Dewey Stresses Peace, Freedom, In Campaign Tour

Ignores Truman Attacks While Bearing Down On Theme In Speech Tonight

En Route West with Dewey, Sept. 20—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey bore down on a "peace and freedom" theme today as his special train rolled westward toward Des Moines and a major campaign speech tonight.

Shrugging off vigorous attacks on the Republicans by President Truman, the GOP Presidential nominee prepared to tell the country just what kind of a government he expects to run if he is elected in November.

His secretary, Paul Lockwood, gave reporters a brief preview. Lockwood said Dewey intends to "pledge his unwavering adherence" to the basic principles and purposes of free government.

"He believes that they must be followed by the next administration in order to unite America and to carry forward in a troubled world the hope of freedom and the living promise that men can be free and that free men can live in peace," Lockwood added.

This peace-and-freedom theme seemed unlikely to parallel proposals made by Henry Wallace, Progressive party candidate for President, toward the same objectives.

In fact, aides said they expect Dewey to pledge himself to a firm stand against any further widening of Russian authority in Europe or Asia.

Wallace has urged that this country get together with the Russians. Dewey long ago made his stand clear.

His old audiences in Oregon even before he was nominated that the battle against Communism is going to be long, tough one.

He said that America might as well recognize that Communism has its best chance with people who are hungry, poorly clothed and ill housed. He said this country must use its food to fight Communism.

State Employees To Ask Director

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 20—(AP)—The State Employees Association plans to present the next General Assembly a proposal for a separate director of state personnel.

Under a bill drafted by an Association committee and approved Saturday at its annual convention, state employees would be removed from the administration of the state budget bureau. The proposed personnel director be in charge of all state employees except teachers.

U.S. Troops Will Remain In Korea

Washington, Sept. 20—(AP)—The United States gave notice today that American Occupation troops will remain in Korea until the United Nations General Assembly takes up the issue of Korea's future at Paris.

The State Department said in a formal statement that this government has no intention in the meantime of matching Soviet Russia's announced intention to order troops out forthwith.

Final Report

Paris, Sept. 20—(AP)—A post-mortem report by the murdered Count Folke Bernadotte declares the United Nations should step in to end the Palestine war if the Arabs and Jews fail to make peace.

The mediator wrote that "Israel is in Palestine, and the future of Arab Palestine should be left to the Arab states," in full consultation with the Arab inhabitants of the Holy Land.

Surrender Is Godsend

India Spared Another Bloodbath With Surrender Of Hyderabad To Indian Dominion; The Dynamite In The Situation; Background; Disposition Of The Huge State

By DeWitt MacKENZIE

Surrender by the Nizam of Hyderabad to the invading forces from the Dominion of India may well have saved the Indian subcontinent such a bloodbath as that troubled land never before had experienced.

Certainly a continuation of the short-lived conflict threatened to precipitate wide-spread communal fighting which might have run the length and breadth of the great peninsula. It was the old, old story of Hindu versus Moslem—a story which has been written in blood for generations.

More than three-quarters of Hyderabad's population of 16,000,000 are Hindus, whereas his exalted highness, the Nizam, is a Moslem. The Dominion of India is chiefly Hindu and the troops sent into Hyderabad were Hindu. The rival Dominion of Pakistan, which is mainly Moslem, has been watching the invasion with a jaundiced eye, the many of its people have been calling for reprisals against the Hindus.

There has been enough dynamite in the situation to blow up the whole peninsula.

So the surrender is a godsend. However it presents the Dominion of India with some stiff problems,

Truman Calls Upon Westerners To Fight Republican 'Sabotage'

Denver, Sept. 20—(AP)—President Truman called upon Rocky Mountain voters today to join him in a fight against "Republican undercurrent sabotage of the west."

He predicted that if the Republicans take over the government, "they will try to turn back the clock to the day when the west was an economic colony of Wall Street."

Mr. Truman told the westerners their hope for "new developments of your agriculture, your industry and your commerce" lies in insuring the election of a Democratic administration "pledged to give you that aid and support."

Mr. Truman spoke from the grounds of the state capitol after a parade and impromptu speeches elsewhere in the city.

In the second major address of his current campaign swing he said the Republicans in Congress "consistently tried to cut the grounds from under our conservation program. There is a hard fight ahead," Mr. Truman asserted.

"We shall have to fight the slick political propaganda of the special interests and the Republican leadership. We shall have to fight the millions of dollars that Wall Street is pouring into the treasury of the Republican party."

"We shall have to fight the Republican undercurrent sabotage of the west."

Mr. Truman declared that "we of the Democratic party are eager for that fight."

"We are firmly determined to leave after us a land that is better than we found it."

While he laid special emphasis on hydro-electric power and other water development projects of the west, the President again attacked the Republicans on housing and price control issues.

He repeated his previous complaint that Senator Taft (R-Ohio) voted against a housing bill "with his own name on it." He referred to the Taft-Blender-Wagner bill.

The Republicans, he continued, killed the bill because "they wanted to leave housing under the control of profiteering big business."

"There is a lot of money to be made out of providing houses for the people—if private interests are allowed to exact exorbitant profits from the people."

And if the Republicans win, he said, the future of housing "would be in the hands of the same men who killed the housing bill—the men who obey the lobbyists of the selfish interests."

Israel Adopts Special Laws To Handle Gangs

Take Steps To Smash Terrorists; 150 Members Of Stern Gang Arrested In Jerusalem; Airtight Censorship

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 20—(AP)—Israel adopted emergency regulations last night to deal with terrorist organizations and took first steps to smash the Stern Gang, accused of assassinating Count Folke Bernadotte.

Israel Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok informed Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator for Palestine, his government has "adopted special emergency regulations giving it sweeping powers to take action against terrorist organizations, their members and accomplices."

Shertok told Bunche that 150 members of the Stern group—accused of assassinating Count Bernadotte, U.N. mediator for Palestine, and French Lt. Col. Andre Pierre Serot, U.N. observer, Friday in Jerusalem—had been arrested in the Holy City and 50 others in Tel Aviv and elsewhere.

Nearly 200 known Sternists had been seized and packed off to Jaffa for dispersal into the Israeli army. Several airtight censorship, desecration catches were understood to be among those arrested. They were said to include the Stern Gang's second in command, known widely as "Abu Mirmir." A police source said a young Jew believed to have been the driver of the jeep used in ambushing the Bernadotte party also was held. At least two Jewish newspapermen were arrested. The Israeli officials said they believe the arrests were a staggering blow at the Stern group.

Shertok informed Bunche "vigorous investigations are proceeding to probe deeper into the mystery of the crime and discover the real culprits in the assassination." He announced that all suspects will be paraded before eye witnesses of the assassination.

At the college Dr. Slay, in addition to his duties as a department head, served on many important committees which contributed largely to the growth and improvement of the college. In 1945 he was appointed as acting registrar and in the fall of that year was chosen to fill the newly created office of college dean.

During the past year Dr. Slay was head of the department of science at Wagner College on Staten Island, New York. He taught several times at Duke and the University of North Carolina during summer sessions.

Dr. Slay was a native of Louisiana but was reared and educated in Mississippi. He was graduated in 1912 from the University of Mississippi. Before this time he had begun his career as a teacher in the rural schools of the state. For ten years before he came to Greenville he was head of the science department at Mississippi Southern University at Hattiesburg.

He received both the master's and the doctor's degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, and also studied at the University of Chicago and at John Hopkins University.

He was a member of various scholarly societies and scientific organizations, including the National Association for Research in Science Teaching; the council of Elementary Science Teachers; the National Committee on Science Teaching; and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, of which he was a fellow.

Dr. Slay was married in 1914 to Maggie D. Campbell of Kosciusko, Mississippi, who survives him. Also surviving him are two sons, James M. Slay, dean of Trinity College, Duke University, and Ronald J. Slay, who completed work for the doctor's degree at Columbia University during the past summer and has recently accepted a position at the State Normal College in Ipsant, Michigan.

