Reaffirm Stand Solution Up To Security Council

American Spokesman In Berlin Says He Sees No Basis For Agreement

Paris, Nov. 23—(AP)—The United States delegation to the United Nations Security Council reaffirmed today its position that the Security Council should find a solution of the Berlin crisis.

The delegation took the unusual step of authorizing a statement by a spokesman in answer to reports from Berlin that an authoritative American official there saw no basis for agreement on Berlin in the U. N.

The spokesman's statement to newsmen reiterated that the western powers have pledged their full cooperation in assisting council president Juan A. Bramuglia in his efforts to solve the crisis.

The actions of Soviet authorities in Berlin are increasingly preventing the lawful city government from exercising its functions. Such actions obviously do not contribute to reaching a solution which the president of the Security Council and the other five members associated with him are seeking to achieve.

The three western powers, on the other hand, have pledged their full cooperation in assisting the President of the Security Council in his efforts. They are working continuously along those lines.

"The United States policy was stated in a letter which, under the direction of the President, the secretary of state sent to Mr. (Herbert V.) Ewart (and Mr. (Trygve) Lie Nov. 17.

There he said, among other things, that the government of the United States remains ready to carry out loyally the Security Council resolution of Oct. 25, 1948.

PUBLICATION here of the alleged views of an authoritative American military government official caused a furor in the United States delegation, informed sources said.

The delegation has been concentrating on drawing up answers on the current proposal for Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, November President of the Security Council.

U. S. sources said that despite all the moves here to settle the case, the fact remains that Russia has shown no sign whatever of removing the Berlin blockade. Until the blockade is lifted the west will not agree to a settlement, these sources said.

FBI Looks Into Plane's Flight

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 23—(AP)—The FBI said today it is investigating the reported unauthorized flight of an airplane from Roanoke, Va., to Greensboro yesterday.

Joseph C. Mulroy, Assistant Special Agent in charge of the Charlotte FBI office, said Eugene Anderson of Bristol, Tenn., is being held in the Guilford county jail at Greensboro pending the investigation. No charge has been made against Anderson, Mulroy stated.

Cooley Proposes Sharing 'Secret'

Washington, Nov. 23—(AP)—Rep. Cooley (D-N.C.), who is expected to be chairman of the House Agriculture Committee next year, said today: "High Britishers should share their tobacco secrets with top U. S. officials. In time to do some good, that is."

Such information, he said, would aid in planning tobacco crops in this country which would not glut the market.

Inducement To Vote?

Small Number Of Citizens Who Vote; Getting People To Polls; Tax Deduction For Votes? How Australia And New Zealand Work It; Their Many Voters

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 23—(AP)—After every election in this country comes screams about the small number of people who voted.

But what's the answer? 1. Should people be prodded into voting by fining them for not voting?

2. That would get more people to the polls. It works in Australia and New Zealand, where there are fines for the stay-at-homes.

3. Should the people be given some kind of reward or inducement to get them to vote, like a tax reduction?

That, too, probably would get a lot more people to the polls.

3. Or should voting or not voting be left up to the people themselves? But suppose the democracy collapse sometime because not enough voted?

In that case, democracy would have to be marked off as a failure which collapsed by itself. But is that too much of a chance to take?

These are old questions. But now they've been given a shot in the arm by Rep. Klein, New York Democrat.

He's just announced he'll introduce in the new Congress a bill to give a tax reduction to people who vote.

He doesn't seem to have high

Reports Indicate Inflation Is Dying

New Signs That Inflation Has Reached, Or Passed, Its Peak; Supplies Of Merchandise Balancing Demand

Washington, Nov. 23—(AP)—Has inflation at last reached its peak—or perhaps even passed it? There are new signs today that this could be so. But somewhat similar signs appeared in early 1947 and 1948 only to be bowled over by another upsurge in the boom.

Among the latest indications emerging from government reports in the last few days are these:

A two-month decline in the consumer (cost-of-living) price index until, in October, it was only moderately above last January's level. Also, a dip since August in the general index of wholesale prices, which are more of a guide to future costs at retail—until in October the index dropped slightly below the level of last January.

Not all prices have gone down. Those for metals, which play a major role in determining the price course of many goods, have been rising even more sharply than in 1947.

Prices, however, are only one factor on the scoreboard showing how the inflation contest between supply and demand has been getting along.

"Supply of many goods," says the Federal Reserve Board in its latest bulletin, "is now in better balance with demand at current prices than at any time since before the war."

And demand itself hasn't been showing the old slip it had in earlier postwar periods.

People have been spending less of their after-tax income and putting more of it into savings. Business has slowed down its buying, too.

Department store sales have dropped below last year's dollar volume for two consecutive weeks, and retail sales in general haven't been showing their old month-by-month climb.

Starts on construction of new homes have been declining since April—suggesting, as the Federal Reserve Board put it, resistance on the part of buyers to current high prices.

Price-resistance is a factor in the retail and department store sales picture too, officials say, although they add that unseasonable weather and perhaps a return to the old "last minute" Christmas shopping habit might have as much or more to do with it.

Washington economists are viewing all this with extreme caution, recalling that there were wrong forecasts when some similar developments occurred in the spring of 1947 and in the opening months of 1948.

Businessmen To Raise Funds For ECTC Stadium

Large Amount Pledged; $25,000 Goal For First Section; Christmas Promise

The job of raising approximately $25,000 to build the first section of a stadium for East Carolina Teachers College was undertaken by some 50 Greenville businessmen who met at the college last night to discuss the athletic program at ECTC.

Before the meeting adjourned, these present had pledged $8,825 of the needed amount, and E. E. Rawl, chairman of the fund raising committee, said to Dr. John D. Messick, president of the college, "We'll have the rest of this $25,000 for you before Christmas."

The project proposed and accepted at the meeting is for a football stadium which will be located on the east end of the present campus. Plans for the first section call for 2,880 seats, 1,200 of which will be permanent steel seats, and the other 900 will be portable wooden bleachers. Lighting of the field and draining and conditioning of the grounds are also included in the plans.

Dr. Messick, in a short talk to the group, placed the problems of the school squarely before the interested persons at the meeting, and told them, "I am doing what no college president should do, in asking for support of an athletic program for my school, but I feel it is in the best interest of East Carolina Teachers College to have a stadium and a decent place to play football."

The college president pointed out the need for an attractive athletic program to bring more high school graduates to ECTC to keep up the present enrollment and insure growth of the institution. He also reminded his listeners that the college, long thought of as principally a school for girls, now has over 700 male students, and men on the campus outnumber the women students by more than 100.

In the general discussion which followed Dr. Messick's talk, it was suggested that as well as funds for the stadium, money be raised through the ECTC Educational Foundation, Inc. to support an athletic program at the college.

At the same time Senator Morse, Oregon Republican, in a speech prepared for delivery, called upon the CIO for "Statesmanship" in helping to write a new labor law that would be fair to both unions and industry.

Morse commended the CIO leadership for its "forthright stand" against "extreme leftist philosophies."

This "forthright stand" had the convention in an uproar of cheering and boisterous yells.

Murray in three speeches hammered at the Communist party. He pointed out that the Communist party, in the eyes of the American people, is a threat to the American way of life.

His asserted victims fought back, as they were expected to fight again today when the convention begins debating resolutions.

But they were hooted, heckled, guffawed at, attacked by Walter Reuther and James Carey (two of Murray's more vocal lieutenants), and finally swamped with votes.

The voting was on the question of approving Murray's annual report, which contained praise of the Marshall plan of European aid.

Donald Henderson, president of the food and tobacco workers, had brought in a minority committee report objecting to the Murray document.

Figures It Would Cost U. S. $5 Billions To Save China

Washington, Nov. 23—(AP)—A top Administration official estimated today it would cost the United States around $5,000,000,000 to try to save China from the Communists.

This official, asking not to be quoted by name, told a reporter he is convinced that only a program of that size, and one combining both military and economic help, would stand any chance of success.

