Secrecy Cloaks Talks With Stalin

Conversation Between Diplomats And Soviet Prime Minister Longest Yet Held; Authoritative Sources Say Progress Made Toward Four-Power Understanding

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, Aug. 3—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin received three western power diplomats at the Kremlin last night and talked with them for more than two hours. The conversation concerned the prospects of setting east-west differences in Europe, particularly in Berlin.

There was no immediate announcement as to details of what they talked about but the diplomatic representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France emerged from the Kremlin shortly before midnight smiling and in good spirits.

The meeting, which lasted two hours and 15 minutes, was the longest any foreign diplomats ever had with the Russian leader. After leaving the audience, at which Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov also was present, the three foreign diplomats immediately went into another conference, pounding up three flights of stairs at the American embassy without waiting for an elevator.

It was obvious the three—U. S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chateigneau and Frank Roberts, special British representative—were rushing to compare notes and prepare their reports on the conversation for transmission to Washington, Paris and London.

Before they went to the Kremlin there were hints here that international tension might be easing. Authoritative sources said progress already had been made among the four powers. The three diplomatic envoys declined to say anything about their conversation with Stalin.

As they hurried to the American embassy, where their offices are, their countries' envoys, correspondents followed. They had to pursue Smith up the steps before they could stop him. Finally, he turned and laughed.

"Wait a minute. You can't follow me right into my office. We're having a meeting there tonight, you know."

Generalissimo Stalin and Mr. Molotov received us all at a meeting. There probably will be a communique to the effect tonight. I don't think there will be anything more. I'm sorry, but that's all."

Strict official secrecy concerning the Kremlin meeting prevailed in Washington, London and Paris after the meeting. British officials quite frankly said an information leak might ruin future prospects.

State Asked To Expedite Action On Draft Boards

Raleigh, Aug. 3—(AP)—State Selective Service headquarters today received a request from Washington urging immediate organization of local draft boards.

Col. Thomas Upton, assistant State Selective Service director, said he had received a telegram from General Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, requesting the action.

The telegram asked Upton to expedite nomination of local board members, and Upton said he would forward to Washington nomination for the first 21 boards next Tuesday. The nominations are made by the governor.

Col. Upton said he expected a total of 102 draft boards to be organized in the state.

Bouyant Envoys Raise Hopes Of Easing Tension

Return From Stalin Interview In Good Spirits; Cautious Optimism

By the Associated Press The bouyancy of the three western power envoys as they emerged from their long talk with Stalin in the Kremlin raised hope today that the Russians might ease the cold war tension between the west and east.

The U.S. and French ambassadors and a special envoy of Britain talked with the Soviet prime minister two and a quarter hours last night. They came out smiling and in good spirits. Stalin gave them more time than he ever has before to foreign diplomats. Foreign Minister Molotov also was present.

Walter Bedell Smith of the U.S., Francis Roberts of Britain and Yves Chateigneau of France went immediately to the American embassy for another conference. They rushed up three flights of stairs without waiting for the elevator.

The western power capitals were silent last night, but talk of future prospects. The feeling was general that the ambassadors told Stalin something like this:

The United States, Britain and France desire deeply to cooperate with Russia on a reasonable, friendly basis. Cooperation works both ways. The governments of the western powers will not be intimidated. Berlin is a four-power city, and Russia may not have control of it.

The Russian blockade there must be lifted before there can be any talks about solving other differences over Germany, Austria, China, Japan, Korea, Trieste and the like.

Cautious optimism prevailed in London. But there was caution against wishful thinking and false hope.

The Stalin talks last night may lead to a four-power conference and to an immediate lifting of the blockade, a necessary prelude to the talks. It might even lead to a Stalin-Truman-Attlee-Marie meeting.

Approve Measure On Loan To UN

Washington, Aug. 3—(AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today approved legislation to lend the United Nations $63,000,000 for construction of permanent headquarters in New York City.

The legislation, already passed by the Senate, may be called up in the House for action tomorrow.

The money would be advanced to the U. N. under an agreement that it be repaid in annual installments starting July 1, 1951, and ending not later than July 1, 1952. The loan will not bear interest.

Lawmakers View Red Hunt Easing Heat On Session

Some Republicans Say Interest In Congress Lagging Because Of Probe

Washington, Aug. 3—(AP)—The widely publicized hunt for Communists in government jobs was credited by some Republicans today with taking the political heat off the do-little Congress session.

GOP leaders aren't talking about it publicly. But some said privately they couldn't have picked a better time for Senate and House testimony to turn up with testimony tabling Democratic office holders as the source of secret wartime information that went to Moscow.

It is their view that even if the charges aren't proved, the thousands of written and spoken words have helped take the public's mind—at least for a while—off President Truman's demand for action to cut living costs.

Democratic leaders said this might be partly true. But they insisted the cost of living is going to be one of the major issues in the campaign.

They are confident that Mr. Truman isn't going to let the people forget about it. If the special session ends with little done to curb inflation he probably will blast the Republicans again.

On the other hand, Democrats don't think the charges now being aired will affect Mr. Truman's political standing.

They point out that the President moved months ago to bring about a loyalty check of employees. They note that most of the information supposed to have come to the Soviet agents involved activities before Mr. Truman went to the White House.

Although there is some doubt they will come up with any broad scale cost-of-living legislation, the Republicans think they have patched up another weak spot in their political armor on the civil rights issue.

Mr. Truman dared them in his Democratic convention acceptance speech to pass a civil rights bill. Aided by Southern Democrats, Republicans tried to prove in the Senate yesterday that next to nothing short of a week-long, exhausting, continuous session can break a full-fledged filibuster.

Mr. Truman said they could limit debate if they wanted to and pass a bill.

The Republicans made a show of trying. They offered a debate-curbing motion. But Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), presiding on a painful political spot, ruled it out of order.

The Michigan senator said he didn't want to, but had to under the Senate rules. He explained that such a motion couldn't be brought up unless the Senate actually had a bill before it.

N.C. Sheriffs In Three-Day Meet

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 3—(AP)—The North Carolina Sheriffs Association opened a three-day convention at Carolina Beach today.

At least 300 delegates are expected—an average of three for each of the state's 100 counties.

A banquet will be held tomorrow night. Boating, fishing and a square dance will dot the three-day program.

'Unanimous'

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 3—(AP)—Arpad Szakasits, a former stone mason, journalist and poet, was elected president of Hungary today. The vote by Parliament was unanimous.

He succeeds Zoltan Tildy, who resigned last Friday, a few hours after his son-in-law, Dr. Victor Csoroky, was arrested and charged with espionage and treason.

When Imre Nagy, speaker of Hungary's Parliament, announced that Szakasits was the only candidate for the presidency, members of the Democratic Peoples Party and the Christian Women's Group, with opposition groups—walked out. They returned to their seats after the speaker declared Szakasits elected.

Szakasits, who was nominated by the Unified (Communist-led) Labor party, formerly was deputy premier, under Premier Lajos Dinnyes.

Request Survey And Road Paved

Pitt Commissioners Act On Old Vanceboro-New Bern Road

By CHESTER WALSH The Pitt County Board of Commissioners, in regular session at the courthouse yesterday, upon request of numerous citizens living on the old Vanceboro-New Bern Highway, passed the following resolution:

Whereas, during the last year of World War II, the district highway commissioner of District No. 2 with the district engineer, met with the board of County Commissioners, and jointly selected and agreed upon the paving of 78 miles of Pitt county roads, including the important old Vanceboro-New Bern highway, which extends about 11.2 miles and connects highway No. 43 with highway 264, starting with Payne Swamp and then by way of Shelburne, Old School, Black Jack, Galloway's Cross Roads to Simpson, and

Whereas, the said road serves a population of over 2,500 people, extending over an area with six churches, three schools requiring seven buses daily to transport the children, one of the schools being the most important rural school in the county, with more than 700 children and 23 teachers, and

Whereas, the said road traverses one of the richest and most fertile sections of Pitt county, being used last year to transport about 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco, approximately 300,000 feet of lumber, 2,000 tons of coal and a substantial amount of peanuts, potatoes and other farm commodities produced in this area, and

Whereas, in spite of the said agreement between the district highway commissioner and the Pitt County Board of Commissioners that the said road be included in the first 78 miles of Pitt County roads to be paved, the said road has not been paved, nor has a survey of the road been ordered.

