Ray Of Hope For Ending Pacific Coast Walkouts

No Progress Reported Toward Ending East Coast Shipping Tie-Up

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
There appeared some hope today of early settlement of the 11 weeks old West coast shipping strike but no progress was reported toward ending the walkout of 65,000 East coast AFL dock workers.

Effects of the shipping tieup in ports from Maine to Virginia were being felt in many segments of industry and business. Estimates of losses ran into many millions of dollars since the AFL International Longshoremen's Association walked out eight days ago in a dispute over wages. Thousands of railroad, tugboat and trucking workers have been made idle.

The port of Halifax was reopened and the 2,000 longshoremen resumed handling all goods arriving including those consigned to United States ports. Earlier the Halifax Longshoremen's Association said it would seal off Halifax from any more ships diverted because of the strike.

In San Francisco, negotiators in the Pacific coast shipping tieup reported "progress is being made." The waterfront Employers Association and the CIO Longshoremen's Union reached a tentative agreement on the issue of hiring halls. The hiring halls will stay under union control.

Other issues up for discussion include wages, vacations with pay and grievance machinery. The 28,000 workers are seeking a 15 cent an hour pay raise in the present wage scale of $1.67, or 15 cents, retroactive to June 15, when their contract expired.

The American Federation of Labor, in convention in Cincinnati today had for consideration a proposal to raise $750,000 to be used in the fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. The committee directing policy for "labor's league for political education" suggested to the 600 delegates to the AFL's convention that they finance an educational program with an assessment of 10 cents a member. The AFL membership on Aug. 31 was 1,220,000.

Solons Arrive In Germany To See Army Situation

Heidelberg, Germany, Nov. 17—(AP)—Seven American congressmen, including some members of the armed services committee, arrived today at this headquarters city of the American ground forces on Europe.

They were scheduled to discuss the military situation with Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, ground forces commander and wartime leader of the First Division.

Tomorrow they will drive to Wiesbaden, headquarters of the United States Air Forces in Europe, for a conference with Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, Air Force commander, and to inspect air facilities, including the airfield.

Later tomorrow they will fly the airfield corridor to Berlin.

Rains Quenched Big Forest Fire

Fayetteville, N. C. Nov. 17—(AP)—A forest fire was virtually extinguished this morning after burning almost 10,000 acres of timberland in the northwest side of the Ft. Bragg reservation.

For a while the flames had threatened the small town of Vass in Moore County.

Early morning rains quenched the flames and left the 16 square miles of blackjack pine and scrub oak smoldering.

The Truman Promises

Will The President Be Able To Carry Out His Campaign Promises? Nobody Knows; Some Obstacles; Republican Attitude; No Emergencies Now

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—People outside Washington must be asking themselves this question: "Now that President Truman has been elected to a full term and his Democrats are in control of Congress, will he be able to carry out what he promised?"

I think the honest answer is: nobody knows.

True, Mr. Truman's Democrats outnumber the Republicans in both Houses of Congress. They have a clear majority in both places.

And for that reason, it would seem, the Democrats can push through anything they wish.

But it's not as simple as that. And that's the hitch. This story will try to explain why.

In the first place, this is not a time of emergency, such as we had in the depths of the depression in 1933.

At that time, when President Roosevelt came into office and his Democrats had control of Congress, the country was bewildered and desperate.

It was willing to try almost anything that could start the wheels turning.

Congress was in the same helpless mood. It gave Mr. Roosevelt a blank check and rushed through one thing after another that he asked.

It's different now. The country is enormously prosperous, with almost everyone working although not everyone is making good pay.

Because there isn't the same sense of emergency as in 1933, a lot of Democrats and Republicans probably will feel there's no need to rush through what Mr. Truman wants, or all he wants, or in the way he wants it.

It may seem like a time of emergency for many people: old people unable to live on the social security payments they're getting now; Southern Negroes who think they ought to have more civil rights now; school teachers who wish for federal help to raise their salaries.

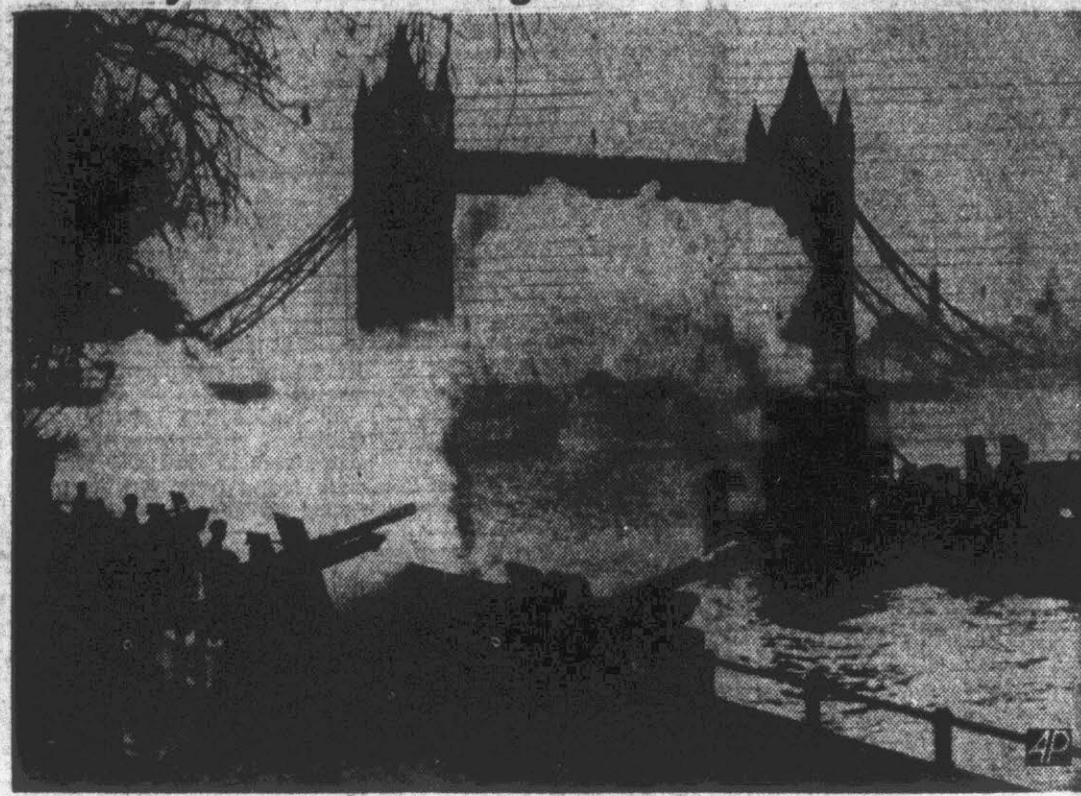

The first question about the new Congress of 1949 is: How will the Republicans act on the things Mr. Truman wants done?

They seem to have three courses open to them:

1. To accept the big Republican

Chinese Gov't Presses Claim That Reds Suffered Big Defeat

Sees Wage Hike As 'Inevitable'

Henry Ford Says Workers Sure To Get 'Fourth Round'

Philadelphia, Nov. 17—(AP)—Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Company, said today a fourth round of wage increases "is inevitable."

"Workers are going to get another pay boost," Ford told a news conference. "I don't think anything can prevent it."

Ford came here today to inspect the firm's policy committee to inspect the Ford assembly plant at nearby Chester, Pa.