He added the $5,000,000,000 figure has been mentioned by several cabinet officers in discussing what—if anything—can be done to help the hard-pressed Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The official did not profess to know, however, whether President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall got around to talking about any such specific estimate in their first post-election conference yesterday.

The White House reported only that the two men reviewed the whole range of foreign relations, including China, all of Asia, and Europe.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross called Marshall's report "very informative" and said the secretary might return for further talks today.

Diplomatic authorities described Mr. Truman as eager to reach a decision on China quickly so he can reply in greater detail to Chiang's urgent appeal last week for more American help.

The main factors confronting the President and his secretary of state are these:

1. Whether it is too late, as some government officials are known to feel, to help Chiang's Nationalist armies, and

2. Whether the cost of an "adequate" China aid program could be fitted into the budget without forcing the Treasury to dip into its red ink.

The official who told of the thinking in terms of a $5,000,000,000 undertaking said it has not been determined how many years the program might require. Thus, he did not offer a guess on what the cost might be in any one year.

One estimate came over the weekend from former Senator D. Worth Clark who visited China for a congressional committee. He said an "all out" program would cost $1,000,000,000 the first year and $600,000,000 annually thereafter until the Communists are defeated.

The money would be used to buy military supplies and prop up China's currency.

The $5,000,000,000 figure would include funds for a third purpose—purchase of huge quantities of consumer goods, such as food and clothing, for Chinese civilians. The objective would be to discourage hoarding and black market operations.

China Reds Open New Push; Great Cities Menaced

Aim For Suchow Airfield As Planes Are Grounded; Rough Time For Defenders

Nanking, Nov. 23—(AP)—The Communists opened a new push today on Suchow, key to Nanking and Central China. The immediate objective was the defense bastion's only airfield.

Gen. Chen Yi's Red veterans punched out of the southeast under the cover of low clouds. Weather cut down the effectiveness of the government's air force, which was the major factor in turning the Communist assault in the first phase of the Suchow battle last week.

The new offensive added to Communist pressure steadily building up against the Nationalist Second Army group all along a great arc to the east and south of the city 180 miles northwest of Nanking. Other Red forces were reported moving against Suchow from the north.

In North China, the Communists threat to the great cities of Peiping and Tientsin increased as the Reds took over Posing. The Communist radio claimed the city yesterday, the government announced its evacuation today.

Without full air support for the defense of Suchow, the Nationalists were expected to be in for a rough time. The Communists apparently had regrouped and reformed completely after last week's heavy battering. They had been caught unprotected on the Suchow plain and the Nationalist air force blasted them in clear days and moonlight nights with bombers and fighter-bombers.

Eastward from Suchow, Gen. Huang Po-tao's Nationalist Seventh Army Corps was believed almost reduced to nothing. His forces took the full force of last week's Red assault in the defense of Nienchuan, 33 miles east of Suchow.

The official central news agencies said forces moving from Suchow to the relief of Huang's battered outfit were only about 10 miles away. But other sources said there seemed little hope that an appreciable number of Huang's troops still would be able to fight.

Another government force, the 12th Army Corps, was working slowly toward Suchow from the southwest. It was last reported southwest of Suchow, which was believed still in Communist hands.

The 12th Corps' mission was first to take Suchow, then move on to the 67 miles to Suchow.

Boston, Nov. 23—(AP)—Commissioner of Internal Revenue failed to appear today at a tuxton hearing in answer to a Senate subcommittee's demand that he testify on back taxes allegedly owed by a $4,600,000 trust which has Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath as one of three trustees.

Senator Charles W. Tobey (R-NH) yesterday wired Commissioner George J. Schoeneman a flat demand that he take the witness stand today in the hearing on the multimillion dollar Tuxton Corporation.

Red Dean's Crusade

Churchman Is Devoting Much Of His Energies Trying To Wipe Out American Aversion To Communism; The Stone Wall He Is Meeting In Religion, Labor Unions

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

"I do not love thee, Doctor Fell. The reason why I cannot tell. 'But this alone I know full well, 'I do not love thee, Doctor Fell. We have in our midst the Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson dean of England's ancient Canterbury Cathedral, who is known as the 'Red Dean' because of his extreme left views and his great friendship for Soviet Russia.

The good Dean is speech-making and is devoting much of his energy to replying to our aversion to Communism. He says 'peoples all over the earth view with misgivings the encirclement of the Soviet Union by 434 American Air bases, and the 'expenditure by the United States of vast sums for war purposes.'

The 'Red Dean' was denied a visa by the U. S. State Department last August when he sought to come here under sponsorship of the National Council of American-Soviet friendship. That organization is an Attorney General Tom C. Clark's 'subversive' list. However the state department withdrew its objections after a group of educational leaders offered to sponsor the Doctor.

So we have Dean Johnson with us, extolling the virtues of the Bolsheviks. As a matter of fact the National Council of American-Soviet friendship is sponsoring a rally in New York's Madison Square Garden December 13 and among the speakers will be the 'Red Dean' and Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panushkin.

One would think the 'Red Dean' would have enough business of his own to mind back home, the vast majority of Americans being hostile to Communism. However, his propaganda there doesn't seem to have achieved the success which he craves.

Twice the 'Red Dean' has been publicly rebuked by the Prime Minister of all England. But to give the Dean credit for steadfastness of purpose, he hasn't seemed to give a tinker's dam. Perhaps more than incidentally, the Dean isn't answerable to the head of the church of England but only to the government.

So the Dean can call me 'Red' by barmying his own land, trying to convince us that Communism has a heart of gold. Well, we can take it, but if the good Doctor would pause to ask about a bit he would see that he will have trouble in persuading us.

Dr. Johnson came here via Canada, and while there he surely must have learned of the bitterness of the Dominion towards a Communist

Illness Forces Complete Rest For Britain's King

George VI Suffering From Circulatory Ailment; Doctors Order Six Months Rest; Tour Of Australia, New Zealand Delayed

London, Nov. 23—(AP)—Illness forced King George VI today to take a complete rest for at least six months.

An official announcement from Buckingham Palace said the 52-year-old British Sovereign is suffering from a circulatory ailment in his legs that "only recently has become acute." His 1949 tour of Australia and New Zealand has been postponed.

A medical bulletin signed by five doctors and incorporated in the Buckingham Palace announcement said "a defective blood supply to the right foot causes anxiety." Palace informants said "was reason to believe a blood clot caused this condition."

The announcement, which came as a complete surprise and shock to the British Empire and Commonwealth, said his doctors had ordered complete rest for the King. Palace sources said George would fill no public engagements for at least six months.

The King's doctors, who attended him before and after the birth of Princess Elizabeth's son in the Palace Nov. 14, stressed that the monarch's general health, including his heart, "gives no reason for concern."

The doctors gave no specific medical name to the King's ailment. Possibility from Phlebitis was suggested in some quarters, but responsible sources declined to go beyond the official statement.

In their bulletin, the doctors said that "no doubt the strain of 12 years has appreciably affected his resistance to physical strain."

"It would be hazardous," they added, "to embark upon a long journey which might delay recovery and involve serious risk to limb."

The King, who ascended the throne in 1936 and will be 53 Dec. 14, was to have sailed with Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret in mid-Jan. on the tour of Australia and New Zealand. They were to have traveled in the Battleship H. M. S. Vanguard, via the Panama Canal.

Municipal government by commission is a question that is coming to the front in North Carolina. The idea is growing that a town can be better governed by a few well-paid conservative businessmen than by boards composed of men who have their individual businesses to look after and consequently give but little attention to municipal affairs.

Christmas Bazaar
At St. Paul's Church

The second annual Christmas Bazaar of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will be held in the Parish House on Thursday and Friday of next week, December 2 and 3, with the open hours being from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day.

Every woman loves a pretty apron, and every woman needs a practical one. The Apron Booth will be gaily festooned with aprons of all kinds and sizes, in every conceivable color combination.

Handwork will also be apparent for the discriminating shoppers, in the doll section, and the stuffed animal and toy section, as well as in the household and kitchen sections.

