Indications Seen Republicans Will Stress Red Issue

All Signs Point To Making Communists In Government A Talking Point

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—New signs cropped out today that the Republicans intend to go to town with the Communist-in-government issue in the election campaign.

Senator Revercomb (R-W Va.), facing one of the hottest senatorial fights in the country, told a reporter he is making a big talking point of what he calls the administration's failure to root Communists out of the federal service.

In a speech at Keyser, W. Va., last night the senator declared that "it is not a red herring and certainly is not un-American to take steps to protect America."

President Truman twice has called the congressional spy investigations a "red herring" intended to take the public mind off the refusal of congress to adopt his cost-of-living program.

Revercomb is opposed in the November election by Matthew M. Neely, former Democratic senator and representative, who has AFL backing.

Revercomb's employment of the Communist issue is expected to be copied by other Republicans who think the congressional investigations and the current international arguments with Russia are absorbing a major share of the public's attention.

They found some basis for their belief in the smashing comeback made this week by Rep. Rankin, chief mouthpiece of white supremacy in congress. Rankin won re-nomination over two opponents in last Tuesday's Mississippi Democratic primary.

Earlier this year, Rankin ran fifth in a five-man race for the Democratic nomination to fill a senate vacancy.

But from that low point, he bounced back with a campaign that was based—as far as he could do it—on his opposition to almost everything Russian.

Rankin told the voters that his defeat "would be the best news that Joe Stalin ever had." Looking at the results, some politicians concluded it might be good campaigning to let go a lot of roundhouse swings at Stalin and the Communists in general.

Republicans plan to center their fire on what they say are Mr. Truman's efforts to balk the congressional inquiries into the activities of suspected Communists who are "at hand on the payroll."

Mr. Truman has said the senate and house committees aren't turning up anything the FBI and the Justice Department didn't know already.

Open Warfare Between Mayor And Congressman

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—Open warfare between Mayor William O'Dwyer and left-wing Congressman Vito Marcantonio has erupted into bitter name-calling and counter-charges of attempts at political feals.

By order of the Democratic Mayor, all non-civil service followers of Marcantonio's American Labor party on the city payroll are going to get the ax.

Marcantonio said yesterday that O'Dwyer is "a double-talking, double-dealing, double-crossing hypocrite."

O'Dwyer said: "I see nothing in the Communist party, including the Henry Wallace, the Marcantonios or the rest of them, but an attempt to destroy the Democratic party that gave this country assurances that came to the people from the New Deal."

The Railroad Program

Improved Streamliners With More Speed And Comfort Being Built For Big Railroads; Recent Advancements; Branch-Line Operations Are Money-Losers

By MAX HALL

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—The streamliner flashes past and curves out of view, leaving its diesel horn-toot hanging on the horizon and you realize that the era of fast and more comfortable railroad riding is at hand.

That is to say—railroad riding for people who want to travel on a main trunk line from one big city to another.

People who live in small towns on branch lines won't necessarily see much improvement. Their passenger train service may even slow down, or stop altogether.

Railroads are spending hundreds of millions of dollars for modern streamlined equipment. And getting some delay in getting it. They received well over 1,000 new-type cars in the last 12 months, and still have nearly 2,000 on order.

This week the Pennsylvania Railroad announced that it has expanded its postwar equipment program to more than $216,000,000. The money is being used to streamline and modernize about a dozen of its Pennsylvania's best trains. The job may be completed by next spring.

The New York Central, engaged in a comparable program, is ready to make over its Twentieth Century Limited with brand-new equipment in a few days. Other railroads are doing similar things.

While the Pennsylvania and New York Central prefer to modernize their famous existing trains, many roads have created whole new ones far-ranging, light-weight, speedily gleaming silver or painted in gaudy colors from headlight to observation car.

Probers On Trial Of Hiss Dealings

Handwriting Experts Brought Into Case; Maryland Farm Located; Widely Different Stories Told To Committee

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—The house Un-American Activities committee assigned an investigator today to track down a new report that Alger Hiss and Whitaker Chambers once were interested in the same old farm near Westminster, Md.

The committee also brought in a handwriting expert in an attempt to get to the bottom of the widely different stories the two men have told about their relationship a dozen years ago.

The latest story the spy investigators are trying to run down is that Hiss made a down-payment to a real estate agent on the Maryland farm but lost interest in the property and didn't complete the purchase. Then Chambers was reported to have bought the farm later and his family was said to have lived there for a while.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) told reporters the committee intends to see if "this is another link in the chain of evidence or just pure coincidence." It is possible, he said, that it may show the two men were "much more closely connected than previously indicated."

The committee members are searching for a key to crack the Hiss-Chambers riddle.

They claimed some success: A sworn statement by ex-Communist Louis Budenz that he always had considered Hiss to be under party discipline.

Hiss, former top-level State Department official, has heatedly denied any Red tinge. He called Whitaker Chambers a liar Wednesday for telling the house Un-American Activities committee that Hiss had a leading part in a prewar Communist underground here.

Chambers, self-described former courier for the underground, stuck to his story and said it is Hiss who is lying.

The committee summoned the handwriting expert to check the writing of a William Rosen against the signature "William Rosen" on a title transfer of Hiss' old model A Ford in 1936.

Rosen, 64-year-old native of Austria who runs a valet shop here, testified yesterday at a secret committee meeting. But Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said Rosen refused, on constitutional grounds, to answer any questions about the Ford transaction or to say whether he ever had had any Communist affiliation.

Chambers, whom Hiss has acknowledged knowing and befriending under another name, claims Hiss wanted the car to be turned over to some poor Communist organizer.

Baltimore, Aug. 27—(AP)—The News-Post said today it had discovered a "Jay Chambers" bought a run-down farm near Westminster, Md., which Alger Hiss and his wife earlier had purchased and abandoned.

The paper said records it checked showed Chambers also signed his name as D. W. J. D. W., and Jay David Whitaker Chambers.

The News-Post printed photostatic copies of sale agreements signed by Alger and Priscilla Hiss and "Ester Chambers per Jay Chambers."

The Hiss contract was dated April 13, 1936, and the Chambers contract March 12, 1937.

Western Envoys Talk To Molotov

Informants Say This Session May Be Crucial One of Series

Moscow, Aug. 27—(AP)—The three western envoys went to the Kremlin today for an appointment with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

The three westerners had an appointment for 9 a. m. (9 a. m. EST), the U.S. embassy announced. The embassy added that the three would meet at the British embassy following the Kremlin session.

Informants say this session might be the crucial one in negotiations on the German crisis. They have changed forecasts on chances of an agreement on procedure from "fair" to "good."

The envoys, U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chateigneau and special British representative Frank Roberts, all appeared in good spirits. Each left for the Kremlin from his own embassy.

Rain fell in the Soviet capital fairly steadily all day.

Informed observers say they believe it likely a brief four-power communique will be issued tomorrow night. Tonight, they say, seems too early. Even the communique, however, may not shed much light on what has been discussed behind the Kremlin walls.

More Evidence For Grand Jury

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—A special federal grand jury which last month indicted 12 top Communists in the United States, has been summoned for September 14 to consider additional evidence.

Thomas Donegan, special assistant U. S. attorney general, announced the call today but declined to state what phase of the investigation the grand jury would consider.

Trial of the 12 Communists on charges of conspiring to overthrow the government by force has been set tentatively for October 15.

Space Shortage To Hurt Farmers

Lack Storage Facilities For Record Corn Production

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—A serious shortage of grain storage space threatens farmers with the loss of several hundred million dollars in income this year.

The agriculture department estimated the storage shortage at approximately 1,000,000 bushels. It is most acute in the corn belt, where a stupendous crop of 3,500,000,000 bushels of this grain alone is nearing the harvest stage.

Officials said farmers are likely to suffer losses from deterioration of grain and a drop in market prices below levels promised by the government's support program.

