

Truman Rests In Key West; Cares Are Laid Aside

Chief Executive's Main Concern Is To Relax; Many Decisions Ahead

Key West, Fla., Nov. 8—(AP)—Harry S. Truman shed the cares of state today to frolic in the Florida sunshine. The President of the United States started a vacation at this naval submarine base in the company of a small group of White House cronies among whom he could relax and, for the time being, forget some of the problems of his office. For the moment, his main concern was to: 1. Bask in the sunshine in colorful trunks. 2. Walk in comparative privacy around the submarine naval base where he is spending his fifth period of rest. The gray-haired Chief Executive adopted a costume which as he has worn on previous visits here—light tan slacks, a sports shirt and two-tone shoes, for his walks—and swim trunks for his visits to the beach. Many decisions involving changes in his Administration may be made before Mr. Truman returns to Washington two weeks from now. But for the present, he is in no hurry to act. Any dismissal or resignation must be followed by an appointment, and the President has decided to proceed with care in any new appointments. Authoritative sources said the President is pleased with most of his cabinet and their support during the campaign. It is known that he is looking for a new secretary of defense to replace James V. Forrestal when the latter steps out, and, so the official story goes, he will not press Robert A. Lovett to stay on as undersecretary of state. Folks around the President are speculating whether he will name Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington state to an important post. Wall Green a former member of the Senate and of the Truman investigating committee, is one of the Chief Executive's most intimate friends. He was defeated for re-election although Mr. Truman carried the state. Wallgren, if he is interested, can be assured of an important post under the President. Smog Victims To Rest In Carolina Donora, Pa., Nov. 8—(AP)—A week's rest in North Carolina was in store today for 21 persons who became ill in the smothering smog suspected of causing the deaths of 19 persons in this western Pennsylvania community. Soon after the disaster two weeks ago, the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, N.C., and the Chamber of Commerce of Wrightsville Beach, N.C., extended an invitation for up to 50 persons to spend a week in the South with all expenses paid. Inferno Follows Train Accident Kansas City, Nov. 8—(AP)—Three tank cars, loaded with 30,000 gallons of gasoline, and four freight cars went up in flames today in the derailment of a Missouri Pacific freight train at Dodson, Mo., a suburb of Kansas City. Three persons suffered minor burns in fighting the flames, which sent a huge billow of smoke over the southern part of the city. Nine fire companies concentrated their efforts on preventing the inferno from reaching two other loaded tankers on the tracks.

Methodist Conference Closes Session; Appointments Named

By WYATT BROWN Reverend Robert W. Bradshaw will be sent to the Methodist Church in Wilson following his services this coming Sunday, the reading of the appointments by Bishop W. W. Peels, presiding Bishop, revealed yesterday in the closing moments of the Twenty-Ninth North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church. He will be succeeded in Greenville by Reverend Leon Russell, who comes to Greenville from a highly successful pastorate in Goldsboro. Saturday and Sunday were two full days for the Methodist conference that started its sessions Wednesday afternoon in Greenville. Resolutions calling for the repeal of the laws permitting alcoholic beverages and another calling on the Methodists to do something about the gambling that has a "legal" status in Carteret county. In the afternoon the conference suspended business and a rally for the youth from all over the conference held the center of attraction. Matters on which the conference took final action were numerous. A ten million dollar foundation was started to be handled by the Methodist College Foundation of North Carolina, which project is to be carried out jointly by the two North Carolina Methodist Annual Conferences—the North Carolina Annual Conference and the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference. Under the leadership of Sam B. Underwood of Greenville, a member of the conference as district lay leader, the idea of group insurance for ministers was voted down and Mr. Underwood's idea of a committee to study the whole idea of ministers' support was adopted.

The resolution on alcoholic beverages was an outgrowth of a session Saturday morning given over to the Board of Temperance. Oale K. Burgess presided. Rev. Wayne W. Womer, secretary of the Virginia Church Temperance Council, spoke bringing out that a church member is a citizen as well as member and should carry over into his secular life the Christian ideals and do something about the evils of alcoholic beverages. He urged the banning of liquor advertising. The Methodist Youth Camp Don Lee near Arapahoe was given the right to issue $50,000 in bonds to complete needed buildings by summer.

To Leave City

REV. R. W. BRADSHAW (Continued on Page Eight) Sunday afternoon the conference voted to increase the assessment to secure a nearer living wage for the small salaried preachers whose churches were paying all they could. Since the starting of the plan in 1941 the scale of wages has been rising. The minimum set now is $2050 for married pastors with children. For the first time the matter of changing the time of the year for the conference sessions was brought to the floor of the conference. For years it has been talked in the lobbies at conferences. A committee was set up to study the advisability of meeting either in June or September when colleges were not in session; so, college campuses in the conference might possibly be used. Sunday morning Bishop W. W. Peels delivered the annual con-