The 31-year-old executive, commenting on the probable wage increase, said flatly:

"Prices can't go anywhere but up. If wages go up and materials go up, prices too must go up. There is no place else for them to go."

"No," Ford insisted. "Price control would wreck the nation—the auto industry included—and ruin the economy."

"It is ridiculous to think that any person sitting in Washington can tell a company how much to charge for its product."

"You must have profits. That is the most important thing in the country today."

"You must have profits to pay stockholders and keep business modernized."

Ford declared price control would "turn the nation's progress backward," adding:

"It is a trend toward Socialism. And such a system would be deplorable for the United States."

Hollywood Touch For Inauguration

Hollywood, Nov. 17—(AP)—There will be a touch of Hollywood glamor at President Truman's inauguration.

Actor Melvyn Douglas says that at request of Washington officials he's heading a committee to organize a sizeable movieland delegation to the ceremonies in the capital Jan. 20.

It will include an industry car-station, he said, from big name stars to labor leaders. Douglas' wife is Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif.), who also was reelected Nov. 2.

Top Mediator Is Put To Work On Shipping Strike

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—The government sent one of its top mediators to New York today to try to end the crippling East Coast dock strike.

William M. Margolis, assistant to director Cyrus S. Ching of the federal mediation service, left by plane for conference with Union and management leaders.

Margolis' immediate objective was understood to be to get both sides together seeking a strike-ending solution. There have been no union-management peace talks since the walkout began more than a week ago.

Other mediation service conciliators have been working for months on the dispute between the AFL International Longshoremen's Association and Atlantic Coast Stevedoring firms.

CARE Center Is Hit By Walkout

National center for packaging and shipping CARE food parcels to Europe was shut down today by the East Coast Longshoremen's strike.

Longshoremen pickets who prevented trucks from delivering supplies compelled the shutdown, said Joseph N. Weaver, care representative here.

Weaver said there are a large enough stockpiles of Care packages in European warehouses to deliver orders to European recipients for approximately two months to come.

Replacements In New Cabinet Are Turman's Worries

Associates Say President In No Hurry To Change Team; Wants Only Best

Key West, Fla. Nov. 17—(AP)—President Truman's delay in the reorganization of his Administration was attributed by close associates today to concern about picking replacements for those who are to go.

These sources, unquoteable by name, said the President is in no hurry to shake up his cabinet until he completes selection of a team to carry on during the next four years.

As he told a news conference here yesterday, everybody has been shuffling the cabinet around but the President, Mr. Truman added that he would act at the proper time.

His major problem will be to pick a new secretary of defense to replace James V. Forrestal and a man to succeed Robert E. Lovett when the latter steps out as under-secretary of state.

No decision has been made in either case.

Mr. Truman, these close advisers said, will try to persuade Secretary of State Marshall to remain on the job when the latter meets with him at the White House Monday for a full-scale review of the delicate international situation.

The President said yesterday that he would like to see the Army and Navy departments merged into one, but that only a sense of patriotic duty has kept him in the cabinet. They have had, he said, a perfect understanding at all times.

Meanwhile, the Chief Executive left up to General Marshall a formal reply to a suggestion by Secretary General Lee of the United Nations and President Evatt of the UN General Assembly that he and the heads of the four nations negotiate an end to the Berlin blockade independently of the United Nations.

The President, however, said flatly that the United States will not participate in any peace talks of that nature until Soviet Russia lifts its blockade of the German capital.

Mr. Truman is flying back to Washington Sunday to bring an end to his two weeks post-campaign vacation at the naval submarine base here.

Representative Sam Rayburn, slated to be Speaker of the House again when Congress meets in January, will join him here Thursday. Other members of the Democratic high command already have conferred with the Chief Executive at his quarters in the commandant's house.

Talmadge Sworn In As Governor

Takes Oath As Youngest State Executive In The Nation

Atlanta, Nov. 17—(AP)—Herman Talmadge, one-time farm boy, became the 53rd governor of Georgia today in a ceremony blending country-style simplicity with official pomp.

Cannon boomed a salute, two bands played, and followers whooped and yelled after Talmadge took the oath as the youngest state executive in the nation.

The 39-year-old "white supremacy" champion inherited the reins of political power his father dropped two years ago. The late Eugene Talmadge died before he could assume his fourth term as governor in 1947.

The State Legislature in an historic session attempted to seat Herman in the vacancy. Lieutenant Governor M. E. Thompson also claimed the governor's toga. For 67 days the state had two governors until the Georgia Supreme Court ruled for Thompson.

The same legislature which failed to install Herman in 1947 sat today on the capitol lawn cheering his ascension to power—for keeps this time. Young Talmadge, a lawyer, farmer and veteran of Pacific combat as a naval officer, best Thompson badly in last summer's Democratic primary.

Goes To Court Over Beatings

Detroit, Nov. 17—(AP)—A boy's story of mistreatment divided soon against father today in a court case.

Declaring "I'm getting big now" and "I can stand it any more," Carl Russo, 13, went to police to tell of being chained to his bed and beaten.

Tell Auto Industry 'Clean House' Or Federal Action

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—The congressional committee probing auto sales profits today gave the motor industry the choice of "cleaning its own house" or facing possible federal controls.

At the same time, the committee turned over to the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Bureau the official record of two days of hearings marked by testimony about "tips" to salesmen for quick car deliveries.

Chairman Macey (R-N.Y.), head of the special House group which ended its hearings yesterday, said that disclosures so far cover "only a few of the methods" some dealers have used "to obtain exorbitant profits."

Macey indicated to newsmen that before the committee decides whether to resume its inquiry on a nationwide basis—it has been confined to Washington to date—members will wait to see what the auto industry intends to do about "the greed and avarice of a few dealers."

Macey said it will be up to the Justice Department to determine whether there have been any law violations in selling cars with side money agreements or in requiring purchasers to take unwanted accessories.

And the Internal Revenue Bureau, the lawmaker added, can decide whether taxes have been paid on the tips and bonuses received but, according to committee evidence, not recorded on sales slips.

Claims Housewives Can Expect Drop In Food Cost

Philadelphia, Nov. 17—(AP)—Mrs. Housewife can count on a drop in food prices, but she shouldn't expect the cost of living to go down.

A man who ought to know, Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the food price fall will be balanced by increases in items in heavy demand.

Among these he listed rents, steel automobiles and Marshall Plan exports.

Clague spoke yesterday at a conference arranged by the Industrial Council of the Chamber of Commerce.

"At present," he told 250 business executives, "our consumer prices have reached a peak and farm prices are, if anything, coming down."

"At the same time," Clague added, "there is a tremendous upward pressure starting in commodities where there still exists a heavy postwar demand."

Clague figured that "the general economic outlook appears very favorable," adding that industrial employment is at an all-time high with 46,000,000 holding jobs, a gain of 3,000,000 since the end of the war.

He warned, however, that shortages in the supply of skilled labor "will very likely occur on a greater scale than has been true since the war years, and many employers in some areas will find themselves badly pinched for labor."

Western Powers Reaffirm Decision On German Issues

U. S. May Issue Endorsement Of Chiang Kai-Shek

Generalissimo Asks For Policy Statement; May Await Top Level Talks

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—Diplomatic authorities speculated today that the American government soon may issue a pronouncement designed to boost the morale of China's anti-Communist forces.

President Truman and the State Department have before them a plea from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek for a policy declaration reaffirming support of Chiang's Nationalist government.

Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett scheduled a news conference for today but it was uncertain beforehand whether he would discuss this aspect of the China situation.

