"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, September 26.
Golden Text: II Corinthians 4-14. "The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."
Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "I will extol thee, my God, O king; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever. Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations" (Psalm 145: 1, 13). And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit and its formations are the only realities of being." (Page 264)

Luncheon Meeting Opens Woman's Club

A luncheon meeting marked the opening of the Greenville Woman's Club year on September 24 at 1 p. m. at the club house. Mrs. Gordon Maddrey of Abockle, former state chairman of International Relations, was introduced as guest speaker by Mrs. George Renfro, local chairman of the International Relations Department of the Woman's Club. In a most informative and inspirational way, Mrs. Maddrey pointed out a number of pressing international problems and the part women might play in alleviating these problems.

Mrs. J. Vance Perkins presided at the business meeting. Reports from departmental chairmen were heard. Mrs. E. K. Allen, president of the Junior Woman's Club, announced that over $700,000 had been spent by her group during the summer for equipment and medical care in the children's wing of the local hospital.

Mrs. B. McK. Johnson announced that $3,616.93 had been contributed by Pitt County during the cancer drive. Mrs. Perkins announced that the Greenville Junior Woman's club had received second place in the Kate Highsmith annual award for youth conservation work, and that the Greenville Woman's Club had been placed on the honor roll by the State Federation.

Plans were discussed for the 15th district meeting of Women's Clubs to be held in Greenville on Friday, October 1. The meeting will be held at 10 a. m. in Memorial Baptist Church followed by a luncheon at the club house. Hostesses for the district meeting will be the Greenville Woman's Club and the Junior Woman's Club.

All Woman's Club members were urged to turn in their contributions for the Crusade for Children drive, which ends on September 30. A report was read telling of the

Strength FOR THE DAY
IS THE MODERN CHURCH
ADEQUATE?

At the meeting of the World Council of Churches held in Amsterdam last August, Pastor Niemöller is reported to have said: "It is not we who can breathe fresh life into the dying world. . . . Bankruptcy has overtaken the 'Christian world,' which thought it could impregnate the rest of the world by making Christian principles valid there." In other words, Niemöller is saying that the Church in its present spiritual state is in no condition to redeem ailing social order. With that judgment many of us will find ourselves in a fearful but complete agreement. The great mass of Christians today do not know what they believe. Preaching today, instead of being a proclamation of the good news, is a mere recitation of platitudes. . . . Bankruptcy is often nothing but a sensible little presentation of secondary Christian virtues.

We talk a great deal about the necessity of a spiritual revival. For the Christian that means a revival of the profession of the New Testament. Christianity is not a vague "something." It is the supernatural doctrine taught in the twenty-seven books of the New Testament. To that message the Church must return before it can raise humanity to new levels of peace and power.

Around Capitol Square

DIVIDED—Marked division of sentiment among the eighteen members of the state education study commission has long been recognized, but that it was so evenly divided as indicated by the majority and minority reports occasioned some surprise. The report which the 1947 act requires to be filed with the governor and transmitted to the general assembly had been several times postponed in the vain hope of compromising differences. As finally delivered to the governor Friday it is the work of eleven of the 18 members. Five others signed the report, and the remaining three who did go with the majority are expected to sign it—at least to approve its less liberal provisions.

STATE-AID—While no parts of the final report will be made public until both sections of it have been handed to the governor, it is known that division is mainly over the extent of state aid to local units in school work. The majority favors more liberal aid in construction of buildings, purchase of buses and other operational costs.

CONVINCING—Governor Cherry sought for several weeks to smooth out the division but without success. His original hope was that the commission report might prove of genuine value as a constructive recommendation to the general assembly. While voicing his disappointment over the group's failure to reach unanimous action, the governor is not willing to go as far as some others in predicting that the divided report will serve to further confuse rather than enlighten the legislators. Agreement is general that while it will prove less effective by reason of the division, the work of the commission will be justified in its influence upon intelligent public school legislation by the 1949 and subsequent general assemblies.

