

Neutrals Take Up Problem Of Berlin

Will Sift Through Answers To Questionnaire On Berlin Currency Problems In Effort To Find Means Of Halting Cold War

Paris, Nov. 24 (AP)—Six neutral members of the United Nations Security Council took up again today their task of trying to break through the East-West deadlock on Berlin. The neutrals will sift through American, British, French and Russian answers to a questionnaire on Berlin's currency problems in an effort to find a clue to a means of halting the cold war.

Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, president of the Security Council for November, submitted the questionnaire to the four powers and then turned the replies over to the other six members for study. The neutrals are Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Colombia and Syria.

Because currency is one of the chief causes of friction between the Western powers and Russia in Berlin, Bramuglia is seeking to get at the root of the discord by solving the money problem.

The United States, Britain and France introduced their Western German currency in the western sectors of Berlin last spring. Soon afterward, in June, Russia began its blockade of the capital city by halting all transportation except air traffic between Berlin and the Western occupation zones.

Russia has refused to lift the blockade until the Western powers accept Soviet currency as the only medium of exchange in all four sectors of the city. The Western powers, on the other hand, have refused to negotiate the currency or other questions until the blockade is lifted.

Despite the neutrals' vigorous new approach to the Berlin dispute, Western sources predicted gloomily that this latest effort would collapse.

A French official said East-West tension in Berlin probably would continue to mount for the next two weeks. He said municipal elections scheduled in the Western sectors for Dec. 5 probably would make things worse than they are now.

Communists are boycotting the Berlin elections and there is no voting scheduled in the Soviet sector of the city.

It appeared to be a general Western viewpoint that the currency problem cannot be separated from the general political situation in Berlin. If the political situation deteriorates, Western spokesmen said, any currency agreement reached in Paris might be impossible to administer.

The contents of the four powers' replies to Bramuglia's questionnaire remained undisclosed. The Western answers were received yesterday and Russia sent hers in last Saturday.

Informed sources said the Western states introduced some new ideas in their replies, but gave no further details.

How To Curb Strikes

When It Starts To Change Labor Laws, Congress Will Be Confronted By Important Question Of How To Prevent Paralyzing Tie-ups; The Picture As It Is Now

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—One of the biggest questions before the new Congress, when it starts to change the labor law, is this: What to do, if anything, to prevent big strikes that could paralyze the country and endanger the national health and welfare?

The three big labor organizations—AFL, CIO and coal miners—want the Taft-Hartley law wiped out. But none of them has said directly it wants any kind of law that could prevent the big strikes. The AFL has indicated it might.

Briefly, this is the picture now: There was nothing in the old Wagner Labor Act, passed in 1935 and liked by labor, which would prevent a strike.

In fact, for 15 years until 1947 a federal law prevented interference with a strike by such means as an injunction, or flat court order, against striking.

Then the Republican Congress last year placed the Wagner Act, and under that act a big strike which might cause a national emergency could be prevented by injunction for about 90 days. After such a delay, though, a union was free to strike.

But the injunction is one of the things which organized labor has

China Reds Gain Vital Ground On Road To Nanking

Neutrals Believe Communist Threat Growing; Major Fighting Rages

Nanking, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government continued to win the battle of Suichow on paper today, but neutral sources believed it was steadily losing vital ground to hard-pressed Communist troops.

Not even the pro-government newspaper reports agreed on what was happening. It was certain only that major fighting raged on the plains commanding the approach to Nanking, China's capital, less than 200 miles south of Suichow.

The weather, a key factor, turned against the Suichow defenders. Increasing cloudiness hampered air support such as helped nationalist ground troops blunt the Communists' opening offensive last week.

(Shanghai, 165 miles southeast of Nanking, showed its worry.

Chinese officials discussed "total war" plans. British authorities set up three safety zones for their women and children. U. S. Army planes evacuated American school children from Kuling, China's summer capital 460 miles west of Shanghai. Other aircraft evacuated 20 Americans from Hankow, 585 miles west.)

The main fighting appeared to have erupted on the eastern flank of the Suichow battle. Neutral observers doubted government reports of successes in this area.

One Shanghai newspaper said the Communist encirclement of Nien-chuang, 35 miles east of Suichow, had been broken. Another said the nationalist garrison had withdrawn to the northwest after undergoing night-long bombardment by Red artillery.

(The Communist radio, based in San Francisco by the Associated Press, declared yesterday Red forces had completely destroyed nationalist Gen. Huang Po-tao's Seventh Army group at Nien-chuang.)

The army mouthpiece, "Peace Daily," reported recapture of Tansuichia, 20 miles east of Suichow (claimed by official sources two weeks ago).

Seek Agreement On Future Of Italian Colonies

Paris, Nov. 24 (AP)—The United States is seeking international agreement on the future of Italy's former colonies, it was learned officially today.

John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, said agreement with Britain "and a number of other countries" is sought before the assembly attacks the problem.

Dulles told newsmen there were many complications to be ironed out before full agreement is reached.

The political committee may begin discussions on the future of Libya, Eritrea and Somaliland next week. The disposition of Italy's African Empire was left to the Assembly after the United States, Britain, France and Russia failed to agree.

'Encouraged'

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo appealed to President Truman again today for American moral and material aid for the hard-pressed Chinese Nationalist government.

Koo said he was "encouraged" by his White House interview, but he declined to say on what he based his encouragement.

Mr. Truman received Koo after holding his second Foreign Affairs conference of the week with Secretary of State Marshall a little earlier. The White House did not disclose any details of the Truman-Marshall talk.

Koo said of Mr. Truman: "He's very well informed about the situation, and has shown a most sympathetic view."

He added he was seeking an audience with Marshall.

Plan 'Congress' Meet On Friday

Students From Two States To Participate In Session

A student congress sponsored by the Greenville High chapter of the National Forensic League will convene Friday morning in joint session for a radio broadcast of the first bill of the opening session. Approximately 100 high school students from two states will participate in this second annual high school congress to be held in Greenville.

Attorneys for five defendants planned to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States which has never yet intervened in international war crimes cases.

MacArthur, in his statement, said he saw no reason for him to intervene. Whether the prisoners should have been prosecuted at all was not for him to say. But the two-year trial itself, he went on, was a fair one; every safeguard was made to "evolve justice."

"I x x I therefore direct the commanding general of the Eighth Army to execute the sentences as pronounced by the tribunal."

"In doing so, I pray that this tragic episode as a symbol to summon all persons of good will to a realization of the utter futility of war—that most malignant scourge of mankind—and eventually to its renunciation by all nations."

