

Solons Shy Away From Suggested Special Session

Little Enthusiasm For Summoning Congress To Speed Aid To China

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Democrats and Republicans alike shied away from a GOP Senator's suggestion that President call back the outgoing 80th Congress to rush anti-Communist aid to China.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) chairman of the Congressional "Watchdog committee" on Foreign aid, urged the special session yesterday in a statement which said that unless something is done in a hurry the Communists will take over "the whole of China, look, stock and barrel."

The new Democrat-controlled Congress is due to meet January 3. The "Lame Duck" 80th Congress, which never has adjourned formally, could be called back either by President Truman or by its Republican leaders.

Bridges said in Des Moines, after the statement had been issued by his office here, that he had "discussed" the matter with GOP chiefs, but had offered the proposal on his own hook.

One of those Republican leaders, House speaker Martin (R-Mass.), declined comment at his home in North Attleboro, Mass. But he did not appear enthusiastic.

"As far as I know the administration still has funds voted by the 80th Congress to be used for aid to China," he said.

Of the lawmakers and officials available for comment, only Senator Brewster (R-Me) gave Bridges proposal his full backing.

"For three years I have been telling President Truman that China is entitled to more real help than she has been getting," Brewster said. "I am all for the Bridges plan to speed aid to China."

Mr. Truman, on vacation at Key West, Fla., had nothing to say about the New Hampshire Senator's suggestion. Neither had the State Department. But sources close to the President said he has no intention of calling back a Republican Congress when he can plan on a more friendly one in just a few weeks.

Gypsy Rose Can Dry Her Tears; Back On Program

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Gypsy Rose Lee said today that she had dried her tears today—if a job is what had her worried.

A Broadway nightclub, which Miss Lee said "fired me" just because she asked for four-weeks salary—$10,000—in advance, has put her show back on the program.

The ex-stripper and novelist sobbed yesterday as she told of being "fired" just before her opening performance.

The club, "La Martinique," at first retorted that Miss Lee "simply walked out" and it planned to sue for $10,000. But last night a spokesman said the "misunderstanding" was over, and Miss Lee's act would open Sunday night.

Lindbergh Again Helps Air Force

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh is making a new study of an aerial route he helped pioneer before the war—the Alaskan airway to the Orient.

The air force announced last night that Lindbergh was on his way to the Arctic outpost to survey its operations there. He recently completed a tour of air force bases in the United States.

Lindbergh, who serves as a special consultant for the air force, made several wartime plane testing missions in the Pacific.

System Of Seniority

More Ability To Stick Around, Not General Ability, Pays Off In Congressional Posts; You'll See It Again In This Congress; Importance Of Committee Work

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Once again you are about to see at work a system whereby a man gets paid off on his mere ability to stick around, not on his general ability.

That's the seniority system in Congress.

Under it, a man who has served longest on a committee automatically moves up to become chairman even though other more recent committee members may be smarter at the job.

This will happen when the new Congress, the 81st, takes over in 1949—and the Democrats, who have a majority and will run Congress, start setting up their committees.

(It worked the same with the Republicans when they won a majority in the 1946 elections.)

The Democrats will have a majority on every committee. A few Republicans will have to drop off, and a few more Democrats will be added.

Then the Democrat who has been on each committee longest becomes chairman.

(This year the rule may be broken a bit if the Democrats want to get tough with some of their fellow-

Four Day Battle Is Still Undecided

Conflicting Claims As Nanking Watches And Waits; Result May Decide War For Many Months To Come; Exodus Continues

Nanking, Nov. 13.—(AP)—On the plains around Suichow today Nationalist soldiers rallied in a titanic struggle to save their Nanking capital from the Reds.

A million or more men were locked in their fourth night of fighting with the outcome still uncertain. The Nationalist air force was hurled into the battle, bombing and strafing the Communists.

Outcome of the great battle could determine the civil war for months to come. The Reds, hoping to seize Nanking, 170 miles to the south, are putting their all into the battle.

The Communist radio claimed Kuomintang (Government) troops were in utter confusion and 200 miles of the Lunghai railroad east and west of Suichow was in their hands. The Reds claimed the capture of 10 towns and said the government had suffered 20,000 casualties in the early fighting.

(The radio said that five government armies were being decimated. Red forces were said by the radio to be less than 10 miles north of the main government Suichow base. Another Red force was said to have bypassed the battlefield and was poking its way toward Nanking.)

Government newspapers yesterday claimed Nationalists dealt the Reds a crippling blow east of Suichow, inflicting 30,000 casualties on Tsinan veterans who were caught trying to cross the Grand Canal.

Throughout it all Nanking watched and waited.

One thing was obvious here. The Chinese civil war goes on only because of the determined will of Pres. Chiang Kai-shek. His fierce opposition to Communism holds together the National government in the face of continued military and economic disasters, each one worse than the one before, competent observers say.

The American embassy announced it would sponsor a ship that will leave Nanking at dawn Monday for Shanghai with the first batch of 250 non-official evacuees. A spokesman said the passengers will be divided evenly between Americans and other foreigners.

Chiang paused in his direction of the war long enough to promise the government 12 provinces below the Yangtze that transportation would be provided to move foodstuffs into the areas of greatest need. He urged provincial officials not to hinder the food shipments.

In Peiping a delayed pro-government dispatch said the Nationalists had abandoned the Manchurian port of Huliao. All troops there were reportedly withdrawn by sea to North China's port of Chingwangtao, near the sea anchor of the Great Wall.

Longshoremen Begin Paralyzing Walkout

East Coast Strike Swells To Full-Scale Proportions; Large Part Of Ocean-Borne Commerce Is Immobilized

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—An East coast longshoremen's strike swelled to full-scale proportions today, immobilizing a large part of the nation's ocean-borne commerce.

Some 65,000 dock workers at ports along 10 miles of coastline from Portland, Me., to Hampton Roads, Va., were ordered off their jobs at midnight last night.

The official strike wall was sent out by Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, after he said members had voted "overwhelmingly" to reject proposed wage terms.

With port operations numbed by the strike, the American Association of Railroads clamped an embargo on the shipment of nearly all export freight destined for Boston and the huge port of New York.

The embargo was expected to be expanded to include other port cities as the strike began spontaneously in several major ports four days ago, spread to other coastal cities.

The walkout threatened to paralyze the multi-million-dollar Atlantic shipping industry, and stem the regular flow of Marshall Plan aid to Europe. Foreign vessels also were affected.

Ryan, who said the need for calling the strike was a "national calamity," said stevedores would refuse to load or unload any cargoes except mail and supplies for Army ships.

Ordinary mail, commercial freight and foreign aid shipments will not be handled, he said, adding: "As long as we're having a strike, let's have a strike."

Start of the strike confronted the maritime business with a two-coast shutdown. West coast ports have been tied up for more than two months by a strike of CIO longshoremen.

Violence Returns In French Strike

Paris, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Rioting strikers attacked a government-held coal mine in South Central France today and kidnapped three policemen.

In Paris a Communist-called 24-hour general strike stalled virtually all municipal subway and bus lines, forcing workers in this city of 4,000,000 persons to walk to their jobs.

Fighting broke out at Brasse-Les-Mines, 25 miles southeast of Paris, where one miner was killed and scores of strikers and police hurt during the coal strike, now in its sixth week.

In at least one section of Paris the water supply was cut off. Garbage collection was halted, and refuse probably will remain in the streets until Monday.

Communist labor leaders called the tie-up in answer to what they termed police brutality in the Armistice Day clash between police and demonstrators on the Champs Elysees.

Authorities said 96 police and 45 demonstrators were injured in the outbreak.

It was the second time in two months that transportation workers in Paris have struck. Outmoded taxicabs and overloaded trucks appeared on Paris boulevards.

Last Of Tuneful Trio Is Married

Hollywood, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The oldest and last to be wed of the singing Andrews Sisters is now Mrs. Lou Rogers.

