Military Treaty To Aid Brussels Alliance Planned

High American Sources Predict Drafting Of Pact To Start In Few Weeks

Paris, Oct. 23—(AP)—High American sources predicted today the United States and Canada in the next few weeks will begin to draft a military treaty pledging full aid to the five-nation Brussels alliance.

The sources said the process of drafting a treaty will begin soon after the U.S. elections, although their result is not expected to affect the plan as both major parties have committed themselves in principle to backing the Brussels alliance.

The informants said the alliance would link the U.S. and Canada in formal treaty relationships with Britain, France and the Benelux countries (Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg).

The whole concept of the projected North Atlantic pact will be the main subject of discussion by the foreign ministers of the Brussels pact signatories when they meet here Monday for a three-day conference, responsible British sources said.

There remains, however, at least one major consideration—how such a treaty would fare with the United States Congress.

British informants said the foreign ministers meeting at the consultative council of the Brussels union, have reported from their Washington representatives of secret talks involving American State and War Department officials.

They said the reports recommended that each government concerned should begin drafting a treaty.

The foreign ministers will discuss also the expressed American desire that the framework of the alliance be extended to take in other western European anti-Communist powers.

A list of countries, drawn up by the British, which they would like included in this order of priority—Ireland, Portugal, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Greece, Turkey and Italy.

The American informants indicated the broad outlines of a North Atlantic alliance already are in existence. They expect the treaty will be ready for ratification and signature by the middle of 1949 barring any extraordinary developments which might call for a new approach to the whole project.

British Release Wright Brothers' Plane To U.S.

At the time, the institution questioned the claim that this plane was the first in the world to fly. Now, it will be dismantled and returned to the United States under terms of a letter disclosed after Orville Wright's death last January. (AP Wirephoto).

Want Full Count

With census taking in Greenville rapidly coming to a close, the federal officials supervising the operations in Greenville are using practically every means available to get the names of all persons in the city who have not been enumerated in the home-to-home canvasses.

Forms were given to all children in the city schools Wednesday to be filled out by persons missed by the census takers, and Supervisor L. S. Bullington said a few names were added to the census books through the forms which were returned.

On page three in today's Reflector there is a form for persons who were not counted in the regular canvasses. Bullington requested all persons who feel they have not been counted in the census to fill out one of these forms and forward it to the census office care of the Greenville city hall.

Burning Vessel Heads For Port

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 23—(P)—Hampered by winds of from 30 to 35 knots, crewmen on the Venezuela freighter Ciudad de Caracas battled flames today as the ship steamed towards Norfolk at 12 knots.

The Coast Guard Cutter Cherokee escorted the burning vessel and a patrol plane from the Coast Guard Air Station in Elizabeth City, N. C. circled the ship but was unable to land in the rough seas. It returned to its base a few hours later.

The freighter, which left New York on Thursday, bound for Lagunaira, Venezuela, radioed last night that she was afire. Three cutters, the Cherokee, Jonquil and Agassiz were dispatched to the assistance. Two merchant ships in the vicinity changed course to go to her aid.

Early this morning the steamer radioed that although the blaze was still out of control she did not need assistance. The Agassiz and Jonquil were recalled and the merchant ships returned to their courses.

Patient Dies As Anesthetic Goes Off In Explosion

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 23—(AP)—An explosion of anesthetic gas was blamed today for the death of Mrs. Anna Barbara Vugrinec, 59, on the operating table at the Harrisburg Hospital, Superintendent Webster S. Kohlhass said.

Two anesthetists, Miss Frances Metz and Miss Dolores Cartier, were slightly injured in the blast but kept on working. The surgeon, Dr. Norman B. Shepler, and his assistant, Dr. Thomas E. Davis, were uninjured.

The accident occurred yesterday as the patient, mother of five children, was undergoing an abdominal operation.

Kohlhass said the operation was about completed at the time of the blast. However, Mrs. Vugrinec was still under anesthetic.

"She apparently died of shock," he added.

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 23—(AP)—Five new cases of polio were reported to the State Board of Health today.

Burden Of Armament

Deserters From Russian Army Say Their People Doing Without To Support Big Armed Force; Dissatisfaction; No 'Better Life' As Promised By Reds

By RELMAN MORIN

Two weeks ago today, a Russian airplane crash-landed at an American airfield in Linz, Austria, and three men stepped out of it. Two were Russian officers; the third was a flight-sergeant.

The officers said they were deserters.

Even when confronted with the Russian commander in Austria, they persisted in saying they were through with the Soviet Union, and wanted to go to the United States. That, I submit, required a very high degree of moral courage—plus a general inner conviction.

Yesterday, having made good their desertion, the two Russians answered questions at a news conference. Their statements were interesting, but not entirely startling to wit:

1. The estimated that 70 per cent of the Russian population are opposed to the Communist party, but are afraid to go against it.

2. The Communists have failed to provide the "better life" for the people that ideal on which the Bolshevik Revolution originally was sold, and in the name of which millions of Russians have died, liquidated by their own rulers, or killed during the war.

3. Opposition of the farmers to the Communist program of collectivizing the farms—a struggle that brought death to an estimated 2,000,000 Russians during the thirties—still continues and is one of the great causes of unrest in the Soviet Union.

They also said that life in the Russian army is "not bad," but that it is maintained "at the expense of the common people."

There is a point that has interested both the military men and the economic experts in Washington for a long time. Information indicates that the Soviet Union has 3,500,000 men under arms at this moment. What's the cost?

The United States is the richest country in the world, with the highest standard of living, meaning that the individual American earns more and can buy more with what he earns.

Yet, this country is feeling the burden of the cost of re-arming and of maintaining its armed forces.

Granted that the Soviet Union may not have the expense of re-arming, because it has never demobilized or disbanded very far. Nevertheless, to keep such an enormous

Delay Considering Palestine Problem

Paris, Oct. 23—(AP)—The United Nations political committee today approved an Arab move to postpone consideration of the Palestine problem for one week.

The United States voted with the Arab states. The postponement move carried by a vote of 19 to 16. Fourteen nations, including Great Britain, abstained.

The Security Council meanwhile waited for Moscow's answer to the compromise plan to settle the Berlin crisis offered by six neutral nations in the Council yesterday.

The Soviet bloc and Australia led the fight against postponement of the Holy Land debate.

