

Announce Higher Electrical Rates

Increase Laid To Higher Production Costs; Adjustment Recommended Following Study For City Commission; 'Coal Clause' Is Included

Electrical rates in Greenville will be increased to meet the increased cost of production, it was stated yesterday at a public hearing of the Utilities Commission at the city hall.

Domestic users in the lower wage brackets will average an increase of 17 per cent ranging from 50 cents to $1.25 per month, while some industrial customers will get a 50 per cent increase in their present rate. "But these industrial customers have been enjoying since 1938 an unusually low rate for electric power, lower than could have been purchased from any surrounding utility," stated L. A. Blackburn of Richmond, who made a thorough study of the local electrical system for the Utilities Commission.

An overall adjustment of rates of the local plant has been recommended to allow the plant to continue to operate on a profitable basis.

L. A. Blackburn and J. H. Watkins, power production experts of Richmond who studied the local plant, yesterday made public their report to the Commission. The hearing was requested by the Chamber of Commerce.

The rate adjustments were found necessary to meet the present cost of production since there has been no rate change in Greenville since 1938 when a slight decrease in rates was made. Production costs have doubled since that time, Blackburn stated.

In the new rate scales there has been included a "50 per cent minimum charge of the maximum load requirement" which will require industrial plants to pay each month for at least 50 per cent of their maximum electrical requirements in peak production, whether the current is used or not. Rate increases for Greenville's seasonal industry under the new adjustments will average 25 to 31 per cent, Blackburn said.

The new adjustments also contain a "coal clause" which permits the electrical rates to be changed as much as 50 cents per ton.

As for the sections outside the city limits which are served by power from the local plant, Blackburn stated, "Greenville last year lost almost one-half cent on every kilowatt hour of current sold to other towns."

The Utilities Commission has not said when the new rates will go into effect, but from all indications it will be in the near future.

One Hopeful Aspect

The Fact That France Is Standing Beside Britain And The United States In UN In Charging Russia Is Significant; Internal Weakness; Possible Effects

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

One of the most significant—and hopeful—aspects of the East-West quarrel over Berlin is the manner in which France finds herself able to stand squarely beside America and Britain in charging Russia with menacing world peace.

For those familiar with the situation it was a moment of great drama when French Foreign Minister Schuman confirmed French-British-American solidarity in addressing the General Assembly of the United Nations in Paris. He declared that the three Western powers had "exhausted every possibility of direct agreement" with Moscow. He said the trio hadn't found even "a minimum of good will" in their talks with Russia.

True, that was mild compared with the emotional and fiercer denunciation of Red tactics by British Foreign Secretary Bevin. But there was a vast difference in the position of these two statesmen.

Schuman was bound to have in mind the economic and military weakness of his war-stricken country. He couldn't forget that the Communists have the largest single political party in France and have a powerful hold on labor. Clearly France must avoid war at all hazards within reason. And she mustn't assume any attitude which thereby seriously conflict with her fundamental policy of not allowing Germany again to become capable of waging war.

Yet Schuman threw down the gauntlet to Red Russia, thereby enabling the three democracies to present a solid front at this dangerous moment. Of this action the London Times says Schuman left his hearers in no doubt of his government's determination to work for peace and a German settlement in every reasonable way, while resisting every pressure with which the Soviet Union has tried or may try to force a decision on its own terms. And the London Daily Telegraph points out that the French are uncomfortably near the Soviet armies of occupation and all too conscious of their own military weakness.

Clearly a terrible weakness in the defenses of Western Europe against Communist aggression would have been exposed had France felt unable to take her accustomed place beside her old allies. However, the situation

Dewey Schedules Major Foreign Policy Address

Talks Tonight In Utah; Truman Talks Of Future Campaign Plans

By The Associated Press

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will deliver a major foreign policy speech tonight in Salt Lake City.

President Truman meanwhile altered his campaign travel methods to make a 141-mile automobile tour through southern Illinois.

In advance of his nationwide broadcast address, Dewey sent this message abroad: "Let no dictator or trigger-happy militarist anywhere mistake campaign argument in America as a sign of disunity here."

"The Republican party is engaged in this campaign for the express purpose of bringing our people closer together so they can realize their great future and find peace with honor in the world," The GOP Presidential candidate said last night at Great Falls, Mont.

Mr. Truman also spoke on world peace and America's future in the 100th talk of his cross-country trek. He told a roadside gathering at Buffalo, Okla., yesterday that he is making "every effort possible that the President be capable of to get peace in the world so that the next generation will see the greatest age in history."

"And I believe it will," he added. Mr. Truman hammered away at domestic problems in a later speech at Tulsa. He said his Republican opponents are "afraid" to take a stand on the issues because "they know very well that if the people understand what the issues are they haven't a chance to win on November 2."

But he said he will "smoke 'em out" in further campaign tours—the next one starting October 6 will take him into Dewey's home state of New York.

En route to Salt Lake City, Dewey told a Helena, Mont., rally that he wants to bring to Washington an administration which will set up a foreign policy "so clear and so consistent that no longer will any dictator regard us as weak and unstable."

Totalitarian states, he said, "must not assume that because any person of high importance is going around the country preaching division that we are in fact divided."

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—The government has put cork back on the export list after a year-long ban. It did so because of this year's indicated record crop of 3,500,000 bushels—more than enough to meet this country's own needs. Last year's crop was a near failure.

The Agriculture Department announced yesterday that it will permit 19,000,000 bushels of the grain to be exported during the October-December quarter. Most of it will go to Europe to help revive meat and dairy industries cut low by the war.

Allotments for exports are expected to be stepped up sharply after the first of the year. By that time, there should be ample supplies of the new crop available for shipment.

Polish Peasants Again Target Of Communists

Warsaw, Sept. 30—(AP)—The Communists stepped up their drive today against Poland's Peasantry, whose inclinations toward capitalism have the government worried.

Roman Zambrowski, member of the Communist Party Politburo, said in a speech that some 250,000 peasants, many of them members of the Communist party, are tainted by "personal advantages." Of these, he said, there are 20,000 who own 25 to 50 acres of land, and many "have become capitalists."

The party's executive committee has appointed action squads to conduct a purifying campaign among what the committee calls this alien class. The government intends to carry out this drive by buying up crops of poorer peasants at good prices and taxing heavily the Kulaks, or rich peasants.

Throughout Poland the peasants have been on a selling spree, turning their goods and cattle into cash to beat the Communist socialization drive.

Justice Minister Henryk Swiatkowski, chairman of the Socialist Executive Committee, demanded an all-out purge of "reactionaries." He also attacked the Vatican, accusing it of lining up with the west against the Soviet Union and eastern Europe.

Purges now have extended to all walks of life. The action squads are trying to help President Boleslaw Bierut close gaps in the Polish Communist front caused by deviation from the line of the Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform) by Vice Premier Wladyslaw Gomułka and his supporters.

Plan Dedication Of New Hospital

Bat Cave, Sept. 30—(AP)—The New Valley clinic hospital here will be dedicated Sunday. The 12-bed hospital was established at a cost of $50,000, which was raised by public subscribers. All indebtedness has been paid. Speakers at the dedication service will include Dr. Robert Barrett, past national grand exalted ruler of the Elks; Senator Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby, and Rep. A. L. Bulwinkle of Gastonia.

Video 'Freeze'

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today announced that it is temporarily suspending approval of any new television stations in order to "polish" the service already authorized.

The action, effective immediately, freezes 302 pending applications for new video stations. The pause in the further expansion of television broadcasting at this time finds a total of 125 stations authorized, of which 37 are actually on the air. The remainder hold construction permits and are in various stages of development.

FCC Chairman Wayne Coy told a news conference the suspension of further action on television applications will last "possibly six months."

Chinese Air Lift Center Attacked

Manchurian City Defenders Outnumbered By Red Forces

Nanking, Sept. 30—(AP)—Chinhien, important government air lift center in Manchuria, was under attack by 120,000 communist troops today as the increased Red pressure on all fronts drew Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to Peiping.

Defenses of the Manchurian city were holding, government sources here said. They said Chinhien was defended by about 80,000 men.

Chiang, who flew to Peiping yesterday to confer with his northern commander, was expected to fly over Chinhien and Mukden, which had been taken by government forces. Chiang said fighting in southern Manchuria would increase as the Reds moved more southward. The national forces there are being constantly reinforced, he said.

Heavy communist pressure on Kweisui made it appear likely the government commander in North China, Gen. Fu Tso-yi, would not be able to reinforce Chinhien. Gen. Teng Wen-yi, government spokesman, said fighting in southern Manchuria would increase as the Reds moved more southward. The national forces there are being constantly reinforced, he said.

The Interior Department has ordered the Alaska railroad to begin operation of three government barges to carry essential food, supplies and construction materials to Alaska.

Aged Grand Army Says Next Meet Will Be Last

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 30—(AP)—The aged Grand Army of the Republic marched off today from its 82nd annual encampment toward a dim future.

After next year's meeting in Indianapolis the GAR will never formally assemble again.

The six delegates to sessions here decided they were too old and the GAR's ranks too thin for any further encampments beyond 1949. The GAR has 28 surviving members.

Theodore A. Penland, 99-year-old Portland, Ore., veteran, was elected commander in chief to succeed Robert M. Rownd, 103, Ripley, N.Y.

Eggs, Tomatoes Missed Wallace

Houston, Tex., Sept. 30—(AP)—Henry Wallace didn't bother to duck as four eggs and two tomatoes crashed around him last night, grinning through the uproar, he went on to deliver a speech before a mixed white-and-negro audience estimated at 3,500.

The man who threw all—or nearly all—of the missiles said he is a merchant seaman from Eubank, Mont., named John J. Stakel. He didn't hit Wallace once. Police took him outside and let him go.

Democrats Stage Campaign Rally

Rutherfordton, Sept. 30—(AP)—Democrats of the 11th congressional district held a double-barreled campaign rally today.

An indoor rally was held this afternoon in the courthouse here. Speakers include State Chairman Capus Wayne, Sen. Clyde R. Hoey, Senator-nominate J. Melville Houghton, and Rep. A. L. Bulwinkle.

More than 1,000 persons were expected for a fish fry and rally tonight in the Forest City Municipal Park.

