American Troops On Maneuvers In German Sector

First Grand-Scale Test In Germany Famed First Division Is Taking Part

Grafenwoehr, Germany, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Some 20,000 American soldiers rolled out of their tents at dawn today and deployed through rough mountain terrain in the biggest mock battle since the real thing ended.

Thousands of jeeps, weapon carriers and tanks rolled from the reservation soon after sunrise on the first maneuver on a grand scale ever planned by American armed forces in Germany.

While the generals insisted there was no political significance some cognizance of the tense world situation was taken.

For example, the Army for the first time divided the time worn system of calling two teams in any maneuver the "reds" and "blues."

In the exercise, to last two weeks, it was decided to have an "aggressor force" and a defender to be known as "U.S. armed forces." This was done, it was explained, so that the people would not think the meek Soviet Russians.

In the "aggressor" force was the U.S. constabulary-police force of occupied Germany—plus about two dozen fighters, bombers and some tanks.

The "defenders" were essential parts of the only division the U.S. has in Europe—the First Infantry.

Every gun was loaded with blank ammunition. By Thursday morning, after a day and a half of tactical tricks, it should be established by special umpires whether the aggressor has punched a good hole or the defender has beaten off the attack.

Actually, the aim of the whole job is to show whether the first division can function as a unit.

The division involved in the phony fight is the same First Infantry that chewed through North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany. Steddy, the stable-headed veterans of these days, however, now they are pink-checked 18-year-olds at the front lines.

Overseeing the whole job is Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, armored warfare expert, who ranks second to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany.

Tied in with the whole maneuver is a British battalion of 1,000 paratroopers, none of whom ever made a jump in action. They came from Palestine eager to jump, but the chances are they will be deprived of that opportunity in this exercise. It is purely a ground forces test.

Long Parade Of Czechs Mourn Eduard Benes

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Mourners filed past the coffin of former President Eduard Benes all through the night and into the morning.

At dawn today the line was nearly four miles long, as factory workers, foregoing sleep, poured in from all over Czechoslovakia.

Up a long hill, the queue moved to the Hall of Resistance, where Benes' body lies in state until midnight tonight. State funeral rites will be held tomorrow in the Hall of Fame at the Prague Museum.

Burial ceremonies will be held tomorrow night at the former president's villa on a hillside in Sestimovo Usti.

DIS-ASSEMBLY LINE Charlotte, N.C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Mecklenburg County Superior Court today found more than 60 divorces, at the rate of one every few minutes.

Two courtrooms were in use for the absolute decrees.

Death On The Highway

Death Has A Thousand Faces, And This Columnist Tells Of Some He Recognized On An Automobile Trip; Some Things That Would Make Your Heart Stand Still

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Death has a thousand faces, and he wore a lot of them on the highways the past few days.

At least 271 people were killed in automobile accidents over the Labor Day weekend.

I've just come back from a 2,600-mile automobile trip through the South and some of the things I saw would make your heart stand still.

I didn't see death outright. But I saw some of his disguises as he waited for a chance to pounce.

He was in the wind in the hair of a girl on the back of a motor-cycle; he was in an old jalopy trudging wormlike up a busy hill; he was in a car that passed another on a curve; he was in a limp left arm.

I saw maybe a dozen girls on the back of motorcycles, their arms tight around the man driver in front of them.

The wind was in their hair, thrilling them, as they rocketed along, doing 60 or 65 miles an hour on a highway where the limit was 50.

At that speed on a busy road one slight twist of the front wheel, one brief skid, one ugly hole in the road could crash them into a ravine or an oncoming car.

Political Obstacle Course For Pres. Truman Growing In Dixie

Atlanta, Sept. 7.—(AP)—States Rights Democrats are building a new political obstacle course for President Truman in Dixie: ballot box.

Even as he sets his campaign course, Mr. Truman apparently has been eliminated from the ballot in Alabama and is a doubtful starter in Georgia and possibly other southern states.

A survey showed today that States' Righters, on the other hand, have made a clean sweep in all five states that have decided their November election role. States Rights Democrats already have won a chance at the polls in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina and Virginia.

Mr. Truman at the moment can count full states of presidential election-candidates only in North Carolina and Virginia.

There's plenty of confusion, however, over the States Rights motion for divorce in the south's long marriage with the national Democratic party. And many states have yet to unravel the tangle and decide just who will appear on the ballot and how.

Mr. Truman's biggest hurdles may be Mississippi, South Carolina and especially Alabama. All regular Democratic presidential electors in these spawning grounds of the southern revolt are pledged to skip to States' Rights Candidate Strom Thurmond. And the 26 electors represent normally all-powerful state Democratic organizations.

In Alabama, State Senator Joseph Langan of Mobile said he has given up a scrap to get Truman electors on the ballot. His last resort, he said, will be a court suit to force Democratic electors to adhere to Mr. Truman.

The President can get a crack at Mississippi voters merely by certifying electors to the secretary of state; South Carolinians who want to stick

New Industries Talked By Chamber Directors

Progress Told Of Setting Up Manufacturing Firm And Insurance Company; Need Of Sub-Station For Fire Dept. Pointed Out

By CHESTER WALSH A feature of the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting last night was the announcement of two new and important industries with substantial payrolls for Greenville: the making progress toward setting down a business.

The American Lady Corset Company of Detroit, Mich., which will have several hundred persons on its payroll, is getting ready to start work in the plant formerly occupied by Greenville Spinners, Inc.

The Old North State Insurance Company, whose offices will be at Fourth and Pitt streets, is making progress in setting up.

President Robert Van Hook, presiding at the meeting, said the insurance company will achieve prestige for Greenville.

Another new industry with a good payroll is in the making for Greenville, President Charles B. Bissette stated after the meeting.

Matt R. Long, president and treasurer of Greenville Spinners, Inc., sent a letter to the chamber, praising the good work and cooperation of Executive Secretary Willard T. Kyzer in arranging for the American Lady Corset Company to establish a factory here.

H. L. Ormond, head of the Ormond Wholesale Company, in the western part of the city, led a discussion about the dire need of a sub-station for the fire department beyond the railroad tracks, and he pointed out that if a long freight train were blocking Dickinson Avenue when a fire occurs beyond there, spectators could only watch the structure burn while the present fire department was blocked by the train. It was pointed out that Kinston has three fire stations—one in Negotiations have been going on intermittently since May 11, Harris reported. Union members approved a strike to enforce their demands on July 1, he said.

The CIO's telephone workers organizing committee, of which the ACEW is part, said in Washington that an ACEW strike could result in a nation-wide stoppage of phone service if other phone workers unions cooperate.

ACEW's members work as installers. It is likely a CIO official said, that other phone workers will refuse to cross ACEW picket lines at the exchanges when ACEW starts its strike.

Louisiana Police Capture Detective - Slaying Pair

New Orleans, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Two armed gunmen, sought for the slaying of a New Orleans detective and the abduction of the assistant chief of detectives, were captured today following a nightlong search.

State Trooper Jeff Lockett said the pair were taken without resistance at a store in Gonzales, La., a village about 60 miles northwest of here on Highway 61.

Gonzales is a few miles from Hatt, where the gunmen last night released John J. Jackson, assistant chief of New Orleans detectives, after abducting him from police headquarters here.

The officer said State Trooper L. E. Wright and Town Marshal Burke of Gonzales made the arrest.

Police identified the pair as Dale Simpson, 26, of Salt Lake City, Utah, the alleged slayer of Detective Nicholas Jacob, and 23-year-old H. E. Miller, a native of Monticello, Miss.

Stocky Assistant Chief of Detectives John J. Jackson related early today the events of the tense seven hours he spent with the gunmen driving over a maze of backwoods roads.

Jacob was slain yesterday morning as he and Detective Joseph Tardou were returning to New Orleans with Miller and Simpson from Gulfport, Miss., where Miller had been arrested on a theft charge sworn to by Simpson.

Miller and Simpson subsequently hitchhiked to New Orleans, seized Jackson and his car at police headquarters, and forced the detective to aid in their getaway.

Jackson said Miller guarded him closely during their long ride.

"He clicked that trigger back a hundred times and I died a hundred times," the assistant chief of detectives related.

ECA Approves Fabrics Buying

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Economic Cooperation Administration today approved use of $12,250,000 in recovery funds to buy Japanese cotton fabrics for shipment to the Netherlands East Indies.

Poland's Reds In New Party Purge

Vice Premier Repents Nationalist Errors And Is Forgiven

Warsaw, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Polish Communists launched today a purge intended to heal a party breach which threatens their control of Poland. The purge is aimed at nationalists who deviate from the Moscow party line—or international communism.

Vice Premier Wladyslaw Gomułka, who lost his job as the party's secretary-general Sunday because of his nationalist attitude and his support for Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, declared last night the party's troubles are past the crisis.

He appeared before a war council of party leaders to admit charges leveled against him—that he had pursued "a half and anti-Marxist line and anti-Marxist deviations. He said he had patched up his ideological differences with Poland's Communist shifters.

The council was called by President Boleslaw Bierut, who succeeded Gomułka as party secretary-general to draw up plans for ending the party breach. He offered an eight-point program. Political circles said Gomułka's recanting would strengthen Bierut's hand in enforcing this program to halt the straying of members who prefer the nationalist brand of communism to that of the international Cominform.

Gomułka, although he lost his important party job, retained his post as first vice premier in the government of Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and as minister for western territories. Bierut continues as president.

Angry Outburst At Aging Auto Proved Fatal

Toronto, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Angered when his automobile broke down, Gordon Metcalf, 29, smashed his fist through a rear plate glass window and died of injuries today.