Committee chairman Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium adjourned the body until Monday morning when he said the disarmament question would be debated if the subcommittee has completed its work. Otherwise the Greek question will be taken up, he said.

Yugoslavia proposed inviting representatives of Gen. Markos Vafalades, Communist leader of the Greek guerrillas, to attend the committee debate as observers. The Yugoslav resolution said the U. N. had not received "direct information concerning the situation in Greece from all the parties concerned."

The Council adjourned until Monday to give the principals in the proposal—the delay apparently was to give Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky time to refer the text of the neutral's resolution to the Kremlin for a final decision.

The western powers already had signified their acceptance of the settlement plan outlined by Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia yesterday as spokesman for the six nations offering the resolution.

Close Gas Mains To East Berlin

Berlin, Oct. 23—(AP)—Large areas of the Russian sector of Berlin were without gas today after the western powers shut the mains at sector borders to prevent seepage eastward of supplies produced in the western sector.

American spokesman said the embargo against eastern Berlin was imposed for two reasons:

1. Gas pressure in Soviet mains was so low because of plant repairs undertaken there that supplies from hard-pressed western Berlin were being drained off.
2. Reprisal for firing of German non-Communist employes at head offices of the city's gas works which are located in the Soviet sector. The repairs in Soviet sector mains were understood to be necessary because of equipment damaged by the substitution of silesian coal in the plants had been adapted.

Russian supplies of Ruhr coal have been cut off by the western allies counterblockade imposed in reprisal for the Soviet land blockade of Berlin.

The biggest gas works in the city are located in the U.S., British and French sectors. The Russian sector, even if all its plants were in top repair, could hardly produce enough gas to maintain a normal service.

Citizens Return Money He Lost

Nyack, N.Y., Oct. 23—(AP)—Nyack, says Murray Kerchman, "is the most honest town in the world."

Storekeeper Kerchman lost $70 in loose bills on windy Main Street yesterday. Without much hope, he reported his loss to police with these results:

Barber Otto Leukroth brought in $35 he found fluttering about the doorway of his shop. Joyce Keesler handed police $10 she'd picked up on Main Street. Still later, Mrs. Cornelia Mahan walked into headquarters with the last of the $70.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

The Greenville Merchants Association Board of Directors will meet in the association's offices at the City Hall Monday night at 8 o'clock. President W. H. Taft will preside.

Has 'Nice Trip' To Penitentiary

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23—(AP)—Eighty-year-old John Hoppengardner yesterday enjoyed a four-hour ride to Western Penitentiary—his home for the next 10 years or more—but he hopes "it don't get no worse."

Hoppengardner began a 10-to-20 year sentence for second-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of 57-year-old Ambrose W. Fisher of McConnellsburg, Pa.

His steps shaky, the octogenarian squared his shoulders as he entered the jail.

"It's been a nice trip so far," he said to Sheriff Don Chestnut "I hope it don't get no worse."

No Abduction; Baby Looked Lonely Says Six-Year-Old Girl

Somerville, Mass., Oct. 23—(P)—Six-year-old Linda Woods thought eight-months-old Stephen Bastert looked lonesome parked in his stroller outside a store—so she took him for a ride.

Stephen's mother sounded a kidnap alarm when she came out of the shop and found Stephen missing yesterday.

An hour later, touring the city in a police car, Mrs. Bastert came upon Stephen and Linda a half mile from the store.

"He was so cute," Linda explained "I wanted to show him to my mommy."

Report Assault By Arab Forces

Tel Aviv, Israel, Oct. 23—(AP)—Arab forces believed to be Syrians attacked Jewish positions north of Lake Hula and captured a height at Sheikh Abbad, the Israeli command announced today.

The height is in the region of Manarah, between Syria and Lebanon.

The spokesman said the Arab offensive was launched during the night and "severe fighting continues this morning."

Babson Discusses Stalin

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23—I have had so many inquiries from my recent column which discussed in part Mr. Stalin, that I will now answer the main question, "What re probably Uncle Joe's plans?"

Uncle Joe's Program

We may get into war next year through some accident or unauthorized shooting by Russian, American or Allied troops. I, however, am sure that war is not a part of the Russian program for the three weeks ago. Russia's program is to worry and scare us to build up such a great army, air force and navy that the expense will upset our domestic economy. Remember that it costs the United States ten times as much a month to maintain a soldier as it costs Russia.

This perpetual mobilization could so increase our taxes and cost-of-living that it could bring about a business recession here notwithstanding our shipments to Europe. Business failures and real estate foreclosures would greatly increase. These could intensify a moderate deflation like pouring kerosene onto a fire.

Great Shipments Ahead

I have just been told about a government order for 28,000 big trucks with 100,000 big extra tires to be shipped abroad. I mentioned this to a Russian and he said, "We will get them free ourselves someday when we take over Western Europe." Stalin is not only encouraging us to bust ourselves by terrific armament expenditures, but he is also tempting us to send tremendous supplies to Europe. These he expects to someday take over together with factories and railroads which we are building there.

Stalin believes that time is in his favor and that the longer he can keep us from attacking Russia the better off he will be in three ways: that is, first, by causing us to have such a huge military program that

Dewey Bids For Demo Support In Looking To 1952

Primes Backers To Avoid Bitterness; Says Task Is To Unify Nation

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 23—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey bid openly today for Democratic support as he primed his backers to avoid "bitterness" that might hurt GOP chances in 1952.

Preparing four major speeches for the final round of campaigning next week, the Republican presidential nominee stressed a peace and unity theme.

This was in line with his assertion in New York City yesterday that "our task looks four years ahead."

The task, as Dewey explained it, is a rally of voluntary campaign backers, is to achieve what he considers a certain victory without making any enemies among the "millions" of Democrats and independents he predicted would vote for him Nov. 2.

If this can be done, he said the country can be unified behind a drive for lasting peace.

"That is why we need to be scrupulous in these last few remaining days that we do not contribute to the dissension within the nation which our opposition would like to bring about," he declared.

This indirect thrust at President Truman apparently was in reply to the President's charge that Dewey was attempting to gain power so that he could scuttle the last vestiges of the New Deal.

Mr. Truman did not mention Dewey by name in calling him the "chief prosecutor" of the New Deal.

Dewey also kept away from naming names.

But he didn't leave much to the imagination of his listeners when he said that he saw signs of "desperation on the part of the opposition."