Most informed officials considered it more likely that any board policy declaration would have to await the review of international affairs with Mr. Truman and Secretary of State Marshall next Monday.

They also are expected to come to grips with the major issue of how far the United States can and should go in backing up its China policies with dollars, arms and civilian goods.

Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo told a reporter last yesterday that he had transmitted to the State department Chiang's desire for an American policy statement.

What is wanted, Koo said, is an expression of "sympathy, solidarity and support" to help raise the morale of nationalist China, which in recent weeks has suffered grave defeats at the hands of the Communists.

Koo said his government is a loss to know what United States policy really is. Thus there was some tendency among officials here to regard Koo's comments as implying a belief that the United States is not now following a policy friendly to the Nationalist government.

Authorities concerned over this point declared that any such declaration is unjustified, since the United States actually is spending $400,000,000 for military and civilian aid to Nationalist China.

President Truman has issued two major statements on China policy during his administration—one in December, 1946, and another a year later. In substance, he declared his support for the anti-Communist regime in China, although he was critical of certain shortcomings.

Non-Communist Oaths Backed By NMU Referendum

New York, Nov. 17—(AP)—A majority of the members of the CIO National Maritime Union want their union officers to sign non-Communist oaths under provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

In a nationwide referendum, results of which were disclosed yesterday, the membership voted 13,039 to 4,120 in favor of the filing of the oaths.

Neal Hanley, union secretary-treasurer, said officers will sign the affidavits as soon as Joseph Curran, NMU president, returns.

The NMU leadership had strongly opposed filing the oaths as a condition for recognition by the National Labor Relations Board.

Lane To Summon Dixie Governors

Brunswick, Ga., Nov. 17—(AP)—Gov. Preston Lane of Maryland plans to call a meeting of the southern governors conference Dec. 12 to give further consideration to the regional educational program.

Lane said yesterday the conference will meet either at Savannah or on Sea Island, near Brunswick, Ga. The purpose, he said, is to bring the governors' appeal for federal education up to date and to draft a complete program for consideration by state legislatures.

More Americans Book Passage

Shanghai, Nov. 17—(AP)—Many Americans who had disregarded previous warnings to get out of China began trying to book air and sea passage today.

Northwest Airlines said 75 new applicants appeared at its office in the two hours after Consul General John Cabot issued his second emergency warning yesterday to Americans to get out while they could.

Publicity Cost Him Needed Job

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 17—(AP)—Raymond Goff, 3-year-old bridegroom who was married last Saturday to a 14-year-old school mate, found himself without a job today.

Goff said the railroad company which employed him as a $46-a-week laborer discharged him because of his age when publicity about the wedding revealed him to be only 16. He said he had given the company his age as 17.

AFL Votes Pay Raise For Heads

Convention Also Restores Vice-Presidencies

Cincinnati, Nov. 17—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor convention today voted $5,000 a year pay increase to President William Green and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany.

The new salaries of the top officers will be $25,000 and $22,000, respectively.

The convention also restored the 13 vice-presidencies which it wiped out a year ago in a fight over the officer status of John L. Lewis.

The Mine leader, who withdrew from the AFL as the result of the controversy, had refused to sign non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley Act, making nearly 300,000 AFL members ineligible to use the NLRB machinery.

That many workers are under direct supervision of the AFL officers.

Lewis was a vice-president when the act was passed, and the convention eliminated all vice-presidents in taking away his title.

Lewis was given a $50,000 yearly salary as UMW president at the miners' convention here a month ago. His pay was doubled. Green will now receive the same amount as CIO president Philip Murray.

CIO leader was voted a $5,000 increase by his steel workers' union earlier this year.

Stalemate, And Why

Attempt By UN Officials To Bring East And West Together Was Foredoomed; Neither Side Will Give Ground; State Of War; Germany Still Keystone

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The attempt of top United Nations officials to bring the big four (America, Britain, France and Russia) together to end the dangerous Berlin crisis in the interests of general peace has failed.

It was a gallant effort on the part of Secretary General Trygve Lie and Assembly President H. V. Evatt, but the result was a foregone conclusion. Both sides stand pat—the Soviet Union on the one hand and the Democracies on the other.

Russia still insists on taking up the problems of all Germany in connection with any negotiations about Berlin. The Democracies refuse to negotiate unless the Russian blockade of western Berlin first is lifted.

And why won't either party give ground? The answer to that has been stated in this column time and again, but it's worth repeating in view of the development. Fundamentally it is this:

We are not dealing with a diplomatic situation. It is a state of war—a cold war, to be sure, but nevertheless a Red war of aggression.

Both sides have adopted strategic positions which they consider vital in this cold war. To give ground would be to invite defeat.

The argument about Germany is only part of the war of the laws. But it is a vital part of the conflict in the European theatre. Before the late world war Germany was the economic and military keystone of the continental Europe. Potentially it still is the keystone, despite the ravages of war.

Russia is playing for control of the entire Reich, which would give Moscow a mighty lever with which to pry loose western Europe for Communism. That's why the Muscovites won't negotiate the Berlin crisis without including the whole country. The Berlin blockade with its terrible threat of starvation for millions of civilians is too powerful a weapon for the Reds to abandon.

The Democracies, on the other hand, know that if they make concessions while the blockade is still in operation, they will weaken their position dangerously. From harsh past experience they know that Moscow will take advantage.

The "Countess," who told authorities she comes from a wealthy family and is married to an art dealer, arrived with Beveridge early last week and started playing high-stakes poker in a main street bar. She did most of the playing, and Beveridge wrote checks covering her losses. The game went on for three or four days.

Two matters of great importance to this community are better roads and water transportation. We need better country roads that the people may get to and from market to good advantage and we need water transportation on Tar river in order to secure lower freight rates. These matters are going to have the early attention of the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville and through organized effort something will be accomplished.

Mrs. Humber Speaks At A. A. U. W. Meeting

The Greenville branch of the American Association of University Women met Tuesday, November 16, at Sheppard Memorial Library. After the regular business session, Mrs. Robert Lee Humber, North Carolina State A. A. U. W. president spoke to the group. Mrs. Humber gave a report of the conference which she attended in June.

Presidents from all 48 states gathered in Washington, D. C. to discuss A. A. U. W.'s program, policies and problems. Emphasis was placed on A. A. U. W.'s role as an educational rather than a social organization. Problems of national and international importance were discussed. Mrs. Humber urged that all branches consider these problems so that they may be brought before the national convention which will meet in Seattle, Washington, next June.

Organize Men's Club at Church

On Tuesday evening 46 men of the First Presbyterian Church met and there organized the first men's club in which this church group has ever participated. The meeting was opened with the singing of the doxology, and the invocation and blessing were given by Rev. C. D. Patterson, minister of the Meadowbrook Presbyterian Church.

The men were delightfully feasted by the ladies of the church, serving them a tempting turkey dinner. The tables were beautifully decorated, carrying out the Thanksgiving theme.

Following the dinner Rev. Leonard Topping, minister of the church, led the group in family worship. James S. Pickles introduced the speaker for the occasion, Dr. John D. Messick, president of East Carolina Teachers College. The men of the church expressed their appreciation of the inspiring address of Dr. Messick by their whole-hearted applause.

Officers for the club elected for the coming year are J. Bryan Brown, president; Edward Tyler, vice-president; Hunter B. Keck, secretary-treasurer, and Roy Co-burn, assistant to the secretary-treasurer. The meeting was most inspiring and everyone present seemed to manifest a keen interest in the future of the club.

