashed out at the indictment of 12 Communists by a federal grand jury in New York, the ADA said through James Leach, Jr., its executive secretary, that:

"Mr. Wallace's candidacy for president does not obscure the fact that the Communists and their labor laborators guide the main policies and word the major pronouncements of this (New) party."

Loeb said Wallace's entry into the presidential race was only "a dangerous adventure undertaken by cynical men in whose hands Henry A. Wallace placed his political fortunes."

"The presence of Mr. Wallace does not alter the fact that the real authority in your party is vested in the hands of men and women many of whom followed the dictates of totalitarianism in the period of the Nazi-Soviet pact," Loeb declared.

"It is our conviction," he added, "that were the Communists to withdraw from your organization today, your organization would soon lose its identity as a group of men and women who testify eloquently to the inevitable failure of the so-called 'united front'—which always becomes increasingly united and increasingly 'front.'"

Truman To Talk With Democrats Of All Opinions

Washington, July 22 (AP)—President Truman said today that he would talk with Democratic leaders of all opinions in advance of the presidential campaign.

He told a news conference that he was ready to talk with whatever groups Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, brings to the White House.

McGrath said after a conference at the White House yesterday that representatives of divergent views will be included in the groups he planned to bring in.

The party chairman put out the welcome mat for any Democrats who have been opposing Mr. Truman's candidacy. He said all elements of the party would be welcome at the White House talk.

Klan Initiation Atop Mountain

Atlanta, July 22 (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan laid plans today for a mammoth cross burning and initiation atop Stone Mountain and not far from the unfinished carving of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

The Klan's grand dragon, Dr. Samuel Green, said the ceremony tomorrow night would boast a new and "the most peculiar cross you ever saw" and 1,000 Klansmen.

Attempt Identify Floating Body

Norfolk, Va., July 22 (AP)—The body of a man discovered floating in Chesapeake Bay may be that of Naval Lieutenant George Todd, whose unoccupied 20-foot sloop beached Monday in Matthews County.

A naval court of inquiry was expected to be appointed today in an attempt to identify the body. The court also will investigate the circumstances of Todd's disappearance.

Tito Boasts He Controls Nation

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, July 22 (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito said the Russian-led Cominform conspired to foment civil war in Yugoslavia and almost succeeded.

Two Yugoslav communist leaders he purged formed the spearhead of the move by "anti-party persons," Tito said last night. He identified them as Straton Zujovic, former finance minister, and Andrija Hebrang, former minister of light industry and one-time president of the nation's planning commission.

Tito implied that he now has full control of the situation.

In an eight-hour speech to 2,200 widely cheering Yugoslav communist delegates attending a party congress, Tito also:

1. Rejected again the Cominform's "landers" against the Yugoslav Communist party.

2. Pledged the party will continue to follow the Marxist pattern.

3. Said he wants the friendship of the Russian communist party and promised to work toward improving relations with Moscow.

4. Reiterated that Yugoslavia stands on all her policies, including cooperation for peace with communist outside the Russian bloc.

5. Rejected bitter comment at the five Cominform countries who representatives signed the attack on Yugoslavia.

In that attack, the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) denounced Yugoslav communist leaders as being nationalistic and anti-Russian.

Hoffman Hopes Relief Program Complete By '52

Paris, July 22 (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman, European Recovery Program administrator, said today the United States wants the relief plan completed by 1952.

The U. S. Treasury is pouring $6,000,000,000 into the program this year alone.

Hoffman said the U. S. is eager to carry out a four year program and then get out of Europe. He said Ambassador Averell Harriman has assured him that self help and mutual aid among the 16 participating countries "are becoming very much a reality."

Maritime Body May Contribute To Liner's Cost

Washington, July 22 (AP)—The Maritime Commission may contribute up to $25,000,000 toward the cost of a new U. S. Ocean liner half the size of Britain's Queen Elizabeth, but just as fast and holding almost as many passengers.

A spokesman said last night that the United States Lines has asked the commission to put up part of the vessel's $65,000,000 construction cost.

The ship would weigh 48,000 tons, as compared with the Elizabeth's 66,673. But it would equal the British ship's 28.5-knot speed and come within 200 of the Elizabeth's passenger capacity of 2,400.

Claim Guerrillas Getting New Aid

Athens, July 22 (AP)—The Greek general staff said today new guerrilla forces have entered the Grammos mountains district from "adjacent countries" or other sections of Greece.

The Grammos lies on the border of Communist Albania and close to Yugoslavia. The Greek army has been redeploying there for three days for fresh attacks on the followers of Communist leader Markos Vafilas.

Censor Critics Of Arab League

Beirut, Lebanon, July 22 (AP)—Newspapers were forbidden today to publish news reflecting on the Arab League.

The press bureau ordered them to "eschew" dispatches on differences within the Arab league and between two of its states about the cease fire; resignations of Arab states ministers; and comments derogatory to the league or leaders of the member states.