"I have no doubt," he told his applauding followers, "that they (the Democrats) will intensify their campaign of fear and there will be increasing vituperation and abuse."

In the face of this possibility, he urged Republican workers "not to respond in kind at any time under any circumstances, whatever the provocation."

Under Scrutiny

Washington, Oct. 23—(AP)—The handling of payrolls in the office of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) was reported under grand jury scrutiny today.

Justice Department officials said last night that was one of the cases presented to the regular District of Columbia grand jury when it convened yesterday for its October session.

The New Jersey congressman, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has been severely criticized of the Justice Department.

Humber To Speak In Observance Of 'UN Day'

By CHESTER WALSH

Robert Lee Humber of Greenville distinguished scholar and world traveler and leader in the World Federation movement, will deliver an address at Memorial Baptist Church Sunday night at 7:45 in observance of United Nations Day. The public is invited.

The United Nations Day services are sponsored by the Greenville Woman's Club and the Ministerial Association. Scheduled services at other Protestant churches in the city have been suspended to permit their members to attend the important meeting at Memorial Baptist Church.

The service will open with 15 minutes of organ music by Mrs. Karl V. Gilbert, music director at the church. Mrs. J. Vance Perkins president of the Woman's Club will open the meeting. Rev. Ralph Johnson, pastor of Pentecostal Holiness Church, will pronounce the invocation. Dan E. Vornholt of the college music faculty, will sing "Godfrey O'Hara's song, "One World."

Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, trustee of the church, will introduce Mr. Humber.

Devers Relates New Army Plans

York, Pa., Oct. 23—(AP)—The mothers of America had top level Army assurance today that youthful draftees will be treated as persons "of individual dignity and feelings."

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, chief of Army field forces, sounded this reassuring note in a speech last night before the state convention of the American War Mothers.

Gen. Devers, a native of York, told the mothers that the peace-time Army is going to be "considerably different from the Army you have had described." He painted this picture of what will happen to young recruits:

1. He will be sent to a post "as near home as possible."
2. His instructors will try to establish a personal relationship with the incoming recruit.
3. He will be explained "the reason for everything he does which is new to him."
4. No matter how or when he arrives, "someone will meet him" and he will be given "a chance to ask questions."
5. His uniforms are individually fitted.
6. The Army will insist "that he write home."

Gen. Devers said "American sons are marching away again, not for the winning of a war, but for the preservation of the peace."

Hoffman Reports Europe Is Much Nearer Recovery

Rome, October 23—(AP)—Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman said today "there should be less money required for ERP next year because there has been substantial recovery in Europe this year."

"For the first time," he said, "there is a general trend in Europe away from strict nationalism toward cooperation, which means greater prosperity for all."

He told a newsconference here that his meetings in Paris with the representatives of 16 nations getting European recovery program aid showed almost every one of them "making fine progress, most reporting steel and coal production above their targets for the first eight months."

CLINGS TO LIFE

Vienna, Oct. 23—(AP)—Frans Lehar clung to life today, but his physician held out no hope for his recovery. The composer has developed pneumonia in both lungs. He has been suffering for several months from gastric ulcers and a heart ailment.

Communists Call Further Strikes

Paris, Oct. 23—(AP)—Communist strike leaders called for a general strike Monday throughout the highly industrial St. Etienne area as France today moved closer to martial law in the struck coal fields.

The union order was given after the government called up an estimated 50,000 troops and state police to reinforce units trying to maintain order in the strife-torn coal fields. At least two miners were killed and scores of police and strikers wounded yesterday. Casualties in three days of fighting neared 300.

At Montceau-Les-Mines today pickets at the Les Alouettes mine released 120 police they took prisoner in clashes yesterday. However, the seven largest mines in the area 55 miles southwest of Dijon still are in the hands of the strikers.

The Interior Ministry said pickets at "les in south central France placed explosives in shafts and threatened to touch them off if the police appeared."

The call up of more troops and police, including the 1948 class of soldiers which already had been discharged, was decided upon at an emergency cabinet session last night.

The cabinet also ordered troops to use their arms in defending themselves against attacks and empowering district governors to ban any meetings, if necessary.

Old Stunt Man Dies Suddenly

North Bergen, N. J., Oct. 23—(AP)—Bertrand C. Gudeon, stunt man for Pearl White in such old-time movie thrillers as "The Perils of Pauline," "The Clutching Hand," "The Iron Claw" and "The Exploits of Elaine," died yesterday of a heart attack. He was 60 years old.

Gudeon, dressed in female clothing, substituted for Pearl White in her perilous leaps to escape the clutches of numerous early-day movie villains. In recent years he worked as a supervisor for a painting contractor here.

November Elections

Big Stuff To Us, But It Leaves People Outside U. S. Pretty Cold; No Matter Who Wins, Our Foreign Policy Will Be The Same; To Them, That's Important

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 23—(P)—The November elections are big stuff to us. But they're leaving people outside the United States pretty cold. We're up to our necks in the Presidential campaign and in what the Democrats and Republicans have to say.

The newspapers front-page the arguments and the air waves band under the load of words.

But—Stalin once said he recognizes no difference between the Democrats and Republicans.

What he meant was that, to someone with his viewpoint, both parties stand for pretty much the same thing and differ only on details.

To anyone outside this country there probably isn't much difference.

The main point of interest for anyone overseas is:

"What will a Democratic or Republican victory mean to us? Will there be any change in the American Foreign Policy?"

But that point was already settled before the campaign started. Both parties are agreed on our Foreign Policy. Both have helped shape it.

They're so much agreed that they call it our bi-partisan Foreign Policy. They've left it pretty much just of the picture except for criticism about some details in carrying it out.

So no matter which party wins in November, Democratic or Republican, the Foreign Policy will remain the same. People outside the United States know it.

And, since they know that, there isn't much else in the campaign that will interest them or mean anything to them.

I checked around Washington among foreigners living here to find out what their people back home think about the election.

One Frenchman said:

"There isn't much in the French papers about it. My people are thinking about their own elections."

"Since they know the U. S. Foreign Policy will remain unchanged, nothing else means anything to them."

Other men from other countries said the same thing. It's easy to see why.

The Taft-Hartley law passed in 1947, has American labor sore. Changing it, or keeping it, is a big issue in the campaign.

