Berlin Blockade Backfires; More Trouble For East

Increasing Economic Troubles Reported In Russian Zone Of Germany

Berlin, Aug. 17-(AP)—Increasing economic troubles were reported today in the Russian zone of Germany as a boomcrash of the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Workers at the Krupp plant at Magedburg were reported to have struck to protest food shortages. Some strikers were arrested.

The British licensed newspaper Social Democrat told of industrial and commercial shutdowns in the Russian zone because of lack of supplies which formerly were obtained from Western Germany.

The supplies, chiefly coal and steel from the Ruhr, were shut off when the Western powers stopped trains from entering or leaving the Russian zone. This was a counter measure to the Soviet land blockade of Berlin, started late in June.

The newspaper said the Magedburg strike protested Russian requisitioning of occupation zone foods for Berlin.

The Russians have not denied persistent reports of food shortages in their part of Germany. Shortages were said to be aggravated by seizures of stocks to support the Russian promise to feed the entire city of Berlin, including the blockaded western areas.

The American zone of Germany had food trouble also. A crowd of 10,000 demonstrated at Hagen in Westphalia against high food prices and shouted approval of a resolution calling for a buyers' strike.

The Russian news agency ADN said the Soviets are importing hard coal from Poland to keep factories and public utilities in their zone going. The Russians, however, were said to be paying Poland dollars for the coal whereas they had obtained the Ruhr coal for German marks in interzonal trade.

The same agency reported further punitive actions against "economic saboteurs." Jail terms were meted out to hoarders of food and industrial supplies.

The British and British planes supplying the 2,000,000 Germans in Western Berlin started dropping in shoes and cigars, as well as food and coal. The planes took in 9,700 pairs of shoes made in Western Germany, and 1,620,000 cigars from surplus U.S. Army stores.

Look For Filibuster

A History-Shattering Talkathon In Prospect If Republican Leaders Carry Out Plans For Next Regular Session Of Congress; Tightening Rule Of Cloture

By EDWIN B. MAAKINSON

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—A history-shattering filibuster will open the next regular session of the Senate on January 3 if Republican leaders carry out their plans.

House Probers Have Own Row Over Breaking Oath Of Silence

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee seethed today with a behind-the-scenes row over what one member called "a violation of an oath" by a committee member or staff aide.

It seems that a solemn promise not to talk was exacted from every member present when Alger Hiss, former State Department official, testified at a closed-door session yesterday. Yet morning papers published many details of what went on.

One angry member told reporters today that he will demand that the committee investigate the "leak." He asked them not to use his name until he makes his formal demand at the committee's next session.

The committee has recessed its general investigation of alleged Communist spying for three weeks. Communist plans a meeting next week to bring Hiss and Whitaker Chambers face to face.

The member who says he will demand an investigation of the "leak" told reporters: "It is obvious from reading the papers that someone violated that oath. As soon as the full committee meets again, I intend to take this up and find out who is guilty. It is a fine thing for a committee questioning the word of witnesses to have an oath violated by someone officially connected with it."

He named these as having been present at the Hiss questioning and as having taken an "oath of secrecy": Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.), Representatives Nixon (R-Calif.), McDowell (R-Pa.) and Herbert (D-Ia.), Chief Investigator Robert E. Strickland, Investigators Donald Appell, Ben Mandel, Louis Russell, and William Wheeler, and committee clerks, Mrs. Asselia Poore and Mrs. Lillian Howard.

In addition, Hiss and an official congressional reporter were present. Appell, Wheeler and Russell told reporters they had not given out any information.

Those committee members who could be reached would not comment immediately.

Across the Capitol, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) struck out anew at the government's loyalty program. He declared that several persons suspected of spy activities have stayed in "sensitive" federal jobs "either through influence or neglect."

The House committee rang down the curtain with a terse statement that "we will resume public hearings on the espionage case Tuesday, September 7."

Pro-Truman Workers In Alabama See Small Hope

Have About Given Up Hope Of Winning A Place On Ballot; President's Friends Say All May Not Be Lost In South Despite Furore

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—President Truman's lieutenants were said today to have about given up hope of winning a place on the Alabama ballot.

With organized labor helping out, a move is underway there to put up a slate of 11 pro-Truman electors in opposition to a group pledged to vote against the President.

But Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), who opposed the President's civil rights program, told a reporter he does not believe there is any way short of a special session of the state legislature to get Truman supporters on the ticket.

He noted that the Democratic electors already chosen are pledged to vote for Gov. J. B. Saxon throughout South Carolina, the States Rights nominee.

Administration leaders were reported to have come to the same conclusion as Sparkman after quiet talks. The question has been put to Alabama's attorney general.

The pro-Truman group decided at a Montgomery meeting yesterday to assemble again in Birmingham August 28 and nominate a slate of electors then.

But even if a Truman ticket is not on the ballot, some administration leaders think that if Alabama's 11 votes were needed to elect Mr. Truman over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the weight of Southern public opinion would swing toward the Democratic nominee.

Pro-Truman moves also are under way in South Carolina and Mississippi. But in both these States, the President's supporters are given little chance to get on the ballot.

The President's friends look on these moves, however, as a hopeful sign. They say all may not be lost in the South despite the vigorous Dixie reaction to the Civil Rights program.

Tar Heels Register For Draft Starting August 30

Raleigh, Aug. 17-(AP)—North Carolinians between the ages of 18 and 26 will begin registering for draft boards Aug. 30 to register for selective service.

A proclamation issued by Governor Cherry yesterday outlined procedures under which an estimated 395,000 Tar Heels will register.

Registration dates were set as follows: Aug. 30—persons born in 1922 after Aug. 30, 1922; Aug. 31 or Sept. 1—persons born in 1923; Sept. 2 or 3—persons born in 1924; Sept. 4 or 7—persons born in 1925; Sept. 8 or 9—persons born in 1926; Sept. 10 or 11—persons born in 1927; Sept. 13 or 14—persons born in 1928; Sept. 15 or 16—persons born in 1929; Sept. 17 or 18—persons born in 1930 before Sept. 19, 1930.

Plan Scrutiny Of College Teachers And Publications

New York Paper Says House Probers To Study Influence Of Leftists

New York, Aug. 17-(AP)—The New York Star said today that college teachers and magazine staffs will come under scrutiny of the house committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee "this fall and winter will embark upon two of its most formidable and challenging investigations," the newspaper said in a copyrighted story by Joseph Kugelmann.

"One will take the form of attempting to determine just how much headway has been made on U. S. college campuses by Communists," the story said. "Teachers will be summoned from most of the leading universities in the eastern U. S. A."

"The other will be a full-scale, full-cry probe into so-called left-wing staffs of U. S. magazines."

"There is some possibility that certain eastern newspapers will be brought into the publications investigation, but this has as yet not been ironed out, simply because of its broad nature and the anxiety of the committee to retain cordial relationships with the press."

The Star said it had learned from a source close to the committee's chief investigator, Robert E. Strickland, that "many ranking professors as such universities as Columbia, Yale, Harvard, New York University, Dartmouth, College of the City of New York, Duke, University of North Carolina, University of Pennsylvania and Princeton will be subpoenaed to testify at both secret and public hearings."

The story said "there is some possibility that Albert Einstein may be called to present his views, but it was said that he would be invited and not subpoenaed."

Accuses Truman Concealing Facts

Rep. J. Parnell Thomas as Says Has Report Of New Spy Ring

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) today accused President Truman of trying to "conceal" from the people the facts on Communist spying.

In a statement, Thomas also said the House Un-American Activities Committee has reports of "still another espionage ring" but yet mentioned nothing in Capitol Hill hearings.

As committee chairman, Thomas got out his statement while the committee itself was reported seething over a "leak" of information on a closed session. One member said some one—a committee member or staff aide—had "violated an oath."

Thomas's statement said the committee already has made "shocking disclosures" about "the activities of Communist agents who have been funneling vital and secret information to our government to Moscow for the benefits and advantage of a foreign power."

"Why the people have not been informed of these espionage activities can be answered only by President Truman, for I happen to know that there is locked in the files of the executive branch of the government the complete story and full facts of this sordid chapter in our history."

"Why the President has seen fit to attempt to conceal this information from the public can only be answered by himself."

President Truman twice has said the committee's spy hearings are a "red herring" intended to hide congressional failure to act on his anti-inflation program.

State Lists 24 New Polio Cases

Year's Total Is Now 1,520; Death Toll For Year Is 78

Raleigh, Aug. 17-(AP)—Reports on 24 new cases of infantile paralysis were received by the State Board of Health today. The total of cases for the year climbed to 1,520.

Burke Caldwell and Cleveland reported three of today's cases; Gaston, Guilford, Iredell and Mecklenburg reported two each; and Catawba, Cumberland, Jackson, Montgomery, Onslow, Rockingham and Watauga reported one case each.