Four-Power Discussion On Future Of Germany Looms

Hearings Open Over New Soft Coal Pacts

Lewis' Counsel Says If Lewis Guilty Of NLRB Violation, So Too Are Operators; Denies Strike Was Directed

Washington, July 22 (AP)—Counsel for John L. Lewis argued today that if the new soft coal agreement violates the Taft-Hartley Act then coal companies agreeing to it are jointly guilty of the violations.

Welly Hopkins, attorney for the United Mine Workers, made the statement in opening arguments at a National Labor Relations Board hearing.

The hearing is on charges that Lewis and the UMW insisted on an illegal union shop clause in the new contract signed July 13 with steel industry-owned mines.

Hopkins denied that the contract's union shop provision is illegal. If it is, he said the "captive" mines of the steel companies are "equal participants with respondents (the union) and should be charged by the board."

NLRB attorneys said they will reply later to Hopkins' contention. Hopkins also denied that the week-long walkout in the captive mines between July 6 and July 13 was a union-directed strike. He said the stoppage was a spontaneous one by the miners "in protest" to the temporary refusal of the captives to accept the union shop provision. Operators of commercial mines already had signed contracts with Lewis including the union shop clause.

Before the hearing started Lewis labeled the government charge against the union as "trivial and without merit."

NLRB trial examiner William Ringer reserved a ruling on a motion filed by Lewis' lawyers to dismiss the charges.

The case grew out of the recent coal contract negotiations. Lewis is pushing it to test the validity of the union shop section of the labor act. In the negotiations Lewis insisted on retaining a union shop clause which compels mine owners to fire any worker who fails to join the union within 30 days after taking a job in the mines.

The Taft-Hartley law says that kind of provision is legal only if approved by a majority of the workers at an NLRB-conducted election.

Lewis, however, is barred from obtaining such an election because NLRB's facilities are closed to him as long as he sticks to his refusal to submit a non-communist pledge.

Most of the coal industry let Lewis have his way—giving him the union shop without an NLRB election.

Union And Ford Co. Reach Terms

13-Cent Wage Increase Averts Threatened UAW Strike

Detroit, July 22 (AP)—A 13-cent an hour wage increase for 116,000 UAW production workers today ended a national strike threat against the Ford Motor Company.

Climaxing more than 21 hours of nearly continuous negotiation, the UAW and Ford reached terms on a new contract that includes wage increases, improvements in vacation pay, vacation insurance plan revision.

The union estimated these "fringe" benefits would total an additional 3 1-2 to 4 cents an hour.

The UAW-CIO also estimated the annual increased cost to Ford of the new contract at $32,000,000.

Details of the revised contract, which expires July 15, 1949, were revealed jointly by the union and the company.

Ford's agreement with the UAW-CIO was the last among the auto industry's "Big Three." It set a peaceful stage for the country's major producers to maintain high production at least until the summer of 1949.

Late in May General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. granted the UAW-CIO increases. GM signed to a sliding increase that raised pay of its workers by 11 cents an hour and geared future adjustments to the cost of living index issued by the government's Bureau of Standards.

Chrysler Corp. a few days later ended a 17-day strike by giving the auto workers a flat 13-cent hourly raise.

Red Menace In U.S.?

The Indictment Of Twelve Communist Leaders And Basis Of Indictment; Communist Party Goal, And Methods Of Achieving That Goal; Why Force Is Used

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The question before the house is this: When is a Red not a Red, or do Communists who are bent on mischief always give warning by displaying the Red danger signal?

It is an ironic circumstance—though perhaps not strange—that while twelve top leaders of the U. S. Communist party were being indicted on charges advocating the overthrow of the Washington government by force there should also arise the pressing query of whether foreign Communist delegations in the United Nations are a threat to American security. There is a divergence of testimony regarding the Bolsheviks attached to the peace of organization.

Last week two State Department officials testified before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that hundreds of foreign agents may be operating subversively in the United States on U. N. credentials. The officials were Robert U. Alexander, assistant chief of the State Department Visa Division, and William Harlow, chief of the department's diplomatic visa section.

Yesterday Secretary of State Marshall in effect disavowed this testimony. He told a news conference that he didn't know of an case in which a foreigner coming to America for the U. N. had in any way threatened American security. He said while he hadn't read the record he was under the impression that the testimony of Alexander and Harlow was contrary to his own information.

Bevin Asserts There Will Be No Retreat On Demands That Siege Of Berlin Must Be Lifted Prior To Talks; Washington Cool To Broader Negotiations

London, July 22 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today Britain will not back down on her demands for lifting of the Russian blockade of Berlin as a preliminary to four power talks on Germany.

"It is impossible," he told the House of Commons, "for a self-respecting government to sit down and discuss these things when your troops are cut off from normal contact."

Moscow, July 22 (AP)—Diplomatic sources said here today the chances seem brighter now than at any time since the Berlin crisis began for a four-power meeting on Germany.

These informants say Russia probably will agree if Britain, France, or the United States proposes such talks, and probably will have a number of suggestions for the agenda.

munications and two and one half million people are being used to put pressure upon you to come to a decision."

Bevin added: "If these technical difficulties are now removed and we have free access to our troops and free access to the people we have undertaken to feed, then nothing can stop discussions at once."