Took Trap

Los Angeles, Sept. 30—(AP)—Ross E. Piper rigged up a complicated burglar trap today in his room.

He used a system of photographic flash bulbs, wired to a radio and an electric clock. They flashed when anybody opened his dresser drawer. He also smeared the draw handles with a mixture of indelible pencil lead and syrup.

He told police yesterday he found somebody had entered his room and used one of his clean towels to wipe the syrup mixture off his fingers.

Piper, a railroad switchman, ruefully added that his contraption, but nothing else, had been stolen.

Shipping Figures Offer Problems To Legislators

Suggest Special Session To Handle West Coast Maritime Walkout

San Francisco, Sept. 30—(AP)—Shipping industry leaders today backed a proposal for an extra session of Congress to deal with the West Coast maritime strike.

They offered "to prove to any congressional committee" that the strike is political and "without a strike issue on trade union grounds."

This offer was made in a telegram to Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R-N.J.) from Frank P. Folio and J. B. Bryan, presidents, respectively, of the coast Waterfront Employers' Association and Pacific American Shippers' Association.

Hartley recently proposed an extra session to deal with the strike, which began Sept. 2 and has tied up 146 American ships.

Since negotiations over wages and the hiring hall broke down today employers have refused to talk further with unions whose leaders have not signed affidavits disavowing Communism.

CIO longshoremen seek a wage hike of 15 cents to $1.82 an hour. On strike with the longshoremen are three allied CIO seafaring unions and the independent marine firemen's union. Officers of the firemen have signed non-Communist affidavits.

The employers' message to Rep. Hartley urged that Congress establish authority over "destructive union leaders to guarantee a semblance of peace for our workers and our port communities."

Albert W. Gator, president of the Pacific American Steamship Association, said that as a result of the strike smelting refineries, copper plants, sugar refineries, coffee roasting plants, paint manufacturers, cordage plants and pulp and paper mills already have curtailed operations or would be forced to it.

The Interior Department has ordered the Alaska railroad to begin operation of three government barges to carry essential food, supplies and construction materials to Alaska.

Dixiecrats Seek Maryland Ballot

Present Petitions Today Despite Ruling On Validity

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 30—(AP)—Petitions bearing more than 2,000 signatures and asking that the States' Rights Democratic presidential ticket be placed on Maryland ballots will be presented formally to Secretary of State Bertram Boone, 2nd, today.

Attorney General Hall Hammond said he will inform Boone the petitions are invalid because they were not filed before the April 13 legal deadline. They were filed yesterday by E. Stuart Vaughan, temporary chairman of the States' Rights Democrats of Maryland.

Hammond issued a similar opinion several weeks ago. At that time States' Rights spokesmen said they would gather the petitions anyway, present them, and—if they were rejected—appeal to the courts.

If Hammond's ruling stands Marylanders who wish to vote for the States' Rights candidates for president and vice president—Governors J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Fielding Wright of Mississippi—would have to write in the names of eight presidential electors pledged to them.

They have asked Hammond for an opinion as to whether printed names of an electoral slate would be valid if voters were to paste them to the ballots.

Claim Arrest Of Stern Gang Boss By Israeli Police

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 30—(AP)—Reliable informants said today Israeli police have arrested Nathan Friedman-Yellin, head of the Stern Gang.

A terrorist arm of the Stern Gang, a Jewish underground extremist organization, has boasted that it was responsible for the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, the U.N.'s Palestine mediator, in Jerusalem Sept. 17.

The informants said Friedman-Yellin was arrested in Haifa last night, together with one of his right hand men, and in a search of his apartment in Tel Aviv, police were said to have found "documents throwing new light" on Sternist activities.

Launch Campaign To Open College

Ahoskie, Sept. 30—(AP)—Sponsors will launch a campaign here tonight to raise $100,000 to reopen Chowan College.

The school, a century old Baptist institution at Murfreesboro, was closed in 1941. Plans call for it to be reopened next fall.

Security Council To Take Up Explosive Issue Monday

Truman Sees Choice Between Fear, Hope

Asks Illinois Voters To Stop 'Big Business' Republicans; Renews Attack On Taft-Hartley Labor Measure

Carrondale, Ill., Sept. 30—President Truman asked Illinois voters today for Democratic votes to stop "big business" Republicans from continuing to "nail the American consumer to the wall with spikes of greed."

He offered them a choice between "another era of fear under the Republican reactionaries" and "another era of hope with liberal democracy."

Mr. Truman prepared his remarks for delivery in the southern Illinois University McClelland Stadium.

The President assailed the Republican-controlled 80th Congress as "the puppet" of big business, and the real estate, power and grain speculators' lobbies and rapped its passage of the "reactionary Taft-Hartley Act" over his veto.

"Instead of improving the Wagner act as I recommended," Mr. Truman declared, "they cut and hacked away at the workers' newly-won rights. The Taft-Hartley act is the way backward, not the way forward. That's the Republican way."

"The big business Republicans have set an economic trap for the American consumer. They have baited the trap with glib assurances that everything will be all right if you just let nature take care of everything. And when they say nature, they mean themselves."

In his Carrondale address, the President said the Democrats have raised the income of the farmer to ten times what it was in 1932, saved millions of homes and farm owners from eviction, rescued the banking system, established deposit insurance and "brought truth to the sale of securities."

On the other hand, he said, the 80th Congress passed a "rich man's tax bill," the Taft-Hartley act, and became "the puppet of big business, the puppet of special lobbies—the real estate lobby, the power lobby, the grain speculator's lobby, and others."

New York, Sept. 30—(AP)—Fortune Magazine reports that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is leading President Truman by the "almost unbeatable margin of 44 percent to 31 percent."

The publication, in its last pre-election poll conducted by Elmo Roper, said yesterday the findings "merely reinforce and confirm the results of the four preceding publication polls conducted between April and August of this year."

The magazine article said all the polls indicated that a x x x Mr. Dewey will pile up a popular majority only slightly less than accorded Mr. Roosevelt in 1936 when he swept the boards against Alf Landon.

Fortune's final poll gave these figures: 44.2 per cent for Dewey; 31.4 for Mr. Truman; 3.6 per cent for Henry A. Wallace, the Progressive Party nominee; 4.4 per cent for Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of the States Rights party; 0.5 per cent for Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate; 0.5 per cent for others, and 15.4 per cent, no opinion.

Fateful Foray

Berlin, Sept. 30—(AP)—Russian soldiers who made a foray into the U.S. sector of the city this evening shot and wounded two German civilians, American military police reported.

Particulars of the incident were not immediately available. U.S. authorities said American military police had intervened and that the incident is still under investigation.

Preliminary accounts said there were no American casualties.

Says U. S. Tobacco Men Seek Free Competition

London, Sept. 30—(AP)—John B. Hutson, of Washington, president of Tobacco Associates, Inc., said today that American producers and exporters wanted only "free competition" in European tobacco markets.

Hutson's organization, he said in an interview, represents producers who account for half the tobacco produced in the United States and three-fourths of the tobacco exported. He came here Aug. 16 to "appraise the problems confronting us as producers."

His statement followed the demand made by tobacco growers in Washington Tuesday that something be done about alleged discrimination against American tobacco by European governments receiving ERP aid.

"We don't want special advantages because of ERP," he said. "On the other hand we do not think that other people who may be competitors of ours should have special advantages because of the ERP. We want free competition."

Hutson estimated the annual consumption of American tobacco in Britain at 150,000,000 pounds (weight). An increase of 25,000,000 pounds, costing Britons $15,000,000, he said, would meet the demand for Virginia tobacco. This, he added, would be equivalent to "not more than one percent" of British exports to dollar countries.

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—The crisis at Berlin has been building up for three years—ever since the war ended in 1945. It's no surprise. It was to be expected. If this blows over, expect another at Berlin or somewhere else. The reason: The differences between the aims and thinking of Russia and her wartime allies, the United States, Britain, and France.

When Germany fell, the four allies faced a double problem: political and economic. This was the political one: Stamping out Nazi thinking—to prevent the rise of another Nazi dictatorship—and getting the Germans ready to set up a new German government so they could at last run themselves.

This was the economic problem: Shattered Germany needed help, maybe for years, to get business and farming and trade going so Germany would have food and jobs and once more be able to stand beside and work with other nations.

So the four allies agreed on a plan, but you can be sure they did their fingers crossed when they did it. It was this:

U.S. Delegate Slated To Be President During Debate But May Step Aside; East-West Dispute On Atomic Controls Is Raised; Austin Repeats U.S. Offer

Paris, Sept. 30—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council on Monday takes up the most explosive issue of its three-year history—the western charge that Russia threatens the peace of the world by her blockade of Berlin.

The council announced today that Chief U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin will be in the chair as the October president when the session opens at 3 p. m. (9 a. m. EST). However, the U.S. delegation said it expects Austin will step down when the case comes up and surrender the chairmanship to Argentina, next in line for it.

If the Russians try to bar the Berlin case from the agenda, Austin is reported planning to remain as chairman until the procedural battle is over. Secret votes are required to approve admission of an item, and the big-power veto does not apply.

The council's announcement came shortly after the east-west dispute on atomic controls went before the session political committee of the assembly. Austin, in a speech to the committee, reaffirmed United States' readiness to submit its atomic energy production to international control.

Austin said it was Russia's fault that international control of atomic weapons never came into being. He urged big-power cooperation the atom and reasserted American support of the much debated rich plan for controls.

The American people, Austin declared, are willing to subordinate their plans and the future possibilities of atomic energy to international control because "they want peace."

But, he went on: "Fear has supplanted hope because the Soviet Union has insisted on placing its atomic energy under a 'rich man's' control. The American people, Austin said, do not want a monopoly on atomic energy. U.N. delegates, he continued, should focus the attention of the world on the need for a new spirit of cooperation. He concluded his statement with a declaration: "Our offer still stands."

The atomic issue came up for debate on a candidate demand that a workable control system be set up.

The important political committee of the U.N. general assembly grappled with the atom as the Security Council prepared to face its greatest test—the western charge that Soviet Russia is menacing world peace with her Berlin blockade.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaul of Canada led off the western battle in the political committee to find out who is to blame for the atomic energy commission's failure to wipe out the atomic bomb after nearly three years of wrangling.

