Dewey Opens Fire At Administration

Unleashes Criticism Of President's Handling Of Foreign Affairs; Charges Bipartisan Foreign Policy Operated Only When Truman 'Permitted It'

En Route with Dewey to Louisville, Ky., Oct. 12—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Charged today that the bipartisan foreign policy has operated only when the Truman administration "has permitted it."

In his frankest public criticism of the President's handling of foreign affairs, the Republican presidential nominee said that if he is elected in November he will carry out a "vigorous, competent and effective" drive for "a bi-partisan peace policy."

In an address prepared for delivery in Louisville, Ky., at 11:45 a. m. eastern standard time, Dewey assailed what he called the clumsiness, the weakness and the wobbling of the present administration" in handling foreign affairs.

The New York governor dispelled any doubt that may have existed that he personally condemns—although he declined to say so publicly—President Truman's abandoned plan to send Chief Justic Fred M. Vinson to Moscow to negotiate with Premier Stalin.

He said the administration's lack of success in winning the peace, in part, had been due to its "failure to consult the Republicans before making sudden and vital policy commitments."

These have almost invariably got the country deeper into trouble," he added.

Although he conceded that "many of the obstacles we have run into were beyond the control of any American," Dewey said that since the United Nations conference in San Francisco two-party cooperation "has operated whenever the administration has permitted it."

From Dewey for the first time came such words as "miserable," "helpless," "unwitting," confused," "mis-named Democrats," "vacillating" and "pusillanimous" in describing the President's conduct of affairs at home and abroad.

There was little doubt on this campaign train that the GOP presidential nominee was making up in this way for his decision not to castigate the Vinson incident as the desperate blunder that most Republicans [illegible]m to think it was.

The [illegible]ewey camp was elated by the statement of Secretary of State Marshal that the President's plan had proved a "harmful influence" to United Nations efforts to solve the Berlin blockade problem.

To a whistling, howling crowd that overflowed the 11,000-seat Hunt armory at Pittsburgh, last night, his most enthusiastic audience of this second campaign trip, Dewey defended the Taft-Hartley act.

Crossing Kentucky today on his way to Louisville, and a major speech there shortly after noon, the GOP nominee bore down on his support of the candidacy of Senator John Cooper, Republican, who is seeking renomination.

The helping hand he can give GOP senatorial candidates was considered by many to be the principal business of Dewey on his present nine-state tour of the midwest and southwest.

Burley Sales To Start Nov. 22

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 12—(AP)—The burley sales committee in a five-to-four vote today set Nov. 22 as the opening date for burley tobacco sales throughout the eight-state marketing belt.

The date is two weeks earlier than last season's opening, but a Thanksgiving recess was set to run from Nov. 24 to Nov. 29.

The committee did not set marketing hours.

Russians Assert Blockade Due To Currency Fight

Will Not Lift Traffic Restrictions Until Western Money Is Withdrawn

Berlin, Oct. 12—(AP)—The Russians declared through their official newspaper today that the blockade of Berlin will remain until the western powers withdraw their currency from circulation in the city.

The Soviet military administration's newspaper, Taeglische Rundschau, said this was a "prerequisite for the lifting of traffic restrictions." Apparently this reflected the official Soviet attitude on mediation efforts in Paris by the six Security Council Nations who are trying to end the east-west deadlock over Berlin.

"Actually there is no blockade of Berlin. However, lifting of the traffic restrictions could easily take place if at the same time the illegally introduced B-mark were withdrawn from circulation," the paper said.

The Russians announced once again that gunnery drills and parachute jumping will be held in the airlift corridors and there will be Soviet flying drills over Berlin. The western powers have protested that these drills, being announced daily now by the Russians, violated four-power safety agreements.

The British military government protested yesterday that one Russian Yak fighter stunted dangerously close to a British airlift transport about 75 miles northwest of Berlin near Perleberg.

German press reports said the Russians were extending their air strength and airfield facilities considerately in eastern Germany.

In the west, efforts were stepped up to ease somewhat the burden of supplying Berlin by evacuating German children to the British zone of occupation.

Since September, 1,200 children have been evacuated, the city government's social welfare department said.

Berlin's anti-Communist city government said last night it is broke. Dr. Friedrich Haas, the budget officer said the city's cash balance is wiped out and each department must operate on an emergency 10-day budget until some special measures are taken to get funds.

W. T. Babcock, Deputy U. S. military governor for Berlin, said he knew the city government was living "from hand to mouth" but said he had not been informed the situation was as bad as Haas described it. The western allies have advanced funds from time to time.

Teachers Tested In Examinations By Commission

Greensboro, N. C. Oct. 12—(AP)—The tables were turned in Guilford county schools today.

Instead of pupils being subjected to searching examinations by their teachers, it was the teachers who were undergoing tests.

A force of 30 workers began an exhaustive study to determine how a teacher's personality, her training, her homelife and other characteristics affect her students.

It's part of the North Carolina Educational Commission's study of the State's schools. Eighty teachers in Greensboro, High Point and rural Guilford county schools volunteered to undergo the tests to further knowledge of their profession.

Eisenhower Says Only Unity Can Defeat Statism

Warns Challenge To Freedom Is Such That "None Of Us Dares Stand Alone"

New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared today that "today's challenge to freedom and to every free institution is such that none of us dares stand alone."

"For human freedom is today threatened by regimental statism," he said in a prepared speech at his installation as president of Columbia University. "The threat is infinitely more than that involved in opposing ideologies.

"Men of widely divergent views in our country live in peace together because they share certain common aspirations which are more important to them than their differences.

"But democracy and the police state have no common purposes. In today's struggle, no free man, no free institution can be neutral.

"All must be joined in a common profession—that of democratic citizenship; every institution within our national structure must contribute to the advancement of this profession."

The wartime supreme commander told his audience, including many notables in the academic world from this country and abroad, that universities "must be first of all concerned with the preservation and further development of human freedom—despite any contrary philosophy, or force that may be pitted against it."

Eisenhower said that, in his administration as Columbia's 13th president, "there will be no administrative suppression or distortion of any subject that merits a place" in the curricula.

"The facts of Communism, for instance, shall be taught here—its ideological development, its political methods, its economic effects, its probable course in the future," he said.

"The truth about Communism is, today, an indispensable requirement if the true values of our democratic system are to be properly assessed.

"Ignorance of Communism, Fascism, or any other police-state philosophy is far more dangerous than ignorance of the most virulent disease."

Union Organizer To Be Deported; Appeal Possible

Washington, Oct. 12—(AP)—The immigration service announced today John Santo, international organizer for the CIO Transport Workers union, has been ordered deported.

Santo, a native of Romania, lost an appeal to the immigration commissioner. However, he now can appeal to Attorney General Tom Clark and, failing there, to the federal courts.

The immigration service said it had found that Santo violated the immigration laws in three respects:

1. Failed to maintain exempt alien status as a student.

2. Became a member of the Communist party after entering the United States.

3. Became affiliated with an organization, the Communist party, which preaches overthrow of the U. S. govenment.

Unload Ships As Pickets Ousted

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 12—(AP)—AFL longshoremen drove CIO longshoremen pickets from two docks today and resumed unloading of two ships.

The outnumbered Congress of Industrial Organizations pickets did not resist, and there was no violence.

The non-striking American Federation of Labor longshoremen control the Tacoma dock jobs. The striking CIO longshoremen rule in other West Coast ports. The AFL members voted yesterday to work the ships.

Stage Walkout Over Pay Slash

Maiden, N.C., Oct. 12—(AP)—Machines in the Maiden Spinning Mills were idle today following the walkout of first shift workers yesterday.

The workers said they left their jobs because of a 10 cent per hour pay cut. M. M. Ribisill, owner of the plant, said the mill would remain closed indefinitely.

The cotton yarn manufacturing plant employs approximately 300.

Rubisill said he told the workers Friday that he had two alternatives—to close down the plant or cut their pay.

Approves 'Nooks' In City Planning

New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—Secluded nooks for courting should figure in mapping parks and parkways, the American Society of Planning Officials was told yesterday.

Concerning himself with the practical aspects of courtship, Lewis Mumford, author and lecturer, asked the officials: "How many hiding place have you given for lovers in your planning?"

Truman Bids For Mid-West Votes

Seeks To Rally Midwestern Industrial Voters Behind 'New Deal'; Makes Rival Target Of Increasing Attacks

Aboard Truman campaign Train, Oct. 12— (AP) —President Truman sought today to rally midwestern industrial voters behind his full-scale championship of the "New Deal" which he said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey hopes to "destroy."

Shifting his campaign strategy, Mr. Truman made his Republican rival for the Presidency the personal target of an increasing number of attacks as he swung into Indiana and Illinois on a heavy speaking schedule.

At a stop in Richmond, Ind., Mr. Truman said Dewey had "put his stamp of approval" on the Republican-controlled 80th Congress which "did its best to weaken the position of the worker."

Mr. Truman also told a trainside crowd that Congress had endangered the prosperity of the farmer by failing to approve a permanent farm price support program. If the Republicans win in November, he said, the "same old mossbacks" will be in control.

Not once did he call Governor Dewey by name, but at Willard, O., yesterday, the President said "not a single, solitary man or woman in the United States" has been able to find out where "the Republican candidate stands" on the issues of the campaign.

And then, taking cognizance of opinion surveys reporting Gov Dewey as leading in the race, the President said of his opponent:

"I think he is going to get a shock on the second of November. He is going to get the results of one big poll that counts—that is the voice of the American people speaking at the ballot box."

Mr. Truman makes another major speech tonight at 10 o'clock (EST) on farm policy in the armory at Springfield, Ill., after placing a wreath on Loncoln's tomb and riding in a torchlight parade.

The President proposed an eight point program to build "a better way of life" on the foundation of the "New Deal." It embraced repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, including the minimum wage, extending Social Security to new groups with a 50 percent increase in benefits, action "at once" on high prices and other proposals rejected by Congress.

Cleveland Stages Big Celebration

Entire City Turns Out To Cheer Indians And Boudreau

Cleveland, Oct. 12—(AP)—Baseball happy Clevelanders staged the biggest and loudest demonstration in the city's history today as the world champion Indians were welcomed back from Boston.

The entire city let go with a bombardment of music, flowery cheers and applause as the Indians were driven up historic Euclid Avenue from the terminal in public square to University circle, a 10-mile route.

The Avenue was strewn with roses and confetti, early morning traffic was tied in a happy, howling knot of humanity.

Traffic commissioner John R. Sammon said it was the biggest celebration he could remember. He estimated the crowd that jammed into public square at 100,000 and said at least another 50,000 lined the street as the motorcade moved out the Avenue.

People literally hung out the windows of office buildings and thousands of balloons floated down from many of the taller structures.

One woman ran out and presented Mrs. Boudreau with a bouquet of a dozen American Beauty roses and other spectators showered packages of gifts on the Boudreaus and Veeck as they rode out the Avenue.

The crowd overflowed into the street and harrassed policemen were able to clear enough space for only one lane of traffic as the motorcade moved along, preceded by a band which blared "take me out to the ball game." Everybody joined in.

Ickes Now Behind Harry S. Truman

Old Curmudgeon Rejoins Democratic Party Ranks

Washington, Oct. 12—(AP)—Harold L. Ickes is backing President Truman in next month's election.

The 74-year-old New Dealer who broke with Mr. Truman in February, 1946, after 13 years service as secretary of the interior, rejoined the Democratic ranks yesterday.

Although he said he "would welcome an opportunity to vote for someone else," Ickes gave conservation of the nation's natural resources as the deciding factor in his choice of Presidential candidates.

"As between Thomas Elusive Dewey, the candidate in sneakers," Ickes said in a statement, "I prefer to support Mr. Truman, who is straightforward and sincere, if at times more unpredictable than I would wish."

Ickes, once a leading member of the old Progressive party, said the new Progressive party candidate, Henry Wallace "in his Communist stew, is impossible."

