States' Righters Win Party Status

Supreme Court Affirms Lower Court Ruling Which Ordered State Board Of Elections To Give Dixiecrats Recognition; Six-To-One Majority

Raleigh, Sept. 9.—(AP)—States Rights Democrats have joined three other parties which will offer presidential tickets to North Carolina voters in November.

The States Righters won political party status when the Supreme Court yesterday affirmed a lower court ruling which ordered the State Board of Elections to give them recognition.

The elections board had denied party status to the States Rights Democrats on grounds that they failed to comply with the requirements of law and board rules and regulations.

The Supreme Court decision means the States Rights ticket of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi will go on the ballot with three others—the Democrats' Truman-Barkley, the Republicans' Dewey-Warren and the Progressives' Wallace-Taylor slates.

The Progressive obtained recognition by complying with the board's rules and regulations.

The Nov. 2 election will mark the first time in 16 years that candidates other than Democratic and Republican have appeared on the North Carolina ballot.

In 1932 the Socialist Party gained recognition. The Supreme Court decided the States Rights case by a six-to-one majority. Chief Justice W. P. Stacy dissented.

In the opinion he prepared for the majority, Associate Justice Sam J. Ervin wrote that the States Righters "have performed with exactness and nicety every condition" set out in the law for formation of new parties.

Of the board's regulations, the opinion said, "This is legislating rather than rule-making, and violates these regulations."

The law requires that to obtain recognition, a new party must present petitions signed by 10,000 qualified voters. These must be given to the election board at least 90 days prior to the general election.

In adopting regulations regarding the organization of new parties, the board last March 20 added a requirement that signers must not have voted in this year's primaries of established parties.

Just before the deadline the States Righters presented petitions containing 18,681 names. They made no attempt to check the lists to determine if the signers were registered voters, or whether they had voted in the primaries. The board rejected the petitions.

The States Righters filed a court action asking that the board be ordered to recognize the party. Prior to a hearing of the case, the petitions were checked and found to contain the names of 12,584 registered voters.

Judge W. C. Harris, who heard the case in Superior Court, ruled that the States Righters had complied with the requirements of law and upheld their contention that the board's regulation was "unreasonable."

Justice Ervin wrote that the general assembly "did not impose upon the State Board of Elections any duty to make a determination as to the sufficiency of the petition at the time of its filing."

Blaming Each Other

Presidential Campaign Can Be Reduced To Simple Argument Of "Who Is To Blame For Living Costs, Labor Difficulties, Housing Shortage And Prosperity Issue"

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—"Who did it? He did it." That just about sums up what you're going to have to listen to in the presidential campaign from now on.

The Democrats—with President Truman doing the talking—and the Republicans—with Harold E. Stassen talking—began their campaigns this week.

They cut loose with four main ideas: living costs, labor, prosperity and housing.

As the campaign goes on, a few more may be added but those four will run through the campaign.

The high cost of living? Who did it? The Republicans, Mr. Truman said.

The Democrats and world conditions generally, said Mr. Stassen. The Taft-Hartley Labor Law! The Republicans controlled Congress when it passed in 1947, but a majority of Democrats joined with a majority of Republicans in passing it.

But is it a good law, or bad? Terrible, Mr. Truman said. He hammered away at the fact that the Republicans controlled Congress

Russian Fighters Hold Maneuvers In Berlin Skies

'Mind Your Own Business' Says General To U.S. Protest At Kidnapping

Berlin, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Russian fighter planes stunted and dived high above the American sector of Berlin today, leaving vapor trails reminiscent of the war days. The Russians broke no regulations, but excited the German population in this jittery four power city.

The maneuvers, duly announced in advance, were staged against a somber background of big power tension.

The Russians had just told American authorities to mind their own business.

They rejected an American protest against the invasion of American officers in city hall Monday by Russian-controlled police who dragged off 19 western sector police.

Answering the written protest by Col. Frank Howley, American Commandant in Berlin, American Commander Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, told the Americans bluntly "not to interfere in matters which do not concern them."

Kotikov's letter followed rejection of French protests which demanded the release of another 19 anti-Communist western sector police who were kidnapped by Soviet sector police at dawn Wednesday while traveling in a French convoy under a Russian guarantee of safe conduct.

The letter to Howley was published prominently on the front page of Tagliche Rundschau, official newspaper of the Russian military administration. The text of Howley's letter of protest has not yet been released.

Borrowing the American football name that the best defense is a good offense, Kotikov's letter hurled charges at the Americans.

"It is said" he wrote, "that certain American military personnel (in city hall) conducted themselves indecently and instead of helping to restore order, sought to stage investigations of unrest in their protection."

"I feel it is necessary to point out that this isn't an isolated case of such conduct by American military personnel."

"As a result," Kotikov said, "I reject most vehemently the protest contained in your letter as entirely unfounded."

"At the same time I insist that American personnel in the future keep to rules of loyal behavior and do not interfere in matters which do not concern them."

Small Strike Is Idling 50,000

By The Associated Press A strike involving only 170 independent union workers made idle some 50,000 auto workers in Detroit today and threatened to force others from their jobs in the motor industry.

The 50,000 laid off in auto plants boosted to more than 115,000 the number of workers made idle in the nation's major strikes. Some 64,000 workers are involved in strikes in the west coast oil and shipping industries and in the New York-Northern New Jersey trucking business.

Dixiecrats Set Up Shop In Texas; Meeting Held

Dallas, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Texans carry their states rights yearnings to the polls in November.

The states rights Democrats, anti-Truman offshoot of the regular Democratic party, made certain of this yesterday. At a statewide convention here the rebels formally took Texas into their southern fold.

Party machinery was perfected. Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina was named the presidential candidate and Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi was chosen his running mate.

Thurmond, here to accept the nomination, lambasted the proposed civil rights program and Presidential Candidates Truman, Dewey and Wallace in a rousing speech last night before 600 persons.

In other southern states, the party is known as the States Rights Democrats. On the general election ballot in Texas in November, however, it will be the states rights party.

In 1944 a Texas court decision held that only the Democratic party was entitled to use the word Democratic on the ballot.

In South Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama, Thurmond and Wright are supported by the regular Democratic party organizations. A special Florida legislative committee voted yesterday to give Thurmond a place on the state's general election ballot but declined to recognize Henry Wallace.

Thurmond charged in his address that the Republicans, Democrats and Progressives borrowed their theories of government "from the cesspools of Eastern Europe."

Reject Proposal To Meet Friday

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The United States today reaffirmed its willingness to take part in four-power talks on the future of pre-war Italian colonies but rejected a Russian proposal to start meetings in Paris tomorrow.

Third Generation

A new Whichard generation has entered the operation of the Daily Reflector in the person of David Jordan Whichard (above) son of Publisher and Mrs. D. J. Whichard, Jr., and grandson of the paper's founder, the late David Jordan Whichard. The new member of the firm became a minority stockholder when the business was incorporated last January and assumed active duty on the paper on his recent return from a vacation trip to the west coast.

The new co-publisher is a veteran of World War II. He received his B. S. degree from the school of Journalism at the University of North Carolina in June. His studies at the University were interrupted at the end of the freshman year by his service in the navy during which time he received his sophomore work at the University of Mississippi. After his wartime service he returned to the University of North Carolina to complete his studies.

For the present he is devoting most of his time to reportorial and editorial duties and a minor portion to training in the business and management departments of the business.