The club will hold monthly dinner meetings at which time an outstanding speaker or other form of entertainment will be secured, and it is hoped this will engender a fine spirit of fellowship. The meeting was dismissed with the group singing "Blest be the tie that binds" with the pastor pronouncing the benediction. Guests were Robert VanDerstede, Cliff Rhodus and Paul Powell.

Wilmington Set For Vacationers

Wilmington, Nov. 17—(AP)—This coastal city was brushing off its welcome mat today for 50 survivors of the death-dealing smog that covered Donora, Pa., October 30.

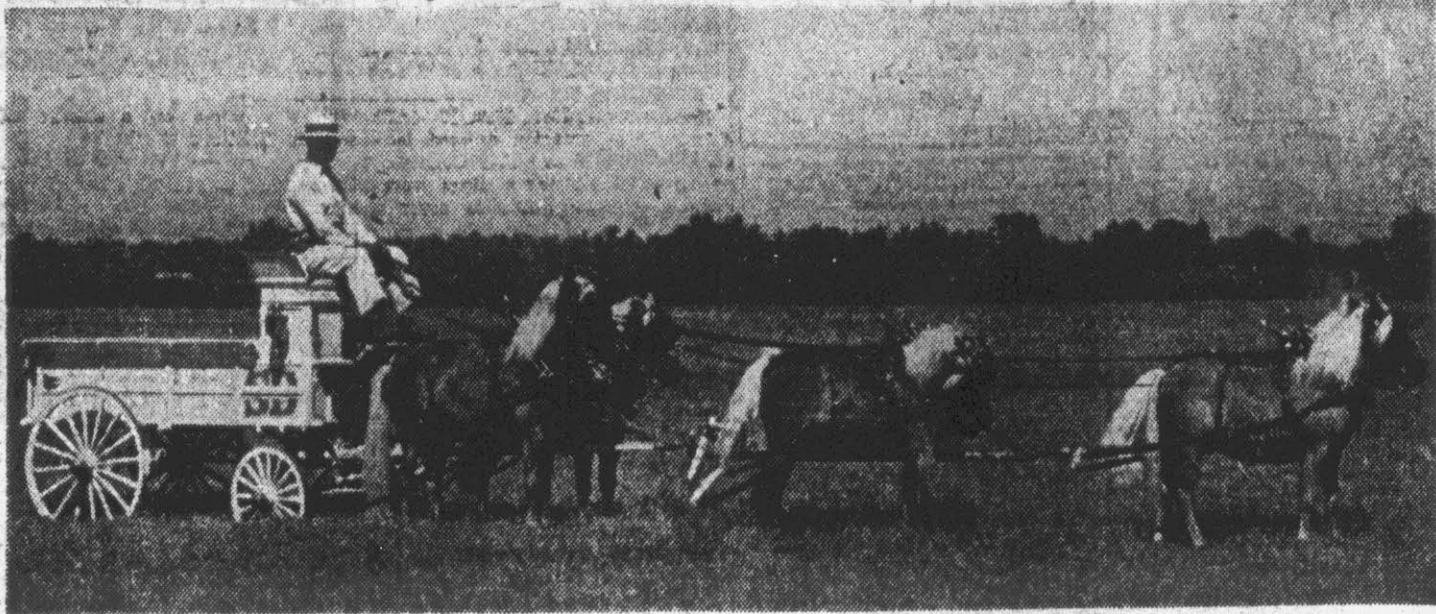

The Pennsylvania will fly here tomorrow for a week's vacation. They'll be guests of the Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce which are underwriting all expenses, including the airline fares.

The vacationers will be given a big welcome by local civic officials as they land here. After that they'll settle down in cottages at nearby Wrightsville Beach.

Far removed from the fatal mixture of fog and smoke that killed 20 of their fellow townsmen, they'll breathe in brisk ocean breezes as they fish, boat ride, tour nearby plantations and attend oyster roasts.

At Donora last night, Miss Elizabeth Ostrander, secretary of the Donora Board of Health, said that those who suffered most will make the trip.

Famous Pony Hitch To Be In Santa Claus Parade Friday

These beautiful silver-dappled chestnut ponies with the band-wagon will be in the Santa Claus parade here Friday. They will be sent here by Smith-Douglass Fertilizer Company of Norfolk, Va. The ponies will arrive here Thursday and will unload on the lot between the old State Highway offices and the Tetterton Motor Company, on Washington street. Other features of the Santa Claus parade will be the arrival of Santa Claus on a fire truck and the college and high school bands. Cash prizes will be awarded winning contestants in the parade.

Volunteers 'Credited' To Communities' Draft Call

Washington, Nov. 17—(AP)—Every community with volunteers in the armed services—and that means just about all communities—will be "credited" with the number of volunteers against its draft calls.

This was explained today by officials at Selective Service headquarters who said an inventory has been taken to establish the home town of every soldier, sailor, marine, airman, WAC, WAF and Wave.

Cards with this information go directly from the camps and stations to state Selective Service directors who then can claim a credit against the state's draft quota.

At the same time the same directors will credit each of their local boards with the volunteers in the armed services when the inventory was taken, October 31.

The credits will be applied to future draft calls, the official explained—how soon, state directors would be better able to estimate.

Here's how the system will work once all the cards are in: Let's take town A which has 100 men of draft age. Ten are already in the armed services and do not have to register.

The remaining 90 register and 80 of them pass physical examinations and are classified I-A.

The town is given a quota, say, of five men. But it already has 10 men in the service, so, if the draft call does not change, its credit takes care of two calls.

In the beginning, however, since no one knows how many credits each town will receive until the figures are in, town A will fill its quota and apply the credits later on.

So far as possible, the official pointed out, the states will work out the details with their local boards, with Selective Service headquarters staying in the background.

It Rained

A heavy rain that started early this morning totaled 1.71 inches. Rainfall this month, up to noon today, totaled 4.74 inches. The Weather Bureau thermometer here registered 60 degrees at 8 a.m. today and the mercury was falling. Mrs. C. E. Maiden, observer for the U.S. Department of Commerce, reported. Storm warnings were posted along the coast early today. Rainfall was general over the country.

De Gaulle Warns Of New Germany

Paris, Nov. 17—(AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle said today the western powers are creating a new Germany that might not be willing to oppose Russia.

Turning the Ruhr coal mines and steel mills back into the hands of the Germans, he added, is "the gravest decision made so far during the 20th century."

De Gaulle told newsmen that not only the British and Americans, but the Russians as well, are trying to create a united Germany.

"England and America flatter themselves they can make something of the Reich to oppose Russia," De Gaulle said, "perhaps they can. But perhaps they can't."

"Hitler didn't have any difficulty reaching an accord with Russia when he wanted to dominate Europe. x x x to which side will the new Reich turn? The question is very disturbing."

Falkland Organizes New Ruritan Club

A meeting was held at the Falkland school recently for the purpose of organizing a Ruritan Club.

Noah Lee, O. H. Forrest, H. E. Hill and John Overton from the Pictolus Ruritan Club explained to the men of Falkland what Ruritan is and its purposes.

Elgin White, district governor, was also at Falkland to help explain Ruritan.

Great interest was shown and application for a charter was made with 23 names on it.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Atlas Wooten; vice-president, W. J. Little; secretary, D. G. Whitford; chaplain, G. H. Pittman; reporter, J. D. Mercer.

The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday night November 23 at 7:30.