As for supporting Norman Thomas, the Socialist standard bearer, Ickes said that "would be wasting a vote."

Prices Stronger On Eastern Belt

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 12—(AP)—Prices generally were stronger yesterday on the Eastern North Carolina flue-cured tobacco markets.

However, the old and middle belt markets registered losses for most grades, the U.S. and N.C. Agriculture Departments reported.

Most leaf grades gained over Friday's prices on the eastern belt, while there were slight changes or steady trends for other grades.

7,603 ENROLLED

Chapel Hill, N.C., Oct. 12—(AP)—Chancellor Robert B. House disclosed today that enrollment at the University of North Carolina had reached 7,603.

Electric Power In France Cut As Strike Continues

Paris, Oct. 12—(AP)—Electric power was cut throughout France today as a Communist-led coal strike sapped the nation's industrial life.

On the rail strike front, some improvements was noted. There were still scattered walkouts but work was resumed at the Strasbourg station.

This will be France's ninth consecutive winter of power cuts. A spokesman for the Nationalized French power network said the cuts were not planned for this year, but were necessitated by the coal strike, now in its ninth day. The strike has already cost the nation more than 1,000,000 tons of coal.

Ordinary consumers of power will be cut off two days a week, from dawn to dusk. Priority users, such as hospitals, newspapers and the United Nations now meeting in Paris, will not be affected.

The Communist-led dock workers were ordered out today for 24 hours.

A 48-hour work stoppage was ordered yesterday in the steel mills of the Metz area. Neighboring districts are already strike-bound.

French Interior Minister Jules Moch is reported to have charged the strike campaign was ordered by the Moscow-led Cominform for the purpose of wrecking the European recovery program.

Transport Minister Christian Pineau announced last night the government had refused Communist demands for wage increases in the Nationalized railroads and he threatened to fire any strikers who keep others off the job.

Pineau warned leaders of the general confederation of labor he would punish offenses by railwaymen against the "right to work."

The transport minister said he could not approve raises which would mean another 30 per cent increase in rail fares.

Fred Allen Draws Reply In War On 'Give Aways'

New York, Oct. 12—(AP)— The running battle between Radio Comedian Fred Allen and radio give-aways flared anew today.

The American Broadcasting Co. and the producer of its super-give-away, "Stop the Music," fired counter blasts to Fred Allen's statement that people who are called during give-away shows are notified in advance so they'll be sure to be by the telephone. They said it just isn't done on that program or the network's other prize shows.

Allen made his comment Sunday night in his second consecutive broadside against give-aways. Portland Hoffa remarked that every person who is called on a give-away program "is always at home sitting by the telephone—waiting."

"I know," commented Allen, "I read in some paper the other day that people on lots of those give-away shows are called an hour or so before the program goes on the air to make sure they'll be home. So if you're not called before the program starts, you can't be called during the program."

Most of Allen's fire has been directed at "Stop the Music" which is on ABC Sunday night while he is on NBC. Charles C. Barry, ABC vice president in charge of programs, declared Allen's statement on advance-notice calls was emphatically not true so far as "Stop the Music" was concerned—nor any of the network's [illegible] shows.

Up To States

Atlanta, Oct. 12—(AP)—Legislatures of Southern states will be asked next January to approve contracts for the operation of regional schools, Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida has announced.

The schools will be ready to open by September, 1949, he said. They would be operated through the cooperation of several states.

The Regional Council for Education held a closed meeting here yesterday. Caldwell, council chairman, reported results in a press conference.

Technical commissions will be named to explore the immediate demand and need for regional education services, develop specific proposals regarding facilities necessary to meet the needs, and propose methods for inaugurating a regional educational service program.

Miners Prepare Contract Terms

Less Work, Higher Pay Will Be Included In 1949 Demands

Cincinnati, Oct. 12—(AP)—John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers' scale committee will propose a shorter work week at higher pay as part of the Union's 1949 contract demands.

The 3,000 delegates, on the way home after a 10-day convention, adopted a series of resolutions aimed at protecting union members against the unemployment of the 1920's.

Resolutions from local unions covered every possible bargaining point for next year's contract. The major issues were the reduced work week and higher welfare royalty.

The miners now work 40 hours. The union collects 20 cents a ton as a royalty for the health and welfare fund, first established in 1946.

Delegates yesterday voted to boost the miners' dues from an average of $2 a month to a flat $4. They also boosted the fee for joining the union from $10 to $50.

The dues increase for the 400,000 soft coal miners and 80,000 Pennsylvania anthracite diggers would total approximately $1,000,000 a bonth.

The jumps in dues and initiation fees were voted so that the UMW's treasury might be lined with "additional funds for possible new strike troubles and fines.

Lewis warned the delegates they should prepare for the future by building a strong reserve.

Reveals Success New Treatment Sinus Sufferers

New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—A new treatment which relieved 12 severe sinus sufferers will be tried on seven times as many cases, its deviser said today.

Dr. Harry Neivert of Columbia University revealed the new treatment in a preliminary report yesterday to a convention at Memphis, Tenn., of the Southern Society of Orthodontists.

Dr. Neivert said he used vasodilator, a dilative drug, to open up the ends of blood vessels in swollen sinus tissue, which then could be reached by penicillin.

The doctor, who directed a pharyngology research laboratory for the university at the Presbyterian Medical Center, said the results were "very brilliant" but that he needed at least 88 more cases for a full report.

Former Official Of UAW Under Bond In Shooting

Detroit, Oct. 12—(AP)—Carl Bolton 39, former minor union official, was held under $75,000 bond today on a charge of trying to kill Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO-United Auto Workers.

Recorders Judge Christopher E. Stein entered a plea of innocent for Bolton after the defendant stood mute on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Judge Stein set Bolton's examination for Oct. 19 after defense counsel asked for as early a hearing as possible.

Conviction carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Reuther was shot in his home April 20. No motive for the crime ever was established.

Refutes Charge Of Teacher Levy

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12—(AP)—Governor Cherry today ridiculed Republican charges that North Carolina school teachers are forced to contribute to the Democratic party in order to hold their jobs.

The Governor was asked at his news conference to comment on the charges made by Buford T. Henderson, Republican nominee for State superintendent of Public Instruction.

"I'm quite sure that no such condition exists," the Governor said.

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 12—(AP)—Only four cases of polio were reported to the State Board of Health today, bringing the state's total for the year to 2,297.

Attempt Speed Up Of Council Action

GOP Confident Keeping Control Of Lower House

Democrats Privately Predict Gains But Admit Setbacks In Some Areas

Washington, Oct. 12—(AP)—Republicans say both openly and privately they are as confident of keeping control of the house in the November election as they are of carrying the Presidency.

Democrats, speaking for the record, claim they can carry the House with a few breaks. But those close to the campaign, talking on the understanding they won't be named, confine themselves to a prediction that the Democrats will show a gain, without re-capturing control.

They say the administration's handling of the Palestine problem has hurt them in many Congressional districts, particularly in New York. Incidentally they say this is part of the reason for the registration drop in New York City's Democratic stronghold.

The Democrats start off over the nation with 49 House candidates free of opposition and another seven going before the voters with both major party nominations.

Partially offsetting this, five Republicans have no Democratic opposition [illegible]ther nine—all in Calif[illegible] major party nomi[illegible] filing syste[illegible]

In [illegible]ns regard many of the[illegible]tes in North and midwest just as good as elected even though they have Democratic rivals. They are running in districts which have gone Republican almost as regularly as Southern districts have gone Democratic.

The Republicans gained 54 House seats in the election two years ago. They now have 246 members (218 is a majority) the Democrats 187, and American Labor two. The Republican figure includes three vacancies, the Democrats two.

To win control of the House, the Democrats would have to show a net gain of 31 for a clear majority, or 30 to organize the House with a working plurality of one over the Republicans.

Gifts For Wife Empty Gesture

Los Angeles, Oct. 12—(AP)—Cruelty was the charge made by Mrs. Solomon W. Laykin and she got the divorce from her husband, wealthy Beverly Hills jeweler.

Laykin liked to impress friends by giving her expensive jewelry or an occasional $1,000 check at dinner parties, she testified yesterday.

"What's cruel about that?" asked the court.

"As soon as our guests were gone," replied Mrs. Laykin, "my husband would take the jewelry back and destroy the checks."

Would Abolish Race Gambling

Morehead City, N. C., Oct. 12—A campaign aimed at abolishing gamblings at Carteret County's Greyhound dog race track has been launched by the Coastal Ministerial Association.

Ministers of the Association, which represent all protestant church groups in the county began circulation Sunday of petitions asking State Representative H. S. Gibbs of Carteret county to sponsor legislation to repeal that part of the law which permits race gambling in the county.

Western Powers Despair Of Little Six Mediation, Drafting Resolution For Firm Action To Lift Berlin Blockade; Austin Cites Soviet Duplicity

Paris, Oct. 12—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France joined today in a move to speed up Security Council action on the Berlin crisis.

This coincided with Secretary of State Marshall's return by air from Washington talks with President Truman.

The three big western powers, despairing of mediation efforts by the so-called "little six" on the United Nations Security Council, are drafting a resolution for firm action to lift the Berlin blockade, Western sources said.

Marshall did not appear at the U.N. Assembly headquarters immediately on his arrival in Paris, but he took over again as behind-the-scenes director of American policy in the Berlin dispute.

U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin, meanwhile, told the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee that "wreck and destroy" has become a Soviet battle cry in the world today. He cited a number of quotations which he said indicated the Soviet Union is guilty of duplicity.

Western sources said the "little six" attempts to patch up the East-West differences over Berlin remained a mess after almost a week of go-between work.

There was still no reply from the Kremlin to questions put forward Saturday by Juan Atilio Bramuglia of Argentina, spokesman for the "little six" and president pro tempore of the council.

These informants said Britain, France and the United States would prefer that a resolution on the Berlin blockade come from the mediating powers. But if nothing turns up in the next 24 hours, they are ready to take the initiative themselves.

The Western powers, according to the informants, remain pretty certain that Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky will veto any positive Security Council resolution which suggests either that Russia is in the wrong or that a blockade in fact exists around Berlin.

A British spokesman told reporters today the Western powers feel certain the course they are following in the end will make Russia "reorientate her policies" in Germany.

He said the Western power offensive in the Security Council has "kept Vishinsky fairly subdued." Russia, he explained, has been put on the defensive.

Austin asserted it is "a misconception to suppose that differing systems cannot live side by side in national conduct prescribed by the peace under the basic rules of inter-charter of the United Nations.'

But, he said, the United Nations must teach the Russians "what is possible and what is impossible in the relationship between the Soviet Union and the world at large."

Austin repeatedly called on Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky to deny Communist declarations of Soviet and other Communist leaders that peace between the Soviet Union and the capitalist world is impossible.

He asked "Why has Mr. Vishinsky presented his proposal for disarmament to the U.N. General Assembly? Could it possibly be for propaganda effect?"

The voice of Austin, former Republican senator from Vermont, shook with anger at times during his speech. He said the Soviet delegate continually dwelt on the horrors of atomic warfare.

"Is it not strange that, except for a word here and a sentence there he has not placed the accent on war, just plain war?" he asked.

Sabotaging Recovery

French Premier Warns Communist-Led Strikes Assuming Character Of Rebellion; Obvious Goal, Disruption Of European Recovery Program; Military Aspects

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The Ulyssean Marshall plan no sooner gets free of one danger than it is beset by another, a fresh threat being the Communist-led French strike which Premier Henri Queuille warns are assuming the character of a regellion.

Those are grave words to come from the leader of a major government.

Acting under cover of the smokescreen provided by the Red blockade of western Berlin, the Bolshevists have organized and got under way this new offensive which is further disrupting the already Chaotic French economy. Minister of the Interior Jules Moch charges that the strikes are engineered by the Cominform.

The Cominform apparently began organizing the present upheaval last July, and French Fifth Columnists have laid the ground-work for the sabotage methodically.

