Truman Winds Up Talkathon Swing

Hits Trail For Washington After Grueling Six-Day Campaign In Mid-West; Further Trips Already Planned; Confident Of 'Winning'

Board Truman Campaign Train, Oct. 16 (AP)—President Truman spoke confidently of "winning" at the trail for Washington today to close another talkathon campaign swing covering 3,500 miles.

His six-day midwestern tour, as grueling as a six-day bicycle race—and with about as little time out for rest—brought his total of pre-election speeches to 216. He is due back at the capital at 4 p. m.

The President's effort to talk his way back into the White House takes only a brief week-end recess before he starts out again about daybreak Monday.

He flies then to Miami for a "non-political" speech to the American Legion convention. He flies into Raleigh, N. C., late Monday for two speeches there Tuesday.

After that comes the wind-up—a flight to Pittsburgh next Saturday for a major talk and a final rail-road swing starting by special train from Washington.

There will be speeches at Chicago Oct. 25, Cleveland Oct. 26, Boston Oct. 27, New York Oct. 28, Brooklyn Oct. 29 and St. Louis. And not even the President knows how many "whistle stop" talks he will make in between these major night appearances.

With 15,488 miles behind him and 7,000 miles to go, the President insists at every appearance that "we are going to win." He appeals for the large vote he says will benefit the Democrats.

Taking cognizance of public opinion polls which show his Republican opponent, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, far in the lead, Mr. Truman tells his crowds that the only "poll" that counts is the one Nov. 2 in which the voters cast their ballots.

The President has expressed amazement at the size of the turnout he has had all over the country. Police estimated the crowd which heard his rear platform address at Kokomo, Ind., yesterday at close to 40,000.

"We believe that the people are entitled to prosperity to health, to education, to social security," he told a huge audience bunched in the streets surrounding the city's general building. State police Capt. Nate Bush estimated 125,000 greeted the President at his speech and during a downtown parade.

Dim Outlook On Greek Civil War

Envoy Says Operations Against Rebels Unsatisfactory

Athens, Oct. 16 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady said today Greek military operations against Communist-led rebels are not satisfactory. He declared more effective cooperation between the Greek government and American mission is needed.

Grady's written statement was in reply to written questions submitted by American correspondents seeking to make public the reason for Greece's failure so far to clean out the guerrillas.

His reply was handed to correspondents shortly before the expected arrival of U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall to investigate the situation.

Authoritative American and Greek quarters said Marshall will find a gloomy picture, contrary to the general optimism following the winning of the Grammos mountain campaign this summer.

In his most recent report to Grady on the military situation U. S. Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet said it appeared that Markos was capable of maintaining a force of 25,000 in Greece with the help of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

Van Fleet said this was despite the fact that 23,361 rebels have been killed or captured. Also despite the fact that the U. S. has delivered 142 aircraft, 7,000 bombs, 10-142 motor vehicles, 1,450,000 uniforms, 4,729 radios, six motor gun boats and other equipment.

Again Protest Firing Practice

Berlin, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Americans today protested against a Russian announcement they will practice anti-aircraft fire at towed targets in the allied airfield corridor. U. S. authorities charged it would be a dangerous violation of air safety rules.

The Russians posted a warning at the four-power Berlin air safety center that they will conduct the drill today at their Haseberg airport in the Beckburg corridor.

Dewey Takes Up Hull's Argument On Partisanship

Bluntly Disputes Assertion He Did Not Originate Bipartisan Policies

En Route with Dewey to Indiana, Oct. 16 (AP)—A verbal tangle between Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and elder statesman Cordell Hull raised a new point of controversy in the presidential campaign today.

The exchange came last night as Dewey, in a speech here, called for a "vital, realistic foreign policy" as a cornerstone of abundance and prosperity for the nation's farmers.

Heading for Rensselaer, Ind., and a mid-morning speech in the home town of Rep. Charles Halleck, Dewey was on record as disputing Hull's claim that the Republican nominee is guilty of making "extravagant statements."

Hull said it was "incorrect" for Dewey to say that the New York governor had originated the idea of the bi-partisan foreign policy during the 1944 presidential campaign.

Dewey stepped outside the prepared text of a formal campaign speech in St. Paul last night to dispute bluntly this assertion of the former secretary of state.

Four years ago, Dewey said, the choice fell to him whether to expose "some of the blunders and mistakes of the Roosevelt Administration or to remain silent in the interest of the war effort."

"I made the decision, and it was all my own," the Republican nominee said, "that it was more important that we preserve the unity of our country in the crisis of war and accordingly I did not do so."

He said he had appointed a representative—presumably John Foster Dulles, then and now his foreign affairs advisor—"to work in the creation of the great new organization for peace in this world."

"Secretary Hull accepted his cooperation handsomely and we succeeded in lifting the whole problem of the partisanship of a political campaign," the New York governor continued.

Casualties from yesterday's fighting are reported to be heavy. The clashes came as the United Nations met in Paris to ponder means of bringing lasting peace to Palestine.

Atomic-Powered Aircraft Nearer

Theory Stage Is Over; Now Ready For Drawing Boards

Baltimore, Oct. 16 (AP)—An Oak Ridge scientist says the atom-powered airplane has passed the theory stage and is now ready for the engineers' drawing boards.

Such a plane might have a practically unlimited flying range. Not long ago a city college of New York professors said atomic air planes would be flying around within seven years—the first vehicles of any kind to be propelled by nuclear energy.

Now David M. Poole has told the Baltimore Society of Automotive Engineers that a scheme has already been worked out for a mobile atomic pile.

Ask Cancellation Denham's Power

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has been asked to wipe out the power of its general counsel, Robert N. Denham, to seek court injunctions against unions.

The AFL International Typographical Union made the request yesterday, contending Denham has "abused" the power in actions against the printers and other labor organizations.

A federal judge in Indiana held the ITU guilty of contempt Thursday, acting on Denham's request. The court ruled the union had continued to demand illegal contract terms from newspaper publishers in the face of a court injunction against such practices.

In its brief to the NLRB, the ITU questioned whether the board had the right to delegate to Denham its power under the Taft-Hartley act to seek injunctions against unfair labor practices.

Even if the board did have this right, the union said, it should revoke Denham's injunction-seeking authority now, because "this power has been so abused by the general counsel as to necessitate revesting it in the board."

The union contended that the board was required by law to hold a hearing before transferring the authority to Denham in the first place.

Losses By Fire Nearly $165,000 In Nine Months

City fire department records show that for the first nine months of this year fire losses in Greenville were $164,966.13 in both buildings and building contents; over $300,000 more than losses for the entire year of 1947.

During the nine month period, local firemen answered 82 calls within the city limits and 14 calls out of town. Last year a total of 146 fire calls were answered by the Greenville firemen.

Two fires, the Curtis Perkins fire and the North Side Lumber Co. fire, accounted for $151,900 of the fire damage. Beside these two large fires within the city in the past months, Chief George Gardner said the fire losses have been comparatively low in Greenville this year.

