Moslem Leader Mahomed Jinnah Is Laid To Rest

Pakistan's Venerated Leader Dead, New Governor-General Is Awaited

Karachi, Pakistan, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Mahomed Ali Jinnah, founder and first governor-general of Pakistan, was buried last night with full military honors.

Jinnah, who was 71, died here Saturday night of heart disease. His fight of many years for Moslem Pakistan free from Hindu India was crowned with success in the division of the sub-continent August 15, 1947. Jinnah had been governor general of the Moslem dominion since that time.

Government sources here said they expected an announcement from London at any moment naming a new governor general, who is the direct representative of King George VI in this portion of former British India. Sir Ghulam Munsif Hidayatullah, Premier of Sind province, was mentioned as a possible successor to Jinnah. Official sources said Prime Minister Nawabzada Ali Jinnah Khan prefers to retain his present post.

In London, British Commonwealth officials said they had no inkling of who may succeed Jinnah. The new governor-general will be appointed by King George VI only on recommendation of the Pakistan government, the office of Commonwealth relations said. An office spokesman expressed eagerness to see the "highly responsible" post filled soon "because of the speed with which delicate events are developing in the Orient" but pointed out that Britain cannot take the initiative. The spokesman said the new governor-general would be a member of the British cabinet.

Piece Of Twine Is Only Clue In Mystery Death

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Police and Dakota county authorities checked a small piece of twine today for clues to help them solve the mystery surrounding the death of Juanita Wendel, 13 year old St. Paul baby sitter.

The body of the girl was found late Saturday in a shallow grave near Lakeville, about 15 miles south of St. Paul.

A party of picnickers discovered the decomposed body hidden beneath a pile of brush in an unfrequented spot about 200 feet from a read-road.

Joseph Kleckaty, Dakota county coroner, said the child apparently had been strangled. The twine police checked today was found looped around her throat.

Handshaking Politics

Dewey To Join Truman In 'Getting Close To The People' On His Political Tour; Why People Like To Greet Politicians; 'Free-Loaders'; Procedure Expected

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—I see by the papers Governor Dewey will do a lot of handshaking on his cross-country campaign to get elected president.

It seems his brain trust figures he ought to go in for it in a big way so people can see, closeup, what a warm, friendly man he is.

In this way, the stories say, his advisors think he ought to pick up votes from people who never saw him at close range before.

President Truman, who wants to get re-elected, is quite a handshaker himself.

That may disturb people who think a candidate ought to get votes strictly on his record, party or promises and not because his hand is warm or his eyes smile.

But, the fact is, lots of people like to shake hands with a political candidate. Why? Probably for reasons like these:

Because they're already on his side and want to wish him well; or so they can tell their grandchildren about it; or because they get a warm feeling of importance or power from close contact with the importance or power that a big political candidate represents.

So much for the Truman-Dewey

Long Dispute Between Dominion Of India And Hyderabad Culminates In Four-Way Attack; Planes, Tanks And Armored Cars Participate In Invasion

By The Associated Press
New Delhi, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Indian troops invaded the princely state of Hyderabad from all four sides today. The declared purpose was to restore order.

The dominion soldiers, spearheaded by tanks and armored cars and covered with air support, advanced swiftly, mostly against negligible opposition, a government statement indicated.

A Madras dispatch said Indian forces striking from the east advanced 40 miles to within possibly 90 miles of Hyderabad city, the state capital.

India asserted disorder was rife in Hyderabad and that the fabulously rich Nizam had refused to disband private armies such as the Razakars. The state and dominion have been at odds for months because the Nizam, Gen. H. E. H. Sir Mir Osman Ali Khan, a Moslem, has refused to accede to India.

About four out of five of the 16,335,534 people of the rich state are Hindus. India has demanded a plebiscite to determine the future of Hyderabad. The state is the size of Minnesota. It is in South central India and is surrounded by Indian territory.

Indian troops moving in from Sholapur on the west met the stoutest opposition, but penetrated 30 miles and took the rail junction of Naldurg, the Indians said. The town is 160 miles west and slightly north of Hyderabad city.

Three bridges over the Tungabhadra river in the south were captured. These steps appeared to be the nearest to the capital which lies within 70 to 80 miles of the southern boundary. A column from Bezwada in Madras took Bommalala.

An Indian garrison at Munjal, an enclave 30 miles inside Hyderabad, started moving toward the heart of the state.

Troops invading from the north took the rail town of Ballarshah near the central provinces frontier, which is 150 to 175 miles from Hyderabad city.

India has been insisting for weeks that private armies in Hyderabad must be disbanded and disorders inside the state quelled. The Nizam has maintained he could handle the situation.

Saturday, V. P. Menon, states ministry secretary, wrote to Premier M. L. K. of Hyderabad, declaring that "in the prevailing circumstances the government of India hold themselves free now to take whatever action they consider necessary."

His letter said the "only law prevailing in Hyderabad is the law of the jungle."

The movement of the troops apparently was in furtherance of this announced policy. Hyderabad appealed to the United Nations some time ago for protection against the Indian pressure, but no action has been taken.

Arrangements were made last week for the evacuation of about 40 American citizens.

Beauty Queen Returns Minnesota Farm Home

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Beatrice Shopp, 18-year-old Miss America of 1948, headed for her Minnesota farm home today. She will spend a few days there before coming to New York to start her new career.

In a breathtaking weekend, the baby-faced brunette, who "loves to clean fish," won $16,000 in contracts and scholarships by outclassing 54 other beautiful contestants.

She says she'll have a few days at the four-acre family homestead to think over all the offers that have come her way as the beauty of the year.

It's all a far cry from the Hopkins, Minn. farm, where Beatrice, nicknamed "Bebe," says she tends about 100 chickens, drives a tractor and helps her mother in the kitchen.

The 5-foot, 9-inch Miss America plans to use some of the scholarship funds to continue to study music.

Her renditions on the vibraphone were among the talents which took the judges' eyes in the week-long shore resort beauty pageant.

The musical education which Miss Shopp says she'll pursue will emphasize percussion instruments. She also plays the piano and drums.

Before she settled down to serious study, however, Miss Shopp will make an appearance in New York and then will head for the West Coast for a fashion show.

There she will spend Saturday night and Sunday at a $5,000 scholarship, $3,000 automobile and $8,000 in contracts for personal appearances.

Big Four Gather For Last Try In Italian Question

Air Of Pessimism As Foreign Ministers Open Session In Paris Today

Paris, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers Council met at the Foreign Ministry today for a last try to agree on Italy's colonies. Unless they agree by Wednesday, the solution will have to be made in the United Nations under terms of the Italian peace treaty.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman was the only representative of his rank present. Lewis Douglas, U.S. ambassador to London, sat for the United States. British State Secretary Hector McNeill represented Britain. Assistant Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinskiy was there for Russia. Schuman presided.

Each had a corps of secretaries and advisors.

Almost everyone concerned is pessimistic.

Officially, it is called a meeting of the foreign ministers of the four great powers—Britain, France, Russia and the United States. Actually, only one foreign minister, Robert Schuman of France, is in attendance.

The problem of what to do about Italy's African empire has remained unsolved since the war. The deputy foreign ministers of the Big Four tossed it around for a year but failed to come up with any agreement on the future status of Eritrea, Libya and Somalia.

By the terms of the Italian peace treaty the deadline for Big Four agreement is Sept. 15. After that it goes to the United Nations Assembly.