French industry is being dealt a body blow by the coal strike. It already has cost the recovery program 1,000,000 tons of fuel which is worth its weight in pearls. A railway strike is beginning to get a grip on the throat of national transportation.

Thus two vital elements of the French life-stream—fuel and transportation—are endangered. Without them the country would be helpless.

Obviously this new assault is aimed at the European recovery program. However, that is far from being the whole story, for dependent on that program is the military defense of western Europe against further Communist agression.

France is the key continental nation in the new western European alliance comprising Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. With France hamstrung, the alliance would be weakened to the point of near impotence. If the powerful Communist party of Italy should at the same time make good its boast of being able to take over control of the strategic country, the Russians would be in a powerful position, both politically and militarily.

The French picture fits in perfectly with the battle of Berlin. The "neutral" countries in the United

Jazz Is Coming Back

Europeans Nearly 'Cornered Market,' But Peculiarly American Music Returning To These Shores; Collectors Items; Recordings; Reference Works; Growth

By JERRY KORN

Washington, Oct. 12 — (AP) — American jazz is returning to America.

For years, Europeans have been so much more interested than Americans in this peculiarly American music that there still are many jazz records which can be found only overseas.

Since the war, the number of jazz collectors in this country has increased by thousands. But there still are so few that unless you are a collector, or know one, you may not know what jazz—"hot" jazz—is.

Paul Whiteman, once known as "The King of Jazz," gets scarcely a tumble from the true jazz collector. Whiteman's large orchestra played arranged music. Jazz is not arranged.

Irving Berlin, often called a jazz composer, fares no better with the collector. Jazz isn't written. It's played.

What's more, it's played most often by small groups of musicians who pride themselves on their ability to play with restraint.

They use no written music. Instead, they memorize melodies—frequently popular melodies—then use them as a starting point for creations of their own. Until a few seconds before each note is played, no one, including the musician, knows what it's going to be.

A jazz band usually—not always—is made up of just seven or eight instruments: a trumpet (sometimes two), a trombone, clarinet, piano, guitar or banjo, bull fiddle or tuba, and drums. Sometimes a saxophone is added. Sometimes one of the others is omitted.

Hot jazz generally is played this way: The trumpet plays the melody through, just as it was written, while the others make up a suitable background. Then most of the instruments fade out and let a single member improvise a solo. Finally, all seven or eight improvise at once, the trumpet leading the way.

For years jazz was played by Negro musicians in New Orleans—and no place else. Then traveling jazz bands — Negro and white — began drifting into Chicago, where they first made records on a fairly large scale.

It was these records which caught

Wives of students attending East Carolina Teachers College have organized a club this fall and have begun a program of social and educational activities for the school year. The new group is sponsored by the Faculty Wives Club of the college, of which, Mrs. Paul Murray is president, and includes approximately twenty members.

Officers elected by the wives of students to head their organization are Mrs. Willard Pendleton of Bell Arthur, president; Mrs. Joseph Toth of Greenville, vice president and Mrs. Roland Heath of Snow Hill, secretary and treasurer.

Members of the club began activities for the fall recently with a party for their husbands given in the Y hut on the campus.

Surprise Party For Mrs. Trueblood

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lupton honored Mrs. Julian Trueblood, formerly Miss Nancy Moye of Greenville, at a surprise birthday dinner at 5:30 Sunday afternoon, October 10th, at their apartment on 501 East Third Street.

Other guests were Mr. Julian Trueblood, husband of the honored guest of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Moye of Greenville.

Upon the arrival of the guests the table was decorated at each end with crystal candleholders with burning tapers and centered with the lighted birthday cake. After observing the cake a full course dinner was served.

Following dinner the host and hostess presented Mrs. Trueblood a gift of personalized coasters.

Hallowe'en Carnival Oct. 22 For Benefit Recreational Fund

By CHESTER WALSH

The Hallowe'en carnival to be held at the armory Friday night, October 22, under auspices of the Business and Professional Women's Club, will be for the benefit of the Greenville Recreation Fund, Miss Annie Laurie Askew, general chairman, said today. A children's parade on foot, ponies and decorated bicycles, some of them with their pets, and headed by a police escort and the fire truck and emergency rescue truck, and music from a public address system on a truck will be held at 4:30. The parede starts at the courthouse and ends at the railroad station on Dickinson avenue.

With police cooperation, Second street between Evans and Washington streets, will be roped off for pony rides for the children. M. K. Blount, J. Barnhill, Ficklen Arthur and Tom Tyson have agreed to lend their ponies for the Hallowe'en carnival A small admission fee will be charged. The public is invited.

In 1940, more than a quarter of the population of the United States were people who were born outside the country or born of alien parents.

ELLIS D. FYSAL

Plan To Conduct First Aid Course

Ellis D. Fysal, field representative of Safety Services for the Southeastern area of the American Red Cross will instruct a 30-hour first aid training course in Greenville beginning Monday October 18.

C. W. Willard, first aid chairman of the Pitt County Red Cross chapter, said the instruction will be given free of charge and all interested persons are urged to participate. County officers of the Red Cross are especially interested in having members of the police and fire departments of the county take the course, he said.

Sessions will be held at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 o'clock in the evening Monday through Friday to enable more people to take the course "The course will start with the elementary first aid," Chairman Woolard said, "and go through advanced first aid. It is not necessary for anyone to have had first aid before to take this course."

Persons interested in enrolling in the course should contact the local Red Cross chapter or C. W. Willard at telephone 3124.

Mr. Fysal is a former University of North Carolina football star and has served with the Red Cross since 1927. He taught first aid at Elon College for three years, and for several summers has trained state park personnel at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Young Democrats' Club In Grimesland

The Young Democrats of Grimesland organized a Young Democrats' club last night, Miss Ada Jones, chairman of Young Democrats' clubs in the first congressional district, announced today. An enthusiastic group met Miss Jones at the office of the mayor and plans were discussed to get the largest Democratic vote in the history of that vicinity.

Mayor Leslie Elks was elected precinct chairman and Mr. W. E. Little, vice chairman. Mr. Little will confine his work chiefly to the veterans, first voters and young Democrats. The Grimesland group will join the other county clubs in Greenville on November 1 for a county rally.

UNC Celebrates 155th Birthday

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12—(AP)—Class routine was broken today as the University of North Carolina celebrated its 155th anniversary.

It was 155 years ago today that the cornerstone was laid for old East building, the oldest state university building in America.

The program here was climaxed by a memorial service for alumni who died in the last year. Alumni chapters in other states and in most counties of North Carolina planned meetings tonight.

Revenue On Beer Sales Hit Peak

Raleigh, Oct. 12—Beer taxes collected by the State during September totaled $589,187.85, sending the aggregate amount collected from beer in the first nine months of 1948 to the record-breaking figure of $4,263,939.78, the State Department of Revenue reported today.

The figures do not include sales taxes paid on beer or local and Federal license taxes.

Half of the money will be distributed on a per capita basis to counties and municipalities that license the sale of beer.

Rotarians Honor Past Presidents

By WYATT BROWN

With a nostalgic look at the record of the galaxy of past presidents of the Greenville Rotary club Maynard Fletcher, Past District Governor of Rotary who lives in Washington, urged that their contribution to the Greenville club inspire Rotarians of the future to closer adherence to the Rotary ideal—service above self. Without hesitation the speaker declared that on the community level and on the international level a happier state would exist if more selfless service was contributed by leaders. The program was planned to honor the Greenville club's past president with J. H. Waldrop in charge.

Opening his remarks with the statement that people are too much in the habit of forgetting those who have served the community faithfully, the speaker urged that they be recognized for the service they have rendered. He picked out two deceased past president to mention especially R. H. Wright and Ciss Ellen. The latter was the first president of the Greenville Rotary club.

Next Mr. Fletcher cited from his own personal experiences to show how each Rotarian may use his vocation to afford real service. He referred to the service being contributed by Freeman Self, Scout Executive of the East Carolina Council of the Boy Scouts of America who was present las tnight.

"Every Rotarian in every classification, if he is a good Rotarian, has the opportunity and does render vocational service in his own peculiar way," the speaker said. At this point he said he feared in the rush of modern times that men were getting away from serving their neighbors as men did in the more leisurely pace of his boyhood "The trouble today is that men all over the world have forgot the ideal of service. Capital and labor have forgot service and think only of the dollar. Some of our diplomats have forgot service—many of the problems that face the world today could be solved by the offer of unselfish service."

In conclusion Mr. Fletcher urged the adoption of the spirit of service that had characterized the past presidents of the Greenville Rotary club whose success in office resulted from the spirit of service.

The past presidents present last night were: Herbert Waldrop, Jasper Winslow, Carl Adams, Karl Pace, Fordice Harding, J. B. Kittrell, (president on two terms and the only one to have done so), John Fleming, Howard McGinnis, Joe Moye, Lyman Ormond, Hayward Dail, and John Proctor. Two past presidents not present were J. W Overton and J. L. Winstead.

Guests of the club were Harold Hain of Hartford, Conn.; Ellis Howard of Albany, Georgia; Judge Peyton McSwain of Shelby. Visiting Rotarians were Freeman Self, Wilson; and the following of the Ayden club: Wilbur Ormond, Snodie Edwards, Delbert Worthington Alton Rowe, Willie Bullock, and Frank Kirkpatrick. E. L. Williard, club president, presided.

Begin Curfew

Detroit, Oct. 12—(AP)—A midnight curfew—under which Ma and Pa face a penalty in event of violation by their children—taken effect at midnight tonight.

The curfew applies to children under 17 years of age. If they're found unescorted on the streets after midnight, their parents will be fined $15 or 30 days.

The city council approved the curfew in a move against juvenile delinquency. Advocates of the parental discipline said mothers and fathers are frequently to blame.

Politicos Stump State In Campaign For Votes

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina Democrats continued their drive for general election votes today as party leaders moved into New Bern for the third congressional district Democratic rally.

The leaders were at Carthage yesterday to whoop up enthusiasm among party workers in the eighth district where the Republican opposition is strong and is working hard this year.

Republican leaders, meanwhile, continued to stump the state and made preparations to welcome one of their party's most prominent national leaders to the state Friday. U.S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) is scheduled to make speeches Friday at Chapel Hill and at Wilson.

At the Carthage rally, the district's representative in Congress, day will find the district firmly in C. B. Deane, and other eighth district political workers told the State Democratic leaders that election Democratic hands despite strong efforts being made by the Republicans.

"We're going to cast a straight Democratic ticket from President Truman down through Congress," said Deane.

Terming the States Rights Democrats and the Progressive Party as side issues, Deane said the only issue before the voters is "Mr. Truman or that dandy of the band box Mr. Dewey."

"I'm not in that group that thinks we are going to lose. I'm in that group that thinks we're going to win," he declared.

The Republican nominee for governor, George Pritchard, who spoke at Canton last night, was due to continue his campaigning today with a speech at Gastonia.

Workman Captures Possum In Tree On Fifth Street

City street department workers engaged in cutting down a tree in the 400 block of west Fifth street yesterday were called on to cut down a nearby dead tree. A workman placed a ladder from the roof of the house to the tree to attach a chain. He captured a five-pound 'possum in a hollow.

Possum and sweet potatoes with lots of gravy, was on the menu at the man's house today, Haywood Willis, custodain of the City Hall, reported today.

Claims Teachers Must Put Money Into Campaign

Winston-Salem, N.C., Oct. 12 — (AP)—School teachers must kick in to the Democratic campaign fund or lose their pobs, a Republican office-seeker has claimed.

Buford T. Henderson, Republican candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, in a radio address last night, declared "North Carolina school teachers must pay regular assessments to the campaign funds of the Democratic party in order to hold their jobs."

Henderson, who is chairman of the Forsyth Republican Executive Committee, said:

"The school system of the State of North Carolina has been for almost 50 years and is today a political system rather than an educational system. The Democratic party has been in power uninterrupted since January 1901, and it must take the full credit for the failure of our school system."

