Hurricane Heads For Florida's Rich Citrus Belt; Two Victims

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—A drenching hurricane with its 100-mile-an-hour winds still intact, moved over Lake Okechobee in South Central Florida today and aimed for the state's rich citrus belt.

The hurricane eye passed close to the Sugar-cane growing region at Clewiston on the lake shore about 7 a. m. Lake Okechobee is the largest fresh water lake entirely within the United States.

Between 700 and 1,000 refugees from Highlands county in the central part of the state found haven in the little citrus town of Sebring.

Resources Topic Of Argument On Political Front

Dewey And Truman Debate Western Projects; Running Mates Join Fight

The nation's natural resources were subjects of hot dispute today among all four top Democratic and Republican candidates.

While President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey jostled over western reclamation projects, their running mates hauled out party records on conservation and other farm problems in a quickening drive for November votes.

Mr. Truman, speaking last night in Salt Lake City, said the Democrats stand for "rapid and uninterrupted development" of a west that has been "crudely and wickedly cheated" by a GOP-loyal working through the GOP-controlled Congress.

Declaring that the Republicans offer "strangulation" for the west, he said that under the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover Administrations "quick and greedy exploitation was the order of the day."

Dewey retorted in a Denver address that the Truman Administration is pursuing "careless policies" in handling America's natural resources. He added:

"We have reached the stage in our country's development when to be careless is to gamble with our country's security and the future of free men everywhere."

Dewey headed his presidential campaign for New Mexico, where he promised to offer a formula to prevent a new war in his third major talk tonight at Albuquerque.

Mr. Truman toured Nevada enroute to San Francisco for another speech in his 100-talk schedule.

His running mates, meanwhile, carried the debate on resources through the middle west and east.

Gov. Earl Warren, the No. 3 GOP candidate, told a St. Louis audience that the Democrats "can't honestly claim a proprietorship over agriculture—the cornerstone of the nation."

"He pointed to 'the record' of Republican treatment of such problems as soil conservation, flood control and price supports in a challenge to Mr. Truman's earlier charge that 'the Republican party had stuck a pitchfork in the farmer's back.'"

Bridge Damaged

A large steel automobile barge crashed into the Atlantic Beach bridge between Morehead City and Atlantic Beach about 2:30 this morning taking out 100 feet of the bridge on the south side of the draw.

W. N. Sprull, state highway division engineer, said reports received here said the barge was hoisted through the bridge by a tug, in a 35-mile wind. The tug got through the draw, it was reported, but the barge swung in the wind and crashed through the bridge.

Sprull estimated it will take 5 to 7 days to make the bridge passable again for automobile traffic. He said a small boat has already been put on duty at the bridge to take pedestrians from the beach to Morehead City.

Vishinsky Warns Assembly Against Charter Violation

Agreement Reached On Berlin Question

Western Allies Agree On Policy To Be Pursued Jointly If Moscow Talks Fail; Bevin Denies Any Friction

London, Sept. 22 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are in "absolute agreement" on a policy to be pursued jointly if the Moscow talks over Berlin fail, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today.

"We are committed to war. We have not reached that stage yet. We have made provision at least to save Berlin from the worst effects of those who thought out this dastardly scheme (the blockade) and who thought by this means to put pressure on the western allies who stood with them in the war."

Lashes Proposal To Admit New Members In Face Of Soviet Veto; Balkan Report Hits Snag; Western Powers Give Moscow One Week On Berlin Issue

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP)—Soviet delegate Andrei A. Vishinsky declared today "the United Nations may become the disunited nations if the policies of certain countries are followed."

The Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister unleashed his blast at Argentina in the first meeting of this session's powerful steering committee. He spoke in opposition to an Argentine proposal to admit to membership all nations which had received seven votes of the security council. Russia had vetoed five such membership applications in the past.

The seating of the Russian delegate and the representative of Poland on the steering committee through their elections as vice-presidents of the Assembly was reported to have averted a serious clash in the one-day old assembly session just a short time before.

"As long as the Soviet Union is a member of the United Nations she will fight any attempt to undermine the Charter," Vishinsky asserted.

"If you want to have the United Nations, do not attack the charter. Do not try to undermine the United Nations. The United Nations may become the disunited Nations if the policies of certain countries are followed."

The charter requires that all the big five must approve applications for membership.

But the day-old assembly session quickly ran into other snags. Bulgaria and Yugoslavia protested against placing on the agenda a report of the Balkans commission investigating the Greek civil war.

Leading Arab delegates said the Arab nations never would accept an independent Jewish state in Palestine, as recommended in the UN plan.

United Nations headquarters identified the American as John Locke Lewis of Philadelphia, Pa. He was said to have come here as a consultant on railways only a few days ago.

The ambush occurred at 2 p. m. Israeli time, near the Latrun pumping station on the road to Jerusalem, the announcement said. In the ambush, it added, were the white U. N. jeep, two private cars, six trucks and one gasoline truck.

One of the dead was reported to be a woman and another, the commander of the convoy. Jewish military authorities first said the attack was made upon a United Nations convoy.

(Jewish convoys under U. N. sponsorship have been running from the coastal cities of Israel to Jerusalem for several weeks. The Israeli military announcement apparently referred to some such major procession in saying the attack was made on a United Nations convoy.)

The Russian magazine New Times said in an article broadcast from Moscow that the United States was

All But One Of Columbia Bank Robbers Captured

Eighth Member Of Band Believed Hemmed Up In Swamp; $59,567 Recovered By Law Enforcers; One Man Wounded

Columbia, N. C., Sept. 22 (AP)—All but one of the eight men who participated in the $52,200 robbery of the East Carolina Bank of Columbia yesterday have been apprehended, the FBI said today.

The eighth was believed hemmed up in a nearby swamp.

Two Norfolk, Va. Negroes were arrested shortly before dawn. Special agent Charles W. Brown identified them as William Henry Ward and Milton Gary. Brown said Ward had $1,200 in his pockets, but Brown firing a slash from Charlotte, did not know whether Gary had any money on his person.

Neither Ward nor Gary resisted, Brown said.

Thus far, $59,567 has been recovered.

Original estimates gave the bank's loss as $52,200.

But the FBI said that workers concluded a robbery that was delayed pending the taking of fingerprints.

One Negro was critically wounded when he ran from bloodhounds and pursued.

Early in the afternoon, Harry Everett Morrison, Norfolk white man, was taken into custody in Creswell and admitted, according to officials, that he led the daring holdup. Aubrey Will Washington, native of Creswell and recently living in Norfolk, was also picked up and officers expressed the opinion that he had served as lookout for the seven men who entered the bank with guns flashing, lined up the five bank employees and three customers including one blind man, scooped up the cash and fled to their car waiting outside.

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 22 (AP)—The State Supreme Court today upheld the conviction of Robert James Strickland of Wilson on charges of attempted extortion.

Strickland was convicted in Wilson County last February and sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Beacon Was A Welcome Sight For Army Fliers

By CHESTER WALSH

If you are ever upstairs, that is, in a plane in the air, get lost, Greenville is a great place to be near. At least, two Langley Field, Va. army pilots, in a C-47 transport plane, and six passengers felt last night after they got in range of the beacon light at the Pitt-Greenville Airport, across the river.

The plane, on a scheduled routine flight, had trouble with its radio, and was temporarily lost. It followed the Greenville airport beacon, "buzzed" the field several times about 10:15 last night, and Capt. Charles E. Steinmeyer, manager of the airfield, turned on the runway lights, and the C-47 landed without mishap. Steinmeyer welcomed the officers, and offered service and hospitality. The two pilots said that beacon, which burns all night, was the most welcome thing they had seen in a long time. They complimented the airport authorities for keeping the light in service, repaired their radio, and took off at 11 o'clock to make the return trip to Langley Field.