All of today's cases were August onset, bringing the total for the month to 255. The July total dropped to 848 with the report that diagnosis of one case from Halifax county had been changed.

The State Board of Health reported the state's polio death toll for the year had reached 78.

The death toll for the state this year by counties: Alamance 1, Alleghany 1, Bladen 1, Buncombe 4, Burke 1, Cabarrus 2, Caldwell 3, Catawba 6, Cleveland 1, Cumberland 4, Durham 3, Forsyth 2, Gaston 3, Guilford 3, Iredell 2, Johnston 1, Lee 1, Lincoln 3, Mecklenburg 9, Montgomery 1, Moore 4, Randolph 4, Robeson 2, Rockingham 2, Rutherford 1, Scotland 1, Stanly 1, Union 1, Wake 1, Yadkin 1, Yancey 1.

Arrest Ordered, Suspense At End For 'Tokyo Rose'

Tokyo, Aug. 17-(AP)—The three years' suspense ended, Iva Toguri D'Aquino waited peacefully today for her arrest as Tokyo Rose—as a wartime traitor to America, the land of her birth.

The U. S. Justice department ordered her returned to San Francisco—with 15 Japanese witnesses—to face a federal grand jury on the charge. The decision ended "a life of doubt" for Mrs. D'Aquino, who had been investigated after Japan's surrender but later released without charge.

The radio broadcasts of "Tokyo Rose" climbed again from fact to fascinating legend among American armed forces in the Pacific war.

Actually, said Attorney General Tom Clark, Mrs. D'Aquino was only one of six English-speaking women who made such propaganda broadcasts from Tokyo.

Lean Season For Chinese Ghosts

Shanghai, Aug. 17-(AP)—Millions of Chinese will observe centuries-old "Ghost Relief Day" Aug. 19, but the handouts for the poor living here will be scanty. Few of the living have much to offer the shades of their ancestors nowadays.

Education, as well as the high cost of living, will also have its effect. Each year fewer and fewer people cling to the belief that doors of the "eighteen dungeons" will open the night of Aug. 18 (the 14th day of the seventh month in China's lunar calendar).

Appeal Taken To N.C. High Court

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17-(AP)—An appeal in a suit by the Progressive Party of North Carolina against the State Board of Elections was docketed in the state supreme court today.

In the suit, the Progressive party sought to have nullified rules and regulations of the board of elections regarding creation of new political parties.

A dramatic, five-part picture story on the life of Babe Ruth starts today in The Daily Reflector.

Credit Curbs Now Law Of The Land

President Signs Republican-Sponsored Anti-Inflation Measure But Views It As Being Feeble And Inadequate

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—President Truman signed into law tonight the credit curbs he called only "a tiny fraction of what we need" to fight inflation.

But when the new restrictions on time payment buying and on bank reserves will go into effect remains to be determined.

Some version of the old one-third-down-and-only-15-months-to-pay rule probably will return some time next month.

The Federal Reserve Board said it will lay down all the rules and fix an effective date later this week, probably Friday.

The board will administer the anti-inflation bill passed by the special session of the Republican-dominated 80th Congress earlier this month.

Mr. Truman accompanied his signature of the bill with his promised blast of criticism at the lawmakers. And GOP chiefs came right back at him. There was a familiar ring to the arguments from both sides.

Shanghai, Aug. 17-(AP)—Government troops were reported today to have captured two cities in northern Kiangsu province in a renewed attempt to oust the Communists from that sector of North China.

Lake Success, Aug. 17-(AP)—The United Nations arms commission meets today to approve a report stating the world is not ready for any scheme of arms reduction.

New York, Aug. 17-(AP)—The bodies of 5,894 American war dead, including many who fell in the bitter fighting for St. Lo, are scheduled to arrive at the Brooklyn Army base Thursday aboard the U. S. army transport Lawrence Victory.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 17-(AP)—Production operations again were on a fractional basis at the strife-ridden Morrell Packing plant here today but the company denied Union contentions that there had been a "lockout."

President Plans Nine-Day Cruise

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—President Truman will leave Friday on a nine-day cruise to rest and work on plans for a country-wide campaign for the Presidency.

White House press secretary Chas. G. Ross said Mr. Truman will board the Presidential yacht Williamsburg on Friday afternoon. He will be accompanied only by members of his staff.

He will cruise down the Potomac, into Chesapeake Bay, through the Chesapeake-Delaware ship canal and into Delaware Bay.

Observers Still See No Clues In Moscow Meeting

Long Session Last Night Believed Indicating Talks On The Main Problems

Moscow, Aug. 17-(AP)—Observers are as much in the dark as ever today about results of the latest talks between western power envoys and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Some believe the length of last night's session indicated the conferees were getting down to concrete problems.

(A London informant said yesterday that Molotov was to give Russia's reply to western proposals for settlement of the Berlin deadlock at the meeting. He said the talks "might possibly be the climax" of the 18-day negotiations.)

(In Frankfurt, U. S. Military Gen. Lucius D. Clay said he expected the western powers to stick to their plans for Germany. He indicated to newsmen the west will continue going ahead with plans for a west German government.)

Yesterday's conference was the sixth with Molotov. It was the longest since the negotiations began last week, lasting three hours and 40 minutes. The western envoys first met with Molotov July 31. He was present at the Aug. 3 meeting with Prime Minister Stalin, which was followed by meetings with Molotov Aug. 6, Aug. 9, Aug. 12 and last night.

None of the western envoys would comment as they left the Kremlin in a driving rain last night.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and French Ambassador Yves Chateignau went immediately to the British Embassy with Britain's special envoy, Frank Roberts. They conferred for an hour and 15 minutes and then dispersed, preparing to work separately on reports to their home governments.

Experienced observers in the State capital said, judging from the length of the conference with Molotov and the unexpectedly long party at the British Embassy, that the four power representatives still have plenty to talk about.

There has been no official indication as to how the talks are going.

Barkley Voices Hopeful Outlook

Sees No Issue Over Spy Case; Says Prospects 'Very Good'

Chicago, Aug. 17-(AP)—Senator Albert Barkley, Democratic candidate for Vice President, said today he did not think the Communist spy case would provide an issue in this fall's campaign.

Commenting on developments in Senate and House inquiries, he said: "Personally, I don't see that it is an issue. Nobody likes a Communist."

A reporter asked him at a news conference if the spy hearings conducted by Republican-dominated committees were timed to turn attention from the GOP jinking of President Truman's anti-inflation program.

"I don't know whether they deliberately timed it to distract the attention of the people, but the timing tied in with that purpose," he said.

The Kentuckian said Democratic prospects in the election were "very good."

"All the information I get is that the Democrats are moving ahead, organizing and full of pep," he added. "We hope to capture both houses of Congress and the presidency."

Income Tax Law Writers Target Of Psychologist

London, Aug. 17-(AP)—Dr. Margaret Mead of New York told the international conference on mental health today they should work on the people who write income tax laws.

"Apart from increasing the blood pressure in older people, those who also have affected people's marital relationships, and might even determine how many children parents would have," she said.

Dr. Mead is associate curator of ethnology of the American museum of natural history. She said reform is needed in present day thinking from the cradle to the grave in there is to be international understanding.

"Insecure teachers bring up the secure children who, in turn, become insecure teachers," Dr. Mead said, "it becomes a vicious circle."

Appeals To U. S. For Refugee Aid

Washington, Aug. 17-(AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte has appealed to the United States for emergency food supplies to help 37,000 refugees from Jewish-Arab fighting in Palestine.

Bernadotte termed the plight of the refugees a "great human disaster." He said peace efforts in the Holy Land may fall unless the refugee problems are settled swiftly.

Battleground Shifts

Future Events In Southeast Asia May Profoundly Affect Rest Of World; Moscow Intensifying Communism's Drive In That Area After Setbacks To The West

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Moscow is intensifying its drive to communize southeast Asia—that vast and strategic theatre including Burma, the Malay peninsula, French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies which we have come to know as Indonesia.

This intensification comes as the Bolshevik offensive in Europe has been slowed to a crawl by the vigorous resistance of the western nations, bolstered by the Marshall Plan. Thus we can look on it in part as a matter of cause and effect. However, I believe we must attach more significance than that to the development, for the signs seem to read that the weight of the Communist world revolution will be shifted to the Far East.

In short, the indications are that Asia may become the major battleground between Communism and Democracy. Your fate and mine may be decided there.

The Reds gave us a hot tip of the importance of this oriental offensive recently when it became known that an astatic confederer had been established at Bangkok, Siam, and that it would direct operations in the Far East. This eastern confederer supplements the European organization that is generally regarded as having been created to take the place of the comintern, or general staff for world revolution, which Moscow announced was dissolved in 1943—a gesture of "amity" to the western powers.

As might be expected, Indonesia is coming in for a particularly heavy assault by the Bolsheviks. The Netherlands government has announced plans for the establishment of an independent United States of Indonesia in 1949, though the warring hour for the Reds to create as much confusion as possible and so keep the situation fluid until communism can establish a foothold.

