U. S. Production Continues Climb At Dizzy Speed

Flood of Goods and Services Reaches Annual Rate of $248 Billions

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—If the nation's turnout of goods and services holds to the recent hot pace, it'll amount to a quarter of a trillion dollars a year—and call for higher arithmetic to keep it straight.

The flood of goods produced and services rendered reached the annual rate of $248,000,000,000 (B) in the second quarter of this year, a Commerce department report showed today.

That compares with totals of $231,636,000,000 (B) for the whole of last year and $204,000,000,000 (B) for the year before.

But there were at least a couple of thorns on the rose. The department noted that:

1. A major part of the swollen value merely reflected inflation—higher prices and wages. In consumer goods, especially, value—that is, prices—rose more than the quantity of things produced.

2. Industrial production—the output of factories and mines—was dipping in June as a result of shortages of material. But that was more than offset by increases in the value of farm products and of various services—by doctors, dentists, sales clerks, auto mechanics, etc.

Notable factors entering into the second quarter picture, as reported by the department, included:

Government spending rose more than $2,500,000,000 above the first quarter rate, chiefly due to European aid and state and local outlays for highways and other construction.

Private investment, on the other hand, dropped somewhat, mostly due to a slowdown in the building of business inventories.

A moderate pickup appeared in consumer spending for personal use, which had tightened up some early in the year. Bigger sales of furniture and home appliances, and larger outlays for laundry and shoe repairs were reported.

Consumers had more left to spend after taxes, for one thing. The federal income tax cut which began showing up in May gave them an extra $3,000,000,000 a year to "blow" and still keep over savings at a little higher rate than in the first quarter of 1948.

Twenty-Five New Polio Cases On Today's Listing

Raleigh, Aug. 24—(AP)—Twenty-five more cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the State Board of Health today, and the state's total for the year edged up to 1,670.

Five of today's case reports came from Durham county and four were from Catawba. Guilford reported three cases and two cases each were reported by Buncombe, Cleveland, Craven, Duplin, Gaston and Mecklenburg. A single case was reported by Cabarrus.

Catawba county reported an additional polio death, bringing the death toll for the state's worst polio epidemic to 84.

UN Budget for 1949 Is Outlined

Lake Success, Aug. 24—(AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie asked today for $3,469,587 to operate the United Nations in 1949.

The figure is about a million dollars under the 1948 budget and generally compares with the annual expenditures of states such as Arizona, Idaho, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Lie's figures go before the 57-nation general assembly in Paris next month for approval.

Traffic On Highways

Only Three Years After The War, Highway Traffic Is Heaviest In History; Careful Driving Needed; More Road-Building Is A Must; Roads Cost More Per Mile

By MAX HALL

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—The truck swerved against the line of speeding automobiles. It battered five of them with a series of frightful crashes and overturned on top of a sixth, spilling its load of lumber on the highway. A seventh car creaked into the wreckage.

It happened yesterday near Baltimore. Three people were killed, twelve were injured.

If the groans and screams of those people could have been recorded and broadcast over every radio station in the country, it might have illustrated better than words the seriousness of the highway problem.

This problem is connected with inflation and the housing shortage. Traffic in America, only three years after the war, has become heavier than ever before in our history.

The number of motor vehicles has risen to around 40,000,000. According to government figures, these vehicles traveled the astonishing distance of nearly 18,000,000,000 miles on rural roads in the month of June. That does not include travel in cities and towns.

Traffic this month is even greater. August is probably setting a new record for a single month—nearly 20,000,000,000 miles on rural roads.

Traffic on the highways has more than doubled since the war year 1945.

Tough Political Fight To Win 'Border States'

Republican High Command Aims for Capture of Kentucky and Missouri; Five Other Vital States in Battle Plans

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—Some of the most important political moves in the Presidential campaign shaped up today for seven so-called border states, including President Truman's Missouri home grounds.

An effort to capture Kentucky, which provided the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee in Senator Alben Barkley, apparently runs second only to the assault on Missouri Democrats in the grand strategy of the Republican high command.

Besides Missouri and Kentucky, the Republicans intend to center a lot of their campaign efforts on Maryland, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Tennessee and West Virginia.

These seven states have a combined electoral college vote of 58, only 11 more than New York alone musters, but their capture or loss could spell the difference between victory or defeat for either party if the race between Mr. Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey proves close.

The outcome of a senatorial race in each of the states except Maryland and Missouri—which have no such contest this year—also might determine control of the next senate.

Herbert Brownell, Jr., managing the Dewey-Warren campaign, said:

Pitt Spending Heavily For Improving Schools

Approximately $200,000 is being spent or has been spent during the past three months on Pitt county schools, according to a report from D. H. Conley, superintendent. The largest single expense is at Pocolah where a $122,000 school building is under construction.

Of the money spent in readying the schools for the 1948-49 session, approximately $40,000 came from county funds and the remainder from bond issues in the various school districts. From state funds the county has received 10 new school buses this summer and has purchased three additional new buses.

This year for the first time, the county board of education has accepted the state book rental system whereby high school students in all county schools will be able to rent all books needed for the year's work for $3. The system is not compulsory, however, and students will be allowed to purchase books if they wish.

At the Winterville elementary school, where some $25,000 to $30,000 is being spent on repair work, there has been a renovation of the entire building and the heating plant. The agricultural building and dunch room have been enlarged, new fire escapes built and new toilet fixtures installed. The work is being paid out of bonds issued by the school district.

With $5,000 from the state literary fund the Arthur school has been completely renovated inside and out and new electrical fixtures installed.

At Grimesland a new home for the principal has been built and a Chiodo a new home for the agricultural instructor has been built. Both were paid for out of school district funds.

