Berlin Governors Begin Discussion

First Such Meeting Since The Russians Walked Out Of Control Council In March; Host Of Advisors In Attendance; Seek Settlement Of Struggle For Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The Military Governors of the big four powers met today to begin discussions toward working out a settlement of the east-west struggle for Berlin.

The state department in Washington said the Governors would discuss measures to lift the blockade and to solve the dispute over the Russian and western markets circulating in the German capital.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay of the U. S. Marshal, Vasily Sokolovsky of Russia, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson of Britain and Gen. Pierre Koenig of France met at the allied control authority building shortly before the scheduled 5 p. m. (10 a. m. EST) time for the meeting.

It was the first such meeting since the Russians walked out of the control council in March. The meeting drew delegates from nine diplomatic conferences in the Kremlin of western diplomats with Foreign Minister Molotov and Prime Minister Stalin.

A host of close military, political and financial advisors accompanied the four military governors. When they last met, Sokolovsky denounced the western powers as "splitters of Germany" and abruptly left the chamber.

The plethora of advisors gave backing to reports that the governors will seek a practical solution to Berlin's involved dual currency situation and the lifting of the blockade itself. The western powers have insisted in the past that they would not even talk over the currency matter until the Russians lift the blockade.

Diplomatic sources make it plain the Berlin talks were staged under conditions favorable to the western powers, otherwise they would not have been held.

In Washington shortly before the governors assembled here, Michael McDermott, state department press officer, said:

"In connection with these further discussions, certain technical questions involved in the restoration of communications and the currency problem will require consideration and recommendations from the military governors in Berlin."

The conversations here may last a week. If all goes well, the negotiations then are likely to shift to Moscow where an announcement may be forthcoming. Moscow dispatches said there probably would be no more Kremlin talk while the governors are sitting in Berlin.

Clay and his political adviser, Ambassador Robert Murphy, are expected to arrive for the momentous meeting.

Sokolovsky appeared in a gleaming white summer uniform. Deputies to the governors were present. These were Maj. Gen. Geo. Hays of the U. S., Maj. Gen. Nevil C. D. Brownjohn of Britain, Lt. Gen. M. I. Dravlin of Russia and Maj. Roger Nolret of France.

Wallace Carries His Drive Deeper Into South Today

Added Support In North; Police Indicate Progressives Behind Heckling

Charlotte, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Eggs and tomatoes again were tossed at Henry Wallace as he tried to address a crowd of 2,500 at the Mecklenburg courthouse here today.

"We will go on," the Progressive party candidate said after being showered with eggs and ripe tomatoes in two North Carolina cities yesterday. He was due to visit several other North Carolina communities today on his six-state Southern trip.

In New York, a state convention of the American Labor party nominated Wallace and his running mate, Senator Glen H. Taylor, as its candidates.

The vote came after the convention was told by Rep. Vito Marcantonio, ALP congressman, that President Truman has "a sordid record against the people who toil."

Winston-Salem, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Much of the jeering and barrage that has been heaped on Wallace over the state has been inspired by Progressive party members themselves. Police Chief John M. Gold declared last night.

Gold expressed the opinion that the hecklers were directing their efforts at their own presidential candidate to gain sympathy for Wallace, who spoke here last night.

"Most of the hecklers here were mere boys and young men," said Gold. "Some were from out of town. Some have been identified by me as known members of the Communist party. A leader of the Progressives in Winston-Salem was pointed out to my men as one of those who got the heckling off to a start" last night.

Rumored Greek Guerrillas Lose Tito's Support

Athens, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Newspapers said today that Yugoslavia has started interning guerrillas of Markos Vafiades as they flee before the Greek army drive.

If true, this would mean another Yugoslav of Moscow as a result of the communist attacks on Yugoslav Communist leaders.

A highly placed neutral observer said Yugoslav help to the Greek Communist leader declined after the quarrel started between Tito and the Cominform. He said the interment report is quite possibly true.

Following its victory in the Grammos mountains adjoining Albania, the Greek army started an offensive in the Vitsi mountain area near the junction of the Greek, Yugoslav and Albanian frontiers.

Truman Frowns On Egg-Throwers

Terms Attacks On Wallace 'Highly Un-American'; President's Campaign Tour Gradually Shaping Up; In Iowa First

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—President Truman today termed the throwing of eggs at Henry A. Wallace, Progressive party presidential candidate, in North Carolina, a "highly un-American business."

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross quoted the President:

"The President said he thought that eggs and other missiles were certainly highly un-American business and violated the American concept of fair play."

"Mr. Wallace is entitled to say his piece the same as any other American."

Eggs, over-ripe tomatoes and other missiles were thrown on Wallace yesterday when he attempted speeches at Burlington, Greensboro and High Point.

Ross gave the President's reaction in response to a question at a news conference.

He also announced the President will make a campaign speech himself September 18 near Dexter, Iowa about 40 miles west of Des Moines.

The Iowa speech will be made during a cross country swing. Other dates and places are still being developed.

The Dexter date is in connection with the annual national plowing match and soil conservation day.

Ross said the President will travel westward from Iowa but he could give no details at this time. Further plans, he added, will be announced after the President opens his campaign with a Labor Day speech at Detroit and four other informal appearances in Michigan that day.

Ross said the Iowa address will be the "first big speech" following Mr. Truman's appearance in Michigan.

The President will return to Washington after his Labor Day jaunt into Michigan, the native state of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent.

Peters Accused Preaching U. S. Must Be Ruined

Former Communist Cites Teachings By J. Peters; Contempt Action Talked

New York, Aug. 31.—(AP)—"J. Peters" described as head of the Communist underground in America, preached that the United States "must be destroyed," a witness at his deportation hearing said today.

Former Communist Whitaker Chambers identified the mysterious Peters as the No. 1 man in the underground at a House un-American activities sub-committee hearing here yesterday.

Sub-committee members then threatened Peters with contempt charges for his refusal to answer questions about his alleged Communist affiliations and about the activities of the Communist party in this country.

The Peters case shifted back today to the immigration and naturalization service which is presenting deportation charges against him.

George Hewitt, a Negro and alleged former member of the Communist party national committee, was the witness who said Peters called for the destruction of the United States.

Hewitt, who said he renounced Communism four years ago, testified that "from the first day I was in the party I was instructed that the United States was a citadel of Capitalism, the main obstacle to Marxist-Leninist success, and this obstacle must be destroyed, including schools, government and churches, which reflect sleepiness."

The instruction was given, he said, by "the section organizer, the state organizer, Mr. Peters himself, and various officials of the party."

The House un-American activities sub-committee recommended contempt charges against Peters yesterday after he refused on constitutional grounds to tell the probes what they wanted to know.