The whole muddled situation in Indonesia was made to order for Moscow. In the first place there is a population of some 70,000,000 scattered among the 2,100 islands of the Dutch East Indies. Nature when the East Indies are spoken of thinks of Sumatra, Java, Borneo and Celebes—but there are all those little fellows. They have 17 major racial groups, speaking 28 languages and 250 dialects.

Strength FOR THE DAY. LIFE'S ISSUES DEMAND SINCERITY. When it was noised about in Paris that Napoleon had escaped from Elba and was on his way back to Paris, the Bourbon royal family fled the city. It was discovered that the fleur-de-lis emblem of the Bourbons had simply been sewed on carpet, tapestry, and furniture; beneath was the Bee, Napoleon's emblem. So as the returning conqueror approached the city, people who were ready to serve anyone in power began tearing off the sign of the Bourbon. When Napoleon arrived, his palace looked just as it had when he left. For many people the issues of life are never very real. They are little more than patches sewed on the fabric of living, which can be changed in a hurry to suit passing fancy or to advance personal interest. Friendship is the patch for some people. They can peel off one set of friends and ingratiate themselves with another set as soon as it appears socially advantageous to do so. Some people change their moral customs with the seasons of the year or as they move about from one place to another. Religion for some people is a mere patch; not something which is part of the fabric of living but something having to do only with a few pious customs. But the things that are real cannot be handled in this fashion.

Around Capitol Square. BY LYNN NISBET. CONGRESSMAN—Capitol square folks have been speculating during the past few days on probability that North Carolina will lose a congressman in the reappointment following the 1950 census. This will be a new experience for the state. Every change in congressional appointment since the state was established has been upward. The state got a new congressman after the 1920, 1930 and 1940 decennial census figures were tabulated because of population growth in excess of national average. POPULATION—Census bureau estimates of population on July 1, 1947, released last week show that while the state is still growing it is at a rate less than half national average. The estimate is that the number of people in the United States increased 8.9 per cent between January 1, 1940, and July 1, 1947. In the same period North Carolina showed a gain of 3.5 per cent. The last official census gave the state 3,571,023 people; the 1947 estimate is 3,686,000. APPOINTMENT—Early in national history membership of the house of representatives was enlarged as population increased. Some forty years ago the house membership was stabilized at 436, and growth in population resulted simply in increasing the average number of people to be represented by one congressman. Presently it is fixed at approximately 275,000 people per representative. Exactitude cannot be attained, but effort is made to stick around that figure. The congress apportionment representation to the states, and state legislatures determine whether the representatives shall be elected at large or from specified districts. Under that arrangement the congress after the 1940 census allotted North Carolina twelve representatives and the state legislature established twelve districts, ranging in population from 239,040 in the first district to 358,573 in the fourth. That shuffle resulted in dividing the old tenth district and renumbering several others. PROSPECTIVE—None of the reapportionments have affected the eastern half of the state, except to change numbering on some districts. The next shuffle is likely to hit the east much harder than the central and western areas; and there is definite prospect it may affect boundaries of every one of the twelve present districts. That is almost certain to be true if the state loses a congressman. National population has always moved westward, and between 1940 and 1947 greatest gains were recorded in far western states. California, for instance, was up 42.1 per cent. Oregon 41.8 per cent, Washington 35.8 per cent. (Business Week Magazine breaks down the census estimate on regional basis to show gain of 30.4 per cent in the entire west; 9 per cent in northwestern and north central states, 5.4 per cent in the south.) Accurate figures are not at hand on trend of state population, but a dozen or more men interested around the capitol agree that growth has been more marked

Boyle's Column. By HAL BOYLE. The maharajah has scoffed at the charge he raided the Baroda treasury for such paltry pocket money. He's one of the world's richest men. But what puzzles the average American husband, who has trouble explaining to his wife the $5 he lost on a horse race, is: "Could a man really spend $10,000,000 in six weeks?" And the answer to that—with no implication of guilt on the part of Baroda's fun-loving prince — is a loud yes. Some Indian maharajahs can and probably have. In the good old days there were no legislators around to harry this privileged class. Anybody who dared to question what one of these absolute monarchs did with the people's money would be staked down alive as bait for the annual spring tiger hunt. The spending spree they went on would make the late Diamond Jim Brady look like a bid buying a penny stick of licorice. Take, for example, the Nizams of Hyderabad, beside whom even the rich maharajah of Baroda rates as a poor country cousin. The Nizam's daddy, a free man with a rupee if ever one lived, kept 300 concubines and thought nothing of handing a dancing girl $5,000. He used to toss $30,000 trinkets to a favorite servant, Abd, who put him to bed after his benders. Abd got only $2 a month salary, but is reported to have died worth $8,000,000. This, of course, is only one man's way of ending the servant problem. The present Nizam, known in India as "the miser maharajah," shows no such signs of spoiling the hired hands. He is undoubtedly the richest man on earth, but at 62 he lives simply, wears threadbare old clothes and watches his pennies closely. This may be because he writes poetry. Most poets live that way, but rarely by choice. The Nizam, perhaps as a gesture to the memory of his robit father does keep 50 automobiles and 50 to

Washington Letter. By JANE EADS. Washington—A stocky little man called "Fishbat" deems it as "honor and a privilege" to serve Congress. It is called into session—special, or other wise. "I'm much happier working because I thrive in this business," Fishbat told me as we sat in the air cooled reception room adjoining Speaker Joe Martin's office waiting for the call to convene. William M. "Fishbat" Miller is Democratic doorkeeper of the House of Representatives. In this job he does more than just open the doors for Democratic representatives entering the House chamber. On quorum calls and roll calls, he tells the Democrats how the party is voting on the matter at hand. He will say to each member entering "Quorum call, voting present," or "tax bill voting yes." At the recent Democratic Convention his job was in the reverse. He was chief doorkeeper at Convention Hall too, but his main concern there was keeping out gate-crashers. Everybody at the capital calls Mr. Miller "Fishbat," and he says at least 50 percent of the people up there don't know he has another name. How did he get the name, I asked him. "When I was a tot of 15, down in Pascagoula, Miss., on the coast, I didn't weigh 75 pounds. Down there everybody fishes with shrimp and I, being a shrimp, was called 'Fishbat,'" he said. "Up here when any and everybody calls me on the phone, I just say 'Fishbat speaking,' and they know right off they got me on the other end of the wire." William M. Colmer, Democratic Representative from his own sixth district, in whose office he has a desk, calls him "Balt." House Minority leader Sam Rayburn of Texas and Mrs. Colmer call him "Fish." Fishbat, who now at the age of 59 weighs 113 pounds, came to Washington 16 years ago. He has filled various House posts since then—postal clerk, messenger to the doorkeeper and assistant sergeant-at-arms. In this latter post he took care of the maces and appeared at funerals of deceased members. In addition he had the privilege of leading the Cabinet to the floor during joint sessions of Congress. He called himself "Mr. Available" then—and still does. Incidentally, the mace is the symbol of federal government authority. It's as old as the government itself, having been provided for in a resolution adopted by the house during the first Congress in 1789. Ever since it has served as the active symbol of authority of the sergeant-at-arms. Its Roman counterpart was used to behead citizens who got out of line. Salvador is the smallest and most densely populated country on the mainland of the new world. Delaware, with an average altitude of 60 feet above sea level, has the lowest altitude of the 48 states—

Protests Rule In Solomon Islands. Sydney—(AP)—An outspoken Englishman says he is on his way back to London to tell the Colonial Office that administration in the Solomon Islands "is rotten, impossible, and criminal." The critic is Coleman Porter, a former director of education for the islands. He resigned this year. The island authorities, Porter says, are more concerned with the dignity of their position, the life of ease, and their future pensions, rather than the betterment of the island people and the rehabilitation of the area. Porter says he had letters of complaint signed by missionaries, officials, planters, and business men to the British government. Since the early 1930's new wealth valued at nearly five billion dollars has been produced in Canada.

Tripp-Tyson
The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Tyson was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday night, August 14, at 8 o'clock. When their daughter, Evelyn Jane became the bride of William Joseph Tripp. Only members of the families were present and a few close friends.

The vows were spoken before an improvised altar of pine, ivy and candelabras with white burning tapers and baskets of white gladioli.

The Rev. R. N. Hinnant pastor of the bride officiated, using the ever impressive double ring ceremony.

Mrs. R. N. Hinnant, pianist and Miss Doris Faye Hinnant, soloist, rendered a program of nuptial music.

Miss Joy Tyson, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a pink dress of silk faille with tight bodice and ballerina skirt, with brown accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

The groom had as his best man Worth Hardee.

The bride wore a white suit of silk faille, with navy accessories, her corsage was of red roses.