The ever popular "sweets" booth will feature preserves, relishes, cakes, candies, and other delicacies. There will also be a garden section with potted plants and Christmas decorations. And no Bazaar would be complete without the "White Elephant" table, which attracted much interest last year.

Almost every woman of the Church, as had some part in preparing for the Bazaar, and the number of articles to be offered will reflect the amount of work that has been required. Mesdames James T. Little and John Mitchell have been serving as the co-chairmen for the whole year.

Plan Reunion For Ada Cherry Class

Last night the Ada Cherry Sunday School class of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Taft. Mrs. Jane Sauve, the president, presided, and Mrs. Blanche Smith read as her devotion the 138 Psalm, at the end of which she led the group in prayer.

It was decided that the annual Christmas party—a reunion of the class—will be held this year at the Airport Inn on Thursday, December 16, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. Each member is to pay $1.50 to the group chairman prior to the party; this amount is to take care of the dinner, as well as other incidentals. It was agreed that each member take a gift, not exceeding the cost of 50c.

The decoration and entertainment committees were appointed to help make the dinner meeting and party an interesting one, and it is hoped that once again there will be a real get-together affair.

After the business session Mrs. Pitt Griffith took charge. First, she gave the group a limited number of seconds to get as many words as possible from the letters included in "Thanksgiving." The prize for this was won by Mrs. Henry Harrell. Second, two groups raced to see which side could wind and unwind a cord of twine. Mrs. J. H. Rose won the prize for this.

At the conclusion delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The convention will convene Saturday at Chicago's swank Edgewater Beach hotel, and conferences will be held each day through November 30. Mrs. Winchester will accompany her husband to the convention.

Rites For Soldier To Be Held Thursday

Pfc. Luke Garson Hines, 20, who was killed at Oahu, Hawaii, on October 17, 1948 will arrive in Greenville Tuesday night. Funeral services will be conducted at the S. G. Wilkerson & Sons Funeral Home Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. Full military honors will be accorded by Charles Gray Morgan Post 7032, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Pfc. Hines attended schools at Winterville and Chocoma and spent all his life in Pitt County. He entered the Army April 14, 1948, and trained at Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas, before going to Hickman Field, Oahu, Hawaii.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Ruth Mills Evans of near Greenville; his father, John D. Hines of Greenville; a brother, FCS Raymond Earl Hines, U.S. Navy, now stationed at Long Beach, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Alton Haddock of Camp Lejeune, N.C.; and a half brother, Bill Evans of near Greenville.

Local Governments Given Attorney General's Rulings

By LYNN NISBET
Raleigh, Nov. 23 — Digest of opinions by the attorney general interpreting effect of state laws released for publication today gives major attention to the extent and limitation of local governments.

Letters covering these subjects and condensed for the press were written several months ago and the local officials have already acted upon the advice.

According to the attorney general, county commissioners have full control of the county courthouse and the right to determine what use may be made of the building, other than its primary functions of housing county officers. Another opinion holds that there is no general statutory authority for commissioners to appropriate tax money for soil conservation programs.

Municipal governing boards have the right to extend use of water, sewer and power service to customers outside the corporate limits and to charge a higher rate than for residents of the municipality. They also have authority to impose privilege or license tax upon any legitimate employment or business conducted for profit, except in cases where specific exemption is granted by statute.

A lawyer may buy and sell real estate when he has obtained a license for that function, but a real estate agent who is not an attorney may not under any circumstances prepare deeds or other legal documents for other persons.

In criminal cases our statutes authorize judges of superior court not only to impose, but at any time to modify, the conditions of probation contained in a judgment of the court.

Preliminary hearings on the question of probable cause do not determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant; consequently, release or discharge of a defendant at one hearing does not prevent a later complaint and hearing for the same offense.

Greenville Man On Ship With Plane

A Greenville man was on the U.S. carrier Palau which arrived in this country yesterday with the Wright brothers' famous "Kitty Hawk," the first airplane to carry a man aloft in sustained flight. The plane had been in a museum in London the past 20 years. Seaman First Class James Earl Evans, a nephew of Mrs. Guy Harris of Greenville, entered the Navy last January. He took his boot training at the Great Lakes Naval Station, in Illinois. The Wright brothers' plane will be placed in Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

It is estimated that some 15,000,000 Americans have some degree of hearing impairment, but only one-third or less need hearing aids.

Rotarians Meet On Monday Night

By WYATT BROWN
Thanksgiving was the theme of the Rotary Club meeting last night presented by Howard McGinnis, chairman of the program committee. Rotarian McGinnis read two Thanksgiving poems and then presented Miss Gladys Reichard in a series of three solos accompanied at the piano by Miss Elisabeth Drake—both are members of the East Carolina Teachers College music department. Miss Reichard sang two Thanksgiving numbers and one light number.

At this point the remainder of the meeting was turned over to John Fleming who recognized J. H. Rose, Superintendent of the City schools, Principal O. E. Dowd of the High school, Boley Farley, High School athletics coach, and Amos Sexton, football line coach.

Then Coach Farley took occasion to pay tribute to the members of this year's football team who were guests of the Rotarians. He said they were the finest group he has ever had the pleasure of working with. Each member of the team and the two student managers were presented. The football players presented were: John Vainright, Bobby Fife, Billy Tilghman, Raleigh Lee, Melvin Ray Jones, Charley Watson, Walter Perry, Bobby Fleming, Harvey Ward, Jimmy Cox, Mac Crawford, Jack Morgan, Sam Northrop, Paul Conway, Ben Robertson, "Little" Bland, "Big" Bland, Joe Allgood, John Farley, Douglas Allen, Bobby Odum "Speedy" Sideris, and Baby Edwards. Tommy Lupton is manager and Bobby Williams, assistant manager and were also presented.

Rev. Leon Russell was the guest of the Club last night. Dr. Paul Jones of Farmville and Brantly Speight of Ayden were visiting Rotarians. Every member of the club present last night signed a letter to Judson Blount wishing him a speedy recovery and telling how much his fellow Rotarians missed him. Ernest L. Willard, Club president, presided.

WILL LEND SANTA CLAUS SUIT DIFFERENT GROUPS

In response to requests from churches and schools each Christmas season, the Merchants Association has a Santa Claus suit it will lend to various groups on request. Executive Secretary Cora S. Powell said those desiring use of the suit should telephone the office — dial 3021.

STORES OPEN AT NIGHT BEGINNING DECEMBER 20

Retail stores in Greenville will be open nights until 8 o'clock beginning Monday, December 20, the Merchants Association has announced. At a recent meeting of the association it was agreed to observe Saturday, December 26 — Christmas Day — and Monday, December 27 as holidays.

Colored News

Mr. Elliott Hemby died Saturday evening. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at Mt. Calvary F. W. B. Church at 2:30 p. m. Rev. E. M. Hill will officiate.

The Les Hommes Club was organized twelve months ago with a two fold purpose, civic and social. Much time was spent by its members trying to work out rules and regulations that would meet an unanimous approval.

During the first year the club has made small contributions to the George Washington Carver Library, the Community Chest, and the Boy Scouts organization. All of its members voted in the last national election, and encouraged many qualified citizens to register and vote.

On November 17 the club celebrated its first social affair at the West End Tea Room in the form of a barbecue dinner with each member's wife being his guest. After dinner card games and dancing were enjoyed by every one.

As the club grows it plans to make larger contributions to more charitable organizations and to the poor and needy.

Strength FOR THE DAY

SOLVE YOUR OWN PROBLEMS FIRST

"Cast out first..."
This is part of the statement
Jesus made about casting the beam out of our own eyes before we get so excited about the mote that is in our brother's eye.

A mote is a small particle—a tiny splinter; a beam is a building beam.
Jesus loved to use extreme and sometimes impossible figures to set forth truth. The picture is that of a man with a building beam sticking in his eye—which is of course utterly fantastic—worrying about the tiny splinter in his neighbor's eye and saying "Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye." Jesus said,
"Cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye."

