Junior Woman's Club Completes 'Tag Day' Plans

Drive To Be Held Saturday For Benefit Child Welfare Work In Pitt

At their regular meeting on Wednesday evening, the Junior Woman's Club completed plans for their annual Tag Day, to be held on Saturday, October 9, to benefit the Dr. T. M. Watson Memorial for the advancement of child welfare work in Pitt County.

This memorial, to Pitt County's late beloved and esteemed pediatrician, who died in March 1945, was begun in the late spring of that year by the Junior Club Women of Greenville, many of whom were mothers of young children and had a personal insight into the personal and capabilities of Dr. Watson.

The Watson Memorial fund started out as a result of $1,249.65 in the treasury, derived from sponsoring a charity dance revue. Since then this fund has grown to a total of $2,916.31, through the efforts of the club in promoting two Christmas bazaars, several bridge tournaments and fashion shows and another dance revue.

From this appropriated total has been spent monies totaling $2,000.00. This amount of money expended has included $257.60 for paint and labor in redecorating the children's ward of Pitt General hospital. Bassinet, scales, an inhalator and an incubator, which were the first purchases made in May, 1946, cost $185.

In June 1947 the club purchased a refrigerated oxygen tent costing $488.00. The next large expenditure was for $265 in August of the same year, for an improved and modern incubator. In July 1948, another oxygen tent, vastly improved, was purchased for $630.00.

Since a new hospital is planned for the community in the near future, the club is now directing its monies toward a medicinal and surgery fund for use by the parents of the underprivileged children who need its funds. These funds have been used to date to furnish $70.20 worth of canned milk to children needing it to combat rickets and other diseases. This same fund serviced a child's tonsilectomy and a child's X-rays for thymus condition, which were recommended by Drs. Irons and Haar.

Field Marshal Monty

Some Discussion As To Choice Of Montgomery As Commander Of Five-Power Military Defenses In Europe; His Place In History; Spirit Of Crusader

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Selection of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery to head the newly formed military command of western European nations, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—continues to be a subject of warm discussion, not unadorned with some heartburning. Those who disapprove maintain that Monty is a land soldier, whereas his big new job calls for the handling not only of land forces but air and sea units as well. Then, of course, some French critics aren't happy in having the command centered in England, since France obviously will be an early battlefield if there is another war.

So far as Uncle Sam is concerned one assumes that he must have given his nod before Montgomery was appointed to a command in which America is so vitally interested inasmuch as her front lines in Europe. Whatever criticism the field marshal may have evoked during the late war, we have the testimony of none less than General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower that Montgomery is "one of the great soldiers of the war... a figure who will live always, not

Unable To Find Storm-Stricken Ship After SOS

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 8 (AP)—The motorship Malibu Inez with 14 persons aboard today was feared lost in the wake of a tropical storm off the tip of Cape San Lucas 800 miles south of here.

After the vessel sent out an SOS last night, the commercial vessel Empire State covered the distress area and reported that it was unable to sight any sign of the Malibu Inez.

The Malibu Inez, a 112-foot chartered ship, carried 13 men and women. It left Long Island Beach, Calif., last August to visit Cocos Island in a search for Pirate loot.

No word was heard from the captain, George Farley, after the SOS message, which asked immediate help. It reported winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour at that time.

Seamen Charged With Coercion In Strike Aid

New York, Oct. 8 (AP)—Nine members of the AFL Seafarers International Union were booked by police on charges of coercion last night and early today for their tactics in helping AFL Garment Workers picket non-union shops.

The nine men were accused of forcing dress shop employees to leave their places of work and go to the offices of the dress joint board of the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers union.

Those booked were among 42 seamen on picket duty in the Garment area who were picked up by police yesterday and taken to the district attorney's office for questioning. The others were released last night.

Three Garment Manufacturers had complained of Coercion in the past few days.

The Seamen's Union said in a statement—issued before the bookings—that its members would continue to help the Garment Workers picket.

The SIU statement said: "If the district attorney thinks we will be frightened away, he is mistaken. In helping the ILGWU we are living up to traditional AFL policy."

Propaganda War Restraints Off

State Department Officials Give Evidence That Days Of Soft Talk Toward Soviet Union Have Come To An End

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—The United States appears today to be casting aside the last restraints in its propaganda war with Russia.

From two top officials comes evidence that the day of soft talk toward the Soviet Union has given way entirely to a new period of blunt statements unvarnished by the familiar phrases of diplomacy.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett revealed that he has received orders from Paris to "debunk" the latest Russian proposal for dealing with atomic energy. These orders presumably were given by Secretary of State Marshall himself.

And in Durham, N. H., Assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Saltzman declared in a speech that the Soviet rulers since the end of the war have made his plain:

"That their real aim is world domination through the instrumentality of Communism and that they will stoop to any stratagem of coercion, subterfuge, duplicity or double dealing that serves their purpose."

Speaking before the University of New Hampshire, Saltzman thus used some of the harshest words ever applied to the Soviet Union in recent years by a top State Department official.

The assistant secretary in charge of occupied areas said the United States hopes to win the conflict with Russia "this side of war—by patience, calmness, and spiritual fortitude."

But, he added, it may not be possible to avoid war, although the government is proceeding on the assumption that it is possible.

Lovett made his disclosures about "debunking" the Soviet atomic energy proposal in a brief speech before the United States Advisory Commission on Information.

That body, which the President appointed in August to advise the State Department on its foreign information—or propaganda—policies, opened a two day session here yesterday.

The atomic energy proposal to which Lovett referred was made to the United Nations meeting in Paris last Saturday by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky. It was a plan for simultaneous agreements to outlaw the bomb and set up international controls.