The former Laverne Andrews, 32, and her recording company executive were married last night at the home of her sister, Maxene Andrews Levy, Matron of honor was the third member of the tuneful trio, Patti Andrews Melcher.

Leaves Money To Guilford College

Greensboro, Nov. 13.—(AP)—A woman who died at the age of 93 Sunday left most of an estate estimated worth more than $200,000 for the education of girls in Woman's College, Guilford College, here, and Guilford County high schools.

The will of Mrs. Roxie Armfield King showed that when it was probated yesterday. She was the widow of John L. King, a Greensboro business man.

Unable To Find 'Spy Witness'

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Whereabouts of Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-described former Communist spy, was reported unknown today.

Attorneys in a $100,000 slander suit filed against her said they had searched for her for a month.

The suit was brought Oct. 6 by William W. Remington, former Commerce Department employee, in connection with espionage charges Miss Bentley made against him.

CITY DRIES UP

Columbus, O., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A 36-inch water main broke today and this city's main water supply was cut off for more than three hours.

Bramuglia Again Readies Formula For Settlement

Spokesman For Security Council 'Neutrals' Confers With Russian

Paris, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia was reported today to be working on a new formula to end the East-West Berlin deadlock.

Bramuglia, November president of the U.N. Security Council and spokesman for the six neutrals on the council, conferred with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky at the Russian embassy last night.

Sources close to Bramuglia said they discussed the Berlin situation. The Bramuglia-Vishinsky meeting came after U.S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall told a news conference yesterday the United States was looking to Security Council neutrals to see what they might propose in the Berlin crisis.

Marshall also said the U.S. is determined the Berlin airlift will go ahead as long as it is necessary.

Bramuglia, in a radio interview broadcast to South America, said yesterday he was working on a "peaceful effort" to solve the Berlin dispute within the council.

He presumably discussed this new formula with Vishinsky but there was no indication of what the formula might be or Vishinsky's attitude toward it.

Last month's attempt by the neutrals to settle the Berlin issue failed because of opposing Western and Soviet views on whether the blockade should be lifted before the Soviet zone mark became Berlin's sole currency.

All four powers agreed in principle the Soviet mark should become Berlin's currency under four-power control. The Soviets wanted the details worked out before they lifted the blockade. The West insisted the blockade should be raised first because they would not negotiate under duress.

Sky-Writing Air Raid Over City

Tel Aviv, Israel, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Tel Aviv had a sky-writing air raid today.

Sirens sent Sabbath strollers scurrying for shelter when an unidentified plane appeared high over the Israeli capital, trailing black writing smoke. The plane wrote unintelligible patterns, which anti-aircraft gunners punctuated with ack-ack bursts. The plane then flew eastward without dropping bombs.

Lift Ceilings On N.C. Nat'l Guard

Raleigh, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Mandatory ceilings for North Carolina National Guard units have been lifted. State Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts has announced.

Enlistments have been thrown open, he said, because the total number of enlisted men in the state has fallen well below the authorized quota.

'Hopeless' Rescue Is Still Pushed By Desperate Sons

Lambertville, N. J., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Rescue workers dug today into thousands of tons of rock on the million-to-one chance of finding alive a man buried six days ago in a quarry landslide.

Hope that Edgar S. Snyder, 64, might have survived an avalanche of 20,000 tons of stone was abandoned by all but his four sons yesterday appealed to Gov. Driscoll for help.

State police Sgt. Jack Wallace and Lambertville Quarry Co. officials said "there isn't a chance" of finding him alive, and that it might take three weeks to clear away the rocks, many of them 50 and 60-ton boulders.

But despite the imminent threat of another landslide, the laborious rescue operations went on.

The body of another worker, Raymond Wellman, 48, was recovered Monday, a few hours after the perimeter of the quarry, 155 feet high, gave way under Snyder and Wellman. Wellman's body was found about 35 feet from the top, beneath a massive boulder split into a perfect cross.

Snyder's sons—Russell of Newark, Charles of Lehigh, Pa., Earl of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Harold of Lambertville—told Driscoll they thought their father might be trapped in a crevice.

Babson's After-Election Forecast

New York, N. Y., Nov. 13.—I am back again in New York City to get the pulse. New York City is no longer the business center of the United States. This has long ago moved to the "Magic Circle," including the states of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri. On the other hand, all merchants, manufacturers and bankers—wherever located—still go to New York to buy their goods and sell their wares.

Everyone is pessimistic.

Whatever the stock market may be doing when you read this column, let me tell you that New York feels bluer today than it has for many years. The people here believe that the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will gradually now decline to 165 or under. This pessimism not only applies to the stock market but to general business, agriculture and foreign affairs.

The big interests here not only expect no special favors from the second Truman administration, but they are convinced that they will actually be persecuted. They claim that the Raw Deal will take the place of the New Deal, and a businessman will again be abused just

Girl Is Located

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 13.—(AP)—U. S. Army authorities reported today that a missing American girl employed by the Army counter-intelligence corps has been found in a Wiesbaden hospital.

They said the girl, Miss Lydia Briggs, 26, of 1544 Farber street, Greenville, N. C., was a patient at the Army's 517th Station hospital in Wiesbaden. The nature of her illness was not disclosed.

A wide search for the pretty brunette, reported missing since Oct. 27, had been under way throughout West Germany.

An Army announcement said hospital authorities "were of the opinion that Miss Briggs had advised her organization in Frankfurt of her whereabouts. Hospital authorities said that should her present progress continue, she will return to duty in the next two or three weeks."

Santa Parade To Be Held Friday

Children Urged To Register For Participating In Event

The Santa Claus parade will be held in Greenville this year on Friday, November 19, at 2:30 p.m. The parade will be an elaborate affair, with the East Carolina Teachers College and High School bands, highway patrolmen and police and fire departments leading the procession. Executive Secretary Cora E. Powell of the Merchants Association said the parade will be principally for young people. It will feature ponies, saddle horses, bugles, teams, dogs, chickens, goats and all other kinds of pets; decorated bicycles and children in costume. The Merchants Association is going to award cash prizes. The judges will be out-of-town people.

To enter the parade, children should, right away, go to the Merchants Association office at the City Hall, and register their names and addresses and what part they will take in the Santa Claus parade. They will be given numbers to wear on their arms, and the judging will be done by number.

The streets in the business sections will be decorated for Christmas. The decorations this year and the illumination will be better than ever. The multi-colored electric lights "overlaid" will be combined with sprayed mountain laurel roping and multi-colored Christmas bells. White Way posts will be decorated with greenery typical of Christmas.

Stores and other business places will decorate their windows for the Yuletide season. William H. Taft, president of the Merchants Association said. Through cooperation of City Schools Supt. June H. Rose and County Supt. of Schools Don H. Conley, city and county school children will be permitted to attend the parade.

Incidentally, old Santa Claus will wear a new suit this year.

Will Not Change Terms On Berlin

Berlin, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The official Soviet press here said today that any new attempt to solve the Berlin blockade crisis in the United Nations could be successful only on terms already laid down by the Russians.

The Soviet mouthpiece, Tagliche Rundschau, discussing reported new compromise efforts at Paris, declared the Russian attitude was well-known and unchanged.

This is that the introduction of the Soviet mark as the sole currency for Berlin must be simultaneous with the lifting of the blockade. The Western attitude has been that the blockade must be lifted first and the currency question then negotiated.

The Communist press again accused the Western powers of rejecting previously-reached agreements on Berlin. It demanded a change of attitude, especially on the part of the United States.

The Communist press also waged a concerted campaign of trying to break public confidence in the Western-sponsored pact, claiming that it was weakening and that new plans, such reports have repeatedly been officially denied.

The Allied airlift to this blocked city was operating smoothly after fog lifted at western Germany bases during the night.

Hawaiians Seek Out Governor

Honolulu, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Immediate ouster of Gov. Ingram M. Stainback by President Truman was demanded today by Hawaiian Democratic party leaders.