More American Vessels Tied Up

San Francisco, Oct. 16 (AP)—The number of American flag ships tied up in the 45-day West Coast maritime strike increased to 222 today, lending an increasing urgency to the cautious peace talks between waterfront employers and Allan Haywood, CIO national vice-president.

Haywood and a sub-committee of the Waterfront Employers Association were still discussing his offer for a national CIO guarantee of any new contracts with the four CIO unions involved in the strike.

Claim Vishinsky Alienated Other Council Members

Delegate Says 'Boner' Swinging 'Neutrals' To Side Of Western Powers

Paris, Oct. 16 (AP)—Western power officials said today Soviet Delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky had alienated the Security Council "neutrals" by challenging their motives in attempting to mediate the Berlin problem.

A French delegate said Vishinsky had pulled a "boner." Other Western spokesmen said he had pushed the "neutrals" over to their side by charging a trap was being baited for Russia.

Vishinsky refused to answer questions on the Berlin blockade and the four-power Moscow negotiations, repeating the Russian argument that the Security Council had no business discussing Berlin.

The questions were put to all four parties to the Berlin dispute by Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia, acting chairman of the Security Council during the Berlin debate. The U. S., Britain and France promised their answers at next Tuesday's council session.

The "neutrals" meanwhile decided to meet again today to try to work out a possible solution to the impasse.

The six "neutrals," led by Bramuglia, have been trying to find a way out of the impasse since Oct. 6 but after yesterday's meeting the four powers were as far apart as ever.

Vishinsky broke his silence at the meeting only to accuse the would-be mediators of trying to trap Russia into taking part in the debate. "It is naive to believe the Soviet Union will swallow this bait," he said.

In a strongly worded reply, Bramuglia said "I therefore most firmly and categorically deny that in any of our minds was there any question of double dealing."

The Palestine question, which was taken up by the Assembly's Political Committee yesterday, was dealt out of the picture by a report from the subcommittee on atomic energy which will be taken up by the committee Monday.

N.C. Dixiecrats Drop Support

The States' Rights Democratic party reversed itself yesterday and declared it has withdrawn endorsement of all "regular Democratic candidates for state and congressional offices."

The announcement was made in Hendersonville by Philip Finn, Jr., state chairman of the party. He said the action was taken because of the "failure of the candidates to support publicly the platform and principles of the States' Rights party."

President Directs Defense Department To Act 'Without Delay' To Organize All Military Reserve Units Required For Security

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 16 (AP)—President Truman announced today he has directed the defense department to "organize all military reserve units required for the national security."

The presidential orders, requiring action "without delay," called for establishment of "vigorous and progressive reserve training programs."

It was directed to Defense Secretary Forrestal and the heads of the armed service departments under him.

The President told Forrestal to assign an active, capable, high-ranking officer to head the reserve program in each department of the national defense establishment.

Mr. Truman signed an executive order aboard his Washington-bound campaign train shortly before midnight, to carry out the program.

It says the national security requires that "reserve components of appropriate strength and maximum effectiveness exist throughout the nation."

In a statement, Mr. Truman said the organized reserve corps of the Army and Air Force have not made as rapid progress as other branches of the service in building up their postwar strength.

Forrestal was directed to report within 60 days on progress under the order.

The President said his order was intended to "give the balance necessary to our national defense in its broadest aspect."

Mr. Truman paid "particular tribute to the progress which has been made by the Navy Department and the members of the naval and Marine Corps reserve in building up their postwar reserve organization and in forwarding their training programs."

In much the same way, he said, the National Guard has "largely perfected" its postwar organization. He spoke of its success in recruiting.

Progress of the Army and Air Force reserve corps has not been as rapid, he said, "for many reasons." He assured them that the "full force of the government will be exerted toward creating appropriate and effective reserve establishments at the earliest possible moment."

Mr. Truman's statement spoke of our "long-standing and wise tradition" to rely heavily on reserves. His action, he said, is expected to help build defense forces consistent with "our democratic traditions and our position in the world today."

Probe Cause Of Fire At Naval Air Station

Quonset Point, R.I., Oct. 16 (AP)—As the ruins cooled, the Navy today sought cause of a roaring, greated fire which yesterday caused loss estimated by officers at "well over $1,000,000 to the Quonset Point Naval Air Station."

Western Successes

Increasing Indications Democracies Finally Have Red Aggression In Europe Well In Hand; View Supported By General Clay; Sweeping Claim By Hoffman

Signs are increasing that the democracies finally have the Communist aggression in Europe fairly well in hand.

Your correspondent has been calling attention to this gratifying tendency but returns to the subject because the success of the western allies is a much needed antidote to the dismal predictions of war we have been hearing. While we shouldn't allow ourselves to be fooled into any feeling of false security in these obviously dangerous days, there is sound reason for encouragement.

Testimony in support of this thesis comes from General D. Clay, American military commander in Germany, who expresses the belief that "Soviet expansion will not only be halted, it will recede." If the western powers continue to stand firm in Berlin. In connection with this viewpoint it is interesting to recall the quotation which I gave you yesterday from Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, who says in his new book, "education in a divided world."

"If Great Britain, France, and the United States are firm in their determination to hold positions recognized as just by world opinion, I

War Scare Hits Manila; Expect Sudden Outbreak

Manila, Oct. 6 (AP)—Pessimistic reports on the outlook for world peace from Philippine diplomats and observers sent a wave of foreboding through the country this week.

The feeling was heightened somewhat by a presidential warning of a possible emergency and a front page news summary in the Manila Times which said:

"Confidential reports in Manila from the smart boys in the United States say they look for war before the November 2 election."

President Elpidio Quirino advised a joint meeting of his cabinet and council of state to condition the country for a possible emergency. Philippine legislators traveling abroad were called home.

The Wage Hour Law

An ABC On A New Interpretation By The U. S. Supreme Court; 'Premium' Or 'Differential' Pay; How It Can Work In Different Ways; Some Examples

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—This is an ABC on a new interpretation by the U. S. Supreme Court of the wage hour law.

The government begins enforcing it Monday. It sprang out of a case involving longshoremen. Before going further, remember the wage-hour law.

That law set up the 40-hour week for people working in places whose business or products cross state lines—places, that is, in interstate commerce.

Which means: In such places a worker gets regular pay for working 40 hours a week, plus time-and-one-half for every hour worked over 40 hours.

Suppose it happened that by working one hour extra one day, he winds up the week with 41 hours. Then his total pay for the week is $40.25. That's because he gets the 25 cents premium pay for that one hour he worked Tuesday over his regular eight.

Suppose it happened that by working one hour extra one day, he winds up the week with 41 hours. Then his total pay for the week is $40.50. How come?

'Ranch Style' Houses Popular Despite Higher Building Costs

Because of inconsistencies in human nature, the rambling style of one-story houses, popularized as the "ranch house," has been growing in popularity while building costs have been mounting. Such spread out designs with wings and patios cost more to build than two-story dwellings with the same number and size of rooms. Also, they require larger sites.