The figure is fantastic but the idea is not. The important word in our Lord's statement is "first." Get your own beam straightened out, he said, and then you will be able to condition properly to appraise the moral condition of others and to help them. This does not mean that one has to be perfect before he can render moral assistance to a brother. But it does mean that he must attack his own moral problems earnestly and achieve some measure of success in handling them before he can help others.

BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA FOR E. C. T. C.

A movement which will mean a great deal to the city of Greenville, East Carolina Teachers College and Eastern North Carolina was begun last night when some 50 local businessmen met at the college and began raising funds to build a stadium for the college and to support the school's athletic program.

Not since the bond issue of $100,000 was given to E. C.
T. C. when it was begun,
have the people of Greenville and Pitt County been asked to contribute financial aid to the college; but now it has become evident that if the college is to maintain its rightful place as one of the leading colleges of North Carolina, an attractive athletic program must be offered to attract new students to the school.

A committee of Greenville businessmen began today to call upon local citizens for donations to a $25,000 fund to build the first section of a stadium which will be used by the high school as well as the college football team. A good football field is something Greenville has long needed.

Money given to support the E. C. T. C. athletic program is not only money donated to a worthy cause by the people of Greenville, but it is an investment in one of the largest businesses our city has. An attractive athletic program will bring more men and women students to East Carolina Teachers College, and they in turn will bring more money and business into Greenville.

For the first time in 40
years the people of Greenville and Pitt County, and the alumni of East Carolina Teachers College all over the State are being called upon to support their school;
not in the lackadaisical way
it has been supported in the

Speaking Of Unsafe Structures

past, but in a manner to which it should have been accustomed all these years.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

BUDGET—The advisory budget commission is this week engaged in semi-confidential study of the mass of figures presented during the recent series of public hearings.
These figures have been tabulated and codified by the budget bureau staff, and after further study and suggestions by the commission, will be further revised and presented for final adoption. Only absolutely certain prediction is that the total recommendations for legislative spending will be cut far below institutional and departmental requests.
Just where the cuts will be made and how deep will not be known until the budget report is made to the general assembly in January.

NOT ENOUGH—There isn't and won't be enough money to do the jobs outlined by the various agencies. Roughly, the situation stands about like this: Aggregate needs
as presented by spokesmen for state services, $600,000,000, including nearly $500,000,000 from general fund sources. Anticipated availability about $450,000,000, including approximately a hundred million of surplus and reserve funds, a hundred million of highway and other special funds, and two hundred fifty millions in general fund receipts for the biennium. Suggested expenditures from the special funds will just about balance anticipated revenues, but demands upon the general fund are for almost double the expected receipts.

HOPEFUL—Responsible administrators of state agencies are hopeful that large increases will be accorded their special services. On the other side of the fence some recognized leaders among the big taxpaying business interests have voiced the hope that the very extremity (one man called it absurdity) of the requests may serve as a protection against higher taxes.

SAFE GUARD—Amplified a bit,
the idea of the business leaders is that if proposals for expanded services had been "reasonable" there would have been disposition on part of the legislature and the taxpayer to meet them. One spokesman for the group said if the total requests had exceeded anticipated revenue

by a few million dollars, the finance committee might have bestirred itself to find that much extra money.
But when the increase in demand
this year over expenditures last year is double or more when the last assembly broke all previous records in appropriations, there may be less disposition on part of the finance committee to hunt the money.

UNFAIR—Other taxpayer spokesmen, while conceding impracticability if not absolute impossibility, of collecting enough state revenue
to give all agencies what they want, say it is unfair to suggest that the general assembly will not make every reasonable effort to expand state services. (There might be differences in the accepted definition of "reasonable.")

COMMITTEES—The general assembly will convene in six weeks.
Pat Taylor is certain to be president of the Senate, by virtue of his election as lieutenant governor.
Kerr Craig Ramsey is conceded almost equal assurance of speakership in the house of representatives. Both are working on prospective committee assignments, which is the first and one of the most important jobs facing the presiding officers. In the past three sessions—1943, '45 and
'47—the appropriations committees were rated most important posts.
Prior to that the finance committees had been regarded as top assignments. For the upcoming session there will be little difference.
With prospective loss of alcoholic beverage revenue, and demands from municipalities for larger share in total license taxes, along with vigorously supported proposals for reducing some corporation levies, the finance committee will have a tremendously important job. Custom has been to assign the entire membership to one of these committees, so the real contest will be for chairmanship posts.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—There are many things to be grateful for this Thanksgiving, not including the price of Turkey.

For example, everybody can still afford a cranberry.

So let the cost of the drumstick soar. It'll take more than that to turn the 1948 Thanksgiving into a turkey. We can always give the traditional bird—and pick something besides pinefeathers out of our teeth.
Forget the turkey. Let's count a few real blessings to be thankful for:
The election is over, and it is now possible to turn on a radio without hearing a politician running for office on his vocal chords.

The Longshoremen's strike tied up scores of vessels, but the ship of state is still rocking along on an even keel.

Congress is out of session.

The new look isn't getting any longer.

Nobody has started a post-season
football contest called "The Soup Bowl."

More stores are stocking two-pants suits.

It has been weeks since anybody
was bitten by a mad English sparrow or struck by lightning in a barroom.

The goose hangs high in the land.

Everybody is working, going to college, or waiting for the army to call him up and end his housing problem.

The hay fever season is over and the real pneumonia weather hasn't set in.

The predicted business depression hasn't arrived. The financial cassandra who forecast it have joined the political pollsters on the mourner's bench—or else are taking lessons in astrology.

The ghost is still walking every payday. Most bosses are meeting their payrolls on time, including the biggest of all—the government. It sends checks now to about one out of every six families.

Television programs are better.
Some nights not a single wrestling match shows up on the screen.

Lumber is getting plentiful. Soon a house will be built so good to be buried in a pine coffin again.

The landlord has had a big dent
in his hopes to jack up rents.

So many motor cars are being turned out that by 1951 everybody who can't afford a car will be able to buy one anyway.

Russia hasn't taken another European country all year.

People aren't telling as many shaggy dog and talking horse stories
as they were last Thanksgiving.

Lana Turner has quit wearing sweaters.

The U. S. army, three years after the war, has a new medium tank in hedge fund equal to anything the Germans had in 1939. American combat veterans would have been even more thankful if they had had a tank like that in the battle of the Bulge.

At long last an etiquette book now says men don't have to take off their hats in office elevators
when the women enter.

Fretzels are in good supply.

The United Nations delegates are still arguing about atom bombs—
instead of throwing them.

Yes, all in all, there's a lot to be thankful for. Everybody working,

loving and living—in a land at peace.

Of course, there's a dark side to the picture. Uncle Sam owes $250-000,000,000, which is $1,781 apiece for every man woman and child. But you know relatives—they're always in debt.

Why worry? We're better off than the pilgrims who borrowed this country from the Indians and never paid it back. Never mind the turkey. Pass the cranberries. I think I've got room for one more.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE KADS

Washington—Disappointed over cancellation of social activities on account of the repair job being done on the White House, some Washingtonians are attempting to whip up official pomp in a big inaugural ball.

It is rumored that Leslie Biddle, one of President Truman's right-hand men, is among the Democratic big-wigs discussing plans for the first such gala show since Franklin D.
Roosevelt's first inaugural in 1933.

In the old days these functions
were really brilliant sights at the old Pension Building. In later years they have been charity benefits. Harding, Coolidge and Hoover refused to sanction official social affairs. At none of the more recent balls has the president himself put in an appearance.
Mrs. Roosevelt showed up briefly at the 1933 affair. Daughter Anna, now Mrs. John Boettiger, golden-haired and very pretty, turned out to be the belle of the ball.

Most colorful feature of the evening of the 1929 ball was the arrival of the governors of the various states. Each was received separately and escorted to the platform by guards carrying the state and national colors. At the Coolidge Ball
there were 17 governors.