The governor, also a Democrat, was accused by the central committee of his party of ignoring Democrats and siding with Republicans. A central committee resolution said Stainback supported "false and fancied" charges of Communist infiltration in the island party and was hostile to union labor.

Look Up Law

Danville, Va., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Police busily leafed through Danville's statute books today to see if it's legal for Raleigh Payne to keep a mountain lion in his back yard.

The lion, young but growing fast, first came to the attention of the police when an agitated citizen phoned to report he'd seen a lion roaming near the city reservoir. Police cruisers howled to the scene. They found the lion, all right—in Payne's back yard.

Payne explained that he's always had a way with animals.

That's when the authorities started dragging out the statute books.

No look so far. The nearest applicable law they've been able to find was an ancient one forbidding the exhibition of jackasses.

UN Leaders Ask End To Deadlock

Personal Plea For Berlin Solution In Unprecedented Move By Trygve Lie And UN Secretary General Is Written

Paris, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The president of the United Nations Assembly and the U.N. secretary-general made an urgent personal appeal today to the chief executives of the United States, Russia, Britain and France to settle the Berlin dispute at once.

Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister, who is president of this assembly session, and Trygve Lie, the secretary-general, offered their good offices to the four big powers in efforts to solve the dispute. Their action was without precedent in the U.N.

The two invoked the recent Mexican resolution, approved unanimously by the assembly, which had called upon the Big Four to do all possible to settle all their differences.

The appeal was sent to the chief delegates here of the four powers, with the request that it be sent to President Truman, Prime Minister Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee and Premier Queuille.

Evatt and Lie asked the four to give this appeal urgent consideration. They said they believed the first step toward settlement of major differences would be a solution of the Berlin case.

Soviet Russia has blocked Western Berlin by land since June 23, and attempts in the U.N. Security Council to resolve the issue have failed thus far.

Secretary of State Marshall said yesterday the case still is before the Security Council and that the West still is looking to the so-called neutrals of the council for anything they may propose as a solution. Russia vetoed their first proposal.

The Evatt-Lie letter said in part: "Every day that the deadlock over Berlin continues, the danger to the peace and security of all nations continues undiminished.

"Fear of another war is crippling the effort of all nations to repair the damage of the last war and return once more to the ways of peace.

"The work of the General Assembly and of the United Nations as a whole in every field of endeavor is being delayed and undermined."

Evatt and Lie told the four leaders it is within their power to end this danger to peace.

"We therefore respectfully urge upon the governments of France, the United States, the United Kingdom and the United States x x x the desirability of immediate conversations and of taking all other necessary steps toward the solution of the Berlin question, thus opening the way to a prompt resumption of negotiation for the conclusion of the remaining peace settlements for Germany, Austria and Japan."

War Crimes Dispute

Sentencing Of Japanese War Leaders Will Recall Similar Trials In Nuremberg; The Points Debated; Legal Aspects; Justification; Death Penalty; A Precedent

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The sentence of death by hanging for war crimes, meted out in Tokyo to former Japanese Premier Tojo and six of his top leaders—not to mention terms of imprisonment for others—recall (and may revive) the argument revolving about the Nuremberg trials of Nazi leaders.

The dispute was over whether such trials were admissible under international law and, if they were, whether there was moral justification for the death sentences. The first of these two points is, of course, legal; the second is based largely on the commandment "Thou shalt not kill."

As for the legal aspect, much has been made of the claim that international law never had recognized such charges prior to World War II, and that the various war crimes trials have been based on a law created after commission of the crimes alleged. However, the Allies obviously have felt sure of their position, which was summed up in the Harvard law review in 1946 by Dr. Sheldon Glueck, professor of criminal law and criminology at Harvard, in this way: "Every recognition of custom as

Vishinsky Asks If U. S. Planning A Pearl Harbor

Points To Atomic Bomb Strategy As Outlined By General Kenney

Paris, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Russia asked the United States before all of the United Nations today: "You are preparing a Pearl Harbor for the Soviet Union, aren't you?"

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky declared heatedly on the U.N. Political Committee "the European part of Russia—this heart of Russia—is being aimed at."

Vishinsky said Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney of the United States Air Force wrote in the magazine Newsweek last May 17 of a plan to use the atom bomb against Moscow and other key Soviet cities.

(The Newsweek article was the subject of two other blasts from Moscow earlier this year. On June 9, an official Soviet note complaining of alleged American war-mongering cited the Newsweek article. A week previous, the Soviet member of the Allied Council for Japan wrote to Gen. Douglas MacArthur saying the article contained "insolent slander" about Russia.

(Newsweek said then that the article simply reported military thinking at the time in both Washington and Moscow. The story described how the U.S. Air Force would operate and how the Russians probably would operate "if the Russians suddenly went berserk and swept into western Europe.")

The Soviet delegate thumped the table and waved his arms vigorously as he replied to charges made by Osborn, yesterday. Osborn contended Russia is using "propaganda to prepare her people for war" and still aims at world revolution.

The Soviet delegate said he would neither confirm nor deny Osborn's figures given before the committee yesterday that Russia has 4,000,000 men under arms.

"This is none of your business," Vishinsky said.

Arrests Made In Narcotics Drive

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Sheriff Laurence B. Brown disclosed today that 18 persons have been arrested in Buncombe County in a continuing drive against dope addicts and peddlers.

They were charged with unlawful possession of narcotics and instruments for administering habit-forming drugs, Brown said.

Some have been released on bail and others, unable to raise bail, are in jail awaiting trial probably at the term of criminal Superior Court beginning Monday, Nov. 22.

New Explanation Of GOP Defeat

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Republicans would have won the presidency, says Harold E. Stassen, if they had convinced the American people their party was liberal.

They didn't. Now, adds Stassen, the Republican party needs to be rebuilt "from the people on up and this is the time to do it."

China-Bound

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Longshoremen last night began loading 5,000 tons of explosives and 30 Mosquito bombers aboard the Canadian freighter Islandella, bound for Chinese Nationalist forces.

The arms were purchased by the Chinese government through its Ottawa supply mission.

Mrs. Cherry Hostess To Jane Austen Club

Stokes-Mrs. L. Q. Cherry was hostess to the Jane Austen Book Club on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. John I. Grey, president, presided. The home was decorated throughout with lovely arrangements of fall flowers.

Plans were completed for a club supper to be held in the near future. A nominating committee and a program committee were appointed with recommendations to be given at the December meeting. Mrs. Ethel Clarke, in her charming manner, read a paper entitled "Precious Stones and Their Story," prepared by Miss Kate Roebuck. A brief history of how precious stones have been valued through the years and a description, meaning and mining location was given for each birthstone.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ethel Clarke served a sweet course with nuts and coffee. Books were distributed and the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. J. B. Congleton in December.

Gives Program On What's New In Books

The George B. Singletary Chapter U.D.C. met on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. B. Spilman. Upon arrival members were served delicious home-made decorated cakes with coffee.

The meeting was opened with silent prayer which was closed by Mrs. Spilman. Mrs. E. W. Harvey, the new president, made a few remarks concerning Armistice Day. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. B. McK. Johnson. Mrs. J. G. Lautes, treasurer, gave a splendid yearly report. It was voted to remember the Confederate Women's Home at Fayetteville at Thanksgiving and at Christmas.

Mrs. Johnson gave a most interesting and instructive program on "What's New In Books." She gave brief reviews on several new books on Southern history, but she gave a detailed review in her usual entertaining manner of "Proud Way." "Proud Way" is the love story of Jefferson Davis and Verina Davis.

Miss Moye Speaks To Altrusa Club

The Altrusa Club held its regular luncheon meeting at the Hotel Proctor on Tuesday, Nov. 9. The president welcomed members and guests. Letters and greetings were read from other executive women, also Altrusa members.

Mrs. Spilman presented Miss Jessie Moye to the group, paying tribute to the effective work done by Miss Moye in establishing and bringing into realization the Art Center. Miss Moye very ably told the group of the accomplishments along these lines in Greenville. She challenged and complimented the club on their desire to contribute a part in creating a greater interest of the citizenry to appreciate the efforts of this group, who have labored to establish the Art Center and other educational and cultural achievements.