Those sentenced to death were: Tojo, army commander and premier at the outbreak of war; Gen. Kenji Doihara, known as the "ruthless" "Lawrence of Manchuria"; Koki Hirota, former premier; Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, former war minister; Gen. Hachiro Kato, Manchurian commander; Gen. Fumimaro Matsumoto, who presided over the "rape of Nanking"; and Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, who fought in the Philippines.

Lt. Gen. Walton Walker, commander of the Eighth Army, said the execution date has not been set but the seven men will be given "a reasonable time" before they are hanged, presumably at Sugamo Prison in Tokyo. Only official witnesses will be allowed. Correspondents will be barred. Walker said. No pictures will be taken.

Congressman Mitchell Salsed of Greenville, quite enthusiastic for his proposal that congressional activity be carried to the people by placing "television" in the Senate and the House of Representatives.

R. B. Stirling of the local high school faculty will be assisted as adviser by representatives of the Forensic League chapters of Johnson City and Elizabethton, Tenn.

The concluding event of the Congress will be a luncheon at the Airport Inn Saturday at 1 o'clock.

R. B. Stirling said student participation in a congress is both interesting and educational, and that he is pleased with the growing interest in this type of student training.

AFL Ready To Talk Peace With Former Members

Cincinnati, Nov. 24 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor is ready to talk peace with the Communist-led National Association of Machineists, the CIO and John L. Lewis United Mine Workers.

President William Green, who met yesterday with the executive committee to wind up business of the AFL's 67th annual convention, explained the peace movement is in accordance with a convention resolution calling for a unified labor movement.

The Machineists left the AFL in 1946 as the result of a dispute with the carpenters over installing plant machinery. The Miners with drew last year. Unions which created the CIO were suspended in 1936.

Green said he will talk peace with the three groups "at the first opportunity."

Reds Take Over Big Polish Union

Warsaw, Nov. 24 (AP)—Polish Communists took over control today of this nation's most powerful labor organization.

The central trade unionists, with a membership of 333,000, handed the presidency to Communist party leader Edward Ochab.

Two other Communists were named vice-president and secretary. Leftist Socialist Tadeusz Cwik was appointed secretary general.

Thanksgiving Day Religious Services

The union Thanksgiving work will be held on Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. Rev. Leon Russell will deliver the sermon. All people in the community are invited to share in this service of praise and thanksgiving.

Denies Clemency For Japan's Top War Criminals

MacArthur Orders Execution Of Tojo And Six Others; A 'Repugnant' Task

Tokyo, Nov. 24 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur today denied clemency for Japan's 28 top war criminals and ordered the execution of Hideki Tojo and six others who dreamed of conquest but lost an empire.

As sole reviewing officer, he declined to use his power to lighten any of the sentences determined by the international military tribunal—seven to die on the gallows; 16 to spend the rest of their lives in prison, two to lesser prison terms.

The supreme commander called his task "utterly repugnant" to him. He closed his review of the war guilt case with a plea to people of all creeds in Japan to pray on execution day—yet to be made public—to help the world keep the peace, "lest the human race perish."

Attorneys for five defendants planned to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States which has never yet intervened in international war crimes cases.

MacArthur, in his statement, said he saw no reason for him to intervene. Whether the prisoners should have been prosecuted at all was not for him to say. But the two-year trial itself, he went on, was a fair one; every safeguard was made to "evolve justice."

Next Year's Big Legion Conclave May Be Finale

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—The American Legion may hold no more "big" conventions after its 1949 National conclave in Philadelphia, says Judge Vincent A. Carroll, chairman of the organization's convention mission.

Judge Carroll, a Philadelphia jurist, told a meeting of the Legion's local council last night that the national convention has outgrown the city and will be held in one of the three farms near here.

The vice-president-elect will eat his birthday dinner tonight with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Barkley, and their two children. No special celebration is planned.

Douglas Says Labor Can Do Better Than Diplomats

Portland, Ore., Nov. 24 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas told the CIO today that labor leaders can do a better job than conventional diplomats in defeating world-wide Communist propaganda and bridging the gap between America and Europe.

His speech, prepared for delivery before the CIO convention, was in tune with the prevailing mood here. The 600 or so delegates, doing a whacking job of humbling their own left wing and fully alive to labor's new importance in the international field, turned their attention to the future of CIO political action.

That meant new wrangling, new name-calling, and the certainty of another smashing victory over the left-wing minority that supported

Henry Wallace for President and opposes the Marshall plan of European aid.

And there was another significant development today. There were spreading reports—apparently well-based—that the CIO leadership plans to create "organizing committees" to seek a flood of new members among governmental workers, retail clerks, and white collar employees of all sorts.

This would be done by the CIO executive boards, probably after the convention ends. If true, such action would be reminiscent of the early mass-organizing years of the CIO.

President Philip Murray has already told the convention that the CIO Unions now operating in those fields are "inadequate."

President Of Venezuela Reveals Cabinet 'Quit'

Caracas, Venezuela, Nov. 24 (AP)—President Romulo Gallegos ended a government crisis yesterday when he announced the resignation of his old cabinet which had helped him rule the country since his inauguration last February.

An informant said the President will appoint seven new Ministers, all of them independents. At most, only two members of the Accion Democratica party, which dominated the old cabinet, will remain, he said.

It was denied officially that Gallegos was being held prisoner by the army at La Guaira, Port of Caracas, and that army officers there had

Raises Question

New York Nov. 24 (AP)—Would a man steal from a good man-artist who aided him?

The question was causing a lot of discussion today among friends of a Bronx good man-artist—Ralph Dias, a stationery store operator.

Nias helps everyone, whatever the trouble.

Several weeks ago Pedro Serra, 35, told Dias he was having "some trouble." Dias let him move into his home.

Tuesday night, while the Dias family was at the movies, several suits, an engagement ring and an accordion disappeared.

Today police arrested Serra and two brothers, charging them with participation in the burglary. A fourth man is sought.

Puts Labor Law Third On 'List'

Solon Sees Priority For Other Discussed Legislation

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Senator Herbert Thomas (D-Utah) today rated repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act third on his priority list for the next Congress.

"Personally I think Congress must give first attention to increasing the minimum wage law," Thomas told a reporter. "And the Senate may even push federal aid to education ahead of that."

The Utah senator is in a position to carry out his forecasts. He will become chairman of the Senate Education and Labor Committee when Democrats take over the law-making machinery in January.