Coroner Fred Tackett said several arteries were severed in the forehead of the 200-pound man, and he had suffered serious loss of blood when he reached the hospital in a taxicab.

As he stood at the hospital door with blood pouring out of his wrist and forearm, the taxi driver demanded $12 from him to clean the blood off the upholstery.

The 1927 model car had given Metcalf considerable expense and trouble since he bought it a few weeks ago, police said. When it broke down in front of his house he added, "he became so incensed that he crashed the window with his fist."

Twenty-Nine New Polio Cases On N.C. List Today

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The State Board of Health, in its first report since last Saturday, reported 29 new cases of polio today.

Sixteen of the cases were of August onset, while 13 broke out in month. No deaths were reported. Saturday saw seven new cases reported. Watauga county, with four cases—two September and two August—reported the most outbreaks today. Reporting three cases each were Buncombe, Catawba, and Haywood. Iredell, Moore and Wilkes had two each; Chatham, Cleveland, Duplin, Jackson, Madison, Montgomery, Nash, Pamlico, Robeson, and Stanley one each.

The state's epidemic has now reached 1,921 official cases, including 634 in August and 15 in September.

South Carolina Polio Count 262

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—South Carolina's 1948 poliomyelitis case total hit 262 today with nine new cases reported during the long Labor Day weekend.

State Health Board officials hoped that cooler weather brought by recent rains would put a stop to the slow but steady incidence of the disease.

General Groves To Testify For Spy Probe Body

Head Of War-Time Atomic Project Already In Closed Sessions Of Board

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Congressional spy investigators have enlisted Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves in their attempt to find out whether Russia got away with any atomic bomb super-secrets.

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) told reporters the man who directed the two billion dollar a-bomb project during the war already has been questioned several times "behind locked doors."

McDowell said the retired general will testify publicly after the House Un-American Activities Committee reopens its spy hearings September 15.

A subcommittee began a week of closed door sessions today to get ready for hearings which are supposed to do all this in three weeks:

1. Uncover evidence that a third spy ring, perhaps involving atomic scientists, operated in the government.

2. Bring into the open the information on which the committee based its six months old charges that Dr. Edward U. Condon was one of the weakest links in atomic security. Condon, head of the Federal Bureau of Standards, has denied the charges and has been cleared by the Commerce Department loyalty board.

3. Determine whether Communists have made inroads among Negroes.

4. Clean up odds and ends of the story of Elizabeth T. Bentley, admitted former Communist, that she was the Washington-New York messenger for two wartime spy rings that got secrets from government employees and officials and sent them along to Moscow.

5. Clear up more loose ends of the Eliza-Chambers dispute. Whittaker Chambers, another admitted former Red, testified that he was the courier and Alger Hiss a leading member of a pre-war Communist underground in Washington.

As the committee looks for leaks of atomic energy secrets in closed and open sessions, McDowell said it expects to bring out testimony from a Russian-born French citizen who lived in Paris began buying up now surviving land after the United States government acquired some Colorado uranium deposits.

Uranium is one of the materials that goes into an atomic bomb.

American Policy Is Again Scored

Disillusionment In Indonesia Said Due To U.S. Failures

Singapore, Sept. 7.—(AP)—British adviser to the Republic of Indonesia's foreign office said today popular disillusionment with the U. S. State Department's policy toward Indonesia is almost entirely responsible for the recent upsurge of Communism there.

John Coast, 31, a former British foreign office employee who now advises the republic in a private capacity, said former Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin told him the night before he led the Indonesia Socialist party into the Communist fold.

"I am still a left-wing Socialist, not a communist. But I do not think the Americans have any intention of supporting a just solution. The Russians are our only hope."

Coast said there is a wave of anti-American feeling in the republic due to:

"A belief the State Department is indifferent to a speedy solution of the Indonesian problem, and a general conviction 'the State Department is indifferent to whether the Dutch force the republic to become a puppet state like others they created."

Coast asserted Sjarifoeddin and an Indonesian Communist leader named Musso, who he said recently arrived in Moscow, are "having things all their own way" now because of resentment over American failure to force a solution.

He indicated the Indonesians feel American influence is strong enough with both sides to make them accept a compromise.

Holiday Deaths

The nation's death toll from violent accidents over the long Labor Day holiday mounted to near the 400 mark today.

Motorists jammed highways in summer's final extended weekend and traffic fatalities exceeded the estimate of 260 made by the National Safety Council.

Traffic deaths totaled 271 from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday until midnight Monday. Fifty-eight persons were drowned and 52 others lost their lives in other accidents of miscellaneous causes. The holiday weekend toll in Canada was 35, including 15 drownings and 14 traffic fatalities.

The toll over the Labor Day holiday in 1947 resulted in 451 deaths from accidents. The total included 293 traffic fatalities, 81 drownings and 77 miscellaneous deaths.

Protest To Russia On Riot Incidents In Berlin Discussed

President Prepares Plea For Farm Vote

Hurries Back To Washington After Opening Campaign Skirmish In Michigan And Ohio; Western States On Tour

Aboard Truman Train En Route to Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—President Truman sought a formula today for uniting labor and farm groups behind his 1948 election drive after an opening campaign skirmish into Michigan and Ohio.

He hurried back to Washington to whip a series of speeches into shape for a two-week westward trip opening at Dexter, Iowa, Sept. 18 and carrying him into his home county of Jackson, Missouri.

Oklahoma City and other towns in Oklahoma will be included in the swing, the details of which likely will be announced by the White House this week.

Mr. Truman may speak again at Los Angeles and San Francisco, which he visited on his pre-campaign tour and dip down into Texas.

Mr. Truman gave an indication of one turn his appeal to the farmers will take in six Michigan speeches yesterday. Talking to a labor audience at Flint, the President declared:

Stassen Recalls Truman Address

Notes Switch In Attitude On Labor Since May, 1946

Detroit, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen asserted today that President Truman has made an 180-degree turn in his attitude toward labor since Mr. Truman asked authority in 1946 to draft strikers into the army.

Stassen, here to answer the President's six-speech campaign in Michigan yesterday, told a news conference he heard the President's appeal for labor support in Detroit yesterday.

"That speech brought back for me memories of another speech he made to Congress on May 25, 1946, when the President asked for the most totalitarian power over labor ever proposed in time of peace," Stassen declared.

As the new President of the University of Pennsylvania, Stassen said he will devote most of October in campaigning for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the GOP Presidential nominee, and Gov. Earl Warren of California, the vice Presidential candidate.

Dewey picked Stassen to answer President Truman's opening rally of the campaign. Stassen speaks here tonight in what Republican chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., has called the kickoff of the GOP Presidential campaign.

Stassen said he will be acting as spokesman for the party rather than for Dewey personally. But he conceded that Dewey is reviewing the speech in advance.

Two of the congressional posts were at stake in Arizona where chief interest centered, however, on a seven-man race for Democratic nomination for governor. Among the leading candidates were Rep. Richard F. Harless and Acting Governor Dan E. Garvey.

The Republican gubernatorial contest was between William R. Bourdon and Bruce Brockett, North State cattlemen and long-time friends.

In Nevada, there was a two-man race for Democratic nomination for the state's lone seat in congress. The Republican incumbent, Walter Russell, was unopposed.

Utah citizens chose their nominees for two house seats, Governor and various state offices with main settlement is reached in the wage dispute.

In the truck strike, city officials expressed fear of a milk shortage because of the tieup of deliveries of fiber containers. Although food supplies are curtailed they were not dangerously low. But householders, especially in the outlying sections of New York, were finding it difficult to find many food items.

The paper also declared attempts were being made to "disturb the Moscow negotiations in the last moment" with "provocations."

A heavy cordon of Russian police sprinkled with Soviet military police, has isolated city hall. Everyone leaving is subjected to thorough check as often as three times.

Twenty-seven western Berlin police still are hidden in city hall after the rival Soviet sector police last night invaded the American liaison office there. They brushed aside a protesting American officer and dragged off 18 western officers and a towering Russian major ordered Liaison officers of the three western powers to leave the building. The western officers refused and the Russians did not press their demand.

Defiance Took Roots

Tito's Balking At Kremlin Rule Echoes In Another Satellite, Poland; Communist Party There Is Split Wide Open; Explanation Of Difference; Moscow Loosing

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The sturdy defiance of Moscow by Yugoslavia's tough dictator Marshal Tito, is echoing sensationally in another important Russian satellite state, and that none other than Poland—one of the pillars of the Bolshevik clan.

The Polish Communist party, with a membership of 1,900,000, is split wide open that the rood grip on the country is threatened. As high as 50 percent of the membership is in open revolt. The dissidents are hereby opposed in general to tooting the party line as laid down by the Cominform and specifically by the Socialization of production in Polish Peasant villages.

The rebels stand for nationalism as opposed to the internationalism demanded by Moscow. That also is the basis of the row between Tito and the Soviet. These two big nations of Poland and Yugoslavia, whose fierce love of independence has been written in their blood time and again through the generations, want a severance of the ties with Russia.

Least there be any doubt about the relationship between the Yugoslav

Western Military Governors Consider Joint Step; Twenty-Seven German Police Of Western Zone Remain Hidden In City Hall; French Officer Threatened

Berlin, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The western military government considered today joint protests to the Russians against Communist-led riots which have disrupted blockaded Berlin's civil government.

A French Liaison officer who was protecting 27 German police of the western zone in the city hall was threatened with death by an unidentified telephone caller as the western powers studied their next step. The 27 police remained hidden in the city hall, which is in the Russian sector.

An American spokesman said that America's Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Britain's Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, and France's Gen. Pierre Koenig planned to discuss joint action before going into another technical conference on the Berlin blockade with their Russian counterpart, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky.

