Hurricane Hits Key West; Winds Rising in Miami

No Casualties At Island City; Gales Reach 110 Miles An Hour

Miami, Fla., Sept. 21—(AP)—Winds of 110 miles an hour lashed Key West today as a big and growing tropical hurricane brushed near or over the island city 175 miles south of Miami.

All weather stations along the long narrow stretch of Florida keys—famous fishing grounds for thousands—reported hurricane force winds of 75 miles an hour or better.

Torrential rains accompanied the winds.

The hurricane was a short distance south of Key West at 10:30 a. m. (EST) and moving northeastward at about 10 miles an hour.

Key West reported 110 mile an hour winds at 10:30 a. m. Red Cross officials at the island city where President Truman has his "little white house" said no casualties had been reported. Shelters were crowded.

In Miami, sustained wind reached 60 miles an hour and visibility was almost wiped out by the blowing rain.

The storm has enlarged and hurricane winds and strong gales now cover an area about 300 miles in diameter, the weather bureau reported.

The slow movement of the storm will keep the center over south Florida for a longer period and delay the arrival of hurricane winds somewhat, forecasters said.

The storm grew rapidly in size after crossing Cuba, said Chief forecaster Grady Norton.

The hurricane came to a halt 55 miles south of Key West during the night, but the weather bureau reported in at 6:30 a. m. (EST) that it had begun moving forward again.

Many stores were closed for the day in Miami. People forced to come out fought against stiff winds.

The barometer reading at Key West was 29.23 and at Miami, 29.53.

The weather bureau said the hurricane reformed northeast of Havana during the night. The eye of the storm became distorted while passing over the hills of Cuba, and "apparently the hurricane paused in the Florida straits for regeneration before continuing its march on Florida," the weather bureau stated.

Coroner Orders Man Held Murder Charge

A coroner's jury at the city hall in Ayden last night ordered John David Allen, colored, held without bond for the grand jury, for the pistol slaying of Moses Carmen, colored, in Ayden on the night of Sept. 13. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse presided.

Testimony was that Allen and Carmen had an argument about a woman; that each made threats, and that Carmen left the scene after threatening Allen; that he returned shortly afterward, resumed the argument and indicated that a bulge in his hip pocket was a gun, but it was a piece of wood, and that Allen shot Carmen. The wounded man died at Pitt General hospital the next night.

Ayden police arrested Allen and took him to the county jail in Greenville.

To Ask Removal Of Most Of City Parking Meters

Merchants Association To Present Petition To City Board At Next Meeting; Christmas Plans Discussed

A request for elimination of all parking meters in Greenville with the exception of those on Evans Street between Third Street and Five Points and on Dickinson Avenue between Five Points and the A.G.L. Railroad will be formally presented to the Board of Aldermen at its regular meeting on October 7. The petition will be presented in the name of the Greenville Merchants Association as a result of pleas of a large number of local business houses that the meters are a nuisance to the public and are hurting business.

At last night's regular meeting of the Merchants Association directors a large group of representative merchants and businessmen appeared before the board and discussed the parking meter situation at length. Some of those present stated that they were opposed to all parking meters on the grounds that the city was charging the public for the use of public streets. Others were of the opinion that if any parking meters were retained they should be on Evans Street and Dickinson Avenue only.

Some of the merchants stated that when they were first approached by representatives of the city administration about parking meters it was their impression that the meters would be only on the main business streets but in reality they had been placed on many streets completely surrounding the business section for several blocks.

Every person present at the meeting last night was asked to express an opinion on the parking meter question with the result that the meter plan found no proponents. It was the general consensus that the parking meters were a detriment rather than an asset to the city and the Merchants Association directors voted unanimously to petition the city for the desired relief in the matter. The directors also urged that all business men and

Britain Orders Fleet Refitted

Warships To Return To Service In View Of Crises

London, Sept. 21—(AP)—Britain considers the international situation so grave that it suspended commercial work in the royal dockyards today in order to refit about 100 warships for service.

An official Navy announcement said the ships are to be made ready for duty before April. An Admiralty spokesman said, however, the work can be done very quickly—perhaps within two months.

The announcement of the big naval preparedness move came soon after the government slowed down demobilization of the armed forces, stepped up recruiting of new troops, began doubling the production of jet fighter planes and started re-equipping its air force.

The overhaul and refitting of the naval vessels will involve smaller ships chiefly. The Royal Navy's big battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers, though not all in use at any one time, are kept in a comparative state of readiness.

The Admiralty did not say exactly when the ships are to be refitted. Admiralty records showed that last spring the navy had in reserve 65 destroyers, 136 frigates, two monitors, 31 submarines, 51 minesweepers and three fast minelayers.

The Admiralty spokesman said it was from these reserves that the ships to be refitted would be chosen.

Talk Transfer Of Destroyers To Turkish Navy

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—The Turkish fleet soon may be bolstered by several modern American destroyers, diplomatic officials said today.

Negotiations for the transfer under this country's Greek-Turkish military aid program are in the final stage, they said.

The destroyers would add considerable striking power to the generally outdated naval forces, with which Turkey guards the strategic Dardanelles.

Last spring the U. S. Navy turned over four modern long range submarines, eight minesweepers, and other support vessels to the Turks.

In addition, American aircraft carriers have been ferrying planes and other military equipment to help this key middle eastern country guard against any Communist aggression.

Candidate Dewey Answers Truman Charge In West

Pledges Water And Land Development; Big Send-Off In First Address

Enroute to Denver with Dewey, Sept. 21—(AP)—Water and land development was pledged today by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in answer to President Truman's charge that the Republicans plan "sabotage of the West."

Following Mr. Truman into Denver, the Republican presidential nominee prepared in his second major speech of the campaign there tonight to talk about "our land as the basic resource of our country's material strength."

The quotes were those of Paul Lockwood, the New York governor's secretary, who told reporters:

"The governor will discuss the need to conserve our natural resources and to develop our country for the future. He will pledge an administration that understands our land and water problems and that will keep our country strong as it works earnestly for peace in the world."

A howling, whistling crowd estimated at 8,000 persons gave Dewey a rousing send-off in the jammed Drake University field house.

While Mr. Truman blamed the Republicans in his Denver speech for high prices, Dewey contented himself in Des Moines with setting forth a doctrine of his own for the next administration he hopes to head.

