Pollsters Almost Unanimously Say Dewey Is Favored

Final Gallup Poll Gives Dewey Five Percent Advantage Over Truman

By The Associated Press

The final Gallup poll (American Institute of public opinion) gives these figures on the Presidential race: Truman, 44.5 per cent; Dewey, 49.5 per cent; Wallace, 4 per cent; Thurmond, 2 per cent.

Here are the final results of newspaper polls:

Chicago Tribune, state-wide Illinois: Truman, 43.8 per cent; Dewey, 54.4 per cent; Wallace, 2 per cent.

Chicago Sun-Times, State-wide Illinois: Truman, 45.89 per cent; Dewey, 52.86 per cent.

Boston Herald, state-wide Massachusetts: Truman, 46.6 per cent; Dewey, 48.2 per cent; Dewey plurality of about 65,000.

Philadelphia Inquirer, poll of Pennsylvania: Truman 39.3 per cent; Dewey, 57.9 per cent; Wallace 2 per cent; other candidates, 8 per cent in southern New Jersey: Truman 44 per cent; Dewey 54.3 per cent; Wallace 1.7 per cent.

New Castle county, Delaware, including Wilmington: Truman 39.3 per cent; Dewey 59.5 per cent; Wallace 3 per cent; others 3 per cent.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Daily News post card poll: Truman 23.15 per cent; Dewey 62.96 per cent; Thurmond 12.96 per cent; Wallace .93 per cent.

New York Daily News, State-wide Truman 44.1 per cent; Dewey 49.2 per cent; Wallace 6.7 per cent.

Des Moines Register, state-wide sampling of Iowa: Truman, 41 per cent; Dewey 54 per cent; Wallace 3 per cent; undecided 3 per cent.

The Gallup poll is non-partisan. All the newspapers mentioned have supported Gov. Dewey, with the exception of the Chicago Sun-Times which has supported President Truman.

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath said last night the final Gallup poll, although pointing to a Dewey victory, actually favors President Truman.

The poll, McGrath said, shows President Truman's popular vote will be larger than Dewey's "if the poll overstates the Dewey vote as much as it did in 1944."

McGrath said the Gallup poll underestimated President Roosevelt's actual ballot strength by 2.8 per cent in 1944.

Stuffed Ballot Box Is Uncovered

Paris, Ky., Nov. 2—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff John Neal said this morning a ballot box stuffed with 17 Democratic ballots was found when the polls opened in Clintonville Precinct Number 3.

The stuffed ballot box was reported first by Russell Day, Republican county campaign chairman, and later confirmed by Neal. The deputy sheriff J. M. Lear and the other election commissioners have taken custody of the ballots and have gone to the scene.

Legion Auxiliary Budget Approved

Hickory, Nov. 2—(AP)—The North Carolina American Legion Auxiliary leadership has approved unanimously a budget of $36,000 for the next 12 months.

The executive committee ended a two-day meeting here yesterday Mrs. John A. Ward of Williamston membership chairman, reported the Auxiliary has 11,000 members.

China And Americans

Victory Of Chinese Communists In Manchuria Is Disaster For Nationalist China And Portends Crisis In Orient For U. S.; Concern Over Communism's Gains

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The great military victory of the Chinese Communists in Manchuria represents a disaster for Nationalist China, and by that same token strengthens the hand of Moscow in its world revolution for the spread of the Redism.

This means that America, because of her special interest in maintaining the independence of China, is faced with another major crisis in the Orient.

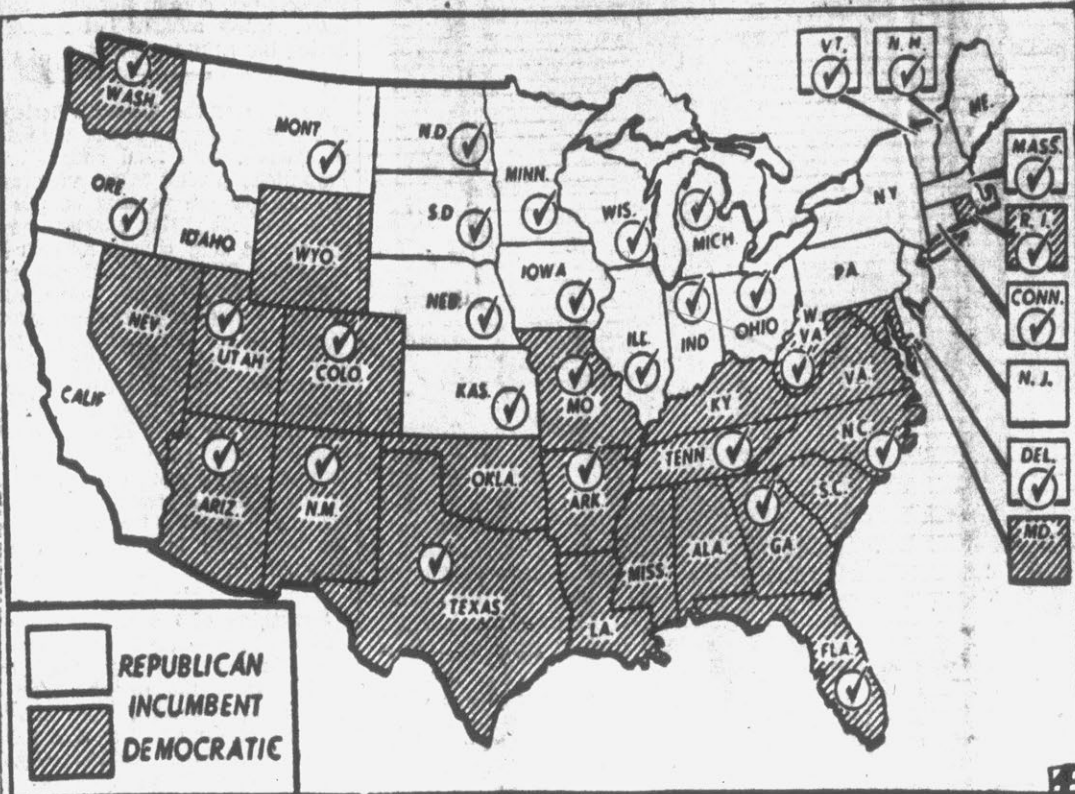

He who is chosen for the presidency of the United States in today's election will, it strikes me, find this one of the gravest of his early problems in the foreign field.

Observers in China say that the Chinese Communists, with the great city of Mukden in their hands, may be expected to overrun the rest of Manchuria in the immediate future. This would intensify the threat against Nationalist China and certainly would hold out the possibility of a Red victory sweeping the nation.

A Communist China would give Russia a base which might dominate the Orient, with its population of more than half the people of the globe. China alone has within its borders some 500,000,000.

"But," protests someone, "the Chinese Communists are not the

Railroads' Plea For Rate Hike Rejected

Petition For 'Emergency' Freight Rate Increase Declined; Plan Hearings On General 13 Percent Advance

Washington, Nov. 2—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today rejected the railroads' petition for an immediate "emergency" 8 per cent freight rate increase.

The Commission announced that it will open hearings Nov. 30 on the general 13 per cent advance in rates asked by the railroads.

At that time, the ICC said, it will also take evidence on the rail industry motion for an 8 per cent increase to be collected while the Commission considers the request for a 13 per cent advance on a long-term basis.

The railroads asked the ICC on Oct. 12 for permission to boost rates quickly as an emergency measure in view of new wage increases for rail workers.

The carriers said the situation warranted action without hearing. But they said that if a hearing was necessary, it should be held before the end of October.

The commission's decision to let matters stand for review on Nov. 30 followed requests from shippers and other interests for a full hearing before any rate increase is granted.

Among those urging a full hearing were the department of Agriculture and the State Association of Public Utility Commissioners.

Other pleas for freight rate hikes came meanwhile from the coastwise Steamship lines operating between Atlantic and Gulf ports, the Inland Waterways Corp., operating the Federal Barge Lines, and 23 freight Forwarder organizations. They asked the ICC to let them boost rates in line with any increases that may be granted to the railroads.

Two Polio Cases Reported Today

Raleigh, Nov. 2—(AP)—Two cases of polio, both from New Hanover county, were reported to the state board of health today.

Both were of October onset and brought the total for the month to 115.

Health Agency Is Asked For Help

Donora Enlists Aid Of USPHS; 'Poison Gas' In Air

Donora, Pa., Nov. 2—(AP)—The borough of Donora today asked the U. S. Public Health Service to survey the air above the town in an effort to solve the mystery malady which took 19 lives.

The town council decided last night to enlist the aid of the national health agency after hearing charges that fumes and smoke from the zinc works of the American Steel and Wire Company were a factor in the deaths.

The charges were made at an old-fashioned town meeting by Frank Burke, safety director for the CIO United Steel Workers and Dr. William Rougas, member of the board of health.

Before the meeting of about 200 persons, Dr. Joseph Shlien, head of the Industrial Hygiene Bureau of the State Board of Health, said preliminary tests showed "small quantities" of poison gas in the air.

Dr. Shlien said his preliminary tests showed the presence of both sulphur dioxide and sulphur trioxide in samples taken before the mixture of smoke and fog had lifted to any great degree.

