Chinese Nationalists Say Suchow Battle Concluded

Official Spokesman Boasts Of Complete Victory; Red Forces Said In Flight; Rejuvenated Air Force Furnished Balance Of Power

Nanking, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The government claimed complete victory in the Suchow battle today.

Gen. Chang Liu-Shih, official military spokesman, told his weekly press conference:

"The battle for Suchow can be considered as concluded. What the Communists do now is subject to conjecture."

Chang pictured the Red forces in flight. He said government troops and planes were mopping up an area extending 30 miles around Suchow.

The spokesman asserted 130,000 casualties were inflicted on the Reds as against 40,000 suffered by Nationalists.

Other government sources said the government won at least the opening phase of the Suchow battle against 300,000 veteran troops. This victory, they added, means Nanking is safe at least for a month or longer.

The government previously announced more than 1,000,000 men on both sides were involved in the battle.

More optimistic officials said the results of the past week's fighting means the ascendancy of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's once waning fortunes.

Foreign observers placed the result of the fighting along the Suchow front somewhere between the government's official claim of complete victory and the Communists' continued insistence that they still hold the initiative.

Gen. Chow Chin-Jou's rejuvenated air force furnishes the balance of power which apparently threw back Red Gen. Chen Yi's troops.

Favored with a perfect combination of clear, excellent weather, bright moonlight nights, and an enemy carelessly concentrated in the open plains around Suchow, Chow's warplanes made the Communist positions untenable by around-the-clock bombing and strafing.

Operating from Nanking's military airfield, more than 100 planes, ranging from Mustang fighter bombers to four-engine Liberators, plastered the area south, southeast and east of Suchow constantly during the past week. Slower planes dropped munitions and food to the ground forces below.

The effect of the victory claim was especially noticeable in Nanking. Hordes of officials and others who were packed and prepared to flee the city before the arrival of the Reds now are discussing a military comeback.

Mrs. Truman On Trip To Havana

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Harry Truman and her party arrived today on the Presidential Yacht Williamsburg. She has been on vacation with President Truman at Key West, just to the north.

The Cuban President's wife, Mrs. Carlos Prío Socarras, and Minister of State Carlos Hevia went aboard to greet her.

Navy-Air Force Feud Is Again Exposed To View

Washington, Nov. 18.—(AP)—A hidden chapter in the Navy-Air Force feud is out in the open with Secretary of Defense Forrestal trying to learn who exposed it to view.

Although it's no secret the two services have been at odds over aerial assignments—despite the unification law—what their spokesmen told a Hoover commission group was supposed to be secret.

Where Communists Claim Advances

Having overrun Manchuria, Chinese Communists have entered Chongch'ing (1), 110 miles northeast of Peiping. Pro-government reports said the Reds already have reached Kupeikou, only 70 miles northeast of Peiping. Arrow points to Peiping, Hopei Province capital, into which the Communists have broken, according to other pro-government sources. Arrow (2) indicates advance of Communist forces 75 miles south of Suchow. Three divisions of Nationalist government reinforcements rushed from North China, landed at Liensungang (3), and started moving westward toward Suchow. Other Nationalist troops, evacuated from southern Manchuria port of Hulutao after the fall of Mukden, were reported moving into positions (4, double arrows) between Nanking and Communist forces southeast of Suchow. Fight For Leathernecks Left To 'Circumstances'

China Garrisoned To Be Bolstered; State Department Does Not Know If Marines Will Be Called Upon To Fight Reds

Washington, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The United States, bolstering its Marine force in China, left open today the question of whether "circumstances" might lead to armed conflict with Communist troops.

The Navy said 1,200 Leathernecks will sail from Guam next Tuesday to reinforce the 3,000-Marine Marine garrison at Tientsin.

This force, said the Navy in adding details to a surprise news conference announcement by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, "will assist in the orderly evacuation of United States nationals through the port of Tientsin."

Forrestal was asked by reporters whether the Marines will fight if the Communist armies attack Tientsin. That, replied Forrestal, is a matter for the State Department to decide.

At the State Department, Press Officer Michael J. McDermott took this position:

"The answer is that it all depends on circumstances and there is no answer now. I don't know what the answer will be. I can't pretend to."

Duties In Citizenship

We Talk About Our Rights, But Too Often Ignore The Duties That Affect Us All; Our Investment In Good Government; Voting Is A Duty; A Grim Possibility

Washington, Nov. 18.—(AP)—A friend said "I want to say something. I wish you'd write." So he told me. And this is it.

I'm writing it because it affects all of us in one way or another. He said all that follows:

We talk a lot about our rights. But what about our duties? A duty, like voting?

I know people who look up the stock market page every day to see how they're doing because they have 10 shares of something.

Potato Growers Lose Third Of Parity Support

Brannan Announces 60 Per Cent Price Level; Reduces '49 Crop Goal

Washington, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The Irish potato will lose some of its glamor for growers next year.

The potato won't be supported in the manner to which it has become accustomed. Not by one-third, in fact.

Instead of the 90 per cent of parity guarantee of recent years, growers in 1949 will be assured by the government of getting only 60 per cent of the theoretical "fair to everyone" price.

And to be certain of even that much, the growers must not plant more potatoes than they are told. Supporting potato prices has cost the government dearly. So far this year the bill amounts to about $100,000,000, compared with the previous high of nearly $91,000,000 in 1944. Last year's bill was $39,500,000.

The trouble has been two-fold. Farmers planted more and more potatoes and Americans ate fewer and fewer. So the government had to buy the surplus under its support program.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announced the new 60 per cent support level for 1949 crop potatoes last night.

Brannan also set a goal of 1,938,300 acres of potatoes for next year. This is about 200,000 acres below this year's planting.

Each state was assigned a goal. Eventually each county, then each grower, will get one. To be eligible for price support, a farmer must not exceed his individual goal.

The lower support level came as no great surprise. A. K. Gardner, Maine's Commissioner of Agriculture, said his state accepted the thought that there would have to be a drastic cut in support of next year's crop and thereafter.

Simultaneously with Brannan's announcement, potato growers formed a national potato council. Its objective: to promote potato consumption.

AFL In Politics On Steady Basis

Convention Delegates Vote To Finance Propaganda Plan

Cincinnati, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor has entered politics on a permanent basis.

Delegates to the Federation's 67th annual convention voted yesterday to collect 10 cents from each of its nearly 7,500,000 members to finance a propaganda and education drive of "Labor's League for political education."

The delegates acted as league members because the Taft-Hartley act forbids direct contributions.

The drive, with $750,000 working capital, will be centered in the nation's 110,000 polling precincts during the next 14 months.

The move was approved unanimously after secretary-treasurer George Meany told the delegates that 172 league-backed candidates had been elected to the House, of Representatives. Nov. 2 and 106 classed as "unfriendly" were defeated.

Meany said it was "a tremendous victory" and the "tide of reaction has been decisively turned." He cautioned, however, that "we should not become overconfident x x x and forget our political responsibilities."

Postal Rates

Washington, Nov. 18.—(AP)—President Truman will renew with vigor next year his plea for higher postal rates to help balance the budget, those in the know said today.

The Post Office Department now seems likely to wind up $200,000,000 in the red next year—its largest deficit since 1935—on an anticipated loss which would amount for more than a third of the deficit forecast for the entire government's operation this fiscal year.

Officials told a reporter privately the increases most certain to be proposed will involve second class mail—made up chiefly of newspapers and magazines.

Marshall Brings Finance Experts To Paris Parley

Will Advise On Currency Aspects Of Berlin Crisis To Answer Bramuglia

Paris, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall summoned American financial and monetary experts today from Washington and Berlin to advise on currency aspects of the Berlin crisis.

They will consult with Dr. Philip C. Jessup, U.S. deputy who handles the Berlin case for Marshall in the Security Council.

This step was disclosed by an American delegation source as emphasis in the blockade dispute shifted to technical aspects of the currency control problem in the former German capital.

The American experts are flying to Paris from the Treasury department in Washington and from Gen. Lucius D. Clay's military government staff in Berlin.

The experts will have before them a questionnaire on the currency issue which Security Council President Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina has sent to the big four nations.

Bramuglia is leading a Berlin compromise effort on behalf of the council's six "neutral" nations.

U.S. Secretary-General Trygve Lie also has initiated a study of the currency question by his own technicians. American sources said today their delegation has not yet received any specific request for definite information from Lie.

The Soviet Union has declared it will not lift the blockade unless the Soviet mark becomes Berlin's sole currency. The western powers are, but insist the Soviet mark be under adequate four-power control when it circulates within Berlin.

Bramuglia, November president of the council, has been working behind the scenes on a new formula for resolving the Berlin dispute.

His hand strengthened by yesterday's western power notes, Bramuglia conferred again with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky. They talked for nearly an hour, reportedly discussing a new formula for ending the crisis.

Details of the plan were not disclosed, but it is believed to involve some form of gradual lifting of the Berlin blockade along with a similar process of instituting the Russian zone mark as Berlin's currency.

Raleigh Printing Firm Destroyed By Early Blaze

Raleigh, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Damage estimated at approximately $100,000 was caused early today when a fire gutted the building of the Graphic Press here.

Andrew M. Beck, president of the printing firm, estimated his loss at approximately $75,000, and the owner of the building estimated damage to the structure at $25,000.

The firm was preparing to start its presses rolling printing a portion of the much-discussed report of the North Carolina Education Commission. It could not be learned immediately whether the forms for the report were damaged.

Vacationers

Pittsburgh, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Forty-one victims of an industrial smog in nearby Donora today took off in a chartered airplane today for a one-week free vacation at a North Carolina seaside resort.

The party, ranging in age from 27 to 74, included many men and women who had never before left town.

Dulles Presents Goal For Europe

Paris, Nov. 18.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles said today Americans want a strong and unified western Europe capable of standing up for itself.

In a speech to the American Club of Paris, Dulles denounced as "ignoble" any charge that the United States wants to use Europe merely as a base for achieving world mastery. He said it was absurd for some to claim that the United States wants to dump its surplus goods in Europe.

Dulles said this is a platform of American hopes for Europe:

"We want Europe to have so much political strength that neither the United States nor any other power whatever will ever be able to use Europe for purposes alien to the free development of Europe itself."

"We want Europe to have such economic strength that it will be prosperous in its own right and not dependent on economic grants from others."

"We want Europe to be sufficiently unified so that, practically, we can work with it."

"We want a Europe that has so much moral and intellectual dynamism that, in the tradition of the past, it can lead the world."

President Fills Gap While Marshall Confers In Washington; Step Strengthens Bi-Partisan Policy; Forrestal Arrives In Key West For Talks

Key West, Fla., Nov. 18.—(AP)—President Truman today designated John Foster Dulles as acting chairman of the United Nations delegation to the United Nations in his first official post-election endorsement of this country's bipartisan foreign policy.