The bride's mother wore black shadow crepe and her corsage was Gamallia orchids. The bridegroom's

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Tyson. She is a graduate of the Greenville city schools and King's Business College of Raleigh. She is now employed at Carolina Sales Corporation.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. V. Tripp of Greenville. He is a graduate of Grimsland high school and served in the navy during World War II. He is now employed at Carolina Produce Company.

Entertainments At Tea
Grifton—As a compliment to Lynn Dudley Tilghman of Greenville, whose marriage to Thomas Worthington Gower of Grifton took place on Sunday in the Greenville Christian Church, Mrs. Eleanor Gower entertained at a lovely tea on Thursday afternoon at her home here.

Upon arrival guests were received by Mrs. Robert Mewborn and presented to the receiving line: Mrs. Gower, the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. S. I. Dudley of Greenville, Mrs. Mary Worthington, the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Bette Tilghman of Greenville and Mrs. Walter Franklin of Portsmouth, Va. The reception room was pleasingly arranged with summer flowers in pastel shades of pink and lavender.

Mrs. L. L. Mewborn received at the dining room and time ice punch, party sandwiches, individual cakes, salted nuts and mints were passed by Mrs. L. D. McCotter, Miss Louise Mewborn, Mrs. Elmo Smith, Mrs. Sam Nelson and Mrs. R. A. Nelson. Covered with a lace cloth the table was attractively centered with a crystal bowl of white asters and gypsophelia flanked by lighted tapers in crystal candelabra.

Miss Audrey Worthington invited callers into the den where they were asked to register in the bride's book by Misses Mary Dawson McCotter and Rebekah Wall Goodbyes were said to Mrs. Cecil Cobb.

During the afternoon Mrs. Walter Franklin at the piano and Mrs. Paul Bradley, soloist, rendered appropriate music.

Around seventy-five guests called during the tea hour, a number of these being from Kinston and Greenville.

Celebrates Birthday
Winterville—Miss Hilda Craft was entertained at a birthday party at her home Friday night, August 13, at 8 o'clock. The party was given by her mother Mrs. Henry Craft, honoring her eighteenth birthday.

Friends of Miss Craft were invited into the living room, but later moved to the lawn where several games were played including "Where

You Are At," bingo, guessing corn in a jar and quiet singing. High scores went to Louise McLawhorn, Jean Hardee, Lula Moore Faulkner, Annie Hardee and Thelma Jane Hardee.

Everyone was served on the lawn. The birthday cake was placed in the center of the group and everyone made a wish before candles were blown out. Then "Happy Birthday" was sung by the group to Miss Craft.

Miss Bert Johnson served the three tiered wedding cake after the first slice had been cut by the prospective bride and groom. Mrs. H. L. Wethington, Margaret Sugg, Ida Margaret Hart, Mary Worthington and Walenah Quinley assisted in serving bridal ices, salted nuts and mints.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is uniquely effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

A vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Hearing Stated Friday On Ballot For Dixiecrats

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Hearing in action by which States' Rights Democrats hope to win a place on the North Carolina ballot will be held here Friday.

The date was set by Judge W. C. Harris after the party yesterday filed with him an action asking that the state board of elections be ordered to give it legal recognition and put its candidates' names on the ballot. Judge Harris will hold the hearing in Wake superior court.

The action was brought by Phillip S. Finn, Jr., of Hendersonville and David Clark of Charlotte "on behalf of themselves and more than 10,000 qualified voters of North Carolina."

The party is trying to get on the ballot the names of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, its Presidential candidate, and Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, vice-Presidential candidate.

The petitioners challenged authority of the elections board to adopt rules and regulations under which it was denied recognition and asked that these be nullified.

Although the States' Rights Democrats presented to it petitions signed by more than 18,000 persons, the elections board on Aug. 3 denied the party a place on the ballot because the names had not been checked to determine if the signers were qualified voters or if they had voted in this year's primaries.

State law requires new parties seeking recognition to present to the elections board petitions bearing the names of 10,000 qualified voters at least 90 days prior to the general election, which this year falls on Nov. 2.

Junk Dealers In Court, Charged Stealing Bridge

Rome, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Two Syracuse junk dealers awaited arraignment today on the charge that they stole a highway bridge.

The men told police the span was given to them by a "man with a badge."

The Onondaga County sheriff's office identified the junk dealers as Lucas Jennings and Willie Seward. They were held in Oneida county jail on grand larceny charges.

Sgt. Arthur Willis of the Onondaga sheriff's department said the men related that a farmer had directed them to a "sheep" by the road when they inquired about the bridge. Over a small stream on Route 26 near West Branch, they said the second man, who had a badge, "didn't say he owned it, but said he was in possession of it, and that we could have it."

Feeder Calf Bought For Spring Show By Belvoir 4-H Youth

Robert Thomas, Belvoir 4-H Club member, has purchased the first feeder calf in Pitt County for the spring show of 1948. Robert purchased this calf from the purebred herd of J. Van Taylor, Bethel.

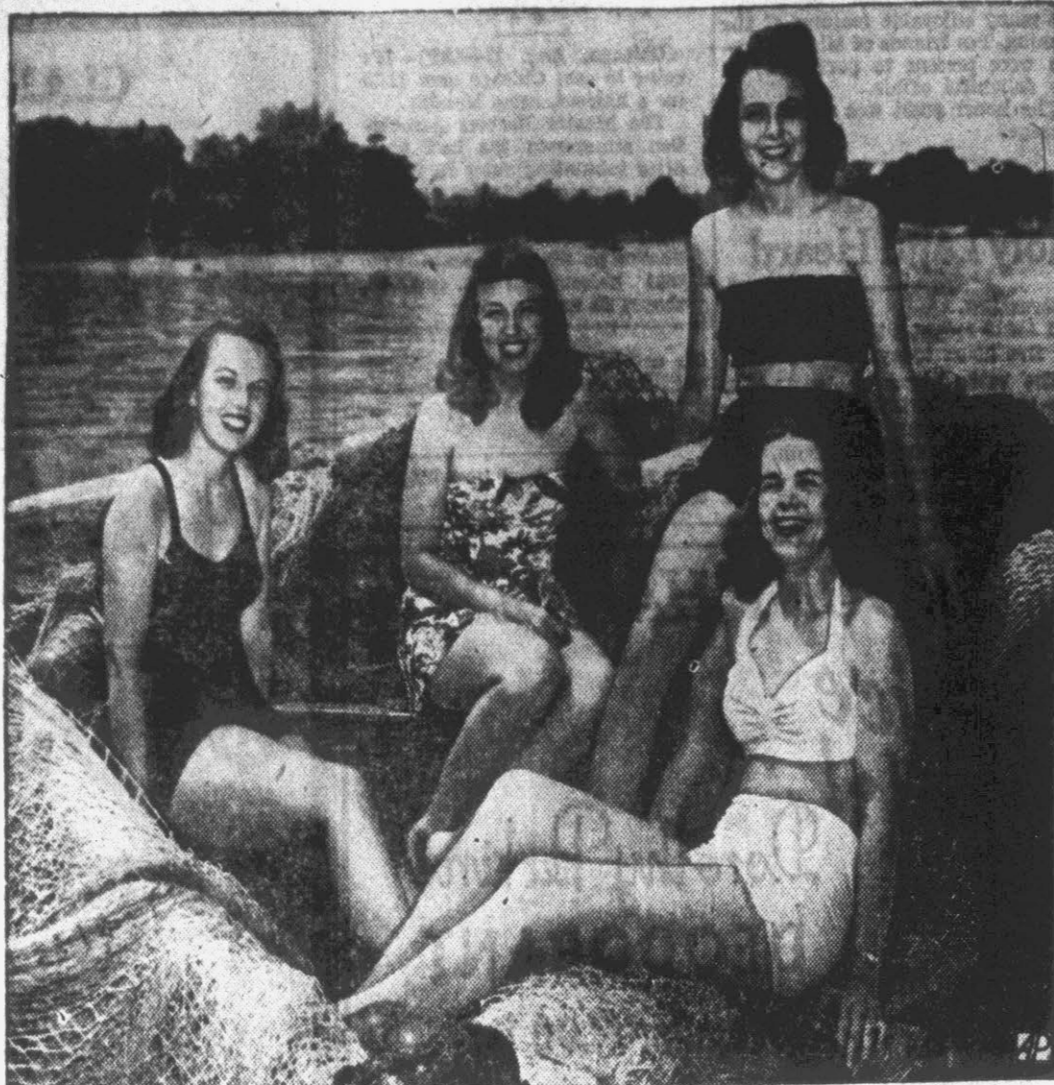

The calf is a Hereford and weighs approximately 400 pounds at the present time. Robert plans to feed this calf home grown grain with a protein supplement, and some temporary pasture in connection with his feeding program.

This is the second calf to be fed out by Robert Thomas as he showed a feeder calf in Rocky Mount last April and won third prize in showmanship with his Hereford steer in the 1948 Rocky Mount Fat Stock Show.