He said he was in close touch with the United States and France over the Berlin crisis, "in particular of further steps to be taken in the of the Soviet government's joint note."

Earlier a British official warned against any move to widen the negotiations of Berlin to consider other German problems. He implied that representatives of Britain, France and the United States, agreed to such a concession to the Russians in the draft of a new note containing the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Washington authorities expect the note to reiterate the demand of the western powers that Russia lift the blockade while stressing that there has been no weakening of western determination to remain in Berlin despite the heavy emphasis now being placed on a peaceful settlement.

But in Washington, there was little favorable response to reports that Britain might be willing to reopen the whole question of Germany's future and negotiate with the Russians in a four power conference.

The Russian-licensed German press has implied repeatedly that the Soviets are using the Berlin blockade as a lever to gain four-power talks on all of Germany, Russia and seven of her satellite nations called for such talks at the meeting of their foreign Ministers in Warsaw last month.

They repudiated four-power control of the Ruhr, agreement on an all-German provisional government and conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany. The Russians are said to be particularly interested in the Ruhr—Germany's industrial heart—over which they now have no voice.

Non-Stop Record By Jet Fighters

Oklahoma, July 22 (AP)—Tinker Air Force base today announced two F-50 jet fighters set a non-stop flight record from Langley Air Force base in Richmond, Va., to Tinker late yesterday, flying more than 1,200 miles in 3 hours and 12 minutes.

Report Reynaud, Blum, Ready To Join Cabinet

Paris, July 22 (AP)—Wartime Premier Paul Reynaud agreed today to serve as finance minister in a cabinet headed by moderate conservative Andre Marie. Socialist elder statesman Leon Blum was reported ready to accept the foreign ministry.

Reynaud's decision assures the premier-designate of the 35 votes from the rightist independent Republicans in the assembly. Marie's radical Socialist (Conservative) party, has 43 seats. He needs 309 votes to be confirmed.

Blum's acceptance of the foreign ministry, which Georges Bidault has handled almost continuously since the liberation, would give Marie 103 votes. However, Socialist support is conditioned upon approval of Marie's program. Likewise, the Popular Republicans said they waited announcement of Marie's policies before deciding whether to support him.

The Socialists at a caucus last night decided their attitude toward Marie would be determined by his economic policy. There is a possibility of disagreement on that subject. Marie told Radical Socialists he would continue the financial and economic doctrine of his fellow party member, Finance Minister Rene Mayer, who has been a favorite target of Socialist criticism.

Reynaud is a perennial candidate for finance minister, but his support of the free enterprise system runs counter to the Socialist doctrine of a government-directed economy.

Lautares Jewelry Store's Opening

By CHESTER WALSH

Lautares Brothers, engaged in business in Greenville the past 36 years, will formally open their new and modern jewelry store at 414 Evans street, next Saturday, July 24, at 9 a.m. They extend a cordial invitation to the people of Greenville and Eastern Carolina to visit the store and inspect their modern and up-to-date equipment and stocks of jewelry, diamonds, silverware, watches and novelties.

The store is air conditioned. Daylight illumination features the attractive display rooms, and the stock arrangements are designed especially for the benefit of customers.

An elaborate electric sign adorns the front of the building. The windows are modernistic, with special illumination and ventilation. The floor is covered with asphalt tile of an attractive design. The show and wall cases, in maple finish, are especially interesting, the paneled wall cases being flush with the walls, to conserve room. Show cases on the left of the store contain watches and jewelry. On the right, diamonds and jewelry. China, silver plate and crystal ware are in special display cases.

In the center, toward the rear of the store is the office. On the left is the watchmaker's booth. On the right, the "Diamond Room," especially designed for convenience and privacy of customers. The illumination in this room is of a violet hue, designed to offset the effects of artificial illumination. The jewelry and diamond setting room is on the left and to the rear of the store. The spacious stock room is opposite.

The Lautares have provided for their customers all the facilities and conveniences and quality merchandise usually found in stores in the metropolitan cities. They own their own building, 414 Evans street. P. G. and J. G. Lautares compose one of the well established business firms of Greenville. Associated with them are John Lautares, Jr., and George Lautares, both World War II veterans. John was an infantryman in the army; George was a pilot in the Navy.

The Lautares invite the public to visit their new store next Saturday.

Paralyzed Man Watched Brother And Son Drown

Burlington, W. Va., July 22—(AP)—A paralyzed farmer had to stand helplessly on a creek bank yesterday while his brother and 10-year-old son drowned.

William S. Barber, Jr., told police his son, Russell Edward Barber, drowned while wading in Patterson creek. Philip James Barber, 25, brother of the paralyzed farmer and uncle of the boy, jumped to the rescue.

William Barber said both disappeared. Then he saw them floating down the creek. The farmer sent another son, eight years old, to summon firemen who recovered the bodies.

Flash Flood Hit Lancaster, Ohio

Lancaster, O., July 22—(AP)—A flash flood in the west side of this central Ohio city early today, menaced some 2,000 homes and caused damage estimated tentatively at approximately $500,000. No casualties were reported.

Scores of families left their homes by boats as water overflowed the banks of Hunters Run, a creek which empties into the Hocking River.