But what does the act's ban on

Kiwanis Banquet Held At College

By CHESTER WALSH
The Kiwanis Club's annual "ladies' night" banquet in the college dining room last night was an outstanding event of the fall social season. About 75 Kiwanians and their ladies and some special guests attended. Eli Bloom was master of ceremonies and presented a unique and entertaining program, with Marie Smith Wallace's dancing group featuring the affair.

President Nathan C. Brooks presided and welcomed the guests. Mrs. Brooks made a witty short speech in response. President Ernest L. Willard of the Rotary Club and Dr. E. B. Aycock of the Lions Club and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore were special guests.

The seating arrangements, two couples at each table, were ideal. The decorations were attractive. Music during the dining period by Rodney Roberts' Music Majors contributed much to the pleasant occasion. Three of Greenville's popular ministers sang and they manifested fine vocal ability. Jack Hedges, in the costume of a character from Dickens, impersonated the president of the Rocky Mount Kiwanis Club and extended greetings.

Marie Smith Wallace, teacher of dancing, and Christine Smith pianist, were warmly welcomed. Edwina McMullan did an acrobatic dance and six girls, Jo Ann Timberlake, Martha Mackenzie, Kitty Smith, Mary Dunn Beatty, Betsy Flye and Janice Robertson, danced an intriguing tap number. The dancers are good enough for Hollywood, the audience attested. Wyatt Eigh-smith gave a toast to the ladies. John O. Reynolds responded and they made hits. Miss Gladys Reichard, vocalist, and Miss Louise Drake, pianist, of the college music department, always popular with the Kiwanians, presented two numbers.

Clyde Landing's orchestra played for a square dance to conclude the singularly outstanding program, with J. L. Taylor calling the figures.

Chicod PTA Has Well-Attended Meeting Oct. 21

The Chicod P.T.A. held its monthly meeting in the school auditorium on Thursday night, October 21, with a large number of parents present. Mrs. J. J. Carroll gave the devotional with special music by Mrs. Olea McGowan and Nina Lou Page.

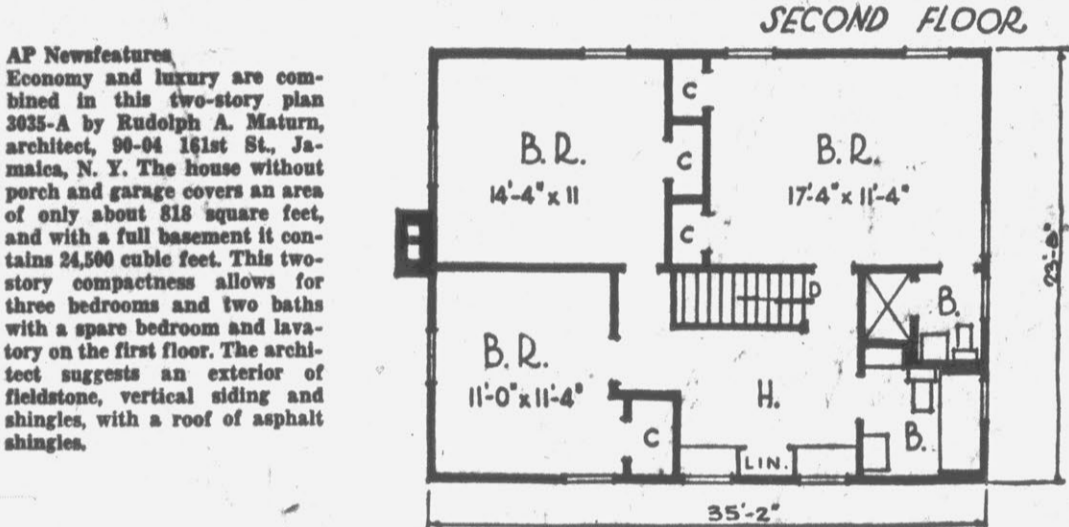

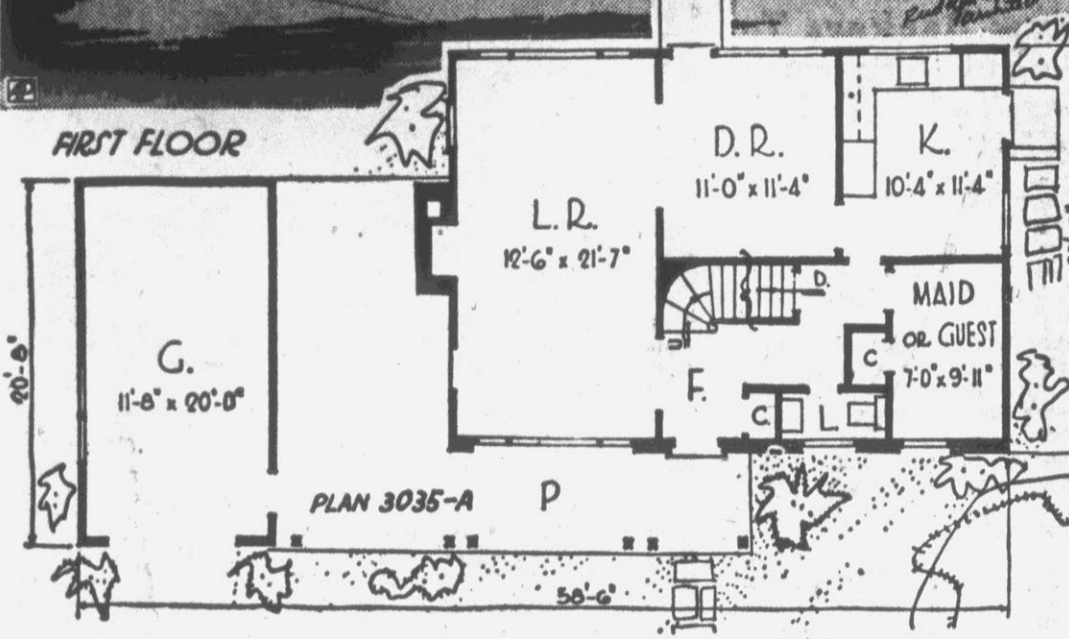

After the business meeting with reports from the various committees a membership drive was held which brought in approximately 15 new members. Mrs. Lewis, program committee chairman, then recognized Mrs. Curtis Spencer who introduced Dr. Robert Lee Humber of Greenville, the speaker of the evening. He gave a most interesting and enjoyable talk on "World Citizenship—An Individual Responsibility."