The western generals could decide to take up the city hall riots directly with Sokolovsky. If that were done it would lift the local German political crisis into direct big four negotiations.

In London, a British diplomatic source said the western powers were planning a protest. He said it might go either to Sokolovsky or to Moscow.

This diplomatic source said the British have no doubt that the wave of Communist-led riots in the last few weeks have been organized "with the deliberate intention of wrecking the city council."

(In London the British Foreign office issued a formal statement, however, saying that any report that an official British diplomatic source had said the western powers are planning a joint protest to Russia over the Berlin rioting is without foundation.)

The crisis became acute after a third Communist storming of the city hall yesterday forced the elected city assembly to meet in western Berlin for protection.

The delegates of the Communist-controlled Socialist unity party (SED) refused to move along with the majority.

Leaders of the SED announced at a news conference that they will boycott any further assembly meeting held in west Berlin. This appeared to be a prelude to setting up a separate Red government in the Soviet sector of the city.

The German Socialist press accused the western powers of wailing on their obligations here.

The Communist administration with "selling out Berlin to the western powers." The Soviet administration's newspaper Tagliche Rundschau said efforts are being made to "make western Berlin an advance observation post and base of the Truman front."

The paper also declared attempts were being made to "disturb the Moscow negotiations in the last moment" with "provocations."

Registration Campaign Of Negro Voters Opens

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 7—(P)—Kelly M. Alexander, president of the North Carolina conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today a drive would begin immediately to register 100,000 Negro voters. Alexander estimated that about 50,000 Negro voters were now registered in North Carolina. Alexander's announcement followed a meeting last Friday of the state conference in Greensboro which approved a program of action, which included a budget of $25,000 to fight segregation in general and "discrimination in the educational system of North Carolina." The Rev. Oscar W. Burwick of Gastonia was named executive secretary. Alexander said the registration campaign would be a nonpartisan project. He said state branches of NAACP would sponsor vote registration institutes for teaching intelligent use of the ballot. His statement added that registrars who failed to register Negroes would be prosecuted. Another objective of the campaign, he said, would be to obtain more and better jobs for Negroes, and the elimination of alleged discrimination as to employment in industry and government.

Visitor To Jail Finds Self Hero

Asheboro, N. C., Sept. 7—(P)—R. E. Kyles of Durham went to visit his friend, Jailer W. P. Lassiter of Randolph county yesterday, and found himself one of the heroes of a jail break. Kyles and Lassiter were sitting in the jailer's apartment when an armed prisoner came through on a dash for the main jail entrance. They chased the prisoner and caught up with him on the front steps. He fired three harmless shots at Lassiter but the fourth wounded Kyles slightly in the hand. Kyles and Lassiter grappled with the Negro prisoner and held him until other officers came up with handcuffs. The prisoner was listed as Alex Brown. The jailer said Brown made his break as the prisoners were filling back to their cells from a cleanup detail. Brown had a .25 caliber automatic.

Defiance . . .

(Continued From Page One) lists intend to jam through Socialization of production in peasant villages come hell or high water. This of course was a direct challenge to the Dissidents. Well now, anyone who has followed the course of Communism know what "full liquidation" can mean. In the past it has meant on many occasions the literal extermination of rebellious elements. In other cases it has meant prison or slave camps or Siberia. Whatever way you look at it, the commotation of that "liquidation" is savage. This grim situation gives rise to pertinent questions: Will the liberty loving Poles stand for such oppression? What will be the effect of the Polish and Yugoslav disaffections on other intensely nationalistic people like the discontented Czechoslovakians? How will it strike those nations of western Europe which are the object of Communist aggression? There can be no doubt that it will mean a hardening of the defense against the bolshevist drive. Apropos of this, Miss Florence Hancock.

Arabs Lost War Says Newsmen In Reviewing Story

(Editor's note: Daniel De Luce, veteran Associated Press correspondent now in the Middle East, has viewed the Jewish-Arab warfare from both sides. In this dispatch he assesses the Palestine situation as it exists today.)

By DANIEL DE LUCE Jerusalem, Sept. 7—(AP)—Israel is dancing to the victory march while the Arab states sit glumly on the mourner's bench.

The Arabs seem dazed by their strategic reverses, appalled that 500,000 or more of their brethren have become penniless refugees and baffled as to how to cut their losses.

The best guess among key politicians is that official war, despite current grumbling, will not get into a third round.

The chances for an early Palestine peace are described as hinging on the answers to two questions:

Will Egypt, which wants Gaza, and Trans-Jordan, which covets much of Arab Palestine, harmonize their ambitions? Together they could swing the seven-state Arab league into a settlement.

Will Israel modify its ever-growing claims? Just now they include all territory conquered by Israeli groups beside all territory allocated under the United Nations partition decision of last November. The Israelis want to bar permanently hundreds of thousands of Arab DP's from returning to their ancestral homes, some of which now are being demolished.

Israel's story is a story of total war effort. Top Arab leaders have confessed, bitterly but privately, that they could learn a lesson from the Jews.

The total invasion force from five Arab states in May was less than 30,000. Israel mobilized approximately 70,000 fighting men and women, of whom more than 20,000 had training in the British army.

Egyptian troops entered Palestine under orders to proceed cautiously and avoid risks. It was feared that even a small setback might prejudice Egypt's more important objectives—British evacuation of the Suez Canal zone and Egyptian control of the Sudan.

The Trans-Jordan legion took up positions in central Palestine in which its officers were briefed to consider a political gesture leading to Arab-Zionist negotiations.

It was an ironical experience to be with the Arab forces at the front and hear of distant boasts that a crescent of steel was being forged around Tel Aviv. The legion waged only a holding action at Latrun. The projected joint flank of Egypt and Trans-Jordan forces southeast of Tel Aviv always hung naked in the air.

When the Arabs started their campaign their chief advantage was Spitfires and bombers. Israel had neither. But Arab airpower was frittered away in street fighting, the Israeli forces made mortars and ten guns count a lot. As time went on, Israel got badly needed artillery and warplanes by an international underground delivery system which worked, true or no truce.

The Arabs relied on Britain for arms and ammunition. That supply line ran dry in June. The illiterate Arab troops never matched the beachhead philosophy of the Jews' "no retreat."

In July, when the Arab states refused to continue the original truce, a British diplomat literally held his head in his hands.

"They're mad!" he declared. "They won't listen to their friends. They don't have the mind or means to make war, but here they go again. More war! There won't be an Arab left in Palestine. They'll lose everything. They've had it."

president of Britain's powerful trades union congress, speaking at the annual meeting in Margate yesterday, called for a purge of Communists in Britain's organized labor.

The house that bolshevism has been building in Europe is beginning to display dangerous weaknesses in structure.

Buying Savings Bonds Now Called Patriotic

By E. C. Sammons, President U. S. National Bank Portland, Oregon

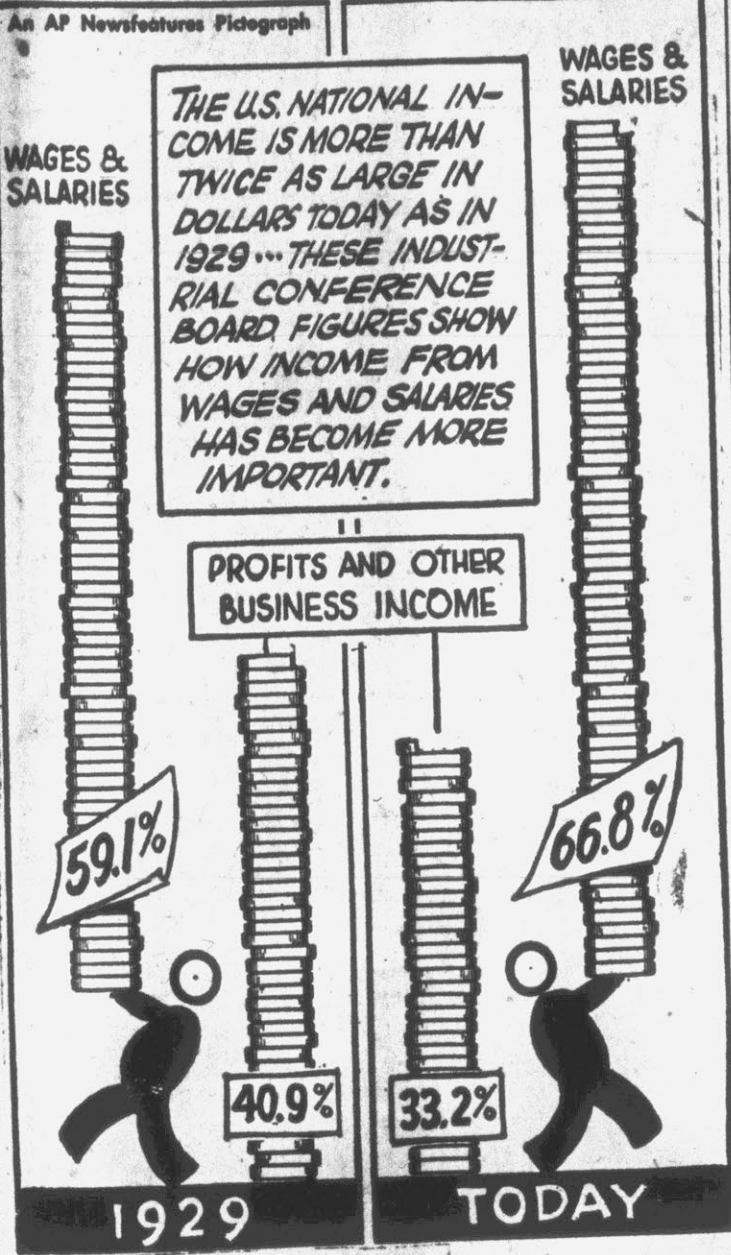

Every American has a patriotic and personal interest in the campaign that has been undertaken to increase the sale of United States Savings Bonds. The money raised from the sale of the bonds serves the double purpose of assisting the United States Government in its attack on inflationary tendencies, and of providing the purchaser with the best possible plan for saving.