The luncheon table was artistically arranged with a center of yellow chrysanthemums. The members attending the meeting were Mesdames J. B. Spilman, Clara Gower, Ruth Moore, Ray Tyson, Cora Powell, May Harvey, McCarty and Mary Moore, and Misses Bessie Love and Margaret Cone. Special guests were Miss Ruby Hurst and Miss Jessie Moye.

Local Women Own Newsstand At Hotel

The newsstand in the lobby of Proctor Hotel, operated since the hotel property was remodelled when Kenneth Phillips, the enterprising manager, took charge some time ago, is now owned by Miss Evelyn Beasley and Miss Ada R. Jones of Greenville. They purchased the business from Harry Burke, who did much to make this year's American Legion Pitt County Fair one of the best in years. Miss Helen Craft, who has been in charge of the newsstand, will continue to manage it. Miss Jones and Miss Beasley will be on duty at the newsstand weekdays evenings until 9 o'clock, and on Sundays.

The new owners are arranging to provide a public service for stenography and typing and for handling bookkeeping for small business firms. Entrance to the newsstand is through the main lobby and from Third street.

Dramatists Plan Nativity Play

The Teachers Playhouse, dramatic club at East Carolina Teachers College, will present in early December the medieval English church drama The Nativity Play, a theatrical classic more than 500 years old. Five performances will be given so that college students, school children of Greenville and Pitt county, and others interested in the production may have an opportunity to see it.

Dr. Lucile H. Charles, director of speech and drama at the college, is directing the play. Caroline Westover, who is serving as student director and has at her assistants Susan Smith, Goldsboro, and Donald Blood, Reidsburg, Wis. Reidsburg have already begun, and a large cast and technical staff are at work on the production.

The first performance will be given Friday afternoon, December 18, for school children of the city and the county. J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools, and D. H. Conley, superintendent of schools in Pitt county, are cooperating with the college players in planning the event; and the Greenville branch of the American Association of University Women is sponsoring the sale of tickets Friday evening the play will be presented for the general public, the date having been arranged with the approval of ministers of the city College students will see the drama Monday, December 13, at a matinee and an evening performance. These four presentations on the campus a special performance of the play will be given at the Eppe high school for Negroes Tuesday, December 14.

J. E. Burdick With Hurricane Hunters

James E. Burdick, USN, husband of Mrs. Aydale Burdick of Grifton, is now serving in Patrol Squadron 23 based at the Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Md. Patrol Squadron 23 is a hurricane hunting group. Men of the 23rd locate and send warnings along the east coast of impending hurricanes.

Burdick entered the Naval service Feb. 4, 1932, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Lt.-Comdr. Charles King Named To Staff

Lieut.-Commander Charles M. King of Greenville was named to the staff of Commander J. D. Shea, when he took over command of the Naval Air Bases at Cecil Field, Sixth District, Jacksonville, Fla., this week. Capt. A. I. Malmstrom, commander of the Sixth District Naval Bases, formally turned over the district to Commander Shea. Cecil Field was recently reactivated.

Lieut.-Commander King has been in the naval air service for 11 years. After entering the service he won his promotions on merit, and his record for outstanding service before World War II and since is outstanding. He is a son of Mrs. R. W. King, who lives on the Ayden highway near Greenville.

al programs by providing books for 13 schools and 5 branches with the aid of the bookmobile. The state and county help with federal funds.

Mrs. W. R. Bullock has been president and has been so helpful to the school. She and others have helped not only in our library but with our teen-age room.

The teen-age room has been made attractive by putting in new curtains and newly painted chairs and tables. It has comfortable chairs and a sofa. We have put a piano in it and expect to get the music box fixed. We have game boards, too.

The teen-age room is used for a reading room, a music room and the 4-H club is using it for assemblies and it is used for parties. We think we are fortunate, for other schools do not have such a useful room.

This was made possible by the following people and organizations: Mr. Latham, the principal and Mr. Marvin Blount of Greenville. The Home Demonstration Club, the Bethel Jaycees, Mrs. A. M. McWhorter, Mrs. W. R. Bullock, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Miss Hinnant and the Home Economics department girls.

The seventh grade is showing its appreciation by making posters and displays for the Home Demonstration club to use in their library display windows up town.

Mrs. R. N. Simmons is the incoming president. I am sure she will cooperate with us as they have in the past.

By CHESTER WALSH
City Attorney E. B. Lee stated to the Board of Aldermen, in regular session at the City Hall Thursday night, that in order to follow out a suggestion for a special election made recently about motion picture shows remaining open during Sunday night church services, a signed petition must come from the public. Motion picture theater officials did not request an election. The idea originated within the Board of Aldermen some time ago in order the place the responsibility of any action on the conditions themselves.

Forensic Club Names New President For Winter Quarter

Bids On Construction And Equipping Hospital Planned

Only Question Is Whether Bids Will Be Within Reach

Only one major obstacle remains to be hurdled before Pitt County can be assured of having a new $1,400,000 hospital with 120 beds. The only question now is whether contractors' bids will be within the amount appropriated for the hospital.

The hospital trustees will advertise next week for bids on the construction and the equipping of the hospital, and the bids received will be opened about mid-January.

Within the past two weeks the federal and state agencies have approved the proposed hospital and have allocated funds amounting to $877,000 for the hospital, to supplement the $563,000 which Pitt County has earmarked for the project. The proposed Pitt County hospital, to be built with county, state and federal funds, is the largest single project yet to be considered by the state Medical Care Commission for the hospital program in North Carolina.

What Plans Include
Final plans for Pitt County hospital, drawn by Architect George Watts Carr of Durham, call for a main building of modern design 294 feet by 38 feet with four stories and a basement. The hospital's administration offices will be in a one-story wing adjoining the main building.

The hospital plans call for two major operating rooms, one minor operating room, one completely equipped emergency operating room, two delivery rooms, complete kitchen facilities, dining rooms for the staff and employees, X-ray rooms, lounge, laboratories, nine rooms with four beds each, 25 rooms with two beds each, and 34 rooms with one bed each.

The detailed plans show the following things on the various floors:
Basement: kitchen, dining rooms, record rooms, heating system and storage rooms.

First floor: administration offices, emergency department with a complete operating room, X-ray rooms, laboratory, pharmacy, staff and nurses lounges, two rooms with four beds each, five rooms with two beds each and eight rooms with one bed each.

Second floor—28 beds—two major operating rooms, one minor operating room, cystoscopic room, two rooms with four beds each, two rooms with two beds each and ten rooms with one bed each.

Third floor—34 beds—two delivery rooms, one labor room, two nurseries, two rooms with four beds each, eight rooms with two beds each, and 10 rooms with one bed each.

Fourth floor—28 beds—two rooms with four beds each, seven rooms with two beds each and six rooms with one bed each.

In addition to these, the plans call for several baths on each floor, a visitors' room, pantry and nurses station on each and a lavatory in each room. There will be two large elevators, a complete stairway in the center of the building and another at one end of the building. The hospital is to be completely fire proof and air conditioned.

The architect has estimated, barring unforeseen difficulties, it will take approximately 18 months to complete the building after the construction work begins.

Tentative plans are to build a nurses home on the hospital grounds after the hospital is completed, and to institute a school of nursing in Pitt County since 1931, 17 years ago.