Hurricane Winds Strike Bermuda

Storm Moving North-Northwest; Expected To Recurve

Miami, Fla., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Hurricane winds approaching 140 miles an hour velocity swept the British island of Bermuda in the Atlantic today.

The weather bureau's storm warning service at Miami said the center of the severe hurricane was only 65 miles southwest of Bermuda at 10:15 a. m. The storm was moving north-northwestward.

"Winds at Bermuda have reached hurricane force and will continue to increase until the storm passes," forecasters reported.

"The center is expected to pass 40 to 60 miles west of Bermuda during the next few hours."

Although pointed in the general direction of the Virginia Capes, the storm is expected to recurve to the north and northeast before any effects are felt on the United States coast, the storm warning service stated.

The hurricane for the next 12 hours will sweep the busy coastal shipping lanes with dangerous winds and wild seas. Ships were warned to avoid or flee its path. The recurring movement was expected to begin tonight.

Bermuda was braced for the blow.

Truman Backers Focus On Texas

Count On Squashing States' Rights Attempt To Seize Control Of Party Machinery At State Convention Tomorrow

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—President Truman's supporters counted today on a victory in Texas tomorrow to offset the spreading revolt that threatens to keep him off several Dixie state ballots.

Truman forces were primed for an effort to squish an attempt of States Rights backers to seize control of the party machinery at a state convention.

The States Rights party already has qualified electors for Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Governor Fielding Wright of Mississippi.

They will contest the Truman-Barkeley ticket for Texas' 22 electoral votes—sixth largest bloc in the nation—even if they can't win control of the party machinery.

The Truman camp made no secret of the fact it would like a Texas victory to counteract last week's setback in Louisiana.

The state party committee's action today ruling Mr. Truman off the ballot brought threats of a suit from the Democratic National Committee as well as retaliation against the Louisiana politicians involved.

William Primus, Jr., assistant to National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, called the Louisiana action "flagrantly dishonest and fraudulent." He said the national committee will use "every legal means" to get Mr. Truman's name before the voters.

Primus called on William H. Talbot, Louisiana national committee member, and other officials involved to quit their regular party posts.

Asked what would happen if they didn't, he pointed to a section of the national committee's by-laws giving it authority to expel members who don't support the regular nominees.

Republicans watched this intra-party struggle with glee.

But McGrath gave the Republicans something new to answer in a charge yesterday that they had "welched" on price-support promises to the farmers.

He said the GOP controlled congress had passed a bill granting the Commodity Credit Corporation a federal charter but had refused to permit it to increase its storage facilities.

This meant, McGrath said, that the CCC which buys farmers' surplus crops or makes loans on them, would have to store crops about as quickly as it got them.

Royall Declares Hitler Outdone

Points Out Extent Of Totalitarianism Beyond Nazi Limits

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Totalitarianism spreads over more territory today than the Nazis ever conquered, Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall said today.

The Secretary's speech was read for him to the 30th annual convention of the North Carolina department of the American Legion.

Royall cancelled his plans to attend the convention because of pressing business in Washington, the army said.

"In the short period since World War II," Royall declared, totalitarianism has extended over more territory than the Nazis ever conquered. At least one nation badly announces its intention that Communism shall cover the face of the earth.

"And this same nation has more than four million men under arms. It is maintaining a military establishment that would cost America thirty-five billion dollars a year. This military might can hardly be for purposes of defense, since that nation is not threatened complacence on our part."

Royall said the state department under Secretary George C. Marshall's guidance, has accomplished "against an attitude of international irresponsibility on the part of non-friendly nations."

"We must have in being or available, the military forces necessary for our defense and for the protection of our rights. And in the troubled world of today other nations must know that we have these forces," Royall concluded.

Two Widows In Suit Involving Life Insurance

Richmond, Va., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Two widows, both claiming the same man's $300,000 life insurance policy were represented by counsel in an action being argued today before Judge Harold Snead, of Richmond circuit court.

The suit was instituted by Mrs. Marie A. Gemmill, Richmond, who contends that she was married to Walter L. Gemmill in 1921 and did not learn he married another woman until shortly before his death last March 9.

She contends that she was named as beneficiary in July 1939, and that the second wife, Bernice Elliott Gemmill, of Rich Square, N. C., was named beneficiary "by fraud" in Feb. 1943.

Seven New Polio Deaths Reported

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Seven additional polio deaths and 21 new cases were reported to the State Board of Health today.

The state's case total for the year mounted to 2,025.

Mecklenburg County reported three of the deaths and Burke, Durham, Iredell and Watauga reported one each.

Texas Bound

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Dallas oilman who bet $25,000 that he could bring three Eskimo women back to Texas says "we've already got 'em and they're coming down with a chaparone."

L. I. Horne, president of the Horne Oil Company, said the Eskimos willing to come to Texas to settle his bet had been found in Alaska.

"My pilot in Seattle, Lew Leach, is awaiting word from me to buy a new plane and bring those Eskimos down here," Horne said. "And they're gonna be down in the Blackstone Hotel at Fort Worth by Wednesday."

"I don't know how or where Leach got them, but they're all about 18 years old and they'll be here with their chaparone."

Horne explained that recently he had gone up to Alaska on vacation and "found some friends back home to ask them what they wanted me to bring them back."

The friends—more oilmen in Houston, San Antonio, Midland and Waco, Horne said—all got together and bet him $25,000 he couldn't bring the Eskimos to Texas.

Nearly Killed By 6,900 Volt Wire

Utilities Worker Narrowly Escaped Electrocution

By CHESTER WALSH
Richard E. (Buz) Parker, 38-year-old lineman for the Greenville Utilities Commission, had a narrow escape from electrocution this morning when one of his arms contacted a wire carrying 6,900 volts of electricity while working on a transformer on a superstructure on a pole on the 10th street near the Person-Garret Tobacco Company.

He received severe burns on both arms and a foot and a head injury. At Pitt General Hospital a physician said Parker was not burned internally and that he was not injured as seriously as at first believed, Supt. Martin Swartz stated.

When shocked, Parker fell over a cross-arm. The fire department's rescue truck and the hook and ladder truck were called to assist. Utilities Commission workers in removing the injured man to an ambulance.

Parker was checking the transformer for defects when the heavy voltage current struck him. He is regarded as one of the most experienced linemen on the force.

The communication was dated Sunday. It cited the intentions of India to invade the princely state in the attack now under way.

Warn Date Set To Seize Berlin

German Newspaper Asserts Communist Coup Slated After November Presidential Elections In U. S.; Decision Said Taken After Anti-Red Demonstration

Berlin, Sept. 13.—(AP)—A liberal democratic newspaper here said today "X-Day" for achieving Communist seizure of Berlin has been fixed for some time after the November presidential elections in the United States.

The newspaper Montagshecho asserted the Russians have given German Communists orders to step up riotous demonstrations to seize control of the city because Moscow wants no four-power settlement of the 80-day-old blockade crisis.

A highly informed source in Moscow said last night resumption of four-power talks there on the Berlin crisis is "quite likely" this week. The informant made this prediction after the return to the Russian capital of Francois Seydoux, political and diplomatic adviser to Lt. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, French military governor in Germany. Seydoux left Moscow Aug. 31 for Berlin, taking important documents to the three Western military governors.

Until "D-Day," Montagshecho said, the Communists aim to "seize every opportunity to promote riots, strikes and demonstrations" to worsen the local political situation.

The newspaper asserted the Communists hope the weather will interfere with the British-American airlift that has been supplying Western Berlin and that the Russians have promised "to interfere with the air supply shuttle by increasing their own plane maneuvers over Berlin."

