Major Industrial Firm Coming Here

Will Employ From 350 to 400 Local Persons, Mostly Women; Training Program Planned; Ready to Begin Operations In About One Month

A major manufacturing plant employing 350 to 400 persons when full production schedules are reached has been located in Greenville and will be ready to begin preliminary operations within about a month it was announced here today by Charles R. Poole, vice president and secretary of the American Lady Corset Company, of Detroit, Mich.

The company has leased the plant and properties of the Greenville Spinnery located on west Dickinson Avenue and alterations and renovation of the buildings will get under way immediately and the machinery for first operations will be moved to Greenville and installed as quickly as possible.

Mr. Poole stated that all the labor, mostly women, will be employed through the local employment office and persons interested are requested to file their applications at the employment office. The training period for employees will get under way within a month and operations will be enlarged and increased just as quickly as employees can be trained for the jobs.

The new industry was procured for Greenville through the efforts of the U. S. Department of Conservation Development, the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, and M. R. Long, of Greenville Spinnery. The company was sought by many states in all parts of the country and several cities in North Carolina from east to west. Mr. Poole stated that factors causing a decision favoring Greenville were the potential labor supply and other advantages offered by the city together with the friendly spirit of cooperation that he and four directors of the company had found upon visits here during the negotiations.

The American Lady Corset Company, manufacturers of women's foundation garments of all kinds, is one of the oldest in the country having been in operation for 70 years. Its administrative offices and plant are located in Detroit and its general sales offices in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles and employ its products. The company also has full ownership of a subsidiary, the Royal Worcester Corset Company of Massachusetts.

Its products include corsets, foundation garments, girdles, one piece foundations, panties, girdles and long line brassiers. Certain items of the line will be manufactured in the Greenville plant and a new line of corsets will be added here.

Brand names of the present product of the company include Artel model, American Lady, American Girl and Miss Today garments.

Fail to Prevent Gravel On Roads

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 23—(AP)—An injunction was denied here Saturday to citizens of Leicester township of Buncombe county who had sought to prevent the State Highway Commission from buying and using a gravel mixture on secondary roads.

Judge J. H. Clement, who denied the injunction, said the mixture purchased from the Grove Stone and Sand company had proven satisfactory for several years. D. M. Snelson and others had sought to restrain the commission from placing 60,000 tons of the mixture on county roads. They contended the mixture was unsuitable.

Cost Of Universities

It Takes Nearly $30 Millions To Start A Moderately Large Institution 'From Scratch'; Expansion Programs Planned As Colleges Face Future Shortage

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—What would it cost to start a moderately large university from scratch? About $30,000,000.

Why raise the issue at all?

1. Because educators predict that the nation's college population may be doubled by 1960. And expansion programs of existing schools are ample sign of the need right now for much more space.

2. Because educators get a surprisingly large number of inquiries from people who would like to find the backing they need to organize a college.

This example concerns a moderately large school—one with potential enrollment of about 5,000—because an institution of that size would take a healthier bite out of the backlog of college-bound students.

Furthermore, some educational authorities suggest that smaller schools may have increasingly trouble adding in the new era of science and engineering ushered in by atomic energy discoveries.

They expect the time may come when only the larger schools can afford the equipment and other facilities for the technical training

Deadlocked Over Who Will Control Berlin Currency

British Sources Say Kremlin Talks At Impasse; Envoys May See Stalin

London, Aug. 23—(AP)—Whitehall (government) sources said today the Kremlin talks over Berlin have been deadlocked on the major principle of whether Russia alone or the big four together should control the city's currency.

These informants said an agreement would open the way to ending the Berlin blockade, and to new big four talks on Germany and other problems in Europe.

The envoys of the U. S., Britain and France generally were expected to see Prime Minister Stalin or Foreign Minister Molotov, or both, today.

Prime Minister Attlee conferred with some British ministers and service chiefs over tentative plans for slowing demobilization of the armed services, the Whitehall informants said.

Sir William Strang, the leading British expert on Germany, discussed the Moscow talks with U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas and French Ambassador Rene Massigli. Sources inside the British government said Russia has said, in the Kremlin talks, she wants sole control in Berlin of the east mark, the currency for the Soviet zone of Germany. She has resisted the west's suggestion for joint control on the grounds that this would give the U. S., Britain and France an indirect share in the control of currency throughout the Soviet zone.

The Russian demand for sole control in Berlin of the east mark, at least economically, shared control would undermine western treaty rights to be in the city and reaffirm that Berlin is an international territory.

The informants said the Russians' alternative to sole responsibility for currency in Berlin has been to suggest unified control of all of Germany's currency.

Refuse Visa for Canterbury Dean

London, Aug. 23—(AP)—Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the Dean of Canterbury, said today he had been refused a visa to enter the United States for lecture engagements.

Dr. Johnson, for years a defender of the Soviet way of life and known as "the Red Dean," issued his statement through the London Daily Worker. He is a member of the editorial board of that Communist newspaper.

The U. S. embassy declined comment.

Evades Ticket

Kansas City, Aug. 23—(AP)—Patrolman Robert McGarvey stopped a motorist in an old automobile and started to give him a ticket because the car's rear window was cracked and dirty.

As car window that obscures vision carries a $3 fine in Kansas City.

"If I clean that window within two minutes will you leave that ticket on your pad?" the driver asked, McGarvey agreed.

The motorist grabbed a crank and with two quick blows knocked the glass out of the window, then drove away.

Twenty-Four New Polio Cases As Toll Now 1,646

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23—(AP)—Twenty-four new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the State Board of Health today. The state's total for the year mounted to 1,646.

The new cases were reported by 17 counties as follows: Burke and Cabarrus, three each; Buncombe, Cleveland and Lincoln, two each; and one each by Caldwell, Catawba, Davidson, upland, Edcombe, Guilford, Jackson, Johnston, New Hanover, Richmond, Rutherford and Stokes.

All of the cases were August onset and brought the total for the month to 376 cases. The July figure remained at 853.

Catch Children Pounding Safe

Cincinnati, Aug. 23—(AP)—Two little girls and an eight-year-old boy were caught by police last night attempting to crack a safe in an automobile sales company office.

Motorcycle Patrolman Albert Thiele said he found the children pounding the safe with a hammer and axe.

The oldest of the trio was an 11-year-old girl. Assisting her were an eight-year-old boy and a four-year-old girl.

Miss Bentley To Tell How Soviet Spy Ring Worked

'Espionage In Industry' Will Be Disclosed; Leftover Job for Probe Body

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Congressional spy investigations said today Elizabeth T. Bentley is ready to tell how a Soviet spy ring worked after America's wartime industrial secrets.

