Stronger Prices On Leaf Market

Yesterday's Sales Largest Opening Day in History Of Market; Sales Lighter Today with Prices On All Grades Strengthening; Poor Quality Offered

More than three-quarters of a million dollars was paid by the Greenville tobacco market yesterday in the largest opening day in the history of the market both in the number of pounds sold and the amount of money paid to farmers.

Official figures for yesterday's sales, released by Sales Supervisor W. L. Wheelbee, showed 1,617,226 pounds sold for $788,182.43 for an average price of 48.73 per hundred.

Figures for last year's opening day were 1,170,164 pounds for $602,938.84, an average of 51.53.

Sales today were lighter with prices on all grades strengthening considerably.

Warehousemen, growers and buyers on the sales yesterday described the break as one of the poorest in quality in a number of years.

By the Associated Press

Somewhat higher prices were reported today as fine-cured tobacco markets of the Eastern North Carolina belt went into their second day of sales.

Hardy Talton, sales supervisor at Goldsboro, said that prices easily today were somewhat better than yesterday when farmers were reported as "bumbling."

Fewer tons were being turned to indicate rejection of bids and less tobacco was going to the Fine-cured Stabilization Corporation, he said.

The Wilson market reported that sales were light today following a heavy rain last night and that an average of about $52 a hundred pounds was expected.

Sales Supervisor R. S. Witherington of Winston reported prices "somewhat stiffer" today.

John Sykes, sales supervisor, reported prices "a little stronger" at Wallace.

The Rocky Mount market also reported light sales today following heavy rains last night.

Johnston said he expected about 300,000 pounds to be sold today.

At Tarboro, prices on early sales averaged about $54 a hundred pounds, somewhat higher than yesterday when 319,116 pounds brought an average of $53.49.

There are three major lines of attack: 1. To provide more financing help for the small-home buyer.

2. To cut the basic cost of houses. Mainly, this means to bring out more pre-fabs and mass-built dwellings.

3. To encourage more rental housing, so that the family of modest means won't be forced to buy something it can't afford just to get a

Seize Police

Berlin, Aug. 20 (AP)—Russian military police and German police they control invaded the American sector of blockaded Berlin today on a black market raid and seized five German police belonging to U.S. sector forces.

An American Military Government official said the action clearly violated U.S. jurisdiction.

It was the second Russian-backed raid near the city canal borders during the day.

Earlier Russian M.P.'s and Communist-controlled German police raided downtown Potsdamer Platz, where the American, Russian and British sectors meet, and arrested about 500 Germans without violence.

The President acted immediately after receiving a report from a fact-finding board of the failure of management and the AFL's Longshoremen's Union to reach an agreement.

The President wrote the Attorney General: "I therefore direct you, pursuant to the provisions of section 208 of the labor-management relations act, 1947, to petition in the name of the United States any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the parties, to enjoin such threatened strikes or lockouts or for such other relief as may in your judgment be necessary or appropriate."

A major issue in the dispute involves a Supreme Court decision calling for payment of what the employers term "over time on ever stoppage."

The board completed a hearing Wednesday in the dispute between the AFL International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association, representing employers.

The 45,000 Longshoremen involved in the dispute work in Atlantic ports from Hampton Roads, Va., to Portland, Me.

McGrath said Martin's assertion that the Republicans will brag about the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress hangs an "albatross" around Dewey's neck.

Dewey previously, McGrath said, "appeared to be running for the Presidency under the pretense that the Congress during the past two years had been controlled by hotshots or Gremlins, rather than by Republicans."

But now, the Democratic Chairman added, it seems that Dewey "will soon abandon his attitude of being too noble to concern himself with such mundane problems as high prices and housing and run as a Republican on the Republican record."

Three Satellites Again Accused Menacing Peace

Lake Success, Aug. 20 (AP)—Greece's three Communist neighbors were accused by a United Nations agency today of threatening peace in the Balkans by aiding Greek guerrillas.

The accused countries are Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. They were warned by the U. N. General Assembly last year against assisting dissident forces in Greece.

The special committee on the Balkans (UNSCOB) reported to the Assembly, after a year of on-the-scene inquiry, that the three Soviet satellites were continuing their activities against the Athens regime.

UNSCOB said it had evidence Greece's Communist neighbors had supplied arms and munitions to the guerrillas, had permitted the use of their territories for tactical operations and had given the guerrillas moral support through government-controlled radio stations.

Refuse Comply With Provision Taft-Hartley Law

Milwaukee, Aug. 20 (AP)—Officers of the International Typographical Union won't comply with the Taft-Hartley law as far as filing non-Communist affidavits is concerned.

Non-compliance was authorized yesterday by delegates attending the big AFL printers' Union convention, on recommendation of the resolutions committee.

President Woodruff Randolph, Indianapolis, told the convention it wasn't a question whether ITU officers are Communists but whether they are going to give National Labor Relations Board jurisdiction over their problems.

"We want neither the benefits nor the burdens of that law," Randolph declared.

ITU has been found guilty of violating the Taft-Hartley law provisions in five different cases by NLRB examiners.

Ethiopia Balks At Dewey Idea

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Ethiopia balked at Dewey's proposal that she have an opportunity to develop the resources of her former African colonies.

The Ethiopian legation issued a statement expressing "profound resentment" over Dewey's proposal.

Five Wounded As Police, German Throng Skirmish

Berlin, Aug. 20 (AP)—At least five Germans were wounded yesterday when Soviet-controlled police skirmished with some 600 irate Germans during a raid on the thriving black market center in the Potsdamer Platz, where the Russian, British and American sectors converge.

Police opened fire when the crowd stoned them as they overstepped into the British and American parts of the square.

Germans in the crowd yelled "Communist pigs" at the police. It was a question, however, whether the shouters were sincere anti-Communists or just piqued black marketeers.

Five hours after the smoke had cleared and the Soviet-sector police had retreated the black market trade was going on as usual.

The incident was the most serious since the Berlin police force was split into two rival factions, one backed by the Russians and the other by the western allies.

The city was rife with unconfirmed rumors after the action died down.

One German reported to American authorities that some demonstrators burned several Soviet flags in the shell of a ruined building.

This could not be verified. Nor was there any confirmation or reports that there was one fatality in the skirmish.

During the rioting British and American military police appeared on their sides of the square and Russian troops on their ground.

They were not involved in the fighting, however.

In previous raids in the Potsdamer Platz Russian soldiers or military police usually have been involved.

Although Russian-backed police faced a hostile throng yesterday, observers reasoned that the same thing could happen at any time as western-backed police if they overstepped into the Soviet sector during a black market raid.

Black marketeers fleeing arrest might even involve Russians and western military police in a fight against themselves, thus creating an international incident.

The Soviet version of the incident put out by the Russian-licensed German news agency (Adn) described "turbulent scenes" when "the black market rebelled" against police and stoned them.

The agency charged the "black marketeers" were fully organized and directed by youths in black trousers and high boots.

Winborne said that he had received a letter from Miss Price stating that the Durham company had refused to install a phone for the party and for her personally without a deposit of $500 and with out a guarantee that the phone bills would be paid.

Best Bait: Tomato, Bacon And A Flower

Security Council Warns Arabs, Jews Keep Peace

Lake Success, Aug. 20 (AP)—The United Nations warned both Arabs and Jews today to avoid further violations of the month-old Palestine truce.