Montagshecho said the date for Communist seizure of control had been fixed at a meeting of leaders of the Communist-dominated Socialists Unity Party (SED) during the past week. These leaders, the paper said, convened after receiving instructions from Soviet occupation chiefs.

After a series of secret anti-Communist demonstrations, during which more than 200,000 Berliners cheered denunciations of Communist pressure which had forced the legally-elected city assembly to move from the Russian sector into the British sector for protection.

"This great demonstration removed any illusions SED Communists may have had about their popular support in Berlin," the newspaper said.

Diplomats Plan To Resume Talks

Moscow, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Western diplomats met twice today to prepare for resumption of the four power talks on Berlin, possibly Wednesday. A climax is expected this week.

Talks started here at the end of July and were shifted after a month to the military governors of Russia, the U. S., Britain and France in Berlin. There has been no announcement on any of the conversations.

Tough Task To Decide Who Won Texas Primary

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Texas Democratic Executive Committee today faced the tough task of deciding whether Lyndon B. Johnson or Coke R. Stevenson received the most votes for U. S. senator in the Aug. 26 run-off primary.

The usually-routine job of adding up the votes and certifying the winner was complicated this time by the narrow 162-vote margin given Johnson in the last unofficial tally and the charge by Stevenson that 202 votes from Jim Wells County were added to the poll list several days after the polls closed.

All but one of these 202 votes were for Johnson, Stevenson said. He told a press conference he was prepared to offer the committee proof that the returns were not correct.

American Aid Policy

Avowed Purpose Of Marshall Plan Aid; Whittling Down Of Russian War Potential Also Involved; Why Trade With Iron Curtain Countries; 'Gray Zone' In Trade

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Cooperation administrator, assures us that Marshall Plan aid will be cut off from any country going Communist—or Fascist for that matter.

That's a timely and encouraging reaffirmation of a policy which must be iron-clad if the democracies are to win their life-and-death fight against Communism.

The American policy regarding Communism (and Fascism, if it should crop up) is, in theory at least, the policy of Britain and the rest of the Marshall Plan nations. Its avowed purpose is to prevent democracies from being forced into Communism. However, I believe it cuts much deeper and that we are safe in saying it also is designed to whittle down the war potential of Russia and her satellites. This is a purely defensive measure.

Not only does this policy apply to the Marshall Plan but it affects general economic relations with the Red bloc. Most, and perhaps all, of the democracies are continuing limited trade with Russia and her satellites, but transactions broadly speaking are restricted to those things which do not strengthen the Communists militarily.

This paradoxical situation naturally gives rise to the query of why there should be any trade at all. Well, even in a "hot war" there are certain transactions which can be carried out profitably on a quid pro quo basis. The international laws governing warfare appear to have taken this into consideration.

Eastern Europe has certain commodities that western Europe needs, and vice versa. So there is trade in such things as don't

The guests served themselves with carrot winks, best boats, celery cartwheels and ham biscuits.

The dining room table was centered with a bowl of roses, and mixed fall flowers were tastefully arranged throughout the house.

Mrs. Kittrell was presented a miniature china tea set and Miss Austin crystal salt cellars and spoons. Miss Harrison was remembered with a wooden serving tray, and Miss Parkerson with assorted crystal ash trays.

Goodbyes were said by Mesdames B. McK. and Sidney Johnson. Mrs. Robert Martin Gaines and Mrs. Robert McNeil of Tarboro, and Mrs. Ray Munford of Goldsboro were out-of-town guests.

Paris, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Garry Davis, 26, citizen of the world, is putting his lack of a national right up to the United Nations.

"If the U. N. can't solve a little personal problem, then it can't save humanity," Davis said.

He moved to the front steps of the U. N. restaurant in Paris yesterday when France refused to grant him permission to stay in the country any longer. Davis, war-time bomber pilot, surrendered his American passport and nationality last May. He is the son of Meyer Davis, American orchestra leader.

The Palestine problem, the Korean problem and all the other problems the United Nations is worrying about are caused by a lack of any international law," he said. "They keep saying they have to settle all those little problems first." He added that if an international code were written nationalistic problems would cease.

Dressed in his army "pinks" and his old leather flying jacket, Davis looked fresh this morning after spending the night in his sleeping bag on the cement porch of the U. N. restaurant.

"I planned this to bring attention to the fact that there is need for international government," Davis said. "The machinery is all set up. Now if we can just get over the last little hump."

North Carolina CIO Members Proclaim Support For Truman

Greensboro, N.C., Sept. 13—(AP)—North Carolina CIO members here yesterday approved President Truman and lashed his opponents as they formed a State Political Action Committee.

The delegates aimed their criticism at the Republican leadership, the Progressive party of Henry Wallace, and the States Rights Democrats.

As they agreed to back Truman's regular Democratic party candidacy, they applauded gubernatorial candidate W. Kerr Scott. At the same time speakers leveled their blasts at Mary Price, the Progressive's error, and David Clark of Charlotte, a North Carolina leader of the States Rights Democrats.

They also took a shot at the CIO Tobacco Workers Union.

The delegates heard speeches by R. J. Thomas, former head of the United Auto Workers, Al Barkan, director of the National PAC Textile Workers, and Ray Lawrence, southern director of the Textile Workers Union of America.

A resolution was passed for full affiliation with the United Labor Political Action Committee in this state. The committee includes independent union's representatives and AFL political units.

They did not pass resolutions endorsing any state or local candidates. But such support, they stipulated, must be won by a fight for low-cost housing, against inflation, in favor of the $1 minimum hourly wage, and for action on social legislation and against the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The resolution also called for providing baby sitters so that mothers could go to the polls on election day. Barkan told the delegates the Communist party cannot be separated from the Progressive party. The Republican party, he added, represents a great threat to the mass of people.

Lawrence said a "multimillionaire ultra conservative" was nominated because the Tobacco Workers' Union adhered to Miss Price's efforts to keep Winston-Salem workers from voting.

Later he said he referred to Thurman Chatham, Democratic nominee for Fifth District congressman, as the conservative.

Lawrence termed Clark "an anti-union, labor-hating individual" who alone constituted enough reason not to vote for the States Rights Democratic ticket.

Saved Herself By Hanging On Deer's Antlers

Jarretown, Pa., Sept. 13—(AP)—22-year-old switchboard operator saved herself from serious injury by hanging on to the antlers of a buck deer that had attacked her while she was waiting for a bus on a lonely road.

Theresa Rowe, who operates the switchboard at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club, was standing alone at a bus stop Saturday when she saw the deer approach out of a thick fog, lower its head and charge her.

Grasping the animal's antlers, the young woman held on for a half hour, screaming for help. Her cries finally were heard by Joseph Weller, a farmhand, who ran to the scene with his employer, Russell Mearge. The deer fled as the men approached.

Ascribe Murder To Voting Issue

Mt. Vernon, Ga., Sept. 13—(AP)—A white man in the Montgomery County jail charged with murdering a Negro father of six children the night after the Negro was said to have gone to the polls and insisted upon voting.

Sheriff R. M. McCrimmon announced yesterday he had jailed J. A. Johnson on a murder charge after the Negro, 28-year-old Isaiah Nixon, of Alston, died in a hospital of three gunshot wounds.

Johnson's brother, Johnnie, a 22-year-old logger, is under $500 bond charged with being an accessory.

The sheriff said Nixon was shot down in front of his wife and children. He quoted Johnnie Johnson as saying he and his brother went to the Negro's house to get Nixon to work for them and that J. A. Johnson fired in self defense.