Henderson asserted that all school officials are answerable to the governor "who is the head of the Democratic party in the state."

"There are no political mistakes made in these appointments, either. The public school system has been used as a tool to strengthen the Democratic party in the state while the citizenship struggles with illiteracy.

"Many capable and outstanding teachers have left their profession rather than degrade themselves by paying tribute money to political campaigns."

Report Treating In-Lawitis Cases

London, Oct. 12—(AP)—King's College hospital's annual report said today one in every 100 of its outpatients is suffering from 'in-lawitis."

The victims live with their in-laws and quarrel with them so much that they make themselves sick.

"Doctors send them to the hospital for treatment although organically there is nothing wrong with them," the report said, commenting that there'll be no real remedy until the housing shortage is eased.

Nightwatchman Has Breakdown

Durham, Oct. 12—(AP)—Officials of Colonial Stores said today that Henry Briggs, nightwatchman of their giant warehouse near here which was swept by fire last Friday, had suffered a nervous breakdown.

They estimated the loss to be at least $1,250,000, exclusive of the big brick building, which was rented.

They said Briggs aroused a number of truck drivers who slept in a bunkhouse in the plant.

Contradictory?

Sure, but take it from Louis Rich of South Orange, you never are to old to learn—and he's out to prove it.

He started classes today as a freshman at Bergen Junior College at the age of 85. He put his six children through college, and is now retired.

"Can't keep occupied with movies and radios," he said as he entered his textile course.

Public Menace

Asheboro, Oct. 12—(AP)—T. E. Bullard paid a $100 fine yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Police Chief J. F. Moore of Randleman told the court that Bullard drove a mule-drawn buggy through the town's streets Sunday in a drunken condition.

Wallace Plans On Radio Campaign

Chicago, Oct. 12—(AP)—Progressive party leaders de-emphasized Henry Wallace's personal appearances today. From now on his presidential campaign will run more to radio talks, so that larger numbers can hear his voice.

On the radio last night Wallace slashed anew at President Truman. He said Mr. Truman "betrayed" Franklin D. Roosevelt and "will live in history as the worst-defeated Democratic candidate who ever sought the presidency."

He also announced—with the exultant statement that "the impossible has been achieved"—that the Progressive party is "assured" of being on the ballot in 46 states (Illinois and Oklahoma being the exceptions).

Progressive party officials have cancelled Wallace speeches at Duluth, Minn., and Madison, Wis.

Instead, Wallace and the group of assistants, speech-writers, secretaries, and newspaper reporters on his chartered plane came to Chicago late yesterday for an unscheduled three-day stop. The group now has flown 7,400 miles in 19 days.

The party announced that a weekly paid radio series on Thursday nights over the American Broadcasting Co. is being added to his present Monday night series on NBC.

Poland Drafting Youths, 16 to 18

Warsaw—(AP)—Poland is rapidly mobilizing her full reservoir of youthful manpower for military training and work on national reconstruction projects.

An order just issued calls for the conscription of all youths aged 16 to 18. These youths, with several hundred thousand already enrolled, will serve in the organization known as "In Service to Poland."

They are assigned to the building of highways, railway lines, bridges, communications system and housing.

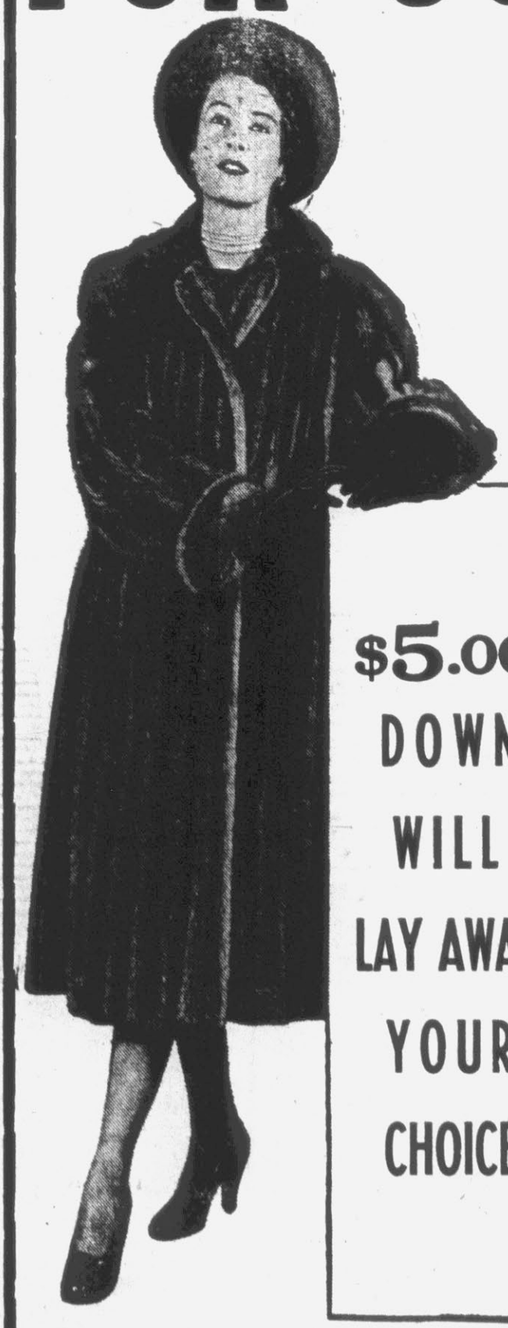

All of them in addition receive a minimum of 16 hours of military training monthly. Instruction by regular militia and Polish army officers is based principally upon infantry warfare.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?. . . .

What is education? With schools and college full, grade school teachers crying out for adequate wage and the government spending millions of dollars to educate veterans, this becomes a problem of more than usual importance.

"Education today is too abstract and impractical," a parent once complained to an educator. "Bring it down where we live. For instance, I would like my boy to learn to milk a cow." And the reply the educator made was: "I'd also like my boy to learn to milk a cow, but I'd like him to learn to do something else that a calf can't do just as well."

Education is preparation for life. Everything we learn at school and college cannot be turned into dollars or job promotions. Most of what we learn is intended to furnish us background so that we can enjoy life better and live it more fully. Education can be made so practical that it becomes little more than a meal ticket. Our minds and souls need to be fed as well as our bodies.

It is always well to keep hammering at the educators to keep education practical. But edueation wholly practical is not education at all; it is mere training. Education is preparation for happy living.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

PREDICTION—With the general election just three weeks ahead, on Saturday of the registration period behind, and eight of the twelve congressional district rallies having been held by the Democratic high command, there is some basis—although very precarious—for predictions about the possible result of November 2 voting. Here goes with suggestions, based upon interviews with numerous people at eight district meetings, visitors from all sections of the state coming to the state capitol during the past few weeks, reports of registration Saturday and several other factors.

LARGE—The 1948 general election vote will be the biggest in state history, topping the previous record of 839,424 for president in 1936. Secretary of State Thad Eure predicts the vote will "bump a million," while most observers look for 925,000 to 950,000. Political leaders have pointed out that even this will represent only about half the voting potential of the state, which is estimated at two millions.

DISTRIBUTION — The western third of the state will have relatively few minority party votes. The voters there will mark ballots for straight Democrat or straight Republican tickets. The eastern third of the state will produce substantial number of votes for the States' Rights ticket headed by Governor Thurmond of South Carolina, and perhaps an even larger number of omissions with respect to the national ticket. As for state and local candidates the east will be virtually solid for the regular Democrats. The central third of the state is more difficult to analyze at this time. It is in this area that Wallace Progressives are expected to poll their heaviest vote, which will be negligible as compared with state totals. There is divided opinion as to whether the marked anti-Truman sentiment in the Piedmont will be reflected in votes for Thurmond or straight out votes for Dewey.

IRREGULAR—For half a century there have been many people in the industrial Piedmont area who have voted the national Republican and the state Democratic ticket. It was in this general area that 1940 Wilkiecrats and 1944 Constitutional Democrats had their strongest hold on voters. Some of the same leaders in those groups are now sponsoring the States' Rights or Dixiecrat ticket, but there is ground for suspicion many of them will on November 2 vote the straight Dewey-Warren Republican ballot instead of wasting a vote on Thurmond and Wright.

DIFFICULT—That is what makes it hard to forecast the middle state vote. It appears from information collected that neither Thurmond nor Wallace will get much support in the mountains or in the coastal areas. Extent of their support in the Piedmont will depend upon whether voters desire simply to cast a protest ballot against Truman or go all the way with a vote for Dewey. Majority opinion of informed people from the central part of the state who have visited Raleigh during recent weeks seems to favor relatively heavy support for the Dexiecrats. A substantial minority holds opinion that mid-state counties will follow the east and west in choosing between straight Democrat and straight Republican candidates for president and vice president. This opinion is supported by the argument that Piedmonters are largely descended from Scotch and German ancestry, neither of which groups likes to "waste a vote." On the other hand Scotch and German people are individualistic and perhaps more inclined to vote for principle without regard to chances of winning.

SECTIONAL — If conclusions drawn from date in hand prove correct, the question of whether North Carolina's electoral vote will go for Dewey or for Truman depends largely upon 20-odd big voting counties east of Catawba and west of Wake.

Columbus Proved The World Is Round

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Have you had a fresh worry lately?

Or are you one of those impossible people who go through life, day after day, worrying about the same old stale worries?

Don't you realize that in the fresh bright world of today you can't go around wrinkling your brow over the problems that befuddled your ancestors?

Wake up and worry! Worry about something new and different. You may not know it, but your friends judge you by the things you worry about.

It isn't enough anymore just to worry about food, clothing and shelter, and keeping your children out of jail. People were worrying about those things yesterday and a hundred years ago.

Rid your mind of those old, tiresome motheaten worries. Surprise your acquaintances by springing a sensational new worry on them. Watch their eyes widen in respect.

How can you do this? It is very simple. You just join the Boyle Worry-of-The-Month Club.

The average man is too preoccupied with the problems of daily living to think up impressive new worries. He is in a worry rut. He is just an ordinary worry wart. But every man has within him tremendous possibilities for worry—he can become a worry giant. He only needs to have his hidden energies unleashed.

This is what the Boyle Worry-of-The-Month Club undertakes to do. Every four weeks our board of experts looks over the world situation and picks out a tantalizing worry most people never thought of. We will send you this worry on a trial basis—without obligation. If you like it, you keep it and fret about it for a month.

The following month we will send you another worry. If you take four of our worries in a row, we will send you a free bonus worry—as long as the supply lasts.

One of the best features of the Boyle Worry-of-The-Month Club is that we guarantee to send you a worry that you as an individual positively can do nothing about. We believe that is the only kind of a worry that brings enduring satisfaction. Because certainly there is no fun in worrying about something you can do anything about. It doesn't make sense to worry about things you can solve yourself.

Our Worry-of-The-Month Club has rejected such mundane and obvious worries as whether there will be a third world war or whether the atom bomb can wipe out the human race. That type of worry will never make you the life of the party.

One of our most popular worries last year was this:

"Do you know that at any moment the Globe may tip its axis a few degrees, and everybody in the world be frozen like an ice cream cone?"

Now there is a good simple honest worry for a hostess to spring on her guests at a cocktail party. The more they drink the more they will think about this worry. It will take their minds off any personal worries they have been frittering away their time with.

Our current worry-of-the-month is lifted bodily from an ad in the book section of the New York Times:

"Small weeds inherit the earth?—a question to ponder without delay."

Well, there you are. Never thought of that did you? But, year after year, weeds have been growing up all around you in a green and devilish plot to destroy mankind. You thought you could take chlorophyl or leave it alone, did you? Forget it. Start worrying today about weeds. Tomorrow may be too late.

And join up now with the Boyle Worry-of-The-Month Club. Our goal: To supply a care for the fellow who says he doesn't have a care in the world. It's the worrier who wins.