Last year five Pitt county 4-H members raised five feeder calves for the Fat Stock Show. W. H. Pruden, assistant county agent, supervised and advised the young farmers in raising the beef for the show.

Longer Life For Midwest People

New York—(P)—The chances for long life in the United States are best in the Midwest, a study of death rates shows. "The best record for longevity in our country is found in the West North Central States—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska, and Kansas," says the Statistical Bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. There the average length of life (expectation of life at birth) in 1939-43 was 65.23 years for white males, and 69.22 years for white females.

These life expectancies are three to four years longer than the Mountain States, which have the least favorable record. The Mountain States—Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah. The high death rate among the large Spanish-speaking population of Arizona and New Mexico is mainly responsible for this difference between the two geographical areas.

At the age of 45, men and women of the West North States still can look forward to the longest life. The expectation then is 27.56 more years of life for men, and 30.23 for women. At 45, the lowest expectation of life is in the highly industrialized northeast, the Bulletin finds. In the Middle Atlantic States of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, men of 45 can expect, on the average, only 24.74 more years and women 27.56. Men of 45 in New England can expect 25.37 more years, and women 28.33 years.

The best record in preventing infant mortality was shown on the Pacific Coast. In the Mountain States, the infant mortality rate was fully 80 per cent higher.

Car Radio Tax Confuses Owners Within Belgium

Brussels—(P)—The Belgian Ministry of Communications has launched a campaign against motorists who have not paid the tax on their radio. It is estimated that for most of the motorists on the roads of Belgium today, under Belgian law each radio must pay a yearly tax of about $3.20 for the radio in his home. It doesn't matter how many sets he has around the house, because the law says a man has only one pair of ears, so he can only be listening in one place at a time. This goes for his car radio too, and as long as the car is in the garage the radio is held to be at home.

Austrians Count Occupation Cost

Vienna—(P)—The occupation of "liberated" Austria has cost this country $445,445,089 since the end of the war, according to Dr. George Zimmermann, Minister of Finance. Of this amount $519,950,000 was for military occupation costs, $4,919,516 was for damages caused by allied military personnel, and $120,575,574 for schillings converted by the four powers when new money was issued last winter.

The Austrian government has protested the payment of occupation costs, terming it neither legal nor in the interests of world peace. In a note to the Allied Council last May the government demanded the occupying powers pay their own way in Austria. The government has the full support of the American authorities here in abolishing the occupation cost burden. The United States has been paying its own way in dollars for more than one year. The British have not drawn from their special account since January 1.

Czecks Trading Beer for Fats

Prague—(P)—The newspaper "Mlada Fronta" has publicly recognized—and denied—rumors that Czechoslovakia has suffered food shortages because of exports. The paper also explained why Czech beer has been weaker. "We have intentionally lowered the percentage of beer from seven to five and we export the saved malt," the paper said. "In exchange for what? Our fats... We are drinking a weaker beer but our supply of fats has been insured. Now what is more important: a fat meal or a strong beer?"

Selective Service Deferments For ROTC Students Clarified By Army

Policies affecting enrollment and continuation of students in the senior divisions of the Reserve Officers Training Corps and the Air Reserve Officers Training Corps under the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948 were announced jointly by the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force yesterday.

All students falling within the 18 to 26 year age group are obliged to register with their local boards. Deferment from the possibility of call to active military service, under certain circumstances and conditions will be in force until after completion of the normal academic and ROTC course. Within the limits of prescribed enrollment quotas distributed among 231 colleges and universities participating in the ROTC programs, the deferment policies will apply to selected ROTC students whether they are entering their freshman year at the beginning of the 1948-49 academic term or are returning to complete their formal education.

To be eligible for deferment until the completion of their academic training, students enrolled in ROTC units must remain in good standing in both their academic and military courses, must demonstrate proper and sufficient aptitude and leadership characteristics to ultimately qualify them for a commissioned appointment, and must attend a summer training camp when ordered by competent authority. In addition they are required to sign an agreement to accept a commission in a component of the Army or the Air Force, if and when tendered, and to serve not less than two years on active duty as an officer, subject to a call by the Secretary of the service in which they receive their commission.

Students who had been formally in the advanced course before June 30, 1948, and who remain in good standing throughout the remainder of their academic and military courses, will automatically be deferred from induction until after completion of the course. Brigadier General Wendell Westover, Army Executive for Reserve and ROTC Affairs, pointed out that this deferment procedure does not allow the non-veteran student, or the veteran of less than ninety days service, any indefinite exemption from his military obligation as set forth in the Selective Service Act. Those ROTC students who have completed less than ninety days active military service, if tendered a commission, will be subject to twenty-one months active service as officers when called to duty by the President. Thus the college student is shown no favoritism over his non-college counterpart. All students at college level are liable to military service subject to temporary postponements for those who meet ROTC requirements and quotas.

After registration with his local draft board, the student student will notify his professor of Military Science and Tactics at the institution he attends of the number of the board and its address. When certified for deferment, the student must promptly notify his local board of this fact in writing. The Professor of Military Science and Tactics will also advise the student's local board of the deferment certification. Subsequent changes in the status of a student which terminates his eligibility must also be reported to the local draft board immediately by the individual concerned as well as by his PMS&T.

Veterans, exempted from induction by virtue of previous honorable active service in the armed forces who are students enrolled in an ROTC unit, are eligible for deferment certification if they meet the necessary academic and other qualifications. This gives them additional assurance of being able to complete their academic career, as their deferment because of previous military service would be automatically cancelled in the event of a declaration of war or national emergency.

The Selective Service law provides that students satisfactorily pursuing a full time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution, although not affiliated with an ROTC unit, if ordered to report for induction will, upon presentation of the facts, have his call to active

THE BAMBINO

Big George on Baltimore Streets

As a Left Handed Catcher

An International League Rookie

Off to the Big Leagues

THE story of Babe Ruth began in the Baltimore, Md., streets. He hardly knew his parents although his mother lived until he was 13 and his father, who owned a saloon, lived until Ruth was 24. However, at the age of seven Ruth was placed in the St. Mary's Industrial Home, a Catholic institution. It was there that Brother Matthias took personal charge of the youngster and was to help him often during the rest of his baseball life. "Brother Matthias was the greatest man I've ever known," Ruth often said. Ruth was born February 6, 1895, but he never knew it until 1934 when he went on a barnstorming trip to Japan. His birth certificate, necessary to obtain a passport, showed that Ruth was actually a year younger than he believed himself to be.

Many brothers took a liking to Big George, as the kids called him. They taught him a trade as a child and he became fairly proficient as a shirt maker. But baseball was his first and only love. St. Mary's had a number of baseball teams but Ruth caught for the No. 1 team—and he was an unorthodox southpaw catcher. He caught with the mitt on his left hand, dropping the glove each time he made a throw to the pitcher or to one of the bases. When Ruth was 17, he laughed one day when a St. Mary's pitcher was being pounded. Brother Matthias didn't think it funny. So he forced Ruth to try to do better. From that time Babe was a pitcher.

A year later, Brother Gilbert, a teacher from Mt. St. Joseph's, another Catholic school, interested Jack Dunn, Baltimore Oriole manager, in the raw 160-pound six-foot-two recruit with the flat nose and spindly legs. In the spring of 1914 Ruth was on his way. He had signed his first contract—$600 a year. After one month his salary was doubled to $1,200 and after the second month it went up to $1,800. One of the Baltimore coaches, seeing Ruth following Dunn, said in jest: "Here comes Dunn with his newest Babe." The nickname stuck and it became the most famous baseball has ever known. Before the season was over Dunn had sold Ruth to the Boston Red Sox for a sum variously reported between $2,900 and $10,000. But the left handed pitcher wasn't ready for the majors. After a month during which he won two games and lost one the Red Sox sent him to Providence, R. I., and he helped the team win the International League pennant. The seasoning Ruth obtained in Providence was just what he needed.

College Park, Md., Aug. 17—(AP)—President H. C. Byrd of the University of Maryland says he cannot conceive of other members of the Southern Conference voting Lu Gambino star Terp halfback, ineligible for further collegiate competition. However, he announced in a former statement last night that if they do, "while we may not like it, we shall abide by the decision."

Col. William Couper of Virginia Military Institute and president of the conference has ruled that Gambino, who played two years for Maryland and a member of the Indiana squad in 1942, is ineligible. Byrd indicated Maryland will appeal the decision at a meeting of the conference board of governors early in September.

Pactolus Boy Raises Pigs As A Part Of Program By Ruritans

J. W. Speight, Pactolus 4-H Club member, is doing his part to feed a meat hungry world. J. W.'s purebred sow farrowed 12 pigs on August 9, saving 8. This sow is one of a pig chain which was started by the Pactolus Ruritan Club. J. W.'s bargain is to give back to the Ruritan Club one gilt pig from each of his first two litters, at which time the original sow will become his property.

