Testifies Many Anti-Reds Fired By Union Clique

First President Of U. E. Says Some Employers Find It Easier With Reds

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP)—James B. Carey testified today that many anti-Reds in the CIO United Electrical Workers Union have been fired and that some employers find it easier to get along with Communists.

Carey, now CIO secretary-treasurer, was the first president of the U. E. He gave a House labor subcommittee the names of two people he said he believes lost their jobs because they fought the Reds in the U. E.

He said Bart Enright was discharged in the elevator division of the Westinghouse plant at Jersey City, N. J., after unsuccessfully opposing James Matles for organizational director at the union convention last year.

He said Sam Basmanian was one among many anti-Communists ousted at the Race-Victor plant at Camden, N. J.

The subcommittee is looking into long standing charges that the 600,000-member U. E. union is dominated by Reds. This is the third biggest union of the CIO.

Chairman Kersten (R-Wis.) said the House group wants to study the union's contracts "because a lot of our national defense setup is in these industries."

Kersten asked Carey to explain a sentence in a letter he wrote the congressman Aug. 24, saying there are employers and other groups who "would rather do business with Communists than with bona fide leaders of organized labor."

Carey said that statement was based on "considerable experience." Kersten asked him for details and specific cases.

"Well," he said, "a Communist shop steward can't be too aggressive in pressing grievances. He is easier to get along with because he has to make compromises to protect other interests."

Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.) said Carey was making "quite an important statement" in charging some management finds it easier to deal with Communists than non-Communists.

"I realize that," Carey replied, puffing on a curved-stem pipe.

Stassen Charges Prices Kept Up

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen today accused Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan of a "deliberate attempt to stop the downward trend of food prices."

Stassen, former Minnesota governor, who was defeated for the Republican presidential nomination by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, told a news conference that the Agriculture Department, with Brannan's approval, had issued statements intended to "raise food prices when they should be shaking down."

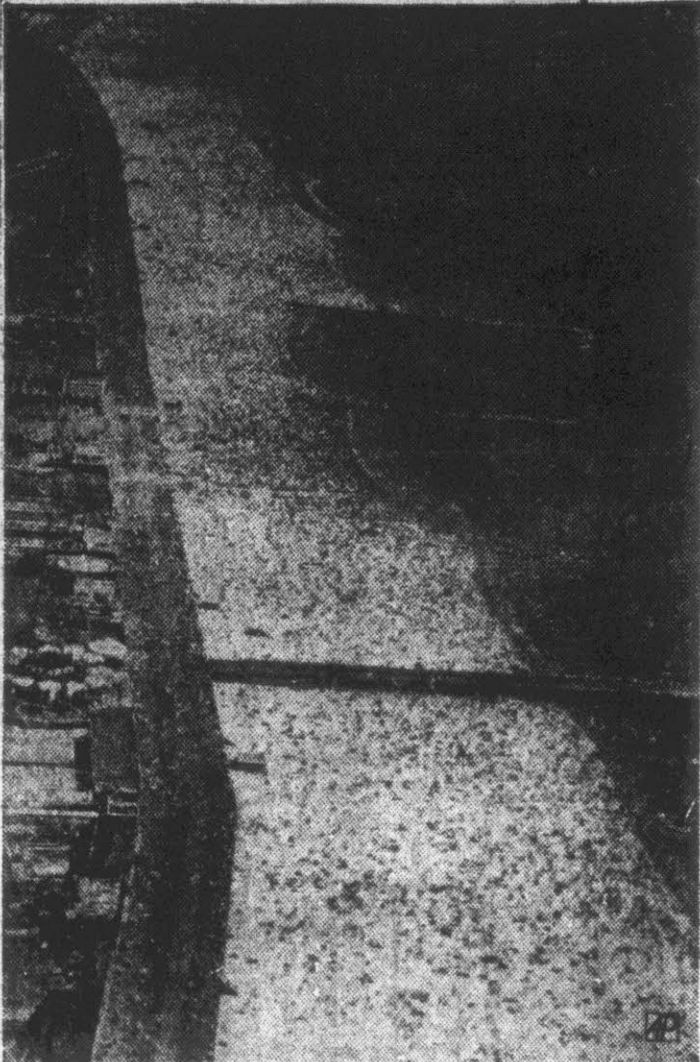

Hudson Again Is Boosting Prices

Detroit, Sept. 2 (AP)—Hudson Motor Car Co. announced price increases today ranging from 75 on its Super Six three-passenger coupe to $75 on the Commodore Eight models.

The advance, second to be made by Hudson this year, was attributed by A. E. Baritt, president and general manager, to increases in the price of raw and finished materials and freight charges.

HEARING NEXT WEEK Raleigh, Sept. 2 (AP)—Hearings on an application by railroads for freight rate increases has been set for next Thursday, the State Utilities Commission reported today.

Mecca Of Melting Million Plus

Sands of the beach at Coney Island in New York, swarm with massed humanity seeking to escape the fifth day of a heat wave that kept temperatures in the nineties. This arduous appears to bear out the estimate of Captain Walter Winterhalter of the Coney Island police precinct that more than one and one-half million persons crowded the sands. (AP Wirephoto).

School Faculties Meet On Friday

Members of the faculties of the Greenville city schools will hold the first of their pre-school teachers meetings tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Superintendent J. H. Rose said today. The white teachers will meet in the library of the city school and the Negro teachers will meet at the C. M. Eppes school.

Rose will preside at the meeting at the high school where Mayor J. H. Boyd and Joseph M. Taft, vice chairman of the school board, will make welcoming talks to the teachers.

Other speakers at the meeting will be Dr. J. D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College and D. F. Ashton of the state board of health. Ashton will discuss with the teachers methods of malaria control aimed toward eliminating malaria in Greenville.

Superintendent J. H. Rose said the project of eliminating malaria from the city has been undertaken by the teachers as a year's project and has the backing of the city council, the school board and the board of health.

A committee of the faculty will report on and discuss the professional work of the staff of the city schools for the coming year. There will be "How to Make Better Readers and Better Spellers and How to Correct Defects in Poor Readers and Spellers."

Miss Agnes Fullilove will speak on reading and Miss Frances Wahl will preside over the discussion.

Town Turns Out For Negro Star

Albany, Ga., Sept. 2 (AP)—Allice Coachman, who won the Olympic high jump for women, is back home in Albany after a champion's welcome.

The 25-year-old Negro track star was greeted yesterday with a parade, an official welcome and a reception at the Albany State College, where she is a student.

Atheists On The Air?

Should Radio Stations Let Atheists Preach There Is No God? Question Not Settled By Congressional Hearing; 'Scott Decision' Of 1916; Issue Is Again Raised

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP)—Certain atheists are anxious to get on the radio and tell the people there is no God.

Should radio stations let them do it? Should the government force radio stations to let them do it? Those questions were debated at a congressional hearing this week. They were not finally answered.

Berlin's Gov't Wants Voice In Big Four Talks

City Government's Appeal Faces Russian Veto; No Progress Report Made

Berlin, Sept. 2 (AP)—Berlin's anti-Communist city government demanded today a voice in the four-power deliberations here on the German crisis. The appeal faced a virtually certain Russian veto as the four military governors began their third day of talks.

The city government's appeal is understood to have asked the military governors for an end to East-West strife in this Soviet-blockaded city; restoration of a unified city administration under the elected government; guarantees of protection for the city assembly and guarantees of restored freedom of travel between Berlin and all four occupation zones.

Twice last week Communist demonstrations prevented meetings of the elected city government. The Russian commandant and the Russian-controlled police in the Soviet sector, where the city hall is located, have refused to interfere with the demonstrators, who have threatened to repeat the performance each time the assembly tries to meet.

The four-power working committee on trade and finance continued its negotiations on technical problems, but the other committee, made up of transport experts, did not meet.

An American member of the transport group, which would deal with the lifting of the 71-day-old blockade, refused to say whether the group's work was done.

"We might meet again," he said. "However, as you know, the lifting of the blockade depends only upon the word 'go' from the Russians. We've got plenty of coal and supply trains lined up at the zonal borders ready to proceed to Berlin when the word comes."

The Russians, when they closed off the rail line between Berlin and the west, said it was because of "technical difficulties."

The four governors went into their third conference to consider specific proposals on the blockade, Berlin's currency tangle and inter-zonal trade. The working committee weighed these problems yesterday.

Stassen Joins In Condemnation Of Wallace Hecklers

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Harold Stassen yesterday condemned egg throwing and jeering of Henry Wallace on his Southern tour as "disturbing and improper."

The former Minnesota Governor made his comment on a stop-over here en route to Albany for a conference with Governor Dewey on republican campaign plans.

Chairman Leon Henderson of the pro-Trouser American for Democracy act also called for an end to "abuses which comfort the enemies of freedom and democracy everywhere."

In a statement, Henderson said many of Wallace's "prominent supporters welcome the noletery x x x as a shot in the arm to a lagging campaign."

Heart Attack Claims Life Of Rt. Rev. Thomas Darst

Wilmington, N.C., Sept. 2 (AP)—Heart attack yesterday claimed the life of the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, DD, retired Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern North Carolina. He was 73.

A native of Pulaski, Va., and a graduate of the Virginia Theological Seminary, Bishop Darst served a number of parishes in Virginia before being consecrated Bishop in 1915.

During his tenure the diocese saw a steady growth, increasing from 5,389 to 8,036 the number of communicants.

Longshoremen and Allied Unions Ready To Tie-Up Pacific Ports

San Francisco, Sept. 2 (AP)—Pacific coast ports were tied up today as CIO longshoremen quit work and prepared with Allied Unions for a strike.

Pickets were ordered to patrol the waterfronts, Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, said. He predicted the strike would last three months.

Contract negotiations chiefly concerned with wages and the hiring hall collapsed last night. The strike affects about 16,000 longshoremen and seafarers. About 500 ships are involved.

The tieup from Seattle to San Diego will be felt across the nation. Railroads had ordered an embargo on most freight destined for the coast ports. Military freight will be shipped.

City Schools Will Open On Monday

The Greenville City schools will open Monday, September 6, as scheduled. This was decided at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Greenville City schools last night after consultation with Dr. J. M. Barrett, acting health officer for Pitt county. Dr. Barrett authorized the following statement to be used from his office.

"Due to the relative scarcity of polo in Pitt county and surrounding areas, we are not considered an epidemic area and since it is a handicap to school work to have the schools open late it is the consensus of medical opinion in the county that schools should open as scheduled. If there should be a new outbreak which would justify the closing of schools at a later date, it will be done."

The health authorities and the school authorities are working together in doing what they consider to be the right thing for the best interests of the children. It was pointed out at the meeting that the tobacco market has opened, the college is opening this week and, therefore, under these conditions it would be little point in delaying the opening of schools.

Superintendent Rose said this morning that city schools are expecting this year the largest enrollment in their history. According to Rose there are already more than 6000 registered for school than at this time in any previous year.