Dulles will be acting chairman during the absence of Secretary of State Marshall, who will be in Washington Monday for conference with Mr. Truman.

The President at the same time appointed Benjamin Cohen as chief United States delegate to the UN General Assembly in Paris to replace Republican Warren Austin, who has returned to the United States because of illness.

During Austin's illness, Dean Rusk, a State Department official, will serve in Cohen's place as alternate delegate.

Dulles served as foreign policy advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential nominee.

Secretary Marshall is returning to the United States for a full-scale review of the peace outlook with President Truman at the White House Monday.

Cohen is a former counselor for the State Department.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Forrestal flew here for a talk forecasting a possibly historic diplomatic and defense steps to preserve the precarious peace.

The ominous march of events in China and the threat of further trouble in Europe and elsewhere furnished a backdrop for his talk with President Truman at the temporary "White House."

Forrestal had lunch with the President. While others were in the luncheon, the two were to confer separately.

The developing diplomatic crisis transformed this usual submarine trip from a purely vacation event into a conference upon which the basic for a rearmament of American international policy may be laid.

Mr. Truman is flying back to Washington Sunday for a full-scale review of the peace outlook with Secretary of State Marshall and moving USA ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

His conference today with Forrestal is expected to be preliminary to his White House survey of the entire diplomatic picture.

Developments yesterday overshadowed speculation about when Forrestal might leave the cabinet.

Forrestal, just returned from an inspection of European trouble areas, said his department has prepared a budget for the three armed services within the fifteen billion dollar limit set by Mr. Truman and the Budget Bureau.

Asked whether it would mean a serious change in the Navy's big carrier program or Air Force expansion to 10-group strength, he replied:

"Well, there will be adjustments. All of these programs, of course, have to be fitted economically to a fiscal pattern. I'll provide details of the results of this budget I haven't yet fully examined but that will be available."

May Invoke Pact In Ruhr Conflict

France Studying Steps To Block U.S. And British Plan

Paris, Nov. 18.—(AP)—An authoritative source said today France may invoke the British-French friendship treaty to force a change in British policy on the Ruhr.

Britain aroused the French early this month when she made a joint announcement with the U.S. that the German people would be allowed to decide the future ownership of the Ruhr's basic industries and that the Germans would be given immediate limited control of those industries.

An official in touch with the French foreign office said the French government regards that action and a statement supporting it in the British House of Commons this week to be in conflict with the Dunkerque alliance.

He said the foreign office experts are studying what to do next within the framework and spirit of the treaty to bring what he called the inconsistencies of Britain's policy to her attention.

France protested to both Britain and the U.S. immediately after their policy statement was issued. Her notes were delivered on the eve

Locate Largest Liquor Cache Since Prohibition

By CHESTER WALSH
Authorities late last night raided the home of Allen Adams, Jr., near Chicod School, and seized 21½ cases of fruit jars containing 128 gallons of moonshine liquor. They arrested Adams and Audrey Haddock, farmers, and charged them with possession of non-tax-paid whiskey and seized Haddock's Lincoln automobile.

The officers carried the contraband liquor to the county jail. Haddock posted $500 cash bond and Adams a signed bond for their appearance in Pitt County Court and they were released. Haddock lives in Ayden.

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson and Deputies Lloyd Manning and Jasper L. Mills and A. B. Officers J. M. Ward and Claude Manning participated in the nocturnal raid.

The officers, working on a reliable tip that Christmas liquor was in transit, went to Adams' home with a search warrant shortly before midnight. The whiskey was stored in a back room of the dwelling. They arrested Adams there and Haddock at his home in Ayden shortly afterwards. It was the largest seizure of moonshine whiskey in Pitt county since prohibition days. A photographer snapped pictures of the cases of liquor and the arresting officers on the courthouse lawn this afternoon.

China's Urgent Need

Generalissimo's Direct Appeal For Moral Support By The United States; Regime In A Fight For Life; 'What Would Your Policy Be?'; An Analyst's Answer

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's direct appeal to President Truman for an American policy statement to bolster the morale of Chinese anti-Communist forces arises from the greatest crisis the Nanking government has yet faced in combatting the Moscow-backed Red rebellion.

The Generalissimo's regime is battling for its very life, and he would be a hardy man who tried to predict the outcome as things now stand. But that being so, why should Chiang appeal for moral support at this critical juncture rather than for material aid?

The answer, I take it, is that China's need is so urgent it can be met only by aid that can be transmitted with the speed of a message: it can't wait for material assistance to be moved by ships across the seas. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador to Washington, also made an appeal to the State Department, in which he employed language that serves to amplify the Generalissimo's message.

Koo said China wants an American expression of "sympathy, solidarity and support." In other words, "the Chinese want to know what

Mrs. Hall Relates Trip To Book Club

On Tuesday afternoon, the Sans Book Club held a very enjoyable meeting with Mrs. G. J. Woodward in her home on Greene street. Seventeen members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Fleming.

Vases of colored chrysanthemums were used as the decorations.

Many items of business were discussed by the president, Mrs. Woodward. The club voted to buy a $10 bond for the T. B. Fund.

Mrs. W. L. Hall, having recently returned from a trip to New York City and Hyde Park, N. Y., gave an interesting talk on many plays she saw, the most outstanding being "Hamlet," the star being Lawrence Olivier, assisted by English actors and actresses. Her visit to Hyde Park was most interesting — the many gifts from foreign lands that had been given to the late President D. Roosevelt, why the home was given by the family as a shrine, how the library, which contains gifts from many parts of the world, was started, how students go to his library for research. She explained how the President's tomb was placed in the midst of the garden, surrounded by blooming flowers.

Mrs. Fleming assisted Mrs. Woodward in serving a delicious salad course, after which the club adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Scales.

Mrs. Johnny Elmo Wilson

Wilson-Mills

The marriage of Miss Low Ellen Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Mills of Greenville, and Johnny Elmo Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilson of Greenville, was solemnized in a formal candle-light ceremony in the Black Jack Free Will Baptist Church on Friday evening October 15 at 8:30 o'clock.

The Rev. J. A. Neilson officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Wedding music was presented by Miss Jane Goff, pianist, and Miss Miriam Moore, soloist, both of Farmville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of slipper satin and chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was made of satin and lace, buttoned down the center back and at the wrists with miniature satin-covered buttons. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands, and the full skirt extended into a court train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion, edged with chantilly lace, fell from a crown of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid, tied with matching satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mack Vernon Dixon, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a pink dress with matching mits. Her dress was fashioned along lines similar to those of the bride. She carried a colonial nosegay of mixed flowers tied with green ribbons.

The bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Rose Mills, sister of the bride; Miss Evelyn Williams, cousin of the bride; Miss Ellen Hamma of Snow Hill, and Miss Marigold Arnold of Grimesland. Their dresses were of pastel colors, identical to that of the matron of honor. Their head-dresses were bands of matching carnations and they carried colonial nosegays of mixed flowers tied with contrasting ribbons.

The bridegroom was attended by Herman Neal as best man. The ushers were James Hubbard, Mack Dixon, Harry Wilson and Van Mills of Greenville.

The bride's mother wore a dress of teal blue with brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a black crepe dress with winter white accessories. They both wore corsages of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents for the family, friends and out-of-town guests.

Introducing the receiving line was Mrs. Curtis Spencer. The line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Wilson, the bride and bridegroom, the matron of honor, the bridesmaids, and Mr. Herman Neal. Mrs. Calvin Mills registered the guests after they had passed through the receiving line.

The punch table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with white flowers and fern, and lighted with candles. Receiving and serving the guests were Mrs. Frank Dixon, Mrs. Jasper Mills, Mrs. Elmer Dixon, Mrs. Ervin Mills, Mrs. Van Mills, and Mrs. Cary Joyner. There were approximately 100 guests.

Following the reception the couple left by motor on a wedding trip for western North Carolina. For traveling the bride wore a grey gabardine suit with brown accessories, and a white purple throat orchid which she lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Wilson attended the Chicod High School and was graduated from King's Business College in Raleigh. For the past year she has been employed by the Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency in Greenville. Mr. Wilson attended the Greenville City Schools and is now engaged in the mercantile business.

Immediately following the rehearsal on Thursday evening, the bridal party was entertained at a cake cutting at the home of the bride's parents.

Temperance Group Hear Interesting Talk At Meeting

At the recent meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick, newly-elected vice-president of the local chapter, made an interesting talk on temperance. She said that her father, J. W. Higgs, in a codicil to his will, passes along to his children and grandchildren the wise counsel and comforting encouragement given to him in his childhood by his mother and father. He points out in the will that there are three habits he especially desires his grandchildren to refrain from. First, against drinking alcoholic beverages, except when prescribed by a physician; second, against the use of tobacco in any form; and, third, against gambling. In his will, Mr. Higgs pledges to each grandchild who abstains from these three bad habits a watch and an additional $100 in gold. And, to each grandchild who abstains from these three habits a diamond ring and $100 in gold. The codicil was added to the will March 28, 1935. Mrs. Kirkpatrick said that a copy of this codicil is framed and hangs in the rooms of each grandchild. It is a noteworthy document and far-reaching in its influence on those it concerns.

Mrs. W. T. C. Briggs led the group in prayer. Mrs. Kirkpatrick sang "The Lord's Prayer," with Mrs. G. W. B. Hadley as accompanist. Mrs. Wiley Brown was given a rising vote of thanks for fine services as vice-president. Mrs. Charles Rumley was appointed corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick told of the temperance programs presented at the high school on Fridays. Rev. Leonard W. Topping delivered the first talk at the school, Rev. J. A. Neilson, the second, and Dr. John D. Messick, the third temperance talk. She announced that on November 19 two sound pictures, "It's the Brain That Counts" and "Celling, Limited."

Mrs. Watson Hostess To Chatham Club

The Chatham Book Club had a most enjoyable meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. M. Watson. Lovely chrysanthemums were used effectively throughout the home.

The president presided over a short business meeting at which the club voted to purchase a T. B. bond. An invitation was extended the membership to attend lectures on Christmas Decorations at the Woman's Club on Friday, given by Mrs. Wells and sponsored by the Garden club.

Mrs. N. S. Beard had charge of the program for the afternoon and Mrs. Watson introduced the artists. Miss Gladys Reichard, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Frase, sang a group of three songs: Homing, Del Rio; Green Cathedral, Hahn and I Heard a Forest Praying, Peter de Rose.

Miss Frase played a beautiful prelude from a suite for the piano by De Bussey and gave as an encore Bread and Butter, which is attributed to Mozart.

In conclusion, Miss Reichard sang "If God Left Only You, The Big Brown Bear and Danny Boy as an encore. She gave When I Was Seventeen, an old Swedish folk song.