In his own words, it was:

"Foreign policy—I pledge to you a foreign policy based upon the firm belief that we can have peace. That policy will be made effective by men and women who really understand the nature of the threat to peace and who have the vigor, the knowledge and the experience required to wage peace successfully."

"Congress—I pledge to you an administration which will know how to work with the elected representatives of the people and that wants to work with them and will do so."

"Teamwork—I pledge to you a government of teamwork. The executive heads of your government will be really qualified for their positions and they will be given full responsibility to do their jobs without loose talk, factional quarreling or appeals to group prejudice."

"House cleaning—I pledge to you that on next January 20 there will begin in Washington the biggest unrelenting, unswerving, untangling operation in our nation's history."

"Over-all policy—I pledge to you that every act of mine will be determined by one principle above all others: Is this good for the country?"

Balk At Berlin Problem Taken Before Assembly

Berlin, Sept. 21—(AP)—German Communists said today the United Nations general assembly had no authority to debate the Berlin crisis.

Obviously Mirroring Moscow's view, the Communists said the blockade and allied German problems can be settled only by the four occupying powers—the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

The Russian-controlled Berlin press claimed that bringing the Berlin question before the U. N. would result in the "torpedoing" of the proposed big four conference in Moscow on east-west differences.

The Russians also charged that Germans are being groomed for the role of mercenary soldiers in a future war against the Soviet Union.

United States Endorses Report By Bernadotte

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—The United States today endorsed Count Folke Bernadotte's report on Palestine as a "sound basis for settlement" to the Jewish-Arab dispute over the Holy Land.

Bernadotte, the assassinated United Nations mediator, set forth his proposals for attaining peace in Palestine in a 35,000 word report distributed to all U. N. member nations.

Bernadotte declared that "Israel exists in Palestine" and that the future of the Arab portion of the Holy Land should be left to the inhabitants of the section.

The United States acceptance of Bernadotte's proposals was announced by secretary of State Marshall in Paris.

Atmosphere Of Tension As UN Assembly Opens Today

File Tax Suits

Fitt County today instituted the first group in a number of suits against delinquent tax payers of the county. Tax Collector J. D. Joyner estimated between 400 and 150 suits will be instituted by the county for the collection of back taxes.

The action by the county tax collector was authorized by the County Commissioners at a special session last month.

Joyner said the suits will cover "all delinquent taxes on the books from 1927 up to date." The net taxes involved will be less than $10,000, he estimated.

Although there have been a few suits for back taxes in the last few years, this is the first time in several years the county has undertaken a wholesale action against property owners who owe back taxes.

Bandits Hold Up Bank In Columbia

Six Robbers Make Getaway With $50,000 In Loot

Columbia, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—The East Carolina Bank was robbed of around $50,000 at 11 o'clock this morning by six bold robbers who held a pistol on the five bank employees and three customers and robbed the vault and removed the pocketbooks from three men.

Described by bank employees as five Negroes and a yellow skinned short man, who may have been white, the six men fled in a Hudson sedan bearing Virginia license plates. The car was abandoned nine miles from Creswell and the men were reported to have taken to the woods while law enforcement officials were hot on their trail.

Highway patrolmen arrived shortly from Plymouth and a pilot from the Creswell airport was scanning the woods, from Elizabeth City highway patrolmen were dispatched to help in the search and a helicopter from the local coast guard air station was sent to join in the search from the air.

The short yellow skinned man was reported to have done all of the talking, holding a handkerchief over his mouth and ordering the bank employees to line up while two of the men went into the vault and gathered up the money.

Five employees were in the bank at the time.

The bandits were reported to be well dressed and to have operated with smoothness and speed.

Navy Plans Big New Air Base

Jacksonville, Sept. 21—(AP)—The navy today disclosed plans for turning this area into a major fleet air base for the nation's largest carriers.

"The shifting of strategic importance from the Pacific to the Atlantic has made imperative the establishment of such a base," vice Admiral John D. Price, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said.

Terrorists Outlawed By Israel; Hunt Stern Gang

Tel Aviv, Sept. 21—(AP)—Terrorist groups were outlawed today by the state of Israel.

Premier David Ben-Gurion signed a law yesterday making organized terrorism illegal. The Measure, retroactive to May 15, was put into effect four days after the assassination in Jerusalem of Count Folke Bernadotte.

Israel has blamed the stern gang for the United Nations' mediator's death.

The law provides penalties of up to 20 years imprisonment for leadership, membership or support of Terrorist groups.

It described a Terrorist group as a "body of persons who in operations employ violence liable to cause death or injury or who employ threats of such."

It was not stated specifically whether the law applies to the whole stern gang and Irgun Zvai Leumi. Both of them operated underground against the British during the mandate and continued their activities in a lesser degree after Israel became a state.

The newspaper Harret said yesterday.

Six Additional Deaths By Polio

Truman Expands Campaign Plans Despite Strain

Plans Two Speeches In Raleigh; Sees Support For Attacks On Congress

Aboard Truman Campaign Train, Sept. 21—(AP)—President Truman told western Colorado voters today it seemed to him that everybody had enough what he called the 80th do-nothing Congress.

He spoke to a station audience from a rear platform of his special train when it pulled into Glenwood Springs early this morning. It was the first speech of the day as he headed toward Utah and another major address on reclamation at Salt Lake City.

Several hundred persons were out in their topcoats here and a band started playing as the campaign special rolled to a stop.

The President said he would use to produce a "shale deposit" in the Colorado Springs.

The Democrats, he said, want to go forward and back to the President's camp.

He declared at Denver that his Administration had inherited an "almost impossible situation out of the war." He said he took over conditions "much more difficult to handle" than when there was wartime unity.

"It's hard to understand how we could continue to make the government run," Mr. Truman said. "But it did run. We had no riots, no bloodshed, no Ku Klux Klan, x x x We succeeded in putting 81,000,000 people to work. We succeeded in creating the greatest national income in the history of the world."

Decisive Battle Expected Hourly At Chinese City

Nanking, Sept. 21—(AP)—A decisive battle between government defenders of besieged Tsinan and the main forces of the Red attackers is expected within 24 hours.