J. W. has entered his sow for qualification for Production Registry in the Duroc Association, and should have a fair chance of making it as the 8 pigs farrowed on one acre of soybeans which are grown on worm free land. The pigs will be fed out on a self feeder with home grown grains and government surplus Irish potatoes and balanced with the correct amount of protein supplement. To qualify for Production Registry his litter of 8 pigs will have to weigh 275 pounds at 56 days of age. Inefficient vision ranked third as a cause for rejection in the U. S. armed forces.

Uniforms Added To Soviet Life

Moscow—(AP)—Since the end of the war ranks, uniforms and insignia have appeared in many branches of Soviet life. "Supreme Soviet News" for instance, says leading and responsible workers of the financial houses and banks are to have "personal titles" and special forms of clothing and insignia to correspond with rank. Also "personal titles" and new insignia of rank have been introduced for the directing personnel of the Ministry of the Merchant Marine. These are just two additions to a long list. Since January 1, 1947 decrees have introduced "personal titles" for the following: The River Fleet, leading workers of the coal industry, the Ministry of Geology, the Ministry of Ferrous Metallurgy, the Ministry of Non-Ferrous Metallurgy. Decrees providing "personal titles" for mining engineers did not provide for insignia or uniforms at least in the decree themselves. However, many other persons wear uniforms or special clothing with insignia of ranks. Among these are those in: Communications service, railway service, diplomatic service, Civil Air Fleet, Maritime Merchant Fleet, prosecuting attorneys, customs service.

Cost More To Bring Police Than Robbed

Detroit, Aug. 17—(AP)—It cost Willie Solomon, 27, more to summon police than he lost to the thug who robbed him of $15. Solomon was fined $50 for trying to get officers to the scene in a hurry by pulling a fire alarm.

Willard Kyzer Tells Rotarians Of City's Needs

By WYATT BROWN
The citizens of Greenville must work more closely together to get more new industries for the community, declared Willard T. (Bill) Kyzer, executive secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, last night while he was addressing the Rotary Club on how to get more industries to come to Greenville. "You must not leave it to George to do it," he said emphatically.

At the outset Kyzer gave a brief outline of some of the 29 projects the Greenville Chamber of Commerce had adopted for 1948 to develop a more rounded community. Then he told about organizational set-up.

Some of the projects he mentioned came under the general heading of Agriculture (he explained that the chamber never undertook a project about agriculture without consulting the Pitt county farm agent) such as the speaking contest on soil conservation, the pure-bred hog show to be held in October, more telephones for our farm neighbors—which he said was being held up now only by the lack of materials. Under civic projects, he mentioned fire prevention week, Boy

Scout camporee, street names and house numbers, the city-wide tobacco market promotion drive this summer.

Under the head of public relations he indicated some of the detail material published for prospective industrial projects for them to estimate the desirability of Greenville as a site. Too, newcomers to the city are provided with maps and a shopping guide.

Kyzer reported no success so far for the Airport Committee but that another appearance before the Civil Aeronautics Board is due soon and he bespoke the cooperation of any business man who could present convincing evidence that Greenville needs air transportation. Also still in the works is the chamber pulling for a Beargrass hard surface road, Farmville-Greenville highway, and farm-to-market highways all over the county.

The chamber is working to secure a motor carrier terminal to help relieve traffic on the city streets. Under the heading of new industry, Kyzer reported having handled 20 prospects, three of which are still active, but nothing to report definite now. He said he hoped to be able to report something soon. Then he went into the matter of new industries and why they came. Proximity of raw material—plenty of agricultural materials of many sorts; proximity of market—fairly well located for many items; labor supply—well supplied with unskilled but short on skilled; transportation—fair facilities for less than carload lots; power—with the equipment to be provided from the recent bond issue voted recently there will be sufficient power for some time; well fixed as to schools and churches but not so good on recreation.

State and city taxes are rated as pretty good. Some prospects find fault with some of the state taxes. Next, Kyzer listed and answered some rumors. The rumor that the school people want to think of Greenville primarily as an educational center is untrue. The rumor that the tobacco industry does not want new industry is refuted by the readiness with which tobacco men invest in new industry that does come. He branded as untrue when the showdown came that merchants really did not want new industry. The statement that prospects found real estate too high—was answered by Kyzer with the statement that he did not know whether it was too high or not but that it was mighty fine property quite well located.

Then a little more at length he took up the statement that Greenville lacked the civic spirit to get new industry. Kyzer reported that he found some evidence of the lack of the proper spirit, but he said he felt all would do their part when the time comes.

"We do not work as close together as we should. We could speed things up considerably if we worked closer together," he declared. As for Greenville's not offering sufficient inducements to new industries, Kyzer replied that those who want too much do not amount to much when they come. He reported that right after the war there was a shortage of buildings in Greenville for new industries, but there were men ready to build any that were wanted.

"Greenville needs new industries to promote well rounded development. Our citizens must work together to get them and not leave it to George to do it," he declared in conclusion. Wayne Smiley was a guest of the club last night. Rotarian Hugh Boyce of Vanceboro was a visiting Rotarian. The program was arranged by Alton Johnson, chairman of the Buyer and Seller Relations Committee. Ernest Willard, club president, presided.

Berlin Airlift Tests Big Plane

Berlin, Aug. 17—(AP)—An American C74 Globemaster, largest plane ever to land in Berlin, delivered 25 tons of flour today to the blockaded city.

The Globemaster can carry a load four times as heavy as the C54 Sky-masters regularly on the air lift. It landed at the British Gatow airport because runways at the U.S. Tempelhof airfield were considered too small.

The run was a test. Officials said they did not know if or when the 175-foot wingspread planes would be put in regular service.

Bear Robs Beehive; Choosy About Honey

College Station, Raleigh, Aug. 17—A familiar story-book scene became a reality in Camden County recently when a bear paid a nocturnal visit to E. O. Pugh's apiary and ate an estimated 100 pounds of honey.

reports L. L. McLendon, county agent for the State College Extension Service. The quadruped was choosy too. He bothered only the hives which contained a good amount of honey. Four stands of Mr. Pugh's bees were destroyed, and the remaining stands had to be moved near the house to prevent further raids.

Greenies Smother Tobs' Opening Four Runs With Five Of Their Own, But Held Scoreless For Eight Remaining Frames

By BERT MOYE

Sidelights:—In last night's game with Wilson the Greenies had only three men stranded on bases, the Tobs 12... Wilson executed four twin killings during the game, the Greenies none... The win for Charlie Nordmeyer was his fourth over the Greenies this season, three of his losses have been to the Greenies... In the series between the two clubs Greenville has won nine and the Tobs 8... Curt Curtis, Greenville hurler was fined $15 by Umpire Gurley last night when Curtis disputed his decisions on the ball and strike situation... President Ray Goodman, who was a Greenville visitor last week missed the wrong game as he no doubt would have agreed with Curtis in his right to dispute Umpire Gurley...

Facts and Figures:—The following are the total runs made by the clubs in the Coastal Plain League from Monday, August 9 through Sunday, August 15th—Rocky Mount 61, Roanoke Rapids 57, Kinston 54, Tarboro 52, Goldsboro 51, Greenville 48, Wilson 41, and New Bern 34... since Kelly Kee has taken over the reins of the Greenville club they have been playing 294 ball, having won 10 games and lost 24... Since the first of August they have won six and lost 11 games...

Proving to you fans that the Coastal Plain League is really a hot league the following item was taken from the Associated Press wires yesterday:—

Miss Meredith Liles, sister of the Goldsboro Bugs business manager, Charles Liles, witnessed a Tobacco State Baseball game between Warsaw and Clinton the other night. The game was tight and all tied up in a late inning. Warsaw had the bases loaded and Manager Verne P...-kwell recently with Goldsboro of the Coastal Plain, came to bat.

Miss Liles reported this remark from a Warsaw fan sitting beside her: "I'd surely walk that man. He came from the Coastal Plain."

Honor Comes To Clark Griffith

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—President Truman—and 29,999 other fans—are going to a ball game tonight to honor one of baseball's grand old men, Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators.

The President is expected to say a few words in praise of Griffith; there'll be fireworks, speeches by lesser dignitaries and, incidentally, a game with the New York Yankees.

Funny thing about the 78-year-old Griffith. He's been in baseball for 60 years, yet never before has he had a "day" or a "night" set aside in his honor.

But take a gander at his records: Star pitcher—237 games won, 140 lost, to rank among the top dozen pitchers of all time.

Pioneer—he helped found the American League.

Winning manager—he pitched and managed the Chicago White Sox to a pennant in 1901, the year the American League was started.

Successful club owner—the first player to become a club owner, his Senators have won three pennants, in 1924, 1925 and 1933.

Walcott And Gus Lesnevich Sign September Bout

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Tournament of Champions has signed Jersey Joe Walcott and Gus Lesnevich to meet Sept. 21—a bold move that might give the fledgling promotional group control of the next heavyweight champion.