It was indeed a treat to have two such talented and charming artists with us for the afternoon, which we all enjoyed thoroughly. After the program, Mrs. Beard poured coffee and Mrs. Blair served cake, nuts and mints. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. W. N. Sprull, Mrs. K. B. Pace, Mrs. J. L. Winstead, and Mrs. M. N. Posey.

Ancient Statute Is Put To Use

Greensboro, Nov. 18—(AP)—City police dug deep into the old state statute books last night to arrest Andrew Kypres, a merchant, on a charge of selling a cigar to a five-year-old child, Johnnie Vanfusen. The warrant was sworn out by the child's grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Lackey. Hearing is set tomorrow in municipal county court.

ACTRESS IN HOSPITAL

Hollywood, Nov. 18—(AP)—Jennifer Jones, academy award winning actress, was scheduled to undergo an appendicitis operation today. She was hospitalized after suffering an acute attack yesterday.

WHICH SIDE?
Every Bible reader recalls the description found in the Gospels of how Peter, after declaring Jesus to be the divine Son of God, immediately called for the Lord's displeasure by denying that same Jesus was his ministry. One of the modern translations has phrased Jesus' reply in graphic terms. It pictures him as saying to Peter: "Get out of my sight, you Satan! You are not on God's side, but on men's side."

Just where, as a matter of fact, do we stand in our daily living? If the sum total of our words, attitudes, actions, and influence were to be laid on the counter and then measured in some sort of supernatural balance, the accuracy of which could not be doubted, just where would we be found to stand? Would our lives as a whole be on God's side or on men's side?

For there is a difference. The kingdom of God and the ways of this present world cannot be reconciled. They do not conflict in every point but at the points at which they do conflict are of overwhelming importance. Chiefly they conflict in the matter of moral purpose. The demand of the kingdom of God is that man's life should be lived wholly to God's glory. The ways of the world have but one object—the glorification of men.

Which side then are we on? God's side or men's side?

HAD YOUR MILK TODAY?

Pitt County ranks high among the counties of the nation when it comes to most agricultural categories, being first in the production of tobacco, eighth in the total amount of commercial fertilizer used each year, 81st in the production of farm products used by farm households, and 84th in the value of vegetables grown for use on the farms.

When it comes to milk cows, however, Pitt County is dangerously close to the bottom of the list. In the United States there is an average of one milk cow for every five persons, and in North Carolina there is an average of one milk cow for every 10 persons, but in Pitt County there is only one milk cow for every 34.5 persons.

From the health standpoint alone, disregarding the additional revenue more cows would bring to the county, there should be at least one milk cow for every farm family in Pitt County.

CARRYING COLLEGE SPIRIT TOO FAR

When "peace envoys" of East Carolina Teachers College and Atlantic Christian College have to confer in an attempt to prevent further property damage on the campuses of the two schools, expressions of "school spirit" and enthusiasm over a football game between the rival schools have gone too far.

Reports say that four weeks ago A. C. C. students began painting signs on the E. C. T. C. campus and simultaneously E. C. T. C. students were doing the same thing on the A. C. C. campus—all in preparation for the football game between the two schools here tomorrow night.

When E. C. T. C. was begun in 1907, Greenville and Pitt County gave $100,000 to the college, and since that time have taken pride in supporting the college and feeling that the college, in part at least, belongs to the people of this area.

Greenville, however, does not take pride in claiming as its citizens, even for part of the year, persons who devote time to defacing and damaging school property in neighboring towns.

Perhaps some East Carolina students felt they were showing their school spirit and supporting their football team by defacing property at Atlantic Christian College, but the time could have been used much more advantageously by advertising tomorrow night's ball game in Greenville, Wilson and other near-by towns.

Around Capitol Square

INAUGURAL — An undercover scrap over sponsorship of the 1949 inaugural ball has been settled. The Raleigh Junior League and Raleigh Post of the American Legion will jointly sponsor the affair—and divide the proceeds. For many years the inaugural ball had been handled by the Junior League but that organization did not care to undertake it during the war time inauguration of 1945. The American Legion stepped in, offered to do the job and netted about $2,500 for its veterans' aid fund.

RIVALRY — Both organizations wanted the honor—and revenue—of sponsoring the 1949 affair, and each claimed the right by reason of past record. Anticipated profits this year run to around $5,000, which will be divided between the League and the Legion for their charitable work. There is still some rivalry between the agencies over such points as whether to get a big name orchestra or less famed band for lower cost.

DATE—Date of the inauguration has not been fixed, but it will probably be Thursday or Friday, January 6 or 7. The reception at the mansion and the ball at the auditorium are customarily held the same night. Exact date, together with personnel of the arrangements committee from the general assembly and the city of Raleigh are expected to be decided upon within a few days.

"THE STATE"—The quadrennial inauguration ceremonies bring together all the component parts of that intangible entity which is "The State of North Carolina." On no other occasion do all members of the general assembly in joint session, all elective state officers from governor down and all members of the state supreme court assemble in one room. They compose the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the state government, in which are vested all the authority and power of "The State."

CATASTROPHE — It affords interesting speculation to think about what would happen if some catastrophe should destroy or swallow up the building and kill all its occupants. There would be no state government left. The constitution would become a worthless document, for it provides for no such contingency. There would be no person or group with authority to call a convention to form a new government, or to make laws.

VACANCIES — The constitution provides for the general assembly to fill vacancies occurring in the executive office in case of disability of both governor and lieutenant governor. If the assembly is not in session, the secretary of state is empowered to call the senate into special session for the purpose of naming a president who would take over as governor. But in the possible, but entirely improbable situation imagined, there would be no general assembly to meet and no secretary of state to call it. And there wouldn't be a governor to issue a writ of election to obtain a new legislature.

SUGGESTIONS — Many suggestions have been offered for solution of the problem, if it should arise. Most likely would be a presidential proclamation designating the U. S. army to maintain order while a new government was being formed. Meantime, the several superior court judges who would have survived the catastrophe by reason of not being present, and who would be the only persons whom the people of the entire state had elected to office, would call a convention to make a new start. They wouldn't

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE KADE
Washington — Some plain and fancy luggage of various makes is taking a beating at the Bureau of Standards. A machine claps the handle and raises loaded suitcases 37 times per minute—each piece about 25,000 times.

Then there's a kind of divided table from which bags are dropped—on faces, edges and corners—from heights of 1-1/2 to five feet, 26 falls from each of eight heights. In addition, weights of 150 pounds are put on each piece of luggage for five minutes periods, over and over again.

As if that weren't enough punishment, there's a vicious gadget with a mechanical arm that punches the top and side panels. All of this is done for scientific reasons, mostly to measure the durability of luggage now on the market.

Railways, bus lines and airlines are faced with claims for loss and damage to luggage amounting to $1,250,000 a year and they want to do something about it. So they are cooperating with the bureau in these tests.

"It is encouraging to find that certain relatively simple improvements in baggage construction give promise of large reductions in loss and inconvenience experienced by many travelers," a spokesman at the bureau explained. Public demand for light-weight luggage has intensified the problems. Designed for light duty, some of these bags fail to withstand the shocks to which they may be exposed in regular baggage checking service.

In an effort to get at the roots of the problem, a survey in baggage rooms in 10 cities was requested by American Association of Baggage Traffic Managers, the National Bus

Many Eastern Schools In Vocal Clinic Here Nov. 20

Directors and teachers of music and pupils from a number of high schools in the eastern counties of the state will gather on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College Saturday of this week for a vocal clinic. Arranged in response to popular demand, the clinic is the first of its kind to be held at the college.

Among schools represented will be those in Edenton, Ayden, Elm City, Farmville, Greenville, New Bern, Painsboro, and Rocky Mount. Dan E. Vornholt of the college, chairman of the event, has announced that acceptances to attend are still being received.

The program for the day will be a demonstration of how to teach choral music and will place emphasis upon the solution of vocal problems. Prof. Paul Young of the University of North Carolina will direct types of vocal groups made up of pupils from the schools represented.

Demonstrations by singing groups of East Carolina Teachers College will be a special feature of the day. The Women's Chorus, directed by Vornholt, and the College Choir of mixed voices, directed by Dr. Karl V. Gilbert, will participate in the program. A discussion meeting for teachers will be held in the afternoon.

Events of the day will begin with registration in the Austin building at 8:45 and a morning program at 9:15. Luncheon will be served in the college cafeteria at 12:30. The afternoon program and conference for teachers will start at 2:00 o'clock.

New England Has Good Leaf Crop

Boston, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Connecticut valley tobacco crop was estimated today at 35,263,000 pounds, one percent under last year but 13 percent above average, the New England Crop Reporting Service said today.

The service added: "Most growers report that tobacco has cured well and that quality generally is very good."

The Hungarian partridge is native to central Europe. It was imported to this country about 50 years ago, and is an ideal game bird because it is able to withstand droughts and severe winters.

Today's Tobacco Ancestor Grown

Tucuman, Argentina.—(AP)—A plant which died thousands of years ago has been recreated and is growing happily in California. It is the grandfather of all tobacco plants, even though it would be a considerable disappointment if you tried to smoke it. The story of how it was created anew is a sidelight on how modern botany works.

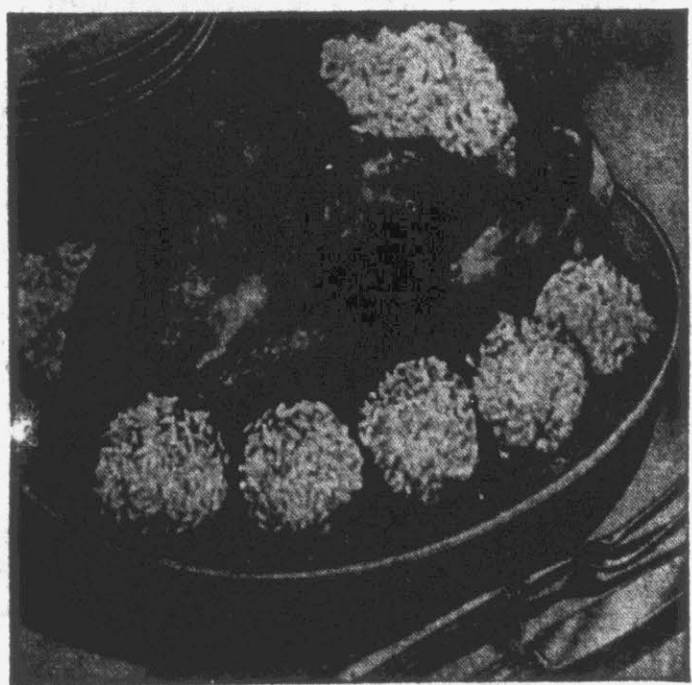

Dr. Thomas H. Goodspeed of the Berkeley Botanical Garden is responsible for the recreation of the plant. He told about its birth during a visit to the South American Botanical Congress here. Tobacco was originally a hybrid between two entirely different plants. Under some unusual condition back before history began, they were cross fertilized and produced a new plant which continued as a new type. The new plant gradually changed and ultimately became modern tobacco. The parent plants also continued to exist and their modern descendants still grow near each other here in northwest Argentina.