One member of the House Un-American committee said he fears the Russians may have been highly successful.

Miss Bentley already has given the committee, in secret sessions, a brief peek at what she knows about "espionage in industry," this member said, adding that she evidently knows a lot.

As soon as it can be arranged, he said, public hearings will be held on operations of what the committee regards as a fourth Red spy network in the United States.

But first, the committee has several mopping up jobs to finish. These are leftovers from:

1. Testimony of Miss Bentley that she used to be a Communist and the courier for two groups that wormed wartime secrets out of the government officials and passed them to Moscow. Further hearings are planned starting September 7.

2. Testimony of Whitaker Chambers, an editor of Time Magazine, that he, too, used to be a Red and that the Communists operated a pre-war underground in Washington in which Alger Hiss was a leading member. Hiss, former state department official who now heads the Carnegie endowment for international peace, denies it.

Chambers never has called the underground a spy ring, but he said espionage undoubtedly was one of its eventual objectives.

More witnesses are scheduled for secret questioning today and tomorrow, and then Hiss and Chambers will be supposed to confront each other in open hearings Wednesday.

In addition to winding up these assorted hearings, committee chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) has said the committee expects "to bring into full focus the operations of still another espionage ring which secured some of our most vital information."

1947 Income Hits Record Average

Per Capita Average of $1,33; Southern States Low

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—The individual income of Americans in 1947 amounted to an average of $1,323 for each man, woman and child. The Commerce department figured this out today in reporting that total individual incomes zoomed to a record $189,000,000,000 last year.

The per capita average income of $1,323 compared with $1,213 in 1946. This is an increase of 9 percent.

While the rise was general, states in the northwest did best of all. They pocketed 20 percent more than in 1946.

On a nation-wide basis, individual income was 25 percent greater than the war peak year of 1944.

The 15 Southern states were among the 16 reporting the lowest averages.

Nevada's per capita average—$1,843—topped all other states. Mississippi was lowest with $859.

Other top states were New York, $1,781; North Dakota, $1,678; California, $1,643; Montana, $1,641.

The figures are based on income received by individuals from all sources.

General's Work Is Nearly Done

Seoul, Aug. 23—(AP)—Many army and diplomatic officials here today speculated that Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, American commander in Korea, would be transferred and given a new assignment shortly.

The arrival of John J. Muccio, special representative of President Truman to the Korean Republic, brings General Hodge's job near completion.

Death Laid to Falling Window

National City, Calif., Aug. 23—(AP)—An attempt by William Williams, 65, to climb through a window when he misplaced his house keys killed him yesterday.

The window fell when he was halfway through and pinned him to the sill. The coroner's report blamed the death on a heart attack—caused by the shock of the falling window.

Latest In Stamp Machines

The machine is the latest in automatic devices with a delicate coin mechanism which intercepts and rejects both slugs and foreign coins. The machine returns the exact

A Richer Market

(Special to the Reflector) New York, Aug. 23—Greenville is shown to be a prosperous market, with more "spendable" money in the hands of the average family than is the case in most cities, according to a national copyrighted survey of buying power just completed by Sales Management.

This was made possible by better incomes. The survey shows that the 3,800 families in Greenville had an effective buying income, after Federal and State income taxes, and other personal taxes, of $17,250,000. This was better than the $4,308 family income elsewhere in the United States and than the North Carolina earnings, $3,817 per family.

Retail sales in Greenville's stores reached the high level of $22,703,400 in 1947, the data shows. Thus the city accounted for 81.9 percent of the nation's retail business with only 0.10 percent of the national population, indicating it to be a superior market. It stood out in North Carolina also, doing 1.05 percent of the state's business with only .39 percent of the population. The excess of local sales over local earnings points to Greenville as the hub of a large trading area.

A measure of the purchasing ability of Greenville, compared with that of the nation per unit of population, is given by a "quality of market index." This rates Greenville, 30 percent above average in buying potential.

Much of that potential was not tapped, according to the survey. It found its way into savings and into investments.

For 'The Kids'

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—Ruth Euth set aside part of his estate to be used for "the interests of the kids of America," his will showed today.

The will provided for the home run king's widow and daughters and left 10 percent of the remainder for "The Kids."

It was filed in Surrogate's court for probate today.

Greek Guerrillas Again In Retreat

Athens, Aug. 23—(AP)—The Greek army, turning north and east from the Grammos mountains, today routed guerrillas who were moving toward the Vitsi area, with the apparent aim of finding a new home for Communist "Free Greece."

A communiqué said the rebels entered Greece from Albania directly west of Kastoria. Government troops blunted their advance and sent them scurrying toward the southeast. A spokesman said this stopped their march toward Vitsi.

The Vitsi area consists of some 20 to 25 square miles. It is directly north of Lake Kastoria in the triangle formed by the juncture of the Greek, Albanian and Yugoslav border at Lake Prespa. Kastoria is about 13 miles northeast of Thessalon, northeastern anchor of the old Grammos front.

The Vitsi sector would offer the guerrillas supply lines into both Albania and Yugoslavia, but the terrain is not nearly so rugged as the Grammos mountains and thus offers fewer natural defenses.

About 1,000 rebels were reported in Vitsi last week. The Greeks reported 1,500 heading that way from Albania after the retreat from Grammos.

(The dispatch did not indicate whether this was the group defeated today by the Greek army.)

Gen. Stellos Kiriakakis, deputy chief of staff, said earlier that guerrilla chieftain Markos Vafiadis is whipped and Communist "Free Greece" is no more.

Charges Gov't Committed to Keep Prices Up

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 23—(AP)—"The government is committed to keeping food prices high even while denouncing the evils of inflation."

The accusation was made before North Carolina food dealers here today by Tyre Taylor of Washington, general counsel for the National Association of Retail Grocers.

He told the annual convention of the Food Dealers Association that the government currently is spending $4,000,000 a week to maintain the price of potatoes.

The Agriculture Department is required by law to support potatoes at 90 percent of parity along with many other commodities including corn and wheat, Taylor recalled.

Goldsboro Seeks WAA Airfield

Atlanta, Aug. 23—(AP)—The War Assets Administration today received an application from the city of Goldsboro, N. C., for the Seymour Johnson Airfield.

The WAA advertised the field for disposal Saturday. Award will be made to Goldsboro in 10 days if no other applications have been filed by that time.

T. A. Dechman, WAA deputy regional director, said no other applications are expected.

Defense Chiefs Conclude Talks; Subect Secret

Air Force Discloses Long-Range Guided Missile Labeled 'Must' Item

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—The nation's top military commanders returned to their desks today after a second closely guarded huddle away from Washington.