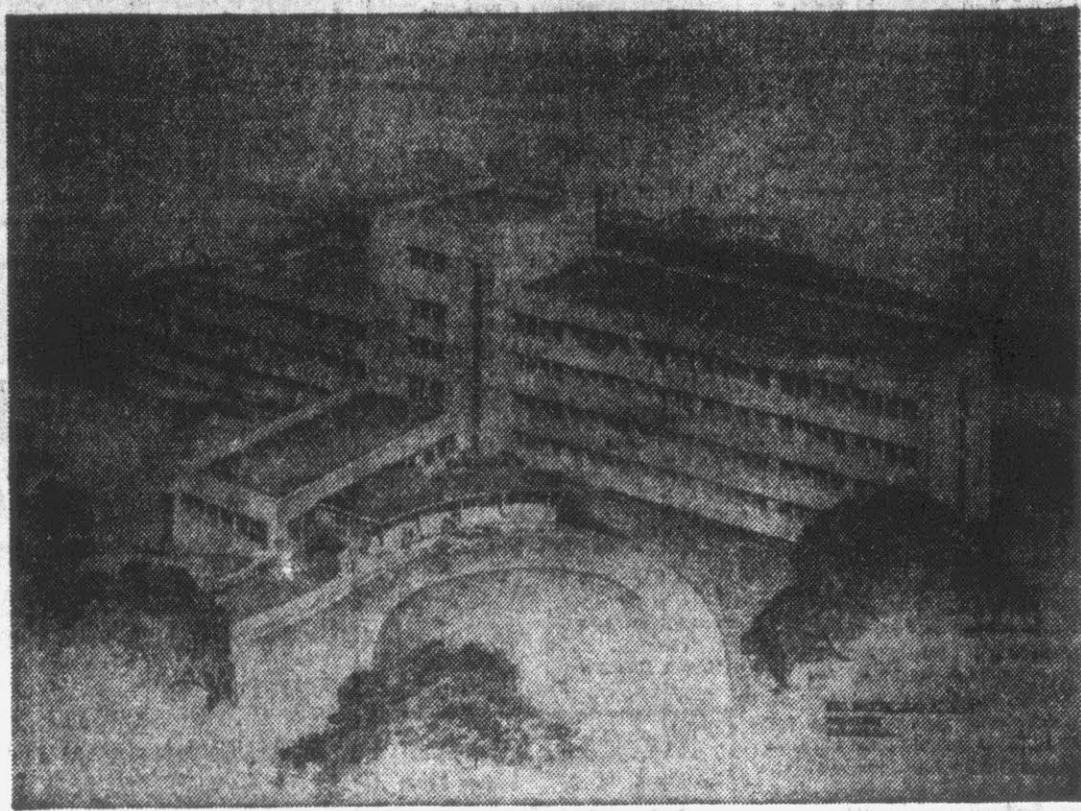

Early Movement

When the movement for a new community hospital was begun in Pitt County in 1946, leaders in the movement were advised by state officials to estimate that a hospital would cost approximately $5,000 per bed for a fully equipped, turn-key job. Since that time, however, with the high cost of construction, those estimates have been increased to $12,000 per bed, which is the basis on which estimates for the Pitt County hospital have been compiled. The proposed Pitt County community hospital will be located just west of Greenville on the Greenville-Fairland highway on 17½ acres of land which was given to the county as a hospital site by Joseph S. Moye, Mrs. Jesse R. Moye, Miss Jesse Roundtree Moye, Mrs. Emily Moye Hadley, and Mrs. Novella Moye Williams, all of Greenville.

The property has a frontage of 857 feet on the highway and extends 1,170 feet back from the highway. Plans call for adequate paved drives from the highway up to and around the hospital.

When a federal government hospital-aid bill was introduced in Congress in 1946, a delegation of Pitt County citizens met at East Carolina Teachers College and discussed measures for securing funds for a new hospital under the proposed federal program.

Architect's Drawing Of New Pitt Hospital

However, the bill was not passed by Congress and the matter of a new Pitt County hospital was practically abandoned.

In 1947, however, the Hill-Burton hospital aid bill was passed by Congress and provided for federal funds to be used to pay one-third of the expense of constructing and equipping non-profit hospitals, if the individual states would appropriate a similar amount for the same purpose. The federal agency allocated $3,500,000 to North Carolina to be used during 1947 and 1948, and the state legislature last year appropriated a like amount to be allocated to the counties on a per capita income basis. Under the provisions of the state appropriation, Pitt County will receive from North Carolina 37.5 per cent of the cost of the hospital.

During the summer of 1947 interest in a new hospital was again aroused in Pitt County, and the county commissioners passed a resolution to hold a bond election to raise the necessary funds for the hospital-aid program. Original plans called for a 140 bed, $900,000 hospital, but high costs made such a project impossible.

John G. Clark and C. Stuart Carr of Greenville headed the movement and during the months preceding the bond election, spoke to groups in all parts of the county pointing out the need for a new hospital in Pitt County and the advantage which could be obtained by taking part in the federal aid program. When the bond election was held on Sept. 19, 1947, the issue carried by 98 per cent.

Trustees Named
Shortly after the bond issue was passed, the county commissioners appointed as trustees for the proposed hospital, 15 citizens representing all sections of the county with C. Stuart Carr of Greenville as chairman of the board of trustees. Other members of the board of trustees are Thurman J. Williams of Grifton, vice chairman; Mack G. Smith of Bell Arthur, Mrs. Paul Davenport, Sr., of Pacolus, Woodrow Wooten, Sr., of Falkland, W. A. Allen of Farmville, Alton Gardner of the Ayden community, Swan C. Ives, of Bethel Wayland L. Hunsucker of Winterville, Joseph S. Moye, of Greenville, Jerome Perkins of Stokes, Clarence M. Smith of Fountain, Dr. E. B. Aycock of Greenville, Elmo Dupree of Belvoir, and L. C. Venters of the Grimesland community.

With the initial difficulties surmounted, the board of trustees engaged George Watts Carr, architect of Durham, who incidentally is no relation to C. Stuart Carr chairman of the board of trustees, to draw up plans for the proposed hospital while the trustees began looking into the matter of securing state and federal funds through the North Carolina Medical Care Commission, which handles the state and federal hospital funds in North Carolina.

Plans and work on the project moved along smoothly and last April the architect submitted the preliminary hospital plans to the board of trustees. At the time, the outlook was favorable for the county's obtaining funds from the state and federal allocations for the year 1948, so the architect was instructed to draw final plans for the hospital.

Soil Boring Test
The history of building in Pitt County shows that the unsteady soil in this area has a tendency to shift slowly and to cause cracking and deterioration of buildings which do not have proper foundations. For this reason the Raymond Concrete Pile company of New York City and Atlanta was employed by the trustees to make soil boring test on the land upon which the hospital is to be built. During the second week in October, borings were made at six places where the foundations of the hospital will rest when it is built, and it was found that it is necessary to go to an average depth between 45 and 50 feet in the earth to find solid rock. The findings indicate the soil is unsteady, and the architect has advised a piling foundation for the hospital to be sure the building is not cracked by shifting soil.

Trustees of the Pitt General Hospital, which is now operating in Greenville, have agreed to turn over to the new hospital all property and usable equipment of Pitt General hospital when the new hospital is opened.

Upon completion of the turn-key job, the new hospital will be ready for immediate use and will be turned over to the board of trustees to be operated in the best interest of the people of the county.

Kiwanians Hold Impressive Meet Friday Session

By CHESTER WALSH

The Kiwanians, at their weekly supper meeting last night, paid a farewell tribute to Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church the past five years, who goes to Wilson next week to become pastor of a church there. Rev. Leonard W. Topping, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, introduced the popular minister as the special guest of the club. He described Mr. Bradshaw as "a great cavalier of religion." When President Brooks suggested that the Kiwanians stand in respect to him, they were on their feet instinctively.

Mr. Bradshaw, when called on for the invocation, said in concluding: "May the blessing of human relationship and understanding and good fellowship glorify this and similar meetings."

When Eli Bloom, the man who, with Tige Gardner, stars of Kiwanis minstrels for underprivileged children, called on Judge Jimmy Rob-

Medical Society Names Officers

At the regular November meeting of the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society on Thursday evening the following officers were elected for 1948:

Dr. A. M. Munford, of Winterville, president; Dr. F. G. Harris, of Farmville, vice-president; Dr. Fred Irons, of Greenville, secretary-treasurer; Dr. F. B. Haar, of Greenville, delegate to the North Carolina Medical Society, and Dr. Grady Dixon, of Ayden, alternate delegate.