Now, therefore be it resolved by the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County, in session on the 2nd day of August, 1948, that the district highway commissioner be urgently requested to arrange that a survey of this road be made at once and that the said road be paved in the immediate future at the earliest possible date. Also that the Board of County Commissioners of Pitt County be informed as to why action has not been taken on this project prior to this date, as promised by the district highway commissioner.

That a copy of this resolution be sent to the district highway commissioner of District No. 2 and to the chairman of the State Highway Commission of North Carolina.

Routine business transacted included consideration of applications from several schools districts for issuing nominal bonds for school building improvements and the payment of bills.

States Righters Say 13,000 Have Signed Petition

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 3—(AP)—Petitions for recognition of the States Rights Democratic Party's candidates in the November elections contained more than 13,000 names today, according to a preliminary check-up by David Clark of Charlotte, co-chairman of the newly organized party.

North Carolina law requires a minimum of 10,000 qualified voters as petitioners for inclusion in the general election ballots of the names of Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina as the party's Presidential candidate and of Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi as vice-presidential candidate.

"We would have had fully 25,000 names on our petitions of the state board of elections had not ruled that citizens who voted in the recent primaries are ineligible to sign," said Clark. "As it is, we will have around 15,000 signatures when all petitions have been received," he added.

Employees Enter Dayton Plant As Guard Stands By

Scene Peaceful As National Guard Force Throws Cordon Around Plant Area

Dayton, O., Aug. 3—(AP)—The Univis Lens Company plant, where pickets battled police and non-strikers last week, reopened today under the protection of National Guard troops, tanks and guns.

The guardsmen exploded five tear-gas grenades to disperse a crowd of 75 strike sympathizers in front of a nearby tavern, but otherwise the scene was peaceful.

Non-striking employees began entering into the plant on the 81st day of a strike called by the CIO United Electrical Workers, fighting to remain bargaining agent for Univis' approximately 65 employees.

By 8:30 a. m. (EST) 100 automobiles loaded with men and women had entered the gates between lines of guardsmen with fixed bayonets.

The National Guard force, numbering about 1,400 men, threw a cordon about the plant area, at first blocking roads at points three miles from the plant. Later the line was stabilized within a radius of a quarter of a mile.

A crowd of 300 strike sympathizers infiltrated the lines and reached a street curb opposite the plant. The guard went into action with a Sherman tank and machinegun carriers flanked by foot soldiers and drove the crowd two blocks back.

Strike bound since May 5, the plant re-opened a week ago Monday under police protection. Striking CIO United Electrical Workers and sympathizers, however, defied a court order against mass picketing. The company's attempts to keep the plant open for nearly 400 employees refusing to stay in strike resulted in clashes between police and pickets and street fighting between pickets and workers.

Accusing the union of "a complete breach of faith," the governor said it was imperative to send troops. Failure to do so, he said, would be "submission to the dictates of a group of men who seem determined to pursue a course of violations of our laws."

In a review of his efforts to end the strike, the governor said: "It is about time that the public knows the communistic pattern followed in the conduct of this dispute."

Republicans Call Policy Meeting Will Decide On Civil Rights Changes In Extra Session

Washington, Aug. 3—(AP)—The Republican Policy Committee today called a conference of all GOP senators tomorrow to decide what to do about civil rights legislation.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) said the policy group also checked to the Senate and House banking committees a decision on what anti-inflation and housing legislation to offer in the extra session.

Taft told reporters his committee agreed to hold the Senate in session tonight until 9 p. m. (EST). He said this does not mean an attempt is being made to break the Southern Democrats' filibuster against the anti-poll tax bill.

"It is absolutely impossible, in my opinion, to break the filibuster," Taft said. "The only solution is to change the Senate rules so that we can limit debate, but I don't think we can do that before the regular session in January."

Taft said the Republican conference will be asked tomorrow to decide whether to back a proposal for submission of the poll tax question to the states as a constitutional amendment.

Southerners have indicated they would not filibuster such a move, but it would require two-thirds approval of both houses.

Border Belt Leaf Sales Begin As Prices Range $53 To $58

Bidding Brisk And Quality Generally Good; No Early Reports Of Turned Tags; Exports Range Between $5 To $70; Export Buyers Present At Markets

By the Associated Press Prices leveled off quickly on opening sales of the Carolina border tobacco belt today and ranged from an unofficial $53 to $58 a hundred pounds.

Quality generally was good and bidding was brisk. There were no early reports of turned tags, by which a grower turns down a bid.

The U.S. and North Carolina Departments of Agriculture reported that on one large market the first several rows sold brought an average of from $54 to $57 a hundred, and that bulk of the sales ranged from $50 to $66.

The extreme range, the report said, was from $5 for poorest thin non-descript to $70 for fine lemon cutters.

Farmers were encouraged by reports that buyers for export companies were present on the markets. The Departments of Agriculture said that quality of the offerings was better than on last year's opening and that the offerings consisted principally of fair to fine grades of lugs and cutters. Better quality lugs and cutters were in best demand.

Prices on good and fine cutters ranged from $44 to $68, the report said, choice and fine lugs ranged from $52 to $65, and good and fair lugs from $50 to $55.

M. R. Alexander, sales supervisor at Lumberton, said the range there was $55 to $58. He expected the opening day average to exceed the all-time high of $56.71 set in 1946.

Timmonsville, S.C., reported an unofficial average of $60.20, with quality good. Farmers seemed well pleased.

At Cashburn, buyers paid a range of $45 to $60. Offerings were good and farmers seemed fairly well satisfied with prices.

Some warehouses, while their floors were well filled, believed volume would drop within the next few days because inclement weather had retarded curing.

First sales at Mullins, S.C., averaged about 57 cents a pound. Quality was good and business was brisk. Early prices ranged from 65 to 15 cents.

At Darlington, S.C., the first two rows brought nothing less than 40 per cent. The high was $67. A $63 average was the prospect. A fine grade of lugs was offered. Seven hundred thousand pounds of tobacco were ready for sale.

The official average for the first 115,000 pounds sold at Fairmont was $57.96. Some of the offerings were common and wet. The opening day average there in 1947 was $47.61.

Mullins, S.C., sold 16,720 pounds in the first row at an official average of $57.20. One million pounds were expected to be cleared today. Thousands of merrymakers thronged the streets for the Mullins tobacco festival. It was the biggest festival crowd since 1938, sponsors said.

Conway, S.C., reported an average of $57, with the range from $70 to $14. Quality was good. The first hour and a half saw 75,000 pounds sold.

More Gov't Officials Charged In Red Network

Former Communist Testifies Under Oath On Workings Of Underground; NLRB Man And State Dept. Official Named

Washington, Aug. 3—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers, who said he was a Communist from 1924 to 1937, testified today that the Red "Underground" then included Alger Hiss, State Department official, and Nathaniel Witt, Attorney for the National Labor Relations Board.

Chambers testified under oath before the House un-American activities committee, which is investigating charges of Soviet spying in this country.

Across the capitol, a Senate committee also was continuing hearings on alleged Communist spying. There chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) testified the committee's failure thus far to receive information it has asked from the commerce department about William W. Remington.

Ferguson called it an administration-imposed "handicap" on Congressional efforts to get to the bottom of the spy story.

Chambers, now a senior editor of Times Magazine, said in a prepared statement read to the House committee that he himself "served in the underground, chiefly in Washington."

He said there was an underground organization developed, to the best of his knowledge, by Harold Ware, one of the sons of the Communist leader known as "Mother Bloor."

Ware went on: "I knew it at its top level, a group of seven or so men, from among whom, in late years, certain members of Miss (Elizabeth T.) Bentley's organization were apparently recruited."

"The head of the underground group was Nathan Witt, an attorney for the National Labor Relations Board. Later John Abt, became the leader.