As to inflation, money invested in Savings Bonds is withdrawn from other uses that exert upward pressure on prices, and thereby helps to protect the individual's income against increased living costs.

As to savings, an investment in United States Savings Bonds pays the owner liberal interest, with assurance that the investment, can, if necessary, be turned back into cash whenever desired.

Americans must concern themselves with the management of the public debt, which is the financial heart of the entire nation. For the reasons outlined, their share and responsibility in the management of the public debt can take no more useful form than by increasing their investments in United States Savings Bonds.

WHERE U.S. INCOME GOES

Denies Federal Order Violated

Washington, Sept. 7—(P)—The International Typographical Union today denied a government charge that it violated a federal court injunction by attempting to negotiate union security contracts with newspaper publishers.

The injunction, granted by Judge Luther M. Swygert in Indianapolis last March 27, forbade the union from insisting on closed shop contracts.

The IATSE act outlaws the closed shop by which only union members may be employed. The union filed its answer in federal court in Indianapolis today. It replied to a petition of general counsel Robert N. Denham of the National Labor Relations Board that the union should be cited for contempt of the injunction.

NLRB said in its petition that the union was insisting on form contracts in violation of the Taft-Hartley act and the injunction. It asked the court to require the union to stop paying strike benefits to the printers who have been on strike at Chicago and Hammond, Ind., newspapers since last November. The answer, filed by Henry Kaiser, Gerhard P. Van Arkel and Eugene Gressman, all of Washington and Clarence R. Martin of Indianapolis, Denied all of the charges of violation.

Farmers Urged Plan Next Year's Crops

By S. J. WEEKS Assistant County Agent

Although the harvest of the 1948 tobacco crop has just been completed, it is time to start thinking about the production of next year's crop. In order to produce an economical crop, good plant bed practices should be carried out.

Farmers who do not treat their plant beds for weed control usually spend several hours picking the plant beds by hand. This operation usually costs approximately $18 per 100 square yards of plant bed each year.

The majority of this expense can be eliminated by using one of the recommended chemical treatments. You can use either 1 pound of Cyanamid per square yard, or half pound of Cyanimid and 1 pound of Uramon per square yard of plant bed area. Both of these treatments give satisfactory weed control. The chemical treatment should be applied to the plant bed soil at least 60 to 90 days before sowing the tobacco seed. Most farmers apply the chemicals between October 15 and 31.

If a cover crop is now growing on the plant bed site, it should be disked out into the soil within the next few days so that the organic matter can be decayed by the time the chemical treatment is applied. Further information on treating your plant beds for weed control can be obtained from the county agent's office.

Death On . . .

(Continued From Page One) One by one they peeled off, pulled out into the opposite lane. They had to build up speed fast to cut around the jalopy and get back into their own lane. If they didn't, they'd crash into an on-coming car. Nearly every jalopy on the road was a hazard.

Then there were the bright boys. The ones who ignored all the signs and rules of the road and passed cars going up a hill or around a curve.

When they did that they had to move out into the on-coming lane although they couldn't see what was coming over the hill or around the curve in that lane.

But they took a chance. All that I saw escaped without a collision but that was only because at that instant no other car was coming over the hill or around the curves.

One of the worst dangers on the road was the driver with the limp and lazy left arm. He'd be doing 50, maybe, and stick out his left arm. But which way was he going to turn, left or right off the highway?

If you were behind him, you couldn't tell from the way he used that left arm.

It tilted upward just a little bit from the elbow—instead of straight up when he was making a right turn, or straight out, with the finger pointing left, when he was making a left turn.

Worse than that driver was the one who didn't use his arm at all but suddenly turned left or right without any warning to the cars behind him.

But the boys who really raised your hair were the ones who suddenly shot into a busy highway from a hidden side road without any pause to see what was coming.

Strength FOR THE DAY

AIM AT HIGH TARGETS
Psychology is making great emphasis today on the need of self-assurance. Believe in yourself. Believe that you can do certain necessary things, and the chances are that you can.

This is an old, old teaching—as old in fact as the Bible. Those who read the Bible superficially often fail to catch its great message about the power of belief. Jesus said, "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them." (Mark 11:24). On another occasion he said, "All things are possible to him that believeth." (Mark 9:23).
Belief constitutes an instrument of vast power, ready for us to use. It is true that we can have almost anything we believe we can have. Something seems to happen to the vast pattern of life's events when a man gets the idea of achievement into his mind and holds it there. Successful businessmen are usually those who over a period of years have firmly believed in their ultimate success. Inventors are men who press toward a goal, confident that they can achieve it. Columbus, who changed all the maps of the world, insisted on believing that there was a new world beyond the western horizon. By his belief he held hold on that new world.
"All things are possible to them that believe." Try it.

THE TRAGEDY THAT IS LABOR DAY

The tragic part of Labor Day is that it has become associated with death... any kind of death by violence, but usually some form laid to accidents in transportation.
For weeks prior to what should be a day celebrated in a festive mood, statisticians are busily estimating the toll to be taken by the Grim Reaper. Weather charts are consulted, the final count for the previous year, the number of automobiles, trains and planes that will likely be in service on that long weekend; all these, and other factors are considered.
The latest state-by-state tabulation showed North Carolina well up among the "leaders"; though it is by no means a record for which we can feel any pride.
Safety campaigns have been waged many times, but their lessons are not remembered. "It can't happen to me," says John Doe; but it can, and does.
John Doe is one of the millions who like to take a chance... just a little one; whether it's driving a trifle faster than necessary, or wading out in the water beyond his depth, it doesn't matter; he takes a chance.
That's when the unexpected happens; and in a brightly lighted office someone marks another big "one" in a column of classified deaths.
Exit John Doe. Exit too, a happy holiday.

Scientific Research—The Russ Way

DOKTOR, THE COMMITTEE HAS LISTED HERE THE RESULTS OF THE EXPERIMENTS YOU ARE ABOUT TO START!

gambing or any other on the books? To be sure the safeguarding of our health should be at the top of the list.
The real question involved here is one of health, sanitation and general welfare. We have Federal, State and County officers to check foods, inspect eating houses and places handling food we require health certificates, etc., but present vaccination on the part of the Board means only one thing. We are sacrificing all of these constructive measures and nullifying their effects by allowing present conditions to exist.
I believe any doctor will agree that the present conditions are nothing short of shocking and deplorable and it is almost a miracle that we have not already had an epidemic of diphtheria or typhoid fever. There is no way to tell how much sickness could actually be traced to these unsanitary toilets.
I believe everyone will agree that we should not put dollars up against the health and welfare of our children and the citizens of our community. The City spends thousands of dollars every year providing sewer lines and garbage collection to make our city clean and healthy. Are we not wasting the taxpayers money if we run miles of sewer lines and then do not connect the houses up with these lines?
How often have you heard property owners say that the government owns and controls their houses and tells them how much rent they can get, etc.? By taking five minutes to visit the local rent control board they will learn that the government is very liberal in allowing rental increases when capital expenditures are made to improve living conditions of houses. In fact they are so liberal that a gross return of at least 10 per cent on any such investment can be realized. But again I say, let's not be blinded by a dollar sign and put dollars ahead of our health.
My answer to all this and my solution to this problem, is a fairly simple one and easily worked. Obviously this condition did not come about in a few weeks or months and it cannot be corrected over night. Therefore I propose to make the following motion at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen: I shall move that no new outdoor privies shall be installed for any house where city sewer is or shall become available. Where property owners have outdoor privies that are now in sanitary condition that they be allowed to remain in use so long as they can be kept in a sanitary condition. However when the present facilities can no longer pass sanitary inspection and need replacing they will be permanently condemned and ordered replaced with inside flush toilets wherever sewer is available.
Such a motion will not penalize property owners who have kept their toilets sanitary. It will also allow all property owners to make plans and preparations for the change-over and further it will not place any impossible task on the local plumbers as the work will be spread out over many months and probably a year or more.
We have a good ordinance on the books, but there by progressive and forward looking citizens of our city for a good purpose. We the members of the present board should wake up to our obligations to 18,000 citizens and start enforcing this ordinance to the hurt of no one but for the betterment of all.
Yours for a healthier and better Greenville.
Sincerely,
J. E. WALDROP.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
POLITICO-SOCIAL—The barbecue given each year by Harry Playford for Congressman Monroe Redden and other leaders of the twelfth district Democrats has come to be recognized as one of the principal political and social affairs in the state. Staged at Playford's famed Skybrook Farm just west of Hendersonville, the affair brings 2,000 or more people together for a few hours. The guest list is made up of about 80 per cent men, 20 per cent women; about 99.44 per cent Democrats of that same relative purity as to party allegiance, and includes representatives from nearly half the counties in the state.
HANDICAPED—It rained all day last Saturday, which was the third date fixed for the 1948 gathering. Two previous postponements had been due to prevalence of polio. Despite the rain more than seventeen hundred people were served bountiful plates of barbecued beef, potato salad, slaw and other "fixins".
TRIBUTE—From four o'clock until seven there were plenty of folks standing in the rain or slowly moving past the service table. As early comers finished they surrounded the comparative shelter of temporary sheds to late arrivals for eating. Some went home but half the crowd assembled on the hardwood dance floor in the biggest of several huge barns for a program of square dancing and entertainment. It was frequently remarked that such large attendance under these handicaps constituted sincere tribute to three things: Appreciation of Harry Playford's barbecue; affection for Monroe Redden; and untainted loyalty of mountain Democrats to their party. There was evident among attendees the same determination to give the Democratic ticket this fall its usual majority as they had manifested in braving the weather to participate in these festivities.
CANDIDATES—In a few words of welcome Redden insisted the occasion was social rather than partisan political. Presence of more than half the Democratic candidates for state office tended to qualify that appraisal. Presented to and applauded by the crowd were: J. M. Broughton, nominee for the U. S. Senate; Thad Eure, nominee for re-election as secretary of state; Henry Bridges, for re-election auditor; Brandon Hodges, nominee for state treasurer; L. Y. Ballentine, lieutenant governor and nominee for commissioner of agriculture; Forrest Shuford, for re-election as commissioner of labor; Harry McMullan, for re-election as attorney general. Also present were Capus Wayne, state chairman of the Democratic party, and Miss Beatrice Cobb, national committee member. Senator Burnett Maybank of South Carolina was on hand.
SHORT—Fear that this array of political big shots might result in a tiresome series of speeches was soon dissipated. The brief welcome