As in the case of his March session of the joint chiefs of staff at Key West, Fla., Secretary of Defense Forrestal delayed any immediate word of decisions reached over the weekend at Newport, R. I. The same tight-lipped secrecy that surrounded it ever since the first announcement that it would be held.

Forrestal and his uniformed aides flew back to Washington late last night, but newsmen were told in advance that no one would have anything to say.

While these top-secret meetings were in progress, however, the Air Force let it be known that one of the things it would like to see done is to carry a guided missile "capable of carrying an atom-bomb to a target 5,000 miles away—and faster than the speed of sound."

Such a weapon was labeled a "must" in the final report of Gen. Carl Spaatz, who turned over his job as Air Force chief of staff to Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg several weeks ago.

Spaatz said that since there is no existing defense against a weapon of this type the United States must be the first to develop it. He said it has been a prime objective ever since the guided missiles program was launched. But he gave no hint what if any, progress has been made.

A means of appraising the capabilities and performance of present and probable weapons was one of the subjects listed for discussion at the Newport session.

Spaatz's report therefore seemed likely to have figured prominently in the talks.

Another almost certain subject was the revived controversy between the Navy and the Air Force over strategic bombing. They Key West meeting was supposed to have settled that row in favor of the Air Force.

Lamokin Booked Passage In July

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—Jacob M. Lamokin, Soviet consul general ordered expelled by the State Department, booked passage on the liner Stockholm about six weeks ago a Swedish-American Line official said today.

The ship is scheduled to sail next Saturday for Gothenburg, Sweden. Lamokin's recall was demanded last week by the State Department which accused him of "improper conduct" in connection with the case of Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, Soviet school teacher who leaped from the third floor of the Russian consulate here.

Lamokin, his wife and their two children will occupy a $1,400 suite on the Stockholm, the line official said.

The discredited consul general spent the weekend on Long Island. Vice Consul Zet I. Chepurnykh said he was expected to return later today.

Asked earlier whether Lamokin definitely would return to Russia, Chepurnykh said, "I cannot tell you."

Meanwhile, the injured teacher continued to improve at Roosevelt Hospital.

Russians Release Three Americans

Truman Will Get More Support In Southern States

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) today said he is supporting President Truman in the November election.

McKellar's announcement came in the face of reports from Tennessee that at least two of the state's 12 Democratic elector candidates have made known their intention of voting for the State's Rights ticket headed by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina.

"I was born and bred a Democrat," McKellar told a reporter. "I always vote for and support the ticket and, of course, I will continue to do so."

The Tennessee senator's statement recalled a recent similar declaration by Senator A. Willis Robertson of Virginia.

Administration Democrats immediately put them together to back their claims that Mr. Truman is making some headway in the South, despite the angry protests which arose there over his Civil Rights program.

For some years McKellar has been closely linked with the Memphis Democratic organization headed by Ed Crump. For this reason some party members who still oppose Mr. Truman's election said they see nothing surprising in McKellar's joining Crump in backing the Democratic ticket.

Republicans have had some hope that the defeat of Crump-backed candidates in the Democratic primary might drive enough of a wedge in the Tennessee branch of the party to give them a chance there. Accordingly, they plan to spend time, effort and money in seeing what they can do.

Elsewhere in the South Mr. Truman appears unlikely to get much active support from senatorial Democrats. Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) has said he will work for the ticket and the administration counts on Senator Connally (D-Tex) for backing.

Mr. Truman has strong support in so-called border states. Senator Barkley of Kentucky is his running-mate. Senators Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma and Kilgore of West Virginia back the President.

But a lot of the Dixie senate Democrats are going to sit this one out. As an example, Senator Sparkman of Alabama, who headed his party's speakers bureau in the 1946 campaign, said he is pledged to vote for electors who said in advance of the Democratic primary they would not cast their ballots for Mr. Truman.

Little Comfort For Mary Price

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23—(AP)—Chairman Mary Price of the Progressive Party got neither aid nor comfort from the State Utilities Commission today in her attempt to get phone service for the party's state headquarters in Durham.

Chairman Stanley Winborne of the commission wrote Miss Price its investigation of the matter and convinced the commission "that the demand of the Durham Telephone company that both you personally and the Progressive Party make a deposit of $500 each to guarantee the payment of your bills is reasonable."

Jerusalem, Aug. 22—(Delayed)—(AP)—Israeli Prime Minister David Ben Gurion tendered another peace overture to the Arabs today.

United Europe Dream

Italy Ready And Willing To Work Toward Goal, And Now France Supports Plan For Convention To Draft Charter For Uniting West Europe Under Constitution

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The idea of forming a United States of Western Europe—a modification of the generations-old dream of a United States of All Europe—has been given a further boost by France.

Early in August Italy's free-thinking Foreign Minister, Count Ciano Sforza, said that in order to effect a European union his country was ready to take the lead in accepting "curtailment of its political sovereignty, even in the most unexpected aspects."

Simultaneously, French Finance Minister Paul Reynaud expressed the hope that Britain would come out in full support of a United States of Europe next autumn after the dominions conference.

Now French Secretary of State Francois Mitterand announces that the cabinet has decided to support a plan for convocation of an international assembly to draft a charter of uniting western Europe under a federal constitution. This project is sponsored by the International Committee for Coordination of Movements for a European Union.

It is worthy of note that the committee is headed by Duncan Sandys, son-in-law of Winston Churchill.

Who long has been an advocate of such a union, Sandys' committee was appointed last May by the Congress of Europe held at the Hague under presidency of Churchill.

Mitterand says France will begin negotiations soon.

It strikes me as highly significant that Finance Minister Reynaud should interest himself in this project at a moment when he is struggling with the gravest economic crisis France has experienced. He is working with virtually all his powers to meet this great emergency, and he obviously wouldn't pause to consider such a European union if

Sawyer-Beacham Vows Solemnized

Miss Lola Beacham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Beacham of Washington, and Mr. Earl Sawyer son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sawyer of Jameville, were married Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church by Rev. R. W. Bradshaw.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. P. A. Toll, organist, played "Through the Years" and "All For You." Miss Frances Johnson of Ayden sang "Perfect Day" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. R. J. Beacham, of Norfolk. She wore a white suit with white accessories and carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses with streamers of matching ribbons and rose buds. Her maid of honor, Miss Marian Butler of Bethel, wore a pink suit and white accessories and carried a bouquet of lavender asters with orchid and lavender ribbons. The flowers of the singer and of the organist were pink asters.

Both the bride's mother and the mother of the groom wore dresses of black sheer and shoulder bouquets of white asters.