He declined, however, to say whether the "small quantities" of gas he found would be sufficient to cause death.

Seaman Killed As Ships Collide

Toledo, O., Nov. 2—(AP)—An unidentified crew member was reported dead today as the result of a collision between two Lake freighters under a fog on Lake Erie.

Sentence Twelve To Prison Terms

Bucharest, Romania, Nov. 2—(AP)—A military tribunal sentenced 12 Romanians today to prison terms ranging from 15 years to life on charges of plotting with American and British representatives to overthrow the Romanian government.

All sentences but one called for hard labor. All involve confiscation of property, loss of civil rights and military regraduation. The defendants are all reserve officers.

Thwart Uprising

Seoul, Nov. 2—(AP)—A second Communist uprising in South Korea has been thwarted, an informed official said today.

The official said that Communists in the Korean army stationed at Taegu, in southeast Korea, had planned to revolt and seize police stations tomorrow after the pattern of the recent Yosu uprising.

The plan was upset, the source said, when Korean military police attempted to arrest a sergeant major of the army and firing broke out between the military police and the sergeant's comrades.

The source said that the Taegu garrison, reduced to 300 men by the previous revolt, had apparently controlled by Communists, but that loyal troops moving into the area had taken over and practically all of the Leftists had surrendered.

China Reds Urge Quick Surrender

Openly Boast Will Conquer All Of Nationalist China

Nanking, Nov. 2—(AP)—Chinese Communists called today for quick surrender of Chiang Kai-shek's beaten armies in Manchuria and openly boasted they would conquer all of China.

Reports from good authority said fighting had ceased within the entire Mukden area. There were no major disorders, this source said, as the triumphant Red forces took over their richest prize of the civil war.

No further information came on casualties or damage from the bombing of Mukden yesterday by government planes an hour after the Communists completed their occupation. Several bombs exploded within two blocks of the U. S. consulate.

The impact of Mukden's fall and the disaster to Chiang's armies jarred China. The military setback added heavily to economic instability. A shakeup of the cabinet of Premier Wang Wen-hao appeared certain. Price controls with which the government had sought to bolster the new gold Yuan currency were abolished, and Shanghai prices jumped 300 to 400 per cent.

Mukden's conquerors urged residents, including foreigners, to continue normal activities.

Good Turnout In Pitt For Today's Ballot-Casting

Voters Appear In Serious Mood; Little 'Button-Holing' And 'Ballyhoo'

By CHESTER WALSH

Ideal weather prevailed here and elsewhere in the state today when the polls opened at 6:30, and voters were standing in lines at precincts in the city. Indications were that the vote in Greenville would be heavy.

Political leaders in five Pitt county townships who had been riding the circuit of the 20 voting precincts told a Daily Reflector reporter shortly before noon that voting was unusually heavy at the places visited up to that time.

There is something about a Presidential election that lifts up and inspires people. The election today is unusual. Its importance is vital to the welfare of every American citizen and its results, to be tabulated tonight, will have a potent influence on the European situation, a student of world affairs said.

The reporter, riding the circuit of a dozen voting places early today, was impressed by the lack of "ballyhoo and button-holing" around the ballot boxes. Talk overheard in the hoboing journey indicated that people are in a serious mood; looking ahead for the unseen risk or guide to a destiny of peace and good will and prosperity for the American people and spread an influence of live-and-let-live to reach to all corners of the world.

Talking with a banker, a physician a seriously ill patient in a hospital a minister of the Gospel, a laborer on the street today, the upmost thought and opinion expressed was that the average cycle of events of history indicate an upset in today's political battle for the Presidency of the United States.

There appeared to be some confusion in the minds of many people about how to vote on the four amendments to the State Constitution. In increasing legislators' pay appeared to have a general "Oh" for the first amendment.

Many doubts were expressed about the second amendment providing for removing the debt limitation upon the State, counties and municipalities for necessary expenses.

The third amendment on the ballot to increase the amount of total state and county tax which may be levied on property, by changing the limitation from 15 cents to 25 cents on the $100 valuation, was puzzling to many.

The fourth amendment on the ballot concerning determining results of special elections by a majority vote appeared to meet with

Continue Drive

The Greenville Community Chest campaign will continue through this week, Chairman Ty Wagner said today, in an effort to raise the $10,500 goal set for the drive. It is estimated that slightly over 60 per cent of the goal has been collected.

"These character building and public service organizations in Greenville which depend on the Community Chest for funds are doing a fine job, and it is up to the citizens of Greenville to supply them with money to continue their work," Chairman Wagner said this morning.

Wagner urged all committees which were collecting funds for the Community Chest and have not turned in the money, to send the money to Johnny Overton, treasurer of the Community Chest.

Persons who have not been contacted for donations may send their contributions to the treasurer by mail, Wagner said.

Violence Returns In French Strike

Shots Exchanged; Two Trains Derailed; Troops In Area

Paris, Nov. 2—(AP)—French troops clearing strikers from the northern coal fields met serious resistance today for the first time.

Five men of the government forces and a number of strikers were wounded in an exchange of shots and hand grenades near Levin, about 20 miles southwest of Lille.

Previous violence, in which three miners have been killed and many strikers, troops and police wounded, has centered in the south.

At Oignies, strikers tried to recapture one pit from government forces, but were driven off.

The government charged that saboteurs derailed two miners' trains as three columns of troops drove into the last pits held by the Communist-led coal strikers in the Lens area.

Government sources predict that a back-to-work movement among the miners in defiance of Communist strike leaders will cause the collapse of the nation-wide coal walkout this week.

About 30,000 soldiers and police, supported by tanks and armored cars, are concentrated in 900 square miles of the northern coal fields.

Communist union leaders called a 24-hour general strike for today in the Valenciennes region, where the back-to-work movement has been the strongest. It was only partially successful. Railway service and trolley cars operated normally under police protection.

Study Wreckage Of Plane Which Broke Up In Air

Muldrow, Okla., Nov. 2—(AP)—Investigators examined wreckage and witnesses today seeking to learn why an Air Forces transport plane broke apart in the air and plunged 11 men to their deaths.

The C-47, on a routine mission from Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tex., broke into three pieces and fell just a few blocks from the business district of this east Oklahoma town yesterday.

Witnesses said the ship was flying low in a heavy rain when it was seen to disintegrate.

The public relations officer from Camp Chaffee at Fort Smith, Ark., 20 miles east, said there were 11 men on the plane and that all 11 bodies were recovered. Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Precinct Voted Truman Ticket

Waynesville, N. C., Nov. 2—(AP)—The Catawchoe precinct, on the fringe of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, today reported seven votes for President Truman and none for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Only seven were registered at Catawchoe.

In 1944 the precinct gave eight votes for President Roosevelt and two votes for Gov. Dewey.

Appreciation

Tomorrow and through the week Greenville plays host to 600 delegates, and many visitors to the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church. Even before the delegates arrive we would like to express appreciation to the people of our community who are making possible the entertainment of our guests through their splendid spirit of cooperation.

Ministers and members of our sister churches, members of our local committees, the staff of the Greenville Reflector, city officials, the police department, merchants, the community as a whole—all have made their contribution to the preparations for the Conference. We feel sure this fine spirit will make our guests happy that they came our way.

To all we extend our sincere thanks.

ROBERT W. BRADSHAW,
Minister, Jarvis Memorial Church.

Good Weather Is Helping Big Vote

President Votes Straight Ticket In Independence

Truman Concludes Vote Appeal From Old Home; Hard Campaign Is Over

Independence, Mo., Nov. 2—(AP)—President Truman voted the straight Democratic ticket today in the little midwestern town where he started on the road to the White House.

Smiling at friends and neighbors, the President walked into the blue township voting precinct in the Memorial Hall gymnasium with Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret, to cast his ballot.

Behind him were 371 speeches, made before almost every conceivable type of audience in 31,500 miles of travel. It was one of the most strenuous campaigns ever undertaken by an occupant of the White House in a bid for a new term.

And, to use the words of his daughter, Margaret, "now it is all over."

Margaret's comment came last night as he had concluded a vote appeal by radio from the living room of the 66-year-old home on North Delaware Street that has served as the "Little White House" for nearly four years.

The three have travelled together in 9,500 miles of pre-convention stumping and 22,000 miles of campaigning since Labor Day.

"Now maybe you would like to know why I have made this fight for the people," Mr. Truman told his radio audience. "I will try to tell you. It is a matter of the things I believe in."

He sat at a cloth-covered table. Behind him was a light oak grandfather clock. There was a pine mantle above a green tile fireplace in the high-ceilinged room. On it rested a few electric lights fashioned after old-fashioned kerosene lamps.

Approximately 50 people, milling around in the old hallway and adjoining a few minutes before, stood silently at the entrance to the living room as the President started talking.

They were, for the most part, relatives.

Speaking slowly and softly over four major networks, the President paid tribute to Senator Alben W. Barkley, his running mate, who introduced him from Paducah, Ky.

"In his strenuous campaigning, he said, 'I have told you the truth as God has given me the wisdom to see the truth.'"