Demand Revision Of Constitution

De Gaulle's Fix Price For Support Of French Cabinet

Paris, Sept. 9.—(AP)—De Gaulle's demand today for revision of the French constitution as their price for support of a cabinet which conservative Henri Queuille hopes to form.

The followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the wartime Free French leader and first provisional president after the Germans were chased out, are rightists. Paul Giacobbi, head of the de Gaulleists in the National assembly, said he insisted on elections next month to the Council of the Republic, the second French chamber.

He and other de Gaulleists talked with Queuille last night. He gave no detail of the exact changes de Gaulleists want in the charter, but the general has said often that the chief executive must have more power.

Queuille is trying to form the 14th French cabinet since the war. Robert Schuman's government resigned Tuesday after 64 hours in office.

Queuille immediately ran into Socialist opposition when he informed them of de Gaulle's demands. He has said he cannot form a cabinet without Socialist support. He scheduled another meeting with Socialists later in the day and probably will tell President Vincent Auriol afterwards whether he thinks he can form a stable government, excluding Communists.

Building-Loan League Endorses Humber Program

The North Carolina Building and Loan League in its annual summer meeting at Virginia Beach this week unanimously endorsed the World Federation plan sponsored by Robert Lee Humber of this city. Mr. Humber was the luncheon speaker on Monday and received an ovation from the gathering.

The convention was a three-day affair beginning Monday and ending Wednesday. At the concluding business session W. W. Lee of the Home Building and Loan of this city was elected a director of the state organization.

R. S. Warren, C. Heber Forbes and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lee represented the Home Building and Loan Association at the convention and A. C. Tadlock and Mrs. Allie Whitehurst represented the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Wants Surplus Used On Schools

Raleigh, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Part of the state's surplus funds should be used to build schools, says George M. Pritchard, of Asheville, Republican candidate for governor.

In a statement, he declared last night "in spite of the fact that we have tens of millions of idle cash in our State Treasury," many school buildings are in a "most deplorable condition."

Republicans of the state, he added, "favor immediate action by the forthcoming general assembly authorizing and requiring the utilization of a large portion of our surplus millions to shove forward a public school building construction program."

Federal Reserve Board Action To Reduce Lending

Anti-Inflationary Step Taken; Banks Ordered To Increase Reserve Funds

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Borrowers may find it tougher to get money from the banks as the result of a new federal reserve board action aimed at cutting down on inflationary lending.

At least FRB officials hope so. Yesterday, in an effort to make lending funds scarcer, they ordered their member banks across the nation to put another $1,900,000,000 in reserve vaults—where borrowers can't get at it.

But the officials are not highly optimistic. They said the banks, for the most part, can raise those extra reserve funds by selling government bonds, leaving other lendable assets intact.

While there is no guarantee that the banks will tighten up on lending officials said they probably will do so a little, at least for psychological reasons.

By inducing banks to lend less, the FRB hoped to put a damper on buying and thus relieve some of the upward pressures on prices.

Its new action, using anti-inflationary power voted by the special session of Congress a month ago, raised the amount of money banks must have in reserve by an additional two per cent on checking accounts and 1-1/2 per cent on savings deposits.

As a result: 1. New York and Chicago banks must keep as non-lendable reserves 26 per cent of their checking—or demand—deposits and 1-1/2 per cent of their "savings-or time deposits, effective Sept. 24.

2. Banks in other big cities must keep 22 per cent of their checking account deposits and 7-1/2 per cent in their time deposits in reserve, effective September.

3. "Country" banks must maintain as reserves 1 per cent of their demand deposits and 7-1/2 per cent of their savings accounts deposits, effective Sept. 1.

Under the new law the reserve board could have made the terms stiffer on demand deposits—another four per cent for New York and Chicago banks and another two per cent on all other banks.

Shift Inquiry To Spies In Atomics

Four Witnesses Called For Locked-Door Hearings

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The congressional spy investigation shifted today to the "field of atomic espionage."

Four witnesses were summoned before the House Un-American Activities Committee, now operating behind locked doors. Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) declined to give out the names ahead of time. But he told reporters:

"We are now getting into the field of atomic espionage. The committee claims it has uncovered evidence that Russia obtained some wartime shipments of uranium compounds and 25 pounds of refined metal from this country. It says it also has had testimony from a former Army intelligence officer that some atomic scientists leaked information to Soviet representatives."

The House group is planning to resume public hearings next Wednesday when it may call some of the details. Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) says a major witness will be Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who headed the wartime atomic bomb project.

Committee members stressed that no one has questioned Groves' loyalty or reliability. But they want to bring out any information the retired Army officer might have about possible sources of atomic leaks.

Clash In Berlin

Berlin, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Russians and Communist-controlled German police fired on Berlin anti-Communist tonight after the crowd stoned a jeepload of Russian soldiers just inside the Soviet sector.

Part of a crowd of 200,000 Germans who took part in a massive anti-Communist demonstration just inside the British sector surged toward the Soviet area as the mass meeting ended.

At the Brandenburg Gate, inside Soviet territory, the crowd attacked a jeep bearing five Russian soldiers, and stoned and beat its occupants.

British sector police attempted to keep the crowd from entering the Soviet zone, fearing incidents might provoke shooting.

At least one German anti-Communist was seen to have been hit by the fire of the Russian sector German police.

Quotes Truman As Saying U. S. Will Not Leave Berlin

State Highway Will Widen East 5th St.

Proposal Contingent Upon Installation Of Curb And Gutters By Property Owners; Highway 264 To Be Widened

By CHESTER WALSH The State Highway and Public Works Department has made a proposal to the city of Greenville to pave and widen East Fifth Street, Highway No. 264, from Lewis Street eastward, if the city will install a storm sewer and curbing and gutters. The roadway would be 30 feet from curb to curb, from Lewis Street, and from there on, 40 feet from curb to curb, as far eastward as the city and property owners will install curbing and gutters in the city limits.

Mayor Jack Boyd explained today that the city has the funds with which to install the storm sewer, but not its part of the cost of the curbing and gutters. The city submitted a proposal that they agree to pay cash for the entire curbing and gutter project, and that when funds are available from a future bond issue for such a paving project, the city would refund to the property owners one-third of the cost they paid. In simpler language, the offering property-owners would be lending the money to the city, the mayor stated.

The property owners along that thoroughfare have signed an agreement to pay cash for the curbing and gutters, with the exception of a few who have not been contacted. Mayor Boyd said, "We have an opportunity now to have the state pave and widen East Fifth Street to 30 and 40 feet, respectively, beyond Lewis and Elm Streets. We should take advantage of the offer now and save a lot of money," he added. The cost of the curbing and gutters would be approximately $2 a front foot.

The State Highway Department has let the contract for widening the highway to 22 feet from Chocowinity to Greenville, which comes in at East Fifth Street. Widening of East Fifth Street to 30 and 40 feet would do much to relieve traffic congestion. If the city accepts the offer now the only cost to the city and property owners will be for the curbing and gutters and the city for the storm sewer. If the street is paved later on, the entire cost will be on the city and property owners, it was explained.

Talmadge Rushes His Inauguration

Apparent Landslide Victory; Installation In November

Atlanta, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Georgia must ready today to usher in a second generation of "white supremacy" rule under its potent, scarlet-suspended Talmadge political dynasty.

Young Herman Talmadge, plaintiff over an apparent landslide in yesterday's Democratic primary for governor, set the stage for a special legislative session to install him early in November.

He couldn't wait for the regular meeting in January to assume—with no questions in this time—the mantle he wore illegally for 67 turbulent days early in 1947. Victory in the primary is the same as election in Democratic Georgia.