The airfield has three 5,000-foot paved runways and all but the biggest planes may land there. All types of planes may be serviced and repaired there. The Pitt-Greenville Airport Commission is always active to improve the airfield facilities here. Executive Secretary Willard T. Kyzer said today when he heard about the C-47 plane landing

Strike Picture Seen Improving

One Averted, Other Offers Made; Long-shoremen At Work

By The Associated Press

A threat of a strike of 300 radiomen on Pan American World Airways was averted today when management and labor agreed to re-submit their dispute to an impartial arbitrator.

The dispute arose over the alleged layoff of 10 radiomen several months ago.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company has offered wage increases ranging up to 46 a week for 25,000 telephone workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia. Plant craftsmen would get pay hikes up to 48 and operators and clerical employes boosts up to 44, the company said.

The offer is being studied by the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers. A union spokesman said it "appears to be highly unsatisfactory," but he added the union "is continuing to examine it."

Striking CIO longshoremen are handling army cargoes at Pacific coast ports under contracts between the army and two stevedoring firms not connected with the waterfront Employers' association. The association has refused to negotiate with maritime unions who have not signed non-Communist affidavits.

Pickets were expected to be withdrawn from the Oakland port under an agreement for the removal of commercial cargo piled on the docks. The loading or discharge of struck ships is not involved.

The Stakes In Korea

Russian Offer To Withdraw Occupation Forces From Japan Means Nothing, Says Analyst; North Korea Has Announced Plans To Crush Other Half; U. S. Waits

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

That's an interesting thought not particularly adroit exhibition of the old shell-game given by Russia in announcing that she will withdraw her troops from Northern Korea by the new year, and calling on Uncle Sam to pull out of the south.

On the face of it this is a big-hearted gesture of amity, and is calculated thus to impress the unwary. However, we may be quite sure that if American troops did withdraw from Southern Korea, the Bolsheviks would move to take over quicker than you could lose a silver dollar by trying to guess which shell the elusive pea is under.

This isn't to say that the United States might not decide to withdraw. That's a dish which still is on the fire. There are two schools of thought on this subject of withdrawal. One holds that it would be a strategic error to pull out. The other maintains that it's a mistake to stay since there is such a thing as spreading your strength too thin, and furthermore America has military forces in neighboring Japan.

Whether Russia will indeed withdraw if the United States does not, remains to be seen. The Muscovites might pull back across the frontier

Draft Quota For December Fixed

Selective Service Asked To Provide 15,000 For Army

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—The defense department said today it has asked Selective Service to provide 15,000 draftees for the Army in December. This is an increase of 5,000 over the first call for November.

The increase is in line with a previous announcement that monthly quotas would start at about 10,000 and rise to about 30,000 by next year as the Army builds toward its authorized strength of 870,000.

The Air Force and Navy are not asking for draftees at present. They are relying on volunteer recruiting to meet their needs.

The Army has notified Selective Service to begin giving pre-induction physical examinations on Oct. 4 to registrants who have been found otherwise acceptable for induction.

The munitions board, which relays the draft requests to Selective Service, has asked that the men be available for induction during the first 20 days of December. This is to avoid inducting men during the Christmas holidays.

Six Killed When Storm Struck In Havana Monday

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 22 (AP)—Six persons were reported killed in Monday night's hurricane which hit Cuba before it moved on to Florida.

Reestablishment of communications in the stricken area brought reports of damage amounting to more than $3,000,000.

It was feared that the casualty list would rise when reports are received from towns in Matanzas Province, which was hardest hit.

Two deaths were reported in Matanzas Province farming districts, and four in the village of Cidra, 25 miles from Matanzas City. Most of the buildings in Cidra were destroyed.

In Matanzas City 60 buildings, mostly dwellings, were destroyed. About 400 were damaged, including the city hospital, the town hall, the fire house, a theater, and the courts building.

Robbers Break Into Blount's Store In Bethel

Robbers broke into M. O. Blount and Company's store on Railroad Street in Bethel last night and carried away between $800 and $1,000 worth of merchandise. The loot consisted of men's and women's wearing apparel, shoes, suitcases and cigarettes, etc. Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson said today that the robbers prized open the front door of the store. He inclines to the belief that the loot was carried away in a pickup truck.

One of the executives of the company said he could not accurately estimate the value of the loot until clerks inventory the stock. Greenville and Bethel police are assisting the sheriff in the investigation.

American Legion Purchases Home

Hobgood Home To Be Converted Into Legion Club House

Pitt County Post of the American Legion in regular monthly session last night authorized the purchase of a Legion home, pledged its support to the Greenville tobacco market and the coming American Legion Pitt County Fair and heard reports from the state convention of the American Legion recently held in Asheville. Commander T. K. Fountain presided over the meeting.

A special committee headed by J. Herbert Waldrop to look into the matter of the purchase of a building suitable for a permanent home for the post reported that an option had been procured on the Hobgood home on Evans street a short distance from Five Points. He stated that the committee had gone over the property thoroughly, considered the price of $20,000 reasonable and recommended the purchase. After a full discussion of the matter the post voted almost unanimously in favor of buying the property. Just as soon as it is turned over to the Legion, work of repairing and converting it to a club house will get under way.

J. Hicks Corey, secretary of the Pitt County Fair called attention to the advance sale of tickets and urged the Legionnaires to take the ticket books and dispose of them at once. He pointed out that the advance tickets were only half the price of the regular admission purchased during fair week and stated that the number of the advance sale present agreed to sell the tickets and Commander Fountain urged all the Legionnaires to sit in every way possible to make the fair a success.

With reference to the tobacco market the post was reminded that every industry needed the wholehearted support and backing of the community to be successful and the members readily agreed to become personal boosters for the Greenville tobacco market.

J. Howard Moye and Herman McLawhorn made a report to the post on the happenings at the state convention in Asheville. They reported a most enjoyable meeting and reviewed some accomplishments of the Legion in the state during the past year.

Officers Dig Up Liquor In Yard Near Tar River

ABO Officers J. M. Ward and Claude Manning and Detective M. E. Corbett and Capt. Bowen Dorsey, while exploring yesterday on the premises of Raymond Duffy, elderly retired Negro chef, on Washington Street, at the river, found a gallon of bootleg whiskey buried in the yard and arrested him.

Duffy is noted as a cook. He has worked at some of the big hotels in New York. Officers said he had better success preparing food than liquor. They arrested him some weeks ago on the charge of manufacturing whiskey at his home. The case was continued in Police Court.

When it was called up last Monday, Duffy's attorney asked for a transfer to Superior Court for jury trial. The court granted the request.

Incidentally, ABO Officer Ward said he suggested to the attorney that he had better go on and try the case, or "we might get him again before the trial comes."

The attorney didn't see it that way. In a little while the officers had Duffy charged with possession of non-tax paid whiskey for sale. The case will be tried in Police Court Friday.

3,087 Students In City Schools

Relatively Small Increase Over Last Year's Enrollment

A report from the city schools today shows there are 3,087 students enrolled in the high schools and elementary schools of Greenville. J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools said this is an increase of approximately 60 over last year's enrollment.

Although there has been a relatively small increase in the number of students, three new classes have been added in the elementary schools in keeping with the state's policy of reduced teacher loads.