Mr. A. E. Manning of Jameville was best man, and ushers were Mr. William Durham of Rocky Mount and Mr. Roland Braswell of Goldsboro.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, pompon, chrysanthemums and asters. The altar was banked with Oregon fern among which seven-branched candelabra were placed.

At the close of the ceremony Miss Johnson sang, "Oh, Perfect Love."

Mrs. Sawyer was educated at Washington high school and at East Carolina Teachers College. Mr. Sawyer, who attended Jameville high school, will receive the B. S. degree from East Carolina Teachers College at the end of the fall quarter.

Immediately after the marriage a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer was given in the education building of the church by students of the Wesley Foundation in which the couple have been active members.

Miss Anne Askew presided at the refreshment table. Misses Lucille Bialock, Jamie Halslip and Sammie Lee Jones, president of the Foundation, assisted in serving.

Following the Sawyer-Beacham rehearsal Friday night, August 20, Miss Elizabeth Walker entertained the wedding party at a cake-cutting in the parlors of Regdale Hall at East Carolina Teachers College.

The rooms were decorated with cut flowers, carrying out a color scheme of green and white.

Miss Sammie Lee Jones and Miss Johnnie Mae Sawyer greeted guests at the door. Mrs. P. A. Toll assisted Miss Beacham in cutting the wedding cake which was served with fruit punch, mints, and salted nuts. Miss Betty Yates presided at the guest book.

Thirty guests enjoyed Miss Walker's hospitality.

Miss Annie Rose Harrington, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Harrington, of Winterville whose engagement to Mr. J. Brooks Tucker, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker, of Grimsland, is announced by her mother. The wedding will take place August 29.

Christian Science Service
"Mind" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, August 22.
Golden Text: Proverbs 2:8. "The Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding."
Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 2:5). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The exterminator of error is the great truth that God, good, is the only Mind, and that the superstitious opposite of infinite Mind—called devil or evil—is not Mind, is not Truth, but error, without intelligence or reality." (Page 469).

Revival at Grimesland Methodist Church

Greenville, brother of the bride; Mr. Aubrey Bentley Taylor, Greenville, brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. Thomas Powell of Durham and Mr. Wallis Strayhorn, uncle of the groom.
The bride's mother was gowned in an original blue fallie crepe, with dusty pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a white crepe gown, with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.
Mrs. Strayhorn attended Pineland Junior College and for the past few years has been connected with the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company.
Mr. Strayhorn attended Presbyterian Junior College and at present is a student at the University of North Carolina.
For going away the bride changed to a powder blue alpaca crepe suit and powder blue hat, with black accessories.
After a wedding trip to unannounced points the couple will be at home at Chapel Hill, N. C.
Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. William Rufus Skinner entertained at a reception at their home on West Fourth street.
The home was decorated with colorful summer flowers.
In the dining room the table was covered with a handmade lace cloth and had as a centerpiece a silver bowl of white asters, fern and gypsophylla. White candles in silver candelabra flanked the floral arrangement.
Three branched candelabra and a miniature bride were used on the mantel.
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kittrell met the guests on the front porch. Mrs. Ruel Tyson introduced the receiving line, which was composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Strayhorn, the bride and groom and the wedding party.
Mrs. R. E. Hardaway received at the dining room door. Mrs. Frank White, Jr., presided at punch bowl, and Misses Virginia Simpson and Doris Brown served. Miss Geraldine Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rufus Skinner of Greenville, and Mr. Kenneth Eugene Strayhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Winston Strayhorn of Chapel Hill, were united in marriage in an impressive formal candlelight ceremony on August 21, at five o'clock in the Memorial Baptist Church. The Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Leon Fleming, Greenville, organist, rendered a program of nuptial music prior to the ceremony, with Mr. Herschell Snuggs, Greenville, as vocalist. Mr. Snuggs sang, "Because" and "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a moulded bodice, sheer yoke of chiffon, with bertha and a bouffant skirt, ending in a circular train. Her long sleeves ended in a point over the hands. The full-length veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of brides roses and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid and tied with satin streamers. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.
Mrs. Aubrey Bentley Taylor, Greenville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of sky-blue taffeta, fashioned along the same lines of the bride. She carried a cascade bouquet of asters in

Four Additional Oregon Leaders Die In Air Crash
Klamath Falls, Ore., Aug. 23 — (AP)—A private plane plunged into a lake yesterday, killing four Oregon Republican leaders.
Two state representatives, a senate nominee and a state house nominee died in the crash.
It was the second aircraft mishap within a year to take the lives of prominent Oregon state officials.
The bodies of Rep. Earle Johnson, 40, of Corvallis; William H. Fluhrer, 47, of Medford, the senate nominee, and H. H. Evans of Waldport, house nominee, were recovered last night from the plane. Search of the resort lake water continued today for the body of Rep. John Snellstrom, 53, of Eugene.
Gov. Earl Snell and two top Oregon executives died in the plane crash last October in neighboring Lake county.
The three tiered wedding cake was first cut by the bride and groom after which it was served by Mrs. R. E. Hardaway. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson presided at the punch bowl.

Labrador Flight for Pfc. Glenn E. Dildy

Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N. Mexico—Pfc. Glenn E. Dildy stationed here with a squadron of the 509th Bomb Wing (M), recently departed this station as a ground crew member of a squadron of B-29 type aircraft on a routine training mission to Goose Neck, Labrador.
Pfc. Dildy, formerly of Route 5, Greenville, traveled to Labrador via the air route.
If the adage to the effect that "travel broadens one's scope" can apply to United States Air Force men, then Pfc. Dildy is certainly furthering his education. As an active member of the U. S. Air Force, he will be accorded opportunity to visit other continents and to gain skill and proficiency in his assigned duties.
Pfc. Dildy will not be stationed at Labrador, but will return to Walker Air Force Base, his parent field, a part of the 8th Air Force, on completion of the training mission.

go with an Army job in Japan!

How times have changed.

Three years ago, when our first victorious combat men left Japan, much of it was a shambles. The Japanese people were so dazed by defeat they didn't know which way to turn. The life of an Army man often had its discomforts.

But look at him today! He's helped to start the rebuilding of Japan, to restore roads and railways, to inspire a tired and hungry people with the hope of Democracy. Under his guiding hand, courts of justice, woman suffrage and freedom of worship have been brought about. In Japan there is only one soldier for every 400 Japanese—the smallest per capita occupation army in the world.

The pay of a Private is 50% higher than three years ago, then another 20% higher overseas. And almost every cent can be banked. None of it goes for food, housing, medical or dental care, clothing, retirement annuity, or the opportunity to continue his education. The Army furnishes him equipment for organized sports. While on leave, he can ski in winter or visit summer resorts at a fraction of what these activities would cost him in the United States.