The committee had before it three reports from the atomic commission recording their failure to agree. McNaul presented a resolution calling upon "all nations to fulfill their responsibilities to the world community by accepting" effective control of atomic energy.

General debate has been completed with the last policy statements by heads of delegations. The assembly now has separated itself into the six component committees that will carry the main load of business in the coming weeks.

With the complaint of the United States, France and Britain against Russia officially on its docket, the Security Council's next move is awaited with rapid attention by both delegates and observers.

Atlanta, Sept. 30—(AP)—The first television station in the South—the Atlanta Journal's WSB-TV—was introduced formally to the public last night.

The Economic Problem

Four Allies Had Different Aims On The Future Of Germany At End Of War; These Lay Behind Today's Crisis; Economic Side Of Question; A Hopeless Program

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—The crisis at Berlin has been building up for three years—ever since the war ended in 1945. It's no surprise. It was to be expected. If this blows over, expect another at Berlin or somewhere else. The reason: The differences between the aims and thinking of Russia and her wartime allies, the United States, Britain, and France.

When Germany fell, the four allies faced a double problem: political and economic. This was the political one: Stamping out Nazi thinking—to prevent the rise of another Nazi dictatorship—and getting the Germans ready to set up a new German government so they could at last run themselves.

This was the economic problem: Shattered Germany needed help, maybe for years, to get business and farming and trade going so Germany would have food and jobs and once more be able to stand beside and work with other nations.

So the four allies agreed on a plan, but you can be sure they did their fingers crossed when they did it. It was this:

1. They'd split Germany into four zones. Each ally would occupy one zone with its troops and have complete control over everything that happened in its zone, including the Germans and the zone's economic recovery.

2. As time went on they'd try to agree among themselves on how they could work out plans for the political and economic recovery of Germany as a whole.

(The political side of the problem will be dealt with in another story. This will explain only the economic side.)

The allies had their fingers crossed because the plan was pretty hopeless from the start. Why? For the reason given above: the great difference between the aims and ambitions of Russia and the others.

Russia wants to see the world communized. The others don't. Russian communists mean state ownership of everything: trade, farming, business, and people.

The western nations stand for the freedom of the individual and for trade, business and farming that is

Farmville School Gets Extra Teacher

The Farmville High School gained an extra teacher this week on the basis of the increased school attendance for the first two weeks. The enrollment is the highest in the history of the school. The high school division averaged 212 students during the first two weeks and Principal Sam D. Bundy immediately went to Raleigh and was successful in getting an extra high school teacher allotted. This makes a faculty staff of 29 and the hiring of a librarian by the Parent-Teacher Association will increase the school teaching staff to 30.

ARREST MARINE DESERTER
State Highway Patrolman R. G. Holt, stationed at Ayden, and an FBI agent arrested Freeman Mitchell, 19-year-old Negro, yesterday on the charge of being a deserter from the Marine Corps.

Eyeglasses can make a plain Jane look very dramatic. Of course this doesn't mean that a girl with perfect eyesight should wear glasses just to improve her looks. However, if she must wear glasses, how wonderful it is that she can find some that will even flatter her.

Before you purchase eyeglass frames, try on various shapes. It is best to take a friend along so that she can give you an honest opinion. After the frames are selected, pick your color. Tortoiseshell type frames seem to be the most practical as they will go with everything. Gay glasses in brilliant red, blue or green frames may be impractical unless you have several pairs of glasses.

Hollywood wonders whether the bobby-soxer is a thing of the past. At one studio where they were all set to make a picture about a bobby-soxer, a studio fashion scout set out to observe a teenager so that the picture's star could be put on the beam. In the script the girl was described as wearing sloppy-joe sweaters, wool skirts and bobby sox.

What happened? The fashion scout prowled casually about North Hollywood High School and says "there was hardly a bobby-soxer to be seen. The girls all look so grown up I'm frightened that maybe now there will be no teen-age group at all—we'll just jump from childhood to adulthood in one bounce."

So now the studio's dilemma is this: Most people still think teenagers wear bobby-sox, they'll complain if they don't wear 'em in the picture. An the other hand the high school set will resent bobby-sox being worn when they are old hat.

If bobby-sox are out in the West, that isn't necessarily so of the East. Girls at the Mahopac High School in New York are wearing Pom Pom Sox. The pom pom on the ankle of the sox matches their class color and this is a fad say the girls, that definitely will catch.

Style Awhile—Fall dresses are all set at twelve inches coat and suit lengths at eleven and twelve inches, say fashion experts. They should stay that way and on into the winter so you won't have to worry about lengthening your dress hems for a long time.

Out of the Music Box—Hair of Gold, Eyes of Blue is a catchy tune about a Santa Fe beauty queen... Viennese Waltzes by Johann Strauss, Joseph Strauss and Joseph Lanner, lovely tunes for romantic nights... Tommy Dorsey's dance selections including "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You."

Start With a Good Foundation
Matching girdle and bra sets in maize, blue, black, some with lace trimming, bows, hearts, fans and flower appliques make a hit with fastidious teen-agers.

When buying girdles remember to buy them high enough to control waist flesh, long enough to keep hips and legs flesh in line and so that boning doesn't conflict with hipbones.

National PTA Sets 1949 Meet

Chicago, Sept. 30 —(AP)—The National Congress of Parents and Teachers today announced its 1949 convention will meet May 16 through 18 in St. Louis.

About 2,500 delegates and visitors are expected to attend.

The Congress' Board of Managers selected Long Beach, Calif., for the 1950 convention, the dates to be chosen later.

Tradition Upset By Dignitary

St. Paul's Cray, England, Sept. 30 —(AP)—British dignitaries, when called upon to launch new public building projects, traditionally dig up a few inches of soil and then proclaim: "I declare this soil well and truly turned."

London councilman I. J. Hayward, launching a 5,500,000 pound ($22,000,000) housing project here, jabbed and twisted futilely with a chromium plated spade and finally gave it up with a disgusted: "I could'a done better with a fork."

Found Bird Who Snored In Church

Canterbury, England, Sept. 30 —(AP)—Sunday after Sunday parson, choiristers and congregation sought the source of snores that persisted throughout the sermon at nearby St. Nicholas's Church.

Now the culprit has been found. It was a barn owl, roosting under the church roof.

A herd of 14 dairy cows chews off about one ton of grass a day from a pasture.

INTRODUCING

Gorham Melrose

THE ROMANTIC NEW PATTERN BY AMERICA'S LEADING SILVERSMITHS

... from fabulous, historic Natchez, Mississippi, and from aristocratic, luxurious Melrose plantation ... came the inspiration for this new and lovely Gorham pattern ...

GORHAM MELROSE—Now introduced to meet the public demand for patterns of heavier than usual weight and of rich but uncluttered ornamentation. That trend was revealed through sales research as early as the late thirties, and by 1942 it became insistent. Gorham then determined to create such a pattern, but the project necessarily was set aside during the war years.

Inspiration for this new pattern derived from an authentic, historic source. In Natchez, Mississippi, were found architecture, decoration, and furnishings that survive today at Melrose plantation ... and these served to authenticate a gay, lavish period, which in turn is expressed in the elegance, warmth and rich weight of Gorham Melrose.

But the creation of the design did not complete the project ... consumer acceptance was checked and confirmed by repeated tests. Slight changes were made in the design from time to time as surveys indicated such changes enhanced its ready acceptance. Only when all questions bearing on consistent public acceptance were fully answered were the individual pieces designed.

Thus, basic sales research, design research, and consumer acceptance surveys, all exhaustively studied, combine to assure new sales and greater profits for Gorham dealers everywhere with Gorham Melrose ... an authentic, ancestral American pattern in the highest traditions of Gorham craftsmanship.

Strength FOR THE DAY

NEW WORD FOR OLD ALIEN
Religious doubt can involve one in very intense suffering. There are vast multitudes of people who never think of religious matters one way or another. Still others take their religion for granted and without much thought believe what they consider it is proper for them to believe. Still others—and they are probably not a vast number by any means—come to terms with the varieties of religion on the high plane of thought and emotional adjustment. And these have indeed the peace that passeth all understanding.

In his "Apologia," John Henry Newman, the Catholic saint, tells of the peace which came to his heart when he made his ultimate decision regarding religious truth. The great Protestant, John Wesley, had a similar experience, when in the little prayer meeting held one evening in London he found his heart strangely warmed and knew that forever he belonged to God. Francis of Assisi had the same experience. So did Dwight L. Moody.

The agnostic is doomed to discontent and mental suffering. Religious faith lies at the base of most of life's happiness. Security rests upon the confidence that there is a power in the world higher than our own.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE BARD
Washington—The last old horse being moved out of the Army this month. Complete mechanization of the service has shunted the gallant steed into the background for good. What remains of the Army Remount Service's animals have been turned over to the Department of Agriculture. They will be used to build up the nation's stockpile of light horses for recreation and racing purposes. The Remount Service's four depots—Front Royal, Va., Fort Reno, Okla., Fort Robinson, Neb., and Pomona, Calif.—were taken over by Agriculture last July.

All of these depots, except Front Royal, will continue as horse-breeding stations. The Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will use Front Royal to carry out a beef cattle breeding program. Some 60 horses are scheduled to be sold at auction within the next few weeks. These include some of the 180 horses confiscated as war booty and brought over here in two shipments to supplement the animals in the Remount Service's breeding program. The animals came from Germany, Hungary and Poland and include Arabians and Arabian-types. These last are all at Pomona and Fort Reno.

None of the stallions at Front Royal are to be sold. These include some American thoroughbreds—Gallant Prince, son of Gallant Fox, a 16-year-old given to the Army by the Jockey Club; Homblend, son of High Jack, which the Army bought for $8,000; Prythorn, bought from Thomas H. McDrey for $600; Wes Paul, sired by Man O' War and bought from R. S. Peach, Upperville, Va., for $2,000. All of these will go to other depots. Only mares, yearlings, fillies and geldings will be sold.

The new project to be started next spring at Front Royal is part of a national program sponsored by the Department of Agriculture to improve beef cattle. This national program has been in existence for two years and through federal grants in-aid is already being carried out in some 28 state agricultural experiment stations.