Bermuda Lashed By Tropic Storm

More Damage Than Earlier Storm; No Known Deaths

Hamilton, Bermuda, Oct. 8 (AP)—A tropical hurricane battered Bermuda from end to end for three hours last night, causing extensive damage.

A survey showed today the storm caused destruction heavier than the total damage of two previous hurricanes this fall. No casualties were reported, however.

As power lines fell before winds reaching more than 100 miles an hour, the island was in total darkness and there were virtually no communications. Thousands of trees were uprooted.

"The hurricane was the same one that lashed southern Florida and Havana earlier this week.

Residents of the island had been warned of the storm and batten down before it struck.

Airplanes from the American base at Kindley Field had been flown to fields in Puerto Rico and the United States. Two British ships put out to sea to ride out the storm and two floating docks at the shipyard were sunk to avoid damage.

Eskimos Held In Siberia Freed

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Nome Nugget says 17 Eskimos have returned to their home island in Bering Strait after being held almost two months by Siberian officials.

The newspaper says the Eskimos were taken into custody during their annual ivory trading trip to Siberian areas.

The Nugget reported yesterday the Eskimos had received no official notification from the State Department in Washington that the Russians had revoked a 1938 agreement permitting such trading.

New Face Goes With New Look In Film Land

Hollywood, Oct. 8 (AP)—Ready, girls! All right—

Take the juice of one lemon, and one-fourth cup of fresh buttermilk, mix thoroughly and then plaster your pan—er, face—with it. Massage your skin with this mixture and rinse off with clear cold water.

This is the recipe—no, not for sour puss—but for the new face to go with the New Look. It's the prescription of movie make-up artist Lee Greenway.

The style now, it seems, is to look like a refugee from an oxygen tent.

"The healthy tan is going out of fashion," says Greenway. "Today's clothes require a cameo-like complexion."

Crump, McKellar Remain Friends

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) said today he and Tennessee's political leader Ed Crump of Memphis are still friends despite their differences over the Presidential campaign.

Crump has announced he will support the State Rights ticket headed by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. McKellar came out for the election of President Truman and his running mate, Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), on the regular Democrat ticket.

Slight Drop In Cotton Forecast

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—Poor weather in some areas cut 1948 cotton prospects slightly during the past month, but the crop still promises to top all others in value.

The Agriculture Department today put the crop at 15,079,000 bales. This is 140,000 bales or about one percent less than 15,219,000 forecast a month ago, but far above last year's 11,857,000 bales.

Coal Industry On Notice UMW Has Program Plans

John L. Lewis Discloses New Goal Is 'Stabilized Employment'

Cincinnati, Oct. 8 (AP)—The coal industry today was on notice that John L. Lewis has another major contract aim for the near future—a share-the-work program for lean years.

Lewis disclosed his goal to the 3,000 delegates to the United Mine Workers convention. He said it already was being tried out on a small scale in the anthracite field.

But he could not get his job stabilization plan across in the soft coal industry up to now, he said, "simply because there is no national leadership in the bituminous industry."

Nevertheless, he added, if conditions get so tough—in the event of a depression—that the stability of the contract is threatened, "the UMW itself may find it necessary to advise our members how many days a week they need to work."

"We have that contractual right," he said, "because the contracts are written to permit that."

The last two contracts have provided the miners will work only when "able and willing." The present pact expires next June 30.

This stabilization of employment, he said, "is a matter of self-preservation for our mine workers; it is a matter of self-preservation for the investors in the industry."

"So next year, in 1949 or at any other time, when evil days come upon this industry, you will find the United Mine Workers moving in, and if there are only three days' work in this industry we will all have three days' work."

The union has profited, he said, "from the 'bitter experience' of the 20's."

Then, the coal operators "unable to sell their coal at a price whereby they could pay the scale, would close their mines for an indefinite period, and when our people were started into submission locally they would undertake to operate their mines non-union at a lower wage scale."

Teachers Offer To Dig Coal For School Finances

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 8 (AP)—Seven teachers would like to turn coal miners to help their school district make enough money to pay their salaries.

The seven quit their jobs Monday because the Blythe township school district has not paid them since last March due to financial difficulties. One is a football coach.

They hit on a new plan yesterday. They offered to go into the mining business to build up the salary kitty. In Pennsylvania's anthracite fields, much of the school district's income comes from mine lands owned by the district.

The township school board looked on the proposal with favor. Said a spokesman: "We can't see sufficient taxes collectible to meet the needs."

Detroit Has New 'Sidewalk Baby'

Detroit, Oct. 8 (AP)—The call of duty brought two police sergeants and two patrolmen to a task for gentle hands.

It happened late yesterday and Detroit now has its first "sidewalk baby."

Out for an evening walk, Mrs. Pearl Toombs, 22, collapsed on a street corner. Understanding passerby put her in an emergency call.

Two scout cars dashed up. There was no time to spare.

The baby, a girl weighing six pounds, and the mother were hospitalized. The child, Mrs. Toombs' second, was placed in an incubator.

Headquarters said the four policemen had met their responsibilities.

Convicted

New York, Oct. 8 (AP)—The General Electric Company was convicted today of conspiring between 1927 and 1946 to monopolize trade in hard metal compositions and products in this country and abroad.

Also convicted in Federal court were two affiliate companies and three officials.

The defendants were accused in a 1941 indictment of violating the Sherman anti-trust and Wilson tariff acts.

The corporate departments are subject to possible fines aggregating $25,000 each, the individuals to similar fines and possible imprisonment of five years each.

The government charged a conspiracy to monopolize production and control prices of Carbide hard metal compositions through an international cartel.