Defense ministry spokesman Maj. Gen. Chang Liu-Shih forecast a struggle today only a few hours after a government communique had reported desertion during the siege by Gen. Wu Ha-Wen and 2,000 of his 94th division troops. All surrendered to the Communists. The surrender came in the midst of an investigation of a plot among Nationalist soldiers to revolt at Chang-ching, 20 miles southwest of the Shantung provincial capital.

The Soviet blockade of the German capital and the issues involved with it were the chief topics of conversation among the delegates although Berlin is not on the Assembly's agenda as yet.

On the eve of the first meeting in the Palais de Chaillot this afternoon, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France called a halt yesterday to their two-month-old attempt to negotiate a direct settlement of the Berlin issue with Russia.

Officials Talk With Refugees

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—Immigration officials talked today with many of the 69 Estonians who landed yesterday after a voyage in a 79-foot sloop.

Indications were the group would be sent to Ellis Island, N. Y., as a group that landed a month ago from Russian-controlled Estonia.

Don't Expect A Cure Sick World, Looking To Opening Of United Nations Assembly In Paris, Faces Uncomfortable Fact That That Organization Can Only Prescribe, Not Heal

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—The sick and feverish world looked with bloodshot eyes today toward the opening of the United Nations' general assembly in Paris.

But don't expect a cure. The most the assembly can do is prescribe some medicine. It can't force the patient to take it.

This assembly session, with delegates from 58 nations taking part, will last from today until maybe the end of 1948.

The delegates will examine some of the world's festering sores, trying to rub salt on some of them, perhaps shaking their heads over others.

And don't expect a quiet session. There will be logic, pleas for peace and sweet reasonableness, mixed with heat, fury, and bitter denunciations.

As you read from day to day how speaker after speaker got to his feet to say his piece just remember this: All the assembly can do in any situation, big or small, is recommend that this or that be done. It can't order any nation to do or not do anything.

World's Anxiety Noted As President Auriol Welcomes Delegates; Soviet Blockade Of Berlin And Its Issues Chief Topics Of Conversation

Paris, Sept. 21—(AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia was elected president of the United Nations today.

Paris, Sept. 21—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly met today in an atmosphere of world tension and heard its temporary president call for the banishment of force from the earth.

The Assembly's first meeting on the continent of Europe was opened by temporary President Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina at 3:21 p. m. (9:21 a. m. EST).

Bramuglia proposed a new international policy of "cooperation and not domination," economic equality and settlement of disputes by right over might. In a thinly veiled reference to Spain's exclusion from the U. N., Bramuglia said "we do not want any nation of the world to be excluded from the United Nations."

"There can be no chosen and no outcasts in this world," he added. "The delegates of 58 nations could be heightened by the East—cold war over Germany and the imminent threat of renewed warfare in Palestine."

The great hall in the Chaillot museum's cellar was filled to overflowing with people from many lands. Exotic costumes mingled with formal Western dress.

The public galleries were crammed.

President Vincent Auriol of France spoke of the world's anxiety in his speech of welcome.

"Anxiously, we see fires being lit and violence and fanaticism striking down the most equitable of men at the very moment when they are accomplishing with such noble devotion their high missions of pacification and justice," Auriol said.

Auriol was referring to Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator, who was killed in Jerusalem, but he did not mention Bernadotte by name.

Auriol said: "Millions of human beings who want to be able to live tomorrow without fearing for their country, for their liberties, life, property are afraid this precious opportunity for peace is being lost."

His voice rising, the French President cried: "Insecurity remains. Factions and personal interests are irritating and complicating antagonisms that already existed. Misunderstandings increase, intransigence stiffens, negotiations are prolonged, treaties remain in suspense and solutions, indefinitely elusive, are shown to be further and further away while speeches become more shrill and chaos is prolonged."

The Soviet blockade of the German capital and the issues involved with it were the chief topics of conversation among the delegates although Berlin is not on the Assembly's agenda as yet.

On the eve of the first meeting in the Palais de Chaillot this afternoon, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France called a halt yesterday to their two-month-old attempt to negotiate a direct settlement of the Berlin issue with Russia.

Indications were the group would be sent to Ellis Island, N. Y., as a group that landed a month ago from Russian-controlled Estonia.

Concerned Over Asia

Situation Worsening As Communists Shift Weight Of Offensive To Southeast Asia; Situation Recognized; Grim Thesis; Democracies Study Actions

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Some time ago this column pointed out that the Communists appeared to be shifting the weight of their offensive for world revolution to southeast Asia, and expressed the view that this important theatre might become the armageddon of the fight by democracy against the Red.

Since then conditions in the Orient have worsened until the western democracies are much concerned. Apart from other considerations, this vast area—including Burma, Malaya, Indonesia and Indo-China—is rich in rice, oil, tin, rubber, sugar and other necessities of both peace and war.

The democracies need some of these supplies for military security. Moreover the rehabilitation of both the Orient and Europe call for all these products available. And of course untold millions of folk in the Far East are dependent on them, especially the rice which is their "staff of life."

So this intensified Red offensive is calculated not only to deprive the democracies of military supplies, but to block rehabilitation.

This situation has impelled British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin

Hotel Raided By Police; Manager Faces Charges

By CHESTER WALSH

Five police and ABC officers participated in a raid on the Greenville Hotel, on Dickinson Avenue, in the center of the business district, yesterday evening about 6:30, and arrested Evans C. Martin, 30-year-old manager, on charges of operating a gambling house, carrying a concealed weapon, selling beer without a license, selling whiskey, and selling beer on Sunday.

The officers also arrested Grover C. Martin, Jr., 21, the manager's brother, and charged him with vagrancy.

Trial of the cases is set for next Friday in Police Court.

Raiding officers said they found about 20 cases of beer, scattered in different rooms, and confiscated two pistols.

Police Chief Lester D. Page said he had had numerous complaints about the place and guests or visitors at the hotel appear in Police Court for some kind of trouble very frequently. Curtis Evans was arrested during the weekend for assaulting Ellis G. Rogers at the hotel. In Police Court yesterday, the case was continued until Friday, the chief added.

Pitt County Draft Board Counts 4,076 Registered

During the 19-day draft registration period which ended Saturday the Pitt County draft board registered 4,076 men between the ages of 18 and 25.