A new third grade has been added at the West Greenville school, a new first grade has been added at the Training school, and today preparations were being completed for the addition of a combination fifth and sixth grade at either the West Greenville or the Third Street schools.

A breakdown of the school enrollment shows there are 577 students in Greenville high school, approximately 50 more than the average daily attendance last year. Principal O. E. Dowd said 35 of these new students are transfers from schools in other towns.

In the white elementary schools there are 1,139 students, in the C. M. Spess high school 231 students, and in the Negro elementary school 1,140 students.

Fifteen German Editors And Publishers In This Country, Learning American Methods; Press Institute; German Standards; Can Shape Their Thinking

By JAMES MARLOW

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Fifteen German editors and publishers are in this country for six weeks to learn how Americans put out newspapers and magazines.

The fifteen—14 are men, one is a woman—are not husky-looking people. The Nazis kept five of them in concentration camps for periods ranging from months to years for speaking out against Hitler.

A number served in the German army and wound up as American prisoners of war in this country or Germany. Most of them since the war have worked closely with U. S. agencies in Germany.

Since the western democracies are anxious to see Germany become democratic, it was thought the push in that direction would be aided by bringing over here the editors who can help shape German thinking.

The idea started with American editors who visited Germany after the war and talked with German newspapermen.

The Rockefeller Foundation became interested and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, got a grant of some thousands of dollars to bring the 15 German editors here.

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Israeli government announced that Arabs today ambushed a Jewish convey to Jerusalem which included a white American technician and three Jews.

The ambush occurred at 2 p. m. Israeli time, near the Latrun pumping station on the road to Jerusalem, the announcement said. In the convey, it added, were the white U. N. jeep, two private cars, six trucks and one gasoline truck.

One of the dead was reported to be a woman and another, the commander of the convey. Jewish military authorities first said the attack was made upon a United Nations convoy.

Dead Soldier's Daughter Found; Future Is Assured

Greensboro, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Things looked a lot brighter today for a 17-year-old Negro girl whose father's death while serving in the Army during World War II left her an orphan.

As a result of investigations made by the local office of the North Carolina Veterans Commission, she is scheduled to start drawing a $58 a month pension and will get a steady income for life from the government insurance policy carried by her father, John W. Clay, district service officer of the commission, estimated that the total payments from the pension and insurance over the coming years could reach $24,000.

Clay was in Salisbury this week, where he arranged for a legal guardian to watch over the funds of the girl, Bertha Mae Womack, until she becomes of age.

Clay began a search for her about four months ago after her grandmother, who lives here, applied for a pension. He was notified at that time by the Veterans Administration that the serviceman on whose death the pension claim was based, Bertha Womack, had a daughter listed on his insurance policy as beneficiary and she had never been located.

Clay traced the girl and found that she was living with an uncle near Salisbury. Letters requesting her to come to his office, however, proved fruitless for a long time. Last week, she finally appeared, explaining that she hadn't come in at first because she didn't know exactly what was wanted of her.

If she stays in school, Bertha Mae will receive the pension until she is 21 years old. If she doesn't go to school, it will end when she is 18. Insurance benefits payments of $53.90 per month will continue for the rest of her life. Clay's estimate of the amount she might receive was based on an assumption she will live to be at least 64 years old. The insurance benefits are retroactive to the date of her father's death, but the pension payments are not.

Hunger's Labor Lost In Accident

London — (P) — Miss Elizabeth Diaper arrived in food-short England from Nairobi with a precious package. She had flown nearly 5,000 miles holding it carefully on her lap.

In Buckingham Palace Road, she dropped it—and a double-decker bus squelched over a pound of butter, a pound of tea, a pineapple and a dozen eggs.

The number of horses and mules on U.S. farms declined from about 24 million in 1910 to about 9,000,000 in 1948.

Edward J. Rutan, faculty member of the department of English at East Carolina Teachers college, has been selected by members of the Robert H. Wright chapter of the Future Teachers of America to act as sponsor and advisor during the school year. Rutan replaces Emma L. ### Meetings This Week Memorial Baptist Church

A large congregation filled Memorial Baptist Church last night to hear Dr. H. H. McMillan, missionary to Soochow, China, speak on conditions in China and the progress of mission work during the war and since. When China was invaded Dr. McMillan said that the largest mass migration in history took place, and that more than fifty million people moved from the eastern coast of China to the central and western part of the country. Every thing in the life of the country was disrupted, and it seemed as if all of the mission work was destroyed. However, instead of hurting the mission cause, he said that it had resulted in the greatest forward movement of Christian missions that China had ever experienced. In speaking of the inflation in China, Dr. McMillan said that the price of rice had advanced from $10 per 100 pounds to more than $50,000,000 per 100 pounds in Chinese dollars. He also told of the great help that the gifts of money and clothes had rendered to the people, many of whom were naked and starving. The mission property has been rebuilt and their schools and churches are more crowded than ever with those seeking entrance. The mission outlook for China was never brighter than it is today, he said.

Tonight the speaker will be Rev. E. Lowell Spivey, field secretary of the Baptist State Mission Board. The devotional will be led by Rev. E. G. Cole, pastor of the Winterville Baptist Church, and the choir of the Winterville church will sing the music. The services will continue each night at 7:30 o'clock through Friday. The people of Greenville and vicinity are cordially invited to attend these services.

Wilkinson Bids For Backing By N.C. Dixiecrats

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 22 — (AP) — John A. Wilkinson, Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate, today appealed to the States' Rights Democrats for support.

Wilkinson, in a speech which is being broadcast over 48 radio stations this week, told the States' Righters:

"When you fire your volleys at Harry Truman, you are putting your bullets into a carcass for he is already politically 'dead as a door nail,' but if you are true to the things you say you are, and are not afraid to fight your real enemies, vote for me, who supports your stand on the civil rights legislation x x x and who is unafraid to take a stand for the great principles of free enterprise in which you also believe."

Strength FOR THE DAY
JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Murder stalked recently through the quiet little village in which I happen to live. We thought it was the very center—or at least one of the centers—of our national culture, and behold, with wickedness and melodrama, the grossest of all crimes soiled the parking space before our beautiful Inn. An enraged stock speculator, after an angry argument with an erstwhile client who had secured a judgment against him in court, shot this client and later shot himself.

Both of these men appear to have started life under conditions of privilege. They were men of considerable ability and resourcefulness. They both died as the result of an argument over money. The man who died would probably have gladly given up all the advantage which the court decision afforded him, could he have foreseen even a small portion of the tragic results which were to ensue. And as for the poor chap who first committed murder and later suicide, what a price he paid for this sudden outburst of uncontrolled anger. What must have been his thoughts as he sat the last five minutes in his hotel room before he sent a bullet through his brain!

How dearly we have to pay sometimes for our mistakes! How swiftly we can throw away all we hold precious, in an overwhelming moment of passion! Even for the saints, crime is always just around the corner.

OUR COUNTY FAIR SHOULD GROW UP

County fairs date back into the musty pages of history; so far back that their origin is almost lost. But the tradition has not been forgotten, and they go on year after year.

The primary purpose of these fairs was to display agricultural products, machinery, trade goods, live stock, arts and crafts. In short, it was always a parade of the county's wealth and advancement. While entertainment features are a part of the tradition, it has always been the exhibition of goods that has keyed the county fair.

In this respect, we in Pitt County have lagged. Our exhibitions, the exhibitions of the richest county in eastern North Carolina, do not do justice to what we could display.

Plans have been set for the fair to open in Greenville on October twenty-fifth. With this definite announcement, farmers and businessmen have ample time to prepare now for the event.