Pitt Armistice Day Program Is Nearly Complete

Exercises At Courthouse Will Follow Parade Military Units, Groups

By CHESTER WALSH Joint plans of the Greenville posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars for a mammoth Armistice Day celebration of all Pitt County veterans' organizations and veterans of both world wars, to be held in Greenville Thursday, November 11, are about complete. James S. Jenkins, chairman of the Publicity Committee, announced today. Lieut.-Gen. Hal Turnage of Farmville, Pitt County's most distinguished soldier and retired general of the Marine Corps, will make the principal address on the portico of the courthouse at 11 a. m. Col. T. K. Fountain of Falkland, commander of American Legion Post No. 39, will preside. Congressman and Legionnaire Herbert C. Bonner of Washington also will speak. The impressive exercises at the courthouse will follow a colorful parade of Pitt County veterans' organizations, military units from Cherry Point and Fort Bragg, Greenville's National Guard artillery battery, East Carolina Teachers Corps Reserve Officers Training Corps unit, the ROTC band, Greenville High School band, Greenville Negro American Legionnaires and distinguished guests. The parade will form on East Fifth Street at the college at 10:30 a. m. under direction of Col. Owen M. Marshburn, chief marshal. At the conclusion of the Armistice Day exercises at the courthouse Resps will serve a barbecue dinner in the warehouse, one of the largest in the world. The dinner will be "dutch" treat. The visiting military units will be guests of the local veterans' organizations. Gold Star Mothers, representatives of all Pitt County veterans' organizations and women auxiliaries, will be special guests of the Greenville Legionnaires and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. In event of rain, the Armistice Day exercises will be held in the Farmers' Warehouse, on the Bethel highway. The Greenville Merchants Association has requested its members to close their stores during the parade and speaking exercises. The Greenville radio station, WGTC, will broadcast the Armistice Day exercises.

Find Congress Is For Farm Support

Survey Shows Strong Backing For Marshall Plan, High Farm Price Support, Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Law

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—The new Congress may look with a cold eye on any new request from President Truman for standby price control and rationing powers. But an Associated Press survey of members who will serve in the 81st Congress convening January 3 shows strong backing for the Marshall plan, for repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law, and for high support prices for farm products. That's the situation now on the word of 27 Senators and 235 representatives-elect who expressed their views in the survey. It is, of course, subject to change as conditions themselves change. But if the vote were taken today, here's how it would go insofar as the 263 Senators and representatives are concerned. 1. Farm price supports. The members were asked if they favor farm price support at present levels, which generally are 90 per cent of parity for basic commodities. Yes, said 135 Democrats and 53 Republicans. A few called for support at 100 per cent of parity—the price declared by law to be fair to both farmers and consumers. Six Democrats and 10 Republicans opposed the supports. Forty-four others, 17 Democrats and 27 Republicans, weren't certain. 2. Standby price and rationing powers. The question asked was: "Do you favor giving the President power to fix price controls and allocations?" Of those who took a definite stand, 93 Democrats and 41 Republicans said they do. But 27 Democrats and 76 Republicans, a total of 103, said no. The others

U. S. Grand Jury Charges Thomas With Conspiracy

Un-American Activities Chairman Indicted; Charge Payroll Padding

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, was indicted today on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government. Three charges of false claims also were contained in the federal grand jury indictment. He was accused also of 34 "overt acts." At his Allendale, N.J., home, Thomas said "I have nothing to say at all at this moment." He said he knew about the indictment and might have a statement later. Indicted with him on the conspiracy charge was Helen Campbell, his former secretary. "This charge alleged a conspiracy 'to defraud the United States of its money and property.'" Court officials said that, if conviction were obtained, maximum sentence in the several charges against the member of Congress could be 32 years imprisonment or $40,000 fine, or both. The grand jury charged a conspiracy to pad the payroll of the congressman's office with two employees who were not "bona fide." The two employees were named as Myra Midkiff and Arnette Minor. The grand jury investigated charges of irregularities in operation of the congressman's office. The New Jersey Republican was called before the grand jury last week but declined to testify. The indictment said the conspiracy ran five years—from January 1, 1943, to January 30, 1948. Bride Who Lost Her Nose Has It Sewed Back On Newhall, Calif., Nov. 8—(AP)—The bride who lost her nose in a honeymoon accident is recovering today. Mrs. Flora Lee Griffin, 25, and her husband, Edward, were returning from their honeymoon Saturday when their auto went over an embankment. Mrs. Griffin's nose was completely cut off as the impact hurled her through the windshield. She was taken to a hospital. A physician sent police back to search for her missing appendage. They found it on the car's running board. It was rushed back to the hospital in a surgical bag and Dr. E. C. Innis sewed it back on. "Looks pretty good," he commented today.

Marshall Expected To Return For Summation

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall probably will visit Washington before the end of the month. His mission will be to report to President Truman on the United Nations meeting at Paris and report outstanding American foreign policy problems. But diplomatic authorities here believe a decision also will be made on whether and how long Marshall will stay in the cabinet after inauguration day January 20. Marshall is known to want to re-appear, but there has been talk that Mr. Truman may ask him to remain and lend a hand with such impending problems as seeking Senate approval of an American military alliance with the principal countries of Western Europe and the North Atlantic area. It seems probable that the Chief Executive also will want to review with his secretary of state future moves in the cold war and determine whether any improvement may be possible in relations between the Western powers and Russia. Some speculation about this possibility has been caused among diplomats here by what they regard as the conciliatory tone of Foreign Minister Molotov's speech in Moscow Saturday. Molotov took the line that the defeat of Gen. Thomas E. Dewey in last week's election showed that the American people oppose a "policy of aggression."

