Senate Election Draws Attention In Intense Drive

In Some Instances, Dewey-Truman Duel Is Overshadowed By Contests

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—Next to the presidency, the Senate races this year are receiving more attention than any other election battles. In some instances they are even overshadowing the Dewey-Truman duel.

The reason is this: The question of which party will control the next Senate hinges on 11 or 12 contests. They are in the border states and the north and west.

The rivalry is intense. So important are these campaigns regarded by party leaders that both presidential and vice-presidential candidates have appeared in most of the Senate race states in person. They will speak in others before election day.

The present Senate is made up of 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats. A net gain of four for the Democrats would win back control which the GOP captured with a 12-seat turnover in 1946.

Many public claims have been made by both parties. But private estimates—made to a reported by a Republican and Democrat whose job it is to keep abreast of the Senate scraps—size up the situation this way as of today:

The Republican believes his party will keep control. He sees a probable loss of two seats—in Oklahoma and Minnesota, with Wyoming's contest hanging in the balance. But he says there is a fifty-fifty chance of winning two Democratic seats in Tennessee and New Mexico. All the other seven races that figure in the calculations are safe for the GOP, in this campaign official's opinion.

The Democrat figures his party can win four seats from the Republicans—in West Virginia, Oklahoma, Minnesota, and Wyoming—but Senate control may hinge on whether Senator Murray (D) can pull through in Montana.

Says Fish Good Quake Indicators

Tokyo, Oct. 11—(AP)—Fish, said Dr. Yasuo Suehiro after a 52 year study of 32 varieties, are good earthquake indicators.

Carp, the scientists said, are the best, doing a lot of jumping in and out of the water immediately before a tremon. Catfish are next in their activity but a little more restrained.

Trout and Salmon do not leap in the water before an earthquake but become much easier to hook, he said.

Report Railroad Rate Plea Upped

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—The railroad industry, it was reported today, has decided to ask for a 13 percent increase in freight rates instead of an 8 percent advance.

Eleven days ago the railroads filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition asking for an 8 percent increase. ICC officials said they have heard an amendment will be filed, probably tomorrow, asking to make it 13 percent.

Marshall Heads Back To Paris Hopeful Setback Was Averted

Washington, Oct. 11 — (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall heads back for Paris today hopeful that his weekend's work with President Truman has averted a major American setback in the cold war with Russia.

Marshall was expected to take off around mid-day, thus winding up a critical period in which he and the President decided (a) to give the world an official version of the proposed Vinson mission to Moscow and (b) underline that the whole project has been abandoned.

As a result, the United States was able once again to present to the world a picture of undivided determination in international affairs.

For one thing, reports of a split between Mr. Truman and his Secretary of State were formally denied.

And — despite sharp Republican criticism of the President's role in the incident—GOP support for this country's bi-partisan foreign policy at the United Nations sessions in general and on the Berlin crisis in particular was publicly reaffirmed.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, made the first move in this direction. It came roughly 24 hours after the disclosure by Mr. Truman himself that he had considered sending Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to Moscow but had been dissuaded by Marshall.

Dewey issued a statement at Albany declaring that the American people "are in fact united in their foreign policy."

They "wholeheartedly and vigorously support the labors of our bi-partisan delegation at Paris and specifically its insistence on a prompt lifting of the blockade of Berlin."

While the New York governor would not say so publicly, newsmen assigned to his campaign were given to understand that Dewey regards the Vinson incident as a desperate blunder.

More direct GOP criticism came from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, speaking in New York later last night.

Marshall told a news conference it was Mr. Truman's specific interest in the atomic bomb problem plus his general concern over world peace, which caused him to consider, as Marshall put it, undertaking some great move for peace.

$2,000,000 Fire

Manila, Oct. 11 — (AP) — A spectacular fire today destroyed three American owned business establishments in the Philippine Education Company compound.

The fire chief estimated damage at $2,000,000.

The fire wiped out the Singer Sewing Company branch, the McCullough Printing Company plant, and a firm handling books, papers and Christmas toys.

Miners Vote Pay Hike For Lewis

John L. Lewis Given $50,000 Salary; Higher Dues Opposed

Cincinnati, Oct. 11—(AP)—The United Mine Workers' convention today voted John L. Lewis a salary of $50,000 a year amid proposals that his pay be boosted to $75,000 or $100,000.

The union's constitution was amended to do it, as the salary of the president had been fixed at $25,000.

Pay of Vice-President Thomas Kennedy and Secretary-Treasurer John Owens were increased from $18,000 to $40,000 per year, respectively.

The 30 members of the international executive board will get $1,000 a month under the convention action. They now receive $750 monthly.

Delegates who wanted to talk on the salary proposals, including one who proposed that Lewis be given a $100,000 income, were shouted down by the 3,000 delegates. The constitution committee set the $50,000 figure.

The committee encountered opposition to a proposal to boost monthly dues to $4 and some floor debate from the antracite district delegates was anticipated.

Lose In Attempt Get On Ballot

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—The Progressive party today lost in federal court another attempt to get a place on the Nov. 2 election ballot.

A three-judge court, ruling on a petition for a declaratory judgement, held requirements of the Illinois election law did not vilate the federal or state constitutions.

Truman Says Rival Has Not Told His Position

President Tells Ohioans That Dewey Has Refused To Tell Where He Stands On Issues People Want To Hear

Cincinnati, Oct. 11— (AP) —President Truman said today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey refused "to tell the country where he stands on any of the issues" in which "the people are interested."

He did not mention the Republican standards bearer by name, but said the "Republican candidate" had made "a good many headlines with talk about unity," but "he won't tell the country where he stands on any of the issues" the people want to hear about.

Mr. Truman spoke at a Democratic breakfast rally in the Hall of Mirrors in the Netherland-Plaza hotel.

Speaking in the home town of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) the President said Taft had "dispelled any hope that the Republican party will follow a liberal course."

"I like him personally," Mr. Truman said. "I know where he stands, which is more than you can say about some of the other Republicans."

"Taft stands for welfare at the top, not at the bottom."

Mr. Truman returned to his campaign train immediately after speaking.

The President concludes his one-day Ohio trip with a 9 p. m. (EST) speech at Akron.

Mr. Truman invaded industrial Ohio with Jack Kroll, director of the P. A. C.—CIO. Aboard his campaign train. Mrs. Kroll was along, too.

As he went aboard his private car in Washington, Mr. Truman said he felt "perfect" despite his weeks of strenuous day and night campaigning.

The Akron speech, on labor policy, will be from a prefared manuscript and will be made at the armory over an Ohio network.

In addition to Ohio, Minnesota and Wisconsin, the President will cover grounds in Illinois, Indiana and West Virginia before he returns to Washington Saturday afternoon.

Highway Travel In State Climbs

Raleigh, N. C., Oct 11—(AP)—Travel over North Carolina highways during September broke all records for the month.

James S. Burch, statistics and planning engineer for the state highway commission, reported today that on an average day during September some 61,458 vehicles passed the state's 20 traffic counting machines.

This compared with 59,586 in August and 55,541 in September of 1947.

Court Holds Up Antitrust Trial

Trans-America Suit Postponed Until Complaint Clarified

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—A federal court order today held up the Federal Reserve Board's antitrust trial of the Giant Transamerica Corporation of San Francisco.

Judge T. Alan Goldsborough told the board to show on Oct. 20 why it should not give more particulars in support of its complaint.

The seven-man board thereupon agreed to postponed the trial which had been scheduled to begin before it tomorrow. It also agreed to take no further action against Transamerica until the court question is settled.

The board has charged Trans-America, the world's biggest bank holding company, with maintaining a West Coast banking or credit monopoly through alleged control of about 600 banks in California, Oregon, Nevada, Arizona and Weshington that have deposits totaling $6,640,000,000.

The main bank in the group is the powerful bank of America, with more than 500 branches in California whose $5,500,000,000 of deposit accounts have given it rank as "the biggest bank in the world."

Unless the board can satisfy Judge Goldsborough that its complaint gives Transamerica sufficient knowledge of what it must defend itself against, the board will have to provide the required extra information by amendment or be enjoined permanently from proceeding against the corporation.

Chinese Reds In Two Big Thrusts Against Cities

Nanking, Oct. 11— (AP) —Heavy Communist forces struck savagely today at two central China provincial capitals, Sian and Taiyuan, in what the Reds described as the opening of their fall campaign.

Both capitals were threatened. More than 1,000,000 regular Red troops were engaged in fighting ranging from the Shensi province capital of Sian to the Manchurian corridor, near the coast.

Out of this widespread fighting, the National government claimed one victory. A military spokesman said national troops aided by strong naval units threw the Reds out of the Manchurian seaport of Yingkow, lost last year when the garrison rebelled. This same drive, the spokesman said, re-established direct land communications between Yingkow and Muwden.

Report Advances Against Rebels

Athens, Oct. 11—(AP)—Greek army forces were reported advancing today on a wide front against the Communist guerrillas in a new offensive aimed at routing the rebels from their mountain strongholds before snow blankets the terrain.