A rambling one-story dwelling calls for more foundation work, more roof construction and more construction for usable space obtained than a compact two-story, nearly rectangular design.

Although many clients and their architects, too, shun the idea of a basementless house in northern states, they accept a rambling structure with part basement and with the rest as unexcavated as any basementless structure.

Aside from costs, the smaller size of families has been distinctly reflected in architecture.

"The American family of today is smaller by more than one-fourth than its predecessor," said the Woman's Foundation report.

Architects are aware of the significance of this. For instance, Anika observes that the smaller family "has been an economic necessity, because it is not possible for the average parent to feed, care for and educate a large number of children to the level which is now expected as standard."

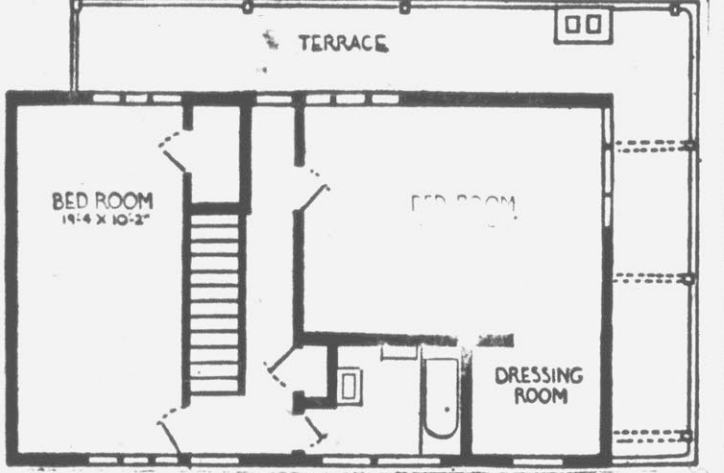

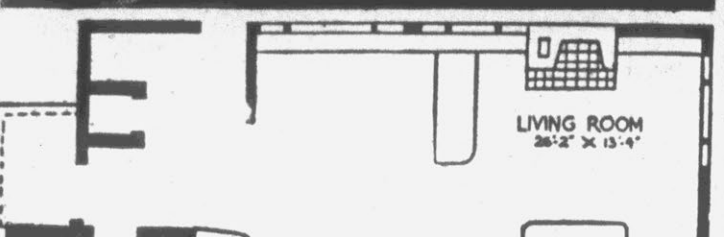

"This in itself has brought the size demand for houses down considerably," he says. "The cost of maintenance, too—an important item in home ownership—has forced owners to reconsider the contemplated size of homes."

"The economic necessity of both man and wife working in a very large number of cases has also influenced the trend toward smaller and more efficient homes, which can be taken care of after working hours."

"Just the fact that the modern wife spends more time out of her home than in it, makes her demands for a home different than those of the wives of a few years ago, when the home was their only diversion."

So although the American home buyer still seems to lean over backward when confronted with the idea of a "machine for living," he is making concessions to the functional and has come a long way from the barnlike mansion and old-fashioned front veranda of grandfather's day.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

This modern style house was built before the war for $7,257. It was designed by William Lescaze of 211 East 48th Street, New York City.

Lescaze points out that the plan proves that effective modern styling can be built into small home units. It has 23,200 cubic feet, is arranged for living in conjunction with a good sized garden with adequate sun exposure in the house itself.

The house is built of gray white claddings and has full insulation. The hall and dining alcove are really part of the living room giving an air of spaciousness to the interior.

The idea of spaciousness is carried into the other rooms where uncluttered planning provides freedom of movement.

Medical-Dental Society Meets

Dr. S. M. Crisp and A. M. Mumford were hosts to the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society at their regular October meeting on Thursday night, October 14. A delightful chicken dinner was served by the ladies of the Episcopal Church in the Greenville Parish House. President R. B. Haar presided.

After a brief business meeting Mr. Stuart Carr, chairman of the board of trustees of the Pitt County Memorial Hospital, gave a report of the progress on the new hospital. He stated that the final working plans had been submitted to the N. C. Hospital Care Commission and that he hoped that their approval of the plans and an official allocation of state and federal funds to the project will be made in the near future. If this occurs bids on the construction should be received early in 1949 and if accepted construction would start shortly afterwards. It is believed that the hospital would be ready for opening in about two years from the start of construction. Pitt General Hospital will be closed when the new hospital is ready for use. There will be no outpatient department run by the new hospital.

Mr. Herbert Waldrop, chairman of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association spoke to the Society on the plans for the 1948 Seal Sale, which will be under the auspices and direction of the Service League. He also announced the plans for holding a county wide tuberculosis mass X-ray program early next year. The Society gave its unanimous endorsement of both the Seal and the Mass X-ray program and expressed willingness to cooperate in an even more extensive tuberculosis finding program involving skin testing of as many children in the county as possible since children under fifteen are not eligible for the X-ray.

The reports of the acting health officer, Dr. J. M. Barrett, for the months of August and September showed marked activity on the part of the health department in immunizations of children and the satisfactory status of the county health in relation to contagious diseases.

Parade Was Gala Event Yesterday

By CHESTER WALSH

The "pep" parade with two brass bands yesterday afternoon to back up and cheer up the East Carolina Teachers College Pirates to win their football game with the Western Carolina Teachers College Cata-mounts at Guy Smith stadium last night, was a colorful affair.

Several thousand persons crowded the streets to witness the parade. The line of march was from the college to the courthouse, where a "pep" program from cheer leaders and others and music by the college and Greenville high school bands was broadcast over WGTC.

Mayor Jack Boyd made an eloquent appeal for support of the college program.

The parade and "pep" meeting were inspiring. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the football game between WCTC and PCTC, made it a success, and evidenced the fact that the people of Greenville are going to back up and support President John D. Messick and the college in developing an outstanding athletics program and somehow secure a stadium.

The Jaycees did a great piece of community work last night when they transported hundreds of college students to the gridiron game at Guy Smith stadium.

The college and high school bands staged excellent programs during the game. The ECTC band, in a "choo-choo" engine formation, played "I Am Working on the Railroad," and made a big hit. The college band played appropriate numbers during "time called" periods and was given a nice round of applause by the spectators.

Brooks Reports On Convention In Asheville

President Nathan C. Brooks, at the Kiwanis Club's supper meeting last night, made an interesting report of the delegates to the recent Carolinas Kiwanis District convention at the George Vanderbilt hotel in Asheville the first of this week. Other delegates to the convention were Wyatt Highsmith and Henry L. Andrews.

Highsmith had charge of last night's program and presented Horace Godfrey of State College, who discussed production and marketing, as directed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The speaker gave some valuable information and he put it over in an entertaining and interesting manner.

Judge Dink James had a birthday and donated a nickel for each year of his age. Regan Jones won the attendance prize.

The annual "ladies' night" banquet will be held at the college dining room next Friday night at 7:30.

United Nations Day Services To Be Held Here On October 24

The growing concern of citizens everywhere about world affairs and the prospects for peace has led to the proclamation of the week of October 17-24 as United Nations week which is to culminate in special observance of October 24 as United Nations day throughout the country.