A farmer can get the benefit of the support program—free grain—only if he has it stored safely. This helps in the form of loans and agreements to buy the grain next year.

If he cannot get commercial storage facilities on his farm, the grover is out of luck so far as price support aid is concerned.

His only alternative may be to sell his grain on the market at a price below the support level. Some grain experts predict corn soon will sell from 15 to 25 cents a bushel below the support price of about $1.45 a bushel.

The vastness of the storage problem can be measured by the fact that this year's indicated production of grains is 1,350,000,000 bushels larger than last year and 1,275,000,000 larger than the average for the past ten years.

Humber Speaks For ACC Commencement

Wilson, N. C., August 27—Dr. Robert Lee Humber, Greenville attorney and counselor at law, last night addressed the graduates of the Atlantic Christian college at the seventh annual summer school commencement exercises.

On Saturday, August 28, he will address the World Federation at Chapel Hill.

ECTC Financial Report Reveals Record Spending

The annual financial report for East Carolina Teachers College presented to the Board of Trustees by F. D. Duncan, business manager, on August 26, revealed that the expenditures of the college for maintenance and operation for the year ended June 30, 1948, was $1,003,478.00.

This is by far the largest budget in the history of the college, according to Duncan.

East Carolina now has 230 regular employees a figure which indicates an increase of 50 employees in a little more than 2 years. The total amount paid by the college in salaries and wages in 1947-1948 was $525,387.00.

During the past year the college has made considerable progress in painting, repairing, and renovating buildings. More than $50,000 was spent on repairs and the upkeep of buildings, according to Duncan's report.

Hurricane Hunter Flies Into Center Disturbance

Miami, Fla., Aug. 27—(AP)—A Navy hurricane hunter banged its way into the 100-mile-an-hour hurricane about 900 miles east of Miami today and lost radio contact with land.

Storm warning headquarters said the hurricane apparently was continuing its northward course about 15 miles an hour. While this took it in the general direction of the Florida-Georgia coast, it was emphasized that the storm is still far away and could easily change its course.

"Hurricane rarely move in a straight line," said Grady Norton, chief of the storm warning service here.

The Navy plane in the storm was piloted by Lt. C. W. Gibbs of Laurins, S. C., who also piloted the disturbance yesterday.

Belligerent Communist Crowds Again Enter Berlin's City Hall

Berlin, Aug. 27—(AP)—For the second straight day, belligerent Communist-led demonstrators forced their way into Berlin's city hall today. They broke up a meeting of the anti-Communist city council and immediately tried to substitute a handpicked regime of their own.

They demanded that a special committee, composed of members of Communist dominated labor unions in the Soviet zone of the city, be appointed to replace the council.

A spokesman denied that it was to be an "action committee" such as took over Czechoslovakia, but it apparently could serve the same purpose.

Outside, milling crowds unable to get into the hall yelled when told of the cancellation of a scheduled city council meeting.

"We will come back again and again."

Attempt To Show Conspiracy By Big Leaf Firms

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 27—(AP)—Judge W. C. Harris was told today that major tobacco companies had conspired in failing to furnish buyers for the opening of four middle belt markets last week.

Warehouses of the four markets—Aberdeen, Carlisle, Sanford and Fuquay-Varina—were seeking an injunction to force the tobacco companies to place buyers on the markets. The four markets opened this year at the same time markets of the Eastern North Carolina belt began sales.

Former Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus told Judge Harris that the plaintiffs made arrangements to open their warehouses on Aug. 19, made arrangements to have U. S. Government graders on hand and notified the tobacco companies to furnish buyers.

Retired Chief Justice Very Ill

German Marshals Will Be Tried

London, Aug. 27—(AP)—The War Office said tonight three famous German field marshals will be tried by Britain on war crimes charges. They are Gerd Von Rundstedt, who opposed Gen. Eisenhower in Europe; Erich Von Manstein, who campaigned on the Russian front; and Walter Von Brauchitsch, who once headed Hitler's high command. All have been captives for more than three years.

U. S. Gives Backing To Integration Of Europe

State Dept. 'Very Sympathetic To Move For Setting Up An All Western European Parliament'

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—The United States gave today to a move led up an all western advisory assembly.

The state department in a statement that "the government strongly favors the progressive closer integration of the free nations of western Europe."

A spokesman said the department is "very sympathetic" to the proposal for an assembly made by France to the other countries which have signed the Brussels Alliance—Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

American officials assume this group probably would be expanded to include all the 16 countries which are taking part in the Marshall plan for European recovery.

France proposed specifically a conference of the Brussels pact countries, to be held not later than November, to make recommendations to their governments as to the membership, date and place of meetings and the agenda, for a proposed European representative assembly with advisory powers.

Britain's labor government has indicated it may not want to go ahead at this time. Prime Minister Attlee wrote Winston Churchill recently that the movement was premature, and the project would call for consultations with the British Dominions.

Press officer Michael J. McDermott read a statement of the state department's position which said: "As stated in the preamble of the economic co-operation act, this government strongly favors the progressive closer integration of the free nations of western Europe."

"We believe that the world of today requires the taking of steps which before the war would have seemed beyond the range of practical politics."

"We favor the taking by the Europeans themselves of any steps which promote the idea of European unity or which promote the study of practical measures and the taking of such measures."

Upheaval In Red Bloc

Yugoslav-Romanian Row Is Worth Watching Because It Will Show How Moscow Will Handle Situation, If It Can; Is It Evidence Of Red Weakness?

By DEWITT MCKENZIE

That vitriolic Yugoslav-Romanian row is worth watching, since it may well be a gauge by which we can judge how Moscow's world revolution is progressing and—equally important—what tactics are being employed to meet emergencies.

This Red upheaval represents the first serious break in the solidarity of Russia's satellite states. It had its inception in July when the powerful, Moscow-dominated cominform split with Tito, charging him with maintaining a hateful policy towards Soviet Russia and with departing from the Marx-Lenin philosophy.

Tito has denied the allegations and declared his devotion to Stalin. However, at the same time he has made it amply clear that Yugoslavia is running its own show, which is to say that Tito is running Yugoslavia's show. In other words, the Marshal has got too big for the breeches that Stalin had tailored for him.

So Moscow is bent on breaking Tito, and the latest development is Yugoslavia's charge that Romanian officials are trying to foment revolution for the overthrow of Marshal Tito's regime. Moreover, a blistering Yugoslav note singles out

Mrs. Ana Pauker, Romanian foreign minister and one of Communism's dominant leaders, as calling for Tito's elimination.

Now there are several significant points which emerge from this situation. In the first place it is obvious that Russia contemplates no individuality for her subject states. They must toe the Moscow line precisely. This is evident not only in the case of Yugoslavia but in that of other eastern European states which have cast out of line and have been yanked back sharply.

Another point which the London Times yesterday said the Russians' response to Yugoslav defiance, by clamping their grip more tightly on their own satellites, has the greatest significance for the west. The warning of long-range Communist planning, harnessed to Russian foreign policy, should be recognized in good time. The newspaper says it is more than ever necessary that plans for a Western European Union should be put into practice. Another point which we shouldn't overlook is that Moscow is handling the Tito case by indirection. (Continued on Page Eight)

'For A Purpose'

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—They finally broke the bad news to pretty Dorothy Kilmer. She'll never walk again.

No one wanted to do it, but it had to be done.

Miss Kilmer, 20 year old night club hostess, was shot accidentally last July 29. The bullet lodged in her spine, paralyzing her.

All these weeks no one could quite get around to telling her.

But yesterday it came time to move her to another hospital. Doctors and nurses assembled in her room. There was much groping for words and clearing of throats.

Finally someone said:

"Well, you'll be leaving us soon

Dorothy."

"Yes, I know," said Dorothy. "And I want to thank you all for having been so kind to me, and having done so much for me."