An Army career in Japan is full of advantages such as these. Compare it with any job across the board—you'll find it hard to beat! Ask at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station for full details.

THE SPIRITUAL APPROACH TO LIFE

From one of the readers of this feature comes the following: "I am for anything that is for the betterment of man on the earth, and I let those that believe that they are going to get more than five feet of dirt on their noses go to it."

Anybody who has any social consciousness whatever is in favor of everything that is for the betterment of man on the earth. The passion for making the lot of man better is known as humanism. The only quarrel some of us have with humanism is that we are sure that it is a result and not a cause. To go about trying to make the world better without making man better is futile, and to try to make man better without regenerating their hearts by the power of religious faith has not met with wide success.

There are some of us who believe that the only answer to life's problems is a religious answer. Many people hold that those who believe in the religious approach to life are interested only in prayers and preaching. The truth is that the only people sincerely interested in prayers and preaching are those who believe that prayers and preaching are factors which help release the latent forces necessary for human betterment.

So we are all in favor of the things that will better the life of men on the earth. Furthermore, many of us believe that life has not come to an end when people get five feet of dirt tamped down on their noses.

HEADQUARTERS—Official announcement is expected early this week that State Democratic headquarters for the fall campaign will be established at the Carolina Hotel in Raleigh. Chairman Cepus Wayne and his advisers have been discussing and comparing relative advantages of the Carolina and the Sir Walter, and while last minute decision may be different, as of Monday morning the Carolina looked like a sure bet.

DEPARTURE—That will be in one sense a departure from custom. In another sense it will be following tradition of past campaigns. State headquarters have operated from the Sir Walter every election campaign for more than 20 years. But, it is customary for the general fall campaign to be conducted by the same folks and from the same location as the successful primary campaign for governor. Kerr Scott had his primary headquarters at the Carolina, under management of Cepus Wayne. Operation of the fall campaign from the same place and under same leadership is following custom.

PRECEDENT—Scott said when he began his vigorous race for the nomination he would wage a different sort of campaign. One of the first signs of difference was selection of the Carolina as a base, since successful candidates had always worked from the Sir Walter. So did all others this year with state headquarters, except Oscar Barker who set up his campaign offices at Durham. The strategy board for the fall apparently has decided there is enough virtue in the idea to continue the element of difference, both as to location of headquarters and type of campaign to be waged. A spokesman for the group pointed out that one difference will be the fact a harder fight faces the Democrats in North Carolina this year than at any time since the Al Smith episode in 1928.

HURDLES—There was a deal of speculation around capitol square over the weekend about prospects of the State's Rights Democrats to jump the rest of the legal hurdles and get a place on the general election official ballot. The mandate order by Judge W. C. Harris in Wake Superior court last week was based on two of the several contentions raised. The judge held that since far more than the required 10,000 names on petitions filed had been certified as registered voters, the time element was not significant. He volunteered the opinion that board of elections regulations requiring the names to be certified by August 3, and another rule eliminating signers who had participated in primaries of other parties, were "unreasonable." He did not pass upon the matter of the party's name, or whether the use of "States' Rights Democrats" violated the statute saying that no new party could

Washington—(AP)—How would you like to submit to a lie detector? I've been asking that question around the office ever since the House un-American activities committee brought the whole thing up. The committeemen, you will recall, suggested that Alger Hiss and Whitaker Chambers, who had told conflicting stories, might like to tell them over again. And this time, a Polygraph, or lie detecting machine, would be used.

There probably is as large a supply of truth stacked around a newspaper office as anywhere else. Yet the usual reply has been, "No, thanks I don't believe I'd care to."

The little lady who shares the office phone with me even said: "Good heavens, I've always considered that an infernal machine. You know, first they strap you in that—and then in the electric chair."

In an effort to find out the truth about the truth-finder, I borrowed a brief case and a studious air from a friend I know who once read a book.

Disguised as a scholar, I had no trouble at all sneaking into the library of Congress.

Well, it turns out the lie detector as a pretty interesting gadget at that.

The popular conception seems to be that it works like this:

The witness takes a bunch of statements into a hopper and the machine sorts them and hands them back stamped, "true," "partly true" or "who do you think you're kidding?"

Actually, it's merely a device to measure how a person is breathing, his blood pressure and the like. When a person is lying, there is apt to be a pronounced change in his reactions. They are easy for the expert to spot.

But even the experts don't claim it never misses.

Writes Paul V. Trevillo in the "Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology":

"Lie detectors are not infallible... Neither the operator nor the investigators should expect too much of the instrument."

And John E. Reid, writing in the same publication, says that one-fifth of all tests made produce results too inconclusive for an examiner to make a report.

Reid, the guy fellow, set out deliberately to fool the machine, by faking his emotional responses, acting excited when he wasn't he did it, too. Said the machine's graphs: "He looks guilty."

But don't be too alarmed. The police use it as much to weed out the innocent as to put the finger on the guilty. And in some cases, of course, the results have been phenomenal.

Trevillo, by the way, points out some drawbacks to the detectors. They don't work very well on chronic criminals whose emotions have become calloused. Nor on drunks. Nor on people who are insane.

And if you really want to hide your emotions, take this tip from Trevillo:

Get heartily.

It seems the machine doesn't work worth a whoop on anyone who is excessively fat.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—Josephine Roche has been a policeman and an assistant secretary of the Treasury since she graduated from Vassar in 1908. She has been president of Colorado's second largest coal mining company since 1928. Once she ran for the Colorado governorship. Now she has a big job as director of the United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund.

After leaving Vassar Miss Roche worked for a time with the Denver Juvenile Court, studied sociology at Columbia University, did settlement work in New York City, in 1923 became associated with the U. S. Children's Bureau in Washington. She had much to do with the formation of the National Bituminous Coal Code during NRA days.

In 1934 she ran for Governor of Colorado, touring the state in an ancient automobile with the slogan, "Roosevelt, Roche and Recovery." She lost but that same year was appointed by President Roosevelt as assistant secretary of the Treasury in charge of the U. S. Public Health Service which then was a Treasury agency.

Later she served as the Treasury's representative on the President's Committee on Economic Security. This committee drafted the recommendations on which the Social Security Act were based.

"What the American people owe to the UMWA is hard to estimate," she told me in an interview. "You see, we have always stood for progress in the industry, for mechanization and other measures that will eliminate the tragic human waste and promote the health and welfare

Eastern Belt Is Averaging $50.80

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Eastern North Carolina flue-cured tobacco belt opened the first full week of sales today following a two-day opening week which brought farmers an average $50.80 per hundred pounds.

