Gifts In EuropeECA Announces No
Further Grants Unless Loan Agreements Signed

Washington, Oct. 27—(AP)—The Economic Cooperation Administration announced today it will make no new Marshall plan grants to European countries unless they have signed loan agreements. Only Britain and Iceland now have loan agreements.

The action temporarily cuts off new grants, or outright gifts, of recovery aid to France, Italy, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Ireland, the Netherlands and Turkey.

These are the countries eligible for ECA aid on a repayable loan basis, with which negotiations have been in progress for months.

The British yesterday signed a loan agreement for $310,000,000 and Iceland also is exempt from the sweeping ECA decree because she concluded a $2,300,000 fisheries credit in the summer.

ECA is obliged under the Foreign Assistance act, to use $1,000,000,000 of its Marshall plan appropriation in making loans which are repayable and which will finance specific industrial recovery projects.

While approximately $2,500,000,000 already has been handed out in grants, the loan program is behind schedule.

The Marshall plan agency described its action as a "move to balance the ratio of loans and grants."

Acting ECA Administrator Harold Bruce said he did not believe the halt in new grants would last long, or that it would affect the over-all program of providing aid under the ECA program.

Yesterday another ECA spokesman predicted that all loans negotiations now underway would be concluded within two weeks.

Continue Inquiry
Of Fall From Moving Train

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 27—(AP)—Officials here today continued their investigation of the reported fall of a 22-year-old woman from a moving train here yesterday.

Mrs. Ruth Cooney, Chicago, was in Stuart Memorial hospital here with a broken left arm and severe cuts and bruises on her head and body. Sheriff Lantz Putrell said she told him she was pushed from the Louisville and Nashville's crack Georgian about 10 miles north of here.

In Atlanta, however, L. and N. officials who decline to be identified, said they believe she fell accidentally when she opened the wrong door.

Putrell said Mrs. Cooney, enroute to Atlanta on a vacation, talked incoherently yesterday and frequently lapsed into a coma.

An Eyewitness Report

The Following Is An Analysis By The AP Chief Of Bureau In Athens On Greek Situation; Conflicting Reports; More Money Needed To Fight Guerrillas

By L. S. CHAKALES

New York—There are going to be a lot of questions asked when the 81st Congress gets a proposal to dip into the till for an additional two to three hundred million dollars for Greece.

The congressmen are going to ask sponsors of the bill why President Truman and Ambassador Grady reported opposite results in Greece within a few days of each other.

Secretary Marshall's unexpected but brief absence from the United Nations in Paris to visit Greece two weeks ago was the beginning of the buildup for the request to Congress.

The day Marshall arrived in Athens, Ambassador Grady, who had been conspicuously silent about the guerrilla war, bobbed up with an announcement that the Greek army's progress against the Communist-led guerrillas was not "satisfactory."

This didn't jibe with President Truman's statement a few days previously. The President described the campaign against the Communists in Greece as a "conspicuous success."

It would also appear that the ambassador was out of step with the American military mission and the Greek government. Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who heads the mission; Premier Themistokles Sophoulis and Deputy Premier Constantine Tsaldaris previously had promised the Greeks and the world that the "backbone" of the guerrillas' resistance would be broken by the end of the year.

It now looks as though the tough "andartes" won't be cleaned out completely by next summer, as it was generally believed and hoped for by the highest American and Greek authorities in Athens.

These conflicts on the highest levels in Washington and Athens cannot be dismissed easily. But there is a partial explanation, which goes back to March, 1947, when the Truman Doctrine was announced.

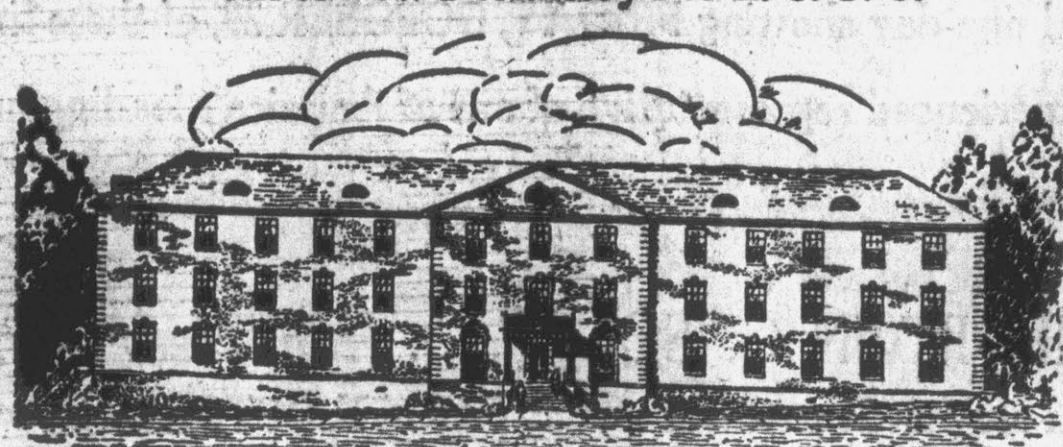

The first American military men to appraise the Greek situation underestimated the guerrillas and overestimated the enthusiasm of Greek politicians and military leaders when the aid was announced.

When the combat section of the American mission actually got to moving last spring Gen. Van Fleet and his aides felt they could use considerably more military funds than allocated by former Nebraska Governor Dwight D. Eisenhower for suppression of the rebels.

Swift U. S. Reply
For Alliance OfferRough Draft Of North
Atlantic Security
Treaty Already
Written; Barring
Hitch, Pact Expected
Go To Senate In Three Months

Washington, Oct. 27—(AP)—Swift American action appears assured today once the five-nation Western European Union makes its formal request for a military alliance with the United States.