"Dorothy . . . suppose after all we've tried to do, your back still isn't . . . well, suppose in spite of everything, we can't quite get you entirely well again . . . and you find that you can't walk . . . how would you feel about that?"

"I'd feel all right," she girl answered softly. "I'll be happy, and I'll get along somehow."

Then she smiled.

"If God has spared my life, it must be for a purpose. I'll be all right." Now Dorothy knows.

Hunt Financier In Murder Case

Princeton, N.J., Aug. 27—(AP)—Police today intensified their search for New York financier Henry Martin Brooks, 41, wanted on a murder charge in the shooting of his business partner, Joseph R. Watkins.

Two other suspects also were being checked by the Mercer county prosecutor's office in an effort to find the person who fired two fatal bullets at Watkins as he sat in a car parked in the driveway of the fashionable Princeton Inn Wednesday night.

The search centered near Greenwich, Conn., where Brooks occupied a large home on a 12-acre estate on North Street, and at Reading, Pa., where he was a frequent visitor.

Brooks' socially prominent wife and school teacher daughter, Elizabeth, cut short a Maine vacation when they heard of the murder charge against him. They were unable to supply much information, police said.

They were questioned last night by Greenwich police chief John M. Gleason soon after they reached their home.

Brooks "kept most of his business to himself," the chief commented.

Infant Had Full Set of Teeth

Goldsboro, Aug. 27—(AP)—A baby born at Goldsboro hospital Saturday had a full set of teeth, according to Dr. W. H. Bryant, local Negro dentist.

The baby, daughter of Mary Armstrong, Negro, died Wednesday. It was while the body was being prepared for burial the discovery was made. L. T. Lightner, mortician called the dentist.

Dr. Bryant said it was the first such case he had seen in his 30 years of practice.

Strength FOR THE DAY

THE BEST TIME IS NOW In seventeenth century Britain, when war had bitterly divided the people, there was built the chapel of St. Dunstons in Leicester Square.

The Apostle Paul writing to the Romans declares that "tribulation worketh steadfastness; and steadfastness, approval; and approval, hope; and hope putteth not to shame; because the love of God has been shed abroad in our hearts."

Certainly the time to do good things would appear to be a season in which people appreciate the value of good things. Why cast pearls before swine? But the Apostle Paul preached the gospel in an age when all he got for his trouble was blows, curses, and finally death.

THEY ARE ENTITLED TO PROTECTION

Had there been sufficient fire hydrants in the section of the city on the north side of the river, the fire loss at the North Side Lumber Company Tuesday afternoon would have been much less.

The nearest fire hydrant to the fire was between a third and a half a mile away, which necessitated the laying of a quantity of hose just to get one stream of water on the fire.

The section on the north side of the river along with other outlying sections was added to the city more than a year ago.

The extension of the city limits carries with it the responsibility to furnish such new sections the facilities for which they pay in the way of city taxes.

The great loss in Tuesday's fire should be sufficient lesson to our city administration to cause it to lose no more time in providing every section of the city with adequate fire and police protection along with other facilities.

...ACHERS—As the shortage of school teachers becomes less marked, more attention will be given to quality of training rather than mass production of certificate holders.

WINSTON-SALEM—Dr. F. L. Atkins, president of the state teacher college for Negroes at Winston-Salem, frankly said he saw no reason for expanding or enlarging facilities just to take care of more would-be school teachers, when there is admittedly an excess of Negro teaching certificate holders now.

PROGRAM—Unlike some other places where the main idea is enlargement of the Winston-Salem college building budget calls for remodeling and refurbishing present buildings instead of adding more.

phatis is placed upon training teachers for elementary schools, since according to President Atkins 87 percent of Negroes do not advance beyond elementary grades. This percentage is being reduced, but it is recognized that for a good many years the main job in Negro education will be in grammar grades.

STATE—The state has a sizeable stake in this college. The ten buildings and 82 acres of land, lying inside the city limits of Winston-Salem are carried on budget books at $654,981. It is really worth twice that.

APALACHIAN—From Winston-Salem the traveling budgeteers went to Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone, largest of the teacher colleges for whites. Appalachian had a student body of 1407 for the 1947-'48 regular terms, 1978 in the two summer school terms, 274 of these taking graduate work in education.

SUMMER—Dr. Daugherty puts major emphasis on the summer school. He contends that the altitude of more than 3,000 feet above sea level and the lustrous climate enables students to do better work in the summer time here than at hotter places further east.

equate state support for all summer schools at the various colleges. President Daugherty believes the present policy is shortsighted and the state is missing one of its best opportunities for service by not emphasizing summer sessions.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Almost single-handed, Mrs. Stella Kopulos, an energetic little Washington housewife, has managed to aid hundreds of impoverished ailing children in strife-worn Greece.

Though she lives comfortably in a nice house, and has seen to it her two daughters got a good education, she is not rich. Her husband runs a restaurant. Her aging Greek-born parents, Chris and Mary Stanis make their living from the former's fruit and vegetable produce business.

Mrs. Chingos, a family friend, explained that the British were supplying milk, UNRRA clothing and food and the Red Cross medical supplies. Mrs. Kopulos wanted Mrs. Kopulos to send toys. "I raised money by giving a typical Greek dinner," Mrs. Kopulos told me. "Papa cooked lamb patties. Mama helped me bake the Greek cakes and cookies. A local group gave us a hall and the newspapers printed the date of the dinner. Some Greek friends provided the entertainment."

Mrs. Chingos wrote again asking for medical supplies and instruments—stethoscopes, hypo needles and thermometers. Mrs. Kopulos got a local night club violinist to donate his services and whipped up a concert. The supplies she bought weighed 600 pounds. These were sent through the Near East Foundation.

Revenge Is Sweet To Ex-Private

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 27—(AP)—Revenge is sweet, said the former air force private, who declined use of his name but said he served three and a half years and went on 40 missions with the 15th Air Force, found himself the possessor of that rarest of present day prizes—an apartment to rent.

Yesterday, he inserted this ad in a newspaper: "Two rooms, partially furnished, kitchen and bath, no ex-officers or children."

BOYLE'S COLUMN

By DON WHITEHEAD (FOR HAL BOYLE) Washington—(AP)—Memories of a mountaineer: Uncle Bush Breabeale lived over on a ridge in east Tennessee with his mule named "Mule" and a hound dog he called "Dog."

One day Uncle Bush, who was nearing his allotted span, began to wonder what the preacher would say about him when he died. It bothered Uncle Bush a right smart what the person would say.

He brooded about it at night as his hound circled around his feet before the fireplace.

Finally, Uncle Bush decided to have a funeral and invite all his friends. He chopped down a walnut tree and hewed out a coffin. He lay down in it occasionally for sleep until it fit him snugly. Then he was ready.

On a bright, summer day, neighbors rode in for miles around by automobile, horseback and buggy. They bought picnic lunches and spread them on the ground under the oaks and the elms, and families who hadn't seen each other in years got together for a good time.

And then the hearse came down the mountain trail. The pallbearers lifted out the casket while Uncle Bush stepped down from the driver's seat looking proud and happy.

They banked the casket with flowers and Uncle Bush sat in the seat of honor while the parson preached his funeral.

The preacher said a lot of nice things about Uncle Bush, too, and the old fellow went home contented. "It was the best funeral I ever went to," he said.

The TVA is grown up now and wears long pants—but there was a time when old Ras Lindemoor gave the Authority a bad time of it.

Ras' grandpappy came into the hills of east Tennessee about a century ago from North Carolina. He came across the Great Smoky Mountains by wagon-train and he carried his fire with him to his new home.

The fire burned in the Lindemoor fireplace generation after generation. It kept the little cabin warm in the winter and dispelled the dampness of the morning fogs in the summer.

Then the government decided to build Norris dam. The TVA wanted to buy the Lindemoor farm because it was going to be covered by the backwaters from the dam.