Dispatches from the front said the government forces began a drive against the Communist-held Vitsi triangle in northwestern Greece. This is an area of about 300 square miles in western Macedonia, just south of the juncture of Greece's border with Albania and Yugoslavia, near Lake Prespa.

Cuban Price Cut

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 11—(AP) Carlos Prio Socarras, new President of Cuba, has announced a 10 per cent cut in food prices effective today.

Prio, 45, a militant anti-Communist, was in augurated 17th President of the Republic yesterday. He succeeded Dr. Roman Grau San Martin.

In a message to Congress last night he appealed for lower prices to combat the high cost of living. He told the legislators he had reached an agreement with merchants and distributors to cut the price of essential items 10 per cent.

Dewey Continues Campaign; Holds Blast In Reserve

Leaves It To Vandenberg To Attack 'Blunder' Of Vinson-To-Moscow

Enroute with Dewey to Pittsburgh, Oct. 11—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey barnstormed across Pennsylvania today, holding in reserve a possible public blast at President Truman's handling of the Vinson incident.

The Republican presidential nominee let Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) put into words what Dewey himself apparently would like to have said openly but decided not to do because of its world effect.

Vandenberg declared in a New York City speech last night that Mr. Truman's abandoned plan to send Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow for personal negotiations with Premier Stalin involved a "narrow escape' from singlehanded action that could have crippled United Nations handling of the Berlin crisis.

The attitude among the Republicans—evidently shared by Dewey—was that Mr. Truman had made a desperate blunder that might have had tragic effects around the world.

It further was said to be Dewey's view that he—as the possible next President—must try to salve American prestige.

What that involved, in the Berlin blockade question, was put into these words by Vandenberg:

"Now that we have gone to the United Nations, we must intelligently avoid any unilateral, independent action on our awn account lest we confuse our friendly associates, cramp the Security Council and encourage our opponents to think our appeal to the United Nations is either timid or insincere."

Vandenberg added:

"I must say that we have just had a narrow escape on this score, at Washington."

While that seemed to be the Republican answer for the time being Dewey was known to have in mind the possibility of criticizing the Vinson incident if he feels world developments warrant such action later.

Pointing toward a major labor speech in Pittsburgh tonight (8:30 p.m., EST, CBS), the Republican presidential nominee offered a new pledge of Republican support for American efforts to get the Berlin blockade lifted.

Graziani Goes On Trial Today As Collaborator

Rome, Oct. 11 — (AP) — Former Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Mussolini's "Lion of Africa," went on trial here today on charges of collaboration with the Nazis.

Graziani, highest-ranking of the surviving Fascists, came out of retirement after Italy surrendered to the allies and headed the Duce's armed forces in the Italian puppet republic in the north.

The trial of 66-year-old Graziani has been delayed repeatedly in the past two years because of his failing health. However, he seemed in good condition today. The one-time ruler of Mussolini's short-lived African empire was smiling amiably as he entered the defendant's box.

Two Speeches By Taft In Carolina

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 11—(AP)—U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) will make two campaign speeches in North Carolina Friday—at Chapel Hill and Wilson, E. A. Parker, director of the GOP Eastern North Carolina headquarters announced today.

The Wilson talk has been scheduled for some time, but arrangements for Taft's Chapel Hill appearence have just been completed, Parker said.

Western Allies Set Terms For Solving Berlin Impasse

Britain Outlines Its Case Against Stalin

White Paper Details Charges And Conclusions Covering Wide Range Of Soviet Activities Throughout Germany

London, Oct. 11—(AP)—Britain accused Russia today of trying to run the western powers out of Berlin, of keeping thousands of Germans in concentration camps and of attempting to sabotage Europe's economic recovery.

The charges were laid down in a 40,000-word white paper on the Berlin crisis negotiations in Berlin and in Moscow.

In general terms, the statement duplicated that issue by the United States Sept. 27. But it was in greater detail, with conclusions which took in issues ranging from control of the mineral-rich Ruhr Valley to Soviet claims for $10,000,000,000 in reparations.

The British paper said:

1. "The Soviet government has no intention of reaching agreement (over Berlin,) save on its own terms."

2. "Soviet authorities in Berlin have tolerated attempts by minority groups sympatretic to their aims to overthrow the legal municipal government of the city."

3 Russia has "embarked upon a carefully prepared attempt to compel the western occupying powers to abandon under Duress their rights in Berlin."

4 Acceptance of Russian terms mean "immediate or progressive absorption of western sectors of Berlin within the Soviet economy and whittling away of the rights and obligations of the western occupying powers to a point where the whole city of Berlin was under exclusive Soviet domination."

The document charged that 'Soviet authorities were violating in their zone fundamental personal and political freedoms prescribed by the Potsdam agreement."

"Within the Soviet zone, the population is not avvorded freedom of speech or information," it said.

"The juriciary is not independent and thousands of people, including children, have been arbitrarily arrested and confined in concentration camps within the Soviet zone or deported to the Soviet Union."

Says Cominform Behind Walkouts

French Minister Blames Reds For Crippling Strikes

Paris, Oct. 11 — (AP) — Interior Minister Jules Moch charges that nationwide strikes now crippling French economy were engineered by Cominform.

Moch made the charge at a closed meeting of the National Council of the Socialist Party, held over the weekend at suburban Puteaux.

Varying accounts appeared in Paris newspapers today. Moch said the Socialist orgen Le Populaire had given an "objective resume."

A counter-charge was made at a CGT convention by Communist Leader Benoit Franchon. He declared that non-Communist unions had "instructions from (U.S. Secretary of State) Marshall for their policy of division and destruction."

Meanwhile, the week-old coal strike was cutting off the lifeblood of French industry. The fuel lost to the European Recovery Program passed the 1,000,000 ton mark, and a railway strike was slowly gaining ground.

Work halted at the important eastern stations of Colmar and Mulhousem. Trains for Eastern Europe had to be rerouted and in some cases halted altogether.

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—Grayson C. Thomas of Associated Transport, Burlington, N. C., will get a $50 check each of the next 12 months because he is a champion driver.

He won the National Trucking Association's truck and semitrailer driving championship last night. The monthly check and a trophy will be his rewards.

Scolds Attacks On Arbitrators

Mediation Official Says Practice Weakens Peace System

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—A government mediation official today scolded the "chronic bellyachers and spoil-sports" in industry and labor who attack the integrity of arbitrators when an award goes against them.

Peter Seitz, general counsel of the federal mediation and conciliation service, told the American Truckers Association, Inc., this practice weakens the arbitration system—"one of the most effective instruments for promoting industrial peace."

In an address prepared for ATA's 15th anniversary convention, Seitz said he is "appalled" by the attitude of some persons after they have called upon the government to provide impartial private citizens for arbitration duty.

"They do not hesitate to attempt to ruin the well-established reputations of men who have made great contributions to industrial peace, and whose services will continue to be needed in a field in which the most highly qualified individuals are rare and hard to find," Seitz said.

"Labor relations isn't baseball, but if arbitration is to be an effective alternative to strikes and lockouts, the arbitrator's decision must be accepted as carrying the same finality and integrity as an umpire's in baseball.

Falls Dead While Leading Prayer

Gaffney, S. C., Oct. 11—(AP)—Robert Volney Mullinax, 62, fell dead last night while leading a congregation in the closing prayer.

Members of the McKown Mountain Baptist Church looked on in amazement as Mullinax slumped before them.

'Not Unwilling' To Accept Settlement Calling For Combined Lifting Of Blockade And Meeting Of Big Four Foreign Ministers

Paris, Oct. 11—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France said today they are "not unwilling" to accept a Berlin settlement calling for combined lifting of the blockade and meeting of the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council on the whole German question.

A British-American spokesman told reporters this was the sense of a note delivered by the Western powers to Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Atilio Bramuglia, who has been heading up a six-nation effort to mediate the East-West deadlock in the United Nations Security Council over Berlin.

The spokesman said the note primarily was a restatement of the basic principles the Western powers would like to see embodied in a Security Council settlement of the Berlin stalemate. This indicated strongly the Western powers are not prepared to enter any direct negotiations with Russia over Berlin, which is what the Kremlin wants.

There was, however, no immediate indication of Russia's attitude on this idea. This, it is assumed, is because Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky is waiting for instructions from the Kremlin. He transmitted to Moscow Friday a set of questions put to him by Bramuglia, informants said.

Bramuglia saw Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States, Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain, and Alexandre Parodi of France yesterday and asked them a number of similar questions.

Earlier, an American spokesman said the Western powers had informed the Security Council's "neutral six" that no mediation of the Berlin crisis could succeed unless the Russians lifted the blockade first.

The Western position was clarified yesterday during three interviews the Western representatives had with Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia, who presented the "neutrals" attempt at a compromise.

The U.S. spokesman said no formula which will result in lifting of the blockade is excluded, but the Western powers insist the council recognize that the blockade constitutes a "threat to peace."

The spokesman added, however, that no formal note to that effect had been submitted to the Security Council.

Britain urged the U.N. to blame the Soviet bloc for blocking agreement on disarmament.

A resolution presented to the U.N. Political Committee by Britain asserted armaments could be controlled and reduced only "in an atmosphere of international confidence and security."