For the tobacco-chewing, 35-year-old lawyer-farmer-politician, triumphant in his first campaign, the special session would bring long-sought revenge over acting Governor M. E. Thompson, his chief opponent yesterday and his foe during a 21-months political drama that drew world attention.

Staking his campaign on a fight against President Truman's civil rights program, he led today with an indicated county unit vote of 314 to 92 for Thompson. Only 206 units are needed to win under Georgia's unusual county-unit system, similar to the national electoral college. The system keeps political power in rural areas.

But unlike his father, who trailed in popular votes in 1946, young Talmadge also held the upper hand in the total count—368,025 to 237,632.

Forty-Four Persons On Tiny Ship Feared Lost

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A tiny circus ship was swallowed by the hurricane-swept Caribbean in the dark morning of Sept. 1 and 44 of the persons aboard and 19 trained animals are missing and feared lost.

The Norwegian motor vessel Caribe radioed yesterday that she had picked up 12 survivors in a lifeboat 700 miles south of Miami. The naval commander of the Caribbean Sea frontier in Panama ordered an immediate search for others of the 56 believed aboard.

Naval experts in Havana, piecing together bits of information radioed in by the Caribe, said they thought the circus ship, the 140-foot Honduran motor vessel Euzkera, probably capsized in heavy seas because she was overloaded.

The reports placed the scene of the sinking 130 miles off the Colombian coast, 200 miles from Panama and 700 miles from Miami, about 30 hours from port. The Euzkera from Cuba to Cartagena, Colombia, was carrying the Razzore circus from Cuba to Cartagena, Colombia.

According to the best reports here, there were 56 persons aboard, 46 of them passengers—circus officials, performers and laborers, with wives and families. There also were 59 animals—trained lions, tigers, monkeys, horses and dogs.

Those rescued, the Caribe reported, included three crewmen and nine passengers. The Havana newspaper Alerta said Joseph Pauchle, British captain of the Euzkera, was a survivor.

Tactics Of Well-Known Double Cross Shown To World In Yesterday's Kidnaping Of Berlin Police; Marshall Adds To Accusations; No Lasting Truce Ahead

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

We have a prime example of Communist tactics the world over in yesterday's kidnaping, by Russian gunners and their German police, of 19 Western Berlin police after the latter had left the city hall in the Soviet zone under a Moscow guarantee of safe passage.

The Red maneuver was just as bold and cold-blooded as that. It was another more in the Russian campaign to unsettle the duly elected Berlin city council which is anti-Communist. The Western Berlin police came from the American-British-French zones and were present to shield a meeting of the council.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall takes us a step further by stating that the Communist attacks on the Berlin city government are largely intended to upset talks of the Big Four military governors on the crisis in the Soviet-blockaded German capital. The secretary said the Berlin disorders have followed a familiar Communist pattern, and declared that the efforts to disrupt the conferences of the governors must be firmly resisted.

And why should the Bolsheviks be bent on disrupting the Berlin conference? Because, as this city

'We Will Not Be Pushed Out' AFL Official Quotes President As Saying Situation; Truman Confirms Policy Of Resistance To Red Disorders

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—David Dubinsky, an AFL official, today quoted President Truman as saying the United States "will not be pushed out of Berlin."

Dubinsky is president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union and vice-president of the American Federation of Labor.

Dubinsky said he asked the President for the "fullest protection from Communist rule for military trade unionists in Germany in the event we are pushed out of Berlin."

He told reporters that the President replied, "we will not be pushed out of Berlin."

Earlier, Mr. Truman had told a news conference the U. S. will stand up for its rights in the German city while continuing efforts to settle differences with Russia.

In so doing, Mr. Truman confirmed Secretary of State Marshall's announced policy of firm resistance to Communist disorders in Berlin.

At his news conference, the President would not go farther under questioning of reporters. One newsman had reminded him that the Berlin situation was "heavy on the hearts and minds" of Americans.

Mr. Truman said Marshall covered the situation as thoroughly as he could yesterday. He said settlement talks are continuing.

He said the U. S. is standing up for its rights in Berlin. Although negotiations still are going on, the President said the United States will not negotiate under duress.

Asked if the Russian blockade isn't duress, he described it rather as attempted duress.

Diplomatic authorities here have indicated some concern over possible escalation of the Berlin situation. Talks for a Berlin agreement.

Although no official would comment on the status of the four-power talks, there were increasing signs that the western powers look for the Kremlin to flash a Red light on further parleys on the blockade dispute.

Diplomats here speculated that Moscow may use the Communist-inspired disorders in the beleaguered German capital as an excuse for such a stop order.

Secretary of State Marshall pointed out the possibility at his news conference yesterday.

Marshall charged that the Berlin city hall demonstrations and kidnaping of western sector policemen were aimed, at least in part, at disrupting the week-long parleys by the four military Governors. He said specifically that Communist elements outside of Germany had a leading role in inciting the riotous acts.

The current disturbances, plus other Soviet unity-nampering tactics, have deepened suspicion among diplomatic authorities here that the Kremlin has decided to wind up with a loud "no" to the negotiations over uniform currency and the Berlin siege.

This, in effect, would serve as fresh notice that Russia is as determined as ever to force the United States, Britain, and France out of the German capital.

Reports from Moscow last night indicated there will be no further talks there for the time being in the Berlin crisis if the foreign ministers council meets Friday in Paris to discuss disposition of Italy's pre-war colonies.

The United States has agreed to the council meeting, making clear, however, that it feels such talks would be fruitless unless the Soviets have new proposals to offer on the long-disputed subject.

Part of the fundamental strategy of Communism's world revolution is to create disorder and despair. It never has made progress by peaceful methods.

Paola Scip

Paola is an adopted war-orphan of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of the 7th District of North Carolina. She lives in Rome, Italy. She has dark hair and eyes and will be 13 years of age September 22th.

The Business and Professional Women's Clubs of the 7th district adopted Paola through the Foster Parents' Plan For Children, Inc., New York, about three years ago. The Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club is one of the 9 clubs of the 7th district that pays their prorata share of the $180.00 each year for Paola's support. From this gift, through the Foster Parents' Plan, Paola is taken care of in an orphanage and receives the use of a bed, food, clothes and the privilege to attend school. This might seem a lot for this amount but we must remember too that nothing in this war-torn Italy is as it would be here in America. Each Club of the district sends Paola gift packages and writes her from time to time.

Paola deserves even more than this. From correspondence, we have learned that Paola has had more than her share of the miseries of War. Paola was left during the war in a colony by her mother. She found shelter with the people but soon had to leave with others because of the destructive bombings. Traveling along with the crowd by foot and ox cart Paola lived on herbs and leftovers until she reached Rome, Italy. There she wandered through the streets of war-torn Rome managing to secure a little clothing and heat along with a little food. On one of her daily tours searching for shelter and food a Sister of Charity took

Doctors To Soon Study Patients By 'Television'

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—

Doctors are about ready to have a look at their aches and pains over a television screen.

Medical experts told the American Congress of physical medicine about it today.

Called an electromyograph, the machine picks up electrical impulses from nerves and muscles—either by tiny needles inserted in the flesh or by sensitive electrical apparatus fastened over the skin.

The impulses are sent through wires to a cathode tube and amplifier like those used in television, and appear on the screen as a message from which an experienced operator may determine whether the muscle or nerve is a healthy one.

Druv O. Leonard Huddleston of the University of Southern California School of Medicine said: "It promises to enable us to predict which muscles affected by polio will return to normal and which will not."