Meanwhile, the Carolinas border belt markets started their fourth week of activity. The U. S. Agriculture Department's tobacco branch reported a slight decline in both prices and quality during last week's operations. The season's gross sales on the border belt through Friday totaled 110,081,978 pounds which have sold for an average $54.29.

On the eastern Carolina markets, the report said, increases ranged mostly from $3 to $5, compared to last year's opening week figures. Good lemon cutters drew a top $66, but most grades brought between $39 and $55 per hundred.

A total of 15,474,000 pounds of tobacco was sold during the short opening week, and the average was $7.46 higher than the 1947 opening week price.

Death And Hate Change Old City To Ugly, Fearful

(John Roderick of the Associated Press staff has arrived in the Middle East after three years of reporting in China. Now accredited to the Arab side in the Palestine war, he gives his impressions after seeing Jerusalem for the first time.)

By JOHN RODERICK

Jerusalem, Aug. 22—(AP)—A woman is crying in Jerusalem tonight. Her tears are for a ragged soldier who died here.

She saw the body of this man muffled in heavy blankets against a heat he could not feel. His friends were carrying him in a litter on their shoulders. He happened to be an Arab.

An Arab communique put him into an official pigeonhole.

"One of our irregulars was killed by sniper fire near the Zion Gate," it said.

His death in truth had nothing of the extraordinary in it.

The commonplaceness of killing and hatred have turned this ancient city, revered by three great religions, into something ugly to look at.

The buildings still command an outsider's respect. Its holy places are deep in breath taking memories.

But the peace which these monuments call up is broken by the heavy step of soldiers carrying sten guns, of clanking armored cars and the high whine of bullets.

I got my first look at Jerusalem from St. Stephen's Gate.

A stream of tired humanity moved along the via Dolorosa (the way of sorrows).

The population of the old walled city has changed in the past few months of destructive battle and almost as destructive truce.

At Arab Legion headquarters everyone said it was a quiet day—one of the most quiet in weeks.

It seemed so with bright sunlight falling on domes and minarets and the dome of the rock in the distance silent, deserted.

I sat down in a bare mess hall to a meal of hummus, an Arab dish of sour cream and cucumbers. Suddenly there was a loud woom and boom as a mortar shell dropped a few hundred yards away. A second followed a minute later. A few soldiers looked up but kept on eating. During the next four hours the slap-slap of light machine-guns was mixed with rifle fire.

Later I climbed to a high place to take a look around. Stretched out before the eye were all the glories of Christianity, Islam and Jewry. Muffled church bells tolled a message of faith.

Greenies Tounce Jays But Tars Take 13-1 Win

Locals Rally In Ninth For 6-4 Victory In Roanoke Rapids; Nash Hits Homer for Greenies Inly Score Against Tarboro

By BERT MOYE

The Greenville Greensies split their week-end tilts by taking their second straight win over the Roanoke Rapids Jays, 6-4, in Roanoke Rapids Saturday night and then losing to the league-leading Tars at home Sunday afternoon 13-1.

Saturday's Game
After two men were out in the ninth, the Greensies rallied for three runs on three singles, walk and an error to make it two in a row over the Roanoke Rapids Jays by the score of 6-4 at Roanoke Rapids Saturday night.

Willie Mauney started the rally when he beat out an infield hit. Wiley Nash was walked. Grady Stott singled into left field to bring home Mauney and Bob Cohen singled into the same spot to bring home Nash, when Jim Meyer booted the ball in the outfield. Scott came on home.

Wally Williams pitching his second win of the season, held the Jays to nine scattered hits, with Val Gonzales, the Jay's first sacker, getting a homer and two singles to lead the attack.

Wiley Nash with a double and two singles led the 10-hit attack off the two Jay hurlers with Alton Brown credited with the loss, his second to the Greensies this season.

The win for the Greensies was their tenth of the season against the Jays as against eight reverses.

Sunday's Game
Manager Bull Hammons and his league leading Tarboro Tars had little trouble in winning Number 13 against the Greensies here yesterday afternoon as they chalked up a one-sided score of 13-1.

The Tars put across enough runs to win the contest in the first frame when they made three tallies on three hits, two errors and a walk and then piled up three more runs in the second to assure them of a win.

Thanks to Wiley Nash's homer in the third over the left field wall or the Greensies would have been blanked out. This was Nash's 10th homer of the season and was the second time that he has saved the Greensies from being white washed. Also Nash played a superlative game at the third sack making two beautiful stops and bringing great applause.

Jake Daniels with three doubles in four trips to the plate which drove in six of the Tars' runs, was the big gun for the winners. Toward Tars' shortstop also got three for four to help in the 15-hit attack off the two Greensies, Tate and Yohn.

Eddie Neville went the route for the Tars and limited the Greensies to eight hits with Carter, Mauney and Nash getting two each to lead the locals.

Braves Awaiting Doctor's Report

Boston, Aug. 23—(AP)—A doctor's diagnosis which may have a great bearing on the chances of the Boston Braves in the National League pennant battle, will be made today when Eddie Stanky's ankle will be examined.

Should the doctor's report be favorable, Stanky will be permitted to work out and get back into playing condition.

The fiery second baseman's ankle was broken in a collision in Brooklyn with former team mate Bruce Edwards several weeks ago. Stanky's name was placed on the disabled list.

Pro Football Will Get Early Start

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—Professional football boots its way into the sports picture Friday night. It's coming so early it will find nine major league baseball teams still very much in the running for World Series berths.

The All America conference, starting its third season, bursts on the scene first. The Chicago Rockets play host to the Los Angeles Dons in Soldier Field Friday night and the New York Yankees visit the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field.

Next Sunday the Buffalo Bills will play the 49ers in San Francisco and the conference champion Cleveland Browns complete the first week's activity by entertaining Los Angeles the following Friday.

Meanwhile the National League will content itself with exhibition games until September 17 when the Green Bay Packers meet the Boston Yankees in a night game at Boston.

The All America conference will have played almost half of its 55 game schedule by the time the baseball World Series ends in October. Thirteen night games dot its schedule, but starting October 17 it goes on a Sunday only basis with time out for two Thanksgiving day contests.

Stephens, Doerr Behind Red Sox' Amazing Surge

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe McCarthy's rampaging Boston Red Sox owe their amazing uphill climb to their great keystone combination—shortstop Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr.

Sparked by the brilliant all-around play of this pair, the Red Sox today were in second place in the American League standings, only half a game behind the pace-setting Cleveland Indians.

Stephens and Doerr accounted for three of Boston's four runs yesterday as the Sox whipped the Washington Senators 4-1. It was Boston's fourth straight over the Senators and the 10th victory in their last 13 games.