When he had finished he shook hands with each of his guests and they filed out into the rainy night.

Woman Puts Out $5 In Campaign

Philadelphia, Nov. 2—(AP)—A woman who bills herself as America's only woman candidate for president spent $5 out of her own pocket last night to come to Philadelphia for a last-hour appeal for votes.

Her "Candidate Special" was a bus and her hall was Philadelphia streets.

Fifty-five-year-old Agnes Waters carried her own identification—cardboard placards hanging front and back.

Hope In His Heart

Mr. Average Man Voted Today With The Humble Hope That He Was Doing Right Thing For Himself, His Children, His Country And The Future; His Uncertainties

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 2—(AP)—The little man, any little man going to the polls, cast his vote today with hope in his heart.

It was a humble hope: Hope that he was doing the right thing for himself and his children and his country and the future.

He knew hope was all he had to go on, in picking one man for President over another, since he couldn't read the future.

But what was it he hoped for? The things that little men like himself everywhere have always hoped for: Peace and prosperity.

He had to depend on a President to lead the way to those two things since trying to figure them out for himself was too much for any little man.

But even as he voted, his heart—hopeful though it was—was not light. How could it be?

Four years ago at this time, when he had last voted for a President, he hoped the war soon would be over and peace would come for a long stay.

The war finally ended, all right. But peace? It never really came. And now, with the war only three years over, he hears his neighbors say:

For the country as a whole, it was fair with mild temperatures. There was some rain in the central valleys, the northern Rockies and the State of Washington.

A vote going over 50,000,000 in this 41st presidential election would be a record. The biggest vote in the past was 49,820,312 in 1940. It fell nearly 2,000,000 under that four years ago when many Americans were overseas at war.

The usual race among small precincts to be the first to report their vote was won this time by Hart's Location, N.H.

Backers of Democratic President Harry S. Truman and Republican Candidate Thomas E. Dewey both found something to cheer about in the first trickling returns.

Hart's location went 11 for Dewey and one for Truman. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the precinct 6-4 over Dewey in 1944.

Catawchoe precinct in North Carolina's Smoky Mountains popped in next—seven for Truman and zero for Dewey. Dewey got two votes there four years ago and Roosevelt got eight.

Brown's Farm precinct in southern Florida reported four for Truman and two for States Rights Candidate J. Strom Thurmond.

First of the presidential candidates to get his

Bridal Couple-Elect Honored At Dinner

Raleigh, Nov. 1.—Miss Rachel Spain and Paul McKendie, bridal couple-elect, were complimented last evening at a candlelight dinner by her co-workers of the accounting division of the State Commission for the Blind at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max G. Warren on Hillsboro street.

The table was covered with a white hand-crocheted cloth centered with an arrangement of mixed fall flowers, flanked by white candles in silver holders. Miniatures of a bride and groom marked the places of the bridal couple-elect, and a gift in the bride's chosen silver.

The bride was presented with a corsage of rosebuds, snapdragons, feverfew, and button mums; and the groom with a boutonniere. Guests were Miss Spain, Mr. McKendie; Mesdames Max Warren, Ben Royster, Virginia Horton; Misses Hazel Everett, Jane Foor; and Max Warren, Ben Royster and Bob Bowley.

Festival At School Great Success

The Third Street School festival held Friday night at the school was a big success. Delicious food and drinks were enjoyed during the supper hour. At 7 o'clock the school doors were opened to the children and parents. Each room offered entertainment at its best.

At 8:15 the doors of the auditorium were opened and the seats were soon filled to capacity by those who wanted to join in the merriment. Mr. Rose was master of ceremonies and just between "you and us" if you want to have anything sold at auction, get the principal of our school to do the job! On the stage the prizes were awarded, and cake sold. The chicken contest was really a corker. There were big sighs of relief when "the hungry chicken" was fed. He ate 147 grains of corn in three minutes. The winner of this amusing contest was little Madge Stancil.

The play "The Old Village School" was then presented. The children were quiet and everyone enjoyed the little jokes and childish atmosphere which centered about the stage.

The parents and teachers of the Third Street school wish to thank the kind and interested merchants of our congenial town for their help in making this occasion a success. As one mother said, "The merchants of Greenville are more than willing to help toward the advancement of our school children." No truer words could be spoken. With heart-felt thanks to these good people, we also say "Success to you!"—Reported.

Ballard's X Roads News

The Ballard's Home Demonstration club will meet with Mrs. J. R. Jones on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. This is the first meeting of the new club year. The club is working to increase its membership to 20. It is requested, therefore that every member attend and bring a new member.

Mrs. P. J. Elks was hostess at a Halloween party to members of her Sunday School class on Monday evening.

Many interesting games and contests were enjoyed by the children. During the games popcorn and peanuts were served. Prizes were given for the winners of each contest and at the close of the contests Mrs. Chester Worthington assisted the hostess in serving jello, topped with ice cream, and assorted cakes. Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Childress, Mrs. Verna Joyner and Raymond Joyner were Wilson visitors last Saturday.

Women In The Church

Church women of many denominations and from all parts of the United States are expressing interest in the movement for indoctrinating children with the Christian ideals of world friendship and interracial and interfaith understanding which is conducting a "Woman's International Exposition" in New York City from November 1 to 7. The movement, sponsors say, is to be worldwide and reach many millions of mothers during the next few years.

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, with local church organizations in some 20,000 American communities are working on plans to secure jobs, living quarters, and educational and church fellowship for some 5,000 displaced persons from Europe for whose settlement in the United States the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief (150 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y., Bishop Titus Lowe, executive) has assumed responsibility. The plan is to settle one family in each of 5,000 communities and have the churches continue an interest in them. Many of the displaced persons are farmers, and many have trades and professions useful in American communities.

Something of the wiping out of national lines which is the boast of the Christian religion may be gleaned from the recent appointment of Miss Maxine Helen Stravroulakis, of Canton, Ill., as a missionary of the Congregational Christian Church as a teacher of English for the native Inanda Seminary, Union of South Africa. Miss Stravroulakis was born in Canton, Ill.; her father was born in Greece, and her mother in England. She was educated at the University of Illinois, and will spend the next four years teaching Zulu girls in a school founded by New England missionaries.

The United Church of Canada which permits the ordination of women as ministers and appoints them to pastoral charges, is settling in motion a new "screening" process for future women clergymen. Before ordination, a woman must present a physician's certificate as to her emotional stability. She may marry, but when with child she shall take a leave of absence or resign, but when family circumstances permit she may be reappointed. It is recommended, however, that only single women be encouraged to enter the profession.

Introduction of new "wonder" drugs have brought recent deaths from influenza and pneumonia in the United States to unprecedented low levels, but specialists insist that some types of these diseases are not amenable to the new treatments and an epidemic rise in deaths at some future time is not impossible.

Eleven Candidates Seek Presidency In Election

By the Associated Press

There are 11 candidates for the presidency today but the name of only one, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican, appears on all 48 of the state ballots.

President Truman, the Democratic nominee, is listed in 47 states, but not in Alabama.

Four years ago there were six presidential candidates, all on the ballots of two or more states. Two of the 1948 aspirants appear on none.

The line-up:

President, Harry S. Truman; vice-president, Alben W. Barkley; party, Democratic; states, 47.

President, Thomas E. Dewey; vice-president, Earl Warren; party, Republican; states, 48.

President, Henry A. Wallace; vice-president, Glen H. Taylor; party, Progressive; states, 45.

President, J. Strom Thurmond; vice-president, Fielding L. Wright; party, States' Rights; states, 13.

President, Norman Thomas; vice-president, Tucker P. Smith; party, Socialist; states, 30.

President, Edward A. Telford; vice-president, Stephen Emery; party, Socialist Labor; states, 22.

President, Claude A. Watson; vice-president, Dale Learn; party, Prohibition; states, 25.

President, John G. Scott; vice-president, Granville B. Lecke; party, Greenback; states, none.

President, Gerald L. K. Smith; vice-president, Henry A. Romer; party, Christian Nationalist; states, 17.

President, Farrell Dobbs; vice-president, Grace Carlson; party, Socialist Workers; states, 11.

President, John Maxwell; vice-president, Symon Gould; party, Vegetarian; states, none.

Community Has Already Voted

Hart's Location, N. H., Nev. 2—(AP) This small White Mountain community—the first in the nation to report returns in today's election—cast 11 ballots for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and 1 for President Truman.

In the 1944 Presidential election Gov. Dewey polled 4 votes and Franklin D. Roosevelt 6.

The voters gathered in the cold dawn to cast their ballots in the private home of the town treasurer, Alice Burke. They voted by the light of oil lamps.

Most of the town's voters are railroad maintenance men who customarily vote early.

There are 13 registered voters in the town of 18.

Town clerk Oscar Macomber said the 13th voter "had to go to a funeral" and didn't desire to cast a ballot.

Fined For Driving Truck Over Fire Hose On Highway

The following cases were tried in Police Court Monday:

Octavius Blount, colored, was fined $15 for driving his truck over fire hose on the Bethel highway during a fire at a grist mill near the airport.