Mrs. John Allen Dougherty, Washington socialite, hastily launched the charity type of ball on the night of Harding's inaugural after his veto of an official function in his honor.
It was a huge success and brought in nearly $30,000. A similar event conducted by Mrs. Dougherty when President Coolidge went into the White House raised a fund of $42,- 000.

Even bigger returns resulted from the Hoover affair. Proceeds were given to the Community Chest.

Mrs. Moore on a recent quick visit to the capital said she did not expect to rent a house here for the season until some time in December. She steered clear of Washington during campaign time. A wealthy widow and undisputedly the Capital's Number One hostess, Mrs. Moore and the Trumans were good friends even before Mr. Truman became vice-president. Because she was formerly an active worker in the Republican Party, Mrs. Moore has often been called "Two-Party Marie" during the past few years. She attended both political conventions last summer, but her sympathies have been very obviously on the Democratic side.

Ballard's X Roads News

On the 25th Sunday in October, Dr. Clark of Mt. Gilboa conducted the first morning preaching service in the new Ballard's church, which since its completion a few weeks ago has been having afternoon and evening services.

Dr. Clark conducted a very successful revival during the last week in October, with the song services conducted by G. F. Benson of Farmville.

There were 24 additions to the church and the baptismal service was held Sunday evening by the pastor, Rev. Edwin A. Gosses.

Dr. Clark had the privilege of conducting the first service in the new church. At the first service in the church, all seats in the church were filled and additional chairs had to be brought in.

Everybody in the community is glad to have Mr. Clinton Overton back with us as permanent teacher of the adult Sunday School class.

The November meeting of the Presbyterian auxiliary opened by singing "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross," followed by reading the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The Bible study, "The Four Gospels," from the New Testament, was led by Mrs. G. G. Morris with different ones taking part in the discussion.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Morris presided at the business meeting and it was voted to have Mr. Herman Nobles to come out and landscape the church grounds on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27. Plans were also made to get stumps for the church kitchen.

The meeting adjourned by the regular benediction, "God by Thy might nor by power but by spirit, with the Lord of hosts."

At the Presbyterian Sunday School Sunday morning a special offering of $16.50 was taken for Southern Springs orphanage.

Joe Worthington was program leader at the Youth Fellowship on Thursday evening. The theme was "The Hebrew Children in Palestine during Biblical Days." He was assisted in the program by Virginia Crawford, Virginia Dunn and Henry Dunn.

The Lord's Prayer was used to close the program. During the social hour refreshments were served by Henry and Virginia Dunn.

Misses May and Ethel Holloway of New York were recent guests of Mrs. Mamie R. Holloway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones were visitors at the Veterans Hospital at Fayetteville Sunday.

National Guard Ceiling Lifted

By CHESTER WALSH
Battery C, 600th Field Artillery Battalion, N. C. National Guard, will hold its weekly drill at the armory tonight at 7:30. Capt. J. B. Tyndall will be in command.

The battery now has two commissioned officers and 52 enlisted men. Lieut. Clay Burnette is second in command.

Lieut. Francis L. Joyner of Farmville recently resigned as a lieutenant to accept the position of administrative assistant for the battery. Military law requires that the person holding this position be an enlisted man. Joyner now has a T-sergeant rating. He will transact business for the battery.

Bob Carson, postoffice employee, is first sergeant.

The state adjutant general's office has announced that the ceiling on the number of officers of the battery has been raised to five.

commissioned officers and 52 enlisted men. Members of the civil components of the army, which includes the National Guard, who have reached the age of 60 years, and who have a minimum of 30 years of satisfactory federal service in any of the civilian components of the armed forces or who have had some active time federal service during world wars I and II, may secure application blanks from the adjutant general for retirement with pay, an officer of the battery stated.

Call Session Of Elections Board

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 23—(AP)—The State Board of Elections was called into session today to canvass returns from the general election of Nov. 2.

Raymond Maxwell, board secretary, said the canvass was the only business scheduled to be taken up. He added that his office had received no complaints arising from the voting and that he had heard of none.

Wright Plane Is At Smithsonian

Washington, Nov. 23—(AP)—The "Kitty Hawk," first plane to fly with a passenger, is at home—but not to visitors yet.

The famous plane, built and flown by the Wright Brothers 45 years ago, arrived at the Smithsonian Institution in a Navy van yesterday. It has spent the past few years at Kensington Museum in London, awaiting settlement of a dispute between Orville Wright and the Smithsonian over who actually made the first flight. For many years, the institution's candidate was Samuel Langley.

But Smithsonian officials finally gave the Wrights full credit, and Orville left the historic craft to the American museum in his will. It will go on exhibition there December 17—the 45th birthday of its first trip off the ground.

Brother Of Vivien Leigh Coming To City December 6th

By CHESTER WALSH
"The Glass Menagerie," Tennessee Williams' heart-warming and humorous story of a mother's attempt to marry off her daughter to a soldier, which George Jean Nathan described as "far and away the theater's loveliest evening, the season's most beautiful theatrical adventure," will be presented at Austin auditorium at the college on Monday night, December 6, at 8:15 by the original New York cast.

"The Glass Menagerie" had a two-year run on Broadway and won the Drama Critics' award.

Robert Leigh, brother of Vivien Leigh, star of "Gone With the Wind," is the producer and will appear in the cast in Greenville.

"The Glass Menagerie" is vivid, eerie, enchanting—something to see, to cheer about, and to see again. It has imagination, extraordinary beauty," is the way one New York critic described it.

The gripping comedy-drama will be presented here with the original cast under auspices of the Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce. All seats are reserved. Tickets are $1 for students, $1.20 and $1.80 to others, tax included. Tickets are on sale at the Globe Hardware Company, Fifth and Washington Streets.

School Children Will Be Company's Guests

School children of Greenville and Pitt County will be the guests of the Wagner-Marshburn Motor Company Friday morning at a special showing of the movie "The Story of Babe Ruth" at the Pitt Theatre. The movie will begin at 10 o'clock. Children may obtain complimentary tickets to the special show by going by the Wagner-Marshburn office on Dickinson Avenue extension.

Syphilis broke out in epidemic form in Europe at the end of the 15th century, but it was only tardily recognized as a venereal disease.

Dog Ordinance Now In Effect; Must Have Tags

By CHESTER WALSH

An ordinance recently passed by the Board of Aldermen providing for licensing of dogs in the corporate limits of the city of Greenville, prohibiting dogs from running at large; authorizing the impounding and destruction of dogs; providing a penalty for its violation, and repealing all ordinances in conflict herewith, is now in effect and will be strictly enforced.

The ordinance requires owners of dogs to register them (if over 13 weeks old) with the police department and purchase numbered metal tags, the cost of which is $1 for males and $2 for females. The police will provide printed forms on which the name of owners and descriptions of dogs may be inscribed. The ordinance does not apply to "seeing-eye" dogs for the blind or dogs temporarily brought into the city for dog shows. The ordinance requires dogs owned in the city to wear collars with the license tags attached. The licenses are issued annually from June 30 of one year to July 1 of the next year.

The ordinance also provides for impounding unlicensed dogs or dogs running at large by the poundmaster. Dogs running at large in violation of the ordinance shall be impounded and the owners notified.

Owners of impounded dogs by reclaiming them by payment of the license fee, if not already paid, a fee of $5 for impounding, and a fee of $1 per day for keeping such dog. Any dangerous or vicious dog that cannot be captured may be shot by any policeman for public safety. Any owner of a dog violating any of the provisions of this ordinance may be fined $5 for each offense.

The registration blanks, tags, etc., and other materials necessary for enforcement of the dog ordinance are now at the police department. Owners are reminded to register their dogs at once and secure license tags.

JAYCEES MEET TONIGHT INSTEAD OF THURSDAY

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its bi-monthly supper meeting at the Olde Towne Inn tonight at 6:30. President Bruce Suggs, who will preside, stated that the meeting was changed from Thursday because of Thanksgiving Day. Prof. Dan Vornholt of the college will direct a group of ETC singers on the program.