The Sweet Oak school building has been moved to Grimesland and has become a part of the Pitt County Training School, bringing it to a 15-teacher school. The old Negro school at Winterville has been partially dismantled and part of it moved to the site of the new school where six rooms have been added, bringing the school to a total of 14 rooms.

Other county schools where painting, general repair work and renovating have been done include Farmville, Falkland, Fountain, Belvoir, Bethel, Grim, and Stokes Chiodo, Grifton and Ayden.

All schools of the county system are scheduled to open Tuesday, September 7.

Russians Forbid German Election Until Next Fall

Election In Soviet Zone Is Postponed; Non-Communists Protest Reds Fear Loss

Berlin, Aug. 24—(AP)—Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky announced today that Germans in the Russian zone will not be allowed to hold community elections this fall.

The Russian commander said the voting will be put off for one year. It is the first time in the occupation that one of the four powers has postponed an election.

Sokolovsky issued his order over the protests of the zone's two non-Communist parties—the Conservative Christian Democrats and the Rightist Liberal Democrats. The parties demanded only last week through their press and at open meetings that "in the name of democracy" the people be given a chance to vote.

Non-Communist leaders have claimed the Communists want the elections put off because they feared they would suffer a severe defeat. The Communists have claimed the people are "too busy working for recovery" to vote.

The Soviet zone is controlled both politically and economically by the Soviet- and Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party (SED).

The postponement of elections in their zone also indicated the Russians would oppose holding new municipal elections in Berlin this October. The Socialist Unity Party, which ran a poor third in the 1946 Berlin voting, already has indicated opposition to new elections here.

Sokolovsky promised that the local elections would be held together with district and state balloting in the fall of 1949.

A Week's Delay

Opening of Pitt county schools has been postponed one week, Superintendent D. H. Conley announced today. The decision to open schools on Tuesday Sept. 7 instead of August 31 came late yesterday when the board of education decided in favor of the precautionary measure.

Members of the board of education, after consulting doctors in the county, decided delaying the school's opening would be advisable although there is no immediate danger of more polio in Pitt County at the present time.

There have been only three polio cases reported in the county this summer and no cases reported in the last two weeks. All three reported cases were isolated.

Plan to Continue Moscow Meetings

General Area of Agreement Reached in Long Kremlin Talks Last Night; Four Powers May Issue Progress Report

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Aug. 24—(AP)—A qualified source said the western envoys and Russia have reached a general area of agreement during talks climaxed early today by a four-hour and forty-minute Kremlin interview with Prime Minister Stalin.

The informant said technicalities lie ahead for adjustment but that these are not trifles and will require considerable negotiation.

U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith emerged from the Kremlin in a buoyant mood and declared "We're going to have more meetings." He added later:

"We're always optimistic. We expect the best and prepare for the worst."

The envoys have been trying since July to find basis for lifting the land blockade Russia imposed on Berlin and for four power talks on Germany and perhaps other problems in Europe.

The informant said the seven Kremlin conference, two of which included Stalin, have a "fair" chance of resulting in a solid agreement. He said prospects are far better today than they were at this time yesterday before Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chateignaux and British Envoy Frank Roberts saw Stalin.

"Some progress" has been made, the source said.

He declared there is no cause for pessimism.

The source said the western powers and the Soviets now have reduced their terms to the "lowest denominator." Had no progress been made last night and early today, he added, the current series of conversations would have ended.

It had been stated on good authority before the meeting last night that the session would be the last.

(White Hall sources in London said Stalin introduced a certain "new idea" which offer hope for an east-west settlement in Berlin. The introduction of these unexpected new thoughts dispelled fears that the diplomatic exchanges would break down, the informants said. They added that prolongation of the Moscow negotiations averted a potentially explosive international situation, at least temporarily.)

It was stressed that despite the length of the talks, the delicacy of the subject and the frankness exhibited by both Stalin and the western diplomats, there has been no loss of temper. The conversations have been correct and polite.

Indications here were that the four powers may issue a public statement shortly on the talks.

It is not definitely known whether this will be tonight or tomorrow or the next day. It is obvious there must be conversations in the four capitals. There is little indication of how much ground the announcement will cover, but it is reported it should be sufficiently substantial to put at rest some of the rumors circulating around the world.

Craft-Dail Vows Spoken Saturday

Miss Elizabeth Anne Dall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robert Dall of Kenansville, became the bride of Mr. William Earl Craft, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Craft of Greenville, on Saturday afternoon, August 14, at five-thirty, in the Kenansville Baptist Church. The Reverend Mr. John M. Cline assisted by the Reverend Mr. Lauren A. Sharpe officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Henry M. West, Jr., pianist, and Mrs. Walter Stroud, soloist, who sang "Till the End of Time," "Because" and "Prayer Perfect."

A background of longleaf pine interspersed with standing baskets of white gladioli and asters; branched and arched candelabra with white tapers formed the altar before which the vows were taken. Dainty fern clusters outlined the balcony of the church and white bows of satin marked the pews.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was gowned in white satin fashioned with a yoke of nylon net which formed an off-the-shoulder neckline edged with a scalloped border of heirloom lace. The long sleeves buttoned tightly at the wrist, ended in lace points at the fingertips. The full skirt extended into a court train bordered also in heirloom lace. She wore a veil of French illusion which fell from a cap of lace trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a nosegay of roses showered with stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Donald F. Snider, of Cleveland, Ohio, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor and only attendant. She was gowned in a sky blue taffeta dress with buffant skirt. Her bonnet was of matching tulle and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty Roses.