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS
Washington—Americans have to be taught how to take care of their nation's resources, so those who follow can have something to say to the National Education Association. Elementary schools have paid increasing attention to the subject, NEA points out, and by working together public agencies and the schools are beginning to make some progress. NEA's own Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development has just gotten out a book, "Large Was Our Bounty," which deals with the development and use of natural resources and what schools are doing to make our use wiser.
"Society rests on its resources," says the book. "And society through ill-chosen or ill-directed efforts can destroy itself through destroying its base." Sixth grade children can see that, the book points out. It cites a case in the Sand Hill School in Carroll County, Georgia, where a teacher had spent several weeks with her class, studying the soils and forests and rivers of her section of the state. She showed the film "The River," and children were wiser as the tragedy of destruction passed before them. They saw the forests blackened and broken, the river in flood, the people fleeing. "What interested me," one serious-faced youngster said, "was that the people don't do it to themselves."
NEA cites the wide-spread efforts of the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in dramatizing the dangers of unchecked erosion and the crucial relationship of soil to human life. The service has enlisted the aid of schools and has provided them with materials, both written and visual.
In a Kansas school students start from study of the soil, move on following food products through industry, relating the need for mineral elements to the fertilizer industry studying food and agricultural habits of various countries of the world and many other topics. Then there's the study of trees. The State of Virginia, for example, has undertaken a joint program between the state forester and the state board of education under which a school forest will be established at each of the vocational high schools. Landowners in the vicinity of the schools will give plots and the schools will manage and maintain the forests. An example of the study of wildlife in the conservation program shows how a Washington state high school has used part of a biology course to study the wildlife of the state. The wise use of soil minerals, water and wildlife resources, says the NEA book is actually prerequisite to the permanence of our urban as well as our agricultural life.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER
According to Miss Louise R. Shottwell, of the Home Missions Council of North America, we are now in the cycle, when educational, health, and social measures, initiated by the Christian church, are being accepted by the government as its responsibility. She says, "In the Southern mountains, schools and hospitals by the score, founded in the early 1800's, are in the process of becoming government supported and administered, releasing church resources to concentrate on Christian education and a spiritual balance to the whole community." Miss Shottwell adds that "this successful pioneer function of the church has been made possible largely by the intelligent and dedicated interest and support of church women."
In "an open letter to the American woman of 1948," Mrs. R. H. Doster, vice-president of the United Council of Church Women, suggests ten "imperatives" that church women can and must carry out to "throw a big weight in the balance on the side of peace." These imperatives are: to build spiritual resources, to develop faith, to train our minds for peace, to create brotherhood, to build democracy within our own homes, to speak out against national sovereignty, to make friends with peoples of all nations, to talk, work and pray for worldwide disarmament, to keep informed, and to pray for our world leaders.
Miss Martha Graf, of Cincinnati, Ohio, Methodist missionary in Kuitien, Fukien Province, China, was recently speaking at a mass meeting of women in that city and urging that there be "more radiant happiness in the homes, especially in the Christian homes." After the service Miss Graf was approached by a group of women who asked, "How tell us, could you still be happy if you did not have enough to eat?" "I confessed," she says, "that it would not be easy." Miss Graf reports that there is widespread hunger in Kuitien and other areas of China, partly due to the mounting costs of food through inflation. She reports cases of 1,800 Chinese dollars each; rice 95,000 per pound; meat 225,000 per pound; and sugar 940,000 per pound.

Rose Outlines School Program For Rotarians

By WYATT BROWN

Supt. of Greenville City Schools J. H. Rose "talked shop" about schools with the Rotarians last night. He talked about finances, physical equipment, and the philosophy of education—whether to promote each student each year or to throw out students who do not come up to snuff.

The matter of how to handle "all the children of all the people" has not been answered yet, Rose readily admitted. Those preparing for college need one sort of thing and those who will go no further than high school need another. It is possible to promote every student every year whether he passes or not as they did in Philadelphia—but such a plan went very badly in the opinion of Philadelphia parents, he said.

Another group which Rose called the Potat-Harrelson group want a more rigorous scholastic standard upheld. Such is impossible for the law says the school shall keep the child until he is sixteen. In fact, the public thinks a school is failing in its role, Rose said, if the school expels too many students. The Greenville schools are trying to make the getting of an education as attractive as possible to keep all students as long as possible. But he added that in his opinion education as well as life is not attractive to anyone who does not expect to do a lot of hard work.

At the opening of his remarks the speaker repeated for the Rotarians what he said he is in the habit of saying each year at graduation and that is that Greenville has the finest teachers found anywhere without exception. His school principals, who are guests of the Rotary club last night, he indicated as the ones who have held things together educationally in Greenville and make the educational program in Greenville what it is.

Then he listed the school properties and their money values as of now, including the NYA center, which came fully equipped at no cost to the local tax payers. On all that property at this date the outstanding debt is less than $90,000.

In putting the whole picture before the Rotarians he gave them current figures on how many pupils were in each course in the high school. It seems that French is declining in popularity. Latin is taken by very few and no Latin teachers are being trained anymore.

There are 101 employees in the city schools exclusive of janitors. Students number 3,300. Normally, there are two first grades but this year three have had to be formed.

In speaking of the school system, he referred to the seven-man school board of which J. B. James is chairman.

It seems that the record of public school systems working in cooperation with teachers colleges in communities other than Greenville have not been so good—many have stopped trying. The local schools and East Carolina Teachers College have been working on a cooperative basis for quite a few years and will continue.

The Training School was built by the college but is staffed and operated by the city schools. The city built the high school and the college uses it for practice teaching. ECTC and the city schools have made a joint cooperative program work, Rose declared. Greenville is the only place such a program has worked so long, he added.

The college helps by paying the teachers sums in addition to their salaries, provided the teachers are of expert classification. "We have been able to keep teachers of the highest type."

Next Rose took a look at the future. Plans are being drawn for a new eight-room negro elementary school. A senior high school is to be built on the NYA site. Some more must be added to the C. M. Eppes Negro school and the football field finished. He mentioned that something must be done for the elementary school children in the Rotary Club neighborhood.

At this point, Rose mentioned some of the disadvantages of overcrowding of children in the first three grades. Then he elaborated on the disadvantages of the small rural high schools, citing that four or five large high schools in the county would do the job better and more economically.

"When local communities get ready to throw away their toy high schools they are playing with, we will have four or five senior high schools in Pitt County," he declared. He mentioned that the per capita cost of the small high schools is greater than at Greenville. He said, of course, elementary schools must be kept close to the students' homes in the local communities.

"We do not know all the answers, but we are trying somehow to find some of the answers," Rose said in conclusion.

At this point Rufus Stark, president of the Greenville High School Student Government Association, spoke briefly on how the student government developed the spirit of democracy and experience in the participation in a democratic process while affording closer contact with the faculty.

Miss Frances Wahl, principal of the Training School, refrained from making a speech but said that the schools were needing more space because there are more children.

Also refraining from speech-making, High School Principal O. E. Dowd took occasion to state that the high school football team would be better this year and urged the Rotarians to come out to see the team play when the season opens on September 18th.

Guests of the club were David Beauchamp, Herbert Waldrop, Jr., Jimmie Warren, Roy Martin, Jr., Rufus Stark, Miss Agnes Pulllove, Miss Frances Wahl, Miss Laura Foley and Oren E. Dowd. Badger Johnson was presented as a new Rotarian last night. The program was in charge of J. H. Rose. Ernest Willard, club president, presided.

AN APPLE A DAY

The old adage, "an apple a day will keep the doctor away", is good publicity for the fruit growers perhaps, but is hardly true. However, the old saying, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure", does ring true.

We all know that to be well and stay in a healthy condition, we must first anticipate illness and then prevent it by visiting our family doctor periodically for thorough physical examination.

Start Ceremonies For Naming Top American Beauty Queens

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 7.—(AP) Ceremonies leading up to the selection of Miss America get underway today with a Mardi Gras parade on the boardwalk.

Fifty-five girls will compete in the traditional Miss America pageant.

A Mrs. America contest, featuring 30 housewives, will be held Sunday in Asbury Park, 100 miles north of the New Jersey shore.

Preliminaries to the Miss America contest began yesterday.

"Miss Oklahoma," in the person of Donna Briggs, of Tulsa, arrived by air. Her pilot drew the most attention, however, from police, spectators and cameramen.

Mrs. R. C. Banfield, of Tulsa, a grandmother who will chaperone Miss Briggs throughout the contest, piloted the plane to Atlantic City.