Warms China Of Eight-Year War

Chiang Kai-shek Says No Peace Until Reds Are Defeated Nanking, Nov. 8—(AP)—Chiang Kai-shek, far from down and out, warns China today to prepare for eight years of war on the Reds. China's president said he will not make peace with the Communists. China's only chance for peace, he said, is to exterminate the Reds on the field of battle. The statement was made to 1,000 Kuomintang (party) members and legislators. Current peace rumors are Communist inspired, said Chiang. He apologized for the failure of economic and currency reforms and said new measures to bolster the situation are being drawn. Likewise, he declared, new life is being put into the nation's armies. (One step may be the granting of a free hand to Gen. Fu Tso-Yi in North China. Fu in the past has had to ask Nanking's permission for his every move. Chiang did not try to minimize recent defeats. The loss of Mukden and Chinghai was the greatest setback of the long, bloody China revolution, the president declared.)

Condemn Aid To Greek Guerrillas

Albania, Bulgaria And Yugoslavia Target UN Action Paris, Nov. 8—(AP)—The United Nations political committee voted today to condemn Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia for helping the Communist rebels in Greece. It was the strongest action thus far taken by any UN assembly body in the Balkans dispute. By a vote of 47 to 8, the committee approved a paragraph in a four-power resolution declaring that continued aid given by the three Slav nations to the Greek Guerrillas was inconsistent with the principles of the United Nations charter. The vote followed hours of wrangling, during which the Slav bloc fought to stall the proceedings and drew repeated tongue lashings from the committee chairman, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium. Overnight, the Greek government had responded to a plea from the President of the assembly by postponing execution of 10 seamen, scheduled to die today. The six Slav nations refused to vote on the condemnation paragraph. They served notice they would vote against the whole resolution when it comes up, perhaps later today. The veto does not apply.

No Reprisals By Democrat Heads

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—One of the big questions around Capitol Hill in the post-election days is this: Will there be any reprisals against Southern Senators and Representatives who took part in the States' Rights revolt? The answer appears to be "no." At least, nothing has yet developed to indicate there will be. And many Democratic leaders are advising unity and cooperation. Reprisals could be in the form of depriving southerners of choice committee assignments and depriving them of patronage. Asked specifically about reprisals, vice-President-elect Barkley, himself a Kentuckian, told a news conference that was a bridge to be crossed when reached and "it may not even be a bridge when we get to it." Leslie Biffle, director of the Senate Democratic Policy committee answered flatly: "No reprisals." Biffle, slated to become Senate secretary, is one of President Truman's intimates. Senator Lucas (D-Ill) who may land the post of Democratic floor leader, shrugged aside the question at a news conference, saying that "we'll have to get organized first." Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), who will head the powerful Senate appropriations committee, told a reporter there will be no reprisals as far as he is concerned.

Hopes Ebb For Missing Planes

Seattle, Nov. 8—(AP)—Hope ebbed today for 38 persons on three planes missing along the shores of the North Pacific. More than 40 planes and several surface ships, taking part in what the Coast Guard called the most extensive search ever conducted in this area, failed to turn up any new leads yesterday. Boost Estimate Of Cotton Crop Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—The Agriculture Department, in its semi-annual report of the year, today estimated this year's cotton crop at 15,168,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. This estimate is $7,000,000 more than the 15,079,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's crop of 11,857,000 and with the 1937-46 average of 12,014,000.

Holy Land Peace Talks Under Way

Israeli Spokesman Says Parleys Going On; Story Denied Tel Aviv, Israel, Nov. 8—(AP)—Sources close to the Israeli Foreign office said yesterday peace talks are under way between the Egyptians and Israeli government. (A member of Egypt's U. N. delegation in Paris denied the report, while Israeli informants in Paris would neither confirm nor deny it. Authoritative U. N. sources said they had no knowledge of such negotiations.) The Jewish sources said the conversations have been in progress for several days, either in Paris or Geneva. They said Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok was enroute to Paris and had undertaken the trip more because of the peace talks than because of scheduled U. N. Security Council and political committee sessions on the Holy Land. A peace between Israel and Egypt would involve only Southern Palestine. A Jewish offensive last month pushed the Egyptians back in the Negev desert and Jewish forces still surround several thousand Egyptian troops in isolated pockets. The U. N. Security Council is trying to get the Jews to withdraw to positions occupied before the offensive.

Instrument Of Peace

Military Alliances Disliked In Past Because They Connoted An Instrument Of War; Feeling Of Relief Over Alliance With West Europe; Treaty Purely Defensive By DeWITT MacKENZIE Ever since the founding of our country the term "alliance" has been abhorrent to the average American because it has been accepted generally as connoting a military treaty and so as being an instrument of war. However, it strikes me there will be a feeling of relief at the word from Washington that President Truman is expected to order the State Department within a few days to go ahead with negotiations for a military alliance treaty with western Europe. The Atlantic, which shrank us in our isolation, has now shrunk to the size of a millipede. And we know from tough experience that the major quarrels of the old world involve us. Moreover, with our atomic age education we now understand that while alliances may be instruments of aggression, they also may be powerful weapons of defense. As a matter of respectable hindsight we realize that an alliance between the United States and the western European powers most likely would have prevented both world wars. Twice Germany struck through vulnerable little Belgium because Berlin gambled on the fact that America wasn't bound by alliance to resist this aggression. Twice there was a frightful slaughter and destruction and economic dislo-

Police Recover Lot Of Stolen Articles; Looking For Owners

The police department has some valuable articles taken from Clifton James Griffin, who lives near Greenville, when officers arrested the youth recently on suspicion of possessing stolen goods. Police quote Griffin as saying that he took the articles from two cars parked near Dr. M. P. Hoot's office after he saw the occupants go into a picture show. The lot included a man's fountain pen, several boxes of 22 caliber cartridges, a man's zipper jacket and a kodak, etc. The owners may go to police headquarters and identify their property and obtain it. In Police Court Judge J. W. H. Roberts said he understands that Griffin intends to join the navy and he agreed to hold the case open until November 19th.