Dr. Goodspeed discovered one of the parents many years ago during an exploring trip in this area. In 1942, during another trip, he found the other parent. Back in California, he crossed the two plants.

Farmers Admit Milk Watered

Winston-Salem, N.C., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Two Forsyth County dairy farmers have signed statements admitting that they adulterated milk they were selling to a Winston-Salem pasteurizing plant by adding water, Harold E. Parker, chief sanitary inspector of the City-County Health Department, said today.

He said warrants against the two men, W. E. Reid and Herman Allgood, both of whom live north of Clemmons, have been obtained by the Health Department for violation of the health code.

Riceland Rice Chicken Dressing Best for Turkey, Too

Best Chicken Dressing Is Made With Riceland Rice

Once your family tastes this wonderful Riceland Rice dressing with baked chicken, turkey or duck, they'll never again be satisfied with ordinary bread dressing. Riceland Rice dressing has quality and texture which ordinary stuffings sadly lack. It's extra delicious and easily digestible.

Riceland Rice Cornmeal Dressing

2 cups cooked Riceland Rice
1 quart cornbread crumbs
6 soda crackers rolled into crumbs or about 1/2 cup
1 large onion, chopped fine
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 heaping tablespoon butter or margarine
1 pint of stock from the chicken or turkey
3 raw eggs

Mix all the ingredients together. Stuff the chicken or turkey before baking. Any dressing that is left over can be made into balls or patties and cooked in the oven to brown. A little of the dressing, uncooked, makes a good thickening for the gravy.

Always use Riceland Rice in making rice dressing. It's the world's most delicious rice and it's quick and easy to cook. Here's how:

To cook Riceland Rice: Put 2 cups of Riceland Rice, 2 teaspoons of salt and 4 cups of cold water in a large saucepan and cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more, during which time the water will be absorbed, making the rice deliciously tender. Remove the lid, permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Always use Riceland Rice for best results.

The kind of cornbread makes a big difference in the dressing, too, so we give you a recipe to make it quite right:

To make cornbread for Riceland Rice Cornmeal Dressing: Two cups cornmeal; two eggs; one teaspoon shortening; one and one half cups water; one-fourth cup flour; one-half teaspoon salt; one-half teaspoon baking powder; one-half teaspoon soda; three-fourths cup sour milk or buttermilk.

Mix flour and cornmeal together. Add baking powder, soda and salt. Mix well. Add water, sour milk and beat in eggs. Add shortening.

Pour into a greased shallow pan about 8 x 8 and bake in a 400 degree oven until firm and brown. Cool and crumble up for Riceland Rice Cornmeal Dressing.

Riceland Rice Is Easy To Cook! Tender! Fluffy!

To get the best results with this recipe and all rice recipes, be sure to use Riceland Rice. It's the world's most delicious rice—grown in the heart of the quality rice belt of America. Only the choice, perfect-cooking rice grains are packed in Riceland packages.

This quality rice is quick and easy to cook. Riceland Rice cooks deliciously tender with white, fluffy, individual grains.

Most grocers now feature this better-cooking, wonderfully-delicious, packaged rice—and at economical prices, too! Riceland Rice costs only one-cent a serving.

Capital Statues Being Scrubbed And Cleaned Up

By JANE EADS
Washington — The mighty characters of history who are immortalized in marble and bronze in the nation's capital are getting a good scrubbing—even behind the ears—and having their under-pinnings strengthened.

Each of the past two years Congress has given the National Park Service, which maintains statues and monuments in addition to parks, $10,000 to clean up and rehabilitate the city's 70-odd pieces, be-grimed and teetering on weather-worn pedestals after the neglect of war years.

Plain soap and water is used to wash the statues. Some of the bases are being steam-cleaned. The Park Service was advised by experts not to make the statues too polished or shiny looking. The patina, especially on bronze statues gets better with the passing of years and is better left alone.

Biggest job has been the repainting of the masonry. Adm. Farragut was in a precarious condition. T. S. Jett, historian, of National Capital Parks, a division of the Park Service, said. There were wide cracks in the red sandstone blocks at the base of his statue which had to be repaired. The statue of Gen. Sheridan Circle was also in bad shape.

RECOVERY EXHIBIT—Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi (right) and James C. Dunn, U.S. Ambassador to Italy (pointing), look over model of a housing project at an exhibit explaining European Recovery Program at Colonna Gallery in Rome.

of the figures is another part of the job, under the direction of Lee Lawrie, sculpture member of the Fine Arts Commission. New arms and fingers had to be grafted on the cherubs and children in the Peace Monument on Pennsylvania Avenue. Reins had to be put back on the horses on the Grant Monument near the foot of the Capitol.

Most famous perhaps of all statues in Washington is that of Gen. U. S. Grant, second largest equestrian statue in the world. It is exceeded by a matter of inches only by the monument of King Victor Emmanuel in Rome. The weight of General Grant and horse, both of bronze, is 10,000 pounds, or more than five tons. The supporting panels, showing cavalry since its dedication on April 27, 1922, the 100th anniversary of Grant's birth. Congress appropriated $250,000 for it, though most statues and monuments are given by patriotic organizations or private groups.

Find Dissenter To Age Of Speed

Petersfield, England, Nov. 18 — (AP)—The age of speed has a dogmatic dissenter in former army officer Raymond Francis Bald.

Hailed into court for pulling an emergency stop cord on a train travelling 60 miles an hour, he paid 10 pounds six shillings (4) in fines and court costs and declared: "I have written to the railway saying I will pull all trains up when they are going too fast."

Prague Is Erasing Tito's Name In City

Prague — (AP)—Another monument to Marshall Tito has disappeared here. The name of Marshall Tito

College has been changed to the College of Jan Comenius, the noted Bohemian scholar. Recently the name of Marshall Tito was removed from a heavy industry factory near Prague and its prewar company name of Kolben-Danek was restored.

Prague Has New 'Dollar Market'

Prague — Czechoslovaks with friends and relatives in America or other hard currency countries will be able to buy rationed goods freely here if their friends or relatives open up their purses. For dollars or other money transferred here from abroad, they will be able to buy first quality textiles, leather goods, electric refrigerators, motorcycles and Czechoslovak motor cars at a shop called "Darex," set up by nationalized commerce corporation.

Japs Pay Honor To GI Rescuer

Sendai, Japan, Nov. 18 — (AP)—Private Forte saved the lives of four Japanese miners buried in a cave in for 13 days.

Their families and friends had given them up for dead. But not Private Forte. He was once a miner, himself.

He kept digging doggedly. And he kept a crew of Japanese digging down through a 100 foot high hill, to reach the imprisoned men.

They were dragged alive from their dank, dark prison today. All were exhausted and were rushed to an emergency hospital set up in a tent at the mine's mouth.

Doctors said they would live. When the cave was opened the miners were near an underground fresh water spring. The water and 10 pebble sized pieces of candy one of them had in his pocket kept them alive.

The Japanese, who admire courage and know-how, bowed low today to Private Forte.

New Cabinet For Greece Sworn In

Athens, Nov. 18 — (AP)—A new Coalition government of Populists and Liberals was sworn in today to replace a similar cabinet combination which resigned six days ago under the fire of dissident Liberals.

The cabinet again is headed by 58-year-old Premier Themistokles Sophoulis, leader of the Liberals. Populist (Royalist) leader Constantinos Tassiaris also retains the posts of Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister.

The Liberals took over the key position of Minister of war, which formerly had been filled by Populist George Stratos. Constantine Rentis, former Minister of Public Order, was given the job, with a Populist under-secretary.

Several former ministers took over new posts in a reshuffle aimed at strengthening the prosecution of the war against the Communist rebels. Criticism of the conduct of the war was one of the reasons for the fall of the old Coalition government six days ago.

Soldiers Aiding Kids In Vienna

Vienna — (AP)—American soldiers in Vienna have already made their plans to insure Viennese children a Merry Christmas. The soldiers have scheduled six events by which they hope to raise enough money to increase the number of children's parties they have been giving every Christmas since they entered the city in 1945.

The events include two theatrical performances, a football game, boxing match, car raffle and a radio request program.

Talked At By Wild Parrots

Sydney, Australia — (AP)—A man in South Australia is greeted with "Hullo Cockie!" by large numbers of wild cockatoos wherever he goes in his district. He is Mr. H. L. Castina, caretaker of a closed-down mine at Evenstoun. With no neighbours within 100 miles, Mr. Castina has made friends with the birds.

For a number of years he captured young cockatoos, a species of rose-breasted cockatoos, kept them for a time, taught them to talk, and then released them. They, in turn, have "taught" their wild companions.

'Loneliest Isle' To Get Chaplain

London — (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. David Ingles Luard, who first met on the remote South Atlantic island of Tristan da Cunha, are going back to live in the place sometimes called 'the loneliest spot in the world.'

The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel here is sending Luard as church of England chaplain to the British-owned island, about midway between Capetown and Buenos Aires.

Achievement Day Program For 4-H Clubs On Friday

Annual achievement day for some 600 Pitt County 4-H club members will be held at the Greenville armory Friday night at 7:30. Prizes and awards will be presented to the winners in the 30 farm projects and contests which were carried during the year.

Veering away from the precedent set in previous achievement day programs, the principal speakers tomorrow night will be leaders in the 4-H groups of the county. Edna H. Latham of the Grimsland club, Hazel Garris of the Farmville club and Bruce Harris of the Child club will make short talks to the club members and their parents present at the meeting. Jean Moore of Farmville, president of the Pitt County 4-H council, will preside.

W. H. Pruden, assistant county agent, and Miss Marjorie Shearin, assistant home demonstration agent, will present the medals and awards to the winners in each division and will award certificates to club members who have completed the year's projects. Membership certificates ranging from one to seven years will be given to club members.

Polio Foundation Finances Drained

New York, Nov. 18 — (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported today a critical period financially, for the first time in its eleven years.

Beall O'Connor, president of the foundation, said last night the condition was caused by heavy drains on its treasury by polio epidemics this year.

Costs of care of victims this year alone will be $14,000,000, he told 100 delegates to the fourth annual conference of Women State Advisers of the organization. The foundation spends large sums on research as well as care of victims.

The 1948 March of Dimes collection amounted to more than $18,000,000, but much more will be needed next year, the delegate were told.