Responding to fears expressed by the Palestine mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, that the situation in Jerusalem was "gradually getting out of hand," the Security Council voted the warning last night.

It was almost the last item of business before the council adjourned for what it hopes will be a month-long recess prior to re-convening in Paris.

The warning was given in a resolution advanced jointly by the United States, Britain, France and Canada. No delegate voted against the proposal but Russia, the Soviet

United States Asks Recall Of Soviet Consul Lamokin

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The government today pulled a brake on free-wheeling credit.

New rules to stem "easy payment loans and purchases covering most consumer goods costing from $50 to $5,000, were posted officially by the Federal Reserve Board. They take effect Sept. 20.

Most consumers shrugged—they'll go along if it will help fight inflation. Businessmen were divided.

Some thought it "fair and reasonable." One furniture executive denounced it as "rationing the poor."

These are the terms—backed up by criminal penalties and the power of the Federal Reserve Board to put a violator out of the credit business.

One third down on automobiles. Twenty per cent down on stoves, dishwashers, irons, refrigerators, washing machines, air conditioners, radios, phonographs, television sets, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, furniture and rugs.

A 15-month limit on credit over $1,000, but with a minimum $70 monthly payment.

Ordinary charge accounts—usually payable in one, two or three months—are not affected. Personal loans, of the type repayable in monthly installments, are subject to the time limits.

Single-payment loans and housing loans are exempt from the new Republican anti-inflation law signed by President Truman Monday.

He said the act is only a "tiny fraction of what we need to defeat rising prices."

The anti-inflation law expires June 30.

Will Investigate 'Phone Squabble

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 20 (AP)—Charges by Mary Price, chairman of the Progressive Party of North Carolina, that the Durham Telephone Company has "in effect refused to give telephone service to the Progressive Party" will be investigated, chairman Stanley Winborne of the State Utilities Commission said today.

Winborne said that he had received a letter from Miss Price stating that the Durham company had refused to install a phone for the party and for her personally without a deposit of $500 and with out a guarantee that the phone bills would be paid.

Want To Locate Missing Witness

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said today it has become "imperative" that the Immigration Service quickly produce missing witness J. Peters for the congressional spy hearings.

An admitted former Communist has testified under oath before the House Un-American Activities Committee that Peters headed the entire Communist underground in the United States.

The committee contends the Immigration Bureau has promised to produce Peters and that it can in fact do so because he is under $5,000 bond awaiting deportation action.

Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller said he would talk things over today with Nixon and other committee members.

Miller told reporters he doesn't know where the man is but "it is conceivable to me that Peters couldn't be found."

At about the time Miller planned to have his talk with the committee, the State Department arranged to make public its exact words re-

Wouldn't Tell

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Three former New Deal lawyers—Leo Pressman, John Alt and Nathan Witt—refused today to tell a congressional committee whether they were members of a pre-war Communist underground.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said the three declined behind closed doors to answer questions concerning a congressional committee's investigation.

Whittaker Chambers has told the House Un-American Activities Committee the three lawyers were members of a Red apparatus whose objective was to place Communists in federal jobs in the early 1930s.

Mental Patient Wins His Fight

Detroit, Aug. 20 (AP)—A young mental patient's music career was launched last night by the nationwide radio broadcast of the composition he wrote to restore his mind to sanity.

Nodding his head in time with the tempestuous music, short, stout Ernest Salisbury stood in the wings against the outdoor bandstand at the State fairgrounds while the Detroit Symphony played the first movement of his work.

"It sounded terrific," the 25-year-old composer said afterwards.

But as Salisbury received a thunderous ovation from the audience of 14,000, his desperate struggle back to respectability from the squalor of "Skid Row" was vivid in his mind.

That struggle—the battle between sanity and insanity—was the theme of his composition.

Salisbury was taken to a mental hospital more than a year ago after what he said was a four-year debauch on "Skid Row."

"He had been drinking mixtures of rubbing alcohol, polish and aspirin," said Dr. Ira Altshuler, the psychiatrist who treated him. "He was emaciated and in terrible condition, but we were surprised to find in his pockets the notes of Tschalkowsky's music jotted down on scraps of paper."

That led Dr. Altshuler to use a treatment which had already worked wonders with other mental patients. The medicine was used.

Day after day, the patient listened to tunes from Tschalkowsky. After a while, as Salisbury's condition improved, he and his doctor began to write music together.

So the "Eloise Symphony," the work of many months, was created

Rep. Nixon Demands Immigration Service Produce Man Accused Of Heading Entire Red Underground In United States

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The exact status of any deportation action against Peters has not been brought out publicly during the House committee's hearings.

There appeared to be considerable doubt, however, that the Immigration Service—in the absence of any orders from higher up—would make any quick move to produce Peters for the committee.

Nixon told reporters it is vital that the committee get a crack at Peters because Whittaker Chambers who says he was a Red from 1924 to 1937 and now is a Time Magazine editor, has testified that he believes Peters ran the Communist underground in the whole United States.

Chambers has told the committee that Peters introduced him to Alger Hiss, former State Department official, who has denied Chambers' charges that he belonged to a pre-war Communist underground operating in Washington.

Defense Chiefs Hold Conference

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal will hold a conference with the joint chiefs of staff at the Naval War College at Newport, R.I., beginning late today and continuing through Sunday.

The Defense Department said the conference follows the pattern established at Key West, Fla., March 11-14. Similar meetings are planned at intervals of a few months in the future.

The purpose is to provide an opportunity for extended discussion of important policy questions in an informal atmosphere and at a distance from the routine administrative pressures and interruptions at headquarters in Washington.

Forrestal will give the service chiefs a report on his talks with Defense Minister Brooke Claxton and other Canadian government officials during his visit last weekend to Ottawa.

Among other subjects to be talked over are: a means of appraising capabilities and performance of present and probable weapons; and the feasibility of their development in terms of cost, time and other factors.

Various problems relating to strategic air warfare will also be considered.

Cadets Join In Assault Landing

Virginia Beach, Va., Aug. 20 (AP)—West Point cadets and Annapolis Midshipmen, ably aided by the army, navy, Marine corps and air force, established a beachhead south of this seashore resort today.

China's Economic Ills

Dr. Chen Li-Fu, Chinese Economic Expert, Blames His Country's Disastrous Crises On Economic Rather Than Military Failures; Wants Economic Reform

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

China's disastrous economic and military crisis had me humped over my desk in a brown study yesterday when my friend Dr. Chen Li-Fu dropped in to say how-de-do and have a little chat.

The doctor being vice-president of the Chinese legislative Yuan (National Parliament) and an economic expert, I promptly challenged him to give me a solution for his country's ills.

Dr. Chen believes the key to the solution is economic and not military. He says that China's economic system is wholly wrong, and that until this is put right there can be no lasting military success or economic recovery.

What's the matter with the system? Just this: It was devised to serve commercial interests almost solely, whereas China is chiefly agricultural. Plenty of help for the big business man, but little or none for the farmer who is the backbone of the country. The economy provides for the short-term loans required by commercial houses, but can't handle long-term loans for the farmer.

Note Demands Russia Get Consul General In New York Out Of This Country Because Of Improper Conduct In Refugee Case; Ambassador Told Charges Based On Misinformation

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The United States is stripping the Soviet Consul General in New York of his official position because of his conduct in the Kosenkina affair and has demanded that Russia get him out of this country.

This sensational turn in the Soviet-American row over the refugee school teachers in New York was disclosed today with publication of an American note handed to the Soviet Embassy last night.