Bu's Ras was stubborn. He wouldn't budge unless the TVA moved his fire with him to a new home in another valley. Nobody was going to put out the fire that his grandpappy had brought from North Carolina.

And so the TVA moved Ras and his household goods across the hills to a new farm. But they had to move the fire with him.

The sheriff winked and said: "Come into my whisperin' room." We went into a small office and he closed the door behind him.

He went to a huge wall safe and swung open the heavy door. Inside were rifles, shotguns, ammunition—and one empty fruit jar.

The sheriff looked at the empty jar and bellowed in rage: "You, Jim! You come in here."

A deputy shuffled through the door enveloped in a 100-proof fog. "Jim, you drunk up my whiskey," the sheriff accused.

"No, I didn't, Sheriff."

"I reckon you did and you'd better get me another jar."

The deputy said: "That feller I was tellin' you about yesterday is right across the street and he's got some."

"Well," the sheriff said, "you'd better see him fast."

The deputy was gone for fifteen minutes. He slipped in with a full jar of moonshine under his coat and put it on the table.

"Where'd you say you got this?" demanded the sheriff.

"I got it from that feller I was tellin' you about," the deputy said. "He's right outside there."

"Well, go and throw him in jail," the sheriff said, pouring out a drink. "He knows he's not supposed to have corn likker around here."

Post Recals Beginning 31 Years Ago Start Of Speedy, World Wide Parcel

The advent of speedier nationwide—worldwide air parcel post service September 1 brings back to minds of old-timers the introduction of similar surface operations 35 years ago. It was in 1913, according to Postmaster J. Knott Proctor of Greenville, that parcel post first made its appearance in the United States.

The service at that time was established primarily to aid farmers and hamlets, located of the beaten paths, in expediting their products to market and, in turn, receiving sorely needed goods from larger cities. However, mail order houses and other establishments were quick to realize its value.

Transportation facilities in those days were still slow and tedious. Motor-driven vehicles were few and the roads which they traversed were frequently impassable. Too, trains were giving off more sparks and smoke than speed. There were no commercial planes in those days, either, and only the foolhardy visioned the rapid approach of this Air Age.

Then it took days to transport parcel post packages across the country. Some parcels were forced to go by virtually every movable conveyance before they reached their destination—particularly to the more remote sectors.

From that modest beginning, parcel post has grown to become an integral cog in the far-flung American postal operations. Its annual poundage, keeping step with the progress of transportation, has soared from a few million to billions of pounds of assorted commodities.

Guidance Course To Be Instituted

Freshmen and transfer students entering East Carolina Teachers College in the fall will take an orientation offered this fall for the first time and given as part of the recently adopted guidance program for students attending the college. The purpose of the course is to help new students adjust themselves to college life in its various phases and to aid them in solving some of their personal problems.

The course, compulsory for all new students, will carry three hours of college credit and will be conducted by eleven members of the faculty.

As part of the course, an extensive testing program will be carried out under the direction of Dr. Carl L. Adams, director of the department of education and psychology at the college.

Topics to be considered will include study habits and techniques, the use of the college library, extracurricular activities, vocational opportunities, etiquette, citizenship and its responsibilities, participation in civic affairs, problems of family life, and codes of ethics for the professions.

The chocolate candy bar was first produced in the United States in 1831, and the first milk chocolate in 1870.

Field Corn Plant Reduced In Size

Brookhaven, N. Y., Aug. 27—(AP)—Science has redesigned the gangling field corn plant, reducing it in size and thus making it easier to harvest and less vulnerable to storms.

Dr. W. Ralph Singleton, senior geneticist of Brookhaven National Laboratory, said today that he had succeeded in developing a new stubby plant which grows to about the height of an average man.

It had slightly smaller ears but more plants can be grown on a single ear so that the overall yield does not suffer.

The smaller stalks will simplify the task of the seedman, who has to shake the tassels at the top of the plant to obtain pollen for fertilizing the seed.

Dr. Singleton said he approached the problem from the viewpoint that "it is much easier to make a six-foot corn plant than a fourteen-foot man."

Trade Bulletin Valuable Sheet

By CHESTER WALSH

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce's monthly bulletin, August edition, is a newsy and informative sheet, edited by Executive Secretary Willard T. Kyser, contains additional information about a new industry, the American Lady Corset Company of Detroit, Mich., being established in Greenville. The company has leased and will occupy the Greenville Spinner cotton mill plant. It will employ between 350 and 400 persons, principally women. Personnel will be employed through the Greenville Employment office. Greenville was selected after company has leased and will occupy many cities in different parts of the country. The coming of a new industry to Greenville will be welcome news to the people here.

Another addition to the industrial and commercial life of Greenville is the Peerless Mattress Company of Lexington, Ky., which has established in the building formerly occupied by Plyler's Super Market office and warehouse facilities for distribution of its products in the eastern part of the state, the Chamber of Commerce Bulletin states.

"The trade and tobacco market are closely knitted together," the Bulletin states. "If the Greenville tobacco market is to sell the quantity of tobacco it rightfully should, and if Greenville is to maintain its high standard as a retail and wholesale trading center, all business must continue its efforts with the Greenville booster dinner," held at the college last July 8." The Bulletin urges heads of business and employees to continue to radiate friendliness as well as to exert every effort to assist in the development and progress of Greenville.

The Bulletin had some nice things to say about a new Greenville institution the Old North State Insurance Company, recently established here. The First Securities Corporation of Durham is in charge of sale of the company's stock. The value of the Old North State Insurance Company to Greenville cannot be estimated," President Charles B. Bisette of the Chamber of Commerce said.

Kinston Marks Up Another Win Against Locals, 15-7

First Six Frames Were Exhibition Of Fine Fielding; Roof Fell In On Locals In Seventh And Eighth Innings

By BERT MOYE
Manager Steve Collins and his Kinston Eagles flew high here last night as they chalked up their 13th win of the season against the Greensies by taking a slugfest, 15-7. The Kinston Eagles broke a 5-5 tie by scoring three runs in the seventh on two hits, two errors, two walks and a sacrifice and then tallied seven times in the eighth on five hits, two errors, walk and sacrifice, fielder's choice to sew up the game.

Kinston scored one run in the first without a hit. A walk, hit batsman and then a double steal netted the first run. They scored three runs in the second to go out in front four runs on four timely singles. The Greensies tied the count at 4-4 in the second on singles by Stott, Wood and Sposa. Mauney's double aided by two walks. They went out in front by one run in the third on singles by Nash and Sposa and Kees long fly to right field.

However, the Eagles came back in their half of the sixth frame to knot the count at five-all by scoring a single tally on Turk's single and Tepedino's triple. Veteran Lou Herrington started on the mound for the Eagles but was taken out after yielding four hits and as many runs. Baston pitched the remainder of the game to second the credit for the win his second of the season over the Greensies.

Joe Sposa with three singles in five trips to the plate led the 14-hit attack of the two Kinston hurlers. Wood, Cohen and Stott collected two singles and Willie Mauney got the only extra base hit—a double in the second frame.