It proved a profitable Sunday for the Sox as the Indians dropped a doubleheader to the cellar-dwelling Chicago White Sox, 3-1 and 4-3, to lose a game and a half to Boston.

The red hot New York Yankees also gained ground, whipping the Philadelphia Athletics, 10-4, to climb within two games of the Indians. The A's, now in fourth place, are three games off the pace.

Doerr was the big gun of the Red Sox' victory yesterday. He hammered his 23rd home run with Stephens aboard in the third inning off Forrest Thompson to put the Sox ahead -0. Doerr walked in the eighth and tallied one of Boston's two runs in that inning.

On Saturday, Stephens drove in five runs in the Red Sox' 10-6 triumph with a pair of home runs. One came with the bases loaded. Doerr batted in three with a single and homer.

Another Player On Injured List

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 23—(AP)—Bob Elliott, Boston Braves' third baseman and the National League's most valuable player last season, may miss today's game against the challenging Brooklyn Dodgers because of an elbow injury.

Elliott will be x-rayed today to determine if he suffered serious injury yesterday when struck on the left elbow by the ball as he was going into third base. The ball was thrown by Pee Wee Reese, Dodger shortstop.

Lost Popularity But Won Money

Denver, Aug. 23—(AP)—Mechanical Ben Hogan was richer in cash today—but not in popularity with Denver fans—as he pocketed the $2,150 first prize from the Denver Open golf tournament and went after money in the Salt Lake City Open.

The Hershay, Pa., better, who stretched his 1943 earnings to $27,477 yesterday as he won his seventh major tournament in a row, climaxed a poor week in public relations when he failed to show up for the formal presentation of prizes.

Hogan finished the 72-hole, 112,600 tournament with a 170, which was 18 under par for the 72-hole Municipal course, but at the moment didn't seem good enough to win. For back on the 17th tee was Freddie Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, needing only par scores for the last two holes to cop the first prize.

"I can't win," Hogan growled as he came off the 18th green and immediately afterward he left the course and went to his hotel. But the 32-year-old Haas, who had been out to front for two rounds in a battle for his first major or tournament victory in two years as a pro, couldn't stand the pressure and went to pieces on the 17th.

His tee shot was in the rough, and approach shot struck a spectator, and before Haas could get the ball down he had taken five blows, one over par.

That left him needing a birdie on the 18th to tie the Hogan. But the former National College champion couldn't manage that either.

Chapter 2
George Akers lay flat on his back on the bed in his room on the upper floor of the big house. He stared moodily at the ceiling, raised his head when he heard the swift beat of an approaching horse's hoofs. He swung his long legs over the side of the bed, climbed to his feet and sauntered over to the window, whipped the curtain back and peered out. A horseman came swinging around the corral at a gallop, whirled on-ward toward the house.

Cathy Ballard emerged from the cottage and started down the path that led to the house. The man eyed her interestedly... he stepped forward to meet her. George, watching from the window, saw her swerve toward the back door, saw the man intercept her and say something to her. Cathy flushed, pushed past him and went into the house. George frowned... in another moment he was striding down the stairs.

Who's that feller outside?" he asked.
"That's Mister Corbin," she answered over her shoulder.
"Oh," he said. "What's he want here?"
"You," she said simply.
He went out the back way and the door slammed loudly behind him.
"My principal purpose in coming here," Corbin said, "was to talk with you about the ranch."
"You wanna buy it? Why?"
"Why would any man want to buy a ranch?"
"To work it," George answered calmly. "But I can't see you doin' ranchin'."
"Come, come, Akers. Either you want to sell it, or you don't. Now which is it?"
"I won't sell it 't anybody cept a rancher. Besides, I don't like 't do business with anybody I don't like."
"I see," Corbin said slowly. "You don't like me. Is that right?"
"Yep."
Corbin's frown deepened.
"I don't know whether you've been told this or not. I hold the mortgage on the Circle-A."
"Awright... I know it now."
"Interest is due shortly. I take it you'll be ready to pay it?"
"Come around and ask me when it's due."
Cathy came out of the house and trudged up the path to the cottage. Corbin's eyes followed her.
"What'd you say 't her b'fore?" George asked.
"W-h-y, nothing. That is, nothing of importance."
"That's what I figured. Mistef. I understand Tex told you 't stay off the Circle-A. That goes double now."
Corbin turned abruptly, swung himself up astride his horse, wheeled the animal.
"The next time you see Cathy you might remember 't kinda watch your tongue. If you don't, you're liable 't get y'self into a heap o' trouble. Savvy?"
Corbin's lips thinned. He pulled backward suddenly. The loose ends of the reins flashed upward and downward, almost in the same swift movement, and swished across George's face. Corbin whirled his horse around, spurred him, sent him thundering away. George fell against the wall of the house... someone caught him by the arms, steadied him, thrust a jarlet into his hands. The tall youth gripped the coiled rope, broke away from Martin, stepped away from the house. He fumbled with the rope for a moment... in another moment it sprang to life, spun in his hand, shot away with the swing speed of a darting snake. Corbin was some forty feet away when the pursuing noose overtook him. George braced himself on wide-spread legs, jerked his right arm backward and Corbin was lifted out of his saddle and hurled to the ground.

George tossed the rope aside, sprinted out to where the man lay outstretched. Corbin rolled over, struggled to his knees, then to his feet... he freed himself of the loose rope as George reached him. "Why, you..." he said through his teeth and swung viciously at the youth.

George sidestepped nimbly, pivoted and smashed him fully in the face. A terrific, swishing punch that almost tore his head from his shoulders, lifted him off his knees. George stepped back and Corbin toppled over in a limp heap. The Circle-A punchers crowded around the panting youth. He pushed them away, hitched up his belt.

"Get him outta here," he breathed.

Phil Martin, a broad grin of delight and satisfaction on his face, stepped ahead of him when they reached the house, yanked the kitchen door open, held it wide, and followed George inside. Cathy came in at that very hour.

"Sit down," George obeyed. Quickly and deftly she filled a basin with water from a huge pitcher, reached for a bottle on the top shelf of the dish closet. "This will smart," she said. "However, as long as you were able to stand up and fight back after getting your face lashed, you should be able to stand this."

George did not answer. Martin, tongue in cheek, watched the proceedings for another minute, then he backed very quietly to the door, opened it noiselessly and slipped out. He was grinning again when he strode away toward the corral. (To be continued)

James Creech To Enter Death Row

Smithfield, N. C., Aug. 22.—(AP)—One week from today, James R. Creech, 37, member of one of Johnston county's most prominent families, is slated to take his place on death row in Central Prison at Raleigh.