The witness is the first to be threatened with contempt for refusing to answer questions in the house committee's spy hearings.

A dozen or more witnesses, including Harry Campbell, a former Communist Party member, having cited that section of the constitution which says a man can't be forced to testify against himself.

When the hearings shifted here yesterday from Washington, Peters refused to answer questions about Communism.

Peters was summoned before the committee after Chambers an admitted former Communist and now an editor of Time Magazine, named him as "director of an underground spy which Chambers said operated in the federal government in 1934."

Hurricane Heads Out From Coast

Rough Welcome Weather Bureau Says Storm Will Miss The Coast Unless Course Again Changed; Strong Winds Anticipated; Another Hurricane Brewing In South Atlantic

Hickory, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Henry Wallace was egged and booed here today and hurriedly left the city amid wild shouts of derision.

He was struck at least once by an egg. Tomatoes splattered about him.

Observers estimated that several dozen eggs and two dozen tomatoes were thrown. One egg struck Wallace on the shoulder.

On the drive from Charlotte the potato—was tossed against the car at several hamlets through which the party motored. Quite a shower descended against the car at Newton.

Small groups gathered along the roadside at several points hooted as the party rolled by.

Several policemen accompanied the presidential nominee as he stepped from his car in Hickory's Union Square and strode to a loud speaker. Loud boos broke out.

Urges Labor To Back Individuals

UTWA Head Proposes Breaking Party Lines In November Vote

Athens, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Labor should break party lines in November and vote for the individual most favorable to it, Anthony Valente, president of the United Textile Workers of America, told members of the North Carolina Federation of Labor today, meeting at City Auditorium.

He pointed out that based on the Democratic platform, most of the votes should go to Democrats.

"I don't care if you are a Communist," he said, "but you should not force liberal Republicans to back the party."

Analysing the platforms of each of the political parties, he told of Republican offers to "discuss" the Taft-Hartley law, while on the other hand, the Democratic platform calls for repeal of the law.

Mentioning the Progressive party of Henry Wallace, who will appear here this afternoon, he had this to say: "Wallace agrees to give everything to everybody—if he were elected, it would only be necessary to stay home and collect your wages."

The textile workers' president said that Wallace was making promises he could not deliver and he believes the third party candidate is a demagogue.

Ridiculing the Dixiecrats, he said they had only one platform plank—"states rights."

Married

Wilson, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—W. W. Robinson, 38, of nearby Micro, who advertised for a wife in a Wilson newspaper, was married here yesterday.

From the 25 replies he received since the advertisement last week, he picked Kathleen Tyndall, 23, of his home town. Robinson said in his classified advertisement that he was too busy working to do any courting. He had three children by a former wife.

Court May Hear Dixiecrats' Case

State Supreme Court Will Probably Hear Appeal Tomorrow

Raleigh, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The State Supreme Court probably will hear tomorrow a case in which States Rights Democrats are seeking a place on North Carolina's general election ballot, it was indicated today.

Attorney-General Harry McMillan appeared at the opening session of the court's fall term today to move that the case be advanced for immediate hearing.

The court will decide on the motion when it goes into conference this afternoon. However, Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy asked McMillan and attorneys for the States Rights if they were prepared to argue the case tomorrow.

In the case, the State Board of Elections is appealing from a lower court decision ordering that names of the States' Rights candidates be placed on the ballot.

Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina is the party's candidate for president and Governor Fielding Wright of Mississippi the candidate for vice-president.

Stacy, pointing out that the court's first regular opinion date is Sept. 22, asked if an opinion at an early date is urgent. McMillan replied that it was urgent in order that the State Board of Elections may proceed with the printing of ballots.

New Pain-Killing Drug Reported By Laboratories

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Discovery of a new pain-killing drug many times more potent than cocaine was reported today to the American Chemical Society.

The society's 114th national meeting heard the pain-killing drug described by four chemists of the Smith, Kline & French laboratories in Philadelphia.

Temperatures Level Off After Long Heat Wave

Chicago, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Temperatures headed for near normal levels over parts of the nation's heat belt today but readings in the 90's again were in prospect for many areas.

The intense heat of more than a week was broken over most of the Great Lakes region, the New England states and sections of the eastern seaboard. Not hot and humid conditions continued in the Central Plains, West Gulf states and the southeastern states.

Deaths attributed to the heat which extended from the Rockies to the eastern seaboard all last week totaled 194.

Three Executed At Nashville For A Single Charge

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 31.—Three Negroes were electrocuted at State prison here today for raping a white girl on the grounds of the Tennessee capitol in the summer of 1935.

Deputy Warden Webb Williams said the three men went to the death chamber calmly. None made a statement.

The three men were arrested and convicted of a single crime after a series of similar attacks on young white women on the capitol grounds. In each case, escorts of the rape victims were robbed.

Gov. Jim McCorrd refused to intervene in the case after visiting the prisoners in their cells last week. The state supreme court had turned down a petition to rehear their case.

New Patrolmen To Be Sworn In

Raleigh, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Forty seven new highway patrolmen will be sworn in at ceremonies tomorrow. Col. H. J. Hatcher, Patrol Commander, announced today.

The new patrolmen, along with 14 other would-be patrolmen, graduated from training school at Chapel Hill recently.

The patrolmen will be sworn in by Associate Justice Sam J. Ervin of the state supreme court and will hear talks by Governor Cherry, motor vehicle Commissioner L. C. Ross, and Hatcher.

Draft Registration To List Over 9 Million Men

By the Associated Press

It was the 25-year-olds and those registering today and tomorrow are expected to be included in the exempt section because of previous service or dependency ratings. Selective Service officials have indicated that the bulk of future drafts will come from the 22- and 23-year-old groups due to register later this week.

The Army—which is getting all the November inductees—is expected to ask for another 10,000 draftees in December, later stepping up the pace to about 30,000 a month.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal in announcing the Army's first call yesterday said the Navy and Air Force are counting on filling their ranks.

Human Skeleton Found By Creek

Durham, N.C., Aug. 31.—(AP)—A human skeleton, apparently that of a man, was found on the bank of a small creek running through the woods 120 feet from U.S. Highway 70 east of the city today.

Agency Wants Critics

Atomic Energy Commission Wants More Discussion On Its Work, More Criticism And More 'Brickbats'; Why; Public Needs Information On New Science

Washington, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Ever hear of a government agency asking the people and the press to inquire into its actions and batter it with criticisms?

The atomic energy commission is doing just that.

So far there has not been as much searching inquiry into atomic policy as one might expect.

This may be partly because people have been held back by the imminently horror, secrecy and mystery of the subject of atomic energy. It may be partly because so much of the public thinks of the problem only in terms of the bomb, and lacks even elementary knowledge about atomic forces.