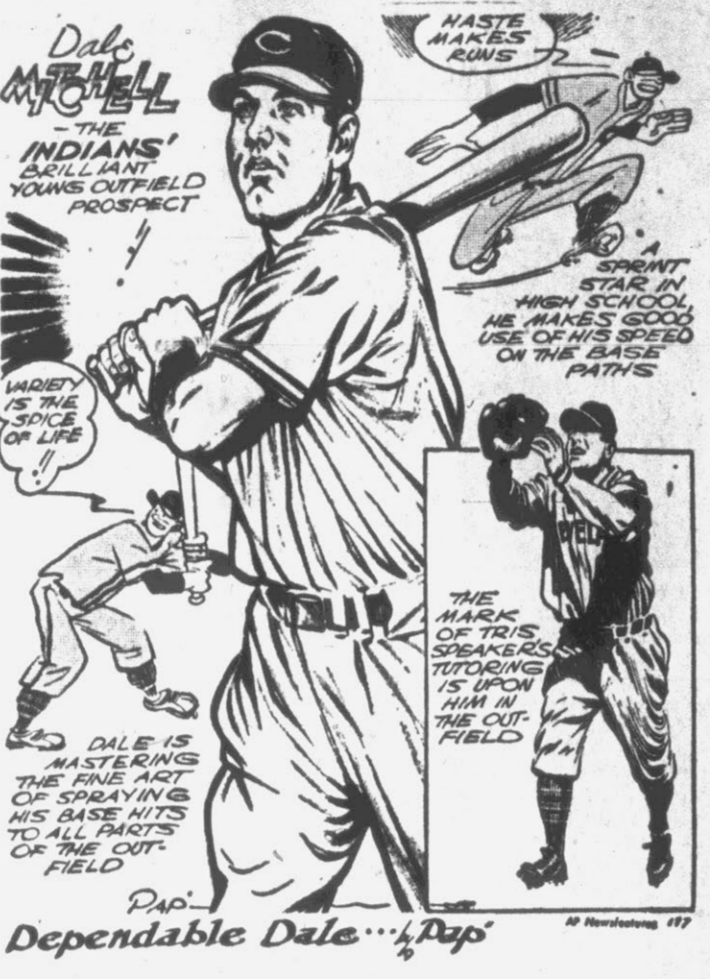

Manager Kelly Kee started on the mound for the Greensies and was forced to retire from the game by umpire Simon for disputing his decision. Kee allowed 7 hits and 8 runs and was charged with the loss, his eighth of the season and his first to the Kinston Eagles. Ken Brooks pitched the final two and one-third innings allowing 7 hits and a like number of runs.

Tepedino with two triples and a single led the 14-hit attack off the two Greensie pitchers. Prior to the start of the seventh frame, both teams put on one of the prettiest fielding exhibitions seen on the local diamond this season. Willie Nash was in almost every play and especially in the fifth frame when he figured prominently in all three of the putouts.

The Greensies go over to Kinston tonight for the final game of the season with the Eagles and on Saturday night will play the Roanoke Rapids Jays here in the last home game of the season between the two clubs.

Sport Slants by Pap

Dale Mitchell was marked for stardom the day, late in the 1946 season, when the Cleveland Indians brought him up from Oklahoma City where he had made his professional debut. Mitchell is going to be a great ball player one of these days, said Boudreau. "He'll hit 340 or 350, wait and see."

A left-handed batter, Mitchell is rapidly learning to hit to all fields and his amazing speed enables him to stretch his blows for all they are worth. For a ball player with only three years' experience in organized baseball, Dale shows remarkable defensive skill. The veteran Tris Speaker, one of the greatest outfielders the game had produced, gave Dale many valuable tips that have hastened his development.

Simons Right? Mangrum Leads Into 2nd Round

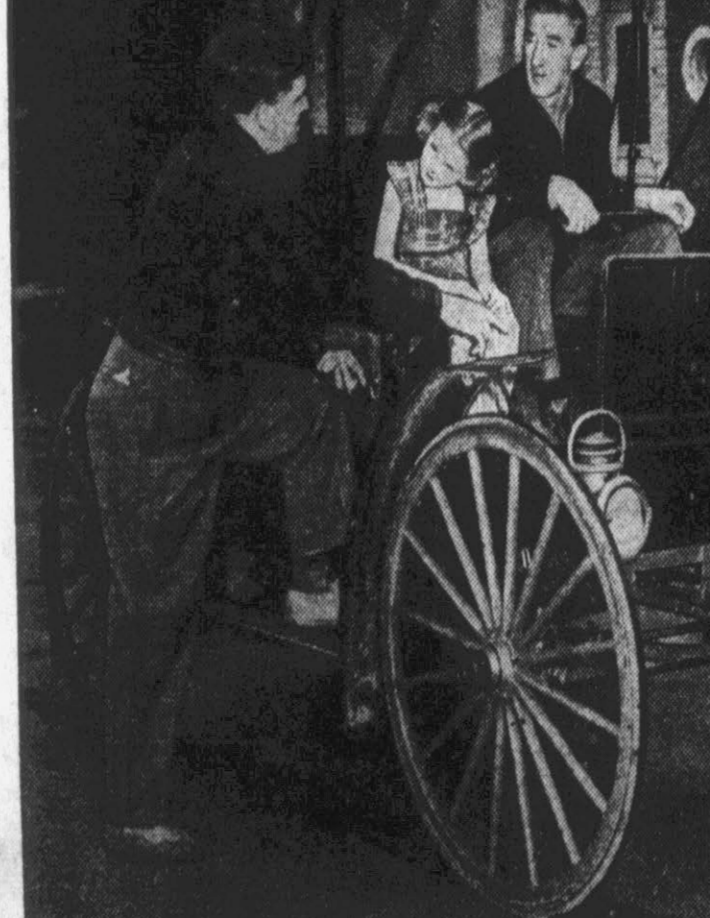

Salt Lake City, Aug. 27—(AP)—Lean Lloyd Mangrum, the current Mr. Moneybag of the PGA tourney circuit, plans to stay on top of the heap. Mangrum made his intention plain yesterday as he fired a five-under par 67 to take the lead after the first 18 holes of play in the $12,500 Utah open golf tourney.

In so doing he led 100 other golfers, both of the play-for-pay and amateur status, into today's second 18 holes of play. Just behind at 68 were George Schneider of Ogden, Utah, defending champion Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., and Ralph Blomquist of Glendale, Calif.

Little Ben Hogan, dethroned as leading pro money-maker a few weeks back when Mangrum won the Tam O'Shanter tourney, had trouble with the slanting greens on the 6,580-yard Fort Douglas course, and finished at 71 in a tie with five others.

According to an announcement by Schnetter today, Mangrum has now earned approximately $27,400 in tourneys this year to $27,200 for Hogan. Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich., is in third place with around $23,000. Counting all results through last week's Denver open.

With the winner of the Utah event slated to pocket $2,150 Hogan could dethrone Mangrum again with a win here. Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., and Gene Webb of Springfield, Mo., each notched 70.

Football Season Starts In Middle Of A Heat Wave

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—The All-America football conference opens for business on two fronts tonight, right in the midst of the hottest weather of the year. In Brooklyn, where the temperature reached its second highest mark in history yesterday, the revamped Dodgers take on the New York Yankees, eastern division champions.

And in Chicago's mammoth Soldier Field the reorganized Rockets play host to the Los Angeles Dons. While the conference's third official season is getting under way, the defending champion Cleveland Browns close out the exhibition schedule against the Baltimore Colts in Toledo, Ohio.

If the pre-season games are an indication, the circuit can expect a good season at the gate. Eight exhibitions have drawn 195,687 paying customers—an average of 24,462. Tonight's games will be the professional debuts for all three of the circuit's new coaches—Carl Voyles of Brooklyn, Jimmy Phelan of Los Angeles and Ed McKeever from the University of San Francisco.

Both the Rockets and Dodgers are under new ownership and their rosters bear little resemblance to 1947. Among the Brooklyn newcomers are halfback Bob Chappius of Michigan and Hank Fuldberg of Army and Dan Edwards of Georgia, and center George Strommeyer of Notre Dame.

Seven of the 11 players listed in the Rockets' starting lineup are new with the club this year.

Little Baseball Semi-Finals For Tourney Ends

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 27—(AP)—Semi-finals competition opened today in the national little league baseball tourney with two teams from Pennsylvania and one each from New Jersey and Florida still in the title race.

Today's games pitted the Williamsport Loyals against Lockhaven, the Pennsylvania champions, and Hamonton N. J., against St. Petersburg, Fla.