Request Increased State Aid For Public Libraries

Mrs. W. R. Bullock of Bethel, past president of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, appeared before the Advisory Budget Commission in Raleigh on November 4th at the time the request for State Aid to Public Libraries for the next two years was made. Miss Marjorie Neal, Secretary and Director of the N. C. Library Commission, presented the request for $500,000 for each year of the biennium 1949-1950, 1950-1951 for an increase over the $275,000 for the past two years in a form based on the great need for books for a qualified and experienced librarians to promote books and reading and for better service to rural people. Mrs. Bullock emphasized in her talk the need of increased and better service to rural people, and gave a picture of how much the services now given means to rural areas. Mrs. Bullock has been active in Pitt County in securing improved library service for rural areas, and has received recognition outside her home county for her interest in library service. At a recent District Library meeting in Greenville with representatives from 14 eastern counties Mrs. Bullock made a very impressive talk on "What Home Demonstration Club Members And Other Rural Women Expect of a County Library." In the October issue of N. C. Libraries, a bulletin published by the N. C. Library Association, Mrs. Bullock's talk was featured.

Court Upholds Conviction Of Gen. Meyers In Verdict

Washington, Nov. 8—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the conviction of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers on charges of inducing another person to be under oath to a Senate committee. The court split 3-1. Meyers has been in jail since last March 14, serving an 18 months to five years sentence imposed after his conviction in U. S. district court. The case against him grew out of a Senate investigation of wartime Air Force contracts. Meyers, now retired, was the chief purchasing officer for the Air Force during the war. In summary, the charges made against him amounted to this: Meyers was the actual owner of the Aviation Electric Corporation, Dayton, Ohio, which received profitable war contracts, but hired Elliott H. LaMarre to act as "dummy" president of the concern. When the Senate investigation got underway, Meyers persuaded LaMarre to testify falsely. In testimony to the committee LaMarre first said Meyers had no connection with the firm but later giving what he said was the truth, testified Meyers did own it. Meyers contended throughout that he was innocent, but was tried and convicted of subornation of perjury.

Faints In Telling Of Gandhi Plot

New Delhi, India, Nov. 8—(AP)—Narayan Vinayak Godse collapsed in court today as he read his lengthy explanation of the slaying of Mohandas K. Gandhi. American Education Week In Greenville

No doubt all thinking Americans believe that one of the first principles in the building of our Democracy is free and adequate educational opportunities for all the children of all the people; so they will not question the importance of calling the attention of all American citizens to our public schools especially during American Education Week, November 7-12.

If our citizens agree with General Eisenhower's pronouncement that "schools are the keystone of peace," then they will not be surprised that the teachers' organizations in the Greenville schools are this week stressing the importance of Education Week.

Since the citizens are already conscious of the fact that the schools are the concern of school officials and teachers, of parents and of all citizens, they no doubt will note with interest signs of Education Week—posters, letters, meetings, radio programs, newspaper notices and articles. All of these sign posts point to the schools. During this week the teachers' organizations—the North Carolina Education Association and the Classroom Teachers are making every effort to bring before the public some problems and opportunities which they consider vital, such as the following:

1. Learning to live together.
2. Improving the educational program.
3. Securing qualified teachers.
4. Providing adequate finance.
5. Safeguarding our American.
6. Promoting health and safety.
7. Developing worthy family life.

Parents and interested citizens are invited to visit the schools. The school officials and teachers would be glad for more people to know about school facilities and activities.

Mrs. Lindsay Savage is president of the local North Carolina Education Association, and Mrs. Howard Mims of the Classroom Teacher organization.

Present Comedy At Pantego High

Members of the Teachers Playhouse, dramatic club at East Carolina Teachers College, gave a 40-minute version of the Shakespearean comedy "As You Like It" for approximately 400 students of the Pantego high school and members of the senior class of the Belhaven school, Thursday, November 4, at the high school in Pantego. Twenty-three members of the cast and the production staff, accompanied by Dr. Lucile H. Charles, director of speech and dramatics at East Carolina, made the trip to Pantego. The play, enthusiastically received by the high school audience, was given in modern dress on a stage transformed into a Forest of Arden setting by a background of pine trees. After the performance the players were entertained by the senior class at Pantego at an informal reception in the home economics department of the school.

The play has been ably directed by Mrs. Newell Lewis. If you want to get away from the worries of reality, laugh at other people's troubles by seeing, "Meet the Husband."

Blount-Quinerly Vows Exchanged

Kinston—Miss Mable Quinerly Cummings, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Quinerly Cummings of Kinston, and Henry Bryan Cummings of Norfolk, Va., became the bride of Ferrell Leighton Blount, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Leighton Blount of Bethel on Friday evening, November 5. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride. Dr. Henry I. Glass, pastor of Queen Street Methodist Church, officiated.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Henry H. Johnson, pianist, and Mrs. Tom Andrews, Jr., of Bethel, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white silk net with bodice heavily beaded in crystals and seed pearls. Her veil of illusion was worn fingertip length and she carried a cascade of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Bryan Cummings, student at St. Henry's School, Raleigh, attended her sister as maid of honor. Her dress was of ice blue satin and her flowers were Better Times roses tied with matching satin ribbons.