Drs. John M. Mewborne and Roderick Williams entertained the Society at the high school in Farmville. A delicious barbecued chicken dinner was served.

After dinner the meeting was called to order by President Haar. After a short business meeting a scientific program was held. The Society decided to join with the American Red Cross Society in sponsoring a Blood Donor Registry which would make available for emergency transfusions donors of varied suitable types.

Dr. Mewborne then gave a report summarizing the papers which were presented by eminent clinicians at the recently held Duke Symposium. He especially emphasized the papers dealing with heart failure treatment and the use of sulfonamide and antibiotic drugs, showing the diseases in which the individual drug was most effective.

Dr. Charles Fitzgerald then presented a most interesting case of a fracture-dislocation of the bones of the neck without any resulting paralysis.

erts to pay tribute to the memory of the late Dail Laughinghouse, the Kiwanians stood in silence for a minute.

Tige Gardner, vice-president-elect of the Kiwanis Club, presented the Andrus Sisters and their brother, Wash. They were Mrs. Glenn Scott, Mrs. Harvey Ward and Mrs. Vance Arnold. They were in black face. Mrs. Ward had her accordion, and their vocal, instrumental and comedy numbers elicited generous applause.

James Ray Pittman, talented vocalist who gives much of his time to community work, led a quartet composed of himself and Ralph, Cliff and Pat Sullivan, in several popular selections and they made a hit. Mrs. Ray Tyson played for the singing of Kiwanis songs. President Brooks recognized a number of special guests.

Strength FOR THE DAY

A BOOK OF PROMISES

People very often miss the fact that the Bible is a book of promises. The Bible is divided into two parts, the Old Testament and the New Testament. The word "testament" means "covenant" or "promise." So the Old Testament is the promise made to the Hebrew people, and the New Testament is the promise made to the world that through this Messiah, sinners may experience the forgiveness of sins and the power of a new life.

These are the great promises of the Bible. But there are hundreds of other promises scattered throughout the Bible. These are the promises of comfort in sorrow, of victory over temptation, of the eventual triumph of peace over human strife. The Bible bids us hope of better things. God is pictured as eager to give more than we are able to ask or to receive. Almost every chapter in the Bible has some great promise in it by which the heart of man may be comforted.

It is for this reason that believers through the ages have cherished the Bible. It is the most hopeful and optimistic of all appraisals of human life, although it is also unbelievably realistic. The fact that so many people whose minds are bewildered and whose hearts are heavy with sorrow should know so little about this Book which fairly bristles with promises of help, is a tragedy of the first magnitude.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

ASSISTANT—Capitol square folks are again giving thought to the long existing need for an executive assistant to the governor. The governor has several personal assistants for particular purposes. The director of purchases and contract and the assistant director of the budget, are essentially assistant governors. They each can do a lot in their own names in their respective fields of operation. The governor also has a private secretary in his office, but this secretary can accomplish little in his own name or right. He answers a good deal of mail, but it is in the governor's name. He has charge of notary public commissions, but this too is handled in the governor's name.

NEEDED—The executive office has long needed a person who would fit between the governor and the private secretary and who could process many of the routine matters, leaving the governor's time free for policy making and general administration of state affairs. It is unfortunately true that the governor cannot keep as closely in touch with state departments as he should, simply for lack of time. State business has grown so much during the past few years it is essential for the governor to hold frequent conferences with heads of departments and institutions. Demand increases every year for the governor to travel about the state, and there should be a man in the office with authority to act upon many matters which now must await the chief's return.

PRECEDENT—There is precedent for the idea of an assistant governor. The departments of agriculture, insurance and revenue have assistant commissioners. Several others have persons with different titles performing the functions of authoritative organization act provided an administrative assistant for each senator. The need would seem to be as great in the governor's office.

FAVORED—Governor-elect Kerr Scott is known to have discussed the proposal with some of his advisers. He is believed to favor it, as one of his first acts when he became commissioner of agriculture was to establish the post of assistant to which he delegated a lot of the routine work formerly handled by the commissioner in person. Governor Cherry is believed to think kindly of the plan. In fact, it was discussed a good bit four years ago at beginning of his administration. It will occasion no surprise now if he recommends giving his successor a real assistant.

REQUIREMENTS—The governor can add another secretary or two to his office staff without legislation, but it would require enactment of a law to give the assistant governor—by whatever name called—the authority contemplated in the idea. There is belief the general assembly would go along with executive recommendation on this point. Some adjustment in the capital building set-up would be necessary.

They Worried—About The Wrong Things

REO-MANNING

Suggestion here is that the court and appointment record division be housed in some other building, making available the office now used for that work as quarters for the assistant. Court and appointment records have expanded to the point the small office is too crowded for efficiency at present, but it would suffice for the other purpose.

Boyle's Column

By EAL BOYLE

New York.—(P)—Our menu for today is two short stories. The friends who told them to me thought the stories were new and true. But a thing can be new and true to one person and old and false to another. How else can you explain love, hamburger and Santa Claus?

Personally, I have never heard the first story before. And it may be true. The second story—in one variation or another—has probably been told since the Greeks camped outside Troy.

But a restaurant can't change its whole bill of fare every day, and with that cautious preamble, let us go on to the stories.

A beautiful lady went into a fashionable Fifth Avenue store to buy a new dress. There was a strangeness in her manner that caught the salesgirl's interest.

It was the lady's fixity of purpose. She seemed to know exactly what she wanted. When she had selected a dress, she went into another room to have it fitted.

"I want the sleeves here," she said, pointing to her arm. "And I want the skirt to fall exactly here." And she indicated the length.

The fitter looked up and objected politely: "That isn't the way they are wearing them this year. It's out of fashion."

"I know," said the lady. "But I am going to San Francisco to meet my husband. He's been with the army overseas. Now he's coming home. And when I meet him I want to be dressed just as I was when I told him goodbye."

"Where has your husband been?" Asked the fitter, pleasantly. "Guadalcanal," replied the lady. "All this time in Guadalcanal?" Said the fitter.

The locale of the other tale is Berlin.

A German family had been receiving gift packages from relatives in America to supplement their diet of potatoes, more potatoes—and still more potatoes.

In one box came a small package containing a mysterious powdery substance. There were no directions on the package on how to cook it, and the hausfrau was stumped.

"How shall I prepare it?" she asked. The family went into a huddle over the problem. It was an exciting problem—anything having to do with food is exciting in Germany.

Each member in turn examined the package.

"Perhaps," said the hausfrau doubtfully, "I should wait until I can write back and find out how it should be used."

This proposal was voted down immediately as a waste of time. "The Americans eat so much dehydrated food," grumbled the husband. "It must be soup flavoring. Yes, that is it. Put it in the soup."

So into the soup it went. The family couldn't see that it added anything to the flavor, but they agreed it certainly was filling.

Two weeks later a letter from America arrived. It bore postmarks indicating it had been delayed en route.

The hausfrau—wives are well-trained in Germany—immediately brought the letter to her husband to open.

The letter said: "It is with much sadness we inform you that dear Uncle Fritz has passed away. Because of his long desire to return again to the fatherland, we had him cremated. 'We are sending his ashes in the next parcel.'"

Washington—After a seven-year lapse, construction has begun again on the great $110,000,000 Washington Cathedral. The beautiful gothic structure—sixth largest cathedral in the world—was begun in 1907, is now two-fifths finished.

The cornerstone, which was brought to Washington from a field adjoining the Church of the Holy Nativity in Bethlehem, was laid in the presence of President Theodore Roosevelt, the Bishop of London and Liberia, the Archbishop of the West Indies and scores of other dignitaries.

Builders are now working on the South of Patriots' Transept, which includes the cathedral's famed War Memorial Chapel. This chapel upon completion will house the roll of all men and women, dead and living, who served in any of this nation's wars.