The average adult opossum weighs nine pounds and is about the size of a house cat. He likes to make his home in hollow logs.

As a rule, the air moves as wind from west to east in the United States.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—The 1949 Social List of Washington, offering a "complete coverage of the capital's whirl-pool of ever-changing prominent personages" is just off the press. Among names dropped this year were those of Henry A. Wallace, Progressive Party candidate for President and Alger Hiss, former chief of the United Nations division of the State Department. Mr. Hiss was recently accused before the House un-American Activities committee of having been a member of a Communist organization in Washington. Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw, social arbiter and publisher of the List which serves as top rule book for the local social game, told me the names could have been dropped because Mr. Wallace and Mr. Hiss are no longer residents of the city.

"Or," she said, "they may not have filled out the questionnaire we send out to prospective listees. I really don't know, however, since all persons included in the book are passed on by a board of governors." Mrs. Shaw set up the board herself six years ago. The members' names are secret and they provide sort of a "front" for Mrs. Shaw. She says they wouldn't tell her why they act as they do even if she asked. "And", says Mrs. Shaw, "I never ask."

About 2,800 changes were made during the year in the green suede book which Mrs. Shaw says "is an authority on who's who in the upper circles." These changes, she says, were because of deaths, marriages, change of address, or change of offical position among other things. Sometimes, she says, a person is kicked out because of a "nasty divorce" or simply because he isn't "terrifically important." And—"the social climbers, many of whom make application each year for inclusion in the 'Social List,' as usual failed to make the grade."

Aside from listing the big-wigs in capital life, the Social List tells folks how to get the correct time, address a chummy note to the President and on whom to leave calling cards. It's most important function, as far as hostesses are concerned, is its guide on who outranks whom at local shindigs . . . this is the business of which official stands ahead of another in a receiving line and which sits nearer the head of the table at dinners. "Many a prominent social career has been ruined and even international incidents have been brought about by a lack of knowledge of who sits 'above or below the salt'" says Mrs. Shaw.

Mrs. Shaw, an expert on who outranks whom, reports that many unprecedented changes have occurred in the past year in the traditional rules governing protocol. Among important changes, Mrs. Shaw says, "the decision has finally been handed down that the chief justice of the United States does outrank an ambassador of a foreign power; a minister of a foreign power, however, outranks an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Farmers Already Planning Another Big 1949 Output

Washington, Oct. 12 — (AP) — With a record crop volume practically assured for this year, farmers already are turning their attention to planting for another big output in 1949.

The Agriculture Department reported this in a harvest-time statement yesterday estimating this year's total crop production will exceed the 1946 record by 8 per cent.

Favorable weather in September virtually nailed down earlier forecasts that 1948 production will top all others.

Fall plowing, field preparation and seeding of such fall-sown grains as winter wheat, rye and oats is progressing seasonably, the department said.

In some areas, however, lack of soil moisture has held up grain seeding. This was the case in parts of the southern great plains, where dry weather a year ago also hindered operations.

This year's record corn crop will turn out to be larger than the department had previously predicted if its latest estimate is borne out. Yesterday's report put the crop at 3,567,955,000 bushels—a boost of about 39,000,000 bushels from the September forecast.

Surpassing the 1946 record by 10 per cent, the new corn crop opens the way for a big boost in production of meats, dairy and poultry products. Consumers should feel the benefits in the form of lower prices by late 1949, officials said.

With farm prices in general now down about five per cent from the January peak, an Agriculture Department economist said today a further drop of 15 per cent may come by the end of 1949—if peace prospects brighten.

Issues Invitation To Dixie Demos

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 12—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) issued a strong invitation last night for Southern Democrats to fall in behind the Republican presidential candidates.

Much of the senator's nationally broadcast speech, however, was devoted to criticizing President Truman's foreign policy. It was Taft's first speech in the South in behalf of the Dewey-Warren ticket.

President Truman has weakened our case against Russia," Taft charged, by proposing to send Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow, just after we had submitted the dispute to the United Nations."

The President's proposal had thereby discredited both Secretary of State Marshall and the United Nations, Taft added.

Taft voiced his appeal to Southern Democrats in these words:

"Do we wish to progress under American principles of liberty and justice and equality, or do we wish to adopt the totalitarian ideas imported from Europe and so prevalent throughout the world today which turn over all our rights to the tender mercies of a bureaucratic government?

"On that issue most of the old line Democrats in the North are already supporting the Republican candidates. On that issue there is a basic agreement between the Southern Democrats and the Republican party. It makes no sense for them to fail to support the Republican candidates."

Colored Clinic, Now Seeking Funds For Equipment, Already Operating

By WYATT BROW

The Pitt County Clinic for colored people which has appeared in the newspaper as a drive to raise funds is also a fact and in operation. Much equipment has already been purchased and is in use. A registered nurse is on duty. Patients are already being taken.

It is located on the corner of Pitt street and First street in the Sycamore Hill Baptist church parsonage. There are six rooms, two of which are being used as wards. One room is furnished to be a semi-private room. A baby ward in a small cut-off room with the little hospital baskets is ready for obstetrical cases though none were in use yesterday.

One room is being used as the office and waiting room. There is one large room equipped for the doing of minor operations. At the back is a spotless dietary department provided with the essentials in good quality.

Its location is fortunate in that Pitt street dead-ends at that corner as does First street. One is struck by the quietness of the neighborhood. The house being so used is a one story bungalow type of house on a lot much above street level quite well drained.

The campaign to raise funds to further equip the clinic is in progress. Anyone interested is invited to visit the clinic to see the concrete evidence of the fine work going forward among the colored race.

Competition For NROTC Started

The annual competition for the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps was launched today by the Navy Department. All male high school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to apply for the program which gives a full four year, government sponsored, college education at one of the 52 colleges and universities throughout the country in which there are Naval ROTC units.

In addition to the age limits, the applicants must meet physical and mental standards and successfully pass an aptitude test. Young men desiring to participate in the program must file an application for this test prior to November 25, 1948 Application blanks and complete information concerning the program are available from all high school principals, college deans professors of Naval Science, offices of Naval Officer Procurement, and all Naval Recruiting Stations. The test itself will be given on December 11 in 550 cities widely distributed in the 48 states, as well as Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone.

Applicants receiving satisfactory marks on the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations at a later date. State officers will then review their cases to select the most outstanding all-around candidates. Students from each state and territory compete among themselves for the quota of naval scholarships assigned each state and territory. The total input is expected to approximate 2300, all of whom will be enrolled in the fall term of college, 1949. Candidates are permitted to indicate the colleges they wish to attend, and subject to quote limitations, will be recommended to the college of their choice. Final enrollment in all cases, however, will be subject to acceptance by the colleges to which recommended.

In this program, the Navy Department bears the expense of tuition, books, and the normal fees required by the college; and in addition, provides the students with a $50 per month living allowance.

Tar Heels Rank Best In Nation In Weekly Poll

New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—Unbeaten North Carolina moved to the head of the class today as the country's No. 1 college football team.

The Tar Heels displaced Notre Dame at the top of the list in the weekly poll of sports writers from coast to coast, conducted by the Associated Press.

Second to Notre Dame by only 10 points in last week's initial balloting, North Carolina jumped to the front as the Irish slipped back to second place, just 20 points behind.

Northwestern clung to the No. 3 spot and Michigan, which meets the Wildcats in an important big nine struggle this week, jumped from seventh to fourth.

Less than 100 points separated the first four teams in the tabulation, with a first place voting counting 10 points, second place nine and so on.

By an odd coincidence, 153 experts participated in the voting—the same number as last week—and North Carolina wound up with 1,200 points, the exact total which put Notre Dame on top a week ago.

The Tar Heels, who followed up their victories over Texas and Georgia with a 28-6 conquest of Wake Forest, received 52 first place votes, three less than last week, and were named at some position on every ballot except one.

Notre Dame, undefeated since 1945, kept its record clean with a 26-7 triumph over Michigan State but collected only 34 first place votes, 16 less than last week, and a total of 1,180 points.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parenthesis):

1. North Carolina (52)	1,200
2. Notre Dame (34)	1,180
3. Northwestern (26)	1,172
4. Michigan (24)	1,103
5. Army (5)	733
6. California (10)	720
7. Georgia Tech	589
8. Pennsylvania (1)	388
9. Penn State (1)	342
10. Mississippi	136

Southpaw Saved Series Finale In Face Of Blistering Braves' Attack; "We Owe It All To Bearden" Says Boudreau

Boston, Oct. 12—(AP)—Gene Bearden, a carefree rookie with ice water in his veins, is the undisputed hero of Cleveland's first world series title since 1920.

"We owe it all to Bearden," said Manager Lou Boudreau after yesterday's tingling 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves for the championship. "Give him all the credit. That goes back to the playoff game, too."

What else could the boss say?

The handsome southpaw, conqueror of the Boston Red Sox in the pennant playoff game, had just sauntered in from the bull pen to save the series finale.

Starter Bob Lemon was rocking and reeling from the fury of the attack of the Boston hitters, hungry for the winners' slice of the money from record crowds. The Braves had the bases full with one away in the last of the eighth, trailing 4 to 1. Then came Bearden.

Pinch hitter Clint Conatser, the first man he faced, sent Thurman Tucker to deep center with a fly ball. Tommy Holmes tagged up and raced home, to make it 4-2.

Manager Billy Southworth brought in Phil Masi to hit for Bill Salkeld and Masi hit the boards high on the left field wall for a double that scored Torgeson. Now it was 4-3.

Cooly surveying the situation, Bearden went to work on Mike McCormick, one of the Braves' more dependable hitters in the series. He came in with his knuckler on the first pitch and McCormick bounced it right back to the box for the vital third out.

The eighth was over but the Braves were aroused. Reliefer Warren Spahn blazed the ball past three Indian batters, striking out the side, and the Boston club histled in for another crack at that big winners' pool of $230,249 or some $76,000 more than the losers.

Eddie Stanky, the best base-on-balls wrangled in the majors, led off the ninth. Bearden got him down to 3-2 and then lost him. The tying run was on first and the heat was on.

Southworth sent Sibby Bisti up to bunt and replaced the hobbled Stanky with Fleet Connie Ryan. With the top of the order coming up next, the idea was to get the runner to second.

Sisti bunted one foul. Then he took a ball. The next pitch he bunted again and the ball popped into the air about 10 feet high in front of the plate. Catcher Jim Hegan made the catch and fired to first base for an easy double play, Helmes ended the game and series by flying out.

Joe Gordon, held to three hits in the first five games, helped the Tribe to its early lead with a home run blast off starter Bill Voiselle that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. They scored twice in that inning and again in the eighth but Lemon could not hold it.

The Bearden of the final game, carried to the clubhouse on the shoulders of his teammates, was not as sharp as the Beaden of last Friday who shut out the Braves, 2-0, on five skimp hits, but it was Bearden at his best—in a tough spot.

A mere ball game can't bother a 28-year-old war vet who spent two years in hospitals after the Japs torpedoed the U. S. S. Helena. He still carries aluminum plates in the head and left knee.

Cleveland Stages Huge Welcome For Winners

Cleveland, Oct. 12—(AP)—Cleveland welcomes home its World Series champions today with a parade over 10 miles of downtown streets.

Mayor Thomas A. Burke said the celebration would be simple and brief in deference to the team's wishes. No speeches were scheduled.

The mayor added, however, that he hoped what the parade might lack in trimmings would be made up by the fans' enthusiasm.

City officials planned to greet the Tribesmen on their arrival by train from Boston this morning at about 8:30 (EST) and 20 open cars were assigned to carry them over the parade route.

Manager Lou Boudreau, Tribe President Bill Veeck, Mayor Burke and Allen J. Lowe, head of the mayor's civic committee, were given places in the lead car.

The second was reserved for Gene Bearden, pitching hero of the series Indian Vice President Hank Greenberg and other club officials..

Bearden, third baseman Keltner and pitcher Satchell Paige flew home last night and already were on hand for the celebration.