David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the commission, has been talking along the same lines.

Beer-Wine Votes In 3 Counties Scheduled Today

By the Associated Press

Voters in three North Carolina counties today cast ballots in referendums to determine if their counties are to continue selling beer and wine.

The elections were scheduled in Cherokee, Cumberland and McDowell counties. Northampton county will vote on the same issue tomorrow.

Dry forces, victorious in the last 14 referendums, were confident that today's returns would add to their already staggering triumphs. Voters in nine counties Saturday gave the dries overwhelming victories.

Los Angeles, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The infantile paralysis outbreak has soared to 52 deaths in Los Angeles County, with 373 patients confined today in the general hospital, 23 of them in respirators.

Dictator For France?

People Of France Tiring Of Instability In Government Appear Turning To Absolutism; One Province Wants De Gaulle; General Election Is Probable

The fall of the month old Coalition Government of French Premier Andre Marie at the week-end (the second Paris Government to collapse within a month) accentuates the gravity of the politico-economic crisis in France both for her long-suffering citizens and for her anxious allies.

A Belle France, you know, is a key position not only in the defense of western Europe against Communist aggression, but in the economic rehabilitation of the continent.

Preston Grover, A. P. Chief of bureau in France, made a tour of Brittany and took the political pulse of the country folk. Everywhere the feeling was much the same.

"We won't like it, but we need a dictator," declared the owner-operator of a threshing machine. "We want stability."

Inspection Lane In City Gets Last-Minute Rush

Automobiles lined up for over half a mile along Myrtle Avenue today awaiting inspection by the state auto inspection lane which will dismantle and leave Greenville tomorrow morning.

The state law provides that all cars of models up to and including 1936 and all 1947 and 1948 models cars should be inspected by today.

Walter A. Dall, in charge of the inspection lane here, estimated that some 1400 cars have gone through the lane in the past three days. "We are running about one a minute," he said.

Dall also reported that approximately 80 percent of the cars inspected are being rejected on their first time through the lane. Only 20 percent are passing without having adjustments made. He also stated "one or two" cars a day are being condemned and ordered taken off the highways of the state.

Cars which are condemned at the inspection lane are set aside and pulled away by a wrecker.

Singer Dinah Shore Captures Londoners

London, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Silky voiced singer Dinah Shore wowed 'em at the Palladium Theater last night.

The Daily Graphic's critic paid her opening night the ultimate accolade, on the front page, no less: "Bigger Success Than Danny Kaye."

The breeding ground of the new storm is some 400 miles south of the area where the hurricane now off Cape Hatteras sprang up.

Hennie Ruth Whichard Becomes Bride of Verlin J. Gripp in St. Paul's Church

In a simple ceremony at 5 o'clock Sunday, August 29, in Saint Paul's Episcopal Church of Greenville, North Carolina, Miss Hennie Ruth Whichard, daughter of Mrs. Walter Linden Whichard and the late Mr. Whichard of Greenville, and Verlin Junior Gripp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Gripp of Sioux City, Iowa, were united in marriage. The Right Reverend Thomas C. Darst, retired bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Before the wedding the following selections were played by Miss Eva Hodges, organist of Greenville: "Romance of Rubinstein"; "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell; "Prelude in E Minor," Chopin; "Traumerel," Schumann; "Intermezzo," Mascagni; "Ave Maria," Schubert. Robert A. Mays, Jr., soloist, of Hopewell, Virginia, sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love" prior to the ceremony. Traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, entering the church with her uncle, Robert Greene, by whom she was given in marriage, was attired in a beige Kay-Saks gabardine suit with dark brown accessories. She carried a white Prayer Book showered with staphenotis and centered with a white orchid with a ruby throat.

Miss Mary Andrews Whichard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a forest green Mary Moffet original two-piece fall dress with accessories of the same color. She carried a colonial bouquet of California asters in shades of rose.

Flower girls were Misses Margaret Ella Greene and Elizabeth White, cousins of the bride, who wore yellow tulle dresses with coronets of tulle and asters and carried miniature nosegays of pastel shades of pom-pom asters.

The best man was John E. Neswick of Sioux City, Iowa. The mother of the bride was attired in a plum colored crepe dress with ivy green accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of green Cypripedium orchids.

Ushers were Messrs. David Whichard, Jack Whichard, Sam T. White, II, and William H. White, Jr. Crucifer was Charles A. White, Jr.

Following the ceremony the mother of the bride received informally at her home honoring the wedding party and out-of-town guests attending.

For traveling, the bride wore the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet. After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Sioux City, Iowa.

Mrs. Gripp was educated in the city schools of Greenville and received her B. S. degree in Education from East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, in June. While in college she was a member of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business fraternity, and was listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Mr. Gripp served with the Marine Corps for three years after graduating from Storm Lake, Iowa, high school. He recently graduated from National Business Training School in Sioux City, Iowa, majoring in Accounting.

One of the most enjoyable parties given for the Gripps-Whichard wedding party was that of Mrs. Samuel Tilden White at Atlantic Beach, Friday, August 27th. The party arrived at the Seashore Club around 11:00 o'clock. Upon arrival they were greeted by the hostess, her daughter, Helen White Hayes, and Mrs. K. B. Pace. Mrs. Leslie Yelverton and Mrs. M. L. Wright served tomato juice before lunch, and at 2:00 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room where a table laden with tempting food was served. The most attractive centerpiece consisted of an arrangement of summer fruits and vegetables in a half watermelon decorated with yukers.

After lunch the guests enjoyed card games, dancing, sunbathing and swimming. Before departing a picnic supper was served in the dining room. A number of friends from the Summer Colony enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. White.

Honoring the Gripp-Whichard wedding party, close friends and out-of-town guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander White entertained at dinner on Saturday night at their home on Ninth street. Receiving with the host and hostess were Miss Hennie Ruth Whichard and Mr. Verlin Junior Gripp, bride and bridegroom-elect.

Clematis, yellow dahlias and lupin were used in profusion in the living and dining rooms and on the porch where the guests gathered for a delightfully informal party. Ivory table linens flanked the centerpiece of yellow and white garden flowers on the dining table covered with a linen cloth of cut-work and felt lace where Mrs. Walter Linden Whichard, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Samuel Tilden White, II, served a delectable three course dinner, assisted by Mrs. Robert Greene and Mrs. David Whichard.

Also serving were Misses Barbara and Elizabeth White, Miss Margaret Ella Green, Masters Charles and George White, all cousins of the bride, and little Anna Louise White who passed cigarettes between courses.

On Saturday evening immediately following the rehearsal for the Gripp-Whichard wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greene entertained informally at their home on East Ninth street.