In fact, the rough draft of just such a North Atlantic security treaty already has been written, after secret and informal talks with the European countries. Barring some unexpected hitch, the final version is expected to go to the Senate within three months.

The aim of the projected alliance is to provide American and Canadian military guarantees for non-Communist Europe, with the Western European nations as a nucleus. The "union" countries are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

As part of this broad undertaking, defense department officials already are working with European military experts on plans for a program of mutual military help. However, work on this program—which would cost the United States several billion dollars over the next few years—is less well advanced than that on the treaty.

The Council of the Western European Union, composed of the foreign ministers of the five nations, announced in Paris yesterday that it had reached complete agreement "on the principle of a defensive pact for the North Atlantic and on the next steps to be taken in this direction."

The first of these next steps, Paris reported, will be to have the ambassadors of the five nations in Washington formally ask the American government for such a treaty.

But, diplomatic informants here said today, this step will not be taken until after next Tuesday's presidential election. The delay is in line with the months-old policy of playing down the whole subject during the political campaign.

Representatives of 23 organizations of Greenville and Pitt County met yesterday afternoon and voted to form a Pitt County Safety Council to work with the local Red Cross chapter in carrying out an extensive safety program in the county.

Ellis Fyall, field representative of the Red Cross, explained the purpose of the Safety Council and pointed out the projects of safety and accident prevention the council could direct in the county. The Safety Council, Fyall said, will have at its disposal movies, pamphlets and other materials furnished by the regional headquarters of the Red Cross.

John G. Fleming, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, presided over a discussion of the formation of the Safety Council by the Greenville citizens present. The group voted unanimously to form the council.

Chairman Fleming appointed a nominating committee to name a chairman of the Safety Council. The committee composed of Hoover Taft, Mrs. Jack Howard, D. H. Conley and David Whitchard, Jr., will report to the council at the next meeting.

Back 'Broken'

Tel Aviv, Israel, Oct. 27—(AP)—The Israeli general staff declared today recent Jewish operations in the Negev have broken the back of the Egyptian army and air force.

Col. Yigal Yadin, chief of operations, said the whole first line Egyptian army force was destroyed, the Egyptian navy's flagship sunk and the best of Egypt's fighting troops either destroyed or sealed off in three pockets of the southern Palestine desert area.

As a result, he said, Egypt will have to rebuild her whole military striking force before ever again being able to undertake an offensive in major strength.

Israel has rejected the offer by acting U. N. mediator Ralph J. Bunche to withdraw from newly won control positions in the Negev, it was disclosed.

Nuernberg, Germany, Oct. 27—(AP)—An American war crimes court today acquitted 13 of Adolf Hitler's top military commanders of plotting to launch World War II.

The three-man court, completing the nine-months trial of three field marshals, five Generals, one Admiral and four Lieutenant-Generals, ruled they had not been German policy makers.

The judgment said "the acts of commanders and staff officers below policy level in planning campaigns, preparing means for carrying them out, moving against a country on orders and fighting a war after it has been instituted, do not constitute the planning, preparation, initiation and waging of war or the initiation of an invasion that international law denounces as criminal."

Several hundred people representing every precinct in the county gathered at the Greenville city hall to hear Chairman Waynick, Congressman Herbert Bonner and the Pitt County Democratic leaders. Pitt County Chairman John G. Clark presided at the rally and recognized several of the Pitt County political leaders who made short comments to the assembly.

Congressman Bonner in his speech appealed to the Democrats of the county to come together in a unified body to poll the largest vote for the Democratic party which has ever been polled in the county. Referring to the primary he said, "The battle among ourselves is over, we now must join together to carry out the great principles of the Democratic party."

Bonner slashed at the Republican party policies and the attitude the GOP has taken toward agriculture and conservation. He spoke of the Republican era following the Wilson administration and declared "the future will follow in the footsteps of the past" if the Republicans return to power in this national election.

Referring to the explosive civil rights question, Bonner said, "I don't like that one plank in the Democratic platform, but it is weaker than the plank in the Republican platform. If the Democrats get control of the White House and Congress, we can control this situation."

Waynick urged the people of Eastern North Carolina to get out a big vote next Tuesday to offset the close vote in the western counties of the state. "This election is more than a contest between two men," he said. "The election next Tuesday may prove to be more important than the vote of 1860. The future of this nation belongs to the liberal party, and the Democratic party is the greatest liberal party this country has ever seen."

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
October 27, 1908

The Sans Souci Book Club was very delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Miss Mary Higgins. Miss Lizzie Jones read the constitution of the club, this being the first opportunity of having it read this year. After all other business was dispensed with the books were exchanged by the librarian. The meeting was then voted to be in the hands of the hostess who passed sheets of paper with ten words written on each. The guests were asked to write a short story, using each of these words in their respective order. The prize, a dainty piece of handwork, went to Miss Irma Cobb for the best story. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Savage Reviews Book Before Club

Mrs. Bill Sermons entertained the Literature Department of the Woman's Club at her home on Tuesday Oct. 26. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Claude Tunstall and Miss Mamie Ruth Tunstall. Mrs. Paul Ricks poured tea at the table lovely with autumn colors. After a short business meeting Mrs. J. L. Savage drew a vivid picture of the slave trade in the early nineteenth century as she reviewed in her clear way The Golden Isle by Frank Slaughter.

Mrs. W. W. Howell joined the Literature Department. Guests were Mrs. R. V. Keel, Mrs. Gordon Hanson, and Mrs. L. L. Rigs. The next meeting will be held on November 9 at Ragsdale Hall. Dr. Lucile Charles will be guest speaker.

WORDS OF GOLD

A traveller in Asia Minor was being shown through a Greek Orthodox monastery. The monks proudly displayed an ancient manuscript of the New Testament in which the words of Jesus were inscribed in gold.