He also stated there are only two vacancies in city teaching positions. A new position for an art teacher has not been filled, and no replacement has been secured for Miss Alice Strawn of the high school home economics department who resigned from the city schools to accept a position with East Carolina Teachers College.

Estonians Still Await Decision

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Fifteen Estonians who sailed on a 37-foot sloop to Southampton, N. C., still waited today for further rulings on whether they could stay in the United States.

The refugees, who landed Aug. 17 after a 56-day crossing from Sweden, have been held at Ellis Island since then, pending an appeal that they should be allowed to immigrate without passports.

Last week a district immigration board ruled against them and the case went on to the office of the commissioner of immigration in Washington. A decision may not be made for several weeks.

Loaded ships sailed abruptly yesterday to beat the strike deadline. Twenty-five left San Francisco, leaving that many more partly loaded vessels alongside the docks.

The Marine Firemen announced their negotiations with the Pacific American Shipowners Association had broken down and called out pickets beginning at 12:01 Friday.

After the negotiations collapse, Bridges said: "The employers handed us a contract and said: 'Take it or leave it. We wanted to go on and negotiations collapsed.'" Bridges said: "The length of a strike? With these characteristics it will take three months to get wound up."

An employer spokesman said: "The ILWU walked out of the meeting. They announced they were on strike as of 10:30 a.m. Thursday. The union negotiators flatly rejected proposals, practically all of them."

Employers had offered to leave the disputed question of whether a union employe or an impartial dispatcher shall run the hiring hall up to the Supreme Court. The present union dispatcher meanwhile would continue.

But last night Bridges said, "We cannot accept a hiring hall clause with strings on it."

He said another major unsettled issue was wages. Employers offered hourly hikes of 10 cents and 15 cents for overtime. The union asked 15 cents straight and 22 1/2 cents overtime.

By The Associated Press A price average of approximately $33 per hundred pounds was set on early sales today of North Carolina Carolina's middle flue-cured tobacco belt, reports from the markets indicated.

The U. S. and North Carolina Departments of Agriculture, reporting on early sales at "one large, representative market," estimated the average there at from $32 to $33 per hundred pounds.

Sales supervisor I. G. Cheek reported that the big Durham market had an opening average of about $32 a hundred. An early average of from $27 to $28 was estimated by Fred S. Royster, Henderson tobacco dealer at Durham, based on early sales at the market there.

Walker Paramore, sales supervisor at Fuquay-Varina, estimated the first few rows sold there averaged $28 a hundred. He added that much good tobacco was sold during the early sales and said he doubted if the average would hold up the rest of the day.

The U. S. and State Departments of Agriculture reported that on its large, representative market the bulk of sales were in the $43 to $46 per hundred range.

The Agriculture agencies reported the quality of the offerings was better than at last year's openings. Condition of the leaf was good and volume of sales was heavy. Only a very small percentage of the leaf was going to the flue-cured tobacco stabilization corporation.

Growers on all markets reporting were described as pleased with the prices.

Four middle belt markets, which opened sales with the eastern belt and then brought court action because major companies did not furnish buyers for the early openings, apparently had their buyers at last. The markets were Fuquay-Varina, Aberdeen, Carthage and Sanford.

Paramore said the major companies were buying at Fuquay-Varina and that buyers had been promised the other three markets for the regular middle belt opening.

Cheek said he expected 1,000,000 pounds would be sold at Durham during the day. He said common grades were selling higher than at any opening in 10 years.

OBSERVE LABOR DAY While most other businesses in Greenville will remain open next Monday, September 6, the banks, post office and tobacco market will be closed that day in observance of the Labor Day holiday.

The envoy is Gladwyn Jebb, one of Foreign Secretary Bevin's top assistants. He reached Washington yesterday to join the Security talks which have been going on for several weeks among the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Republicans Lay Claim To Labor Backing At Polls

Announce Missourian To Head GOP Labor Campaign Activities Ahead

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP)—Republicans laid claim today to "substantial" labor support in all sections of the country for the Dewey-Warren ticket.

They coupled that claim with an announcement that Barak T. Mattingly of President Truman's home state of Missouri will direct GOP labor campaign activities.

Mattingly is a St. Louis attorney and general counsel for the Republican national committee.

Without mentioning the endorsements Mr. Truman has been receiving from AFL and CIO leaders, GOP campaign manager Herbert Brownell, Jr., said Mattingly was picked because of "the mutual respect and confidence existing between him and representative leaders of the American labor movement." Brownell added:

"I am confident that he will wield into an effective campaign force the pledges of substantial labor support which we have received from all sections of the country since the nomination of the Dewey-Warren ticket."

Mattingly accepted the assignment with a simultaneous plug for both Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

"As the nation's leading industrial state," Mattingly said, "New York's record of peaceful cooperation between labor and management is second to none. This likewise is true of California."

In a Labor Day statement issued last night, Mr. Truman said: "This year, labor, always interested in good government, is making great efforts to get out the vote in November."

"It is to be hoped that every eligible voter—not just the customary minority of those eligible—will go to the polls and register an opinion on what course the United States should take in the days ahead."

The President called upon for support of the Labor-management relations legislation in "an absolute necessity."

Draft Eligible Men To Be In Service By June

Reading, Pa., Sept. 2 (AP)—Any draft-eligible young man who does not volunteer for military service probably will be inducted before next June, Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall said yesterday.

Royall, speaking at a Rotary meeting held in connection with Reading's bi-centennial celebration, said that the current peacetime draft is "designed to avoid a war rather than fight one."

"Any increase in voluntary enlistments will not affect to any material extent the chance of a particular non-exempt, non-deferred and physically qualified young man from being called into service by June 30 of next year," Royall said.

The armed services, Royall said, must obtain 1,000,000 men in the next 10 months in order to build the nation's military forces up to 1,948,000 by June 30, 1948.

Charlotte, Sept. 2 (AP)—David K. Henderson, prominent Charlotte attorney, today donned the black robe of a federal judge.

Henderson gave up his duties as U.S. attorney for the western N.C. district to fill a recess appointment to the judgeship of the district. He was appointed to his new post yesterday by President Truman.

Quality Of Offerings Reported Better Than Last Year; Volume Of Sales Heavy; Condition Of Leaf Good

Will Not Accept Posts Under Schuman; Premier Agreeable

Paris, Sept. 2 (AP)—Premier Robert Schuman announced today he intends to form a new French cabinet without the Socialists, if necessary.

The Socialists earlier voted against accepting posts in a new Coalition government under Schuman, a popular republican, and many thought Schuman might refuse to go on.

The Socialists voted in a caucus 95 to 5 against participation in the cabinet, but their leaders scheduled another conference with Schuman, confident the popular republicans would ask them to reconsider their refusal.

The Socialists have participated in every cabinet since the liberation. They brought about the current situation by refusing to back up former Premier Andre Marie, a radical Socialist, in his economic policies. Marie resigned last Saturday and the assembly confirmed Schuman as his successor Tuesday night. The Socialists voted for him.

Mississippi Has No Wallace Riot

Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 2 (AP)—Henry Wallace cleared Mississippi, the birthplace of the State's Rights movement, without incident today.

The Progressive Party presidential candidate spoke to a non-segregated group of approximately 300 people on the courthouse lawn here. There appeared to be about 50 Negroes on the outskirts of the crowd with two or three in the center. There was no demonstration.

He motored to Vicksburg from Jackson with a state highway patrol escort. At Jackson he filed a slate of presidential electors.

Would Speed Up Pledge Of Help

London, Sept. 2 (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today Britain has sent a special envoy to Washington to speed negotiations for an American pledge of military help for west Europe's five-nation alliance in case of war.

The envoy is Gladwyn Jebb, one of Foreign Secretary Bevin's top assistants. He reached Washington yesterday to join the Security talks which have been going on for several weeks among the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Claim Newsman's Murder Solved

Athens, Sept. 2 (AP)—Two conservative newspapers said today that known Communists planned and executed the May murder of George Polk, American radio correspondent.

Kathimerini, largest newspaper in Greece, and Embros both said police have broken the case and know who shot and threw the trussed up body of the Texan into Salonika bay, and also who plotted the crime.

Northampton County Ends Beer-Wine Sale

Jackson, N.C., Sept. 2 (AP)—Northampton County yesterday voted the legal sale of beer and wine. It was the 18th straight county beer-wine election won by drys.

Almost complete, unofficial returns gave the drys a 2 to 1 margin in Northampton.

Henderson, Sept. 2 (AP)—All flue-cured tobacco markets will be shut down Monday for the Labor Day holiday. Fred S. Royster, of Henderson, president of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association, said in his announcement of the holiday that the normal schedule will be resumed the next day.

Zhdanov's abrupt end He was one of Russia's 'Big Three,' living dourly and dangerously; was his attack on Tito a 'Fatal Mistake'? Speculation already heard As To His End Rarely does the death of an individual give rise to such widespread speculation regarding its possible effects as has that of Colonel General Andrei A. Zhdanov, one of Russia's big three and generally regarded as possible successor to Marshal Stalin as chief of state.

Zhdanov long had been a powerful figure in Communism. He had lived dourly and dangerously, projecting his dominating personality into national and international affairs until his voice had the ring of authority second only to that of the Generalissimo. He and Foreign Minister Molotov were supposedly the two from whom the new chief would be picked when Stalin stepped down.

However, like many other dynamic leaders he never had hesitated to advance drastic proposals which, if they failed, might end his career. Such was his advice to Stalin to make the attack on Finland in 1939-40—a project which turned out badly. More disastrous was his recent launching of the assault on Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, thereby creating the first breach in the solidarity of the Soviet satellite bloc in Eastern Europe.

Zhdanov's anti-Tito policy seemed to clash with that of Molotov, and there was widespread speculation in the western world whether one or the other would drop out of sight. More recently friends of Ana Pauker, Romanian Foreign Minister and Darling of Moscow, quoted her as saying that Zhdanov had incurred Stalin's displeasure as a result of the Yugoslav developments. And one high Yugoslav official has said that the breach between Russia and his country would be closed only by a change of policy-makers in one country or the other.

Well, on that basis Zhdanov's death might ease the bitter clash between Moscow and Yugoslavia—a clash which threatens the security of the Soviet bloc. It could be, too, that it would lessen the tension between Russia and the western democracies, since Zhdanov was a bitter foe of the democracies and of the Marshall plan for European rehabilitation.

All these circumstances have inspired speculation in some British newspapers whether the sudden and unexpected death of the 53-year-old soldier-statesman was in fact from (Continued on Page Ten)

Dear Judgey

High school and college tuitions are on the upswing as well as books, board and back-to-school clothes. These are hard-to-face facts for kids whose families operate on a modest income.

While the summer presents a great opportunity to work and save toward college fees, monies earned during that short period usually are just a drop in the bucket.

If kids must educate themselves they will have to look forward to a long hard winter, a not-too-gay social life, and few, if any luxuries. Any spare time and energies will have to be devoted to studies and making money.