The host and hostess greeted their guests and directed them to the punch bowl where Mrs. W. L. Whichard, mother of the bride, presided.

Beautiful arrangements of pretty fall flowers and greenery presented a lovely picture in the living room. The dining room was indeed lovely with its color scheme of green and white. The table was centered with an old fashioned colonial bouquet of California asters and showered with pom-pom asters and the soft glow from ivory candles blended perfectly with the artistic arrangement of the table.

At one end of the table, a three tiered wedding cake iced in green and white and surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, was served by Miss Eva Hodges and at the other end Mrs. Charles White served bridal joys, salted nuts and decorated mints.

About 80 guests enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Greene's hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., entertained the Gripp-Whichard wedding party, the families and out-of-town guests at luncheon on Sunday at 1 o'clock at their home on Elizabeth street.

Guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stokes, III, and invited into rooms which were lovely with decorations of clematis and pink asters in the dining room a bridal motif of green and white was emphasized, the table featuring a beautiful centerpiece of clematis.

On arrival of the guests punch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stokes assisted by Miss Helen Stokes. Mrs. Cale Burgess, of Raleigh, and Mrs. W. L. Whichard, mother of the bride, presided at the table in the dining room to serve a delectable luncheon.

During the luncheon hour guests were seated at small tables in the living room and sun room. The bride's table in the sun room was marked by a miniature bride, in an exquisite bridal costume complete with train and veil.

Out-of-town guests here to attend the wedding were Arif Gripp and John E. Neswick, of Sioux City, Iowa; Miss Mildred Mays and Robert A. Mays, Jr., of Hopewell, Va.; Miss Maude Lee, of Chapel Hill; Mrs. Cale Burgess, of Raleigh; Douglas Guthrie, of Newport News, Va.; Al Livesey, of Emporia, Va. and Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. White, II, of Philadelphia.

Andrew Jenkins On Trial Second Degree Murder

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge Luther Hamilton of Morehead City, in his charge to the grand jury in Superior Court Monday, explained in detail the grand jurors' duties, various points of law and the purpose of their functioning. His charge was impressive. Hugh C. Winslow was appointed foreman. Jurors serve six months on the permanent grand jury. Those appointed last January are R. E. Carroll, M. G. Tucker, John A. Allen, H. H. Duncan and M. M. Edmundson. New members are Herman Stokes, E. A. Hooks, W. H. Moore, Jr., W. O. Allen, Lloyd Allen, Robert S. Moye, W. P. Thigpen, Vance T. Corey and P. S. Rasberry.

The grand jury returned a true bill against Andrew Jenkins, colored, of Greenville, charged with murder of Robert Overby, colored, last June 29. Jenkins was arraigned in court yesterday afternoon and Solicitor W. J. (Dick) Bundy took up the case shortly before noon today. Blount and Taft, counsel for Jenkins, submitted a plea of second degree murder, and the State accepted it. Taking of testimony was under way at the midday recess. The grand jury yesterday also re-

Ken Smart of Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, ministerial student of Davidson College, will do the preaching each evening at the Youth Revival to be held at Hollywood Presbyterian Church, beginning September 1 and closing September 5.

The song leader will be "Matt" McGowan of Greenville, a ministerial student at Davidson, also. There will be special music rendered each night by the young people of one of the neighboring churches.

While the young people will direct the activities of the revival, the older people are expected to give their support by attending. The services will begin each evening at 7:30.

All the young people of Pitt County are invited to attend as much as possible; this is a county-wide revival, sponsored by the Youth Fellowship of Hollywood Church, on New Bern Highway.

Services will be held: Thursday Rose Hill; Friday Ballard's Cross-Roads; Saturday, Meadowbrooks; and Sunday, Community Chapel in Portertown.

Several Russians in civilian dress accompanied Sokolovsky. Berlin itself was relatively quiet and free of incidents. A special French envoy from Moscow brought directives as a result of the discussions there. These may form a basis of an agreement to end the crisis in this blockade city.

Strength FOR THE DAY

HEROISM AT THE BUSH HOUR
 A few months ago a woman rushing for a subway train slipped and fell, and her leg became wedged between the edge of the platform and the car. A hero appeared at that moment, not on a white charger or with any of the dramatic accompaniments of a great rescuer, but in the form of a sensible middle-aged chap who knew what to do in a time of crisis and how to get people to cooperate.

As if he had thought it all out in advance, he held open the door so the train would not start and told half the people to stay in the car and throw all their weight on the side opposite that on which the woman was pinned. He then used as many people as could get their hands on the side of the car to shove it away from the platform. They were able to move it only a fraction of an inch, but this was enough to free the woman.

Here were 50 to 100 people almost entirely unacquainted with one another who got together heroically in a time of crisis. Here was a prosaic individual who used keen observation and the sense God gave him to perform a rescue worthy of a decoration. Poetry stalks our streets, heroism rubs elbows with us every day, greatness abides in little people.

who knew, and know, that once it is gone, all freedom will soon follow.

It is not the fact that it happened to be the lips of Henry Wallace that a mob tried to seal which gives the incident such a sombre tone; it might have been anyone.

That's the point, it might have been you.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

WIND-UP—Last port of call for the advisory budget commission on its 1948 inspection tour was the Stonewall Jackson Training school at Concord. Sometime later in the fall the commission may look over proposed ports and river developments, and there is some sentiment for more careful than usual inspection of department buildings at Raleigh. But the prearranged itinerary was completed when the budget group checked away from Stonewall Jackson, after looking over the orthopedic hospital at Gastonia earlier the same day.

REVERSE—Situation at the orthopedic hospital is almost reverse of most institutions. Nearly everywhere else management sought more buildings to care for more people. Dr. W. M. Roberts, head of the hospital here would be happy if he could get sufficient appropriation to equip and staff a ward which was closed several years ago because of inability to get nurses. The state has a capital investment here of $413,847 and the operations budget for the present biennium is $409,147.

CHEERFUL—Managing heads of the institution may have some worries about carrying on, but the crippled kids are the most cheerful lot of youngsters to be found anywhere. Dr. Roberts performs an average of 500 operations a year—about ten each week—and the success he and his staff have had in literally putting kids back on their feet is amazing. With future demand likely to be heavier because of the post epidemic, budgeteers expressed hope they can find some way to utilize all the potential hospital space. The kids are bright and are not sick, but many of them cannot go to school; so a special system has been worked out whereby teachers visit the bedrooms and keep the children up with their age group in the public schools.