REVIEW—A conference is scheduled to be held in the agriculture building Friday morning, October 15, to review effects of the law placing commercial heating units for tobacco curing under supervision of the weights and measures division. It is rather unusual for the supervising agency to call a meeting of interested parties after a reasonable period of operations to talk about how the regulations had worked—whether they ought to be increased, continued as is, lightened or discontinued altogether. The 1947 act was designed to decrease fire hazards in tobacco curing barns. Reports expected at the October 15 meeting will show whether it accomplished anything in this direction. Two seasons experience ought to show something one way or the other. C. D. Baucum, chief of the weights and measures division, is confident the showing will justify continuing and strengthening the controls imposed.

TOUGH—Every beach and mountain resort suffered ill effects because of the polio epidemic this summer. Figures indicate that Atlantic Beach probably felt less effect from polo than some others, but Atlantic Beach has had the toughest lack of any in other respects. Anticipated big Labor Day business was canceled when hurricane warnings were posted. Deception of several places on the beach to stay open throughout September were reversed when a runaway barge knocked out the bridge between the mainland and beach. It was a tough year for everybody in the business, but Atlantic Beachers challenge any other community to show more bad luck.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE KADS

Washington—It is estimated that from one to five million individuals comprise America's "forgotten people"—the agricultural and industrial migrants. These people are unorganized, unprotected by workmen's compensation laws in most states, ineligible for educational, health, or welfare benefits, while following the crops from one place to another—season to season.

Forever on the move, these workers and their families frequently find maintenance of even a minimum standard of living an impossibility, says a report of the Federal Inter-agency Committee on Migrant Labor. "A sizeable segment of our population, through community and state neglect, has been robbed of so many normal American and human rights that it is almost unbelievable," says the report. "Child labor, sub-standard living and a pedlock against education have destroyed the rights of children and drastically disturbed the integrity of family life among migrant workers."

The National Citizens' Council for Migrant Labor was formed in October, 1947 to work against these conditions. The council is composed of individuals, and of national, state and local organizations. It hopes to stimulate and assist in the establishment of regional, state and local citizens' councils to work with them toward improving the condition under which migrants live and work. It recognizes "the need for a comprehensive long-term farm-labor program which will include migrant workers."

The council will meet in Washington next month to consider findings of a nation-wide survey of migrant labor conducted over the past year. Its program recommends the following:

1. The employer, the migrant worker, and both federal and state agencies work to use this shifting labor force to the fullest. This means that the worker must be told in advance where he can find work, he must be informed as to what the working and living conditions will be; how long the work will last; where he can go next in his migration.
2. State child-labor laws be extended to cover employment in agriculture. All child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act be made to cover children in industrialized agriculture. In addition, State school-attendance laws be extended and enforced.
3. Migrant children of school age be admitted to local schools. Extended school facilities, summer programs, parent education, specially devised units of study for migrant children be provided. Requirement of the same school attendance of migrants' children as of children of permanent residents. Provision of such state and federal aid as will be needed to make available equal educational opportunities to children of migrant families.
4. Establishment of child care centers for migrant children with nutrition, education and feeding programs.

The council will sponsor a bill to provide medical, hospital, dental care and drugs to migrant workers by federal grants-in-aid to states. It also endorses provision of adequate housing for migrants, better transportation facilities and regular payments of wages in cash, extension of workmen's compensation to agricultural workers, as well as extension of Social Security Act to all migrant workers.

PTA Sets Goal Of 25,000 New N.C. Members

Gilbertville, N. C., Sept. 27—The North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers disclosed today that a goal of 25,000 had been set for the annual October membership campaign.

State officials believe that if that goal is attained it will raise North Carolina above its present place of eighth in the nation.

North Carolina PTA memberships now number 174,868, so that more than 25,000 more members are needed for the new school year if the objective is to be realized. North Carolina is exceeded now in membership only by California, Ohio, Illinois, Texas, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York, in that order.

Nationally, the PTA has set a goal of 6,000,000 memberships. It now has 5,127,896 members.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

An appeal to Methodist women to study the issues of the forthcoming election, to study the record of Congressmen, and to vote for those who will lead the world toward peace, is made by Miss Thelma Stevens, head of the Department of Christian Social Relations, in a statement to more than two million members of the denomination's Woman's Society of Christian Service.

"The people we elect will direct the policies of this nation and largely influence the world toward peace or war," says Miss Stevens. "Which will it be? Our job as Christian women is to vote intelligently ourselves, and to influence others to vote with full knowledge of the issues involved. These are not times when loyalty to any party line can be the governing factors. What are the issues? How will the candidates face them? See what your present Congressmen and senators have done during the recent session of Congress!"