In Greenville, the Woman's Club and the Ministerial Association have planned a special union service to be held in Memorial Baptist Church on the evening of October 24 with Dr. Robert Lee Humber as speaker.

ACC Homecoming Planned Oct. 23

Wilson, Oct. 16—Atlantic Christian College of Wilson is planning to entertain hundreds of the former students on Saturday, Oct. 23, when the annual Homecoming Day will be observed. The day's activities will begin at one-thirty Saturday when dormitories will be open for inspection and the various fraternities and sororities will help open house for their members.

The officers of the Alumni Association are Russell T. Roebuck, Wilson, President, Milton Adams, Greenville, vice-president and Miss Claudia Lucas, Wilson, secretary.

Animal fats were used as lubricants before the petroleum industry was developed.

Fireproof Products Climb With Output Of Asbestos

Asbestos cement building products, in heavy demand for postwar construction, should be in somewhat greater supply this year if the mining of raw asbestos continues the upward trend it showed in 1947, according to the Asbestos Cement Products Association.

The only natural fireproof fibers known to man, asbestos fibers are combined with portland cement, also fireproof, to form incombustible weatherproof building materials for homes, farm structures, industrial plants and commercial buildings. Reinforcement of the cement with asbestos gives the finished products unusual strength as well as durability.

In recent years production of these materials has been limited by a world-wide shortage of asbestos due to war and postwar conditions. Since there are few asbestos deposits in the United States, most of the fibers used in domestic manufacture are imported.

Last year both imports and domestic output of asbestos were greater than in 1946. Imports totaled nearly 595,000 tons, compared with 456,000 tons the previous year. This represented 96 per cent of all the asbestos used in the United States during the year. Ninety-one per cent of that total came from Canada, world's leading producer of the mineral.

Domestic production reached a record 25,000 tons, 74 per cent more than the 14,400 tons mined in 1946. Most of this came from Vermont. The remainder was produced in Arizona, North Carolina, Georgia and California.

Introduced in the early 1900s, asbestos cement building materials have gained widespread public acceptance for remodeling as well as new construction. They are available in the form of siding, roofing shingles, general purpose building board and corrugated sheets. The latter two products are adaptable either to exterior or interior use. Aside from their incombustibility

Rives - Lett Vows Spoken In Sanford Thursday Evening

On Thursday evening, October 14th, at 8 o'clock in the Moore Union Christian Church, Miss Mary Eunice Lett, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lett of Jonesboro Heights Station, Sanford, N. C., became the bride of Lombe H. Rives, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Little Rives of Greenville, N. C. The Reverend George M. Talley, pastor of the church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The vows were spoken before an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and white dahlias against a background of woodwinds and lily lighted tapers cast a soft glow on the wedding scene.

Mrs. C. O. Norris, pianist, of Sanford, and Robert Earl Clark, vocalist, of Raleigh, rendered the nuptial music. Mr. Clark's selections included "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer," as well as the recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, W. Lane Elder of Siler City, wore a gown of white candlelight satin, the bodice fashioned on princess lines, with the leg of mutton sleeves ending in a ruffle point at the wrist. The skirt fell into a long flowing train with a full length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and chrysanthemums entered with a purple orchid and showered with tube roses.

Miss Nellie Gray Lett, attended her sister as maid of honor. Miss Lett wore an orchid taffeta gown fashioned with low neckline and a full skirt, carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Eleanor Rosser, of Broadway, and Mrs. R. E. Clark of Raleigh, wore gowns of yellow taffeta and carried nosegays of lavender chrysanthemums, Mrs. R. J. Sykes, of Broadway and Miss Marion Gunter of Sanford wore gowns of aqua taffeta and carried nosegays of pink chrysanthemums.

The flower girl, Miss Peggy Ann White, young cousin of the bride, wore a white taffeta gown made identical to that of the bride and carried a nosegay of white roses.

Mr. Ronnie Cashwell, of Fayetteville, served as best man and the ushers included Mr. Molette Blanchard, of Fuquay Springs and Mr. Jimmy Roberts of Sanford, N. C.

The bride's grandmother wore a black dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose a blue fallie crepe evening dress and a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride party and out of town guests were entertained at a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lett.

On Wednesday evening, October 13th, immediately after the rehearsal, Mrs. S. H. Rosser of Broadway, entertained at a cake cutting at her home.

After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. For travel, Mrs. Rives wore a suit of gray gabardine, with brown accessories. For her dress she lifted the orchid from her bouquet.

Informal Reception For New Members Junior Woman's Club

On Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Spilman, the Junior Woman's Club entertained its new members and their husbands at a delightful informal reception. The entire lower floor was thrown on suite for the occasion. Unique and attractive arrangements of fall flowers were used profusely throughout the home.

Mrs. E. K. Allen, president, and Mr. Allen greeted guests as they arrived, and introduced them to Mrs. Ernie Willis, membership chairman, and Mr. Willis who presented each new member and officers with an attractive and colorful corsage of autumnal flowers which were fashioned and made by Mrs. R. W. Davenport, a club member.

Mrs. R. C. Pearce, entertainment chairman, and Mr. Pearce received in the music room where Mrs. Pearce directed contests and group games during a "get acquainted" hour of fun. Mrs. Olivia M. Ward favored the group with several special selections and numerous requests on her accordion. Group singing of songs familiar to all with Mrs. Ward at the piano was thoroughly enjoyed.

Guests were invited into the beautifully appointed dining room where Mr. and Mrs. Pearce presided at the punch bowl. Assisting in serving the nuts, minis, iced cakes and colorful mixed sandwiches, which were designed as flower blossoms, were Mesdames Jack Moyer Jr., Charles Marston, Roger Collins, Jr., L. W. Edwards and Miss Helen Perkins.

New members of the club are: Mesdames Clifford Taft, Johnston Dees, Sam Weeks, Claude Pope, Morris Merritt, Earl Fleming, E. W. Shiplett, W. Vernon Tyson, Thurman Dell, Henry Brown, L. Mrs. Rudolph Willman of East Carolina Teachers College gave a most interesting talk on Folk Songs, after which Bob Mays sang two very lovely numbers, accompanied by Leon Jackson of BCTC.

Copies of catchy tunes were passed to the group and all joined in singing several familiar numbers. Mrs. Proctor in her usual charming manner rendered two lovely numbers.

After a short business session a beautiful walnut gavel was presented to the club as a gift from Mrs. C. H. Edwards.

The new books for the year were distributed by Mrs. N. O. Warren, librarian. The club then adjourned to meet next Tuesday with Mrs. Lyman Ormond.

Strength FOR THE DAY

FORGET YOUR DOUBTS FOR A WHILE

In his novel "Keys of the Kingdom," A. J. Cronin gives us the picture of a skeptical physician filled with a desire to help his fellow men but utterly unable to believe in the reality of things spiritual. He goes to China to visit a friend, a missionary priest, and while there gives of himself so unselfishly that he falls victim of the disease and dies. As he is about to pass away he tells to his friend the priest, "I still can't believe in God." And the wise answer which his friend and spiritual counselor gives him is, "What difference does it make? He believes in you."