Paige created quite a sensation on the trip by eating three dinners. After his third tray was removed and the hostess asked if he wanted another, Satch replied:

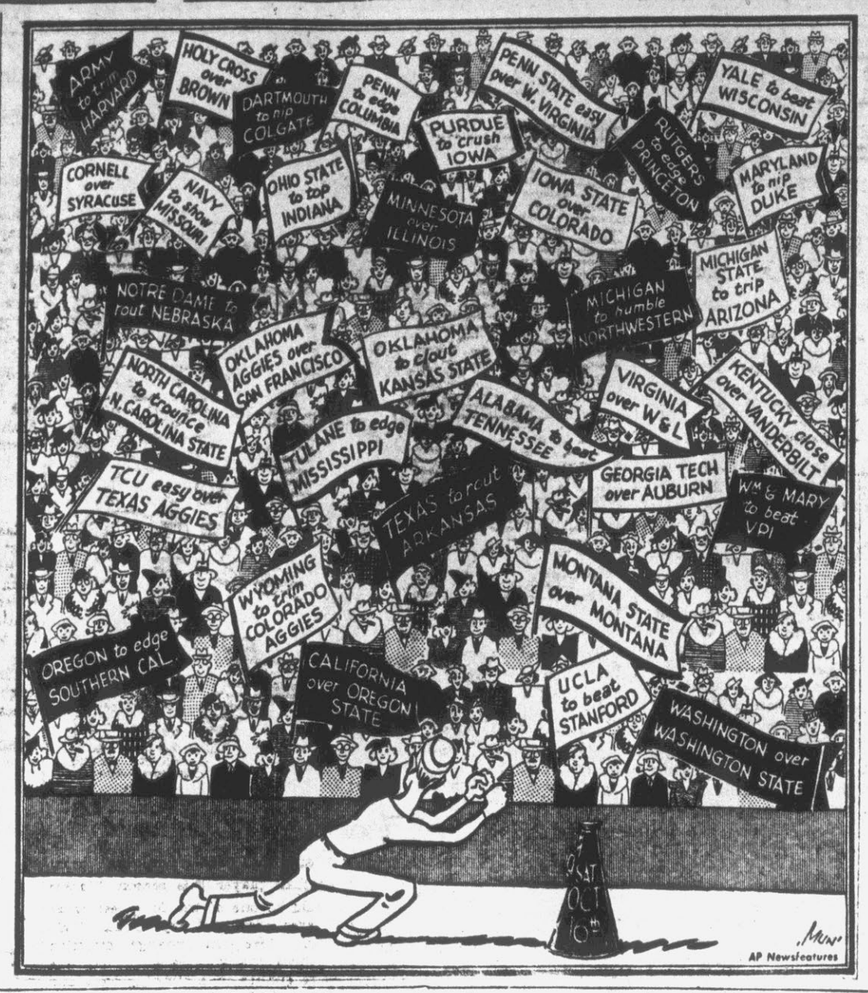

"No, ma'm, that's all. It's not that I'm full. I'm just tired of eating."

Horn tooting, pennant waving and paper showers from office buildings followed word yesterday that the team had beaten Boston for the title. Euclid Avenue was crammed with automobiles bearing noisy celebrants.

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

John Wyatt is named lineman of the week. We didn't have to take a poll this week to find out who the lineman of the week was for the ECTC Pirates. We read Elon's Journal and listened to the people talk who attended the ECTC-Elon contest. Elon's coach quoted, "This boy Wyatt played a good game for ECTC." Coach Boone said, "If we had a guard to equal Wyatt beside him—gee—I guess I'll be asking for too much." Wyatt, who hails from Portsmouth, Va., has been playing good ball all the year. In the Cherry Point game he was two votes under for the lineman of the week award. Before he came to ECTC he was offered a scholarship to the University of Tennessee, but because of illness in the family he was unable to go at the time. This is his third year with the Pirates and the 210-lb., 6-foot tackle has won respect from every team in the North State Conference. It's a little early to say but I'm casting my vote for John Wyatt for "All Southern."

Coach Danny Cagel was pleased with his Yellow Jackets in Friday night's contest. Asked what he thought of the game this weekend with Edenton, he laughed and said, "Roanoke Rapids has always been able to top Edenton in anything."

Did you know that the Catawba Indians have been unbeaten within conference play since 1941? At this time they lead the North State Conference with two wins and no defeats.

Coach Jim Johnson and Jack Boone let the Pirates off light today as they went through routine workout to brush up the mistakes in Friday's contest. The Pirates play host to WCTC Friday night at Guy Smith Stadium. The game is booked as homecoming and is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Herbert Carter and his 60 piece ECTC band will be on hand for the game. The Greenville high school band is expected to be on hand also.

Question from Ed Casey at ECTC: What is the score of a football game that is forfeited?

Ans.: The score of a forfeited game shall be 1 to 0, in favor of the offended team.

The pep rally for the ECTC-WCTC game will start at 3 p.m. in front of Cotton Hall at ECTC. Featuring the rally will be the parade, consisting of the ECTC band, the Greenville high band, the Boy Scouts, the National Guard, the ECTC students, the Greenville high students, and several other organizations plan now to be on hand, not just for the parade but for the game also.

Marvin Rickert Will Get Share In Player Purse

Boston, Oct. 12—(AP)—Marvin Rickert, the Boston Brave who played so brilliantly in left field during the World Series without any financial arrangements, today was certain to share in the player receipts.

Baseball Commissioner Albert B. Chandler said that "justice should be done" in Rickert's case. He said he will have to act unless the players solve the problem.

One solution appears to be for the Braves players to get together and dig into their own individual shares. The Braves voted 33 shares with each share estimated at $4,652.51. The champion Indians, who voted 34 shares, will receive an estimated $6,772.05.

Perini Proud Of Defeated Braves

By JOSEPH B. KELLEY

Boston, Oct. 12—(AP)—Most of the Braves players and their rooters were in the dumps even today over Cleveland's World Series victory.

However, from Boston President Lou Perini came an unequivocal, "I'm the proudest man in baseball.

"I'm proud of our manager, Billy South, and of our boys who played great ball all season.

"I never expected them to finish better than second until late in the season when we had a definite chance to win the pennant.

"And the entire credit goes to Southworth for his brilliant job of managing and to the players. They never lost heart. They never quit under pressure that lasted almost through the entire season. They performed over their best abilities time after time."

A gracious loser, Perini was one of the first to seek out Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau, Indian President Bill Veeck and other members of the Ohio champions.

"Lou," he told Boudreau, "I want to congratulate you. You've got a good ball club and you're a great ball player."

Boudreau soberly accepted and said quietly, "Thanks, thank you very much Mr. Perini."

Montreal Takes 'Little' Series

Montreal, Oct. 12—(AP)—For the second time in three years the Montreal Royals are little World Series champions.

The International League pennant winners clinched the crown yesterday with a 7-2 victory over St. Paul of the American Association.

It was their fourth triumph in five games of the best-of-seven series.

It was also the second little series success for Montreal Manager Clay Hopper, who guided the Royals when they defeated the Louisville Colonels in 1946.

Gets Around

South Bend, Ind.— (AP) —Marty Wendell, Chicago senior who handles the right guard assignment for Notre Dame, is a handy man to have around a football team. His experience on the gridiron includes play at halfback, quarterback, fullback, center and guard. He cavorted at half and quarter in high school, and he already has won three letters at Notre Dame—at full, center and guard.

Expect Big Crowd To Watch Pirates

Boudreau Sitting On Top Of World

Boston, Oct. 12 —(AP)— Now it can be told.

Lou Boudreau is sitting on top of the world today, manager of Cleveland's first world championship team in 28 years.

Only one month ago, however, the popular playing pilot's position as Tribe boss was very shaky. He was picketed for other pastures.

Bill Veeck, sports-shirted president of the Tribe, had lost faith in Boudreau and his ball club. Greatly disappointed over Cleveland's mid-summer slump which dropped the Indians from first to third place in the space of two weeks, Veeck had given up hope of winning the American League flag.

"Only a miracle can help us now," Veeck said after the St. Louis Browns had whipped the Indians in Cleveland to drop them four and a half games behind the Boston Red Sox on Sept. 13.

Never a great admirer of Boudreau's managerial talents, Veeck had tried to trade the game's greatest shortstop to the Browns last winter. Cleveland fans, however, came to Lou's rescue, and forced Veeck to retain him. Boudreau was even able to wrangle a two-year contract at $55,000 out of VeVeck.

From a source close to the Cleveland club, it was learned that Veeck had made up his mind to make a managerial change after this season. Only a deal for Boudreau would accomplish that since Lou had informed Veeck he would never play for the Indians under another skipper.

Happily, all that is forgotten now.

Surf Casting In Full Swing At Hatteras

Hatteras, N. C., Oct. 12,—Surf casting for channel bass or red drum, local name for these great fighting fish which feed near the breakers during the autumn months here, is now getting into full swing. Several good catches have been made recently and fishing of this type is scheduled to improve before the latter part of October.

Arrangements To Seat 3,000 Spectators At Homecoming Game Against West Carolina Here Friday Night

By EUGENE PRICE

The largest crowd of football fans ever to invade Greenville's Guy Smith stadium is anticipated Friday night when the East Carolina Teachers college Pirates play host to the Western Carolina Teachers in ECTC's annual homecoming celebration.

H. L. Brown, publicity chairman of the Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday that arrangements to seat at least 3,000 spectators are now underway. The Jaycees, sponsors of the homecoming tilt, are out to "build an athletic program the people of Greenville and Pitt county can be proud of."

That the contest will draw at least 3,000 fans, officials here are reasonably certain. Atlantic Christian College last week played before 5,200 spectators at its homecoming.

The occasion will not only be the first home appearance of the ECTC Pirates but will be highlighted by a parade Thursday afternoon. The parade will feature the ECTC and Greenville high school bands and a number of college co-eds will circulate through the spectators offering for sale tickets to the football game.

The Friday night game itself should prove one of the most interesting of the Pirate season. Though the boys from the West will be favored slightly the Pirates of ECTC will be playing almost even opposition for the first time this season.

Prior to the homecoming game the locals have been outclassed and at least 12 point underdogs in each contest. They have nevertheless played close and hardfought ball games.

Friday night they will be out to repel the invasion from the West and win their first game of the season before a record crowd of homefolks at Guy Smith stadium.

Anticipating their first home appearance, the Pirates ran through a light scrimmage session yesterday with high spirits. With the exception of Center Buck Wilson, they are expected to be at full strength for the game Friday night.

Coaches Jim Johnson and Jack Boone announced yesterday that a hard scrimmage would be held this afternoon between the squads. Johnson said he planned to try reserve quaterback Fred Soles at right half to add strength to that position. In practice yesterday the diminutive Tar City tornado ran wild with his elusive end sweeps, line plunges, and passes.

Doug Bryant, fullback, also showed considerable power and elusiveness in scrimmage yesterday. Ed Tanner, though he is still hampered somewhat with his knee, was working out in heavy togs yesterday and will probably see plenty of action Friday against Western Carolina.

Bear Back···by Pap

The glowing reputation which preceded Jackie Jensen when the Golden Bears of California tangled with the Navy eleven in Baltimore was further enhanced by the flashy fullback's great showing against the Midshipmen. Jensen paced the Bears in their 21-7 triumph over Navy and again satisfied critics that he is of All-America timber.

The University of California's supporters except Jensen to pace the Bears to the conference title and lead them right into the Rose Bowl. Even Coach Lynn Waldorf admits that Jensen could be a great football player this season. "Jackie could be one of the four best backs I ever coached," says Coach Waldorf. "He can change direction without changing speed. That is a rare quality in a running back and one that should carry him far. He'll be a great back, once he learns to run well straight up the middle."