"Lee Pressman was also a member of this group, as was Alger Hiss, who, as a member of the state department later organized the conferences at Dumbarton Oaks, San Francisco and the U. S. side of the Yalta conference."

Miss Bentley, mentioned by Chambers, is the young woman who told a sensational story last week of collecting information for the Russians from scores of government employees during the war.

She and Chambers both described themselves as former Communists who turned against the party and went to federal authorities with their stories.

Remington is an official in the office of International Trade. He was named by Miss Bentley as one of the government workers she said turned secret data over to her during the war.

Tax For Excess Profits Offered

Truman Measure Said Designed To Protect Public

Washington, Aug. 3—(AP)—President Truman proposed to Congress today a $4,300,000,000 excess profits tax. One of its Congressional sponsors said it is designed to protect the public from "peacetime profiteers."

Representative Dingell (D-Mich.) said he will introduce the tax bill tomorrow. He issued a statement saying: "With corporate profits after taxes nearly 100 per cent above the level of peak war year 1945, the consuming public is entitled to protection from the peacetime profiteers."

Only 16 Cases Of Polio Reported

Renews Hope Epidemic Is Slacking Off In North Carolina

Raleigh, Aug. 3—(AP)—Renewed hope that North Carolina's worst polio epidemic was beginning to abate rose today when only 16 new cases were reported to the State Board of Health.

It was the smallest daily total since July 6 when 16 cases also were reported.

In addition, Dr. C. P. Stevik, state epidemiologist reported figures that indicated there was a drop in the number of cases last week for the first time in four weeks.

So far, reports of 110 cases have been received for the week ending July 30. In the week ending July 23 there were 202, for the week of July 16 there were 190, the week of July 9 there were 171, and the week of July 2 there were 108 cases.

The 1944 epidemic, second most severe in state history, reached a peak of 200 cases a day.

Washington, Aug. 3—(AP)—The Republican Policy Committee today called a conference of all GOP senators tomorrow to decide what to do about civil rights legislation.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) said the policy group also checked to the Senate and House banking committees a decision on what anti-inflation and housing legislation to offer in the extra session.

U. S. Communists Stage Convention In New York

New York, Aug. 3—(AP)—American Communists jammed into Madison Square Garden last night for a noisy, demonstrative national convention of their own—highlighted by censure of both the Democrats and Republicans and praise for both Roosevelt and Henry A. Wallace.

Speakers at the opening session of the convention, the first to be held by the group since 1945, were sign party chiefs, all of whom are under federal indictment on charges of advocating the overthrow of the U. S. government by violence and force.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party in this country and the top leader of the group of 12 arrested two weeks ago on grand jury charges, was the convention keynoteer.

He told the estimated 30,000 persons, in a fiery speech that bristled with attacks on "Fascist, Wall Street imperialists," that a vote for either President Truman or Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential candidate, "means a vote for eventual fascism or war."

Of Wallace, the Progressive Party's presidential candidate, Foster said that his group "offers the opportunity for the forces fighting for peace and against inflation and fascism, to organize and express their strength."

Foster's endorsement of the Wallace group is expected to be followed by a formal decision of the Communist executive board not to nominate a presidential candidate of its own.

Russia was described by Foster as a peace-loving nation threatened by warmongers from the western powers.

Interview With Stalin Meeting In Kremlin Not Decisive But An Opening Move To Get Truce In Cold War; Conclusions That Might Be Drawn; Soviet Not Prepared, West Needs Time

By DeWITT MacKENZIE western allies are settled in one way or another. Pending that positive settlement the most we can hope for, as it is column remarked last week, will be a truce.

The Russians, with their overpowering urge to conquer and communize the world, will never let their drive until (1) they succeed, or (2) their aggressive crusade blows up in their faces. The second contingency could arise through revolt by the oppressed people who have been enslaved, or by another global war.

One can see certain advantages for both sides in a truce now. The democracies, for example, need time to get the Marshall Plan working so that western Europe can defend itself against Red aggression.

Now would be the moment for Russia to push her drive if she were prepared to do so—but she isn't. She also has her troubles, for it is becoming increasingly apparent that it's not all honey and flowers among the conquered states behind the Iron curtain. There's a right side.

Merits of the direct approach to Stalin by the western allies, in an effort to settle the German crisis and pave the way for peace, remain to be seen.

America, Britain and France have made a peace overture. It was a dignified gesture, without the slightest suggestion of appeasement. Rejection would place Moscow in an unenviable position in the eyes of a world which is sick of wars and alarms.

Such a rebuff would provide a weighty argument for the Russian effort to starve the civilian population of western Berlin by food blockade were brought before the United Nations with a call for punitive sanctions against such brutality. And after all, the Muscovites can't ignore world opinion entirely until they come a lot nearer to domination of the globe than they now are.

Last night's dramatic interviews in the Kremlin between Stalin and the envoys of the three great democracies were, of course, not decisive. They represent one more move in the maneuvering for position which will continue until the differences between the Bolsheviks and the

Rotarians Hear About Federal Crop Insurance

By WYATT BROWN

The story of the growth of federal crop insurance and its cost and coverage was discussed last night for the Rotarians by H. K. James of Wilson, district supervisor of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

He explained that it costs from $5 to $7.50 per acre on tobacco and covers everything that could happen in the field except neglect.

The first crop insurance legislation came in 1928 following the series of crop failures of wheat in the mid-west to afford the wheat farmers relief without its having to be charity. In 1942 cotton was added on an experimental basis. 1943 was devoted to study of the insurance experience showing that farmers had paid in $50,000,000 and had received $90,000,000 in payments for losses—the government thus was called on for $40,000,000 in addition to administrative costs.

1944 saw no crop insurance, but in 1945 legislation was again provided to cover wheat, cotton and three additional commodities: tobacco, corn and flax. The added commodities were on a limited basis, allowing for only 19 counties in the nation to get coverage in 1945, 1946, and 1947. In 1948 the insurance was extended to include 35 in counties. North Carolina was allowed seven counties instead of the three as previously.

Of the five commodities covered, tobacco has been the most successful and is on the soundest basis. He described the organizational setup. Now, the organization has branches in the counties with their own offices and personnel. This independent setup has met with fine cooperation from the Triple A and the county farm agents.

James reported that they have 2,000 persons with insurance this year. That is one-third the potential, he explained. Next year the prospect is 5,000 persons. He said he was pleased with the showing thus far. Some counties have a 75 per cent coverage and one county has 91 per cent buying the federal crop insurance. To increase its use he said it would take a lot of work since like all other insurance, it has to be sold, for everybody is not sold on it yet. He said he sees plenty of room for improvement which will be achieved through education of the farmers, for as a group, they have been less exposed to the idea of insurance.

In answer to the question of how much federal crop insurance would cost a farmer for an acre of tobacco and what it would cover, James made the following explanation.

In determining the cost a lot depends on the location of the farm since the premium is based on record of previous losses of the farm. The amount of coverage is based upon the production record of the farm. Triple A records were used in the initial stages of the insurance program. A local committee from the county, W. A. House of Bethel, W. I. Bisette of Grifton, and B. M. Lewis of Farmville, review the fact with knowledge of the farm and the farmer. The out-of-pocket cost per acre is figured at $25 for Pitt county. The premium would be $5.60. The premium ranges from $5 to $7.30. It covers hail, rain, wind, disease, and insects—everything but neglect.

Leo Grutch of Graham was a visiting Rotarian last night. Guests of the club were: W. R. Odum, Bill Bryan and Dr. R. L. Hildrup.

James V. Keel, chairman of the Rural Urban Acquaintance Committee, presented the program.

Dr. H. J. McChinnis, chairman of the program committee announced that district Governor Gene Booth of Kinston would visit the Greenville Club August 23rd for his official call. E. L. Willard, club president, presided.

Ballard's X Roads News

The congregation of Ballard's Presbyterian Church was favored at the Sunday evening service by several musical selections by the Tyson quartet. The members of this quartet are Lawrence Tyson, Edwin Tyson, Flanagan Tyson and Elbert Tyson, Jr. They are accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Elbert Tyson, Jr.