McCrimmon, however, said he was told that Nixon went to a polling place Wednesday and asked if he could vote in the Democratic primary. He was told that he could, the sheriff said, but advised against it. Nixon insisted upon voting, McCrimmon reported.

Chiang's Son In Leftist Speech; Attacks Wealthy

Shanghai, Sept. 13—(AP)—American and British business men were shocked and puzzled today by what they described as a "rabble rousing, Red flag waving" speech Sunday by Maj. Gen. Chiang Ching Kuo, Russian educated son of Chiang Kai-shek.

"Now we are really faced with the threat of out and out Communism," said the manager of one of the leading American banks. "I cannot understand it or reconcile it with the Chinese government's avowed policy against Communism. But the events of the past three weeks speak for themselves. And this speech puts the official stamp on them."

Young Chiang, economic czar of Shanghai, told a cheering throng of Chinese that this country was in the midst of a social revolution, which he termed "a socialistic revolutionary movement." He attacked "unpatriotic business men" in particular, and wealthy Chinese, in general.

One newspaper headlined the speech as "a declaration of war against the wealthy."

Fear marked most reaction among all foreign and Chinese business men. It was the strongest leftist speech delivered by any high ranking government official since the Chinese war against the Communists began.

During the past three weeks the son of the President has arrested more than 100 bankers, brokers and merchants for violating anti-inflation laws.

A large number of drunks were arrested. Numerous arrests were made for traffic violations, especially failure to stop at "stop" signs.

Judge J. W. H. Roberts, has an unusually heavy docket in Police court this morning.

Strength FOR THE DAY

IS SUPPRESSION THE ANSWER?

There have been all sorts of theories of how to get the best out of life. Some teachers have made it a negative emphasis, urging the utilization of desire to high ends.

Two of the most fantastic systems of repression have been Stoicism and Buddhism. The Stoic philosophy urged men to take life as they found it, in a completely passive fashion, neither loving the good nor abhorring the evil. Seneca declared that pity is a mental illness. Epictetus admonished his disciples never to show the least affection for anyone, even for children. To the Stoic, the ideal man was he who could detach himself completely from life, taking both its buffeting and its blandishments without the least emotional reaction.

The Buddhist believes that a man whose every act is void of love and purpose, who wipes out all desire to such an extent that he purges his life both of evil passions and high aspirations, is the person who has attained perfection.

How different the Christian gospel from all perverted teachings! Christianity gathers up all the passions of a man's life and directs them into channels which will glorify God, enable the one who entertains these desires, and make the world a happier place in which to live.

HEALTH AND DECENCY

(Greensboro Daily News)

Greenville's board of aldermen several days ago voted to give owners of Negro dwellings of the Pitt county seat two more weeks in which to put privies in sanitary condition.

Sanitarian Charles Morgan of the county board of health conceded relief would be only temporary without sewage disposal, but estimated that there are between "450 and 600 very bad privies within the city limits." Alderman Edmund Waldrop told his fellow board members that the board 20 years ago "passed an ordinance requiring water and sewer connections in the city wherever available."

But hold your breath—as well as your nose. Declared J. C. Williams, extensive owner of Negro dwellings, who said he spoke for other landlords: "Property owners are willing to do all we can, but if you run this hardship over us, we'll have to close our houses. We're the ones paying the taxes. If I put all this mess (toilets) in, I'd just as soon throw my money in the creek."

One's natural impulse would be to suggest that Landlord Williams, if he cannot equip his houses with toilets, throw his money in the creek and jump in after it; but pit privies are not wholly the concern of those who rent houses to their users.

When the City of Greenville is certain it has made water and sewage connections available everywhere within its limits, then it should demand connections, and attend to the closing of the houses of all owners who do not conform to all sanitation ordinances.

The question at Greenville is not civil rights for Negroes but a matter of health and common decency for all.

The Big Tie-Up

Around Capitol Square

YDC—First statewide gathering of Democrats during the 1948 general election campaign will be the state convention of Young Democratic Clubs at Greensboro. It is scheduled to begin Thursday afternoon and continue through Saturday morning. Reservations indicate presence of several hundred young Democrats—and many not so young—including the national YDC president, Roy Baker of Sherman, Texas.

POLITICS—There have been and will be other gatherings held this summer and fall where politics was the main topic, but where sponsors sought to deny that politics constituted motive for the meeting. There'll be no shamming at Greensboro. This will be a political meeting and a partisan one. And if it lives up to previously established reputation there will be a deal of political maneuvering inside the organization itself for key official positions.

OFFICERS—Custom has generally prevailed, though not always strictly observed, of alternating the presidency between men and women and also between east and west. Imposition of two qualifications has not always been wise or possible, since it would mean that one section could never have a male president and the other could never have a woman. There has been a good bit of pre-convention angling for the offices, but very little open speculation as to candidates. Those who have attended similar conventions in the past know this latitude does not necessarily mean it will be a dull affair. Things pop fast around hotel rooms the night before the nominating session, and interest has been keener on occasions when no contest or "slate" had been arranged ahead of time.

SPECTATORS—Theoretically present in the role of spectators, elderly leaders in the regular party organization usually have big hand in directing intra-club political activity.

SPENDING—Carroll McGaughey, political writer for the Arkansas

Gazette, Little Rock, is combining a vacation and a tour of several southern states checking on primary campaign expenditures. After spending a day around capitol square, he reported that he found it as difficult to get accurate figures on spending in North Carolina as in Arkansas, where the recent gubernatorial primary was estimated to have cost around a million and a half dollars. The North Carolina affair didn't reach that kind of figure, but the reporter heard from several informed sources estimates ranging from $350,000 to $600,000 for overall cost. That is six to ten times the amounts reported to the secretary of state by candidates under the corrupt practices act.

CONFUSION—The Arkansas also discovered some confusing provisions of our election laws, which had previously been pointed out many times by North Carolina newspapers. Candidates must file notice of candidacy and pay filing fees with the state board of elections; reports on contributions and expenditures are required to be filed with the secretary of state; in cases of a candidate failing to file the financial report, the secretary of state is required to notify the attorney general who shall "institute prosecution for violation of this article." No agency is specifically charged with responsibility for investigating accuracy of reports or prosecuting violations of the legal limit on campaign spending.

RE-WRITING—Experience with establishment of two new parties this year, culminating in a supreme court decision in one case and another pending, is regarded as sure to bring about a complete rewriting of that section of the election laws. Once the matter is opened up there may be far-reaching changes in other sections—including the corrupt practices act. Sentiment is general for raising the statutory limits on allowable spending—probably remove the limit entirely—and putting real teeth in the law requiring report as to source and destination of campaign money, and providing simpler process for prosecuting violators.

An iron ore field in Labrador is believed to be as rich as any larger than the fabulous Mesabi deposits in Minnesota.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York. (AP)—Some 350,000 school teachers have quit since 1940. And even more would abandon the field—the average teacher gets only $1,850 a year—except for children like "the beloved Guinea pig."

Here is the story of one teacher who didn't quit:

Mrs. Marie Morris Rushing had written out her resignation and had it in her desk. It wasn't the matter of low salary so much in her case. It was just a feeling that she wasn't helping solve problems of the maladjusted children in her overcrowded fourth-grade class. The situation seemed hopeless.

A query by one student finally convinced her she should toss in the sponge. The query:

"Mrs. Rushing, what does Democracy look like?"

Then she was called to her principal's office and asked to admit a crippled girl to her class. Mrs. Rushing's first impulse was to say no. But she couldn't refuse the forlorn but proud little figure with twisted limbs who sat there in silence, anxiously waiting.