The machine may be used in all cases of nerve injuries, diseases of the spinal cord and brain stem, infantile paralysis, and the various muscular and paralytic disorders, Dr. Huddleston said.

He predicted that it will be accepted as court evidence in legal cases arising from insurance or other claims where there is reason to believe a person is feigning paralysis or similar disability, to obtain damages.

Paola into custody. She was given a home and care. She was very thin and in a high-strung nervous condition. Under the care of the Italian orphanage and the Foster Parents' Plan Paola is stronger physically and less nervous. She is a serious thinking child. She likes to embroider. She has spent much of her time for the past 3 years in the hospital. She has endured five operations on her leg.

From letters the Clubs have received from Paola, she is very thankful for all that has been done for her and often speaks of praying and of God. It is believed that through friendly relations with the youth of the war-torn countries, the Peace all peoples want so much can be achieved. The International Relations committee of the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club would like to urge civic and church organizations to adopt a war orphan. "To receive mail and even simple gifts makes a war-orphan very happy," says Paola.

Wyoming Hunters Topped In Annual One-Shot Hunt

Lander, Wyo., Sept. 9—(AP)—

Colorado marksmen, led by Governor Lee Knous, beat Wyoming shooters to the draw yesterday to win the annual one-shot antelope hunt.

Each team of five killed three antelope while Arkansas trailed with two kills. The judges gave Colorado the victory because kills made by its team were made earlier than those by Wyoming.

Wyoming's protest, based on the fact one hunter wounded one of the fleet pronghorns, was turned down.

Governor Knous, last of the three Coloradans to score, was honored in an Indian tribal ceremonial. Hunt

Tennessee Talent And Kansas Curves Lead In Beauty Pageant

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 9—(AP)—Tennessee talent and Kansas curves led the Miss America pageant today.

Dorothy Free, 19-year-old Miss Tennessee, held the lead on the talent side while Vera Ralston, 18-year-old Miss Kansas, dominated the beauty parade.

They were the first winners in the preliminary competition to name the nation's number-one beauty-with-brains, the 1948 Miss America. A crowd of 10,000 watched the competition last night.

Miss Tennessee, a resident of Chattanooga, appeared in a black crepe gown with rhinestone design and sang two popular songs.

Miss Kansas appeared in her bathing suit and had to do nothing more last night. The judges announced her vital statistics as: 5 feet 5 inches tall, light brunette hair, blue-green eyes, weight 115 pounds, bust 37 inches, waist 24 inches, thigh 19 inches.

Miss Ralston, who will get her chance in a talent competition tonight, said she wanted to win a scholarship to "apply it to my education in voice and music training." Her beauty secret, she said, was "right living and plenty of hard work." She is a graduate of North High School, Wichita.

Miss Tennessee, a 5 foot 7 inch blond, said she had been studying voice for nine years, including a year at the University of Chattanooga, and also has studied piano for three years, violin one year and dramatics two years.

She attributed her beauty to "a good wholesome diet" and a "well-rounded education with good practical sense." Her win in the talent division practically assured her of a place among the 15 quarter-finalists Saturday night.

Tonight the 55 participants in the Miss America contest split up again for more talent and beauty preliminaries. Girls from 43 states, nine cities, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada are competing for the $25,000 in scholarships.

Just His 'Friends'

Seattle, Sept. 9—(AP)—Pfc. Wally Monette, 18, home on furlough from Fort Monmouth, N. J., thought it would be nice to invite some friends out to the family home.

But as told by the police: The teen-aged friends kept inviting other friends until 400 teenagers eventually were spilling into and out of the home. Cars lined the curbs for blocks.

The youngsters ate every bit of food in the house, including all the canned goods and a quantity of frozen meat.

Monette's mother, Mrs. Mabel Champion, arrived home and tried to bring a semblance of order. She had to wait in line 15 minutes to get inside.

She attempted to shoo the visitors away from the front door, but they piled in the back door and windows. Eventually the "guests" dispersed and still Mrs. Champion was inclined to view the whole thing tolerantly. Then she discovered someone had also made off with $250.

Building Permits Increase In July

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 9—(AP)—Permits for 1,498 building projects to cost $9,594,160 were issued by public officials in 69 North Carolina cities during July, the State Department of Labor reported today.

The number of projects was slightly higher than in June, but the total estimated cost was $2,667,605 less, according to C. H. Pritchard, Labor Department statistician. The high June figure was due principally to the issuance of a $2,361,637 permit for a large apartment project in Raleigh, Pritchard said. Charlotte led the cities with estimated expenditures of $2,943,191. Greensboro was second with $739,783. Winston-Salem third with $596,774 and Raleigh fourth with $475,500.

A total of 1,088 permits were issued for residential construction costing an estimated $5,173,666. Of this amount, which was approximately 54 per cent of the July total, $4,800,709 was the estimated cost of 633 new dwellings, including 576 one-family dwellings, 34 duplexes, and 23 larger apartment buildings.

Four Planes In Philippine Area On Missing List

Manila, Sept. 9—(AP)—Four P-47 fighter planes which took off from Clark Field Wednesday morning for routine training were unaccounted for today, the 13th Air Force announced.

At least sixteen planes were reported in the flight which encountered bad weather off the northwest coast of Luzon. All except four were accounted for, the announcement said.

The missing planes belong to the 18th Fighter Group. A search was ordered until all possibility of locating them is exhausted.

It was unofficially reported that five of the P-47s had landed in Formosa, but there was no immediate confirmation.

P-47s are single engine Republic Thunderbolts normally carrying only a pilot.

Strength FOR THE DAY

GREEK GENIUS FOR WORDS
The Greeks had a word, "idiotes," which meant a superior person who insisted on living a selfish life by himself and for himself, instead of putting his gifts at the service of his fellows. From this Greek word "idiotes" we get the English word "idiot."

To us an idiot is an imbecile. But there are a lot of idiots in the world who are listed in the social register, inscribed on the tablets of the mighty, living in fine houses on the right side of the tracks, and yet idiots they are just the same. Every snob is an idiot. Every loafer who refuses to take a man's part in the world and, without working, lives on money which has come to him without his own efforts is an idiot. Every gifted man or woman who refuses to use these gifts socially is an idiot. And why are they idiots? Because their conduct partakes of the pattern described by the Greek word "idiotes." They are superior persons—or allegedly so—who insist on living selfishly by themselves or for themselves instead of putting their gifts to the service of their fellow men.

Around Capitol Square

UNCERTAIN—Former Governor and Senator-nominee J.M. Broughton isn't sure whether he ought to be pleased or offended at Washington the real estate man's proposition. The realtor, one-time North Carolinian and personal acquaintance of the new senator, called him the other day and tried to sell him a house just outside the district lines. He put up a good sales talk about the magnificence of the estate, the splendid view of the Potomac river, accessibility to the capitol and all that, and emphasized the extremely low price he had been able to obtain as a favor to the senator. Broughton got getting interested and asked the price. The realtor talked on about some other advantages and then said he had gotten the owner to cut the price to a mere hundred and fifty thousand dollars. That was when Mr. Broughton started talking about something else—such as an apartment in the Wardman Park hotel.

PREVED—Operators of mountain resorts and summer camps look a little better from the public about polio had been overdone to their unnecessary detriment. Now complaints are coming from beach resort operators to effect that the hurricane scare last week, which proved unfounded, cost them many thousands of dollars and meant the difference between a profitable and an unprofitable season. One beach hotel manager wrote a very caustic letter to Bill Sharpe, state news-advertising director, criticizing the way newspapers and radio stations "exaggerated" the storm. She said there hadn't been any sign of a hurricane in that section.