The Presbyterian Youth Fellowship group opened their meeting Thursday evening by singing together the doxology. Ted Vandford was program leader and the theme was "The Rights of Others." Those taking part were Ann, Frances and Gladys Crawford. The program closed by singing "At Calvary" and Henry Dunn said a prayer. At the close of the program winners were roasted and drinks were served, after which the group was led in playing games by Sue Worthington and Henry Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Tyson and children, Kathleen and Walter, have returned from an extended visit to Mrs. Tyson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, in Fresno, Calif. While on this trip they visited friends in Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and San Francisco.

Mrs. J. F. Moyer and Mrs. H. L. Gibson were Raleigh visitors last Saturday.

Midnight Deadline For New Parties To Qualify

Raleigh, Aug. 3—(AP)—Two infant political parties have until midnight to qualify for getting their candidates on the state's general election ballots.

Before midnight, leaders of the two parties must turn over to the State Board of Elections the petitions the PAW requires if the parties get their slates on the ballot. The parties are the pro-Wallace Progressive Party of North Carolina, and the anti-Truman states rights Democrats.

The State Board of Elections has ruled that new party, in order to become qualified in this state, must present a petition bearing names of 10,000 registered voters who did not take part in the last Republican or Democratic primaries.

Mary Price of Greensboro, chairman of the Progressive Party, said that her group expects to get on the ballot without difficulty.

"Everything is in order," she said. "We are way over the mark despite those almost impossible rules the board promulgated. We have between 30,000 and 35,000 names on the petition, of which 11,000 or 12,000 are valid according to the rules of the state board."

Officials of the states rights Democrats have indicated they will present the board a petition bearing 10,000 signatures and then appeal to the courts if it is not recognized as a legal party.

Five Prisoners Escape In Avery

Raleigh, N.C., Aug. 3—(AP)—Five prisoners escaped from the Avery County prison camp yesterday, Prison Inspector Kyle Matthews reported.

After the escapes, two Negroes dressed in prison garb were seen jumping from a freight train 22 miles from Knoxville, Tenn. The train had come from North Carolina.

The men escaped police, however, although a searching party using bloodhounds was scheduled to seek the men today.

Matthews identified the men as Clarence Locklear, sentenced to two to three years from Durham County; D. B. Johnson, sentenced from Cumberland County to 25-30 years; Junior Thompson, sentenced from Rockingham County to four to seven years for breaking, entering and larceny; and Lee Campbell, sentenced to 20 years from Wayne County for second degree murder.

Postpone Forestry Camp Because Polio

State Forester W. K. Beichler announced today that because of the polio threat in North Carolina, the annual forestry camp for farm boys operated by the Division of Forestry and Parks, has been called off. Beichler said that Dr. Roy Norton, State Health Officer, advised him that it would be undesirable to hold the camp this year in view of the fact 20 of the 70 boys were to come from other southern states.

The forestry camp was to be held from August 23 to August 27, at the division's Singletary Lake group camp. It was to be sponsored by member mills of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association and the Seaboard Airline Railroad. The State Vocational Agriculture Department and the Agricultural Extension Service select the farm boys each year for this camp.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Lourenzo Langley, who passed away one year ago yesterday, August 2, 1947. Today my heart is heavy. My thoughts are all of thee. Oh, how I miss you mother dear. None but God in heaven can see. Some say time heals an aching heart but, no, it isn't true. For one long year has passed, dear mother. And my heart still aches for you. God saw the road was getting rough. The hills were hard to climb. She gently closed her loving eyes. And whispered: "Peace be thine." Your weary hours, your weary pain, your weary nights are past. Your ever-patient, worn out frame has found sweet rest at last. —Loving Daughters

Strength FOR THE DAY

NEIGHBORS
Had you visited the kitchen of any house two centuries ago, you would have seen around the high open fireplace a number of implements no longer used today. Among these would have been a black metal box with a lid and a handle. This was an important utensil. It was used to carry live coals from a neighbor's house to rekindle the fire when it went out.

With matches and stoves, we no longer have to depend on our neighbors to help us relight the fire. With modern gadgets, the modern house seems quite self-sufficient, needing no assistance from outside. Often, especially in cities, we do not even know our neighbors. We do not care; we think we do not need them.

We think so, that is, until trouble strikes. Then we find out that we are not so independent after all.
In the case of fire, burglars, accidents, or sickness, we suddenly learn how much we need our neighbors.
But why wait until then? Our own life, and the lives of those around us, can be enriched by new friendships, if we will make even the smallest effort. It is true that when trouble comes, we can turn to strangers for help—but how much better to turn to friends!

Around Capitol Square

E.C.T.C.—East Carolina Teachers College at Greenville occupied attention of the traveling budgeteers for most of a day, including an excellent lunch. The commission members have made it fit very nicely to arrive at the better seat places about midday. Every day the first week they got a good lunch—at State College, Butler hospital, Chapel Hill, Eastern Sanatorium and E.C.T.C. The Greenville institution has apparently recovered from the war and other handicaps and is going ahead with bigger plans. Enrollment of about 1200 is expected this fall, divided approximately 60-40 percent as to women and men.
During war years the women outnumbered men students about six to one.

TEACHERS—Primary function of the college is to train teachers.
There has been some past criticism that too large a number of graduates entered other professions. The trend is apparently changing. Tables supplied by President J. D. Messick, who is just ending his first year at the institution, showed that of the 1946 graduating class 61.5 percent entered classrooms as teachers; of the 1947 class 66.5 percent became teachers, and of the 1948 76 percent are starting as teachers. The ratio of B.S. degree holders who became teachers is much higher than of the A.B. group, indicating better opportunities in the schools for specialized work. Several reasons were given as contributing to the increased interest in school teaching.
Among them are better salaries, and fewer opportunities in other jobs; but the college folks like to think the increased emphasis they are placing upon the high standing of school teaching as a profession is partly responsible. The college prepared a bulletin entitled "Why Not Teach?" which portrays the advantages of assured income and regular pay, retirement benefits, as well as the challenge to self-improvement and the opportunity for real service in building citizenship.

EXTENSION—Less was heard than at previous budget visits about proposals for expanding college activities into fields other than training of school teachers, but emphasis is placed upon enlarging and extending this function. Plans call for a follow-up program whereby the college would keep closer in touch with graduates, encouraging them to keep alert and abreast of the times. Also addition of an industrial arts department is planned.
Each institution visited so far has had something of which it was particularly proud as a "first" or an "only." Here it was learned this is the only college in the state with a course in public school music for men (WC-UNC has a course for women).

VALUE—The college was founded about forty years ago and has become one of the best known of its type in the country. It is carried on budget account books at a valuation of $2,873,268. This like all other institutions is far below actual cash value today. That is well illustrated by the fact that the last legislature appropriated $1,949,100 for permanent improvements. Very little of this amount has been spent because of generally prevailing high costs

New York—The younger generation makes me nervous. It's too radical-active. Every generation tends to think the next one is going to do the dog or the devil. But the one coming up isn't going to either. It's going to science. And that gives me the willies.

The reluctant schoolboy of Yore, full of callow puppy love and fear of the adult world, is as out-of-date as a Currier and Ives print. Today each schoolboy is his own Marco Polo and stuffed with a terrible sophistication.

Any superiority I ever felt over the younger generation was dissipated by reading of the exploit of the 2 Oklahoma kids who took a successful joyride in an airplane. Their teacher: A comics book.

At their age I was trying to learn how to swim and wondering how to make a sound like an eagle. I wanted to be a member of the Eagle Patrol, and the Boy Scout's handbook said an Eagle went "kree!" but when I said "kree," it didn't sound much like an eagle to me. And when I went to the zoo to check with an eagle, it wouldn't say "kree" or anything else.

What a simple, bare-footed world!

Two dormitories have been approved and plans are almost ready for bids on some other projects. Estimates are it will take two and a half million to do what the appropriation two years ago contemplated. The operating appropriation for this biennium was $667,994. The institution has experienced similar difficulties with all others in making ends meet, but reports shown the budgeteers indicated it has been able to limp along with that amount.