The registration was almost 900 short of the 4,900 the state board estimated Pitt county should register for the new draft.

Although the local draft board has had no definite instructions as to when the first men are to be called from Pitt County, a spokesman for the board said this morning that from previous instructions it appears that the first group will be called during November.

Men in the higher age brackets are to be called first and others as the quotas are assigned to the draft board.

Mrs. Stella Evans, chief clerk of the board, and in charge of the registration expressed her appreciation to the following people and organizations who helped with the registration during the past week:

Mrs. Louise McKinney, Mrs. Peggy Wagel, Doris Harris, Virginia D. Jones, Jake Hadley, Charlie Lee Hardee, Ruth Moore, Helen Thomas, Ann Horton, Gay Pippin, Janet Stansell, Mary Frances Allen, Hagar Ray Hart, Elizabeth Crawford, Sarah Jeanette Lewis, Ellen M. Lloyd, Vancou Modingo, Barbara Jean Moringo, Patsy Galloway, Jean Briley, Susie Mae Tye, Jean Hardee, Fannie Lou Gladson, Hattie Elks, Joanne Galloway, Clara L. Dail, Sadie F. Hatch, Ann Willis Smith, Cora Pauline Moore, Dora Hathaway.

Organizations furnishing help during the last week of registration were:

Explanations

Oklahoma City, Sept. 21—(AP) Maybe everyone will have a lot of explaining to do. A police vice squad broke up a poker game in a card room last night and took the players down to headquarters to post bond. "Why are you picking on us?" asked one of the prisoners. "Your wives telephoned us," answered V. E. Van Scoy.

Tripp also stated that he will give special attention to Cotanche Street Park for the remainder of the fall and winter and try to make it more interesting for children and visitors. Other routine business was conducted and adjourned.

Another Mother

New York, Sept. 21—(AP)—Two curly-haired orphans stepped off the big plane from Europe and blinked hard when they heard the news.

A representative of the United Service for new Americans told the little boy and girl this at International Airport yesterday.

Their "new" mother, Mrs. Irving Rothschild, of Springfield, Mass., had died and her husband had decided he could not go through with the adoption.

Maureen Wolff, 11 and his sister, Marion, 8, said sadly they had been "looking forward to living here." Their parents were killed in a concentration camp and they had been living with a family in Brussels, Belgium.

Then, hand-in-hand, they went off to a temporary home while the agency hunted for another mother.

John E. Harris, colored, (and disorderly) $15, and he was ordered not to go on Evans street between the postoffice and the river; Bernice Williams, colored, $15; Ella K. Davis, colored, $15; Gene Everett, $15.

Fine Or Jail For Dog Owners Who Break Law

By CHESTER WALSH
Gus Stokes, district state rabies inspector and constable of Greenville township, today warned owners of dogs that the North Carolina state law requires all dogs to be vaccinated against rabies, or hydrophobia. The law provides a minimum fine of $10 and a maximum fine of $50, or from 10 to 30 days in jail for owners of dogs who do not have them vaccinated when ordered to do so by the inspector.

Nearly all owners of pet or hunting dogs have them inoculated against rabies, Stokes said, but he reminded a reporter that there hundreds of unowned dogs, mostly of the mongrel and flea-bitten types, that roam the city streets and take up here and there with temporary owners.

The Board of Aldermen, at a recent meeting passed an ordinance providing for taking up dogs found at large on the city's streets, and appointed a dog catcher, who will receive fees for animals claimed by owners from the official dog pound.

The police department is receiving numerous complaints from householders and others about prowling packs of dogs damaging their flowers, turning over big garbage cans on their premises and for being a public nuisance by the howling and barking at nights.

Missionary To China Heard At Church Meeting

The Week of Missions opened at Memorial Baptist Church last night with a good congregation to hear Dr. F. P. Lide, missionary to Shanghai, China. Dr. Lide told of the tremendous changes that are taking place in China and what the people are suffering as a result of the growing influence of Communism.

He stated rather bitterly that the United States and Britain after guaranteeing the integrity of China against the Japanese, later at Yalta, with no Chinese representative present, gave one-third of all China to the Russians. This modern part of China which was promised the Russians contains practically all of the iron and natural resources of China, also the industries and factories which China so badly needs and without which it cannot succeed. He said pointedly: "Why didn't they give her Alaska?" The United States had a right to speak for Alaska, but not for China after the promise that had been given her. He then went on to show that in spite of all her sufferings and hardships, the Chinese were turning the religion of Christ more than ever, and that literally thousands of Chinese students and others are embracing the Christian religion.

Tonight Dr. H. H. McMillan, missionary to Szechow, China will speak at 7:30 o'clock. No missionary in China is better acquainted with the conditions in that unhappy country than is Dr. McMillan, who has been through many hard experiences in the past ten years during the war in China. Dr. McMillan is a first cousin of the late Dr. T. M. Watson of Greenville.

The devotional part of the service will be conducted by Rev. Wistar Hamilton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Washington, N.C., and the choir of the Washington church will bring the special music.

The services will continue each night at 7:30 o'clock through Friday. The people of Greenville are cordially invited to attend.

TRANSFER PRISONERS
While the City Hall is being repaired and repaired prisoners usually confined in jail there will be placed in the county jail, Chief Lester D. Page stated.

VANDALISM AT SWIMMING POOL
Police have been instructed to arrest persons caught throwing rocks and other debris in the municipal swimming pool, opposite the high school, and those caught committing the acts of vandalism will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, Alderman Heber Tripp, chairman of the Playgrounds and Parks Committee, said today. Saltiest of all ocean areas is the Red Sea.

NAVIGATING BY THE STARS
Modern navigation began when men learned to take their bearings from the stars. Before that, they hardly dared trust themselves out of sight of land.

In the things of life, many of us take our bearings not from the stars but from the waves. The appearance of the waters, and especially if they are turbulent, determine our course of action. If the water is smooth (if health is good and income steady) we sail along without paying much attention to where we are going. If the waves are high (if trouble and sorrow overtake us, money is scarce, and the future uncertain) we consider ourselves fortunate if we can get through without a wreck.