SYMPTOMATIC—Sharpe confessed sympathy for the plight of these operators and for his own—since he had done so much to help attract out of state to the resorts. He also confessed helplessness to do anything about the situation.

WARNING—The hurricane stories were based on official warnings of the U.S. weather bureau. They may have been overplayed, but in transmitting the warnings to the people the publicity folks were rendering genuine service. Sharpe further reminds his correspondent that if the warnings had not been widely published, and the storm HAD hit the Carolina coast, somebody would have been responsible for tragic consequences. To slightly less degree the same thing applies to polio epidemic.

COMPARATIVE—Polio and storms cost North Carolina caterers to vacationists many millions of dollars. This loss can be figured with approximate accuracy. How many lives the warning publicity saved—or would have saved in event the hurricane had turned inland—is a matter of pure guesswork. Whether the scare headlines were justified under the circumstances is largely a matter of opinion. Sharpe concluded his letter to the beach operator with this sentence: "Frankly, I don't know what is the right thing to do in such a situation, but I agree with you that it was a costly hurricane." That makes it unambiguous.

FLIGHT—Governor Cherry at his press conference Wednesday adverted to the plight of the Harriett

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—The possibility that man soon will travel to work on jet propelled buses is great news for all "stroths."

Are you a stroth? Stroths are members of the "society for the return of the horse."

The prospect of jet-propelled buses was announced the other day by Sidney H. Bingham of the New York City Board of Transportation, an expert on traffic problems. It is therefore no idle dream.

It sounds more like a nightmare. Presumably the buses will be equipped with maximum silencers before being put into service, as the jet-propelled airplanes of today travel across the sky with the noise of a rolling thunderbolt.

The thought of either piloting or riding as a passenger in a jet-propelled bus is something to appall county family with an epileptic daughter and the avowed purpose to bring her to Raleigh and force the state hospital to take her in. This is one of many similar cases, perhaps more extreme than some others. The governor pointed out that despite the almost phenomenal progress of the past few years, both as to providing physical equipment and in advanced methods of treatment, the state apparently cannot keep abreast of the demand for care of such cases. Provision has been made or several thousand additional patients in the hospital system, and a new epileptic building is in process at Dix Hill. Hope is expressed that these added facilities will greatly relieve, though perhaps never catch up with, the tragic waiting list of applicants for admission.

Red Oak News

The September meeting of Circle No. 1 of Red Oak will meet Sunday night, September 12th at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heber R. Allen. All members are urged to attend this meeting a some good reports will be given, and plans for the winter's work will be discussed.

We are sorry that Mr. Thurman Paige will have to go to Durham next Monday for an examination. We hope that he will not have to remain in the hospital. Mrs. Paige, who recently underwent an operation, is improving at her home.

Several people, each an artist in his own way, entertained the guests for about an hour.

Mrs. Ruth Arnold, whom we had already enjoyed many times over our local radio station, played several selections on the piano. Her son, Billy, accompanied her on his drum.

Mrs. Harvey Ward, accomplished accordionist and pianist of Greenville, added much to the occasion with her selections. She later walked among the guests and played as they were being served.

Mrs. Clarissa Edwards May, wearing a blue lace evening gown, made a lovely picture as she stood in the doorway and sang, "My Hero" and "Charmaine." Mrs. May held her audience spell-bound as she sang these numbers.

Miss Pattie Jenkins played several numbers on the piano which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Ned Kinsaul graciously entertained by singing two lovely numbers. Mrs. Kinsaul was vocalist at one time with Johnny Long's orchestra, and she made a big hit with her audience with her deep soft voice.

Of course Mrs. Tyson could not help ignore playing one or two selections on her baby accordion (in comparison to Mrs. Ward's).

At a rather late hour the Bloomington family was introduced and Mr. Bloom kept the crowd in gales of laughter with his review of the Tyson wedding of 28 years ago.

Mrs. Bloom, an accomplished pianist played while her daughter, Joan, sang in her inimitable way two selections.

Lime punch and myriads of beautiful party sandwiches made by the ladies of the church were served from a long table placed on the back lawn. Yellow lupines, fern, clematis and yellow candles decorated the table.

About 200 people from all sections of Pitt county attended this lovely affair which was given as a benefit for the building fund and a wonderful silver offering was presented by the guests present.

WASHING LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—When the Army can make a GI say "This is just like home" then it ain't the Army any more, remarked the GI down at Fort Belvoir, Va. But that's what's happening. It started the other day. The boys walked into the mess hall at noon. They sat down at tables for four. There were cloths on the tables, each of them in a different pattern. There were bouquets of flowers. There were chintz curtains at the window.

The boys sat back and waited. Cooks and mess attendants pushed in electrically-heated food carts. The boys were invited to take a plate and help themselves. The menu consisted of cabbage rolls—meat wrapped in cabbage leaves—creamed peas, oven-browned potatoes, cottage cheese and peach salad, sugar cookies and iced tea.

The boys ate what they wanted. Some had second helpings. They could hear themselves talk. There was no clattering of metal trays and the din was cut 90 percent, according to Sgt. William Eaton, public information officer. The 207 men in Company A of the School Battalion at the fort's Engineer Center were all served within 15 minutes.

Pastor Is Still In Doubt Whether He Will Remain

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 9—(AP)—A Fayetteville Baptist minister who favors legal control of beer and wine sales was still in doubt today as to whether his congregation wants him to continue in the pulpit.

The Rev. Kenneth M. Lindner, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, was prepared last night to give his parishioners a chance to ask for his resignation but the meeting never reached that stage.

Instead, someone moved that a moderator be elected. The moderator then declared for a closed session, asked that 20 visitors including newspaper and radio reporters be excluded, with his point with his own ballot after a tie vote of the 30 members present—and shortly thereafter the meeting was adjourned.

The action came before Mr. Lindner had a chance to read his message giving the members an opportunity to ask his resignation.

Lindner, who was removed Monday as president of the New South River Baptist conference because he publicly favored legal control of beer and wine sales, held a reception for

Defeated Death

Salem, O., Sept. 9—(AP)—Two doctors who didn't even take time to put on aprons or rubber gloves were credited today with saving the life of a baby girl by Caesarian section fifteen minutes after the death of the mother.

The physicians, L. C. Ziegler and Paul Corso, took over the job of saving the baby while the attending physician, Dr. W. S. Elliott of East Palestine, tried futilely to save the mother, Mrs. Florence McRobert, 46, of Enon Valley, Pa. She died Tuesday of a heart artery failure.

The baby failed to breathe after delivery and Drs. Ziegler and Corso resorted to artificial respiration, and finally saved the child's life in the child. She weighed nine pounds, 14 ounces, was reported favorably in an incubator today.

One of the visitors was the Rev. Jack Akin, pastor of the First Baptist church at Monroe. Akin some time ago came out in favor of controlled beer and wine sales.

Lindner, a World War II Chaplain who saw service in combat areas, said after the meeting he did not know whether to call another conference of his parishioners. He added that he would "see what happens" at next Sunday's services.

Estonian Boat Purchased For Global Voyage

Wilmington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The sturdy little boat "Roland" that brought 15 Estonian refugees across the Atlantic to Southport may be sailed around the world.

L. S. Zappas, Jacksonville, N. C. businessman, says he has bought the 37-foot sloop for $2,100 and will take her leisurely around the world if he can "find a crew with nerve."