Last year's Miss America, Barbara Jo Walker, of Memphis, Tenn., will wear a gown that cost $2,500. She will appear at the finals Saturday night, pageant officials announced.

The crown to be transferred from her head to the new beauty winner is worth $10,000, contest spokesmen said.

It's not all fun for the Miss America contestants.

The rules: no smoking, no drinking, no dates. Another rule: no padding in the bathing suits.

Miss America will be chosen on the basis of talent as well as beauty.

Mrs. America will have to be a cook in addition to being beautiful.

Married and unmarried contestants will parade on runways in their respective contests, both in bathing suits and evening gowns.

The misses will display their talent for entertainment.

The wives will have to show in private tests what they can do in the culinary arts.

There are 800 fires in hospitals and institutions each year in the United States.

Manufacturing plants have more than 41,000 fires annually.

Doctors Report Electric Shock Can Aid Intelligence

Consoled

Deputy Sheriff Bob Reasner (right) tries to console Richard Allen, 9, after the boy's "toy" pistol killed his father, The Rev. Verdi Allen, at Indianapolis, Ind., Saturday. The boy found the pistol in the glove compartment of his father's car. (AP Wirephoto).

Boston, Sept. 7.—(AP)—An electric shock to the brain can improve intelligence. This was reported to the American Psychological Association here today by Dr. Lucille B. Kessler of the Traverse City, Mich., State Hospital.

Electric shock to grey matter is one of the more recent medical treatments for mental disorders. The shock causes brief unconsciousness and also convulsions whose severity depends on the amount of electricity.

Twenty persons receiving shocks for split personality troubles all afterward showed greatly improved intelligence ratings. Their queer ideas, one of the signs of split personality, declined. They concentrated better. They lost some of their feelings of loneliness and became better social companions.

In the early days of electric shock treatment, there was criticism that the current was likely to burn grey matter and cause confused thinking.

Brain surgery, another popular treatment for mental troubles, was declared to be always damaging to intelligence in another report today. This operation severs the nerves connecting the front part of the brain from the main brain. Only humans have this fore brain in appreciable size.

Exactly what the front brain is for never has been learned, but the operation has changed raving maniacs into pleasant, often smiling people, who returned to work. It also has relieved the terrible pains of cancer in hopeless cases.

The study showing that at least part of man's intelligence is in this fore-brain was reported by Dr. Robert B. Malm of McGill University in Canada. He said there was after the operation a consistent drop in intelligence. Vocabulary was not so good. And the ability to race opposition declined.

Three Perish As Candy Factory Is Swept By Fire

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Three persons perished and more than a dozen others were injured today in a spectacular fire which swept through a four-story West Side candy factory. Three of the injured were in critical condition.

A terrific explosion preceded the fire which nearly destroyed the brick factory of the E. J. Brach and Sons. Fire officials estimated damage at more than $1,000,000.

The employees killed were believed to have been trapped on the third floor of the building, where the explosion occurred.

Thousands of persons were attracted to the blaze and 200 policemen were detailed to the area.

Greenies Shutout In Wilson As Locals Limited To 3 Hits

Tobs Rack Up 7-0 Score Behind Pitching Of Fred Pittman; Cohen And Carter Only Greenies To Score Hits

By BERT MOYE

Fred Pittman registered his second win against the Greenies in Wilson last night as he hurled three-hit ball to whitewash the locals, 7-0. The win for Pittman was his 14th of the season for the Tobs.

One run in the first inning was all that was needed to win. Wolfe walked, Moss singled advancing him to third and Ehlman hit to second with Carter booting the ball enabling Wolfe to score.

Two runs were added in the fourth when Ehlman singled, scored on Sanner's triple and Hayes singled to bring home Sanner.

The Tobs put on a finishing touch to the game as they scored four runs in the eighth on four hits, three errors and two walks.

Bob Cohen with a double and a single and Moe Carter's single in the fifth inning through the pitcher's box were the only hits allowed by Pittman in recording the white-wash job.

Junior Yohn went the route for the Greenies and gave up nine hits. It was his second loss to the Tobs this season and his 11th of the season. He has won eight games this season with four of the wins being for Wilson.

Chuck Ehlman and Johnny Hayes with two singles each led the nine-hit attack off Yohn.

The shutout victory against the Greenies was the eighth of the season and the second time this season the Tobs have done the job.

Another Win For Calumet Stable

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Calumet Farm's championship stable had added another "big one" to its victory list today and didn't need Clifton to do it.

Director Ben Jones decided to withhold the 3-year-old colt from the $51,400 Washington Park handicap yesterday, the windup feature of Chicago's rich summer racing program.

Fervent was sent out to carry the devil red silks and he galloped to a nose triumph in a photo-finish over Augustus and Nahm's fast closing eternal reward.

Calumet's win in the mile and a quarter Labor Day fixture was Owner Warren Wright's third in succession. He won the Washington Park Handicap in 1946 and 1947 with the famed Armed.

Fervent's success was worth $36,000, boosting Calumet Farm's earnings for the year to $995,735-$406,701 shy of the record winnings for Wright's stable in 1947.

Buffalo Bills In Flag Race From All Indications

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Buffalo looks like a pennant contender in the All-America Football Conference's Eastern Division and the Chicago Rockets have an early lease on the Western Division cellar.

The Bills, making their first home appearance, whacked the Rockets yesterday, 42-7, before 25,816 spectators in the conference's only holiday game. They have won one and lost one while the Rockets already have dropped two.

Julie Rykovich, former Illinois star, scored three of the touchdowns in the rout of the Rockets who averted a shutout in the last five seconds when Dewey Proctor smashed across from one-yard out.

Mantz Wins Third Bendix

Tenita Mantz, daughter of Paul Mantz, greets him from the wing of his plane at Cleveland's Municipal Airport Saturday after the Hollywood, Cal., speed pilot won his third consecutive Bendix cross-country race. He averaged 447.984 miles per hour in his F-51 ship, covering the 2045-mile jaunt from Long Beach, Cal., in unofficial lapsed time of four hours and 43.5 minutes. (AP Wirephoto).

Flier Suprised To Win Thompson Trophy Event

Cleveland, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Anson L. Johnson of Miami Springs, Fla., pinched himself today and looked for a $16,500 check to prove that he had won the Thompson Trophy, world classic of closed course air racing.

Johnson's surprise was shared by 80,000 persons at the final day of the National Air Races. The National Air Lines pilot didn't know until he was on the ground that he had won.

His average speed was 383.787 miles an hour, computed from an elapsed time of 46 minutes 54 seconds for the 300-mile run around the 15-mile rectangular course. It was more than 12 miles an hour below the record speed set a year ago.

The race was one of the safest, though it started out as the fastest in the history of the Thompson. It began as a three plane race, with the three leaders doing better than 400 miles an hour. And it ended as a three-plane race. Four prizes totaling $7,500 went begging.

Seven of the ten starters dropped out because of mechanical trouble, among them the three hottest racers in the contest.

Charles E. Brown of Indianapolis, who looked like a sure winner with a new record, was the last to quit. His fuel pressure fell until finally he had no power and landed dead stick.

Cook Cleland of Cleveland and Richard Becker of Toledo, O., flying twin entries, pressed Brown for the lead, but quit within five laps. The three planes had been so far ahead of the field it was not really a contest. Brown had lapped all but Johnson when he quit.

The only other finishers were two old timers, Bruce E. Raymond, 46, of Hammond, Ind., and Wilson V. Newhall, 48, of Chicago, who has been racing since 1929. They got $8,000 and $4,500 respectively.

Two Injuries On ACC Backfield; 47 Working Out

Wilson, Sept. 7.—Injuries struck the Atlantic Christian College Bulldogs today as they started their second week of football drills in preparation for opening the North State Conference season with Catawba College in Salisbury, September 18.

Jack Allsbrook, letterman tailback, reported to Coach Bob Spangler this morning with a chipped bone in his ankle that will place him on the sidelines for two weeks, and Jimmy Fox, blocking back hopeful, turned up with a fractured arm that called for a three week rest.

Both lads will be sorely missed in the ACC backfield as the coaches attempt to round out a good team.

Forty-seven aspirants are now working out twice daily in Wilson with the largest squad in the history of the sport at the local school.

Attendance Is Up

Miami.—(AP)—The race track business is slumping in most sections of the country, but at Hialeah attendance records are being set this summer—although the horses only run here in the winter. A survey shows an 18 per cent increase in the number of sightseers thronging the track, which is kept open between racing meetings as a public park.

Five Tar Heels

Wake Forest, N. C., Sept. 7.—Five of the men who will be in the starting line-up for Wake Forest against George Washington on Saturday September 18, are natives of North Carolina. The group consists of Jim Duncan, left end, Reidsville; Boyd Allen, center, Shelby; Tom Petzer, quarterback, Reidsville; Harry Dowda, right half, Hickory; and Lupter King, fullback, Durham.

The fire on the SS Morro Castle in 1934 killed 125 persons.

Ben Hogan Adds Reno Open Prize To His Earnings

Reno, Nev., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Ben Hogan, who has been winning golf tournaments with almost monotonous regularity, added the $25,000 Reno Open today to his list of notable achievements for the year.

He wrapped up the lucrative event yesterday with a score of 269, nineteen under par for 72 holes. The victory was worth $3,500 first prize money, plus additional cash for leading the first and third rounds as well as being the P.G.A. champion.

The straight-shooter from Hershey, Pa., paid his caddy, George Spear of Oakland, $100 for seven days of bag toting.

Hogan, who also is the National and Western Open title holder, has won eight of the last nine tournaments in which he competed.

Thus far this year he collected a total of $31,247 in tournament winnings. He is still a bit behind Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill. Mangrum, former U.S. Open champion, tied for second yesterday to earn $2,600 and boost his year total to $32,454.99.