Jersey Joe and the ex-light heavyweight king will tangle on the same card with the Tony Zale-Marcel Cerdan title tilt in Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium.

To get Walcott and Lesnevich to take part in the big fistie double-header, the T. of C. guaranteed each $50,000. At first sight it looks like a costly maneuver since Zale, the middleweight champ, has been guaranteed $120,000 and Cerdan $80,000.

But with the extra hundred grand, Promoter Andy Niederreiter, who runs the T. of C., got an "exclusive" agreement yesterday from both that the winner will make his next start for the T. of C.

Thus, Niederreiter's group gained control of at least two of the four top contenders for the crown Joe Louis plans to doff.

Ezzard Charles is contracted to face Jimmy Bivins in Washington Sept. 13.

Freddie Mills, the light heavy champ, originally was scheduled to fight Lesnevich a return on the Zale-Cerdan show, but declared himself out because of head injuries. He may be ready to go again in two months. Since Mills had agreed to battle for the T. of C. the chances are that he would be eager to tackle the Walcott-Lesnevich victor later.

Coolness Tells As Demaret Wins St. Paul Open

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 17—(AP)—It takes experience and coolness under pressure to win golf tournaments, the professionals will tell you.

And Otto Greiner, the comparatively youthful Baltimore pro, is the first to cheerfully concede that Jimmy Demaret has what it takes.

Greiner, who lost by two strokes yesterday to Demaret in the playoff for first prize money of $2,450 in the St. Paul Open, puts it this way: "That Demaret—he's a dandy. He knew just what was going to happen all the way. Oh well, I tried anyway. And that second money of $1,750 still looks good to me. I'd just as soon do that every time."

Sport Slants by Pap

When Owner Bob Carpenter decided that his Phillies needed a change of managers, he shopped around the Blue Jays' chain and found just the man he was looking for—Eddie Sawyer. It was a well-deserved promotion. Sawyer, a big rumped geezer with a soft, ready grin, was managing the Toronto Maple Leafs when called up to manage the Phillies. He earned the Toronto job last season when his Utica club won the pennant and the playoff in the Eastern League. Sawyer started as a player in the Yankee chain when Scout Paul Krichell signed him for the Norfolk Piedmont League club in 1934. He trained with the Yankees in 1935 and then divided the season between Binghamton and Newark. With Oakland in 1937, he suffered a shoulder injury while making a diving catch in the outfield and then just about wound up his career as an active player the following season. He started his managerial career in 1939 as playing manager of Amherst, N. Y., in the Canadian-American league. He filled the same role with Norfolk and Binghamton before he was signed for the Phillies' minor league chain by Herb Pennock. He managed Utica from 1944 through 1947, and established himself as a capable leader. It was at Utica last season that several of the Phillies' current fresh-man finds including Richie Ashburn, Gran Hamner and Relf Gaballero, were developed. Several other Phillies were no strangers to Sawyer when he took over the managerial reins of the Blue Jays.

Pitcher Loses His No-Hitter

Lanett, Ala., Aug. 17—(AP)—Pitcher Bill Revels of the Carrollton, Ga., entry in the Georgia-Alabama baseball league is a man of mixed emotions today—glad because he threw a no-hitter at Valley last night and sad because he lost the game 1-0. Here's what happened: Revels walked the first man in the fifth inning. The runner promptly stole second, took third when the catcher uncorked a wild throw and scored on a passed ball.

The caliber of a rifle is the interior diameter measured between the lands, or raised parts in the bore between the grooves.

Musial A 'Cinch' For Swat Title

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—Stan Musial may not hit 400 but the St. Louis Cardinal slugger appears a cinch to finish the National League season with the highest individual batting average since Ducky Medwick whacked .374 for the 1937 Cardinals. Musial, striving to become the fourth player in the loop's history to win three or more swat titles, was punishing opposition hurling at a .381 gait including games of Sunday.

Babe Ruth Passes After Long And Painful Illness

Boudreau Nears Williams' Mark

Chicago, Aug. 17—(AP)—Rampaging Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians today menaced the leadership of Boston's Ted Williams in the American league batting race. Through Sunday's games, Manager shortstop of the Tribe stood only 16 percentage points behind Williams' pace-setting .377. Handsome Lou belted 19 hits in 37 trips last week for a 16-notch climb to .361. In the same span, thumpin' Ted slumped 10 points.

Another Tribesman, Dale Mitchell, ascended 10 points in the week to grab third place with .336, while Al Zarilla of St. Louis slipped from third to fourth spot by falling from .330 to .320.

Other leaders were Hoot Evers of Detroit and Barney McCosky of Philadelphia, tied at .313; Chicago's Luke Appling, .307; Bob Dillinger of St. Louis, and George Kell of Detroit, tied at .303; and New York's Joe Di Maggio, .298.

Yankee clipped Di Maggio also led in two specialized departments, runs batted in, with 105, and home runs, with 24. Boudreau was tops in hits with 141, and Boston's Dom Di Maggio had the most runs, 85.

Tom Henrich of New York was the two-bagger leader with 30. Ed Stewart of Washington led in triples at 12 and Dillinger was the best base stealer with 21.

Primitive man used stones as ornaments, munitions, tools, currency, household equipment, and some of his objects of worship.

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—Babe Ruth is dead.

The one-time Yankee slugger, wasted by two years' illness and almost constant pain, died of cancer of the throat at 7:01 p.m. (EST) last night. He was 53.

A priest who administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church said "The Babe has been prepared since July 21 for his death."

Ruth never knew that he had cancer, however.

More than 100 children who were gathered outside Memorial Hospital Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases walked sadly away when the game came.

They were representative of the thousands of young and old who had stood vigil in relays outside the hospital where their stricken idol lay suffering. Millions of others all over the world had kept rooting for the Babe.

A mass for Ruth will be held Thursday morning in St. Patrick's Cathedral, but funeral plans were incomplete today.

His body was removed to a funeral chapel early today.

Two radio network memorial programs are scheduled for tonight—NBS from 8 to 8:30 p.m. (EST) and ABC from 8:30 to 9.

President Truman led the nation in paying tribute to the Babe, who batted his way to major league baseball immortality during 23 playing years.

The President's message of condolence—the first of many received at the Ruth residence at 110 Riverside Drive—said:

"A whole generation of boys now grown to manhood will mourn the passing of the home run king of the baseball world.

"Babe Ruth had all the qualities of a hero, and as an exemplar of clean sport was an inspiration to tens of thousands of rooters of all ages all over the country. x x x"

Hurls Perfect Game

Hot Springs, Ark.—(AP)—Chicago White Sox farm directors are making big plans for Dick Strahs, young hurler for the Hot Springs Bathing of the Class C Cotton States League, since Strahs notched a perfect game against Pine Bluff recently. In not permitting a man to reach first base, Strahs struck out seven batters.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

By Florence Stuart

Chapter 28

Jane went back into the living room. She felt as if she were having a chill. Her hands were like cakes of ice, and so was her heart. Carl had left her. I sent him away, she kept saying to herself, not believing it. She could not accept it, make it come real. She felt nothing except that horrible, icy chill, and as if she were going to be violently ill. She found Ted, who was over by the Christmas tree, charming a young Freshman with a plump face and a giggle.

"Get rid of everyone, somehow," she told him. "Say that I've been taken ill."

She went upstairs to Carl's study, and Ted found her there. She was smoking a cigarette which tasted awful to her. She was walking up and down the room. Ted said: "What's wrong? You look like a ghost. Shall I get you a drink?"

"No—yes—I don't know. Carl left me," she said.

"Left you?"

"Yes. I told him to. I told him not to come back."

"No fooling?" Ted stared at her.

"Yes. He won't be back. He won't ever be back." Saying the words to another person made them come real, at last, and then the tears came. She threw herself down on the old leather couch, the one where Carl sometimes slept when he had been working terribly late and did not want to disturb her. Her body shook helplessly and her sobbing was terrible to hear.

Ted came over and slapped her sharply. "Snap out of it, Jane. You're getting hysterical."

He went downstairs and got some brandy.

He sat beside her on the couch, made her sit up and forced a little of the brandy between her stiff working lips. After a few moments she got hold of herself. The color he began to come back to her face and she tried to smile. "Now tell me what this is all about," Ted said.

When she had finished Ted gave a soft whistle, and the expression on his face was odd. "Well," he said, "this changes everything. And I don't understand what you're crying about, honey. You told him to go, so you must have wanted him to do so."

"No. No, I didn't," Jane said. "I was furious because that girl had sent for him. I was determined he shouldn't go and I thought if I threatened him, he wouldn't. He fooled me. Or maybe I fooled myself."

"I think you're fooling yourself now," Ted said. "You wanted to break up with him, all right. You just don't want to admit it." And he began to laugh, as if it were the best news he'd ever heard.

Jane sat up very straight, her gaze level on him and frowning.