This started the traveller to thinking. The words of Jesus inscribed in gold! How fitting that this should be. Very few ancient teachers have left as few teachings
as did Jesus, yet all the teachings of wise men in every age combined are not in the slightest degree to be compared in quality or influence with the few teachings which Jesus left his disciples. They are words of gold indeed.

All the sayings of Jesus are found in the four Gospels with the exception of one saying in the Book of Acts. Many of these sayings are repetitions of sayings in other Gospels.
This means that the teachings of Jesus constitute a small number of basic moral principles.
But the point is that they are basic indeed. They touch us where we live. They point us to the goals which we wish to attain. They reveal to us the nature of God and encourage us to appropriate to ourselves powers which the Divine stands ready to pour into our lives.
The words of Jesus inscribed in gold, fitting indeed for that perfectly reveals their true nature.

Around Capitol Square

STRAIGHT — State Chairman
Copus Wayne is proud of the fact that among the thousands of contributors to the state Democratic campaign fund only two imposed any restrictions upon use of the amounts given. This contrasts with four years ago when a very large proportion of the contributions were earmarked for use in the state campaign only, without any part being devoted to furtherance of the national ticket. This year with number of contributors and aggregate amount far ahead of the 1944 level, there is virtually no distinction being made, but the ticket is being taken straight down the line, Waynick said.

UN-DEAD — It's the un-deadest
corpse I ever saw," was the comment of one Raleigh guest at the Catawba county barbecue and rally
Monday night sponsored by Young Democrats. Reference was to rumors that the Democratic party is dead and the 1948 campaign very dull and apathetic. With well more than 2500 people gathered for the barbecue, and a fourth of the number jamming the courthouse at Newton for a series of speeches with Kerr Scott as lead-off man, the county meeting was as large and as lively as any of the district rallies held earlier this month. Another guest quipped that the incident proves truth of the old adage "Competition is the life of trade."

CLOSE — Catawba has been for a long time regarded as one of the close counties, although Democrats have won consistently in the past five elections. This year they expect to win, but not easily. Chances are better than even for every Democratic candidate except Harry Vanderlinden for the legislature who is up against a Tartar in the person of Loomis Klutz, Republican candidate and former legislator.
Klutz is conducting a personal door-bell ringing campaign, independent of the Republican organization. Vanderlinden aroused considerable rural opposition by his special act in 1947 permitting the city of Hickory to vote on ABC stores. Legal liquor was defeated by narrow margin, but many ardent dries now seek to penalize the representative for providing the election.

PLUG — While all state, district
and local candidates were introduced with Congressman Hamilton
Jones, Scott, and L. Y. Ballentine making short speeches, the rally
was almost a Vanderlinden affair.
The governor-nominate went further than he usually does in appealing for support of the entire ticket,
and for the first time, so far as regular followers of the campaign
could recall, he specifically asked for support of one candidate. He said he wanted Harry Vanderlinden returned to the general assembly,
because he was needed to help ef-fectuate the progressive program
the new governor has outlined. Ballentine inserted the same personal appeal in his remarks.

STAR — Vanderlinden may have been the chief beneficiary of the occasion, but star performer was a young man named Safney, who moved up to the front of the big barbecue crowd and launched into a vigorous "old time religious Democratic speech." Without invitation and without authority, but with considerable effect, he regaled the audience for ten minutes or more with a list of Democratic virtues
and Republican shortcomings.

WIS-CRACK — Scott threw the courthouse audience into laughter
and applause with a wise crack, which he later said he wished had been original but was not, about
"Dewey, DeLapp and depression,"
being the horrible prospect of Republican victory next week. (S. A.
DeLapp is state chairman of the Republican party.)

REPORTS — Office activity around state department is being devoted now to the job of preparing and having published the biennial reports to the general assembly required by statute. Shorthanded staffs and abnormal printing difficulties have delayed publication of such reports in recent years. Several departments now say they have hope of getting printed copies ready for distribution early in the legislative session. If this goal is attained the reports may have some genuine value in showing what state government is doing as basis for intelligent legislation—which is the purpose of the requirement that reports be filed every two years.

New York (AP)—America's Public Enemy No. 1 is going to wake up a week from today, take a look at his newspaper and start moaning:

"Good Lord, look who they've elected."

He will weary his wife with loud
cries of lamentation:

"The country's gone to the dogs.
What a place this will be to live
in for the next four years."

He will annoy his fellow workers
at the office with his wails:

"What did that bum do to earn a place at the public trough? I wish I could hibernate until 1952."

There will be many people, sick of P. E. No. One's yammering, who'll wish he would hibernate.

Who is this human eight-ball?
Till tell you his name. His name is Legion. He is democracy's worst foe.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—When Norman John
Oswald Makin, the Australian ambassador, came to Washington two years ago, about one of the first things he did was to look around for a church where he could preach
occasionally on Sunday.

The pressure of official duties allows him to preach only about once a month, but he is deluged with invitations from churches all over the country. He is a Methodist lay preacher.

Mr. Makin is a neat and kindly man of slight stature with greying hair and rhetorical style of speaking. He invariably wears the striped pant and black coat of the diplomat when appearing in public.

He is a strict teetotaler. When Washington first learned he was to be Australia's representative here, socialites and newsmen feared an austerity regime at the embassy.

But both he and Mrs. Makin drink soft drinks and fruit juices. Their guests at official dinners are offered fine wines and liquors. Also, while he doesn't care much for smoking, he'll have an occasional cigarette to put his guests at ease.