"If there was any mandate from the people in the last election then wage-hour and aid to education should come first," Thomas said.

"There is no doubt that most of the 60,000,000 workers of this country who voted with us (Democrats). But only about 15,000,000 of them now are organized into unions. Another 25,000,000 are not organized but are under the Fair Labor Practices Act. They should get first attention."

The Fair Labor Practices Act is better known as the wage-hour law. Passed in 1938, it sets a 40-cent an hour minimum for workers whose output crosses state lines, and calls for time and one-half pay after 40 hours of work in any one week.

Thomas, calling the 40-cent minimum obsolete, proposed a boost to 75 cents an hour last session. That bill got nowhere in the GOP-controlled 80th Congress.

Premier Queuille Wins Test Vote

Paris, Nov. 24 (AP)—Parliament voted its confidence in Premier Henri Queuille's middle of the road government today.

The unofficial count was 326 to 166.

The bulk of the vote against Queuille was by Communist deputies. If the vote had gone the other way, the cabinet would have resigned.

Alben Barkley Has A Birthday

Living Cost Dip May Find Change In Truman Demands

Heavier Outlays Ahead In Foreign Aid Expected

Red Sweep In China To Cost U.S. More Billions Whether Or Not Chiang Kai-shek Receives Help On Grand Scale

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Communist sweep in China appears certain to cost the United States more billions in foreign aid over the next few years—whether or not this country decides to give grand scale help to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

As policy planners here see the picture, two points stand out:

1. If President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall determine that China still can be saved from Communism—and decide to go ahead with an aid program—they will have to ask the new Congress for several hundred million dollars at least. And that would be just a starter, since any new China program is regarded as a long-term undertaking.

2. If in spite of American help or without it—all China falls to the Communists, the task of rebuilding Japan and providing it with a stable economy will be much more costly. That is because Japan would find trade relations with Communist China should prove actively hostile to the west in the cold war, military leaders might consider it essential to strengthen American defenses in the western Pacific. That, however, is no more than a speculation possibility at the moment.

These factors, as well as the impact of a Red victory in China on the whole anti-Communist struggle, are believed to be before Mr. Truman and Marshall as they cope with the problem of developing their Marshall was scheduled to meet the President again today for their second Foreign Policy conference in three days. Their first talk took place on Monday shortly after the Secretary returned from the United Nations meeting at Paris.

But if any decisions were reached then they were not disclosed. Secrecy even covered the question of whether Marshall will continue as Secretary of State or soon retire.

Meanwhile, it is understood that Chiang, in connection with his appeal to President Truman for urgent assistance, proposed that a prominent American military leader—someone with great prestige—be sent to head this country's military mission in China.

Possibility Raised That Call For 'Standby' Price Control And Rationing Powers May Be Toned Down As Price Index Shows Decline

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A slight but welcome dip in living costs raised the possibility today that President Truman might tone down his demand for "standby" price control and rationing power when Congress meets in January.

Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's council of economic advisers, said a continued ebb in prices, washing out the need for drastic controls, would be "well." But he didn't predict that would happen.

"It would be like seeing chart go down," Nourse told a reporter, "but we aren't drawing any conclusions yet."

His comment came after the bureau of labor statistics reported last night that its cost-of-living index for October showed a dip of one half point over cent. This was the first drop in seven months for the index as a whole.

Another top government fiscal official said privately he believed inflationary forces still have the upper hand. And Chester Bowles, one-time boss of OPA and Governor-elect of Connecticut, said after a White House visit that Congress "unquestionably" will act against inflation.

Behind all the guesswork lay the big question of what will happen overseas—how much more money will have to go for foreign aid and national defense.

Some influential White House advisers are known to feel that any substantial rise over Mr. Truman's present $15,000,00

The Lydia Wooten class of the Methodist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Clapp on Thursday evening.

The topic Thanksgiving was used by Mrs. Paul Murray for her devotional. Scripture read was the 100th Psalm. A very inspiring talk was given on the religious origin of Thanksgiving, why we should observe it in its original way instead of celebrating it as a holiday for pleasure only.

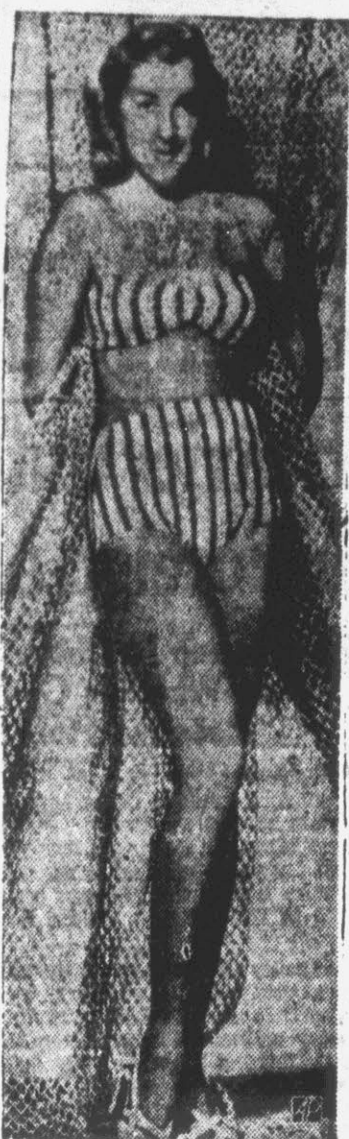

A short business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Jethro Johnston.

A social hour was then enjoyed. Mrs. Helene Kirkpatrick, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Scott, gave several vocal selections.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, after which we adjourned to meet Tuesday December 21, with Mrs. Frank Moseley.

Auxiliary Honors Gold Star Mothers

The American Legion Auxiliary met with Mrs. J. B. Spilman on Monday afternoon at 3:30. One of the largest groups of members yet to assemble greeted the Gold Star Mothers who were honored by the Auxiliary on this occasion. Corsages of gold pom-poms tied with national blue satin ribbon were presented to all Gold Star Mothers.

Mrs. H. B. Rogers, president, presided. The flag salute was given, followed by the Preamble to the Constitution. The Auxiliary song was then sung.

Mrs. James Worsley, rehabilitation chairman, announced that 78 gifts had been mailed to the Veterans' Gift Shops at Oteen and Swannanoa Hospitals and asked members to please get their gifts in for Fayetteville gift shop which opens December 8th. The value of the Auxiliary's Gift Shop program last year throughout the state was over $30,000.