Recesses in an arched stone screen that forms the east wall of the transept will be the repository for the Books of Remembrance, for which the names and war records are being sought from the next of kin, surviving comrades and veterans' organizations. More than 15,000 names are already entered in the books and thousands more are being assembled alphabetically for inclusion. No fee is required to record a name. The names of all men and women, regardless of creed, race or color, are invited.

Lying in burial vaults in the Cathedral proper are the bodies of President Woodrow Wilson, the first president of the United States to be entombed in the capital of the nation, and Admiral Dewey, moved from Arlington National Cemetery at the request of Mrs. Dewey in 1926. Others buried there include Henry White, former U. S. Ambassador to France; the Rt. Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, first Bishop of Washington; Melville Stone, a founder of the Associated Press and Mabel Boardman, secretary of the American Red Cross.

The Cathedral will be lighted by nearly 300 stained glass windows. In 1937 a Fine Arts Committee of the Cathedral adopted a "stained glass policy" which has guided its artists and architects. Also, following a precedent of the Middle Ages, the cathedral established in 1928 its own stained glass studio at Huntington Pa., under the direction of Lawrence B. Saint, a leading authority in this field of Christian art. In 1960 this department of stained glass was discontinued. The studio was given to Mr. Saint, and stained glass commissions have been awarded since that time to other leading artists.

Washington Cathedral, a Protestant Episcopal project, will rank as the sixth largest cathedral in the world, and the second largest in this country.

Roanoke Rapids Wins 12-0 Over Greenville Phantoms

'Little' Bland Stars On Offensive For Locals; G-Men Drive In Final Quarter Stopped On Seven-Yard Line

By TOMMIE LUFFTON
Roanoke Rapids' Yellow Jackets defeated Coach Bo Farley's Green Phantoms 12-0 last night at Guy Smith Stadium under a steady drizzle in a Northeastern Conference tilt.

The two grid teams played on even terms during the first period exchanging punts. Tailback Cox got off several long punts, one a high spiral going 66 yards. The G-men got one first down to the Jackets' none.

Bland picked up a first down early in the second period, but after a 15-yard penalty, Cox kicked. Several plays later, Stewart raced 72 yards to pay dirt. The try for the extra point was no good; 4-0 was the score.

Roanoke Rapids kicked to the Phantoms. Parley took the kick, carried to about the 38. The G-men made three first downs the remainder of the half with "Little" Bland making two on line plunges and one was on a penalty.

Starting the second half the Yellow Jackets kicked to Parley. Phantom blocking back who returned it 20 yards. After not picking up a first down Cox kicked. Roanoke Rapids made three consecutive first downs which carried the ball to the Phantom 5. From that point Mathews plunged the line for a TD. The extra point attempt was no good. The score stood 12-0.

The Yellow Jackets kicked to Cox who returned it to the 35. Several plays later, Morgan galloped 30 yards and was finally tackled from behind. A Greenville fumble was then recovered by the Jackets.

The only scoring threat that the Green Phantoms made was in the final quarter when the G-men got to the Roanoke Rapids 7 by means of a blocked kick and two first downs. The Jacket line held the G-men and they took over on their 7, but shortly afterwards the game ended with the Yellow Jackets winning over the Green Phantoms 12-0.

"Little" Bland, Phantom fullback, played a bang-up offensive game for the Phantoms. Bland made over half the Phantoms' first downs and broke into the clear several times and looked as if he would go all the way, but on the wet grounds running was difficult for both teams.

Gavilan Looking To Title Bout With Robinson
New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—Kid Gavilan, flashy Cuban contender, will leave for Havana in a day or two with the hope that upon his return in January it will be to meet welterweight champion Ray Robinson in a title bout.

Gavilan, who won a decisive, unanimous 10-round decision over tough Tony Pelonne of New York in Madison Square Garden last night, is very anxious to meet the Sugar Man for the 147 pound crown.

The Cuban kid lost a non-title fight to Robinson in Yankee Stadium last September. Robinson weighed 150 for that scrap, and Gavilan's handlers—as well as the kid himself—believe the Cuban can lift the title at the division weight.

Annual Sale Of Racing Stock Is Record-Breaker
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 13—(AP)—The annual sale of trotters and pacers here passed all records for standard bred auctions when 673 yearlings and older horses were knocked down for $1,024,550.

The total for the auction, which closed yesterday, surpassed the previous all-time high of 1947 by $19,450. The average per head also was boosted from last year's $1,509 to $1,522. In 1947, 664 head passed under the auctioneer's hammer.

The highest price of the final day was $10,000 paid for Rollo, second in the Hambletonian last August. The three-year old trotter went to Trainer-Driver Tom Berry of Lexington, Ky.

Duke Yearlings Edged By State
Durham, Nov. 13—(AP)—North Carolina State's freshmen came from behind to snatch a 14-13 victory over Duke's football yeards here yesterday.

It was the Baby Wolfpack's first triumph of the year. The Blue Imps grabbed an early 6-0 lead but State rumped back for two tallies in the second quarter, making good both conversions for the final margin of victory.

Duke's second score came in the final quarter. Pete Marone, brother of the pro Philadelphia Eagles' guard, Duke is one of the top prospects on the Villanova college freshman team. He is a 220-pound tackle.

When the officials of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis decided to return to the policy of hiring a civilian coach for their football team after 15 years under former Midshipmen stars, it wasn't as radical as it seems.

For the most part, Navy football teams have been coached by civilians. As far back as 1891, the Midshipmen had their first contact with an outside football coach when E. A. Poe, President's first All-American, tutored Navy for a single day. Starting in 1892, Navy was coached by a succession of former football greats from Yale, Lehigh, Princeton and Johns Hopkins. Lt. Cdr. J. M. Reeves, a naval academy graduate, took over the coaching chores in 1907 and for the next ten years Navy men tutored the Midshipmen. In 1917, Gloomy Gil Doble was imported from Minnesota for a three-year tenure and then Bob Folwell of Pennsylvania took over for five years. Another Yale man, J. E. Owens, took over for the 1925 season.

Bill Ingram returned to the Naval Academy as coach then and, except for the three-year regime of Notre Dame's Rip Miller, the chore of coaching the Midshipmen was in the hands of a Navy man until this spring. Then George Seuer, a former Nebraska ace who was enjoying great success coaching Kansas, was brought in to restore Navy to its old high place on the gridiron.

"The great opportunity" which Coach Seuer referred to when he took the Navy post must have been the schedule lined up for the Midshipmen—California, Cornell, Duke, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Michigan, Columbia and Army. A fine season's work for anyone!

Return To Hialeah
Miami—(AP)—Greentree Stable and Trainer Hirsch Jacobs were missing from Hialeah racing last season, but they'll be back this winter. Hialeah Secretary Sam H. McCormick reports. Greentree is owned by John Hay Whitney and Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson.

Ontario Tops
New York—(AP)—Of the 99 players in the National Hockey League this season, 91 were born in Canada. Thirty-four of them were born in the province of Ontario, 20 in Saskatchewan, 19 in Manitoba, 13 in Quebec and six in Alberta.

Everett Case To Preview Quints
Raleigh, Nov. 13—Coach Everett Case will preview his 1948-49 North Carolina State Wolfpack basketball team, Southern Conference champs for the past two years, at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 17 in an exhibition twin bill against the Cherry Point Marines.

Both freshmen and varsity quints are scheduled to see action in the exhibition scrap, which will also include a rules clinic to be conducted by Coach Case. While both contests will be over the regulation distance, no official score will be kept and the games will be billed strictly as an exhibition contests.

The ECOTC Pirates are hosts to High Point tonight at Wilmington. I was up this week to see how High Point looked. To me they didn't look so good. A good quarterback could march his men straight down the field on off tackle plays. Their line is weak, but their passing is almost up to par. They don't throw long passes, they throw short ones which are very accurate.

The game is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington and a large crowd is expected to witness the contest. High Point doesn't look so good, but they look good enough to take the Pirates by at least two touchdowns.