Little Nancy Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adams of Carolina Beach, was flower girl. She wore a blue satin dress with off-the-shoulder neckline, fitted bodice and full bouffant skirt with a dainty bustle. Her matching bonnet with French streamers was trimmed in forget-me-nots. On her arm she carried a basket of rose petals showered with matching ribbons.

Master Robert Lee Stafford, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer. He was dressed in a white gabardine suit. Clinton Joyner of Greenville was the groom's best man and ushers were Donald F. Snider of Cleveland, Ohio, and Virgil Clark of Greenville.

The mother of the bride chose for the wedding a gown of dusty rose with gold accessories. She wore a corsage of tallmatt roses. Mrs. Craft was attired in a dress of tulle print with matching accessories and white roses.

After the reception, the couple left on a trip to Williamsburg, Va. The bride wore for travelling, a brown and white Bandmacher suit with brown accessories and the orchid from her nosegay.

Mrs. Craft, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Dall of Kenansville, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac F. Ormond of Goldsboro, a prominent family of Wayne county, graduated from high school at Pineand College and received her B. S. degree at East Carolina Teachers College. Mr. Craft is the son of a prominent family of the county, and also attended law school at Wake Forest. He will receive his degree next year. The couple will make their home in Youngsville, N. C.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Woman's Club building. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wells of Cannon and introduced to the receiving line, which was composed of the members of the wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom, by Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Boney.

Graceful long leaf pines with standing baskets of white gladioli and asters placed intermittently among the green, made a lovely setting for the room which was centered with a long table covered with a white grass linen cloth. Gracing the center of the table was a three tiered wedding cake with miniature bride and groom which was surrounded by dainty white flowers and fern. Silver candelabra with burning white tapers were on each side of the cake. At one end of the table, Mrs. P. J. Dobson poured punch and served individual bridal cakes. Nuts and mints were served by Miss Margaret Williams and Mrs. D. H. McKay, assisted by Misses Theresa Gooding, Janet Boney, Theo. H. Hinesworth and Betty Whitfield.

Dr. and Mrs. G. V. Gooding were at the gift table and Mrs. Doris Fulgood presided at the bride's book. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams. During the reception, music was furnished by Mrs. J. G. Morrison at the piano.

Cake Cutting
On Friday evening after the rehearsal, Miss Theresa Gooding and Mrs. Leo Jackson entertained at a cake cutting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. V. Gooding. Guests were greeted by Miss Gooding and directed to the dining room by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jackson. Mixed flowers were used in the reception hall and garden in the living room and dining room a most effective color scheme of all white was carried out. White gladioli and carnations were used on the mantels and tables with white burning candles interspersed. The dining room table was covered with an imported hand embroidered cloth with a unique center of white tapers and white gladioli forming a fairy-like mound. A four-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride's cake decorated with dainty rose-buds, was at one end of the table, and after the bride cut the first slice the cake was served by her mother, Mrs. Lee Edwards of Kinston presided at the punch bowl which was arranged at the other end of the table. Nuts and dainty "flower mints" were served by Misses Theo. Hinesworth, Janet Boney and Jean Tyndall. Mrs. D. S. Willlamson presided at the bride's register.

Dinner Party

For years after the Latin screen idol's death a black-clad woman appeared every Aug. 23 and deposited flowers at his grave. One year the press agents got their wires crossed and two women attired in black showed up.

Strength FOR THE DAY

LOSING LIFE AND FINDING IT

Some years ago in the settlement of an estate, a middle-aged woman agreed to take as part of her share a piece of land in the middle West, which both she and the other heirs regarded as practically worthless. In the end it turned out to be quite valuable, for oil was discovered on the land.

There is a widespread notion that if people will be diligent enough in looking out for their own best interests, they will always come out on top. But this is not always true—in fact it is seldom true. The selfish individual works against forces in the universe which are going in a direction quite opposite to the one he pursues. On the other hand, the unselfish are caught up in a cosmic stream of events which tends to convey them to satisfactions and achievements far beyond their expectations.

Jesus expressed this principle by declaring that whosoever would save his life would lose it and whosoever would lose (or surrender) his life would find it in satisfying abundance. Winston Churchill expressed the same thing when he said that no one is ever in a position to know what his best interests really are, but if he does right they will certainly be served.

BETTER LIVING FOR YOU, YOU AND YOU!

Yesterday's Reflector carried two news items that must have impressed many local people with the prosperity and go-getting spirit that can exist in a small town.

One story compared Greenville's prosperity with the rest of the country, showing family income and retail sales far above the national and State average; placing Greenville in a "Quality of Market Index" thirty percent above the average in buying potential.

We feel that we can afford a little pride in the economic standards of 1947. Topping last year's marks will take some doing, but the second story told (in part) how it could be accomplished.

The second news item (and we count it the more important because it holds so much promise for the future), told of a new and important industry coming to Greenville.

The manufacturing company which will settle here means year-round employment for a good number of workers; and because the work is specialized, it will mean a higher average wage for the employees. In turn this will affect the community's average income and buying power. Retailers and all forms of business stand to benefit.

Greenville will not be the sole beneficiary from the coming of a new business. All of Pitt County will share in the advantages it will mean, in one way or another.

A lot of credit is due to the Greenville Chamber of Commerce for its endeavors in inducing the firm to locate here. They, and North Carolina, were competing with forty-seven other states who would have liked to reap the benefits entailed.

Boyle's Column

By ARTHUR EDSON (For HAL BOYLE)

Washington —(P)— A Congressman's lot is not a happy one.

Oh, it looks nice enough, on paper. Salary, $12,500 a year. Expense money, $2,500, tax free. More expense money for hired help. More for stationery. More for travel allowance. Then it must be run going home, the big frog in the local political puddle.

But after talking with Congressmen on this subject, I have reached this conclusion:

The Senate? Well, if you insist. That lot lasts for six years.