'Other Kids Had Money'

Martinez, Calif., July 22—(AP)—"I saw other kids with money, and I didn't see why I shouldn't have some, too."

That, Sheriff James N. Long said today, was the reason 11-year-old Thomas Edwin Harrington gave for shooting to death Mrs. Daisy Ehling yesterday. But, frightened, he took no money.

Wakefield Taylor, deputy district attorney, said Tommy made a statement admitting the shooting. He said he would charge the boy with first degree murder. The maximum penalty is life imprisonment because of his age.

Tommy is one of nine children of

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrington, who came to California from McAlester, Okla., three years ago. Mrs. Ehling, 42, was killed when she answered a knock at the rear of her grocery store in nearby Martinez.

Tommy, suddenly frightened, abandoned his robbery plan—and fled. He had changed to a white shirt when officers arrived at his home to question him. They said he had a cache of a .30 caliber rifle, a .32 caliber rifle, a shotgun, and a hunting knife—and had been planning a robbery for three months.

"I wanted money to go to a boys' camp," he explained.

Clarify Status

Salina, Kan., July 22—(AP)—The Air Force has clarified the status of war material loaded aboard freight cars at Camp Phillips for movement to the East Coast.

The supplies will be shipped to England for use by B-29 bombers now on training missions there.

A report that the large amount of equipment was being loaded aboard 240 flat cars and 80 box cars had aroused speculation on why it was being transported.

World's Biggest Passenger Plane Will Cross U.S.

Burbank, Calif., July 22—(AP)—The world's biggest passenger plane, the navy's new Lockheed Constitution, will make her first trans-continental flight Sunday.

The 190-passenger, 92-ton sky giant will leave here Saturday for Moffett field naval air station near San Francisco for inspection by 12th naval district officers.

Early Sunday, the navy announced, the 156-foot long plane will take off for a 2,500-mile non-stop flight to the naval air station at Patuxent River, Md. Powered by four 3,500-horsepower Pratt and Whitney engines, the Constitution is expected to make the trip in nine or ten hours.

No Cloth Found Mosquito-Proof By Specialists

Washington, July 22—(AP)—Government people who counted thousands of mosquito bites jotted down these vital statistics on their scratch pads.

1. Mosquitoes scored only five hits in 1,000 dive bombing attacks on a human target clothed in an army field jacket.

2. But the pesky things broke through 690 times in 1,000 strikes against light navy nylon opslion.

3. After testing 56 kinds of clothing materials, the Agriculture Department's entomologists (bug and insect specialists) came to the sad conclusion that no cloth is skeeter-proof.

Italian Police Find Arms Cache

Milan, Italy, July 22—(AP)—Their suspicions aroused by the appearance of armed demonstrators in last week's general strike, police staged a sudden search of the Breda arms factory last night and found a big hidden store of weapons and ammunition.

The Breda management said the arms did not belong to the factory. The police found 16 machineguns, 16 rifles, 300 hand grenades, 300 pounds of explosive and other lethal articles.

Plan Discussion Guidance Work

Guidance work among students in public schools and colleges will be discussed at a conference to be held at East Carolina Teachers College on Friday, August 6. The State Department of Public Instruction and the college will be joint sponsors of the conference.

Various phases of guidance work, the need of a larger number of expert directors and consultants in the schools, guidance techniques, and the increasing recognition of the work of guidance programs will be among topics considered in the day's program, the details of which will be announced at an early date.

President John D. Messick of East Carolina and officials of the State Department of Public Instruction are making plans for the conference. School principals and guidance workers and directors in North Carolina are invited to attend and to participate in the work of the conference.

Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak at a luncheon meeting held on the campus. Mrs. Ella Stephens Barrett, director of guidance work with the State Department of Public Instruction, is among those planning the conference and will be present on the campus for the all-day session on August 6.

Strength FOR THE DAY

DON'T FORGET THE CHECK-UP

A promising professional man in the prime of life was stricken recently and died within a few days. Examination just before his death revealed that for some years he had been suffering from a very serious heart trouble. Yet not until three days before his death did he suspect there was anything the matter with him. He had lately used his wife to go and have her health checked by a competent physician. When she suggested that he do the same, his reply was, "There's nothing the matter with me."
How is it that we can be so conscious of the needs of others and so unconscious of our own needs? We can see the weakness of those around about us, yet day after day carry about not only in our bodies but particularly in our souls devastating diseases that are taking us in the direction of tragedy. The most important thing we can do is to check up on ourselves. We probably need it more than do our wives, our husbands, our friends, our associates. If we get ourselves healthy—mentally, morally, and spiritually—we shall be of some real help to others, but not until we do. Reform, like charity, is something that should always begin at home.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