Against Santa Clara, Jensen reeled off dashes of 62, 64 and 61 yards, two of the runs being good for touchdowns. The big fullback takes a bit of ribbing from his teammates who call him "Mr. Olsen," by way of recalling that Jackie's girl friend is Zoe Ann Olsen, the diving champion. This may cause Jensen to blush with embarrassment but it seems to make him drive through the line harder than ever.

First Tarheel Game

Durham—(AP)—Duke and North Carolina met in the first football game ever played in North Carolina, and as far as is known, the first game ever played in the south. It was a Thanksgiving Day game played in Raleigh in 1888, and the Blue Devils won, 16-0.

Kentucky's Turf Season Begins

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 12—(AP)—Kentucky's 28-day fall racing season opens at picturesque little Keeneland race course near here today.

The eight-race opening program was headed by the $5,000 Columbus Day purse. The six furlong feature drew a field of six two-year-olds.

Topping the entries was the hometown entry of unbeaten Sequence and Ky. Colonel. Sequence is regarded as one of the better juveniles to perform on midwest tracks this year. Ky. Colonel won the Bashford Manor stakes at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky., last spring.

Good And Bad

East Lansing, Mich.— (AP) —The most lopsided victory ever scored by a Michigan State College football team was the 104 to 0 conquest of Hillsdale college in 1904. The worst beating the Spartans ever took was 119 to 0 by Michigan in 1902.

Among First

Durham, N. C.,— (AP) —Duke University was one of the first southern institutions to take up intercollegiate football. John Franklin Crowell, president of the school—then known as Trinity College—organized the first squad when he came to Trinity from Yale in 1888.

North Carolina and Wake Forest organized teams about the same time but they patterned their game along the lines of rugby, using a perfectly round ball. Trinity played the game as Yale played it, using an oval ball with more rushing than kicking.

First Curve Ball Pitcher Is Dead

Los Angeles, Oct. 12—(AP)—George McConnell, believed to be one of the first pitchers to throw a curve ball, is dead at 93.

A baseball and billiard fan in his youth, later an Indian fighter and war veteran, he succumbed Sunday at the Sawtelle Veterans Hospital after breaking his hip in a fall two months ago. He had been living with a niece in Los Angeles.

McConnell as a young man in Yreka, Calif., decided that the "English" put on a billiard ball could be applied to a baseball. He tried it, and perfected it through hours of throwing against a barn wall.

Census Takers To Start Count Greenville Population Tomorrow

Federal census takers are scheduled to begin tomorrow to take a special census of Greenville to determine the exact population of the city.

L. S. Bullington, district supervisor of the Raleigh district for the federal census bureau, and W. A. Hale, Jr., district supervisor for the Atlanta, Ga., district arrived here yesterday and have been making preparations for the canvassing of the city which will begin tomorrow. Billington said there will be about 15 workers who will cover the city and make an exact count of city residents.

Mayor J. M. Boyd today urged every citizen of the city to give the census takers full cooperation so the census may be made as quickly and as accurately as possible.

The last census of the city in 1940 showed a population of 12,674 but city officials estimate the present population of the city is over 18,000. If a substantial increase in the city's population is shown by the census, Greenville will be entitled to a larger portion of beer wine, gasoline and other tax receipts collected by the state and divided between municipalities according to their population.

Federal officials who are supervising the census taking estimate it will take between two and three weeks to gather the necessary information about the city. The official census bureau count of the city will not be read until approximately 90 days after the census is completed, Hale explained, but the unofficial census will be released as soon as the survey has been completed.

The census takers have taken offices in the Board of Aldermen room in the city hall, and today 15 enumerators were chosen to help with the canvassing of the city.

Since the last census of the city was taken in 1940, several new sections have been taken into the corporate limits of Greenville. A portion of the property on the East Fifth street extension, the East 14th street extension and the East Tenth street extension were taken in the city, South Greenville, formerly known as the 'Bama,' the Hillsdale section, a section on the Farmville highway, and a large area on the north side of the river.

Scout Activities In Pitt Planned

Plans and activities for the Pitt district of Boy Scouts was mapped last night at the meeting of the district committee, Council Executive Freeman Self, Scoutmaster Kenneth Allen, and Troop Committeeman John Proctor. A leadership training program is to be got underway immediately for Scoutmasters and Scout leaders—emphasis being placed on getting successful scouting down to the boy himself by trained persons.

There are seven white troops and two Cub Packs in Pitt district now. Three colored troops are in operation under a divisional chairman and executive. Plans call for eight more troops this year in Pitt county. Of the eight, one is in the process of being organized and two other dormant troops to be activated, and others have been requested. Another Cub Pack is being begged for and will be realized.

The first fall activity on a district basis will be a jamboree on November 19th with games and fun for every Scout. Boy Scout Week in February has been tentatively planned. In the spring there will be a district camporee as a warming up for the council camporee set for April 22, 23 and 24th.

Each third Monday night at 8 o'clock the Board of Review will meet at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. It has been meeting on the second Monday night; so Scouts will note the change in meeting time.

Last Wednesday night the troop sponsored by the Eighth Street Christian Church met with their new Scoutmaster Kenneth Allen. Present to introduce Scouts and new scoutmasters were W. F. Young, Scout Commissioner and Field Executive Jack Hogarth. The troop committee of the American Legion, which organization sponsors a troop of Scouts, met last week and are engaged in locating a scoutmaster for their troop. The troop sponsored by the Methodist Church of which Bill Drum is scoutmaster has been meeting regularly.

Scout Executive Self has been working with the Ayden troop and it is going ahead with an active program. The Bethel troop is active.

A new slate of officers for Pitt district of the Boy Scouts to finish out the year was elected last night. They are: Wyatt Brown, chairman; W. F. Young, commissioner, and Larry Brown, assistant commissioner; Wendell Smiley, cubbing chairman; Heber Tripp, divisional liason; Sherman Parks, camping and activities; John Fleming, finance chairman; Rev. R. W. Bradshaw, chairman Court of Honor committee. All the above attended last night's meeting.

It is believed that Niagara Falls will wear its way back to Lake Erie in about 5,000 years.

Woman To Serve Two Years Or Leave County

By CHESTER WALSH

In Police Court Monday morning, Judge J.W.H. Roberts found Della Coburn, white woman, guilty of operating a disorderly house, and sentenced her to serve 12 months in the women's division of State Prison. His Honor said he would suspend the sentence if the defendant would leave Pitt County within two days and "remain gone."

Judge Roberts and police and other law enforcement officers cooperated to end the Police Court session as early as possible to permit Judge Peyton McSwain of Shelby to reconvene the criminal session of Superior Court. The higher court sessions are being held at the City Hall while improvements and alterations are being made at the courthouse.

Judge Roberts disposed of the following cases:

Louis F. Everett, failure to pay taxi fare, ordered to pay the taxi fare.

Martha Vines, colored, shoplifting, two years in State Prison, suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted, and she was ordered not to visit Greenville or Farmville for two years.

Drunk: Clyde Whitfield, Jr., nol prossed with leave; William J. Dunn, $15; Charlie Harris, colored, $20; George Junior Dunn, $15; George Brown, colored, $15; Edward Dancy, $15.

Lemmie Parmerly, colored, violation of the venereal law, $15, and she was ordered to report to the Health Department.

Billie Dale Suggs paid $20 for speeding.

Windsor Taft, colored, was not guilty of assaulting a female.

Glenn C. Manning paid $25 for disorderly conduct and profane language.

In Police Court last Friday morning, the following cases were disposed of:

Drunk: Patrick Neal, $15; Willie M. Parrott (and disorderly), $15; Willie Griffin, $15; Grady E. Stocks, $20; Tobe Freeman, $15; Davis Dunn (on highway), $15; Stephen H. Joyner, colored, $15; Jim Freeman, an old offender, 30 days on the county roads.

William J. Moore, colored, paid $15 for passing too close to another car.

Melvin W. Smith paid $25 and costs for not having a driver's license.

Moses Payton, colored, paid $100 and costs for driving drunk, and his license was ordered revoked for a year. Harry H. Bell received the same penalty.

Fountain O'Neal, assault on a female (his wife), was given six months on the roads, suspended on condition that he pay $15, and he was placed on probation for two years.

John L. Walters was not guilty of reckless driving. Arthur Moore paid $15 for reckless driving.

Speeding: William Vincent, $20; Franklin M. Brown, $20.

Mother In Suit Against Actress

Los Angeles, Oct. 12—(AP)—Veronica Lake's mother claims she put her life savings into the film star's career, only to be left destitute.

Mrs. Constance Veronica Keane, asking $500 monthly support in a suit against the actress yesterday, alleged that she had spent nearly $10,000 to further her daughter's theatrical climb. She charged the actress had broken off a 1943 support agreement.

In that agreement, the complaint said, Miss Lake promised to pay $200 a week "in consideration of filial love and affection" to her mother and the latter's husband, the late Hugh A. Keane, former New York newspaperman. It said Miss Lake paid $115 a week for a time, later $75, then $37.50 but nothing since last May.

Describing herself as indigent, Mrs. Keane alleged that Miss Lake earns $4,500 a week. The complaint also named the actress' husband, Director Andre De Toth, as a defendant. It asked for $500 a month plus $17,416 in back payments.

Zebede Carney, colored, assault on a female, $15.

Polio Epidemic In New Zealand

Auckland, New Zealand—(AP)—An infantile paralysis epidemic has hit most parts of the north island of New Zealand in the past year. Most seriously affected recently has been Wellington, where 40 cases were reported in two weeks. Confined cases in Wellington since November 1947, total 181. In Auckland there have been 290 cases in the same period.

Polio Now Past Epidemic Stage

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12—(AP)— The state's polio outbreak is past the epidemic state, although cases will continue to arise, says state health officer Dr. Roy Norton.

The total of cases throughout the state, which yesterday stood at 2,288 since the first of the year, probably will reach 2,500 by Dec. 31, Dr. Norton declared.

"We are definitely past the epidemic stage now, but we will continue to have cases, however," he said. 'It had passed out of the epidemic state in most areas by September 1 and practically everywhere by September 15."

Polio usually reaches its lowest point in late March or early April, he declared, adding that North Carolinas may expect some cases to be reported steadily during the winter months.

"The popular idea that polio stops completely when cold weather hits is a misconception," Dr. Norton said.

There has been "no observable effect" on polio incidence because of school openings, he asserted.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW! By FAGALY and SHORTEN

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
STREET IMPROVEMENTS
GREENVILLE, N. C.

Sealed proposals for construction of Curb and Gutter in the City of Greenville, N. C., will be received by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville, N. C., at the City Hall until 10 o'clock A. M., E. S. T., on Wednesday, October 20, 1948, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The work contemplated will consist of approximately:

5300 lieal feet of 30" concrete curb and gutter.

Plans, Specifications and Contract Documents are on file with the City Clerk at the City Hall, Greenville, N. C.; the office of the Engineer, Greenville, N. C.; the office of the Associated General Contractors, Charlotte, N. C., and Raleigh, N. C.

Copies of plans and specifications may be obtanied from the Engineer upon the deposit of $15.00. Deposit will be refunded to those making bona fide bids to the City.

Consideration will be given only to bids of contractors who submit evidence showing that they have been licensed under "An Act to Regulate the Practice of General Contracting," ratified by the General Assembly of North Carolina on March 10, 1925, and as subsequently amended.

A performance bond will be required equal to 100 per cent of the contract price, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of all persons supplying labor and furnishing materials for the construction of the project.

Each proposal shall be accompanied with a deposit of cash or a certified check on some bank or trust company authorized to do business under the laws of the State of North Carolina in an amount equal to not less than five per cent of the proposal, said check to be made to the City of Greenville, N. C., as a guarantee that a contract will be entered into with the City within ten days after the award to the bidder and that the required bond will be executed.

In lieu of a certified check or cash for five per cent of the amount of the bid, the bidder may offer a certified check in an amount equal to two per cent and bid bond in an amount equal to three per cent of the bid, as a guarantee that the contract will be entered into with the City within ten days after the award to the bidder and that the required bond will be executed

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to accept the bid or bids that appear to be to the best interest of the City.