Mangrum and Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., trailed Hogan by two strokes at the finish, each carding 271. Their scores were seven-teen under par and good enough to win many a tournament. Metz, playing in great form now, sank 15-foot putt on the final green to tie Mangrum. It was a $300 putt, making his prize $2,800 also.

Big Vic Ghessi of Englewood, N.J., a former P.G.A. title winner, charged in with a final day 65, seven under par and tying the competitive course record now held by himself, Hogan in the third round and originally set by Glen Teal, of Jacksonville, Fla., last year.

Chicago's Cards Look Hot Again

Denver, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Chicago Cardinals, champions of the National Football League, had all the earmarks of sure-fire repeaters last night as they battered the Washington Redskins 46-20 in an exhibition game that drew 18,000 Rocky Mountain fans.

It was a great contest in the first half as Washington's Sammy Baugh threw two touchdowns passes to Hugh Taylor and Dan Sanford, and the Cardinals got two of their own on a plunge by Ray Mauloff and a pass from Paul Christman to Elmer Angsman.

But Chicago exploded for 22 points in the third quarter and bottled up Baugh so badly that once he was thrown behind his goal line.

Ray Mauloff led the crushing and decisive third-period attack with scoring passes to Angsman and Borish Dimancheff, and Al Davis contributed with a 69-yard touchdown return of a Washington punt. Ventan Yablonski added two extra points after touchdowns and Dick Loepe dumped Baugh behind the goal for the two other points.

After that assault, the fans began to file out of the stands, but there was considerable action in the final quarter.

The Redskins, who had allowed the Cardinal forwards to smother Baugh in the third period, gave him adequate protection, and he led them on a 79-yard touchdown drive, covering the last 10 yards with a pitch to Paul McKee.

Mike Pecarovich, who helps Jim Barber coach the New York Yankee line, was the last Gonzaga U. football coach. The school has dropped the sport.

Can't Catch Me, Declares Southworth; He Proves It

Associated Press Sports Writer "They can't catch me when I'm in front."

Those words, uttered by Billy Southworth earlier this season, were ringing in the ears of Burt Shotton today as he brought his groggy gang back to Brooklyn.

The silver-haired Dodger pilot, home from an ill-fated one-day trip to Boston, knows now what Southworth meant. He received a first hand illustration yesterday as Billy's league leading Braves drubbed Brooklyn in a Labor Day double header, 2-1 and 4-0.

The Dodgers had journeyed to Boston with the express purpose of disproving Southworth's statement. A sweep of the twin bill would have boosted the Brooks into first place past the Braves. Instead, they now find themselves still in second place, four games behind Boston, and only half a game out of fourth place.

The Dodgers were not alone in their misery. The St. Louis Cardinals, only 2 1/2 games off the pace before yesterday's games, were handed a staggering double defeat by the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1 and 4-1, to fall into fourth place, four and a half games behind. The Pirates advanced a notch to third place, two percentage points in front of St. Louis, and three behind Brooklyn.

The fifth place New York Giants retained an outside chance by sweeping a double header from the Phillies in Philadelphia, 4-3 and 3-0. They trail by six and a half games, but only four on the losing side of the ledger.

Climaxing a great day for Boston, the American League leading Red Sox boosted their first place margin over the New York Yankees to a game and a half, sweeping both games from the Senators in Washington, 14-6 and 2-1. The Yankees lost a full game when they were held to a split by the Philadelphia Athletics. The Yanks won the opener, 6-4, for their ninth consecutive triumph, but the A's ended an eight-game losing string by winning the nightcap, 6-2.

The third place Cleveland Indians continued to lose ground to the Red Sox, as they were held even in their double header in Chicago, to skid to four and a half games off the pace. After losing the opener, 3-1, Baltimore, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Adam Collins, 43, came off second best early today in a bout with mosquitoes.

Police found him lying on the sidewalk in front of his home with a broken leg and possible internal injuries.

Collins said he was pestered by mosquitoes, got up about 2:30 to put a screen in his second floor bedroom window, and fell out.

Private Building Still Leads Field

Baltimore, Sept. 7.—(AP)—With private building still leading the field, construction contracts in the 16 Southern states totaled $1,773,745,000 through Aug. 31, the Manufacturers Record said.

This year's eight-month total was a 49 per cent increase over last year's and was the third highest in history, the record said.

However, the August total of $169,406,000 was the lowest monthly total for the year and marked a 23 per cent drop from July.

Private building reached $510,892,000 for the period with residential construction accounting for $332,881,000, the magazine reported.

Public building ranked second with $93,369,000, of which $226,424,000 was for schools. The Record said school contracts for the current period are twice that of last year.

Highway contracts were in third place, up 24 per cent from last year, to $324,601,000 and industrial construction was fourth at $287,299,000, down about $2,000,000. Heavy construction went up 45 per cent, to $257,584,000.

Defective heating equipment caused 47,500 fires in a single year, and damages of more than $35,000,000, the Tribune came back to defeat the White Sox in the second game, 1-0.

Aussies Routed By Devastating Yank Net Attack

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Having given one of the most devastating exhibitions of power tennis in Davis Cup history, Ted Schroeder was on his way back home to Los Angeles today, again snubbing the national championships which start on Friday.

Ted, now strictly a weekend tennis player, left his refrigeration business only long enough to come east and help squelch the Australian challengers again. He attended to that in a big way in the series which ended yesterday, and he doesn't care whether or not the national ranking committee gives him a place.

Frankie Parker, the other Californian who almost equally covered himself with tennis glory in the one-sided, 5-0, rout of the Aussies, is staying on to play in the championships, and he almost certainly will win them for the third time, now that Jack Kramer isn't in his path.

The draw for the nationals was scheduled to be held today. The only real foreign threat appears to be Jaroslav Drobny, the left-handed Czech. On the basis of their showing the past three days, during which they won only two sets in five matches, the Australians have nothing to offer.

Schroeder, who could "make" the championships if he were willing to play in them, was a ring-tailed wonder in his 6-2, 6-1 6-1 victory over Billy Sidwell in the first of yesterday's concluding cup matches. He served with terrific power, whipping nine aces past his bewildered little rival and hitting a score of others that Sidwell only just managed to get his racket on.

Heavy Damage In Sudden Rainfall

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Damages running into millions of dollars were reported from a downpour of 4.85 inches of rain in less than four hours in neighboring Georgia and South Carolina counties.

Water stood 14 inches deep in the basement of a large furniture store here after the deluge early yesterday. Streets and other buildings were flooded and officials said the damage was "very great."

Farm spokesmen said that crops, especially cotton, were flattened for miles around and the loss from this source alone might run into the millions. An additional heavy loss resulted from the washing away of acres of topsoil.

A large bridge was washed out of highway 1 a mile south of Wrens in Jefferson county. Scores of smaller spans were reported swept away by high waters surging up after the rain.

Five Face Frosh

Newark, Del.,—(AP)—University of Delaware freshmen gridlers will play five games this season, two of them home tilts. Four of the teams—La Fayette, West Chester Teachers College, Muhlenberg and Gettysburg—were met last year. Only Muhlenberg triumphed before the '47 Delaware Frosh. The Navy plebes will be the fifth and will be met at Annapolis, Oct. 23.

Northwestern and Boston University have replaced Dartmouth and Lafayette on this year's Syracuse football schedule.

Highest price ever paid for yearling race horse was $75,000 that Eastland Synd paid for New Broome. The horse never won a race.

More than 9,000 fires broke out in hotels and boarding houses in one year in the United States.

Sport Slants by Pap

Duke Snider is one of the Brooklyn Dodgers' best bets for future stardom. Duke is a 21-year-old youngster with the stamp of a big leaguer all over him. Right now he is an excellent defensive player and can go and get them in the outfield with the very best. Potentially, he needs experience and the judgment which comes with experience against the major league brand of baseball to make him a more dependable hitter.

The Dodgers brought Snider up from Montreal, sending Dick Whitman to the Royals as a replacement. Branch Rickey very likely decided

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

High Pockets

Chapter 15
Once a month, generally about the middle of the month, it was the custom of Sheriff Buck Loomis to 'inspect' the county. It was a word of Buck's own choosing, a word that helped lend an air of official importance to his cross-county jaunts. Actually there was little need for an inspection . . . the county was spanned by big ranches whose hired hands were usually kept well occupied, and thus, possessed of little time for trouble making, made Sheriff Loomis' life quite bearable. There were ample grazing grounds, plenty of water, and the usual quarrels that abounded in the average cattle raising county were missing here. Still, Buck persisted in his inspections even though everyone knew they were just social calls, a means of breaking the monotony of town life. At the same time, the ranchers looked forward to Buck's visits. Hospitality demanded that they devote some time to entertaining him and they were always glad of the opportunity to break away from their everyday responsibilities. Buck was a source of news to them. He always brought with him the latest news from town as well as news from the ranches he had already visited.

For instance, the curious antics of Gabe Foster, the owner of the Diamond-Dot ranch, were always a source of amusement to the other ranchers. Gabe was always doing something, something that always delighted the rest of the county. Buck had the latest Foster story ready for recital. Gabe, it developed,

Named to Head March of Dimes

Ralph McDonald

Ralph McDonald, prominent Winston-Salem educator and civic leader, has been appointed North Carolina State Chairman of the 1949 March of Dimes. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced today. It is Mr. McDonald's seventh consecutive year as head of the fund raising campaign in North Carolina.

The March of Dimes, conducted nationally each January, is the sole support of the National Foundation and its 2,800 local county chapters. Funds contributed to the annual drive pay costs of medical care and treatment for polio victims and finance the scientific research and professional education programs sponsored by the National Foundation. The 1949 appeal will be held January 14-31.