Thousands of hitherto illiterate Chinese learned to read and write in Daily Vacation Bible Schools, under the auspices of the National Christian Council of China, according to Miss Mabel Nowlin, educational missionary leader in Chungking, West China. Miss Nowlin and her Chinese associates gathered volunteers from among Christian high school students, and these gave many weeks of time in D. V. B. schools, some in communities where there are no established churches. "Christian literature is in great demand, and is one of the constructive forces combating the confusion in the thinking of so many in this land," says Miss Nowlin.

Among the women who made important contributions to the recent assembly of the World Council of Churches (interdenominational and international) in Amsterdam, Holland, was Miss Sarah Chakko, Indian principal of Isabella Thoburn College, Lucknow. She headed the committee on "Life and Work of Women in the Church"; and the assembly voted to form a permanent commission on this subject and to continue an interest in the religious welfare of the world's women. Speaking of India, Miss Chakko told the assembly that it would be "disastrous" to curtail Christian work in India; that Indians should increasingly bear Christian witness to their own people; and that laymen and laywomen are needed "to weave the word of God into the fabric of daily living."

It is believed that the slow tilting upward of the northern shores of the Great Lakes may, a few thousand years hence, cause four of the lakes (except Huron) to drain southward into the Mississippi River.

Hint At Bomber Which Can Elude Jet Fighter

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—The Air Force is making progress toward solving one of its gravest problems—finding a bomber that can escape from the darting speed of attacking jet fighters.

The fact that his tactical feat has been accomplished at least once was disclosed officially over the weekend. Air Secretary Symington made a brief and otherwise unexplained reference in a New York address to "the day the new jet bomber ran away from some jet fighters."

This marked a new phase in the centuries-old contest between offensive and defensive weapons during which each new machine or method of attack has been countered with a device to offset it.

In the three years since the war, the jet fighter has risen to challenge the offensive power of the heavily-gunned but comparatively slow bomber.

While the Air Force has published figures on the "designed" that is, hoped-for—speed of its experimental jet bombers, it never had indicated the actual relations of those speeds to fighters until Symington's terse comment.

Among the jet bombers with which the Air Force has been experimenting most extensively is the XB-47 Boeing light bomber. The Lockheed F-80 is the jet fighter in most general use by the USAF.

The XB-47 has six J-35 jet engines, developing a total thrust of 24,000 pounds. In addition to the jet engines, the bomber has 18 "Jato" rocket units which produce an additional 18,000 pounds of forward push when fired simultaneously.

Bond Drive Will Help To Win Peace for U. S.

By Robert M. Hanson, President Wachovia Bank and Trust Company Winston-Salem, North Carolina

In these days of economic uncertainty at home and threatening political trends abroad, nothing is more important than holding down the forces of inflation and keeping our nation's economy on an even keel. One of the most effective ways to check inflation and stabilize prices is for our people to buy wisely and save regularly. Intensified selling of U. S. Savings Bonds is just as essential now to win the peace as it was to win the war. You can count on the banks to do their part in this important task.

'Pappy' Williams Signed As New Manager Greenville Ball Club

Comes To Greenies After Playing Past Season With Kinston And Rocky Mount

By BERT MOYE

FRED P. WILLIAMS
The Greenville Baseball Club, Inc. has announced the signing of veteran outfielder Fred P. (Pappy) Williams, as manager of the Greenville Club for the 1949 season.

Williams performed for Meridian, Miss., of the Class B Southeastern League during the 1946 and 1947 seasons after a stretch with the Cleveland Indians early in 1945. He finished out that year with Wilkes-Barre in the Class A Eastern League. In 1946, the six foot four inch, 200 pound Williams posted a batting mark of .321, clouted 31 doubles, three triples and 15 home runs. His 97 runs batted in ranked fourth in the league, as did his total base record of 244.

His record in 1947 was in many respects an improvement over that of the previous year. Although his batting mark dropped to .304, he batted in 110 runs and slapped out 31 doubles and 24 homeruns.

During the 1948 season Williams played with the Kinston and Rocky Mount clubs and was seventh in the league in hitting with an average of .363. He led the league in total bases with 324, which included 35 doubles, seven triples and 24 homeruns, and was second in the league in total number of hits with 203. He broke his previous records of runs batted in during the past season as he drove in a total of 134.