Challenge Union Disprove Charge

UE Leaders Face Alternative Of Ban From A-Bomb Plants

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—The government today challenged leaders of the CIO United Electrical Workers Union to disprove charges of Communist ties.

The alternative: the union's quick and complete ouster from A-bomb plants.

In disclosing this stand the Atomic Energy Commission also underlined a policy of requiring labor union leaders representing atomic workers not only to submit non-Communist oaths but to obtain the same FBI loyalty clearance demanded of the workers themselves.

The commission a week ago barred the U.E. from representing workers at any new atomic plants for the stated reason that the loyalty of some of the union's officers is open to "very serious question."

The challenge to the U.E. leadership was voiced by ABC Chairman David Lillenthal in a letter replying to a protest from Union President Albert Fitzgerald.

Lillenthal wrote that unless the questioned loyalty of U.E. officers is "cleared up satisfactorily," the ABC intends to take "such further steps as may be necessary" for security.

From another commission official it was learned that the "further steps" means ousting U.E. from the Peek street atomic plant at Schenectady, N.Y., where the union presently represents workers under an overall contract with General Electric Company.

Continuing Search Negro Flimflammers

Greenville police are continuing their cooperation with Tarboro police in the hunt for two Negro flimflammers—a man and woman—who fled Della Fleetwood, Negro woman who lives on a farm near Hoggood, of $78 in Tarboro Wednesday morning.

The couple used the old pocket-book racket on the woman to get her money. She waited from early morning until the afternoon before reporting the matter to Tarboro police, Officer Jimmy Sherrod stated to a Reflector reporter.

Over Million Dollar Loss In Big Warehouse Fire

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 8 (AP)—Colonial Stores' warehouse five miles south of Durham, N.C., was destroyed by fire early today, causing damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Information received at headquarters of the company here was that the fire started in a trash pile about 2 a.m. and spread to a platform then to the interior of the building. Firemen were handicapped in fighting the blaze by a lack of water. Two wells in the vicinity were pumped dry but the flames were unchecked.

Executives of the company who have been attending a meeting in Atlanta this week were reported preparing to leave there by company plane this forenoon and to stop at Durham to survey the damage.

The building was owned by the North Carolina Warehouse Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Norfolk Southern Railway. At the offices of that company here today it was said the structure was erected six years ago at a cost of $250,000. It had a concrete floor with brick walls eight inches thick and was considered virtually fireproof.

The opinion was expressed that the spread of the fire was due to the fact that the building was filled with groceries most of which were packed in cardboard cartons which burned rapidly.

The warehouse was described as the largest in the Colonial Stores system. It ordinarily supplied all of the chain's retail stores in North Carolina, except in the Elizabeth City area, and a few in South Carolina.

Atomic Control Issue

Who's To Blame For The Failure To Get International Control For A-Bomb And Atomic Energy? United Nations Assembly Helpless; First Of Two Stories

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—This is an ABC on the atom bomb to bring you up to date on what's happened and why.

It's been three years—and millions of words, a lot of them confusing double-talk words—since the first A-bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Now it's in the headlines again because of the bitter debate in the United Nations between the United States and Russia.

After three years of trying, that debate is sad evidence of the failure to set up international control of the A-bomb and atomic energy.

Who's to blame? It's getting to be an old story now. The United States blames Russia, Russia blames the United States.

Because these two countries still are miles apart on how the controls should work, all efforts at international control have failed.

In January, 1946, five months after the bomb had dropped on Hiroshima, the General Assembly of the brand new United Nations held its first meeting.

Right away it voted to set up the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission to find an answer to this question:

How to get all nations to agree to outlaw the bomb in such a way that no nation could cheat? That would mean real international control.

(The United States is willing to go all the way; get rid of its bombs, outlaw the bomb, and submit entirely to real international control.)

(Russia won't submit entirely to international control. It says the United States has the plan rigged to control the world's atomic energy.)

But that special atomic commission—the United States and Russia were among its 11 members—began meeting in June, 1946.

Last May, almost two years later and after 250 meetings, the commission said: "What's the use? It couldn't find the answer. Why?"

It was up against a stone wall: Russia.

Russia refused to agree to the international control plan which had been approved by a majority of the commission, including the United States.

Unable to go on, the commission dumped the problem back in the

Truman Speaks To Albany Audience

Aldermen Meet; Large Number Of Citizens Attend

Order Action On Sanitation, Sunday Movie Vote And Study Of Meters

Last night in their monthly meeting the Greenville Aldermen ordered that effective immediately no more outside privies could be constructed within the city limits where sewer lines are available, ordered a special election be held on the question of Sunday movies in the city, and referred the question of removing certain parking meters to a special committee.

Because of the large number of citizens who attended the meeting, the Aldermen were forced to move from their regular meeting room to the court room in the city hall where enough seats were available.

The Aldermen heard the report of J. Carroll Waldrop whom they hired to make a thorough study of the sanitary situation in the Negro section of Greenville. Mr. Waldrop reported that there are within the city in Negro houses 565 toilets, 341 vaginal toilets, 121 of which are out of order; 456 pit privies, of which 48 are in an irreparable condition and 120 in need of major repairing and 17 houses have no privies or other sanitary facilities.

The Board ordered that no more surface privies be built in the city limits, and that all replacements of irreparable privies be in the form of water toilets where sewer lines are available. It also ordered that all privies that become in need of repair be replaced by water toilets where sewer lines are available.

The Mayor authorized to hire J. Carroll Waldrop on a part time basis to work with county sanitary officials to see that the sanitary rules of the city are enforced.

After some discussion by the Aldermen and citizens who attended the meeting, the question of removing part of the parking meters from the city streets was referred to a committee composed of J. E. Waldrop, J. E. Collins and L. M. Buchanan. A report is to be made to the board of Aldermen at a later date.