First he plans to fix her up and make an exhibition cruise of United States ports, with admission charges to charity.

The Estonians are being detained at Ellis Island while their entry into the United States after a seven-week voyage is investigated by immigration authorities.

Police Donating Blood For Girl

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 9—(AP)—Police here are donating blood to help save the life of an 8-year-old girl because they helped send her daddy to prison.

The little girl recently underwent a serious heart operation. Her mother is dead.

"Some of us know her and we feel we owe the youngster something," Police Chief Albert F. Schelern explained. "Her mother is dead and we sent her father to prison for a long term."

Rector Sandwich Fillings You'll Love

1. Spread lengthwise, crustless bread slices with Wilson's Certified Deviled Ham or Ham Salad. Across one end place a Wilson's Certified Vienna Sausage, a stick of Wilson's Certified American Cheese, a pickle or a row of stuffed olives (if bread tends to crack during rolling, lay between folds of a dampened towel to soften). Starting with the filled end, roll up tightly. Chill sandwich rolls in wax paper and slice at serving time.
2. Hard-cook Wilson's Certified Eggs. Chop and soften with Wilson's Mayonnaise. Spread on bread buttered with Wilson's Clear Brook Butter or Certified Margarine. Cut with a scalloped cutter and top with a tiny round of graham bread and a bit of parsley or slice of stuffed olive. For a flower effect, snip pieces from the sides of a radish and insert as petals. (See picture No. 2)
3. Spread thinly sliced bread with Wilson's Clear Brook Butter or Certified Margarine and on top of that put a layer of grated Wilson's Certified American Cheese mixed to a paste with Wilson's Mayonnaise. Cut each square in half to form a triangle. Edge with chopped parsley or chopped ripe olives.

All tea sandwiches are made this way.

Amendments May Become 'Orphan In The Storm'

By LYNN NISBET
 Raleigh, Sept. 8.—One sheet of paper to be handed every voter in the November election will submit to ratification of the people four amendments to the state constitution. Result of the markings on this ballot may well have more far reaching effect upon the state than who is governor, or president.

But chances are that unless some independent group perfects an organization to explain and support them, the constitutional changes may be lost in the welter of ballyhoo and prejudice about personal candidates.

Democratic and Republican state platforms are alike silent on the amendments, and for that reason the campaign headquarters of both parties are reluctant to become involved either by way of sponsorship or opposition.

This attitude is enhanced by the fact the issue is wholly non-partisan and each group figures it has its hands full with problems of more immediate party concern.

This hands-off policy is more understandable on part of the Republicans, since it is generally conceded that even if the minority party makes some gains, the Democrats will continue in power in the state and in most of the local units for a long time to come.

There is developing considerable sentiment in favor of a non-partisan organization to sponsor and promote the amendment, especially the provision for increasing compensation of members of the general assembly. Somewhat the same course was followed in 1938, in successful support of the amendment to increase terms of sheriffs and coroners from two years to four.

Each of the four amendments was carefully considered by legislative committees and subjected to general debate on the floor of each branch of the assembly before adoption in final form for submission to the people in the general election. Majority of all voters is necessary for ratification.

Listed here in the order of appearance in printed laws of 1947 the proposed amendments are:

To provide determination of special tax and bond elections by majority of the votes actually cast, instead of voting "against the registration";

To increase pay of members of the general assembly from $800 to $1200 per term.

To raise the limit of tax levy for county general fund purposes from fifteen cents to twenty-five cents on the $100 valuation;

To remove the present limitation on public debt contracted by the general assembly for the state, or by county and municipal governing bodies for their hallwicks.

The amendments and their probable effect if ratified will be discussed in subsequent articles.

Would Advertise U.S.A. Behind Iron Curtain

Los Angeles, Sept. 8.—James Roosevelt wants to Bomb Russia—with propaganda leaflets.

The eldest son of the late President Roosevelt declared yesterday that such an advertising campaign behind the iron curtain could help avoid world war III.

The only way to get to the Russian people, the Democratic National committee man said, is to organize an air fleet which will drop propaganda leaflets to them.

"We are the greatest advertising people on earth," Roosevelt declared. "And we can tell the Russian people our message by this method."

Failed To Enter Girl In Hospital

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 8.—(P)—Efforts of Harnett county officials to get a 12-year-old epileptic girl into the state hospital here yesterday failed.

Dr. David Young, superintendent of the state hospitals board of control, said the child, Fay Yarborough, could not be admitted to the institution at present because it is overcrowded.

The child was brought here by Wilma Williams, Harnett county welfare superintendent, on instructions from the county commissioners. The child's parents have been trying for more than a year to have her admitted to a state institution.

Dr. Young said he told Miss Williams that the hospital here, which has a rated capacity of 197 epileptic patients, now has 270. He added that he also informed her that it would not be possible to send the child to another state institution.

Slated To Apply For Rate Boost

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 8.—(P)—Representatives of railroads and shippers were scheduled to appear before the State Utilities commission today for a hearing on the roads' application for a freight rate boost.

In their application, the railroads seek a net increase of five per cent on intrastate shipments, they have asked the commission to substitute a 25 percent boost for an interim 20 percent increase allowed March 31.

Girl Bitten By Rabid Dog, Does Not Know Danger

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 8—(AP)—Police and highway patrolmen of the eastern seaboard today were attempting to contact the Brickie family so that their daughter, Betty, may receive treatment for rabies.

North Carolina's Highway Patrol radio reported that the child was bitten by a dog last Saturday and the dog is now believed to have had rabies.

"Betty should receive medical treatment immediately," the patrol radio broadcast.

The child apparently was bitten in Virginia, for the attempt to locate the family was set in motion by the Virginia State Police at Richmond, the patrol reported.

The Brickie family, the broadcast said, was en route to Pennsylvania in a maroon, 1943 Pontiac bearing a North Carolina license and the family was believed to be planning to return south shortly.

A check of the license number at the Motor Vehicles Department here failed to reveal the family's home town.

Lands Passenger Plane Safely As Engine Ignites

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 8—(AP)—A National Airlines pilot brought a DC-4 to a safe landing here with one of its engines afire yesterday and aided 13 passengers in filing from the craft without untoward incident.

Capt. Mike Morse said he saw fire blazing from the engine as he came in for a landing, but knew the plane was in no immediate danger. His main concern, he said, was the conduct of the passengers—and NAI officials said they left the plane in orderly fashion, and without injury.

The plane, with a three-man crew, was enroute to New Orleans from Miami, and made a scheduled stop at Drew Field here. The fire was quickly put out.

Record Bidding All A Mistake

Detroit, Sept. 8—(AP)—Gov. Kim Sizer got bidding up to $550 a pound yesterday before he ruled "sold" in auctioning off the grand champion steer at the Michigan State Fair.

Then he discovered that the bidder was an old age pensioner who had "misunderstood" the terms of the sale.

The sale was nullified and fair officials held an emergency meeting. They decided to buy the steer at $110 a pound and to dispose of it by sealed bids up to Friday, Oct. 1.

Carolina To Get Cooler Weather

By the Associated Press
A high pressure area of colder air has been moving southeast from Canada and its leading edge should reach the Carolinas this afternoon, the weatherman says. This will bring cooler weather and scattered thunder showers to the two states today.
Here is why. The heavier cooler air will force the warmer air upward to form rain-bringing cumulus clouds. After the high pressure area overspreads the Carolinas say by tomorrow afternoon it should bring cooler weather, fair to partly cloudy.
The cooler weather should start in the west portion this afternoon and be in the interior tonight, and over the states tomorrow. Scattered thunder showers will move eastward, the forecaster said. The showers should be over the east portion tonight and along the coast tomorrow.