Waiting on table isn't difficult work and sometimes you can manage to make a tidy sum that way. Part-time work often can be obtained to fill in gaps of time for waiters and waitresses. These jobs usually are to be found in the library or at the co-op newspaper, magazine shops.

If you don't live on the campus, you might make an arrangement with a family to give you bed and board for taking care of the children. This usually is a workable arrangement as the children's parents are cooperative enough in college towns to keep the kids out of your hair during the cram season. One simple way to study in a houseful of kids is suggested by a girl who passed all her college grades with flying colors, despite the fact that she had a handful of kids to care for every semester.

After school each day while the children still were playing outdoors or napping, she would take a nap for an hour or two. Then after she had set the youngsters for dinner, bathed, and put them to bed, she would study in the quiet of the evening.

Tutoring children is another way to scoop up a few extra pesos. A good French student always can find work teaching elementary French to youngsters. Some students even have managed to tutor older town folks in the art of the dance. You'd be surprised how many people pine to learn how to dance but never seem to have the time to attend a school of dance. However, when Someone will come to your home, the rhumba or samba can be digested quickly.

Boys especially, have found that housecleaning can be a lucrative business. Householders are only too glad to have a crew of young people take over the task of vacuuming a big house, waxing floors, cleaning out brush, washing windows and even painting the house.

Girls often are hired to serve and help cook family dinners, to do laundry and mending.

In some colleges, students have organized a laundry service. One person is delegated to pick-up others help with the washing, others iron. Sometimes this becomes such a prosperous business that the laundry can be farmed out to outside people and a profit still can be made.

Of course the best solution, perhaps, is to pick a college near home. Then you can eat for less, and perhaps arrange to cuff lodging. But this isn't always a satisfactory arrangement, if you want to broaden your life, meet new faces, visit new places. The time to do it is while you are young. If you don't you may regret being stuck in the same town all your life, and never make a break for the great outside, where opportunity may be waiting.

Film Studios Rally For Defense Of Movie Hero

Hollywood, Sept. 2.—(AP)—With a heavy stake in three unreleased Robert Mitchum pictures, two studios have rallied to the defense of the 31-year-old cinema hero, accused of violating narcotics laws.

REKO and Selznick studios announced last night that Jerry Gleaser, noted western criminal lawyer who has figured in several cases involving screen stars, would represent the handsome Mitchum.

The actor and real estate agent Robin Ford, 31, were arrested with 30-year-old Actress Lila Leeds and Dancer Vicie Evans, 25, in what police said was a marijuana smoking party in the girls' room.

Simultaneously, the studios and Gleaser asked that Mitchum be given the benefit of doubt until all evidence is in. Gleaser, counsel for Charlie Chaplin and Errol Flynn in past cases, said there were "many unexplained facts and circumstances surrounding the raid" and that the actor's friends were convinced he would be cleared.

Mitchum, rising star whose salary has been $3,000 weekly, and the others accused were released on bail of $1,000 each. A hearing on writs of habeas corpus was set for Sept. 8.

Police Detective Sgt. Alva Barr, who headed the investigation, said the raid was "only the beginning of a Hollywood cleanup and we have many other important and prominent Hollywood screen people under surveillance, not only actors and actresses, but others high up in the industry.

Takes Over As Scout Executive

New York, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Arthur A. Schuck took over today as chief Scout executive, highest administrative post in the Boy Scouts of America.

Schuck, a volunteer and professional leader in the Scout movement for more than 35 years, became the third man to hold the top executive post.

He replaced Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, who retired from the job and who now becomes chief Scout.

"We have been watching Mitchum and Miss Leeds for eight months. Others are facing arrest. We want not only the users of marijuana and other narcotics, but the ring that is supplying the big people in Hollywood."

Air Force Tells Extent Russians Seized U. S. Planes During War

Washington, Sept. 2—(AP)—At least 10 United States bombers were seized by the Russians during this country's war with Japan, including one B-29 shot down by Soviet fighter planes.

The Air Force disclosed this today and gave the detailed story of each incident in answer to a reporter's questions.

Five of the planes were B-29s, which the Russians later used as patterns for their own bombers now appearing in numbers over eastern Europe. The others included smaller Air Force bombers and two Navy patrol planes.

All — except the Superfortress shot down on a mission to drop food to American prisoners of war in Korea—were taken over when fuel shortage or damage forced them to land in Russian-controlled territory.

The planes and crews (again except for the shot-down B-29) were seized and interned while Russia was a neutral in the Pacific war.

However, the attacked B-29 was downed by Red fighters 20 days after Moscow had declared war against Tokyo. Here is what USAF files show happened to that plane:

On August 29, 1945, B-29 No. Z-28 of the 82nd Bomb Squadron, 500th Bomb Group, took off from Saipan to drop supplies into a prison camp near Kanku, Korea, where Americans were known to be held. Aboard was a crew of 13.

The Superfortress arrived in the general vicinity of the camp and circled to get its bearings. Two Russian Yak fighter planes appeared. At first the Red pilots waved friendly greetings to the B-29, motioning the Americans to follow them.

The Americans, thinking the Russians were leading them to the camp, followed. However, they came in over a small airfield where two other Yaks joined the Russian formation. One Yak pilot lowered his landing gear and peeled off to indicate the B-29 was to land. The American pilot saw that the runway was only about 3,500 feet long, too short for a B-29 landing. He hesitated.

The Russian, said the USAF report, "got very angry, motioning violently downward," then fired a shot across the nose of the B-29. The American plane captain ordered the B-29 to head for home.

For a time the Russian fighters were left behind, but they caught up with the B-29 off the coast of Korea and opened fire.

The Yaks scored a number of hits and one engine of the Superfortress caught fire.

The American pilot ordered "itching gunners to withhold return fire," said the report, then instructed the crew to bail out because of the imminent danger of explosion. Six men parachuted, but the others rode the damaged ship down to a landing.

For two days the Russians held the American crew incommunicado. Then a Russian officer, described as Lt. Gen. of Aviation Prebeauganski apologized for the incident and offered any help possible, including the use of Russian communication facilities.

At the time the B-29 landed the SENATORIAL CANDIDATES—Rep. Virgil Chapman (left), Democrat, and Sen. John S. Cooper (right), Republican, are opponents in the Kentucky U. S. Senatorial race. Sen. Cooper won his seat in a special election in 1946.

Russians removed all papers and much of the bomber's equipment.

POSTMASTERSHIP OPEN—Washington, Sept. 2—(AP)—The Civil Service Commission announced today it will receive applications until Sept. 28 for the postmastership at Asheville, N. C., which pays $6,150.

Big Increase In Tax Evaluations

Both city and county tax collector's offices reported today that tax evaluations for Greenville and Pitt County for 1948 have increased considerably over 1947 figures.

Although the listings are not yet complete, County Auditor J. D. Joyner estimated property value in Pitt County for the current year will be listed as approximately $47,000,000. This figure shows a 3-million dollar increase over last year's listings.

J. O. Duval, tax collector for the city of Greenville, estimated city listings will be just above $16,500,000, 2 1/2 million above that of last year. The large increase in the city evaluation is due both to new construction and new property taken into the city with the extension of the city limits.

Asks Apartment Instead Alimony

Chicago, Sept. 2—(AP)—An apartment lease and furnishings are "more valuable than gold," Mrs. Pauline Holak, 29, told Superior Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday as she was granted a divorce.

Mrs. Holak accepted the lease and furnishings in lieu of alimony. She was granted a divorce from George Holak, 35, after she testified he struck her last Christmas day in a dispute over the cost of presents.

Judge Sabath ordered Holak to pay $12.50 weekly for support of their son, Karel, 6.

Attended World Govm't Institute At Chapel Hill

Ralph Fleming, Jr., of 1013 Evans Street, a student at Duke University, recently attended the South-eastern World Government Institute which was held at Chapel Hill, N. C., August 23 through August 28.

The institute was sponsored by the Student Division of United World Federalists of North Carolina. The University of North Carolina was host to the Institute. Student leaders from more than 12 states were in attendance.

The primary purpose of the Institute was to develop leadership for the world-wide movement for federal world government. It consisted of lectures by noted authorities and workshops on various aspects of world government and related subjects, such as the nation-state system, the United Nations, national sovereignty, U.S. foreign policy, Soviet Russia, and the practicality of world government as an alternative to world war.

Denies Strategy Of 'Martyrdom' By Progressives

Durham, N.C., Sept. 2—(AP)—Mary Price, North Carolina Progressive party chairman, has labeled "utter nonsense" statements that the Progressives themselves arranged for disturbances at Henry Wallace meetings. Yesterday Philip S. Finn, Jr., state chairman of the states' rights Democrats, said in a prepared statement:

The disturbances are "standard Communist procedure, the purpose being to create friction and to make a martyr out of Mr. Wallace, motivated by a desire to gain votes and to discredit the South."

The statement added "this gentleman came to our state to preach 'ologies and 'isms entirely foreign to our thoughts and social modes."

ATTACKED BY ARABS
Jerusalem, Sept. 2—(AP)—Jewish positions on Mount Zion near the Jerusalem railway station were attacked by Arabs with rifle, mortar and grenade fire for two hours last night, an Israeli communique said today. No casualties were reported.

Some historians claim that the tea industry in Japan dates back to 1655.

Our Policy on PONTIAC Deliveries and Prices

Despite the fact that Pontiac has built over a half-million cars since the resumption of production after the war, demand still exceeds supply. In the face of this production record, those who place orders now will still experience some delay in delivery. If you are among the many people who feel that Pontiac represents an outstanding value—and wish to order a Pontiac for future delivery—you will be interested in the following policy on retail distribution which we, as Pontiac dealers, will observe:

WE WANT YOUR ORDER

And the sooner you place it, the sooner you will get delivery. So if you want a Pontiac, order it now.

WE WILL ESTIMATE DELIVERY DATE

Due to conditions beyond our control, we cannot give you an exact date of delivery. But based on anticipated future shipments from the factory, we will, when you place your order, give you an honest estimate of when you may expect your car. Such estimates will be reviewed any time on request.

ORDERS FILLED BY PRIORITY

A definite proportion of the cars we receive from the factory is set aside for preferential delivery to users whose work is in the public welfare and to others with certain occupational requirements. Otherwise, all orders will be filled on the basis of the time when they are received.

YOU PAY FACTORY-SUGGESTED PRICE

Due to changing economic conditions, we cannot, when you place your order, tell you exactly how much the car will cost when delivered in the future. But, at the time of delivery you will be charged only the factory suggested price on your model—which will be shown in a published list of local prices.

YOU SPECIFY ACCESSORIES

While most of our customers order their cars equipped with accessories, we do not force accessories as a condition of sale. You specify what accessories you want when ordering your car, and these are the ones (and the only ones) it will carry when delivered. Some items may be lacking due to current shortages; but none will be added.