The temperature of the surface of the sun is calculated to be about 6,000 degrees centigrade.

N. C. To Pay For Error In Justice

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 23—(AP)—The State of North Carolina is going to pay $2,255.56 to a man who served four and a half years in prison for a crime he didn't commit.

Payment of that sum in compensation to Marion Ammons, now a resident of Detroit, Mich., was authorized by the Council of State. The council acted under a 1947 law which authorizes payment of up to $500 a year, with a $5,000 maximum, to compensate wrongfully convicted persons.

Ammons served four years, six months and four days. He entered prison from Buncombe County in August, 1933, to serve 20 to 30 years after being convicted of performing a criminal operation on Johnnie Hart. He was pardoned by Governor Clyde R. Hoey on Feb. 21, 1938, after Hart confessed he had mutilated himself.

Sheriff Locates Breen And Pilot Safe At Hotel

Glidden, Wis., Nov. 23—(AP)—Singer Bobby Breen and his pilot companion, hunted for 24 hours by hundreds on land and by plane after they were reported missing in a flight Sunday, spent Sunday night and most of Monday in the Northwestern Hotel here, the hotel manager said last night.

Sheriff William Sands said Breen, 21-year-old former motion picture star, and the pilot, Kenneth Thompson, were found at the hotel last night. Sands said he would confer with the district attorney today regarding the search. "Someone's got to pay for all these bills," the sheriff said.

Sale Motor Vehicle Licenses Starts On December 1st

State motor vehicle license tags will go on sale December 1. The metal tags last year had a black background and yellow numbers. This year the background is yellow and the figures are black. The licenses may be obtained here at Page-Barbe Insurance and Real Estate Company's offices, 904 Dickinson avenue. Office hours are daily from 9 to 4 o'clock; Saturday, 9 to 12 o'clock.

days, 9 to 12 o'clock. Motor vehicles owners may avoid the rush toward the end of the year by purchasing their licenses early.

A Lift to Your Holiday Leftovers

When your leftover holiday poultry and ham stages a comeback, make it a "prima donna" rather than a "has been" food service.

Even the last appearance of the turkey or chicken should be something to look forward to. It can be fat-of-the-land feasting where the cook "sees" the possibilities in leftovers and carries them out with taste.

Stretches Your Food Dollar, Too

Larger cuts of meat and fowl with planned-for tasty, leftover service can be surprisingly more economical than mere day-by-day grocery buying.

You can treat the family all the way if you choose recipes like our Rector Special Platter for today. One day make it French Toasted Turkey or Turkey and Ham Sandwiches and then come on with a gala Sunday-style platter—say a take-off on a popular Veal Paprika recipe.

It's luscious! In spite of its grand appearance it is practically no work. Neither of these cookery methods will overheat the meat and so second servings will be as tender and juicy as at the holiday feast. If you've disliked leftover meat and poultry service it's probably because of over-heating. Try our "just-warmed" Rector Special Platter. It tastes as good as it looks!

Rector Special Turkey and Ham Platter

In a skillet of suitable size place:

1 cup cream or undiluted evaporated milk and

2 teaspoons paprika

Heat to simmering and then without actually boiling it, cook until volume is reduced to one-half. Then add:

4 slices Wilson's Certified Tender-cured Ham and 4 slices leftover, roast turkey

Merrily heat through. Do not let it boil. Serve hot with fluffy white rice balls shaped either with an ice cream scoop or between two spoons.

Michigan Again Rules Grid Poll For Third Week In Row

Notre Dame Is Runner-Up, With Army, North Carolina Close Behind; Few Changes Since Last Week

New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—Michigan rules the roost in college football for the third straight week by a comfortable margin in the new Associated Press poll of the 1948 season.

With 105 of 180 first place votes, the Wolverines polled 1,726 points for a lead of 103 over the idle runner-up, Notre Dame. Michigan finished its season Saturday by downing Ohio State, 13-8, while Notre Dame still has two more games to play.

There were few radical changes in the top 10 after a formula weekend, the only startling drop being Penn State's tumble from sixth to 16th place.

Army again held third place, although the Cadets were idle awaiting Saturday's finale with Navy, but North Carolina moved into fourth place, displacing California, by a 30-0 decision over Duke. The Michigan-Notre Dame-Army-California lineup had held true for two straight weeks.

The California Bears, named the western Rose Bowl team against twice-beaten Northwestern, was ranked fifth. Their New Year's Day opponents who walked Illinois, 30-7, clinging to seventh place, one step below Oklahoma.

The final poll will be conducted next weekend.

The team standings, figured on a 30-0-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 point basis (first place votes in parentheses).

1. Michigan (105).....1,726
2. Notre Dame (99).....1,628

Max Zaslofsky, the Chicago Stags' sharp-shooting forward who last season won the individual scoring honors of the Basketball Association of America with a total of 1,007 in 44 games for an average of 22.9 points a game, is one of the most feared players on the professional circuit. In his freshman year with the Stags—1946-1947 the former St. John's University ace paced his teammates with a total of 877 points to finish fourth among the team's top scorers.

Max well deserves his nickname—The Touch. A good one-handed shot around the basket and a deadly two-handed shot-maker from the outside he has speed and is a tireless driver.

Undecided

New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—The next chapter in the mystery series entitled "Rocky Gradano and the Coast" will be unfolded today—maybe.

The former middleweight champion, as undecided as a woman trying on hats, reversed his stand again last night. He was supposed to hop on a train for Oakland, Calif., and resume training for his Dec. 1 fight there with Fred Apostoli.

But a couple of hours before train time Rocky changed his mind and said he wasn't leaving that night.

Irving Cohen, co-manager of the New York boxer, said "something has come up. I can't say anything further right now except that I will have a statement on the matter Tuesday."

Army Doubles Up Coaching Staff

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 23—(AP)—Army not only has a two-planet football team but it has a two-planet coaching staff as well.

Head coach Earl Blaik of the Cadets, now preparing for the annual clash with navy at Philadelphia Saturday, has carried the two team idea so far that each half of the squad has its own practice field, some 50 yards apart.

And to keep the offensive and defensive lineups as distinct as possible the two squads never scrimmage each other. If the offensive team scrimmages, it takes it out on an eleven made up of offensive squad reserves. The same is true of the defensive team.

The two practice fields are connected by a path, made by Blaik as he supervises both practice sessions and by the new players who are in both units.

The two-planet system, adopted by army this year after it was used extensively in the midwest last year, is peculiarly adopted to army because football practice here is limited to exactly an hour and 15 minutes each day.

"Under this system," says Blaik, "we can spend the entire practice period teaching a player one thing well. In our curtailed practice sessions we would have to skip over some details in the past when we had only eleven 'regulars.'"

Profits Pour In For Louis' Tour

New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—Joe Louis' road series is about as big a hit as the ones staged by Bing Crosby and Bob Hope for the movies. And the heavyweight champion is coming almost as much dough.

So say Booker Harry Mendel and Manager Marshall Miles, who have the Brown Bomber hitting the road to Detroit, Cleveland and points north, south, east and west.

Tonight the champ takes on Kid Riviera in a four-rounder at St. Louis. Tomorrow it's Kansas City, Mo., against Curt Kennedy, and so on until Dec. 16 when the big guy's current tour is slated to end. That night the Bomber takes on Pat Comiskey in Paterson, N. J. Louis started his campaign by engaging Comiskey in Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.

Everywhere the champ shows, he's been packing them in. Louis will have earned more than $100,000 by the time he winds up in Paterson. The champ works on a percentage and so far everyone is happy, Mendel said.

"If the champ wants to continue to tour after the first of the year, he can earn another $100,000 by boxing exhibitions until the middle of February," Mendel declared. "And if he wants to keep on going he can make it 300 grand by April 1."

"The country is crazy to see him," Mendel added. "We've got offers from all over the U. S., as well as from foreign countries."