The Auxiliary will send a carton of cigarettes and five Christmas cards to each of the 25 veterans which have been assigned by the hospital service worker to the Greenville unit for remembrance at Thanksgiving.

Mrs. W. J. Bundy reported that membership renewals were almost complete and asked any member who had not yet renewed membership to do so at once. She also asked members to contact every eligible woman for new members.

The hospitality committee chairman, Mrs. Frank Taylor, reported that she had remembered all sick members and those bereaved.

The Auxiliary voted to give $10.00 to the Community Chest and to buy a TB Seal Bond.

The Auxiliary considers it an honor that Mrs. James Worsley has been nominated as area chairman.

Dr. A. D. Frank was guest speaker. His subject was "Maintaining Peace."

Dr. Frank believes that the United Nations organization has a chance to maintain peace. He said that it could prevent big wars but not civil strife such as that being waged now in China. He cited its strength of membership of over 50 nations and pointed out that no nation has yet withdrawn.

The speaker said that the weakest point in the United Nations is the power of veto. Dr. Frank is optimistic about future peace. He said that nations do not now want to fight another war.

A past president's pin was presented to Mrs. James S. Jenkins and a membership pin was presented to Mrs. W. J. Bundy for outstanding work on the membership drive.

A delightful social hour followed. The hostesses served decorated cakes, ice cream, nuts and minis.

Assisting Mrs. Spilman were Mesdames J. D. Aman, Nash Joyner, W. S. Stafford, Frank Taylor, J. A. Collins Jr. and Simon Tucker.

Mr. F. L. Neel Talks Before Club

Mr. Francis Lee Neel of the art department of the college was guest speaker at the meeting of the Literature Department on Tuesday, November 23rd, at the home of Mrs. L. A. Stroud. Mrs. N. C. Brooks was assisting hostess.

At the short business meeting the motion was passed that for its Christmas project this year the Literature Department would send magazine subscriptions to a veterans hospital.

Dainty refreshments were served in the dining-room. The table was gay with an interesting decoration of fan-tailed turkeys stalking among bright-berried foliage and red candles. Mrs. R. E. Hardaway poured.

As Mr. Neel talked in his pleasant informal way, he passed around some of the beautiful and interesting object d'art that he had collected while he was a paratrooper in the Pacific area. There were interesting sketches he had made of island scenes, exquisite Japanese silks, religious figurines, etc. Gradually more and more questions were asked and the audience came away feeling that it had gained in understanding of the Japanese people—how they really feel and live.

Guests were Mrs. T. E. Hooker, Mrs. R. E. Hardaway and Mrs. James R. Bulledge.

The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, December 11, at the home of Mrs. John D. Messick. Mrs. J. H. Rose will read a Christmas story.

Bookmarks placed in every book taken from the library will contain information on the 1948 Christmas Seal Sale which opened Nov. 22 and continues until Christmas. Funds from the Seal Sale will be used to support the tuberculosis control work of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association which supplied the bookmarks.

Miss Hester, librarian at the Sheppard Memorial Library, said that she and her co-workers were glad to participate in distributing this particular Christmas announcement.

"The public education program of the tuberculosis association is one of its most important," said Miss Hester. "We librarians like to think that we are in a position to help directly with the association's educational projects, which are part of its tuberculosis control program. We and all library users also know that we support this and all the association's health-protecting activities with every purchase of Christmas Seals."

Thanksgiving Dinner Cost Fails To Scare Housewives

By The Associated Press

Turkey prices this Thanksgiving week have been nearly 20 per cent higher than last year—but they do not seem to have scared many housewives out of the market.

On the contrary, it appears the demand—coupled with decreased production—may cause a shortage of birds for Christmas.

A survey of key cities showed prices for the holiday bird averaging about 75 cents a pound for young hens and about 65 cents for the bigger Toms of 16 pounds and over.

There were abundant supplies of the other good foods that make up the Thanksgiving dinner—and at prices just about the same as last year's. Cranberries, celery and citrus fruits were especially plentiful.

For dressed top-grade small turkeys, some stores in New York, Atlanta and San Francisco were asking 85 to 89 cents a pound—and getting it.

The same quality fowl costs shoppers around 35 to 40 cents back in pre-war 1941.

Here's the price range for turkeys under 16 pounds in some representative cities: New York 75-85 cents a pound, Chicago and Denver about 69, Boston 73-75, Atlanta 67-69, with the average 78, Kansas City 73-83, Dallas 73-80 and San Francisco 64-89. The heavier Toms were generally being quoted about 10 cents cheaper.

Most retailers had expected many housewives would balk at the prices. But food circles said that, judging from the volume of trade during the first two days this week, shoppers apparently were determined to have turkey regardless.

THANKSGIVING

WAS MADE IN AMERICA

The little company of Pilgrims, pitifully few in a great, uncharted, unfriendly wilderness, came to their first Thanksgiving and knelt in humble gratitude before the food that was barely enough to keep them alive. They had fought for their freedom . . . they had stood their ground . . . and won! It was a Thanksgiving made in a new land out of a hard and bitter struggle. As we sit down this year in the comfort and with the abundance that our America has given us . . . let us hold fast to a strength and faith as great as theirs. It is still our own Thanksgiving, made in America, for Americans. LET US NOT FORGET, HUMBLLY, TO GIVE THANKS!

Strength FOR THE DAY

THANKSGIVING
"What shall I render unto the Lord, for all his benefits toward me?"

There have been many blessings this past year. If everyone on Thanksgiving Day were to sit down and for ten minutes try to recall the unusual blessings which had come upon his life during the past twelve months, he would go about his business at the end of that time with a renewed sense of God's goodness. Perhaps amid those good things would have been some misfortunes pretty hard to take, but misfortune or no misfortune, the good things and the happy things were there.

The psalmist who asks the question, what he shall render unto the Lord for his manifold blessings, has an answer which at first glance seems incongruous. His answer is, "I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord." In other words, he will use the things God has given him and acknowledge God to be the giver.

The best things we can render God for his gifts is a good use of those gifts. The way to show God that we really appreciate what He has done for us is to use the things and opportunities He has given us to high ends. The Bible assures us (1 Tim. 4:17) that God "giveth us richly all things to enjoy."