CO-OPERATION—One particular pleasing item of news picked up is that administration, faculty, student body and alumni seem to be working harmoniously together—in striking contrast with conditions which prevailed here for several years.

Washington—The young corporal says it's just uncommon good luck, but the big brass paps at the Army War College claim the GI has a knack with their children. Cpl. Charles F. Michaels' job specification is athletic instructor in Special Services. This permits him to teach the young fry as well as the enlisted men how to swim, and he has turned out some accomplished water babies.

This was apparent as a recent aquacade staged at the Army War College pool when the children, ranging in age from two years to 14, exhibited their prowess in the water. It was the first aquacade to be given at Ft. McNair. However, it wasn't the first ever put on by Cpl. Michaels. During the war, when he was stationed in Alaska, he put on a show with his GI swim students at Lake Spenard, at Anchorage.

Cpl. Michaels is using his two young daughters as guinea pigs in developing new techniques in teaching youngsters to swim and build strong bodies. Little Mary, three-and-one-half, a sturdy moppet with blond curls and frank hazel eyes, speaks for herself. "I can swim 30 yards," she told me with lisp and pride. "I'm good." Her father says she has been swimming for seven months, dives neatly off the board into eight-and-one-half feet of water, swims 30 yards on her stomach to one side of the pool and after a short rest swims the return distance on her back.

Myra, 20 months, with the aid of a belt, swims two lengths with her tiny arms and legs and keeps her head out of water just fine. Cpl. Michaels is also trying out some new tricks in infant acrobatics with his daughters. These consist mostly of hand-balancing. The youngsters won two amateur shows in Baudette, Minn., and have had a television audition. Myra, her father says, is the best of two. She is slighter.

The cheery, five-foot-eight soldier-trainer, holds the children up in the air above his head by the ankles. "They keep their bodies as rigid as bean poles," he says. Then he grabs their feet and the pool, a little feet on his stomach and a stretch ram-rod straight out from there. "I will see what all this has done for them at least by the time they are five. If my experiments are successful I'll write a book on the subject to be used in the teaching of other people's children."

About 20 children participated in the War College show. That was Kenny Potter, 7, son of Major Kenneth Potter, executive officer of Ft. McNair, who learned to swim in two weeks. There was also Nancy Tate, 7, daughter of Col. Tate, who could dive perfectly; Tommy Timberman, 7, son of Brig. Gen. Timberman, and a promising mermaid, Mary Weyland, daughter of Maj. Gen. Otto Weyland.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—The young corporal says it's just uncommon good luck, but the big brass paps at the Army War College claim the GI has a knack with their children. Cpl. Charles F. Michaels' job specification is athletic instructor in Special Services. This permits him to teach the young fry as well as the enlisted men how to swim, and he has turned out some accomplished water babies.

This was apparent as a recent aquacade staged at the Army War College pool when the children, ranging in age from two years to 14, exhibited their prowess in the water. It was the first aquacade to be given at Ft. McNair. However, it wasn't the first ever put on by Cpl. Michaels. During the war, when he was stationed in Alaska, he put on a show with his GI swim students at Lake Spenard, at Anchorage.

Cpl. Michaels is using his two young daughters as guinea pigs in developing new techniques in teaching youngsters to swim and build strong bodies. Little Mary, three-and-one-half, a sturdy moppet with blond curls and frank hazel eyes, speaks for herself. "I can swim 30 yards," she told me with lisp and pride. "I'm good." Her father says she has been swimming for seven months, dives neatly off the board into eight-and-one-half feet of water, swims 30 yards on her stomach to one side of the pool and after a short rest swims the return distance on her back.

Myra, 20 months, with the aid of a belt, swims two lengths with her tiny arms and legs and keeps her head out of water just fine. Cpl. Michaels is also trying out some new tricks in infant acrobatics with his daughters. These consist mostly of hand-balancing. The youngsters won two amateur shows in Baudette, Minn., and have had a television audition. Myra, her father says, is the best of two. She is slighter.

The cheery, five-foot-eight soldier-trainer, holds the children up in the air above his head by the ankles. "They keep their bodies as rigid as bean poles," he says. Then he grabs their feet and the pool, a little feet on his stomach and a stretch ram-rod straight out from there. "I will see what all this has done for them at least by the time they are five. If my experiments are successful I'll write a book on the subject to be used in the teaching of other people's children."

About 20 children participated in the War College show. That was Kenny Potter, 7, son of Major Kenneth Potter, executive officer of Ft. McNair, who learned to swim in two weeks. There was also Nancy Tate, 7, daughter of Col. Tate, who could dive perfectly; Tommy Timberman, 7, son of Brig. Gen. Timberman, and a promising mermaid, Mary Weyland, daughter of Maj. Gen. Otto Weyland.

Hunger Strikers Win Their Point

Bucharest—(AP)—Four Australians and one New Zealander in a combined tourist invasion of Bucharest for once outwitted the hardboiled Romanian "Securana" (security police). They are Hartney James, Arthur Alex Roberts and Weina Margaret, Australians, and a New Zealander Robert Westgate and wife, Cuddan, an Australian, who described themselves as journalists, resident in London, England.

Planning a tour of Europe on as little money as possible the five arrived at Bucharest and stayed at the Grand Hotel.

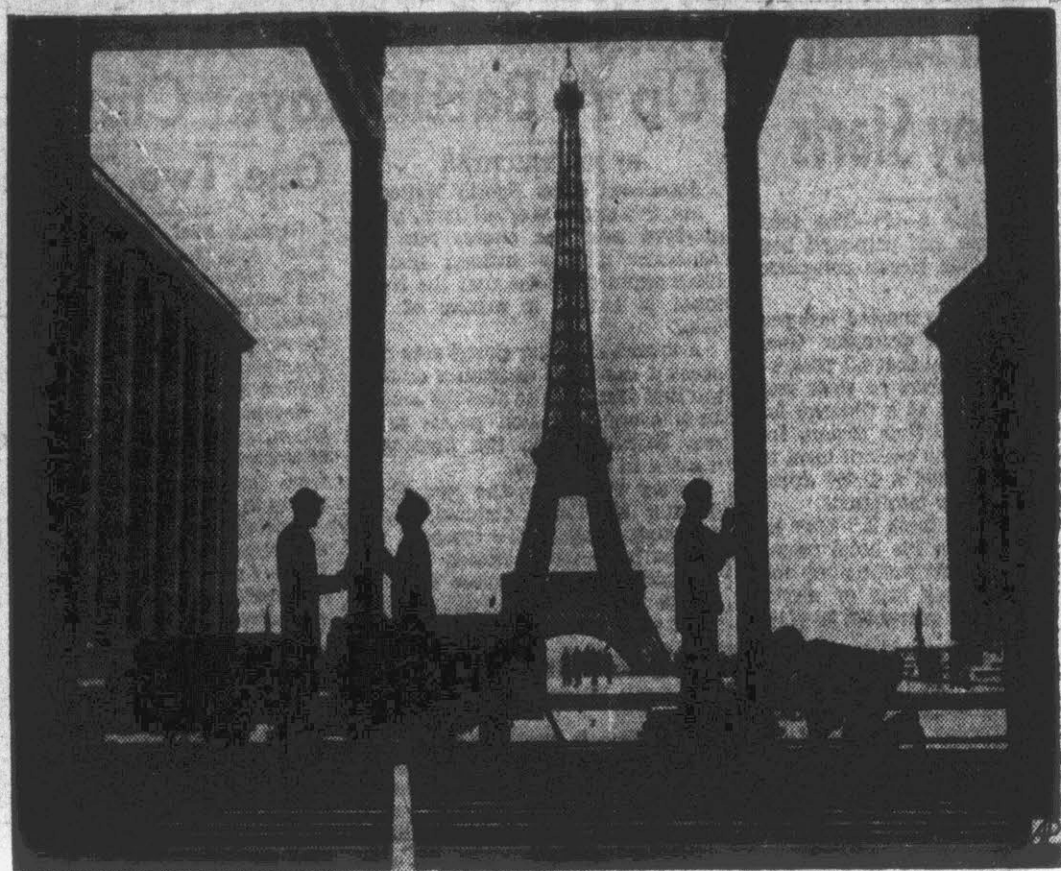

After five days here they asked for an exit visa. "This will take time" the Romanian security police said. But the five were not going to waste their own good money waiting for a visa which other countries usually grant in two hours. So they went on a one day hunger strike.