The British move came as the U.N. waited the Kremlin's reply to proposals made by the six "neutrals" of the Security Council in an effort to mediate the East-West dispute over Berlin.

Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia, acting president of the Security Council, has been leading the mediation efforts.

Prison Camp Riot Ends When Law Men Arrive

Statesville, N. C., Oct. 11—(AP)—A riot of armed Negro prisoners was quelled in a prison camp near here last night by reinforcements of Highway petrolmen and deputies.

The Negroes held the superintendent for half an hour and a guard for an hour and a half before releasing them unharmed when reinforcements of State Highway Patmen and Sheriff's deputies arrived. Twelve of the ringleaders were taken to Central prison in Raleigh.

C. W. Knox, superintendent of the prison camp six miles north of here said it was not a premediated break, but started when a guard tried to take a knife from one of the prisoners who tried to attack another at the supper meal. Only Negroes are at the camp.

Knox gave this account:

Guard Hamp Ashley asked the Negro for the knife. He refused. Guard Everett Morrow grappled with the prisoner and got the knife.

The prisoners refused to return to their cells from the dining room. They darted into a lobby in front of the cell block.

Ashley and Morrow were unarmed. Knox and guard Watson came to their aid, but found that Ashley and Morrow had gotten away from the aroused prisoners.

The prisoners held Knox and Kerr hostages in the lobby. Knox talked to them and they released him after half an hour.

An alarm went out over the State highway Patrol radio station in Salisbury. Twenty reinforcements arrived, including highway patrolmen, and Sheriff Walter D. Morrison and his deputies.

Through a barred door they talked to the prisoners and convinced them they were outnumbered and out-armed, and resistance would be useless. The prisoners let Kerr go and gave up without a fight.

LETTER CARRIERS CONVENTION

Miami, Fla., Oct. 11—(AP)—More than 2,000 delegates were on hand today for the opening of the National Association of Letter Carriers' convention.

Hundreds of delegates representing 90,000 mailmen, arrived yesterday by train, plane and automobile, including a delegation from Honolulu.

Red Army Again Warns Air Corridor Practice

Berlin, Oct. 11—(AP)—The Russians warned again today of fighter flights and gunnery practice in the air corridors used by British and American planes supplying blockaded Berlin.

This is the second consecutive week of Soviet air maneuvers which some sources say are connected with extensive Red army war games.

Meanwhile Russian soldiers guarding a road blockade shot at a German truck and German passenger car attempting to pass through the blockade from Hamburg. The truck and its cargo were confiscated but the car and its occupants escaped.

The shooting came after the Russians tightened traffic controls on the outskirts of the blockaded city to close leaks. They claimed to have confiscated thousands of tons of food from western Berliners who had obtained the food by barter with Soviet zone farmers. The Soviets call this trade "smuggling."

The Russians admitted that important industries in their occupation zone have been hit by the western powers' counter-blockade.

A report on the third quarter of this year by the German economic commission of the Soviet zone yesterday conceded that production goals were not being met in several fields.

Lagging steel and metals production was blamed on lack of machinery which formerly came from western Germany.

Car Plunged Into Stream; 3 Dead

Hickory, N. C., Oct. 11—(AP)— An automobile containing three bodies was hoisted from Henry River two miles south of Hickory today.

The dead were identified as Miss Dily Abernathy of H[illegible] Mrs. Maggie Clark of She[illegible] Gene Tessner, the driver, [illegible] by.

Communism In Schools

Productive Field Of Communist Labors In U. S. Public Schools And Universities; Hitler Found Similar Tactics Fruitful; A Danger-Point To Be Watched

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The United States is beginning to wake up to the fact that one of Communism's productive fields of labor is the public school and university, where all too often the young crusading mind may be captivated by the specious Red promises of a Utopian world.

Further proof of this awakening is found in the action of the Baltimore school board in upholding its superintendent in dismissing Mrs. Regina Frankfeld as a teacher because she is a Communist. Mrs. Frankfeld, whose husband Philip is head of the Maryland-District of Columbia Communist party, told the board after the decision:

"I am a member of the Communist party. I admit it. I am proud of it. Nobody will question my loyalty."

Before the board voted on the question, President Rossel C. Thomsen said:

"No doubter Mr. Franklin is a skillful teacher. The more skillful she is, the better she can serve world communism. No one who supports communism can be a proper person to teach in our schools."

[illegible] dismiss Mrs. Frankfeld and consider in general terms the question of communism in our schools. How great is the threat?

There is an old saying that human nature can't be changed—a fine sounding axiom which is less than half a truth. Human nature can in major degree be changed and the way to do it is to catch your subjects young. Hitler demonstrated that to the N-th degree by the manner in which he took over the children and youth of Germany and changed them into willing slaves of his barbaric regime. He did that in the brief six years between the date he came to power in 1933 and the launching of the World War in '39.

I spent considerable time in Germany just before the war, and the youth movement was one of the most remarkable developments. The teen agers of both sexes were magnificent specimens physically, but the boys were imbued with the idea of ruthless aggression and the girls had been taught that it was their duty to have children, out of wedlock if necessary, to provide soldiers

Election And Economy

No Matter Who's Elected, Economists Expect Little Immediate Effect On Prices Or Business Activity; No Picnic Ahead For Next Administration

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Oct. 11 — (AP) — No matter what the candidates cry in the heat of the campaign, some government economists think the election returns will have little immediate effect on price trends or business activity.

They see little chance of a new inflationary spurt if New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey gets to the White House. Nor do they believe the economic gauges will dance wildly if President Truman is elected.

For strictly non-political reasons they think inflation will continue at least into the early months of 1949. Beyond that, they do not try to guess.

A government economist's reasoning on this subject may be sound even though he works under the Democratic administration and cannot be quoted by name. He maintains his professional reputation by thinking straight—not wishfully—about economics.

He cannot overlook the tradition that most businessmen favor Republican rule. He must judge, in that light, whether a Dewey triumph would bring new confidence—a psychological "lift"—to industry. And whether such a lift could mean another upward shove for prices.

Here's what one federal economist—a highly placed one—suggests:

If Dewey wins and business does get a booster shot, its effect probably will be minor and short-lived, for two reasons.

First, Dewey's election has been so frequently and so long predicted by poll takers that the outcome has been "discounted in advance."

In other words, it's unlikely that many people are waiting to read the election returns in the papers before investing money, expanding their businesses, or venturing into new fields of enterprise.

Those people probably made up their minds weeks ago. The novelty of a possible GOP return to power has worn off.

Second, business generally is aware that any administration, Democrat or Republican, is in for no picnic during the next four years.

There are still the twin problems of inflation and shortages at home.

The State Department of Agriculture gives Greenville second place in the sales of leaf tobacco for the month of September. Wilson was the only market that went ahead of Greenville in the number of pounds sold.

There is an opening in Greenville for a profitable business if some enterprising man will take hold of it. It is a collecting agency. We believe such an enterprise would not only prove profitable but would also be a convenience to business men who would like to get some responsible person to collect their accounts.

Mrs. S. P. Langley has returned home is doing nicely after an operation at Pitt General hospital.

Mrs. Thelma Roberson of Norfolk, Va., who had been visiting her mother, Mrs. Bertha Parker, 311 Summit street, returned to her home in the Virginia city yesterday. Mrs. Parker accompanied her and will spend a week there.

King's Daughters to Meet

The King's Daughters will meet Tuesday night, October 12, at 8 o'clock with Mrs. H. W. Winstead at her home 315 West Third Street.

Alumni Entertained Faculty Members

The Greenville Chapter of the East Carolina Teachers College Alumni Association entertained informally in honor of new faculty members at the college on last Friday evening in the Alumni office on the campus.

Mrs. Ruth Garner, association secretary, introduced guests to members. Year books outlining the 1948-1949 program of the chapter were distributed to members, and a business meeting was held.

The Alumni office was attractively decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and sprays of berries. Mrs. John D. Messick served punch during the social hour.

Hostesses for the evening included Mrs. Ruel Tyson, president of the chapter, Mrs. Graham Olive, Mrs. George Clapp, Miss Grace Smith, Mrs. R. C. Pearce, Mrs. Thurman Dail, and Mrs. A. L. Tucker.

End of Century Club Meets

Summer Haven on the placid Pamlico river proved a ideal spot on October 5 to open the club year especially so since on that day the southern wind played the trumpet to its purposes:

"And by his hollow whistling in the leaves
Foretells a tempest and a blustering day."

The hospitable Stokes Cottage with Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., and Mrs. J. L. Hassell as hostesses completed the fancy of members and guests on such a day. The flowers especially chosen for the occasion and the weather were those known to have an expression of countenance all their own, the golden rod, the brown leaves, the dazzling scarlet berries vying with the outdoor October extending a welcome and greeting.

When the last members had been greeted, the president, Mrs. J. T. Little, called the meeting to order and presided over the business session, heard reports from the various committees and turned the program over to the hostesses.

Mrs. R. C. Stokes gave a general review of each of the books for the year. The explicitness of her remarks enable the future readers to know that the books had been well chosen and that books which help most are those which make you think most. Mrs. Stokes said, "A good book that comes from a good thinker is a ship of thought, deep freighted with truth and with beauty." The speaker conveyed very forcibly to the members the ingenious and illuminative reading awaiting us.