Assault with a deadly weapon: William E. Daniels, colored, was guilty of affray; Ella Ruth Blount, $15.

Joanna Brock Mills, colored, was not guilty of assault.

Raymond J. King was not guilty of disobeying a traffic officer.

William H. Green, colored, assault with intent to rape an eight-year-old colored girl, was bound over to Superior Court under $1,000 bond.

Joseph T. Moore, reckless driving, not prosed.

Larry M. James was not guilty of failure to give hand signal.

Frank J. Harrison was fined $10 and costs for attempting to pass at an intersection.

Speeding: Arden L. Tucker, Oscar E. Roberson and Eborn Allen, each paid $20.

Redmond Anderson, colored, paid $20 for assault on a female.

Drunk: Clinton R. Dall, A. B. Hill, Lenwood E. Newton, each paid $15; John R. Buck paid costs; J. Oliver Wilson, colored, 30 days or $15; Rommie J. Jones, 30 days or $30; Jones appealed.

Returns To Watch

By the Associated Press

Want to get a quick idea of how the presidential election may be going?

Then keep an eye out for early returns from West Virginia and Maryland.

West Virginia has backed president winners in 14 of the last 16 elections; Maryland in 13 of the last 16.

Outside those "border" states there is New York which rode a loser only once (1916) in the last 16 elections.

For the Senate race keep a score-sheet on 11 states. Remember, the Republicans now have a 51 to 45 edge. The Democrats need three more seats to tie it up, four seats to win control. The 11 pivotal states and the party seat at stake:

Kentucky (4), Minnesota (4),

Montana (2), Oklahoma (2), West Virginia (2), Wyoming (2), New Mexico (2), Tennessee (2), Illinois (2), Iowa (2), Colorado (2).

Red Oak News

Red Oak Church will sponsor a real "country ham" supper with all the accessories next Tuesday night, November 8, beginning at 5:30 and closing at 7 o'clock. This will be followed by a "country auction" or "harvest sale" of produce and articles donated by members and friends of Red Oak. Mr. Reginald W. Alston of Scotland Neck will be the auctioneer and it will be worth your while to hear him cry the bids and watch him in action.

Mrs. B. L. Tyson is chairman of the publicity committee; Mrs. James Allen will have charge of all handicraft. Mrs. W. T. Page will be responsible for canned products; Mr. and Mrs. Ola Kittrell, poultry, dairy and meat products; Mrs. Doc Smith, Mrs. Lizzie Vandiford, Mrs. Ethel Crawford, Mrs. Nan Barber, Mrs. Fred Worthington will see that our visitors get plenty of food to eat and coffee to drink; Mrs. J. T. Manning and Mrs. F. L. Allen will have charge of home-made cakes; Mrs. Clyde Bright, Mrs. H. H. May and Mrs. W. S. Maye will see that some good home-made candy is there; Mrs. Mary Stocks, Miss Ella V. May, Mrs. Ada Evans, Mrs. H. R. Allen will look after the fruits, nuts, vegetables and flowers; F. L. Allen, W. C. Stocks, W. T. Page and B. L. Tyson will have refreshing cool drinks for you.

We invite all our friends and neighbors to come, have supper with us and enjoy an evening of fun.

The Women's choir of Red Oak Christian Church will broadcast a program of songs, readings and musical numbers Wednesday night, November 3, from 8:30 until 9:55.

Several hundred people were present at Stokes High School Sunday afternoon and enjoyed the hymn festival sponsored by several churches in Pitt County. The next one will be held at Red Oak Church on the fifth Sunday in January.

Prices Drop On Tobacco Markets

Raleigh, Nov. 2 —(AP)— Prices dropped on the three tobacco belts operating in North Carolina yesterday.

On the Old Belt smoking leaf lugs and nondescript fell $1 to $3 the hundred pounds; the Eastern North Carolina Belt reported decreases up to $8 the hundred in lugs, and $1 to $6 drops in smoking leaf. Common and leaf grades fell $1 to $3 on the Middle Belt.

Fiery Crosses In Central Florida

Wildwood, Fla., Nov. 2—(AP)— Fiery crosses, the mark of the Ku Klux Klan, blazed in central Florida last night.

All of the crosses, planted by hooded and robed figures as a motorcade of Klansmen swept through four towns, were burned in Negro sections.

W. H. Brough, a Wildwood titan, said they were a warning that Communism would not be tolerated in the state.

More than 50 motor cars, each containing two to four hooded figures, drove through Plymouth, Tavares and Leesburg before winding up with a barbecue here. Most of the license plates were covered.

At the head of the cavalcade, and at its end, was a vehicle bearing a huge cross, lighted by red electric bulbs. Hundreds of spectators lined the streets to watch, but Negroes remained close to their homes.

An unidentified white man pulled down one cross in Leesburg a few minutes after the Klan left.

The only report of trouble came from Leigh Tucker, a girl reporter-photographer for the Orlando Morning Sentinel. She said a group of hooded figures smashed her camera and ordered her to leave the vicinity.

Klan officials denied it.

Strength FOR THE DAY

HOW MUCH OF YOUR LIFE DO YOU LIVE?

During the war a little girl wrote to her minister who was serving as a chaplain in the South Pacific. She wanted to close her letter by saying she hoped he would not be killed. But she knew that a blunt statement of the matter would not be entirely appropriate. After much chewing of her pencil she ended with this statement: "I hope you will live all your life."

The chaplain, who had been killed when he read this, and we can well imagine that it precipitated in his mind a chain of reflection. He knew, as all ministers know, that many people in the world do not live all their lives—they live only part of them, and a very little and insignificant part at that. Some of them waste their time in frivolity. Some lose away the days and hours and years and never attain position worthy of their gifts. Others cast the better part of their lives to swinish impulses of passion, living as the prodigal son did in a pigpen in a far country, instead of in the Father's house of happiness and peace.

How often we need to ask ourselves the question, "Am I living all my life or am I living only part of it?"

"I hope you live all your life," wrote the little girl to her chaplain; to which each one of us may add the statement, "I hope I live all of mine—in the fullness of whatever powers I may have and not in their tragic neglect."

ANOTHER BERLIN?

Reports from Vienna of the brutal murder of an official of the Economic Cooperation Administration by Russian soldiers brings up the question "Is this the beginning of a Vienna incident similar to the Berlin incident?"

Like Berlin, Vienna is under four-power rule in an area completely surrounded by the Russian zone of occupation. If Russia is not able to wrangle as much as the Kremlin wants from the Berlin settlement, it is possible a blockade will be thrown up around Vienna and another incident will develop.

In Vienna, however, there is no airfield in the American zone which could be used for an airlift in case of such an emergency. The only airport in the territory held by the Western powers in Vienna is a small field in the French zone.