Throng Hears Truman's Speech In Detroit

Here is a part of the crowd estimated at 120,000 people massed in Cadillac Square at Detroit to hear President Truman's campaign address on Labor Day. The President is on the platform under the flag at left. His appearance was sponsored by the CIO and AFL. (AP Wire photo).

Again it was good sleeping weather last night, with this morning's low temperatures in the comfortable middle sixties for most part. It was fairly hot yesterday afternoon, maximums averaging in the middle eighties, but should be a few degrees cooler this afternoon.

The United States has about 461,000,000 acres of commercial forest land.

The Weather

Something was happening to the weather today and Joe Jeyner was not causing it. Light winds were shifting from all four points of the compass and clouds were scudding in the sky, with a tendency to accumulate and cause rain and lower temperatures.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 91 degrees; the lowest, 68 degrees during last night.

The Weather Bureau thermometer at 8 a. m. today registered 75 degrees and was on the way upward, Mrs. C. E. Maiden, observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce, reported.

At noon today the temperature was 90 degrees and the sky was overcast. Farmers and gardeners were hoping for rain.

Tobacco Company To Increase Its Capital Funds

Winston-Salem, Sept. 9 —(AP)—Plans to increase its capital funds by $36,000,000 were announced yesterday by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Additional preferred stock in the amount of $26,000,000 will be issued, along with 25-year debentures of $60,000,000.

The company's total capitalization thus will be increased to more than $400,000,000 — $75,000,000 in preferred stock, $100,000,000 in common stocks, $86,000,000 in surplus-undivided profits, and $150,000,000 in funded debt.

Increased business, with necessarily larger inventories, caused the capital outlay boost.

Top Returns For Cotton Farmers

Washington, Sept. 9 —(AP)—Cotton farmers looked today to prospects of a record dollar return for their 1948 crop.

While the first forecast of a huge cotton crop, made in August, excited wide speculation that pre-war production controls might be restored next year, this speculation has ebbed. No final decision has been made however.

A 15,219,000-bale cotton crop, worth about $2,765,000,000 at the farm at current prices—a half billion more than last year—was forecast by the department yesterday.

The new forecast is 50,000 bales more than the prediction of a month ago, and would mark one of the biggest crops on record. Production last year was 11,851,000 bales and the 10-year average is 12,014,000.

If the big crop turns out as predicted and current prices hold, the return to farmers will break the previous record return of $2,348,526,000 in 1919. The 1947 cotton crop (lint and seed) put $2,291,202,000 in the farmer's pockets.

Prices are lower than last year, but the crop is about 3,500,000 bales bigger.

Three Top UE Officials Win In Union Election

New York, Sept. 9 —(AP)—The three top-ranking officers of the CIO United Electrical Workers union, all of whom oppose singing non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law, have been reelected.

They won by topheavy votes yesterday at the union's convention over supporters of James B. Carey, former U-E president and now the right-wing secretary-treasurer of the national CIO.

The convention, which continued today, adopted a resolution denouncing Carey for allegedly "defaming" the union on the Communist issue. The vote was about eight to one.

Albert J. Fitzgerald, of Lynn, Mass., was reelected president over Harry Block, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council, by 3,652 to 719.

Blaming . . .

All you, the voters, have to do is sit back, listen, and try to figure out who's right: Democrats or Republicans? Some job.

Things like high living costs, property and labor laws are so complicated that even experts have trouble figuring what's what.

Maybe a lot of voters already have their minds made up anyhow on the man they'll vote for. So they won't pay much attention to the arguments they read or hear on the radio.

They include the people who vote against a candidate because they don't like his eyeglasses or his mustache.

But the rest of the voters will just have to listen—if their minds are still open—and try to reach honest answers by themselves.

They have a tough job.

Sample Of . . .

that Communist groups have smashed tractors owned by so-called "rich peasants" in central Poland, and that fences dividing individual farms have been torn down in some places. Red action committees have been sent out to spread the news among peasants that their production must be put on a common basis. And so it goes.

You wouldn't think the Communists would dare crack down so hard on liberty loving folk like the people who time and again have fought for their freedom. But Bolshevism is as hard-boiled as the devil himself. And one suspects that it is more than a little worried by disaffection which has been showing itself among the satellite states. Apropos of this Dr. Peter Zenkl, exiled former deputy premier of Czechoslovakia, who is now in London, declares that "the pretense of unity in the Soviet bloc has been shaken."

However, it is the nature of Bolshevism that always it must proceed by strong arm methods. There are no half way measures. Communism is allowing itself plenty of rope deliberately. It will either hang itself or hang us.

Twelve railroads converge on the port of New York.

High Pockets

Chapter 17
McCabe gulped, swallowed and recoiled. Loomis pushed him aside hastily.

"Just a minute, young fellow," he said. "Nobody's accusin' you o' anything."

There was a moment's silence...
George and Buck eyed each other,
then the latter coughed lightly behind his hand.

"Let's get back t' what we were talkin' about," Loomis said presently.
"What happened afterwards? Sneedker got on his horse and ride away?"

"No," George answered. "I went into the house, but I understand that Martin took Sneedker over to the bunkhouse I'r some coffee. Seems like it wasn't ready when they got there, so after tellin' some o' the boys t' see it that Sneedker got some when it was ready, Martin left him there and went off."

"I see," Loomis said. "Now where'd you find Martin?"

"In one o' our line rider's shacks."

"When?"

"O-h, 'bout two hours ago."

"When you found Martin, did you find n'y money on 'im?"

"Y'mean, did I find Sneedker's roll on 'im? No."

"Did you look t' see if Martin had it on 'im?"

"Nope. Soon's I got back with the boys, we lashed 'im t' 'is own horse and brought 'im home."

"You ever have n'y trouble with
'im? Loomis asked shortly.

"Nope."

"Satisfied with 'is work?"

"Yep."

McCabe nudged Loomis and the latter turned his head while the deputy whispered to him.

"You think there's any connection between Sneedker's killin'," the Sheriff said, "and Martin's?"

George shook his head.

"I don't think so," he replied.

"But that don't prove much."

Loomis and McCabe held another brief and whispered conference.

"I s'pose you can prove you didn't leave the ranch till this afternoon."

"Sure I can."

Loomis hitched up his pants.

"We'll go have a talk with your men," he said. "Don't go 'way. We might want to talk t' you again."

"I'll be around," George said cur-tly.

Loomis and McCabe turned and trudged off. Hanlon, who hadn't said a single word, gave George a questioning glance, then he turned on his heel and trooped away.

"George."

It was Gay Hollis' voice; he recognized it at once and he turned just as she came up to him.

"George," she said again. "I'd like to talk to you."

"Awright," he said. "Go ahead."
"Can't we go somewhere?"

"Reckon this oughta do fr anything we gotta talk about."

"As you like," she said. "I couldn't help overhearin' your conversation with those men."

"Don't know that it makes much difference if you or anybody else overheard it."

"I heard you say you needed money."

"That ain't a secret."

"Would five thousand dollars help you?"

"Yeah, I s'pose it would. Why?"

"I've got that much and I haven't any need for it."

He eyed her for a moment. She waited for him to answer.

"Where'd you get that much dough?" he asked.

"From my husband," she replied.

"It's yours for as long as you need it."

"I see," he said slowly. "Cathy know anything about this?"

"No. Neither does anyone else."