The ambassador has just taken up a new hobby. He paints in water color—landscapes, still life, the flowers in the embassy garden. He is extremely fond of music and reads a great deal. He has an ardent dislike for gaudy modern painting, for the loud jigger-bug type of music. "Anything distorted or ugly has no place
in life," he says.

Mr. Makin was born at Petersham,
New South Wales, March 31, 1889.
He served for 25 years in the Australian Federal Parliament, two of them as speaker of the House of Representatives. As minister for navy and munitions, he was an important figure in the dominion's World War II organization. He was two years old when his native colony had its first labor party government, and 12 when it became a state
by joining five other British colonies (Victoria, South Australia, Queensland, Tasmania and Western Australia) to form the Commonwealth of Australia. The new constitution provided for a government much like that of this country, with the crown-appointed Governor-General in place of an American president.

His parents, who had emigrated from Lancashire, England, were of the working class. When he was 15 he was forced to leave school and go to work. At 21 he moved to Melbourne, where he was a regular visitor at evening sittings of Parliament.

Voting in America is now clean, safe and anonymous. It just takes a little bit of trouble.

It would have been simple for Dorland to say:

"Why should I lose my neck ticking a few strands of wire?"

History would never have known it if Drabik ducked under cover and consoled himself:

"That bridge is no place for a 34-year-old man, and the boys with me won't mind if we sweat it out here. They don't want to get killed any more than I do."

Neither of the two men knew that their lone acts of heroism would help shorten the war and save thousands of American lives. It was just another dirty anonymous battle assignment to them—when they did it.

Two enlisted men—but an Army's grand offense teetered on their sense of duty.

It would have been simple for Dorland to say:

ing a few strands of wire?"

Boy Scout Program In Pitt Plans For Future

By WYATT BROWN

Boy Scouting has been in continuous operation in Greenville for the last thirty-one years contributing to the character building and citizenship training. Eagle Scouts by the score have been developed. There are now three white troops and three colored troops active in the city. There are two Cub Packs — scouting for the younger boys. Each of the following sponsors a troop or a Cub Pack: Christian Church, American Legion, Methodist Church, Immanuel Baptist Church, and Presbyterian Church. Sponsors are the organizations which utilize scouting to expand its own program or as its sole means of contributing to boys. Scouting works under a District Committee but the Scout Commissioner W. F. Young gets right in with the scoutmasters and the Scouts. Larry Brown is his assistant commissioner. The Scoutmasters are Bill Drum, Kenneth Allen and M. W. Stone with David Whitchard, Jr., as Stone's assistant Scoutmaster. Wendell Smiley and Rev. L. W. Topping are the two Cubmasters.

The local Scout organization has set three new troops as its goal for the year. Three troops have never been sufficient to take care of all the boys who have sought scouting experience. If the Cub Pack at the Presbyterian Church does not take care of the Cub demand, additional Packs will be organized.

To implement the Scouting Program Activities Chairman Sherman Parks has some plans in hand. Besides the annual Camporee and Scout Week observance which have always been engaged in, Mr. Parks plans District Rallies at regular intervals.

The troop committee for each sponsoring institution is to receive advice from the Scout Executive on their obligations and opportunities. All the Scout leaders are planning to engage in monthly round tables for instruction in their duties. This is concrete evidence of the intention of the adults connected with Scouting to make better contributions.

Since the inception of the Community Chest idea in Greenville, the Boy Scouts have been a participating agency. The important work of carrying on Scouting is now dependent upon the Community Chest and its annual campaign. It is a matter of record that boys who come under the influence of Scouting never become community problems—contribute to the Community Chest and give more boys that privilege.

Ask Tribunal To Dismiss Suit By Progressives

Raleigh, Oct. 27 —(AP)—The state Supreme Court has been asked to dismiss a Progressive party suit attacking the legality of regulations of the state Board of Elections.

In a brief filed for the board yesterday, Attorney General Harry McMillan said the party has achieved the practical aims of the suit and thus the action is "purely academic."

The party has gained the legal status it sought, McMillan contended and the regulations have been nullified by a Supreme Court ruling in a similar case brought by States Rights Democrats. The two parties' actions challenged board regulations covering formation of new parties.

London—(AP)—The British television audience is growing steadily. The General Post Office reports 3,450 persons took out television receiving licenses in August to run the total up to 61,700 in Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Radio receiving licenses including television numbered 11,324,400. There were 509 prosecutions during August for listening in without them.

Greenville Assured Of Club In Class D Baseball League

By BERT MOSE

At a continued meeting of the stockholders of the Greenville Baseball Club held last night in the Sheppard Memorial Library building, Greenville was assured of representation in the Class D Coastal Plain League next season when a group of local business men purchased the stock and assets of the Greenville club. In purchasing the club the buyers assumed the liabilities of the club which were approximately $8,000.

In a recent meeting of the baseball club the stockholders voted to liquidate the incorporation and offer for sale to any person or group of persons in Greenville the franchise of the ball club. The meeting last night was for the purpose of deciding whether the franchise of the club would remain in Greenville or be offered to some other town nearby.

The new owners of the club are B. M. Garrett, R. E. Rogers, J. C. Kessler, W. Z. Morton, E. E. Rawl and Guy V. Smith.

Each of the new owners expressed his faith in Greenville as a baseball town and stated that they were going to do all in their power to bring to Greenville a winning team next year.

ECTC Announces Boxing Program

Plans to sponsor an intercollegiate boxing team at East Carolina Teachers College were announced this week by Athletic Director Dr. N. M. Jorgensen.

Jorgensen announced yesterday that negotiations are being made with numerous colleges in this section for matches. He said he hoped to arrange four or five home and as many away matches if possible.

It was reported that 12 or more boxers with varying experiences are enrolled at East Carolina and many others have expressed their desire to try their hands at pugilism.