JACKSON—Many things need to be done to bring Jackson Training school up to top level of efficiency, but members of the budget commission who had visited the institution before were impressed by signs of progress. The school owns 62 acres including some fine farming land, but the buildings are located on top of a rocky hill about five miles southwest of Concord. One problem is heat. It gets cold on that hill. Arrangement of buildings and type of rock make laying of pipes for a central heating plant uneconomic. Plans are underway for improving the individual heating units in each cottage and school building.

PERSONNEL—The plant has a book valuation of $1,051,241 and a permanent improvement allocation of $257,500. Because of condition of the property present day estimates are the original valuation is not as much out of line as many other institutions, but the improvement amount will have to be doubled to bring the plant to where the general assembly of 1947 expected it to be. The budget book gives the school 359 average population and 68 employees — including administrative, supervisory and teaching staffs. Obviously one of the chief needs is more personnel. Although the boys here have been convicted of crime and committed by court order, most of them are not regarded as essentially or potentially criminal. Social maladjustment back home is largely responsible for their situation. As one man expressed it: "If the state is going to spend a quarter million dollars a year to operate the school in which it has over a million dollars invested, it ought to spend a few thousands more and enoble the institution to do its job of rehabilitating and readjusting the youngsters." Another comment was that this and similar type schools are called reformatories, but there isn't much chance for reform when 25 to 30 bad boys have to room and work together without adequate supervision.

DEMOCRACY DIDN'T WIN THAT ROUND

Although we are not in sympathy with Henry Wallace, his ideas or his party's platform, we regard the treatment accorded him by some of our own North Carolinians as a shocking display. The ideals we felt we shared with fellow citizens took a beating.

The Americans who threw eggs and tomatoes at Mr. Wallace and drowned his voice with jibes and boos, were not doing themselves, their state, their cause or their nation any favor. It would be hard to conceive a greater disservice to the principles, which we assume, they thought they were upholding.

Why was it done?
 He came to speak as a candidate for the presidency, a role which is open to each citizen.

Were the members of the mobs who assailed Wallace afraid of the man himself? Of his ideas? Could they have been so unreasoning as to think that ideas can be stopped with rotten eggs and tomatoes?

The polls were the places where they could best and most effectively display their opposition to any candidate. Instead of using the logical and more practical means of giving a political aspirant the brush-off with ballots, the unthinking people provided Henry Wallace with millions of dollars worth of free publicity throughout the country; they gave him the mantle of an American who was denied the right to speak his mind; a martyr; they discredited their own communities and thousands of more responsible voters.

The right of freedom of speech has been frequently abused to the point that it sometimes approaches treason; but that same right has been jealously guarded by generations of Americans

Tired, "All-In" Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—many hours—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—this is the old hollow laced. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic also, Build Stronger Men!

Federal Judge's order... looks like there should have been some way to save it... Let's see... that's about 1,322,600 cans of beer at 15 cents a can... worth about $198,390 in the can... and that reminds me... I could use a cold beer right now...

Later, Mr. Citizen sat at supper with his wife.
 "Anything in the news, dear?" she asked.
 "Not much," he grunted. "Same old stuff."

Rotarians Meet Monday Evening

By WYATT BROWN

Occasion was taken to pause in the course of the Rotary meeting last night to pay tribute to the memory of a recently deceased member, Steve Wilkerson, and then Club President Ernest L. Willard engaged in a brief eulogy.

For fun last night the Rotarians were treated as a class of school children. First Bob Bradshaw was called on to name the first and last names of each Rotarian present. He received a prize for doing it perfectly. Next a spelling match was held with Ty Wagner passing out the words and Ernest Willard acting as judge. The "teacher" had to search his book to get Bancroft; Moseley and Fred Irons to miss a word. Finally Fred Irons won the match.

Guests of the club were David Evans Jr. of Greenville and Edwin Wilkerson of Rochester, New York. Visiting Rotarians were George Davis of Farmville, Lebrun Spence of Melbourne, Florida, and Charlie Outland of Richmond, Virginia. The program was put on by "Buck" Buchanan. Ernest Willard, club president, presided.

Heavy Sentence For Michael Taft

By CHESTER WALSH

In Police Court Monday, Judge J.W.H. Roberts gave Michael Taft, Negro with a court record, two years on the roads for assault with a deadly weapon; two years for carrying a concealed weapon; 30 days for discharging firearms in the city, and 30 days for trespassing and disorderly conduct on Person-Garrett Tobacco Company property. It was testified that Taft, brandishing a pistol, left the factory when Policemen Glandon and House approached, and that he fired at them. Officers apprehended Taft next day. The court commented in passing sentence that Taft has a charge of manufacturing bootleg whiskey against him in Superior Court.

William A. Dunn was fined $100 and costs for driving drunk, placed on probation for a year and his driver's license was ordered revoked for a year. He was not guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. Bessie Lee Jones was fined $50 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon.

Edgar I. Leimbach paid $20, costs deducted, for speeding; William J. Stokes paid $20, costs deducted; W. M. Humphreys was fined $15 and costs for an affray with Ashley E. Jackson of Black Creek in the Carolina Grill on Dickinson Ave. Alexander Blow, colored, paid $15 for failure to pay taxi fare and cost for his trip. W. E. Trimbath paid $15 for being drunk. John L. Sherrod, colored paid $25, costs deducted, for assault.

Della Coburn, who was given 30 days in jail for disorderly conduct and profane language, appealed to Superior Court. Her bond was $100. Reckless driving: John Grimes, colored, 30 days on the roads, suspended on payment of $15 and $25 to the prosecuting witness. Winnie Nobles Bright was not guilty. Willie Nobles, colored, paid $25 for assault on a female. Ada Clark, colored, was not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Will Turnage, O. E. Drake, Isalah Joyner and John H. Joyner, all colored, each paid $10 on costs.

Blistered

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Aug. 31 — (AP)—A steel cable fed 44,000 volts of electricity into Thurston Townsend, 18, yesterday leaving him alive but blistered. The high school youth was all but electrocuted when his model airplane, attached to the cable, crashed into a power line.

The resultant shock hurled him four feet into the air, blistered his feet where the charge passed to the ground through tacks in his shoes, burned his hand severely and blistered his lower lip.

When he fell to the ground the cable coiled around him setting the grass on fire.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the result. You need not guess you will see facts. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism; arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ill. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

Amazing Results

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous waters. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank his waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

"We wish to state that after using GEO-MINERAL for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store" — reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidney, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggist's shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few returns."