"So Polly, our beloved Guinea pig, took her place in room 4B," said Mrs. Rushing. And the classroom immediately became a democracy in action.

Its focus was the little crippled girl.

"Polly began to make us all aware of our possibilities, both physical and mental," wrote Mrs. Rushing in "The Texas Outlook," a teacher publication.

"Often she did this by referring to her own handicap. She said that in a democracy the strong protect the weak, that everyone has a voice."

Polly had that gift of truly great personalities—the gift of bringing out the best in those around them. "I found that little by little she was doing away with even my discipline problems," recalled Mrs. Rushing. "She would reproach an offender and cause public opinion to turn against him. I learned through this beloved Guinea pig that children desire above all else to be held in esteem by their associates."

In their turn the children did everything to help Polly. They carried her pucksaddle to the cafeteria. They tried to teach her to walk—and she did learn to take a few halting, fearful steps.

This year, opening her desk for another school term, Mrs. Rushing found the forgotten letter of resignation she had written before "the beloved Guinea pig" came into her class.

"I burned the resignation," wrote Mrs. Rushing. "I shall always be a school teacher. There will always be problems, but there will always be a Polly to help me work them out."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—It didn't require the recent experiment of a group of Maryland University fish-eating coeds to prove to the American public that fish, no matter how you dish it up, is as good for your system as meat. People are eating more fish and fish products every year. According to estimates of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Department of Interior, the annual consumption of fish in the United States has been rising generally since 1932.

The figures show that in 1932 the consumption was not quite nine pounds per person. By 1947 it was about 11 pounds. With rising meat prices, it looks like the fruit of the sea will be an even more favored dish. Agriculture officials say that the greater use of fish has gone hand in hand with improved processing and distribution of this food. In the past, they say, people living along the sea coasts ate the most fish. But as production machinery has improved inlanders have been buying and eating more fish. The wartime scarcity of meat and postwar meat prices also have encouraged fish eating. The Department of Agriculture says in a bulletin, "Many people have become acquainted with fish and fish products only lately," the statement says, adding that recent studies in about 20 inland cities indicate that people prefer commercially frozen or packaged fish to fresh fish caught locally.

The Maryland coeds, six in all, submitted to an 11-week food test, directed by Shirley Wilson, 24, who conducted the research project as a problem for her master's degree. The project was sponsored by the Fish and Wildlife Service in cooperation with the university. For the first three weeks the coeds ate anything and everything they had a yen for. They were then given a blood test to determine the number of red blood cells and their hemoglobin value. Hemoglobin forms the basis for the blood's red coloring. During the next portion of the food test two of the girls were allowed to continue on diets of their own choice, with meat as the main entrée. Four others were to eat fish for their noon-day meal.

At the end of the test, Miss Wilson said, it was found that the blood strength of the four fish eaters was the same as it was when they were on a meat diet.

Phantoms Poised To Start Football Schedule Tonight

Farley's Boys Playing Jacksonville With Weight Handicap; Squad Practically Composed Of Last Year's B-Team

By EUGENE PRICE

Coach Bo Farley's Greenville High School Phantoms poised today for their season opening clash with the Jacksonville High School eleven which gets underway at Guy Smith stadium tonight at 7:30.

Originally scheduled for last Friday night, the tilt was postponed because of inclement weather. It is a non conference game, the Northeastern Conference curtain raiser for the Phantoms coming off Friday night on Hicks Field against the Edenton Aces.

Jacksonville is expected to field a ball club considerably outweighing the local aggregation. Information from Jacksonville has it that the team, though inexperienced, will feature a line averaging in the neighborhood of 170 pounds. The Jacksonville squad lost its entire starting backfield, an end and center from last year, when they toppled the Greenville B-team six to nothing.

Coach Farley observed yesterday that his 1948 edition of the Green Phantoms would be practically the same boys who last year comprised the B-team and he would make no prediction on the outcome of tonight's clash. Farley has had to build his squad around only four players, the only remnants of his 1947 team.

Conway at center, Fleming at guard, and Cox and Morgan in the backfield are the only starters from last year's team. The Greenville line will average around 150 pounds, according to Farley who says that his "not particularly fast" backfield will average something like 140 pounds.

Coach Tex Lindsey's aggregation is expected to be sparked in the backfield by Guy Hill, a rangy 160 pounder who played end last season. Diminutive Carl Venters, weighing possibly 135 pounds soaking wet, will probably supply the speed for the Jacksonville backfield.

The Jacksonville forward wall will probably be led by Derwood Potter and Charles Mitchell, tackles weighing over 180 pounds. Hewitt, a guard, weighs something like 160 pounds, and Liking fills the other guard slot with his 180 pounds.

HALF HOUR LATER
Chapel Hill Sept. 13—North Carolina's opening home game against Texas will start at 2:30 o'clock while the remaining four home contests will begin at 2 o'clock.

Pirates Take To Night Rehearsals On Tuesday

By EUGENE PRICE
Gridiron Gossip
By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

Leading the parade of disappointed fans who had anticipated seeing the Greenville High - Jacksonville High school football game slated for last Friday, was the entire Edenton High School squad and coach.

The Edenton outfit wanted to get a first hand account of Greenville's gridiron prowess since they entertain them in the Northeastern Conference curtain at Edenton next Friday night.

Or perhaps the Edenton team just wanted to pay its respects to Jacksonville Coach Tex Lindsey, many years mentor of the Edenton football squad.

The current slogan of sports minded ECTC students is Follow the Pirates through the Greenville Daily Reflector. An intensive subscription campaign is now underway.

Some of East Carolina's lettermen are finding some difficulty holding their old berths on the starting lineup in the face of conglomeration of promising freshmen football talent.

In the line Kenneth Booth, Tarrytown N.Y., is making a threatening bid for a tackle post. Silas Baggett and Duke Cockrell both are showing signs of annexing guard posts. Baggett hails from Roanoke Rapids and Cockrell comes to ECTC from Rocky Mount.

Michael Kovoch, another Tarrytown product, and Bryant of Rocky Mount, are showing up well at backfield posts.

Coach Bo Farley and his entire Greenville high school roster are looking for one of the largest turnouts ever for tonight's contest with the Jacksonville High School eleven. This column urges support for both Greenville High School and ECTC sporting events.

Although the Negro population of the United States has increased sharply through the years, the proportion of Negroes to white people has declined sharply since 1790.

By EUGENE PRICE

ECTC's Purple Pirates will stage their first nocturnal drills of the season Tuesday night when they scrimmaged on lighted Guy Smith stadium here at Greenville.

The night practice is being held to familiarize the squad with football under lights in preparation for the September 17 debut against the Cherry Point Marines at Rocky Mount Memorial Stadium.

The Marines, boasting nearly all their potent 1947 squad and probably well supplemented by newly enlisted high school material, are viewed by ECTC members to be a few points the favorite over the Pirates whose 2-7 season last year is something the coaches would like very much to forget.

Monday's practice session for ECTC will be devoted to "smoothing over" the rough edge observed by the coaches in a lengthy four-hour drill Saturday. Head coach Jim Johnson admitted after the Saturday afternoon scrimmage that he was "disappointed" with some of the candidates in whom he had put considerable hope. Others, he pointed out, are playing outstanding ball.

Coach Johnson was high in his praise of letterman John Young who exhibited very promising abilities on both offense and defense at end. Kenneth Booth, a 195 pound freshman from Tarry Town, N.Y., played a dynamic game at tackle in Saturday's scrimmage.