Survey—How many persons estimate the average load of a passenger car on vacation tour? Varying formula for estimating the "average" load give results from 2.7 to 3.4 persons per car. In order to obtain a more accurate figure, Bill Sharpe, director of the state news-advertising division, this week began a spot check on several important state highways. His schedule included US 15A from Raleigh to the Virginia line, US 1 back to Raleigh, and then other roads in the east enroute to the meeting of the board of conservation and development at Morehead City Monday and Tuesday. The survey will include count of out of state license tags, actual count of passengers and interviews with many of the vacationers.
ACCOMMODATIONS—The number and condition of sleeping, eating and service station accommodations along the routes will also be tabulated. Questions asked will cover such matters as length of stay in this state, actual spending for food, beds, knick-knacks and car service. Similar surveys have been attempted by questionnaires and by using material from other sources. The current check will eliminate guesswork for the sections covered and by using these areas as samples a fairly accurate appraisal can be reached for the whole state.
VALUABLE—The highway commission has conducted numerous origin and destination traffic surveys which produced data of tremendous value in locating highways. Results of the current tourist survey may prove of equal value in indicating the type of accommodations needed for out of state visitors. The tourist trade is rated the second biggest "cash crop" in North Carolina, yielding gross revenue estimated at more than two hundred million dollars this year.

ABSENTEES—Secretary of State Thad Eure has received up to noon Wednesday a total of forty-six requests for absentee ballots for use by military personnel in the fall election. The cards came from widely separate points, with California and Texas addresses predominating. Only persons in active service with the military can vote absentee ballots in the North Carolina primary. About fifty voters took advantage of that provision for the recent primary election. Interest, apparently, is much keener on part of soldiers and sailors in the general election than in the state nominating primary.

PROCEDURE—Any eligible voter can use absentee ballots for the general election, and military personnel could apply through regular channels just as any other citizen for absentee ballots. Processing military votes is slightly different, and most of those qualified to use that method elect to do so. In due time the secretary of state will forward to election board chairmen in the several counties all requests for ballots, and as soon as the ballots are printed the local officials will send them back to the applicants for marking and certification.

HEAVY—Despite prospects of defection from the Democratic national ticket this fall, the interest shown by military personnel so far in advance of the election tends to support predictions of a heavy vote. Ob-

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Water polo used to be regarded as the most strenuous of sports.

Anyone who sat through the Republican and Democratic conventions in Philadelphia, however, would have to admit it is tiddlywinks in comparison to the great American game of politics.

There is a sport that really strains muscles and—on occasion—brains. To play water polo you have to know how to swim in calm water and slug your opponent only when you're beneath the surface, where the referee can't see you. In politics the water never is calm. You may have to spend your life swimming against the stream and end up nowhere. Or you may dive in and never come up. And the referee? There isn't just one. There may be millions—the voters, all with their own ideas of the game.

It isn't nearly as secure as major league baseball. Babe Ruth stayed in the big time for years through his simple knack of knocking a baseball a long way. But in politics if a man knocks the ball in the same place two years in a row he often strikes out completely with the voters. They won't even give him another time at bat.

And what other game requires as much physical stamina and sure-footed dexterity? A man has to be able to hit with his mouth, and de-servers have pointed out that the relatively small primary in recent years, as compared with the record vote in 1936, was due to abolition of the absentee ballot in primaries. Since all eligible voters outside their home counties on election day may use absentee ballots in the general election, some estimates of the 1948 state general election vote go as high as 900,000. Record presidential vote was in 1936 when the state cast 618,141 votes for Roosevelt and 223,283 for Landon, a total of 841,424. That same year the vote for governor was Hoy 542,139; Grissom 270,843; total, 812,982.

velop a skin thicker than a Rhinoceros. He needs a tin ear and an iron bottom to sit out the long hours of legislative debate.

He has to be an expert on everything from chicken farming to atom hatching. He has to vote to please his constituents, his wife and the still small voice of conscience that the sleeping pilot won't silence. He has more bosses than a private in an army of Generals.

It's rare to jump from the sandlots to the major leagues in politics. No sport ordinarily requires so long a period of straining.

The first stepping stone is usually a job as local prosecuting attorney. Thomas E. Dewey followed this traditional pattern. Harry Truman was judge. Having proved he can dispose of crooks, the young politician feels he has convinced the people they can trust him to vote their own money. He runs for a higher office.

Mayor, State Representative, state Senator, Congressman, Governor, Senator—many stepping stones. Each takes years.

But run as fast as you can, young man, run as often as you can—there still are no school boys at the top in this game. The rules say you can't be Senator until you're thirty, and the landlord a long time ago put a clause in the White House lease that the tenant had to be at least 35.

Kiss some babies . . . shake some hands . . . make some speeches . . . win some votes. But be wrong once and you lose the voters. Kiss some more babies . . . shake some more hands—make some more speeches . . . and maybe win back the voters.

And after a lifetime, just when you yearn most for the applause, you may have to say, "I want to play, but I can't play it the way they want me to." And you step down a has-been, another man goes in, his crowd cheers—and the game goes on. Your reward is to have old friends call by a title you no longer own—"Senator," "Governor," "Congressman." No wonder politics has produced more enduring heroes than any other American pastime. It takes a hero to play the game and come out with anything but a black eye. But there never was a shortage of people who wanted to play it.

Research indicates that half of the 200 million tons of farm waste produced in the United States each year might be available for use in making motor fuel.