Navigation never means sailing about aimlessly. It means going from one definite point to another, and the only way we can accomplish this is by taking our bearings from the stars. Principles guide the wise navigator on the sea, and moral principles guide the wise navigator over the sea of existence. The North Star for every man's life is a belief in the existence, love, and providence of God. By this all positions are charted, all directions determined.

PUBLIC FORUM

Discussing problems of interest to this community, in all cases names must accompany any communication.

The Relation Between Reading and Books
Americans are not great readers for the most part. They get their reading, if any, from comics, newspaper headlines and popular magazines. Some listen to the radio and go to the movies. Facts show that the greater majority of our people do not read books. They are busy and have no time for them. Many of our schools are controlled by men who seldom take up a book and who do not see the need of more and better books.

In a literate democracy where reading is required of every normal minded citizen, books ought to be as necessary as bread. Today it should be understood that the library is an essential and integral part of our educational system and our adult education program. Indeed, upon the library rests the main task of adult education, after the citizen is done with school, which is as young as the average very early. Most of our people do not reach high school. Most of what they learn beyond the bare needs of material living, after school is over, has to come out of books.

People are ignorant because they do not read. If librarians could get into the hands of people the books to enlighten their minds, in time, people couldn't sign away their liberty and their security as they usually do.

Our people do not read, not because they are forbidden to read, most of them, but because they do not want to read. Librarians, writers, and publishers face too few people who want to read books. Too many of our people don't know how to read. They can read something they must read, but they don't know how to read well enough for pleasure. Every teacher will tell you that teaching children to read is the basic difficulty in education. Pupils fall behind and fall because they don't read with ease. You'd be surprised at the number of people who turn away from a book which they would enjoy because it looks hard to read. Yet reading is basic to democracy!

I'd like for you to feel that reading is the door to all sorts of interesting knowledge and enjoyment that in reading books you can find endless pleasure, that books by the million are printed on every subject and that all you have to do is to pick up a book to find out what you want.

USE YOUR SCHOOL AND PUBLIC LIBRARIES!
Mrs. Beatrice C. Maye
Winterville, N. C.

Instead of seeking a larger central staff, more centralized control, the new state health officer wants more responsibility placed on the local health authorities. At the same time he is backing a tentative proposal for a definitely increased state appropriation for public health work in the counties.

CONFERENCES—Soon after taking over the post of chief state health officer Dr. Norton called conferences of all local public health superintendents. Out of that conference came a smaller committee of ten local officers to survey needs and recommend procedure. The ten-man group has had a meeting or two; another is scheduled for the near future at which time definite proposals may be put in shape for approval of the state board of health and presentation to the advisory budget commission and general assembly. So far as old timers can recall this is the first instance of local health officers being called in to a strategy conference to work on the overall health program.

BIG—The amount of money the state will be asked to set aside for city-county-state cooperative activities will be big as compared with past allocations, but exceedingly modest when budgeted against the need and the opportunity for genuine service, said Dr. Norton. Figures tentatively discussed, subject to review later, call for approximately two and a half million dollars of state co-operative money, of which nearly one million would be earmarked for a public school health program. It is learned on good authority that the department of public instruction will ask for half a million of the total public school appropriation to be earmarked for health work. These allocations will be in line with positions taken by Governor Cherry and Governor-nominate Scott in their primary and general election campaigns.

LOCAL—North Carolina, to greater degree than most other states, has handled public health matters through local agencies, Dr. Norton said. One big middle western state has only three local health units, but a tremendous state overhead organization. Just a few years ago New York state had only five local units, although there may be more now. Meantime, North Carolina has fifty-nine fully organized local health units. These include some districts of three or four counties each and some city units within counties. There are a number of other counties with part time health officers or nurses or both. Only four counties in North Carolina are presently without some kind of local public health service. Dr. Norton's objective is to complete organization of the one hundred counties within the next few months.

PRO-RATA—The state had been putting up from 20 per cent to 25 per cent of the funds spent in local health work. The additional appropriations are not intended so much to increase this pro-rata part of the total cost as to match larger sums hoped to be made available from federal and local sources. The general idea is for the state to encourage and support public health work, but to leave actual operation largely in hands of local people who have more intimate knowledge of conditions.

JOB-SEEKER—Any North Carolina sheriff in need of a deputy is hereby referred to one Roy Williamson of Palmetto, Florida. The Florida man has written Secretary of State Thad Eure for a list of all sheriffs who will take office for the first time on January first next, as he wants to write each one of them for a job as deputy. Files in the secretary of state's office are not complete as to sheriffs who might take office this year, but they are very few. Williamson perhaps doesn't know that sheriffs were elected in 1948 for four years, and the only resignation or removal of incumbents. However, any incumbents interested in a deputy might contact him.

fill out. As a joke one day he entered an order on one of the corporation's men blanks:

"Monthly supply of test tube cleaning fluid—one case of high-grade Scotch Whiskey."

Somewhat the purchase department was surprised and pleasantly cheered by the arrival of a case of Scotch.

Every month now for two years a fresh case of Scotch has been delivered, and the man who started the whole business is getting worried. He wants to turn off the whiskey, but doesn't know how.

"If I cancel the order," he said, "someone in the purchase department may wake up to what's being going on and send our research staff a bill for the whole 24 cases."

Here is one that could probably happen nowhere except in the New York City area:

A lady who lived in an apartment in Yonkers had a cat that fell ill and died. Having no place to give her pet proper burial, she called her sister, who had a house in Brooklyn, and asked if she could inter the cat in her back yard. The sister said yes.

The lady put the dead cat in a small suitcase and set out. By the time she reached Manhattan she felt very lonely and depressed. She decided she needed a remembrance of some kind to remind her of her pet.

She went into a department store, put down her suitcase and asked the clerk if she had a bar of soap in the shape of a cat.

"I'll have to ask the manager," said the clerk. The manager came and said no, they were out of cat-shaped soap bars.

Would she care for some soap shaped like a dog or a lion?

Just then the lady gasped:

"My suitcase—it's been stolen!"

The manager, wise in the ways of shoplifters, immediately rushed with the clerk to the women's rest room, figuring the thief would loot the bag there and throw it in a wastebasket.

He was right. In the restroom they found a strange sight—a woman sprawled in a faint, the open suitcase by her side, the dead cat lying in her lap.