Trygve Lie Will Demand Forming Of UN Guard

Paris, Sept. 20—(AP)—Secretary General Trygve Lie will demand formation of a United Nations guard to forestall suits as the assassination of Count Bernadotte and to maintain order in disturbed areas.

As soon as possible all national delegates assembled, the U.N. administrator will ask for a United Nations stabularly of from 1,000 to 2,000 men, backed by "the full authority of the United Nations."

A well-informed source of U.N. headquarters said today Lie had already made contact with a number of national delegations and general interest received a favorable reply.

Dr. Ronald Slay Dies In New York

Former Dean Of E.C.—T.C. Passes Suddenly At His Home

Dr. Ronald James Slay, 57, formerly chairman of the department of science and college dean at East Carolina Teachers College, died suddenly at his home on Staten Island, New York, at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted in Purvis, Mississippi on Wednesday of this week.

Dr. Slay, a resident of Greenville for twenty-four years, was prominently identified with the development of East Carolina Teachers College and served in that capacity until September, 1945, when he was appointed dean of the college. For a number of years he was chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Pitt General Hospital in the city and a member of the Board of Deacons of the Immanuel Baptist Church. He acted at various times as secretary of the Greenville Community Chest and as a member of the Greenville Planning Board and the Greenville Ration Board.

Today's hearing is a new climax in the year-long legal battle growing from the Taft-Hartley laws ban on the closed shop. The ITU had fought for years to maintain closed shop conditions, requiring shop union membership among workers, in newspaper and commercial printing plants.

Last March Judge Swygert ordered the union to cease insisting on contract terms with publishers favoring union members over non-union employees.

Now NLRB attorneys contended the ITU still is trying to get publishers to discriminate against non-union printers in employment opportunities.

Of those inspected, 117,666 of the cars were making their first trip through the lanes and the others were returning for a check on performance found on the initial inspection.

South Florida Placed In Hurricane 'Danger Zone'

Miami, Fla., Sept. 20—(AP)—South Florida from Miami through the Keys today was placed in the "danger zone" of a hurricane with winds well over 100 miles an hour, as a tug raced to aid the stricken British freighter Lochmonar with 73 persons aboard.

The 9,000-ton Lochmonar with a crew of 67 and six passengers was hard ground on little Cayman island near the fringe of the storm. Her master radioed he was "still hanging on" but that heavy seas whipped by the hurricane were "pounding."

The tug Curb was expected to reach the scene during the morning. A navy tug stood by in case further aid was needed. The Coast Guard here reported. The Curb left Kingston, Jamaica, late yesterday.

The weather bureau in a 4:45 a. m. (EST) advisory placed extreme South Florida in the "danger zone" of the storm and cautioned all interests to remain on the alert.

Chief storm forecaster Grady Norton said the Florida area under the alert was from Miami south on the east coast and from the Everglades south on the west coast.

He said the Florida Straits should begin feeling the first effects of the hurricane early this afternoon. Hard winds from a northeaster buffeted the Keys over the week-end. Key West reported 25 mile an hour winds and Miami 20 to 25 mile winds this morning.

The hurricane was located 175 miles south of Havana and 400 miles south southwest of Miami. The center was expected to reach the vicinity of the Isle of Pines about noon and the south coast of Cuba by late afternoon.

Storm warnings were displayed from Miami southward over the Keys.

Arab League Announces New Ruler In Holy Land

Amman, Trans-Jordan, Sept. 20—(AP)—Over the strong protests of Trans-Jordan and Iraq, the Arab League announced formation today of an Arab government for Palestine.

Ahmed Hilmy Pasha, military governor of the Arab-held section of Jerusalem, was appointed prime minister of the new government, an official announcement here said. Despite a declaration from King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan that such a government would amount to partitioning Palestine.

The Arabs have fought against partition ever since the beginning, as said King Abdullah refused to permit formation of the government

Contempt Trial Of ITU Starts

Main Enforcement Case Of Labor Law At Crucial Stage

Indianapolis, Sept. 20—(AP)—The government's main enforcement case under the Taft-Hartley law reached its crucial stage today with the opening of a federal court contempt trial against the newspaper printers union.

Charges that the AFL International Typographical Union and its principal officers continued Taft-Hartley act violations in face of its injunction were to be heard by Judge Luther M. Swygert.

The union flatly denied the charges in advance. It insisted the contempt action was brought only after prodding of the National Labor Relations Board officials by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Today's hearing is a new climax in the year-long legal battle growing from the Taft-Hartley laws ban on the closed shop. The ITU had fought for years to maintain closed shop conditions, requiring shop union membership among workers, in newspaper and commercial printing plants.

Russian Troops To Leave Korea By End Of Year

Announcement Is Joined To Call On U. S. To Evacuate Its Forces

Moscow, Sept. 20—(AP)—Russia will pull all her troops out of Northern Korea by the new year, an official statement said last night.

The announcement indicated the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the Far eastern trouble spot apparently will be unconditional although it called on the United States to have American troops out of southern Korea.

The news agency Tass announced the decree of the Presidium (executive) of the supreme Soviet.

The Russian move caused surprise in American diplomatic circles where some informants predicted the Soviet would not actually carry out the plan unless the Americans evacuate their area of Korea.

(The Tass announcement as broadcast by the Moscow radio and heard in London said the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Korea would begin "not later than the second half of October" and will be completed by next Jan. 1.)

Last year, the Russians announced a conditional plan for withdrawal of their Korean armies—to be carried out only if the Americans also took their troops out.

At that time, observers at the U. S. Embassy interpreted the move as "primarily a propaganda maneuver." Embassy sources said last night they were surprised that the latest withdrawal plan does not hinge on American compliance. They said this creates an entirely new situation in Korea.

The announcement gave no indication of the number of Soviet troops in northern Korea. Soviet troops occupied northern Korea after the Japanese surrender in World War II. American troops were sent into southern Korea.

Each section has a separate government, with the southern government established under United Nations Aegis.

Safe Stolen From Bethel Drug Store Last April Found

By CHESTER WALSH A medium size iron safe, containing about $3,000 and valuable papers, stolen from E. L. Reeves' Drug Store, on Main Street, in Bethel last April, has been found, Sheriff Ruel Tyson said today.

Wilbur Barrett of Oak City, about 10 or 12 miles north of Bethel, while with a party doing some survey work in an area of dense woods near Oak City, several days ago, found the broken-open safe in low grounds, and some of the papers were intact.

The night the drug store was robbed, Reeves told authorities, he was counting money after he had closed the store, and was making up deposits for the store and for his son. They totaled about $3,000. He was near a window and probably could have been seen from outside. Next morning the safe was gone.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the robbery never gave up. They have been working on the case during the intervening four months, and Sheriff Tyson said today he expects to solve the robbery sooner or later.

Incidentally, the robbers removed the safe from the store through a side door some time during the night, placed it on a truck, and fled. They picked a lonely spot to do their safe-cracking, he said.

More Estonians Flee To America

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 20—Sixty-nine refugee Estonians sailed into Southport, N. C. today after a 60-day Atlantic crossing in a 79-foot auxiliary schooner.

The Coast Guard here reported arrival of the vessel after it was stopped and boarded by officers from a coast guard cutter at Southport.

Name of the schooner was reported as "Prolific."

The cutter is escorting the schooner to Wilmington, N. C.

The cutter notified Coast Guard headquarters here that Capt. Bert Anderson is master of the schooner. Aboard were 31 men, 25 women and 13 children. All were reported in good health. One man had a minor foot injury.

The Coast Guard was informed that the "Prolific" had sailed from Uddvalva, Sweden, July 23.

The cutter expected to arrive with the "Prolific" at Wilmington this afternoon. Public Health, U. S. Customs and Immigration service officials there were notified.

PTA Meetings In All Districts Are Scheduled

Gibsonville, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—It's back to school for North Carolina parents, too.

The "school" is the annual conference of the Congress of parents and teachers in each of the ten state PTA districts. Top officers will discuss with local leaders the work for the year and plans to organize new groups.

Mrs. Ernest B. Hunter of Charlotte State PTA president, Miss Genevieve Burton, field secretary, and Mrs. J. W. Burk of Gibsonville, executive secretary, plans to attend all ten district meetings next month.