Mrs. Langley's second grade had the largest number of parents present.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newsfeatures
Economy and luxury are combined in this two-story plan 3035-A by Rudolph A. Maturin, architect, 90-04 141st St. Jamaica, N. Y. The house without porch and garage covers an area of only about 818 square feet, and with a full basement it contains 24,500 cubic feet. This two-story compactness allows for three bedrooms and two baths with a spare bedroom and lavatory on the first floor. The architect suggests an exterior of fieldstone, vertical siding and shingles, with a roof of asphalt shingles.

Jean Moore Elected President Council 4-H Clubs In Pitt

At a meeting of the Pitt County Council of 4-H Clubs at the agricultural building last night, new officers were elected for the coming year. Jean Moore, secretary of the Farmville 4-H Club, was chosen president of the governing body for 4-H club work in the county; Hazel Garris, vice-president of the Farmville Club, is the new vice-president; Jimmy Allen, president of the Farmville Club, was named secretary; Billy Wymer, president of the Paeonian Club, was named reporter; Mary Frances Porter, president of the Chicod Club, was chosen song leader.

W. H. Pruden, assistant county farm agent, is in charge of 4-H Club work in this county. A recreation period was held at the conclusion of the election and refreshments were served.

Babson . . .

It will upset our domestic economy; second, to get us to send all these good things to Western Europe which he can later take over; and third, he will have time to stock up atomic bombs.

How to Prepare For More Trouble
Stalin probably feels that some-day the American people will get tired of supporting England and Western Europe; also that when we do quit he can take it over. Many military men admit he may be able to do this. If so, certainly this country would be in a desperate position. Let us hope there will be an internal revolution in Russia before that time comes.

We hear of individuals moving out of big cities, getting a little farm in the country and decentralizing their industries. This is all to the good. There is another thing which every business should recognize, namely, that continued high prices and high wages are causing a constantly increasing demand for more working capital. It is very possible that the next depression may not hurt the common man so-called, but rather his employer.

Build Up Working Capital
Many employers are destined to be short of cash, and will either have to give up their business or sell it out. Today with large sales, high profits, and everything going fine, it is difficult for most businessmen to realize this possibility. Remember however, that it is usually the unexpected that happens. Never forget that Newton's Law of Action and Reaction applies to economics as well as to mechanics.

Every reader of this column should lay up sufficient cash reserves for trouble ahead. By all means, keep out of debt. Corporations, if necessary, should pay a withholding tax to the Government rather than declare too much of their earnings for dividends. It is certain that the present prosperous conditions will not always continue.

Warning To Employers
It is possible that the employers will have to take the brunt of the blow during the next depression. They may be the ones laid off instead of their workmen. Many businesses will avoid closing only by coming under the control of new owners who have the cash to carry on.

As the Government stores up munitions, and as your employees are storing up refrigerators, washing machines and other purchases,

Burden Of . . .

number of men in uniform, feeding, clothing and housing them must be a crushing burden for the Russian workman. The Soviet defense budget, unlike ours, probably has no considerable item for naval construction, and much less to maintain.

But if all reports are true, the proportionate cost to the two countries for building and research in aviation is at least the same.

And finally, although Russia may not yet have the atom bomb, it is certain that she is spending enormous sums of money in looking for the ways and means of manufacturing it.

Hence, when the Russian officers used the words, "at the expense of the common people," they were speaking with dreadful clarity. The average Russian will never live to see the "better life" the Bolsheviks promised him, as long as his government continues to waste his substance on an army and a staggering military budget.

Doubtless, the Soviet press and radio justify this by playing on the fears of the people. The fear of American "aggression," fear of the atom bomb, fear of another invasion and another campaign of frightfulness as in 1941.

But as times goes on, as the months pass and there is no attack, it will be increasingly difficult for the Soviet government to explain the tremendous expense as a necessary "defense measure."

Then will come a critical period for the men in the Kremlin. Unarmed and unorganized, the Russian masses are nevertheless an elemental force, once they start to move—as the Bolsheviks well know having once started the avalanche. The Kremlin may forestall this by launching the war, themselves. It will be a dangerous period both for the Russian rulers and for the peaceful nations of the world.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?
Do you plan to go to church tomorrow?

A little boy was asked by his mother to name the four freedoms. "First," he said, "is the freedom from fear." Then, he continued, "freedom from want, freedom from hunger." At this point he seemed stumped and shifted uneasily from one foot to the other. "Oh yes," he cried, "I know what the fourth freedom is - freedom from religion." Many people have long regarded this as one of the privileges and prerogatives of modern man. At that, they say, we have come to a time when no silly old fogies insist that a man needs to go to church unless it is utterly convenient for him to do so. Too many people are like the little boy - they are mistaking freedom to worship as freedom from worship. Because most of the old customs have been heaved overboard in these new days of moral emancipation, many people believe that to go to church when there is anything more pleasant to do is just plain stupid.

But of course the object of going to church is not to hear a good sermon or to meet congenial people or to listen to good music but to honor God by keeping an appointment with Him at a designated shrine. And to have an appointment with the Ruler of the universe and not to be on hand to keep it is a matter of sufficient seriousness to induce in the wise a considerable measure of reflection.

Boyle's Column
By SAUL PETT
(Punch hitting for Hal Boyle)

New York, Oct. 22. - (P) - The "campus" is a tiny, sooty square on the north edge of the Bowery.

The "college life" is a fiction here under the rubble of the "B." in the shadow of the flop house, in the jungle of "horse market" that only the owners call restaurants.

Here sits a mishapen brownstone building. It houses the Cooper Union for the advancement of science and art. As a physical achievement of America I don't suggest you call it to anyone's attention, but you might bring it up in talking about the real meaning of such over-used abstractions as "freedom of expression" or "democracy."

As a school, Cooper Union will never worry Harvard. It only offers courses in art and engineering and only one degree, in engineering. It is free. It's money comes from old endowments set up by such conservatives as Peter Cooper, the inventor, and later Andrew Carnegie, the steel magnat.

By day, it isn't much, but by night, in the old basement auditorium where they hold their famous lecture series, the place seems to expand into a bigness that includes all the ideas of the world, no matter who's selling them. You can get that feeling just in one night. It won't cost a penny. You don't have to know anybody to get a seat.