The winners of today's play will meet tomorrow for the "Little World Series" championship. Little League competition is limited to boys between 8 and 12 years of age.

In matches yesterday Hamonton defeated Corning, N. Y. 13-1, while Lock Haven downed Alexandria, Va. 12-1 and St. Petersburg blanked Middletown, Conn., 8-0.

Regulations On Game Prepared

J. O. Teel of Greenville, district game and fish protector, passed along the following information today which will be of interest to sportsmen and hunters:

Almost complete statewide uniformity is the keynote of the 1948-49 hunting regulations set up by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission at a two-day meeting in Raleigh, according to Executive Director Clyde P. Patton.

"The abolition of lay days on all species of game," Patton said, "was done to accomplish a three-fold purpose. By applying to the entire state, the ruling on removing lay days eliminates discrimination by permitting all who buy a state-wide license to hunt in all counties on any day of the season. Their application to all game species will make possible more effective and efficient law enforcement."

In eliminating lay days for the coming season the commission considered the advantages of simplified regulations which will be more easily understood by the public and more easily enforced by the law enforcement division, plus the conservation benefits in a long-term program. The commission has taken a state-wide view on setting the regulations, to get away from confusing local county and township exceptions.

Patton added that conservation-minded sportsmen will go along with the abolition of lay days especially in the case of quail. There is conclusive evidence that greater kills of quail are possible on days following a period of rest when scattered coveys have given a chance to re-form. The commission believes that all North Carolina sportsmen should have an equal opportunity to hunt regardless of place of residence.

Following are the 1948-49 hunting regulations as established by the N. C. Wildlife Resources Commission. Quail—November 25 to January 10 inclusive; daily bag eight, possession limit 16, season limit 100, effective over the entire state. Rabbits—November 25 to January 10 inclusive; daily bag 7, possession limit 14, no season limit. The entire state will be opened to rabbit shooting.

Squirrels—October 15 through January 10, with a daily bag of 6, possession limit of 16, season 100. In Alleghany, Wilkes, Caldwell, Burke, and Rutherford counties, and counties lying west thereof, a daily bag of 6 is allowed with a possession limit of 12, and a season total of 75. This reduction is due to a shortage of squirrels in the Western part of the state. Throughout the entire state one only fox squirrel is permitted in the daily bag, two allowed in the possession limit, and a total of 10 for the season.

Calumet Seeking A Third Victory

Chicago, Aug. 27—(AP)—Calumet Farm will be seeking its third victory in the historic $50,000 American Derby at Washington Park tomorrow with both Citation and Free America testing several other top drawer 3-year-olds in the 1948 turf picture.

Last year Fervent set a track record of 2:00 3-5 when he carried Warren Wright's colors first across the finish line in the mile and one-quarter event. In 1941, Whirlaway won for Calumet.

Citation made a sweep of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont and other stakes, but he may have trouble defending his 3-year-old title against his stablemate Free America, considered by many observers as a better horse.

Free America, the big, powerful son of Blenheim II, hasn't raced enough to give much data on his present fitness. But he came back last week after a long layoff and delivered a brilliant winning effort in his first 1948 start. He ran the six furlongs in 1:10 2-5 finishing 2 1-2 lengths ahead of the nearest pursuer.

In tomorrow's derby, Citation will be making his first stage start since he won the Stars and Stripes at Arlington Park on July 8. Trainer Jim Jones said the great colt is back in excellent form following the let-up that was necessitated by an injury while preparing for the Arlington classic last month.

Sixty-Five Will Report To ACC Football Coach

Wilson, Aug. 27—Approximately 65 gridiron aspirants will report to Bob Spangler, head coach of the Atlantic Christian college football team, when the Bulldogs open practice Wednesday, September 1.

Coach Spangler will be assisted this year by Carl S. Blyth, former Lenoir Rhyne and Newberry college backfield ace.

Several newcomers will be among the hopefuls that appear at the first day's practice when the Bulldogs start hoping for a much improved season over the 1947 campaign when the locals were weak sisters of the North State conference.

Coach Spangler said today that he has hopes of being a regular winner this year. Many new boys will report to camp and among them are several high school and junior college standouts the coach revealed.

Official attendance figures furnished by Miss Edna Mae Barnhill, league secretary, show that the turnstiles clicked $25,510 times through June 30 this year as compared to $22,875 for the corresponding period last year.

The more than ten thousand drop in attendance for the league is in spite of the fact that four of the clubs had higher attendance marks for 1948 than for 1947.

Kinston had the largest increase this year over last year, though they stayed in second place most of the two seasons. The attendance through June this year was $8,950 as compared to $3,500 through June last year.

Greenville also had a slight gain from $7,944 last year to $7,948 this year.

Goldsboro showed a gain of about 4,000 this year over last with $9,840 paid through June as compared to $5,786 for last year.

Rocky Mount showed a gain from $4,717 last year to $7,265 this year. Biggest drop was shown by Wilson which rode the top of the league most of last season and had been flourishing in the second division this year. Wilson's attendance dropped from $7,350 through June last year to $4,382 this year.

New Bern dropped from $7,894 a year ago to $6,077 this year.

The other club showing a decrease was Tarboro from $5,547 last year to $3,188, this despite the fact that Tarboro has led the league all this year but ended the season in third place last year.

June was a bad month with several raised out games throwing most teams for attendance losses over the same month last year. There were three exceptions, however. Kinston increased from 12,940 in June, 1947, to 16,894 in June, 1948. Roanoke Rapids increased from 20,422 to 22,266 for the month and Greenville was up from 19,894 to 21,204 during June.

Through June the order of the attendance ranked Wilson, Roanoke Rapids, New Bern, Rocky Mount, Greenville, Goldsboro, Tarboro and Kinston.

Through June this year the order was Rocky Mount, Wilson, Roanoke Rapids, Goldsboro, New Bern, Kinston, Greenville and Tarboro.

Through June there was $1,827.54 in the player kitty which is split between the top four teams at the end of the season. The fund is built up with one-half cent on each admission. Allocation is based on the order of finish with the winner and runner-up in the final series coming in for a share on that basis also.

Yugoslav Team Gives Excuses For Its Showing

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 27—(AP)—The Yugoslavia Olympic team has arrived home from London full of complaints that it had a hard time getting a square deal in the recent games.

In an official communique the Yugoslavs said Olympic officials failed to raise their flag when they won the hammer throw. The flag was raised, they said, only after the team had protested strongly.

Contrary to reports from England, the team said that all members had returned to Yugoslavia after the games.

The Yugoslavs declared they had to fight resolutely against "many reactionary methods" at the games. Many officials, they said, had made wrong proposals and decisions under the excuse of "non political sport."

Hickory never was defeated in the tourney which was operated on a "two defeats and out" basis. They first beat Memphis 7-1 last Monday. The next night they got by Louisville, Ky., Danville, Va., was the first team in the tournament to be eliminated.