Boxing instruction will be under Jim Johnson, head football coach. N. C. only tips the scales at 145 pounds. This is his second year in a Pirate uniform.

The ECTC Pirates looked twice yesterday afternoon as they trotted on the field. There stood Coach Johnson with a full football uniform on. The first question was: Is he going to scrimmage with us? You could hear from several players. "He's tough, he was the best lineman that Portsmouth had when he played for them. But were they surprised because even Johnson couldn't stop the first eleven today. Their blocking was at the peak. Coach Boone and Johnson remarked "that's the best down-field blocking we have had this year." The backs were taking the ball and going all the way for T. D's. After several touchdowns, they quit keeping score. Johnson led his crew to their only score in the closing minutes of the scrimmage. Brady on the end around hit pay-dirt, from the 14 yard line.

Bill Smith, remember that name? You are going to hear about it after Friday's game with the Duke "B" squad. Billy who weighs only 145 pounds has more drive than any back on the squad. He showed his power yesterday when several times he broke away for long gains—Twice, going all the way, 40 and 60 yards. Billy is another Portsmouth Va. boy and is as tough as they come. Not only did he show his power on the offense, he demonstrated his ability to play defense. Johnny who is a brother of Billy and plays first string fullback thinks he is one of the best defensive men on the squad.

Gulford College got a new paint job Sunday night, but the Quakers didn't seem to like the colors. Numerous signs were splashed over the campus and community in red and white referring to the game Saturday with High Point. As the Quakers trotted to the practice field the word was this: "Win, draw, or lose, we are going to give High Point one of the biggest battles they have encountered this year." Say boys, you don't think that it was High Point that came over and took their Art class on your campus DO YOU???

"Attention Civic Clubs in Greenville: Maybe you would like to sponsor a semipro basketball team this year. Athletics of this sort are a part of the plan to make Greenville a bigger and better community. This plan is being carried out in hundreds of small towns and cities and is very successful. In several towns the proceeds go to the teen-age club or recreation center, others go to worthy causes.

Lineman of the week: Again this week a guard was picked for top honors. Leon Ellis who hails from Siler City, N. C. and plays a bang up ball game of football out charged the Pirates Friday night to take honor as Lineman of the week. Ellis wears a big 82 on his jersey and only weighs 175 pounds. This is Ellis' first year with the Pirates and Coach Johnson rates him very high. We can't help mentioning George Word, who plays halfback. George was outstanding on defense as well as offense. Word who comes to ECTC from Hertford, N. C. only tips the scales at 145 pounds. This is his second year in a Pirate uniform.

Carolina Expects 'Toughest Game' With Tennessee

Chapel Hill, N.C., Oct. 27.—Well set up by their smashing 34-7 victory over Louisiana State's Tigers but with grim business ahead at Knoxville this week, North Carolina's unbeaten and untied Tar Heels were back at their practice chores yesterday.

There was plenty of work ahead because, now safely past the midway point and with five 1948 wins in the bag, their next opponent is Tennessee. The Vols are the comeback team of the year, again one of the powers of the Southeastern conference and extremely anxious to turn back Carolina and avenge the 20-6 defeat they sustained last autumn.

Coach Russ Murphy has turned over to Boss Carl Snavely a voluminous report on the lives and works of the Vols, and these dossiers are being studied earnestly. The Tar Heels likely will put in their hardest ticks of the year this week. They have been told, without equivocation, that the Vols look like the toughest team they have faced.

The condition of some of the athletes is a moot question. Hopes are high that blocking back Paul Rizzo, who sustained a shoulder injury against the Bayou boys, will be all right by the end of the week and ready to call the signals and block for Charlie Justice, Hosea Rodgers, Johnny Clements and the other Carolina ball advancers. Trainers could not make sure.

There is little possibility that tackle Ted Hazelwood, who watched the L.S.U. game from a wheel chair on the sidelines, will be able to play. Ted says he will, but few think so. He is expected to be ready for the William and Mary game here the week following. Wingback Fred Sherman appears to be out for the season with his injured knee.

The University of Texas' worst loss at the hands of a college team in recent times was a 42-6 drubbing in 1938 by Arkansas. The Razorbacks haven't won a game since from the Longhorns.

Play Thursday

The Ayden High School Tornadoes will play host to Warsaw High at Guy Smith Stadium tomorrow night at 7:30.

The Tornadoes, coached by Stuart Tripp, have three victories to their credit, while losing only one in the East Central Conference.

Ayden won a 13-7 victory over a highly regarded Selma eleven last week. All of the players are reportedly in good shape, and the team will be at full strength.

Nevada Leads All With Offensive

New York, Oct. 27.—(AP)—California Notre Dame and Army have strengthened their positions among the leading offensive teams on the nation's collegiate gridirons but they still have a long way to go if they are to overtake high-flying Nevada.

The Nevada Wolfpack, with the help of a great passer and a so-so schedule, rolled merrily along at the head of the offensive standings released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, leading all other teams in both forward passing and total offense.

Clinging to second place in the rating based on both rushing and passing was little Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, unbeaten but outced. And following them in order were California, Notre Dame and Army—all moving up a notch from the previous week.

Nevada maintained its lofty position on the spectacular passing of Stan Heath, who is virtually certain to rewrite the record books with his aerial game before the season ends.

In winning all five of its games to date, Nevada has piled up 2,940 yards by rushing and passing, an average of 498 yards per game. Of that total 1,439 of Nevada's yards have come through the air.

Miami has averaged 422.6 yards per game, California 401, Notre Dame 395.2 and Army 389.

Dr. E. Wayne Konrad, new athletic trainer at the University of Florida, did the training job for Mississippi State last year.