The note flatly rejected Soviet charges that the teachers, Mrs. Oksana Kosenkina and Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail Samarin, were abducted by the anti-Soviet Tolstoy Foundation with the connivance of American officials. The three, the note said, wanted to stay in this country.

While recognizing the right of Soviet officials to protect its nationals in this country, the note said they also are entitled to the protection of the "applicable laws of the United States."

Declaring this government will not turn Mrs. Kosenkina over to Russian authorities against her will, the note said:

"The government of the United States cannot permit the exercise within the United States of the police power of any foreign government."

The State Department told Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panayuhin and his government that the Russian charges, including some by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, "have been based upon misinformation."

Moreover, the department told the Soviet in effect that the U. S. government holds Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin in New York responsible for this misinformation. He was accused of an "abuse" of his position and a "gross violation" of proper conduct of foreign officials.

As a result, the note said, the State Department is "requesting" President Truman to revoke credentials granted to Lomakin by this country and wants him to leave the United States "within a reasonable time."

The note was not signed by either Secretary of State Marshall or undersecretary of State Robert Lovett although both took a hand in its preparation. It was signed simply "Department of State" and bore the initials "L," presumably meaning Lovett.

While concentrating its fire on Lomakin, the United States declared its reports on the refugee teacher cases in this country "indicate that officials of the Soviet government have been engaged in conduct which is highly improper."

The note "categorically" rejected all charges made by the Soviets against American authorities.

The United States requested copies of two letters which it said were in the hands of the Soviet Consulate General in New York and had been written by Mrs. Kosenkina. One was written at the time she decided not to go back to Russia and one little more than a week ago when she jumped out of the Consulate window in New York.

The evidence against Lomakin was based on testimony given to American authorities by Mrs. Kosenkina, who is now in a New York hospital suffering with injuries she received in her leap for freedom.

The New Housing Act

An "Average Man's" Program; Intended To Build Thousands Of Decent Homes That Ordinary Citizens Can Afford; Major Features; Rents and 'Yield Insurance'

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Housing Act is an "average man's" program. It doesn't try to reach the lowest-income families by public housing. Nor will it build any expensive dream houses.

But in thousands of words and with millions of dollars, the new act seeks to get decent homes built, both for sale and for rent, that the ordinary citizen can afford.

By prewar standards they will not be cheap. But at least they may be available. There's plenty of building already; the hope is to divert some of the boom into the lower-price field.

There are three major lines of attack: 1. To provide more financing help for the small-home buyer. When the government insures his mortgage, the little fellow becomes a better risk.

2. To cut the basic cost of houses. Mainly, this means to bring out more pre-fabs and mass-built dwellings.

Celebrates Birthday
F. L. Allen and his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Vandiford, celebrated their birthday jointly last Sunday at a barbecue and fried chicken dinner at the home of Mr. Allen in the Red Oak community. About 200 people from Red Oak, Greenville and many other sections of Eastern Carolina gathered around the long table spread under the old oaks that have stood sentinel over this homestead which has been in the family for generations.
The table fairly groaned under its load of pit-cooked barbecue, fried chicken, pickles, slaw, bread, sandwiches, sweet potatoes, cakes and iced tea. A beautiful birthday cake was used as a centerpiece.

After dinner some of the guests departed to attend a ball game in which the Red Oak team engaged. Others gathered in groups about the lawn, in the house and on the porch and discussed the tobacco situation, crops, marriages, babies, grand-babies, etc.

Mrs. Leon Tyson entertained with several selections on the piano and accordion.
Mr. Allen and Mrs. Vandiford received many lovely birthday gifts.

At a late hour the last of the guests departed. It was the consensus of opinion that this was a day that would linger long in the hearts of all who attended.

Edwards-Cozart
In a formal ceremony Saturday at 5:30 o'clock Miss Paty Burns Cozart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wiley Simeon Cozart of Fuquay Springs and George Loren Edwards, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Loren Edwards of Durham, were married in the Fuquay Springs Methodist Church. The Rev. E. D. Dodd, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony, wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Craig Holloway, organist, and Edward T. Smith of Goldsboro, soloist.
The bridegroom's father was best man, and groomsmen were Wiley Holt Cozart, brother of the bride, A. G. Elliott, Jr., Harry W. Shelton, and James H. Edwards of Greenville, cousin of the bridegroom.

Virginia Cozart, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Rebecca Cozart, Rachel Cozart, sisters of the bride, Hepsie Lane Utley and Louise Shelton. They wore identical dresses of ice-blue satin, fashioned with off-shoulder berths, basque bodices and old-fashioned hoop skirts. They wore picture hats of matching net with satin streamers and carried bouquets of Better Times roses.

Honorary Bridesmaids were Misses Jean Blanchard, Sarah Spence, Jane Gunter, Gladys Lee Fish, Frances Ashworth and Mrs. Wiley Holt Cozart, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore pastel dresses with gardenia corsages.

The bride, who entered with her father, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with sheer off-shoulder yoke, outlined by a bertha of Chantilly lace, long tapering sleeves, basque bodice and a full skirt ending in a circular train. Her veil of illusion fell from a cap of handmade Belgian lace that was brought by her father from Belgium after World War I. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, showered with stephanotis and centered with a purple-throated white orchid. Her ornaments were a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom and a four-leaf-clover brooch of pearls, given to her mother by her father on their wedding day.

The bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother were attired in blue Chantilly lace with matching hats and their corsages were of gardenias.
Mrs. Edwards attended Peace Junior College and received her A.B. degree from Duke University in 1947, where she was a member of the Sigma Kappa Sorority. At present, she is a member of the faculty of Hugh Morson High School in Raleigh.

Mr. Edwards attended Mars Hill Junior College and at the present is a senior at Wake Forest College. He served in the United States Army Air Corps for three years.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue faille suit with navy accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will be at home in the White Apartments in Raleigh. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents at their home.
The living room, dining room, and library were thrown en suite and decorated with white mixed flowers. The bride party stood in front of an arrangement of palms and tall baskets of white flowers in the living room. The chandelier in the dining room was showered with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley, tied with white satin ribbon. A tall candelabra, showered with ribbon and tube roses was used on the buffet in front of a mirror. Mixed summer flowers decorated the sun room.

Guests were greeted by Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Elliott of Apex and Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Crumpler introduced them to the receiving line, composed of Dr. and Mrs. Cozart, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Edwards of Durham, and the bride party. The Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Dodd greeted the guests at the end of the receiving line and presented them to Mr. and Mrs.

Scott, who poured punch from a silver bowl at each end of the table. The table was covered with an imported lace and Madeira cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations, snapdragons and stephanotis flanked by four single silver candle sticks holding white tapers. Punch, bridal cakes, mints, nuts, and cheese straws were served by the honorary bridesmaids. From the dining room the guests were shown into the gift room by Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lane. Receiving in the gift room were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. W. J. Balentine, Mrs. Roy Talley, Mrs. James Judd, and Mrs. E. W. Adams presided in the gift room. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barclay directed the guests to the sun room where Mrs. Milton Lanier, Misses Joyce Mitchell, and Barbara Rose Jones presided over the guest book.

Guests were directed to the terrace by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Aiken, where they were received by Messrs. James Russell Coos, Alfred Johnson, T. E. Person and Allen Smith. Assisting in other parts of the home were Mrs. W. M. Howard, James H. Edwards, and B. C. Williams.