The House? Sorry, I've already taken a job as a plumber's helper's helper.

All 435 Representatives must be elected this fall. The competition, in most districts, has been intense.

Why?

The alleged lucky fellow who gets the election has the job for only two years. How would you like to have your job open to all comers every two years?

How would you like to have to campaign—an expensive operation—over a Congressional district in an attempt to prove that you're still the logical man, that you should keep the job?

How would you like the decision to rest, finally, on many people who will vote against you, not because you are unfit, but because of prejudice, or because of ignorance?

One the other hand, it isn't flattering to know that many who voted for you didn't do so because they thought you were fit, but because of prejudice, or because of ignorance.

But you get the job. Here are some expenses you may have overlooked:

For appearance's sake, it's best to keep your house in the home district. You'll have to keep another place here, of course, and places in Washington are hard to find and expensive.

Those wonderful speeches you'll make. You'll want the voters to

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

POLIO—Nobody will ever know what the polio epidemic cost North Carolina. The tragic results incident to grief and worry for families, lost time from work, hospital bills incurred, and similar items cannot be evaluated. But an authoritative source has fixed the probable loss in cash revenue to the state in tourist business alone at a minimum of forty million dollars. Less authoritative estimates range as high as a hundred millions.

LOSS—After a swing through the western part of the state and a check of coastal resorts, Bill Sharpe, director of the state news-advertising bureau, said "distressing economic consequences have resulted from polio."

Here are some of his findings: On a drive along US 64 from Morganton to Murphy he did not see a single "No vacancy" sign at a motor court; usually such signs appear early in the afternoon during August. Last August, and for other years before and since the war, occupancy of motor courts and tourist hotels was a hundred percent of capacity; during the second week in August this year it ranged from 10 to 50 percent.

EMPTY—One mountain place with capacity for 80 guests had eight. A large hotel had 40 patrons—and 64 employees to serve them. Another which can take care of 60 people and last year was overrun during August, had not a single registration on the day Sharpe visited it. Several other places have let employees go, and even the families of the owner-operators are not kept busy with the small clientele. Beach resorts have not been so hard hit, although business has been off considerably from last year, and even more from anticipated patronage this season. Several beach places report good weekend trade, but a slack business during the week.

Absence of children and teen-agers has been noted at all points throughout the resort areas of the state. This fact has hit the playground and souvenir activities a hard blow.

GENERAL—The loss incident to slack tourist business is not confined to hotels, motor courts and eating places. They may have suffered more, but it has affected all lines of business in every part of the state. Sharpe has collected data tending to show that the average traveler in the state spends about seven dollars a day. Half of that goes for bed and food, the other half for incidentals such as gasoline, souvenirs, car repairs, and what have you. One Asheville department store reported that although business has been just about equal to last year, the fact he had anticipated much more trade and so had laid in big stocks of merchandise, meant he would have to take a heavy loss.

ALL OVER—Not only in all lines of business but at all points on the map, the polio scare has cut down trade. One filling station man in Raleigh reports that whereas his average service involves 100 out of state cars a day, his late July and August business has been about ten cars a day. This means a loss of $200 a day in gross business. Similar conditions are reported from many points along the main arteries of travel through the state. The loss is reflected not only in receipts of the operators, but in gasoline and sales tax collections for the state treasury.

RECOUPING—Sharpe said the state advertising bureau is launching an intensive fall campaign with the hope of recouping a part of this lost business. Complete recovery is admittedly impossible and the influence upon next year's activities also occasions concern. Some places which started the 1948 season with high hopes have gone broke and may not reopen next year. Others may attempt operation on smaller scale and with reduced personnel, resulting in unsatisfactory service to patrons. The long range effect of that policy is easy to see.

Birds are very well insulated in their dense plumage and have no sweat glands.

The definition of a dog is not of a dictionary but of a heart—a human heart. A dog is the one selfish world, someone who always understands when a person has a tear in his eye, "someone to romp with and talk to."

Thursday morning I was a worried heartick little boy who stopped playing cowboy and sat on the front steps of his home to think. (Where was Tippy? To some, Tippy was only a small brown Cocker Spaniel, but to that boy, he was a best friend—the other cowboy when he played Roy Rogers, the other Indian stalking food in an imaginary forest, the other person in the greatest nation of all—his imagination. The little boy put his head in his hands and murmured, "Dear God, make my Tippy all right." That worried little boy was my son. His prayer was not answered—his Tip was not coming home to romp with him again. He was then lying dead, shot by a policeman, champion of the people, defender of the rights and privileges guaranteed to the citizens of this country under the Bill of Rights.

(This dog, my property, was wearing at the time he was shot a licensed collar and a tag specifying that he had been vaccinated for rabies.)

If the policeman who shot Tippy had been fulfilling his duty as a true officer of the law, he would have found this proof of the dog's immunity to rabies. When I, feeling the need of civic authority, called the Mayor of the city, I was told that he would rather see all the dogs in Greenville dead than to see one child dead of rabies. I feel likewise. All Cops (But when I have paid taxes to the city of Greenville for the opportunity to own a dog and have the protection of the police, and when I have immunized my dog against rabies, it is the duty of the police to grant me this protection.

It was heart-rending to hear my son say, "But, Daddy, I thought policemen were good." As law-abiding citizens I do not want my boy to hold bitterness towards the police force. I wished with all my heart I could have said, "Son, they just picked him up in a net and took him to the pound." The Found—there is no pound.
All COPS
(Citizens of Greenville, I make this challenge to you. It is in your hands that the fate of your dogs lie. If you would not have your child heartbroken or your property rights violated, either see that policeman more diligent in performing their duty or better still, see that your dog taxes are put to worthwhile use by providing a dog pound and equipment with which to keep it up.
If you, the folks I have known for 25 years, have the sort of hearts I know you have you will answer this challenge if only for the reason that one small boy prayed, "Dear God, make my Tippy all right."