A lot of interest was shown in Ruritan by the men present, and the men of Falkland are hoping for a strong and worthwhile club at Falkland, they said.

Takes Character To Join His Club

Franklin, Ind., Nov. 17—(AP)—You can join the "OEFPQ" if you have strength of character to say the password at the right times.

The "OEFPQ" is an Organization to Encourage People to Quit Organizations. Its password is "No."

It has no officers, no dues, no meetings, no activities, no projects. Its motto: "Be a quitter."

Dr. Howard W. Stone, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, proposed the "OEFPQ." His purpose was to help members save time for family life and church duties.

He said: "If more people learned to say no when asked to join another organization or become an officer of this or that group, they would be able to spend an occasional evening at home with their families."

"While most organizations are worthwhile, too many people are doing too many things in too many of them. It's time to begin reversing the process."

Strength FOR THE DAY

PREVENTION RATHER THAN CURE

In Williamsburg, Virginia, that center of colonial tradition, visited each year by millions of persons, one sees among other things a reclining chair with a fly-chaser suspended above it. We can picture the settlers of 300 years ago reclining in this chair and with his foot working the device above his head which shooed the flies away. But the idea never seemed to occur to anyone in those days to wave a screen to keep the flies out of the house. This reminds us of the poem wherein we are told of the community which was diligent to maintain an ambulance at the foot of a high cliff in order to take care of the people who fell over. When someone suggested putting a fence around the top of the cliff, the proposal was met with derision and scorn. Their argument was: Why should people of sense stop to put up a fence. With an ambulance down in the valley?

Prudence beseeches us to avoid troublesome situations by giving them our attention before they become troublesome. The place to stop an evil is at its source. The time to handle it is right now, before it gets any worse. Screens on the windows are better than fly-chasers on chairs. The fence around the precipice makes more sense than the ambulance in the valley.

ROUND FOUR

Round four in the price-wage spiral apparently is about to begin, with labor preparing to ask for new pay increases to meet the high cost of living.

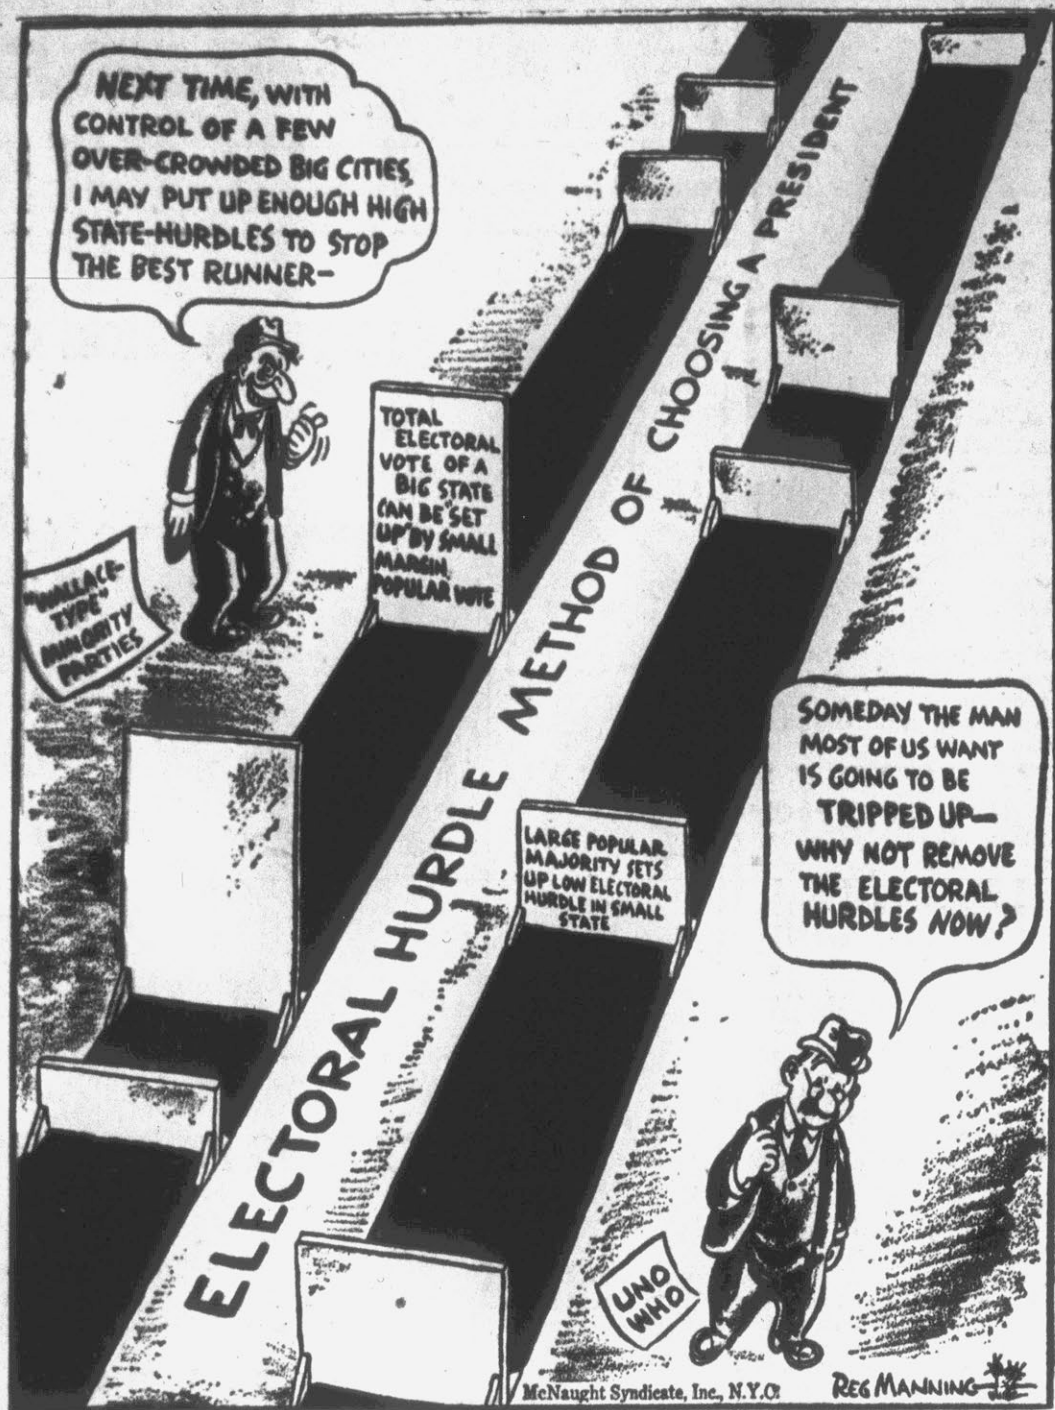

Last night Secretary of Labor Tobin told the American Federation of Labor convention that wages are nine per cent behind living costs at the present time and that it may be necessary for some 16,000,000 workers to ask for their fourth pay boosts.

Reports from sources close to the President indicate that Truman will take the position that wages continue to lag behind living costs, and he will recommend to labor that small increases be asked in this fourth round of the seemingly vicious circle. The President's plea for only "small" increases in wages probably will be accompanied with a promise of some sort of Congressional regulations to help "hold the line."

During the two years since controls on prices were removed, inflation has increased steadily in the United States and the need for some sort of regulation has become evident. Whether this regulation comes in the form of allocation and rationing of scarce materials, price controls on certain key products, or the "proper distribution" of the nation's resources, some positive program to cope with the inflation problem should be one of the first undertakings of the new administration.