For 88 years now some of the best minds in this country - and they frequently didn't agree with the prevailing political, religious and economic powers - have been speaking their piece in that auditorium. Lincoln did it in 1860 and nobody much minded that he forgot to remove the pencil stub from behind his ear.

The podium Lincoln used is still there on the platform. So is the memory of his last words on that snowy night in 1860: "Let us have faith that right makes might and, in that faith, let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

From Lincoln through Wilson, 18 American Presidents have spoken there. So did Robert Ingersoll, whose views on religion were so radical he had to have protection from the crowd. Henry George, the great single-tax economist, collapsed on the Cooper Union stage, as he was about to accept the Mayoralty nomination, and died in the adjacent "Green Room."

Mark Twain talked about the Bowdoin Islands and Henry Ward Beecher brought the house down with his first words on women's suffrage: "Ladies and gentlemen, man is vastly superior to women - as man; and woman is vastly superior to man - as woman; and both of them together are more than a match for either of them separately."

It is a place where the greatest political and intellectual problems of the last century have been freely discussed - slavery, Darwinism, Marxism, the industrial revolution, women's suffrage, labor unions, the new Deal. It is a place where a day laborer can fire questions at a college professor or a Bronx housewife can pick on a distinguished author.

The other night I was there and heard Dr. Roy K. Marshall, Astronomer, discuss "Science, the endless frontier." In most places, such a formidable subject might induce sleep. But that night, as the speaker spoke out bluntly for scientific freedom from "political inquisition," the audience whooped, howled and whistled.

In the crowd were Chinese faces and Negro faces and Irish faces and Jewish faces. There were old men with hearing aids and men who looked like they had just come from the race track. There were red-nosed citizens of the Bowery, students, factory workers, lawyers, cloak and suit operators and artists who had wandered over from Greenwich Village.

In the question and answer period, a plain little man in heavy glasses arose and asked the speaker, "What lies outside the finite bounds of Einstein?" It was such a big thing to come from such a little man.

Washington - Dr. Martha M. Eliot, unassuming, Boston-born associate chief of the U.S. Children's Bureau, who has received many honors and high recognition for her services, has just won a new one. She was the only woman among the five winners of the 1948 Lasker Awards of the American Public Health Association (APHA) "for outstanding contributions in the fields of scientific and medical research and public health administration."

Dr. Eliot, whose association with the Children's Bureau began in 1923, won the award for her "administrative achievement in the organization and operation of the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care (EMIC) program during World War II."

Dr. Eliot, one of the best-known women physicians in the country, is president of the APHA. She is the first woman to head the organization in its 75 years existence. She was elected to the post in the fall of 1947. In carrying out the war time EMIC program, Dr. Eliot enlisted the support of the nation's medical and nursing professions and its hospital.

Her program provided medical, nursing and hospital care for the wives and babies of men in the four lowest pay grades of the armed forces. Payment for services was made by state health departments from congressional appropriations. Care was provided for more than 1,500,000 servicemen's wives and infants under the program.

Although this program started to close down in July of last year, medical care is continuing until the spring of 1949, for the babies of those wives who were pregnant by June 30, 1947.

APHA says that at the height of the program one out of every seven babies born in the U.S. was born under EMIC. More than 48,000, or half of the doctors in private practice, and most of the hospitals operated.

Dr. Eliot, who was designated by the President this year as one of the U.S. delegates to the first World Health Assembly at Geneva, Switzerland, is a graduate of Radcliffe College. She had her medical training at Johns Hopkins and at hospitals in Boston, New Haven and St. Louis. She has also studied maternal and child health activities abroad.

While on the staff of the Yale Medical School, from 1921 to 1938, she made an exhaustive study of the prevention and control of rickets in children. The work is now considered somewhat of a classic. Dr. Eliot is an extensive traveler. The poet, T. S. Eliot, is her cousin.

The Editor
Daily Reflector
Sir:

With all the wailing and charges and counter-charges, confusion and subterfuge of a political campaign, in order to clarify the atmosphere, I feel it proper to state the position of the States' Rights Democrats.

Thoughtful students of events have been disturbed by the mounting centralization of power in Washington in recent years and alarmed by the dominance of the left-wing and fellow-traveler influence in the affairs of state. Following the clever counsels of believers in a foreign ideology has caused America to lose influence and prestige in a steady succession of countries, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Austria, Czechoslovakia, China and, more pointedly, Germany. Persons sympathetic to the Communist Party line have insinuated themselves into positions of trust in our government from which they were able to influence policies detrimental to our national welfare. As a result, we have witnessed the remarkable spectacle of the Nation in a short space of time being reduced from the most powerful country militarily on earth to the position where it must stall for time to prevent being pushed around by an aggressive rival.

The culmination of the dominance of these forces in the Democratic Party was reached in the Philadelphia Convention when the fellow-traveler, Humphrey, and others of his kind by rabble-rousing tactics pushed through a radical platform demanding repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, which is favored by fully ninety per cent of the people of the South, and passage of the Civil Rights Program, which is intolerable to practically 100 per cent of the Democrats of the South. President Truman heartily endorsed this action in his acceptance speech; indeed, it was taken with his approval. He has twice asked Congress to pass the legislation and may be counted on to demand it again. At the Convention the strong opposition of the Southern elements of the Party was year's known and ably expressed, but they were voted and hooded down. Insult was added to injury.

It is our belief that the only way the Southern branch of the Democratic Party can ever demand respect for its views, and at the same time perform a patriotic service, is to repudiate the actions of the radical wing which has taken over the Party. We believe that submission to such treatment would prove us to be base and servile and completely lacking in pride. To us it is intolerable that we should be treated as if we were a conquered nation. All reasonable steps should be taken to eradicate the pests before the house is destroyed. Failing this, we should find another dwelling place. Furthermore, it appears that this may be the last opportunity we may have to register opposition to the hateful Civil Rights Program, which, if enacted, will interrupt and set back peaceful and amicable racial relations in this State, built up over a period of many years.

Some ask the question: "What do you hope to accomplish?" Our reply to this is we are waging a battle the best we know how for our principles and convictions. We must think beyond immediate reward or even results. We must be willing to fight for what we believe is right. Recent history displays a parade of people who were not willing to fight for

Kevin found the note late that afternoon.
Walter James keyed the door and swung it open for Kevin to enter.
The note had been pushed under the door in their absence and was about a foot inside, touching the edge of the rug. She stepped on it before she noticed it and picked it up.