In the Pirate backfield, George Wood, a junior from Hertford, is showing up very well, especially on defense. Michael Kovoch, a 171 pound newcomer to the ECTC backfield, is also demonstrating promising abilities. Kovoch also hails from "Tarry Town".

Coach Johnson said this weekend that his boys are in "pretty good shape" for a squad having less than two weeks of practice. He explained, however, that the squad would not likely be in top shape before the Cherry Point game.

Afternoon workouts are under the direction of Head Coach Johnson, backfield coach Jack Boone, and assistant coach Howard Porter.

Duke's Football Prospects Hang On Injured Knee
Durham, N. C., Sept. 13—An All-American knee belonging to Captain Albert John DeKogatus figures prominently in the gradation fortunes of Coach Wallace Wade's third post-war eleven, and the Blue Devil camp is still at a loss as to what to expect from the big New Jersey bruiser.

The 220-pound tackle, who became a favorite in his first year here, is responsible for the greatest of the many "ifs" in Duke's prospects for an improved season.

The Duke folks seem reasonably certain that no other team in the nation will field a finer pair of tackles if their "Dero" comes through. The Blue Devils can also count on Louis Allen, a nationally ranking tackle in his own right. Al is the boy who can put power in the tackle situation.

The coaching staff has put a "handle with care" sign on Al's knee. He has taken part in all of the practice sessions, has run through plays with his teammates, but he hasn't been thrown into the fury of the heavy scrimmages.

Two things about Billy Goodman caught the eye of Manager Joe McCarthy—the youngster's hustle on every play and his intelligence. Marjoe always insisted that his players hustle all the way, but he insisted that they know what they were doing when they were hustling on the diamond. Goodman seemed to know when McCarthy first spotted him in training camp.

The Red Sox purchased Goodman from Atlanta following the 1946 season and paid a fancy price for the youngster. Billy was an outfielder and had thumped the ball at .388 pace. He appeared in a dozen games for the Red Sox in 1947 before he was shipped off to Louisville for further seasoning. With the Colonels, he was sent in at shortstop and played that position most of the time. He batted .340 and batted in 49 runs. When he reported for spring training with the Red Sox he was an infielder and that is where he is determined to make the grade.

McCarthy wasn't very impressed with his shortstop but he liked the efficient confident manner in which Billy moved about. When Bobby Doerr was sidelined by an injury, Goodman tried his hand at second. In a few days he was covering his position like a veteran. It was after Stan Spence and Jake Jones failed to measure up to the McCarthy standard for first baseman that Billy was given a shot at that position.

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 13—(AP) Only 48 hours old, the national tennis championships settled down today into a battle between the young and the aged, competitively speaking.

Leading the wide open scrap for the men's singles title vacated by Jack Kramer is a trio of tennis "oldsters"—Davis Cup Veterans Frank Parker, Billy Talbert and Gardnar Mulloy.

But blocking their path in this most unpredictable of all net scrambles are at least a dozen young men, most of them in their early twenties, who will be among this country's internationalists in the very near future.

One of the oldest in the group of promising newcomers is 26-year-old Earl Cochell of San Francisco, who put on a dazzling uphill performance yesterday as the field plodded part way through the second round.

Cochell, seeded fifth, got the fright of his life before he came from behind to subdue another in the group of rapidly developing youngsters, unseeded Fred Kovaleski, 4-6, 6-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Annual Women's Amateur Golf Tourney Opens
Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 13—(AP)—The 48th annual national women's amateur golf tournament gets underway today with a field of more than 100 shotmakers travelling 18 holes in a qualifying round for the 64 places in the championship flight.

Play was over the tough Pebble Beach course, a 6,561-yard test with women's par of 38-39-77.

The championship is vacant because Georgia's Louise Suggs. The 1947 winner, recently turned professional. Miss Suggs was an interested observer here, however.

Overtime Tilts Feature Semi-Finals In League

Rocky Mount And Tarboro In Deadlock Saturday; Leafs Edge Tars Sunday; Kinston, Goldsboro Break Even

By BERT MOYE

During the week-end in semi-finals play in the Coastal Plains League Rocky Mount and Tarboro on Saturday night fought to an 8-8 tie for eleven innings when the game was called on account of the curfew and a heavy fog which held up the game on two occasions during the contest; and on Sunday afternoon the two teams had their second overtime tilt with the Rocky Mount Leafs taking a 4 to 3 decision over the Tars to have a total of two wins and one defeat in the series to determine the finalist.

In the Kinston-Goldsboro series, the Kinston Eagles swamped the Goldbugs on Saturday night in Kinston, 13 to 1, and then the Goldbugs came back on Sunday afternoon to win over in Goldsboro, 9 to 6, to give the two teams two wins and two losses each.

Saturday's Game
In the game at Tarboro on Saturday night between the Tars and the Leafs the Tars came from behind a three run deficit in the eighth inning to knot the count at 4-4 and brought the game into an overtime tilt.

Both teams put across two runs in the tenth frame the Leafs scoring in the top half of the 10th when John Hanley hit a homer over the left field wall to bring in Dave Fowler ahead of him. The Tars came back in their half of the frame to score two runs and knot the count at 6-6, when Komaneky singled, Caldwell walked, Richards sacrificed them around the bases and Ray Urban singled to bring them home.

With the score knotted at 6-6 in the eleventh Rocky Mount scored two runs when Webb singled, Lonnie Smith singled with Webb taking third, Fowler hit down to shortstop Towns who threw the ball wild to second enabling Webb to score and then Pappy Williams singled to bring home Smith.

The Tars came back in the eleventh to knot the count at 8-8 with two runs. After two men were out, Jake Daniels walked, Komaneky singled, and then Ralph Caldwell tripled into deep centerfield to bring in Daniel and Komaneky. At this point the game was halted twice for 30 minute periods due to fog and by the time play could be resumed the curfew caused the game to be halted with an 8 to 8 tie.

Kinston clinched the win in the second when the Eagles' hurler Lou Herrington singled home two runs to put the team ahead.

Blackwell and Hussey each got two singles to lead the Leafs. Fabianch with a double and three singles and John Tepedino with a three run homer and a single led the attack of the three Goldsboro hurlers.

Sunday's Games
John Hanley's single in the 10th inning to bring home Pappy Williams who was walked and reached third on Martin's single, gave the Rocky Mount Leafs a 4-3 decision over Tarboro in Rocky Mount yesterday afternoon and sent the Leafs to a 2-1 advantage in the semi-finals playoff series.

Tarboro rallied for two runs in the ninth frame to knot the count at three-all and force the game into an extra inning affair.

Red Benton went the route for the Leafs and scattered eight hits among the Tars. The Tars started Staphenhorst off the mound who went to the showers after seven frames with Eddie Neville taking over from here. Neville was charged with the loss.

Retriever

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 13—(AP)—A little dog named Brownie is the answer to a golfer's dream. The seven-year-old Belgian Heeler is a retriever of lost golf balls and within three months has found close to 120.

The dog's master, Chaster B. Snively, has no idea how it all began. He says she romped up to him one day at Waynesboro Country Club with a ball clenching between her teeth.

Since that time the dog has scoured the course, finding lost balls by the dozen. And oddly enough, the dog ignores balls in play on the open fairway.

Believes Fate Is In Eastern Swing

Chicago, Sept. 13—(AP)—Bill Meyer, Pittsburgh manager, believes the destiny of the Pirates—now only three games behind the National League leading Boston Braves—will be decided on an eastern schedule which opens tonight in New York.