Comb County For Masked Bandits

Virginia Beach, Va., Sept. 20—(AP) Police combed Princess Anne county today for seven gunmen who yesterday held up and robbed more than a score of persons attending a private party here.

The bandits' loot was estimated at $2,500 by Princess Anne police chief Ivan Mapp.

Masked with handkerchiefs and armed with rifles and a sub-machine gun, the men invaded a stage party at the Boat House before dawn.

Marshall Arrives For UN Opening

Hundreds Of Delegates From 58 Countries Stream Into Paris For Autumn Session Of Assembly; Long List Of Issues

Paris, Sept. 20—(AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall arrived here today to attend the opening of the United Nations General Assembly tomorrow.

Marshall arrived as hundreds of delegates from 58 countries streamed into Paris for the 1948 autumn session of the assembly.

He and his party arrived at Orly Field in President Truman's plane, the Independence, after an uneventful 15 hour and 60-minute flight from Washington.

He went directly to the U. S. ambassador's residence where it was announced he would remain most of the day.

The assembly faces a long list of harsh political problems growing out of the cold war between east and west.

The opening session will be held in the main auditorium of the Palais de Chaillot, the United Nations' home for the next three months. Meanwhile, the U. N. Security Council has scheduled a meeting for this afternoon to continue its hearings on the India-Hyderabad conflict.

The fighting phase of the conflict has ended with Hyderabad's surrender.

The Indian delegation said it would ask the Security Council today to drop Hyderabad's request for intervention. The Nizam of Hyderabad said earlier that he had acted to withdraw his appeal to the U. N.

The most difficult problem before the assembly probably will be the current situation in Berlin that the United States, Britain and France had been attempting, so far in vain, to settle through secret negotiations with Russia.

Three of the Big Four foreign ministers planned to be in Paris today for the opening session. The latest word from Moscow, however, indicated that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would stay there. The Russian delegation is headed by Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Miss Ada Jones of Greenville was elected chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of the First Congressional District at the recent state convention at Greensboro.

The work at hand for the next two months is organizing of clubs in preparation for bringing out the Democratic vote at the November general election," she said today.

Miss Jones' elevation to the chairmanship automatically makes her a member of the Executive Committee of the State Young Democratic Clubs. She is woman's supervisor for the State Probation Commission, under direction of Probation Commissioner J. Harry Sample of Raleigh. She also is a member of the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club.

Again Warn Reds Arming Germans

Berlin, Sept. 20—(AP)—An anti-Communist newspaper charged today that Communists in western Germany are arming illegal shock troops for an eventual attempt to seize power in Berlin and all Germany by force.

Montag's Echo, organ of the rightist Liberal Democratic party, charged that these shock troops are composed of armed civilians who are being organized as auxiliaries of the Communist-controlled eastern German police.

So-called workers police battalions are being formed in the Russian sector of Berlin and throughout the Soviet occupation zone, the newspaper said. This was the latest of several recent reports in the western press that German Communists, with Russian aid, are building up their forces for an eventual armed fight for Germany.

Meanwhile, the Communists have been propagandizing Russian proposals that all occupying forces be withdrawn from Germany.

If that should happen, western sources said, the Communists alone would have armed forces at their disposal to work their will on German anti-Communists.

Tension Follows Burmese Slaying

Rangoon, Burma, Sept. 20—(AP)—A state of emergency existed throughout Burma today as a result of the slaying of Erik U Tin Tut, inspector general of the Burmese auxiliary force and a leader in the country's anti-Communist campaign.

Tin Tut died Saturday night at a hospital without ever regaining consciousness after a bomb exploded in his automobile Thursday. Police reported no success thus far in tracking down the persons who placed the bomb beneath the floor-board of the car.

Two Campaign Trips

President Truman And Governor Dewey Start Campaign With Extensive Tours; Their Tactics; Tough Schedules; Roosevelt's Election; Splits In Democratic Party

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 20—(AP)—The two big presidential candidates, President Truman and Governor Dewey, have begun their campaign trips.

Although the President apparently is facing an uphill fight, the New York governor doesn't seem to be taking victory for himself for granted. He is now following the President over much of the same campaign territory.

Mr. Truman started Friday in a special train of 17 cars. The governor started yesterday in a special train of 17 cars.

Mr. Truman made his first big talk near Des Moines, Iowa, Saturday. Governor Dewey was to make his first big talk at Des Moines tonight.

On this trip the President will speak in 13 states, the governor in 11. They'll speak in other states on other trips.

Most of their campaigning on this trip will be in states west of the Mississippi.

In doing this, they are following the campaign tactics of other presidential candidates before them:

1. Open the campaign in the West where the population and, there-

Delta Chapter Will Initiate New Members

The Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary society for women educators, at its first meeting for the fall on Saturday, September 25, will initiate four new members of the organization and will have as guest speaker Mrs. Genevieve Fau-cher of La Redoute, Algiers, French student now studying at the University of North Carolina. Elizabeth S. Walker of East Carolina Teachers College, president of the Delta chapter, has issued invitations to members in several eastern counties to be present at the initiation ceremony at four-thirty in the Classroom Building on the East Carolina campus and at a dinner meeting in the evening at the Greenville Woman's Club, where Mrs. Faucher will be speaker.

Those to be initiated on Saturday will be Ruth White of Colerain, assistant dean of women at East Carolina Teachers College; Marguerite Austin of Rock Hill, S. C., member of the college foreign languages department; Mrs. Herman Baker of Fountain; and Mrs. D. M. Clark of Greenville. They were chosen last spring for membership in the Delta Chapter.

Special guests at the dinner meeting will be Hattie Parrott of Raleigh and Mrs. Robert L. Humber of Greenville, president of the North Carolina organization of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Faucher will speak on the topic "Experiences of a Young Teacher in the Schools of Algiers." She was chosen last year as the recipient of a scholarship awarded her by the North Carolina organization of Delta Kappa Gamma and, since last December, has been studying for the doctor's degree at the University of North Carolina. A Frenchwoman by birth, she lives in Algiers and taught in the secondary schools there for three years before coming to this country. During the past summer she attended the state DKG convention at Nags Head and has also visited a number of chapters of the organization in various parts of the state.

Mission Service Tonight at Memorial Baptist Church

The Week of Missions will open tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Memorial Baptist Church with a service at which Dr. F. F. Lide, Southern Baptist missionary for many years at Shanghai, China, will bring the inspirational address. Also appearing on the program will be Rev. W. I. Johnson, pastor of the Ayden Baptist Church, who will lead the devotional. The choir of the Immanuel Baptist Church will furnish special music under the direction of Mrs. Moya Dall.

Services will be held each night at 7:30 o'clock, Monday through Friday, with a missionary address each night by a different speaker representing the Baptist State, Home and Foreign mission boards.

A dozen Baptist churches in this section of the Roanoke Baptist Association are sponsoring these services.

The people of Greenville of all denominations are invited to attend.

Germans Seek To Leave Homeland

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 20—(AP)—Thousands of would-be immigrants to the United States lined up at American consulates in Germany today.

It was announced Friday that the ban on immigration would be lifted for a total of 25,000 Germans and Austrians a year.

Some Germans arrived before the consulate in Frankfurt four hours before it opened for business.

"All of them seemed to be in a hurry to leave poor old Germany as quickly as possible," said a German policeman on duty.

The crowds gathered despite the fact newspapers had announced all applications to go on a quota waiting list would be handled by mail.

Many, however, already had their applications prepared and handed them in.

"I just want to work—it doesn't matter what sort of job it is," said a baker.

"I want to get out of Germany before the next war," a farmhand said.

Order Trial Of Woman Charged With Perjury

Portsmouth, Va., Sept. 20—(AP)—Mrs. Hazel Linton, 30, charged with perjury, was ordered held today by trial justice court for the action of the Norfolk county grand jury. The charge resulted from conflicting testimony she gave in connection with the investigation of the murder of Mrs. Vivina Caldwell, 20, Durham, N. C., waitress.