At the close of the program the group was invited to the dining room where the hostesses served a delightful barbecue luncheon. In viewing the purple asters centering the table one realized the meaning of "all day the rain bathed the flowers in vain; the flood may pour from morn till night, nor wash the purple asters white."

Is it any wonder that the guest lingered until a late hour?

Christian Science Service

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, October 10.

Golden Text: Psalms 30: 2. "O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." (Romans 8:1,2). And from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Neither evil, disease, nor death can be spiritual, and the material belief in them disappears in the ratio of one's spiritual growth." (Page 368).

Contract Club Hostess

Grifton. — Mrs. Alton Chapman was hostess on Friday afternoon to members of her contract club and invited players for four tables of bridge, entertaining at the home of Mrs. H. P. Quinerly. Decorations and tallies were of the Hallowe'en motif. During the progressions Mrs. L. L. Mewborn and Mrs. Robert Mewborn compiled the highest scores among the club members and Mrs. Thomas Gower among the visitors. Mrs. Chapman, assisted by Miss Jessie Pugh Quinerly served a supper plate consisting of chicken salad, ham biscuits, deviled eggs, pickles, hot tea and cake.

Players for the afternoon included Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. Robert Mewborn, Mrs. Thomas Gower, Mrs. Eleanor Gower, Mrs. H. C. Oglesby, Mrs. H. P. Quinerly, Mrs. W. I. Entertains Bridge Club

Grifton.—Mrs. Elmo Smith entertained at bridge on Friday night at her home on Queen Street having as guests members of her bridge club. Lovely bowls of red dahlias were used as decorations throughout the rooms in which the guests were received. The high score was made by Mrs. Walter Patrick and the consolation went to Mrs. Clay Burney. They were remembered with attractive gifts. At the conclusion of the games a delectable fruit salad plate with sandwiches and Russian tea was served.

Guests were Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Burney, Mrs. Sam Nelson, Mrs. Norwood Lockhart, Mrs. Roy Jackson, Mrs. Nannie McClohon, Mrs. Roger Johnson, Mrs. Edward Hart, Mrs. Sam McLawhorn, Mrs. Glendel Tucker, Mrs. Carey Garris and Miss Hazel Jarrell.

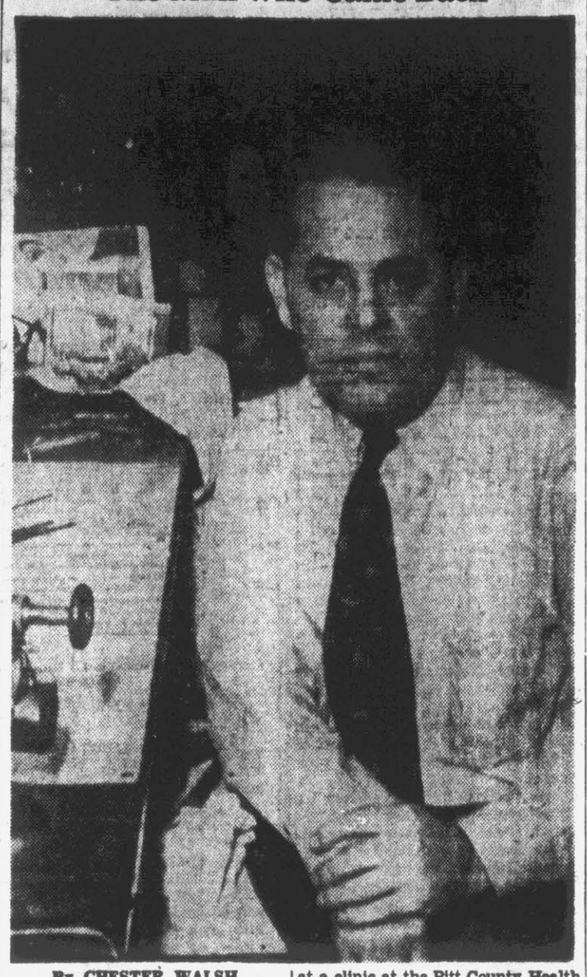
The Man Who Came Back



By CHESTER WALSH

To "take the count of 10" and be "counted out" in life's battle of earning a living is a discouraging experience for any man or woman, but Dewey D. Hobgood, 36, of Winterville went through this harrowing ordeal after he was permanently injured in an automobile accident near Kinston in 1937. He determined to "come back" and make good after he had been unable to work for four years.

He did make good, and he owes it to his own grit and courage and to the Employment Service Division of the Employment Security Commission, 225 East Fifth Street, in Greenville. He is now working at Stauffer's Jewelry Store in Greenville and making a good living.

Dr. Hugh Thompson, orthopedic specialist of Raleigh, told Hobgood at a clinic at the Pitt County Health Department that an operation would not be feasible because it would correct the injury to his hip so that he might walk easier, but it would incapacitate him for sitting. The specialist referred him to the N.C. Vocational Rehabilitation for vocational guidance.

The vocational counsellor made various aptitude tests and concluded that the watch-making trade would be the best occupation for him. Hobgood attended the Spencer School of Watchmaking, Spencer, N.C., graduated in 1942, and J. K. Stauffer employed him. He said Hobgood is an outstanding mechanic and is dependable and reliable.

Before his injury in the automobile wreck, Hobgood had operated an ice plant in Winterville, worked at a service station and for the State Highway Commission and the J. C. Penney Company as a salesman.

It was eight months after his accident that he could even walk on crutches. A surgeon in Kinston had told him he had no broken bones, but that his hips, ankles and wrists had suffered severe sprains, Hobgood said. The future seemed dark and gloomy until he became a watch repairman and jeweler under the auspices of the N.C. Vocational Rehabilitation for Vocational Guidance.

He is happily married to Miss Rachel Smith of Sampson County; has two children, one 12, the other 14, and the family lives in Winterville in a new home they built two years ago.

Mrs. Mary McCrary, counsellor for the Employment Service Division of the Employment Security Division in Greenville, told a reporter this interesting story of a "man who made good" under great handicaps. She said the department offers its services of vocational guidance and aptitude testing to other handicapped persons—veterans or civilians. If, after testing, a person is found to be handicapped in any way, he or she will be reffered to N. C. Vocational Rehabilitation Division in the City Hall in Greenville.

This is the first of a series of articles about the "Good Samaritan" deeds the department is doing.

Sweet Potatoes Being Harvested

Pitt county farmers have begun harvesting this year's sweet potato crop which was delayed in growth somewhat by the dry weeks during the summer.

County Agent Sam Winchester estimated that this year's crop of sweet potatoes in the county will range between 1,200 and 1,300 acres, several hundred acres under the 1947 crop. The general quality of the sweet potatoes is very good this year, Winchester said.

For the best results in curing the potatoes, bulletins from the County agent's office recommend that heat in the potato houses be started at 80 degrees the day the potatoes are dug and placed in the house. Winchester pointed out that if the heat is kept up for several days the scratched and broken places on the potatoes will heal. "The heat should be continued until the potatoes are completely cured" he said, "which can be determined by the swelling of the sprout scars."

It is recommended that heat in the potato houses be kept at 50 degrees during the winter months, because experiments have shown that potatoes will "cold-hurt" if allowed to remain in a temperature of 45 degrees or lower for several days.

Strength FOR THE DAY

DOORS

Stanley Jones, the great modern preacher and writer, often speaks about the necessity of turning our denials into doors. By this he means that every time a door is shut against us, or every time we shut a door against something in life we very much desire, another door is opened; and a door that will lead us into great satisfaction.

The young man or woman intent on leading a pure life shuts the door to uncleanness of all kinds. It takes courage to do that, but every young person who shuts that door should realize that another door of far greater and finer satisfactions will be opened. Every time we close the door on something low, God opens a door for us on something high. Every time we say No to our evil selves, God gives us strength to say Yes to our better selves.

How many people, disappointed and left in despair, have suddenly found that because of this circumstance God had placed their feet in highways which later led to great service and happiness! It was a personal disappointment in his home life which made Hosea the great prophet of love. It was the blasting of earthly happiness for Savonarola which turned his thoughts to God and made him one of the great religious leaders of all times. It was the thorn in his flesh which made Paul seek more avidly for God's sustaining grace.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

FIRST—The Democratic rally in the first congressional proved to be a first in more ways than numbering of the congressional district. Attendance at the meeting in the John Small school house at Washington was by far the largest of the seven rallies held to date, some 800 people crowding the auditorium and balcony to full capacity. There were perhaps not as many barbecue eaters as has shown up at Asheville and Rutherfordton, but a much larger proportion of the eaters sat through the speeches and reporting in the political part of the program.

PEPPY—It was also the peppiest of the seven rallies in several respects. The Washington high school band led a parade from downtown hotels to the school house, played throughout the meeting, and added zip to the occasion. Then Congressman Herbert Bonner "threw the book" at Republicans and recalcitrant Democrats with references to "Rain-in-the-Face" Hoover and "the Charlie Chaplin of New York." Pointing to large pictures of Roosevelt, Truman and Barkley which were displayed on the rostrum, he challenged his hearers not to forsake such high type leadership for unknown paths.