Snavelly Credits Smashing Attack

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 27—(AP)—

"The boys just struck so hard and fast that the Texans never knew what hit them," was the way North Carolina Coach Carl Snavelly summed up his team's smashing 34-7 opening game victory here Saturday over favored Texas.

Snavelly said he had other Carolina teams that played better overall games, but none could match the fierce first quarter onslaught that his charges unleashed to stun the visiting Longhorns.

Within five minutes North Carolina had two touchdowns and three of the first four times it had the ball it scored. The score was 21-0 before Texas was able to recover from the devastating attack and stage an offensive of its own.

Charlie Justice, tailback terrific, was his usual dynamic self, throwing two scoring passes and twice tallying himself while also punting splendidly. However, Tar Heel heroes were legion and this was surely a team triumph.

An aroused line simply outcharged the famed Texas forward wall and rocked the husky speedsters from the Southwest time and again. Snavelly spoke with a warm glow of satisfaction of the bristling performance his linemen gave.

The net ground gain for Texas was only 38 yards—the same amount the Longhorn forwards had yielded in stampeding LSU a week earlier. And they ran 33 rushing plays, half of their overall total.

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

This writer would like to give 15 cheers for the N. C. State Highway Patrolmen for the way they handled the traffic for the Texas-Carolina and Duke-State games.

For fans interested in what became of Harold Dale, the boy who broadcast the Greenville Greenville baseball game, he is now employed by the Kinston Broadcasting Co. carrying all sports activities.

Boob Lowder, 205 lb. tackle for the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets, suffered a broken finger in Friday night's contest with the Methodist Raiders. However, Coach Danny Gal is hoping that he will be ready for this coming weekend's battle.

If you have a question you would like to have answered concerning sports, just address a card or letter to Charles Butler, Box 32, ECTC, or c/o Daily Reflector, Greenville.

The Pirates arrived from Hickory yesterday afternoon around 3:30. Remarks from several players as they stepped off the bus, "Gee, what a rough trip."

Will Charlie Choo Choo Justice make "All American"? If he plays as well in the rest of Carolina games as he played Saturday, he can make anything, even to "Scumming."

I was asked about the Carolina line average in weight yesterday morning. I didn't know at the time but here they are: Line—Texas 205, Carolina 207; Backfield—Texas 172, Carolina 175; Team — Texas 193, Carolina 195 1/2.

Pirates Lose To Lenoir-Rhyne By Margin Of 26-6

By EUGENE PRICE

A dazzling, potent Lenoir Rhyne college eleven, coming to offensive life in the second half, dwarfed the lesser East Carolina Teachers College Pirates 26 to six Saturday night at Hickory.

The injury - wrecked but game ECTC squad crumbled in the second half after delivering blow for blow throughout the first two quarters of their North State Conference opener. Lenoir Rhyne led by a slim seven to six at halftime.

ECTC scored its lone tally late in the first half with Lenoir Rhyne seven points ahead. Pirate Hall-back Michael Kovach started around and latered to Fullback Frank Maennle, who rifled a 60 yard pass to End Ed Tanner. Tanner was dropped on the Lenoir Rhyne two yard line. On the next play John Smith plunged through the Lenoir Rhyne defenses for the score.

It was after halftime that the bottom fell out. Lenoir Rhyne unleashed all its power and fury on the lighter and inexperienced Pirate squad. ECTC was no match for them.

The heavy Lenoir Rhyne line repeatedly rolled back the Pirate forward wall to allow their backs to chalk up three more touchdowns and take the contest going away.

In a desperate attempt to stem the Lenoir Rhyne offensive tide ECTC Coach Jim Johnson moved 230 pound Tackle Burman to guard. Johnson said Burman played as well as any man in the line and he was considering shifting the big tackle to guard to strengthen the Pirate line.

Johnson has two weeks before his boys face Elon college. They have an open date this coming weekend. "We're going to work hard these next two weeks," Johnson said last night. He said there would probably be some shifts in the lineup and that practice sessions would be intensified. "If we can knock off Elon then perhaps we can salvage a fairly good season," the ECTC mentor said.