It should be a rare opportunity for all to put on display their finest products in all fields.

Premium-money has been increased considerably this year; and we hope that it will continue to grow. There must be incentive for exhibiting, and if the Pitt County Fair is to reach its proper place in the sun, the number and quality of exhibits must increase and improve.

The success of Pitt County's annual fair hangs on the interest taken in it by the people of Pitt County. On the basis of what they should be able to exhibit, there is no reason why the fair cannot be the finest in this part of the state.

PARKING METERS SHOULD GO

We are glad that the merchants of the city have decided to officially request the removal of most of the parking meters from our streets. In the immediate business section it is possible a few parking meters might prove a convenience but the broad scale on which meters were installed here leaves room for the belief that the meters are for the purpose of raising additional city revenue rather than to serve the public.

Since the installation of parking meters in our city the complaints against them have far outweighed the praise, for most people seem to resent the fact that they have to drop pennies or nickels into the slot to park for a few minutes on the public streets.

So far as we are concerned the parking meters, on the wholesale scale they were installed here, have had a fair trial and have been found to be more of a nuisance than a convenience. Therefore we feel that when the matter is presented to the Board of Aldermen that body should lose no time in remedying the situation by removing the excess meters immediately.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
COMING—It is as certain as any such commitment can be that President Truman will come to North Carolina on October 19 and speak twice in Raleigh. On two previous occasions when the President had been invited and his prospective visit widely advertised, he had in fact not definitely accepted the invitation. This time David S. Coltrane, commissioner of agriculture, has a telegram from Matthew Connelly, one of the President's chief assistants, stating definitely that the President will speak at opening of the state fair on October 19. Invitation to speak at the fair was extended after it became known that Truman was expected to dedicate the statue to Presidents Jackson, Polk and Johnson on Capitol square that day. Present tentative arrangements are for a midday speech at the fairgrounds and a late afternoon dedicatory address at the capitol.

ARRANGEMENTS—Monument and fair folks have been in somewhat of a dither for the past day or two. They want to do whatever is necessary to make the dual presidential appearance successful in every way, but they realize that much of the arrangements will be handled by secret service men and members of the presidential staff. Dr. J. B. Dorton, director of the state fair, and Commissioner Coltrane have said they will comply with any request—even to the point of opening the fair grounds free on that day. That action will cost the fair a good many thousands of dollars and may mean difference in profit and loss for the year's operation. But—the prestige of having the President of the United States to open the 1948 fair will pay dividends for sometime to come. Coltrane has promised the President an audience in excess of 50,000. The dedicatory address for the monument will almost certainly be from the east balcony of the capitol building, directly above the Jackson-Polk-Johnson statue.

JITTERS—The monument commission is suffering a mild case of jitters because of uncertainty about delivery of the statue on time. Strikes of truck drivers in the New York metropolitan area has interrupted transport of the statue and base, but reasonable assurance has been given that delivery will be made in ample time.

HEADACHES—Appearance of the President of the United States involves a lot of headaches. Governor Cherry told his press conference Tuesday morning he had already had telephone calls from people seeking a place on the day's program, or at least some recognition for the person of the applicant or the organization represented.

POLITICAL—It had been suggested that the Truman dedication address would be non-political. He has been requested to make a "harm speech" at the fair. But under the peculiar conditions now existing hereabouts it would be hard to figure a more perfect setting for President Truman than dedication of a monument to Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk and Andrew Johnson. It was Jackson who threatened use of the army against the "state's rights" attitude of South Carolina in nullifying a federal tariff act in 1832. It was Polk who was President that the Oregon Territory and Texas came into the United States, more than doubling the existing geographic area of the country and giving birth to the national consciousness. And it was Johnson, who filling out the second term of Lincoln, maintained federal prestige as against individual sovereignty of the states throughout the early reconstruction era. With the agricultural program and state's rights making up the major issues in the current presidential campaign, it would be hard to find a more appropriate setting for "political" speechmaking. And it is interesting to note that the only objection raised to the President's North Carolina visit has been by a leading Democrat, who dubbed it a mistake.

BIG TIME—Senator Alben Barkley, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, is billed for an Asheville speech next Monday. Meantime, Republican leadership are confident that either Governor Dewey of New York, presidential nominee, or Governor Warren of California, vice-presidential candidate, or both, will speak in this state before the November election. This means North Carolina is rating big time candidates this year. Eastern Carolina Republican headquarters folks say they have learned that a scout from national headquarters has been conducting an independent survey here during the past few days and his report indicates Tar Heels is regarded as fighting ground for the first time in twenty years.

My theory is they deserve what happens to them for venturing out on crowded highways for week-end excursions when they could stay comfortably home in bed and read a Sunday newspaper. But I make an exception in the case of Joseph ("Fuzzy") MacCaskill, an old friend who lives in Queens. Never was an innocent Scotchman made unfairly set upon by fate.

Here is the story of MacCaskill's long voyage from and to home: Fuzzy set out on a Sunday afternoon in a 15-year-old car to inspect five lots he had bought in a new real estate development. He took along his five-year-old daughter, Estelle, and his 22-year-old brother-in-law.

Upon reaching the development site, somewhere south of the Canadian border, Fuzzy was told by a local settler that his five lots were five miles down a one-way dirt road. One mile farther on he met a man who told him the lots were three miles in the opposite direction. Fuzzy couldn't turn around. He had to back out the entire mile to his original starting point. It was getting dark. He drove through the wilderness for ten minutes, then reached the peak of a small hill. Fuzzy got out to investigate and found that if he had gone ten feet farther he'd have topped his car into a 15-foot ditch across the uncompleted road.

He dragged a small tree across to keep the next motorist from falling in, and decided to start back home without seeing his property. On the way he stopped and bought a bushel of apples, a 50-pound bag of potatoes and two gallon jugs of cider.

Night settled. Fuzzy found his car lights weren't working. He stopped again and bought some bulbs. Still no lights. So he burned on his spotlight, which worked on a separate battery, and plowed forward.

A motorcycle cop drove up and said, emergency or no emergency, the spotlight was against the law. So Fuzzy was escorted to a brick court house and noticed a bronze plaque that said: "This courthouse built with the fines of offending motorists."

"Leave $10 bail for appearance at 10 a. m. Tuesday," he was told. Furry offered to leave his battered car instead, but the cop said: "We don't want that piece of junk around."

So Fuzzy forked over the ten spot and drove on. A few miles farther he had to swerve off the shoulder of the road to avoid an oncoming car. When he swung back on the highway, he heard a sharp crack and his brother-in-law yelled: "Hy, Fuzzy, look at the wheel going past us!"

As the wheel spun off into the woods, the back end of his car settled to the highway and Fuzzy began to wonder if the wheel was his. It was.

A passing motorist obligingly drove Fuzzy into the next town to get a tow car. Later, a short run strokes into the woods, Fuzzy found his lost wheel in a bed of poison ivy.

He left his car to be repaired in the nearest village and the tired pioneers continued by bus. The bus let them off a mile from home—a long long mile on foot.

When Fuzzy reached his house he was carrying the 50-pound bag of potatoes, the bushel of apples and the two gallon jugs of cider. His brother-in-law was carrying the sleeping little girl. As Fuzzy dug wearily for his key, the door opened and his wife said: "Why didn't you wait for me this afternoon? You know I'd have enjoyed the ride."

I asked Fuzzy what he did with the five lots.

"I let 'em go," he said. "I lost $150, but I figure it was a good investment to get rid of them."