Goodbyes were said to Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Edwards, Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Adcock, Jr. Approximately 400 guests were received.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Edwards, Mrs. Amos Jackson of Washington, D.C., Mrs. Oscar Hardee, Miss Thelma Jane Hardee, Mrs. James J.

Mills and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards of Greenville.

Eastern Belt Prices For Opening Day Above 1947

Eastern North Carolina flue-cured tobacco prices opening day, August 19 were from $1.00 to $11.00 above the prices paid during the first day last season with the majority of grades increasing from $3.00 to $8.00. According to the United States and North Carolina Departments of Agriculture, lug grades, which were offered in the largest volume, were $2.00 to $11.00 per hundred higher, leaf and cutters $5.00 to $7.00, and primings $1.00 to $5.00. Prices for the bulk of sales ranged from $45.00 to $64.00 with a practical top of $68.00. Grade averages ranged from $12.75 for best thin nondescript to $65.00 for choice lemon lugs and fair lemon cutters. Averages ranged from $1.00 to $18.00 above the Commodity Credit Corporation support prices. Receipts of the flue-cured Stabilization Corporation were estimated to be 5 to 8 per cent of sales. For the belt as a whole the general quality was some better than opening sales last year. More fine and choice lugs and fair and good leaf grades were marketed and less lower qualities and nondescript primings. However, the proportion of primings was larger. Principal sales consisted

Pinned In

Portland, Ore., Aug. 20—(AP)—When doctors got down to Dorothy Harmon's appendix, they found it pinned in. It was a straight pin sticking through the end, and a surgeon removed both the pin and appendix. Miss Harmon, 28, said she had been bothered by a pain in the side for years, but tests showed no appendix trouble. The doctors said she probably swallowed the pin in her infancy.

of low to choice lugs, good leaf, fair cutters, and low primings. Deliveries to the markets were heavier than on the initial day of sales last year with several blocked. Gross sales opening day last year, August 25, amounted to 6,534,961 pounds at an average of $45.32 per hundred. The general average for opening day this year is estimated to be from $52.00 to $55.00.

Offer Young Women Opportunity Enlist For WAC Service

M-Sgt. Boswell, commanding officer of the local Army and Air Force Recruiting (Main) Station announced today that former members of the Women Army Corps who were discharged under honorable conditions between May 1 and July 8, 1948 inclusive, are now eligible to apply for immediate reenlistment in the Women Army Corps. The sergeant stated that those reenlisting under this directive must apply for reenlistment within ninety days of discharge in order to be eligible for reenlistment allowances and grade held at time of discharge. The sergeant also stated that a new professional career has been opened to women—a career in national defense. Women are now an integral part of the National Security Program of all the services. The sergeant emphasized in his statement that the Women Army Corps enlistment program will begin about September 15 for the enlistment of young women from civilian life to fill the ranks of the new Peacetime Regular Women Army Corps. Former members who are interested in reenlisting in the Women Army Corps are urged to call or visit the local U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station for full information.

Creech Trial Is Near Jury Stage

Smithfield, N. C., Aug. 20—(AP)—The murder trial of James R. Creech Jr. neared the jury stage today. As the trial moved into the fourth day, the prosecution resumed arguments to the jury in its effort to obtain a death penalty for Creech, accused of killing his estranged third wife, Mrs. Mattie Woodall Creech.

Arguments to the jury were begun last night by L. L. Levinson, a special prosecutor who is assisting Solicitor Jack Hooks in presenting the state's case. When he finished speaking, court was recessed until today. The defense, which during yesterday's proceedings had paved the way for a plea of "temporary insanity," rested its case soon after last night's session started. The defense presented testimony aimed at showing that Creech drank heavily and that when drinking, he became temporarily insane.

The defendant's father James R. Creech of the Sandy Chapel section, told the jury his son came to his home the night Mrs. Creech was slain and said: "I thought I'd come by and tell you I've just killed Mattie." His son, the elder Creech said, had been drinking and was "the wildest-looking thing I'd ever seen." The defendant's mother testified he had been a "heavy drinker" for "12 or 15 years or more." She corroborated her husband's statement about what her son said.

Coroner's Jury To Sit On Case Of Betty Smith

Kings Mountain, N. C., Aug. 20—(AP)—At whose hands pretty redheaded Betty Smith met her death early Wednesday was to be decided by a coroner's jury here today. Cleveland county coroner Ollie Harris convened an inquest to probe the circumstances surrounding the pistol shooting of the unmarried, fifteen-year-old mother. Sheriff Hugh A. Logan Jr., of Cleveland yesterday filed murder charges against Ray Sellers, 42, and Robert Howell, 35. Miss Smith's partly clad body was found by officers about 6 a. m. Wednesday in the upstairs bedroom of Sellers' home on the Kings Mountain Cherryville highway. The murder charges were filed yesterday after nearly 30 hours of exhaustive investigation which revealed, Sheriff Logan said, a "love triangle" motive.

Minister Is Awarded 3-Year Scholarship At Butler's Univ.

Henry F. Speight, Jr., of Greenville, pastor of the Wenona Wilkerson Memorial, Eureka, and St. Clair Churches of Christ in Eastern North Carolina, has received a three-year scholarship to attend Butler's University in Indianapolis, Indiana, it was announced today by Dr. F. L.

Shelton, dean of the school of religious education. The scholarship was based on outstanding church work and scholastic attainment while attending Atlantic Christian College and East Carolina Teachers College, of which he is a graduate. Mr. Speight is closing his work with the churches this month and plans to begin his work at Butler's on September 13.

FEEL SO GRAND NOW SHE CAN'T RESIST PRAISING RETONGA

Young Housewife Tells How Retonga Relieved Distress from Stomach Gases, Restlessness, Nervous Indigestion, and Sluggish Elimination.

Mrs. GEORGE SWEET

"I am feeling so good now that I can't resist letting others know how much I think of Retonga," happily states Mrs. George Sweet, well-known housewife of 486 W. 2nd St., Lexington, Ky. Mrs. Sweet gratefully continues:

"For years I surely did suffer from nervous indigestion and sour stomach. I had a pitiful appetite and just had to force myself to eat to keep up my strength. My food seemed to sour almost immediately and cause terrible gas pains in my stomach. I felt so high-strung and restless that it was all I could do to get a few hours sleep a night. I had to use harsh laxatives for relief of sluggishness and I lost a good deal of my weight.

"The relief Retonga brought me from my suffering was a pleasant surprise. I now eat heartily, enjoy my food, and never worry about nervous indigestion, gas pains or sour food. I have regained over three pounds and I just know I'll be up to my normal weight soon. I've left off harsh laxatives, too. I am glad to praise Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve disress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at Bissettes Drug Store. (Adv)

HOW MODERN Is Your Will?

There Is One Important Provision You May Have Overlooked

You know, of course, that changes in your family and financial situation make it necessary for you to revise your Will from time to time if you want your estate distributed in accordance with your wishes.

But have you considered how essential it is for your executor to understand the increasing complexity of taxes and details that exist today in connection with settling your estate?

Do you realize how much of your estate might be sacrificed unnecessarily through costly errors, mistakes of judgment or lack of knowledge on the part of an inexperienced executor?

Because of the increased problems estate settlement presents today, more and more farsighted men are modernizing their Wills (and relieving their friends or relatives of a burdensome task) by naming a corporate executor, such as this bank.