High Pockets

Chapter 6
Cathy was tired. It had been a full day for her. Moving into the big house had brought her added responsibilities and duties... quite naturally she took over Nettie's work as housekeeper and cook. Her night-gown on, she drew back the blankets, got into bed, looked over at Gay who was sitting at the window. "Going to sit there all night?" Cathy asked. "It's eleven o'clock, you know."
"I'm not tired," she answered lightly. "Want me turn out the light?"
"Do you mind?"
"Not at all. Actually, I like to sit in the darkness. It's restful."
Gay moved swiftly. Presently the room was plunged in darkness. Cathy burrowed deep into the blankets, sighed so contentedly that Gay laughed.
"Comfortable?" she asked.
"Oh, yes! Bed's a wonderful place, isn't it?"
"Very wonderful," Gay replied. She moved the curtain aside and rays of silvery night light streamed into the window. "The light's out in the cottage."
"Phil has to be up early. That's part of a foreman's job."
"He's nice, isn't he?"
"Yes, he is."
"What's his wife like? I haven't had more than a glimpse of her."
"Oh, Nettie's all right, I suppose. We haven't gotten along as well as we should, still I don't know that it's been all her fault. I was pretty nasty with her over the cottage, you know. However, it's hers now, so I suppose we'll get along lots better."
"She's older than Phil, isn't she?"
"Nettie? Do you think so?"
"Oh, yes!" Gay said. "I'm sure she is."
"I guess I've never given that matter any thought. What do you think of George?"
"I don't know what to think of him. He isn't the talkative kind. Still I suppose he's all right. He's just not my kind of man. That's all."
"I like him. I admit he's different than most other men but that may be why I like him. Anyway, he's had a hard time of it and I think it's made him quiet, even bitter."
"I'll take Phil Martin's kind any time."
"Nettie might not like to hear you say that."
"When a plain, unattractive woman marries a man who is younger than she is, well, she should expect most anything. I never could understand such marriages. They... they don't make sense."
There was no reply from Cathy. Gay settled herself in her chair. Cathy turned over on her side, and closed her eyes. She was tired, but sleep did not come easily. Gay's remark rang in her ears and it disturbed her. She wondered what kind of married life Gay had had. She's said but little about it since her arrival, even less about her husband other than a brief word or two about his death.
Minutes later the two sisters lay beside each other. There was no further talk between them. Presently Gay's gentle breathing indicated that she was asleep. Cathy closed her eyes, but sleep did not come to her. She looked down at Gay, marveled at the ease with which she had fallen asleep. Cathy tossed and turned for an hour. Disturbing thoughts kept her awake. Always Phil Martin's face kept forcing its way into her thoughts. She was sure there was some significance attached to it and it worried her. Finally, she turned over on her side, closed her eyes fiercely and dozed off.

The next few days passed swiftly though uneventfully. In the cottage, Nettie was herself again. In the big house things ran along equally smoothly. In Cathy's capable hands, Gay's and George's wants were well attended to. Radiant as ever, Gay was the most carefree person on the ranch. As for Cathy, she was never without an apron. It seemed there was never an end to her work. It was late evening when George sauntered into the house, stopped and looked sharply at Cathy who was sitting at the kitchen table, a full sewing basket in her lap. He frowned, pushed his hat up from his eyes, hooked his thumbs in his belt, watched her for another minute. Finally she looked up.
"Don't you ever get 'ny time off?" he demanded.
"There's always something to do," she answered with a patient smile. "These are your socks."
He grinned boyishly.
"Come 'n' think of it, ain't there a hull mess o' socks upstairs somewhere, that I ain't never even worn yet?"
"Yes, in your bureau."
"Then 'r' Pete's 'ere, chuck them doggone things out!"
He grinned again. She eyed him for a moment.
"I wish you'd smile oftener," she said. "It does things for you."
This time he made no comment.
"George," she said and paused.
"Yeah?"
"I'm awfully glad you've changed your mind about leaving the Circle-A."
"Who said I have?"
"No one," she answered calmly. "You're still here and I'm taking that to mean that you're staying. You... you are staying, aren't you?"
(To be continued)

Beaches Enjoy A 'Fair Season' In Spite Of Polio

Raleigh, Aug. 27—(AP)—North Carolina beaches appear to have had a "fair season" this year despite a loss of potential trade resulting from the state's record polio epidemic.

That's the way Bill Sharpe, director of the State News Bureau, sums up reports from proprietors of beach hotels, cottages and other rooming places.

In the northeastern part of the state, where few polio cases have been reported, Sharpe says, rooms are hard to find at the well-established places.

Along the central coast, resort areas report their business has been about equal to that of the past year. Polio incidence has been normal in that region.

Hardest hit has been the southeastern coast, where a large number of polio cases broke out. Trade in that area has been far below that of past seasons, Sharpe reports.

"Undoubtedly there have been numerous cancellations of reservations at the beaches," he says. "The decline started early in July, when the epidemic was mounting toward a peak."

In the last couple of weeks, however, business has picked up and J understand that beaches are looking for good trade on Labor Day."

Reports from coastal resorts indicate that this year the usual practice of starting to close down just after Labor Day will not be followed this year. Instead, many places plan to remain open throughout September in an effort to recapture lost business.

Thursday Sales Largest Since Opening Day

Yesterday's sales on the Greenville tobacco market were the largest since opening day, Sales Supervisor Bill Whedbee reported. On opening day the Greenville market sold over 1,600,000 pounds of tobacco.

On one of yesterday's sales farmers from 16 different counties had tobacco on the same warehouse floor.

After opening day, sales on the local market became considerably lighter, but in the last two days there has been an increase of tobacco on the warehouse floors. Sales Supervisor Whedbee said he expects the warehouses to have full sales again by the first of the week.

Fail In Attempt To Get Airlines Agree On Hikes

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—An attempt to get five big airlines to agree on an across-the-board 10 per cent fare increase failed today.

Chairman Joseph J. O'Connell, Jr. of the Civil Aeronautics board had called the lines together in an unsuccessful effort to avoid having different rate levels on competing routes. He said the board will let the fares become effective as proposed by the airlines.

Thus Eastern, United, TWA and Northwest Airlines will raise fares on all of their planes next month. American Airlines will increase fares only on trips flown with other than DC-6 planes.

All airplanes which use DC-6's and Constellations now charge a 10 per cent premium for that service. American will drop the extra fare on its DC-6's, and make the basic charge approximately 6 cents a mile.

Upheaval In ...

struck first through the cornfield and now apparently has assigned a prominent part to Romania, which means to Ana Pauker. In previous instances where punitive measures have been taken, Moscow has done the job itself. Why now does it hand the task to others?

Well, in the first place it may well be that Russia is making a virtue of necessity. That is to say, it probably would take force to oust the Tito regime, and Moscow isn't prepared to stick its neck out that far. It prefers to try to create a situation in which Yugoslavs themselves would revolt against their leader.

In short, Russia's Red Empire already is showing signs of being unwieldy and hard to manage. Employment of Ana Pauker as general in the field probably is a shrewd move, but it is a confession of weakness already, what will happen as the Red Empire of unhappy slave states increases—if it does?

One answer to that is a point which this column has made numerous times. This is that any empire built of unwilling states by force must in the end blow up. Nothing so evil can endure. This fact presumably accounts for the policy of containment which the western allies appear to have been following, that is, holding the line and letting the Communist world revolution crack itself up.

The Railroad ...

the all-room sleeping cars have been delivered; 1,000 more are on order. But all this, for the near future at least, applies only to blue-ribbon trains on long runs.

Millions of Americans, depending on where they live and where they are traveling, will keep on enduring the ancient massive jolting cars for a long time.

Railroads are putting their money into new seldom-stopping streamliners, or into their famous trains with established reputations, because that seems their only hope of showing a profit on passenger service.