Alarmed the police sent them money which they refused. Thinking it was not enough the police doubled the amount. This was again refused. Finally they compromised that the police would pay hotel, food and drinks until the exit visa was forthcoming. After three days it came, but not for via Constanta toward Egypt as they wanted.

The Securana had the last word. They were given five tickets, paid their bills and sent by rail back from where they had come—to Prague.

Claims Polio Epidemic Won't Recur Very Soon

Greensboro, Aug. 3—(AP)—Here's good news for North Carolinians who've sweated out this summer's polio epidemic.

A recognized authority on the disease, Dr. Philip Stimson of the Knickerbocker Hospital in New York, said last night that North Carolina should be spared another widespread outbreak for several years.

He based his prediction on the theory that when an epidemic strikes, most of the people in the area become infected and develop an immunity to the disease. This immunity lasts for several years until population changes make the area susceptible again.

Statistics, Dr. Stimson said, show that when an epidemic strikes, 700 out of every 1,000 persons in the area are infected. But only about one case is acute with permanent paralysis. Of the others, one is an acute case with temporary paralysis; three become acute with no paralysis; and 10 to 25 develop only into mild illness. The remainder of those infected develop little illness.

Dr. Stimson said that wholesale banning of public gatherings is of little avail in the fight against the disease. "The sensible thing to do," he pointed out, "is to adhere to such precautionary measures as getting plenty of rest, avoiding chilling as in swimming in cold water and postponing nose and throat operations."

Bulb Theft New Berlin Business

Berlin—(AP)—This is probably the only city in the world where one man could make more than $500 a week stealing electric light bulbs. The bulb thief may not be "public enemy no. 1" in Berlin but he ranks pretty near the head of the list. He steals bulbs from subway trains, subway stations, apartment house lobbies, telephone booths and any other vulnerable place.

One such thief confessed that his sole occupation for two years was stealing light bulbs. He sold the bulbs in the black market. He got fourteen months imprisonment.

Youngsters Get Pipes, Tobacco

Shannon Airport, Eire —(AP)—Four and a half year old Jimmie Guinane smokes 4 ounces of plug tobacco a week. His sister Mary, a year younger, gets through two ounces, and their father not only approves but he pays for the tobacco. The boy and girl, children of farmer James Guinane, 36, of Carluke, Bineanna, County Clare, two miles from Shannon Airport, have been smoking pipes since they were able to walk. Both appear to be normal and healthy.

When a reporter called at the farm he found young Jimmie sitting beside his dad and his Uncle Pat smoking away. There was no coughing, no watery eyes, no drooling and no traces of self-consciousness. Then pretty, brown-eyed Mary wanted a smoke. Her uncle lighted the pipe for her for she is not allowed to have lighted matches—a pipe is different. James, senior, started his children smoking. "They will continue to smoke as long as I can buy them the tobacco" he said. "Ever since they began smoking they have never had a cough nor a cold. Whooping cough was in the area earlier in the year and school was closed with it, but the children never caught it. 'Is true that they smoke more than myself, but what matter, if they are healthy?'"

Only Two Men Have Chance To Be Double Winners In Track

Mal Whitfield And Herb McKenley Get Chances For Two Gold Medals; Five Victories For U. S. In Track And Field

Olympic Stadium, Wembley, England, Aug. 3—(AP)—Two men alone today have a chance to win two gold medals in track events of the 1948 Olympic games—and their ambitions collide squarely.

They are Mal Whitfield, United States Army Air Forces sergeant who is the new 800 meter king, and Herb McKenley, the Jamaican who aspires to start a double in the 200 meter championship this afternoon.

They meet in the 400 meters, which reaches the finals on Thursday. They are the only men left in track who can become double winners.

Each is confident. Each is courageous. One blazing 400 meters may decide which name shall be written largest.

"I think I can do it," said Whitfield.

"I don't consider the possibility of defeat," said McKenley.

Every other potential double winner has now been knocked off with competition in men's track only three days old. The victory of Harrison Dillard in the 100 meters bars the chance of a double sprint championship, since he is not entered in the 200 meters.

When Emil Zatopek's muddy last lap charge failed in the 5,000 meters yesterday, the Czechoslovak lost his big opportunity. He already had taken the 10,000 meters.

Whitfield's tugging victory in the rain over a superb 800 field yesterday started him on his way to Olympic heights and gave him a new Olympic record of 1:49.2.

Then came the courageous do-or-die pole vault of Guinn Smith, the University of California student who was told only two months ago an injured right knee cartilage would force him to stop competition. This victory brought to five the number of United States championships in men's track and field.

Sweden, Belgium, Australia, Italy and Czechoslovakia have one each. Fourteen more events remain to be run off.

"We are winning everything we thought we would, and we are doing some things I didn't think we could do," said Coach Dean Cromwell, overlooking in his gleam American embarrassment at losing the high jump.

In other sports the report ranges from glorious to drab. The United States is dominating men's swimming, and is well on its way to equal glory in basketball. In women's swimming the accomplishments are only fair, while in women's track and field and in fencing they are negative. In wrestling the chances are still fair.

One shadow was cast over yesterday's victories. Miller Anderson, second in the low dive in men's swimming, was hurt when his left foot slipped the platform as he cut through from a handstand and lit flat on his back from 10 meters (11 yards) in the air. Bleeding at nose and mouth, he was taken to a hospital.

Four men's track championships were run off yesterday. The United States won two of them. Whitfield's victory in the 800 meters in 1:49.2 eclipsed the games record of 1:49.8 set by Tom Hampson of Great Britain in 1932.

Smith took the pole vault at 14 feet, 1 1/4 inches after falling twice at that height with all competitors out of the running.

Starting the fourth day of track competition, the unofficial team point totals, based on 10 for first place and 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 for the rest, showed the United States far ahead with 95 and Sweden next with 32.

Ray Schalk set a mark by catching three no-hit wins—by Joe Ben, 1914; Eddie Cicotte, 1917, and Charley Robertson, 1922.

Record Breaker

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Every time Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins gains a yard through the air, or scores a touchdown via the aerial route, he sets an all-time National Football League record. The Redskins passing ace holds all of the all-time records in these departments.

"I have a 15-foot pole vault in me somewhere," said A. Richmond (Boo) Morcom on the deck of the America a few moments before the liner slipped out into the river with its cargo of Olympic athletes. "I am confident that I have it in me. I only hope it shows up in London."

The former University of New Hampshire all-around ace clinched a berth on the Olympic team by scaling 14 feet, 8 1/4 inches in the final tryouts. He has cleared the 14-foot mark over 30 times during his brilliant career and coaches, experts and fellow competitors agree that Morcom is a potential 15-footer. He is such a natural athlete that he has been able to go along winning without refining his vaulting form. Only recently, on the eve of the Olympic trials, he revised his arm position on the pull up and the results were so gratifying that he is certain that the 15-foot vault is within his power.

Morcom isn't big as vaulters go, standing only five, ten and weighing 153 pounds. But he has tremendous drive and spring in his legs, as witnesses his high jump record of 6 feet, 7 1/4 inches, and his competitive mark of 9.9 seconds for the 100-yard dash. He has amazing stamina for he had the endurance to score an unusual triple in the intercollegiate A. A. A. championship when he took the high jump, broad jump and pole vault titles.

Water Polo Has Mayhem In Rules

Chicago, Aug. 3—(AP)—Baseball managers sometimes have to move into hotel rooms in the wake of the departing last occupant.

That has happened a number of times to Connie Mack, owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, and it happened to him again yesterday.

It is not very often, however, that Mack finds a note on the bureau from the guy who just checked out.