Mrs. Linton, a native of Elizabeth City, N. C., first gave testimony involving Charles C. Smith and Victory J. Manstone, who, as a result, were indicted on charges of murder.

When they were tried, last week however, she changed her testimony and both men were ordered cleared.

WHO IS YOUR DOCTOR?

Perhaps you are one of those fortunate individuals who has never been ill. If so, you have given the matter of medical care little thought. Here's hoping that illness never overtakes you or any of the members of your family. But if it does, you should be prepared. What physician would you call? Where would you take his prescriptions? Establish your family physician now. Prompt attention to minor ailments often prevents long, serious illnesses. When you find it necessary to consult him, depend on us to fill his prescriptions exactly as ordered.

Installment Buying Control Returns After 11 Months

Washington, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Federal control of installment buying returned today after a 11-month absence.

During that time the volume of time buying mounted to a record of nearly $7,500,000,000.

Some auto dealers and finance men predicted the generally stiffer terms will put the skids under the premium prices for used cars and put late models beyond the reach of many families.

They reasoned: to buy a car selling for $1,800 the purchaser must pay down $600 and $80 a month for 18 months. Monthly payments alone take a fourth of the income of a $3,840 a year family. And it costs money to operate a car.

The Federal Reserve Board, which fixed the credit terms under authority voted by Congress last month as an anti-inflation step, had more limited expectations — that the growth of the time buying debt would be slowed, not stopped or cut back.

Representatives of the auto manufacturers say the controls will not affect new car sales. They point to a backlog of orders for all cars that can be turned out in the next two years — when the controls are scheduled to expire and terms for new cars have been about as tough as the new ones.

In general, the federal controls require a one-third down payment in cash on autos, and a one-fifth down payment on the other items to which they apply, provided the selling price is over $50.

Looks For Wife With Weight

London, Sept. 20 — (AP) — In rationed England, widower Philip Edwards would feast himself in his declining years upon the sight of a wife who wears the old look of the days when Britain was a land of plenty.

And thus did he advertise today for a bride — with specifications: "A very stout, short partner xxx 14 stone (196 pounds) or over."

"There don't seem to be any stout ladies left," mourned Edwards, 54. "But I won't take a pound under 14 stone."

Couple Drown At Beach; Attempts To Rescue Fail

Mack Andrews, 44, and Mrs. Ice-lean Chase, 23, both of Bethel, were drowned last night after a struggle while swimming at Whitchard's beach near Washington.

Reports reaching here said the couple waded into water over their heads and were unable to get back to shallow water. Unsuccessful attempts were made to rescue the couple, it was reported.

The bodies were recovered late last night near the beach after several hours of dragging for them.

The Greenville fire department received a call from Whitchard's beach about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for use of the rescue truck. Fire Chief George Gardner said the truck reported to the scene of the accident and "stood by for about an hour until we knew it was too long for our oxygen equipment to do any good."

Beaufort County Coroner Bonner Paul said an investigation disclosed that the couple had gone swimming with Iredell Whitaker of near Williamston, an aunt of Mrs. Chase, and James W. Brown of near Statesville. He termed the deaths accidental drownings and said no inquest will be held.

Mrs. Chase lived with her father, Lester Whitaker of Bethel, and her two-year-old daughter, Gloria Jean. Mr. Andrews was employed by the Carolina Plant Farms and is survived by his father, R. M. Andrews of Bethel, four sisters, Mrs. Nellie Proctor and Mrs. A. J. Andrews of Bethel, Mrs. Sam Ingalls of Beaufort County and Mrs. Henry Jones of Farmville; a brother, Tom Andrews, and a half brother, Lee Bland of Bethel.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Face Civil War

Batavia, Java, Sept. 20 — (AP) — The fledgling Indonesian republic, her third largest city lost to the Communists, is facing civil war.

The Communists seized Madiun, in central Java, Saturday and breathed defiance today, accusing the republic's government of "selling the country to the imperialists."

A parliamentary working committee of the republic gave President Soekarno power to "take any measures he sees fit" to safeguard security.

Oil Workers And Company Confer

San Francisco, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Striking West Coast CIO Oil Workers and Standard Oil Company officials are meeting today to continue their efforts to settle the 17-day-old dispute. Peace officers in Contra Costa County meanwhile investigated a shot fired into the home of an oil plant foreman.

The bullet hit the residence in Rodeo of Lester Edwards, foreman of a union oil plant, alarming but not injuring Mrs. Edwards and their children. It was the first violence since last Tuesday's street fighting between pickets and APL Maintenance Workers in Richmond.

Federal conciliators are active in current negotiations seeking to bridge the gap between Union demands for a 21-cent wage hike and the offer of 12 1-2 cents by the six major companies.

French Cabinet Strengthened By Assembly Vote

Paris, Sept. 20 — (AP) — The government of Henri Queuille reached firmer ground today with Parliamentary approval of its economic program.

The national assembly capped an all-night session yesterday by approving, 291 to 251, Queuille's proposals for additional taxes totaling about $0,000,000,000 ($260,000,000) annually and cutting state expenses by 20,000,000,000 francs $65,000,000 a year.

Robert Schuman and Andre Marie, Queuille's two predecessors, lost their premierships trying to get the assembly to endorse similar programs.

Masked Man Makes Attack On Negro Nurses On Street

By CHESTER WALSH

Considerable excitement was caused on East Fourth Street, between Summit and Jarvis, last night about 11 o'clock when a partly masked man accosted, chased and threatened to attack Victoria Smith and Odessa Murrell, colored nurses, who were on their way to work at Pitt General Hospital.

The women's hysterical calls for help while they ran a block was heard several blocks, people of the neighborhood said. The nurses took refuge at the home of P. H. Kittrell, 316 Jarvis Street, and he called police. The radio car was there in a hurry. The frightened women described their assailant to officers. They took the nurses in the radio car to their work at the hospital.

A man of similar description was reported to police to have been nocturnally prowling on East Fifth Street earlier in the night.

J. L. Stocks, Cotanche Street and Sutton's Lane, reported to police that a man had been prowling in that neighborhood and that he had left footprints on his premises.

Police are continuing their investigation of both cases.

Accused Wife Slayer Hangs Self In Suicide

Asheville, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Drafus Davis, 48-year-old accused wife slayer, hanged himself in the Buncombe county jail yesterday.

Dr. P. R. Terry, coroner, listed the death as suicide, reporting Davis had left a note giving burial instructions.

Davis was arrested last week in a Cincinnati, O., hotel after officers said he jumped a $5,000 bond on a charge of murder.

Airline Picket Takes To Skies To Write Sign

New York, Sept. 20 — (AP) — A striking airlines pilot picketed in the sky yesterday as he spelled out the word "SCAB" some 10,000 feet above New York City's international airport.

It was Mack Gilmur's way of protesting ceremonies marking the start of flight operations at the field by National Airlines.

Gilmur is one of a number of striking National Airlines pilots. On the ground 40 additional pickets, including other striking pilots, marched outside the airport's administration building.

The picket line protested the company's alleged refusal to rehire striking pilots as recommended by

Hyderabad Under Full Control Of Indian Dominion

New Delhi, India, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Hyderabad, which lost a six-day war to India, is now under the civil and military control of that dominion.

Secunderabad, original objective of the Indian invasion after the Nizam of Hyderabad had refused India's request for permission to garrison it because of alleged disorders, is now under the command of Lt. Gen. Maharsa Shri Rejend-rashinhi, an army spokesman said.

(A dispatch from Secunderabad said that the working committee of the Hyderabad State Congress Party, will hold an emergency session in a few days to discuss its relationship with the National Congress Party. Prior to the invasion the state party fought to obtain responsible government.)

The Circus Maximus in which Roman games and gladiatorial contests were held is estimated to have seated 350,000 spectators.

Boyle's Column
By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—One of the hardest things in life for any man to master is the fine art of quitting.

This 24-karat truth is pointed up anew by the decision of Joseph Louis, the eminent pugilist, to resume his former calling.

At the ripe old age of 34, having amassed enough gelt to cushion his declining years, Joe announced he was through with his precision fist-fighting. He decided to trade in his gloves on a typewriter and launch a new career as a columnist-commentator for a Harlem newspaper.