Agriculture officials expect the experiment will result in more economical methods by which farmers and ranchers can produce beef cattle. This of course means that you and I may be able to buy good grade beef at more reasonable prices. Some 140 short-horns will be transferred from the Department of Agriculture's Research Center at nearby Bellville, Md., to Fort Royal.

Poles Count Schools Wrecked By Germans

Warsaw—(AP)—The Germans destroyed 7,821 school buildings during the war, figures released by the ministry of education show. Of these, 6,948 were grammar schools; 208 secondary; 204 professional; 80 teachers' seminaries and 337 nursery schools.

Tricks Or Treats

Boyle's Column

By H. L. BOYLE

Portsmouth, N. H.—(AP)—Any resemblance between a New Englander and a clam, living or dead, is purely coincidental. I found this out by going to a clam bake here.

It just isn't true that New Englanders regard a clam as a blabbermouth. They are as talkative as any body.

The only obstacle in the path of having a conversation with a New Englander is the need of first convincing him that you are worth talking to. Once you're over that hurdle the rest is easy.

The New Englander may mince his meat but he doesn't mince his words. He gets full value from them and he budgets his adjectives as carefully as he does his income. He may try to sell you an antique—but he won't try to sell you an opinion. The New Englander doesn't indulge much in the bragging local pride that is typical of many American regions. He doesn't boast he has the biggest climate or the best sunsets. He isn't the booster type.

He likes his own town so well that he won't leave it for larger opportunities elsewhere. He is willing to face the fact that he isn't likely to find a gold mine, strike oil or discover Captain Kidd's buried wealth.

His roots are deep and strong and old. He likes to know that he probably will have the same neighbors all his days.

In a mechanized world he has managed to keep from becoming a mechanized human being. He isn't ashamed of being regarded as eccentric. He prizes his own individuality and respects individuality in others.

This mental independence of the New Englander is the first thing that strikes you. He is overwhelmed by life rather than overwhelmed. He retains a sturdy self-sufficiency that is based on self respect rather than on his income. His character is generally bigger than his income.

Up his way winter and memory stay a long while. One of the most interesting New Englanders I've met was a lady who had been exploring an old ancestor.

She located his home and found that some unusual wall paper he had brought back from France was still in use—140 years later. The present owner of the house gave the lady a souvenir fragment of the old wall paper and she took it to a wall paper manufacturing firm and sold the design.

In checking back on her ancestor's military record, she made another discovery—the government never paid him his salary for his service as a naval officer during the war of 1812. The lady now is planning a campaign to make the National Treasury fork over.

"It isn't a great deal of money," she said firmly. "But if the government owes it then certainly it ought to pay it."

And I think eventually Washington will have to. She's a determined lady—and to me she's the spirit of New England.

Scots Rush For 'Free' Services

Edinburgh—(AP)—The sunny Scots are rushing to cash in on Britain's new "free" medical service. "If all the applications made in Glasgow for spectacles are genuine, I can only assume that the population must be going blind," commented Sir William M. Marshall.

Sir William, chairman of the Lanark County Health Service Council, told a conference of health supervisors that in July alone there were 267,000 applications in Scotland for medical prescriptions—three times the monthly average under the old national health insurance scheme.

"Sleeping tablets with ten ounces of whisky was one of the prescriptions asked for," Sir William said. "Many people have asked for wigs." He reported that 22 per cent of Scottish physicians have enrolled for service under the health plan. All Britons, who pay weekly health taxes are covered under the "crib to coffin" national health plan which became effective last July.

Junior Chamber Is Active Group

The Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce's Bulletin, "Pop From the Group," edited by Louis W. Gay, Jr., contained a lot of good news about its activities.

The Jaycees are sponsoring the OCTO-WCTC football game here October 15. Howard Hodges, chairman and the committee, are making plans for drawing a big crowd. Proceeds of the gridiron contest will go to East Carolina Teachers College Athletic Association.

The Jaycees also will sponsor one football game for the high school midget football team to assist in providing $300 for uniforms and equipment.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce "Ladies" night banquet will be held at the Old Town Inn Thursday October 14 at 7 p. m. Bancroft Mosley will be toastmaster.

Incidentally, the Jaycees are active selling tickets for the East Carolina Teachers College's series of fall and winter entertainments.

A dance the Jaycees had planned for October will be held in November.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce meets each Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Old Town Inn. E. B. Sugg, Jr., is president.

Survey Uncovers Lowest Pay For Two Professions

Hamilton, N. Y.—(AP)—Teachers and ministers are the lowest paid among the Colgate University graduates out of college one and two decades, while those in industry are the highest paid, a placement bureau survey has revealed. Average salary for members of the class of 1928 is $8,444, while that for the class of 1938 is $5,104, the survey showed.

Although teachers in the class of 1928 are averaging only $4,105 and those in the class of 1938 only $3,512, men in industry in the twenty-year class are averaging $6,144. Highest salary reported by a class of 1928 graduate was $40,000 in industry while the lowest was $2,400 by a minister. Lowest salary for the ten-year group was $1,800 by a minister. Two members of the class of 1938 are earning $20,000, one in business and the other in industry.

Fortunes Dropped To Fight Nazis Hunted

Brussels—(AP)—The police of Namur are investigating disappearance of about 24 million Belgian francs, which were dropped by parachute in this region during the war for use by the underground movement. At the same time, according to the Brussels press, police are searching in the region of St. Gerard for another 37 million francs, said to have disappeared mysteriously without trace.

Soil And Water To Help Greece Program Planned

Athens—(AP)—Project agreements for a $25,000,000 soil and water conservation program have been signed by the Economic Coordination Administration and the Greek government. The program is designed to make large areas of Greek land more productive. Many of these regions are underdeveloped, or unproductive because of flooding or the lack of water during the dry summer period.

One agreement calls for drainage of 57,735 acres in 37 central and southern Greece. Under the same agreement 109,957 acres will be irrigated in 62 areas. A second agreement calls for similar work on the Salenika, Serres, and Drama plains in northern Greece. The projects will include development of dykes, reforestation and flood regulation.

Autographed Leg Is Trophy Of War

Sydney, Australia — (AP) — The wooden leg of an Australian airman is likely to end up in the Australian War Memorial at Canberra. The leg belongs to Steve Stephens of Perth.

Stephens lost his left leg in a car accident when he was three. In spite of his handicap and in the face of many rejections, he won his way into the Royal Australian Air Force and served two years in the United Kingdom as a bomber rear gunner. His wooden leg, of Japanese oak, is carved all over with the names and initials of airmen who served with him. Now 36, Stephens is a fine athlete in spite of the loss of his leg. He has cleared 4 ft. 9 in. in the high jump, ran the 100 yards in 17 seconds, ridden a mile on the cycle track in three minutes, and covered the hilly 60 miles between Perth, Western Australia's capital, and Northern in 4 1/2 hours. Stephens also dances well.

Youth Brigades Help Poland On Recovery Road

Warsaw, Poland — (AP) — Youth mobilized under the nationwide "In Service of Poland" scheme have done work for the country valued at $650,000. That's the highlight of the report of Colonel Edward Braniewski, commander-in-chief of "In Service of Poland" for the last three months. Youths 16 to 21 are embraced in the organization. In addition to work on reconstruction projects, they receive 16 hours of military training monthly "to help prepare for defense of the nation if needed." The youths get no pay and no cigarettes. All they receive is free food and clothing, 50 cents per month for knick-knacks.

Youth brigades from Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Hungary, France, Norway, Denmark and Finland have helped Poles in their reconstruction tasks. About 2,000,000 Polish youths are expected to be "In Service of Poland" by the end of 1948.

FELLOW DEMOCRATS

We, who are supporters of Thurmond for President and who are opposed to Truman, wish to answer the unjust attacks which have been made upon us by certain state newspapers.

1. We consider ourselves real Democrats because we are holding fast to the historical Jeffersonian Democratic doctrine of local self-government and states' rights. Calling us Republicans in disguise is manifestly proved untrue by pointing out that South Carolina and Mississippi, which have been the most overwhelmingly Democratic states in the past, are now strongholds of Thurmond. To accuse us of giving aid and comfort to the Republicans is to ignore the fact that it was Truman who dealt the grievous blow to the Democratic Party and is responsible for the present split. Nor has he made any attempt at reconciliation or to bind up the bleeding wounds he has inflicted. That we do not wish to leave the Party of our fathers is proved by our support of local and state Democratic candidates.

2. We are not anti-negro. Quoting the "Declaration of Principles" adopted at the Birmingham Convention:

"We stand for social and economic justice." Further, "We stand for the segregation of the races and the racial integrity of each race; the constitutional right to choose one's associates; to accept private employment without governmental interference, and to earn one's living in any lawful way."

3. To the charge that we are endangering the Farm Program and other benefits to the South from the Roosevelt Administration, we say that our own true and loyal Democratic congressmen can be relied on to protect our rights and interests in this regard. We must be "true to the faith that is in us," and stand firm with our sister Southern States against any aggression or coercion by a hostile President. To do otherwise would be appeasement and a supine surrender of our most sacred beliefs.

States Righters Attend Dinner; Bitter Speeches

Florence, S.C., Sept. 30 — (AP) — Eighty States Rights Democrats, paying $25 a plate for dinner, last night heard a Mississippi congressman label President Truman a "piano playing, necktie peddler." Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) lashed out also at Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, saying the Republican presidential candidate "got his moustache in the wringer when he created the FEPC."

The 20-year-old congressman declared, "We are going to keep segregation and our social standards, no matter how many bombs they drop." Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, the States Righters' standard bearer, was represented at the dinner by Major Henry Green of Columbia.

Phantoms In Best Shape Since Opening Game; Play Here Friday

Despite threatening skies and a wet field, Coach Bo Farley put his Greenville High footballers through their paces yesterday in preparation for their conference encounter with Tarboro at Guy Smith Stadium Friday night. Kick-off time is 8 o'clock.

Rainy weather kept the Phantoms indoors Monday and Tuesday, but yesterday Coach Farley stressed ball handling, passing and blocking, the points on which his boys looked weakest Friday night when they bowed to the New Bern Bears 13-6.