REGARDING TRADE-INS

Naturally, if you have a car to trade, we would like to have it in order to take care of our regular used car customers. Our appraisals are fair, based on current conditions. But if you do not have a car to turn in, we still want your order and will accept it for delivery based on the conditions outlined above.

Since this is our "home town", our business and its future is based on our good relations with the people of this community. We are most happy that so many people here—as all over the country—have made Pontiac their number one choice as a new car.

Nothing pleases us more than to turn over the keys of a new Pontiac to one of the many people whose orders we have, because we know they have chosen well—for Pontiac is always a thoroughly good car, and a thoroughly good value, this year, next year, any year.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHITHER?
There are many who hold that a person has no right to call himself a Christian unless he lives an almost perfect life. If he errs in any particular he is a hypocrite.

Such an appraisal is contrary both to common sense and to the teachings of all the great religions. There never has been but one perfect person in the world, and while we are to aim for perfection, we are not to be discouraged that we do not attain it. The important matter is not how good we are but how much we are growing in goodness. A person of very little virtue who is growing better, morally and spiritually, is in much sounder condition than is a good person whose life has ceased to improve. Jesus praised the sinners who were ashamed of their evil and wanted to flee it, and he condemned the Pharisees—righteous, upright folk—who were perfectly satisfied to remain as they were.

Someone has said that saints are the sinners who keep on trying. Remember in estimating your own moral soundness that the important matter is not how good you are but in how much you are growing in goodness—not where do you stand but where are you going?

MEND THAT ROOF!

There is an ancient joke about the man who didn't mend his leaking roof when it was raining, because it was too wet to work outside, and didn't mend it when the sun was shining, because then there was no necessity for making the repair.

Millions of people seem to follow the same idiotic plan when it comes to fire prevention. For one empty reason or another, they keep putting the job off—and it never gets done.

As an example, this is the proper season of the year for getting ready for winter. A large percentage of all fires result from heavy loads on heating and lighting equipment which has developed defects. Here is where an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure—and the time to have an expert mechanic check over your equipment and put it in safe, efficient shape is now, before the cold, dark days set in.

It is an axiom that a clean, orderly home is a safer home. Closets, basements and attics full of old clothes, magazines, furniture and other junk are a constant attraction to fire. Give your discards away to some charitable organization which can make good use of them—and eliminate another fire hazard at the same time.

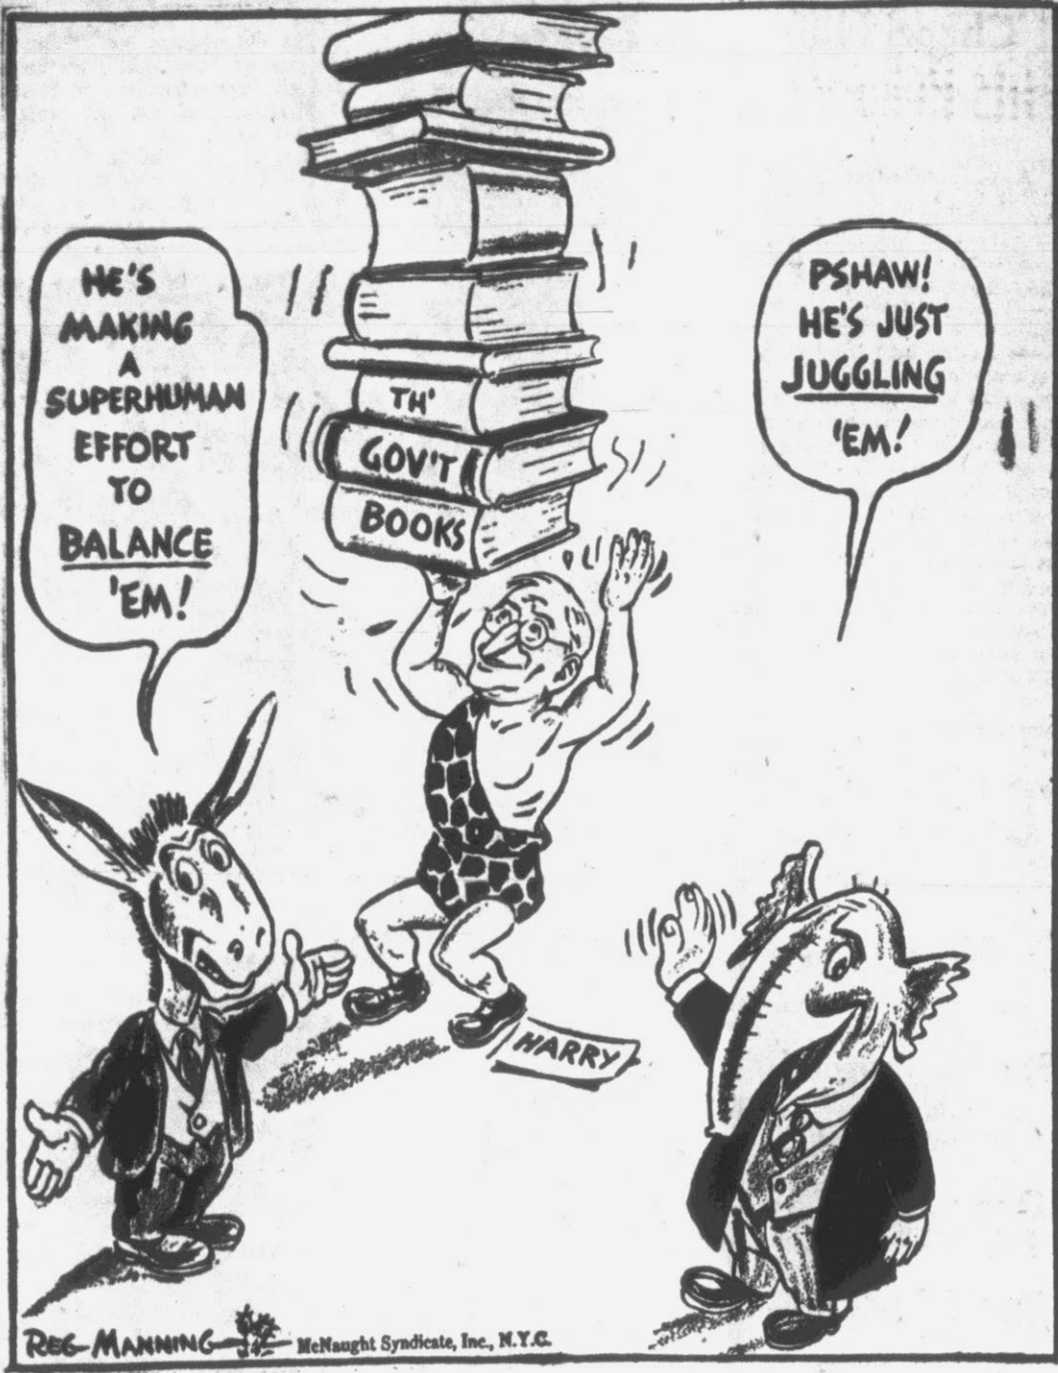

In a phrase—Prevent tomorrow's fire today.

Around Capitol Square

UNUSUAL—The way all participants in the state supreme court hearing on the question of whether State's Rights candidates may be printed on general election ballots conducted themselves was rare enough to be called unusual, but not unique. There have been other cases in which it appeared that everybody actually wanted the same thing, although the groups were necessarily divided into pros, cons and referees. It was evident that statutes enacted 15 years ago and regulations promulgated under them by the state board of elections last March had few friends at court.

VAGUE—The statutes are somewhat vague, the regulations very specific, as in procedure for setting up a new political party in North Carolina. It wasn't mentioned for the record either in the Wake county superior court before Judge W. C. Harris or before the supreme court on appeal, but it was admitted in offside conversations by both sides in the litigation, that the next general assembly must clarify the election laws in several respects.

ISSUES—Two issues were presented by Attorney General Harry McMullan for the state board of elections and one by Attorney E. H. Malone and J. L. Emanuel for the State's Rights. McMullan contended the statutes empower the board to make such rules as they did promulgate; and, further, that the rule eliminating participants in other party primaries as not "qualified voters" for this purpose since bringing out a new party with names of candidates is essentially a nomination not an election, matter is reasonable. The other side rested its case on the single issue that as to formation of new parties the state board of elections has no rule-making power at all, that being completely covered by the language of the statute.

INTERESTED—Questions asked by members of the court, particularly Chief Justice Stacy, Associate Justices Barnhill, Devin and Ervin, indicated keener personal interest in the matter than is usually shown, but afforded no clue as to what the decision might be. Several persons who heard all the arguments agreed later that it was apparent the judges and the attorney general would like to get the State's Rights candidates on the ballot if the law justifies such a course.

CONFUSION—Offside discussion by laymen, supplementing the legal presentation of issues to the court, indicates general confusion among the people. It was noted both in and out of court, that the law provides for placing independent candidates for specific offices on the ballots through a different process. It also provides for write-ins where names do not appear on the ballot. But the State's Right group is anxious to be qualified as a political party. After qualification, the party will have full right to nominate candidates for every elective office. Promoters have said they do not propose to have candidates except for president and vice president.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Should women smoke pipes?
One man's opinion is—a loud yes! A patriotic British schoolgirl raised the issue by starting a campaign to get the ladies of her troubled isle to take up pipe smoking in order to help relieve Britain's cigarette shortage.

There is much to recommend this idea in America as well as in Shakespeare's homeland, where a pack of coffin nails now costs about 75 cents.
But why limit gallant womanhood at all? Must freemasonry and British women be restricted merely to a social drag on a rag or a pipe puff on the pipe that sooths?
Is there no Carrie Chapman Catt to restore to the convention-bound female sex of today the equal rights they once enjoyed with men in a whole wide realm of nicotine?
I am speaking of snuff taking, cigar smoking, and good old-fashioned plug cut tobacco chewing—all

New party members might override this idea of original sponsors and nominate someone for governor and each of the other offices. That would bring about confusion worse confounded and might result in upsets all along the line.
CAUGHT—Truth of the matter is, according to several students of the situation, many North Carolinians have been caught in a trap set for somebody else. The present law was enacted in 1933 and was admittedly designed to make it hard for the Socialist party to qualify in this state. The board regulations were promulgated in March and less frankly admitted to be designed for making it hard for the Wallace Progressives to qualify. Now many people who want to vote the State's Rights ticket wish the statute and the regulations had been differently worded. Until another legislature can rewrite the law, the main question is elasticity of interpretation of admittedly vague language.

now vanished female arts.
But in the fine heyday of beauty the splendid ladies of Europe's courts were admired by their beruffled dandies for the dainty skill with which they stuffed snuff up their nostrils amid pretty "kerchoos!"
Many a pioneer mother in the settling of the American west forgot her troubles by sucking on a cornocob pipe. And many a debutante today has in her family album the picture of a grandmother in old lace who chawed cut plug while she worked over the washbasin.