Yankees Look On 'Wild' Pitcher As Game-Saver

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—The

"arrival" of wildman Tommy Byrne is the most important factor in the New York Yankees' uphill pennant drive.

It may be that Byrne nailed down the flag for Cleveland yesterday when he knocked the Boston Red Sox out of first place with a 6-2 victory. The Yanks prefer to think he helped put them back in the scrap.

Eight years ago, Scout Paul Krichell raved about a kid named Byrne he had signed out of Wake Forest college. It took a long time but the kid—now 22—finally made it.

Byrne has been "just another pitcher" in a series of Yankee spring training camps. The front office went along with him because of one thing.

"When Byrne gets the ball over the plate, he has more stuff than anybody on the staff," was the word from manager, coaches and scouts.

Layne, Luckman And Lujack Hit Packers, 45-7

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—A reminder from the Chicago Bears to the rest of the National Football League:

"Let Lujack, Layne and Luckman loose and you'll lose."

The three L's put on a mighty demonstration at Green Bay yesterday to prove the point. Lujack first name Johnny, late of Notre Dame, scored one touchdown, stole three Packer passes and kicked two extra points. Layne, first name Bobby, late of Texas, pitched 34 yards for a touchdown. And Luckman, first name Sid, who was a Bear when the other two were barely cubs in high school, capped them all with five of eight completions including two tosses for touchdowns.

It added up to a 45-7 rout of the Packers, the worst licking they've ever taken in 60 games with the big bad Bruins from Chicago.

Flag For Braves

Boston, Sept. 27—(AP)—After 34 years of disappointments, during which they saw all seven of their rivals triumph at least once, the Boston Braves today were back in the National League's championship ranks. The Tribesmen clinched the senior circuit's 1948 pennant yesterday by noosing out the New York Giants, 3-2, for their 87th victory in 147 starts. That enabled them to remain six games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who have only five more games to play. That clinching victory, decided by Bob Elliott's two-on homer in the first inning, came on the Tribesmen's last home date of the regular season.

Boudreau Claims League Pennant

Cleveland, Sept. 27—(AP)—Lou Boudreau flatly predicted today that his Cleveland Indians would win the American League pennant.

"I sincerely believe we're in now," the happy pilot declared. It was the first time this year that Boudreau did not add any "ifs," "ands," or "buts," while talking pennant.

More relaxed than at any time this season, the handsome, collegiate-looking playing leader beamed all over as he talked about Bob Feller's 4-1 victory over Hal Newhouse and the Tigers in Detroit.

"What was the big one," he emphasized. "Yesterday's game meant the pennant for us. It was more important than our 'must' victory over the Boston Red Sox last Wednesday. They've got to catch us now."

"We had to beat Boston Wednesday to remain in the race," Lou explained. "A defeat then would have dropped us two full games behind the Red Sox. That might have been a terrific blow to our morale. Yesterday's triumph, however, coupled with Boston's defeat by the Yankees in New York, I firmly believe, decided the race."

Minneapolis—(AP)—The University of Minnesota football team has discarded its familiar gold jerseys and replaced them with two sets of lightweight rayon—one with maroon numbers on white and the other with white numbers on maroon.

Three Big Bowl Elevens Listed With Vanquished

New York, Sept. 27—Three teams accustomed to celebrating new years in a bowl atmosphere—Texas, Alabama and Tennessee—were listed among the vanquished today as college football nursed the lumps of its first big weekend.

There were knots on other important noggins, too, and the two unbeaten powerhouses of 1947—Notre Dame and Michigan—were still puffing from close squeaks against neighborhood rivals.

The full schedule of games from coast to coast showed a trend toward bigger and better offensives. Only two ties were recorded among the better known elevens—Duke's scoreless draw with North Carolina State and Hardin-Simmons' 7-7 stand-off with Cincinnati.

Davidson End Is Leading Scorer

Richmond, Va., Sept. 27—(AP)—Buddy Cheek, senior end of the Davidson Wildcats, moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Southern Conference scoring derby today with 18 points.

Cheek, 6-foot, 3-inch, 175-pounder from Selma, Ala., tallied his third touchdown of the current campaign Saturday night in the closing seconds of Davidson's game with William and Mary's Indians at Charlotte.

Seven other players were deadlocked for the runnerup position with 12 points each.