One man's plea will not bring any change about. However, if numbers of citizens demand their own rights and insist on fair treatment to dogs, man's best friends, by writing to the paper or to the Police Department, or even to the Mayor, this may save your dog. Do you want him to be next? Think up to you—

Entries To City Slated To Get Big Improvements

Major improvements on two highways forming main entrances to Greenville will get underway in the near future according to an announcement made by Highway Commissioner John G. Clark today.

Dickinson avenue and West Fifth street will be widened considerably by the state highway department to facilitate the flow of traffic into and out of the city. Contracts for the improvements will be let in Raleigh next month.

West Fifth street from the Albee-Marie intersection to beyond the Negro high school will be made into a 36 foot highway. Dickinson avenue from the Atlantic Coast Line railroad west will be widened as much as possible and still maintain sufficient sidewalk space.

The city already has had the trees along Dickinson cut so there will be no delay in construction when the highway department is ready to begin. Mayor J. H. Boyd has requested the Greenville Utilities Commission and the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company to replace their present lines on the avenue with underground wiring or move them to another street.

Martin Swartz, chairman of the city utilities, has indicated that the commission will comply with the request if the telephone company does likewise, and even if the telephone company does not install underground lines, the city power lines may be transferred from Dickinson avenue to Chestnut street.

Eastern Market Prices Improve

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 24—(P)—Higher prices characterized sales on Eastern North Carolina tobacco markets yesterday but on the border belt they were irregular.

The price average for the Eastern belt sales jumped from $1 to $5 over Friday's sales. The U. S. and N. C. Departments of Agriculture said strengthened demand for low to medium lugs and primings brought increases of $2 to $5 and good lemon cutters hit a seasonal high of $67.

Heavy sales were seen on border belt markets, several of which were unable to clear floors. Changes in leaf and nondescript grades ranged from $1 to $4. Most cuttings, lugs and smoking leaf were fairly steady at Friday's prices, except for common orange smoking leaf which jumped $4.

Rotary Governor Visits Local Club

By WYATT BROWN

The gap between material, scientific advance and the lagging ethical, spiritual advances in recent years can be closed by the practice of Rotary ideals, Jean P. Booth of Kingston, district governor of Rotary district 138, declared last night to the Greenville Rotarians on the occasion of his official visit to the club. He urged the using of the principles, for in so doing they become more real and usable.

The closer we get to men—locally as well as internationally—the more readily we recognize them as "brothers," the district governor said in his message on international service.

Next he urged the practicing of the Rotary object of vocational service which he said might be called "Rotary for times like these." The moral tenets of Rotary are similar to the tenets of the Sermon on the Mount, he brought out. He emphasized the fact that materialistic advance and scientific discoveries would not solve the complexities the world faces today but Rotary principles can help to close the gap.

In concluding his address, District Governor Booth challenged his fellow-Rotarians with, "In similar measure that we put ourselves into the ideal of Rotary, in like measure will we get good out of it." The speaker was generous in his praise of the local club's record.

Guests of the club were Ralph Smiley, Murray House and Henry Covington of Raleigh. Visiting Rotarians were Lebrun Spence of Melbourne, Fla., George Carter of Kingston, and Ralph Hardee of Ayden. Ernest L. Willard, club president, presided and introduced the speaker of the evening.

Safety Exits In Mine Saved 20 After Cave-In

Marysville, Mont., Aug. 24—(P)—Twenty miners, using recently completed safety exits, escaped injury in a cave-in at the Drumblummon Gold mine yesterday.

The day shift at the Rainbow Mining Company's mine got out on ladders or were pulled up on ropes from the emergency exits when the main shaft caved in.

W. R. Wade, company partner, said the men were working below the 700-foot level when 50 feet of the mine track bed collapsed on the 400-foot level. The crew escaped through "safety manways which were completed two months ago," Wade said.

Tars Romp To Lopsided Win Against Greenies

Homer By Harrison Saves Locals From Shutout; Carter, Stott and Kee Get Two Hits Apiece But Runs Lacking

By BERT MOYE

Manager Bull Hamons and his league-leading Tarboro Tars romped to an 11-1 victory over the Greenies last night in Tarboro as Eddie Smith scattered 10-hits among the Greenies.

Rookie George Harrison held the Tars to three hits and scores for the first four frames last night but the Tars came back in the last four frames to put across 11 runs by scoring two runs in the fifth on two walks, a sacrifice, hit and an error; two runs in the sixth on two singles, a triple and a sacrifice; a singleton in the seventh frame on two hits and an error and had their big frame in the eighth when they scored six runs on three hits, an error and five walks.

For the third time this season a homer saved the Greenies from being shut-out. Last night it was Pitcher Harrison who homered over the left field wall in the third frame to put the Greenies out front, a lead which they maintained until the top of the fifth frame. Incidentally, the Greenies have hit a homer in their last three games played.

The Greenies used two hurlers with starter Harrison being credited with the loss, his third of the season. Harrison pitched the first seven frames in which he allowed 11 hits, 10 runs and walked nine men. Ken Brooks relieved him to pitch the final eighth frame and allowed one run, one hit and three walks.

Townes, Komanecky, Richards, and Urban each contributed two hits to the Tarboro attack.

Moe Carter, Grady Stott and Kelly Kee with hits each led the 10-hit attack of Smith, who struck out a total of six men and walked nine.