Physically the high schoolers are in the best shape since their opening game with Jacksonville. All men who were on the injured list for the last two weeks are back in heavy equipment and took part in yesterday's scrimmage session.

Both Greenville and Tarboro will be seeking their first conference win Friday night. Tarboro reportedly has a scrappy team, which has bowed to Kinston and Washington, two of the strongest teams in the North-eastern Conference this season. The Phantoms have been edged out by Edenton and New Bern in their two conference encounters.

Farley indicated yesterday that something new in defensive play will be used by the locals Friday night in an effort to strengthen the flank positions which the coaches have noticed are particularly weak on defense. Passing, blocking and a dummy scrimmage today rounded out the week's practice in preparation for tomorrow night's game.

Probable starters for the Greenies are Sam Northrop and Baby Edwards at ends, Raleigh Lee and B. Bland at tackles, Bobby Fleming and Ben Robertson or Bob Smith at the guard positions, Paul Conway at his regular pivot post and Jimmy Cox, L. Bland, Jack Morgan and Johnny Farley in the backfield.

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

The Shrine Club of Wilson put out an ad today for the largest and ugliest bulldog in North Carolina. The bulldog is to be featured in the Shrine's Atlantic Christian College Day, Saturday night in Wilson.

The Greenville High School Phantoms went through a light workout yesterday. The practice was called at 5 o'clock and lasted only 45 minutes. Calisthenics and the running of plays were executed. The Phantoms haven't had any good workouts this week because of the weather. Coach 'Shot' Cox of Tarboro has been putting his boys through drill after drill and it may tell the difference Friday when Greenville plays host to the Tars.

Coach Jim Johnson and Jack Boone sent their Pirates through an hour's scrimmage yesterday. This was the first time the Pirates have practiced on a muddy field, and it helped a lot, as quoted by Johnson. The backs were fumbling the ball all over the place; and they'll have to get used to handling a wet ball. "You can't tell when we'll have to play in the rain or the mud," says Johnson.

Highlighting the scrimmage was Joe Bryant, of Rocky Mount, freshman fullback. On one occasion he took the ball off tackle, shook off two tackles, got to the secondary, shook off three more men and ran 98 yards for pay dirt. Pete Everett, a letterman for the Pirates who is ineligible this year, stated it was the best run he had seen this year. Bryant also scored the other touchdown to give the "whites" a 12-0 victory over the "blues."

Buster Ritch, another lad from Rocky Mount, also showed up well for the "whites." He intercepted a pass and ran 80 yards to a touchdown, only to have it called back. Ritch also ran nicely from the half-back slot, collecting several nice gains.

For the "blues" it was George Wood. The speedy little halfback from Hertford put on an exhibition of fancy running and caught the eyes of several spectators and coach-

Intersquad Game Set For Pirates To Show Wares

By EUGENE PRICE

East Carolina Teachers College football followers will get to see their squad in action on its home field Friday afternoon and they are assured of winning this one. Head Coach Jim Johnson announced yesterday that the college gridiron will get under way at 3:00 Friday.

Co-captains Frank Holseher and Frank Maemele will choose the two teams tomorrow. Not only will the game give the ECTC students a chance to see their team in action at home but it will give coaches Johnson and backfield Coach Jack Boone an opportunity to observe their "rejuvenated" squad under pressure of actual play.

The coaches are trying to get a winning combination before the Elton game which will be played at Burlington next Friday. The Pirates dropped both their opening games.

They fell to Cherry Point's Marines 13 to 6 and bowed in their North State conference opener to Lenoir-Rhyne 26 to 6.

Yesterday the Pirates were run through a heavy scrimmage session in which both the White and Blue squads concentrated on basic running plays. It was the weakness on these plays which may have cost the first two games, according to Johnson.

In practice Wednesday the Whites usually alluded to as the "second string" bowled over the Blue outfit by two touchdowns. Doug Bryant, recently shifted from half to full-back, sparked the offense for the Whites. He broke through for both scores. Stan Peel, end; Ken Boothe, tackle, and 260 pound freshman tackle "Humphrey" Porter won the praise of the coaches for their line play with the Whites. Buster Rich, a rookie right half, played commendable ball in the White backfield.

Michael Kovach and George Wood led the Blue offense.

Following the Wednesday afternoon practice, Coach Johnson said the squad was "looking pretty good now." He and Boone are hoping to get the squad into top playing form for Elton and "salvage a pretty good season."

Boasting their chances against Elton was the return yesterday of Halfback Bill Darby who has been out for two weeks with a foot injury. Darby was given a light workout yesterday and will probably be in shape again in a few days, Johnson said.

Buck Wilson, big center who has been out with a knee injury for a week now, is still in the infirmary. The coaches still do not know when he will be able to return to the squad.

Eppes Gridders Make Debut In Contest Tonight

The Bulldogs of Eppes High School will open their football season tonight against Dillard High of Goldsboro at eight o'clock in Guy Smith Stadium.

Interest is high in the Bulldog camp as the season is opening with a much improved team. All of the players are in good physical condition and are eagerly awaiting tonight's contest, seeking revenge from a crushing defeat suffered from the visitors last fall.

The team will make its debut tonight under the direction of a new coach, Coach A. C. Crowder comes to us from the Elizabeth City State Teachers College and Atlanta University. He has gained the confidence and respect of his team and bids fair to give Greenville a team of which it can be proud.

After the game Bobby Lewis' swing band will play for a dance held in the school gymnasium, the proceeds of which will be used to help pay for the new uniforms. The public is urged to attend and let the team as well as the student body know that the public is solidly behind them.

Yankees And Red Sox Must Win Today To Keep In Race

Slim Mathematical Chance Of Topping Indians Hinges On Outcome Of Games With Senators And Athletics

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Victory is a must today for the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees. They have to win in order to keep alive their slim mathematical chances of overhauling the front-running Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant race.

The Indians, two games ahead of the Red Sox and Yankees, are idle today. New York and Boston defeats would assure the Tribe of no worse than a tie for the crown. Should both the Yankees and Red Sox bow, the Indians can clinch their first flag since 1920 by beating the Detroit Tigers Friday. All three of the contenders have three games to play.

Boston clashes with the seventh place Washington Senators in Fenway Park while the Yankees tackle the tough Athletics in Philadelphia.

Southpaw Mel Parnell (14-8) has been selected to face Washington's Early Wynn (9-10) for Boston. Parnell has been very effective against Washington, beating the Nats four times against only one loss.

Lefty Ed Lopat (16-11) has drawn the starting assignment for the Yanks against the A's. Lou Brissie (14-10), brilliant rookie southpaw, will go for Connie Mack.

The Indians maintained their commanding two game bulge by defeating the Chicago White Sox 5-2 yesterday. The Yanks downed the Athletics, 4-2, and the Red Sox turned back Washington, 5-1.

The booming bats of Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner brought Cleveland its 18th victory in its last 21 games.

Gordon drove in three runs and his 32nd homer and a double and Keltner punched in the other two with his 30th circuit blow and a two-bagger.

Bob Feller, with good support, went the route for Cleveland to post his 19th victory and seventh straight. He allowed ten hits, struck three and fanned three.

The White Sox jumped on Feller for two runs in the second inning but in the sixth the Indians took over. With one out Lou Boudreau walked. Gordon and Keltner followed with homers and the Indians were in front to stay. Gordon and Keltner went to work again in the seventh, rifling successive doubles behind a walk to Dale Mitchell, to bring in Cleveland's final runs.

Do It Like This

Clarkston, Wash.—The professional at the Clarkston Country Club—Joe Durgan—was teaching a pupil how to swing a golf club. "Do it like this," said Durgan as he swung.

The amazed pro saw his ball drop for a hole-in-one on the 345-yard No. 7. That hadn't happened to Durgan in his 17 years of playing and teaching.

Claims Tebbets Is Best Catcher

Boston, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Win, lose or tie, Manager Joe McCarthy is convinced he has the best catcher in the American League in Birdie Tebbets.

"I don't know of anybody else that has outtaught him," said the skipper of the Boston Red Sox in his private office after yesterday's 5-1 victory over Washington.

"That fellow Hegan has done a good job for Cleveland," he added, "but he hasn't the experience of Tebbets. Rosar in Philadelphia has had a poor year at the bat."

"Tebbetts really has been a big help to our pitchers. I don't think he ever hit as good in his life. I don't know about the National League. They've got a pretty fair catcher at New York in that big Cooper, but in the American, you'd have to give it to Tebbets."

Birdie, a 33-year-old veteran of 12 years of baseball and three years military service, is hitting .280. He has driven home 66 runs and has caught 123 of the Sox's 151 games. There will be a wholesale revolution in Boston, if he's not voted the major league all-star catcher.

Tebbetts' job isn't over yet for McCarthy refuses to give up on his struggling Red Sox who are two down to Cleveland with only three to play. He has his pitching plans lined up for the rest of the season.

Too Many Fish; Not Enough Fishermen

Billings, Mont.—(AP)—Fort Peck is so full of fish authorities may have to dynamite them if anglers can't be persuaded to catch them. The drastic action is planned, fish and game officials said, because the man-made reservoir is overpopulated with trout, pike, bass, sturgeon, catfish, perch, crappie, ling, bullheads, gold-eyes and drums.

Most Of Indians Rated 'Key Men'; Gordon Left Out

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Nearly everyone on the Cleveland ball club has been nominated key man in the Indians' apparently successful pursuit of the American League pennant.

Bob Feller, who yesterday recorded his 19th victory? Yes. Lou Boudreau, the playing manager? Of course.

Bob Lemon, the converted fly-chaser who tomorrow goes for his 21st conquest of the year when the Tribe resumes against the Detroit Tigers? Certainly.

Gene Bearden, Ken Keltner, Jim Hegan, Dale Mitchell, Larry Doby? Take your pick.

But what about Joe Gordon, the old (?) man of the infield? At 33, the flash is enjoying his greatest season, even if he did bat .322 in 1942, the year he was voted the league's most valuable player.

Yesterday he produced the two payoff wallops that eased Feller's road, which got plenty rocky before ending in his seventh straight victory, 5-2.

In the sixth inning, Gordon stepped to the plate and smashed a two-run homer that brought the Indians even with the Chicago White Sox 2-2. Up to then Southpaw Frank Papish, who recently wrecked the New York Yankees, was the complete master.