THANKSGIVING

(The Daily Reflector, Nov. 23, 1948)

The season has again arrived when it is fitting to pause in the march of life, and with thoughts lifted up to the Giver of all good, render thanks for all the many blessings He has bestowed. While we should not cease to be thankful daily for blessings and mercies enjoyed, it is appropriate that once a year for one day we should lay aside the cares of life and the perplexities of business, and spend the day in thanksgiving to God. Our custom as a nation to observe the day is a beautiful one, and it is the duty of every true citizen to take part in the observance. All should recognize God and His watchcare over us, and should not withhold the praise that is due Him.

Take a mental inventory of the blessings that have been yours during the year, and you will find enough to cause your heart to swell with gratitude and your lips to exclaim "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits." There is not one so poor in this world's goods who cannot yet find much to be thankful for. There are none who have suffered but who can see there is much they have been spared. There are none who have had sorrow in the midst of which a Comforter was not sent. There is so much for which we should be thankful, and let our thoughts be on these.

And in the midst of our thanksgiving let our gratitude not end in meditation and praise, but may it find expression in the practice of that precept "it is more blessed to give than to receive." God has given us much and we can best show our appreciation and gratitude to Him by doing something for others. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye

Dear Editor:

Ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. John M. Fleming were married. They began traveling the road of happiness, but this journey was interrupted several years later. The father was suddenly stricken with tuberculosis. He was forced to leave his wife alone with three small boys.

Despite the hardships, and unhappiness which followed, the mother with the help of relatives and friends held the home together, and cared for her invalid father. Home for them, and still is, a dilapidated farmhouse without lights, and without much protection from the cold in winter. The interior is unpainted and darkened from age, and offers little in the way of cheerfulness—so necessary to the morale of any family. Handicapped as she was, this brave mother did what she could for her family; always was overjoyed at any help received; and greeted anyone who visited her with a smile. She has maintained the same attitude in spite of the further misfortune which followed.

On the other hand, the husband is to be commended on his strong will and desire to get well, so he might return to his family. After a number of serious operations and treatments, he was released from the hospital. He returned home in high spirits. Each day marked an improvement in his health. Soon he was permitted to spend a good part of the day out of bed. They at last thought a normal life was in store for them. About this time another little boy was added to the family. But this child, although healthy in every way began having frequent seizures of high temperatures. The family doctor believed the trouble derived from the fact the child was cutting teeth. During one of these fits of high temperature the baby lost its breath. The mother and father were desperate. Although the father had been cautioned not to lift anything, caution was thrown to the winds—as would be the case of any normal parent, he picked the child up and rushed to a door to give it air. The baby revived, but the father had a relapse.

He had to go back for more operations and treatments, which only a person with the strongest will to live, and greatest faith in God, could endure, he is again looking forward to coming home.

The mother, after this setback, was unable to see any other way out, so her invalid father was placed in a home for the aged. Two of the four boys are attending school. Anyone with this experience knows what a problem it is to care for and clothe two growing boys in school.

During tobacco season she graded tobacco, but her money went for doctors' bills.

A little more than three weeks ago the baby was again taken ill. This time after examination by a local pediatrician whose advice was to have the patient taken to Duke Hospital as soon as possible. In addition to having a critically ill child, to know you have no money and no time to make arrangements to get any is a very bad situation to find oneself. But she was fortunate in being able to borrow $10. But that doesn't go far when you find yourself a hundred miles from home for a week and paying $1.50 a day for room. The landlady did give her free supper. But she had to save enough for her bus fare home.

The baby's case was diagnosed as spinal meningitis. Latest reports have been that it was able to return home late the same week. People are especially free-hearted on holidays—but imagine the necessities of a family including four children over a twelve months period. We who think we have a difficult time, should pause and place ourselves in this mother's place, then we will realize how fortunate we are. If more of us realize this, perhaps the world would be a brighter place to live in.

PLANNING—Among those who are looking for more in the way of retirement benefits from the next general assembly are the law enforcement officers. Representatives of the three major groups in the Law Enforcement Officers Benefit & Retirement System—Sheriffs' Association, Police Executives and Highway Patrol—conferred Monday in the office of State Auditor Henry Bridges. Another conference is scheduled for December 13 at which time the vague and general suggestions will be reduced to specific form for presentation to the general assembly.

ELECTED—In a streamlined session lasting less than fifteen minutes the state board of elections Tuesday formally certified the results of the November 2 election. The certification covered a United States senator; a governor and a lieutenant governor; secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, commissioners of agriculture, labor and insurance; a justice of the supreme court and three judges of superior court elected on the statewide ballot. Elected on district tickets coming under supervision of the state board were twelve congressmen, three solicitors and thirty-three state senators.

DEMOCRATS—Of the sixty-five persons declared elected, sixty-three were Democrats. Two state senatorial districts elected Republicans. The 65 persons for 64 offices came about through division in the short and full terms for commissioner of agriculture. David S. Coltrane, serving as commissioner by executive appointment, filed for the balance of the Kerr Scott term, and L. Y. Ballentine was elected for the full term beginning January 1. There were also short and long terms in the senatorial and judicial offices and for state auditor, but the incumbent appointees were elected to continue their tenure in these offices.

STREAMLINED—It was one of the shortest sessions of the state board that old timers could recall when a full state ticket was to be certified. The streamlining was possible because board members had previously thoroughly checked the figures and it was not necessary to read them. The board recognized the efficient service of executive secretary Raymond Maxwell in conducting the routine matters of the election. The resolution was offered by Adrian Mitchell, veteran Republican member, and was amended by Democratic member Ray Morgan to include the services which Mitchell had rendered by spending so much time at the state office during the election period.

HEDGING—Chairman Hubert Olive ordered written into the minutes a state-commending county and local election officials, party leaders on all levels and others for the apparently honest and fair way in which the election was conducted. For the first time in many years no protest of any kind was filed with the board. The chairman was kidded a bit for his hedging with use of the word "apparently" applied to the honest and fair election. He said he wanted to be safe in case trouble developed later.

WATCHED—Nothing of interest happened at the session, but the public would have known about it if it had. There were five members and two employees of the state board of elections present (one of the few meetings when a full board showed up) and there were several newspaper and radio reporters on hand.

INURED—Republican T. G. Carter wise-cracked that he would sign the election abstracts but he didn't like the idea of certifying so many Democrats. To which Republican Adrian Mitchell, who has served on the board longer than the combined tenure of all the other members rejoined that he had signed 'em so often he had gotten used to it. He added, however, he had never learned to like it.

New York (AP)—The vanishing American today is the Indian on the old-fashioned nickel.

He is losing face faster than Chiang Kai-Shek. No wonder he is looking west toward the sunset. He has had his day. He and the Buffalo are going down together.