Many people make too much of their religious doubts. Belief is easy for some and difficult for others. If you find it easy to believe, rejoice; if you find it difficult, don't take the matter so seriously that your happiness is destroyed and your efficiency impaired. Stop emphasizing the things you don't believe and begin to emphasize the things you do believe. Live a life of such brightness and usefulness every day that if it should turn out that the claims of religion are true, you will be found on the side of the angels.

There is no single remedy for the cure of skepticism, but certainly we often make this spiritual condition worse, as we frequently make a physical condition worse, by thinking too much about it.

Around Capitol Square

By LINN NISBET
REGISTRATION — Thad Eure, Secretary of State, had a bright idea the other day when he passed along to Jefferson Wilson, head of the Young Democrat Clubs campaign to get every Democratic voter registered. Eure recalled that in 1944 some 60,000 persons in military service requested absentee ballots. That request included also application for registration in a special book. The special registration was valid only so long as the voter remained in the armed services. Many of the former soldiers, sailors and marines think that since they are registered and voted in 1944 they are eligible to vote now without further registration. Since they are not those special registration lists constitute the best working basis for the forces concerned with getting names on the regular precinct registration books. One YDC enthusiast observed that the special registration was a good "sucker" list, as contrasted with the "sucker" lists made up by many mail order houses.

CONSTITUTION — Believes it or not, no state department or agency has available for general distribution copies of the North Carolina constitution. The constitution is printed in the official state manual, in session laws and journals of the legislature, and in the general statutes and in many school textbooks. Besides, hundreds of thousands of copies in pamphlet form have been printed and distributed during the past few years. Demand has exhausted the supply and right now there isn't anywhere that multiple copies of the basic document can be had.

REQUESTS — This fact became evident a day or so ago when several section officials from eastern counties requested copies for use of local registrars. It is fairly obvious that back of the requests is the purpose to use the constitution to test applicants for registration.

QUALIFICATION — The constitution itself sets out among the qualifications for registration and voting that the applicant must be able to "read and write any section of the constitution in the English language." This provision cannot be reasonably enforced unless each of the nearly 2,000 precinct registrars have copies of the constitution immediately at hand.

RESPONSIBILITY — From time to time the secretary of state's office the department of public instruction the department of justice and the state news-advertising division have printed and distributed the state constitution, but there is no fixed responsibility upon any state agency to see that supplies are kept up. Incidentally, the printing bill on this item alone is considerable.

AMENDMENTS — Speaking of the constitution brings to mind the four amendments to be voted upon by the people next month. Sentiment is appraised by your reporter during the congressional district ery is strongly in favor of the proposal to increase pay of legislators from $600 a term to $1200. Almost as much support is evident for the proposal to vote against the ballot box instead of against the registration books in special tax and bond elections; in other words, to let the actual votes determine result rather than having all non-voting registrants counted against the issue. There is apparently less enthusiasm for the proposal to raise the county general fund tax levy from the present maximum of 15 cents to 25 cents. The proposal to remove the debt limitation for state, counties and municipalities has still fewer supporters. Presently governmental units cannot issue bonds or incur debt for more than two-thirds of the amount of debt retired during the previous fiscal period, except by vote of the people. This limitation works a hardship on many units that are now out of debt and permit such units still in debt to get in deeper without popular vote. However, many people oppose removal of the limitation and chances are this amendment will be turned down by the voters. The legislative pay raise and the "vote against the box" proposals have better than even chance, while the general fund levy amendment stands about 50-50.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York — (AP) — A lanky Connecticut Yankee who is a pioneer of railroading in a small way now wants to set all America bubble gumming.

The people who engage in railroading in a small way are those who run miniature Choo-Choos around their living rooms and backyards. Supplying them with Choo-Choos is now a $60,000,000 industry.

As for bubble gumming, a coming indoor sport, let William Russell Smith, the Connecticut Yankee, explain.

"How would you like to have a double-barreled toy gun that fires soap bubbles and cardboard bullets?" "I don't know what else life can offer me," I said. "But just what would I do with it?"

"Well, when things get dull," explained Smith. "You pull one trigger and out float two or maybe three bubbles. Then you pull the other trigger. It automatically fires harmless little cardboard pellets.

"The idea," said Smith, "is to hit the soap bubbles with the pellets and break them. The bubbles, I mean. The gun holds 800 to 1,000 soap bubbles and 300 to 400 pellets, and of course you can purchase refills."

"This sounds like a wonderful way to spend a rainy day at the office, and I promptly accepted. It expect to have a fine time—if my boss doesn't confiscate the bubble gun. It turned out that the anti-bubble gun was only a side gadget with Smith, who is the Thomas A. Edison of model railroading.

The dry-voiced, 53-year old machinist holds or has applied for 100 patents in the field.

"And please don't call them toy trains," said Smith. "It makes the kids mad—and their fathers, too. The dads get as much fun out of them as the kids. And model trains aren't exactly toys anyway. They're built to the same scale as real locomotives."

The big problem in the industry is to obtain realism.

"The kids want the little trains to look and act as much as possible like real trains," said Smith. "He is known in the annals of model railroading as the first man to make a baby engine smoke."

"Every man with a model railroad had tried to produce smoke," he said. "It took me ten years to do it. I had to find a way to get smoke that was harmless and had no disagreeable odor. It also had to come from an ingredient that wouldn't stain or injure furniture or fabrics or rust metal."

He found the answer in a secret chemical formula. The fluid, placed in a container within the engine's smokestack and heated by a tiny electric wire, poured out smoke in volumes.

Smith also is the innovator of miniature automatic switching light signals. This year he came up with the first "talking station." It has vocal effects and announces the departure of trains.

As model railroads have become more complicated, their cost has risen.

"There are about a million fans in this country," said Smith. "They used to spend only about $10 or $12 a year for equipment. Now they average about $60."

To be an inventor, he said, it is helpful also to be "lazy, a liar, and willing to bite off more than you can chew—and then go ahead and chew it.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington — Dr. Pedro Theotônio Pereira, the Portuguese Ambassador to the United States, is an authority on Portuguese art and antiques and is personally directing the decorating of his country's new embassy.

A fine old Gothic style mansion on Ambassador Road, with gardens overlooking the Rock Creek Park, is being rebuilt as an embassy. It is expected to be ready this year.

The interior has been executed almost entirely with materials imported from Portugal. Huge cargoes of furniture and decorative objects were recently brought over on the steamships Sete Gidades and Ribeira Grande. An important cargo was a collection of marble weighing 13 tons, taken from the famous quarries of Pero Pinheiro and Estremoz, to be used in the state hall and in the dining salon of the new embassy.