A motion passed by the Aldermen ordered a special election be held to decide what should be done about Sunday movies in the city. Although the date of the election was not set, the Board ordered that the people be given an opportunity to vote for one of three proposals:

1. No Sunday movies in Greenville.

2. Sunday movies from 1 to 6 p. m. and from 9 to 11 p. m.

3. Sunday movies continuous from 1 p. m. to 11 p. m.

After hearing routine reports from committees and disposing of minor business matters the meeting was adjourned.

Polish Leftists Step Up Purges

Warsaw, Oct. 8 (AP)—Leftwing Socialists, purging their ranks of nationalists and "class enemies," have added 236 expulsions to the list of Communist and Leftists.

Since Oct. 16 more than 1,000 are known to have been purged and the cleanup is being extended into all major towns and villages.

The Communist Workers Party is carrying out a purge of its own on a smaller scale. The two parties aim to drive out all hostile elements, then merge into a United Workers Party under the leadership of President Boleslaw Bierut.

Rain-Drenched Crowd Of 15,000 Hears The President Speak From Train Platform; Stresses Better Distribution Of Income, As Against GOP Policy

Aboard Truman Campaign Train, Oct. 8 (AP)—President Truman told a rain drenched crowd in Albany today that it was in their own interests to retain the Democratic National Administration.

"Why in the world would you want to upset the applicant now and throw out an administration that brought about this prosperity?" Truman asked.

He addressed a crowd estimated by police at approximately 15,000 from the platform of his special train in this upstate New York Democratic stronghold.

Mrs. T. J. Williams Elected President Pitt W.C. Alumnae

Tuesday night, October 5, about thirty Woman's College Alumnae enjoyed a delightful meeting in Winterville with Mrs. Roy T. Cox and daughters, Mrs. Marion Cox McGlohon and Mrs. Janie B. Cox Wheelas. Other alumnae in the Winterville area were assisting hostesses. There were alumnae present from classes of 1926 to 1946 and from towns throughout the county.

In a short business meeting new officers were elected: Mrs. T. J. Williams of Grifton, president; Mrs. R. P. Wheelas, Farmville, vice president; Miss Bertha Johnson, Grifton, secretary, and Miss Virginia Bell Cooper, Ayden, treasurer. Plans for a more active association were made with two meetings each year. Delegates were appointed for the Harriet Elliott Social Service Forum at the college in November.

After the business the social hour following was most enjoyable when different experiences were related, jokes told, pictures made of the group by Miss Marjorie Shearin and pictures of the college, old and new were passed around by the president Mrs. Obed Costelloe. The hostesses served delicious and attractive refreshments which carried out the college colors—white and gold, and accentuated the date of the birth of the college, 1892.

Mrs. Bryan Brown Hostess To Book Club

On Tuesday, October 5, Mrs. Bryan Brown entertained the Chatham Book Club for the first fall meeting of the club year. Mrs. A. C. Ruffin, president, called the meeting to order. She paid a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Sam H. Williams who suddenly passed from our midst September 7, 1945. The club voted to place a child's book in the Shepard Memorial Library in loving memory of Nina Williams.

After reports from the book and program committees the president turned the meeting over to Mrs. J. C. Lanier, chairman of the program. She presented Miss Betty Ann Young, who gave a most interesting review of "Shannon's Way" by A. J. Cronin, a sequel to "The Green Years."

"Shannon's Way" is the story of a doctor in his twenties who put his keen interest in medical research ahead of everything else in life. Dr. Cronin shows his ability as

Mrs. Clayton Keel, who before her marriage on Saturday, September 11 in the parsonage of the Eighth Street Christian Church, was Miss Joyce Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perry of Greenville, Route 2. Mr. Keel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keel of Greenville.

The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. Tyson Bilbro who reviewed Dale Carnegie's new book, "How To Stop Worrying and Start Living," which today is first on the list of best sellers in non-fiction. With numerous instances from the book, she showed how Mr. Carnegie has put into this practical, easy-to-read book his philosophy of living each day as it comes without unnecessary worry in order to attain that peace of mind and that fuller life for which everyone yearns. Mrs. Smiley had as her guests Mrs. J. O. Derrick, Mrs. L. W. Jenkins and Mrs. Lomax May.

The house was decorated throughout with lovely asters and other various fall flowers.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. I. Wooten, after which Mrs. J. B. Kittrell read the minutes and 17 members answered to roll call.

Mrs. Louis Gaylord in her most charming manner gave a most interesting paper on "A Glimpse Into the Future." Mrs. Gaylord said, "Today we are living in a world where anything can and may happen. The beautiful dream of our lamented President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, for a permanent world-wide peace, in the light of present conditions, has been dispelled and shattered."

In closing, Mrs. Gaylord stated that "your country and mine is engaged upon an all-out effort to save the world and each of us must do his part for America."

Mrs. White invited the club members into the dining room where a lovely luncheon was served by Mrs. J. Key Brown seated at one end of the table. She was assisted by Mrs. G.B.W. Hadley, Mrs. Fred Forbes and Mrs. W. L. Best.

Mrs. Bob Hadley of High Point was a guest of the club.—Reported.

Mrs. Wright Hostess To Thalian Club

The Thalian Book Club held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon, October 5, 1945, at the home of Mrs. Dan Wright. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. M. L. Wright, served a delicious luncheon.

The club was happy to have Mr. Joe Moyer, one of the members of the Greenville Planning Board, as guest speaker. Mr. Moyer discussed a subject of interest to all and the members are grateful to him for his informative talk on "Planning for the Small American City."