Mr. O'Connor, in announcing Mr. McDonald's acceptance of the March of Dimes chairmanship, revealed that when complete incidence figures for this year are tabulated the toll of infantile paralysis in the United States from 1943 through 1948 may well exceed 100,000 cases. Gabe jerked his horse to a sudden stop.

$100,000 Blaze

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Fire last night caused $100,000 in damage to a fertilizer plant here but firemen kept it from doing far greater damage.

The flames roared through the plant and threatened 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline stored at the Esso Standard Oil Company terminal, within a block of the fertilizer plant.

More than 110 firemen, utilizing every available piece of the city's equipment including a fireboat, were pressed into the fight. The fire was brought under control within 90 minutes. The damage was estimated by Fire Chief Ludie Croom who said more than half the plant and the entire warehouse were destroyed.

Four Parachuted But Only 3 Live

LaGrange, Ga., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Four men parachuted from a burning B-29 army bomber yesterday and three landed alive on the ground 6,000 feet below.

The fourth, Prof. H. W. Baldwin of the University of Chicago, a cosmic ray research worker, hurtled to his death by a small creek a mile from Evansville, Ga. Near the Alabama state line. His parachute had failed to open.

The four bailed out after the pilot, Maj. Richard Baker of Inyokern, Calif., called to his passengers to leap from the plane to escape a fire that sent smoke swirling into the craft.

Three enlisted men remained aboard and had the blaze under control for a safe landing at Maxwell Field, Ala., 90 miles away.

The bomber was one of several army planes engaged in research work in the upper atmosphere. It was enroute to Washington, D. C. Sgt. John Mort of Altoona, Pa., received a broken ankle in the leap from the plane. The other two who jumped received only minor cuts and bruises.

Murder Mystery Turns Out To Be 800 Years Old

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Sheriff Harold Hubbell thought he had a double murder mystery on his hands—but the mystery turned out to be 800 years old.

Two skeletons were unearthed by E. E. McNeal while he was digging a ditch near his home yesterday. He notified Hubbell who hurried out to investigate.

The investigation didn't last long. The Sheriff discovered Indian arrowheads and bits of pottery with the bones.

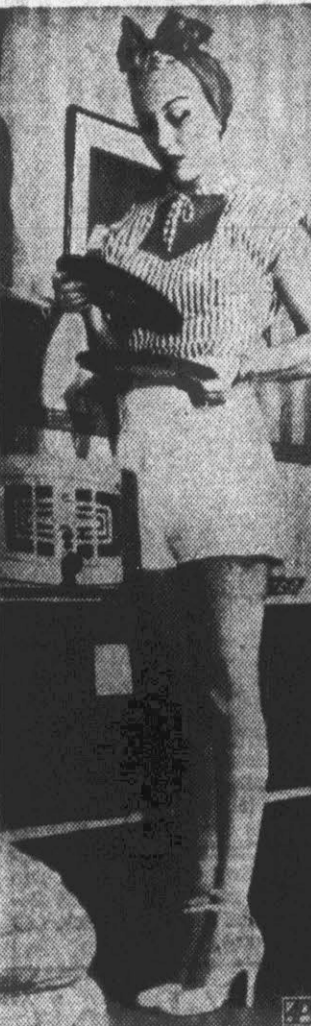

An archeologist reported the skeletons were probably about 800 years old.

Charge 3 Men With Robbery Of Truck Driver

By CHESTER WALSH
Magistrate J. L. Peele, at a hearing in Fountain Monday, ordered three men held for Superior Court under charges of highway robbery of Rufus Moore of Fayetteville, 37, motor truck owner, of a large sum of money and his wallet on the night of August 20 on a highway near the Halifax County line.

Testimony was that the three men called on Moore to assist him in repairing a tire; that while helping him, one of the men slugged Moore with some heavy instrument, then robbed him and fled, State Highway patrolmen said.

The three men being held in jail here are Martin Buren Twiford, 20-year-old fisherman of Stumpy Point, Dare County; James Cullifer, 18, farm worker of Fountain, and Jack Forrest, 18, truck driver of Fountain. Twiford's bond was fixed at $1,000, Cullifer's and Forrest's at $500 each.

Greenville police arrested Cullifer and Forrest at a hotel in Greenville Saturday night; Highway Patrolmen S. G. Gibbs and Ernest Guthrie arrested Twiford at his home in Stumpy Point today.

Some 70,000 fires a year in the U.S. occur from mistakes of electrical equipment and defective wiring.

Trucking Melons To Alaska Yields One-Way Profit

Fairbanks, Alaska—(AP) California watermelons, trucked from the Imperial valley to this Yukon boom city, paid for the Alaskan vacation of Ed Watkins (1940 E. 7th Ave.) of Los Angeles.

The fruit and vegetable dealer reports, however, that it can't be done at profit by a commercial hauler. Trucks headed for the territory carry a one way payload. There is nothing waiting here to be trucked to the states.

Watkins' trip was just a holiday idea. He headed north with six tons of melons and no particular destination in mind. The truck stayed together, so he kept going.

Twelve days out of the Imperial valley, Watkins pulled into Fairbanks sweltering in mid 90 temperature. The melons had cost $70 a ton. The first week, his selling price here was 25 cents a pound. Later he dropped the tag to 10 cents.

What looks like a sizable profit shrinks quickly when trip costs are tallied. The truck clocked off 4,000 miles coming in. It's just as far going home. Gasoline stations along the northern half of the distance pump fuel at 66 cents a gallon. Oil, tires and repair parts are equally high. The Canadian road tax must be figured. Watkins' was $45.

A risk of the trade is the possibility of losing all of the perishable cargo if the truck breaks down. "You can't sell your load," explains Watkins. "If you break down in Canada." The Canadian government has an embargo on U. S. farm produce. The duty is too high for a profitable sale.

County Board Of Commissioners Hold Routine Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH

The Pitt County Board of Commissioners, in monthly session at the courthouse yesterday, transacted routine business and heard a report from John G. Clark, district highway commissioner, concerning a certain road in a populous section of the county, which a former member of the board of commissioners recollected as being promised to be built.

Clark explained to the commissioners that he stated to the board at the time mentioned in a resolution passed by the board at the last meeting that secondary road systems were to be inaugurated in all counties, and did not say that any particular road in that territory would be built.

The commissioners inspected the remodeling and repair work being done on the courthouse by V. P. Loftis and Company, Charlotte contractors, and expressed satisfaction over progress of the work. Chairman W. Jasper Smith presided.

Mrs. Sam Williams Dies Heart Attack

Surviving are her husband, Samuel H. Williams, president of the Greenville Fertilizer Company, and another son, Dr. Samuel H. Williams, Jr., of Washington, N. C.

Fiery Volcano Is Subsiding After One Big Effort

Manila, Sept. 7—(AP)—Mount Hibokhibok, for six days in fiery eruption, calmed down today after one big belch of sulphurous smoke.

Arturo Alcaraz, weather bureau expert observing the volcano on the small island of Camiguin in the Mindanao sea, reported the major eruption seemed to have passed. While some red hot boulders still are being tossed out, the outbursts are minor compared to those of the past six days, he said.

Governor Ysalina toured the island, and assured the remaining inhabitants, about 15,000 that the need for them to evacuate had passed.

Hibokhibok, which means "great internal disturbance" began erupting Sept. 1 after 77 years of inactivity. About 35,000 of Camiguin's population had been removed to nearby Mindanao and other islands.

Parking Meters And Holidays Conflict; Get Your Money Back

Yesterday—Labor Day—a national holiday, but not generally observed in Greenville and other Eastern Carolina towns and cities—came and went, but motorists here did not know about it and they put money in the parking meters, and that's not customary on holidays and Sundays and after 6 p.m. any day.

The police department "carried on" in checking the meters and issued tickets. What's bothering the "guardians of the peace and welfare of the community" now is how to return to motorists any coins they deposited and how to get back tickets police issued.

Incidentally, if you have a traffic violation ticket issued Labor Day, return it to the police. If you paid a dollar or so for a violation, go there and Chief Lester D. Page will see that it is returned to you.

the center of town, one in East Kinston and another in West Kinston. The spirit of the directors was that buildings in the outlying sections of Greenville are entitled to fire protection.

The Chamber of Commerce directors have asked the Greenville Utilities Commission for an opportunity to be heard before the commission raises or adjusts its electrical rates.

Robert Van Iderstine, president of the Old North State Life Insurance Company, outlined the company's plans for establishing a fire and casualty company here. He described the advantages of the company keeping much of the $50,000,000 for fire and casualty premiums which now goes out of the state at home.

Replying to a question, Van Iderstine assured the directors that no person subscribing for its stock can lose a cent if organization of the company should not be completed. He said that all money invested in the company's stock will be placed in escrow at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company. He said funds for getting the fire and casualty company organized were provided by patriotic and public-spirited business and professional men.

Other sections also improved, but rails remained spotty with soft areas appearing here and there. The rubber group, particularly Goodyear and Firestone, ran against the higher trend.

Britain's Labor Told Production Can Boost Pay

Britain's recovery boss, Sir Stafford Cripps, told organized labor today it cannot increase its wages at the expense of corporation profits.

Reiterating the government's consistent theme that the workers must increase production before asking greater rewards, the chancellor of the exchequer told the Trades Union Congress:

"There is only one way by which we can with a given volume of employment increase our real standard of living and that is by each of us producing more, or in other words putting up our productivity. There is no other answer."

Sir Stafford, himself no union man, gave his unvarnished defense of the Labor Government's anti-inflation policy in the face of a rising union demand for wage increases.