ARRANGEMENT — Another distinction was the county banners designating seating places for those attending from each of the fourteen counties in the district—and every space was filled. The auditorium had much more the appearance of a party convention than any of the previous rallies. It was also observed that in lining up the short speeches Chairman Capus Waynick spotted them adroitly to give the heavy artillery and light guns equal showing, and to pay tribute to the three members of the council of state and other state officials who hail from the first district. Recognized for this purpose were Secretary of State Thad Eure, Attorney General Harry McMullan, Commissioner of Insurance William P. Hodges, Conservation Director Bruce Etheridge as well as U.S. Marshal Ford Worthy, Judge Chester Morris and former Congressman Hallet S. Ward.

KEYNOTE—What might be termed the keynote of the meeting was struck by Elbert Peele, Martin County chairman, during his brief report on conditions in his county. "We are farmers," he said, "and the farmers have asked me to tell you that they prefer 35c cotton to a Republican governor; they like 11c peanuts better than John Wilkinson for the senate, and have no idea of swapping 50c tobacco for the little mustache from New York." Other speakers, particularly the congressman himself and Miss Ada Jones, YDC district president, were emphatic in tribute to Harry Truman as a big man and the "only Democratic candidate for president of the United States."

WILKINSON—Washington is the home town of John A. Wilkinson, Republican candidate for the U.S. senate, and he is very popular among his home folks. Local Democratic leaders had no hesitancy in predicting that Wilkinson will get five or six hundred votes in Beaufort County more than the rest of the Republican state ticket, as a personal tribute to him. The Washington Daily News on the day before the district rally had carried a full page advertisement signed by more than a hundred "Democrats for Wilkinson," and on the day of the Democratic meeting another full page advertisement challenging Democratic-nominee J. M. Broughton to answer questions about his stand on national issues. Although Broughton in his short speech referred to the local residence of his opponent, he ignored the challenge for a joint debate.

BAND—Washington high school band had a full day Friday It played nearly all day for the more than 4,000 farmers who attended the annual Beaufort County Farm Day program; then led the Democratic parade and stood by for intermittent music during the meeting, and finally went to the ball park to encourage the football squad in its fray with a Norfolk team. One of the big horn boys admitted he would be ready for bed that night.

New York.—(AP)—This is the city that is never through building.

Manhattan Island is like some nursery for baby giants, where the children are continuously rearing up strange new play houses—only to knock down the blocks and start all over again.

A man who spends his entire life in New York City never dies in the same city in which he was born. He has to search in his old age to find the remnants of the town of his boyhood.

It practically takes an act of Parliment—or the German air-Force—to change the face of London. But here the pattern of change is a way of life. By the time a building is put up it is already old-fashioned.

They're tearing down the old New York every day. This saddens many an oldtimer, but the same thing has been going on for more than three hundred years.

When the famous Flatiron building was erected on a triangular plot at 23rd and Broadway in 1902 to inaugurate the skyscrapers area, it quickly became a tourist Mecca. Visitors wondered uneasily if it was safe to go into a building 20-stories tall.

At that time its Madison Square site was the most fashionable in town. Gay blades hung out at the windy corner to ogle petticoats whipped into view by the breezes. Cops shooed them away, and there is a theory that this explains the phrase "twenty-three skiddoo," popular in grandpa's day.

Today the Flatiron building is passed by unnoticed. It isn't even on the list of the 40 tallest structures here. And the 60-story terra cotta Woolworth building, hailed as a cathedral of commerce in 1913, is topped by five other business towers.

Fifty years or more ago the glamor shopping lane stretched along Broadway from 14th to 23rd streets. Then it moved over to Fifth Avenue and began steadily marching up toward Central Park, crowding out the mansions of the wealthy.

Today the red stone palace in which Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt entertained international society is gone—torn down to make way for an office building. The only holdout along Fifth Ave is the old Jay Gould home, and it's been turned into an antique shop.

The wrecker's ball has also smashed apart Charlie Schwab's imported French Chateau on Riverside Drive, and a modern apartment building will take its place. About the only landmark left intace on the drive is Grant's tomb—and who goes there now?

No, little old New York just doesn't exist any more. And this year the city planning commission, created a decade ago to give some direction to the city's growth, has just proposed that the city spend $317,056,203 next year to modernize itself still more.

This is only one item in "little old New York's billion-dollar budget. In 1890 Benjamin Harrison spent only $318,041,000 to run the entire United States.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Back in 1931 a book containing the favorite recipes of the wives of members of Congress netted $25,000 and gave the solons' wives enough money to furnish swankly their own clubhouse here. The Congressional Club is the gathering place and center of social activity for the law-makers' ladies when Congress is in session. So successful was the club's first book that a second was published in 1947. This cleared $12,500.

Now a new Congressional Club Cook book is forthcoming. Already some 7,500 copies have been ordered. Mrs. Truman wrote the preface and contributed the first receipe. The wives of former presidents, including Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and wives of living former vice presidents, who are honorary members of the club, are also contributors. Included in the book are recipes from the wives of the governors of states.

Active members of the Congressional Club, who represented about 95 percent of the wives of members of the 80th Congress and wives of former members of Congress, have each been allowed to submit four recipes. This time the club doesn't expect to net any profit from the publication. It is costing $3.74 to have the book printed, and it will sell for $3.75.

Mrs. Lawrence Smith, wife of the Republican representative from Wisconsin and chairman of the cook book committee, wrote the history of the cook book. Mrs. William Whittington, wife of the Democratic representative from Mississippi, wrote the pages on protocol. Eight pages on vitamins, calories and nutrition were contributed by Mrs. Dean Taylor, wife of the Republican representative from New York. There are scores of unusual and exotic recipes for dishes from foreign countries gleaned from the embassies and legations in the capital.

A popular publication which the members put together during the war years, called "Congressional Club Recipes" and selling for $2, is still going like hot cakes, according to Mrs. Clifford Davis, wife of the Democratic Congressman from Tennessee, and the club's president. The recipes are all reprinted in the member's own handwriting and humorously illustrated.

Women from all over the world have written in for the Congressional Club Cook Book. Numerous requests have come from a community in South Africa. It seems a woman found a carefully-wrapped edition on the seashore near her home one day, apparently washed up on the sands from a wrecked ship.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER

It is expected that on "World Community Day," Friday, Nov. 5, more than 10,000,000 members of the United Council of Church Women, will gather at their radios to take part in a service of prayer for world peace. Broadcaster Ted Malone, of the ABC network, will devote his 11:30 a. m. (EST) program to the cause. With him will be Mrs. Harper Sibley, president of the UCCW, who will lead in reading a prayer which the millions of women gathered at their radios will read with her. "Ten million women working together can change the world," says Mrs. Ruth M. Worrell, secretary of the Council. Following the broadcast many of the local groups composing the Council will meet for discussions concerning peace, and to plan for relief to be sent overseas. The Council has 1,300 local branches in forty states.

Decrying the modern American tendency to have recreation away from the home and the family circles—"a Christmas observance comprising attendance at church, dinner in a restaurant, followed by a movie"—Monsignor Luigi G. Ligutti of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, recently urged upon the National Recreation Congress, in session in Omaha, Neb., the promotion of united family recreation as essential to the highest spiritual good. The Monsignor and other speakers suggested family and neighborhood picnics, family hobbies, family play spaces, and family centered games and musicales and dances in churches and in public buildings as means of countering commercial amusement and the mere watching others partake of sports. He suggested religious feast days and other holidays as appropriate times for family centered festivities, and added, "One of the worst indictments of American civilization is bringing a bar into the basement of a home as a setting for home recreation."

The World Council of Churches, meeting recently in Amsterdam, Holland, voted to name a commission to continue through the next five years a study of the place and work of women in the Christian church—including the question of the ordination of women to the ministry which most of the churches represented fail to do. "We urge," said a Council resolution, "that the experience of women should be further utilized for the central life of the church through their inclusion in church courts, committees and boards where policy and decisions affecting church life as a whole are made."

Big Day On Radio For Virgil S. Clark

Virgil S. Clark of Greenville, junior at East Carolina Teachers college, had a big day on the radio last Thursday, when he appeared on two programs originating from Station WGTC of the city and was featured as "Today's Leading Citizen" in an interview with Announcer Charles Whedbee.

Clark, a member of the Teachers Playhouse, college dramatic club and program chairman of "Once Upon a Time," story hour for children sponsored three times each week by the student organization, was narrator of the "Tinder Box" on the program broadcast in the afternoon.

As "Today's Leading Citizen," on the regularly scheduled program of that name, Clark was interviewed in the evening by Charles Whedbee of the local station. Clark told Announcer Whedbee some of his problems as an ex-service man who entered college after being discharged from the army. Clark was a student at East Carolina before World War II and, after a period of service, returned to the college to complete his education. Solution of Saturday's Puzzle

Busy Campaign Week For North Carolina Politicos

By the Associated Press

North Carolina Democrats and Republicans today opened a busy week of campaigning as they headed into the last three weeks before the general election.

On Friday U.S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) is scheduled to address Eastern North Carolina Republicans at Wilson.