Young People's Meeting

The Greenville sub-district of the Methodist Youth Fellowship held its regular monthly meeting at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church July 19, with the Greenville MYFFers as hosts and the Youth Fellowship of Selma Methodist Church of Simpson were in charge of the program by which they told the story of Jesus' life and showed paintings of Jesus by famous artists to illustrate their story.

Frederick Brooks, president of the sub-district organization, met with all of the local MYFF presidents and the officers of the sub-district MYFF after the business meeting and organized a MYFF Council which will take care of most of the business transactions of the group. After recreation and refreshments, the group, with all the pastoral charges represented, joined hands in the Friendship Circle while Rev. Robert Bradshaw led in prayer, after which they sang "A Day Is Done."

Few Infected By Polio Paralyzed

Winston-Salem, N.C., July 22 (AP)—A specialist in children's diseases says about 90 percent of children infected with poliomyelitis virus never know they have the disease.

Dr. Robert B. Lawson, associate professor of pediatrics at Bowman Gray School of Medicine, told the Lions Club yesterday that only a few of those who contract polio become paralytic cases.

He added that children with the virus will infect about 80 percent of the youngsters they meet. But, he continued, the great majority of those infected have few or no symptoms of illness and can't be diagnosed as polio sufferers.

If the children do experience symptoms, such as sore throat, he said, they can be put to bed, treated, and usually be prevented from developing serious cases.

"I believe," Dr. Lawson told the club members, "that the ones who develop paralytic polio are the ones who keep going" despite their having sore throats or fevers.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

Chapter 6
It was a lovely day for a walk. Cool, crisp, fall in the air. When she left Tess, Jane decided to drive her car home, then take a walk out by the college grounds. She needed to think. And she'd always been able to think better when she was walking.

She had gone farther than she had intended, had left the college behind and was at the very outskirts of town when a car drove up beside her. A cushy model, long and low and shinning, and brand-new. Jane wondered how Pauline

Clark's husband managed to get a new car when no one else had been able to get one. Pauline said: "Hello, there, Jane Whittier. Want a drive home?"

"Maybe I could use it," Jane grinned. "I started out for a walk but I'm getting tired."

"Taking a walk? What a quaint idea, darling!" Pauline gave an amused, sophisticated laugh. Hop in. How lucky to run into you like this, when we were just talking about you. Jane, this is Ted Eggleston. Ted, Mrs. Carl Whittier. She's too pretty for a faculty wife, isn't she, Ted?"

Jane looked at the rather handsome blond boy on the seat beside Pauline, and found herself smiling. You couldn't help smiling at Ted Eggleston, because he himself had such a friendly, really marvelous smile.

He said: "I believe I'm in one of your husband's classes, Mrs. Whittier. That is, when I remember to go I am."

He hopped out and helped Jane into the car. "Oh, darn," she said, squeezing herself in between Ted and Pauline. Her hand went down to the heel of her shoe. "The darned thing's come loose."

Ted said: "Let me see." And then: "I could fix this for you if I had a hammer."

"Could you really?" Jane asked. "If I take it to the repair shop, it will be weeks before I get it back."

Pauline said: "Ted's a genius. Aren't you a genius, darling? There's practically nothing the lad can't do — except find himself a room to live in. Jane, you have that fantastic old house, and you and Carl must rattle around in like a couple of peas. Why don't you rent Ted a room?"

"Yeah, Mrs. Whittier," Ted said, in a coaxing, little-boy voice, "why don't you rent me a room? Iotta live some place, haven't I?"

Jane looked at him. "Were you in the Army?"

"Was I in the Army!" He patted her shoulder as much as to say such dullness was beyond him, but he would try to deal patiently with it. "How could I help being in the Army? I'm twenty-six and —"

"You don't look it," Jane said, and he didn't. "You don't look a day over twenty."

"Twenty-six," he repeated. "I work very hard to preserve that boyish look because it helps me with the dames. It arouses their maternal instinct. Tell me, Mrs. Whittier, do you feel maternal about me?"

Jane laughed and Pauline shrieked. "Isn't he crazy? Isn't he the craziest thing? And that's the way he is all the time. More darned fun to have around. Look, Jane, we're serious about this room business. Believe it or not, there isn't such a thing to be had in this town. Ted's been staying at our house until he finds a place."

"Well, if you have an extra room," Jane said, "why should he move out of it?"

Pauline shrugged. "Now, Jane, you know Sam. So jealous and all that. If Ted doesn't move out soon, Sam will swear I'm having an affair with him."

"Oh," Jane said. "Well, I'm sorry, but honestly, I don't see what I can do about it. I've never rented any rooms. I never thought of such a thing. And anyway," she laughed, "I've been listening to lectures this livelong day about how I was doing too much housework, so it wouldn't be very sensible for me to take on a roomer and have another room to look after."

Jane smiled at him. "Were you in the Army?"

"Was I in the Army!" He patted her shoulder as much as to say such dullness was beyond him, but he would try to deal patiently with it. "How could I help being in the Army? I'm twenty-six and —"

Settle Down For Martin's Jays Defeat Serious Training Greenies By 7-2 Score

London, July 22—(AP)—America's Olympic forces, now settled on the scene, got down today to the serious business of trying to reach peak form for the games just a week away.