F. L. Blount of Bethel was his son's best man.

Mrs. Cummings, mother of the bride, wore sea-mist crepe dinner dress, and the mother of the bridegroom was attired in aqua crepe. Each wore a purple orchid corsage.

Mrs. Blount was graduated from the Kinston High School and attended the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. The bridegroom received his education at Woodberry Forest School, Orange, Va.; Darlington School for Boys at Rome, Ga., and the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. At the latter school he held membership in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He left the University in his senior year to serve in the Marine Corps in World War II. He is now associated in business with his father at M. O. Blount and Sons in Bethel.

The marriage ceremony was followed by a wedding supper for approximately 80 guests, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to northern points. For her departure, the bride changed to a caviar wool suit with matching hat and brown lizard accessories, and white orchid.

Prenuptial courtesies extended the bride included numerous parties. Mesdames Leonard Oettinger, Alban Barrus and M. H. Palmer were hostesses at tea Tuesday afternoon to compliment the bride-elect. In the dining room, Mrs. Dan Quinerly, grandmother of the honoree, presided at the coffee service, and Miss Lottie Canady served opposite her.

On another occasion, Mrs. W. H. Armistead and Mrs. William T. Dixon honored Miss Cummings at bridge luncheon. For the serving of luncheon, Mrs. Elizabeth Q. Cummings and Mrs. Dan Quinerly, mother and grandmother of the prospective bride, presided at the table in the dining room.

A tea was given for Miss Cummings by Misses Jean Sanders and Mackie Gray at the home of Mrs. Phil Hines. Mesdames Cummings and Quinerly again presided at the tea table and were assisted by Mesdames Charles Sanders and Marshall E. Gray, mothers of the hostesses. The bride-elect was given a corsage and gift of crystal in her wedding pattern.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Alex Howard entertained as a courtesy to Miss Cummings and Mr. Blount. Wednesday morning, the bride-elect was honored by Miss Doris Whitfield. Mrs. Charles Hines assisted the hostess at the refreshment hour.

Rev. Hauser Speaks To Book Club

Mrs. A. D. Frank delightfully entertained the End of the Century Book Club on Tuesday afternoon. Amidst a profusion of fall flowers, a most delicious dessert course with coffee was served in the dining room by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. W. Reynolds.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Joseph Moys presided over a short business meeting.

Mrs. B. W. Moseley presented Rev. R. C. Hauser, Jr., who gave a most interesting and informative talk on "Contemporary Religious Leaders." Books were exchanged and the club adjourned.

Teen-Age Dance
There will be a teenage dance at the Teenage club Friday night at 8 o'clock. The dance will be chaperoned by members of the Junior Woman's club.

Mrs. Spilman Speaks Before Book Club

On Tuesday, November 5, Mrs. L. C. Skinner entertained the Sans Souci Book Club at her home at Fifth Street. She graciously received the fourteen members and invited them into the living room, made most attractive with beautiful arrangements of chrysanthemums.

After a brief business session led by the president, Mrs. W. L. Wooten, and books passed, the address was turned over to the program chairman who introduced Mrs. J. B. Spilman.

As guest and speaker of the afternoon, she used as her subject, "Awareness on the Part of American Women." She stressed the special fields of service in which local women could take an active and constructive part, such as support of public education, social service, employment, and delinquency.

Mrs. Spilman urged her hearers to have a goal, an aim of some noble purpose and make use of their potential power by thinking and courageous acting in order to work toward permanent peace.

Her talk was most timely and instructive and gave each member trends of new ideas and thoughts for discussion.

Mrs. Skinner then introduced two boys contested with the music department of East Carolina Teachers College, who rendered a most enjoyable musical program.

Mr. Bob Mays of Hopewell, Va., who has a lovely baritone voice, accompanied by Mr. Leon Jackson of Pikeville, N. C., sang four selections, "Water Boy," "Homing," "Night and Day," and "The Road to Mandalay."

The members and guests were then invited into the dining room where from a beautifully appointed table, Mrs. W. E. Hooker and Mrs. W. L. Wooten served delicious refreshments.

As always, Mrs. Skinner's meeting was a most enjoyable one.

With the independence of the colonies, there arrived a period of dignity and luxury with a definite trend toward the "fashionable" in furniture. Cabinet making assumed

Methodist Youth Fellowship Meet Held Here On Saturday Afternoon

By BETTIE ANNE YOUNG
The Methodist Youth Fellowship Session of the North Carolina Annual Conference, 1700 strong, convened Saturday afternoon from 2 to 6 p. m. to attest their faith in Methodism.
The spirit which pervaded the meeting came to a climax when Dot Smith, a member of the Fellowship, sang "The Lord's Prayer," joined spontaneously by the hushed voices of the numerous group.
"The Church in Politics," a panel discussion, presided over by the Rev. Henry Ruark, highlighted the afternoon program. As Rev. Mr. Ruark pointed out, the panel was to bring to youth a topic that was frowned on years ago as outside the realm of church duty. He emphasized, however, that now, if the church is to save man's soul, it must save the whole man. To do this, it must be concerned with all of man's environment, and must interpret the law and gospel to apply to all of life's activities.

Serving on the panel were Mrs. E. L. Hillman, prominent worker in Methodist women's work; Joe Allen and Bill Wells, two students at Duke University; and Pat Floyd, former editor of the Methodist Youth newspaper, "Youth in Action." Robert L. Humber, well-known Greenville citizen and statesman for world peace, was guest on the panel.