Coach Johnson Shows 'em How In Scrimmage With His Team

By EUGENE PRICE

Manager Max Garrel's eyes bulged slightly yesterday when East Carolina Head Football Coach Jim Johnson faced him across the wind-dow of the equipment room and demanded, "I want heavy gear today."

The coach's asking for shoulder pads, helmet, and the other protective devices could mean but one thing—he intended to scrimmage. That did not sound right. Johnson hadn't been in heavy gear since 1943.

The perplexed manager hesitated waiting for the big coach to laugh and say he was just kidding. But the coach stood there waiting. "I want heavy gear today," he repeated and Garrel handed him a form to sign and issued the pads.

The coach explained afterwards that he wanted to show the Pirates gridders in actual scrimmage exactly what he expected of them. He ran quarterback, passing, handing off on reverses and in some cases even carrying the ball on a "Q" sneak. On defense Johnson played tackle.

Johnson's actual participation in the scrimmage set off a spark of high spirits. He commented after the practice session that "the boys looked much better on offensive blocking." Johnson and backfield Coach Jack Boone are stressing line blocking in scrimmages this week as they prep for the home tilt with the Duke Jayvees Friday night.

"We are trying to make the boys realize that blocking is blocking on offense and tackling on defense," the coaches said. "If we're ever to do anything we have to make these boys conscious of the necessity of blocking," he added.

Some experimental changes are being conducted this week, the grid coaches announced last night. Big Frank Maennie, quarterback, is being tried at fullback in an effort to add power to this post. "Frank has more drive than any man we have," Johnson commented, and said the big quarterback may be used at full on some plays in future games.

The coaches were high in their praise yesterday of the performance shown in the backfield by Jim Danks. It was also reported that Joe Pollitt, center, may, with the aid of a nose guard, be all right for the Friday night tilt with the Duke "B's."

Newark, N.J., middleweight, remained in critical condition today in Rhode Island Hospital. His name still was on the danger list.

Martin suffered a cerebral concussion Monday night in a bout with Tommy Bell, Youngstown, Ohio, boxer. Bell knocked out Martin in the last round of a ten round fight.

Duquesne To Be Football School
Pittsburgh, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Duquesne University has added its bit to the unsettled football picture on the Pittsburgh college front.

Duquesne students read yesterday in the college's paper an announcement by their president, the Very Reverend Francis P. Smith, that they will see "the return of the university football team to national prominence."

The six teams in the National Hockey League will play 60 games apiece during the 1948-49 season.

Manager Of The Year Poll Picks Pittsburgh Pilot

New York, Oct. 27—(AP)—William Adam (Bill) Meyer today was voted the "manager of the year" in a nation-wide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The 56-year-old freshman pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out Billy Southworth, leader of the National League champion Boston Braves in a neck and neck race. Meyer received 89 votes to 87 for the veteran World Series campaigner.

In all, 220 baseball experts took part in the voting. Besides Meyer and Southworth, Lou Boudreau, Joe McCarthy, Burt Shotton, Steve O'Neill, Bucky Harris and Connie Mack received scattered support.

Boudreau, who piloted the Cleveland Indians to their first American League pennant in 28 years, and then led them to the world championship, ranked third with 20 votes.

McCarthy, whose Boston Red Sox bowed to the Indians in an unprecedented playoff for the flag, was fourth with 19 votes.

Harris, released manager of the New York Yankees, was selected as the No. 1 pilot by three experts. The others each got one vote.

Meyer received the No. 1 rating because of the outstanding job he did in leading the Pirates to a fourth place finish after having them in flag contention until the final two weeks of the season. He took over a club that finished in a tie for the cellar last year with the Philadelphia Phils.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 27—(AP)—Awakened in the early part of his sleep last night, the Pittsburgh Pirates manager, Billy Meyer, complained good-naturedly and tried to tell how he felt about being named baseball's manager of the year.

"It is one of the finest honors..." he began. There was a near-silent interval in which he mumbled, "I'm kinda knocked over about it."

Getting a fresh start, Billy declared: "I think it a marvelous thing that the baseball writers of America have bestowed such an honor on me."

"I have felt that a fellow who wins the pennant should have it. "Since the Pirates didn't win, I

Pamlico Track Winds Up Season Sunday, Oct. 31

Washington, Oct. 27—The last Harness Horse Racing meet of the 1948 season will be held at the Pamlico Race Track near Washington on Sunday, Oct. 31 beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Pamlico Race Track was opened on July 4, 1947, and since that time over 25,000 people have been thrilled by the speed and ease of some of the finest race horses in the country.

There will be four classes; each having two heats of one mile. The classes will be as follows: 2:15 pace, 2:19 trot, free-for-all pace and free-for-all trot.

A large number of trotters and pacers are expected for the meet from North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Boudreau Notes Sophomore Jinx In 1948 Outlook

Cleveland, Oct. 27—(AP)—Mind you, Boudreau isn't backing down on his prediction that his Cleveland Indians will be up around the top of the American League next season.

But he stipulates one qualification. He calls it the "sophomore jinx." The shortstop Manager of the World Champions added this footnote last night at a Junior Chamber of Commerce program:

"Remember that Gene Bearden and Larry Boby are going to be sophomores next season. I have said that the Indians will finish either first or second for the next three to five years."

"But if the sophomore jinx hits Gene and Larry we could drop to fourth or fifth."

"Next season we must count upon Gene and Larry if we hope to repeat. Doby has shown great ability. Bearden improved with every game and at the end of the season was the best pitcher in baseball."

Shriners Look For Candidates To 'Cigar Bowl'

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 27—(AP)—Shriners throughout the country are on the lookout this week for prospective candidates for the third annual Cigar Bowl football game here Jan. 1.