Cigar smoking is still common among the sturdy women of Denmark, which also has a higher rate of literacy than the United States. It is popular among the brown-skinned beauties of Burma, who also have the habit of chewing the betel nut. This nut exudes a reddish brown juice and is something of a problem to the police. When the come to a freshly stained sidewalk they are never sure whether a murderer was committed there or merely two Burmese mothers paused to chew and chat.
Some of America's most talented women have enjoyed the fragrance of a Havana cigar—such as "Poker Alice," the frontier's fairest Faro dealer, and Amy Lowell, poetess and sister of a Harvard president. Last year a society lady added to the festive opening of the Metropolitan Opera by graciously puffing a cigar, and made a lot of front pages thereby. Regrettably, she failed to revive this robust feminine tradition.

Ah, women were really women in those grand old days. They were pretty as a speckled pup in a red wagon and they could do the work of a Percheron horse. They helped build this wonderful land, side by side with their men. Sleep well, gentle ladies, we miss and remember you.
What has happened since your feeble daughters turned in disdain from snuff, cigars, the pipe bowl and the rich ripe cut plug? Well, the divorce rate has risen, and more and more women lose their husband's salaries playing gin rummy or turn to the psychiatrist's couch to find an opiate against frustration. Yes, and more and more people are being run down by women drivers or crushed under falling telephone poles.
Let us start womankind back toward the brave times. Give them first the freedom of the pipe. If they smoke one with a red plastic stem, it won't show the lipstick marks that give gray hairs of anguish to the man whose wife or sweetheart now borrows his cigarettes.
Once we get the ladies back on pipes, we can lead them—a puff at a time—back to cigars, and perhaps even to chewing tobacco. It's no worse than bubble gum in technical-or.

What do you say, girls? After all, are you women or just wo-mice?

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS
Washington—Thousands of children in the rural areas of America are not getting a proper education because of the limited services offered in most small rural school districts.
There are too many of these districts. "Undersized and anemic," they are falling to deliver a full measure of modern educational goods for the tax dollars spent on them. These are conclusions of the National Commission on School Reorganization, which has completed a two-year study. The study was sponsored by the Rural Education Project of the University of Chicago and the Department of Rural Education of the National Education Association. A voluminous report recommends legislation to provide for state commissions on school district reorgan-

Restaurant Men To Hold School Here In October

A three-day school for restaurant employees and operators will be held in Greenville during the first week in October, it was announced yesterday by a six man committee of the restaurant operators of Pitt County.

At a meeting in the county health department yesterday, some 40 to 50 Pitt County restaurant operators agreed unanimously to sponsor a school for restaurant operators and employees in an effort to better train restaurant employees and to bring about the use of better techniques in the eating places of the county. The project will be sponsored jointly by restaurant operators in Pitt County, the North Carolina Restaurant association and the Pitt County health department.

Tentatively the three-day school is scheduled to begin October 4 or 5. Committee Chairman Charles V. Morgan announced. He said operators will be notified of the exact time and place of the class sessions in the near future.

Serving on the committee with County Sanitarian Morgan are Charles B. Blissett, Leroy T. Cherry, O. N. Koutroullas, Joe Kirchner and Paul Nixon, all of Greenville.

M. M. Melvin, executive vice president of the North Carolina Restaurant association and field representative of the National Restaurant association attended the operators meeting here yesterday and will assist in the school instruction when it begins. Melvin urged operators of eating establishments to see that all employees attend at least one class meeting each day while the school is in session. Certificates will be given to employees and eating places, which have perfect attendance at the school.

Melvin also invited people who are interested in going into the restaurant business to attend the school.

Walter F. Lackie, assistant sanitarian of the state board of health was also present at the meeting here yesterday.

Sulfa-Type Drug Hits Polio Virus

A new sulfa-type drug, called "drug No. 2" for short, has successfully halted a polio virus in the mouse in a series of investigations carried out at Columbia University and the Lederle Laboratories Division, American Cyanamid Company.

The announcement, made yesterday (Wednesday) by Columbia, was the first authorized statement made by the University or any faculty member on the new antiviral drug.

A non-toxic compound known formally as phenosulfazole (trade name Darvisul), the drug was tested at Columbia's College of Physicians and Surgeons after its development at the Lederle Laboratories. It was used by Dr. Murray Sanders, Associate Professor of Bacteriology at Columbia. Associated with him were the late Dr. Yellapragada Subbarao, director of research at the Lederle Laboratories until his death August 10, 1948, and Dr. R. C. Alexander, a research assistant at Columbia.

In the mouse, three dramatic types of results were observed: the drug cured mice in the early stages of the disease; the mice that survived were immune to reinfection; and when the drug was given in a single dose orally, it prevented infection.

In an article now appearing in the fall issue of the "Texas Reports on Biology and Medicine," Vol. 6, Dr. Sanders and his associates reveal how for the first time a virus disease in mice was successfully attacked by a man-made chemical.

End Priorities On WAA Goods

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The war assets administration today dropped its priority system and prepared to offer about $400,000,000 of war surplus goods "to all comers."

Until now purchase preference was granted to federal agencies, veterans, state and local governments, and non-profit hospitals and schools.

Priorities will be retained on about $4,000,000,000 worth of surplus war plants and other real property.

Will Invest More Of Surplus Fund

Raleigh, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The state is going to invest $23,000,000 more of its general fund surplus in short-term government notes.

The Council of State yesterday authorized that the sum be put into treasury certificates due Feb. 1, which means, Governor Cherry said, that the 1949 general assembly will have the funds available if it wants to use them.

The certificates, bearing interest of one and one-eighth per cent, will earn about $107,000, State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson estimated.

The new investments will bring to $68,000,000 the total of state surplus funds put into interest-bearing securities. Last April $15,000,000 was invested in short-term notes and previously $30,000,000 had been invested.

Scientists Send More Signals To Moon Via Radio

Sydney—(AP)—Australian scientists have sent more radio signals to the moon, and caught them on the rebound. They heard the echoes two-and-one-half seconds after the signals left an experimental radio station at Shepparton, Victoria.

The experiments have been made by men working in the Australian Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. CSIR research officer A. J. Higgs told a reporter signals had been sent to the moon and echoes received at intervals for the past six months. "The tests are part of our general study of the upper atmosphere and beyond," he said. "Lots of things happen there which we do not understand." Higgs said the experiments are pure research adding: "I can't say what practical use the information we may gain will have."

Reports Robbery With A Letter

Rockland, Me., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A $1,500 safe robbery on Matinicus Island, 20 miles off Maine's coast, was reported to Sheriff C. Earle Ludwick here today—by special delivery letter.

Deputy Sheriff Orrin Ames sent the information by mail because the island's only telephone was out of order.

Just 20 Cents

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Thirteen-year-old Charles Goldman, Jr., had just 20 cents when he bid on a bicycle at a police department auction yesterday—but it was more than enough.

Charles watched several other bicycles go for from $7 to $14. Finally he got enough courage to shout out "twenty cents" when a shiny model went on the block.

After a pause someone in the audience said, "let him have it." Police Capt. Troy Ferber did—putting some money of his own in the pot and letting Charles keep his two dimes. A previous bicycle young Goldman owned was stolen a month ago.

Teacher Training Colleges Menaced By University?

By LYNN NIBBET

Raleigh, Sept. 2—Re-establishment of the school of education or pedagogy at Chapel Hill, with promise of training a thousand or more public school teachers a year, poses a problem for the general assembly and the trustees of all state educational institutions. The question is whether teacher training can be better done at the University or at the smaller teacher training colleges; and, also, whether there is unnecessary duplication in courses offered at Chapel Hill and Greensboro units of the Greater University.

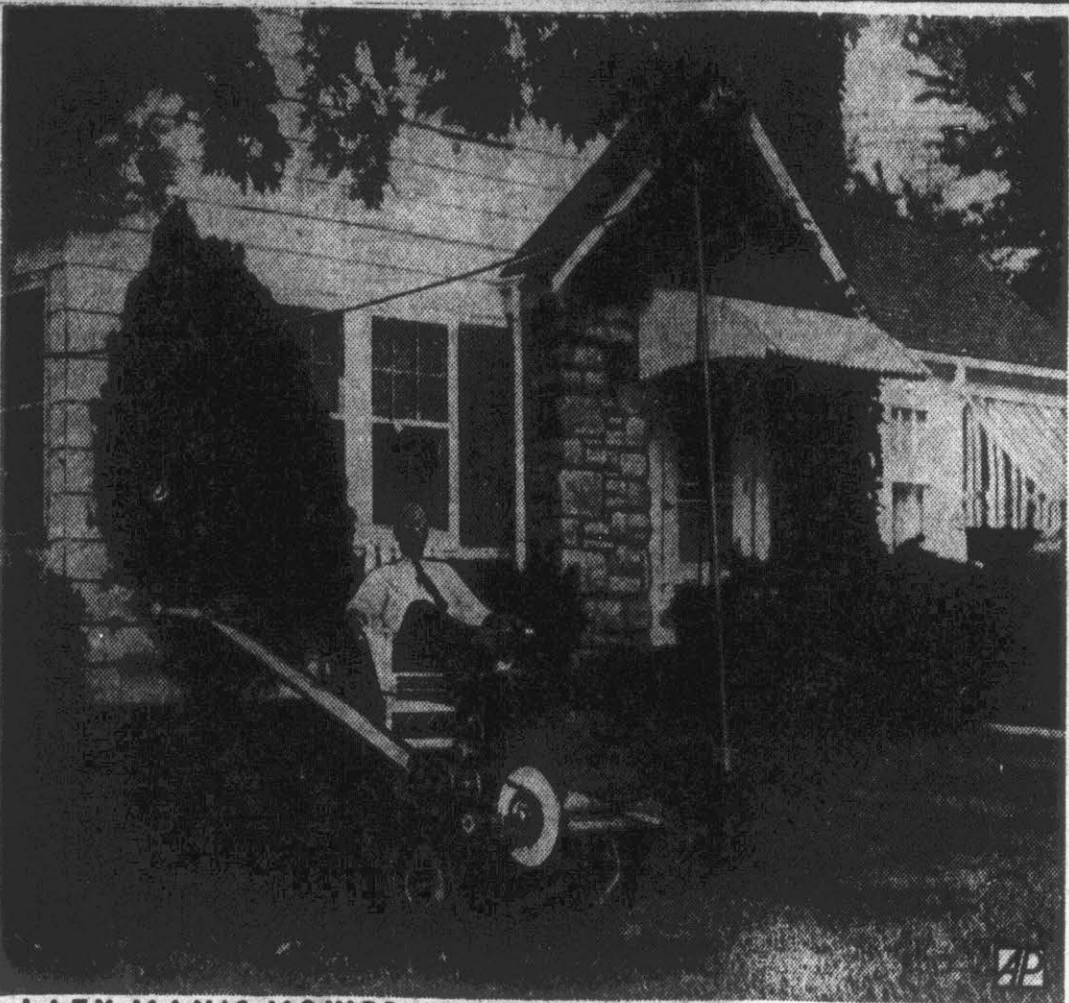

The issue came to the fore at Cullowhee last week when officials of Western Carolina Teacher College presented their case to the advisory budget commission. LeRoy Martin, one of the two at-large members of the commission and in private life a vice president of one of the state's biggest banks, lighted a delayed action fuse when he asked why any of the three white teacher colleges are needed, if the university is going to ask for appropriation sufficient to train all the teachers from here out. (It is rather generally accepted as fact that the wartime teacher shortage has been outgrown and estimates are the public school system for the next few years can absorb not more than 1000 new teachers a year in white schools.)