The Democratic activity was scheduled to get under way with an Eighth Congressional District rally at Carthage this afternoon. From there Kerr Scott, nominee for governor, was going to Troy, and J. Melville Broughton, nominee for the U.S. Senate, to Laurinburg, for speeches tonight.

George M. Pritchard, Republican nominee for governor, speaks at Canton tonight in the first of six appearances during the week. Tomorrow he goes to Gastonia, Wednesday to Dobson, Thursday to Danbury, Friday to Mocksville and Saturday to North Wilkesboro.

Charles P. Howard of Des Moines, Iowa, Negro leader of the Progressive party, spoke at Raleigh and Durham yesterday in a swing through the state. He told a Raleigh audience that the party is "dedicated to the progress of the Negro and the common man" and that "there's absolutely no hope for the American Negro in the Democratic or Republican parties today."

The Carthage rally was one of four scheduled by the Democrats during the week. Tomorrow the Third District rally will be held at New Bern. Others will be held Wednesday at Tarboro for the Second District and Friday at Raleigh for the Fourth District.

A number of other appearances by Democratic leaders are scheduled. Tomorrow Senator Clyde R. Hoey will speak at Stokesdale and Broughton at Bayboro. Thursday, Scott will be at the Tabor City Yam Festival, Broughton at Lenoir and Secretary of State Thad Eure at Rocky Mount.

Prices Hold Up As Leaf Sales Enter New Week

Raleigh, N.C. Oct. 11—(AP)—Three flue-cured tobacco belts operated in North Carolina and Virginia entered a new week of sales today on a note of generally steady to higher prices.

Rounding out last week's sales, the middle belt reported strong demand but a slight easing off of prices. Continued good quality with an upward range in prices keynoted Eastern North Carolina belt auctions.

The report of the U.S. and North Carolina Department of Agriculture noted generally steady prices on the old belt, which has markets in this state and Virginia.

Final sales of the 1948 season were held Friday on the remaining Carolinas border belt markets—Fairmont, N.C., and Mullins, S.C.

Negro Girl Here Charges Rape, Then Retracts

By CHESTER WALSH

Della Mae James, 15-year-old Negro girl, who lives at 509 Boyd Avenue, reported to police last night that two Negro men attacked her back of the West End Tea Room, 1311 West Fifth Street, shortly after 9 o'clock, and that one of them had raped her.

Police quoted her as saying that Johnny Rogers, 19-year-old Negro of Farmville, grabbed her; that he put a handkerchief over her mouth, threw her to the ground and held her; that Henry Cofield, Jr., 19-year old Negro of near Falkland, threatened her with a knife and then raped her while Rogers held her, and that her two assailants then [illegible] a black automobile.

When police brought in the two men she had accused, the girl said they were not the men and laughed. Authorities said they give little credence to her story after they took her to a Negro physician for examination.

An extension telephone is an extra telephone instrument attached to your present line. It can be placed in your home or place of business. Since the telephone instruments are again available we are happy to announce that EXTENSION TELEPHONE SERVICE IS AVAILABLE AGAIN.

Main telephone service however is still on the "hard-to-get" list because production of the central office equipment and lead covered cable needed to extend our present facilities, is slow and delivery dates uncertain. Braves' Admirers Will Not Concede Cleveland Triumph

Point To 1925 Series When Pirates Came Back To Topple The High-Flying Senators After Early Drubbings

Boston, Oct. 11—(AP)—Now that the Boston Braves have started hitting, as even the great Bob Feller will attest, their admirers are not demanding the impossible when they ask them to refeat the Cleveland Indians thrice in a row and win the world series.

"It would take supermen to win but after trailing three games to one in a short series," the moderns point out.

"Not so," replies the oudtime fans. "Bill McKechnie's Pittsburgh Pirates did it against Bucky Harris' Washington Senators back in 1925".

The baseball Bibles reveal that Walter Johnson opened that seven-game limit series by besting the Pirates, 4-1, in Pittsburgh, next day, still in Pittsburgh, Vic Aldridge outpitched Washington's Stan Coveleski for a 3-2 win.

But the Senators won the next two in Washington to take a three games to one lead. Alex Ferguson topped the Pirates, 4-3, and Johnson came back to shut out those McKechniemen, 4-0.

But, as the Braves did yesterday, the Pirates won their second game, 6-3, again with Aldridge besting Covelski, before returning to Forbes Field.

At home, McKechnie called upon Ray Kremer to pull the Pirates into the World championship and, pitching twice in three days, he obliged by defeating previous winners Johnson, 3-2, and Ferguson, 9-7.

McKechnie, now a Cleveland coach, probably has called Manager Lou Boudreau's attention to that bit of baseball history, which can be confirmed by another of his aides, Muddy Ruel, who supervises the Indians' pitching staff. Twenty three years ago, Ruel won nationwide fame as the mighty Johnson's favorite catcher.

Back in 1903, Jimmy Collins' Boston Red Sox spotted three of their first four world series games to Fred Clarke's Pirates before rebounding, thanks to Cy Young and Bill Dinneen, into the world championship. But that was before the current world series rules were in effect, for it was conducted on a best-five-out-of-nine games basis.

50-Mile Bicyclist

Chicago, Oct. 11— (AP) —Steve Hromjak, 18, of the Cleveland, O., Cycle club, outrode 78 rivals from seven states to win the 50-mile, Elgin-to-Chicago bicycle race yesterday. Hromjak's time was one hour 56:10 seconds.

Boston Showers

Boston, Oct. 11—(AP)—Scattered showers were predicted for today—but not heavy enough to interfere with the sixth World Series game.

Overcast skies and 61 degree temperature greeted the Braves and Indians as they arrived in Boston this morning.

The district forecaster said a rainstorm could be expected at nightfall but this would clear up before gametime tomorrow—if a seventh game is necessary.

Stengel Talked Yankees' Pilot

Oakland, Calif., Oct. 11—(AP)—Casey Stengel's feat of piloting "nine old men" to the Pacific Coast League championship and sweeping the major prize money in the governor's cup playoff revived talk today that he's headed back to the majors as manager of the New York Yankees.

Stengel's old timers put the finishing touches on the long 1948 PCL season by winning both games of Sunday's doubleheader from Seattle, 11-1 and 4-1. The twin killing gave Oakland the Governor's Cup and $15,000 to add to the 15 grand they got for winning the flag—their first pennant in 21 years.

They took the series 4 games to 1.

Ever since Manager Bucky Harris' release by the Yanks, Stengel has been prominently mentioned as a likely successor. Dan Topping, president of the Yanks, was quoted in Cleveland as saying a new manager had been picked and was one of five men mentioned as possibilities—Jimmy Dykes, Al Simmons, Casey Stengel, Johnny Neun and Bill Skiff. Topping indicated the Yanks' choice would be announced in a couple of weeks.

One-Lap Lead In Six-Day Event

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 11 —(AP)—Two duos held a one-lap lead today in the final day's competition in Buffalo's 12th International six-day bike race.

Walt Diggelman of Switzerland and Henri Surbatis of Greece deadlocked with Rene Cyr of Canada and Cesare Moretti of Italy as the racers were in their 1,873rd mile. The 147-hour grind ends tonight. Only seven of the original 15 teams remain in the whirl.

Only two laps separated the leaders and the last place teams.

Late Friday scores in the Northeastern Conference:

Edenton 12, New Bern 7

Saturday nights' scores in the North State conference:

High Point 47, Atlantic Christion 7

Edenton High, led by Halfback Russel Wheeler, upset the New Bern Bears Friday night, the first upset in the league, also the first for me. The Bears' passing attack wasn't up to par as they completed only 11 of 34 attempts; two being intercepted. Wheeler did all the scoring for Edenton as he galloped 38 yards in the first quarter for glory, and in the first few minutes of the third quarter he ran 44 yards for the final tally.

Plan now to attend the ECTC and WCTC football game to be played Friday night at Guy Smith Stadium. You may purchase tickets from any member of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Ted Horn Killed In Race Accident

Du Quoin, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—Ted Horn won't roar that sleek Maserati, with No. 1 emblazoned on the hood, around the Indianapolis Speedway any more.

And he will never realize his burning ambition to win the 500-mile Memorial Day classic.

Horn, 38, three-time National Auto Racing champion who earned some $55,000 in nine Indianapolis races, was killed yesterday on the Du Quoin Fair ground track.

A wheel spindle broke on Horn's racer during the second lap of a 100-mile AAA race. He was pitched onto the track as he car swerved into another racer driven by Johnny Mantz.

Twenty minutes after they rushed Horn to a hospital he was dead. He had suffered a concussion, crushed chest and fractured left leg.

Mantz was injured slightly. He left the hospital after treatment. Johnny Parsons of Los Angeles won the race.

Horn, from Paterson, N. J., had won the American Automobile Association racing title in 1946, 1947 and already had clinched it this year.

He had tried 10 times to win the big Indianapolis race. In his last nine attempts he never finished lower than fourth.

Hunters To Find Plenty Of Deer, Bear In Dare

Manteo, N.C., Oct. 11.—With the opening of the big game season on the Dare coast next Friday, October 15, big game hunters will find both deer and bear very plentiful, according to reports coming in from the vast forest land on the mainland of this seacoast county.