100% Guaranteed!
WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money in full. Try it today! It may do wonders for you — and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better. GEO-MINERAL: 1 bot. $1.16, 6 for $5.00

This is Our Policy... on DELIVERIES, PRICES, TRADE-INS FINANCING, ACCESSORIES

When a manufacturer produces a car so obviously ahead of the times as the Futuramic Oldsmobile, it's only natural that demand for that product should break all records. Add to this today's pent-up need for automobiles—plus continuing shortages of steel and other critical materials—and you'll see why we have a real problem on our hands. We value the good will of all our customers. We would like to provide all our customers with new Oldsmobile cars. But unfortunately, this can't be done overnight. That is why we are taking this opportunity to reaffirm publicly our POLICIES ON PRICES AND DELIVERIES. We believe that under present circumstances these policies constitute a sound basis for "fair play" to everybody. And we hope that, on this basis, we may continue to serve you.

Greenies Lose To New Bern By Score Of 6-5

Double In Eleventh Inning Provided Visitors Narrow Margin Of Victory; Homer By Mauney Helped Locals' Cause

By BERT MOYE

Manager Bakie Palmer's double to bring home George Sulliman, who had walked, with two out in the 11th inning, gave the New Bern Bears a 6 to 5 win over the Greenies here last night in a hard fought game between the two clubs.

The New Bern Bears went out in front in the first two frames by tallying two runs each in the first and second frames. In the first frame a triple, single and a double accounted for two runs and in the second a walk, triple and a single accounted for two more runs.

The Greenies scored once in the first on a walk, stolen base, and two singles; another tallie was added in the sixth when Willie Mauney slammed a homer over the right centerfield wall; and they tied the score at four-all in the seventh when two runs were scored on two walks, an error and two singles.

The Greenies went out in front with a singleton in the eighth frame on a walk, single, error and a sacrifice. However the Bears came back in their top of the ninth to tie the count at 5-5 by scoring a run on two singles aided by a very costly error.

Johnny Kovalchick went the route for the Greenies and received his eighth setback of the season. It was his first loss to the Bears. Prior to last night's game he had defeated the Bears three times. Harry Spaine, Bears' rightfielder, with two triples and a single was the big gun in the 11-hit attack off Kovalchick.

Denny Gaskins went the route for the Bears and marked up his 19th win of the season, and his third against the Greenies. He has suffered one defeat at the hands of the Greenies, Willie Mauney with a homer and two singles and Bob Cohen with three singles led the 10-hit attack off Gaskins.

Mangrum Again Boosts Winnings At Utah Open

Salt Lake City, Aug. 31—(AP)—Dapper Lloyd Mangrum, the Chicago links ace, boosted his margin as leading pro golf tournament money winner yesterday by taking top honors in the $12,500 Utah open in a playoff match.

Mangrum toured the tricky-greened Port Douglas course in three-under par 69 to down George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., who carded 71 in the 18-hole playoff.

Mangrum and Fazio left for Reno immediately after the presentation of awards. They will enter the Reno open, next event for the touring golfers.

AIRPORT CLOSED

ACC Counts On Ligon At Guard

Wilson, August 31—The Atlantic Christian College football team will have little trouble at right guard this season if the reserves come through. Coach Bob Spangler has Charles "Ned" Ligon, former Wake Forest college grid performer slated for that first string spot.

Ligon, a Wilson lad, has enrolled at ACC after doing a tour of duty in the army air corps. He was an all-state grid performer for Wilson's Charles L. Coon High in 1944 and was a star of the state championship team that year.

Ligon entered Wake Forest in 1945 and performed for the Gator Bowl champs that year. He then left to go into the army and after being discharged decided to enter the local institution.

The rugged guard is 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall and weighs in at 185 pounds.

The Bulldogs hold their first practice Wednesday, Sept. 1, when all team prospects will report for a light workout.

The Bulldogs will run from both a single wing type offense and a Tennessee type attack this season.

SOFT SPOT—Frits became ill the night before a Danbury, Conn., Lions club show for children's mutts, so his owner, Fred Paul, 3 1/2, saw to it that the pet got a soft bed.

Bench Strength Is Secret Of Brooklyn's Advantage

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Bench strength," that's one of the reasons Burt Shotton's ferocious gentlemen lead the National League today.

Shotton's front-running Brooklyn Dodgers are deep in reserves and the canny Brook pilot is employing his substitutes to the utmost advantage in his bid to bring the pennant to Brooklyn for the second consecutive year.

Second stringers enjoyed a field day at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday as the Dodgers took a doubleheader, 6-5 and 6-1, to increase their lead to a game and a half over the runner-up Boston Braves.

Trailing, 5-2, going into the ninth inning of the first game before 33,508 fans, the reserves swung into action and sparked a four-run rally that enabled the Dodgers to win.

Lefty Joe Hatten held the Cards to five hits in racking up his 11th victory.

The setbacks dumped the Cards into fourth place, two percentage points behind the Pittsburgh Pirates who moved into third as a result of their 2-1 triumph over the Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh.

Two former Dodgers, Dixie Walker, one-time darling of Flatbush followers, and Pitcher Frits Ostermuller teamed up to beat the Braves, who now have lost six of their last seven starts.

Walker drove in both Pittsburgh runs when he clouted his second homer of the season with Danny Murtaugh on base in the first inning. Murtaugh got on via a single to stretch his consecutive game hitting streak to 17.

The Pirates, who have won 18 out of their last 26 games, are three and a half games off the pace, the same distance as the Cardinals.

Explosives Found In Trash To Be Burned

Wilmington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Explosives were found in an ashcan here yesterday, just before trash was to be burned in the city incinerator.
Young Ronald Butler, who came upon the explosives, was burned when he ignited one of the sticks. Detectives were investigating.

Here and There: When Tarboro defeated Rocky Mount at Tarboro on Sunday afternoon the Tars clinched the 1948 Coastal Plain League pennant . . . Tarboro Manager Bull Hamons has announced the indefinite suspension of Ken Andrewah, crack second baseman. Hamons said the suspension came because of "insubordination" . . . Tarboro, Goldsboro, Kinston and Rocky Mount will play in the Shaughnessy playoff series to determine finalists for the Coastal Plain championship of 1948. That was decided Sunday when Wilson handed New Bern a double defeat, 8 to 7 and 14-4 . . . The post season series will in all probability start September 8 . . . The loss last night by the Greenies was their fifth overtime loss this season. New Bern now has a margin of 10 wins and 9 losses against the Greenies. New Bern had 10 men stranded on the base and Greenville had 11. Both teams made one double play. Moe Carter at second base really did some fine work in the infield last night on the defensive side of the ledger.

The greatest thrill to most baseball fans is not the home run. Although seeing a ball speed over the fence has its good points, the smooth action of the infield on a fast double play ball thrills more died-in-the-wool fans than any other maneuver. At least that's what came of a ball taken in one of the nation's largest cities, where folks flock to the ball park in no uncertain numbers.