The Guaranty Bank and Trust Company is authorized under the laws of North Carolina to act as executor and trustee. It does not practice law. Your attorney should prepare your Will, and he should also advise you on all legal aspects of your Estate Plan.

More and more people are using the services of our Trust Department.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WE ALL HAVE TO FACE IT
Old Thomas Carlyle was in his generation a roaring lion, plunging through English society seeking whom he might devour. He was desperately in love with his gifted wife but he beheaded her into an early grave. He was in a constant and towering anger against his generation for its stupidity, indifference, and indulgence.

"No one has learned anything aright," he roars out in one of his chapters, "until he knows that every day is doomsday." Not had, Thomas. This is something worth turning over in one's mind. Is today "doomsday" for you and me? Yes; just as yesterday was and tomorrow will be. For when we stand before the great white throne of ultimate judgment, the verdict will be not on the basis of some great occurrence in our lives but on the basis of what our lives have amounted to in total.

Life is a school; death is the day when classes are adjourned; what we have to contend with is not on the basis of some great occurrence in our lives but on the basis of what our lives have amounted to in total.

"Every day is doomsday," averred our old Thomas Carlyle; and he was right.

Around Capitol Square

TOBACCO—Opening of leaf tobacco sales in the eastern warehouse belt Thursday presented some new angles of the old question as to whether the auction system is the best method of selling the state's most lucrative farm crop. Prices received were generally well above the parity guarantee at which the stabilization corporation had agreed to take the leaf, and both farmers and warehousemen appeared well pleased with the opening day. There has been also little evidence of dissatisfaction with prices obtained on the Georgia and border belts during the past few weeks.

AUCTION—With advent of government grading and establishment of parity support prices, the old idea of auctioning of the crop has lost most of its appeal. Farmers and warehousemen now know almost as much as do the buyers about what particular grades each manufacturer wants; and after a few sales they know about what the price for each grade will be during the day. So there is little actual competition among buyers, except for occasional piles of exceptional quality.

WAREHOUSE—Furthermore, this year to far greater extent than ever before, groups of growers are setting up a co-operative warehouse—co-operative mainly in that stockholder farmers are given priority on space and profits, if any, are to be distributed on basis of amount of tobacco sold during the season. This development tends to eliminate the warehouseman as a middle man or a buffer between the grower and the buyer. New producer co-operative warehouses have sprung up this year on approximately one-third of the markets in the border and eastern belts. And there is also growing discontent over fixing of warehouse belts by agreement among manufacturers and buyers.

BUCKING—Warehousemen themselves are bucking the restrictions on new markets and arbitrary fixation of belt lines and opening dates. Two years ago Fayetteville started a "bootleg" market, which has since been recognized as a unit in the border belt. This year Ellerbe attempted to do the same thing, but had to close within a week because of lack of graders and buyers. But in the eastern belt the "unauthorized" market at Dunn appears to have been accorded probationary recognition.

JUMPING—The situation at Fuquay-Varina, Sanford, Aberdeen and Carthage is still uncertain. These markets, assigned to the middle belt for opening on September 2, decided to open with the eastern belt this week. W. M. Talley, long time leader in the Fuquay market, said his hours sold 75,000 pounds Thursday to independents, without benefit of graders or manufacturing company buyers. The entire market sold almost a quarter million pounds on same terms. His thought was if the market could survive for a week, graders and buyers would be on hand. He hadn't heard, but presumed similar conditions prevailed on the other markets which jumped the

Boyle's Column

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For Hal Boyle)

Washington (AP)—Let Maine rave about its potatoes. Let Iowa brag about its corn. Let Kansas holler about its wheat.

Here in Washington we're busy harvesting a bumper crop, too. I'm happy to report that, judging from the early sampling, we'll have a very fine tourist yield this year.

This is a strange town. Its biggest industry, of course, is government. Its next biggest is the tourist business.

The Washington Board of Trade estimates that 3,500,000 people come here each year to gawk at the sights. While gawking, they part with around $60,000,000.

The Board of Trade figures end here. But the Edson Statistical Service, whose unreliability has never been questioned, chips in with a few other morsels.

It estimates that most of these 3,500,000 visitors will have their pictures taken while standing in front of the U.S. Capitol.

All too many of these, judging from the specimens I've observed at work, will show the Capitol dimly, but give a wonderful view of Aunt Beebe's store teeth, which almost fit.

It takes 45 buses, and hundreds of taxis taxing part-time, to tote these allotted opening date. At current prices it will take nearly a million dollars a week to finance operations on basis of a quarter million pounds a day, and that sort of money is not to be had for very long without support of the manufacturers.

OUT—For these and other reasons many observers believe the auction system is on its way out, and that before many years producers of bright leaf fire-cured tobacco will be selling their product on grade, as Maryland and Canadian farmers have been doing all along. It is quite obvious that points of friction noted in study of the early part of the 1948 selling season have not strengthened the auction system.

- tourists to the places they want to see.
- Bob Atwood, who manages a bus line, says these are the goals of the average visitor, in the approximate order of their popularity:
1. The White House.
 2. The Capitol.
 3. The Smithsonian Institution.
 4. The Bureau of Engraving.
- Outside the City
1. Mount Vernon.
 2. Arlington.
 3. Alexandria (all in Virginia).
- The high up Washington Monument also rates high up with the visitors, but it isn't on Atwood's list. That's because it takes so long to stand in line, waiting for an elevator, that most of his buses don't stop.
- In addition to such things as the apothecary shop where Mrs. G. Washington used to order castor oil by the quart, historical Alexandria has a new attraction. Tourists seem impressed when the speller spouts: "And here is the home of John L. Lewis!"
- Although a majority of the people want to see the White House most of all, they all can't make it. The place is open only two hours a day, five days a week. But 5,046 managed to squeeze in during the two hours of Aug. 10. The average is close to 4,000 a day.
- Any tourists have strange ideas about our nation's capital?
- "Yes," said Atwood, whose company has been hauling them for 35 years. "Many of them, for example, think the President either lives or works at the Capitol."
- Actually he's rarely there except to address joint sessions of Congress, although President Truman goes up to Capitol Hill occasionally to lunch with old Senate cronies.
- Atwood says the misconception he likes to remember came several years ago when an old railroader chuffed into town.
- He took one look at that large marbled building and cried:

"Great Scott, what a marvelous roundhouse!"

He seemed plumb out when the bus driver told him that was no roundhouse—only the U.S. Capitol.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—It will be quite a change, but Gladys Duffield, a tall good-natured woman in her thirties who has taught school in this country for 10 years, wants just that.

She's giving up her pleasant apartment here, selling her furniture and packing herself off to Nagoya, Japan. She'll still be teaching the ABC's as prescribed by American elementary school methods, and her little pupils will be Americans, but there'll be a difference.

For one thing, she'll get a better salary. Here she got a salary of $3,000 a year. She had to live on that. In Nagoya, at the American school for children of the occupying military and civilian personnel, she gets $4,400. She has to deduct only $45 a month for living costs. That takes care of the food. Billed in a dormitory set up for women workers by the Army, she will have no rent to pay.

Leaving from Seattle, she will have a leisurely 12 to 13-day sailing on an Army transport, where modern civilian comforts have been provided and the food is good. She saw one of the menus. "It looked like a menu from the Ritz Carlton, with at least seven choices and all the trimmings including celery and olives," she told me enthusiastically.