Four Major Grid Teams Unbeaten In Three Seasons

New York, Oct. 11—(AP)—Although dump-the-favorite continues to be a popular Saturday pastime, four major elevens—Notre Dame, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Penn State—are riding unbeaten streaks that now bridge three seasons.

The fighting Irish haven't been licked since Great Lakes turned the trick in the last game of the 1945 season—a string of 20 victories marked only by a 1946 tie with Army.

Michigan has reeled off 17 in a row, counting the 49-0 walloping of Southern California in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Penn State, tied by Southern Methodist in the last Cotton Bowl game, has 11 regular season triumphs. So has its neighbor, Ivy League champion Pennsylvania.

This quartet survived last weekend's wave of upheavals that saw the defeat of the only other unbeaten Methodist—and a full dozen of the chosen.

S. M. U.'s Mustangs, despite the herculean work of all-America Doak Wilker, were tossed by surprising Missouri, 20-14.

Now it's a question which of the unblemished is next to get its spring snipped.

Michigan and Pennsylvania face troublous times this week.

The Wolverines, who smothered Purdue 40-0 Saturday in a magnificent show of power, engage Northwestern's unbeaten wildcats, who made Minnesota their third straight victim, 19-16. This is the top game of the week.

Penn runs up against a rebounding Columbia team that throttled Yale in a wild-scoring fray, 34-28. Penn's second victory of the year was racked up at the expense of Princeton, 29-7.

Meanwhile, there appears no stopping the Irish. Michigan State stood up to Notre Dame for a while Saturday but bowed to Superior guns, 26-7. Nebraska is next for the South Benders.

Penn State, winners over Syracuse Friday night, tackles West Virginia and should stretch its string to an even dozen.

Army continued to look like the standout of the east by thumping Illinois Saturday 26-21.

In Dixie, North Carolina continued its relentless roll by overpowering Wake Forest, a Southern conference rival, 28-6. Georgia Tech, the Southeastern Biggie, whipped Washington and Lee, 27-0.

In the upset Category was Clemson's 21-7 victory over Mississippi State.

Anglers Caught Two Fish With Single Casts

Nags Head, N.C., Oct. 11.—Paul Kreh of Washington, D.C. who was here at The Carolinian spending his autumn vacation last week decided to go fishing and he made a sort of record. While bottom fishing in the salt water of Oregon Inlet he made a single cast, and got a peculiar strike. He started reeling in and a moment later landed two good size flounders. He had caught them both on the same hook at a single cast. It was the first time any of the guides hereabouts had ever heard of such a feat.

On the previous day, however, using a jitterbug lure (which has several hooks) State Representative Julian Rutherford of Roanoke, Va., made a single cast in a nearby fresh pond and saw two large mouth bass strike instantaneously. He started reeling in and boated both fish. They weighed one and one-half pounds each.

Blacktail deer are excellent swimmers and will take to the water for five or six miles at a stretch to escape pursuit.

Schroeder Whips Gonzales By 3-1

San Francisco, Oct 11—(AP)— Ted Schroeder's hex on Dick Gonzales of Los Angeles prevailed and today the Glendale, Calif., Davis cup star holds the first annual National hardcourt tennis championship.

Gonzales, first seeded and shooting for his third major net title this year, found he didn't have the shots to beat second seeded Schroeder who had defeated him five times before.

The final score was 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. That left Gonzales to content himself with the National clay court and National lawn titles he won earlier this year.

Neither Schroeder nor Gonzales sparkled in the first set but the second produced better tennis as each player held service until the 10th game when Gonzales broke Schrieder to run out the scvore to 6-4.

Schroeder took command in the third set and Gonzales' last threat was in the first game of the fourth set with Schroeder serving. The Los Angeles star carried the Davis cupper to a 20 point game before the latter held his serve.

In an uphill fight, Schroeder and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia won the men's doubles title over the Czech team of Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik, 4-6, 6-8, 6-4, 6-2, 6-0.

Frustration

Milford, Conn., Oct. 11—(AP)—You can't blame Arnold College's football scouts today if they feel a bit frustrated.

They had to travel only a few miles Saturday to see four of Arnold's future opponents. It looked like a scout's dream, but when it came to getting dope on scoring plays it turned out to be a scout's nightmare.

In New Haven, Adelphia and the New Haven State Teachers college played a scoreless tie. And the scoreboard in New Britain showed just as many goose eggs after Montclair and the New Britain State Teachers got through shoving each other around.

Justice Remains Top Conference Football Scorer

Richmond, Va., Oct. 11—(AP)—Choo-Choo Charlie Justice remained out in front on the football scoring track in the Southern Conference today although he scored only once last Saturday.

The flyer from Asheville, N.C., who does his footballing for North Carolina's Tar Heels, had a season's total of 36 points, twice as many as any other player in the 16-team circuit.

Behind Justice were Buddy Cheek, Davidson end, and Bill Gregus, Wake Forest halfback, tied for second with 18 points. In fourth was Bob Cox, North Carolina's place-kicking end, who had 17.

Five conference games are on the schedule this week. One of them, Duke vs Maryland at Washington, D.C., Saturday afternoon, brings together two elevens which haven't been beaten. Maryland's Terps, leading the conference with two victories, hadn't been scored upon after three tests.

Duke's Blue Devils played to two ties but, otherwise, had a spotless record after three outings. Clemson's Tigers and North Carolina also had clean slates for three contests, two of which in each case were with outside foes.

Although beaten in a non-loop clash, South Carolina's Gamecocks still hadn't tasted defeat in the league.

Conference games in addition to the Duke-Maryland tussle include North Carolina State's appearance at North Carolina, William and Mary's journey to Virginia Tech and Davidson's invasion of The Citadel in Saturday afternoon trials, and Virginia Military Institute's Saturday night game at the University of Richmond.

In last week's games, William and Mary rolled over VMI, 31-0; Maryland had little difficulty with Virginia Tech, winning, 8-0; George Washington upset Virginia, 20-12; Georgia Tech downed Washington and Lee, 27-0; Duke captured Navy, 28-7; North Carolina routed Wake Forest, 28-6; Clemson dropped Mississippi State, 21-7; Tulane beat South Carolina, 14-0; Richmond whitewashed Furman, 7-0; North Carolina State swamped Davidson, 40-0, and The Citadel won over Newberry, 14-0.

Chapter 17

Kevin waved to him madly from where she stood in front of the college's Moorish-type administration building. As she scrambled into the car, she asked, "Where we going?"

"South of the border," said Walter James.

"But why are we going to Mexico? And why me along, Walter?"

"You ask more questions than I do, redhead," he observed.

"I know. But why?"

"I have to see a man in Tijuana. You have to get me there."

"Turn right on El Cajon and go down to Jackson Grammar School. Turn left there to National City. From there on we can't miss. Now why am I really along?"

"Maybe I just wanted to have you here." She tucked her feet under her and pushed across the seat until she was close enough to put her arms around his elbow. With one ear on his shoulder pad, Kevin exhaled a long and artificial sigh. "And then again, maybe I need you to drive back."

The girl looked up at him. "Are you going to stay down there?"

"I don't intend to settle. But talking to your guardian angel last night, he told me about this big operator in Tijuana—a guy that knows pretty much about everything that goes on in both towns. I thought I'd drop in and see what he has to say." He paused a moment. "He may not care for me."

"Ooh!" she murmured and wiggled excitedly.

"What?"

"This is my first adventure."

It was high noon when he rolled the car over the ramshackle bridge that led into the sweltering border town.

"It looks like Tuesday isn't the big day here," said Walter James. "Know where the Devil's Bar is?"

"I think I've been there. Turn at the Foreign Club. It's down that street, to the right. Oh, I hope you find out something, Walter!"

"It's about time," he said flatly. "Hal will start thinking I'm a washout as a partner."

Kevin patted his wrist. "I keep forgetting that your two best friends have been killed," she said softly. "I've never told you how sorry I am. I really am."

The slight detective pressed his lips together. "Ethel may not be completely lost—there are other answers. Amnesia. They may be holding her. She may be running away from them and not able to get in touch with me. She may have learned whatever Hal knew and is afraid to come out of hiding. She doesn't have to be dead."

"There it is!" she pointed. "That blue and red sign!"

He unstrapped his shoulder holster, locking it and the .32 in the glove compartment.

"Mightn't there be trouble?" asked Kevin innocently. "Please don't let anything happen to you."

He smiled. "I think this is a spot where I'll be welcomed without it." He pushed a kiss against the end of her nose. "Kevin, tell me something. I'm going to mention Shasta Lynn in my interview here—just on the last mad chance she's got a finger in this. I'll need to know which nights your father was away from home. Then at least I'll know which nights she was clear."

Kevin clamped her teeth on her lower lip.

"There's nothing to worry about," he added as he saw her jumbled expression. "Your father's absolutely safe. It's just that I have to know everything. Trust me."

"I trust you, darling. It was Tuesday night last week. Wednesday night the week before that—and—and Friday before that. That's all the farther back I go."

"Thanks, redhead. That'll be enough. I probably won't get a chance to even use it."