Revived, the woman cried:

"Take it away! Lordy, Lordy, I thought it was a fur wrap when I pulled it out. Don't send me to jail. I've suffered enough."

They turned the panic-stricken woman loose. The lady put her cat back in the suitcase—and they continued their sad pilgrimage to Brooklyn.

Let us conclude this brief essay on machine age antics with the story of a writer, his wife, and their small daughter.

Wishing to give their tiny tot as honest a picture of modern life as they could, the parents have tried to answer her every question with complete and honest explanations. One of the things she wanted to know was why objects tossed into the air always fell to the ground. Papa answered this puzzle as best he could—with this remarkable result:

Soon afterward the little girl was romping on the beach and became annoyed because her trunks kept slipping down, hampering her busy legs. Finally she halted and said sternly:

"Listen, gravity, you quit pulling my pants down. Stop it."

Zale Favored In Cerdan Meeting

By JACK HAND
Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 21—(AP)—Champion Tony Zale is a solid 2 to 3 favorite to thump Marcel Cerdan, the French challenger, tonight at Roosevelt Stadium in an attractive middleweight title bout that opens the big boxing week of the fall season.

An optimistic estimate from the promoters, the Tournament of Champions, calls for a crowd of 25,000 and a gross gate of $300,000. About 16,000 and $250,000 may be closer. A cool, clear night is predicted.

The fight has all the makings of a thriller. Zale, a 34-year-old vet who used to sweat it out in the Gary, Ind., steel mills, flattened Rocky Graziano in the third round to regain his championship at Newark three months ago. Cerdan, a willing trader with great stamina, is unbeaten in four American starts.

Expert opinion is divided. Zale's legs are the uncertain factor. Many think he will have to get Cerdan early or not at all. Most agree that it will be Cerdan if it goes the full 15 rounds.

In this corner, it looks like Zale by a knockout in five rounds. Antonio Beaudin, an unheralded Estonian, had Marcel on the deck three times in the last round at Chicago and he has been hit freely in all four U.S. starts. So far, he hasn't been hit by Zale, who has knocked out 16 of 27 opponents.

Lineman of the Week
Max Lewis won the "lineman of the week" award over John Wyatt by two votes in a poll conducted yesterday with a hundred students participating. Others mentioned were: Joe Feille, 190 lb. center from Dover, Ohio; Ed Yarbrough, 185 lb. end from Portsmouth, Va.; Kenneth Booth, 195 lb. tackle from Tarrytown, N. Y.; Ed Tanner, 170 lb. end from Portsmouth, Va.; C. O. McMullen, 170 lb. center from Elizabeth City; Keith Kilpatrick, 200 lb. tackle from Kinston.

Lewis weighs in at 165, and measures 5 ft. 7 inches, a guard from Goldsboro. He was a two-letter man in football at high school. The 21-year-old soph. substitute guard showed he was worthy of a starting position as he moved in and threw the Marines for loss after loss. You can tell Lewis when you see him walking on the campus, because he's wearing a shiner that Joe Louis couldn't have made a better job of. Asked what happened, . . . "I was up when I should have been down." John Wyatt, 210 lbs. six foot tackle from Portsmouth, ran Lewis a close second. It's not much need to say anything about this boy because I'm sure you'll be hearing from him later.

Poll results: Lewis, 32; Wyatt, 30; Booth, 15; Tanner, 6; Yarbrough, 5; Polilli, 5; McMullen, 4; Kilpatrick, 3.

Red Sox Still In Lead Thanks To Sore-Arm Hurler

Detroit, Sept. 21—(AP)—A nose ahead in the steaming three-way stretch battle for the American League flag, the Boston Red Sox today breathed a thank you to Maurice (Mickey) Harris, sore arm southpaw, for keeping them there.

Harris, 30-year-old lefthander who won 17 games helping the Sox to the 1946 pennant and then came down with a sore arm that stopped him with a mere five victories a year ago, came off the shelf yesterday to play a leading role in Boston's important—and necessary—7 to 2 verdict over the Det-

Williams Assured Of Another Loop Batting Title

Chicago, Sept. 21—(AP)—Boston's Ted Williams leaped 21 points ahead of Cleveland's Lou Boudreau last week virtually to win his second consecutive American League batting title and his fourth in his last five playing seasons.

Williams slammed 14 hits in 28 trips to boost his mark by eight points to 376. The Tribe's player-manager meanwhile skidded seven points to 355.

Williams would have to hit a prolonged slump while Boudreau would have to strike it hot for the Beantown slugger to lose the batting pace before the season ends Oct. 3.

He captured the hit title in 1941 and 1942 before spending three years in military service. Washington's Mickey Vernon won the crown in 1946.

Pirates Prepare To Play Tough Conference Opener

There was no rest for the weary on the campus of the East Carolina Teachers College Pirates football team today and according to Head Coach Jim Johnson, the ECTC eleven can expect no let up this week.

Johnson and backfield Coach Jack Boone have called two night skull practices in addition to the regular afternoon drills in an effort to get the Pirates in top form for the conference opener with Lenoir Rhyne this coming Saturday night.

The Pirates, who bowed to the Cherry Point Marines 13 to 6 in their season opener last Friday, expect an even more formidable foe when they meet Lenoir Rhyne.

"They (Lenoir Rhyne) are always a tough team to beat," Coach Johnson said yesterday, adding that "they will be tough again this year."

Last season, Lenoir Rhyne overcame a nine point disadvantage to topple the Johnson aggregation 28 to 9. "It won't happen this year," Johnson said. The ECTC mentor declared that if his squad gets a nine point lead they can take the contest. Lenoir Rhyne bowed to Erskine seven to six Saturday.

ECTC coaches were still mourning their loss to the Marines. "We should have won that ball game," Johnson asserted and Boone agreed. Johnson pointed out that his line rushed the entire game. "What happened was just what we had feared," the coach said, explaining that some of the freshmen backs let pass receivers get by them in the first quarter. Then in the last quarter, a fumble by a freshman back lost the ball on the 17 yard line of the Marines.

But the game lost was knowledge gained, the ECTC coaches feel. This week they are drilling the boys on pass defense and reviewing the plays. "We are hoping to hold mistakes down to a minimum when we play

Disputed Game Is Spur For Rivals

Durham, N. C., Sept. 21—Because of a forfeited game back in 1889, both Duke and North Carolina claim the upper hand in their traditional football rivalry.