Creech, a farmer and tobaccoist, was found guilty of first degree murder Saturday by a jury which deliberated for only two and one-half hours before convicting him of the shotgun slaying of his wife, Mattie Woodall Creech.

Attorneys for Creech appealed the case, and Judge Olawson Williams gave the prisoner until next Monday to get his affairs in order before the trip to Central Prison. Meanwhile, he will remain in the county jail.

Judge Williams sentenced Creech to die on October 1, but the appeal to the state supreme court will automatically postpone the death date. Mrs. Creech was killed on the night of July 28 by a blast which ripped through a bedroom door. Defense attorneys sought to show during the trial that her husband was temporarily unbalanced mentally because of excessive drink.

SELF-MEDICATION IS DANGEROUS

● The human body is the most complicated mechanism ever created. Not all of its processes are thoroughly understood even by those who devote their lives to a study of them. It is not surprising, therefore, that persons without medical training who attempt to diagnose and prescribe for their own serious ills often do themselves irreparable damage. Have respect for your body. You can never get another. When illnesses comes consult a physician... a licensed M.D. He is a specialist in his line just as we are in the business of filling his prescriptions.

Four Rescued As Yacht Swamped In Heavy Seas

Honolulu, Aug. 22—(AP)—Richard A. Dole, 40, son of Hawaii's pineapple pioneer, and three yachting companions were saved but a fourth was drowned as their 22-foot sailboat was swamped by heavy seas off Diamond head yesterday.

Mrs. Kathleen Burkhalter, 24, of Tuscaloosa, Ala. and San Diego, Calif., died within a few feet of the shore after Samuel Gilbert, Jr., a University of Southern California student, pulled her two miles through the heavy seas.

Dole and Mrs. Marie Akers, 25, of Medina, Wash., both near exhaustion, were fished out of the water by the crew of the yacht Mokuola which was captained by Coast Guard commander Arthur K. Powlison. Mrs. Barbara Steffe, 35, fifth member of the Dole yachting party, swam to shore.

Mrs. Burkhalter could not swim. Gilbert, a former life guard, reached her and set out toward the beach. He said the surf smashed them on a reef and he was injured.

As he and Mrs. Burkhalter reached quieter waters inside the reef, swimmers sighted them and drove their surfboards toward the pair. "All at once," Gilbert said, "she turned purple and collapsed. She fought me all of the way. I guess she swallowed too much water."

After the sloop sank, Mrs. Akers decided she was too exhausted to try to reach shore and Dole said he decided to remain with her. Both merely tried to keep afloat, meanwhile drifting farther from shore.

Powlison reached the area in the Mokuola, which was taking 20 sailors on a coast guard auxiliary training cruise.

Many Divorces Feature Docket Superior Court

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge J. Paul Friselle of Snow Hill is presiding over the one-week civil term of Superior court here this week.

Twenty-two divorce cases were on the calendar for hearing. The better part of today's forenoon session was devoted to hearing of these cases.

The Greene county jurist is scheduled to preside over a one-week criminal term of court here next week. Numerous important cases are on the docket for trial, including one for murder and about a dozen for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Sheriff Continues Investigation of Negro Man's Death

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson is continuing his investigation of the pistol murder of Jasper Clemmons, 45-year-old Negro tenant farmer on the Mason school dirt road in Pactivious township about two weeks ago. Clemmons' body, riddled with five bullets, was found in woods less than 100 feet off the road where his parked car was found, shortly after he was reported missing.

An autopsy ordered by Coroner Griffin H. Rouse was held several days after Clemmons was killed. An inquest will be held when the sheriff completes his investigation, the coroner said.

in college dormitories. The school probably could use the revenue, too. Allowing 100 square feet of living space for each student to be housed, as suggested by the Office of Education, the bill goes up another $4,000,000.

Federal education officials estimate that land, equipment and other beginning essentials would add an extra $6,883,000 to the total. These items would come to about one fourth of the overall figure.

There you have $27,533,000—just for the physical plant to start a university.

Roughly $2,500,000 is allowed for all other initial expenses, including promotion and scouting for teachers. (There'd probably have to be some "raiding" among established schools and industrial laboratories.)

Now the new university could open its doors. If it could meet operating expenses of perhaps $7,500,000 a year, it could keep them open.

Major Industrial . . .

In making his announcement today of the decision to come to Greenville, Mr. Dole was generous in his praise of the state Department of Conservation and Development, W. T. Kyzer, executive secretary of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, and M. R. Long, head of the Greenville Spinners. Secretary Kyzer also expressed thanks to Mr. Long for the part he played in procuring the new industry for Greenville. Mr. Kyzer stated that Mr. Long had several opportunities to leave his property to other industries but cooperated fully in the move to procure the American Corset plant as the most beneficial for Greenville and the community.

In discussing the labor that would be required and the type of work to be done, Mr. Poole stressed the fact that the work would be clean. He pointed out that only the finest materials go into the making of women's foundation garments, from heavy elastics to sheer nylons and laces. He stated that the progress of the production schedules would depend on how quickly the employees could learn the different steps necessary for turning out the company's garments.

Ban On Privies

Newton, Aug. 23—The Newton Board of Aldermen voted unanimously last week to adopt an ordinance banning outdoor privies within the corporate limits and requiring sewer connections for all houses.

On the question of fixing a legal distance from residences for hog pens and other animal shelters the aldermen voted three to three, with Mayor John Abernethy breaking the tie, voting to require that animal shelters within the city limits be placed 300 feet from homes, business houses, and industrial plants.

Grain Market

Chicago, Aug. 23—(AP)—The slump in grains continued on the board of trade today. Practically everything moved lower, which was enough to mean new seasonal lows for a large number of contracts.

Selling was attributed to belief the corn crop will swamp storage facilities, fears over possible revision of the parity-support level next year and doubts as to whether exports will be sufficiently large to maintain prices.

Wheat closer 1½-2½ lower, September $2.17½-2½, corn was 2½-3½ lower, September $1.55½-$1.55. Oats were ½ to 1 cent lower, September 70½-71, rye was 2½-3½ lower, December $1.45½-½, and soy beans were 5 cents lower, November $2.43.

All corn, all oats, all soybeans, all hard and May and July wheat reached new seasonal lows.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Aug. 13—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices steady to stronger. Tops of $29 at Kinston, Tarboro, Rocky Mount, Wilson and Clinton; $28.50 at Greenville, Smithfield, Mt. Olive, Goldsboro, Kinston and Fayetteville.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—Early downward tendencies in the stock market gained momentum later today. Signs of weakness first became pronounced in the oil section and soon spread elsewhere. Sales were around $50,000 shares.