They crawled out of the car and walked arm in arm to the Devil's Bar. The cycloramic walls of the room were raw adobe muraled with an American artist's idea of a Mexican Hades. Virile devils roasted half-stripped senoritas over strangely frozen flames. Other, more functional, devils wrestled with other, more fortunate, senoritas.

He was about to comment to Kevin when one swarthy bartender stirred and glided toward them.

"Two tequila stingers," he said instead.

"Are the pictures supposed to increase the body temperature so we'll buy more drinks?" Kevin whispered wickedly.

"Maybe the owner doesn't realize it, but he has the makings of a fine Chamber of Commerce here," he answered. The waiter was back already. "They must have this stuff ready-mixed."

Walter James laid the money on the counter and flattened his hand over it. "My name is Walter James. I want to see Steve," he said.

The bartender regarded him steadily. "Big or Little?"

"Big."

The swarthy man turned to his lounging partner. "Walter James. Senor Lux." The other bartender disappeared to the rear.

Walter James muttered in her ear, "In the car—twenty minutes," then the swarthy man said, "Come with me." He slid obediently off his stool and followed the man to a velour curtain at the rear. In the small corridor behind it, the bartender ran light fingers up and down his sides.

"Never use them," Walter James said. The bartender grunted and motioned him toward a door. He walked through it unattended.

Win Damages In First Suit Over Winecoff Tragedy

Atlanta, Oct. 9—(AP)—The first of 146 damage suits arising from the Winecoff Hotel fire resulted in a verdict of $10,000, two-thirds of the amount asked. The 146 suits total approximately $5,000,000.

O. B. Torbet of Thomaston, Ga., won the verdict last night in a Fulton County Superior Court jury trial that lasted two weeks. The award was for the death of his 16-year-old daughter, Sarah Virginia, one of the 119 persons who died in the holocaust on December 7, 1946.

The jury sustained a charge of negligence against the hotel operators, A. F. Geele, A. F. Geele, Jr., and R. E. O'Connell. It ordered a receivership of their assets to meet claims.

Throat specialists report on CAMEL MILDNESS
30-Day Test of hundreds of Camel Smokers revealed
NO THROAT IRRITATION DUE TO SMOKING CAMELS

In a recent test, hundreds of men and women all across the country smoked Camels—and only Camels—an average of one to two packages a day—for 30 consecutive days. Each week their throats were examined by noted throat specialists—a total of 2470 examinations—and these doctors found not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels.

Repudiate Claim South Ignored By Party Heads

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, Oct. —To offset claims of dissatisfied Democrats that the has ignored the South, Capus M. Waynick, chairman of the state executive committee, has been calling the roll of Tar Heels holding high place in the governmental set-up. At the congressional district rallies the chairman has noted that comptroller general who has control over government spending is Lindsay Warren of North Carolina. Irector of the federal budget is James Webb. Civilian head of the army is Kenneth Royall. The most ardent apostle of soil conservation and the man largely responsible for initiation and continuation of the soil conservation program is Hugh Bennett. All are North Carolinians.

Besides these men who fill the only posts of their kind, there are several line men of almost as great prestige. Among these are Gordon Grey, assisstant secretary of the army, and Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney general.

In the party organization itself, the treasurer of the national committee is Joe Blythe of North Carolina, and first assistant to Chairman McGrath is William Frimm of Alabama, whose wife is a North Carolinian. The candidate for vice president is a Kentuckian whose grandfather migrated from North Carolina, while the candidate for president is the son of a Confederate soldier.

The man who has charge of the foreign policy and international affairs, George C. Marshall, secretary of state, although born in Pennsylvania was educated in Virginia.

The state chairman insists that this record does not indicate that the South has been ignored or bypassed either by the party organization or by the national administration.

63 Shopping Days And Then Christmas

Sixty-three more shopping days until Christmas, and the Greenville Merchants Association has already arranged for decorating and alluminating the streets in the business section for the holidays.

Sunday, October 31 is Hallowe'en, a religious feast, and a time when young people celebrate in festive manner.

The Thanksgiving, November 25, is Thanksgiving Day.

Tuesday, December 21, is the day when the sun enters the winter solstice and winter begins.

Christmas comes on a Saturday this year.

And Now We Have "Miss Good Egg"

Along with many beaty queens of various sorts, we now have "Miss Good Egg of the South." She is Miss Mary Stringfield of Mars Hill, N. C. She was queen of the Carolinas Poultry Industries Exposition in Asheville, N. C., and was chosen "Miss Good Egg" at the Poultry and Egg National Board's breakfast during the exposition. (AP Photo).

Sunday Was Typical Indian Summer Day In Greenville Area

The highest temperature recorded yesterday was 78 degrees and the day was one of clear skies and sunshine—a typical autumn day. Rainfall for this month totals 3 inches, Mrs. C. E. Maiden, observer here for the U. S. Department of Commerce reported.

Tar River is slightly above normal level.

Incidentally, in contrast to last October, when there was a frost on the second day of the month and some very cold weather, this October's weather so far has been mild, with much drizling rain and some cool days and nights.

Following the frost of October 2 last year and a short period of cold weather, warm weather followed and the thermometer hovered in the upper 80s for several days.

New Sub Slated For Picket Duty

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—A new unit in the nation's defenses will start operating next month—a submarine with radar "eyes" to detect any hostile planes attempting a sneak approach across such remote places as the Polar Seas.

The Navy announced today that the submarine Tigrone, taken from the reserve fleet and converted into the first radar picket submarine, will be commissioned November 1. The Tigrone had varied service during World War II, including the rescue of 52 downed aviators from enemy waters and the bombardment of Japanese shore targets.

She is the first of two such pickets to be converted under the naval modernization program. The second submarine has not been designated. The two presumably will be prototypes for others which will make up a whole chain of pickets for areas that may need watching.

The idea is that submarine pickets can cruise into the far north through water impossible for surface craft and take station on a radar watch for strange aircraft. At the first "sight" of approaching planes, the sub would radio its report and then submerge. It would resurface when the danger of being spotted had passed.

During the last war ordinary picket ships—destroyers and other small, high speed surface craft—suffered heavily from enemy attacks, both air and underwater.

National Guard Does Good Work In Greenville

By CHESTER WALSH

Battery C, 690th Field Artillery Battalion, North Carolina National Guard, stationed in Greenville, will hold its weekly drill tomorrow night at 7:30. Capt. J. B. Tyndall, commander, will be in charge. The battery, organized here about a year ago, made a good record at the summer encampment at Fort Bragg last summer. It drills each Tuesday night. The men receive the same pay for that two-hour drill that regular army men receive for a full day's work, said Sherman Parks, who helped to organize the battery and who was its first sergeant until recently, when he resigned for business reasons.

Robert (Bob) Carson, a city mail carrier, and an experienced soldier, has been appointed first sergeant, Staff Sgt. Walter Beddard, in charge of the armory and military equipment, said today.

A featuré of being a member of the National Guard is that when a man has served three years he automatically receives a five-percent increase in pay. There are several vacancies in the ranks at this time.

Sgt. Beddard is at the armory daily, except Saturday. He will be glad to give information to young men who are interested in joining the battery. Beddard was in the First Coast Artillery during World War II for 43 months and was stationed in Central America.

The National Guard unit is a valuable institution for any city, a veteran officer said today. It is equipped and always ready to respond to a call for service in case of a riot or other disturbance or during a community calamity. The battery can get under way to answer a call in a very short time, it is understood.

Communism . . .

for the Reich.

How did Hitler do it? By compelling the teaching of Nazism in the schools and by organizing youth movements in which all young folk had to participate. Clergymen and others who tried to combat were sent to concentration camps.

Somebody has said that youth always is in a state of rebellion against established things—always is ready for adventure with new ideas. Hitler took advantage of that. He staged a great show, with marching troops and flying banners. He held out promises of a wonderful new world. And German youth fell for it—many of the older people, for that matter.

Broadly speaking those are the tactics being employed by communism. As a matter of fact, it seems highly probable that Hitler got his ideas about training youth from the Red ism. One of the major points in both systems was to destroy belief in religion, so as to make way for evil beliefs.

The under-cover spreading of Communist doctrines in American schools is much more widespread than the average person realizes. It is being done so subtly that in most cases school authorities don't realize its presence. The schools are a danger-point to watch.

Election And . . .

There is the threat that a recession, or even a depression might set in before the term ends.

There is even a group of Republican lawmakers who think that some strong "standby" controls should be voted quickly to cope with emergencies which may lie ahead.

And there is the critical foreign situation.

National defense demands are causing an increasingly heavy drain on supplies of steel and other materials. Greater military outlays may be voted if Soviet-American relations worsen. It wouldn't take much more defense spending to throw the federal budget decisively into the red ink.

Newly entering the picture is another proposal—to re-arm western Europe for resistance against any possible aggressive move by Russia. This is still in the talk stage but if lend-lease on such a pattern is voted, it will mean a still greater strain on the vital steel-using sections of the economy and more federal dollars poured into the public's pockets.

To pile these new billions on top of the European Recovery Program obviously would be inflationary, the economists say. Nobody presumes to guess now whether this might mean restoring the federal controls which were laid aside after the war.