The same question had been skirted

ed by Dr. J. D. Messick, president of ECTC at Greenville, and by Dr. J. B. Daugherty, president of ESTC at Boone. It was given more thorough discussion when the budget reached Cullowhee and heard Acting President W. E. Bird of WCTC who was supported by Trustee Brandon Hodges, Harry Buchanan and Morgan Cooper. In these public discussions as well as in private conversations between visits and hotel rooms, budgeteers confess they do not have the answer.

Statistics quoted and believed to be correct, but not double-checked, indicated that majority of university graduates sought positions in high schools or administrative positions. Dr. Messick, Daugherty and Bird emphasized the objectives of their colleges is to supply elementary public school class rooms with competently trained teachers. Dr. W. C. Jackson, chancellor of the Greater University's woman's college, has the same idea but he carries it a bit further. His institution trains a lot of regular teachers, but also turns out home economic teachers home demonstration agents and gives courses leading to accountancy, law and medicine.

Appeal of the university is that it offers wider range of courses, more complete laboratory and library facilities and contact with more diversified student body. Appeal of the regional teacher colleges is that they are closer to the back-home folks, that many of their students could not or would not for various reasons, go to the university, and that their graduates are better equipped to fit into local schools than holders of university diplomas.

Italy Announces Power Project

Rome—(P)—Italy's power shortage and unemployment will be eased by a new project for the construction of 59 power stations, it has been announced. The new stations will give 7.4 billion kilowatts more power to war-damaged Italy's electric plants, and will complete the north-south electric network from the Alps to Sicily.

The electric power will cross the Messina Strait to Sicily, an attempt never made before, the announcement said. The program was decided in negotiations between public works and industry ministry officials and private enterprises.

It will be up to the next general assembly to determine whether tax money will go to support and improve the special teacher colleges or go to the university units; or, whether all the established institutions are necessary to supply, without expensive duplication, demand of the state public school system for teachers.

The same question, similar as to kind but less as to degree, is involved in the Negro colleges. To what extent the state supported Negro "universities" at Durham and Greensboro should usurp or duplicate work at Elizabeth City, Fayetteville and Winston-Salem teacher colleges must also be determined by the next general assembly.

Many Applicants For Licenses To Get Married Now

By CHESTER WALSH

Something's happened over at the office of Register of Deeds Charles P. Gaskins. Applicants for marriage licenses have traveled into his office in numbers during the past week. Visitors in the office at the courthouse say the federal draft law has something to do with it. One of the clerks in the office observed that more than half of the brides-to-be applying for license lately were under the legal age of 18, and had to have parents' consent.

The register of deeds did a "land office" business during the past week. Following is a list of the licenses issued:

White couples: Walter Daniel and Mildred Coward of Greenville; Verlin J. Gripp of Sioux City, Iowa, and Hennie Ruth Whitchard of Greenville; Larry L. Riggs, of Charleston, S. C. and Emma Frances Conway of Greenville; William H. White of Greenville and Mary M. Summerlin of Pinetops; Watson Fornes and Ruby Hall of Greenville; Keith C. Hudson of Thomasville and Betty J. Kinlaw of Greenville; Aubrey Pridden of Snow Hill and Annetta Cavanaugh of Wallace; Howard Bass

Robinson and Lela R. Henderson of Winterville; Edward Matthews of Washington and Ethel C. Bullard of Ayden; Freddie Foreman and Christine Harper, of near Greenville; Leonard Porter of Simpson and Thelma Webb of Greenville; John S. W. Brown and Dorothy J. Edwards of Greenville; Sylvester Clark and Lovie J. Edwards of Greenville; Ernest McLawhorn of Bethel and Betty Lou Taylor of Robersonville.

Colored couples: Ernest Brown of Bethel and Carolina Bailey of Greenville; John L. Cox and Odessa Patrick of Winterville; Roland H. Barrett and Johnnie Mae Bethea of Farmville; Willie D. Streeter and Odessa L. Richardson of Winterville; Winford Cox and Vivian Ruth Cox.

Let's Picnic on Labor Day

Labor Day marks the last of the summer holidays. What better excuse for a family outing? Pack up the food, load the family into the car, and be off for a picnic and a grand holiday out of doors. Or if you prefer a more leisurely day in your own comfy chair, why not a picnic in your own back yard?

A Cook-your-own Picnic Grill

Make your picnic a cook-your-own affair. It's more fun when everyone joins in and shows their skill in outdoor cooking. Besides the Wilson's Certified Frankfurters done to a turn and biscuits-on-a-stick, have big pot of baked beans with chunks of Mor Pork throughout, potato chips, cole slaw, doughnuts, ice cold watermelon, milk and coffee.

Buy doughnuts covered with a confectioner's sugar glaze, then toast them over the coals until coating is bubbly and brown.

BISCUIT-ON-A-STICK

To make Biscuits-on-a-stick, mix baking powder biscuits at home except for adding liquids, or take along a supply of commercially prepared biscuit mix. At the picnic, add liquid to make a dough slightly softer than for rolled biscuits. Shape large spoonfuls of dough over the ends of green sticks that are stripped of bark for about four inches. Hold over coals, turning slowly until baked through and brown on all sides. Remove from sticks and fill centers with Wilson's Certified Margarine or Clear Brook Butter and marmalade. It's fun for all!

Grilled Franks: Mount Wilson's Certified Frankfurters as pictured, on prepared green sticks and cook done-to-a-turn over glowing coals of an outdoor grill. Turn as needed. Serve piping hot.

September Theme Song

"Back to school" is the theme song for September. Whether you fill lunch boxes or serve lunch at home, keep a good stock of Mor on hand for tasty, nourishing sandwiches. Or dice Mor and add to potato salad, creamed potatoes, scrambled eggs, and many other delicious lunch dishes. Remember, there are now 4 MORs to choose from—Beef, Lamb, Pork, and Veal.

The Wilson label protects your table.

Greenies Defeat Rocky Mount By 9-5 Margin

Johnnie Tate Pitches Winning Ball On Last Night Of CPL Play; Riggs And Stott Hit Homers For Locals

Be sure to make your plans to be out to the game early tonight to watch the Field Night event to be staged between members of the Greenies and the Rocky Mount Leafs in pre-game events which will get under way at about 7:15 o'clock. This will mark the final appearance of the Leafs here this season and the events will be well worth watching. They will consist of fungo hitting catcher's throw to second, fielder's throw home, circling the bases walking, circling the bases running, 50-yard dash and a comical wheelbarrow race. A special event is also being planned so come out and see what the surprise is.

Many American League hitters are complaining that the umpiring in the circuit isn't up to the par of previous years.

There is one arbiter in the league, a veteran, who has a quaint way of ending all bees. When a player protests one of his calls, he chirps: "That pitch was a strike for 250 hitters and a ball for 200 hitters. Which one are you?"

Babe Ruth always voted for the New York Yankees of 1927 as the greatest baseball team in history. And little wonder. The feats of that club were amazing.

That was the year Ruth hit 60 home runs and batted .354. Lou Gehrig batted .373 and knocked in 175 runs. Earle Combs hit .356, Bob Meusel .337 and Tony Lazzeri .309. Among the pitchers, Waite Hoyt had a record of 22 and 7; Herb Pennock 19 and 8; Wilcy Moore 19 and 7; George Pipgriss 10 and 3; and Urban Sheeker 18 and 6.

As a team the Yankees scored 975 runs and knocked out 158 home runs. The Yanks finished 19 games ahead of second-place Philadelphia Athletics in the American League pennant race. That also was the year the Yankees beat the St. Louis Browns 21 straight games.

The Yankee management has given its approval for a Charlie Keller Day on Saturday, September 25. There have been all sorts of "days" for ball players in the Stadium and other locales in the major leagues, but this "Day" is going to be different.

When the proposition of having a "day" for him was put up to King Kong, he said he would give his approval only if, out of that festival, a New York scholarship at the University of Maryland was set up for some boy who otherwise would not be able to pursue his college studies.

This arrangement has been made and is without precedence in the history of "days" for players in the major leagues. Keller is an alumnus of Maryland.

Another Switch On 'T' Formation

Newark, Del., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Bill Murray, coach of Delaware's football Blue Hens, has a new version of the "T" formation—the double-wing T.

Reluctant to abandon entirely the double wing which once carried the University of Delaware through 32 straight games without a defeat, Murray has added the "W" to the formation. The Blue Hens' streak was ended last season by Maryland.

"We'll line up the same as in a double wing," said the youthful gridiron mentor yesterday, "but the quarterback will take the ball from the center instead of the fullback." The change in styles came because of the material, or rather the lack of it to play the double wing at its best.

"We found ourselves lacking in fullbacks who could run the ends, buck the line and pass," said Murray. "Our quarterbacks also were short on blocking ability but long on passing."

"Last spring we had hopes of using both the double wing and the 'T' interchangeably but that didn't work out so well. So we decided to combine the best features of both attacks."

Sport Slants by Pap

Old Reliable... by Pap

In an effort to bolster the Yankees for the big push down the home stretch, Manager Bucky Harris decided on several radical changes in the Bombers' line-up and the team proceeded to reel off half a dozen straight victories. Among those players shifted around by Harris was Tommy Henrich, the "Old Reliable" of the Yankees. Henrich was brought in from right field and placed at first base where he replaced the fatigued George McQuinn. It isn't the first time that Tommy has been called upon to cover first so this was no noble experiment.

Henrich is a right fielder by trade and makes no bones about the fact that he would rather play in the outer garden than guard the initial sack. However, being the team player that he is, Tommy accepted the new assignment with an eagerness to strengthen the club. The shift may have been a bit stimulating for Henrich, but it was made in Washington. Tommy pounded out his fourth grand slam homer of the current season and joined Frank Schulte, Babe Ruth, Rudy York and Vince DiMaggio as holders of the major league record.

Yogi Berra, the squat catcher, has replaced Henrich in right field and while he is no Tris Speaker when it comes to shagging a fly ball, he does give the club added power at the plate. The big ideas behind the shift was to bolster the Yankees' batting strength and the current line-up shapes up as the most potent the team can muster.

No Comments On Club Deal Probe

Detroit, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Baseball officialdom continued silent today on published reports that the Detroit Tiger farm system is headed toward another housecleaning.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, contacted at Versailles, Ky., replied "no comment" to a Detroit News report that he was investigating "cover up" deals between the Detroit Club and Dallas of the Texas League, a farm club.