WASHINGTON LETTER
By JANE KADS

Washington—There is hardly a corner of the world where women are content to sit at home any longer. More and more they are moving forward to take an active part in business and politics. This was generally agreed by a group of young YWCA leaders, representing 26 countries, who visited the capital.

The women, most of whom are in their early thirties, were brought to the United States by the Foreign Division of the YWCA National Board of the first International Study Conference on Women and World Reconstruction. In a series of interviews the women told something of the extent of this woman's movement and how it was affected by the war.

Miss Eleanor Petrucci, Club Secretary for the YWCA at Genoa, Italy, said women turned out, almost to a woman, to cast their first vote in history at the recent election, and they "now consider their vote responsible for defeat of the left wing."

Miss Jacqueline Audra of France said the war not only gave women the vote was the first time, but it actually brought women into employment in great numbers and gave them a new sense of responsibility for holding the family together, clothing and feeding it.

Though they are still too inexperienced to make the most of their franchise, Japanese women are more and more taking part in the country's politics, said Miss Yuki Naito. She pointed to the fact that 30 women have been elected to the diet. Miss Naito Valentin, new national student secretary of the Philippine YWCA, pointed out that there have been women Filipino delegates at almost all the international conferences and that there are now two women in the island's legislature—a senator and a congressman. "The war shook the women of China loose from their traditional preoccupation with the home, and they are eager as never before to take their place as educated citizens," said Mrs. Ruth Chen Djeng Cha, general secretary of the YWCA in China.

Considering the fact that 25 years ago the women of Turkey were veiled and confined to their homes, their present status is quite phenomenal, according to Mrs. Naito Tektas, YWCA board member in Istanbul. "In business and in the professions, Turkish women receive the same salaries as men," she said, adding that she believed Turkey is the only country in the world where this holds true. There are nine women deputies in the national assembly.

Pursuant to an order from the Governor of North Carolina, and in accordance with Chapter 7, Section 7-80, of the General Statutes of North Carolina, notice is hereby given of a special term of Superior Court in Pitt County for trial of Criminal Cases.

The said term will begin on Monday, the Fourth Day of October, 1948, and continue two weeks, or until the business is disposed of.

Plan Housing For Convention Here

By WYATT BROWN

The Housing Committee of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church met Monday at the church to make housing arrangements for the five hundred to six hundred delegates expected when the 1948 session of the North Carolina Annual Conference convenes in Greenville November 3rd to the 7th. S. B. Underwood and Mrs. William H. Taft are co-chairmen of this important committee. In this day of smaller homes and fewer servants more homes are going to be required than in prior sessions of the conference here.

Four months ago the committee canvassed enough homes to place 350 delegates under tentative promises. Now these same persons will be contacted for final arrangements. Some few due to unavoidable circumstances have already advised the committee of their being unable to entertain delegates.

The other churches of Greenville have volunteered to become responsible for securing homes for some of the delegates. They are engaged in getting that accomplished now. It has been most gratifying the way some people have called the church office to tender the use of their homes for delegates. Such cooperation greatly facilitates the task. The church office immediately calls the church to which the volunteering home belongs and advises them.

The entertaining of delegates involves providing sleeping arrangements for four nights, breakfast four mornings, and Sunday dinner for each delegate one entertains. All other means are arranged for outside the hostesses' home. Greenville's reputation for hospitality reassures the committee of ready cooperation provided the word gets

Scat!

Rockford, Ill.—(AP)—Oscar Skogberg was driving a truck down Charles Street. A cat leaped up on his shoulder. The truck veered to the left side of the street, collided with an automobile and slanted off into a parked car. Skogberg turned his eyes on the cat in a high voltage look of disgust. Sure enough, it was black.

Home's Status As A Castle Disputed By British Councillor

Tiverton, Eng.—(AP)—Is an Englishman's home his castle? Not any more says Councillor C. W. White, of Tiverton rural council. Of farmer William Edwards, who twice refused to permit an official into his home to measure rooms for a housing survey, White said:

"This man is living in the past. He still imagines an Englishman's home is his castle, but those days are gone." The council decided to ask Edwards again.

Policemen Killed In Answering Call

Kansas City, Sept. 21—(AP)—Five men were fatally shot and two wounded last night in a gunfight growing out of a routine police call.

Three of the dead and the two wounded were policemen. The shooting occurred in a Negro apartment house district after two patrolmen answered a routine disturbance call about a "Loud Party" in an apartment building. Charles Neaves, 30, and Sandy Washington, 28, Negro patrolmen, were shot to death in the building. Policeman Charles Ferrine, 46, who responded to a call for aid, was slain outside the building. Police identified the other dead as William Bell and Edwin Burton Warren, both Negroes, who were in the apartment building. Warren died in a hospital today.

Red Oak News

"There's a comforting thought at the close of the day, When I'm weary and lonely and sad, That sort of grips hold of my crusty old heart And bids it be merry and glad. It gets in my soul, and drives out the blues, And finally thrills through and through. It is just a sweet memory that chants the refrain: 'I'm glad I touched shoulders with you!'"

It was "Homecoming Day" indeed at Red Oak Church last Sunday. The day was perfect from every point of view. A beautifully sunny day, just a little cooler than usual, over one hundred present for the Sunday school hour and the church filled to capacity for the morning worship! The junior choir rendered a short program of songs, duets and a prayer at the Sunday school hour. Mrs. Bell Jenkins and Mrs. Thurman Paige have worked wonders with this little choir and we recently completed a choir loft especially for them and it is nearly full each Sunday.

Many of our visitors remarked that the music rendered by the women's choir, under the direction of Mrs. Clarissa Edwards May, was the best ever heard at Red Oak. The choir sang "Lit Thine Eyes" and "I Waited For The Lord" by Mendelssohn. Mrs. Mimi Tripp Denton, Mrs. May and Mrs. James Allen were soloists for these numbers. Mrs. May gave a most beautiful rendition of "The Lord's Prayer." Rev. Harold Lyster preached at the morning session.

At 12:30 a bountiful dinner was spread picnic style and the largest crowd ever assembled for homecoming day enjoyed this feast. At about 1:30 a large number gathered in the church auditorium for an old-fashioned get together. Old-time favorite hymns were sung and Mr. Offie Stancill and Mrs. Louella Stancill of the Mt. Pleasant

Summer Ends

New York, Sept. 22—(AP)—Summer ends tonight at 10:22 p.m. standard time in the various time zones across the nation. Following summer's passing, daylight saving time ends at 2 a.m. Sunday. At that time the clock moves back one hour in most communities with daylight saving time.

Church, Mrs. Raymond Tyson of Pine Grove Church, Mr. Stuart Bragg of Raleigh, Rev. Lawrence Tyson of Greenville and a few others made short remarks. Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, 75 years young, and Mrs. Josie McArthur, 84, were presented a corsage of red roses each, a gift of John's Flowers of Greenville.

The floral decorations in the church were the prettiest we've ever had. The florists of Greenville each contributed a lovely arrangement for this occasion and they had a great part in making this a more beautiful occasion. The members of Red Oak Church deeply appreciate their contribution. The members of the church also appreciate all that our friends everywhere have done for us. Without your help, your presence, your encouragement we would be helpless. We are looking forward to a wonderful year's work.

Stone Age Weapon Awaits Judge James In County Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Pitt County Recorder's Court, before Judge Dink James yesterday. He had as exhibit "A" a strange and deadly Stone Age weapon. Solicitor Charles Wedder described it as "an atomic fist-bomb," capable of cracking a skull or busting a jaw with just ordinary impact. The weapon was a home-made brass knuck. It was a pickle-shaped rock, crammed into a short piece of automobile radiator rubber hose, with string and radio aerial wire wrapped around it to hold it on a trusty right hand.