The wage-price spiral already has gone too far with labor and management pointing accusing fingers at each other to place the blame for the high cost of living. It is high time the government undertook a program which will show the American people some results, and give them some relief from ever-increasing living costs.

Obstacle Race

Around Capitol Square

LOBBYISTS—The school teacher lobby in past sessions of the general assembly attracted a good deal of attention. Despite criticism by some legislators, the lobby was effective in gaining more consideration for school teachers than for other state employees. The 1949 legislature will have two other employee lobbies to deal with. The State Employees Association and the N. C. State Highway Employees Association are both preparing to keep law-makers informed of their needs and wishes with respect to legislation. Neither group has as large membership or as much experience as the school teachers, but they may make up for that lack with greater energy. None of the three organizations is a union in common acceptance of that term. Neither is affiliated with any other labor organization.

PUBLICITY—Indications are that the employee groups will depend a good deal on popular support gained through publicity respecting their objectives. The teachers have a very efficient publicity staff and the other organizations are known to be setting up publicity bureaus.

OBJECTIVES—The three associations have on objective in common—substantial increase in pay. In some instances they will be found working in close harmony, but in others they may be pitted against each other—or at least not actively supporting the same ideas. More liberal provision for vacations and sick leave are advocated by all. Teachers do not come under the state personnel director, but both employee groups are backing proposal to divorce the personnel division from the budget bureau. The state departmental workers advocate a five-day week, but the highway group is not pressing that idea. Looks very much like members of the 1949 general assembly will earn several times the $600 paid them. In fact, they'll more than earn the $1200 which the voters denied them by turning down the proposed constitutional amendment to raise legislative pay. Members of the legislature are the only folks on the state payroll who have not had a pay raise in 20 years.

WORDS—The increasingly important subject of stream pollution has come up for discussion in a group of conservationists the other day.

Growing out of that talk came decision, so far as the men present are concerned, to quit talking about stream pollution and emphasize stream utilization. One man insisted that misplaced emphasis on pollution had aroused opposition to a program which might have gained support if use of the water had been paramount.

FUNCTIONS—He pointed out that one of the primary functions of running streams is to carry away filth and refuse. Too often that is the only use sought by industrial plants, municipalities and private owners of adjoining lands. Other important functions of running streams are to provide food fish, to furnish power, and as to larger rivers carry commerce. Untreated chemical refuse kills the fish, backwater from power dams inundate valuable farming lands, while uncontrolled flood waters carry away unreplaceable fertile soil as well as causing destruction of other property.

VALUES—The question becomes one of evaluating the advantages and disadvantages of the different purposes made of the stream, rather than absolute prohibition of any particular use without consideration of the others. Pollution isn't a "nice" word; utilization is. Switching emphasis might accomplish more toward the common goal of getting the most benefit for the most people out of the state's streams.

OFFENDERS—In that connection, Pat Riley, head of the water resources division, notes that chief offenders in polluting streams are not the industrial plants with chemical refuse, but are the towns and cities which dump raw sewage into nearby rivers. He thinks appeal to the cities on basis of letting other people down stream use the water, too, might have more effect than adverse criticism for pollution. The whole problem of stream sanitation and utilization will come before the next general assembly with more demand for constructive action than has been given the matter in the past.

Boyle's Column

New York—(P)—President Truman is finding no shortage of volunteer carpenters in his task of building his 1949 cabinet.

Everybody is lumbering up with a new idea. If all who have been suggested for a place were included, the cabinet would have to have more posts than a fence around Texas. Just in fun, Editor and Publisher, magazine of the press, nominated a formidable cabinet composed entirely of newspapermen.

And Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Producers Association, more seriously advanced the thought that America's top labor leaders should be chosen for key diplomatic jobs abroad.

This idea is fascinating. If it is carried out, my nominee for Ambassador to England is John L. Lewis. His $50,000 salary and $25,000 expense account give him the necessary financial background. And what an impressive figure old John would make at the court of St. James—with his florid Shakespearean oratory, his ponderous, eloquent eyebrows. In knee breeches and silk hose he would be unforgettable. The labor government of England would have to sit up an listen to a man who won a $100 a month pension for American coal miners.

Perhaps it is time we widened the whole base on which government leaders are appointed—and include men and women from all classes. It is an essence of the Democratic belief that people grow with responsibility.

And this is an era of experiment anyway. The nation's Foreign policy of seeking world peace is largely being carried out by professional military men even as, paradoxically, genetic scientists are researching the weapons for a possible third world war.

Just for a starter, I have compiled a tentative list of appointees, which is being forwarded to Key West by the next passenger pigeon that flies this way. Here it is:

For Secretary of Agriculture—Milton Berle, who has run the price of corn up to the highest peak in history. Or Fred Allen, who gets about as much for chaff.

Secretary of Labor—Tommy Manville, who makes work out of play. Secretary of the Interior—Sherman Billingsley of the Stork Club, who has made a career out of satisfying the inner man.

Secretary of the Treasury—Bernard Baruch, because in crowded Washington his fondness for a park bench would save office space. Alternate choice; Jack Benny, who spends a dime finger by finger.

Secretary of Defense—Greta Garbo. She keeps her barriers high. Attorney-General—some good bartender. We'll never drop a case.

Postmaster-General—Lena Turner. Everybody would love to play postoffice with her.

Secretary of State—Barbara Hutton. As chief of Foreign Affairs, she'd have the experience to keep us out of entangling alliances.

And for U. S. Representative to the United Nations, nobody but that Arch diplomat of the diamond—Leo Durocher. Whenever Vishinsky rose to voice his perennial charge that the U. S. is trying to build an Empire, Leo would have his answer ready.

"Who wants an Empire? Not us. No Empire was ever any good." With a team like that America could never strike out.

New York Hit To Be Here Dec. 6

"The Glass Menagerie," a brilliant play by Tennessee Williams, will be presented at BCTC Austin auditorium on Monday, December 6th under the sponsorship of the Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce. Against a Southern background, the play unfolds a tender story of the hopes, fears, and dreams of a mother, her son and her daughter, and the daughter's gentleman caller. Like life itself, it is deeply touching, very funny, hauntingly sad; and in a quiet way it speaks some profound truths. Simple and heart-warming, it will be enjoyed by the entire family.

"The Glass Menagerie" has received more awards than any other play, including that of the Drama Critics; and it has been directly responsible for the meteoric rise of Tennessee Williams, its author, to the top ranks of American playwrights. Miss Helen Hayes, America's first lady of the theatre, is now playing the leading role in London, where the play has been enthusiastically received.

Knowing that "The Glass Menagerie" would be especially interesting to Southern audiences, the southern states tour has been organized with a distinguished cast—all of whom, incidentally, are from the South. Miss Mary Perry, from Gainesville, Ga., plays the mother, Lew Slak, of Covington Ky, appears as her son, Peggy Love, from Hot Springs N. C., is her daughter. Gilbert Leigh, producer of "The Glass Menagerie," will also be seen as the gentleman caller. Mr. Leigh is from

Fading Football Season To See Ball-Carrying Records

In Era Of Glorified Aerial Attacks, There's Still A Handful Who Make Yardage The Hard Way

By WIL GREENGLASS

New York, Nov. 17—(AP)—In this era of the glorified forward pass it is nice to note that college football still has boys who can carry the ball.