Trying a new job was no mental hurdle to Joe. He was a newsboy, shined shoes, ran errands, delivered ice and worked in an automobile factory before he found how easy he could quintuple his income merely by doubling his fists.

But now Joe has changed his mind again—as have many champions who wanted to quit at the top—and he's going to try one more fight next June, when he'll be 35.

"Just one more, Joe."

It's hard to resist that plea. Sometimes the plea comes from within a champion's own heart. More often it comes from his retainers and the men around him who want to keep him in action to finish feathering their own nests.

It's true of politicians, businessmen and warriors as well as athletes. There's always a group that wants them to stay in there pitching after their own minds tell them it's time to step down.

"Just one more," they're told. "We need you. We can't win this time without you. Just once more."

It is hard to resist such flattering pressure, the "You're-the-only-who-can-do-it" flattery. And so the aching muscles of the weary mind goes back "just once more" into the fray. And too often what happens is what happened to Jim Jeffries when he emerged from retirement for a flabby rendezvous with Jack Johnson at Reno in 1910, to Jack Dempsey when he took on Gene Tunney a second time, and to Napoleon when he met a fellow called "The Iron Duke" at a wide place in the road called Waterloo.

But quitting at the right time—at the peak—is even more difficult for the common man than it is for the champion in any field.

To the ordinary man an enforced retirement isn't just a blow to his ego—it's usually a catastrophe caused by illness or accident. And planned retirement is to him a goal near the end of his life's run—a short dreamy interlude before death grabs him.

It's hard to quit. Perhaps the most gracious "quitter" of our day is Winston Churchill. He quits every time the voters toss him out, and goes off and writes some bestselling memoirs and paints some pictures.

Then, refreshed in spirits, Churchill rides back again into high public office on the changing tide, smiling and eloquent as ever and holding no resentment against the voters.

This unsinkable cork in the flood of modern history is the real political heavyweight of our times. He quits only to try again—and he's more comebacks than yo-yo.

WASHINGTON LETTER
By JANE EADS

Washington—A peacetime version of war-taught mercy transportation—air evacuation—is bringing back 88 percent of the United States servicemen who get wounded or become ill in posts throughout the world today. They are men who require long hospitalization and cannot soon be returned to duty or need a special kind of treatment not available overseas.

At the rate of about 500 a month they are being flown home by the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) from Europe, the Pacific, the Caribbean and Alaska. In addition to the C-54s, which are used in air evacuation of servicemen from overseas, there are twin-engine C-47 which fly what MATS calls the Samaritan and Humanitarian runs within the boundaries of the United States.

The C-54s carry about 30 patients, have a medical crew of one nurse and two male technicians and an operating crew of pilot, co-pilot, navigator, engineer and radio operator. One half of these big hospital planes is fitted up with seats for walking cases. The other half is fitted up with triple-decker litter sections.

This is what happens when a man is brought home from Europe:

First, the decision as to whether he shall be moved is made by the medical officer. The plane takes off from the European collecting point at Frankfurt, Germany. After an eight or nine-hour flight the plane lands at Logans Field in the Azores, where it spends the night. Next stop is at Stophensville, Newfoundland, for refueling after another eight to nine-hour flight. Westover Field, Mass. is five hours from there.

At every stop along the run doctors look the patient over, see if he's standing the trip all right, or if he needs any special attention. The same procedure is followed for men from the Pacific.

Once in the United States the main object is to get the patient to his final destination as quickly as possible without unnecessary rigors of travel. If a man comes from Chicago, for instance, he is sent to the nearest general hospital, Percy Jones at Battle Creek, Mich. If he is from Florida, to the nearest general hospital at Augusta, Ga. If he's from Spokane he goes to Madigan General Hospital at Tacoma, Wash.

Since the war more than 400,000 patients have been carried by Military Air Transport Service with never a major accident and less than 10 deaths in flight.

Women In The Church
By MARY FOWLER

Mrs. Harper Sibley, president of the United Council of Church Women, has issued a call for the fourth national biennial of the council, to meet in Milwaukee, Wis., November 15 to 19. Besides a platform program featuring Henry Luce, Mrs. J. D. Bragg, Dr. Sterling Fisher, Pres. Henry P. Van Dusen, Dr. John Mackey, Mrs. Welby Honstanger Fisher, Dr. Hilda Lazarus and other leaders, there will be "workshops" on publicity, films, radio, prayer, missions, leadership, and community problems.

The "new generation" of Chinese women, educated largely in the mission schools of the nation, are showing an interest in subjects never dreamed of by their mothers—or by their fathers for that matter; they are proving adept at the use of machinery and at the drafting and planning that go with the making of machine goods. So reports Prof. Sam Dean of the engineering department of Yenching University, Peiping, China. He finds that they are making excellent draftsman, and that they are expert when they choose to study textile engineering and mechanical engineering. They are even making good in a new course in electric welding, he says.

Before the recent war, the church women of Japan had strong denominational organizations and such interdenominational groups as the Federation of Church Women, the Y. W. C. A., and the W. C. T. U., says an appraisal of the place of Japanese women in the Christian church, prepared for the Foreign Missions conference of North America by Miss Alice E. Cary, a missionary. But during the war, when government forced church union, and women were called into community and wartime services, there was an almost complete cessation of women's activities outside the local church. Recently, however, a woman's division has been organized in the Kyodan (mission apostolic church) and the women have given attention to the rebuilding of church structures, the securing of church funds, the bringing of new members into the churches, the backing of plans for theological education for women, and the fostering of the World Day of Prayer. Miss Cary reports also the Y. W. C. A. and the W. C. T. U. have "survived the war" and are active; and that the woman's division (Bunka Kyokai) carries on a social service program for women in Tokyo.

Baptist Student Center Is Opened; Impressive Exercises In Dedication

By CHESTER WALSH

Impressive exercises marked the dedication of the Baptist Student Center for East Carolina Teachers College students, 404 East Eighth Street, near the campus, yesterday afternoon before an overflow audience. Rev. James W. Ray, state Baptist student secretary, presided and pronounced the invocation.

Rev. Clyde E. Baucum of Wilson, president of the General Board of the Baptist State Convention, formally presented the eight-room furnished house and lot to the ECTC students in behalf of the State Baptist convention, purchaser of the property. He and Rev. Howard Dawkins of Kinston, both members of the Executive Committee, felicitated Memorial and Immanuel Baptist churches for their interest in the spiritual and physical welfare of the students and paid tribute to Miss Gloria Blanton, local Baptist student secretary, for her outstanding work.

Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, and Mrs. J. A. Nelson, wife of the pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, were eloquent in their praise of Miss Blanton's work among the ECTC students, they complimented Dr. John D. Messick, president of the college, for his interest and cooperation with all denominations in their religious activities on the campus.

Mr. Hardaway said "the commission of Dr. Messick marked the dawn of a new and greater day for the institution."

Mrs. Moye Dall sang "Bless This House, O Lord," with Miss Marie Orr, a student, as accompanist.

Miss Faye Howard of St. Paul, newly elected president of the Baptist Student Union, made a happy short speech of acceptance for the students and thanked the State Baptist Convention for making the Student Center available. She spoke on behalf of the 525 Baptist and Baptist preference students at East Carolina Teachers College.

Miss Blanton described the eight-room religious and recreational center, told of its purposes and emphasized the point that "it is the desire of all that the student center will be an asset to the Christian cause on the ECTC campus and in the city."

Dr. Messick described education and religion as a wonderful combination for good, and encouraged the great work the Student Center has set out to do.

Rev. Mr. Ray, chairman of the dedicatory program, recalled the good work of Rev. Clyde E. Baucum and Rev. Howard G. Dawkins on the Executive Committee in having the Greenville Student Center approved and purchased.

The chairman was eloquent in his praise of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ward for their kindly spirit in selling the furnished house to the State Baptist Convention for such a worthy cause. They responded briefly, saying they had spent many happy years in the home and are happy now that it is going to be used for such a good purpose.