"Uh-huh," he said. "Where've you got this dough? In the bank?"

"No. It's in the house."

"Hey," he said quickly. "That ain't the place t' keep that much dough."

"I didn't know how long I'd be staying here."

"Oh," he said.

"Will you take it?"

He considered for a moment, then he shook his head.

"No," he said. "Not that I ain't grateful t' you fr offerin' to lend it to me. But, I'd rather not take it."

She shrugged her slender shoulders.

"That's entirely up to you," she said calmly. "I've offered it to you and you haven't seen fit to accept
it."

"It's awfully swell o' you, Gay, and I won't forget it."

She smiled again, turned away.

"Wait a minute," he said and she stopped, looked at him over her shoulder. He came up to her. "I wish you'd get it to the bank soon's you can."

"I s'pose it would be safest there."

"Sure," he said. "Y'know, the doggondest things c'n happen and we've had more'n our share o' them already."

She went into the house. Minutes later she emerged, smiled at George as she went past him. He followed her with his eyes. He saw her open the corral gate, saw her step into the enclosure. Presently she came out, astride a horse. She settled herself in the saddle, tightened her grip on the reins, and rode away.

His eyes shifted... he had caught a glimpse of three men striding away from the bunkhouse. They swayed presently, headed toward the house. He frowned, hitched up his pants.

"Wa-s-l," he muttered. "This oughta be it."

Away From Home

College Station, Raleigh, Sept. 9.—
How can mules be stopped from running away? Eugene Johns, Wake County Negro farmer of Raleigh, Route 2, thinks he has found the answer.

"Mules usually run away because they are looking for something, but when you have good hay and a good pasture on the farm they will run to the fields and stop," Johns told W. C. Davenport, Negro county agent for the State College Extension Service.

"We have done very well for our own stomachs by raising plenty of foodstuffs, and we have also done well in producing cash crops for the markets, but our mules and cows have gone lacking," the farmer declared. "Now we are going to feed the stomachs that pull the plows and those that give the milk."

Johns is following up his statement by preparing to sow a two-acre permanent pasture and a two-acre field of alfalfa.

All over Wake county, according to County Agent Davenport, farmers can be seen taking advantage of AAA benefits to build up their pastures, hay and land. Pasture and hay demonstrations are being pushed in all sections of the county in an effort to get the job completed by late September.

With New Recruiter

Chief Petty Officer C. C. Albert,
U. S. Navy, has recently arrived here for recruiting duty. With him is his wife Majorie, who comes from Perth, Australia. Chief Albert was attached to the Naval station at Perth during the war, and became acquainted with many of the townspeople there. His duty there was associated with U. S. submarines operating in the Pacific. He made a number of war patrols on two different submarines and saw a good deal of action off the coast of Japan.

The Navy Recruiting service maintains an office on the second floor of the Greenville Post office building and chief Albert is to be in charge of the office. His hours are from 8:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Wednesday. He goes to Tarboro on Thursday and Friday.
The Alberts are making their home here in Greenville. Mrs. Albert says she thinks America is "wonderful" and believes she will like living in Carolina.

Suggest Meeting Friday On Italian Colonial Issue

Moscow, Sept. 8—(AP)—Russia has suggested that foreign ministers of the big four meet in Paris tomorrow to discuss the future of Italy's pre-war colonies.

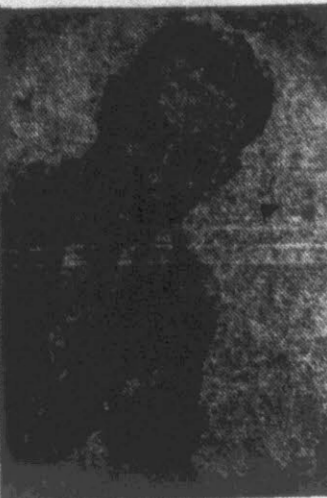

A British foreign office spokesman in London said he could not "venture to guess" whether it would be physically possible to get together on such short notice.

The Italian peace treaty provides that the four major powers must reach a decision on what to do about Libya, Eritrea and Somaliland by Sept. 15 or turn the problem over to the United Nations.

Russia proposed last week that the Big Four get together before the treaty deadline and Britain and the United States replied yesterday they were ready to do so.

The foreign ministers held many conferences on the colonial question and then referred it to their deputies for study.

Here For Dance

SAM DONAHUE

Sam Donahue and his orchestra will appear at the Wright auditorium tonight for the fall dance sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the ETCO Veterans Club.

The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. of the positions of the four powers, but responsible sources have said even the western powers are in disagreement.

If the Big Four does get together in Paris tomorrow, it probably will mean there will be no more four-power talks in Moscow concerning the Berlin crisis for the time being.

Defendant Says He Shot Negro In Self-Defense

By CHESTER WALSH

At the coroner's inquest at the courthouse last night into the pistol slaying of Jasper Clemmons, Negro tenant on the Hubert Simmons farm the night of last August 15, Levy Haywood Clemmons, Negro worker on the same farm, but no kin to the dead man, took the stand to testify after Coroner Griffin H. Rouse had warned him that he did not have to go on, and that whatever he said may be used against him.

Jasper Clemmons' body was found in woods on the Mason School dirt road in Pactolus Township, less than 90 feet from the road, and it was riddled with five bullets—one in an elbow, one in the jaw and three close together in the back.

State Highway Patrolman S. G. Gibbs testified. Deputy Sheriff Loyd Manning and Gibbs arrested the man charged with the shooting at the dead man's home last Saturday.

They said his pistol, examined by the FBI in Washington, D.C., was the gun from which the bullets found in Jasper Clemmons' body were shot.

On the stand last night, Levy Haywood Clemmons, charged with the shooting, spoke freely. He said Jasper had threatened his life and said "somebody was tending to his business at home."

The coroner's jury's verdict was that Clemmons be held for the grand jury in Superior Court without privilege of bail. Clemmons will be charged with murder.

The Chicago fire of 1871 burned 17,000 buildings, and caused damage estimated at $168 millions.

Shanghai, Sept. 8—(AP)—It makes Liu Dai-yung a bit angry when his cousin refuses to lend him money.

Turned down on a $400 touch (U.S.), Liu threw a hand grenade at his cousin and wife, stabbed his aunt to death, attacked his uncle, scalped a child, stabbed his grandmother to death and cut his grandfather.

Attracted by the explosion of the grenade, neighbors and police hurried to the house. However, the wary police remained outside, guarding the entrances, until the minor massacre was over. Then they took Liu into custody.

Red Tape Tires Goldsboro Body In Airport Claim

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—Representatives of the City of Goldsboro, N. C., said today they want to operate their municipal airport to the fullest extent at the earliest possible time.

They told reporters they were "pretty tired" of waiting for use of Seymour Johnson Airfield. They added that government red tape has delayed operation of the airfield, preventing the city from offering the community the best air service.

The most recent delay, they said, was when former owners of airport property now owned by the Federal government put agricultural priority claims.

Claim Yugoslav Forces Invaded Greek Territory

Athens, Sept. 8—(AP)—War Minister George Stratos said tonight Yugoslav troops invaded Greece yesterday and that Greek troops killed nine of the Yugoslavs.

The Minister appealed to the western allies and the United Nations to intervene before Greek soldiers lose their tempers over what he described as provocations by Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, and set off a general conflagration.

Stratos said Greece will consider accepting an international military force to seal off 500 miles of borders of the neighboring countries, which he accuses of continuing to aid the Communist guerrillas of Markos Valtades.