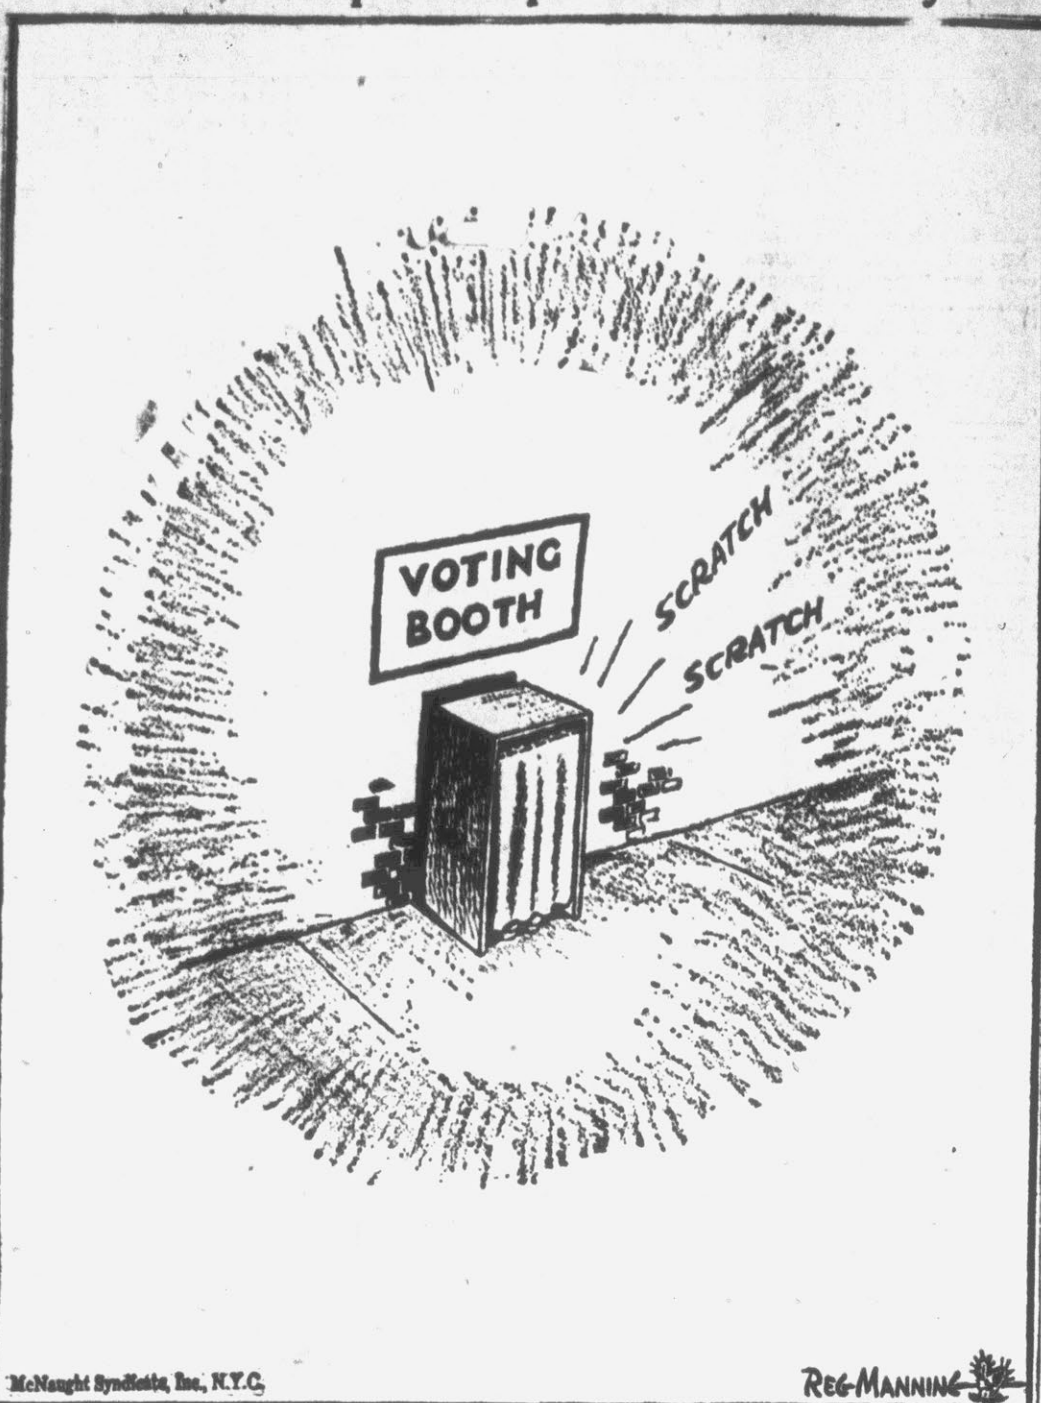

If the Berlin incident is compromised and settled, the Kremlin still will hold Vienna as a trump the Western powers may have to reckon with in the future.

APPOINTMENTS—With the election out of the way political interest centers on the high level appointive positions. There are more of these than many people realize, and through exercise of his appointive power the governor can wield controlling influence over administration of the state government. The appointive positions fall into two groups with respect to absolute or qualified authority of the governor; and into three groups with respect to their tenure in office.

ABSOLUTE—The governor has absolute authority for appointment of a chairman and ten members of the state highway and public works commission; assistant director of the budget; commissioner of revenue; commissioner of motor vehicles; director of conservation and development; director of purchase and contract; commissioner of parole; commissioner of banks; members of the ABC board, the utilities commission, the industrial commission, the employment security commission, the rural electrification ation authority and to designate the chairman of each.

The Most Important Spot On Earth—Today

McNIGHT Syndicate, Inc., N.Y.C.

REG-MANNING

QUALIFIED—The governor also appoints all members of several other boards and commissions which are charged with selecting full time administrative officials, subject to his approval. Among the top flight officers in this group fall the controller of the board of education; director of probation; executive secretary of the retirement system, and director of the veterans commission. There are some other absolute appointments and dozens more in which executive approval is required by practice is not by statute. To the extent to which the chief executive exerts his admitted influence on such appointments varies with the individuals. It is rather generally conceded that among recent governors Broughton exerted more influence and Cherry less than other governors in this field. Most people think Scott will have a lot to say in all such cases.

TENURE—There is wide variance in tenure of appointive officers. Many are for specified terms beginning with dates fixed by law, but some are at the will of the governor and others have no statutory provisions respecting tenure. Where there is no mention of term, legislative intent was obviously to leave the matter to the chief executive's discretion.

IMMEDIATE—Terms of at least five major appointees will expire by statutory limitation upon inauguration of the new governor. The law says that the director of conservation and development (currently Bruce Etheridge) shall be appointed for a term designated by the governor, but in no case to extend beyond the administration of the appointing executive. The statutes fix the term of the commissioner of revenue (Edwin Gill, incumbent) at four years beginning January 1 of the year in which the new administration begins. The commissioner of motor vehicles (Landon C. Rosser, incumbent) is appointed at the will of the governor. The director of purchase and contract (W. Z. Betts, incumbent) and the parole commissioner (Hathaway Cross, incumbent) are statutory divisions of the governor's office, the personnel being subject to his discretion.

HOLDOVERS—Each of the officials involved will of course hold over until his successor has been named, which in some cases may not be for several months. One or more may resign before January 1, in which event Governor Cherry would name a successor to hold until Governor Scott can get around to naming a regular appointee.

DATED—Governor Scott will find that a good many of the executive appointees now on the job have commissions extending far into his administration because of staggered terms and statutory tenure of three to six years. He will find, however, several full time commissioners' terms expiring between January and July of his first year in office. Here are a few, but the list is not presumed to be complete.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—It is unlikely the next war—if there is one—will be fought as experts predict today.

For there is no trusty crystal ball to give an honest preview of just how nations will beat each other brains apart a generation hence. Wars have as many surprises as women or the weather.

Top-ranking veterans of one war are often the poorest guessers on how the following war will be waged. They tend to overrate one new weapon too much. Or they rely too heavily on methods that now won them victories in the past.

It isn't only the French army—as the old quip goes—that prepares in peace to fight the last war over again. All armies have a tendency to.

The other day I picked up for five cents at a second-hand book stall a battered copy of "The Riddle of the Rhine," by Major Victor Lefebvre. He was a British chemical warfare specialist in the first world war.

His book was published in 1923. It illustrates why seasoned military leaders should be chary of putting into print any predictions about the future of their own profession. The book contained part of an article by Maj. Gen. Amos Alfred Fries, then chief of the U. S. Chemical warfare service, pointing out that poison gas caused 75,000 of the 375,000 American first world war casualties. Gen. Fries prophesied flatly:

"No other invention since that of gunpowder has made so profound a change in warfare as gas is making, or will make, in the future."

But did it? Gas didn't play as profound a role in the second world war as Garand rifles, powdered eggs or the Red Cross doughnut girls.

The same book quotes an even more interesting statement by General Debeney, director of the French college of warfare. This distinguished Gallie warrior had a theory that attacking aircraft could be brought down better by poison gas missiles than by conventional anti-aircraft shells.

Said he: "It would be much more effective for example, a sphere of poisoned air a mile round the airplane, instead of trying to hit the machinery directly with bits of the shell."

I wonder how General Debeney would feel if he re-read that today? He apparently didn't foresee bombers with enclosed cockpits.

The high commanders of all allied armies after 1918 appear to have predicted future battles too much in terms of static trench warfare.

A young upstart French Captain, Charles De Gaulle, found promotion slow after 1928, when he dared prophesy the doom of France unless it build London-Range and more mobile tanks. Billy Mitchell met an even rougher fate in the American army for championing airpower too robustly.

But Germany proved that De Gaulle and Mitchell were right. She almost won the second world war because of her early lead in tank and plane strength.

Today the atom bomb dominates much military thinking even more than poison gas did after the first world war, because there is no known defense against it.

But as to predictions that it will certainly be the major weapon of any war to come, or that it will in itself save the land—well, don't forget the magnet line was once more promising than Santa Claus.

The trouble lies always in the enemy. You never can be sure what the sounder is going to come at you with. And that may determine how you have to fight.

The only safe things you can predict about war are that it never operates entirely according to plan—and it bores more people than it kills. And it kills too many.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

Washington—Sometimes Emily Sowerby gets so excited reading the papers of Thomas Jefferson she can't work. She has the job of sorting out and cataloging all the books in the library which Jefferson sold to the government in 1814.

These books formed the nucleus of the present library. The original collection was destroyed when the British set fire to the capital.

As other books were added to the library the Jefferson books were mingled with them. Several years ago it was decided that all the Jefferson books should be gathered into a separate collection and kept in a separate niche. It was hoped the job could be completed by 1944 for the Jefferson bicentennial celebration, but Miss Sowerby is still finding Jefferson books on the shelves of the library proper. In addition to the books there is a lot of correspondence concerning them which Miss Sowerby is reading and cataloging.

Miss Sowerby, English-born and Cambridge University-educated, worked for 17 years with Dr. A.S.W. Rosenbach, the rare book collector of Philadelphia and New York. She became known to the library through her work on Rosenbach's "Early American Children's Books." Her catalog will come to four volumes and will be known as the "Bibliography of the Library of Thomas Jefferson sold to Congress in 1814."