Miss Julia Bray, social vice-president of the Baptist Student Union, led the 150 or more persons present in a tour of inspection of the buildings. Members of the Baptist Student Union served light refreshments.

Guests recognized included Leonard Morgan, Jr., State Baptist Un-

North Carolina Leads Country In Assault Cases

Washington, Sept. 20 — (AP)—North Carolina had more aggravated assaults in the first six months of this year than any other state.

Federal Bureau of Investigation figures show aggravated assaults in the Tar Heel State totaled 343 per 100,000 persons.

Charlotte had a total of 288 such cases in that time.

The FBI said aggravated assaults include assaults with intent to kill; assault by shooting, cutting, stabbing, maiming, poisoning, scalding or by the use of acids.

Alabama was second with 195 per 100,000 population, while Virginia was third with 114.

Larger Enrollment Farmville Schools

The Farmville Schools, since they opened on September 14 for the 1948-49 term, have the largest enrollment in the school's history, Sam D. Bundy, the principal, stated.

The Elementary School has enrolled 500 students, about the same number as last year.

The High School last year had an enrollment of 180. This year 220 have been enrolled. Principal Bundy said the school in all probability will gain an extra high school teacher at the end of the first two weeks. Total enrollment at the Farmville schools now is 720 students, with a teaching staff of 28 teachers, including both state allotted and special teachers.

SMITH ELECTRIC CO.

Phone 2273 Since 1918

Tarboro, N.C., Sept. 20—(AP)—President Ray Goodmon of the Coastal Plain League today drafted a report on a Kinston player strike which threw the championship playoff with Tarboro in temporary turmoil.

Eleven members of the Kinston club returned to the job yesterday after refusing to play Saturday night's game here. Kinston dropped a 5-1 decision which gave Tarboro a lead of two games to one in the series.

Goodmon said he would fine the players, but added that he would not set amounts until after he finishes a report for George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The 11 players stayed away from Saturday night's game, Goodmon said, because Kinston club officials refused to pay an allegedly promised bonus for their qualifying for semifinal and final playoffs.

The Kinston management denied it had offered any such bonus, which would be in violation of baseball law, Goodmon declared.

He called the players' action a "breach of contract, pure and simple."

All of the 11 players appeared for yesterday's game, Goodmon reported, and "they were bearing down all the way." He had announced that unless they showed up, he would recommend that they be placed on baseball's ineligible list for life.

He identified the players as Frank Cronin, Bill Jeffries, Frank Fablich, Ed Smith, Joe Baston, Joe Turk, John Tepedino, Pete Pawlowski, Al Porrell, Emil Peters and Lou Herrington.

He said he was told by Charlie Larking, president of the Kinston club, that spokesmen for the players had reported that the difficulty was worked out and that they would finish the series. The next game is scheduled at Kinston tonight.

Larking declined to comment other than to say "the players were out there" for yesterday's game.

On orders from Goodmon, Saturday night's game was played.

Boston Acquires Star Infielder

Detroit, Sept. 20—(AP)—Boston's hard pressed Red Sox, leading the American league by only a half game over the Cleveland Indians and one game over the New York Yankees, bought infielder Lou Stringer from Hollywood and recalled outfielder Neil Sheridan from Seattle.

Sheridan arrived yesterday in time to run for Bobby Doerr in the second game the Sox lost to the Tigers.

Doerr, who made his first error after handling 411 chances in 74 straight games, still feels the effects of a strained leg muscle and his replacement, Billy Hitchcock, has a charley horse.

That's why the Sox purchased Stringer from the Hollywood club which, like Seattle, is a member of the Pacific Coast League.

Stringer, a former Chicago Cub player, had been managing the Hollywood State since Jimmy Dykes was fired a month ago.

Stringer, honored yesterday as Hollywood's most valuable and most popular player, had a Coast League batting average of .344 in 168 games in which he had driven in 91 runs. Seven of his 219 hits were home runs.

The new Sox infielder is 29 and was with the Chicago Cubs in 1941 and 1942 after two years with Los Angeles in the Coast loop. He was in the service three years, returned to the Cubs in 1946 and was with Los Angeles in 1947 before going to Hollywood.

Manager Bull Hamons and his pennant-winning Tars took two straight games from the Kinston Eagles during the week-end to take a 2 to 1 lead in the finals of the Coastal Plain League championship race. They won the Saturday night game to the tune of 18 to 5 and then on Sunday afternoon took a 5 to 1 decision over the Eagles. Both games were played in Tarboro.

Saturday's Game
In a free-scoring and free-hitting game in which the Tars collected 22 hits, including four doubles, two triples and three homers, the Eagles were subdued by the score of 18 to 5.

Tarboro scored in the first frame with four runs on a single, triple, double and a two-run homer by Ray Komaneky over the leftfield fence. They scored three runs in the fourth on walk, four singles and an error; one in the fifth on two walks and a single; one in the fifth when Ray Komaneky hit over the right field wall for his second homer of the night; and seven big runs in the seventh frame on eight hits, including two doubles and a triple aided by an error; and scored two in the eighth when Ralph Caldwell homered over the left field wall with Komaneky on base.

Ray Dietrich, who was the loser over Kinston Friday night in the opening game received credit for the win after pitching six innings in which he allowed seven hits and all five of their runs. Kinston's five runs came in the fifth on three singles and four walks. Eddie Neville relieved Dietrich in the seventh frame and held the Eagles to one hit and no runs.

Hardison, Kinston's right fielder got three singles to lead the eight hit attack of the losers. Ray Komaneky with two homers and two singles and Ralph Caldwell with a homer, triple, double and a single led the 22-hit attack over the two Kinston hurlers.

Sunday's Game
Tommy Pritchard held the Kinston Eagles to three hits as the Tarboro Tars defeated the Kinston Eagles, 5 to 1, in the third game of the final series of the Coastal Plain League.

The Tars made three runs in the first frame and then coasted to victory. In the first, Andrewsh walked, Townes singled, Daniel singled scoring Andrewsh, Komaneky was hit on the elbow by the pitcher to load the bases, Urban hit line drive through the pitcher's mound to bring in Townes and Daniels.

The Tars scored again in the fifth when Pritchard singled, went to second on Andrewsh's infield out and Neville singled to bring home Pritchard. The final run of the Tars was made in the eighth frame when Ralph Caldwell homered over the leftfield wall to start the frame.

Kinston bunched two of their three hits in the fifth inning to shove across their only run of the game. Tepedino singled, stole second, went to third on Pliska's infield out and Jeffries doubled bringing in Tepedino.

Armand Porrell started on the mound for the Eagles but was sent to the showers in the first frame after pitching to only six men in which he allowed three runs and three hits. Joe Baston pitched the remainder of the game and allowed six hits and two runs.

Kinston's three hits were made by Jeffries, Turk and Tepedino and were all singles. Ray Urban with a double and a single and Jake Richards with a double and a single led the 9-hit attack for the Tars.

Sport Slants by Pap

Tony Zale bounced back into the dressing room under the stands of Ruppert Stadium following his impressive triumph over Rocky Graziano which enabled him to regain the middleweight championship. His broad, flat face was split with a broad, toothy grin as he greeted the waiting sportswriters.

"I knew I had him by the way he reached to the first punch," said Zale, "Retiring? No, I'm not retiring, not when I feel so good."

"At 34, he's younger than Rocky Graziano at 26," volunteered Ray Arzel, faintly bursting with pride over the fine job of conditioning he had done on Zale. Tony has plenty of good fights left—sure he'll fight Rocky again—or anyone else."

The three meetings between Zale and Graziano will long be remembered among the most bruising and exciting battles ever fought in the ring. The first bout saw Zale come back from the brink of defeat to put Rocky down for the count in the sixth round with a smashing left hook to the mid section. Tony appeared to be on his way to another victory over a badly battered Graziano when the heat, and Rocky's suddenly caught up with him. Graziano won the title in six rounds. The rubber battle was all Zale as he battered Graziano to the canvas in three rounds to regain his title. On that occasion, Zale was at the peak of his boxing form. But when an athlete passes the (34 or more) mark he must realize that his active days are numbered.