Two hobnobbing officers, Deputy Sheriff Loyd Manning and ABC Officer Claude Manning had a warrant for Sam Williams, colored, for non-support. Around on Cotanche street they met Sam and served the warrant. He was with Jessie Ruth Anderson, colored. The officers gave them the "once over" and found a gun and a knife on Sam and Jessie Ruth had a paper bag containing the home-made brass knuck and a knife. They arrested the couple.

In County Court Judge James fined Williams $50 and coon for carrying a concealed weapon and confiscated the weapon. He taxed Jessie Ruth with the costs, about $25, confiscated her home-made "atomic fist-bomb," better known as a brass knuck. Sam Williams' case of non-support was continued until October

High Pay Backed By Communist Press In Prague

Prague—(AP)—Even a Communist-run state is troubled by complaints about high salaries paid to top industrial executives. But the Prague trade union daily, "Prace" says that such complaints about "privileged persons" are the work of "reactionary instigators." In an editorial, "Prace" said received complaints about the high salaries of factory managers. The editorial answered these letters by saying that "some of the high officials of the nationalized industries could not be paid enough, even if given their weight in gold." It added that a floor sweeper who works only eight hours a day can enjoy life more than the executive who is working "even in his bed—if he manages to get to bed at all" after long conferences.

Tarboro Captures Coastal Plain Shaughnessy Series

Pennant-Winners Take Four Of Five Games Against Kinston, Closing Playoff With 14-8 Landslide

By BERT MOYE

Tarboro, pennant winner in the regular season, captured the Coastal Plain League Shaughnessy playoff championship at Tarboro last night, defeating Kinston, the No. 2 team, 14 to 8. It was the fourth victory for the Tars who dropped only one game to the Eagles in the final series.

A seven run spurge in the first frame gave the Tars a lead which they held throughout the game. In the first, 12 Tars paraded to the plate and collected seven hits, including three doubles and four singles aided by a walk and two passed balls to score their seven tallies.

The Eagles came back in the second frame and paraded ten men to the plate, who collected five hits, one a triple and were aided by one error and one walk in scoring five runs to give the Tars a scare.

The Eagles came within one run of knotting the count in the fourth frame when they put across a run on two singles aided by an error.

The Tars came back in their half of the fourth frame and scored two runs to take a three-run lead on the doubles a single and an error. They put the game on ice in the final two frames scoring three runs in the seventh on a double and three singles and a walk; and scored two runs in the eighth frame on the doubles and a walk.

Bob Stapenhorst started on the mound for the Tars but was sent to the showers by the Eagles in the second frame during their five-run rally. During his stay on the mound he gave up five hits and five runs. Eddie Neville pitched the remainder of the game and gave up 12 hits and three runs and received credit for the win, his first in series play.

Charlie Timm started on the mound for the Eagles but after pitching to seven batters in which he allowed five hits and six runs he was replaced by Greene, who finished the game. Timm was credited with the loss.

Centerfielder Ray Komanczyk carried off the lion's share of Tarboro's hitting honors with four hits in five trips to the plate and Jim Towne, the Tar's shortstop got a double and two singles in four trips to the plate for second place honors.

Manager Steve Collins had a perfect night for Kinston, with four for four, which included a triple and three singles. Bill Jeffries and Pete Peters each got three singles each to belt off the Eagle's cause.

The Tarboro Tars made three double plays during last night's game and brought the total to 21 twin killings made during the play-off series.

Phantoms Stress Aerial Attack In Scrimmages

By BOO BOO BUTLER

The Greenville high school still suffering from several injuries went through an hour's scrimmage yesterday, preparing themselves for Friday night tilt with the New Bern Bears. Coach Bo Farley stressed their passing attack and highlighting the hours scrimmage was Joe Allgood, 2nd string fullback, and Doug Allen, 3rd string end. Allgood was noted for his outstanding runs, breaking through the line and secondary for long gains. Defensive and offensive play of Doug Allen, 3rd string end for the Phantoms, was also outstanding. Sexton and Pendleton, assisting Bo Farley coaching the line, remarked, "He looked better today than he ever looked."

Working out under light gear because of injuries were: Sam Northrop, 1st string end; James Harvey Ward, 2nd string end; Julian Vainwright, 1st string guard; Cox, 1st string back; and Bland, 1st string back.

Coch Farley is hoping that these boys will see action Friday night, however. Probable starters in the backfield will be Bland, Cox, Morgan and Farley. The line lineup is not known at this time due to the uncertainty of the outcome of the injured list. As Bo Farley left the field, he remarked that he hoped he had eleven men left to start the game.

Practice teachers who are assisting Bo Farley of Greenville in his coaching duties are three former ECTO Pirates. They are: Amos Sexton, Willard Pendleton, and Ellie Fearing. Sexton and Pendleton are helping with the line and Fearing is assisting in the backfield.

WILLARD PENDLETON

AMOS SEXTON

This column regrets that we were unable to obtain a picture of Ellie Fearing at this time.

Coach Danny Casal, Roanoke Rapids Daily Jackets went through an easy afternoon workout yesterday because of the centennial celebration. Casal said however that he would make up for it today as he will send them through a heavy scrimmage.

Coach Shot Cox and his Tarboro Tars are still looking for an 11 man combination to win them a North-eastern Conference victory.

We would like to turn the sport page back a season to congratulate Bull Mammons and his Tarboro Tars for winning the pennant and play-off of the Coastal Plain League.

There is a rumor flying that Ralph Caldwell, catcher of the Tars will enroll at ECTO this fall, and if he does, this column is predicting that he will see action in the Pirate lineup.

Patrolmen Plan Traffic Control For Grid Games

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22—(AP)—The State Highway Patrol will assign almost a third of its more than 400 men Saturday for the handling of traffic at the football games.

Patrol Sgt. R. S. Harris of Durham who handles the traffic problems at most big Tar Heel games, said today 90 men will be assigned to the UNC-Texas game at Chapel Hill where a sell-out crowd of 50,000 is expected.

Another 30 men will be on duty at the N. C. State-Duke contest in Raleigh, where 20,000 are expected.

Tied Emphatically

Augusta, Ga., (AP)—When all the votes but one cast by the members of Georgia's football team for the post of squad captain had been counted, Bernie Reid, guard, and Weyman Sellers, end, were tied.

Last ballot was cast for "Reid and Sellers" giving the Bulldogs their first co-captains since 1936.

Sport Slants by Pap

For three seasons, Frank Tripucka has been groomed for a starring role on the Notre Dame football team. The long, tedious apprenticeship is over and the long awaited opportunity to carve his name beside the great Irish quarterbacks of the past—Stuhldreher, Caride, Lujack, Bennett—is at hand. Coach Frank Leahy is confident that Tripucka will produce for he has indicated that his worries were few if the Irish were as strong in every department as they figure to be with Tripucka at quarterback.

Tripucka passed up many flattering offers to play football at dozens of colleges after he had established himself as a fine all-around athlete at Bloomfield (N. J.) High school to go to Notre Dame. He chose to go there despite the fact that he realized that he was passing up opportunities to be a "big fish" in a small pond to take his chances in the biggest of all football ponds. He must have been confident of his ability to rise to the top.

It isn't likely that Tripucka will miss the boat after waiting so long for his chance. Actually, he established himself as a fine ball-handler and an excellent passer on those occasions when he substituted for Johnny Lujack. His passing record last season topped Lujack's tonnage percentage of completed passes, 559, by eight percentage points. Against Navy, Frank completed eight of the nine passes he attempted.