"We're headed into the bad lands (New York, Boston and Brooklyn)," Meyer said yesterday as he departed with his Bucs after sweeping two games from the Chicago Cubs. "And what we do on this trip will tell the tale."

"The Giants really have the schedule advantage on the entire field. They have 19 to play and 17 of them are in their own Polo Grounds. That's going to be a big help if they can take advantage of it."

Meyer sees a tight five-team finish with the Giants being a lot tougher than they appear. "But Boston is still the team to beat," Meyer adds. "The Braves have had their share of ups and downs, but they keep bouncing back just when it looks like they're headed into a slump."

Meyer said he was especially happy to snare two wins from the Cubs without having to use Ralph Kiner, his home run king as a regular. Kiner's No. 39 homer—a pinch grand slammer—clinched Saturday's wild 13-12 triumph over the Cubs. Kiner walked as a pinch batter yesterday.

Jinxed In Boston

New York (AP)—Boston is a jinx town to the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League. The Blueshirts' lifetime record against the Bruins in the Hub city shows only 23 victories against 56 losses in league competitions. Oddly enough the Rangers have scored more goals in Boston than in any other NHL city they visit.

Ezzard Charles And Bivins Meet

Washington, Sept. 13—(AP)—The heavyweight championship of the world, 100 per cent muddled now that Joe Louis has said he's quitting, may be "eared up" somewhat after tonight's fight between Ezzard Charles and Jimmy Bivins.

The two Ohioans—Charles is from Cincinnati and Bivins from Cleveland—meet in a ten-round bout at Griffith Stadium. A crowd of between 15,000 and 20,000 is expected. We will now turn to Jake Mintz for an explanation of the heavy-weight situation, always remembering that Jake may be prejudiced, seeing as how he manages Charles.

"This is positively the same as a little bout," Jake explained to reporters. "I'll tell you why. We lick Bivins. Okay. Now where can you find any boxer, any better than we are?"

Roughly translated, Mintz means, "What fighter is better than Charles?"

"Gus Lesnevich," a reporter suggests. "Lesnevich!" replies Mintz, scornfully. "Walcott! Walcott! Walcott! Walcott!" Mintz replies. "Look, Elmer Ray beats Walcott. And what happens to Ray. We knock him out."

The trouble with all this is Bivins. "I always say," says Mintz, "that Bivins would be a good boy if he's in shape. So? So he's in the best shape of his career. I am worried, frankly. But if I get by Bivins, I quit worrying. We are the champion."

Big Tackles

Wake Forest, N. C. Sept. 13—There's a lot of beef at the tackle positions on the Wake Forest squad this season. Altogether the eight tackles on the squad weigh a total of 1770 pounds—an average of 221 pounds per man. Glenn Reinhard at 265 is the heaviest of the octet while Jim Steton at 197 is the lightest.

placed beside it. The punches stood on the opposite side. Gay, her head bowed, stood behind the punches.
Ropes were slung under the coffin.
Cathy nudged George and he turned to her.
"Say something," she whispered.
"You must."
He frowned, moistened his lips with his tongue, drew a deep breath. He raised his head.
"God," he said. "This is Phil Martin we're burying. He was a good man. We, his wife and his friends, ask you to take good care of him. Amen."

As the first shovelful thudded on the coffin, Nettie flinched. Cathy stepped up to her quickly, put her arm around Nettie's waist. Presently the grave was filled and the dirt over it was smoothed down. There was a moment's silence, a motionless pause, then the punches nearest the grave gathered up the ropes and the shovels. Finally the entire group of men, turning as one, tramped off.
Gay moved away with them, quickened her pace and left them behind her, and fled in the direction of the house. Nettie, turning, followed with her eyes. George came forward now. He halted at Nettie's side.
"Nettie," he said, and she looked up at him. "Nettie, there ain't much anybody can say 't' you at a time like this. Still, I want you 't' know that I'm sorry."

"Thank you," she said with a quiet smile and he marvelled at her courage. "And thank you for what you said about Phil. I know he would have liked it."
"I don't know what plans you've made," he went on. "But I'd like like 't' have you stay here. The cottage was home 't' you and Phil, and even though he's gone now, I kinda think he'd like 't' know you're still around."

Tears welled up into her eyes.
"Thank you again," she replied.
the grave. Minutes later, when they looked back, Nettie was on her knees. They trudged along in silence until they reached the house.
"That was sweet of you, George,"
Cathy said.
He stopped, looked down at her,
patted her shoulder, then he stepped past her and strode off toward the corral.

Gay was standing at the window in her bedroom when Cathy entered. Gay did not turn. Cathy stood beside her for a moment.
"When is she leaving?" Gay asked presently.
"She isn't leaving," Cathy answered.
Gay looked at her quickly.
"George asked her to stay," Cathy went on. "I think it was the only decent thing to do. She accepted."

There was no comment from Gay.
"Cathy," Gay said and Cathy turned toward her again. "Phil was in love with me. You didn't know that, did you?"
"N-o," Cathy said. "I didn't actually know it even though I did feel that there was something between you two."

"What do you mean?"
"Well, it was after you returned from that night in the shack. I noticed that George wasn't so cordial toward you after that, then I began to suspect that perhaps everything wasn't just the way it was supposed to appear, or at least the way George said it was. I knew you'd never cared much for George.
You said as much once. So it had to be Phil."

"I see."
"Do you think Nettie suspected anything?"
Gay shrugged a slender shoulder.
"I don't know," she answered.
"However, I've had an idea for some time now that she suspected something but that she wasn't quite sure."

"Perhaps that's why she looked at you so. Or perhaps that's why you imagined she looked at you," Cathy said. "I wonder if Phil ever told her anything?"
"I don't think so." She got to her feet. "Cathy, I'm going away."
"But where will you go?"
"O-h, I'll find a place, never fear.
It won't have to be much because anywhere at all will be better than staying here with her so near me.
I couldn't stand that for long."
"Of course."
"When do you plan to go?"
"The sooner the better. Probably tomorrow," Gay said. "Right now
I think I'll go for a ride. The air and the exercise will do me good."
Cathy followed her to the door.
"You'll be back for dinner, won't you?" she asked.
"I really don't know. The way
I feel now, food doesn't sound particularly appealing. However, maybe after I've been out for a while, I'll feel differently. But don't worry about me. I'll be all right."

New Draftees To Find Selves In Healthier Army

New York, N. Y.—The new draftees will serve in an Army in which general health conditions show marked improvement over those that prevailed when their elder brothers entered the service, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Army records show the death rate in 1947 among troops in the United States was 30 percent less than the pre-war rate. Morality from disease fell 36 percent, and despite the greater use of mechanized equipment and airplanes, the death rate from accidents fell 24 percent.

While the recorded incidence of disease among the troops in the United States in 1947 changed but little from the prewar level, this is due in some measure to the Army policy on prompt reporting of illness, the statisticians note. It is remarkable, however, that the common respiratory diseases and influenza in 1947 were at the lowest point in the army records. The sickness rate from tuberculosis is almost at an irreducible minimum.

The frequency of accidents among the Army men in the United States in 1947 was less than half the pre-war rate. This large reduction, greater than for fatal accidents, is due to the army's effective safety program.

The great gain in Army health reflects the advances in research and treatment in military as well as in civilian medicine during the war years. Improved medical organization and the constant effort to raise the quality of professional services in the armed forces also are factors in the progress in Army health.