The envelope was cheap and plain.
The two dozen for ten cents variety.
Across it was written "Walter James" in bright blue ink; the writing was neatly small, slightly backhanded.

"Hello, folks. Can I come in?"
They jumped and Walter James said, "Come in and sit down, Clapp."

Clapp lowered himself into the davenport. After Walter James was settled in the armchair, the girl collected at his feet, resting one arm across his knees. He let the note lie loosely in his lap.

"Did you come to tell us you found my father had been murdered?"
The men turned startled eyes upon her, then glanced at each other.

"Clapp began, "What makes you think--"
"It's sort of obvious. You know this Shasta Lynn had some connection with the men you're after. You know my father had some connection with Shasta Lynn. And right in the middle of your investigation, he dies. It's a perfect circle--even
I can see that."

"It isn't a perfect circle," murmured Walter James.
"No," said the big man, shifting around on the cushions, "what I really came to see you about was the attack last night."

"I've told you all we know," said
Walter James.
"Oh, I know," smiled Clapp.
"There was somebody in this building yesterday afternoon never seen here before. Jim checked all the apartments and none of them had ever heard of--this person."

"Was it our big, healthy man?"
"Not quite. It was a large old woman, white-haired and apparently in mourning. She wore a black satin dress way out of date like some old women do, and a small black veil over her face. Oh, yes, and she wore old-fashioned flat-heeled shoes and was sort of buxom."

Kevin said seriously, "Is it anyone you know, Walter?" and Clapp grinned.

Apprentice Eleven Sweeps To 20-6 Victory Against Pirates

Newport News — (Special) — The Newport News Apprentice school swept to a 20 to six home coming victory here Friday night and sent the Purple Pirates of East Carolina Teachers college home with their fifth straight defeat.

It was sweet revenge for the Apprentice who bowed to the Pirates six to nothing last season.

But it was a close ball game until the final quarter. The A's scored in the opening minutes when they recovered an ECTC fumble and marched over the goal. The Pirates tied it up in the opening of the second half when they recovered a free ball on the second half kickoff. With Johnny Smith, Frank Maennie, and George Smith doing the carrying they fought from the 39 down to the two yard line where Smith plunged through for the tying score.

It was to no avail. The Apprentice roared back to chalk up 2 more touchdowns. Their final score came at the end of a dynamic 70 yard downfield march.

Appalachian, with its freshly won lead in the North State conference football race, gets top billing in tonight's loop action against an underdog but upset-minded High Point squad.

The mountaineers will enter the game on their home grounds at Boone with a record of four won and one tied against the High Point Panthers' 2-2 showing.

The Catawba Indians, whose loss to Appalachian last week was the first in conference play in several years, invade Eion for another of the evening's top loop contests.

Other North State action tonight sends Western Carolina Teachers against Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory.

Master Of Baton At Orphanage Game

Raleigh, N.C., Oct. 23.—The dentist's drill and the flashing baton of a drum major both have ways of making up sit up and take notice, but it's seldom that you ever think of the two at the same time.

But for Dr. George R. Rhoades, 27-year-old Kansas City dentist, twirling a baton not only brought him seven championships, but it also brought him the necessary cold cash to go through dental school.

Dr. Rhoades makes his first appearance in North Carolina on October 23 when he comes to Raleigh for a demonstration of his ability and Guilford against Atlantic Christian at Wilson.

Six-Day Racers Enter Final Day

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The international six-day bike race at the Kingsbridge Armory entered its final day today with the Belgian team of Jean Louis Saen and Emile Brunau still the team to beat.

At 2 a.m. (EST) Saen and Brunau held a one-lap edge after a crowd of 15,000 had watched some of the hardest sort of jamming. The grind will end at 11 p.m. (EST) tonight. During the final hour the winner of each mile sprint will be credited with 72 points, a factor that likely will determine the outcome.

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER
(Today's column is written by Guest Writer Jack Hiedgepeth.)

ECTC students are eagerly awaiting the ACC game November 20. This columnist believes that the Bulldogs of ACC and the Pirates of ECTC are as evenly matched as any two traditional rivals could possibly be. Regardless of their seasons record, the winner will, in the eyes of their respective students, have completed a successful season. Also at stake will be the coveted "Bohunk Trophy," an old wooden bucket that has passed between the two schools for a number of years as a token of victory. The "Bohunk" is now in the possession of the Pirates, who have given it up only once in the past 12 athletic events.

The scoop in Wilson Hall is that Frank Maennie, ECTC quarterback who does a thriving after-hours hot-dog business in room-to-room service, is forced to salute a Confederate flag before entering room 7. Incidentally, Maennie is a "Yam Dankee" from New Jersey, but nevertheless, Frank maintains that business is business.

Boo Boo Butler, your regular editor of this column, swapped the pew for football togs this week in an effort to bolster Coach Johnson's injury ridden centers. The jinx that has plagued the centers all year caught right up with Boo Boo the first day out, when a lip injury requiring stitches was incurred. Boo Boo, however, made the trip to Newport News.

Since the announcement of the construction of a stadium at ECTC many students have predicted better football not only for the Pirates but also the Green Phantoms.

Going after a ball player these days is like going to an auction—you've got to outbid the other fellow, and you can't do it with promise—you've got to have that financial guarantee.

Never Too Old

New York — (AP) — Mechanize, steeplechase winner on Eastern jumping circuits this season, began racing at an age when most thoroughbreds are getting ready to retire. The black, gelded son of Boston Mat-War Caddy, owned by Jack Grabosky, made his racing debut in 1947 as a 7-year-old. In his younger years he was a hunter and show horse.

Quits Fight For Peace In Ranks Of Pro Football

Philadelphia, Oct. 23 —(AP)—Owner Alexis Thompson of the Philadelphia Eagles said he is quitting his fight to bring peace to pro football's two warring major leagues.

Thompson, wealthy young New Yorker, has been carrying on a personal crusade to bring his National Football League and the rival All America conference into a working agreement.

"It's hopeless," Thompson said yesterday. "The leagues never will get together."

From now on, Thompson said, he is joining the other NFL clubowners in a fight to drive the All America "out of the picture."

The Eagles' owner said he had been interested in trying to bring the two leagues together because he thought that was what the fans wanted.