The Blue Devils, claiming that 1-0 forfeit, boasts a record of 16 victories over Carolina with 18 defeats and three ties. The Tar Heels claim the same margin over the Blue Devils. Thus, more than the usual interest is placed on the November 20 game between the two teams in Chapel Hill.

High Pockets

Chapter 27

George stepped over him, opened the door . . . a girl flung herself at him and he caught her in his arms.

"Are you . . . all right?" Cathy asked him anxiously.

He grinned down at her.

"Course," he said.

She peered at him closely.

"Bend down," she commanded. He bent lower and the need her handkerchief to wipe away a thin trickle of blood at the corner of his mouth.

"It won't stop bleeding. We'll fix it up though when we get home."

"Sure," he said.

Two men came toward them . . . Sheriff Loomis and a stocky man with white hair. Loomis eyed George for a moment, then he grinned at him.

"You don't look 'ny different," he said finally. "How about Corbin?"

"O-h, he ain't changed so much that you won't be able to recognize him," George answered.

"Uh-huh," Loomis said. "Where did you leave the carcass?"

"Where it fell," George replied. "Just inside the door. O-h, yeah . . . you'll probably find all that missin' Smediker dough in his pants pocket. It sure looked 'e full o' somethin'."

The Sheriff turned, strode into Corbin's place.

"What become o' the mob?" George asked.

Judge Scott smiled.

"O-h, I intercepted them, with the aid o' the Sheriff, of course," he said. "I pointed out the error of Corbin's ways, and suggested that they abandon their avowed determination to hang you. And curiously enough, they accepted my suggestion without question, and dispersed and went home."

"An' Gay?"

The Judge's face seemed to grow very grave.

"I made a suggestion to that young lady, too," he replied. "She's decided to seek other pastures. The Sheriff will see to it that she is safely settled on the first eastbound stage tomorrow morning."

"I see," George said.

The Judge smiled, then he looked up at George again.

"We'll, son," he said. "What now?"

"Reckon we'll head fr' home," George answered. "I'll be back here again 'morrow mornin' t' see what I c'n do with the bank about extendin' my note. It's due 'morrow, y'know."

"I'll talk with Jed if you want me to."

"I'd sure appreciate it, Judge, if you would. He'll listen t' you . . . I know that."

"He usually does," the Judge said in reply. "However, I can't guarantee anything. You see, George, banks don't look upon single men as good risks."

"I don't aim t' go anywheres but home," George said with finality.

so that leaves but one more signature to be obtained. Would Cathy endorse it, do you think? Assume your responsibility?"

"Wait a minute, Judge," George said quickly. "I ain't got any right t' ask Cathy t' do a thing like that."

"If she were married to you, that would solve your difficulties in a jiffy. Incidentally, why don't you two get married?"

George gulped, flushed, averted his eyes.

He drew a deep breath, brought her close to him. He bent his head, "Cathy, honey," he whispered. "Will you?"

"Will you?" the Judge heard George ask her.

"We'll," Cathy said hesitantly.

Judge Scott coughed behind his upraised hand.

"Pardon me," he said. "I am returning to my office. If you should want me, that is both of you, you can find me there. Incidentally, I might mention that only one witness is required at a marriage ceremony."

Judge Scott was sitting in his office, when they appeared there, his feet propped up on the edge of his desk. He insisted upon them remaining there while he went out in search of the witness the law required. It was ten minutes later when he returned, followed by a sheepishly grinning Sheriff Loomis who, hat in hand, was doing his best to slick back the few remaining hairs on his head.

"Buck," the Judge said. "You'll stand here. Cathy, please stay where you are. George, stand next to Cathy, please. Take her hand son."

"There was an impatient knock on the door, and redheaded Pat McCabe opened it and poked his head inside.

"Oh!" he said. "Excuse me!"

"Wait up there," Buck called. "Want 'nythin'?"

Pat grinned.

"Got somethin' fr' Cathy," he answered. "I just ran into Mrs. Martin drivin' a hull wagon load o' stuff outta town. She said t' tell George that she was goin' back home after all. She gave me somethin' she said she'd found in the cottage when she was gettin' her own stuff t'gether.

She said Cathy'd know what t' do with the thing and fr'm the looks o' things 'round here, it oughta come in handy right now. Here y'are, Cathy."

Cathy came to him at once and he handed her something, turned on his heel and went out. They heard his step on the stairs. Cathy held something aloft . . . it was a ring.

"George!" she said excitedly. "Isn't it wonderful? It's my mother's wedding ring!"

Partisan Fights May Possibly Bring Out Heavy County Vote

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Sept. 21—It is commonly conceded that there will be more interest, which is another name for a harder fight, in the Democratic-Republican election campaign on state level this year than usual. Many observers think this will mean a much larger popular vote, although some think that a combination of apathy and disgust with respect to the limited choice offered will hold the vote down. It is recalled that predictions on the primary vote ranged from 300,000 to 600,000 and wound up with 421,000.

Whether or not it has point in estimating total votes it is at least interesting to look at the general election vote in 1944 in four counties of the eighth congressional district—two in which there is always contest between Republicans and Democrats, and two in which Democrats hold such preponderant majority as to make the general election perfunctory for local candidates.

Richmond and Union have no Republican "trouble" Davidson and Wilkes have plenty. Davidson is regarded as a border county, with about equal chance for both parties, while Wilkes is about certain to be consistently Republican, yet has a big Democratic vote.

In the presidential election of 1944 Richmond cast 5,294 votes for the Democratic candidates, 938 for the Republican, a total of 6,232 or 17.2 per cent of the 1940 census population. That same election in Wilkes county brought out 5,578 votes for the Democratic president and 9,121 for the Republican, a total of 14,699 or 34.1 per cent of the 1940 census population.

Meantime, Union was voting 5,729 Democrats and 1,114 Republicans for a total of 6,843 or 17.67 per cent of the census count; and Davidson was reporting 9,455 Democrats, 9,445 Republicans, a total of 18,900 or 35.4 per cent of the census population in 1940.