The clothing and other things she takes with her must not weigh more than 400 pounds. As she has signed up for a year, she is taking clothing for two seasons—old clothes and new. She got her instructions along with other teachers, clerk-typists, stenographers and others from the Overseas Affairs Branch, Civilian Personnel Division, Office of the Secretary of the Army. She was instructed to take along a good three months' supply of soap, cosmetics, tooth paste and such, a two years supply of nylons.

Until this year the major portion of American teachers serving in occupied areas in the Far East, Austria and Germany, were dependents—wives of officers and so on. Now these are employed only as substitutes, and teaching requirements are more or less what they are here. Applicants must have an AB or BS degree, a minimum of 18 hours in an education course including, if desired, practice teaching; a valid state teaching certificate and a minimum of two years' teaching experience.

Some 300 or more qualified teachers for American elementary schools and high schools overseas have been sent over under the new set-up. At present all jobs are filled, but letters about jobs are still being received—at 1,000 a week. Applications are filed away in the event there is need for a replacement, or where schools are likely to be expanded.

The first canal and lock in America was built at Sault Ste. Marie.

The New . . .

RFC will lend up to 75 percent of the money needed for new equipment, operating funds or even a factory. That should help get more prefabs built.

But there's one more step—getting the prefab on the housing market. Here the dealer gets help. If he needs money, the government will insure his notes to the bank for six months.

The dealer can then borrow the money to buy a house from the factory. He sells it to you. Then he pays off the bank.

Next, the law encourages big-scale developers—the builders who put up 25 or more single-family houses at once, using "modern industrial processes" on the site. Houses valued at up to $7,500 qualify for help.

Until now, only a well-heeled contractor had the money to tie up in such a development. Now FHA will insure his borrowing in advance—meaning, during the construction.

Here the limit of federal aid is 80 percent, with a top of $4,000. That, in effect, puts a $7,500 limit on the value of each dwelling, under FHA valuation.

The builder conceivably could ask more from the buyer. But the buyer would know that it is a $7,500 house and that other builders offer it at that price. He isn't likely to be charged more.

As for rental housing; here the government not only can give financial aid to get apartment projects built but, as a condition of that aid, also can regulate the rent to be charged.

Too, it can and does take care of families with children. A landlord who discriminates against them can be fined $500.

Two devices are used to interest private industry in rental housing. The first—mortgage insurance again—covers projects as small as eight dwelling units. And from there on up to $5,000,000.

This section revises an earlier plan, but changes some rules which made builders shy away. For instance, it doesn't set a dollar limit on the cost per room. And, in valuing the property for mortgage purposes, it takes into account the higher cost of building up to the start of this year.

But the government "negotiates" with the builder on the rent to be charged. That means, in effect, that the government sets the rent; if the builder doesn't agree, he doesn't get help.

This doesn't necessarily mean low rents. One government housing official thinks they'll run $95 to $100 in a typical big-city project. The government will try to see that the return to the owner is 6 1/2 percent. Finally, there is "yield insurance." This is meant to attract the biggest type of investor, usually insurance companies. If they will tackle a major housing project, the government will guarantee a return of 2 1/2 percent a year.

Actually, the rents will be fixed to return 3 1/2 percent. And the projects must meet this test: There must be "reasonable assurance that they will meet the needs of families of moderate income."

Fetzer, Di Tomo Direct Deacs'T

Wake Forest, Aug. 20 — When Wake Forest's 1948 football team takes the field here September 18 against George Washington in the Southern Conference's season's inaugural, its offense will be in very capable hands.

In Tom Fetzer, 168-pound senior from Reidsville, and Anthony Di Tomo, 215-pound junior from Vineyard, N. J., the Deacons have a couple of T quarterbacks who are brilliant fakers and ball handlers and whose mechanical skills and generalships are of high calibre.

Both are well qualified to spark the attack and they demonstrated as much in the spring drills last March. Di Tomo had a little experience as a T quarterback while he was in the service but Fetzer is getting his first taste of it.

Neither Fetzer nor Di Tomo are outstanding ball carriers but then there are few T quarterbacks who are. In fact, the quarterback seldom carries the ball in this system. He either hands it off to some other back or drops back to pass. Both men are exceptionally fine passers and can float the leather with the true touch of the master.

Fetzer did most of Wake Forest's passing last fall from the tailback position in the single wing. He did a good job, too, and the records will bear that out. Tom hit the bulls-eye 60 times in 140 efforts for a total gain of 985 yards and six touchdowns.

A fullback, Di Tomo was used only sparingly as a passer but he did complete three out of 12 for 53 yards and a single touchdown. However in the T he will get his chance of tender to throw the ball.

New Champion Southpaw Golfer

French Lick, Ind., Aug. 20 — (AP)—Loddie Kempa of Stillwater, Okla., who stands on the wrong side of the ball but does everything else right, was national lefthanded golf champion today.

Hempa, 27-year-old student at Oklahoma A. and M. won the title yesterday by outclassing Don Scott of Linworth, O., 9 and 7. Scott, 31-year-old telephone installer, never had played in match before the tourney at French Lick Springs Hill course.

Schroeder Upset By Vic Seixas

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20 — (AP)—With last year's winner, the second nationally ranking Ted Schroeder of Lacrosse, Calif., in the discard, the singles division in the historic Newport Casino tennis tournament today became a wide open battle.

Schroeder, who had been counted upon to be the U.S. Davis Cup team's No. 1 performer, was virtually swept off the courts yesterday as upcoming Vic Seixas of Philadelphia gained a well-earned 2-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-4 victory in their quarter-final match.

strikeout. Here's what happened: Boston pitcher Nelson Potter waffled Walker Cooper. Not noticing that catcher Bill Salkeld picked up the ball and threw it to first baseman Earl Torgeson. But Torgeson apparently did not realize that the ball had been dropped because he merely caught the ball and then, without sleeping on first, tossed it to second baseman Bob Sturgeon Cooper, meanwhile, broke for first base. But before he could get there, Sturgeon had thrown to Torgeson and this time Torgeson tagged the base. The putout on the strikeout went from Salkeld to Torgeson to Sturgeon.

The cast was removed from the fractured ankle of Eddie Stanky's Braves' second baseman, August 9 and the bones were found to be healing satisfactorily. Eddie will undergo physiotherapy for some time and then begin with light workouts. He will be eligible to return from the disabled list on September 8.

THE BAMBINO

Signing on the Dotted Line
BASEBALL players owe Babe Ruth an eternal debt of gratitude. He was responsible more than anyone for the present high salaries paid to the stars of the diamond.

The Bambino's annual holiday capers were the top off-season baseball stories and often his stubbornness about signing carried right up to the close of spring training.

One spring he signed a contract under the stands at St. Petersburg, Fla. Though the document called for $50,000 Ruth signed without reading it.

In his 15 years with the Yankees Ruth batted 659 regular season homers, an average of 44 a season. His home runs blazed a trail across every sports page in the country.

During 1925—Ruth's one poor year in baseball though he batted 290 and hit 25 homers—he became the most celebrated hospital case of all time. He came up with influenza which limited him to less than 100 games for the only time during his peak years. But it was his recurrent "stomach aches" that really made him a famous hospital case. Practically every kid in the country was rooting for his return to action.

He came back at 32 the following year with 47 homers and a .372 batting average and followed this with his record 60 homers in 1927 and 54 in 1928.