The Greenies will play the Goldsboro Goldbugs here tonight and this game will mark the final appearance of the Bugs here this season. On Wednesday night the Greenies have a twin bill when they meet the Bugs over in Goldsboro.

Top Hitters In National League Are Left Handed

New York, Aug. 24—(AP)—Led by Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, left-handed hitters are dominating the race for National League batting honors.

Only three of the circuit's top ten hitters are right-handed batters. The orthodox swingers in the first ten are Alvin Dark of Boston, Andy Pafko of Chicago, and Sid Gordon of New York.

Musial, including Sunday's games, was belting opposition hurling at a .384 clip, three points above his average of a week ago.

Dark, the rookie Brave shortstop is second at .335 with Pafko third at .333 and Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia fourth at .322. Tommy Holmes of Boston is fifth at .318.

A body must create two forces if it is to fly: lift to overcome gravity, and forward propulsion to overcome drag.

Woodcock, Mills, Patched Up; May Be Ring Formula

By BILL MacKILLIN

London, Aug. 24—(AP)—Britain's indoor winter boxing season opens next month with promoter Jack Solomons pinning his hopes for a fat season on two ring cripples.

They are heavyweight Bruce Woodcock, whose jaw was fractured 17 months ago, and Freddie Mills, the world light heavyweight champion, who has a couple of floating bones in his back.

If those old favorites can be taped up to hold together for 15 rounds a few times this winter, it looks like a great season for the fans, who are still lapping up boxing at the fanciest prices in the world.

Who knows but that Woodcock may win the world heavyweight title fight here next year? If your impulse is to call us looney, think back on how dismal were the prospects of Mills winning his world crown 12 months ago. Yet he up and did it July 26 at White City stadium.

Woodcock will top the bill on the opening show at Harringay Arena Sept. 21 against an opponent from the United States. From then on Solomons is arranging fortnightly cards, alternating between Harringay and Royal Albert Hall.

It is an old formula he has employed successfully since he moved from an east end fish market to a Piccadilly boxing office after the war. Only Ben Smith has made an effort to challenge Solomons as the leading London promoter, but his shows are infrequent.

Woodcock's comeback will answer the question whether the British champion was permanently injured when Joe Baksi hammered him into submission in April 1947. Bruce has been in a hospital or resting ever since. He has put on weight and vows he is fit.

If he can demonstrate the old Woodcock punch—and win—Solomons was the trump card to produce when world champion Joe Louis executes his retirement papers in cember. Then Solomons intends to import a leading U. S. heavy to oppose Woodcock and bill it for the "World championship."

Citation Facing Competition At American Derby

Chicago, Aug. 24—(AP)—With an eight-horse field in prospect, headed by Calumet Farm's brilliant Citation, the American Derby at Washington Park Saturday will gross $91,750, with a winner's grab of $69,450.

King Ranch disclosed yesterday that its Better Self would take a crack at Citation in the rich mile and a quarter stake. Better Self runner-up in its last start to Ace Admiral in the Travers Stake at Saratoga has won two stakes this year, the Paumonok and Yankee Handicaps.

Other probable starters in the derby are Calumet's Free America, Papa Redbird, winner of the Arlington classic, Sky Guy, Loujac, Volcanic and Piet.

Villanova Eleven Found In Shape

Villanova, Pa., Aug. 24—(AP)—Head Coach Jordan Oliver found his Villanova Wildcats in fine physical condition when they reported yesterday.

"We should be ready for heavy work right soon," said Oliver after looking over a squad of 46, including 20 lettermen.

The Wildcats open the local gridiron season Sept. 18 against the Texas Aggies.

His Model Jet Plane Was Second In Test

Detroit, Aug. 24—(P)—Thomas Baker of Kings Mountain, N. C., placed second in the senior jet propelled control line speed event in the international model plane contest.

Boston's Jack Kramer assumed the pitching leadership with a .778 percentage on a 14-won, 4-lost record. Philadelphia's Lou Brissie continued as the top strikeout artist with 112.

The great daughter of Challenger II, Gallorette will quit the racing strip the greatest money winning mare of all time. She is now in seventh place behind Stymlie, Armed, Assault, Whirlaway, Citation and Seabiscuit, with earnings of $415,085.

Raeferd, Aug. 24—(AP)—Jake Austin of Raeferd tells: Raeferd's baseball team scheduled a game with a club from Kannapolis. They decided to print posters to advertise the game, but nobody knew how to spell Kannapolis.

Then one of the players had an inspiration: He said they ought to get by by advertising that the visiting squad was from Charlotte. Everybody agreed that was a fine idea.

The posters were printed. They read: "Baseball—Raeferd vs. Charlotte."

A Matter of Spelling

Philadelphia, Aug. 24—(AP)—One man doesn't make a major league baseball team, but the loss of a single player can play havoc with a club's chances in a hot pennant battle.

The Philadelphia Athletics are ready to attest to the truth of that statement.

The player involved is shortstop Eddie Joost, who injured his throwing hand sliding into third base at St. Louis two weeks ago and hasn't been able to play his usual brand of ball since then.

The results of Joost's misfortune is evident in the A's performance in the last fortnight. From a lofty first place position, the A's have slid to fourth, three games behind the front running Cleveland Indians.

In their last 12 starts since their recent western road trip, the Mackmen have dropped seven while winning five—losing three straight to the New York Yankees over the weekend. In those three contests the A's made just 14 base hits and two runs, one of the tallies a homer by second baseman Pete Suder.

In their last five games, the A's Athletics—one of the junior circuit's top defensive clubs—have committed seven errors.

One of those misplays was by Joost himself on Sunday when he tried his sliding hand against the Yankees.

In the Sunday game—won by the New Yorkers 10-0—Joost let the ball slip from his throwing hand as he started what appeared a certain double play.