Get a FORD "PHYSICAL"

Every 5000 MILES

10000
15000
20000

It MAKES good sense to have your car serviced regularly. The wise motorist makes it a habit to have his car lubricated every 1000 miles, and a complete "Physical" every 5000.

Take a look at your Ford's speedometer, today. If it's nearing a "5000" mile reading, bring it "home" to us for your Ford's "Physical"—which includes a thorough engine, ignition, electrical, wheel and brake check... and a complete inspection of the body.

When you make it a habit to let us check your Ford regularly, you're sure to keep the top performance that's built into your car. It's the right way to catch the "little things" that can make driving unsafe. You'll be surprised how much you'll save throughout the life of your Ford, with regular Ford care.

THERE OUGHTA TO BE A LAW!

Deadly Weapon

Chapter 5
"It's a long story," said Walter James. "Us Jameses—we never forget a grudge."
"Like me," said Clapp. He grimaced thoughtfully. "Oh, well—I'll come back to that question later." He eyed the girl. "You didn't notice anything about whoever it was moved in and out of that aisle seat?"
"I'm not even sure there was anybody. I just think there was."
"You'll help us a lot if you keep thinking, Miss Gilbert."
Laura Gilbert said, "I'm sorry I can't remember, Mr. Clapp. I just wasn't paying any attention. This is my first time in a place like this."
"Why does there have to be somebody in that aisle seat?" Walter James asked quietly.
Clapp said, "You know better than to ask that. The wound indicates that whoever did it would have to be sitting down. Theoretically, the young lady here could have done it with a backhand. If somebody sat to the Filipino's right, that person could have done it with a lunge stroke. The people in front couldn't have done it without being noticed."
"You keep ignoring suicide," said Walter James.
"Not the right circumstances and no prints on the hill. As a professional," Clapp looked thoughtfully at the slim man, "you would appreciate the murder weapon. It's a job, cheap, tailored down for a job like this. Thin blade to go in quick, like a knife. The blade would make sure a medium-size or small person, a flat two-inch guard to avoid a mess. The hilt was originally a little longer than it is now—it's been cut off so it wouldn't show much, I guess. Yeah, I'd say the knife was ideal for killing a small man, quickly and neatly, in the dark. It could have been made for you, Mr. James."
Walter James dropped his cigarette. He groped for it with his foot, ground it out. When he looked at Clapp, he was smiling palely. "I've only been in town three days and I've had no trouble with my landlady."
Felix stuck his head through the part in the main drape. "Are you coming up here, Austin, or shall I send them home?"
Clapp waved at him. "Coming right away," he called.
"Okay, they're getting restless." Felix withdrew his sleek head. Clapp looked at Walter James and the girl. "You might as well come along. I want to talk to you a little more." Walter James helped the girl to her feet. Clapp led the way down the aisle, talking over his shoulder as he went.
"Answer me this, Mr. James—what was that card doing in the Filipino's pocket?"
"You mean half a card," said Walter James.

Greis interjected nervously. "I can explain, Lieutenant—" Clapp shut him off by turning his back on the pudgy manager. Host smiled with one corner of his mouth. "What he was going to say is that I'm new around here. Just came in from Denver last week, Lieutenant."
"Why are you in such a hurry to get going?" Clapp asked. "Aside from sleep, I mean."
Host glanced over his shoulder at the crowd of girls near the stage switchboard. He lowered his voice. "You know how it is, Lieutenant—I gotta meet a friend."
Clapp grunted. He turned away from the lanky comedian. "I'm sorry, Mr. Host. Your date'll have to wait. At the sound of his voice, one of the chorus girls bounced out of the crowd.
"Date?" she said shrilly. "What date?"
Host said, "Shut up, Dixie." She faced him, arms akimbo, eyes flashing. "So you did have a date tonight, huh? Giving me the brush-off, were you?"
Host kept himself under control with a visible effort. "Will you shut up?" he said, barely moving his lips.
"All right, you—" She clawed at Clapp's arm. "He says he didn't know Ferdy, didn't he, Lieutenant? Okay, ask him who he was arguing with this evening before the show." A slow grin lit the big man's face. He looked at Host with fresh interest. "Well, Host—maybe you'd better

N. C. Democrats Launch Campaign With Rallies

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
 North Carolina Democrats, guarding against a repetition of 1928 when the Tar Heel state went Republican, launched their 1948 campaign with two big rallies today.