After a very brief business meeting, Mrs. Harding Gugg as chairman of the book committee presented our books for the year to Mrs. Jack Horton, the librarian who distributed them to the members. The club adjourned to meet again October 19, 1945.—Reported.

Winterville F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America had their first meeting of the new school year on October 1, 1948. The meeting was called to order by our president Peggy Bright, who had charge of devotional. Old and new members were welcomed.

Pictures taken of our bulletin board, which is located in the high school library and of some of the members in session by Miss Marjorie Shearin, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent.

Old and new business was discussed. Committees were appointed for future work. They are: Initiation, Constance Vincent, Marjorie Little and Jacquelyn Branch; Social, Janice Tyson, Alice Jean Weathington and Alma Joyce Paramore. The selling of vanilla and stationery was discussed as a means of making money.

Every club should have aims if it is to be a success. Some of our aims for 1948-49 are: a new rug for the living room floor of the home economics cottage, a bedspread for the bed in the cottage and scales for us to use for keeping our weight charts.

Barbara Worthington, program chairman, planned a most interesting program for us. Talks were given by Ruth Little, Peggy Langston and Marjorie Little on "What the F.H.A. Has Meant To Me." Ruth Little read a poem, "Don't Be What You Ain't." Then Barbara Worthington explained the F.H.A. emblem which was most interesting to the new members.

Delicious refreshments were served by the refreshment committee to the members and the high school teachers who attended our meeting. This concluded our program and the meeting was adjourned.

Strength FOR THE DAY
BREAD ON THE WATER

The Bible tells us that if we cast our bread upon the water it will return to us after many days. O. Henry has made the observation that sometimes when we cast our bread upon the water it comes back to us in the form of cottage pudding with a wine sauce.

A young man told me an interesting story recently which illustrates this truth. Many years ago when he was beginning as a salesman for a store manager upon whom he called for the purpose of selling him a consignment of books. It made an impression on the young salesman, and when he heard some years later that the store manager had been discharged under circumstances involving considerable misunderstanding and not a little jealousy on the part of his associates, he was considerably disturbed about the whole affair. For five years this store manager did not have steady employment, but during that time he kept his chin up and every day hoped for the best.

It just happened that the young salesman, now holding a position of importance in his firm, heard at last of an opening where he felt this unemployed man would be able to render quite efficient service, and the result is that the marriage has been consummated and everybody is very happy.

Which is a parable to the effect that it pays to be kind and considerate with everyone, even book agents.

Around Capitol Square
By LYNN NISBET

ADDED — Something new was added at the fifth district rally sponsored by the state Democratic executive committee at Reidsville. This was the first time Senator William E. Umstead had appeared on the platform and the first time the four pending amendments to the state constitution have been explained. Refreshments were different. Instead of barbecue or fried fish, the fifth district folks served the assembled Democrats Brunswick stew—made as only that section of North Carolina and Virginia knows how to make it.

UMSTEAD—Senator Umstead got a good hand when he walked on the stage and even more enthusiastic applause when he pleaded for full support of the entire Democratic ticket from top to bottom. He was immediately followed on the program by J. M. Brughton—who defeated him for the senatorial nomination in the May primary. The united front presented now by the incumbent senator and the senator-nominee, indicating that no serious wounds remain from the hard fought primary campaign, occasioned most vigorous applause of the day.

AMENDMENTS—Attorney General Harry McMullan explained briefly and impartially the pending amendments. One will increase pay of members of the legislature; one provides for voting against the ballot box instead of against registration books in special tax elections; another increases from 15c to 25c the maximum tax levy for county general fund purposes; the other would remove existing limitation on public debt permissible without vote of the people. McMullan suggested that these proposals are non-partisan and essentially non-political, though of considerable importance to the people. Sentiment which has been expressed has been generally in favor of increased legislative pay and for the idea of all elections to be determined by vote cast rather than by registered non-voters. Sentiment seems to be pretty well divided on the increased general fund levy, and strongly against the debt limitation removal.

WOMEN—Whether it is because the women like Brunswick stew better than barbecue, or because the women in the fifth district are more interested in politics, fact is the percentage of women in the Reidsville armory was considerably larger than at any of the preceding four district rallies. They were in evidence from start of the assembly. As the visitors arrived they were met by one or more attractive young ladies who asked the name and address and pinned an identification tag on each person. It's surprising how much help that was to politicians who did not know the names of the folks, and who hated to admit it.

NOT NEW—Governor-nominee Kerr Scott has an excellent idea in urging all-weather school bus routes as an aid to industrial development, but the idea is not original with him, according to a Buncombe County citizen. Scott in his campaign speeches points out that the base must be broadened for industrial labor supply in this state, and that improving school bus routes will mean that men and women can live at home and work at industrial plants in town—or for that matter out in the country—instead of being congested in already over-populated communities. The Buncombe man cites two illustrations in his county of the workability of this idea. Back in 1928 the big Enka rayon plant was built upon this idea. From the beginning until now several thousand workers in the plant have come in every day from surrounding mountain coves and farms. The Beacon mills at Swannanoa have developed along the same lines.

PROVEN—Success of the experiment in these two instances, plus hundreds of others that might be cited around Asheville, North Wilkesboro, Plymouth and throughout the state, proves the idea sound. The folks who know how well it works have only one criticism of the Scott presentation. Instead of presenting the idea as new, he should urge its extension and expansion, using the proven cases to support his arguments. That's what the mountain man said.

Underdog Pirates In Top Shape As They Depart To Play Elon

A victory-hungry East Carolina Teachers College grid squad, in high spirits despite their role as underdogs, left for Elon College this morning where they will tangle with the Fighting Christians in a North State Conference tussle tonight at eight o'clock.