Fayetteville, Aug. 24—(AP)—Stunt flyer Carl Dunn of Wilmington lost his life yesterday in the crash of his German biplane a few minutes after he took off from the local airport.

The plane hit a thicket and burned but two farmers, A. E. Tolar and Wilbur Baker, pulled Dunn from the wreckage before the flames consumed the airship.

Dunn had appeared in airshows and other exhibitions throughout the state.

Braves Down Brooklyn, Now Take On Cardinals

By RALPH RODEN Associated Press Sports Writer The Boston Braves, following the battle plan of the old New York Yankees of knocking off the closest rival, take on the runner-up Cardinals in St. Louis tonight after successfully disposing of a Brooklyn bid for their league leadership.

Billy Southworth's hustling Braves cooled off the Dodgers, 3-2, in 14 innings yesterday to win the series, three games to one.

The loss dropped the Dodgers into third place, the idle Cardinals taking over second, two-and-one-half games behind the Braves.

However, the picture is not so bright for Boston against the Red Birds. The Cardinals have showed the Braves around recently, winning eight out of their last ten games.

Both teams have their pitching ace primed for the two game series. Boston righthander Johnny Sain has been nominated to face the Cards tonight with Harry (The cat) Brecheen, clever southpaw, as his opponent. Brecheen has beaten the Braves three times in four decisions while Sain has won three and lost four against St. Louis.

The second game, tomorrow night, probably will be a duel between lefty Warren Spahn of Boston and portly St. Louis Howie Pollet of St. Louis.

Spahn has won and lost two games against the Cards while Pollet has beaten Boston twice and lost to the Braves once.

Before $2,499 fans at Brooklyn yesterday, the Braves won out in the 14th when Phil Mast and Connie Ryan socked consecutive doubles against Rex Barney, fourth Dodger hurler.

Mike McCormick sent the game into overtime when he belted Paul Minter's first pitch into the lower left field stands in the eighth inning. The blow was McCormick's first homer of the year and it tied the score at 2-2.

Trapshooters In Gruelling Grind

Vandalla, O., Aug. 24—(P)—The toughest test in trapdom—the 200-target 16-yard North American championship—is up for decision today at the 49th Grand American.

A star-studded field of about 1,000 men and women was slated to face the traps for the gruelling grind.

Defending the women's championship will be Mrs. Lela Hall Frank. The crackshot from Sierra Madre, Calif., winner of the title seven times since 1935.

Cliff Doughman of Morrow, Ohio, is defending king in the men's division—he broke the entire 200 a year ago.

Larry Holmes, Rocky Mount hurler has set a Coastal Plain League pitching record this season. . . . Herb May, the Jay's outfielder, has been turned over to Greensboro of the Carolina League. . . . Rocky Mount Leafs at present time have two players on the injured list they being Fowler, catcher and Manager Turkey Tyson. . . . Deadline for rosters, eligible for play offs was last night. . . .

From Dick Herbert's column in today's News and Observer we find the following items. . . . R. E. Frye of Washington, N. C. writes to put in a plug for the umpires at the game in Greenville on the night of August 16th and to deride the lack of sportsmanship shown by three unknown hecklers who sat behind home plate. He says in part: "What Greenville needs is a ball club and not hecklers like those birds in the grandstand last night."

The home run hit by Wally Moses of the Red Sox into the right field stands at Comiskey Park in Chicago in the nightcap, August 8, was the first of the season for Moses, who had 84 to his credit during his major league career of 13 seasons.

After hitting safely in 12 straight games after joining the Browns from Toledo of the American Association First baseman Hank Airt was stopped by Dick Fowler and Charlie Harris, August 8. The rookie was held hitless in four trips.

Making 157 hits in 104 games to August 13, Stan Musial, by upping his pace slightly, could smash two records this season—George Sisler's and the league's high of 254, held by Lefty O'Doul and Bill Terry.

Two passes received by Bob Elliott of the Braves in the game with the Cubs, August 8, boosted his total for the season to 100. This is the high mark in the Brave star's career, having drawn only 60 walks while hitting .317 last season.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Chapter 3
It was an hour or two later, George, feeling considerable annoyed with things, and unable to smell anything but the cleansing vinegar that Cathy had used on him so liberally, was straddling an up-ended box near the corral when the rumble of approaching wagon wheels filled the air. He turned his head . . . a wagon drawn by two galloping horses came whirling around the corral, took the turn toward the house on just two wheels, flaked and past him and pulled up presently almost within reach of the back door. He had caught a fleeting glimpse of the wagon's occupants, a be-mustached man with a scowling face and a pretty young woman. He turned his head, saw them alight. In another moment the wagon rumbled off again. Cathy came out of the house . . . she cried out delightedly, caught the young woman in her arms, and hugged her. For another moment the two talked excitedly, then they turned and went inside.

It was probably half an hour later when George mounted the stairs to the upper floor, turned toward his room . . . he stopped abruptly and raised his head. Framed in the open doorway of the room directly opposite his own room was the pretty, young woman who had arrived earlier. She was smiling at him. She was the prettiest woman he had ever seen.