The newspaper said Chandler is gathering evidence to show that Detroit and Dallas collaborated on "deals" involving players so that Detroit could exceed the limit of players allowed under its contract.

At Cincinnati, Walter Mulberry, Chandler's assistant, said the commissioner's office has been "looking into" player deals in Texas "and elsewhere."

However, he added, "the commissioner's office is always doing this, and there's nothing to say now about the so-called 'housecleaning.'"

At Detroit, Tiger manager Billy Evans said he had heard nothing of such an investigation.

Rod-And-Reeler Breaks A Record

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Earl Osten, rod and reel artist from Corona Del Mar, Calif., today held the world's record for the 5-8 ounce distance cast.

He broke the record as the 40th annual tournament and convention of the National Association of Angling and Casting Club began here yesterday.

Osten had a long cast of 420 feet and an average of 409 2-3. The former mark was a long cast of 417 and a 407 1-3 average.

Spiders Revamp Football Set-Up; Concede Nothing

Richmond, Va., Sept. 2.—(AP)—New coach... the single wing replacing the "T" formation... a weak spot at center... pretty fair ends, tackles and guards... and a "sweet" fullback.

That just about sums up the 1948 football picture at the University of Richmond, where a rebuilding program is under way.

The new Spider mentor is Karl A. (Dick) Esleek, an ex-high school coach, who isn't in the habit of losing many battles on the gridiron.

Esleek, whose Woodrow Wilson team at Portsmouth, Va., won the state high school championship in 1947, isn't saying much about the Spiders' chances except that he isn't conceding anything to anybody.

"We'll play each game as we get to it," Esleek said, "and play it for all it's worth."

The sweetest prospect on the Spider squad of 80 undoubtedly is Edward (Sugar) Ralston, a battling fullback from Richmond. Ralston is probably the only certain starter in the Spider backfield.

Other likely backfield performers are Thomas Billingsley of Fredericksburg, Bruce Price, of Hopewell, Mike Cocco, of Allentown, Pa., Graham Brim, a sophomore passer from Birmingham, Ala.; Bernie Hofbauer, of Brooklawn, N. J., and Dan Riker, of Chicago. Riker formerly played guard.

The Spiders lack depth at center and end. Esleek will pin Richmond's hopes at the pivot slot on Edward (Yank) Dulaney, of Richmond, Va., and Art Wolan, of Chicago.

Three of last year's best ends are back, including Bill Long, of Fredericksburg, Douglas MacLachlan, of Montclair, N.J., and Aubrey Roser, of Hampton. After these three though, there isn't an experienced flankman.

Feller In Form, Cleveland Once Again 'Team to Beat'

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer With Bob Feller serving warning that he is once again the master moundsman of old, the Cleveland Indians loomed today as the team to beat for the American League pennant.

True, the Tribe is in third place, a game and a half behind the front-running Boston Red Sox, and a half game back of the runner-up New York Yankees. However, with Feller apparently returned to form, and Bob Lemon to back him on the firing line, the outlook for the Indians appears very bright, especially with the schedule so much in their favor.

Feller turned in his second straight sterling performance last night, permitting the Philadelphia Athletics only six hits, and striking out his second high of nine, as the Indians won, 8-1. Oddly enough, Feller's last outing in New York, resulted in the same score and the same number of hits for both sides.

Judging by the remaining schedule, only a complete collapse on the part of the Indians, or a sensational spurt by either the Red Sox or the Yankees, could cost Cleveland the flag.

Here is the picture. The Indians have 28 games left to play, 19 of them at home. In addition only five of the 28 are against first division clubs, all in Cleveland. They have only one piece remaining with the Red Sox and Yankees and three with the fourth place A's.

On the other hand, the Red Sox must play 18 of their remaining 29 games on the road, with eight against the Yankees, one against the Indians and six against the A's. The Yankees' schedule is even tougher. They play only nine of their remaining 29 games at home and meet Boston eight more times, Cleveland once and Philadelphia five times.

Feller and Lemon should be available for about eight more starts apiece. Two of Lemon's last three efforts resulted in shutouts, his eighth and ninth whitewashings of Lou Bristle's 194.

son heavily in the knowledge of this system. Training plans call for two workouts each day until the fall college season opens on September 10th. Only fifteen practice days remain before the Pirates open their playing season against the Cherry Point Marines on September 17 in Rocky Mount's Municipal Stadium.

High Pockets

Chapter 11
It was three days since the storm, three long, drawn-out and uneventful days. To all appearances there was nothing amiss in either the cottage or the big house, yet the evidence of strained relationships was there. As one would expect, it was even more noticeable in the cottage. Perhaps it was due to Phil whose guilty conscience goaded him into doing the verities that were certain to arouse doubts and suspicions in his wife.

There was no telling now, no knowing just what Nettie thought of and believed of Phil's awkwardly told story. Nettie had listened to Phil's recital, but she had offered no comment when he had finished. Her silence had made him uncomfortable. If only she had called him an out and out liar.

The long hours alone in the cottage gave Nettie's imagination added opportunity for wild, unhampered expansion. . . . but to her credit, when Phil returned for supper, she greeted him with a smile, even permitted him to give her a peck of a kiss on her cheek.

As usual, when Phil finished eating, he opened his belt and pushed his chair back from the table, sank back in it and closed his eyes. Nettie watched him out of the corner of her eye.

"I was in town today," she said presently.

"That so?"

"I bought the material for this dress," she said. "I made it this afternoon. Do you . . . do you like it?"

"Yeah, sure," he said quickly. "Looks fine."

"I saw Cathy and her sister in town, too," she went on as she heaped the remaining plates preparatory to removing them from the table.

"Uh-huh."

"That Gay Hollis woman is a good looking woman."

There was no response, no comment from Phil.

"That Corbin man," she went on again presently. "The one who runs that saloon, we'll, he was standing outside his place when Gay came along. Cathy had gone into a store meanwhile. Anyway, Corbin said something to Gay and she smiled and stopped. You'd think they'd met before from the way they just stood there and talked. The next thing I knew, he was leading her into his place and he had his arm around her waist. Cathy came out, saw them going into the saloon, and she put down her packages and ran after them. It wasn't a minute later when Gay and she came out. Cathy was furious. I heard her call Gay a common flirt. Cathy was still telling her what she thought of her as they drove out of town."

Phil climbed stiffly to his feet. "Reckon I'll get washed and turn in," he said. "Go another full day ahead of me tomorrow."

He trudged up the stairs. A door on the upper floor closed behind him presently. Nettie sobbed softly, wiped her eyes with the corner of a dish towel, then she seemed to square her shoulders and started washing the dishes.

Supper in the big house was a quiet affair with practically no conversation among the three people who sat at the kitchen table. When the meal was finished, Gay got to her feet and went upstairs; she returned shortly with her coat over her arm.

"I'm just going for a short stroll," Gay said in answer to Cathy's unasked question. "I think a breath of air will do me good."

George got up from the table. He hitched up his pants, caught up his hat and slapped it on his head and stalked out. He was probably a hundred yards from the house when he spied a slim figure ahead of him.

"There she is, awright," he muttered to himself. "Wonder where she's headed for?"

He saw Gay turn off toward the road that led to town.

"Must be expectin' someb'dy out fr'm town," he decided.

It was less than five minutes later when he heard the clatter of approaching hoof beats. George grunted, hitched up his belt and trudged up the road. He heard the gentle whinny of a horse in the darkness ahead of him. . . . suddenly he saw the horse, and two figures standing beside the animal. They sprang apart. George stopped.

"Awright, Gay," he said curtly. "Reckon you c'n turn around now and trot back home."

"Just a minute," her companion said. "It was Corbin."

halted in the middle of the road. He stopped too.

but we couldn't do business without him!

When you take your car to an Esso Dealer Station for gasoline, motor oil, or a complete lubrication job — you're not really "doing business" directly with Esso Standard Oil Company, even though we make the fine products you get.

Instead, these 25,000 Esso Dealers from Maine to Louisiana are local, independent business men. You deal with the owners themselves — men who have invested their money and their initiative in building their own futures on serving you.

From many competing brands of gasoline and oil, these local business men have chosen Esso products. Year after year, they have seen first-hand evidence of the satisfaction to the buyer that Esso quality stands for.

As of today, these able business men have, on the average, handled Esso products for 12 years each.

Many have bought from us for 35 to 40 years. Obviously, we couldn't do business without these men. And naturally we're proud of them — just as proud of them as we are of the 28,000 workers who are on our company payroll.

Both groups — our own employees and these "partners" in their independent businesses — express this company's basic belief that individual enterprise, given its fair chance to earn fair rewards — is the best way and the American way to make progress with and for all the people of this country.

Forger Given 5 Years In Prison

By CHESTER WALSH
In Superior Court yesterday, Judge Luther Hamilton of Morehead City, presiding over a one-week criminal term of Superior Court, sentenced William Allen Sawyer to serve from three to five years in State prison on 10 charges of forgery.

Loraino Cleveland Nobles was given six months on the roads for non-support.

The case against Leroy Williams, charged with non-support, was not pressed to trial.

Willie Purvis who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was given two and one-half years in prison and assigned to work at the county jail under Capt. Leggett.

Willie C. Ebron, charged with assault on a female, submitted a plea of simple assault. He was given 60 days on the roads, sentenced suspended on payment of costs and he is to remain of good behavior and not molest the prosecuting witness.

Claude James, charged with driving drunk and disorderly conduct, was found guilty by a jury, Judge Hamilton, Solicitor Dick Bundy and attorneys conferred about a technicality in the case and the judge ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. James had submitted a plea of being drunk and disorderly. He was ordered to pay court costs.

Bounty For Dead Cats: $500,000

San Francisco—(AP)—California has paid out half a million dollars for 10,000 dead mountain lions since the bounty system was set up in 1907. The 10,000th bounty has been paid to a Mendocino County hunter, says the State Division of Fish and Game, which estimates that one of the big cats has been killed every 30 hours, on the average, during the past two generations.

The cost is regarded as cheap. Lion killing, combined with better enforcement of game laws, has quadrupled the deer population in the same period, authorities say. It is believed that about 75 per cent of a mountain lion's diet is deer meat. The cats are found in every region of the state, but mostly in the northwestern part. Bounty records show they have been killed since 1907 in every county except San Francisco. Only recently an elderly female lion was shot on the Antioch bridge, a high steel structure across the San Joaquin River 40 miles east of here. The present bounty is $60 for a female and $50 for a male.

The treadmill was a penal appliance introduced in England in 1818. Prisoners walked up a never-ending series of steps which in turn revolved a mill.

Collins Case To Reach Jury Today

By CHESTER WALSH
Testimony in the case against the administrators of the estate of J.H. Collins of the Ayden section, in Superior Court at the City Hall, which has been in progress most of a week, was concluded yesterday afternoon.

On motion of Attorney J. Henry Harrell, James E. Collins, husband of Mrs. J. E. Collins of Greenville, plaintiff in the suit, was eliminated as a party defendant in the action. Attorneys were arguing the case before the jury today.