J. Rex Farrior, chairman of the selection committee, said it will be a couple of weeks before a clear picture of possible bowl rivals takes shape. Although the committee wants two unbeaten teams, there are other considerations, he said.

"We hope to have the top small college team of the country in the game," Farrior added. "But there are many teams that are rated small colleges but play big time schedules. For that reason it's hard to get the best small colleges without having a team that has been defeated."

The Texas-Oklahoma game decided the annual owner of the Cow-boy Hat Trophy. A bronze ten-gallon sombrero goes to the winner for a year's stay.

"Think it a greater honor that they have chosen me. I'm deeply appreciative."

There's a look of action... of poised power... a hint of spectacular performance in the low, blending lines of the Futuramic Oldsmobile. It's "Futuramic" in design... in the dramatic sweep of its fleet silhouette. And the sheer grace of its over-all beauty matches the striking simplicity of its smartly tailored interior. There's "Futuramic" comfort in the wider seats... there's panoramic visibility all around in the new Body by Fisher.

And when you take to the road in this sparkling new car, you'll discover the thrill of Oldsmobile's swift, silent tread... the smoothness of Hydra-Matic Drive. Press down on the gas pedal... push down all the way. In a split second, you leap away... flashing forward with the controlled rush of Hydra-Matic Drive's downshift, Whirlaway! For greater safety... for greater performance, it's Hydra-Matic Drive plus Whirlaway! —And it's Oldsmobile that leads the way to America's motoring pleasure with America's only Futuramic car!

Lincoln Stronghold In Central Illinois

Decatur, Ill.—(AP)—A broad belt in central Illinois is known as the "Lincoln country," because Abraham Lincoln lived there. But the title is supported by current as well as historic facts. A survey shows that eight relatives of the Civil War president still make their homes in Macon county. They are fourth, fifth and sixth cousins.

WHY

Do They Love Him In November When They
Hated Him In May?

Only a few months ago the politicians were as bitterly opposed to Truman as you were for his constant bungling and his vigorous espousal of the obnoxious Civil Rights Program. That was their FRANK OPINION. Since that time the higher ups in the political machine have cracked the whip (of patronage), and the politicians have executed an about face and are exerting themselves to herd you into voting for a man you do not want. What they now say is their POLITICAL OPINION.

They and their henchmen are conducting a snide campaign of ridicule, smear, and misrepresentation against a movement originated by men of utmost good faith for the purpose of preserving our Southern ideals and principles. Their hatchet men have even belittled our candidate for President, Governor J. Strom Thurmond, a fine, upstanding gentleman with a proud combat record in World War II.

We do not believe the people of this great State would submit docilely to such regimentation and dictation. May the opinion of a colonial governor in 1726, whose own experience was none too happy: "The people are neither to be cajoled, nor outwitted," hold true even today. We firmly believe that freedom of thought and independence of action are not yet dead, and that the fire of liberty still burns fiercely in the hearts of the people of North Carolina.

States' Rights Democrats

If you are a true Southerner and not ashamed of it,

If you are not willing to take an insult submissively and come back for more,

If you refuse to aid in a blow directed at the heart of our Southland,

If you believe in preserving the integrity of both races in the South.

If you are opposed to destruction of our time-honored constitutional protection against a police state in America,

If you are against a President of the United States who is willing to conceal the extent of Communist infiltration into our government just for the sake of political gain,

If you are for the fair and equitable treatment of all groups and classes but the preferment of none,

VOTE FOR HON.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

By FAGALY and SHORTEN

Deadly Weapon

By Wade Miller

Chapter 31
With her free hand, Ethel Lantz fingered the bound white hair. "I made a mistake with you. Hal is the only person who ever meant anything to me. He still is. I'm doing this for him—I wouldn't have the strength to do it for myself. I've lived in fear for the last two months. Walter. I was afraid every time a cop walked toward me and every time I saw a man your size. There's been no one to help me—except the thought of Hal."

Walter James looked in the mirror at the pistol pointing at his back. He glanced at Rockwell. The major was a statue in his chair, hardly moving even to breathe. "Why didn't you go to the police, Ethel?" "I didn't want you to get away. You're smarter than they are. And I didn't want to go to prison. I don't want to get wrinkled and ugly—let my hair get dry and coarse." She fingered it tenderly under the net. "I've hurt it now. I had to bleach it and put bluing on it and cut some of it off. These awful clothes no one would recognize me." Her eyes flooded with wetness and she screamed at him. "I haven't been anybody for the last two months! I haven't even been a person! I've been afraid of you!"

The gun wavered.
In one movement Walter James stood up and kicked the chair back into her. An explosion burned his side and the mirror broke over his clawing hands. He found the deringer under the rag, whirled and fired. The trailing rag drifted to the floor.

Ethel Lantz stood weeping from side to side, horror on her incongruous face. The black satin across her stomach began to stain liquidly. The 25 slid from her fingers and

The pain in his arm and in his side were one united demon, chewing at him, trying to weaken him. He could feel the blood trickling down his leg. He spun and lurched toward the stage.

Greis and Madeline Harms stood in the wings, in a narrow corridor of drapes leading to the stage. They stared at him with wide eyes, unprotesting, as he shoved roughly between them and walked onto the stage. He was breathing heavily. The gun in his hand felt as though it weighed a ton.

Shasta Lynn posed against the opposite side of the proscenium arch, a spotlight lining her powdered body. She looked at him; then, as recognition came, she screamed.

She was the reason the plan hadn't worked. Shasta Lynn, the unknown factor. Walter James leveled the gun barrel at her body and, holding it steady with an effort, fired. She screamed again and fell back against the plaster arch.

She hadn't fallen down. She wasn't dead. What was wrong? He'd fired at her breast, but she was pressing her hands over a red spot on her thigh. Walter James shook his head wildly to break the film that was pressing against his eyeballs.