"Hello," she said brightly.
"Huh?" he said. "O-h, h'lo."
She sniffed suddenly.
"Vinegar!" she exclaimed and made a wry face. "It . . . it's awful, isn't it?"
"Yeah, reckon it is," he answered sheepishly and colored. "Got the doggone thing all over me, too."
"Oh!" she said quickly. "That's why the smell grew stronger. It was you coming upstairs."
He frowned, turned toward his door.
"You're . . . you're George, aren't you?" she asked. "George Akers?"
"That's right," he said over his shoulder.
"I'm Gay Hollis, Cathy's sister."
"Oh, yeah. Seems 't me Cathy did say somethin' about havin' a sister. I think she said you were livin' in Texas."
"I don't live there any more."
"Moved, eh?"
"Well, yes. You see, I've lost my husband, and now that I'm all alone, I've decided my rightful place is here with Cathy. She needs someone to look after her, you know."
"Sure," he said quickly.
"Then . . . then you aren't angry with me for simply moving in on you without warning?" she asked almost timidly.
"Course not," he said assuringly. "This house is bigger'n a barn. Got plenty o' room here fr you and then some."
She smiled up at him brightly again . . . there were tears in her eyes.
"Thank you," she said simply.
"Heck," he said with an embarrassed grin. "Forget it."
His eyes fell before hers . . . he turned away quickly, awkwardly, and went into his own room. The door closed behind him and in that instant Gay's tears vanished. She smiled a strange smile, stepped back inside and closed her door.
When Phil and Uetie Martin came to the Circle-A, Phil to take over the duties of ranch foreman, and NeTtie to make a home for them, there was a handful of punchers idling in front of the bunkhouse. The men had been told about Phil; they glanced at him appraisingly, then their eyes shifted to one to Mrs. Martin.
"Not bad," one man said as he spat out a mouthful of tobacco juice.
"Oh, I dunno," another man answered after a full minute's deliberation and study of the lady in question. "She's alright, I suppose, if you like 'em lean."
Nettie was thirty . . . Phil was twenty-seven. She had known him for more than ten years when he asked her to marry him. Woman-like, Nettie asked for time to think it over, although her answer was on the tip of her tongue even before he came to the end of his stumbling, awkwardly worded proposal. Nettie knew it would never do to accept him at once . . . accordingly she waited an hour, then she strode briskly up to Phil's cabin and called him out, smiled at him when he emerged, stepped up to him, kissed him on the cheek and blushed fittingly. Actually, that was all there was to it. Shortly after, they drove in Phil's wagon to a neighboring town, routed an old Judge out his bed, and were married. Phil blushed and stammered in his answers, but Nettie was calm and collected, as though marriage ceremonies were every day happenings in her life.

Now it was many months later. Tex Akers was dead, buried, and in his place as owner was lanky George Akers. Nettie was standing midway between the cottage and the 'big' house. There was a warm glow of satisfaction within Nettie . . . Cathy was finally vacating the cottage in favor of Nettie and Phil. As Nettie waited, Cathy her arms filled with things that ranged from dresses to pots and pans, came out of the cottage, called past Nettie without so much as a glance in her direction, stalked down the path and swept into the house. A minute later George Akers sauntered out. Nettie had already decided that it was about time that she and her husband's new employer talked things over. She squared her slender shoulders and started toward him at her usual brisk pace, stopped abruptly when Gay Hollis came out of the house. Nettie eyed her and frowned. Her frown deepened when she saw Gay overtake George and stop him. As Nettie watched, they talked and laughed. Perhaps it was womanly intuition or instinct . . . whatever it was, Nettie instantly decided that Gay Hollis was just another way for spelling trouble. When Phil came striding up to them from the corral, Nettie's thoughts were troubled. They talked for a minute, then the three of them strolled off. Nettie turned away slowly.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food in a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may cause sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is unusually effective in increasing the flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia - so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the best of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps build Steady Health.

The Importance of Teeth

Teeth play an all important part in the physical development of youngsters as they can be, even at an early age, a source of serious trouble. Your dentist through the use of X-Ray and other modern developments can detect cavities and malformations that are invisible to the naked eye. Protect your children's health by having their teeth inspected regularly by your family dentist.

Important Docket In Police Court

By CHESTER ALLEN

In Police court yesterday, Judge J. W. H. Roberts found Jesse Ray Daniels, colored, guilty of driving drunk, driving a motor vehicle after his driver's license was revoked, and for carrying a concealed weapon, a pistol. The court gave him six months on the roads on all three charges.

Ashley B. Allen Died Last Night

Ashley B. Allen, 42, who was injured by a truck in which he had hitchhiked a ride home Saturday night, near the baseball park, and was seriously injured, died at Pitt General hospital last night about 11 o'clock. The body is at the Greenville Funeral Home on Dickinson Avenue.

State Highway Patrolman Dick Chadwick, who investigated the accident, said Lonnie Staton, poultry dealer, took Allen home in his pickup truck. Allen stepped out of the vehicle in front of his home, then walked into its path as it was turning and the truck struck him. He was taken to the hospital. The patrolman said his investigation indicated that the driver was not to blame.

Calls It Quits

King, N. C., Aug. 24—(AP)—Toby, the barking paper deliverer, has retired for reasons known only to dogs.

For the last seven years he had made his home with six different boys as they took over delivery of the Winston-Salem newspapers in King. Toby knew the route by heart, and when he barked the new boy knew a paper should be thrown on that porch.

But the other day Toby started off on the route, changed his mind for the first time in seven years, and called it quits. He trotted off to the home of Edward Langford, a former newspaper boy, and there is taking his case.

Then we hope he will come and visit us again. He will receive a hearty welcome as, we trust, he always has received before.

The 74 year old dean is one of England's striking personalities. He long has been the most unorthodox of church dignitaries, a modernist, and a campaigner for social justice. He has wanted to see Britain in the forefront of socialism and as a matter of fact was appointed Dean of Canterbury by the late Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader and Socialist.

Dr. Johnson was told last night that State Department press officer Michael McDermott said a visa probably would be granted the dean if he cared to visit the United States on his own hook. Said the doctor: "I hope to go to America within three years when this has blown over—when Mr. Wallace is president, as I think he is sure to be."