No proposal may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for the receipt of bids for a period of thirty (30) days.

By order of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Greenville, N. C.

Chapter 18

It was a long office of more raw adobe, hung here and there with small Spanish tapestries. Two men sat in straight-backed chairs along the wall—a beefy American and a dapper, florid Mexican youth. Behind a carved desk at the other end of the room, an older man toyed with a salad in a wooden bowl. The older man rose.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Walter James. I have been expecting you."

Walter James advanced to the desk and put his forefinger on it.

"You have the advantage," said Walter James.

"I am sorry," said Big Steve, inclining his head. "My name is Esteban Luz." Slender fingers gripped the proffered olive hand. "The young gentleman is Esteban Luz, my son. This is Mr. Darmer, my executive manager."

The men traded nods.

"Will you sit down, Mr. James? If you will excuse me, I will continue with my luncheon."

Walter James stayed on his feet. "I suppose Dr. Boone told you I was coming?"

"Hardly." Luz sucked in a strand of lettuce. "I had heard you had come to San Diego and were working with the police there."

"Shall we say involved instead of working?"

"Very well. Involved."

Darmer spoke weightily. "I'm sorry to hear that, James. It's safer to stay on the right side of the law."

"I've been trying," smiled Walter James.

"Did you think we could help you with your trouble?" asked the young Luz softly.

"My son means that in my years in Tijuana I have acquired a slight reputation as a local philanthropist. Many people come to me with their needs." Luz added white teeth to his satanic features. The slim man smiled back.

"I'm hardly a charity case," he said. "But the man in Atlanta recommended you highly. He said you were an excellent source."

"Atlanta?" Luz lifted an eyebrow. "I was not aware I had any friends in Atlanta."

"It was one of my friends. And Dr. Boone has passed through Atlanta a great many times."

"Dr. Boone," considered Luz. He pushed the salad bowl aside and placed the fork in it. "It has been quite some time since we have had the pleasure of Dr. Boone's company. How long was it, John?"

Darmer said, "Quite some time."

"Yes. It must have been at least six weeks since he was last here. I hope nothing has happened to him. I doubt that anything could, however—he was such a large, healthy man."

"But so hurried to do business with," said Little Steve. "That was his one and only fault."

"Perhaps his mind was uneasy," suggested Walter James.

"Not from a disturbed conscience," smiled Luz.

"It will be hard on business for a while. The Filipino's dead."

"So I have heard. So many odd bits float across the border and my foolish mind insist on retaining some of the most unrelated. The Filipino is dead. However, he is not alone. There are many dead people, Mr. James."

"They've been stockpiling for years," Darmer added drily.

Luz raised a hand. "And I should note here that I cannot see the connection between the Filipino and your visit."

"I thought perhaps I could help you," said Walter James courteously. "My own woes are many and my burden is heavy, but Allah be willing, I might furnish a new contact. A less fallible contact. The mail must go through, Luz."

"I still fail to see—" began the elder man.

Walter James picked up the telephone receiver. "Let me make a connection," he said flatly He placed a call to XEGC and hummed as he waited. "Advertising, please," he asked and hummed some more. A voice crackled in the earpiece.

"This is Walter James of Southwest Advertising. I'm interested in finding which three days of the past three weeks the Devil's Bar plugs have been run. It's an all-day run, I believe, on a specified day each week. No, that's all right. You may call me back anytime on Senor Luz's private phone. Thank you."

The receiver clicked down in a deep stillness. Young Esteban Luz rose slowly. Darmer stroked the cleft in his chin.

Luz's chest moved, the only indication that he was laughing. "Very interesting," he said. "And how much further can you follow that connection?"

Walter James spread his fingers modestly. "No further—yet. I haven't been in town a week."

"I don't think you should stay in town a full week, Mr. James. Let me point out a few solid facts. I see no reason for my cooperating with you—no possible advantage. Again, I am on my side of the border; the San Diego police are on theirs. It would require virtually an act of your Congress for them to take issue with me."

"I may take issue with you." The slender man's eyes began to fade. Luz held up one finger.

"That is my point. You are not in Atlanta where you should be."

"He's right," said Darmer. "This is Tijuana, this year. This is not Atlanta in 1942, '44 or '45."

Walter James turned. "I'm glad to see the Atlanta report has arrived."

Luz revealed his teeth. "John is outspoken but that is our argument. We have knowledge of your brutality, Mr. James. Should it come to such an uncivilized result as open warfare—" He shook his devil's head sadly.

"You may be right."

"I have never been more positive. You may return to San Diego now."

"And pack your suitcase," added Darmer.

"There are two things you must not do, Mr. James. One is to pay another call on Lieutenant Clapp. Another is to visit a private residence in San Diego—your discretion will tell you which one. Now I must ask you to leave by the patio gate. I hope you will absorb today's lesson. Una leccion de silencio."

A Great Relief For Acid Indigestion, Stomach Distress

A corrected stomach condition will cause you to feel comfortable immediately. Yes, this fact has been time-tested and proved by Doctors. So why wait when there is no need to continually carry a lump in your stomach and feel miserable after every meal.

An appetizing portion of SSS Tonic before meals does wonders for the stomach. This famous medicine contains no soda or other alkalizers, which usually retard digestion. Instead, SSS Tonic with its highly potent ingredients works to tone-up the stomach so it may release its own digestive juice (hydrochloric acid) to break-up food for body use and tissue repair.

SSS Tonic has helped hundreds of thousands of people, without any organic trouble or focal infection, to really feel better, more vigorous, better able to enjoy living.

Take none less than this effectively-proved medicine to relieve your misery. Take SSS to tone-up your stomach, whet the appetite, build-up blood strength! Get SSS Tonic from any Drug Store today.

Explorer Found Forgotten City

Copenhagen—(AP)—A few days before news of his death in Kabul reached Copenhagen, Henning Haslund-Christensen, the Danish explorer, revealed in a report that he had discovered the biggest town of ruins ever found in central Asia.

Haslund-Christensen, leader of a Danish expedition with present headquarters at Kabul, Afghanistan, said the town's name is Lashgari Sarai, and several hundred years ago it was inhabited by at least 10,000.

In the middle of the town there is a huge palace. The palace and hundreds of houses are now filled with and covered by yellow desert dust, but it is easy to see that there had once been a flourishing life.

The expedition is now investigating the cause of the decline of the community, possibly raided by Genghis Khan or Timur Lan, who devastated great areas in Europe and Asia.

At the outset of the U.S. Civil War, there were about 100 high schools in the nation. Today there are more than 29,000.

Warehouse Badly Damaged By Box Cars On Loose

Goldsboro, Oct. 12—(AP)—Six box cars nearly demolished an Atlantic and East Carolina Railroad warehouse here this morning.

The cars were being shifted to a siding and according to Conductor J. C. Jones were going too fast to be stopped. Brick walls on the northern and southern ends of the warehouse were demolished. The southern end fell across a sidewalk.

Luby Warrick of Goldsboro, driver of a Goldsboro Milling Company truck, had stepped from the cab of his truck, which was parked near the warehouse, only a short time before the crash. The truck was badly damaged.

No one was injured.

Good Job Open For National Guardsman

By CHESTER WALSH

National Guard headquarters in Raleigh has authorized employment of an administrative assistant for Battery C, 690th Field Artillery Battalion, stationed in Greenville. Jesse J. Warren Funeral Will Be Held Wednesday

Scotland Neck, Oct 11—Jesse J. Warren, 91 of Blounts Creek died at 1 a. m. Monday at Laurel, Md. He was born Feb. 24 1857, the son of the late Jesse J. and Georgianna T. Warren of the same community.

The funeral service will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Warren's Chapel Methodist Church conducted by the Rev. Graham Eubanks of Aurora, assisted by Dr. M. O. Fletcher and the Rev. Freeman Heath of Washington, N. C. Burial will be in the Taft family cemetery on the Sam Tucker farm near Greenville. His grandsons will serve as pallbearers and his sons will be honorary pall bearers.

Mr. Warren is survived by five sons, O. M. of Richmond, Va., Drs. B. P. and J. M. of Laurel, Md., A. E. of Greensboro and the Rev. M. W. Warren of Scotland Neck, four daughters, Mrs. A. N. Lewis of Richmond, Va., Mrs. George Diamond of Washington, Mrs. F. R. Yarborough Cary, and Mrs. Robert Packard of Durham; he is also survived by 23 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Warren was married three times, first to Fannie Warren of Beaufort County who lives only one month after their marriage. His second marriage was to Emma Louis Ricks who was the mother of Mrs. A. N. Lewis. The third wife Helen Lee Ricks was a sister to his second. They preceeded him in death.

He following farming and timbering as an occupation, 18 years of which were spent attending the business of S. R. Fowls and Son of Washington, N. C., in Blounts Creek and adjoining sections. As a young man he kept the toll bridge across the Pamlico River, belonging to Gen. Bryan Grimes, and when it was sold to the county, Mr. Warren went to Boyds Ferry and managed a store for General Grimes until the General's death.

Mr. Warren joined the Methodist Church at the age of 33 years and continued to take a very active part in all phases of the church work until his health failed. He was instrumental in building the church at Blounts Creek which bears his name.

Jazz Is Coming . . .

the ear of European musicians and music lovers. But strangely, no one paid much attention to them in this country until years later.

Meanwhile American record companies took the metal plates (called matrixes) from which jazz records could be stamped and shipped them to France and England where the jazz market was brisk.

Sometimes the companies did that without ever printing the records in this country.

The surge in American collecting started—slowly—around 1936, when a French book—Hughes Panassie's "Le Jazz Hot"—was translated into English and published here.

(For years, the most important reference work on American jazz has been Frenchman Charles Delaunay's "Discography," which also had to be translated for its American editions.

(This work lists musicians, dates and other information about thousands of jazz records—information Delaunay gathered years after the records had been made, by painstaking correspondence with American musicians, collectors and record companies.)

Many records, long ago dropped from the market, have become valuable. An American collector recently offered $200 for one record made during the 20s by the now-famous King Oliver band. (Oliver died in the 30s, almost penniless.)

Meanwhile, the growth of collecting in this country has encouraged record companies to re-issue many of the important old jazz records. And scores of small new companies have sprung up, recording jazz alone.

One result has been a booming trade among collectors on both sides of the Atlantic—and in Australia and South America, where jazz collecting also is on the upswing.

The American collectors buy and ship to foreign collectors those records which can be obtained here; in return they get records which are available abroad but not in the United States—where they were made.

Sabotaging . . .

Nations Security Council have been running themselves ragged in an effort to mediate between the Muscovites and the western Democracies. Thus far the sphinx of Moscow has kept the mediators fishing for an indication of how Russia regards the western offer to let the Berlin case go back to the Foreign Ministers' Council—provided the Communists first lift the starvation blockade of the German capital.

This being the case, it's a fair guess that Moscow has been deliberately stalling to see how the French strikes progress. Should things worsen in France, we may be sure the Russians will capitalize the situation and become more exacting in their demands. So for the time being France is a barometer by which to tell how the storm goes.

Carriers Amend Rate Hike Plea

Washington, Oct. 12—(AP)— The railroad industry today asked authority to increase freight charges 13 per cent, and estimated the increase would bring in $1,000,000,000 a year.

The carriers filed an amended petition with the Interstate Commerce commission asking the 13 per cent increase. The new application supplants an October 1 petition for an eight percent rate increase.

Vice President Jacob Aronson, of the New York Central system, said the additional five percent advance now being asked is necessary because of the 10 cents an hour wage increase granted railway conductors and trainmen, effective October 16.

Aronson said the wage increase sets a pattern for the whole industry and if applied to all rail workers will cost the railroads $371,000,000 a year in wages and payroll taxes.

The new petition asked that the ICC grant an eight percent increase immediately while the commission is considering the proposed 13 per cent advance as a permanent part of the rate structure.