For the nickel it about as useful to the average man now as a golf ball is to a hen. Time was when the nickel delighted the childish heart. Give one to a kid today, and the little innocent is likely to inquire: "What's it for?"

And it is a hard question to answer. The nickel, like the old grey mare, ain't what she used to be. The coin originally was strictly an inflation product. Now it's a victim of inflation.

It was first minted in 1865 in the high price times following the Civil War. Before that the people had made small change with half cents, large cents, pennies, brones two cents, nickel three cents, and silver three-cent and half-dime pieces.

The new five-cent nickel, which was actually only 35 per cent nickel and 65 per cent copper, quickly rivaled even the Indian head penny in popularity. It quickly drove the two-cent, three-cent and half-dime coins out of circulation.

It had a mighty reign. For two generations of Americans it was a basic coin, although by statute it was legal tender only in the payment of debts of twenty-five cents or less.

It helped build fortunes for the Woolworths, the Dubos and many another class.

What couldn't a man do with a nickel in the good old days? He could buy his wife a pair of earrings or a hair ribbon. He could belly up to a bar and get a stiff shot of stomach warmer or a tall glass of beer. It would finance him to a plug of chawin'-terrace, a small pack of coffin nails, or two of the darkest, strongest cigars this side of Cuba.

It would take him to the movies in the era of the silent flickers, men fainting at the sight of pretty Pearl White, tied by villainy to the railroad tracks in the path of the speeding express trains, 15 minutes out of Hoboken.

Yes, sir-r-r-re. For a nickel a Sunday swell could thrill his best girl by knocking over five ducks in a row at the shooting gallery. A boy could buy a hot dog, a hanging sack of popcorn, a whooping hot-plate for seven cents, or enough licorice to bring out the family doctor or his wife.

They thought so much of this dear old coin that the worst thing you could say of a man was, "he ain't worth a plugged nickel."

And today? It won't even buy the foam on a glass of beer. The only cigar it'll fetch is a stinky thing that looks like a cigar with jam-dice and evaporates in three strong puffs. It won't let you in to see a newswreel, let alone a double feature.

In many cities you have to team it up with some pennies to ride a bus or buy a newspaper, a pack of gum, or a bottle of soft drink, junior size. And the glass bottle is so thick the soda pop looks like the fluid in a thermometer.

No longer will a kind note from the boss and a nickel get you a ride in the subway. It takes two nickels now.

The Democrats used to holler because the Republicans put Andrew Jackson's picture on the $20 bill. They complained they were so poor

Dinosaur's Graveyard Is Said Found In Mongolia

Moscow, Nov. 24 (AP)—A Soviet scientific expedition claimed today it has discovered the greatest dinosaur graveyard in the world.

I. A. Efremov, leader of the expedition, told in the newspaper Izvestia that the expedition was finding a place in the Gobi Desert near a mountain range where he found "the remains of millions of dinosaurs."

The expedition brought back as visual proof of their claims 70 tons of the remains of extinct animals—some of a type now unknown to paleontologists anywhere, the Soviet scientist claimed.

The exhibits, which will be assembled and put on display in Moscow soon, included various types of dinosaurs, two of a rapacious variety that walked on their hind feet, a giant turtle, and a huge "man-eating bird" the report said.

The skeleton of one dinosaur measured 100 feet the scientists said.

The discoveries were made near Nemegut Mountain range about 730 miles from Ulan Bator, capital of the Outer Mongolian Peoples' Republic in the Gobi Desert.

Efremov gave his explanation of the great graveyard:

"It is probable," he said, "that at one time many years ago a river passed through the spot and it brought all the bodies of the dinosaurs from the mountain range region to this place."

"Now the remains of these animals are covered with a thick layer of hard soil 15 to 40 meters thick."

The dinosaur 100 feet long was described as of the sauropod type.

Story Of Greenville

Part II
Old's note: This is the second in a series of articles by I. J. Edwards, Jr., Greenville, a student at the University of North Carolina. The articles deal with the history of the city of Greenville from 1774 to 1911, and are based on facts from "Sketches of Pitt County," a book by Henry T. King, published in Raleigh by Edwards of Broughton in 1911.

The first article in this series revealed two particularly interesting facts: Greenville's first name was Martinborough, so named after the first Royal Governor of North Carolina; and President George Washington dined here April 19, 1791. The site of the home where Washington dined would be an interesting problem for research, as there is doubt about the location of the house.

Henry King's book, "Sketches of Pitt County," which was published in 1911 says: "The house in which he (Washington) is said to have dined in Greenville is still standing and Plans for the conference resulted from a preliminary discussion yesterday of the State Board of Elections with Attorney General Harry McMullan. Board Secretary Raymond Maxwell also was present.

Board Chairman Hubert E. Olive and Maxwell said later that the discussion covered in general the subject of clarifying the board's duties, especially in regard to the organization of new political parties.

On the middle belt a few quality grades increased slightly but this was offset by drops of 25 cents to $3 for the cheaper grades.

Justice Captain Of Mythical All-Southern Football Squad

Backfield Would Probably Be One Of Best In Land If Ever Assembled As A Unit

Greenville, Va., Nov. 24—(AP)—Carolina's mercurial-headed Justice, Charlie Justice today another honor to his being of gridiron laurels. Carolina tailback was named one of the 1948 All-Southern selections of the Associated Press. Justice, 167-pound from Asheville, N.C., earned a place by collecting the votes in the annual balloting of league's head coaches and writers.

Specific, the Choo-Choo got team votes on every ballot except Justice and Clemson's Mathews are tied for the top making crown, each with 44 votes.

A shade behind Justice was by Thompson, William and 215-pound Senior center Woodbridge, N. J. Like Justice Thompson was almost an unanimous selection.

Justice and one other player on 1948 All-Southern honor roll—Mam and Mary's (Flying) Cloud were named to the first eleven of the third successive year. The other stars were selected for the second time. In addition Justice and Cloud, holdovers last season's team were End Weiner and Tackle Len Szafranski of North Carolina, and Tackle Duke's Al Derogatis of Duke.

Justice, who failed to make the grade in 1947 after he was injured most of the season, like a look at the complete team. Weiner, North Carolina; John O'Quinn, Wake Forest; Al Derogatis, Duke; Len Szafranski, North Carolina; Frank Gillespie, Clemson; Bernard Watts, North Carolina; Tommy Thompson, William and Mary; Charlie Justice, North Carolina; Robert Gage, Clemson; Moses Rodgers, North Carolina; Jack Cloud, William and Mary.