The Wonder Drugs

Nearly every day you hear people talking about the "Wonder Drugs" — Penicillin, Streptomycin, and the Sulfonamides. These drugs have truly worked miracles in recent years since their discovery. In spite of the fact, however, that many cures have been wrought with these drugs they are far from cure-alls. These drugs should always be used only under a doctor's supervision, which the law requires. When your doctor prescribes one of the "Wonder Drugs" for you, bring your prescription to BISSETTE'S for accurate and dependable compounding.

A Bishop Looks At Youth

By BETTIE ANNE YOUNG
I felt a gentle hand on my shoulder and looked up into the kindest eyes I have ever seen. That was my first impression of Bishop W. W. Peele, one of the most Christ-like personages I have ever met.

The Bishop mellowed by time and Christian living, guided me graciously into a small anteroom as if I were one especially distinguished visitor. Later I was to learn that he left the State Methodist conference only once during the entire season, to give me, a high school reporter, an interview. Can it be denied that the truly big people are greatly concerned with the small.

My primary purpose in interviewing Bishop Peele was to learn what attitude he believes youths to have toward religion.

His answer to this question attested to his faith in youth. He stated that he believes young people have an attitude of sincerity, gentleness, and eagerness to discover life's ultimate centralities. They have no interest in superficialities, and they despise hypocrisy.

According to Bishop Peele youth seeks Christ because it sees in him the one example of sincerity—one who lived honestly according to his principles.

There was a twinkle in the kind man's eyes as he admitted that young persons do not always follow the path of right, but he added that they usually get back on the right path. To do this, they need the guidance and understanding of others.

Bishop Peele brought out that young people are not so quick to condemn as "outdated" the judgment of the old, as people often think. He said determinedly that youth will accept wise judgment from anyone it believes sincere.

The only fault he seemed to find with the present generation were that they aren't students of the Bible and that they seem to be influenced too much by public opinion. Although he expressed understanding of both weaknesses, he emphasized the worth of the Bible as the one way of life—the revelation of God.

In giving his opinion of youth's conception of security, Bishop Peele's eyes seemed filled with the wisdom of the ages. He smiled at me as if to wonder at my asking the question about which controversy has raged for centuries.

"Yes," he said, "I believe perhaps they put too much emphasis on economic security.

"I believe it is necessary to have immediate economic security, but it is after all not the final security for eternity."

Time had flown with the wings of birds, but I went out of the interview with satisfaction. I left the kindly old man, perhaps never to meet him again, but I had gained through that encounter a permanent inspiration to take up the challenge of his message to youth.

Tsingtao Rumors Keynote Crises

Tsingtao, China.—(P)—For a city cut off from the landward side by a Chinese Communist iron curtain, life goes on with remarkable order and placidity in this base for the U. S. Navy. There are always rumors that the Reds will attack, drive the big government garrison into the sea, and force some sort of a showdown with the U. S. Navy. But they are just rumors.

Gen. Wang Chi, American-educated deputy garrison commander who was a liaison officer with General MacArthur during the war, says the government can and will hold Tsingtao. The government has a lot of strength here, including a division trained on Formosa under American guidance.

Wang says the government wants to strike out from here against the Communists, but there isn't enough equipment to go on the offensive. Wang wants enough to equip two divisions and until that is available he insists it is too risky to try to move out against the enemy.

The U. S. Navy has its rumors here too. The current one is that the Navy is going to pull out. This is denied from top to bottom but if it wanted to sacrifice its limited shore installations, the Navy could pick up and steam out of Tsingtao within a few hours.

Poland Counts Aid From UNRRA

Warsaw.—(P)—The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration shipped a total of 135,363 horses to Poland from 1945 through 1948. The newspaper "Gazeta Ludowa," compiling UNRRA aid—the last of which recently reached Polish ports—said Poland also received 10,000 head of cattle and 272 pigs for breeding. In addition, UNRRA delivered 3,358 horses and 615 head of cattle donated by American Poles and church societies.

Woman Held As Bandit-Teacher

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—A 30-year old Springfield woman, described by police detectives as a teacher of robbery techniques to three youths, is in jail on three charges in connection with their brief crime spree.

Detective Sgt. Charles Marley and James Ippolito said Mrs. Florence Moomaw was arrested last night and charged with armed robbery, attempted robbery, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The three youths, in signed statements, admitted one robbery and an attempted robbery. They also are in jail and are charged with robbery and an attempted armed robbery.

Mrs. Moomaw, in the presence of police and assistant state's attorney Keith E. Dressendorfer, signed a statement relating her connection with the three youths.

Police said Mrs. Moomaw's statement disclosed that two young unidentified girls who live at her home—one 11 and one 14—had lured the three youths to her home. She instructed them in procedure in staging robberies, escapes and disposal of loot. She told them to rob women.

Curtis Lee Wins 4-H Prize With Tobacco Project

Raleigh, Nov. 18 —(AP)—Winners in five 4-H club field crop projects were announced today by L. R. Harrill, state 4-H club leader. Harrill said the winners would receive free trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

The winners are: cotton, Lucille Hampton, 17, of Rutherfordton, route 2, 1,353 pounds to the acre; corn, Linwood T. Mize, Jr., of Granville county, 142 bushels per acre; sweet potatoes, Bill Herbert, Nash county, 360 bushels per acre; peanuts, James Davenport, Jr., Tyrrell county, 2,744 pounds per acre; tobacco, Curtis Lee, Pitt county, 2,356 pounds per acre.

TRAINS HIS HOBBY—Frank Palmer of Santa Ana, Calif., stands at control panel which operates trains of his miniature railroad system. He built more than half the system from inexpensive materials, working from blue prints supplied by railroads for duplicating their equipment. Many scale miles of track were used to make a complex pattern around model cities, through tunnels, over bridges and into a railway round house yard complete with turntable. Palmer can control five or six trains running simultaneously.

Car And Garage For Each House

Washington—(AP)—In his 1928 presidential campaign, Herbert Hoover envisioned two cars in every garage. But it remained for Perry Brothers, prominent Washington builders, twenty years later, to offer a car and garage with every house.

Arnold Perry, head of the capital firm, says this offering is "no campaign promise." He actually furnishes a brand new Crosley station wagon, valued at $1,077, with each of his new houses in suburban Bethesda, Md., he reports, he is doing a landoffice business—"with Republicans and Democrats alike."

"Buy a house with a car as standard equipment" is the Perry slogan. "Some builders put in deep-freeze units, or television sets, as inducements to buy. Why not a car in every garage?"

Firemen Saved Fish And House

Collectors Push Value Up On Schacht Money

Determination Will Decide Friday's Tilt Claims Coach

It Just Depends On Who Wants Most To Win Says Johnson As Pirates Hustle For Atlantic Christian Contest

By EUGENE PRICE

The team most determined to win will take the Bo-Hunk trophy when the Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian College and the Buccaneers of East Carolina tangle in Greenville Friday night, according to Head Coach Big Jim Johnson of ECTC.

"There isn't enough difference in the calibre of the two clubs to make any difference," he declared Wednesday night after he wound up his third day of secret practices at ECTC. "It just depends on who wants most to win," he told his team.

Johnson announced that the Pirates were looking "mighty good" for the contest. In practice this week they have shown "much improvement against the AC spread and single wing," according to Johnson.

"My boys are showing a lot of hustle and will give AC a hard time of it," the ECTC mentor asserted.

But the Pirate camp was not without its worries. Regular Center Joe Pollini was in light gear as a result of a knee injury received in last week's game with High Point. It is problematical as to whether he will be able to play Friday.

Pete Prominski, reserve center, will start the AC game, Johnson announced. He said Pollini may see some limited action.

The Pirates will continue their secret drills the rest of this week. They are expected to spring some new plays on AC and aren't taking any chances of letting the cat out of the bag.

They will hold their final drill of the season Thursday afternoon.

Ike Williams In Exhibition Bout

Philadelphia, Nov. 18—(AP)—Ike Williams, the lightweight champion who apparently thrives on action, tonight will take on his second non-title opponent in ten days.

The opposition will be Billy Wilson, Philadelphia welterweight, an eight-round over-the-weight match at the Met.

Williams, who fights out of Philadelphia, although a resident of Trenton, N. J., scored a one-round technical knockout over Buddy Garcia on Nov. 8.

Philadelphia Is Eying Bednarik

Philadelphia, Nov. 18—(AP)—Charles (Chuck) Bednarik, University of Pennsylvania All-American center, stands a good chance of playing before Philadelphia football crowds after his graduation.

The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League—who have had their eagle eye on Bednarik for some time—announced yesterday they had won the NFL's special bonus player draw.

Pirate Starter

Pete Prominski, reserve center of the East Carolina Teachers College Pirates football eleven, will start at the top-heavy slot for the locals when they engage the Bulldogs of AC here Friday night. Prominski replaces Joe Pollini, regular center, who injured a leg in the High Point game last week.

New Tournaments In Pro Golfers' Winter Schedule

Chicago, Nov. 18—(AP)—Two new tournaments have been added to the winter schedule of the Professional Golfers' Association 1944 winter schedule.

George S. Sneider, PGA tournament chairman, announced yesterday that the Long Beach, Calif., Open Invitational, carrying $10,000 in prize money, will be held over the Lakewood Country Club, Jan. 20-23. Another tournament added to the winter circuit is the La Gorge pro-amateur one-day affair at Miami's La Gorge Country Club on March 14. No prize money has yet been announced for the event.

The $10,000 Charlotte, N.C., and Richmond, Calif., Opens which were held in 1942 do not appear on the 1944 winter schedule, Sneider said.

Jinx Confronts Indians Saturday

Williamsburg, Va., Nov. 18—(AP)—William and Mary's Indians face one of the worst jinxes in the school's football history Saturday when North Carolina State's Wolfpack appear in Cary Stadium here. Five previous times the Indians have battled the Wolfpack on the gridiron. And five previous times the Wolfpack has massacred the Tribes.

Loyola Boom For Coach Tom Lieb

Los Angeles, Nov. 18—(AP)—Loyola University officials are under telephone barrage from alumni and other backers of Tom Lieb, urging the re-hiring of the former Lion head man. Lieb, who coached Loyola from 1931 to 1936, has been assistant at Alabama in recent years.

Basketball Team At ECTC Looks Better Than '47

The Pirate Cagers of East Carolina Teachers college are giving Coach Howard Porter a hard way to go in trying to decide what his basketball team will do in North State conference play this season.

"Some days we look good; some days we look bad . . . very bad," Porter said this week. "Yesterday for instance, we were hot. We just couldn't miss the basket," he related. "But today, anybody could have beaten us."

Porter is expecting his North State competition to be 15 points better this season than last. He regards his ECTC squad as "may be 10 points better than last year . . . if we're on." "We're going to do our best to fool the opposition," he said.