The Mountaineers from Appalachian arrived yesterday afternoon for their game with the A.C. Bulldogs tonight in Rocky Mount. The Bulldogs, who yield one of the best lines in the conference, will be trying for an upset. Appalachian, who are undefeated at this time, are favored by 34 points, but a much better game is expected. Bob Spangler, head coach at A.C., thinks that his boys might upset the Mountaineers. He said, and I quote, "My boys have improved after each game. Right now they are in top notch shape, and I'm sure we will give them a game." Appalachian by three touchdowns.

Clinton High School defeated Ayden yesterday in a game that seemed back and forth the entire game. It was a thriller, and one of the hardest fought games I've seen in a long time. Two passes which were good for 70 yards, in the last minute, clinched the game for Clinton. In the last 30 seconds Ayden took to the air, but Clinton's defense just wasn't to be broken up. The players from Clinton were weeping for joy as they walked off the field with an 18 to 13 victory.

Coaches Jack Boone and Jim Johnson journeyed to Fayetteville last night to see Coach Dole's squad take a 24 to 0 victory over Wilmington and to win the Class AA championship. Boone, accompanied by Johnson, went up to see if they could find material they did find into coming to ECOTC. The outcome of the trip is not known at this time, but I'm sure they had to take second choice because Carolina, Wake Forest, Duke and Georgia Tech have already scouted both elevens. I'm almost sure that these schools have more to offer.

Victory Is Not Impossible Says Pirates' Mentor

An inspired East Carolina Teachers College football team was chanting its victory cry last night as 37 team members prepared to leave for Wilmington where they tangle with High Point college in what promises to be one of the most thrilling North State conference football contests of the year.

In an on-the-field squad meeting yesterday afternoon, the Pirates of ECOTC, 21 point underdogs in the contest and losers in the past six contests, made up their minds to fight High Point to the finish.

"We're crippled up and patched up and High Point is highly favored," Coach Jim Johnson pointed out but declared that "a team really wants to win, statistics don't mean too much."

High Point has annexed three conference wins this season. Their line is reportedly almost impregnable and their offense good. They will outweight the local aggregation considerably. Against this ECOTC will match determination a diversity of attack.

Coach Johnson would make no predictions on the outcome of the game. "It's up to the boys," he said. "If they want to win it certainly isn't an impossibility."

The Pirates will close out their football season here next Friday night when they meet the Atlantic Christian college Bulldogs in the annual Bohum Bucket classic.

Detroit Releases Coaching Staff

Detroit, Nov. 13—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers swept the welcome mat clean for a new manager today by announcing release of the entire coaching staff that worked under Steve O'Neill with the fifth place team of 1948.

General Manager Billy Evans said he had written both Art Mills and Roger (Doc) Cramer advising them of their release. Bill Sweeney, third 1948 Detroit coach under O'Neill, signed on as manager of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League last month.

"It is customary for new managers to select their own coaches," Evans said. "Therefore the Tigers are releasing Mills and Cramer to clear the decks for O'Neill's successor to bring in his complete coaching staff."

Evans said Mills had written requesting his release in order that he might be free to deal for another baseball position. Mills came here in 1944 and was one of O'Neill's aides for five or six seasons. Steve piloted the Tigers.

Cramer, fielding star of Detroit's wartime teams and centerfielder on a 1945 Tiger pennant winner which beat the Chicago Cubs in the World Series, went on the inactive player list last spring, when he became a coach.

Beats Record In Pimlico Racing

Baltimore, Nov. 13—(AP)—Cracking the world record for two and a half miles, Miss Grillo yesterday captured the Pimlico Cup, wind-up feature of the track's 13-day meeting.

With Conn McCreary in the saddle the Mill River Stable six-year-old mare galloped home in 4:14 3-5 to lead the field by a length and a half. Her performance chopped two full seconds off the mark set by Golden Myth at Ascot, England, in 1922.

It was the second straight Pimlico Cup victory for Miss Grillo, who was coupled with Bois Joli in the betting and paid $5.40 for $2. Megogo's time of 4:20 1-5 was the previous best for the distance over the Pimlico strip.

Two other track marks fell during the day when Royal Governor carried the colors of Mrs. E. DuPont Weir to victory in the fifth race and Brookmeade Stables' Chains won the seventh event.

Ayden Loses To Clinton Eleven By 18-13 Score

Ayden, Nov. 13—Clinton High School's grid squad came back in the last minute of play here yesterday afternoon to defeat the Ayden eleven, 18-13, when Brock, for Clinton, took a 45-yard pass for the final touchdown.

Ayden took the lead in the game when Teddy Bullock went over from the 1 in the first quarter after running 45 yards to the 1-yard marker. Ayden's second tally came when Bullock tossed a 38-yard pass to Billy Jenkins.

Morgan was the big gun for Clinton in its victory. He dashed 67 yards to the Ayden 3 and then scored on the next play. He scored the second touchdown at the end of a 53-yard march. Brock scored the final touchdown, taking a 45-yard pass and going over.

Aircraft Carrier For 'Kitty Hawk'

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—The "Kitty Hawk" will be carried on the last leg of its trip from England by the carrier Palau, the Navy announced last night.

Originally scheduled to arrive in New York yesterday aboard the liner Mauretania, the plane was sidetracked to Halifax when the British ship put in there to avoid the dock workers' strike along the United States east coast.

The Palau will leave the Nova Scotian port on November 17. On its arrival in New York, the "Kitty Hawk" will be loaded aboard Navy transports and transported here to take the top honor position in the Smithsonian Institution.

Hospital authorities said his condition was "not critical"—the hunter's, that is.

Folsom Declines Verbal Bouquets For Party Work

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 13—(AP)—A National Democratic party leader said yesterday that Gov. James E. Folsom is "top man" in Alabama politics, but the governor declined the verbal bouquet.

"There isn't any boss," Folsom said. "The party in Alabama is a team. Every Democrat is on the team."

Stephen H. Harrington, national secretary of the Truman-Barkley clubs, said "He (Folsom) is the only governor in the United States who flatly predicted a Democratic victory in the presidential race and majorities in both Houses of Congress."

Harrington was quoted earlier as saying Folsom is number one man in the Democratic party in Alabama as far as President Truman is concerned.

But what if there are two men on a committee, who started on it the same day, maybe 10 or 15 years ago, and have been serving on it since?

Then, won't the one with the better ability be elected chairman?

No. The seniority system is rigid on that. If Andy Adams and Billy Bell were the two men, Andy Adams would become chairman.

Why? Because, even though they had both started on the committee 15 years ago — and even though Adams may have paid little attention to the committee — his name alphabetically is ahead of Bell's. So Adams gets the job.

Then apart from moral and religious issues, there is an awful finality to execution which precludes correction of mistake in conviction.

Appropos of corrections, a couple of months ago the life sentence of Ise Koch "queen" of the frightful Burenwald concentration camp, was commuted to four years. General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, said reduction of her sentence had been recommended by reviewing officers on the grounds "it had never been proved that Frau Koch selected prisoners for execution or had in her possession articles made of human skin." This commutation created a heated controversy, but it illustrates our point.

New York City is no place to make a forecast on the labor situation. Very few people here are willing to take a broad-minded impartial view. My own feeling is that the New Truman Administration will try not to rock the boat one way or the other. It may ask for some correlation between increased wages and increased production. I know that Mr. Truman personally is interested in the "annual wage" idea, emphasizing the importance of "security" to the wage-worker rather than "take home pay." However, the Taft-Hartley act will be repealed or amended.

European Outlook Improving

Frankly, the election of last week here in the United States was much like the surprise election in England two years ago when the Labor Party there came into power. I doubt how long Mr. Marshall will continue as Secretary of State. General Marshall is a fine man, but he has never had previous experience negotiating. He has always been in a position where he could give orders and expect to have them obeyed. There will be other important cabinet changes.

The group that I worry about under the new Administration is the small businessman. With all the