"Those boys are really going out there and fight tonight," Coach Jim Johnson, ECTC mentor, said last night as he declared that the team is in the best psychological shape of the year. "The boys are tired of the bitter taste of defeat," Johnson said. Johnson and Back Field Coach Jack Boone acknowledge that Elon, with its 21 big and hardened letter-men, have better material than can be found at ECTC. "But they put on their pants the same way we do," Johnson said. "We're going to be fighting for an upset."

Johnson and Boone have been drilling the Pirates for two weeks in preparation for the contest. All this week the ECTC squad has been perfecting defense techniques to be used against Elon's newly instigated single wing formation.

The two coaches said Thursday night that the Pirates are in "as good shape as they will ever be" for the Fighting Christians. "We have done all we can," Johnson said. "It's up to the boys now and I'm sure they will give it their best."

Buck Wilson, number one center for the squad, will be watching the starting whistle from the bench. Johnson said Wilson, who was injured three weeks ago, will probably see limited action Friday night. Coach Boone commented that "it would make a big difference with Wilson in there."

With the exception of Wilson half-back Bill Smith and end Eddie Tanner, the Pirates will be at full strength. Smith will not make the trip because of a sprained ankle but Tanner, one of the team's top ends, will see limited action.

Some 40 team members left this morning at eight o'clock. They are expected to arrive in Burlington shortly after noon.

Army tackles Bert Aton and Frank Barnes are from Kentucky. Aton resides in Louisville and Barnes in Hopkinsville.

Pickoff Play Is Series Highlight

Cleveland, Oct. 8.—(AP)—"The Boudreau pickoff play," a death trap for ambitious players, has become the most talked-about single feature of the World Series thus far.

It promises to go down in World Series history alongside such famous highlights as the Rawlings-Kelly-Frisch double play of 1921; the Pepper Martin base-stealing show of 1931 and the unassisted triple play by Billy Wambagans in 1920.

The extraordinary play, a precision-like combination of a lightning break and perfect timing between Shortstop Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's playing pilot, and his pitcher, has been the key play of both games.

Boudreau has worked it twice against the Boston Braves, once in each game, each time it left the on-lookers stunned by its results.

"Well," grinned Lou, "it works this way. Just before the pitcher is ready to pitch, I flash the sign to Catcher Jim Hegan from my normal position. I wait for Hegan to relay the signal to the pitcher.

As soon as he does that, I take three strides toward the bag. The pitcher counts three to himself to match my strides. Then he whirls and fires, not to me, but to the bag. I get there just in time to grab the ball, block the bag and make the tag. Of course, it takes split second timing and a quick break to get it down to perfection. I acquired that from my basketball playing days. Also the pitcher must throw that ball to save wasted motion caused by a downward swoop."

Intramural Cage Play Under Way

Intramural basketball play is getting underway at East Carolina Teachers College, it was announced yesterday by Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, athletic director, who said some six or seven teams have already begun cage activities at the Wright Building on the ECTC campus.

Dr. Jorgensen said a round robin tournament will get underway immediately with the teams playing on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. There will be three games each night according to Jorgensen who expects 17 or 18 teams to be playing before the tournament closes.

Officials will be drawn from the officiating class instructed by Howard Porter, basketball coach at ECTC.

Anyone is eligible for play except those boys who have won letters on the ECTC varsity. No experience is necessary. Jorgensen said any group of boys who wish to organize a team should submit their roster to him as soon as possible.

Among those top teams returning from last year's intramural play will be the undefeated Carolina Ridgerunners, captained by Charles Butler. The Ridgerunners came out on top of all 22 games last season.

Ticket Scalpers May Take Loss At Cleveland

Cleveland, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Scalpers may take a terrific beating on the Cleveland end of the world series, a New York travel agent said today.

Here's why, said Sam Burger, head of the President travel agency of New York City.

When he got here Wednesday to arrange for seats for 200 Boston fans the smart money operators were asking $25 and up a ticket. But late last night, he said, they were offering $8 box seats for $10 and $6.25 reserved seats for $8.

Games tonight in the Northeastern Conference:

"Dunn at Greenville
Edenton at New Bern
Elizabeth City at Roanoke Rapids
"Methodist Orphanage at Tarboro
"Holy Trinity of Norfolk at Washington
"Non-conference games

At Guy Smith Stadium tonight the Dunn High School eleven will be the guests of Bo Farley and his Phantoms. Dunn had one of the best high school teams in the state last year, but has only 6 lettermen returning. Their squad this year consists of five freshmen starters, Greenville over Dunn by one touchdown.

New Bern is playing host to Edenton. The Bears will be playing hard after the defeat handed them by Washington last week. The only game each club has won was over Greenville. New Bern by 8 points.

Elizabeth City and Roanoke Rapids will battle it out in a battle that has been going on for years. The Yellow Jackets have been stinging each other trying to find out who has the greatest sting. The Yellow Jackets of Roanoke Rapids are favored over the Yellow Jackets of Elizabeth City by one point.

Holy Trinity is playing the Pam Pack at Washington. This is a non-conference game, but is expected to draw a large crowd. Holy Trinity of Norfolk over Washington Pam Pack by three points.

The ECTC Pirates went through a dummy scrimmage yesterday in preparation for Friday night's tilt with Elon. Johnson and Boone took no chances of further injury in the Pirates' lineup. Elon is favored by 12 points, but if the Pirates have any luck with their passing attack, it will be a different story. Elon over the Pirates by a close score.

Coach Earl Smith of Campbell College says that he is having trouble finding any opponents. In fact it has become practically impossible inside the Junior College Conference. Coach Smith, you shouldn't have such a good ball club, but a word of advice, "The best go down in defeat at times."