Longhorns Plan Strategy For Tar Heels Saturday

Austin, Tex., Sept. 22—(AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns today put finishing touches on plans devised to stop Charlie Justice and his Tar Heel cohorts at Chapel Hill, N. C. Saturday.

Coach Blair Cherry hoped his strategy would be as successful as that with which his thundering herd slowed Justice to a standstill and trampled North Carolina, 34-0, last year.

But gone is the player who set off the explosive T attack. It was Bobby Layne's 44-yard touchdown pass that broke North Carolina's back in the first five minutes of the 1947 battle. The Longhorns have no comparable passer this season.

In Layne's place is Quarterback Paul Campbell, a brilliant, deceptive ball-handler. Coach Cherry said his passing game will improve as he gains confidence.

Texas boasts the same burning speed which Coach Carl Snavely of North Carolina said caused his team's downfall a year ago. Left Half Byron Gilly, 149-pound senior, will be ready to deliver more of his snake-hipped running. Right Half Billy Pyle, who plays safety, and Substitute Perry Samuels are equally deceptive scabcats.

Fullback Tom Landry, who ripped the middle of the Tar Heel line in the previous meeting, fills out the Texas backfield.

From the standpoint of experience and reserve strength, the Southern and Southwest conference teams are about on a par and stronger than last season. Seven North Carolina and five Texas players who faced one another in the 1947 opening lineups are back, though some of them may not rate starting assignment this time.

Braves Can Win Pennant Today But Spotlight Is On Cleveland

Tired Tony Fails Answer Bell And Cerdan Is Victor

Jersey City, N.J., Sept. 22—(AP)—Marcel Cerdan, a laughing Latin from Casablanca, is the new middleweight champion of the world, because he took Tony Zale's body bombs and kept punching.

In the fourth round of last night's title fight at Roosevelt Stadium, it looked as though Zale was about to tear apart the 32-year-old tiger of France. Cerdan winced and blinked his eyes as Tony landed a blockbuster under the heart. But he didn't go down.

That was where Zale lost his title and Cerdan, a product of wartime France, saw the way clear to realizing his lifetime ambition.

Once Zale had shot his heaviest artillery he had nothing left. Cerdan hooked to the head with his right, feinted the fading champ into schoolboy errors and trussed him up for the kill.

Zale was a tired old man of 34. Dead on his feet and with no zip left in his punches from the fifth round on. Only the fierce pride of a champion kept him off the floor until he collapsed—as the New Jersey official physician said "from exhaustion"—just after the bell ended the 11th round.

The Frenchman seemed a bit surprised to see him tumble. For the last few blows to the head had been no harder than a hundred others he had thrown during the chilly evening. Co-Manager Art Winch and Trainer Ray Aroel dragged Zale to his corner like a sack of potatoes. Then Winch and his partner, Sam Plan, signalled Referee Paul Cavalier he could not continue.

Under New Jersey rules they went through the formality of ringing the bell for the 12th and announcing that he had been knocked out in 12, but it didn't matter. Tony could do no more fighting that evening—and maybe never.

Although Zale and his managers hesitate to make it official, asking for a few days to "make up our minds," it was apparent to most of the crowd of 19,273 which paid a sub-par gate of $242,870 that Tony was all finished.

Lee Oma Kayoed By Woodcock In Feeble Fight

London, Sept. 22—(AP)—America's Lee Oma, flattened in the fourth round last night by British heavyweight champion Bruce Woodcock, was given further pummeling by the London press today.

Sports writers, taking up the boos of the sellout indoor crowd of 10,700 at Oma's feeble showing, rolled out such verbal punches as these:

Daily Express—Oma "did nothing but throw a few swings with the force of a whitewash brush on a wall."

Daily Mail—"It was plainly ridiculous." News Chronicle—"Who let Mr. Lee Oma in here?" Times—"He was not properly fighting fit."

Oma, whose purse was reported to be $16,000, commented: "I was terrible. Now I'll have to get a job."

Seven Flips

Chicago, Sept. 22—(AP)—A coin will be flipped seven times Friday at the American League office to determine a playoff program if the Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians or New York Yankees wind up the torrid loop race in a two-way or triple deadlock.

League President Will Harridge announced that regardless of the findings and sides, a first playoff game would be played Monday, Oct. 4, and a second, if necessary, Tuesday, Oct. 5. The World Series is booked to start Oct. 6.

Kinston Players Are Given Fines

Kinston, Sept. 21—Eleven members of the Kinston Eagles baseball club who refused to play in the second game of the Coastal Plain League playoff finals at Tarboro, Saturday night, have been fined $50 each plus one days pay, League President Ray H. Goodman said today.

The league president's action was taken against the Kinston players who went on strike for one night in an effort to force officials of the Kinston club to pay a bonus which the players said had been promised them for reaching the playoffs. Goodman said any suspensions that may result from the incident will be imposed after the National Association of Minor Leagues' head office Columbus, Ohio, has reviewed the report of the case being submitted by Goodman's office.

Goodman conferred at the courthouse here Monday afternoon for more than an hour with the men involved in the strike. He said his finding failed to show any evidence that they had been promised anything by the management of the Kinston Baseball Association. He found them guilty of "breach of contract and conduct detrimental to baseball," and said that his report would show that to the National Association president, George Trautman.

Any suspensions that Trautman might decide to impose will carry over into the 1949 season, Goodman said. Several days will be required before the suspension issue is cleared up, he stated.

The striking players were back in uniform for Sunday's game after Goodman had issued an ultimatum.

Indians Tackle Red Sox With First Place In American League At Stake As Braves Virtually Clinch Flag

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Boston Braves can clinch their first pennant in 34 years today but the baseball spotlight will be centered on Cleveland where the Indians tackle the Boston Red Sox with first place in the American League at stake.

Billy Southworth's Braves, who have had the National League pennant virtually sewed up for weeks, can mathematically win it today by beating the St. Louis Cardinals providing the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers bow to Pittsburgh.

The Braves virtually killed off the remaining pennant hopes of both the Cards and Dodgers yesterday, taking a twin bill from the Red Sox, 11-3 and 4-0, while the Dodgers bowed, 12-11 and 6-3, to Pittsburgh.

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by seven and one half games. Both teams have nine games left to play. The Cards are eight games back with 10 to go and a loss today will knock them out.

However, the main attention will be riveted on the Red Sox-Indian clash under the lights at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

The league-leading Red Sox are only a game in front of the runner-up Indians who have won their last six starts. A Cleveland victory would put the two teams in a flat footed tie for the lead. A Boston triumph would jump the Red Sox two games ahead with only eight games left to play for each team.

Bob Feller (16-14), who has been pitching great ball since late August, will start for Cleveland, against Boston's Joe Dobson (16-9).

The Red Sox trounced the Detroit Tigers, 10-2, yesterday in the only game played in the American League. Lefty Mel Parnell, although rapped for 11 hits, coasted to his 14th victory. The Red Sox opened with two runs in the first inning and led the decision with six more in the third.

Johnny Sain, the Braves' star righthander and Rookie Vern Bickford, turned back the Cardinals on nine and four hits respectively. Sain's victory was his 22nd—top mark in either league.

Of the 22 lettermen on the UCLA football squad, 13 are linemen.

Deadly Weapon

By Wade Miller

Chapter 1
Walter James eased himself into the aisle seat and tried to relax. He couldn't be calm at times like this; he felt his hands on his thighs, pulling the crease of his trousers a little higher. He felt his fingers at his stomach buttoning and unbuttoning his double-breasted coat.