"Jeffie was quite a man," says Miss Sowerby. "I simply can't call him Mr. Jefferson. Everyday I learn something more. You can't get bored when you're learning Jefferson. He himself estimated there were some 6,000 books in the collection which he sold to the library for $23,960. What annoys Miss Sowerby is that Jefferson "grumbled so for years" over the sum he received. She says that most of the books, outside their historical value, could not actually be classified as rare books, but that Jefferson did all right in the sale.

themselves. He only cared for what they contained," she says. "He cut off the margins if they were too big. He inserted English translations opposite pages in Greek. It sometimes makes a rare book collector creep." Miss Sowerby can tell a "Jeffie" book from the way he initiated in ink some of the pages, from library book plates inserted at the time of purchase and quite often from a special calf binding which Jefferson liked.

NOTICE OF SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed and delivered by J. W. Turnage, widower, to R. H. Truman Is Only Candidate Who Loses Job If Beaten

Washington, Nov. 2—(AP)—Harry S. Truman is the only one of eight presidential and vice presidential contenders who'll lose his job unless he wins today's election. And a $75,000 job at that.

Except for Henry A. Wallace, all the others hold elective offices which will keep them on the public payroll until 1951 or longer.

Both Republican candidates—Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren—have $25,000-a-year jobs as governors of New York and California, with two more years to go.

Warren, however, will take a pay cut if the GOP wins the White House prize. The vice presidency pays only $20,000—and no housing furnished such as he now gets in Sacramento.

Allen W. Barkley, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, also has two more years to serve on his six-year Senate term, at $15,000 a year.

The standard bearers of the States Rights Democrats—Presidential Candidate J. Strom Thurmond and his running mate Field L. Wright—are both governors. Thur-

Walter Reuther In Duke Hospital For Operation

Durham, Nov. 2—(AP)—President Walter Reuther of the CIO United Automobile Workers was in Duke Hospital today after an operation on his right arm, hit by an assai-ant's shotgun blast last April. Dr. Barnes Woodhall, Duke neurosurgeon, said after his exploratory operation on the radial nerve yesterday Reuther was "doing very well."

Dr. Woodhall said the operation showed that several small bits of lead, a bone fragment and scar tissue were pressing against the nerve. The surgeon treated Reuther in Detroit after the attack. The labor leader was at Duke Hospital several weeks ago for preliminary examination before the exploratory operation.

Probe Killing Of Game Protector

Clinton, Nov. 2—(AP)—Sampson County today continued a investigation into the fatal shooting of a district fish and game protector.

The protector, W. I. Wright, Jr., of Ingold, was found dead near Roseboro yesterday. He had been shot once in the chest with a .22 caliber bullet.

Sheriff Perry B. Lockerman said Wright was killed Sunday, probably by a poacher.

Blind Woman Is Nemesis To Man Who Tried Fraud

High Point, N.C., Nov. 2—(AP)—Failure to realize that blind persons' other senses are highly developed proved the undoing of a High Point man convicted of stealing money from an elderly sightless woman here.

Eddie R. Carroll, 32-year-old construction worker, was found guilty of stealing 97 cents Saturday from Mrs. E. E. Thompson who sells religious pamphlets in the shopping district, and was sentenced to 30 months on the roads by Municipal Court Judge D. C. MacRae.

The aged woman testified that Carroll gave her a piece of paper which he said was a $5 bill and took 97 cents from her tin cup. She said she could feel that the paper was not money, however, and called for help. The man was apprehended a short time later.

She identified Carroll by his voice.

Sponsor Regional Meet On Nov. 13

Branches of the Association of Childhood Education in Greenville and at East Carolina Teachers College will sponsor a regional meeting here Saturday, November 13, to which teachers in the northeastern counties of the state are invited. The program presented during the session will be based on the theme "Bettering Human Relations for Children."

Alberta L. Meyer of Washington, D.C., formerly a teacher in the St. Louis public schools and now holder of the ACE fellowship for 1948-1949, will be the principal speaker at the morning meeting. Dean Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina will speak at a luncheon to be held at the Woman's Club in Greenville. Representatives of ACE chapters in Rocky Mount, Wilson, and Pitt County will also be among those participating in the program for the day.

Mrs. Ellen Carroll of the East Carolina faculty, president of the local unit of the organization, will be presiding officer at the conference.

Aming exhibits shown at the meeting will be a display of books related to the theme of the meeting and of art work by students of Frances Lee Noel of the East Carolina department of art.

Registration will take place in the Classroom building on the campus at 10:00 o'clock, and the program will begin at 10:30 next Saturday morning.

Benched For The Season

Big John Wyatt, (35), shown here with Head Coach Jim Johnson, Co-captain Frans Holscher and Backfield Coach Jack Boone, has been benched for the season as a result of an injury received in the East Carolina Teachers College Pirates' contest with the Duke Jayvees last Friday. Wyatt, seeing his third year with the Pirates, was elected co-captain at the opening of the season. He is a former All-State lineman for Woodrow Wilson High School in Portsmouth, Va.

Conference Has Added Prestige

Richmond, Va., Nov. 2—(AP)—Faced by all-winning North Carolina and Clemson, Southern Conference football teams are showing up better than all right against out-of-conference opposition.

So far in the 1948 campaign, conference eleven have tangled with "foreign" foes 40 times, and have come up with 21 victories as compared with 16 losses and three ties.

North Carolina's powerful Tar Heels have accounted for four of the wins, Clemson's Tigers for three. Neither the Tar Heels nor the Tigers, of course, have lost a decision.

Maryland, the University of Richmond, and the Citadel each has accounted for two triumphs over outside foes.

Among the wins have been a number of the sort which enhance conference prestige. North Carolina's verdicts over Texas, Georgia, Louisiana State, and Tennessee were of such a variety, as were Clemson's victories over Mississippi State and Boston College.

Other notable triumphs were Duke's 26-7 win over Navy, George Washington's 20-12 win over Virginia, and Maryland's 27-13 rout of Miami (Fla.).

Nat'l Horse Show Is Opened Today

New York, Nov. 2—(AP)—The society, fashion and glamor set will make its annual pilgrimage to Madison Square Garden today to view the annual opening of the 90th annual horse show.

The show, which will continue for eight days, will be highlighted by a special military salute given to General Jonathan M. Walwright, hero of Bataan, by the military jumping teams of Canada, France and Mexico.

For the first time in years, however, the milk and money mob will not see the United States military team. The U. S. Army abandoned the sport and broke up its team soon after the Olympic games.

In all, seventeen states and Canada are represented among the exhibitors of some 500 horses. Of these 444 are entered in the open jumping, hunter, saddle and harness classes. The hunter division has drawn the largest entry this year, with 138 foxchasers entered for the 31 events.

A total of $30,000 in prizes has been drawn some 270 exhibitors.

Babe Ruth hit more home runs off Detroit pitchers than those of any other team in his career—123.

North Carolina Still In Third Place; Notre Dame-Michigan Argument Never To Be Settled; They Do Not Meet

New York, Nov. 2—(AP)—The old Notre Dame-Michigan argument is on again with the Irish out front by a slender three-point margin in the weekly Associated Press poll of football writers.

Displacing the Wolverines by a total of 1,762 points to 1,759, Notre Dame actually ran behind Michigan in the matter of first place votes, 68-56. The South Benders picked up their margin on second and third place ballots.

It is quite possible that both clubs may win all their remaining games and stir up another tremendous post-season discussion. Once again they do not meet.

North Carolina, running a strong third, is a definite threat to both leaders with 36 first place votes and 1,458 points. William and Mary Maryland, Duke and Virginia are the only teams remaining in their path leading to a sure bowl bid.

The first 20 teams of last week are back again with one exception and that club, Baylor, was not beaten. There certainly will be some casualties Saturday.

Notre Dame plays Indiana, which has lost its last four games, and Michigan gets a whack at Navy, which has not won yet. It was the Middles, beaten 41-7 by a Notre Dame team that was trying hard to hold down the score, who helped the Irish into first place.

The 208 first place votes were distributed among 13 teams. Behind Michigan 68, Notre Dame 56, and North Carolina 36 came California 16, Georgia Tech 7, Clemson 6, Army and Nevada, each 5, Missouri 4, Oklahoma 2, and Penn State, Southern Methodist and Vanderbilt, each 1.

The standings of the teams, points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Notre Dame (56) 1,762
2. Michigan (68) 1,759
3. North Carolina (36) 1,458
4. Army (5) 1,349
5. California (16) 1,322
6. Georgia Tech (7) 1,109
7. Pennsylvania 575
8. Southern Methodist (1) 432
9. Missouri (4) 382
10. Northwestern 371
11. Nevada (5); 300; 12. Clemson (16) 189; 13. Georgia 153; 14. Penn State (1) 136; 15. Oklahoma (2) 81; 16. Oregon, 59; 17. Michigan State 53; 18. Wake Forest 47; 19. Minnesota 46; 20. Tulane 34.

The services of Big John Wyatt who shares first string tackle posts with Keith Kilpatrick is lost for the season. John received a shoulder injury in Friday's tilt with the Duke J's. Wyatt who hails from Portsmouth, Va., was the only hope of Jim Johnson to land one of his eleven on the all southern team. He was a standout in all of ETCO games. John was Captain of the Pirate squad last year and is sharing the honor as Co-Captain with Frans Holscher this year.