Chennault Lends Hand At Suchow

Shanghai, Nov. 24—(AP)—Retired U. S. Maj. Gen. Claire I. Chennault's Chinese Air Transport Line today began mercy missions to Suchow. Former American C-47s flew 300 tons of rice to the beleaguered and brought back 300 wounded Chinese troops.

The Commercial Airline's field at Hsinjiao, just outside Shanghai, has been converted overnight into a military base.

General Chennault led the American volunteer group's flying Tigers against the Japanese during the war. Jockey Ted Atkinson has been the leading rider at Hialeah race track for the last two seasons. He will try for a third.

When tobacco was first taken to Europe from the United States, it was used as a narcotic. The backfield of Justice, Gage, Rodgers and Cloud undoubtedly would be one of the finest in the land if it was ever assembled as a unit. Like Justice, Gage, a 170-pound Senior from Anderson, S.C., runs, kicks and passes with the best in the country. Gage has proven a general handy-andy on Coach Frank Howard's Clemson eleven, the 16-club league's only undefeated and untied outfit.

Gamecocks Have Chance To 'Make Good' Tomorrow

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24—A golden chance for redemption comes up tomorrow for South Carolina's Gamecocks, one of the Grade A disappointments of the 1948 Southern conference football seasons.

The Gamecocks tangle with Wake Forest's Demon Deacons on their home stamping grounds at Columbia, and a South Carolina victory would be an acute embarrassment to the Dixie Bowl-bound Deacs. There's nobody the Gamecocks had rather embarrass. Besides that, a triumph for South Carolina would serve to even up the ledger on the 36-year-old grid series between the two teams. To date, Wake Forest has captured eight of the 17 games, against seven decisions for South Carolina. Two games have been ties.

Last year, the Gamecocks pounded out a 6-0 verdict. But this time, the visiting Deacs will be favorites to gain revenge against a South Carolina team which has lost four out of seven contests. Wake Forest's record stands at five wins and three defeats. Which ever way the game turns out, the conference standings won't be materially affected. Both the Gamecocks and the Deacons already have missed the boat for 1948 championship honors.

The South Carolina-Wake Forest tilt is one of four which pit conference teams against each other on Thanksgiving Day. Others include the traditional game between Virginia Military Institute and Virginia Tech at Roanoke, Va.; the Furman-Division tilt at Charlotte, N.C., and the Washington and Lee-Richmond tilt in Richmond.

Rain hampered practice sessions yesterday all around the loop. Many teams had to do their drilling indoors. South Carolina stressed passing and a defense against the Wake Forest aerial game. Coach Rex Enright learned that ace quarterback Bo Hagen, who was injured against Tulsa, might not be ready for duty by Thursday.

Wake Forest brushed up on its ground defense in practice and also had a look at South Carolina plays. The heaviest known materials are metals, but some metals are among the lightest known materials.

Two Major Bowls Still Have No Football Teams

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—Two major or New Year's Day football bowl games, the Sugar and the Orange, were still without any teams today.

The Rose Bowl, one of the two top remaining bowl games, is set with Northwestern clashing with California. The other important bowl game, the Cotton, is half filled with Southern Methodist as the host team.

North Carolina is reported in the running for the Cotton Sugar and Orange Bowls. Oregon and Oklahoma also were reported as possible Orange Bowl teams.

Sugar Bowl officials won't announce their teams until Saturday night at the earliest. They are awaiting the end of the Southeastern conference season.

Here are some bowl games where at least one team has been selected: Jan. 1 Rose, Pasadena, Calif., Northwestern vs California.

State's Paroles Commissioner To Leave Office

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 24—(AP)—State Paroles Commissioner Highway Cross is leaving office at the end of the year to begin the practice of law here.

He submitted his resignation, effective Dec. 31, to Governor Cherry yesterday. Cross was a supporter of State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson in last spring's Democratic primaries in which Kerr Scott, now Governor-elect, defeated Johnson for the gubernatorial nomination.

Cross, 39, has been with the paroles commission since 1935 and commissioner since 1945. He is a native of Yates county and a graduate of Wake Forest College.

WHAT IS AN EXTENSION TELEPHONE?

An extension telephone is an extra telephone instrument attached to your present line. It can be placed in your home or place of business. Since the telephone instruments are again available we are happy to announce that EXTENSION TELEPHONE SERVICE IS AVAILABLE AGAIN.

Main telephone service however is still on the "hard-to-get" list because production of the central office equipment and lead covered cable needed to extend our present facilities, is slow and delivery dates uncertain. We shall continue however to install main telephones where we have the necessary outside facilities and central office equipment.

Unbeaten Army Recalls Narrow Squeak Of 1946

West Point, N.Y., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Snapping briskly against the grey stone walls of the U.S. military academy barracks are big improvised banners bearing the reminder, and warning:

"Remember '46 Men."

So Army's unbeaten football team has little chance to forget that when it meets winless Navy at Philadelphia next Saturday it will have the battle of its life on its hands. The '46 Navy team, as much an underdog as today's hapless Middle eleven, came within seconds of upsetting Army's great team of that year.

Coch Earl Blaik is apprehensive, and he says that in the past when he had such a feeling it always meant trouble. He does not think any grief the Cadets might run into Saturday will be due to overconfidence, however.

"If Army is not up it is because of a subconscious feeling over which the players have no control," he says, pointing out the Cadets are consciously trying to realize the battle they face.

"I definitely am worried," Blaik elaborates. "To begin with, Navy is rugged, and with the exception of the Notre Dame game has played fine football."

"In Ribs Baysinger, Navy has a very fine passer. Bob Horne is another fine passer, and Navy has the men to catch the football. They have enough men down there to play really good football. And it will rise to the occasion, the same as Army did last year."

"Bill Hawkins, Baysinger, Pete Williams, Bill Earl, Al McCulley—they were on the team that gave us that afternoon of distress in 1946. Why do I have that feeling of apprehension? Well, it's Navy Week, that's reason enough."

While building up the unfortunate Middle eleven carefully refrained from belittling his own squad, or squads. In fact, he cast a few bouquets in its direction, individually and collectively. He would not compare the current Cadets with his undefeated 1946 team.

Nevada Tries To Continue Record Busting Habits

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Having shattered two National collegiate marks in forward passing, once-beaten Nevada goes after a listful of other records tomorrow when the Wolfpack winds up a highly successful football season against Wichita.