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

Although the Roanoke Rapids "Yellow Jackets" came on the bottom end of the 20 to 19 score with Kinston Friday night, Coach Danny Cagel was well pleased. He remarked, "They looked kinda shaky in the first half but they looked good in the second half." Incidentally the Yellow Jackets scored three touchdowns in the last half.

Coach Wagner of Washington High School was asked what he thought of his victory over Tarboro. He laughed and remarked: "We won't tell them nothing, we'll show them."

"We were lucky." That was what was heard all over Kinston in their 20 to 19 victory over Roanoke Rapids.

Coach "Shot" Cox of Tarboro didn't have anything to say about his "Tars" after the defeat handed them by Washington. A fan remarked: "That Tarboro didn't want to wind up on top of everything. When it comes to baseball you know we'll be there, but football, we just ain't got it."

Coach Jim Johnson will work his Pirates on pass defense this week. This is the only department that looked rough in Friday night's tilt. The Marines scored two touchdowns in the air.

Backfield Coach Boone of ECTC was asked what he thought of the game Friday night. "Well we got the material all right. Now we have got to find the right place to put it."

Western Carolina Teachers College battled the High Point eleven to a 7 to 6 upset Saturday in a North State Conference tilt. This was the opening of the North State Conference and the first upset. T'll say "there will be more."

Other games in North State Conference:
Catawba 42 A.C. Wilson 7
Appalachian 21, Gullford 14.
Erskine 77 Lenoir Rhyne 6
Others not scheduled of played non-conference games.

Football Roundup

The season opened, piecemeal fashion, last week-end. Villanova showed surprising power in stopping Texas A. and M., 34-14 at Philadelphia. Two other Texas teams had better luck. The University of Texas Longhorns smothered Louisiana State, 33-0, and Texas Christian edged Kansas, 14-13, in 90 degree heat at Lawrence.

Win, Lose Or Draw, Cleveland's Manager Rates As Outstanding Player Of Major Leagues; Two Homers Sunday

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Win, lose or draw, Lou Boudreau, shortstop-manager of the Cleveland Indians, rates as the outstanding player of the major leagues.

It is largely through his efforts—at bat, in the field and on the bench—that the Indians are only half a game out of the American League lead today, with an excellent chance to win their first flag in 25 years.

Lou blasted his 15th and 16th round trippers yesterday to account for both his team's runs in Cleveland's second game 3-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Tribe also won the opener, 5-3.

The pair of victories, coupled with the double setback handed to the Boston Red Sox by the Detroit, 4-3 and 8-6, boosted the Indians within half a game of the pace-setting Sox.

The Indians also valued over the New York Yankees into second place when the Bronx-bombers were held to a split in their doubleheader with the Browns in St. Louis. The hustling Browns took the first game, 8-5; New York won the second 8-6.

In the National League, only a complete collapse can stop the Boston Braves from winning their first flag in 24 years. The Braves defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4-2 yesterday. They lead the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals by six games.

The Cards moved into a second place tie with the Dodgers, scoring two victories over the Giants in New York, 4-3 and 3-1. The Dodgers whipped the Chicago Cubs in Brooklyn, 8-1.

Philadelphia all but eliminated the Pittsburgh Pirates, trouncing the Bugs in a twin bill, 9-6 and 5-3. Pittsburgh trains by eight games. The fifth place Giants are only two games away from being mathematically eliminated.

A paid Cleveland crowd of 75,382 saw Larry Boby slam a dramatic ninth inning home run with Joe Gordon on base to break a 3-3 tie and give the Indians their first game triumph.

Wages lost annually by factory workers due to accidents would buy a year's supply of food and clothing and pay the rent for a year for nearly 1,500,000 people.

Young Gonzales Is New National Singles Champ

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 20—(AP)—A new era had dawned in American tennis today as the national singles championship passed into the sturdy hands of Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, a 20-year-old power player from the busy, year-round courts of Los Angeles.

Gonzales, one of the youngest net stars ever to wear the crown, captured it yesterday when he whipped Eric Sturges of South Africa, 6-2, 6-3, 14-12, in the finals of a tournament which was marked by the passing of the game's old guard, at least from the championship scene.

Players like Frankie Parker, Gardner Mulloy and Bill Talbert—left behind by Jack Kramer to carry on when he turned pro after winning the title in 1947—never progressed beyond the quarterfinals in this 67th annual tournament. The 33-year-old Parker was the only one of the trio to get that far. Instead, the youngsters who have developed since the war dominated the championships.

Gonzales, ranked eighth in the tournament and 17th nationally, was the only seeded American to reach the semifinals. The only other American to reach the round of four, was still younger, 18-year-old Herb Flam.

Thus the pattern was set for a new chapter in the American court game. The ranking committee will be faced with the prospect of a wholesale revision in the national list for 1948.

High Pockets

by Herbert Shapiro

HI POCKETS Chapter 26
Strong hands reached for it, and in a brief span of seconds thirty men with grim-faced Dan Caldwell leading them stormed out of the place, headed for the Sheriff's office down the street. Corbin followed them out . . . in another minute he came back. Murphy looked up in surprise.

"Smatter?" he asked.

"You go with 'em," Corbin said quickly. Murphy ripped off his apron, slung it aside, came swinging out from behind the bar. "It'll look better if I kinda tag along toward the end o' things. Get it?"

"Yeah, sure. But s'pose someb'dy asks what 'bome o' you? What'll I tell 'em?"

"Just say quick-like that I'm lockin' up the cash and that I'll be along d'rectly. But don't let 'em hold things up fr me."

The pudgy bartender grinned significantly . . . and evilly.

"Right," he said and he went out, pulled the door shut behind him.

Corbin turned, strode to the cash drawer under the bar, opened it . . . the door creaked as he raised his head. He stared hard for framed figures in whose big right hand a Colt gleamed menacingly and its muzzle seemed to gape at Corbin with hungry, ever-widening jaws. Corbin gulped. He saw George thrust his leg backward, heard the door slam door. Corbin folded his arms over his face but George hammered him relentlessly, gritted as he drove his punches home, concentrating for a minute on his burly opponent's body, then shifting to Corbin's head, rocking him with powerful smashes. Corbin's arms came down slowly and shut, then as he stood rooted to the floor, George came up to the bar. The tall youth leaned over it suddenly, and he snatched Corbin's gun out of its holster, flipped it backward . . . it spun across the room, struck the far wall, caromed off, slid floorward until it collided with a table leg which stopped its wild flight.

"Awright," George said curtly. "Come outta there."

Slowly Corbin closed the cash drawer; slowly too he turned and dragged the length of the bar, came out from behind it and stopped. George had followed him to the end of the bar; now, the Colt still steady in his right hand, he looked coldly at Corbin.

"I s'pose," he said evenly, "I oughta tell you that Judge Scott, Sheriff Loomis and me heard everything you told them other fellers. I gotta hand it t' you, Corbin. You're just about the mosst 'civical' 'est I ever heard o' know fr a minute, while I was listenin' t' you. I f'got I was the one you were lyin' about. We worked our way around t' your back window, Corbin, and got into your storeroom, opened the door a crack and heard the hull show. It was pretty good, on'y we knew you were lyin' and that kinda spoiled it fr us."

Corbin turned slightly and his eyes watched the door hopefully, eagerly. George was motionless, silent, then Corbin suddenly jerked his head around. George grunted.

"No use hopin' fr somethin' that can't happen," he said gruffly. He holstered his gun, unbuckled his belt and took it off, turned on his heel and strode to the door. He opened it, tossed the belt into the street, turned again and came striding back. Corbin heard the door close gently. George stopped, picked up a chair and slung it across the room, caught up another and swung it over his head, then whirling, sent it spinning over the bar. The long wall mirror behind the bar and the double tier of whiskey bottles stacked in front of the mirror disintegrated with a shattering crash. A cry of rage preceded a bull-like rush by Corbin . . . George tried to sidestep but the burly Corbin, plunging at him like a pain-maddened steer, struck him and sent him spinning away. George crashed into a table and Corbin, swinging at him blindly, sent him reeling away. Blood flecked his lips and the sight of it seemed to enrage Corbin all the more . . . He swarmed over George, breathing through his open mouth, smashing at him with his huge fists. George went down again and Corbin leaped on him but George twisted away in time as Corbin came crashing down on his hands and knees. George scrambled to his feet, backed away after casting a hasty glance backward to make certain there was nothing behind him. Corbin belted something indistinct and came plunging forward again, his heavy arms outthrust as though he sought to crush him in them.