Question from Ayden: Who do you think will win the World Series? The question is a little away from football, but since you asked me, Cleveland in six games or less.

The colored high school of Tarboro defeated the Greenville colored high by the score of 12 to 0 last night in Guy Smith Stadium.

Coach Earl Smith of Campbell College is a former pilot of the ECTC Pirates.

Record Turnout To Greet Indians

Cleveland, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cleveland opens its arms to its first world series since 1920 today with a record turnout of 80,000 due to welcome home the Indians who won the pennant on the road and are returning all square with the Boston Braves after splitting two games at Braves field.

It looked for a while as if the welcoming party might have to wait because the teams were late leaving Boston last night.

To make the situation more doubtful, scattered showers were forecast today. It rained here last night and turned cold.

Gene Bearden, the southpaw who tamed the Boston Red Sox in the pennant playoff, is ready to face Vern Bickford, another war veteran in a battle of rookie pitchers. American leaguers rushed to the support of the Indians after they clubbed Warren Spahn for a 4-1 victory behind Bob Lemon in yesterday's loosely played second game. As a result of the Cleveland triumph, they now are topheavy favorites—5 to 14 to win the series and 9 to 20 to cop the third game.

Despite the gloomy weather forecast, all series attendance records for a single game are certain to be erased. It may well be the largest crowd ever to see a ball game anywhere.

Turns To Training

Miami.—(AP)—Ralph Kercheval, one time University of Kentucky great will train Frank Frankie's string of race horses this winter at Hialeah. Kercheval has asked for stalls for Fond Embrace, Nina Bruja and others of the Frankie stable.

Unpredictable Deacs Aim To Repeat Upset Of 1947

Midgets Play In New Bern Friday

The Greenville Midgets tangle with their first out-of-town foe tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when they travel to New Bern to meet the 110 pound Bears.

Tomorrow's game will be the season's opener for the Greenville Midgets which last year lost to Goldsboro for the State championship. "We lost most of our starters from last year's squad," commented Coach Bill Kittrell, "but there are several new comers to the team who show much promise."

Kittrell sent his charges through a full length scrimmage yesterday afternoon with the second team trouncing the first stringers 18-0 Phillips and Sawyer did the scoring for the second team while Whit-takers, a former third string guard won a berth on the first team by his outstanding line play yesterday.

Sickness caused by the recent inclement weather has kept several of the players side-lined most of the week, but Kittrell indicated that two of his probable starters who have been out, Guy Smith and Billy Best, probably will be ready for tomorrow's encounter. Kittrell said the starting line-up would not be decided until after the workout this afternoon.

Good Beginning

Villanova, Pa.—(AP)—Prospects are bright for the Villanova basketball squad. Several members of the team played in a summer league near Philadelphia and won the championship of the circuit which featured many collegiate cage stars.

The UCLA Bruins opened the 1948 football season with a mark of 120 games won, 121 lost and 18 tied in 25 seasons.

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The unpredictable Wake Forest Deacons, last team to beat North Carolina's Bowl-bound powerhouse, move front and center here Saturday as they attempt to repeat their stunning 19-7 upset of a year ago.

The deacons, who come up with more than one surprise yearly—winning the tough ones and losing the ones they are figured to win—are the third straight T formation team to challenge the single wing superiority of Carl Snavely's forces.

Texas and Georgia have been humbled by the Tar Heels to bring their victory string to nine in a row.

Wake Forest, on the other hand, opened with an unimpressive 27-13 victory over George Washington as Peahead Walker unveiled his T. Then the Deacs moved up to Boston where they remained in the doldrums, bowing to Boston College, 26-9.

Last Saturday the first major surprise of the Southern Conference season saw the Wakes belt defending champion William and Mary, 21-12 to vault into the conference lead. That victory, coupled with the stinging memory of the crushing defeat administered by the Deacs when they met a year ago, should serve to have North Carolina on its toes.

The Deacons, although trailing Carolina by 31-11 in the 60-year-old rivalry, have been rough on the Tar Heels of late, winning five of their last seven meetings.

Snavely shouldn't have much trouble firing up his club for this one. The boys have been waiting for another shot at the Deacons since they were so thoroughly thrashed on a dark day last October.

Quarterback Tom Fetzer completed 12 of 16 Wake Forest passes that day for 198 yards. He's back again, pouring the T this time. Soph. Bill Gregus figures to be his No. 1 assistant. The Toledo flyer has averaged 6.6 yards in 43 carries this year.

Charlie Justice faces a stiff personal challenge in this game. The 165-pound Tar Heel tailback, who has scored five times and passed for two other scores in two games this year, was stopped cold by the Deac forwards a year ago. In seven carries he gained eight yards.

Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees was the first American Leaguer to homer in every park in the circuit this season.

Deadly Weapon

By Wade Miller

Chapter 15
Walter James pushed through the heavy doors of the Brass Rail at Sixth and B Streets. Clapp's back was the biggest one at the bar. The slender man strolled over to him, punched a finger into the blue gabardine over Clapp's kidney. Clapp shoved around on the stool.

"What's wrong with the foot of Market?" asked Walter James. "Law enforcement get dull?"

"Oh, hello, James. No, got kind of rushed this morning and couldn't whip out to lunch till now."

"Anything new? Hear from the Best?"

"Give them time, James. The longer I wait, the more I'll learn."

"Typical cop attitude," Walter James commented. "Drag yourself over in the corner and let's talk."

Clapp said, "We've pulled in every small time weed seller in town that we knew about. It was all two or three reefer stuff. We didn't get a line on any big dealing or anything going out of town."

Clapp grunted in amazement. "Where does the dope angle tie in?"

Walter James gave a one syllable laugh. "If you could have seen that hopped-up Madeline charge me with a butcher knife, you'd have seen the tie-in."