Sport Slants by Pap

Larry Jansen's able hurling helped make Leo Durocher's debut at the Polo Grounds as manager of the Giants a tremendous success. Larry presented Durocher with a shut-out victory, his 13th triumph of the season, on the occasion of Leo's 43rd birthday.

In voicing the wish that he had "just one more pitcher like Larry Jansen," Durocher was merely echoing the oft-repeated words of Mel Ott, his predecessor as pilot of the Giants. Jansen was the solid man of the Giant mound corps last season when, as a freshman, he turned in a record of 21-5 and paced the National League pitchers.

Baltimore Colts Seeking Gambino

Sun Valley, Idaho, Aug. 20 — (AP)—Lu Gambino, University of Maryland halfback who has been caught in an eligibility tug-of-war, is being sought by the Baltimore Colts.

The all-America conference football club said it is negotiating with the Cleveland Browns for Gambino. Colts president Robert Emery said Paul E. Brown, general manager of the Browns, has "expressed a willingness to work out a trade x x x."

Gambino has been ruled ineligible for Southern conference competition by Col. William Couper, conference president. He contended that Gambino had already played the allotted three years of varsity competition.

Coach Jim Tatum and president H. C. Byrd of Maryland disagreed with Couper and said they would appeal his ruling to the conference executive board.

Gambino, all-conference halfback and one of the country's leading 1947 scorers, has not said whether he will stay on at Maryland if he cannot play football.

Aussies Appear Davis Cup Foes

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 20 — (AP)—After sweeping the inter-zone final's first two singles matches from the Czechoslovakian Davis Cup forces, Australia today appeared virtually assured of meeting the United States in the challenge round for the fourth time running.

The Australians needed only one more victory out of a possible five to qualify. They were expected to clinch it today when their Geoff Brown and Colin Long engage the humbled Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik in the doubles match.

Upset-Maker

Wake Forest, Aug. 20 — Douglas Clyde (Peahead) Walker, Wake Forest's wily, and colorful head football coach, has scored as many upset victories as almost any coach in the country. Notable among the upset triumphs for Walker-coached teams were the 12-6 win over Boston College and 19-6 triumph over Tennessee in 1946 and the 14-13 victory over Boston College and the 19-7 conquest of North Carolina last fall.

Two thirds of northern Ontario is underlain by the oldest rock formations known to man.

Brecheen Appears Cinch Become 20-Game Winner

Associated Press Sports Writer
Now that Harry (The Cat) Brecheen has demonstrated he can puzzle the hitters during the daytime as well as at night, the St. Louis Cardinals' ace hurler appears a cinch to realize his ambition to become a 20-game winner.

For years the slender 33-year-old southpaw from Ada, Okla., has been known as a whiz at night, but no more than a good pitcher under the sun. That was one reason he never reached 20 victories. In his five previous seasons with the Cards, the clever curveballer racked up 29 victories under the arc lights against only nine losses. His daytime record was 42-22.

Now the daytime jimx seems to be conquered. Brecheen pitched one of his best games of the year yesterday. Under a boiling sun. Shutting out the Cincinnati Reds, on four scattered hits, 4-0.

It was his fourth victory against two losses in day games and his 15th triumph of the year. He has won 11 and lost two at night.

The triumph pushed the up-and-coming third place Cardinals within two games of the leading Boston Braves.

Brecheen struck out seven to wrest the strikeout leadership from Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell. The Cat has 101 strikeouts to 105 for the Red ace.

The Cards made only six hits against Kenny Rattensberger, and old Redbird nemesis, but put together four of them in the sixth to score three runs. The other was tallied in the fourth, on Terry Moore's home run. Moore also had a hand in the big inning, driving in Ery Dusak and Marty Marion with a single.

Rip Sewell hurled his fifth victory of the season over the Chicago Cubs as the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates prevailed, 2-1. It was Sewell's eighth of the year. Sewell has defeated the Cubs 31 times against 18 losses.

The Philadelphia Athletics regained second place in the American League race, turning back the Boston Red Sox, 10-3, in Boston. Connie Mack's fighting A's, knocked out of the runner-up spot by the Red Sox yesterday, pounded five Boston pitchers for 14 hits. They now trail the pace-setting Cleveland Indians by two and a half games.

Allie Reynolds, going the route for the first time since July 20, he d pitched the Washington Senators to five hits in pitching the fourth place New York Yankees to an easy 2-1 victory. Reynolds helped his own cause with a two-run single during a six-run fourth inning against Early Wynn. The defeat was Wynn's seventh straight and his 14th of the season.

Middlecoff Has Lead In Second Round At Denver

Denver, Aug. 20 — (AP)—A slender, ex-tennist from Memphis, Tenn., Dr. Cary Middlecoff, held a one-stroke lead today as the nation's leading par-busters teed off in the second round of the $12,000 Denver open.

Under and by virtue of the authority contained in that order made in the matter of "Curtis Yarrell, et als, vs. Louise Teel Robinson, et als," being Special Proceeding No. 5000, the undersigned will offer for re-sale and sell to the highest bidder, for cash, before the court house door in Greenville, North Carolina at 12:00 o'clock Noon on Friday, September 3, 1948, that certain property lying and being in Bethel Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows:

Lying and being in the Town of Bethel, being Lots Nos. 34, 35, 36 and 37 in the division of the Anna Whitaker property in Bethel, North Carolina, these being the same lots conveyed to Maniza Yarrell and others by J. C. Wynne, Sr. and wife by deed of record in Pitt County Registry in Book X-23, page 416.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

By Florence Stuart

Chapter 31
"I'm getting up," Jane announced, showing signs of real life for the first time. "I'm getting up this very minute. Bring me some clothes, darling. And by the way, how are the streets for driving? Think the car will skid without chains?"
Aunt Mae told her emphatically she was out of her mind if she imagined that day, or even the next. Perhaps by the following week. Jane said, smiling, as she slipped on satin slippers and stood up, testing her strength: "Look, darling, haven't you heard that love works miracles? Well, it's working one right now. I'll drive to the hospital today. And it won't kill me, either."
"It may kill me, from worrying over you," Aunt Mae said wryly. "But if you're determined I'll do the driving, I'll get you a hot drink before we start. Maybe if you bundle up in your fur coat—"
"Carl was asleep when he arrived at the hospital. I won't make a sound," Jane promised the nurse. "If you'll just let me sit here by his bed until he wakes up..."
And when Carl opened his eyes and saw her sitting there, Jane slipped to her knees and held out her arms to him. Without a word she was saying that she wanted him to come home to her heart.
"Carl," she said. "Oh, Carl."
"Hello, baby," he said. "How did you get here? They told me you were ill."
"Oh, I was," Jane said. "For two days I ran a fever that practically blew up the doctor's thermometer. He thought it was pneumonia. But I knew better. It was just the one-ness burning up inside me. Now it's all gone and I feel fine. Now it's an hour ago that you'd been ill."
She said, smiling through quick tears: "I want you to get well, quick but not too quick. Because I want the fun of nursing you well. Her mouth worked. 'I want to earn your forgiveness. I want you to love me the way you used to.'"
Carl was staring into her eyes. "There's nothing to forgive, honey. He said very gently. 'And I've never stopped loving you. I never will. Do you know that yet? Only—'
"Only what, darling?" And when he did not answer she said, and she was grinning: "Look, my pet, I've lamed up on the postmortem and I'm ready with all the answers. But the nurse said I wasn't to get you excited or talk too much, so I think from here on I'll confine my conversation to three little words, 'I love you.'"
Carl's hands fell on her arms and pulled her up to him. She felt him tremble and she saw the wonderful brightness in his eyes. But he said: "Maybe you're only being sorry for me. I want to come back to you, sweetheart, more than anything on earth. But only if I can make you happy, happier than any other man can. If you love some other fellow, I'll open my hands and let you go to him."
Jane half turned her head, so that her cheek was against his. "Look," she said, laughing softly. "Don't be so darned generous about giving me away."
His hand touched her hair. "I've made so many mistakes," he told her. "I've had a lot of time to think about them. Perhaps that's one virtue about being laid up in the hospital. It gives a man a chance to take a look at himself. I've tried too many things to myself. I was sick with jealousy of you, but I tried to hide it. And you assumed I didn't care."
Jane's eyes brightened. "Were you jealous, darling? Really?"
"I worked like a dog to get that job, because I wanted you to be proud of me. It was all for you, al-