The basketball outlook for East Carolina, however, is regarded as good by local observers. Charlie Bill Moore, who ranked with the best forwards in the North State loop last year, will be among those leading the Buccaneers, who also boast the services of six feet six inch Jack Everton.

Ben Harrison, Len Bauer and Bob Shuford are currently leading the parade for other starting berths with the Bucs. Harrison and Bauer both saw action with the varsity last season. Shuford was an outstanding intramural cage man. He is especially effective as an offensive guard.

Collie, Pennell, Davis and Perkins are among the newcomers making strong bids for berths with the Bucs this year.

The ECTC basketball squad will open its season November 30 when it plays host to the Norfolk Naval cagers in a game here.

Billy Conn Says Savannah Fiasco Not His Fault

Oklahoma City, Nov. 18—(AP)—Billy Conn, who wants another crack—his third—at Joe Louis' heavyweight crown, says his misunderstanding with the Savannah, Ga., boxing commission was just "an unfortunate mix-up."

The commission sought Tuesday to have the Pittsburgh boxer suspended from the ring on grounds that he defaulted on a verbal contract to fight Whitey Berlier of New Orleans.

Conn says he wasn't even consulted about the bout and didn't sign any kind of agreement.

Conn started out on a comeback jump Monday by winning a ninth-round technical knockout over Mike O'Dowd at Macon, Ga.

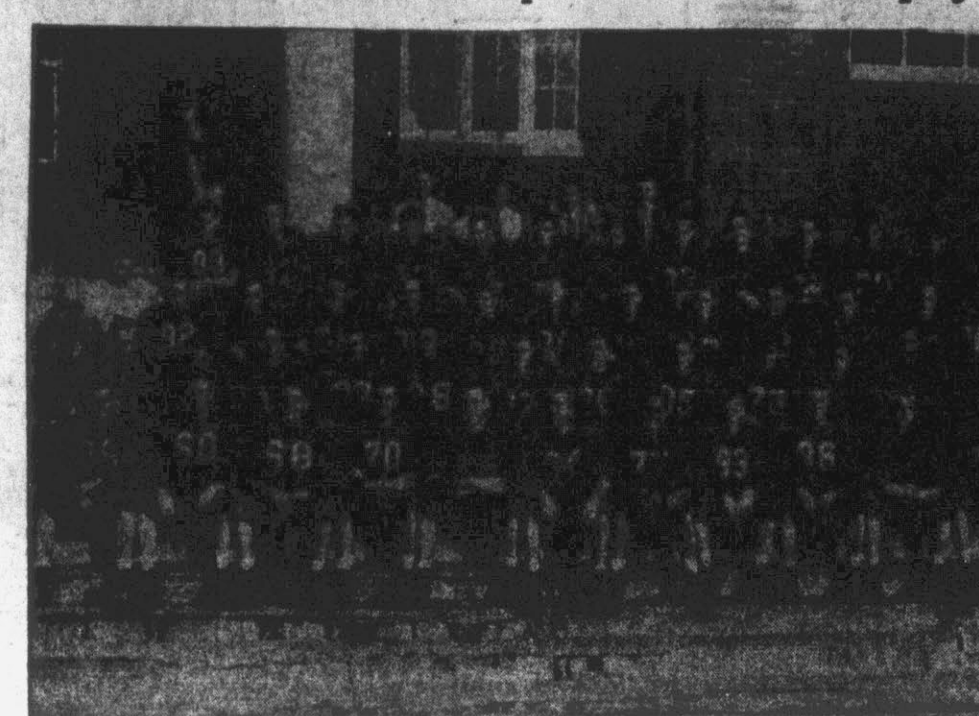

Future Varsity Stars Previewed

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 18—(AP)—Some of the varsity stars of next year will be on preview tonight when the freshman football teams of West Virginia and Maryland play in the Fort Hill Stadium.

Both first year squads go into the tilt with winning records. Coach Bill Meek's eleven has won three out of four and West Virginia four out of six.

The Basketball Association of America has set up a $70,000 pool for the post-season championship play-offs.

Determined To Keep The Bo-Hunk Trophy

The Buccaneers of East Carolina Teachers College who play host to the Atlantic Christian Bulldogs in the North State football classic of the year at Guy Smith stadium Friday night. The Bucs carried their practices into secret sessions this week as they worked out new plays to spring on their age-old rivals from AC. The loser of the Friday night tilt will become the bottom team of the North State Conference.

Gridiron Gossip

By "BOO BOO" BUTLER

The Pirates had a short scrimmage session yesterday to see how the new plays looked under combat. Not only did the plays work but Coach Johnson and Coach Boone saw the best offensive blocking they have seen this year. Outstanding was Center Pete Prominski who stepped into the first string pivot spot when Joe Pollini got hurt. On several occasions yesterday afternoon Prominski blocked two men at a time. He said earlier in the week that we knew "Pete" was capable, yesterday he proved himself both on offense and defense.

Just in case anything happens to Pete Prominski Friday night (the only center the Pirates have at this time) Coach Johnson is working Quarterback Frans Holscher at the pivot slot. Holscher played center in high school. Weighing in at only 162 pounds and standing only at 5' 6" Holscher is one of the toughest men on the squad. We hope, Mr. Holscher, you do not get a chance Friday night at the center post. You are needed in your regular quarterback slot.

Warren Everett, 185-lb. fresh tackle from Bath, has been showing up pretty good in the Pirates' forward wall the last week. Yesterday afternoon Everett displayed some of the best down field blocking we have seen in many a moon. Everett wants to play in the AC game more than anything else. He said, and I quote, "All I want is one quick at those 'Bulldogs.' I'm sure, Mr. Everett, Coach Johnson will give you a chance."

Yesterday morning, headed by the athletic director of AC, a delegation came over to ECTC to see Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, director of athletics at ECTC, about the way he was going to handle the AC and ECTC fans for Friday's game. The "Dean" at AC said that if a visitor came on the campus of AC that they would think it was ECTC from all the signs around the place. He said he called his boys together and told them if they got into any trouble it would be a shipping offense.

Dr. Marshall, dean of men at ECTC, called a joint meeting of the boys at ECTC and told them the same thing. Dr. Jorgensen said that the ECTC students would be one one side of the field and AC students on the other.

Lee Spears of Catawba and Hermon Bryson of Appalachian are the only two North Carolinians to reach the century mark in total points scored in one year. In the North State Conference record book

Battle Of Forward Walls Seen In Duke-UNC Tilt

Richmond, Va., Nov. 18—(AP)—Saturday's football game at Chapel Hill between North Carolina's Tar Heels and Duke's Blue Devils may turn out to be a battle of forward walls.

Coach Carl Snavely let it be known today his Tar Heels expect Duke's line to be the strongest they have faced all season. Snavely took his squad behind closed gates to perfect his plans and told the Tar Heels about Al Derogatis, Louis Allen and Bill Davis, three bruisers in Duke's front wall.

At Duke, Coach Wallace Wade has every respect for the Tar Heel line which has yielded only 57 first downs and 648 yards rushing in eight contests.

Wade was concerned considerably today about his backfield also. Tommy Hughes, the Blue Devils' star wingback, may miss the classic because of a knee injury received two weeks ago.

This will be the thirty-third renewal of the Duke-North Carolina series. North Carolina has won 15, lost 14 and three tilts have ended in ties. Duke would like nothing better than to even the series.

Defense came in for more than usual attention at North Carolina State yesterday as the Wolfpack prepared for its invasion Saturday of Williamsburg, Va., where it battles William and Mary. This is the only other Southern conference game on this week's schedule.

State Coach Beattie Feathers warned his team of William and Mary's ground attack. Feathers said Guard Ralph Burnett and Wingback Gordon Goodman may miss the fray because of leg injuries.

There's only room for the high scorer. I think on this occasion they should make room for the two top scorers.

What is the average weight of the Pirates' first string? I'll let you figure it out. Name, position, weight, height and home town, in order.

Bivins A Tough Foe Says Louis

Cleveland, Nov. 18—(AP)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis labels Jimmy Bivins the toughest opponent he has faced so far on his exhibition tour.

"I don't know why he shouldn't be a contender if he gets serious about his training," Louis said in his dressing room last night after engaging in a six-round no-decision affair with the Cleveland Negro.

"He threw two good right hand punches and I knew I was hit, but they weren't hard enough to bother me," the champion added. "Any-one who fights him has to be very careful."

With both fighters using 12-ounce gloves instead of the regulation eight Bivins opened a cut above Louis' eye in the second round. Joe received the wound originally Nov. 8 when he accidentally bumped heads with Johnny Shkor in an exhibition at Boston.

The cut bled only slightly, but Bivins opened it up again in the fourth. Bivins did most of the leading, while Louis opened up only sporadically. He almost dropped Bivins with a right in the second when the two were in a neutral corner.

The champion jabbed most of the time and seemed content to take it easy, but opened up suddenly at one point in the fifth and drove Bivins to cover with a flurry of rights and lefts.

Big Bear Defied Hunter's Bullets

Grand Junction, Colo.—(AP)—Frank Bernard came back from a deer hunting trip with a tall bear story—and the bear to prove it. The bruin he'd shot weighed 650 pounds and was seven feet long.

Bernard said the big animal was only 30 feet away when he fired his first shot, the bullet striking the bear in the nose. The bear charged paying no attention to a second bullet drilling into its side. Another hunter then shot the bear in the foot, turning it to one side, and Bernard's third shot broke its leg, ending its enraged rush.

Collegiate Boxing Hopefuls Start Training For Team

Nat'l Guard Will Have Entry For Basketball Loop

A basketball team from the local National Guard unit will represent Greenville in the newly formed Tobacco Belt Basketball conference, it was learned here last night.

Games in the six-team conference are scheduled to get underway Nov. 28. It was reported that the season would run through March fifth and that a tournament would be held the following week. Efforts to get a complete list of the teams in the new league were to no avail last night. Complete information on the new league will be released in the Daily Reflector as soon as it is available.

The National Guard team here, which has been practicing for two weeks, will play a scrimmage game in the local armory tonight with the Winterville Independent, reportedly a member of the new conference.

Among the candidates for the local quintet are Marvin Parsons, Eddie Earl Parker, William McLane, horn, Cletis Jackson, James Comart, Eugene Smith, Roland Velllette, Mahlon Tucker, John Fleming and Norman Harris.

Jackson is acting team manager. There will be no admission charged for tonight's scrimmage game, it was reported.

From Oct. 24, 1937 until Oct. 8, 1944, the Washington Redskins won 11 straight games from the Philadelphia Eagles.

Some 20 aspiring pugilists of East Carolina Teachers college have begun working out in the Wright building gymnasium in hopes of making the ECTC inter-collegiate boxing team which will officially get underway in the winter quarter which begins after Thanksgiving.