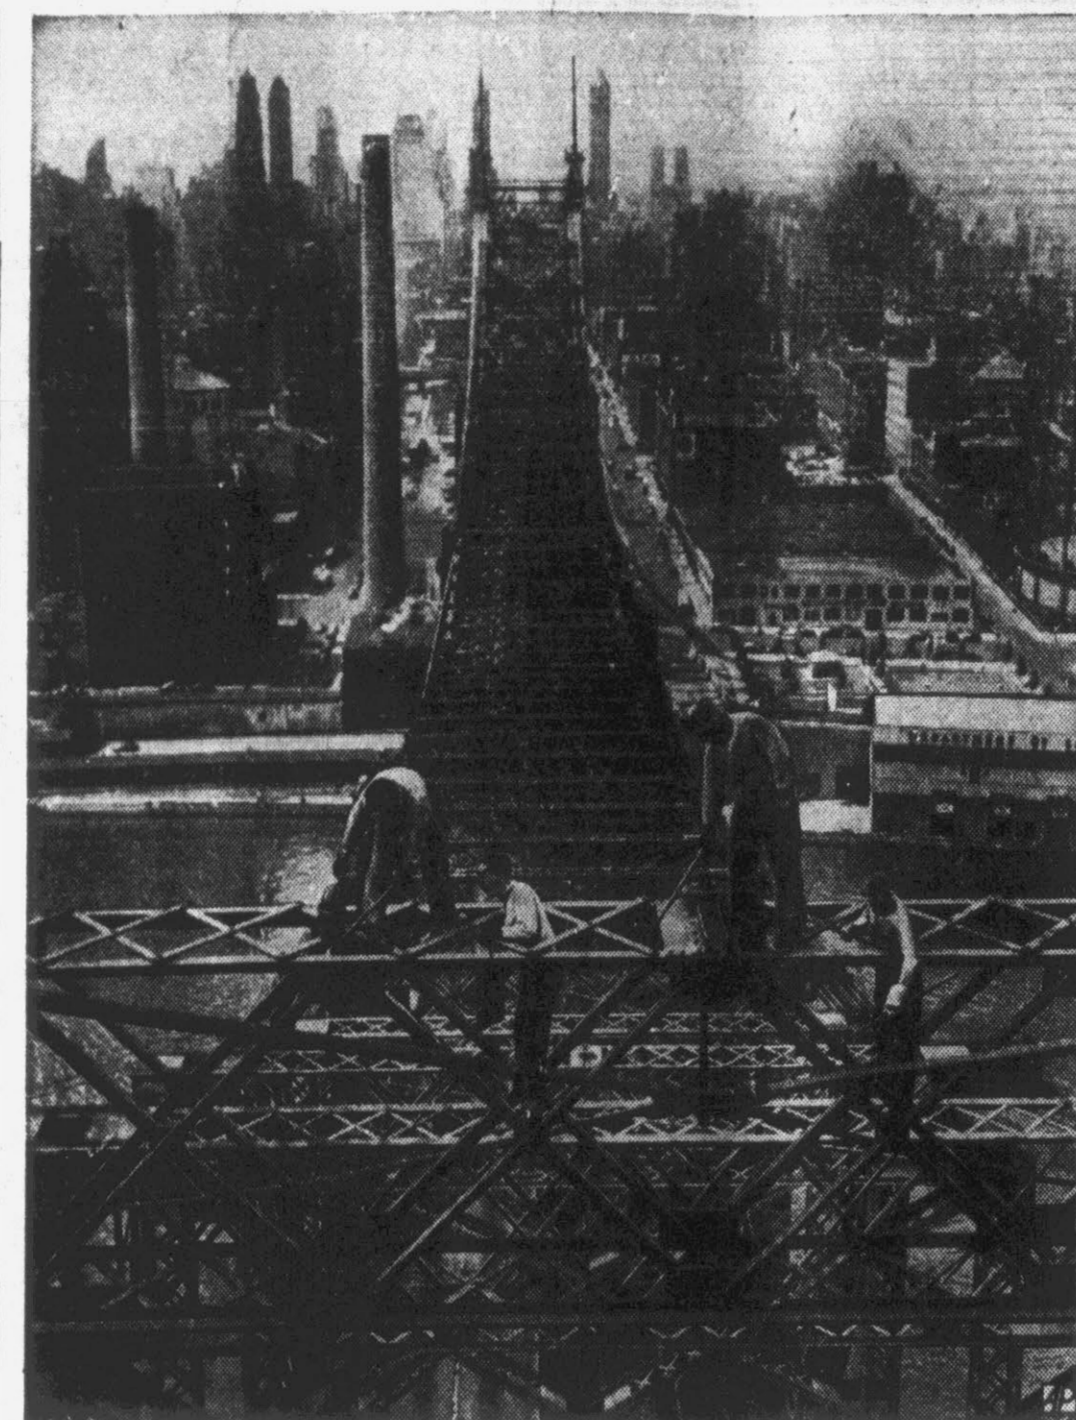

Freight, of course, is the mainstay of the industry. Generally speaking, it costs the railroads more money to operate passenger trains than they collect in fares.

But that doesn't apply to all passenger trains. Certain trains, on certain runs, are big money-makers. Notable examples are the Southern Pacific's daylight all-coach red streamliners that streak between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Central of Georgia has recently demonstrated what can be done. It created two spectacular trains, the Nancy Hanks II and Man O' War. Dashing back and forth over the Georgia countryside, these beauties brought people running to look and admire. Financially, they clicked.

But the railroads, while building up their main-line money-makers are trying to get rid of some branch-line operations.

The companies probably would get rid of these unprofitable runs sooner if they could. But often the state railroad commissions, representing the public, won't let them.

Swiss Impressed By U.S. Methods

Los Angeles, Aug. 27—(AP)—Three Swiss dentists, on their first U. S. visit, got this quick impression of Los Angeles:

Dr. Georges Lebet, Geneva—"Everything here is automatic. Automatic machines sell you cigarettes and give you back change. They toast your bread, pour your soft drinks, change your phonograph records, even shave your faces."

Dr. Jean Paul Verrin, Geneva—"Dentistry on credit! We don't have that at home. Everywhere we go there are great red signs saying 'six months to pay'."

Dr. P. H. Lugon, Lausanne—"Your beer is nearly frozen. We have to let it warm up. Your beefsteak, vegetables, milk, puddings, are frozen nearly hard and don't have the right flavor. Everything here is refrigerated, even your young ladies."

Forty-Three Get Death Sentences

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 27—(AP)—A court at Zagreb today sentenced 43 persons to death in the biggest mass trial since the war. Eighteen were ordered sent to the gallows and 25 to firing squads on accusations of being Ustashi war criminals and spies.

Two others were given life terms and ten received 15 to 20 years. Forty await trial. The Ustashi was a pro-axis force during the war.

The convicted men, all had returned illegally from Italy and Austria during the past year. Yugoslav officials said, to spy and plot the overthrow of Premier Tito's government.

State 4-H Club Dairy Food Winners

HAZEL GARRIS OF NEAR FARMVILLE

DOROTHY SHIELDS AND MARY FARMER OF CHEROKEE

College Station, Raleigh, Aug. 27—Names of individual and team winners in the State 4-H Club dairy foods demonstration contests for 1948 have been announced by Miss Rita Dubois, extension nutritionist at State College.

The individual winner is Hazel Virginia Garris, 15, of Farmville, Rt. 1, Pitt County. A member of Lang's community 4-H Club, Miss Garris has completed 23 projects in five years of club work. These included foods and nutrition, clothing, health improvement, room improvement, poultry, gardening, food preservation, frozen foods and better electric methods.

Miss Garris' winning demonstration, entitled "Drink Your Way to Health", emphasized the importance of milk in the diet.

The team winners are two Cherokee County girls, Mary Farmer, 16 of Tomolia, and Dorothy Shields, 15 of Marble, Route 1. Both are members of Murphy high school 4-H club.

Miss Farmer's 53 projects in the past five years have included foods and nutrition, clothing, room improvement, handicraft, food preservation, health improvement, family relationship, gardening, safety, poultry, pigs, personal records, and wildlife. Miss Shields has completed 46 projects in four years, including foods and nutrition, clothing, wildlife, food conservation, pig, dairy calf, personal records, health improvement, poultry, handicrafts, family relations, gardening, room improvement, and safety.

The demonstration of the Cherokee members was on "a simple dessert for everyday use." They brought out results of a county dietary survey which showed that people need to include more milk and dairy products in their meals. They prepared a soft custard and served it in seven different ways. Frozen custard was served as a sundae with nuts and whipped cream.

The choir of Zion Chapel Free Will Baptist Church of Ayden celebrates its golden anniversary on the evening of August 29, at 8 o'clock at the church.