The next inning saw Gordon deliver another mate home with a two-bagger, giving him a total of 121 runs batted in for 1948. Never before had the Rock reached that high a figure. The home run was No. 32 for him, another new high for the clouting Californian.

Earlier in the game when the White Sox threatened to shell Feller from the mound, it was his fine stop of Papish's wicked smash which turned the potential hit into an inning-ending double play. The Sox had chubbed Feller for three straight singles, good for two runs, and undoubtedly would have had more but for Gordon's fine play.

Bob Green, former Villanova College pitching star now with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, will continue his education after the diamond season.

Record By Fans

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Cleveland fans who broke the all-time major league attendance record early this month already have pushed the new mark 10 per cent above the old one, 2,265,512 set by the New York Yankees in 1946.

The Tribe drew its first million in home attendance in 1946. Last year when the gate hit 1,521,978, everyone said that was going some. By the time this week-end's three games with Detroit are over, the 1948 home attendance will just about equal the 1946 and 1947 attendances combined. This year's total so far is 2,466,001.

Mack Predicts Cleveland Sweep

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Connie Mack today called the 1914 World Series with the Boston Braves the greatest disappointment of his life and then predicted a 1948 World Series sweep for the Cleveland Indians.

"Cleveland not only has a good team but a great team," said Mack, adding, "Bob Feller is as good as ever. If they don't win in four straight games I'm going to be disappointed."

Citation Easily Wins At Belmont

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Citation won easily in the 1948 Belmont Stakes, his eighth victory in 10 races. The colt, a son of the champion Citation, won the race in 1:58.4, easily beating the field.

The Calumet Farm three-year-old champion collected $20,200 so easily yesterday that there ought to be a law against horses obtaining money by false pretenses.

Citation was just pretending to run most of the way in winning the Sysonby Mile at Melmon Park. He kicked the stuffings out of five others, among them Stablemate Coaltown, Jockey Eddie Arcaro actually had Citation pulled up to a trot as he coasted under the wire four lengths to the good of C. V. Whitney's First Flight. Coaltown came up fast to grab third place, just half a length away from the Whitney filly.

Next comes the $100,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Saturday with another $75,000 or so depending on the number of starters. Eighteen were nominated for the two-mile test, but Citation's Sysonby performance probably has half of them already scared to venture from their barns.

Ewell Trims His Olympic Nemesis

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Barney Ewell won a special exhibition 100-yard sprint here last night, beating out Harrison Dillard, his conqueror in the 1948 Olympics 100-meter race at London.

The race, part of the celebration held by the city of Lancaster to mark Ewell's Olympic achievements, was run over an improvised track laid out on a baseball field. Ewell's winning time was not announced.

Sign Contract For Bowl Rights

Los Angeles, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Columbia Broadcasting System has gained exclusive television and radio rights to Pasadena's Rose Bowl game and the Tournament of Roses Association. No one would confirm reliable reports that the contract price is $100,000 a year.

Bucky Walters is the fourth pitcher to assume the role of playing manager with the Cincinnati Reds. Will White, Clark Griffith and Christy Mathewson were the others.

Fighter Dies In Hospital After TKO In Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Mild Dinamita, 22, Santa Domingo welterweight boxer, died in a Cook County Hospital today, about five hours after he suffered a technical knockout in a bout at the Chicago Stadium last night.

Dr. Roger Vaughan, night superintendent at the hospital, said Dinamita died of "an apparent cerebral hemorrhage." He did not fully regain consciousness after his arrival at the hospital, Dr. Vaughan said. He was unable to answer the bell for the ninth round in his 10-round bout with Bobby McQueller of Port Huron, Mich.

Dinamita, whose true name was Felix Gomez, was engaged in his first bout last night on his 23rd birthday.

Racing Alligator

Miami.—(AP)—A threat to the flamingoes in the infield of Hialeah race track has been eliminated with the capture of a large alligator that had made its home in the lake there. The alligator was trapped after Seminole Indians failed to lure him from the lake with imitations of an alligator mating-call.

Inaugurate New Maryland Racing Season Today

Laurel, Md., Sept. 30.—(AP)—With an overflow of thoroughbreds on hand, the rebuilt Laurel race track inaugurated another Maryland fall season today.

The 32 running of the Capital Handicap tops the card opening the 26-day meeting at this layout midway between Baltimore and Washington.

The Cap drew an entry list of 19 for the six-furlong dash, and prospects were that about 14 would go postward. John E. Brown's King Dorsett was assigned top weight of 116 pounds. The six-year-old defeated a fair assortment of sprinters in his last outing, an allowance affair at Atlantic City.

Weighted at 115 was The Dogs, Daily Dip was assigned a 114 pound impost.

10-Goal Prospect

George Oliver, one of the nation's top polo players, is in line for a 10-goal rating even though his team lost the U. S. Open final to Laddie Sanford's Hurricanes. Polo men agree that Oliver ranks right with Cecil Smith of Texas and Stew Iglehart of Westbury, N. Y., as the top players in the expensive game.

Film Of Olympic Contests One Of Best In History

By FRANK ECK

New York—If you missed the 1948 Olympic Games there's still a chance to see every event. One of the finest sports pictures ever filmed is the J. Arthur Rank production "The Olympic Games of 1948". The full-length technicolor film runs an interesting two hours and 16 minutes. You can see the expressions on the faces of the marathon runners. You can see Barney Ewell doing his "victory dance" after the finish of the 100 meter dash. Ewell thought he won but he didn't. Harrison Dillard nipped him at the tape. The equestrian events bring out excellent horsemanship and closeup shots that make you feel as though you're sitting in a Madison Square Garden at the National Horse Show. The race, and a spill which almost resulted in a fist fight, the yacht racing and downhill skiing at the Winter Games in Switzerland bring

WHAT IS AN EXTENSION TELEPHONE?

An extension telephone is an extra telephone instrument attached to your present line. It can be placed in your home or place of business. Since the telephone instruments are again available we are happy to announce that EXTENSION TELEPHONE SERVICE IS AVAILABLE AGAIN.

Main telephone service however is still on the "hard-to-get" list because production of the central office equipment and lead covered cable needed to extend our present facilities, is slow and delivery dates uncertain. We shall continue however to install main telephones where we have the necessary outside facilities and central office equipment.

A Platter Dinner That's Simple But Has Plenty of Merit
Wilson's meat in tins can carry the emergency menu in high style if you will take a moment to dress them up into a platter dinner. Pictured here is nothing more than the everyday favorites you would prepare anyhow to satisfy the family appetite.

Ah, an Elegant Ensemble!

A team-up of mashed potatoes, corn, peas and Wilson's MOR Beef with a colorful chili sauce are simple enough quickies but nicely assembled they have plenty ofumph and glamour to tempt the most jaded appetites. Combined on this platter you achieve a menu balance that looks good and tastes even better!... a dish that your family or friends will compliment and enjoy.

MOR Beef Dinner

Open both ends of can and push out meat from:

1 can Wilson's MOR Beef

With a paring knife, score the top as you will. Then apply a mixture of equal parts brown sugar and chili sauce to glaze the top and sides. For color contrast, we left the scored part plain and glazed the outer area with a mixture of:

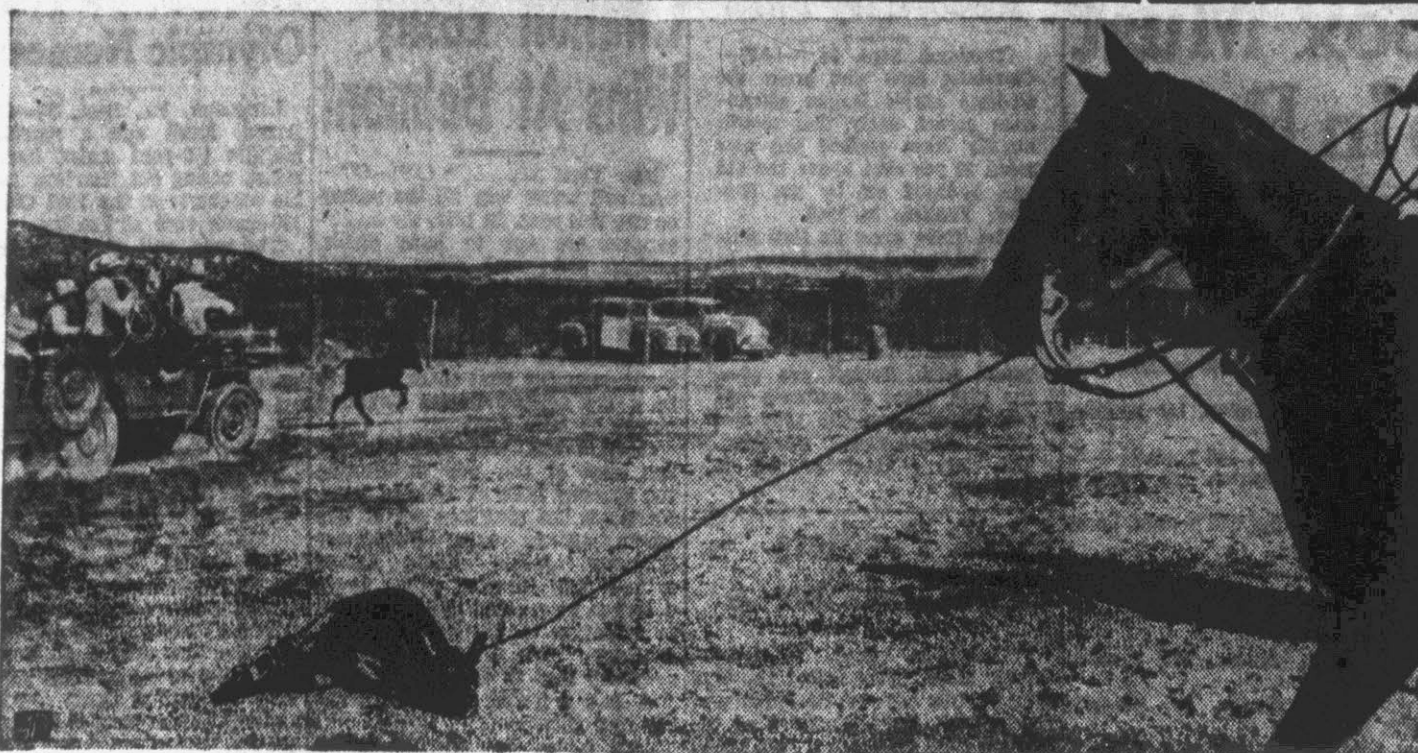

1/4 cup chili sauce and

1/4 cup brown sugar

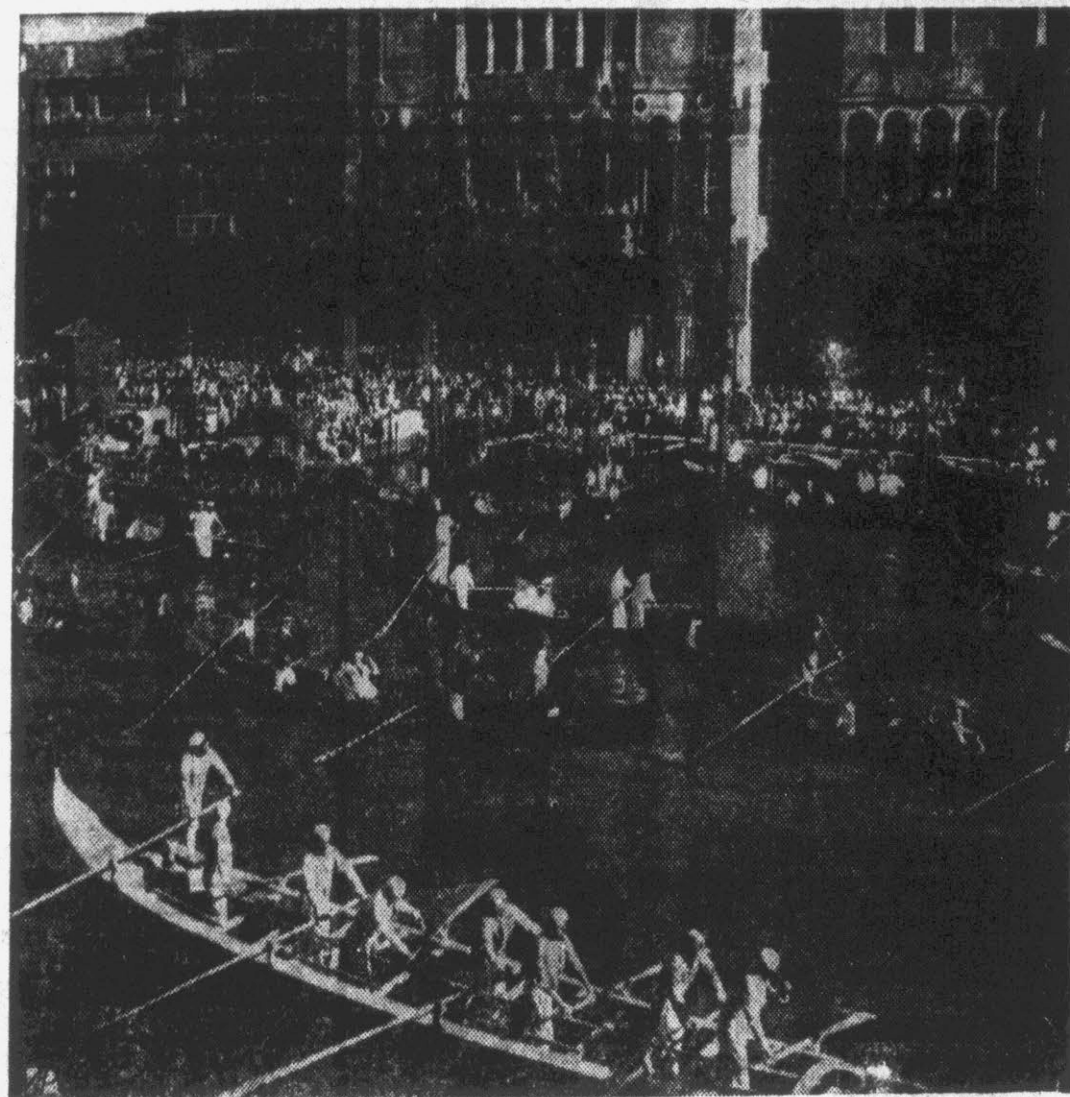

This glaze may be applied with the back of a spoon or with a pastry brush as you choose. Place the glazed loaf in a moderate oven (350°F.), to heat through for about 30 minutes. The glaze will be prettier if you open the oven and apply a second coat of the mixture during the baking. At dinner time, place the hot loaf of MOR Beef in center of platter and at an angle—see picture. Surround with four hot fluffy mashed potato nests fashioned with a fork and filled with hot, Wilson's Clear Brook Buttered peas. Fill the empty center platter spaces with hot corn.

OLD AND NEW — While rider on pony at right holds calf he has roped, cowboys in jump demonstrate newer technique as they go after another during a roping demonstration at the Frank McMullan ranch near Big Lake, Tex.

REGATTA IN VENICE—The parade of gondolas, filling Grand Canal in Venice, passes the City Hall (center background) as the annual regatta starts with hundreds watching.

out dazzling color and a lot of excitement.

A crew of 300 worked on the film, including 75 cameramen who manned 18 color cameras. Eight miles of telephone lines were laid throughout London's huge Wembley Stadium for communications between film control headquarters and production units. One million feet of specially prepared technicolor stock was obtained from Rochester, N. Y.

"The Olympic Games of 1948", an Eagle Lion release, is one of the best sports films in history. It leaves little room for improvement for the future.

Stormy Weather

Gainesville, Fla.—(P)—Maybe the University of Florida's football coach Ray Wolf should add a meteorologist to his staff this fall. The Gators play three hurricanes—Miami, Tulsa and Furman — and the Crimson Tide of Alabama.

CPL Directors Act To Reduce Operating Costs

Williamston, Sept. 30—(AP)—Directors of the Coastal Plain League acted yesterday to reduce their operating costs next year. Leaders of several of the clubs at a meeting said that they had operated in the red this year as they voted to:

- (1) Reduce the number of veterans per team from four to three;
- (2) cut the number of limited service players from eight to four;
- (3) increase the number of rookies from four to eight; and
- (4) change the total number of players on the roster from 16 to 15 with one suspended man allowed.

War Bonus Puts Hong Kong In Red

Hong Kong—(AP)—The Government of Hong Kong faces a budget deficit of $4,625,000 in U.S. money during the current fiscal year. Acting Secretary of Finance A. G. Clark warned members of the Legislative Council.

The secretary, speaking in defence of a proposed stamp tax, said an estimated surplus of $375,000 was wiped out by an allocation of $5,000,000 to cover salary payment to government employees who remained on the job during the Japanese occupation.

New Floor For Garden Finished

New York—(P)—Famed Madison Square Garden has a new floor—a $150,000 one. The floor was completed in four weeks by a crew of 200 working night and day. It would ordinarily have taken five months.

Thirteen miles of pipes form part of the floor. They make the ice for hockey games and ice shows. Twenty one thousand square feet of protective zinc underlay the bed and over it was poured 75 truckloads of cement. A top layer of pink terrazzo marble completed the job.

Refused To Vote

When the Brooklyn football Dodgers scheduled an exhibition game at Charlotte, N. C., the Baltimore Colts refused to vote in favor of the game. They were afraid the Dodgers might take a beating against Charlotte's clippers and do harm to a future Baltimore attraction. The Dodgers won, 63 to 7. Incidentally, Cecil Isbell of the Colts refused to permit team or individual pictures before a game due to a pet superstition.

Most base hits during a season was George Sisler's 287 with the St. Louis Browns in 1920. Lefty O'Doul, 1920 Phillies, and Bill Terry, 1930 Giants, both made 254 hits.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Deadly Weapon

By Wade Miller

Chapter 8
Walter James took another puff on his cigarette.

"Anyhow, we did pretty well —
Hal and I was from Cincinnati but Hal was a native son — he'd been a star halfback somewhere down there in his younger days and that didn't hurt business any. And he was as friendly with our clients as if he was selling cars. Made a good front man. But he was smart for all his size."

"So that was the way we ran our business. Hal got out and met our clients, and I ran the office and kept up the contacts with people who weren't our clients but who we needed just as badly."

"Okay. So you and your Hal got along like two worms in a big red apple. So what?"

"Hal had a wife, Ethel. They were crazy about each other. She was a tall, good-looking blonde, and Hal was proud of her."

"Not of me, if that's what you're getting at."

"You married?"

"I'm a free agent." He gave Laura Gilbert an oblique glance. Her red mouth curved faintly at the corners.

"That was the setup," said Walter James, "and we never got involved because we kept our noses clean."

Sometimes Hal didn't know what he was doing and I didn't know what he was doing. And about two months ago — July — Hal stumbled onto something he couldn't handle. Only he thought he could. He didn't tell me much about it, said he didn't know anything definite. But the Atlanta cops had been having trouble for some time with pretty good-sized loads of dope being distributed across the South — and apparently out of Atlanta. They had called us and said if we got any leads along that line to cut them in. Well, whatever Hal picked up was along that line."

"Dope?" Clapp asked.

"Marijuana."

"From here?"

"That's right."

"How do you know?"

"The first of August Hal flew to Denver on a case. He was gone a lot longer than he should have been. I didn't think anything of it at the time because he was his own boss. When I got into San Diego Thursday I drove straight to the airport. They showed a Hal Lantz coming in from Denver through L.A., staying here two days and flying back the same way."

"It'll take more than that to involve this town."

"Okay. Three days after Hal got back from Denver some Boy Scouts found him parked in his car on the outskirts of Atlanta. Somebody had emptied a .45 into him. He'd been dead all night."

"What did the police find?"

"Nothing. Not even the gun. Hal's wallet was emptied and he generally carried any papers he was working on in his inside coat pocket — that pocket was empty, too. And he didn't leave me a letter or a thing telling me what progress he had made on whatever it was. Maybe he hadn't made any progress. Maybe somebody just thought he had."

"I guess his wife took it pretty hard," Laura Gilbert ventured softly.