Officials of the embassy say the Portuguese government is eager that the Washington diplomatic mission be a "permanent example of the Portuguese art which attained so much fame during the 18th century." The Washington Embassy is not the first Portuguese mission which Dr. Pereira took a hand in building. While an ambassador to Spain he took time to see to the building of an embassy in Madrid. More recently, as his country's representative in Brazil, he saw work begun on the building of a house in Portuguese 18th century style near the American Embassy in Rio de Janeiro.

Ambassador Pereira arrived in this country July 29 1947. A graduate of Lisbon University in higher mathematics and later specializing in actuarial calculus in Switzerland, Mr. Pereira was called into the government at 29 to be under-secretary of state for labor and social security.

He was made Minister of Commerce in 1935 but left this post in another three years to be Ambassador in Spain. In 1945 Dr. Pereira was sent as ambassador to Brazil which, together with Portugal and the Portuguese territories in Africa, Asia and the South West Pacific, makes up the 80 million Portuguese speaking people of the world.

Unpretentious and friendly, the ambassador has made many friends in this country during the brief time he has been here. His favorite sports are sailing and riding. An enthusiastic participant in his country's major regattas, he gave the King Charles Cup in Portugal, for 40-foot boats. Only a short time before coming to this country, he took part in the big and risky race to the Berlinga Islands off the Portuguese coast.

He and his wife have two daughters and a son.

Junior Chamber Banquet Event Of Fall Season

By CHESTER WALSH
"Happy days were here again" Thursday night, when the Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual "ladies' night" banquet and dance were held at the Rotary building, with Bancroft Moseley as master of ceremonies and Mrs. Sarah Barnes Sugg, alias B. B. Sugg, Jr., presiding as president, and Quinn Bostic, alias Godfrey Oakley, speech-making on "how to make money in the insurance business," and Godfrey Oakley, alias Quinn Bostic, telling "how to get rich in the furniture business."

The "ladies' night" banquet was one of the outstanding social events of the fall season. Fellowship, good cheer, comradeship, music and singing and dancing featured the brilliant affair. Everybody was on the entertaining program, directed by "M. C." Bancroft Moseley. The contests were unique and mirth-provoking. Prizes were awarded winners.

Special guests at the meeting were Billy Harrison of Rocky Mount, president of the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce; President Ernest F. Thornton and Past President "Bill" Hatfield of the Winston-Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce; Bill Pruden and B. B. Sugg, Jr.; Mrs. Sugg in the role of Jaycee president, and Quinn Bostic essaying the role of Godfrey Oakley and Oakley impersonating Bostic were hits that would make good in Hollywood.

Sam Northrop, Mary Andrews Whitchard and Carl Anderson, talented vocalists, made a distinctive hit in singing several songs and gave an encore.

Bancroft Moseley's theme for the meeting was: "The married men are scaring we single men to death about matrimony." A song skit by Moseley, Bill Pruden and B. B. Sugg, Jr.; Mrs. Sugg in the role of Jaycee president, and Quinn Bostic essaying the role of Godfrey Oakley and Oakley impersonating Bostic were hits that would make good in Hollywood.

Mrs. Chester Walsh won the attendance prize, a French importation in glassware, described as "Not yet," and regaled in oink and straw from the Rhone Valley in France, to protect its intrinsic contents. Master of Ceremonies Moseley said: "Those participating in the stunts were Mrs. Charles Cobb, Van Fleming Jr., Mrs. Louis Ficklen, Howard Hodges, Hyman Phillips, Tom Rivers, Jimmy Harris, Paul Todd and Miss Frances Heath and others. The floor show proceeded so swiftly that it was impossible for the reporter to get the names of all of the stunt participants.

The master of ceremonies, to close the delightful banquet, led the guests upstairs in the Rotary building for an old-time square dance and refreshments, with Clyde Landig's four-piece orchestra providing the music. J. L. Taylor, "impresario of the dance," called figures.

G. L. Edwards To Speak At ECTC

G. L. (Loren) Edwards, principal of the Y. E. Smith school and former Pitt county man, will speak at ECTC Tuesday in one of a series of appearances before teacher groups in various district meetings throughout the state.

Edwards, who is the vice-president of the Principals division, North Carolina Education Association, in previous appearances has spoken to the principals of the Western district in Asheville and to the Southwestern group in Lumberton. On November 5 in Raleigh he will speak to the north central district meeting of the Education Association of the social science teachers.

Chapter 22
"No. This coffee will be plenty, redhead."
"Does your stomach hurt much?"
"Not much. But I'm not hungry." Between mouthfuls of bread and barbecued pork, she said, "It's nice being alone with you here. I mean, all these other people are shut up in their own cars. It's almost like being alone. But I wish we'd go home and let you get some rest, Walter."

He flicked his eyes across the rear-view mirror. "I'm afraid we can't rest for a while."
"She lowered her voice. "Why not? You have to!"
"Put on some lipstick," suggested Walter James, "and while you're looking in your mirror, catch that black convertible on our side of the street half a block back."

"Who is it?" she asked, running her hand around in her purse. She found the mirror.
"Tweedle-dee and Tweedle-dum, the boys who pounded on me. They warned me not to go near the cops. I didn't think they'd pick me up so quick."

"I see them—two men. I can't see what they look like."
Walter James flicked the headlights. The carhop scowled and ambled over, pulling out the bill. "Dollar twenty-eight," she said.
Kevin said in a small voice, "What do those men want?"

"Don't be scared," he said. "I'll take care of you." He started the car and pulled out into the Causeway, switching on the headlights when they had passed the intersection. Kevin looked back and watched the convertible slide away from the curb.

"Where to now?" she asked.
"What's out this way?" he asked.
"What do you want?"
"A narrow curved road without much traffic. And sudden side roads."

"There's the hills back of La Jolla—a road running up to 101. It's got a couple of side roads into gullies. It's about as curved as they come around here."

"Tell me when, redhead. After the traffic thins out, I'll pick up speed. Give me a little warning."

metal as the car hit the convertible broadside. For a sickening eternity, the bumper of one car caught under the running board of the other. Then the massive shapes wrenched apart and one rolled over the lip of the road into the canyon darkness. Hideous unrhymical noises spewed up as the convertible bounced crazily out of sight.

Walter James rolled out of the car onto the road. Metal gleamed from either fist as he wormed to the edge of the road and looked over. There was nothing; he was alone with black bush-shapes and the dead night.

Men's Clothing Prices Starting Downward Trend

New York, Oct. 15.—(AP)—There may be happier days ahead for the man with the shiny pants. Men's clothing prices have been cut 20 per cent by one retail chain with 61 stores in the east. A leading Eastern maker of men's suits says his new prices for next spring will be a surprise. Since the only thing that surprises consumers any more is a price reduction, his words were taken to mean that further price cuts may be anticipated.

Retailers across the country have been saying for weeks now that men are buying far too few new winter suits. The prices, higher than last fall, apparently scare them away. As a result, clothing racks in the stores have become jammed with unmade suits.

Crawford Clothes, Inc. the Eastern chain, cut its prices 20 per cent yesterday and reported it had to hire more clerks in some of its New York stores to handle the crush of customers.

tending really to close in, and already to back away when the cat turns in reprisal. This is the method by which they forged ahead during their early struggling days. It is logical to believe they will want to continue to follow this method now rather than fight.