George side-stepped nimbly, struck swiftly, and whirled away . . . he came flashing forward again, struck twice more, hard, cutting blows, then he was away again. Corbin roared with rage, turned slowly, raised his arms again when George glided in and drove a murderous punch into Corbin's stomach, pivoted and with almost the same motion, lifted his same fist into Corbin's face. Blood spattered Corbin's shirt-front and he stopped, looked down at it . . . George's fist came swinging through space and thudded cruelly against Corbin's nose with a curious, crunching sound. Again blood spurted from Corbin's face. He was panting now, open-mouthed, his head bent forward a bit, his heavy legs quivering. There was blood smeared on his nose and mouth. He closed his mouth, doubted his fists, moved forward . . . George met him. A hard punch that carried wrist-deep into Corbin's stomach doubled him up . . . another punch that came whistling upward in an arching swing landed flush on his jaw and straightened him up and sent him staggering away on wobbly legs.

He fell against a table, forced himself upright again, and moved away when George pursued him, and caught up with him near the he sagged and fell sideways. George, panting heavily, checked himself and Corbin dragged himself to his feet. He came erect presently, turned to meet the onslaught . . . George, pivoting on a firmly planted foot, struck him twice more and Corbin fell like a pole, struck the floor on his battered face, and rolled over on his back, his leaden arms outflung.

Star Billing For Woman Witness

Washington, Sept. 20—(AP)—Congressional spy hunters gave star billing today to Mrs. Louise Branstetter, a wealthy New Yorker once dubbed as a major "contact" for Communists here.

Members of the House Un-American Activities committee were hopeful she could help them track down leaders of an alleged wartime Soviet espionage ring they claim operated in this country.

Mrs. Branstetter was subpoenaed to testify this morning behind closed doors, but there was no assurance that she would be what the committee calls "a helpful witness."

She first came to the committee's attention during its 1947 hearings on Communist activities in Hollywood.

Louis J. Russell, committee investigator, testified last October that Mrs. Branstetter contacted leading Russians in this country, and entertained them in her home.

As recently as a few years ago, Russell testified, she was "what would be termed in a confidence game racket as the sharper or leader. That is, in Communist party circles she directs the manner in which contacts with certain people are to be made. She has contacts, did have them, in numerous government agencies."

Two Campaign . . .

He got the Democratic Party's nomination at its Philadelphia convention only after bitter splits and squabbles.

Now, a month before the election, public opinion polls show that—at this time, anyway—Governor Dewey is the apparent winner.

And then there's Henry Wallace, running for president on the Progressive Party ticket. Wallace rates no chance of winning.

But he may win votes away from Mr. Truman in some of the important cities and split the Democratic vote.

If the split is big in those places.

Strike Actions Continue Over Much Of Nation

By the Associated Press

Labor disputes involving automobile workers in Detroit and maritime and oil workers on the West Coast continued today. But in New York the ranks of striking truck drivers declined and a threatened bus strike was averted. In Missouri, 4,000 lead miners ended a 10-week strike.

A dispute between the Briggs Manufacturing Co. and 170 of its plant guards kept 60,000 other automobile industry employees idle.

The Detroit firm rejected a UAW-CIO settlement proposal as the strike entered its 13th day, it charged the UAW was itself, guilty of a "wildcat strike" in refusing to work.

The plant guards are members of an independent union.

Elizabeth City Building Burns

Elizabeth City, Sept. 20—(AP)—Firemen late this morning succeeded in bringing under control the fire which early today destroyed the Eastern Carolina Feed and Seed Company which formally opened for business about one month ago.

No estimate of the damage caused by the fire which was reported to have started from spontaneous combustion had been made. The plant was unofficially valued at $300,000.

Colored: William Smith, Jr., Greenville and Ethel Peyton, Greenville; Edward Williams, Greenville and Ernestine Cox, Greenville; George B. Wooten, Falkland and Helen Stator, Greenville Rt. 1.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Sept. 20—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices stronger. Tops of $29 at Rocky Mount, Tarboro and Wilson; $28.75 at Greenville, Smithfield, Mt. Olive, Dunn, Kinston, Goldsboro, Washington, and Richmond.

N.Y. Cotton

New York, Sept. 20—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 40 cents a bale lower to 10 cents higher.

Noon prices were 65 cents a bale lower to 45 cents higher than the previous close. Oct. 31.25, Dec. 30.99 and March 30.80.

Futures closed $1.00 a bale lower to 75 cents higher than the previous close.

Grain Market

Chicago, Sept. 20—(AP)—Renewed short covering in the September corn contract lifted prices from the day's low toward the close of the board of trade session.

At the close wheat was 1/2 to 1 cent lower than Saturdays close, September $2.25 1/2. Corn was 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, September $1.09 1/2-70. Oats were 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, September 71 1/2-70. Rye was 1/2 lower, December $1.09 1/2. Soybeans were 1/4 to 3/4 lower, November $2.45-44 1/2.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Sept. 20—(AP)—(NCDA)—Broilers steady to slightly stronger at 34-35; eggs, steady, a large 60.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Sept. 20—(AP)—Prices fell 1 to more than 2 points today in heavy trading on the stock market. Volume pushed to around 1,300,000 shares, one of the largest totals in more than a month.

the undivided Republicans will carry them for Dewey.

And then there's the split in the South which used to be solidly Democratic. Mr. Truman has angered a lot of white Southerners by insisting that southern Negroes get more civil rights.

Some of those angry Southerners have set up their own States' Right Democratic Party to oppose Mr. Truman. Their presidential candidate, Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, is sure to get a lot of votes away from Mr. Truman.

Nevertheless, the President seems convinced that by hard campaigning he can overcome these handicaps, none of which Mr. Roosevelt faced.

A sudden world crisis or a slip-up by Governor Dewey, or some other Republican, could give Mr. Truman a big break.

Surrender . . .

the Nizam's subjects are Hindus, and that the state itself lies wholly within Dominion territory. The Nizam has declined, declaring that he was retaining independence. Then the dominion demanded that a plebiscite be held in Hyderabad to determine the will of the people.

Finally the dominion declared that a state of anarchy existed in Hyderabad, and called on the Nizam to put it down. The lives of Britons and Americans in the state were said to be endangered, and they were removed. Then last week the dominion insisted that the anarchy persisted, invaded Hyderabad in force.

It is interesting and perhaps significant that the invasion was commanded in person by Lt. Gen. Maharaja Sri Rajendrasinhji, who himself has princely rank as a close relative of the Maharajah of Nawanganar. The point, as I see it, is that the proud Nizam might feel he could surrender to one of his own class without losing face. I suspect that the dominion took that into consideration, with the idea of shortening the Nizam's resistance.

Strike Actions Continue Over Much Of Nation

By the Associated Press

Labor disputes involving automobile workers in Detroit and maritime and oil workers on the West Coast continued today. But in New York the ranks of striking truck drivers declined and a threatened bus strike was averted. In Missouri, 4,000 lead miners ended a 10-week strike.

A dispute between the Briggs Manufacturing Co. and 170 of its plant guards kept 60,000 other automobile industry employees idle.

The Detroit firm rejected a UAW-CIO settlement proposal as the strike entered its 13th day, it charged the UAW was itself, guilty of a "wildcat strike" in refusing to work.

The plant guards are members of an independent union.

Elizabeth City Building Burns

Elizabeth City, Sept. 20—(AP)—Firemen late this morning succeeded in bringing under control the fire which early today destroyed the Eastern Carolina Feed and Seed Company which formally opened for business about one month ago.

No estimate of the damage caused by the fire which was reported to have started from spontaneous combustion had been made. The plant was unofficially valued at $300,000.