"We never found out," said Walter James. "She was in Miami at the time and she never came back. I checked out of her hotel, with a few personal items, and disappeared.
Left most of her clothes."

"What makes you so sure that this town is involved?" Clapp passed his hand wearily over his tanned face.

"I wasn't up until the show tonight. Three days after Hal was killed. I got a tip-off by phone. It was a man's voice. It said that if I told the Atlanta Grand Theater
in San Diego that I was Dr.
Boone, I might get some place."

"Dr. Boone? Who's he?"

"Nobody in the Atlanta directory
or the San Diego directory," said
Walter James. "Nobody at all — yet."

I scouted the Grand Theater Friday
and again Saturday afternoon. The Filipino always sat in on that number toward the back. I figured I wouldn't have to sit through that show again — that I'd be safe in coming late and I could nab him
after the show. Well, that's the story.

I never got the chance to pass myself off as Dr. Boone. There's one other item. That gun — the .25 — that's one of a set I gave Hal on his last birthday. They're out of my collection and I think I can give you the number tomorrow on the other one.

Except that it's a lady's pistol —
concealed hammer and a little smaller — it's the same design."

"Did your partner have a sil-encer?"

"He may have. I don't know."

"Did he have the guns on him
the night he was killed?"

"I don't know."

"Were there any witnesses to that?"

"Dope?" Clapp asked.

"Marijuana."

"From here?"

"That's right."

Filipino always sat in on that number toward the back. I figured I wouldn't have to sit through that show again — that I'd be safe in coming late and I could nab him
after the show. Well, that's the story.

I never got the chance to pass myself off as Dr. Boone. There's one other item. That gun — the .25 — that's one of a set I gave Hal on his last birthday. They're out of my collection and I think I can give you the number tomorrow on the other one.

Except that it's a lady's pistol —
concealed hammer and a little
smaller — it's the same design."

"Did your partner have a sil-
encer?"

"He may have. I don't know."

"Did he have the guns on him
the night he was killed?"

"I don't know."

"Were there any witnesses to that?"

"Dope?" Clapp asked.

"Marijuana."

"From here?"

"That's right."

"How do you know?"

"The first of August Hal flew to Denver on a case. He was gone a lot longer than he should have been. I didn't think anything of it at the time
because he was his own boss. When I got into San Diego Thursday I drove straight to the airport. They showed a Hal Lantz coming in
from Denver through L.A., staying here two days and flying back the
same way."

"It'll take more than that to involve this town."

"Okay. Three days after Hal got back from Denver some Boy Scouts
found him parked in his car on the outskirts of Atlanta. Somebody had emptied a .45 into him. He'd been dead all night."

"What did the police find?"

"Nothing. Not even the gun. Hal's wallet was emptied and he generally carried any papers he was working on in his inside coat pocket — that pocket was empty, too. And he didn't leave me a letter or a thing telling

me what progress he had made on whatever it was. Maybe he hadn't made any progress. Maybe somebody
just thought he had."

"I guess his wife took it pretty hard," Laura Gilbert ventured softly.

"We never found out," said Walter James. "She was in Miami at the time and she never came back. I checked out of her hotel, with a
few personal items, and disappeared.
Left most of her clothes."

"What makes you so sure that this town is involved?" Clapp passed his hand wearily over his tanned
face.

"I wasn't up until the show tonight. Three days after Hal was killed. I got a tip-off by phone. It was a man's voice. It said that if I told the Atlanta Grand Theater
in San Diego that I was Dr.
Boone, I might get some place."

"Dr. Boone? Who's he?"

"Nobody in the Atlanta directory
or the San Diego directory," said
Walter James. "Nobody at all — yet."

I scouted the Grand Theater Friday
and again Saturday afternoon. The Filipino always sat in on that number toward the back. I figured I wouldn't have to sit through that show again — that I'd be safe in coming late and I could nab him
after the show. Well, that's the story.

Orders For War Goods Placed 'Just In Case'

New York, Sept. 30 — (AP) — "Phantom orders" for war goods already have been placed with American manufacturers — to be filled only in case of armed conflict.

This foresight would save from six months to a year in getting production like the machine tool industry in action, Arthur M. Hill, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, said last night.

Addressing the Navy Industrial Association, Hill said recent Russian "duplication" should serve as a warning to the United States to prepare for defense.

Hill said the United States is handicapped in getting for a mythical war because "we are never an aggressor with a known target date."

He said, however, that his board has not "marked time waiting for military requirements." Much has been done already toward planning for defense, he said, inviting industrialists to help the resources

Draftee Pool

Washington, Sept. 30 — (AP) — A pool of more than 2,000,000 young men is now available for drafting into the manpower-shy Army.

That's the number of non-veteran, single men between 19 and 35 who signed up for the draft between August 30 and September 18. Selective Service headquarters said the registration of all men 18 through 25 totaled 5,564,563, but the big majority of those are ineligible.

The total was about 1,000,000 less than original estimates. While Selective Service said it believes few draft-age men ducked registration, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said it is checking "quite a few" cases of possible draft-dodging.

board prepare its groundwork.

The machine tool industry has been given a list of 100,000 new tools for which it would be called upon in wartime, Hill said, and next month 25,000 industrial plants will receive booklets outlining decentralization and defense plans.

"A major war effort," he said "would necessitate—in contrast to 1940-1941—a substantial lowering of living standards for all of us."

Fire And Police Chiefs Advise Fire Protection

By CHESTER WALSH

Fire Chief George Gardner reminded again today that next week is "National Fire Prevention Week" and passed along some timely advice about preventing fires. He said "it is much cheaper and safer to prevent a fire than it is to fight a blaze." He warned businessmen and others against allowing paper and trash to accumulate on or near their premises; to clean out inflammable debris and litter from attics and closets; and householders and others to check their chimneys and stovepipes now for defects and to make repairs or replacements necessary for preventing fires.

Police Chief Lester D. Page warned motorists not to follow too closely the fire trucks when an alarm is sounded and not to approach too near to the fire trucks or lines of hose. The chief also warned that motorists are required to immediately go to the curb when fire-fighting apparatus, ambulance or police cars are sounding their sirens in an emergency.

There is a city ordinance providing a fine for interfering with fire-fighting apparatus or firemen. Frequently the volunteer firemen are blocked by excited motorists when they are on their way to answer a fire alarm, he said.

POLICE FIND NUMEROUS UNLOCKED DOORS AT NIGHT

The police in their rounds each night shortly after sundown, find numerous doors to stores and other business places unlocked. One of the important assignments given to night police officers is to check front and back doors in business sections of the city. The officers found nothing wrong at the unlocked places and reported to the owners or managers.

Rains Bring End To Near-Drought

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 30 — (AP) — Rains which fell generally over North Carolina during the past two days ended near-drought conditions which had threatened to delay farm operations.

As a result of the rains, though, Eastern North Carolina rivers are rising, and Garrett Demott, head of the U.S. Weather Bureau here, said he did not yet know whether they would go into flood.

Prior to the rainfall, the State Department of Agriculture reported, "dry and to very dry soil conditions were reported in all sections of the state and the lack of rainfall has been a hindrance to pasture growth, vegetable crops and fall land preparations."

On the brighter side, the dry spell was "very favorable for the harvest of all early maturing crops, particularly hay and cotton."

Demott said that rains averaging two to three inches fell on the basins of the Cape Fear, Neuse, Tar and Roanoke Rivers. All these streams are rising, he added. However, they were so low and the ground was so dry that they were in condition to absorb much of the rainfall.

One Hopeful . . .

tion has been squarely met. Moreover that's not the whole story. The defense ministers of the five Western European alliance nations—France, Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—met in Paris last Monday to discuss plans for coordinating their military resources. It was unofficially understood later from British sources that the ministers discussed a program of joint action—even to the extent of mobilization—in the light of the tension over Berlin. They were said to have considered concrete measures in event the crisis developed into armed action.

Well, what effect will all this have on an aggressive Bolshevism? Certainly it will be impressive, but will it be impressive enough to halt the Red offensive? Will Russia and her satellites withdraw from the United Nations and go their own way while the democracies go theirs?

There is a possibility, as this column pointed out yesterday, that the U.N. may split over the Berlin imbroglio. However, I think that will depend on the nature of the action taken by the U.N. in dealing with the charges of the democracies. An effort to impose heavy sanctions likely would result in the Communists walking out of the "peace" organization.

On the other hand the Muscovites are bound to consider carefully before quitting, because membership in the U.N. gives them a good chance for obstruction and for sounding off Red propaganda.

Anyway, we find encouraging solidarity among the democracies. There can be no greater evidence of solidarity than a determination to stand up against aggression with both fists.

The Economic . . .

more or less free.
So the Russians could be expected to lay the foundations of communism in their zone of Germany and try to set the stage for pulling all Germany into communism some day. They couldn't be expected to set up a free enterprise system in their zone.

And the western powers were a cinch to do everything they could to block the spread of communism in their zones.

Yet, unless some deal could be worked out for uniting all four zones of Germany economically, how could it ever recover—as a whole?

To handle this problem all four powers—this was in 1945—agreed to create economic agencies for all Germany so it could be treated as a unit.

That was three years ago. Those agencies never have been set up. The result: the individual zones had barriers to trade with the others. Each nation handled the economic problems of its own zone in its own way.

The Americans and British finally merged their two zones economically—the French are coming in now—so trade and money could flow between them. Russia has refused to take part in this.

Bevin Reported 'Not Very Well'

Paris, Sept. 30 — (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin "has not been feeling very well," a British embassy spokesman said today.

Packs Roving Dogs Public Nuisance

The police department continues to receive complaints from different parts of the city about stray dogs roving in packs, especially at night and early in the morning, disturbing residents and scratching up flowers. A resident of West Seventh street reported last night that a pack of dogs had taken possession of her front porch. Police captured two of the dogs and turned them over to the dog pound master. Owners may reclaim the dogs by payment of a $5 fee for each dog.

A householder on Harding street complained last night about a dog scratching up her flowers and otherwise being a nuisance. Police captured the canine and turned it over to the dog pound master.

Mr. Hill said he found the pepper this morning in his garden plot. The freak pepper is on display in the Reflector window.