The four topics of the discussion were "Integrity of the Individual," "Economic Security of Man," "Nature and the Scope of Government," and "Man As a Whole Citizen."
Emphasized throughout these discussions were the need for tolerance, the civil rights of every individual, and the individual's responsibility in establishing world peace.
Questioned by Allen on what youth can do to help bring the world to the ultimate goal of peace, Mr. Humber stressed forming clubs for discussion and study. He suggested, also, that young people write letters to their representatives in government, urging them to begin work on changing the U. N. to a world government in order to preserve democracy.

Two other notable features of the session were addresses by Bishop W. W. Peels and Senator Clyde R. Hoey, former governor of North Carolina. Other features of the rally were a song service, led by Curt Gatlin, and a business session opened with a prayer by the Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Church and familiarly known to Methodist Youth as "Uncle Bob-

Mountaineers Roll Up Seven Touchdowns Against ECTC; Victory Moves Boone Team To One Game Of Clinching Loop Title

Boone—Appalachian State's powerful Mountaineers, unbeaten and tied once this season, slammed across seven touchdowns to crush East Carolina in a North State Conference game here Saturday night, 47-0. The victory moved Coach D. C. Duquesne's team within one game—a contest at Wilson against Atlantic Christian next Saturday—of clinching the North State loop title. Herman Bryson, Mountaineer candidate for the Little All-America, rolled up 80 yards in 11 rushing attempts, showing his season's mark to 909 yards in an even 100 rushing attempts for an average of 9.1 per try. Murdock got away for a 70-yard dash and a Mountaineer touchdown in the second period, while Cross raced 39 yards for a score in the fourth quarter. Mills passed to Caskey in the opening period for 24 yards and a touchdown. Bryson scored twice in the touchdown parade.

FRIDAY'S RESULTS IN THE NORTH EAST CONFERENCE

Lied by fullback Hal Currin, the Oxford High School football team racked up a 12-0 victory over Roanoke Rapids in a non-conference tilt. Oxford tallied in the second and fourth quarters. It was the sixth win for Oxford and Roanoke Rapids' fifth loss of the season. Roanoke Rapids will be the guests of Greenville this weekend in Guy Smith Stadium.
Kinston's "Red Devils" continued their winning ways by trouncing Norlina. It was ten in a row for Coach Frank Mock's "Devils" scoring honors were shared by 6 different players.
Coach Leo Morgan's air-minded New Bern Bears swamped Swansboro by a score of 27-0. Paced by halfback Fred Taylor, passing star of the New Bern aerial show, Taylor passed for 3 touchdowns and set up the other one on a long pass to end Russell which was good to the Swansboro 2. From there, Jimmy Brown went over on a line plunge.
Seeking Grid Game
Hertford, Nov. 5—Coach Joe Levinson is seeking a football game for his Perquimans High team for November 12. The locals will play any team within a radius of 100 miles; but they prefer to play at home.
I wonder how it would feel, Coach Johnson, to have fifty or a hundred dollars to hand to someone and say "So-and-so is playing tonight, go and see what they have. Watch this tailback, or fullback etc." It really would pay off. Scouting means just as much to a ball team as power. Take for example the William and Mary-Carolina game: Carolina outplayed Wake and Mary, yet the ball game ended with the score tied. This was the result of very good scouting on someone's part.
The two scouts who came from Appalachian must have found out plenty from the Duke JV's game. On every trick play the Pirates pulled, Mountaineers were on top of it.
While we're talking about money: Did you know that every boy that is on the football team at Appalachian gets a full scholarship? At ECTC you are lucky to get a $5.00 chow book during a quarter. Why doesn't ECTC put out a winning ball club? That's not hard to answer if you just stop and think. If you are or were a boy, just graduating from high school, and you were interested in college sports; Coach Johnson comes to you, "How about coming to ECTC—we will do the best we can for you. I can't promise you anything different, but I'm sure we can look after you. Coach "K" comes to you; "Come to YYY and we will give you room and board, spending money, tuition etc." Which would you go to? There are rumors flying that we will have a new coach next year. But I don't care who they get here Wallace Wade, Peahead Walker anybody... before we have a win-

Bowl Bound?

Philadelphia, Nov. 8—(AP)—Penn State's single wingback who defies the argument that the T-formation makes for the best in football speed and deception, appeared headed on a B-line for a bowl bid today. The Nittany Lions wrecked Pennsylvania's 14-game defeatless streak 12-0 Sat. day and at the same time confounded the Red and Blue with a dazzling display of ball-handling magic and wit of foot.

Chappuis Erases Bad Early Start

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 8—(AP)—Bob Chappuis has finally come into his own in professional football. Until yesterday's game with the Buffalo Bills, the former Michigan All-America had been a distinct bust in the play-for-pay set. True, an injury hampered him early in the season. But at no time did the 190-pound halfback show the form that earned him All-America rating while at Michigan last year. It is no secret that Branch Rickey, his current boss, has been deeply concerned over Chappuis, especially in view of the $55,000 two-year salary Bob is getting. All that worry was erased yesterday, however. Outshining even his palmed days at Michigan, Chappuis gave one of the greatest one-man exhibitions ever seen in the all-America conference. Playing in all but 10 minutes of the game, Bob was strictly a one-man team on offense.