Red Oak News

About thirty members and guests attended the August meeting of circle No. 1 of Red Oak last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Sadie Allen on Chestnut street.
Mrs. Oia Kittrell presided and Mrs. H. R. Allen called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting.
Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Travis Crawford, Mrs. Odell Evans, and Mrs. B. L. Tyson gave short readings.
Mr. H. H. May gave a report on the building of the new hospital. The circle is going to sponsor a "Harvest Festival" in November, a "Family Night" in October and an old-fashioned lawn party in September. We are striving to raise $1,000 by the first of December.
Mrs. Allen served a delicious plate and cold drink.

Farmer Recovers Large Sum Money

By CHESTER WALSH

Losing a wallet with a large sum of money in it is a frequent occurrence during the tobacco season, but recovering it is a pleasant experience, a newspaper reporter observed today in the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company.

James Rubin Boyd, elderly farmer of Pinetown, Beaufort County, left his wallet containing $399 in it on a table in the bank yesterday afternoon. He was a happy man this morning when the bank returned it to him.

Boyd and his son were in the bank yesterday afternoon paying off some hands. He left his wallet on a table and did not miss it until he arrived in Washington. His son, Oscar Boyd, said his father, a man of very florid complexion turned extremely pale when he missed his money. He phoned to the bank here to report his loss and was a happy man when Vice-President and Cashier J. Herbert Waldrop informed him that he had the wallet.

Boyd, a relative of gubernatorial aspirant Olla Boyd, and his son went to the bank this morning. Clyde James Warren, a teller at the bank, saw the wallet on the table yesterday, asked those nearby if they owned it and then turned it over to Cashier Waldrop. There was rejoicing in the bank this morning when Warren handed the farmer his money while a photographer from Sisseton's drug store snapped pictures of the scene. Incidentally, Boyd intended to deposit the money in the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company in Washington. The people at the bank appeared to be as happy as Boyd over the return of the money. Boyd insisted on rewarding the young bank teller.

Sept. 2 Set Aside As Victory Reminder

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 20—(AP)—Governor Cherry in a proclamation has set aside Sept. 2—Third anniversary of the end of World War II—"As a forceful reminder of the terrific price paid for victory." He urged North Carolinians to observe a 30-second period of silence starting at 8:59 a. m. That day and "otherwise give fitting tribute to those who achieved victory."

Alton W. Hardee Funeral Rites Sunday At 3:30

The body of Sgt. Alton W. Hardee will arrive in Kinston Saturday morning at 8:25 o'clock and be taken to the Greenville Funeral Home, 1212 Dickinson Avenue, where it will remain until the funeral hour.

Sgt. Hardee was the son of Willie J. and Lula Hudson Hardee. He attended the Grimesland High school. Until 1940 he farmed with his father. At that time he enlisted in the Washington National Guard and served one year at Fort Jackson. He was discharged and joined the reserve. Sgt. Hardee was called back to active duty in January 1942. In September he was sent overseas with Co. C 189th Inf. (B). On July 12, 1943, he was wounded on New Georgia Island and hospitalized until November 1. At that time he was sent back to active duty at New Guinea. On January 9, 1945, he was with the landing party on Luzon Island. He was wounded on the 17th and died on the 24th.

Surviving are his parents; six sisters, Mrs. Raymond Jones, Mrs. Lucy Smith and Mrs. Fountain Harrington, all of Greenville, Mrs. Jeffrey Jones of Portsmouth, Va., Mrs. W. H. Nobles of Durham and Mrs. Vernon Childs of the home; three brothers, Jasper E., Willie A. and Arden J. Hardee, all of Grimesland.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Greenville Funeral Home, Sunday, August 22, at 3:30. Rev. Walter Felton of Grimesland, assisted by Rev. Delmont Reed of Burlington will officiate. Burial will be in the family cemetery, six miles southeast of Greenville.

Military honors will be in charge of the National Guard of Washington.

now kept in operation at night. Some adjustments were made on it to improve its effectiveness as a guide to airmen. Incidentally, the Greenville airport is listed in the Airmen's Guide, as having a regular night beacon. A pilot coming in here at night recently said the beacon was visible from the air over Washington. Runway lights may be turned on on short notice.

Greenville Aviation, Incorporated, is the lessee and operator of the airfield. S. E. West is president, Thomas M. Sellers vice president, and C. E. Steinhilber secretary-treasurer and manager. They are operating the flight school for primary and commercial pilots.

In addition to the flight school the company charters planes for long or short flights, sightseeing trips. The airfield is available 24 hours a day. The company services and repairs all types of planes.

Members of the Greenville Airport Commission are L. M. Buchanan, chairman; G. A. Pittman, vice chairman; Willard T. Kyzer, executive secretary-treasurer, and W. Z. Morton and W. Jasper Smith of Bethel.

Dr. Paul A. Toll Speaker For Jaycees At Supper Meeting

Dr. Paul A. Toll of East Carolina Teachers College faculty was guest speaker at the Junior Chamber of Commerce's weekly supper meeting at the Olde Towne Inn last night. He discussed the international situation, with special reference to Soviet Russia. Louis W. Gaylord, Jr., presided for President E. B. Suggs.

Two new members were inducted into the club. They are Howell Lewis, deputy of Superior Court, and L. M. Ernest, building contractor. Special guests were Bob Kitzler, Bill Taylor and J. A. Pruden of Margaretville, N. C., Bill Pruden's father.

Forbidden Solicit Workers On Streets

By CHESTER WALSH

Under orders of Mayor Jack Boyd, police today, in compliance with an anti-noise ordinance, refused a permit to two young men from the U.S. Employment Service to use a loud speaker on a car to solicit labor on the streets and at public places to harvest crops in the north.

The mayor said "we have no control over the federal department, but we do object to people coming in here during the busy tobacco season, when labor is scarce, and inducing it to go elsewhere to work."

Mayor Boyd said the tobacco factories here need many workers at this time. He also said he had "encouraged the Greenville reddyng plants to bring as much tobacco here as possible in order to provide work for our people."

Dog Causes Alarm On Seventh Street

On complaint of householders on Seventh Street, between Evans and Cotanche streets, yesterday morning, that a dog that appeared to be mad was biting at sticks and other objects in a neighbor's yard, a policeman shot and killed the dog. The officer quoted the neighbors as saying the dog was foaming at the mouth and looked dangerous and had scared children and others into houses.

Police said the dog belonged to W. P. Young, 604 East Fifth street, and that it had accidentally gotten hold of some rat poison, they learned.