"I have been trying to do everything for the fans," he said. "I thought that the fans really wanted to see the champions of each league play in a sort of world series of football."

Thompson blamed a long series of setbacks in his fight for failure to effect any consolidation. Among the reasons, he listed most prominently were remarks made last week by Dan Topping, president of the AAC's New York Yankees.

"I just about had it fixed," he said. "I felt that if they could get to know each other they might settle their differences and end this silly business of throwing money away."

"But then Dan Topping blew his top. When my people heard what Dan had said they backed out of a meeting I had arranged for next Tuesday in New York."

"Now it's impossible to do anything more about it, and from now on I'm in the fight against the All-America as strongly as our other owners."

Topping, in the talk that broke up the proposed meeting, told metropolitan sports writers Monday that the NFL's New York Giants stood to lose $200,000 this season.

From the Giant officials came the retort: "Dan's auditing our books again." They added they would lose nowhere near that amount, if anything.

Farmville Scores 20-7 Win Over Wendell Eleven

Wendell, Oct. 23.—Farmville scored twice in the fourth period to defeat Wendell, 20-7, here yesterday in a high school football game.

After taking the lead in the first period on B. Brock's scoring plunge by B. Brock, the visitors were held scoreless until they uncorked the winning punch in the final quarter.

Wendell matched Farmville's opening score with a second-period touchdown which came on a 20-yard pass from Joe Joseph to Linville Roach.

Wilbur Bennetts 10-yard pass to Carl King and a two-yard plunge by Ernest Morgan provided Farmville's two fourth-period tallies. Morgan set up his touchdown by intercepting a Wendell pass and returning it 15 yards to the Wendell 12-yard line.

Tyson, Woolen, Smith, and Barnett were outstanding in the Farmville line. Roberts and Rhodes were Wendell's defensive stars.

The inspirational lift born of a burning desire to see the world middle weight championship returned to the United States could be the spark that is to raise Lee Sala to ring greatness. Sala's impressive record of 42 consecutive ring victories since entering the professional ranks indicates that the Donora, Pa., youth has exceptional ring talents. His two years of campaigning, topped off with a knockout of the highly rated Charley Affit, of Pittsburgh, has brought him to his severest tests against the topnotchers. From this point, every move Sala makes will be with a championship bout with Marcel Cerdan in mind.

Sala began boxing as an amateur at the age of 16 and piled up string of victories without the sanction of his parents. Even his brother, Tony who was an intercollegiate boxing champion at Villanova, threw cold water on Lee's ring ambitions. But Lee's appetite for boxing was whetted while he served in the Navy and, after being separated from the service he decided to take a fling at boxing for pay.

Sala is very proud to count Stan Mustal, his neighbor in Donora, Pa., among his closest friends. And Arnold Galiffa, Army's quarterback ace, is even closer. Arnold's older brother married Lee's older sister so the Three Sports Musketeers of Donora are as close as brothers.

Miami Blitzed By Georgia Eleven

Miami, Fla., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The University of Georgia's power-packed football team last night blitzed the scrappy but woefully outranked University of Miami Hurricanes 42 to 21 before 46,127 fans in the Orange Bowl stadium.

It was the greatest throng ever to attend a regular season game in Florida's history.

The Bulldogs, beaten only by mighty North Carolina, utilized the entire 42-man squad to subdue Coach Andy Gustafson's Miamians—who challenged Georgia for every inch of ground gained.

But it was Georgia's amazing passing team of Quarterback Johnny Rauch and Left End Bob Walston which gave the Georgians their touchdown punch. Rauch, whose passing arm already had completed 31 of 59 attempted passes this year, last night found the mark nine times out of 15 tries for a total of 170 yards gained.

Miami's Jack Del Bello and Left End Ralph Feller, almost Georgia's equal in the passing department, completed the major share of eight for 14 tries.

Georgia built 232 yards on the ground to Miami's 99, gained 198 yards in the air to the Hurricanes' 171 and made 20 to Miami's 13 first downs.

Fort Worth, Tex.—(AP)—Texas Christian is well equipped with football lettermen. Twenty-four of last season's 36 letter winners have returned plus three more from previous teams.

Phantoms Fall Before Red Devils By Score Of 51-0

By TOMMIE LUFTON
Coach Bo Farley's Greenville Green Phantoms went down under the powerful Kinston Red Devils last night at Guy Smith Stadium in a Northeastern Conference tilt by the score of 51-0, the worst a Farley-coached football team has ever been beaten.

The Devils kicked to the Phantoms, but the G-Men failed to gain, so Cox punted from his 20 to the 50. On the second play that Kinston had the ball, Byrd raced 50 yards on an off-tackle play for pay-dirt. The Red Devils made the conversion, which made the score 7-0.

The only scoring threat that the G-Men made was when Fleming covered a fumble on the Red Devils' 20, but the Phantoms gained no ground. Kinston took over and on the first play Whaley broke loose on an off-tackle play and galloped 80 yards for the second Kinston TD. The kick for the extra point was no good.

The teams battled at even terms the remainder of the half. Starting fast in the third quarter, Whaley jaunted 65 yards on the first play after the kick-off by Bland. The score was now 19-0.

Several plays later Byrd raced 38 yards for the fourth Red Devil tally. Kinston scored again in the third quarter as Aldridge went 35 yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was good, making the score 32-0.

In the final quarter Whaley, Williams, and DuBose each made one TD for the Red Devils. Only one of the extra point attempts were good so the score ended 51-0 in favor of the Kinston Red Devils. It was their fifth straight conference win and no defeats.

Joe Whaley, 127 pound back, was an offensive star for the Devils, while Bobby Fleming, G-Men guard, starred defensively for Greenville.

Ayden Defeats Selma 13-7 In Hard Grid Tilt

Ayden, Oct. 23.—Ayden registered its third East Central Conference victory of the season by defeating a hard-fighting Selma eleven, 13-7, here yesterday.

Ayden got both its touchdowns in the first half while blanking the visitors, but Selma pulled to within one touchdown of a tie in the third quarter on a 17-yard scoring pass which Thompson caught in the end zone.

Fullback Leonard Bullock plunged over from the 2-yard line in the first period to climax a 64-yard Ayden march with the opening kickoff. End Bob Holland carried the ball on an end-around play for the extra point.

A 33-yard pass from Bullock to Billy Jenkins in the second period produced Ayden's winning touchdown.