He smashed two league records, both in the air. He threw 51 passes and completed 26 of them. He gained 211 yards in the air and 42 on the ground. That accounted for all but 12 of Brooklyn's 265 yards gained. He tossed one Dodge touchdown, and set up another. The Dodgers bowed to the bills, 26-21, but that did not dim Chappuis' brilliance.

Middlecoff Wins Honolulu Open Over Big Names

Honolulu, Nov. 8—(AP)—Seasoned professionals bowed to Doc Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., in the $10,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament. The club-swinging dentist clipped 10 strokes off par in winning first place money of $2,000 yesterday. A par 71 on the final nine and his record-setting 63 Saturday gave him a 72-hole card of 274. Finishing behind Middlecoff with a 277 was Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ark., who collected $1,400. He also was second here last year. An 18th

Unbeaten United Ranks Cut, Face Further Slashes

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—The unbeaten United ranks of major college football teams, cut almost in half over the weekend, may be sliced near the middle again Saturday. Only five schools—Notre Dame, Michigan, Army, California and Clemson—still have perfect records. Both Army and Clemson face their toughest opponents of the season this week. The Cadets have the unpleasant task of meeting Pennsylvania at Philadelphia with Penn on the rebound from its 13-0 licking by Penn State. Clemson tangles with Wake Forest, 27-20 conqueror of Duke, at Winston-Salem, N.C. And then there's the top game of the day—Northwestern vs. Notre Dame at South Bend. The Fighting Irish probably will win this one by several touchdowns, but the Wildcats definitely are above the average caliber of Notre Dame opponents this year.

Michigan and California shouldn't have much trouble in maintaining their records. The Wolverines entertain Indiana, which was trounced, 42-6, by Notre Dame Saturday. California plays host to Washington State Friday night. Four perfect marks were broken Saturday and Sunday. In addition to Penn's defeat, Georgia Tech lost to Tennessee, 13-6. Nevada was downed by Santa Clara, 14-0, and William and Mary held North Carolina to a 7-7 tie. One of the biggest surprises Saturday outside the unbeaten ranks was Oklahoma's 41-7 massacre of Missouri. The Sooners caught fire for 28 points in the third quarter after a 7-7 first half. The victory made Oklahoma a good bowl possibility and probably big seven champion, providing it can get past Kansas, which was idle Saturday.

hole eagle for a 281 clinched third money of $1,000 for Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, just one stroke ahead of E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark. Harrison pocketed $800. Bulla, Mangrum and Harrison all toured the 6,710-yard Waialae course yesterday in 70.

George Brown, place-kicking specialist of the Syracuse University team, booted 27 straight conversions last year before missing his opening kick of this season. Dr. N. S. Nicholas, who cares for the Villanova College football team, can appreciate the problems of the Wildcat gridgers. Nicholas was a tackle at the University of Missouri.

Louis Continues Exhibition Tour

Boston, Nov. 8—(AP)—Joe Louis, who says he'll fight again "if a good man shows up and people think I should," will continue in exhibition tour tonight by going four rounds—no decisions—against Boston's Johnny Shkor at the Arena. "I haven't wanted to fight anybody," the world heavyweight champion reiterated to sportswriters last night at a little reception at Jimmy O'Keefe's restaurant. Promoter Sam Silverman says the boxing commission has agreed to assign Jack Britton, longtime great welterweight champion, to referee the four rounds between the Bomber and Shkor. Shkor is a rough customer who a year or so ago routed the chances of New York's Tami Mauriello from getting a shot at the heavyweight crown. Mauriello, who angrily claimed he had been butted, lost on a seven round technical knockout to Shkor. Tami suffered a bad cut near his eye. One of the boys asked Louis if he knew anything about Shkor, who is handled by former champion Jack Sharkey. "Yuh, I hear he hits pretty good—with his head," grinned Louis.

Garcia Will Get Fighting Chance

Philadelphia, Nov. 8—(AP)—Champion Ike Williams gives Buddy Garcia a fighting chance tonight to qualify for a lightweight title fight. The obliging Trenton, N. J. belter who defends his laurels at the scratch of a pen takes on the pelt and persistent Garcia in a 10-round over-the-weight contest that promises to fill the arena to capacity. Garcia, of Galveston, Tex., is pledged to scale about the 135-pound title weight and less than 140 for the most ambitious test of his ring career. ning ball team we must get some money to work with, and we must get out and look for the best material, it isn't going to look for us.

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 10

It was about two weeks later when Rosalie got a letter from Wayne Kahler in California announcing that he was going to marry Winifred Carlton of San Francisco, who was a grand girl. Rosalie was astonished but not hurt. She had refused Wayne's strange, almost impersonal offer of marriage, but she had tried to put things on a definite "let's be friends" basis even if she didn't quite understand him. True, she had told him to go home, without meaning California at all, and had expected to see him in a day or two, but there was no reason why he shouldn't have gone straight West, down there just as he had done.

Yes, she was surprised but definitely not hurt by his announcement. Clearly he had intended to surprise but not hurt. His letters had always been interesting if not frequent, and this one was quite gay. He sent pictures of Winifred Carlton whom he described as pretty. She was very beautiful and looked as full of laughter as he said. His "laughing address," he called her. Several newspaper clippings from San Francisco stressed her wealth even more than her beauty. It seemed she was a talented musician as well.

The very evening she got the long, friendly letter Rosalie sat down to answer it. She was glad to have something to do and even more glad to have something to say. She could write him in the same spirit of friendship as he had written her.