The fading 1948 season, in fact, promises to be a monument to the hard-working athlete who logs by hand.

Ed Price, Tulane's churning full-back, is almost certain to become the third player of a big time team in ten years to pass the 1,000-yard mark in rushing.

At least a half-dozen others are likely to join the "100 yards a game club," an exclusive organization to which only 17 men have been admitted in the last decade.

Price rolled up 134 yards in Tulane's 35-13 victory over Baylor last Saturday to increase his season's ground yardage to 892 and to become the nation's second most effective ball totter.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics show the rushing department is still led by Fred Wendt of Texas Mines, who with 1,087 yards promises to give the

Johnson Says Bulldogs Will Have Hard Contest

Big Jim Johnson, East Carolina Teachers College head football coach, announced after a closed practice session yesterday that his Pirates did not intend to lose possession of the coveted Bo-Hunk Bucket when they battle Atlantic Christian College here Friday night.

"We've had possession of that bucket for two years. It's hanging in the dressing room where all the players can see it," Johnson said. "We intend to go right on keeping it."

Yesterday Johnson and Backfield Coach Jack Boone closed the doors on their practice sessions as they drilled the Bucs on plays designed especially to meet the AC attack.

Receiving particular attention this week will be pass defense and defenses designed to stop AC's spread, single wing offense.

Coach Johnson, who on two occasions scouted the Bulldogs in action this year, declared yesterday that his boys would have to watch Harry Helmer very closely.

The triple-threat AC southpaw is highly respected for his passing abilities. There is little way to compare

Coach 'Sold' On Split-T Attack

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 17—Don Faurot is sold on the idea that the split-T attack—his own brainchild—is one of football's most powerful offensive formations.

Faurot, head coach at Missouri since 1935, is getting fine cooperation from coaches Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Jim Tatum of Maryland, his assistants at Iowa pre-flight school in 1943, in proving his point.

All three split-T squads are among the nation's top ten collegiate teams both in total offense (rushing and passing) and rushing alone.

In total offense, Oklahoma is sixth with an average of 381.4 yards for eight games. Missouri is ninth with 373.3 and Maryland tenth, 369.3.

Oklahoma ranks fourth in rushing yardage, averaging 296.5 yards; Maryland seventh, 277, and Missouri tenth, 258.

GREATEST HE'S SEEN
Chapel Hill, Nov. 17—Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland told the press after North Carolina beat his team last week: "Charlie Justice is the finest back I've ever seen."

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

Moving away from football a few minutes, we find that basketball season has already started in Pitt County. Tonight at Grimesland it will be a double feature—the boys and girls of Snow Hill will battle the boys and girls of Grimesland.

The Snow Hill quint is coached by Larry James who was on the Pirates' first "5" for 3 years. Larry graduated last year from ECTC.

The Grimesland crew is coached by another ECTC graduate, Bob Wheeler. Bob is assisted by Bob Shufford, who is doing his practice teaching in Grimesland. Shufford is also on Coach Howard Porter's starting "5" at this time.

The girls' game is slated to start at 7:30, so be there on time to see an exciting ball game. I'm sure both coaches will be trying to run up a high score.

Coach Jim Johnson of the Pirates is saying to himself, "What else is going to happen?" It was understood yesterday that Joe Polilli, first string center, will be out of the lineup for the AC game.

The absence of Polilli will leave Johnson with only one center. But there's still hope Polilli will be ready for Friday's tilt. Joe, who is the fourth center to get hurt this year, seems to have a pulled muscle in his leg. The doctor told him he would have to stay off it for six days, maybe six. We all hope it's only for six.

Stepping into the first string pivot spot will be very capable Pete Prominski. Pete is a rugged six-footer, weighing in at 185 lbs.

We have to talk about it, but just in case Prominski gets hurt or thrown out of the game, who will Coach Johnson have to send in as a "sub"?

The Kinston Red Devils are going through a rugged week of practice in preparation for their final game of the season with the Edenton Aces. The Red Devils are trying to find a way to stop Russel Wheeler, the Aces' nominee for all conference. Wallace Wade has the headache trying to figure out a way to stop Justice Saturday, when Duke plays Carolina in their annual do-or-die game. Edenton, who has lost only to Washington, will try to upset the favored Red Devils.

The only other game in the Northeastern Conference will be at Tarboro. The Yellow Jackets from Roanoke Rapids will invade Coach "Shot" Cox's eleven, who are seeking their first win.

Coach Johnson today held close practice for the Pirates as they prepared for their annual battle with AC Friday night at Guy Smith.

Louis And Bivins Meet Tonight In Exhibition Bout

Cleveland, Nov. 17—(P)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis resumes his exhibition tour tonight against Jimmy Bivins, a fellow he once regarded as the logical contender for his crown.

Five years ago a meeting between Louis and the Cleveland Negro might have produced plenty of fireworks in the ring, but the setting is different now.

Tonight's bout is a six-round no-decision affair with pillow-like 12-ounce gloves instead of the regulation eight.

The only way Bivins can win is by a knockout or a technical knockout—and on the basis of Bivins' recent record that prospect is considerably less than likely.

Bivins' handlers report he has been training faithfully for this bout because he realizes it's a last ditch effort to regain his former standing among the heavies.

Louis says if Bivins does well enough tonight he might give him a shot for the title in New York next June.

Tonight's exhibition is Louis' first since Nov. 9. The previous night he Stadium Johnson added several plays that he hoped would go all the way or set up a touchdown.

The Bo-Hunk Trophy, which the two teams fight over, is now on possession of the Pirates and is hanging up in the locker room. Coach Johnson hopes that it will help the boys get more spirit. "I'm sure, coach, you don't have to cook up any spirit for this game."

The only game scheduled this week in the North State Conference is the game between AC and ECTC Friday night in Guy Smith Stadium.

Rumors are flying that the Rocky Mount high school is trying to hitch on to Coach Jack Boone for the '49 season. Don't get excited, there's also rumors that he will be head coach at ECTC next year.

Wallace Wade has the headache trying to figure out a way to stop Justice Saturday, when Duke plays Carolina in their annual do-or-die game. Edenton, who has lost only to Washington, will try to upset the favored Red Devils.

Chennault Does Not Plan Revive Flying Tigers

New York, Nov. 17—(AP)—Although many American pilots have offered to join such a venture, Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault says he has no plans for reorganizing his "Flying Tigers" to aid China's embattled Nationalists.

His statement was made last night in Shanghai in an American Broadcasting Company interview.

Many fliers have applied for such duty, he said, but "I have received no request from Chiang Kai-shek for the reorganization of the Flying Tigers, and no move has been made in that direction."

Chennault, who in pre-Pearl Harbor days trained the volunteer "Flying Tigers" to help China fight the Japanese, now runs a commercial air line in China.

Chapter 18
Bella turned and ran up the block.
Joe drew a deep breath. This was certainly the start of a swell evening.
And everyone was staring. Mrs. Harrigan stood on her steps, arms akim-bo.

"And since when, Joe Monahan, do you let that little spit-fire treat you like that? And I saw you beat up that Wayne Kahler that came after your Rosalie."

"And he got her, didn't he?"
Joe hadn't meant to say it. "The words just slipped out, Mrs. Harrigan. Ain't that just too bad."

"You have trouble with your women, don't you, Joe Monahan? Why don't you get married to a nice simple girl who'll make a real home for you and make you forget all your worries?"

He winked at her. "Have you anyone in mind, Mrs. Harrigan?"