Accept Walker Cup Challenge

New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—Amateur golfers from England and the United States will compete in the Walker Cup matches over the Winged Foot course at Mamaroneck, N. Y., on Aug. 19 and 20, 1949, the United States Golf Association said today.

The USGA, as host organization, recently challenged the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, ruling body of golf in Great Britain. The R and A accepted the challenge today and the USGA then quickly accepted the bid of the Winged Foot club to use their course.

Michigan's Might Seen Still Hovering Over Rose Bowl

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 23—(AP)—Michigan's football power apparently still hovers over the Rose bowl.

Such was one line of thought today as the newly-fashioned lineup for the annual New Year's Day battle was discussed.

It'll be California of the Pacific Coast conference against Northwestern of the big nine.

Conference faculty athletic representatives, by secret telegraphic ballot, voted California into the big bowl—for the fifth time.

Oregon, tied with California in conference standings, lost out—unbeaten in conference play, but defeated in the battle of the ballots. That's where the Michigan influence may have exerted itself.

The Michigan, by big nine rules, were barred from appearing twice in succession in the Rose Bowl, where last New Year's Day the Adroitly massacred Southern California's Trojans, 49-0.

Last Oct. 2, less adroitly, perhaps the blundered Oregon, 14-0.

Theoretically, the faculty minds aren't supposed to dwell on non-conference results.

But, taking not a thing away from Pappy Waldorf's good-looking Bears, it is barely possible that one or more of the faculty eyes paused unconsciously over that Oct. 2 occurrence. The actual vote remains a deep secret; open to speculation, but never, according to commissioner Victor O. Schmidt, to be answered. Even the count, he said, might put some of the conference brothers "on the spot."

Perish the thought, but some skeptics said they thought conference politics might have figured, and California outmaneuvered Oregon in the long, lost weekend.

Hail Choice Of Yale's Captain

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 23—(AP)—Levi Jackson's election as Yale's 1949 football captain was being cheered today, both on and off the campus.

Town and Gown, alike, hailed the native born New Havener who yesterday became the first Negro in history to captain a Yale sports team and the first "townie" to lead the Blue since Ibert J. (Bib) Booth captained the 1931 team.

Modern Iraq is ancient Mesopotamia.

Sul Ross Slated As Entry For Tangerine Bowl

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 23—(AP)—Sul Ross College of Alpine, Tex., unbeaten in 10 games this season, will play in the Tangerine Bowl football game here New Year's night.

An opponent for the high scoring Lobos probably will be announced this weekend. Tangerine Bowl Committee Chairman Larry Satariano said these being considered include:

Appalachian State of Boone, N. C.; Wofford College, and Bowling Green (Ohio) University.

Sul Ross is unbeaten in its New Mexico conference for two seasons. This year against 10 foes the Lobos scored 431 points and gave up 113.

The team's star back, Ted Socon, currently leads the nation's scorers with 144 points, 10 more than the former record.

Bowl Group Eyes St. Bonaventure

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 23—(AP)—St. Bonaventure, a giant killer among smaller colleges this season, is getting increasing attention from the Cigar Bowl selection committee.

The New York team beat William and Mary and tied Boston College, while losing only to Canisius.

The committee planned to hold a special meeting today to consider the attractions of St. Bonaventure and three other late prospects—Miami University at Oxford, Ohio; University of Dayton at Dayton, Ohio; and Lafayette of Easton, Pa.

SMU And North Carolina Favored For Cotton Bowl

Dallas, Nov. 23—(AP)—The odds today appeared to favor Southern Methodist and North Carolina in the Cotton Bowl.

There was nothing official and the name of the visiting team being sought was kept a closely guarded secret, but unofficial sources said Southern Methodist's football squad, host team in the Dallas New Year's Day bowl game, voted North Carolina as their preference. Now it's up to the Cotton Bowl to get the Tar Heels.

Dan D. Rogers, chairman of the board of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, said announcement of the visiting team would be made this afternoon.

The squad, which clinched the host spot in the Cotton Bowl for the second straight year by beating Baylor 13-6 last Saturday, voted in secret yesterday afternoon. Coach Mack Bell would not reveal the choice and neither would bowl officials.

Reports indicate that the Orange Bowl is giving the Cotton Bowl strong competition for North Carolina, an unbeaten, once-tied team that whipped Texas of the Southwest Conference 34-7. The Cotton Bowl offers $105,000 to each team—more money than the Orange Bowl affords.

The fans already were talking about a meeting of two of the nation's greatest backs—Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's All-American, and Charlie (Choo-Choo) Justice of the Tar Heels.

It was reported that next to North Carolina, the SMU players chose Georgia, then Oklahoma, Tulane and Clemson. The latter, an unbeaten team, reportedly is well-coming a bid to the Cotton Bowl. Clemson played here in 1940, beating Boston College 6-3.

Draw A Line At Combatting Buck

Jamestown, N.D., Nov. 23—(AP)—Archers believe hunting deer with bow and arrow is more sportsmanlike than gunning, but two Jamestown College students draw the line at hand-to-antler combat.

Jess Conley and Paul Seaborn were hunting on Arrowhead refuge, a few miles north of here, their only weapon a bow Conley had made in his Boy Scout days. He sank an arrow into a four-point 185-pound buck. The animal went down but came back up and ran.

Conley and Seaborn caught up with their buck about 300 yards away. The animal charged Conley and he stabbed it with a bayonet. The buck got up and charged again, this time hooking Conley's wrist with an antler.

Seaborn then joined in the fight and a few more blows with the bayonet killed the buck. The two men have their deer, and they have the wounds to show they earned it.

Seminole Plan To Guard Land Against Hunters

Fort Myers, Fla., Nov. 23—(AP)—When the Florida hunting season opens tomorrow, Seminole Indians plan to patrol their reservation fences to keep out white hunters.

Fred Monte De Oca, in charge of agricultural activities for the Indians, said enough runners have been recruited to throw a cordon around reservation boundaries.

Hunters will be turned back at the line, he said. License numbers of intruding automobiles will be recorded and, if necessary, white supervisors will be called to keep out trespassers.

Monte De Oca reported deer fairly plentiful on the reservations but quail and turkeys are scarce. "Hunters found on the reservation usually claim they are lost," he said.

Oregon Students Calling For Bowl

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 23—(AP)—Campus sentiment at Oregon today favored a bowl game—somewhere, anywhere—for Coach Jim Aiken's disappointed Ducks.

While bowing to the Pacific coast conference vote to send California into the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day against the big nine's Northwestern, students called for a post-season game against a strong sectional opponent.

There is little doubt the Oregon team that built up seven conference wins to a co-tide with California in the Far West, would welcome a game. Coach Jim Aiken's sentiments were believed in the same vein. But there was no indication that Oregon athletic officials are seeking on considering another contest.

Students paraded around Aiken's home late last night. They boomed "We want a bowl game" again and again. The demonstration swirled across the campus and around the residences of squad stars. Conference rules, however, frown on any member school playing a post-season game that may rival the Pasadena classic. A special vote of the conference members would be needed. The question of establishing a president would likely loom at a major hurdle to any favorable vote.

Cross-Country Champ Says He's Not Satisfied

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 23—(AP)—Long-legged Bob Black is the NCAA's cross-country champion with a new record adorning the title. But he's not fully satisfied.

The 28-year-old Rhode Island State star raced the five miles in 19 minutes 52.3 seconds yesterday, cracking the nine-year-old mark of 20:12.9 set by Greg Rice of Notre Dame.

However, Black said he had "figured" on running it in less than 20 minutes and that he would have done "even better" if he had paced himself more carefully on the first two miles.

"I was bring towards the end," he said, "and I figure I could have made an even better time if I hadn't pushed myself at the end."

Homely, But Fast

New York—(AP)—Donor is probably the homeliest of racing thoroughbreds, but the son of Challeon has banked $261,910 for his owners on the track. However, he was so bony and unattractive as a two-year-old, none of the grooms wanted to rub him down. And he could have been claimed in his first race, which he won, for $3,500.