2. It seems logical that if Stalin were expecting to go to war with us, he would protest amity. In his preparations for war, first priority would be given to the building up of an atmosphere of apparent good will with the enemy eventually to be surprised with a sudden furious assault. This he is not doing. Hence, we have a second reason for not expecting World War II now.

3. Russia, on account of her climate would be handicapped greatly by war in winter, especially without being reinforced by trucks from the U. S. A., ordnance from England and other necessary equipment of Anglo-Saxon manufacture. This is my third reason for being optimistic for the present.

No War—Unless We Start It
Months ago I formally predicted no war in 1948. I am now coming to the viewpoint that there may be no war in 1949 unless we start it. Stalin will affront us again and again; he will tread on our toes, and try to push us around, but will he at this time expose himself to a war he knows that he can't win? Vivid in his mind is the memory that the Germans, with half the population, defeated him thoroughly until we stopped them.

It was our support that rescued Russia from complete annihilation by the Nazis. How much weaker would that industrially backward country be today if pitted against all of Western Europe and America? I fear the time may come when our people will cease to ask will Russia start a war with us? Instead they may ask should we start the war?

When Stalin Gets the Bomb
The Stalin government is showing itself unwilling to live amicably within the United Nations. Should the United Nations tolerate a bandit-like absolute dictator whose tactics oblige the other nations to constantly pay greater taxes to meet the cost of bigger military establishments and extravagant foreign aid?

The atomic experts tell us that the Soviets will be able to produce atomic weapons by the middle 1950's. Contemplation of the possibilities that will exist if Stalin stays in power until then (he is 69) is appalling.

Yet I insist that there will be no war this year. We will discuss next year (1949) in December or January.

Catamounts Claw Way To 39-0 Victory Against ECTC

Early Lead By Visitors Blank Out Pirate Hopes

By EUGENE PRICE

A surprisingly potent Catamount aggregation from West Carolina Teachers College scored a crushing 39 to nothing victory over the Pirates of ECTC last night before a capacity crowd at Guy Smith Stadium.

It was homecoming for the East Carolina squad but a field day for their visitors who surged to a 20 point lead in the first quarter, leaving any hopes of an ECTC upset trampled into submission.

Coach Tom Young's Catamounts scored in the first two minutes of play when Fullback Joe Hunt intercepted an ECTC pass and ran 60 yards to pay dirt. Hardin's kick was good and the Pirates were trailing by seven points even before the game really got underway.

Midway the same quarter Hunt bucked through the line for the second WCTC score after Tailback

Caperilla brought it down to the two from the 14 yard line. Hardin's second placement attempt was wide.

Late in the first stanza Hamilton passed to Tate for 30 yards and gave the Catamounts a first on the ECTC one yard line. Paul Rogers went over for the third tally and Hardin's kick made the score 20 to nothing.

The Pirates of ECTC fought back in the second quarter and the Catamounts found their backs to the wall when Freshman Fullback Doug Bryant broke off tackle from the ECTC 28 to go all the way to the WCTC nine yard line before he was stopped. Two plays later the Pirates fumbled and the threat ended.

WCTC counted late in the second period when Harvey Duke, halfback, intercepted a pass on his own 45 and ran 50 yards to the Pirate five to set up the score. Monroe carried it over for the score on two line plays. Hardin's kick was blocked and the halftime score stood WCTC 26, ECTC 0.

Paul Monroe's 77 yard run in the third quarter gave the boys from the West their fifth touchdown. The attempted conversion was no good. The Catamounts took to the air to set up their final tally. Roberts completed two passes to Winchester and Etheridge respectively to put the ball on the Pirate 29, the aerial offense having started on the WCTC 35. Monroe passed to Etheridge on the 11 and then ran off tackle for the score. Hardin's kick was good and the final score stood WCTC 39, ECTC 0.

The Catamounts real show of superiority came in the last three minutes of play when the Pirates won a first down on the WCTC two yard line and four plays later were still one yard from a score.

Tailback Al Caperilla, a freshman from Norristown, Pa., was injured on the last play of the game when he punted out from behind the WCTC goal. It was believed last night that the boy sustained a fractured leg. The game was never finished. It was called off with less than a minute of play when officials felt it best not to remove the injured player from the field until an ambulance arrived.

The lineups:
WCTC ends: Brown, Beam, Tate, Etheridge, Allison, Everhart.
Tackles: Humphries, Robinson, Nims, Femister.
Guards: Byrd, Pennell, Harris, Clark, Hiderston.
Centers: Constance, Noblitt, Neal.
Quarterbacks: Caperilla, Duke,

Hamilton.
Halfbacks: Arrington, Heavener, Whitaker, Roberts.
Fullbacks: Hunt, Rogers, McConnell, Hardin, Arney, Clayton.
ECTC:
Ends: Wetherington, Peal, Michaels, Young, Tanner, Yarrbough, Bradley.
Tackles: Kilpatrick, Wyatt, George, Booth, Berman, Butterworth, Everett.
Guards: Baggett, Cockrell, Wadford, Lewis, Porter.
Centers: Pohl, Prominski.
Quarterbacks: Maennle, Holscher, Ostrander, Davis.
Halfbacks: Kovach, Wood, Soles, Danks.

The Greenville high school team traveled to Elizabeth City last night with half its team on the sidelines because of injuries came home in defeat 19-0. It was the first win for the Yellow Jackets in four starts. Coach Bo Farley was unable to accompany his team because he has been confined to his home with illness for the last few days.

The Kinston Red Devils won their fourth straight conference victory by defeating New Bern without much trouble, 33-0. The first tally came when the game was only 3 minutes old. Jimmy Byrd went around end 34 yards for the score. Joe Whaley scored the next two tallies on plays of 3 and 4 yards. The fourth score came on a pass interception when Charlie Larkins raced 45 yards. The final tally came on a pass play from Horton to J. C. Grady good for 30 yards.

Led by Russell Wheeler the Edenton Aces went through Roanoke Rapids 12-0. It was the second week in a row that Wheeler grabbed the spotlight. Edenton scored in the first and second halves. First period the Aces, led by Wheeler, marched 83 yards for a touchdown. In the second half Wheeler passed to Jack Habit who took the ball in on the 22 and went over.

The Teachers from Western Carolina outclassed, outplayed and outscored the ECTC Pirates last night 39-0. The Pirates threatened only once. In the last quarter ECTC had the ball on the one-foot line and failed to carry it over. It was cheers and tears for WCTC because in the last quarter their first tailback Al Caperilla suffered a broken leg.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16—(AP)—Some 500 birds will be flying home today in the derby futurity, an event as well known to pigeon fanciers as the Kentucky derby is to horse fans.