If every county in North Carolina cast votes this year at the same rate Richmond did four years ago the total presidential vote would be about 620,000. If every county voted like Davidson the total would be about 1,275,000. The average is somewhere between, with most estimates ranging around 850,000 to 875,000—which would more nearly approximate the Richmond ratio than that cast in Davidson, and would be about ten percent above the 1944 total of presidential votes. Since the 1948 Democratic primary vote was thirty per cent above the 1944 total for governor, there is some reason to expect the general election vote to be substantially above the 1944 level. This expectation is enhanced by the appearance of four presidential tickets instead of the usual two, and some prophets would not be surprised if the total vote breaks the million mark for the first time in history.

If it does credit will go to the contest engendered by Progressive and States' Right parties. Tar Heels just don't vote their strength until they are stirred up. That's the main reason the aggregate general election vote in sure Democratic counties is so much smaller than in counties where the Republicans put up a real scrap.

With prospects of a real fight all over the state on the national ticket, the vote may be larger than most estimates indicate.

Greek Guerrillas Badly Mauled

Athens, Sept. 21—(AP)—A Greek army communique said today rebel forces were badly mauled when they tried a surprise attack yesterday in the Vitsi sector.

The report said 294 guerrillas were killed and 49 captured when four Communist-led brigades launched a powerful thrust against government-held positions north and west of Kastoria.

The attack was opened late Sunday, the communique said, on a 10-mile front, and small government forces defending the sector were pushed back about a mile.

Yesterday morning reinforcements with air and artillery support struck back and, after savage fighting, hurled the rebels back and regained most of the positions lost.

The battle raged throughout last night and this morning.

Scout News

Boy Scouts and Cubs and Girl Scouts and Brownies and their leaders and all boys and girls interested in the Scout program will be guests of Heber B. Tripp at a wailer next Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The Nehi Bottling Company and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company will provide cold drinks.

Boy Scout Troop 30 has a softball team and has challenged troops 33 and 36 to games at Cotanche Street Park.

During the fall season the big fireplace at the park will be available to groups by contacting Heber Tripp, chairman of the Playgrounds and Parks Committee. He also has a big outdoor fireplace on the river bank at the end of Woodlawn Avenue that is open to the use of the public by appointment. Those who used the place are expected to leave it as clean as they found it.

Well, the Malayan uprising has been under way for some time, so this may be the appointed hour for the big Red effort in Java. That great and rich island is the center of Communist agitation in Indonesia.

The whole Far East is throbbing with the Bolshevik threat.

In the Middle Ages, hunting and fishing rights on his holdings were universally reserved for the lord of the manor.

Average Incomes Top 'Boom' Year

Washington, Sept. 21—(AP)—The average income of Americans is about double what it was in 1929, a "boom" year in its day.

A commerce department report showed today that the average income of individuals (as distinct from corporations) increased from $690 in 1929 to $1,323 last year, a rise of 93 per cent.

But it noted that "from 1929 to 1947 there was a pronounced relative shift of income from the New England and Middle Eastern regions to the west and south."

This was attributed mostly to industrial development in the two regions. The southeast, southwest and far west increased their share of the nation's factory payrolls nearly one third of a 1947 mark of 20.3 per cent.

In the 11-state southeast area, including North and South Carolina, the raise was 157 percent—from $344 to $883.

Don't Expect . . .

(Continued from page one) any other nation or group of nations could tell them what they had to do. (You see how true this is in the security council, the other big arm of the U.N. The council is a much smaller body, made up of only six small nations and five big ones: the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and China.)

(The council is the really powerful force in the U. N. It can make decisions and carry them out. But it can make big decisions only when all of the big five members agree. If any one of them says "No" with a veto, no decision can be made.

And for the three years of its life the security council has been practically helpless because Russia has flung one veto after another into the agreements the council tried to reach.)

Some of the biggest issues facing the assembly now are those in which the United States and Russia are opposed.

Concerned . . .

(Continued from page one) Minister Derk Udo Stikker visited Washington in the hope that America would take a stand against the spread of Communism in the Far East, where the Netherlands is so vitally interested in Indonesia. Apparently his concern was well founded, since the news from Batavia, Java, is that the young Indonesian republic is facing civil war.

The Communists have seized Medan, in the central part of the island of Java. This is the third largest city of the republic and so is a serious loss. The Bolsheviks accuse the republican government of "selling the country to the imperialists," and of trying to deliver Indonesia into the hands of the Dutch.

Word also comes from an informed source in Jogjakarta, capital of the Indonesian republic, that a document found in Communist party files discloses that a Communist coup was to be staged in Java after a rebellion was under way in Malaya. The document is quoted as saying the Java uprising was to form an integral part of the spread of Communism in southeast Asia.

Hot Weather

Prospects for rain were in the offing today, and if the moistening fluid was ever needed it is right now. Old Sol has kept Jupiter Fluvius out of the picture for about two weeks. Only 1.46 inches of rain has fallen in this section this month, and gardens need it.

The section now is experiencing some torrid weather. Sunday the Weather Bureau thermometer registered 91 degrees. Monday the mercury ascended to 96 degrees.

Today, the temperature was 74 degrees at 8 a. m. and by noon it had reached 82 degrees and was still rising. Mrs. C. E. Maiden, observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce, said.

Warren School Investigation In Hands Of Jury

Warrenton, N. C., Sept. 21—(AP)—An investigation into handling of Warren county school funds was in the hands of the grand jury today. Solicitor Ernest R. Tyler declined to state whether or not the grand jury had been presented with bills of indictment. However, court observers could tell from witnesses being called before the grand jury that the case was being studied.

These witnesses included agents of the SBI, representatives of the state board of education, and a school teacher.

Tyler said several days ago that he anticipated bringing charges against J. Edward Allen, Warren county school superintendent, during the current court term.

Futures rallied into new high ground for the day in late dealings as aggressive short covering in near-by October disclosed a scarcity of offerings. This induced short covering by local traders in other positions with some trade buying credited to export sales.

Futures closed 15 cents to 11.35 higher than the previous close.

Chicago, Sept. 21—(AP)—Urgent short covering in September corn sent that delivery up the daily 8 cent limit at the board of trade today. Other deliveries sagged.

At the start of today's trading the open interest in September corn was placed at 11,865,000 bushels. Trading in all September deliveries ends with the close of tomorrow's session.