It was expected that Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill, presiding over the civil term of court, would charge the jury late today. Mrs. J. E. Collins is suing J. A. and R. L. Collins, administrators of the estate, for $6,900 for additional compensation for caring for Mr. Collins several years prior to his death early in 1947.

The administrators contend that Mrs. Collins made an agreement that her compensation had been ample and satisfactory.

Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Boyd Reported Hurt In Auto Accident

Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Boyd of Laurinburg, formerly of Greenville, were injured in an automobile accident near Lumberton Monday night and are in Baker's Hospital in Lumberton according to word received here today.

Reports said Dr. Boyd is suffering from a broken rib and cuts and bruises and that Mrs. Boyd received a brain concussion.

At the time of the accident they were returning from Wrightsville Beach in an automobile with their daughter, Mrs. James A. Jones and her two children. One of the children received a slight concussion in the accident, but has been released from the hospital.

Dr. Boyd was pastor of the Greenville Presbyterian Church for several years before going to Laurinburg.

Claude Buck Died At Vanceboro Home

Claude Buck, 68, died at his home in Vanceboro Wednesday at 8:12 p. m., following an illness of two days. Funeral services will be conducted at the home Friday afternoon at 3:30 by Rev. F. R. Williams, Free Will Baptist minister of near New Bern, assisted by Rev. Charlie Hamilton, Free Will Baptist minister of Fountain. Burial will be in the Kite family cemetery.

Mr. Buck was born, reared and spent his entire life in Vanceboro. He was married to Miss Lula Kite, January 3, 1932. He was a member of Reunion Chapel, Free Will Baptist, of near Vanceboro.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Walter Buck of Vanceboro; two daughters; Mrs. Sallie Nelson, Mrs. George; Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Tump Lewis, all of near Vanceboro and Mrs. John R. Matthews and Mrs. J. E. Hart, both of Vanceboro.

American Planes Baffle Germans

Berlin—(AP)—The Germans, especially newspaper editors, are having quite a time translating these flamboyant names of Americans engaged in the blockade-busting air lift.

When a giant C-74 Globemaster arrived here with a cargo of flour, the American-licensed newspaper Tagesspiegel hailed it as the "meister des erdballes (master of the earth ball)."

German kids who watch the day and night procession of the air shuttles have grown familiar with the types of planes involved. They can point out a C-54 Skymaster or a C-47 Dakota merely as C-54 or C-47.

Some newspapers also have adopted these designations. However, some Russian-controlled newspapers, often sneeringly, try to translate Skymaster into "himmel meister (master of the heavens)."

The German press finds much simpler such British aircraft names as Yorks, Sunderlands and Lancasters.

Atheists . . .

urgent ground" to single out those stations rather than "many others."

But the commission accompanied its decision with a vigorous discussion of freedom of speech and freedom of religion.

The main conclusion appeared to be:

"That a broadcaster has no right to follow a 'rigid policy' of denying radio time to the holders of a belief solely because they are few in number, or because their views are unpopular."

The Scott case opinion caused a stir in the radio industry. Many people were puzzled as to whether it meant the industry must grant time to atheists, and if so, how often.

This year the matter came to a head when another atheist demanded time on a Rochester, N.Y., radio station.

A special House committee headed by Rep. Harkness (R-Ind.) took two days of testimony concerning the Scott opinion.

FCC officials testified that the opinion did not mean atheists should be given "equal" time to answer all religious programs.

They said all it meant was that a broadcaster cannot adopt an "absolute rule" which prevents expression of a point of view merely because the broadcaster doesn't agree with it.

An FCC member testified that a radio station, if it has a good record of fairness, need not fear losing its license simply because it refuses an atheist's request for time.

That didn't entirely satisfy Rep. Harkness, who said he would like to see the commission remove the "most unfortunate" Scott opinion from the records entirely. But as of today, it is still there.

Zhdanov's . . .

natural causes. Human life being so tenuous in some parts of Europe these perilous days, it is perhaps small wonder that such speculation should arise.

However, the only answer your correspondent knows is that five surgeons have said the General's demise was due to heart trouble and hardening of the arteries. That's official, and nobody is likely to dispute a verdict of death from "heart trouble" though he will wonder what caused the trouble.

Zhdanov and Stalin long had been close friends and the Generalissimo clearly placed much reliance on the General's advice. Apparently any mistakes in judgment by Zhdanov had been forgiven—at least up until the anti-Tito policy was launched two months ago under the auspices of the Cominform, successor to the Comintern, or general staff for world revolution which the General founded. In fact he participated in the Cominform meeting which denounced Tito.

The outside world may get an answer to some of its wonderment by watching the weather-vane of Moscow's international policies. It will be interesting to see whether Zhdanov's ideas continue to hold.

In any event Russia is giving the General the funeral of a hero and a favorite son.

KIWANIS NAMES DELEGATES
The Greenville Kiwanis Club has elected N.C. Brooks, Wyatt Highsmith and Henry Andrews delegates to the annual convention of the Carolinas Kiwanis District to be held in Asheville October 10-12. John Reynolds, R. W. Shiplett and James Ray Pittman were named alternate delegates. A large delegation of local Kiwanians is planning to attend the convention.

Dixiecrats And Progressives On Indiana Ballots

Indianapolis, Sept. 2—(AP)—States Rights Democrats and the Progressives won places today on the Nov. 2 ballot in Indiana.

The two Republican members of the State Election Board overrode the lone Democrat in his opposition to the approval of the State Rights party's petition.

The Republican board members rejected a protest by a Republican Negro, Frank Beckwith of Indianapolis, who charged the States Rights movement violates a 1947 Indiana law banning organizations "spreading hatred by reason of race, color or religion."

William Steckler, Democratic member of the election board, explained he opposed the States Rights Democrats because they had refused to accept a civil liberties plank of the national Democratic platform.

New Deportation Hearings Set By Justice Dept.

New York, Sept. 2—(AP)—The Department of Justice announced today it would initiate deportation proceedings soon against Jack Stachel, former national secretary of the Communist party, and 24 other party leaders.

The announcement was made as the government concluded its deportation hearing for "J. Peters," alleged chief of a Communist underground operating in this country. Presiding Inspector Ralph Farber reserved decision in the Peters case.

John P. Boyd, deputy commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice, said similar proceedings would be brought soon against Stachel, Alexander Bittelmann, Communist theoretician, Claudia Jones and 22 other high-ranking members of the party.

Lifelines For New York Choked

New York, Sept. 2—(AP)—A trucking tie-up choked many lifelines of the Metropolis today, although most of the city's millions have not yet felt the pinch.

Huge cargoes of freight, which normally move into the city each day by rail, were halted by an embargo. It was ordered put into effect today to prevent piling up of merchandise in rail yards.

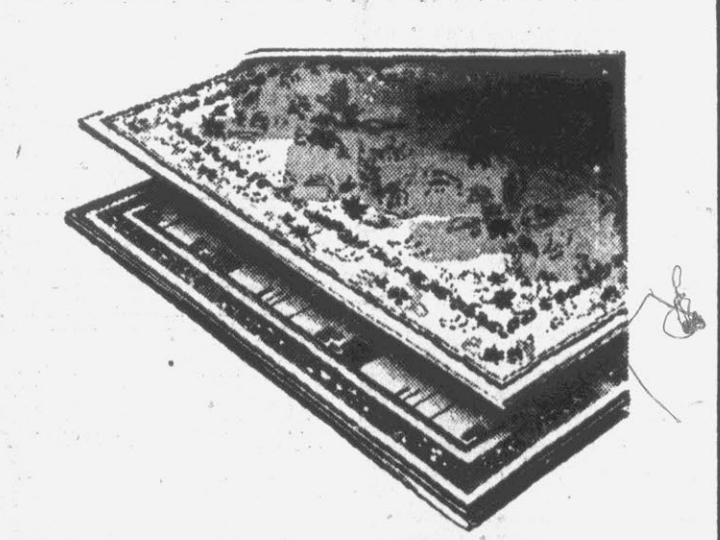

Marine Sergeant Did Good Work This City

T-Sgt. W. R. Meredith of the military police detachment, Cherry Point, who was on duty at the police department in Greenville for a long time during and after the war, was in the city today, greeting old friends and acquaintances.

Police Chief Lester D. Page told Lt. D. G. Derryberry of the provost marshal's office at Cherry Point that Meredith had rendered outstanding service to law enforcement in Greenville and Pitt County and that he made a mighty good name for himself while here.

Incidentally, Sgt. Meredith expects to be sent overboard with a Marine outfit about the middle of October.

Churchmen Chart Condemnation Of Two Ideologies

Amsterdam, the Netherlands, Sept. 2—(AP)—An advisory section of the World Council of Churches condemned both communism and capitalism today. It said neither was an ideology capable of ensuring justice and freedom in the world.

The charges against both forms of society were made in a report drawn up by the section on "The Church and Disorder of Society." The report was submitted to a plenary session of the council today and leading members of the section said it will undergo only minor revisions.

"The report castigated communism as 'a force that engenders new forms of injustice and oppression.' It said capitalism had failed to meet human needs and had concentrated on materialism and produced 'serious inequalities.'"

Bite Of Black Widow Not Fatal For Farmer

John Tingle, 82-year-old retired farmer of Craven County, who was bitten by a black widow spider last Sunday, is recovering, his daughter, Mrs. Howard Simpson, 215 Greene Street, this city, said today. The elderly farmer, when bitten by the poisonous insect, paid little attention to the sting, but before he could reach his house he was partly paralyzed. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in New Bern, where little hope of his recovery was given members of the family. His recovery, for a person of his age, was unusual, hospital physicians said.

Grain Market

Chicago, Sept. 2—(AP)—There were enough unfavorable elements in the run of the day's news to cause a fairly large drop in grain prices today. The July, 1949, wheat contract fell a good part of the selling, tumbling more than 3 cents at one time.

The unfavorable news gist included rains in the Nebraska winter wheat territory, a slump in cash corn prices, an increase in country offerings of cash corn and a statement by Harold Stassen that food prices should come down.

Wheat closed 2 to 3 1/2 lower, September $2.21, corn was 1 1/2-2 1/4 lower, September $1.65 1/2-3/4, oats were 1/4-1/2 lower September 73 1/2, rye was 2 1/2 to 3 cents lower, December $1.57, and soybeans were 1/2 to 2 cents higher, November $2.46 1/2.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Sept. 2—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices irregular. Tops of $27.50 at Kinston, Tarboro, Greenville, Smithfield, Wilson, Goldsboro, Washington and Richmond; $27.75 at Rocky Mount.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, Sept. 2—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 15 cents a bale lower to 5 cents higher.

Noon prices were 15 to 60 cents a bale lower than the previous close. Oct. 30, 31, Dec. 30, 31 and March 30, 64.

Futures closed 20 cents to $1.40 a bale lower than the previous close.