The note Connie discovered in his Chicago hotel room yesterday read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Mack—Congratulations on taking over first place. Please keep the race close. (Signed) Bucky Harris."

And there was a postscript—"If you decide to get rid of Joe Coleman, let me know right away."

Manager Bucky Harris' New York Yankees are currently playing third fiddle to the Athletics in the American League pennant race. Much of the credit for the A's exalted position has been given to Pitcher Coleman.

College All-Stars In Light Drills On Opening Day

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 3—(AP)—The college all stars' most powerful squad in the 15 year history of the annual football classic began practice under head coach Frank Leahy yesterday for the battle against the Chicago Cardinals in Soldier Field Aug. 20.

Full equipment was issued to some 30 players yesterday and the remainder of the squad of 70 is expected within the next few days.

Johnny Lujack, brilliant Notre Dame quarterback, and Bobby Layne, of Texas, took part in a light inaugural workout in preparation for the game with the National football league champions.

The Cardinals are working out at Waukesha, Wis.

The all star squad includes 12 players from Notre Dame's undefeated 1947 team and nine from Michigan's team, also undefeated last season.

Former Stars Of Baseball Will Be Honored Tonight

Philadelphia, Aug. 3—(AP)—Baseball stars of days gone by will be guests of the Philadelphia Phillies tonight as the Phils meet the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The occasion has been designated "Night of Stars" with a number of former big leaguers invited to attend pre-game ceremonies.

Among the guests will be Lefty Grove, Cy Williams, Frank "Home Run" Baker, Jimmy Foss, Rube Walberg, Hans Wagner, Hans Looert, Harry "The Giant Killer" Coveleskie, Umpire Butch Henline, Cy Perkins, George Earnshaw, Dusty Cooke, Charley Gelbert, Benny Bengough, and Max Bishop, now coaching at Annapolis.

Hogan Absent As National League Shaping Up A Battle-Royal Climax

Tourney Starts

Chicago, Aug. 3—(AP)—The $50,000 tam o' shanter golf potpourri began today with Ben Hogan conspicuous by his absence.

Little Ben, who snooted last year's meet because of promoter George S. May's proposal that all pros wear identifying numbers on their backs, was to check in at a Chicago hotel today. May said that Hogan, fresh from winning the western open in a playoff, demanded a $1,000 appearance fee for the tam circus.

"But I won't meet it," May said. "He can stay in his hotel room as long as he wants waiting my reply. But I won't pay him or anybody else a so-called guarantee to play in my tournament."

Thus, the situation stered. This posed quite a problem. May, known as the King Midas of golf, has billed his Saturday and Sunday anti-climax as the "world championship" of golf with a select field of about 12 top-drawer swingers competing for a winner-take-all $10,000. Hogan may descend to participate in this final. It would be difficult to ignore the National and National PGA champion with a "world championship" at stake, and Hogan knows it.

Meanwhile, all the big-name pros, with the exception of Hogan, teed off today in the first of four rounds for a $5,000 top prize in the all-American pro side of the rich three-day jamboree.

PLENTY OF HUNTERS

New York—(AP)—A recent survey by a sporting goods firm shows that hunters purchase nearly half of all the equipment sold in sporting goods stores. Just the firearms and ammunition bought by the nimrods totals more than 40 per cent of all the business done by the stores.

Yesterday it was the Cardinals' turn to gain ground on the leaders, and they did it in such convincing fashion as to leave the fans gasping, enjoying their biggest batting day of the year. The Cardinals won 10 of 15 new 20.2 pitches for 20 hits to humiliate the Giants 21-5.

The Cards not only prevented the record place Giants from reducing Boston's five-game margin, but ended their seven-game winning streak. It marked the first loss suffered by the Giants at home under Leo Durocher. They had won six.

The victory enabled the Cards to virtually tie for third place with the losing Dodgers, who own a slim one percentage point edge over the Redbirds. Both are only a game ahead of the Giants and six off the pace.

In registering the biggest single game scoring output in the majors this season, the Cards bettered the '48 mark set by the Red Sox against the A's on July 4 in a 19-5 victory. The same Cards had an 18-3

Earls Court, London, Aug. 3—(AP)—The brave Turks supplanted the United States today for free style wrestling honors in the Olympic games.

Only two Americans, Glenn Brand of Clarion, Iowa, and Henry Wittenberg, New York's grappling policeman, could boast gold medals in the mat game after the Turks got through.

Four first and two seconds gave Turkey 26 points and team honors, while the defending champions from the United States had to be content with 14 points and second place.

Pro football fans will get their competition early this season, as the two major loafs swing into their schedules well before the baseball season ends. The All American Conference starts its third season on Aug. 27 with games at Chicago and Brooklyn. The National Football League, opening its 29th campaign, kicks off on Sept. 11 with Green Bay at Boston.

Ted Williams Is Still Top Batter

Chicago, Aug. 3—(AP)—Boston's Ted Williams still led the American League batting parade today despite a six-point slump last week to 385.

Williams, who notched six hits in 20 trips to the plate last week, led runner-up Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's manager-shortstop by a 42-point margin as the Indian pilot slipped to 348. Boudreau got five hits in 23 appearances at bat.

Al Zarilla of St. Louis moved up from fourth to third spot with 336 through Sunday's games. George Kell of Detroit, who was third last week, slipped to sixth place with 317.

Walt Evers, Detroit, was fourth with 332 and Cleveland's Dale Mitchell fifth with 323.

Joe DiMaggio, New York, continued to dominate the runs-batted-in bracket with 90, and shared the top in two other specialties with Ed Stewart of Washington, each with 10 triples, and with Cleveland's Ken Keltner in homers at 24.

Boston's Don DiMaggio topped the runs-scored department with 75, while Boudreau led in hits with 120. Bob Dillinger, St. Louis, went ahead of Washington's Gil Coan in stolen bases with 20.

Saratoga Opens Its 80th Season

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 2—(AP)—Horse racing comes back to picturesque old Saratoga today for its 80th season.

A turnout of 20,000 or more was expected at the opening day program. The weatherman predicted a few scattered showers.

The inaugural card features the 74th running of the $10,000 Flash, a five and one-half furlong sprint for two-year-olds and the nation's third oldest stake race.

How Fast Are They?

New York—(AP)—A series of tests recently conducted on the speeds of game birds established the blue-wing teal as the fastest of them all. It averages about 90 miles an hour in flight and can go even faster when frightened. Most game birds fly at around 50 miles an hour when unmolested and a little faster when frightened.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

By Florence Stuart

Chapter 16
Ted like to work around the house.

Once he said, grinning: "The devil finds work for idle hands to do."

Jane burst out laughing. "You sound like Aunt Mae. She's always quoting some moth-eaten platitude."

"I'd like to meet your Aunt Mae," Ted said politely. "She must be quite an interesting character."

"Oh, she disapproves of you already."

"Disapproves of me? How come?"

"That is she disapproves of our having you in the house. Aunt Mae thinks it's a disgrace to take a roomer."

"Well, I'm a paying guest, aren't I? I pay with good hard cash. And the sweat of my brow besides."

"But what Aunt Mae disapproves of most—" Jane wrinkled her nose—"she thinks you might want to make love to me."

"Well," Ted said matter of factly. "I do want to. Naturally, I've wanted to since the first minute I've set eyes on you. I haven't done anything about it," he added, "thinking as how you might slug me if I tried it."

"And you're so right!" Jane darted a quick grin at him. "You're so terribly, terribly right."

"You don't want me to, then, do you?" Ted asked, beautiful. Or is it subject to change at some future date?"

"Silly. Of course I don't want it. And look, Ted, let's not get on that subject."

"Why not? Personally, I've always thought making love was an excellent subject for discussion. Not telling where it would lead. You afraid to talk about it?"

"Of course I'm not afraid. And," Jane said firmly, "it isn't going to lead us anywhere because we aren't going to talk about it. Not you and I. You save your discussions of love for some of those thrill-hungry coeds who are always calling you on the telephone. And oh, that reminds me—yesterday evening some girl called and left her phone number so you could call her back. I forgot to tell you. Do you know a girl named—well, Chick, it sounded like."