"Do you usually whistle and laugh like crazy when a woman's life has suddenly fallen apart? Do you think a woman's breaking heart is such an excruciatingly funny affair?"

Ted glanced at her. "Oh, come off it, beautiful." And he caught her hand. "You don't have to put on an act for me. I'm in on this too, you know. I've been in on it from the start. You've been miserable with that guy ever since I came into the picture, and you know it. You've been in love with me, but you felt sort of guilty about it and didn't want to come right out and admit it."

"Aren't you taking an awful lot for granted?" Jane said.

"Certainly not. What you didn't tell me in so many words, you told me in actions. I've been a little skittish about the whole set-up, I'll grant you that. I told you I was nuts about you, baby, and I am. But also, like I told you, I didn't want to ask you to break up your home for me. It was taking too big a responsibility. I know my own limitations. I knew you and I could be happy for a while, but I never figured I was the kind of a guy to promise a girl any happy-ever-after stuff. If I made you happy for a year, I'd be going good. And I didn't want you blaming me when things began to go wrong. I didn't want you howling at me. I left a wonderful husband for you and now look! But the way things stand now, you couldn't ever say that because—"

He grinned—"I could come right back at you and remind you that he left you and I hadn't a thing to do with it. Right?"

"Right," Jane said. "So what?"

"So here's the way I see it now, honey. I told you I was heading West, and I am. I'll look around and find me a job while you do the usual stretch in Reno. Then you meet me in San Francisco and we'll get married."

"And then what?" Jane said.

"Why," Ted grinned, "then we'll have fun. I'll bet you and I can get more fun out of life in a year than the average couple gets in a lifetime." Suddenly his face changed, became dark and somehow frightening. He started to say something else, checked himself, instead pulled her roughly to him, and his kisses, savage and rough and quite without tenderness, rained down on her face. "This is one of the things we'll do," he muttered. "We'll kiss and make love and let the lousy world go by. We won't worry about a damn thing. We'll just enjoy life, enjoy each other, until—"

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

American churches are still sending food and clothing to Asia through their denominational relief agencies. A note from a missionary in India tells of the needs and the values of materials sent: "Pakistan is only a mile and a half from the village where I reside. Many Christian families are coming by this route to India as they are not getting the means to live in Pakistan. The National Christian Council sent us some bundles of clothing (warm coats), a bale of blankets, a case of multi-vitamin tablets, and some cans of dry milk. With the above I and my church organized a relief center near this village, where we distributed clothing and other things to the needy without any distinction of color, caste, or faith. The people are very grateful for all this, and we send our hearty thanks to all our friends."

The Lutheran Deaconess Conference in America, representing most of the Lutheran family of churches of the nation, has petitioned the Lutheran World Federation to create a commission for the purpose of forming an International Lutheran Deaconess Association. The centennial of the arrival in America from Germany of the first Lutheran deaconess will be observed by the Conference in 1929. There are now 468 Lutheran deaconesses serving in hospitals, churches, and homes in the United States.

A study of the place of women in the Christian church of the world, made recently by Miss Inez M. Ca-vert for the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, indicates that although some forty denominations in the United States now ordain women as ministers, there are still very few women in that field. The 1940 federal census showed over 3,000 women ministers, but many of them were not in the active pastorate; those who were ministers served chiefly in the smaller village and rural churches.

However, Miss Cavert thinks there has been progress from the days when a New England church man (early 1800's) admonished his brethren that "The help of the pious female should not be spurned." There is evidence everywhere that in both the home and the foreign phases of the Christian missionary enterprise women have made a larger contribution in funds and in interest than have the men of the churches.

Old North State Insurance Stock Offered Public

First issue stock of the Old North State Insurance Company, a fire and casualty company which has been organized with home offices in Greenville, is now being offered to the people of Greenville and North Carolina.

The stock is being offered to the public for $15 per share and is being sold by the First Securities Corporation which is underwriter for the Old North State Insurance Company.

The company has been chartered by the state with an authorized capital and surplus of $3,000,000 of which $1,500,000 is now being raised through stock sales. It is the largest fire and casualty insurance ever to be chartered in North Carolina.

Robert Van Iderstine, formerly of New York City and now of Greenville, has been named president of the company. He was an executive officer in the Hoborn Agency corporation in New York from 1922 until his retirement in 1946. Henry C. Smyth, formerly of Richmond will be vice president.

Other prominent Greenville businessmen serving as officers and directors in organizing the new company are W. H. Woodard, treasurer, director, James S. Ficklen, director, E. Graham Flanagan, director, J. H. Blount, director, Robert Lee Hunter, director and W. T. Kyzer, secretary. J. W. Joyner of Farmville is also a member of the board of directors of the company.

The Old North State Insurance company stock is being offered through Eskine Duff, vice-president of the First Securities Corporation, who is now living in Greenville.

In offering the first issue of stock of the new company to the people of North Carolina, the directors and officials are striving to make the business a home-owned corporation. Money paid for the stock will be held in escrow by the Guaranty Bank until 40,000 shares have been

Hoover Recalls

New York, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover today recalled this incident about the late Babe Ruth. A small boy approached Hoover and said he needed three of his autographs. When Hoover asked why three, the boy replied: "I want to keep one for myself, but it will take two more of yours in a trade to get one of Babe Ruth."

and the company is eligible for a license to do business. In case the necessary amount of stock is not sold, the purchasers will be refunded in full for the amount they have invested.

Important Cases In County Court

By CHESTER WALSH

At the forenoon session of Pitt County Recorder's Court today, Judge Dink James disposed of the following cases: The case against Willie May Foreman, colored, in which he is charged with being a "Peeping Tom" on the premises of Mrs. Luna Tyndall in Pountain, was transferred to Superior Court for jury trial. A case against him charging trespassing also was transferred.

Mrs. Julia Elks was not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon (an ice pick).

Grady, Jr., of New Bern president; Samuel B. Underwood, Jr., of Greenville and George H. McNeil of Morehead City vice presidents, and Owen Guion Rodman of New Bern, secretary and treasurer.

July ABC Sales Above '47 Mark

Raleigh, August 17.—(AP)—Some $3,723,376 worth of liquor was sold in alcoholic beverage stores in North Carolina during July, the State ABC Board reported today. Sales in July of last year totaled $2,540,646.

The increase was accounted for by opening of ABC stores during the year in Mecklenburg county where sales totaled $811,329 during July and Asheville where July sales amounted to $403,972. July sales in Pitt amounted to $113,211.

Look For . . .

(Continued from Page One) by "recessing" from day to day instead of "adjourning." As a result, one day became technically a continuation of the previous day, and there was no journal to read.

Then Senators learned that they could debate a motion to take up an objectionable bill and Cloture would not apply.

It is these two loopholes and any similar ones that Taft and other leaders want to close. All last session they had an amendment ready to do just that. But just to bring it up was certain to cause a lengthy filibuster, and the Senate never found time.

But GOP leaders say the start of next session fits their plan. Congress will meet for about two weeks before the President is inaugurated. Debate could start then and continue until the issue is decided.

That probably will mean continuous day and night sessions, which is about the only way to break a filibuster if more than one or two men are running it.

Southern Democrats are certain to stage a bitter and determined battle against the change.

Investigating

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson is continuing his investigation of the pistol slaying of Jasper Clemmons, Negro tenant farmer, at a rural point in Pasquotus township Sunday night. His body was riddled with five bullets. Corner Griffin H. Rouse ordered an autopsy.

Superior Court Here Next Week

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill will preside over a civil term of Superior Court here next week.

The Greene county jurist will preside over a mixed term of court here the week of August 30. Only criminal cases will be tried at this time. An unusually heavy docket will confront the Snow Hill jurist.

Host To Visiting Kiwanians Friday

The president of the Roanoke Rapids Kiwanis Club and about a dozen of the club members will be guests of the Greenville Kiwanis Club at its weekly supper meeting Friday night at 6:30. Eli Bloom will have charge of the program. The Kiwanis quartet will sing some of the old songs. President Brooks, who will preside, said the Roanoke Rapids Kiwanians will be guests of the local club at the baseball game at 7:45 Friday night when Roanoke Rapids plays the Greenville Greenies at Guy Smith Stadium.

There was a surprise birthday party given at the home of Mrs. Hattie Spain in honor of her husband, Watson Spain, Saturday night, August 14. Mrs. Annie Granby, of Edenton, was an out of town guest.

Battleground . . .

(Continued from Page One) The Indonesian republic, which was established in 1947, claims to represent Java, Sumatra and Madura, but actually there are six other governments organized in various areas. The result naturally is vast confusion with the Dutch trying to bring all the governments including the republic, into the projected United States of Indonesia.

In the midst of this confusion the Muscovites have launched a heavy offensive. The overall campaign is directed by the cominform in Bangkok but a Moscow-trained Javanese leadership is organizing youth in revolutionary methods. The Red influence is increasing and Java is the center of the communism.