"The families of America's youth can be assured that the medical and health protective services provided by the Army are superior to those which most of the new inductees are accustomed to in civilian life," the statisticians say. "With the accent on prevention, further progress may be expected in the control of disease and accidents in our armed forces."

Lucien Bryan Is Tourney Winner

Lucien Bryan shot a net low score of 63 to win the Tobaccoists golf tournament here Saturday by four strokes.

Reynolds May shot the low round of the day with a 73 and came in second to Bryan with a net 67. Bryan also was in 3 feet of the No. 3 flag but Herbert Waldrop won the prize with second best by agreement that no one could win but one prize.

Luther Herring won the blind bogey prize with a net 70 strokes. Simon Moye and Bill Stalle defeated W. L. Allen and Bill Gibbs 2 and 1 in a special match that was played by quite a large gallery.

Plans are already under way for an East Carolina pro-amateur golf tournament in the near future that would bring to Greenville the tops in professional and amateur golfers in this section.

The visiting tobaccoists and spectators were very much impressed by the improvement on the local golf course and club house and declare it is the nicest club in this section and also that it is a club that the town of Greenville should well be proud of.

Demand War Over Indian Invasion

Karachi, Pakistan, Sept. 13—(AP)—Masses of demonstrators marched to the prime minister's residence today and demanded that Pakistan declare war on India because of the Hyderabad invasion.

At least five demonstrations and processions were counted on the main streets, the Moslems shouted "Long Live the Nizam" and "Do away with the Indian Union."

MILLIONS HOMELESS
Nanking, Sept. 13—(AP)—The government information service today reported the civil war and floods on the yellow, Yangtze and other rivers had 65,000,000 homeless in China.

In The Red

Washington, Sept. 13—(AP)—All political parties except the Socialist party have operated financially in the red this year. Their financial reports for the first eight months of 1948 were filed today with the clerk of the House. Only the Southern States' Rights group failed to report.

The Democratic National Committee listed the heaviest expenditures and the largest operating deficit but a bank balance kept the Democrats out of the red.

Kaiser-Frazer In Counter Claim

Detroit, Sept. 13—(AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corp. filed a counter claim in Federal Court today asking $38,532.118 in damages from Otis & Co., a Cleveland investment house.

The auto firm accused Otis & Co., James F. Masterson, a Philadelphia lawyer, and David V. Martin, a Detroit attorney, of conspiring to escape a contract to market 900,000 shares of Kaiser-Frazer stock.

The latest suit was in the nature of an answer to a complaint filed last Feb. 9 by Masterson. He sought to halt the sale of the Kaiser-Frazer stock.

Veterans Battery A Reunion New Bern

Arthur B. Corey and J. Knott Proctor attended a reunion of Battery A, 113th Field Artillery, World War I at New Bern Sunday. The 113th Field Artillery a North Carolina outfit, and troops from South Carolina and Tennessee, made up the 30th (Old Hickory) Division. It was these troops that broke the Hindenburg Line and saw such strenuous action in the St. Mihiel sector.

Incidentally, yesterday was the 30th anniversary of the beginning of that important engagement in the first World War.

Nick Sideris Is Good Samaritan; Aids Greek Girl

By CHESTER WALSH

Nick Sideris, owner of the new Greenville Cafe, opposite Proctor Hotel, is a "Good Samaritan" and has many of the attributes of the "man who lives in the house by the side of the road and is a friend to man," his friends said today after he had extended "hands across the sea" to befriend an unfortunate girl in Greece.

Here's the story: Nick, as he is familiarly known to many, received from a relative in Harrisburg, Pa., a clipping from a Washington, D. C. newspaper with a photo and story of how Merika Sideris, 20, of Chalkidiki, Greece, lost both hands and both eyes by an explosion of a guerrilla land-mine while she and others were working in a field.

Sideris was impressed by the name (Sideris). He decided to help the unfortunate girl. His five children donated $5 each and Nick and his wife gave $20. Patrons of the cafe and former Greek Nationals who heard of the girl's plight "chipped in" $30 for the mercy fund.

Today a check for $75 and the picture were on the way to the mayor of Thessalonika, Greece, with a request that he locate the injured girl and turn over the money to her. Nick Sideris is a happy man, hoping to learn later on that the contributions of her friends in Greenville reach their destination promptly.

Losing Business To Union Fines

Washington, Sept. 13—(AP)—A New York fur liner testified today he is being driven out of business by the CIO fur workers union as a result of fines levied against manufacturers who employ him.

Morris Coopersmith, president of the American fur liner contractors association, told a house labor subcommittee that the Union requires the manufacturers to pay fines up to $2,000 for contracting with him and other non-union liners to finish fur garments.

Handshaking . . .

I told the character, "Let's skip Blum and go in here."

"Oh, no," the horrified character said. "One can't do that. We must shake hands with M. Blum. It's expected of us."

I don't know who expected it. No one knew us there, not even Blum. I said:

"I'm against it. It's tough enough on Blum already. I can't speak a word of French. I can't even say hello to Blum in French."

"Just do what I do," the character said.

In we went. In 15 minutes we reached Blum. The character bowed from the hips in the best continental manner and, with great feeling, said, "Ah, oui, oui."

I was next. I said something to Blum like "hajajaja" but Blum didn't look surprised and he said calmly to me something that sounded like "hajajaja."

The character is still going to the cocktail parties, meeting the prominent people and eating free food. He's finally putting on a little weight.

bly, which convenes here Sept. 21. There is no veto in the assembly and Italy has made no bones about wanting to have the colonial issue settled there.

An investigating commission which went to Africa recommended a trusteeship for the three colonies. There has been no agreement on what kind of trusteeship.

Giuseppe Brusasca, Italian under secretary of foreign affairs, said in an interview in Rome that Italy is ready to "make Africa a bulwark for the defense of peace" if she can get the colonies back. He pledged that Italy would promote self-government and "fulfill all obligations of trusteeship."

It added that Communists thereupon had framed "phase two" of their putsch plans to wrest control from the anti-Communist government.

Montascho claimed the Communist goal now is a full break with parliamentary government and a "people's democracy" in favor of establishing a "dictatorship of the proletariat." It predicted that "SED will systematically seek with all means to provoke the population elected government and democratic parties. The aim is to strain the nerves of Berliners to the utmost."

The newspaper said "high Soviet occupation officials at Karlshorst headquarters have openly told leading SED functionaries that Russians do not want any agreement over Berlin or Germany and that is why they have employed delaying and blocking tactics in talks at Moscow and in Berlin."

Grain Market

Chicago, Sept. 13—(AP)—A good part of early gains in grains was lost toward the close on the board of trade today. Profit-taking, easiness in securities and expectations that the visible supply figures would show some late selling.

Wheat closed 1½ lower to 1 cent higher, September $2.23½-$2.24, corn was ¾ lower to 2½ higher, September $1.74½-$1.75, oats were ¾ lower to ¼ higher, September 72, rye was ¼ lower, December $1.55, and soybeans were unchanged to 2 cents lower, November $2.59½.

LUSH PROMISES OF SUDDEN HEALTH

● Much of the advertising on subjects pertaining to health which we see and hear these days is misleading. Investigation will prove that many advertisers of medicinal products have no training in either medicine, pharmacy, or chemistry. Thousands of dollars are wasted every year on asthma cures; oral treatments for diabetes; cancer remedies; and countless other nostrums. Please remember that there are no secrets in clinical medicine. As soon as the value of a remedy is satisfactorily proved it becomes the common knowledge of all physicians. Don't be misled. When you need medical care consult your own physician. When he writes a prescription bring it to us to be filled.