The largest delegation yet to report, the United States' 341 athletes, representing 17 different teams, are all safely quartered in the London area.

The squad is at near full strength, with only two casualties reported. Neither may be serious.

John Brooks, an alternate on Yale's four-oared rowing team, was running a fever when the U.S. American arrived at Southampton port at midnight Tuesday. But after being taken to a London hospital for treatment he was pronounced fit and released.

A more serious casualty is Wally Ris, America's 100-meter swimming champion from Iowa. Ris has turned up with a trick knee and there is a possibility he may not be able to compete.

World production of oil multiplied 12 times from 1901 to 1938— from 160 million barrels to more than two billion barrels.

Phillies Would Fine Absentees

Pittsburgh, July 22—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies would suspend for two weeks without pay any player who fails to report for the major league All-Star baseball game.

The Phillies recommended such action after a closed meeting yesterday. Other teams also are said to be considering what action should be taken on the matter and from the various opinions a rule will be adopted.

Receipts of the All-Star game are turned over to the players' pension fund.

Break Loose In Seventh For Six-Run Spree; Both Teams Account For Seven Hits, But Locals' Share Scattered

By BERT MOYE

Manager Stu Martin's cellar-dwelling Jays took their sixth win of the season against the Greenies here last night to the tune of 7-2. The Greenies have won seven games from the Jays this season.

The Jays exploded for six runs in the seventh frame to clinch the victory after they had taken a one-run lead in the sixth frame on Milt Bolick's homer over the left field wall.

Four hits, a hit batsman, walk and an error gave the Jays their six runs in the seventh. Meyer was hit by a pitcher, infield hits by Farra and Hammack loaded the bases, Van Hoes singled to bring in Meyer, Bolick singled bringing home Farra, Andrus walked in Hammack, Gonzales hit to second baseman Carter who elected to throw home to catch Van Hoes but the throw was wild with Van Hoes scoring. May flew out to deep centerfield with Bolick scoring. Sheehan flew out to deep second base position with Andrus scoring.

The Greenies came back in the bottom of the seventh to bunch two of their seven hits aided by two walks to put across their only two runs of the game.

After two men were out in the seventh inning was walked, Mauney doubled into right centerfield and Cohen came up and doubled into right field to bring home Nessing and Mauney for the only two runs by the Greenies.

Van Hoes on the mound for the Jays the first seven frames was credited with the win, his second of the season as against one defeat. He ran into trouble in the seventh after the Greenies had scored their only two runs of the game and Alton Brown went to his help and held the Greenies to one hit and scores the rest of the way. The seven hits were scattered among as many Greenie players with Mauney and Cohen hitting doubles for the only extra base knocks of the locals.

Luis Arroyo, pitching his first time this season against the Roanoke Rapids' Jays suffered his 12th defeat of the season. He struck out a total of eleven Jays and walked two men, allowing seven hits. Milt Bolick, the Jay's second baseman, with a homer and a single in five trips to the plate led the seven hit attack off Arroyo.

Bethworth, Eng., July 22—(AP)—Britain's Freddie Mills says he has a new secret punch which will stop lightweight champion Gus Lesnevich in their title bout in London Monday night.

Mills did not show this new weapon at his workout today and says he hasn't employed it on sparring partners.

"If I showed it, it would no longer be secret," he said. "I've been working it in my bedroom. It'll be ready for Gus Monday night."

Philadelphia, July 22—(AP)—Tom Brown of San Francisco took over the favorite's role in the 49th Pennsylvania men's tennis championship today following elimination of defending champion Victor Seixas, Jr.

Seixas, former University of North Carolina tennis captain and a two-time winner of the Pennsylvania event, was knocked out of the running yesterday by unseeded Bill Vogt of Philadelphia, 9-7, 6-4.

When the Cincinnati Reds traded Shortstop Eddie Miller to the Phillies for Outfielder Johnny Wyrostek, two old Army buddies were reunited. Wyrostek and Ewell Blackwell the Red's right-handed mound ace, were combat soldiers with the 71st Infantry Division and were together during part of the European campaign. Each won the Combat Infantry Badge and a pair of battle stars. When hostilities ceased, both became members of the 71st Division baseball team which participated in the Army's world series at Nuremberg in the fall of 1945.

During the 1946 and 1947 seasons, when Wyrostek was a Phil and Blackwell a Red, they tossed barbed jibes at each other whenever the opportunity presented itself. To one unacquainted with their solid friendship, it must have appeared that the two were at war's points. It is a matter of record that Wyrostek did pretty well batting against Blackwell for his record shows five hits in 14 official times at bat for an average of .357.

The Reds had tried to get Wyrostek early in 1946 when the Cards put him on the block but were unsuccessful because Owner Sam Breadon preferred to send him to Philadelphia where he was less likely to hurt the Cardinals in the future. The Reds' interest in Wyrostek didn't wane and they grabbed him well a Red, they tossed barbed jibes

An Easy Pitch Is Shut-Out Secret

Cincinnati, July 22—(AP)—Balding, 30-year-old Ken Raffensberger came to Cincinnati last year as just another pitcher, but today he's rated as the prize package of the Reds' mound corps.