The rallies were staged in the western part of the state, some areas of which already are being claimed by Republican leaders.

Two high national party leaders, Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan and Senator Alben W. Barkley, came to the state to sound the campaign's opening notes. Brannan spoke at Monroe this morning, telling hundreds of listeners of the current farm situation, including the government's price support program.

Barkley's the party's vice-presidential standard bearer, will speak at Asheville tonight, climaxing a 12th District Democratic rally. His address at 8:30 o'clock will be carried by radio stations in Asheville, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Charlotte and Greensboro.

A host of high state Democratic party leaders met Brannan in Monroe today and later motored to Asheville to greet the Kentucky. Included among the group were Governor Cherry, Governor - nominee Kerr Scott and State Democratic Chairman Capus Waynick.

Democratic rallies at Morganton, Rutherfordton and Salisbury will follow the Asheville meeting later this week.

Not Excited At Oil Well Outlook

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 27—(AP)—North Carolina's State Geologist, Dr. Jasper L. Stuckey, is not yet excited over the prospects of finding oil in Hertford County.

"The prospects in Hertford county are no better or no worse than other attempts to find oil in Eastern North Carolina," said Dr. Stuckey. "If oil is there, it will take drilling to get it."

Dr. Stuckey's comments followed a statement recently by representatives of the Pam-Beaufort Drilling Company that they had found signs of oil in Hertford county at a test well being drilled near Coffield.

Mahlon Baker, geologist for the drilling firm, had reported that the test well has a "definite oil showing and that gas bubbles rising with mud and water from the depth of the well indicate the presence of sulphur content which is a favorable sign to oil prospectors and geologists."

Examples from the Coffield well have been sent to Stuckey for examination.

Big 'If' . . .

Now take the countries of western Europe. We're helping them through the Marshall Plan for two reasons, among others:

1. To help them get straightened out after the war.
2. To help them get prosperous so they won't collapse, for if they do the Communists may take over.

This year we're spending $3,300,000,000 on the Marshall Plan. Next year we expect to spend more billions, although perhaps not as much as this year.

But suppose Russia acts up and those western European countries stagger. Then we'll probably spend a lot more than $5,300,000,000 to save them.

And if expenses in just those two fields — defense and the Marshall Plan—go up, cutting taxes at all will be tough or impossible.

And—if we go to war with Russia the sky will be the limit. We'll go plunging into bigger spending and heavier debt.

So, as the campaign goes along and you hear one of the candidates talk about what he'll do if elected, just remember to say to yourself: "Maybe he will, if..."

more important, with Austria and Germany.

The significance of that is clear to half an eye. Moscow could flood that corridor with military forces, thereby not only putting herself in position to handle any revolt among the satellites but acquiring a powerful base in the event of war with the west.

In this connection it shouldn't be overlooked that Czechoslovakia long has been one of the world's greatest arsenals, for the immense Skoda Engineering works are situated there. The armaments produced in these factories were a tower of strength for Hitler in his mad attempt to overrun Europe.

But, you ask, why can't Russia fill the satellites with troops without annexation? Well, she undoubtedly would in an emergency, but as things stand it would involve an open violation of "Sovereignty" which would create a nasty international situation.

The northern shores of the Great Lakes are believed to be rising at the rate of about a foot every century.

Hard Cash

Roxboro, N. C., Sept. 27—(AP)—Thomas "Tip" Slaughter paid out 140 pounds of hard cash for his new truck. It was all the loose silver he could spare from the cash register in his service station here over a four-year period.

He put out $1,741.99 in: 2,350 pennies, 3,920 nickels, 5,174 dimes, 2,490 quarters and half-dollars and 296 silver dollars.

Hotel Was Leased To Texas Operator

The Greenville Hotel case in Police Court last Friday was concluded. Evans C. Martin, the manager, who was convicted of operating a gambling house on the premises and on numerous other charges, paid his fines and was released.

The record shows that W. F. Young, who owns the property, had leased it for 10 years to James Anderson of Dallas, Texas, hotel broker and operator of a chain of small hotels in the south. At the trial Judge J. W. H. Roberts and Solicitor Eli Bloom expressed the opinion that Young was not connected with operation of the hotel.