"You have had a busy day. I suppose Madeline's full of bullet holes right now."

"That's a nice vindictive point of view. Will it raise me in your opinion any to know I only slapped her down?"

"Not a lot," said Clapp.

"Here's the way I spell it. Ferdie was a very little man in the setup. Some big man delivered the stuff to him. The Grand Theater was the pickup point. Ferdie passed on the stuff to another big man there. The two big men never had to come face to face or involve each other. Maybe they didn't even know each other."

"So the Filipino was a go-between. Then how?"

"But Ferdie was holding out part of the delivery which he presented to Shasta Lynn—hoping that was the key to her affections."

"Probably a little. I think mostly she was getting it for her friend, Madeline's pretty far gone." Walter James pulled the envelope out of his coat pocket and pushed it across the table. "That's the scrapings from the girls' cigarette box. Your lab will probably find some traces of marijuana. They were awfully anxious to fill the box with straight cigarettes when I rolled up to the front door."

Clapp stuck the envelope in his pocket. "We'll run a test this afternoon. Do you think the Filipino might have told her who he was dealing with?"

"I doubt it. I don't think the Filipino knew."

"Dead end?"

"Dead end." Walter James pulled the torn fragment of Bonifacio's business card from his pocket. He slid it face up across the table. "But here's a present for you."

Clapp said slowly, "That's the other half of the card we found in Soles's pocket. Where'd you get it?"

Walter James grinned. "You're going to hate me for this, Clapp. It was wedged in the seat where the body was found."

Clapp's eyes were cold. "I might clip you for obstructing justice."

"Who's obstructing? I gave it to you, didn't I?" Walter James pointed out blandly. "I'll even give you some more help. Put those two cards together and you'll find it belongs to a doctor named Bonifacio, a psychiatrist in the Moulton Building."

Clapp took a billfold from his inside coat pocket and put the torn business card in it carefully. "We'll look him up."

"I've done it already. I tried to scare him. He's an obvious quack with an office setup that comes straight out of Dr. Caligari's cabinet. I didn't learn much except that he's got a guilty conscience. As soon as I closed the door in back of me, he was burning up the wires with a Major Rockwell."

"Oh?"

"Mean anything to you?"

Clapp pursed his lips. "Big man. Retired Army. Seems to have plenty of money—a big house, yacht and so on. He travels a good deal."

"Let me have a go at him first. He might be more talkative to me." Clapp shook his head slowly. Walter James scowled. "Don't be dumb, Clapp. We're whistling in the dark. All we can do is bluff and I'm good at that sort of thing."

Clapp said, "Make it fast. This case is dragging."

Pistol Slayer Gets Long Term In State Prison

By CHESTER WALSH

In Superior Court today, Judge Peyton Swain of Shelby sentenced John David Allen, colored, to 20 to 25 years at hard labor in State's Prison, after he pleaded nolo contendere to a second degree murder charge in connection with the pistol slaying of Moses Carmon, colored, in Ayden last September 13.

Robert Lee Taylor, assault on a female, pleaded nolo contendere, and was given 18 months on the roads. Sentence was suspended on condition that he behave for two years and pay court costs by the January term of court. Capias and commitment may issue at any time in two years on motion of the solicitor.

O. Ray Bowen, driving drunk, pleaded nolo contendere. He was given four months on the roads, sentence suspended on condition that he pay $100 and costs, not drive a motor vehicle on a public highway for a year and not violate the liquor laws, especially as to being drunk in public, for a year. Ordered To Hang For Executions

Yokohama, Oct. 8—(AP)—Former Lt. Col. Yuhinari Tanaka was sentenced to hang today for ordering the execution of Brig. Gen. Guy O. Fort and three other Americans on Mindanao Island in the Philippines.

Sentence was passed by an Eighth U. S. Army Commission.

Tanaka, former commander of a Japanese infantry battalion, was convicted of ordering his subordinates to kill the four Americans captured sometime between July and November of 1942.

Ship Which Ran Into Mountain Being Repaired

Baltimore—(AP)—A Spanish ship which crashed into a mountain last spring is now in Baltimore for repairs.

The ship, the Letitia Lykes, was towed across the Atlantic in 28 days by the world's largest ocean-going tug, the Dutch Zwartee. She was taken to the Bethlehem Steel Co. repair yard.

The annual mishap occurred one stormy night last May. She rammed into a mountain on the Mediterranean coast of Spain between Cape De Data and Almeria and lost the lower half of her bow.

The Letitia Lykes was built in 1944 in California. She was en route from Greece to New Orleans when she grounded.

Struck It Rich; Just One Hitch

Yakima, Wash., Oct. 8—(AP)—Les Berghoff bid 25 cents on an old suitcase at a police unclaimed property sale.

He got the suitcase and found inside one $100 government bond and two of $25 denomination.

Attorneys expressed the view that the bonds are Berghoff's but the hitch is he must have the original owner, Karl Getter, sign a power of attorney for him to cash them. And nobody knows where Getter is.

First District Democrats Meet

Washington, N.C., Oct. 8—(AP)—Democrats from 14 northeastern counties assembled here today for the First Congressional District rally.

Congressman Herbert C. Bonner of Washington said he expected delegations from Beaufort, Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell, and Washington counties.

HIGHWAY COMMANDER JONES CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

Capt. Lester Jones of Greenville, commander of the northeastern district of the State Highway Patrol, who underwent a major operation at Veterans' Hospital, Mount Alto, D.C., recently, continues to improve.

Sgt. D. G. Lewis of Rocky Mount, who is substituting as commander during Capt. Jones' illness, visited him at the hospital several days ago and said he was cheerful and expects to get well.