Ted yawned. "Oh, Her. Sure I know Chick. She sounded unutterably bored at the mere thought of her."

Jane laughed. "Well, how about some of the other sweet young things who phone you?" she said. "Honestly, Ted, this phone has done more business during the month you've been here than in the whole year. Those girls call and call, but you never bother to call them back. You never date any of them. Why don't you, Ted?"

So that was the day he took a few minutes off from clowning and talked quite seriously.

He balanced himself against a chair arm and lit a cigarette. "I don't bother with them because I'm not interested in any of them. Jane. They're all just—well, school kids."

Losing Security Benefits In Area

During the second quarter of this year, April through June, almost ten thousand dollars less in Social Security Payments was discovered by the Rocky Mount Social Security office according to a statement today by Marshall H. Barney, manager.

In the fifteen counties serviced by the local offices, 23 retired workers had failed to file claims for payment resulting in 68 hundred dollars lost. Eight survivors of workers who had died insured under Social Security lost 28 hundred dollars by filing late.

There were many reasons given by the applicants for their late filing. Some thought they didn't have to file a claim to receive payments; some thought that Old-Age and Survivors Insurance is a form of charity; others thought that the date of filing a claim was immaterial (there is a three month retroactive period) some workers didn't consider themselves retired but continued to look for work until their resources including savings were entirely used up; most just didn't do anything about it.

Mr. Barney expressed great concern over these losses of benefits. If people were just curious enough to write in and ask a question about their status in case of death of a wage-earner, or in case of retirement of a worker over 65, he said, that would give us a clue and we could get a claim started. But when no one lets us know, there is nothing we can do.

Mr. Barney praised the newspapers in his area for their splendid cooperation in publishing releases designed to let the reading public know what action to take. His office staff makes speeches before school groups and civic organizations over the radio (50 speeches were made during this same last quarter) in an effort to get out on late-filing. He asked for everybody's cooperation in advising potential claimants for Old-Age or survivors insurance to direct an inquiry to the local office. His office will take over from there.

Jaycees' Campaign To Help Recreation Center Progressing

By CHESTER WALSH
The Junior Chamber of Commerce in its public-spirited campaign to obtain funds for equipping the Youth Recreation Center at the old NYA site in the southeastern part of Greenville, is having gratifying success, President B. B. Sugg, Jr., said today.

The Jaycees are collecting scrap paper and selling it to junk dealers, then using the money for recreation equipment. Last week they accumulated a large quantity of corrugated boxes in the rear of business places and stored it in a gunnery hut at the airport. Each Jaycee is asked to give one hour a week to the campaign of collecting scrap paper.

They work it this way: All Jaycees whose last names begin with the letter A, through K, are asked to meet in front of the city hall this afternoon at 5:30 for one hour of collecting scrap paper. Jaycees whose last names begin with the letter L, through Z, are asked to meet at the City Hall Friday afternoon at 5:30 p. m. Jim Taylor, chairman for the business district, said.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce sells the scrap paper for $20 a ton. All proceeds go toward equipping the Youth Recreation Center.

WORK CANT HURT NEEVES
Denver—(AP)—Nobody ever had a nervous breakdown because of too much work, says Dr. John S. Boulog, president of the Colorado Medical society. "The belief in the damaging effect of hard work is little more than superstition," he said in an interview. "There's nothing to it. Over-worry may cause a breakdown. But that's something else."

The oldest known manuscript of the Bible, a fourth century copy, was found in Mt. Sinai.

ODD OLD HEN — Mary Elizabeth Brobston of New Orleans holds her 11-year-old hen, Cuddles, and an egg the Rhode Island Red laid. Miss Brobston said the hen, 6 or 7 years older than most live to be, has laid more than 4,000 eggs.

Prisoner Dies In Pitt County Jail

Ora Joyner Bethea, 707 Cherry street, was found sprawled across her cot in the county jail early this morning, dead.

Sent up in city court yesterday for sixty days in jail, she appeared to be in good health, and Wheeler G. Leggett, county jailer, in reporting the death this morning to Coroner Griffin H. Rouse, said he had seen the woman last night at around 11 o'clock, and she was apparently in good condition at that time.

Leggett further stated that there had been no noise during the night from the cells, and that he didn't see her again until about seven o'clock this morning when he went to bring breakfast for the colored woman.

In finding the body, Leggett notified the county coroner, G. H. Rouse, who in turn, summoned Dr. J. M. Barrett.

Dr. Barrett examined the woman and found no signs of foul play and it was determined that she had died of an acute heart attack.

Coroner Rouse said no inquest would be called.

Greek Army Has New Success In War On Rebels

Athens, Aug. 3 — (AP) — The general staff of the reorganized Greek army command announced today the capture of Kerassovon, southern anchor of Communist forces in northern Greece.

A spokesman said the Ninth Division also took Kamenic Heights at the north end of the guerrilla defense line. Kamenic is 6,500 feet high and squarely on the Albanian border eight miles north of Konitsa. The Greek army had reported its forces had been shelled, mortared and machinegunned from the Albanian side of the border at Kamenic.

Earlier, Premier Themistokles Sofoulis announced a reshuffle in the Greek army high command to "accelerate the tempo" of the war effort. The shake-up followed American suggestions for speeding up the fight against Communist-led insurgents.

Ballard's X Roads News

Besides having all of their seven children home for a few days this past month, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Tyson have had visitors from many states and several foreign countries including India, Germany, Sweden and Egypt.

around $125. That's just the average. The range is wide. For example.

The figures for 1946 and 1947 are not available but Senator Ellender, Louisiana Democrat, showed these figures in the Senate debate:

In 1945 the two lowest states—in money spent for education per child—were Alabama, $58.93, and Mississippi, $44.80.

The two highest were New Jersey $198.33 and New York, $194.47.

One of the arguments against federal aid to education is this:

The answer of Senators to that was: In this country all children are Americans, and educated Americans are necessary for the welfare of the whole country.

Another, in fact the main, argument against federal aid to education was this:

Once the federal government starts handing out money to the states for education, it will begin interfering in education in all the states and finally say what can and can't be taught.

To answer that argument, the bill passed by the Senate specifically says the government is not to interfere in any way with the educational programs of the states.

Some Senators argued against the bill on the grounds that federal money would be spent—contrary to rulings of the Supreme Court—in helping not only public schools but also private and religious schools.

The answer to that, as approved by the senate is this:

None of the $300,000,000 was specifically to be spent on anything but public schools. But if, under its constitution, a state spends some money on private or religious schools—like taking children to them in busses—then some of the federal money could be used for that purpose.

There's one other question: Why hasn't the House passed the bill to make it law, since the Senate passed it?

The best answer I can get on that is: The House, looking at all the government-spending it voted for this year, doesn't want to spend the $300,000,000 for education.

affection. Thus Moscow needs time to consolidate her ill-got gains.

Then there's another aspect to the Russian position. Moscow recently has intensified its drive to communize the Far East and this offensive in many instances is in the nature of rebellious upheavals inspired by Red agents.

Intensification of activities in the Orient might fit in which a willingness to slack off in Europe, so as to avoid a general engagement on two fronts.

So far as a European truce is concerned, undoubtedly much will depend on how strong Russia feels she is among the satellite states of eastern Europe. There would seem to be where much of her danger lies.

Gasoline Floods Well; Source Is Major Mystery

Denver — (P) — Imagine Carl Stone's surprise when a water well on his truck farm exploded. He soon found out why—gasoline had seeped into the well in blast-sized quantities.

Stone doesn't know where the gasoline is coming from and neither do his neighbors. Phillip Schwieder and Mrs. Bonnie Perko.

All they know is that gasoline is polluting their wells and threatening their gardens. Schwieder claims he pumped 6,000 gallons of gasoline from his well in three months—gasoline good enough to use in machinery on his dairy farm. City and state oil experts can't figure it out. There are oil refineries nearby but officials say they couldn't be losing that much gasoline without knowing it.