"That I have."
"And so have I, too, Mrs. Harrigan. Ain't that just too bad."
She burst out laughing as he intended her to do. It gave him a chance to continue on down the street. His mother, dressed in her best, was enthroned in the open window. She hailed him brightly.

"Didn't I see you and Bella coming down the street?"

"You didn't. Mom, but someone told you, so you also know Bella slapped my face. I don't think she likes me."

"She loves you. You can always tell it's love when girls smack."

He grinned at her and winked.
"Don't you love me any more?"

"Come in and get out of that uniform."

"I can't. I'm on duty, Mom."

"No wonder Bella smacked you.
You deserve it."

He came into the house and gave his mother a hug and kiss in boyish fashion. The fat woman clung to him and spoke quickly.

"See to Pat. He's getting drunk and I have a feeling in my bones that he's going to get into serious trouble this night."

He left her laughing, but his face was serious as he entered the dining room. A dozen men were crowded into the room, all drinking and milling about Pat as they did on party nights. But Pat himself was different tonight. Joe knew it from the tone of his voice without seeing him. He squeezed up to him and flung an arm over his broad shoulders.

"All ready to celebrate, Pat?"
The man's rough face lighted up.
"Sure I'm glad to see you, boy. Will you tell these high-binders off for messing up my party?"

Joe turned to present them to the understanding on or before the 16th day of November, 1948, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said co-partnership will please make immediate payment.

The danger was averted. He was suddenly nappy without knowing just why.

When the song was over the men voiced approval of Pat and all his doings and melted away. Mulrooney was last to go and called back from the doorway.

"And suppose Rosalie does come to dance for us like always, what will you say then?"

Pat laughed. "You're a pest, Mul-rooney. All I say is to tell her she don't belong to us and have a brick at her. Now go home. If I'm to sing I got to pull myself together."

Statesmen Soon To Visit Capital

Paris, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall and Warren R. Austin, the two top American delegates to the United Nations Assembly, are leaving Paris shortly for urgent visits to Washington. Austin is going because of illness.

Secretary Marshall has an appointment with President Truman at the White House Monday. Americans here said they did not expect Marshall to return to Paris, but that they had no definite information on his plans for the remainder of the assembly. It is expected to adjourn Dec. 11.

Austin, the chief U.S. delegate, is leaving by plane tomorrow night for Walter Reed Hospital to have a physical check-up.

The departures of Marshall and Austin will leave three first-string delegates here for the Americans plus five alternates and a full staff of advisers. Each nation may have five delegates and five alternates at the assembly.

LANDED SAFELY

New York, Nov. 17.—(AP)—An air force B-29, which radiated distress signals during a flight over the Atlantic, was reported early today to have landed safely in the Azores Islands.

Peace Envoys Of Two Colleges Call For 'Armistice'

Peace envoys of East Carolina Teachers College and Atlantic Christian College met here today to dampen enthusiasm. They're concerned about mischief being committed on both campuses.

Football teams of the rival schools meet here Friday night. Four weeks ago A. C. C. students invaded the E. C. T. C. campus here and simultaneously E. C. T. C. students were at work on the A. C. C. campus at Wilson, authorities claimed. Victory signs were painted on both campuses.

Tips were made last week almost nightly.

Miss Scoville Died After Long Illness

Miss Mattie E. Scoville, 74, died at her home, 405 Rotary Avenue, at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night following several months' illness. Funeral services will be held at the home at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, a former pastor, assisted by the Rev. Leon Russell, new pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Burial will be in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Miss Scoville, daughter of the late Edwin and Susan Hoyle Scoville, was born and reared at Fort Valley, Ga. She had been living in Greenville since 1921 and had been employed in the registrar's office at East Carolina Teachers College until her retirement several years ago. She was a member of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. She was a sister of the late Rev. V. P. Scoville of Greenville.

Surviving are a brother, John B. Scoville of Rome, Ga., and several nieces and nephews.

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The date for the inauguration of Kerr Scott as governor of North Carolina is expected to be announced this week.

An announcement from Scott's office about the inaugural ball contained a statement that the date will be made public after conference of the incoming and outgoing governors and legislative leaders.

Los Angeles To Have Big Tree

Los Angeles, Nov. 17.—(AP)—This city, which has a penchant for superlatives, now boasts it will have the largest Christmas tree ever cut in the U.S.

The Downtown Business Men's Association specified that the tree to be erected in Pershing Square, atop the 80-footer erected in New York's Rockefeller Center in 1937.

The U.S. Forest Service found one yesterday in Angeles National Forest, 50 miles away. The tree, more than 80 feet high, was due here today for immediate trimming.

As late as 1886, Frenchmen killed 760 wolves in France in a year.

World Student Service Fund Is Richer By $347

A sum of $347.27 to be used in aiding students and teachers in war devastated countries was collected at East Carolina Teachers College during the World Student Service Fund drive recently conducted by the YMCA and the YWCA on the campus. The two organizations have sponsored the drive each year since 1942 and have raised more than $2,500 to help needy students abroad.

Peggy Steed, Warsaw, and Nicholas Fokakis, Wilmington, were chairman of the drive and worked with the cooperation of the presidents of the sponsoring organizations, George Morris of Winston-Salem and Jean Bostian of Winston-Salem. Faculty advisors were Louise Williams and Lois Grigsby, who helped launch the first campaign on the East Carolina campus and have served as advisors each year since 1942.

Record Demand For Fertilizer

Fertilizer companies report that every indication is that the 1949 demand for fertilizers will break all previous records. To supply this demand, manufacturers will have to make and ship almost as much fertilizer in one year as was produced in three pre-war years. Manufacturers are advising farmers to buy fertilizer now and accept delivery during the winter months to be sure to have fertilizer on hand next spring.

Commits Suicide In Big Cathedral

Vatican City, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A Roman lawyer, Pietro Puglieri, committed suicide in Saint Peter's Basilica today by plunging about 170 feet from the interior gallery that rings the Cupola. He hit before one of the altars. His fall caused consternation among worshippers. Vatican guards cleared the church and closed it to the public, pending its reconsecration.

The Truman . . .

defeat this month as a signal from the people that they want Mr. Truman's program. In this case they'd help him.

2. To try to block some or all of Mr. Truman's program on the grounds that it goes too far.

3. Or play politics by trying to block him and so scramble his program that the voters, out of disgust when they go to the polls again in 1950, will turn out the Democrats and give control of Congress back to the Republicans.

They may do any one of the three things, or combine parts of the three on different parts of the program.

At this point no one can say what they'll do. The Republicans themselves haven't picked their congressional leaders or course of action for 1949.

Then there's the question of Mr. Truman's own Democrats. Not all of them are likely to go along with him on all his ideas.

And if enough of them differ with him on any one point, and join forces with the Republicans against him, this opposition could be the majority on any single vote.

advantage of any weakness and that they thus would lay themselves liable to lose all Germany to Red Domination.

You see, this cold war is merely an intensification of the cold war which Moscow declared against the world when the Bolshevik rebellion succeeded in 1917 and gave Communism control of Russia. World revolution for the spread of Communism was decreed, and it never has halted. The fight is intense now because Moscow is capitalizing advantages which she was able to snatch from trusting allies in the world war.

Well, that's the story Russia never will halt its drive until it controls the world or until Bolshevism encounters a force which it can't handle. That is why efforts to compromise with Russia can't succeed at this juncture. That is why anything which could be mistaken as appeasement of Moscow might be disastrous.