The team will miss you, John, and I know you will miss the game. We all have our fingers crossed and hope you will be ready for the Pirate squad of '49.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 2—(AP)—Thoroughbred race horses worked out at Hialeah Park today in preparation for the new racing season.

The first shipment arrived yesterday when seven cars brought in 68 racers. Among arrivals was Springfield Farms' Nell Kay, an outstanding 2-year-old filly, and Leo Gerngross' Noble Hero.

They came from New York, Maryland and Kentucky. One carload arrived 12 hours ahead of schedule after it was hooked onto a steam-liner at Washington by mistake.

Injured Player Dies In Hospital

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 2—(AP)—Leonard Tucci, who was injured in a semi-professional football game here Sunday, died last night in a Syracuse hospital. He was 22.

The hospital said death was caused by a brain hemorrhage.

Tucci was injured in a pileup of players during a city league game between the Cavaliers and the Happy Hearts.

After the play, Tucci, a Cavaliers backfield star, walked off the field and collapsed on the sidelines.

Rose Bowl Heads Want Best In Big Nine For Games

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 2—(AP)—A lot of folks in these parts, including some Tournament of Roses Association officials, would like to see the top Big Nine team in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. But it's probably too late to arrange it.

Michigan looks like a cinch to be the Big Nine champion. But the Wolverines were in the Rose Bowl last New Year's Day (an understatement, indeed; score Michigan 49 USC 0) and under the Big Nine-Pacific Coast Conference agreement can't come again so soon. There must be a three-year interval before a repeat appearance.

So it'll be Northwestern, or Minnesota, or? Against the PCC champion, California or Oregon, unless something is done, quick.

Lethrop K. Leishman, chairman of the Rose Tournament Football Committee, says he'll start moving through channels as soon as his association's executive committee formally notifies him that that is their wish. The association president and executive committee chairman, Harold C. Schaffer, is out of the city and action awaits his return.

Leishman said he'd put the matter up to the PCC president, Dean Stanley Freeborn of California, and the PCC Rose Bowl committee chairman, Bill Hunter of USC.

"It isn't just Michigan, but personally I feel, and I know others do, that we should have the best in the Big Nine here each year for the Rose Bowl, not the No. 2 or No. 3 team," Leishman said.

Whether the Coast Conference faculty representatives athletic directors and graduate managers could act in time, even if inclined is something else again.

And as for the Big Nine:

Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, Big Nine commissioner, said bluntly in Chicago: "I don't see a chance of changing the agreement this year."

Last year the All-Stars won 21-13.

Out Of Hand

New York, Nov. 2—(AP)—James Phelan, coach of the professional Los Angeles Rams, says football is getting out of hand with the new unlimited substitution rule.

He'd like to see some changes made.

Addressing the New York Football Writers luncheon yesterday, Phelan proposed that wholesale substitutions be permitted only at the start of each quarter.

During the rest of the game, he added, substitutions should be limited to three changes at a time.

Backfield Class To Be Displayed On November 6

Chapel Hill, Nov. 2—A lot of backfield class will go on parade in Kenan Stadium here Saturday when the unbeaten and untied North Carolina Tar Heels face the William and Mary Indians, Southern Conference champions last season.

Fullback Charlie Justice and Fullback Hosea Rodgers are among the elite with the host team. The Indians have a pair of tailbacks in Tommy Korczowski and Buddy Lex, who can move the ball with the best of them, and a fullback in Jack Cloud who is rated as one of the most gifted in the land.

The Tar Heels had not worked the soreness out of their muscles which developed in the bruising game at Knoxville before Coach Crowell Little, who has seen the Indians in several games, made his glowing report on the Indian worthies.

"They are three fine backs," said Little, "and in Tommy Thompson William and Mary has one of the best line backers I've ever seen." The Tar Heel scout thinks Carolina will have a full afternoon in seeking its 14th straight victory, a cycle which started with the William and Mary game last year.

HAZELWOOD MAY PLAY

Chapel Hill, Nov. 2—Tackle Ted Hazelwood is hoping to get the green light from the doctors so that he can play for Carolina against William and Mary here Saturday. He is recovering from an accidentally self-inflicted pistol wound which kept him on the sidelines the past two games.

Hank Greenberg played only two full seasons in the major leagues in which he failed to drive in more than 100 runs—his first year and his last.

Pirates Will Feel Loss Of 'Big John' In Lineup

To Fill Shoes

Kenneth Booth, rugged freshman tackle from North Tarrytown, N. Y., has a big pair of shoes to fill. He has been awarded the tackle post left vacant by the injury of East Carolina Teachers College Co-Captain John Wyatt, who was injured Friday night. Warren Everett, of Bath, N. C., will be an understudy to Booth. Both boys will probably see plenty of action in future Pirate contests.

Stan Heath Will Cash In On His Passing Record

Reno, Nev., Nov. 2—(AP)—The University of Nevada's Quarterback Stan Heath intends to cash in on his national collegiate passing record by turning professional although he has a year of college eligibility left.

Coach Joe Sheeketski said the Menominee Falls, Wis., junior student had signed no contract but expects to play pro football next season.

The curly-haired, modest six-footer threw six touchdown passes Saturday in a 79-13 win over Oklahoma City University although he played only 11 minutes. In that

Three-Day Rest For Boston Team

Newton, Mass., Nov. 2—(AP)—After three days of rest, the Boston College Eagles will resume their football grind today when Coach Denny Myers will start priming them for next week's clash with William and Mary.

Myers, who saw his passing defenses collapse against Clemson, plans to stress that department for the next two weeks.

FLASH!

On Tuesday, Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. (E.S.T.) we bring you ELECTION RETURNS OVER NBC. Tune in your local NBC station for most complete coverage with such nationally famous commentators as H. V. Kaltenborn, Robert Trout and Morgan Beatty!

When you compare, you're bound to decide

CHEVROLET IS BUILT TO SERVE BETTER—LONGER

—and to lead in value as it does in nationwide registrations

Yes, people everywhere agree that CHEVROLET LEADS in strong, sturdy construction... in durability and dependability... in BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST PRICES

Of all lowest-priced cars, only Chevrolet brings you the enviable performance and economy of a Valve-in-Head engine. And Chevrolet has the World's Champion Valve-in-Head Engine. For this performer has delivered more miles of satisfaction to more owners, over a longer period, than any other power-plant built today. Valve-in-Head is found elsewhere only in costlier cars.

Yes, people everywhere agree that CHEVROLET LEADS in strong, sturdy construction... in durability and dependability... in BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST PRICES

First in this Fourfold Safety Protection

First in Tasteful Beauty

You will take pride in owning this car with the world-famous Body by Fisher. It's the body that's better by far, and more beautiful by far, inside and out, in hardware and upholstery as in line and color. It's recognized everywhere as the leader in fine coachcraft. Naturally, this finer body, like so many other quality features, is exclusive to Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

CHEVROLET — and Only CHEVROLET — IS FIRST!

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 5

Joe followed Rosalie quietly without running. The long stairs up to the roof were nothing to his trained legs, but he was trying to think—to understand. He felt he knew where to find her. There was a semi-sheltered place on the roof of the next house. You could sit with your back against a chimney and look down toward the river. As children he and Rosalie had sat there often when it was too cold to sit other places outdoors.

The thought struck him. It was snowing now. He started up the last flight to the roof but opened the door slowly. It squeaked as it always had. They always had known someone was coming. The snow seemed thicker up there than it did down on the street. He stood, but couldn't see her. He called softly.

"Rosalie."

It was his pet name for her, his name when they were children, Curly and Rosalie. It was before her teachers in high school had taught her that Rosalie was beautiful name but Rosalie was common. Now, calling to her in the snow-stabbed darkness, he wanted his commonness to touch her. He wanted her to know it was the man she had tossed lightly aside to go marry rich. He didn't want to frighten her.

"Rosalie. It's Curly."

There was no answer, yet he knew she was there. He went around the big chimney slowly. She was sitting as they had always sat, flat on the roof, her back against the chimney, her eyes staring out toward the river. She didn't move as he sat down beside her and took her hand in his. It was cold and trembling.

"Give me your other hand too, Rosalie. You're cold up here. And it isn't safe with the roof wet and slippery."

"I'm safer here than anywhere else."

She said it without looking at him, her voice cold and lifeless, but she gave him her other hand. His big, strong hands enfolded them completely. He leaned against her a little and his voice was velvet soft.

"You knew I'd come after you, didn't you?"

"She drew a long deep breath and shivered. "Yes, I knew."

"You wanted me to come, didn't you, Rosalie?"

"I knew you'd come."

She swung round suddenly, fiercely. "Why can't they let me alone? Why must they run and shout I've come back? Don't I have a right to come and go the same as everybody else? I just want to be let alone."

"Everybody loves you, Rosalie."

She yanked her hands away. "I don't want to be loved. I want to be let alone. That means you, too. What did you follow me up here for?"

He put an arm about her. "I knew you'd be waiting for me."

"Certainly you did. Since I had dared to come back to your private neighborhood, I would have to wait for you and crawl and tell you everything that happened and what everyone said. I must explain, and apologize, and—let you gloat over me."