Twelve Winners

Miami—(AP)—Trainers of 12 Kentucky Derby winners will stable their horses this winter at Hialeah. They are B. A. Jones (Lawrin, Whirlaway, Pensive and Citation), Jim Fitzsimmons (Gallant Fox, Omaha and Johnston), Max Hirsch (Bold Venture and Assault), Ivan Parke (Hoop, Jr.), John Gaver (Shut Out) and Hollie Hughes (George Smith).

Memory Lingers On

Austin, Tex.—(AP)—The University of Texas has won 10 straight games over Arkansas in the inter-state football rivalry of these Southwest Conference teams. But preceding the start of that string, the Razorbacks posted Texas with a 42-6 loss, worst Texas defeat in modern history.

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 23

Florie Monahan's railroad flat was like that of most of her neighbors. The front room or living room opened on the street, and the best bedroom was merely like an extension of it to the rear. It opened on an air-shaft, which was important on the parlor floor, so called, little air and even less light came in that way. Both were gotten second hand from the front room when the dividing curtains were pushed back, and they usually were except when a person was dressing. They were pushed back now, even with Mrs. Monahan in bed and sick. Since it was very hot she needed all the air she could get.

Covered with a broad sheet for modesty's sake, she rose like a snow-covered mountain from the bed. The bedroom made a small stage as if waiting for a front-room audience. It might have been a setting for "La Traviata" with a heroine no fatter or older than many who essayed the role. The lights were set to feature the broad couch bed. Somehow it would have been most ludicrous if it had not been so serious.

But it had been serious. All last night it had been a question whether the overworked heart would keep going. This morning it had still been touch and go. Now with night again the woman was definitely better and really resting at last. Lottie was sitting with her, a much subdued Lottie indeed. She had been sent for last night and hadn't returned to her job.

Lottie touched her mother's forehead with a surprisingly gentle hand. The old woman opened tired eyes and smiled at her.

"Go eat, Lottie. I'm all right now. You've been so good."
Lottie bent and kissed her forehead. "All quiet now, Mom."

The fat face glowed. "You haven't called me Mom in years. I had to almost die to get it, didn't I?"
"You mustn't talk like that," Lot-tie's hands were deftly fixing the pillow. "In fact, you mustn't talk at all. Just rest."

"As if I could rest without talking. When I stop you know that's the sign to take me out and bury me."

Tears welled up in Lottie's eyes and ran down her cheeks. She tried to brush them away but the old woman held her hands.

"Don't cry, Lottie. Never do that for me. You can do more by lettin' little Tuffy come to see us once in a while."

"I will, Mom. I promise."
"Ah, it's good to hear you say it. I'll mean so much to Pat. Where is that poor man? Is he afraid now I'm feeling better I'll be after scoldin' him again for what he can't help?"

"He's eating, Mom. He and Joe. Bella is making sure they eat."

The woman sighed. "Can't you get rid of Bella? She means well but she's like a leech sticking to Joe. Why can't she see he don't love her? His heart belongs somewhere else. I know. He can't hide it from me."

"I'm not hungry. I'd rather sit here with you. Remember when I was so sick in this same room years ago? You made me stay here so you could wait on me, though I'd run away from you. They wanted to take me to the hospital, but you wouldn't let them do it."

"Do you still remember that? Ah, it was so long ago."
"I had forgotten, Mom, but I'll never forget again. I—I wanted to tell you when we were alone."

"You should tell Pat, too. It would do him good. He's done so much for us, Lottie, and him no kith or kin. I was wonderin' what would become of him after I was gone and he had no place to go, nobody to scold at him."

"You're not going anywhere, Mama, and you won't have to scold any more. He promised he was not going to get drunk ever again. You were too sick to know, but he kneeled by your bed and swore it. Father Toughy was here. We all were."

"May I come in?"
The soft voice came from the semi-darkness of the front room. Lottie jumped to answer it. She knew whose voice it was and hoped her mother hadn't recognized it. Rosalie, bag in hand, was looking in at the front door. Lottie faced her grimly, breathing heavily. Her voice was almost a hiss.

"You can't come in. Mother is sick. She can't see anyone."
"I know. Joe sent for me. She wants me and—"
"It's a lie. She hates you. We all hate you. Go away at once."
"But I had to come. I flew down."

"Rosalie! Is it you? Come in! Come in!"
Lottie thrust her out and banged the door shut, bolting it before rushing back to the bedroom. Her mother was trying to sit up. She forced her gently back on the pillow.

Cotton Farmers 'Betting' On Future Higher Prices

Washington, Nov. 22—(AP)—Cotton farmers are betting on higher prices. They are putting a big chunk of their crop under government loan, rather than sell at current prices which are above the loan rate. An Agriculture Department official told a reporter today that some 3,000,000 bales of cotton already are under government loan and that some experts look for the figure to approach or even exceed the 1937 record high of 5,581,000 bales. The 1948 crop has been forecast at 15,166,000 bales. "Many cotton farmers," the official said, "seem to think that cotton may go back to 35 cents a pound and they probably should get a government loan instead of selling at the present market."

The average cotton loan now is at 30.74 cents a pound on middling 15-16 inch, compared with the market price of about 31.5 cents. The official estimated that an average of 100,000 bales of cotton a day had been going onto the government loan list. One of the reasons for the optimistic feeling of some producers, he said, appears to be the probable return of Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) to the Senate Agriculture Committee chairmanship and the likely selection of Rep. Cooley (D-NC) as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee.

Both of these lawmakers, the official said, are in favor of keeping the cotton support price at 90 per cent of parity rather than letting it fluctuate under the 80 to 90 per cent scale called for in the long range farm law due to become fully effective in 1950.

New Industry Is Shipping Goods

Daily shipments of ladies' garments are being made from the Greenville plant of the American Lady Corset company which began operation here just two months ago. Charles R. Pool, manager of the local plant, said the Greenville division is making three corset models of the American Lady Corset line in three colors including the new ice cream pink which was promoted and introduced by the company and recently has been put on the market.

The local plant also is beginning work on a newly styled brassiere which has been recently added to the company's "Miss Today" line of products.

The Greenville division occupies the former Greenville Spinners' building which has been renovated to house the new industry, and has been equipped with modern sewing machines and fluorescent lighting. Several types of sewing machines are used in the process of making the garments, and according to Pool new machines are arriving at intervals and are being installed as rapidly as possible.

Goods for making the corsets and brassieres are shipped to the local plant where they are cut and then sewed together in an assembly line process.

Inducement To . . .

In New Zealand there's a fine for not registering although there's no fine for not voting. The number of people who register is near 100 per cent and the number of those who vote is about 90 per cent. Of course, while Klein's idea—a tax reduction for voters—can be looked upon as a reward or inducement to vote, it is in effect a fine for not voting.

Red Dean's . . .

which used Ottawa as the base of a far-flung spy ring which included America. As a clergyman he might be interested in the document published in Washington yesterday by the un-American activities committee of the House of Representatives. That declares: "You cannot be a Communist and believe in God. x x x in all their words and actions. The Communists look down religion as enemy No. 1."

Perhaps the Dean might take more notice of this. Yesterday in Cincinnati the American Federation of Labor in convention adopted a Foreign Policy calling for a military alliance against Soviet Russia and breaking off of trade relations with the U. S. S. R. Until the Berlin blockade is lifted. And the C I O opened its annual convention in Portland, Ore. with the anti-Communist right wing in full control and determined to deliver further heavy blows to the dwindling left wing. That's the sort of stone-wall against which the Dean is butting his head in this country. Every boost he gives the Communists here is a knock.

So stick around, Dr. Fell!

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—The stock market tipped downward after a wobbly start today. Losses ranged from fractions to more than a point. A handful of shares either clung to small gains or held unchanged.

The downward move was a resumption of yesterday's trend, during which the previous week's gains were wiped out. Some brokers felt the general price level might decline to the post election laws before attracting support, while others forecast the possibility of a December rally.