Johnny Long, professional fighter with 35 wins in 36 pro matches, will assist Coach Jim Johnson, former ECTC boxer of note, in instructing the boxing team.

Long announced this week that a number of the boys planning to go out for the ECTC pugilist team have seen considerable action in the ring.

At least two of the boxing team hopefuls racked up enviable records prior to coming to East Carolina. Donald Denny, a lightweight, topped the Washington, D. C. Burlington, and Greensboro Golden Gloves championships. Denny is reportedly a knockout specialist and according to Long looks "mighty good."

Redwine David, middleweight, fought while in the Navy and was a member of the Whitesville High school team which won the State championship before the war.

Among the others who are rounding in shape in hopes of making the team are Jack Grey, middleweight; Al Lee, welterweight; Harvey Stull, featherweight; Jack Gertins, welterweight; Cleon Smith, featherweight; Joseph Muslewite, lightweight; Bill Innes, Marshall Barnes, Bob Whitle, Sam Fisher, Robert Swain, Charles Edwards, Buck Hanel, welterweight, and Sam Winfield, lightweight.

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, director of athletics at ECTC, said negotiations are being made with a number of colleges for matches.

Navy basketball teams have won 26 games and lost eight since war. Carnevale took over the coaching job before the 1946-47 campaign.

Badly Battered Phantoms To End Season Nov 19

A battered, bruised and injury-ridden Greenville High School Phantom football squad will close out its 1948 gridiron season Friday night when they invade a highly favored Washington Pam Pack eleven at Klinger field in Washington.

The battered Greenville squad will journey to Washington in the worst shape of the season, according to Coach Mo Farley who last night reported that both first-string guards were sidelined for the game and most of the team shaken up as a result of recent contests.

Bobby Fleming, Greenville's guard standout all season and powerful contender for All-State honors, is out of action because of a recent operation. Ben Robinson, the Phantom's other starting guard, may not be able to play because of a nose injury. Joe Allgood is an crutched as a result of a thigh injury.

The Farley men staged their final scrimmage of the season Monday afternoon. "There isn't much I can say about the Washington game," Coach Farley said last night. "They were favored by four touchdowns."

"We're going to give them all that we have, such as it is, and hope for a better season later."

Washington observations, the Phantom's still have to wait at least another year, however, before they can expect a better season. Farley announced last night that only five members of his first and second string ball club would be returning next season.

"We've had some lean years and I'm afraid we're in for another one," he said.

Gridiron Crowds In Big Turnout

Los Angeles, Nov. 18 — (AP) — UCLA and the Trojans of Southern California, from all indications, will settle their 1948 grid supremacy before upwards of 85,000 onlookers in Memorial Coliseum Saturday.

The Uclans, host this year, checked ticket sales today and estimated approximately 85,000 seats have already been sold. How many more fans will chunk out $5 for the game remains to be seen.

The naming of Citation as the Horse-of-the-Year came as a surprise to no one. The Calumet Farm's Triple Crown winner, which in the opinion of many turf experts, rates with the immortal Man O' War as a reer has done everything asked of him and done it with amazing ease and finally.

Citation not only has dominated the three-year-old division but stepped out to prove his superiority over older horses. The crowning accolade to his invincibility was the refusal of other owners to pit their horses against him in the Pimlico

Couper Quits

Lexington, Va., Nov. 18 — (AP) — "I decided I had been in college athletics long enough."

That is what Col. William Couper, of Virginia Military Institute, said yesterday in announcing that he will resign as president of the Southern conference.

He said his resignation will be made when the conference's annual meeting opens Dec. 9 in Washington, D. C.

"It's time the younger men took over," Couper said. Elected president of the conference first in 1946, Couper has served two one-year terms.

Keep Young With Baseball, Flying Advices Savant

Pueblo, Colo. — (AP) — Baseball and flying are fountains of youth recommended by a southern educator for successful teachers.

"Two things will keep you young," says Dr. Willis A. Sutton of Atlanta, Ga. "Fly a lot. Believe in new inventions. Learn about things children are interested in. Study the baseball sheets more."

Dr. Sutton also recommended: "Teachers should read young literature; wear youthful clothing; go to beauty parlors; they should not get into the habit of using the philosophy of language of old age."

Russians Claim Finns 'Peeping'

Helsinki — (AP) — Soviet authorities of Porkkala are irritated because passengers on Finnish trains keep trying to peep at them through doors and shutters.

Porkkala is an area about six miles out of Helsinki which was leased to the Russians for 50 years under the terms of the 1944 Armistice. After long negotiations the Finnish government obtained permission to transit through the area, which cuts the main line from Helsinki to Turku, on the condition that all cars must be locked and completely blacked out during the passage.

The Russian railway authorities recently complained that passengers, instead of obeying the rules, do their best to catch a glimpse of the forbidden area.

The Finnish authorities have appealed to all travellers through Porkkala not to endanger the continuation of the transit traffic by disobeying the Russian regulations.

Cub Coach Has Grid Ace Trio To His Credit

Houston, Tex. — (AP) — Radford Byerly coaches a Cub Scout football team in Houston.

He's been tutoring the little fellows for some time. When he lived in Dallas he coached the Southern Methodist Mustang Midgets.

On his teams at Dallas were these boys:

Doak Walker, now an All-American back at Southern Methodist.

Davey O'Brien, who was All-America at Texas Christian University.

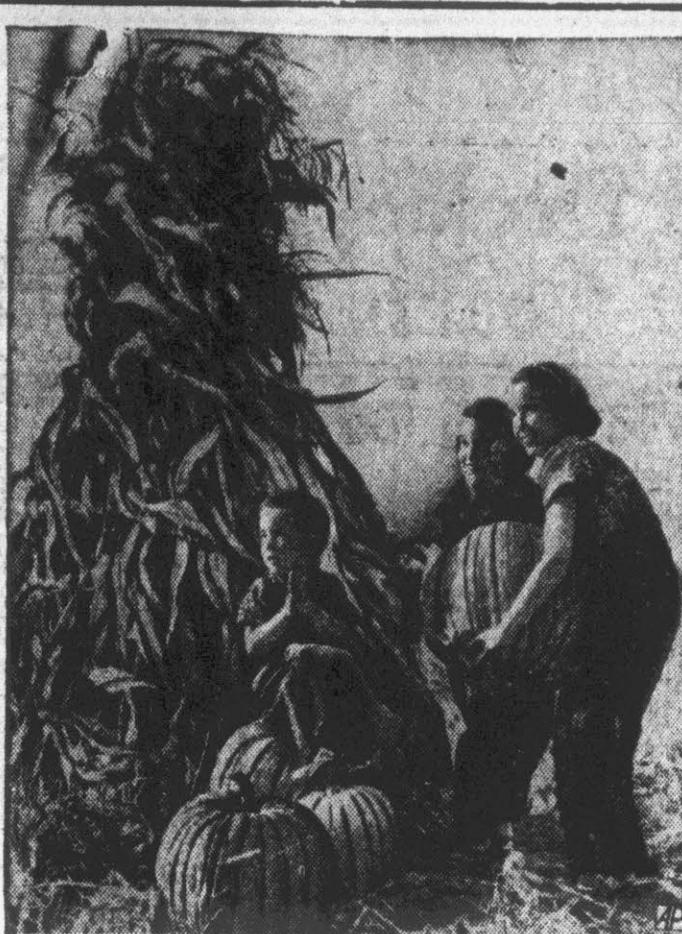

Bobby Layne, the greatest passer the University of Texas ever had, now with the Chicago Bears in professional football.

You might, without fear of contradiction, call Byerly one of the most successful coaches.

Train Robbers Take The Bus

Istanbul — (AP) — In the fashion of movie thrillers, a band of masked bandits stopped a bus and robbed its 35 passengers. The holdup in a bleak area near the coal mining center of Zonguldak on the Black Sea.

An undisclosed number of men each carrying two pistols stopped the bus as it rumbled along a forsaken highway and methodically robbed each passenger. Loot was estimated at about $2,150.

HARVEST TIME — Wind-tossed corn shock and pumpkins prove it's autumn on the Trax farm in Allegheny County, Pa. Left to right: Bill Cavanagh, 3, and sisters Joan, 7, and Valerie, 10.

DISSENTS — Gen. Charles De Gaulle emphasizes a point with expression at Paris press conference. He attacked the five-power western Europe defense pact as "no solution at all."

Rabbi Tolochko Tells Conditions In Palestine

Rabbi Jerome G. Tolochko of Kingston discussed political and economic conditions in Palestine at a meeting of the International Relations Club of East Carolina Teachers College Tuesday evening. Before a group of approximately 75 members, he told of the establishment there of a home for the Jews, the immigration of thousands from many countries, and the beginnings of agriculture and industry there.

Following the main talk, a series of questions from members were answered by the Rabbi, who has spent much time in Palestine and has a first-hand acquaintance with conditions there. He indicated the effects of the loss of the Negro upon the state and the unsettled conditions resulting from frequent changes of policy. The best solution to the problems confronting the Jews there, he said, lies in the adoption, maintenance and enforcement of a fair policy toward Palestine by the United Nations.

TICKETLESS

New Delhi — (AP) — Indian railway police recently arrested 900 persons within four days for traveling without tickets on the Delhi-Amal line. A total of 3,000 rupees was collected in fines from those arrested. Ticketless travelers are one of the Indian railroads' most acute problems.

stage of its development. During the demobilization in the Pacific in 1946, when traffic was moving freely in and out of Hawaiian ports, the Malayan fly found its way to the islands. Now it is doing thousands of dollars worth of damage to Hawaii's fruit crops. Others can be tamed easily and taught to retrieve ducks, like birds.

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 19

No sooner was Rex inside the door than he caught Rosalie in his arms and began dancing her about the room. His eyes were shining and there was triumph in his voice as he kissed her.

"Rosalie, darling, you've done it now. We don't have to worry anymore. We've got the bull by the tail. You can have anything you want from now on."

"The first thing I want is to be let alone. I'm tired."

She spoke dully and went back to her breakfast by the open window. Rex followed and, pulling up a chair, sat down lamently.

"I'll have coffee, too. I see you have an extra cup. You must have been expecting me this morning."

"I wasn't."

She said it curtly but poured the steaming coffee. He sniffed at the flower in his buttonhole.

"May I ask whom you were expecting, darling, if not me?"

"Certainly not."

He chuckled and poured cream generously. "Don't you see, any chance of the handsome young fireman who rescued you, could it? I gather it was your old sweetheart who 'plunged in to save you when the drunks started throwing things and saying you weren't Rosalie at all but a fake. Don't look so surprised. It was in the papers from coast to coast. Dancing star is pel-lotted on returning to black party in old neighborhood. It was a stroke of genius on your part. Had they cheered you for an hour it would have meant nothing, but to pelt you with fruit and peanuts—that's original."