Where the triple play is a freak maneuver, often the result of indifferent base running, the twin-killing is a mark of coordination and fitness on the part of players handling the ball. It's as speedy as a subway grinding into New York's Grand Street terminal.

Just look at your watch and check the second hand. It doesn't take long for the device to pass the digit 12. Yet, in that allotted space a good team can erase more base hits than the best pitcher in the world.

In the Coastal Plain League, the Kinston Eagles have more clockwork than any other outfit. Before the season's end, Steve Collins and his playmates will average better than one double play per game. That's consistency plus.

Dempsey To Open School Of Boxing

Los Angeles, Aug. 31—(AP)—Professor, move over and make room on the faculty bench for Jack Dempsey, D.S.

The D.S. could stand for Doctor of Sweat because the former heavy-weight champion said here yesterday he hopes to start a boxing school in the east within six or seven months.

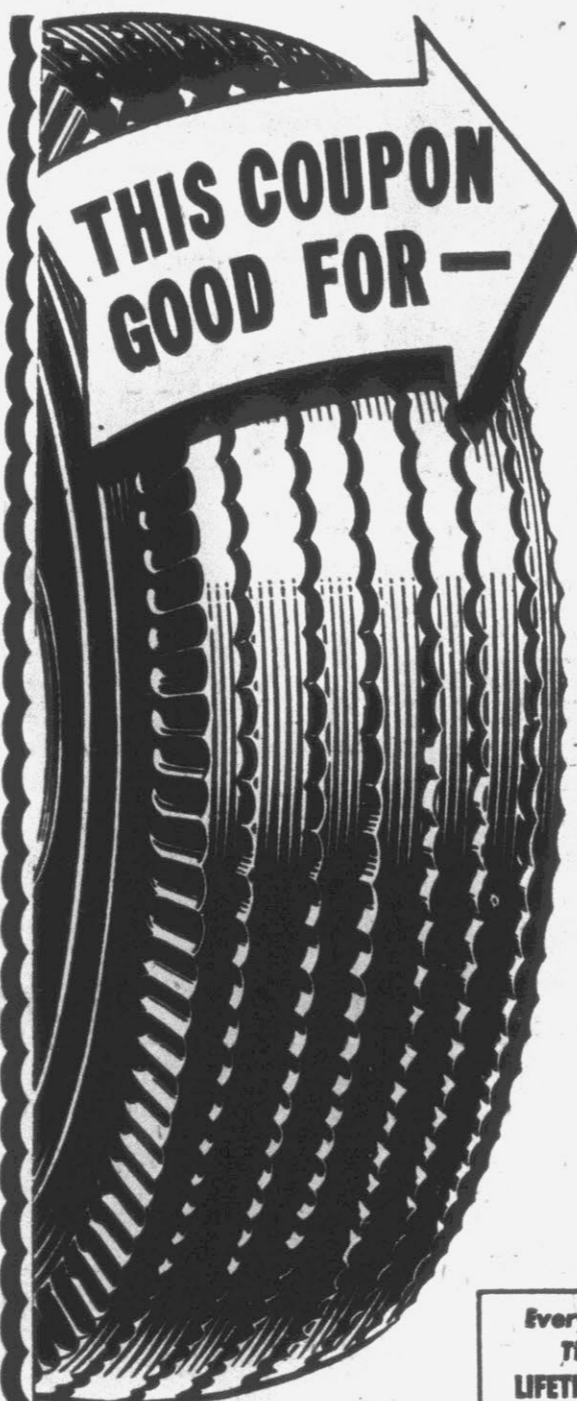

Location of the school, said Dempsey, probably will be just outside New York City. Dempsey said his associates will include Marty Burke, former New Orleans light heavy-weight, Gus Wilson, veteran Los Angeles boxing manager, and Max Waxman, Dempsey's business manager.

The goal of Dempsey's envisioned college of clout will be to develop more and better boxing talent in all divisions.

"We hope," said Jack "to put boxing back on a higher scale. Matriculation will be open to strong young men of all nationalities and weights. Fighters who show promise will be turned over to old-time trainers who know how to bring the boys along, Prof. Dempsey explained.

He did not disclose how active a part he will take in the instruction. But if a fast, hard-hitting heavy-weight should come along, it seems certain the old master from Mansfield won't be playing mumbledey.

retraced his steps. Again he bent over her, remembered that she was still wearing her boots . . . after some fumbling under the blanket he removed them, put them down on the floor. He eyed her sweater. That was going to prove even more difficult than the dungarees. He squared his shoulders, drew a deep breath . . . he drew up her sweater, gulped and colored. Quickly he eased it over her head, backed away and came erect. He turned, marched off, and draped the sweater over a second box.

"Boy," he mumbled and shook his head again. "That was something, awright. Danged good thing Nettie wasn't here 't see it."

His shirt was drenched and it clung to him. He found a battered pall in a dark corner of the shack. He poked it out . . . with his gun butt he smashed the two remaining boxes, put the pieces of wood into the pall, used two of his precious remaining matches to start the wood burning. When the pall fire appeared to be coming along, he put the thing down in the middle of the floor, moved it a little closer to the boxes holding Gay's sweater and dungarees.

"Reckon that oughta help thim dry," he muttered.

He unbuttoned his own shirt, took it off . . . held it up for a moment, there was a makeshift table in one corner and he dragged it across the floor until it was close to the crackling pall, spread his shirt out on the table with the tail hanging down.

"Phil," he heard a voice say and a hand reached out and caught his "O-h," he said. "You awright?"

"Yes," Gay answered. "Thanks to you of course."

He moved away a bit.

"Don't go," she pleaded. "Sit down here beside me."

"We'll . . ." He sat down on the edge of the bunk.

There was a movement on the bunk and Gay pushed the outspread blanket away and sat up. "Hey," he said quickly. "I don't think you oughta do that."

"Do what, Phil? This?" Her lips were against his, her arm around his neck, before he realized it. "Don't you want me to thank you?"

She kissed him softly, gently. Phil was mute . . . he knew he should have said something, perhaps done something, but he was incapable of either. Her arm came down again, but she did not move away. There was no explaining what followed. Whatever it was, Phil surrendered to its whispered urgings, willingly, even eagerly. She ran her fingers through his wet hair, then she sank down and drew him down with her. (To be continued)

Phil's weary horse stopped suddenly, and Phil's head jerked upward. Phil's feet ahead of them was a dark structure.

"What in time . . ." Phil muttered. He jerked the reins sharply. "Go on!"