The music from the four-piece band behind the runway was spicily-conscious languorous, underwritten, with heavy drumbeats. Walter James could feel the rhythmic echo in his stomach; it willbreakanyminute, it willbreakanyminute. He brought his head around slowly, peering up the darkened house, to catch another glimpse of the man he had come to see. The house lights had been out for two minutes now, setting the mood for the Grand Theater's star attraction.

Yes, there he was—second seat from the aisle in the last row. A glow of embarrassed red from the weak footlights barely outlined the man's head against the back wall. The tin voice over the public address system broke the spell of the drumbeat. "And now—what every man in San Diego has been dreaming of—the Grand Theater's own-lovely Shasta Lynn!"

Walter James turned his head back to face the stage. The curtain glided up. He automatically joined the clattering handclaps that greeted the woman standing in the foot-light glow. The fat man next to him was whistling shrilly. As the sound cleared his head, Walter James sat up straighter, feeling almost relaxed. This was better. He turned his full attention on the woman.

Shasta Lynn was not overly pretty, he decided, but her nose was thin and straight, and the planes of her face were not irregular. Her bill of sale was apparently her body: curved and flamboyantly sexual, it thrust arrestingly against the sheath of scarlet satin it wore. Her blonde hair was shoulder length.

As the admiration of the audience subsided to a rustle, a microphone slid down from the top of the proscenium to shadow her face. She sang "All of Me" in a convincing voice. In tones that were softer than Walter James had expected. She stood very still as she sang, her hands moving occasionally and slightly against either thigh. She stood very still, knowing that every eye was on her diaphragm as she breathed out the words.

After the last soft "All-of-me" the band at her feet began to accent the drumbeats again. The microphone moved up into the gloom. The red draperies behind her crept silently apart. Now the woman was surrounded by funeral black, against which her blonde hair and white skin were incandescent. She began to move gracefully and rhythmically about the stage. The throbbing band increased its pace and blue footlights joined the red ones, caressing her weaving body with purple overtones.

Walter James leaned forward in his seat, wondering just what was strange about the dance. Shasta Lynn was fascinating but not attractive; her suggestive movements seemed calculated to arouse not lust but some other more bizarre and stealthy surging. Despite the feminine bloom of her body, it intimidated an odd decadence. What's wrong with her? he thought. He looked around at other members of the audience near him; their dimly lit faces seemed to be registering the normal reactions. I'm getting old, he thought; maybe thirty-eight is too old to appreciate this sort of thing. Then, while Shasta Lynn posed, taking the acclaim of the audience, he dismissed the whole thing as the result of too much imagination.

The curtain dropped.

It rose again as the house lights went on.

The clatter of seats and the subdued thunder of feet on the wooden floor as the audience prepared to leave drowned out the final chorus. There were a few scattered handclaps as Shasta Lynn and a lanky comedian bowed from center stage. The men—college youths, elderly salesmen, sailors—punctuated by an occasional untidy woman, began to seep up the aisle. As the curtain came down to rest for the final time, the four-piece band swung into a march, overridden by the tin

Warren County School Superintendent Indicted

Warrenton, Sept. 22—(AP)—Warren County School Superintendent J. Edward Allen has been indicted by a grand jury on charges of embezzlement, false pretense and forgery. The charges involve the handling of school funds.

Allen is charged with embezzlement of $24,327.75 and with obtaining $1,666.78 through false pretense. Bills of indictment returned by the grand jury yesterday include 33 counts of forgery.

Judge R. Hunt Parker, presiding in Warren Superior Court, ordered a capias for Allen issued. The superintendent is a patient in Duke Hospital, Durham.

Judge Parker set bond of $10,000 on the embezzlement charge and $5,000 on the others. He signed papers impounding books and records in Allen's office.

The capias was served on Warren in the hospital last night. A cash bond was posted immediately after the indictments were returned.

Allen is charged with "padding" county school payrolls by listing as teachers persons who were not employed by the schools. Some of the purported teachers, the indictments charge, do not even live in the state. He is alleged to have forged endorsements on checks made out to the purported teachers.

The grand jury acted on bills of indictment presented by Solicitor Ernest R. Tyler following several weeks of investigation. It heard as witnesses agents of the State Bureau of Investigation, representatives of the State Board of Education and several school teachers.

Mediator's Life Said Threatened By Stern Gang

Haifa, Israel, Sept. 22—(AP)—Reliable sources said today members of the outlawed Stern gang have made at least indirect threats against the life of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche acting United Nations mediator in Palestine.

Bunche, an American, has taken over the duties of Count Folke Bernadotte, assassinated last Friday in Jerusalem. The Israeli government has accused Sternists of Bernadotte's slaying.

The sources, who asked that their identities be withheld, said that because of the Israeli government's extreme concern over these threats, Bunche and his top associates have been placed under a heavy guard of Jewish police.

Nineteen Cases Of Polio Listed For N. C. Today

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 22—(AP)—The State Board of Health received reports of 19 new cases of polio today, which raised North Carolina's epidemic total since the first of the year to 2,121.

All the cases were of September onset. No deaths were reported, so the fatality toll still stands at 118.

The Department said that because of rediagnosis, the September number of cases now totals 178, while the figure for August is 668.

Alamance county reported five of today's cases. Other counties reporting were Macon, Madison, and Rowan two each, and one each from Alexander, Gaston, Haywood, Johnston, Mitchell, Pender, Sampson, and Union.

Wallace Asserts His Party Will Not Fade Away

New York, Sept. 22—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace said last night the Progressive party "is not going to go out in 1948," but indicated he did not expect personally to be a candidate in 1952.

Speaking at a $100-a-plate dinner of the Business Men for Wallace committee, he appealed to his audience to help bring out leadership he said the new party will need if it survives.

Wallace recently bowed out as the party's 1952 candidate, saying he did not want the new party to be a one-man party like Theodore Roosevelt's Bull Moose and Robert M. La Follette's Progressive parties.

Ban Comic Books Featuring Crime

Los Angeles, Sept. 22—(AP)—Comic books should stick to comedy, the Los Angeles county board of supervisors here decided.

The board adopted an ordinance yesterday banning all so-called comic books which deal with such unfunny subjects as murder, burglary, kidnapping, arson and assault with deadly weapons.

The law sets up a fine of $500 or six months imprisonment for violators.

Students Offer Radio Program

Students of Greenville high school tomorrow night will present the first in a series of weekly radio programs over station WGTC.

The programs will be presented on Thursday evenings, Principal O. E. Dowd said, and will be sponsored by various classes and organizations in the high school.

Training . . .

The Germans are getting the same thing. It gives them a chance to learn quickly about the successful handling of American newspaper problems and methods.

German papers, according to reports from Germany and the first-hand statements of the editors at the institute, are in pretty sorry shape.

When an American newspaperman in Germany found out the German editors were coming here, he wrote to the institute:

"Most American newspapermen and experts on various journalistic subjects will find it difficult to realize how little these Germans know about newspaper work."

"Germany has had so little to build on journalistically that, by American standards, even an outstanding German editor is a veritable amateur."

After several weeks at the Press Institute, the Germans will visit Providence, R. I., and Washington for a few days. Then they will be "fanned out" to various newspapers and magazines in New York and around the country.

Those German editors who come from small German towns will spend a couple of weeks in the offices of small American newspapers to learn their problems close up.

Those from the larger cities will spend a couple of weeks around the offices of big American papers. The German magazine editors will visit the magazines to learn their problems.

Then they will return to their homelands to apply the lessons learned in this country.