She glared at him. "I'm glad you enjoyed the idea," she snapped.

"Of course I did. Now we can make some real money. Sister, you are a wonder. They want you all over the country."

"I see. They all want me just because my friends and neighbors didn't want me. They want to see where the rotten egg hit."

He put down his cup quickly so he could gesture. "Don't be silly, Rosalie. If you were a phoney all this publicity wouldn't mean a thing. But you can dance—especially when you get good and mad."

"I suppose it would have been even better if I'd been killed."

He jumped up and kissed her lightly, laughingly. "You mustn't talk like that. I need you. You and I can't do without you. I wouldn't have you hurt for the world, but since you were hurt, at least that shows it wasn't a bit of trumped up publicity even if I am handing you. You did right to let Smoky Joe rush you to a hospital, but you timed it swell when you slipped out so you wouldn't miss your opening number. You have a real head for show business."

She drew a long slow breath. "I seem to be just right for anything rotten."

He sat down and sipped his coffee.
"You suit me right down to the ground."

He sat back and crossed his legs.
"Tell me about this Smoky Joe.
You were going to marry him once, weren't you?"

She jumped up angrily. "I don't want to talk about it. I'm sick of it all. It—it was horrible. I'll never forget it. I—I thought I'd die."

Rex grinned. "That was before
Smoky Joe caught you in his arms,
I bet. It was a good picture of him the 'News' had. It seems his specialty is rescuing beauty in distress, but usually at fires, I suppose. And his mother, too fat to budge out of a chair, taught you to dance. And his stepfather, or his mother's boarder, or whatever this Pat Bulger is, started off the fun by throwing an orange at you. Since he was going to sing he didn't want you to win the crowd. And him a stavedore on the docks. Boy, what a story. There's only one little touch necessary."

"The girl's eyes flashed. 'I suppose you want me to marry Joe Monahan so you can get more filthy publicity!'"

He shook his head slowly. "That's going too far just to make money.
You see I want to marry you myself."

It was said with a kind of quiet casualness which made it most impressive. She stood looking at him as he quietly took out a cigarette and lit it. He was waiting for her to say something. She knew it and just staring. He blew out a cloud of smoke and smiled.

"Didn't you know I'm in love with you, Rosalie?"

"I don't believe you love anything but money."

He chuckled. "I'm so glad to hear you put it that way. I was a little afraid it was Daisy Winters that was worrying you. You know Daisy is an awful liar. I was just trying to help her out and she misunderstood."

"I don't care a thing about Daisy or of your other women."

"That's great."

"And I care even less about you, Rex Hall!"

"Let's not go that far, darling.
By the way, I met a friend of yours on the plane from Chicago. He's a great admirer of yours. I only beat him here because I knew where you live and he will have to find out. I felt it would be just as well to help her out and she misunder-
stood."

"It is settled. We are not engaged.
Also, I am tired this morning and need to rest."

The door bell rang. She hurried to open it because she was sure it was Roy, for whom the extra coffee cup had been put on the table. She stood rooted to the floor as she saw Joe Monahan, hat in hand. He was out of uniform and looked nervous. His words were husky.

"I want to talk to you, Rosie. I got to see you."

Santa Claus Will Parade Friday

By CHESTER WALSH
The Santa Claus parade tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 will be one of the best the Merchants' Association has ever sponsored in Greenville. The parade will be an elaborate pageant, with Santa Claus perched high on a fire truck; two brass bands, one from the college, the other from the high school; the Smith-Douglass Fertilizer Company's team of ponies; police escort and fire trucks; and the firemen's emergency rescue truck; children in costumes; many of them with their pets, dogs, ponies, etc.

The Christmas parade will form on West Ninth Street and come down Dickinson Avenue to Five Points, thence up Evans to beyond the courthouse, where it will disband. Some of the Christmas decorations have already been placed on the streets.

All children who plan to be in the parade should register at the Merchants' Association office at the City Hall not later than today. The Merchants' Association will give cash prizes and make special awards to winners in the Santa Claus parade. Prizes will be awarded for ponies, dogs, mules, pets of all kinds, decorated bicycles, horses, goats and other children's pets.

The Smith-Douglass Fertilizer Company's team of ponies were expected to arrive in Greenville this afternoon and they will be in the lot next to the Tetterton Motor Company, on Washington Street, between Fourth and Fifth Streets. Arthur Tripp, company representative here, invites the children and others to go by and see the ponies.

Puss 'n Boots A Piker To Tabby

Los Angeles, Nov. 18—(AP)—Puss 'n Boots was a piker compared with Connie the cat.

The feline stowaway was discovered at Municipal Airport when the purr of a TWA Constellation engine changed to a plaintive meow. Mechanics pulled off the engine nacelle cover and out jumped Connie and her nine lives. She had ridden in the nacelle 1,800 miles from Chicago, often at an altitude of 18,500 feet, the airline said.

Mechanic R. G. Bell promptly named her Connie, after the plane, and gave her to his son.

Pickpocket Raids Religious Group

The annual conference of the Negro Free Will Baptist churches of this part of the state, held at Mount Calvary Church, Ward and Hudson Street, last week, was somewhat disturbed by the intrusion of a professional pickpocket artist during the periods of religious worship and business deliberations of the conference. Several wallets disappeared from men's pockets and boys found some of them empty in the rear of a residence.

Sam Jenkins, 515 Sheppard street, missed his wallet containing about $25. Willie B. Hooks lost $24. Fred Short, Route 1, Winterville, lost his wallet and $10, and Henry Blount of the Ballard's Crossroads community, missed his wallet and about $10. The pick pocket disappeared before Greenville police got busy on the case.

Major Best, address unknown, had better luck in retaining his wallet containing about $52. He felt the hand of the pickpocket about his person, but he had his hand on his wallet. The man standing next to him asked, "Where's your hat?" Major Best said, "I've got it in my hand."

Later Major Best felt a hand trespassing in the neighborhood of his wallet. He was mad then. "Keep your hands off me or I'll stab you through the heart!" The light-fingered Negro left the choir room. Later boys found several empty wallets the intruder had tossed aside. Police are continuing their investigation.

Except for the appearance of the unwitting pickpocket, the annual session of the Negro Free Will Baptist Association, was one of the best in years. Reports showed that the churches are flourishing and doing good work, and financial statements were gratifying.

TWO VEHICLES DAMAGED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION TUESDAY

A car driven by J. L. Erwin, Route 2, Farmville, and a truck driven by Razon Blount, colored, of Swan Quarter, were badly damaged when the car came onto the highway between Greenville and Winterville Tuesday night at 7:15 and collided head-on with the truck. The drivers were shaken up but not injured. A state highway patrolman charged Erwin with reckless driving and hit-and-run.

"GLASS MENAGERIE" COMING HERE MONDAY, DEC. 6

Tickets for "The Glass Menagerie," Tennessee Williams' great Broadway comedy, to be presented at Austin auditorium, at the college, Monday night, Dec. 6, are on sale at the Globe Hardware Company, Fifth and Washington streets. All seats are reserved. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the show.

FLIES TO HAVANA

Mexico City, Nov. 18—(AP)—Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan, her companion on a visit here, left today by plane for Havana. With them went Miss Hayworth's secretary. The Hollywood actress was booked as "Margarita Canino De Welles."

China's Urgent . . .

Washington's policies. However, my personal feeling and that of a lot of other observers was something like this:

Quite apart from friendship, America couldn't afford to see China collapse and be taken into the Communist camp under control of Russia. That would be giving Moscow a strangle hold on the Orient.

There could be no question of America sending troops to China. We wouldn't think of asking our boys to fight there. However, if I had the job to do I probably should bolster the Nationalist armies with a large amount of up-to-date equipment, send to China a large number of American army officers to supervise and advise, and provide the wherewithal to keep operations going.

Feng nodded, and said: "I should make one addition. The people of China are hungry. They can't fight on empty bellies. I should feed them. That could be done by shipping in foodstuffs from other countries."

Feng said there was no doubt whatever that Russia was backing and supporting the Communist revolution in China.

Duties In . . .

started, no one could say where it would stop.

The change might not come about suddenly. It probably wouldn't. It might come about gradually, a little chipping away here and there.

Sure, the same thing might happen even if all the people of voting age voted. A full vote is no absolute guarantee against mistakes.

But if democracy broke down after a full vote of the people, then it would be a failure of democracy which had had a full chance to work.

It wouldn't be a failure because half the people, failing to appreciate what they had, left it up to the other half to make the decisions for them.

I know it's a tough job, and a never-ending job, to get people to take enough interest in democracy and their own future and welfare to vote.

Education is "one way of doing it. The best way, I guess. And I don't mean education in the responsibility of citizenship, like voting."

Fight For . . .

say now what they will do in certain circumstances."

The current Marine force of 3,600 men at Tsingtao has what is described in the Navy announcement as "supporting aircraft," probably some fighters and a few aerial transports.

The Navy already has ample facilities in the area to hurry Americans out of Tsingtao, if that becomes urgent. Its task force 38—made up of two carriers, two cruisers and eight destroyers—has been in that vicinity for than a month on a training cruise from the United States.

Meanwhile, two Navy ships will stand by to take Americans out of Shanghai. The USS Gosselin, a destroyer converted into a fast troop transport, was due there today from Tsingtao.

May Invoke . . .

of the opening of six-power talks now in progress in London to write a statute for control of the Ruhr.

The French informant charged the House of Commons statement by British Minister of State Hector McNeill Monday backgrounding Britain's action on the Ruhr "simply was not correct."

McNeill told the House it was inaccurate to say the six powers which were parties to last June's London pact on western Germany "reserved" the Ruhr for future discussion.

Dulles . . .

Magna Charta and the declaration of the rights of man, it will continue to arouse men everywhere to strike off the shackles that curtail their self-development.

"We want a Europe capable of inventing a new industrial revolution that will continue to multiply the productivity of human labor."

"We want a Europe which will again produce great literature, music and art, and such religious movements as have, in the past, inspired and enriched the world."

N.Y. Cotton

New York, Nov. 18—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 20 cents a bale lower to 10 cents higher.

Noon prices were 10 to 50 cents a bale lower than the previous close. Dec. 18, 1948, 31.75 and May 31.55.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Nov. 18—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices irregular. Tops of $20.75 at Kingston, Rocky Mount, Tarboro, Wilson; $20.40 at Greenville, Goldsboro and Washington.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Nov. 18—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady at 34 to mostly 35; eggs steady, A large 65-67.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 18—(AP)—Stock prices leaped ahead today but neither buying nor selling was on an aggressive scale.

The market was far from undecided. A fair number of issues slipped into minus territory while numerous others held unchanged. Gains of fractions to around a point, though, were in the majority.

Volume dropped below recent levels.