The Wolverines of 1948 may not be up to the standard of the Rose Bowl champions of last season but that was hardly to be expected of a team which lost 14 lettersmen including Bob Chappuis, Bump Elliott, Bruce Hilkene and Leonard Ford. Coach Fritz Crisler also has been replaced by Bennie Oosterbaan, one of his assistants last year. For all that, Michigan hasn't lost its winning touch, as its triumph over Michigan State and Oregon indicate.

As long as Michigan has operatives like Dominic Tomasi, the hard-hitting guard who captains the team, the Wolverines will give a good account of themselves. Tomasi isn't big as inmenem of the Western Conference run, but he is one of the very best guards in intercollegiate circles. He stands only five, ten and weighs 180 pounds, tops, yet he has been a regular since he began playing as a 17-year-old freshman. Extremely fast, and a deadly blocker, "Tommy" is the key man of the Wolverine offense. His ability to "turn corners" at full speed and block with split-second precision means as much yardage to Michigan as if he were an All-America ball carrier.

Tomasi also is an outstanding second baseman on Michigan's championship baseball team and his work has attracted several big league scouts. As in football, he has been a regular since his first game in 1946. He shows the same hustle and keen competitive instinct on the diamond as he does on the gridiron.

Citation Racing Foreign Entries

New York, Oct. 16—(AP)—Ten horses have a date today in the Empire City Gold Cup, an international race with a sweep $100,000 flavor, and it looks like Citation will come away again with the heavy sugar.

The size of the field, which exceeded the fondest expectations of President Jim Butler of Empire City, may be trimmed before post time, yet one thing is virtually certain: Citation is going to start, and meet a pair of foreign nags for the first time.

They are the Belgian champion, Bayeux, owned by the Brussels theater man, Jean Nys, and the Irish Derby winner, Nathoo, who gallops in the silks of the fabulous Aga Khan.

It is particularly fitting that Citation should get a crack at some "outside" competition in this one mile and five furlong classic, to be run at swank Belmont Park.

The great Calumet Farm three-year-old has knocked off the finest this country has been able to produce this season. Nathoo and Bayeux aren't the best Europe has to offer, but from the record they will boost Citation's honors if he adds them to his list of "also rans."

How many of the others will amble to the post (about 4:35 p.m. EST) remains uncertain, for most of them have no business on the same track with Citation.

But, for sporting sake, they got their names in the entry box, and a little matter like $35,000 might have been an added inducement. The second one home pockets $20,000; third, $10,000; and fourth, $5,000.

Lee Sala Takes Feeble Decision

New York, Oct. 16—(AP)—Lee Sala squinted through his partially closed left eye today and found his string of 43 professional boxing victories unbroken. But his Kayo reputation was slightly tarnished.

The young Donora, Pa., puncher was given a bad time last night by Reuben Jones of Norfolk, Va., in the main event at the St. Nicholas arena. Sala staggered through on top, but it was a split decision.

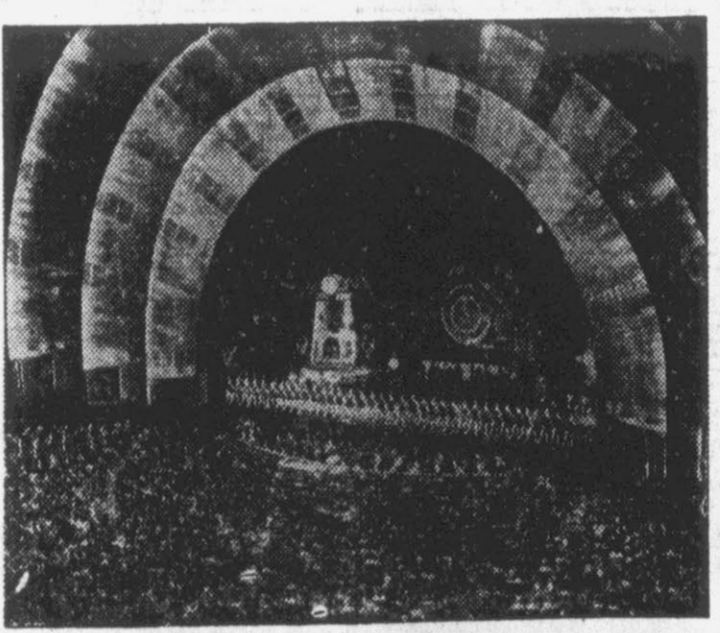

He had won 32 fights by knockouts. He couldn't even floor Jones. "I knew what I wanted to do," Sala reflected, "but I couldn't do it."

His manager, Bunny Buntag, observed: "That fellow's a little too big, too strong." Jones weighed 164 1-2; Sala 160 3-4.

Jones offered this criticism: "He's going to be a good fighter. He's got a good hook, but it's too wide."

The consensus was that Sala won't threaten for some time another well known cloutier for the honor of Donora's most famous citizen. The other guy? Stan Mustial.

G-Men Drop Conference Tilt To Yellow Jackets; 19-0 Score

By TOMMIE LUPTON

Elizabeth City's Yellow Jackets turned back Greenville's Green Phantoms 19-0 in a Northeastern Conference tilt played last night at Memorial Field in Elizabeth City.

The Jackets started the game by kicking to the G-Men. Morgan received the kick and returned it to about his own 30. After picking up no ground Fleming kicked to the Jackets' 35. After marching down the field on four consecutive first downs, Asked climaxed the 65 yard drive by going over from the 5 on a quarterback sneak. Anderson then kicked for the extra point which was good, making the score 7-0 in favor of the Yellow Jackets.

The only threat that the Phantoms made was in the second quarter when Conway blocked a kick on the 25 and picked it up and carried it to the Elizabeth City 20. This threat was stopped when Cox's pass was intercepted by the Jacket halfback who ran it 70 yards.

During the second and third quarter the game was played on even terms, but the battling Jackets tallied early in the last quarter through the Greenville line. The conversion was no good. The Yellow Jackets led by the score of 13-0.

Cox received the ball on the kick-off and returned to the 26, where on the next play Elizabeth City covered a Greenville fumble. Several plays later the Jackets scored as Butler plunged the line. The attempt for the extra point was no good. Elizabeth City was now leading 19-0.

The Yellow Jackets made 13 first downs to Phantoms 3.

Fleming was a G-Man standout on both defense and offense. Bobby kept the Grenlies out of danger several times by his long kicks which averaged 40 yards. Farley played an outstanding defensive game for the Green Phantoms.

The Greenville starting line-up was Conway, center; Fleming, Robinson, guards; Lee, "Big" Bland, tackles; Flye, Ward, ends; Morgan, wingback; Farley, blocking back; Cox, tailback; and "Little" Bland, fullback.

Northrop, Edwards and Alligood saw no action.

Tennis Stars Of 16 Nations Meet

Mexico City, Oct. 16—(AP)—Tennis stars of 16 nations were in top form today for the opening of the seventh Pan-American tennis tournament.

Court champions of 10 Latin American republics, the United States, Canada, England, France, Czechoslovakia, and the Union of South Africa have been working out here a week for the classic.

Tennis in Mexico's mile and a half altitude is a different game. The ball and racket move faster, but players become winded more quickly.