She finished with a choke and tried to stand up. He held her firmly.

"I don't want any of that, Rosalie. I'm only so glad you came back."

"Of course you are. Coming back means I failed. I thought myself so much, but they wouldn't have me. They wouldn't let me into their grand house. Aren't you glad? Doesn't that warm your heart? I thought I was going to sit on top of the world and here I am back home again. I got put into my place. Decent people didn't want me."

"Darlin', decent people do want

(To be continued)

Navy Ships Sail For Arctic Test

Boston, Nov. 2—(AP)—A hundred ships manned by 35,000 men plowed northward today toward the Arctic and a mock battle to test the U. S. Navy's postwar strength.

Meanwhile 17 submarines moved for position in the simulated warfare and 543 aircraft were assigned to take part in the engagement.

The surface craft are directed by Admiral William H. P. Blandy, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

The 17 submarines, commanded by Rear Admiral James Fife, Jr., will attempt to "destroy" or waylay the surface fleet. The planes will assist operations of the underseas and surface craft.

Operational control is scheduled to pass to Vice Admiral Donald B. Duncan Thursday for a combined attack against Argentina, Newfoundland, ending in an amphibious assault Nov. 8.

All phases will be conducted under wartime conditions, with blackouts, radio silence and submarine and plane warnings.

The Second Task fleet is slated to enter Davis Strait, dotted with wolfpacks, and into waters off Greenland before turning to its Norfolk, Va., base.

Robert Humber Back Home Today To Cast Ballot

By CHESTER WALSH
Robert Lee Humber, distinguished Greenville citizen, scholar, world traveler and founder of the World Federation of Nations movement, always a welcome visitor at the Daily Reflector office who spent some time in the office this morning, discussing the political outlook with the editor and other officials of the paper, passed along the opinion that today's election is one of the most important events to occur in this country in generations. He is always cheerful, always optimistic.

Incidentally, Mr. Humber has covered a lot of territory during recent weeks. His speaking engagements on World Federation include those at Asheville, Winston-Salem, High Point, Greensboro, Salisbury, Charlotte, Durham, Fayetteville, Henderson, Laurinburg, Burgaw, Wilmington, Clinton, Raleigh, Edenton, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Kinston, Ayden, Black Jack and Greenville. He is scheduled to speak tonight at the Woman's Club in Plymouth, tomorrow night before the Home Demonstration Club at Meadowbrook City, and Thursday at Meredith College in Raleigh Friday at 11 a. m. on "Founders' Day." He is a trustee of the college.

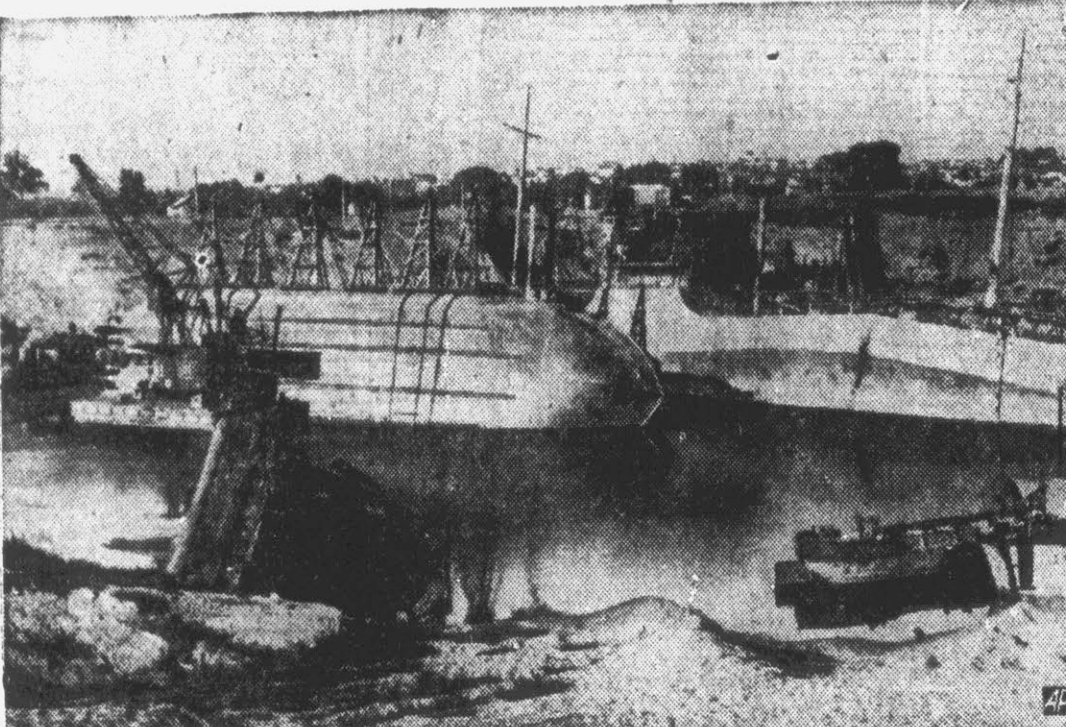

On Friday night Mr. Humber speaks to a union meeting of the Rotary, Kimanis and Lions' clubs in Statesville. He will return to Greenville to spend the weekend with his family.

Against The Law To Pile Leaves On City Streets

A city official today reminded that there is an ordinance prohibiting the piling of leaves on the streets. Swept-up leaves should be placed in piles on the premises and not on the streets to stop up drainage culverts, he stated.

'SAVE BERLIN'—Animals at Frankfurt zoo parade during a campaign under slogan "Save Berlin (For Freedom)" held throughout state of Hesse. All political parties, except the Communists, attended mass meetings which were part of the two-day action.

ST. NAZAIRE CLEAN-UP—Three years after the war, the French still are clearing away the ships which the Germans sank in the mouth of the Loire River in defending the St. Nazaire pocket. Salvage workers diked off part of the river, nearly drained the enclosed area and now are working with cranes to right the vessels. In the background is the city of Nantes.

It is about this time of the year that public nuisance No. 1 appears on the scene, a member of the street department said today. The nuisance he stated is the householder who piles up leaves on his premises or on the pavement on a street and lights a fire, to crack and damage the gutter, curbing or pavement. In addition, it was pointed out, people who burn leaves this time of year usually have a lot of trash mixed with them, and the smoldering evil smelling fire makes life uncomfortable for neighbors towards whose homes the wind is blowing. Fire Chief George Gardner today warned about burning grass. He said the fire department will send a small truck, with chemicals, to any section of the city or suburbs when grass or brush is to be burned to keep the blaze under control. The truck will respond to telephone calls when grass is to be burned, he stated.

PIN-WORMS NOW CAN BE BEATEN

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and millions of victims have sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body. Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So don't suffer with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by this ugly pest. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

China And . . .

defense of North China, which is expected to come under heavy attack by next spring from the Communists installed in Manchuria.

President Chiang Kai-Shek—tired and harassed but still full of determination—yesterday declared in Nanking that China must "fight on." Said he:

"We have had reverses in the Northeast (Manchuria) but the Communists are not yet in a position to directly menace North China."

Whether Chiang has real grounds for any optimism is a matter of doubt. In any event the position is precarious. American authorities in China have ordered all U. S. nationals in North China to get ready to evacuate their homes.

There has been some speculation whether a coalition government of Nationalists and Communists could succeed. As a matter of fact the Reds themselves were debating this before their success in Manchuria. However, one suspects that they will have lost their interest in the subject, in view of their latest military victory.

In any event the cold fact is that Communism cannot be made to mix with any other ideology.

Hope In . . .

seemed to be piling up no matter what a little man like him could say, or think or do.

Well, like what? Oh, like the man in Asia, the war in Palestine, the trouble at Berlin, the endless talk-talk-talk in the United Nations and so little done and—

Here we are and there the Russians are, the two giants of the world. And the two giants are struggling. The little man thought, where does it end? Or will it end in my lifetime?

He had all that on his mind when he cast his vote today, hoping he was voting for the man who somehow might steer the ship out of the gloom and the rushing tide and get it into quiet waters.

True, some of his neighbors, little men like himself, weren't going to vote at all. They said "I don't see much difference between the candidates."

And others told him "I'm going to vote, all right, but I'm not really voting for somebody. I'm voting against somebody."

That bothered him. He felt they were like people living on a street called tomorrow with a bandage on their eyes.

He had a house of his own on that street. It was his life's investment. And he thought the only way he could keep it from going to ruin was to pay off on the mortgage by taking a stand and voting for something.

He hoped he was right.

Good Turnout . . .

general approval.

During an hour's mingling here and there, the reporter received the impression that there will be much "straight voting" on the state Democratic ticket. The Daily Reflector with its unsurpassed facilities for securing local and worldwide news, will announce the results of the election starting tonight at 7 o'clock.

Nash Develops 'Uniscope'

The 'Uniscope', an outstanding feature of the new 1949 Nash cars, is mounted on the steering column in direct line with driver vision. Grouped in it are all driving instruments commonly found on the cowl panel. The network of wires and cables to instruments is channeled inside the massive cylindrical jacket of the steering column.