But first of all it was better to write of her job. If he could find himself she could too, especially tonight after the first full day's work. She was tired and had wondered just what she would do this evening except make plans. And plans for what? She had been thrusting away that question all the way home. It wasn't such a long way either, but it had seemed so because she had expected to see Joe Monahan again on the street as she had yesterday. She had walked along this evening not sure whether she wanted to see him or not, only very sure that she didn't intend swerving a step out of her direct route to keep from meeting him. That would never do. She had done nothing to be ashamed of. Surely even he didn't expect her to live in a shanty Irish slum all her life.

She sat lightly at her table without fixing more than a cup of tea, to keep her from getting too hungry until she could go out for dinner and wrote Wayne that she was working, starting enough to live on, and finding life most interesting now she was really beginning to live it. She didn't tell him of her loneliness, or misgivings, or worries, because she didn't feel they were important tonight. Last night had been different, because she had felt she had no friend to talk to, and Joe most certainly had been unexpectedly crude, especially after she had crossed the street and hurried after him to speak to him—almost run, in fact. When she asked about his mother, as anyone would after not having seen her in about three weeks, he could have said something besides:

"If you want to see Mom you know where she lives."
Writing now, Rosalie's fingers shook and the fountain pen fell, making a blot on the paper. Since she was well down the page she refused to write it over as the nurse would have her do in school.

It just filled the paper and there was suddenly nothing more to say. In the earlier pages she had written all that was necessary about thanking Wayne for the pictures, and wishing him luck and happiness, and about her job. The end about Joe was just the end.

She dressed carefully. She might eat in a smart restaurant and it would do her good to feel at her best. She was wearing no mourning. It was one thing she had promised her mother long ago. Death was a blessed release. She was starting a new life. She had gotten new clothes, good clothes, happy clothes. She tried a mirror to see if she could smile like Winifred Carlton in her pictures. She couldn't do it at all. But she could look her cheerful best. She could show she was living a new life, even if there was no one but herself to understand.

Sees Revision In Income Tax Laws

Washington, Nov. 5—(AP)—Rep. Eberhart (D-Pa.) said today he looks for President Truman to urge a revision of the 1946 income tax cut.

The idea, said Eberhart, would be to pass more of the savings along to low income groups by boosting the levies for those in the upper brackets.

ference sermon to about 1,800 people assembled for the occasion at Wright auditorium on the East Carolina Teachers College from all over Eastern Carolina. The Bishop decried superficiality of peoples' faith and urged deeper roots for faith in Christ to afford steeper fixed loyalty to the Church and Christ in this time of great stresses. The Greenville High School mixed chorus under the direction of Miss Ona Shindler sang two anthems.

At 3 p.m. Saturday the conference reconvened at Jarvis Memorial for the closing session with one thousand people jam packed into every square inch of space on the main floor of church and educational annex and the balcony in the annex with many people standing in the entrances, along the walls and sitting in chairs down each aisle. Many stood outside awaiting the reading of the appointments.

The first order of business Sunday afternoon was the ordination of a group of deacons and another group as elders. Bishop Peete characterized the ordination services as the most impressive service in Methodist church procedure.

The appointments in Pitt County were as follows: Greenville, Leon Russell; Bethel W. M. Howard; Ayden, J. V. Early; Grifton, E. V. Downum; Farmville, H. L. Davis; Grimesland, C. G.

Nickens and Belle Arthur, Key Taylor.

Dr. A. P. Brantly, chairman of the Courtesies committee, presented and the conference passed resolutions of gratitude for the way Jarvis Memorial and the whole of Greenville had entertained the conference. Dr. E. G. Childs remarked just prior to the voting that the car sticker giving conference delegates free parking privileges had kept many saints out of jail. These former Greenville pastors as follows:

of the voters would that make them simply a "me, too," party, one with no claim to leadership?

But how can they take the lead in Congress where the Democrats are in the majority—if the Democrats stick together—and Mr. Truman's program is waiting to be carried out.

The voters have shown in every election since 1932, except in 1946 when they elected a Republican Congress, that they prefer Democratic leadership.

Governor Dewey himself was quoted a few weeks before election as having said that the people in this country have been educated to vote Democratic.

This projected alliance is in no sense an invitation to combat. It is purely defensive. Dulles emphasized our peace-mindedness when he branded as "vicious falsehoods" Russia's charges that America plans aggression.

LET Potash SERVE YOU

THREE of the American Potash Producers, namely, the American Potash & Chemical Corporation, the Potash Company of America, and the United States Potash Company, through their consumer service organization — The American Potash Institute — are constantly endeavoring to make the use of this necessary plant food more efficient and economical. Cooperating with Federal and State Agricultural Agencies in laboratories and experiment stations, the Institute helps promote scientific research and field demonstrations which will result in practical recommendations for potash use. As a clearing-house for this new information, it publishes regularly for the official agricultural advisory forces a magazine called Better Crops with Plant Food.

For YOU, using potash in the fertilizer to feed your crops, the Institute maintains a staff of trained agronomists who are at your service. It has available for you free literature from official sources telling how to grow large yields and good quality of crops and maintain soil fertility. Motion pictures on soil and crop deficiency symptoms and means for determining them, as well as films on good soil management, can be obtained from the Institute without charge upon request for showing by county agents, teachers of vocational agriculture, and responsible farm organizations.