The tall left-hander—his teammates call him "Raffy"—has a current record of seven wins and three losses, the best among Cincinnati pitchers including Ewell Blackwell. And, to the amazement of some Reddie fans, Raffy has tossed three shutouts, two of them one-hitters against the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I guess every pitcher dreams of a no-hitter," Raffensberger said. Well, I thought I had one against Cards that first time (May 31). Nippy Jones killed it with a single in the eighth but I'll sure be glad for more one-hitters even if I never pitch a perfect game."

His latest success was a 3-0, eight-hit win over the hard-hitting New York Giants last Sunday.

Raffensberger, a native of York, Pa., and the father of three children, is an exponent of the easy pitch. One sports writer has dubbed him "Cannonball" because his pitches are just the opposite.

"I don't go in there and try to strike the side out," Raffy said. "I have a pretty good idea where the ball is going and I try to put it where they don't like it."

Two Rivers, Wis., July 22—(AP)—Two sports older than anybody's pedigree—hunting and target shooting—have been combined into a spectacular game which promises a popularity boom for the bow and arrow.

Its fans call it field archery, and claim it has something to offer every sportsman.

This weekend will give them a chance for the biggest public show in their brief history. The National Field Archery Association's third annual tournament opens tomorrow, with some 800 bowmen from most of the United States and Canada swarming over five separate courses built for the occasion on 2,000 acres of Point Beach state forest.

This field archery started out, back in 1939, as the rather feeble offspring of bow hunting and target archery. Along the line something was borrowed from golf, mountain climbing and Hollywood production methods.

Slammin' Sammy Is Again Winner

Wheeling, W.Va., July 22—(AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead had his fourth West Virginia Open golf championship tucked away today with a par-busting 72-hole score of 268.

Snead, winning by ten strokes, was 12 under par in the tourney ended yesterday.

Babe Ruth Plans Benefit Tour

New York, July 22—(AP)—Babe Ruth plans several personal appearances in connection with benefit baseball games for the Babe Ruth Foundation, Inc.

Without giving a specific schedule, the home run king issued a statement from the hospital yesterday saying that attending these events "makes me feel better."

The foundation is set up to help deserving youngsters.

Boxing Returns To Garden Ring

New York, July 22—(AP)—For the first time since early June, boxing returns to Madison Square Garden tonight, featuring another appearance of Kid Gavilan, the classy Cuban who is gunning for Ray Robinson's welterweight title.

Gavilan will meet Roman Alvarez of Brooklyn in a 10-round bout that can solidify his position as a ranking title contender.

IMPORTANT PLEASE NOTICE

Dear Henry:

When I bought gasoline yesterday, the attendant told me our front tires were wearing out and suggested that we have the Front Wheel Alignment checked. I understand the Lincoln-Mercury garage has new Scientific Equipment and good mechanics doing this work. Let's get this work done.

It Pays to Count Your Pennies

The homemaker who knows how to economize these days is a lucky one. When buying pork chops, do you specify end cuts? Do you know how delicious pork shoulder steak is? And how about ordering chuck instead of round steak for grinding? It's less expensive; more juicy. Yes, you can count your pennies and still eat just as well.

Time-Saver

Another penny-saving main dish that saves time as well as money is stuffed peppers. Choose large peppers, cut off the tops, remove seeds, and drop in boiling water for one minute. Stuff with Certified Corned Beef Hash. If you like, mix 2 tsp. catchup with the hash. Bake at 375° F., about 30 minutes.

End-cut Pork Chops

End-cut pork chops whether cut from the rib or loin end, cost less than center-cut chops. For best results, brown chops on both sides, using not more than one tsp. fat. Salt and pepper, reduce heat, add two tsp. water, cover tightly, and cook over low heat until chops are tender—about 45 min. (or cook in covered casserole 45 minutes at 350° F.). Add more water if needed.

Meet the Menu

Pork chops, mashed potatoes and gravy, wilted lettuce, and corn sticks with radishes, olives, and pickles make a hearty dinner. For dessert, a fresh raspberry Bavarian cream pie is refreshing.

Raspberry Bavarian Cream Pie

Sprinkle 1 tsp. granulated gelatin over 1/4 cup cold water and let stand 5 minutes. Then beat over boiling water until dissolved, stirring constantly. Mash 1 pint raspberries and stir gelatin into raspberries. Cool until mixture begins to thicken and beat. Whip 1/2 pint heavy cream. Add 1 cup confectioners' sugar and fold into raspberry mixture. Pour at once into a baked pastry shell made with WILSON'S BAKE-IT-OR ADVANCE SHORTENING and chill until set. Garnish with whipped cream and whole berries.

It's thrifty to use the oven to good advantage whenever it is heated. Chilled custards are always welcome if you vary them. Place a tbsp. of brown sugar in each cup before pouring in the custard mixture; add coconut or melt chocolate (1 oz. in the milk (1 1/4 cups). Use Clear Brook Eggs to insure a good flavor.