The horse broke into a trot. Presently they pulled up in front of the building and Phil dismounted stiffly. He trudged to the door. He poked his head inside, but it was too dark for him to see anything. He stepped into the shack stopped when he stumbled over something that lay on the floor. He drew back warily, whipped open his jacket, loosened his gun in its holster . . . he dug into an inside pocket, produced a match. The phosphorus head scratched against his thumb nail and flared. Phil's eyes ranged downward and widened almost instantly . . . on the floor lay the muddled figure of a girl. "Holy cow!" he whispered in awed tones.

He stopped a bit closer and bent over. It was Gay Hollis. There was a shadeless lamp standing on a shelf directly opposite the door; he strode over, iced the wick, touched the match flame to it and it flamed with a sputtering light. Phil closed the door quickly. He whipped off his hat and jacket, stung them aside, placed the lamp on the floor just beyond the exhausted Gay. He knelt down beside her.

"Hey," he said, touched her arm. "Hey!"

There was no response from the girl. He turned her over gently on her back. She was breathing and he felt relieved. He raised his eyes. There was a wide bunk at the far end of the shack and a folded blanket lay at the foot of the bunk itself. He slid his left arm under her, his right arm under her legs . . . he lifted her easily, carried her to the bunk and started to lay her down. He frowned in thought for a moment finally shook his head. "Nope," he muttered. "Can't put 'er down the way she is. Gotta get them wet things o' hers off first."

He caught up the blanket, opened it and spread it over her. Then he knelt down, fumbled underneath the blanket and managed to complete the unbuttoning of her dungarees. He slipped his left hand under her body, used it as a lever and raised her . . . presently he slipped off the dungarees, pulled them out from under the blanket and straightened up again. He looked around the place. There were a couple of upended boxes beyond the door . . . he strode over, draped the wet dungarees over one box and

'Forgotten' Convict Of New Jersey Dies At 89

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Archie Herron, who spent 40 years in New Jersey State prison under sentence of death, is dead.

The "forgotten man" of the prison died last night at the age of 89. Twice he survived sentences to die in the electric chair because of a legal quirk resulting from death of the judge who sentenced him.

Herron was convicted in 1908 of the murder of the Rev. S. B. D. Prickett, one-time police recorder of Metuchen. At his trial it was brought out that Herron held a grudge against the clergyman because Prickett sentenced him to jail as a disorderly person.

His death was fixed for the week of Sept. 7, 1908, by Justice James J. Bergen. An appeal delayed it, and Justice Bergen re-sentenced him to die in January, 1909.

The late Gov. Franklin Fort twice reprieved him, and in March, 1906, Justice Bergen ordered an investigation of Herron's sanity.

The insanity battle dragged on for years.

Then in 1923 Justice Bergen died. Prison officials could not carry out the original execution order, because state law provides that the date of execution shall be set by the sentencing judge.

Meanwhile Herron became a virtual hermit. He refused to talk, often would not eat. His last known visitor was a son who came to see him shortly after world war I, and Herron wouldn't see him.

He never saw an airplane or a moving picture. Once, when in the prison hospital, he heard a radio, but it awed him and he ordered it taken away.

Prison officials said that mostly he lay on his cot, smoking his pipe and occasionally arising to denounce Justice Bergen.

Withdraws From Wallace Ticket

Thomasville, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Hal Murray of Thomasville has asked that his name be withdrawn as Progressive Party nominee for U.S. Representative from the 8th District because he disagrees with the party's stand on racial issues.

He wrote Miss Mary Price, State Progressive chairman:

"You are allowing the race issue to kill the Progressive Party in North Carolina. I have not changed my ideas about Mr. Wallace and his sound reasoning regarding the cold war and certain other policies. But I cannot support the stupid reasoning of gaining disfavor with the Southern people by deliberately throwing the race issue in their faces."

Murray came to Thomasville from Spartanburg, S.C., as program director and news editor of radio station WTNC. Recently he resigned the WTNC job to work for station WGWR in Asheville but continues to live here.

Negro Farm News

In this sunny east it is wonderful to know that we can grow certain vegetables the year round. In the vegetable planting map for September we find we can plant cabbage plants, mustard, beets, collard plants, turnips, rutabagas, rape, spinach, kale, radish, tender greens and onions.

Plan your garden, make a list of what you would like to plant and then get the ground ready. Keep a close watch for the terrapin bugs on the collards and dust with 20 per cent sabadilla dust. Sow your beets, turnips in rows so they can be stored where they are for winter. When time for storing plow a ridge of soil over them to take care of them for winter. Since the idea was born that more corn can be raised on less acreage by the use of more fertilizer it is nothing strange to see a farmer struggling with one acre trying to raise 100 bushels.

Despite the drought there will be a fairly good crop of corn made. Since the birth of science we have learned to live well and take care of our health. It is hoped that each boy and girl will be checked quite often to see if they are keeping fit for any emergency.

Success in raising baby chicks depends upon proper care. Plenty of fresh water and shade and grazing. The winter had its beauties as does every season, but this has been one of the hottest summers we have experienced in a long long time.

DENNIS D. DUPREE, Negro County Agent.

Joe Joyner Now Looking For Rain For Several Days

By CHESTER WALSH

A welcome drop in the temperature early last night was a relief from the sweltering nights of the past week when the thermometer at the Weather Bureau had been hovering around the 100 mark.

Mrs. C. E. Maiden, weather observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce, reported today that the lowest temperature last night was 74 degrees.

The highest temperature here Monday was 92 degrees.

At 1 p. m. today it also was 92. Steady breezes were coming in from the west.

Joe Joyner, important functionary at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company and an accurate weather prognosticator, said at the postoffice shortly before noon today "this hot dry spell of weather is going to be followed by several rainy days."

"The walnut trees, the last trees to spread foliage in the spring and the first to shed in the fall, are already dropping their leaves, and that always means equinoctial weather the last of August or first part of September."

Joe said he was not worried about the tropical hurricane, "what we need here now for the tobacco farmers is some cooler weather."

Pastures Profitable To Farmers Of State

College Station, Raleigh, Aug. 31.—North Carolina farmers now have three million acres of land seeded to pastures and hay crops, but an additional one million acres could be seeded without reducing cash crops or forests, three State College agronomists declare in a new bulletin published this week.

The publication, entitled "Producing Pastures and Hay in North Carolina," is being distributed through fertilizer dealers and county agents. Free copies may also be obtained by writing the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh, and asking for Extension Circular No. 323.

The months of August and September are recommended as the best time to seed pastures and alfalfa. Other points stressed are that a pasture mixture adapted to the land should be selected; permanent pastures should be supplemented with summer and winter grazing and adequate amounts of fertilizer should be used.

Authors of the bulletin are Dr. W. W. Woodhouse, Jr., associate professor of agronomy; Dr. R. L. Lovorn professor of agronomy; and S. H. Dobson, Extension agronomy specialist.