A wave of noise swept over his aching side and jolted him toward the footlights. With an effort, he turned his head, and saw Clapp standing in the wings. The big man had a long black police revolver leveled over his forehead. Smoke was sucking out of its barrel.

He felt his shoe smashing bulbs in the footlight trough as he caught his balance. Too bad, Clapp, you were a pretty smart cop. With both hands he lifted the heavy 38 and aimed it at the big man, the big man with the stony face.

The long black gun spoke. It said, "Walter!" with Kevin's voice. His body jarred again. He stopped trying to squeeze the trigger. Let Kevin do it. She was floating down the aisle toward him, her lovely mouth twisted open, calling to him. Don't let that punk Newcomb stop you, Kevin—help me pull this trigger, then we'll go off together and have a wonderful time.

A third explosion ripped from Clapp's gun. There was no jolt this time, no shock. Kevin had woven some magic about the bullet so it wouldn't hurt his side. Kevin was making them take the spotlight out of the back of the theater so he could get some rest. The circle of light got farther and farther away, a pinpoint that finally flicked out.

Dewey Plans New Attack On Truman Foreign Policy

An attack on Dewey to Cleveland, Oct. 27—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was reported preparing today a sharp new attack on what he called the "sad record" of Truman Administration foreign policy. The Republican presidential nominee showed a new willingness to slug it out with the Democrats as he traveled toward Cleveland and a major campaign speech there tonight. He kept secret the subject of his

Fine Support Is Given To Farm Bureau In Pitt

The Associate Members of the Pitt County Farm Bureau are doing a wonderful job signing up associate members and raising $5,000 to help establish and maintain a farm program, especially on leaf tobacco. W. H. Woolard, president of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company and a leader in Farm Bureau work, said today. The business people have manifested their approval of this movement by liberal support and contributions. Elbert Holmes of Farmville, membership chairman for that city, and Z. V. Bunting of Bethel, chairman there, have reported that they have already raised their quotas. Reports from other chairmen in the county indicate that all quotas for associate members will be met.

W. H. Woolard is chairman of the general committee for Farm Bureau associate memberships. J. H. Boyd, B. B. Sugg of Greenville, and L. E. Walston of Farmville are the other committeemen.

lowing an outstanding success in clearing up Roumeli in central Greece within a set time in the spring, the operations chiefs allowed three weeks to knock out the central guerrilla concentration in Grammos. Inadequately trained Greek troops there ran headlong into fanatic resistance from well-equipped guerrillas defending amazingly well fortified positions. It took months for 60,000 Greek soldiers to root approximately 15,000 guerrillas out of Grammos and the adjacent area. That extra two months cost a lot of money. Now the Greek army has bumped into equally stubborn resistance in the Vitsi Mountains near the juncture of the Yugoslav and Albanian borders. This also is costing a lot of money. As a result funds which were supposed to last until June 30, 1949, are running very short. And the guerrillas haven't shown any signs of disintegrating. This turn of events developed fully in September when the army moved into Vitsi. Now more money is needed. Apparently Truman made his statement from reports covering the period before those obtained by Grady.

Electrical Union Striking Back In Damage Suit

Washington, Oct. 27—(AP)—The embattled CIO United Electrical Workers Union is striking back at the government's charge of Communist taint with a $1,000,000 damage suit against the Atomic Energy Commission.

The General Electric Company also is listed as a defendant in the suit. The union's plea for money damages—and for a court order cementing its contract with the General Electric Company—grew out of the commission's recent decree that workers at a new atomic plant may not be represented by the U.E. The commission imposed that ban because it said a "serious question" had been raised by (1) the refusal of U.E. officers to sign non-Communist pledges and (2) sworn testimony that some of the officers are Communists or Communist sympathizers.

Peak Of Impact In New York Bus Strike Passes

New York, Oct. 27—(AP)—New Yorkers got to work today, slowly but in orderly fashion, as the biggest bus strike in the city's history passed the peak of its impact on 3,500,000 riders. A CIO union's strategy of displaying its power with a four hour stoppage misfired yesterday. Several thousands of 8,500 workers who walked out refused to start busing rolling again on seven privately operated lines. However, many were returning today. The immediate issue was a struggle for power between left and right wing leaders of the powerful CIO transport workers union.

Heard Students In Debate Future Role Of United Nations

In observance of United Nations Week, Bob Starling, Chairman of the United Nations Committee of the local Lion's Club, had charge of the program at the regular Monday Night meeting. Four local High school students, members of the Debate Team, debated on the topic, Resolved: That the U. N. be dissolved immediately into a world federal government. For the affirmative, Rodney Mulcher and Fredrick Brooks contended that the U. N. was already a shambles—a mere dream which, due to its structure, has failed to materialize. "The U. N." to quote Fulcher, "has power to make rules and regulations, but is without means to enforce them. The U. N. must be invested with a law enforcing body. As the organization stands today, chaos reigns. And wherever chaos prevails, Anarchy will result."

For the negative, Ray Sears and Augusta Overton contended that to grant the U. N. or any other world organization, a law enforcing body would mean that the pistol would make men equal; that we would live in a world in which the atom bomb would be both the judge and jury. The program, a most interesting and timely one, also gave an insight into the merits of the G. H. S. debaters. All present were very much impressed by the knowledge and poise exhibited by each of the debaters and predicted a rosy future for the team in inter-scholastic meets.

Guests of the Club included Lion Bullington, Sarasota, Fla.; Dick Strowd, Marietta, Ga.; L. D. Munday and Billy Tucker, Junior Lion.

These hopes didn't slump until the middle stages of the Grammos Mountain campaign in August. Fol-