In eight games, Nevada has averaged an unprecedented 484.8 yards per contest by both rushing and passing. If it nets 287 yards against Wichita, it will break the record of 462.7 yards averaged over a full season by the great Army team of 1945.

Its aerial game has accounted for 2,151 yards and 25 touchdowns—both new records—and its total of 135 completions is far and away the best in the country.

In announcing the weekly statistics for major colleges today, the national collegiate athletic bureau disclosed that Nevada needs only 13 pass completions against Wichita to break the seasonal record of 147 set last year by Mississippi.

All-victorious army retained its position as the country's rushing leader and runner-up to Nevada in overall offense. The cadets have averaged 544.5 yards per game on the grounds and 428.6 by both running and passing.

Although its own rushing record of 359.8 yards per game, set in 1945, is out of reach, army can win the rushing title for the third time in five years by rolling at its present pace against navy Saturday.

Michigan State moved ahead of Notre Dame to take third place in total offense, with Hardin-Simmons fifth and Oklahoma sixth. Behind army in the rushing department are Texas Mines, Notre Dame, Michigan State and Oklahoma.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The baseball world today missed its fabulous, rotund bad boy, rolicking Lewis "Hack" Wilson, who 18 years ago set one major and one National League record with the Chicago Cubs that are unmatched.

The carefree, fun-loving Wilson died, virtually penniless, in Baltimore, Md., yesterday at the age of 48. Death was due to internal hemorrhages with complications.

In 1930, his best year with the Cubs, Wilson smashed out 56 home runs. No National League slugger has ever equalled that mark. The same year he drove in 190 runs, overshadowing the 175 record the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees established in 1927. That stands today as a major league record.

Snow Hill Drops Doubleheader To Bethel Visitors

Snow Hill, Nov. 23.—Bethel High's basketball teams swept a doubleheader at Snow Hill Monday night.

In the first game, Coach Lamn's Squaws from Bethel upset the Snow Hill girls, 28-23. The winning Squaws trailed at halftime 13-12, but a determined rally pulled the game out of the fire.

The trio of Bethel, Smith and Bowers were defensive standouts for the visitors. Crisp, with 15, and Moore with 11 points paced the Squaws to victory. Moore got ten points for the locals.

In the final game, Bethel's Indians walked off with a 33-12 triumph after leading at the half 21-6. Frank Hemingway earned ten points for the visitors and C. F. Smith and Sugg picked up seven points each for the losing quintet.

Play Case's Powerful Quint In Basketball Clinic; Dickey And Charley Bill Moye Share Scoring Honors; Locals Show Up Well

Farmville.—The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates played Coach Everett Case's powerful N.C. State Wolfpack cagers to a 70 to 41 score here last night to highlight a Northeastern Conference basketball clinic in session here yesterday.

An estimated 500 basketball officials, players and coaches were on hand for the night session.

The scrimmage game itself was considered, from local quarters at least, as quite an upset for the ECTC cagers. The Pirates, paced by Charley Bill Moye and Jack Everton, broke into the lead at the first of the game and at one point had Coach Case's boys trailing nine to three.

State pulled out in front 19 to 13 by the end of the first quarter and Dick Dickey led the way as they lengthened it to 32 to 19 by halftime.

Thirty of the State points came on free throws as the result of fouls.

Dickey and ECTC's Moye shared high scoring honors of the practice session. Both boys racked up 17 points. Horvath of State scored 13 and Jack Everton of ECTC marked up 12 before fouling out in the fourth period.

Coch Howard Porter of East Carolina was well pleased with his team. He would make little comment on individual performance because "it might make the heads get big and when that happens the feet start slowing down."

Ten Pirates cagers dressed for the game. Starters included Len Bauer (4), Moye (17), Ben Harrison (4), Everton (12), and Bob Shufford (1). Used as reserves and seeing plenty of action in the game were Fitz Fennel (3), Collie, Blake, Trotman, and Perkins.

The same year he drove in 190 runs, overshadowing the 175 record the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees established in 1927. That stands today as a major league record.

Snow Hill Drops Doubleheader To Bethel Visitors

Snow Hill, Nov. 23.—Bethel High's basketball teams swept a doubleheader at Snow Hill Monday night.

In the first game, Coach Lamn's Squaws from Bethel upset the Snow Hill girls, 28-23. The winning Squaws trailed at halftime 13-12, but a determined rally pulled the game out of the fire.

The trio of Bethel, Smith and Bowers were defensive standouts for the visitors. Crisp, with 15, and Moore with 11 points paced the Squaws to victory. Moore got ten points for the locals.

In the final game, Bethel's Indians walked off with a 33-12 triumph after leading at the half 21-6. Frank Hemingway earned ten points for the visitors and C. F. Smith and Sugg picked up seven points each for the losing quintet.

Play Case's Powerful Quint In Basketball Clinic; Dickey And Charley Bill Moye Share Scoring Honors; Locals Show Up Well

By EUGENE PRICE

Farmville.—The East Carolina Teachers College Pirates played Coach Everett Case's powerful N.C. State Wolfpack cagers to a 70 to 41 score here last night to highlight a Northeastern Conference basketball clinic in session here yesterday.

An estimated 500 basketball officials, players and coaches were on hand for the night session.

The scrimmage game itself was considered, from local quarters at least, as quite an upset for the ECTC cagers. The Pirates, paced by Charley Bill Moye and Jack Everton, broke into the lead at the first of the game and at one point had Coach Case's boys trailing nine to three.

State pulled out in front 19 to 13 by the end of the first quarter and Dick Dickey led the way as they lengthened it to 32 to 19 by halftime.

Thirty of the State points came on free throws as the result of fouls.

Dickey and ECTC's Moye shared high scoring honors of the practice session. Both boys racked up 17 points. Horvath of State scored 13 and Jack Everton of ECTC marked up 12 before fouling out in the fourth period.

Coch Howard Porter of East Carolina was well pleased with his team. He would make little comment on individual performance because "it might make the heads get big and when that happens the feet start slowing down."

Ten Pirates cagers dressed for the game. Starters included Len Bauer (4), Moye (17), Ben Harrison (4), Everton (12), and Bob Shufford (1). Used as reserves and seeing plenty of action in the game were Fitz Fennel (3), Collie, Blake, Trotman, and Perkins.

ACCEPT BOWL BID

Greensboro, N.C., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Coach William Bell said today that Agricultural and Technical (Negro) College had accepted an invitation to play in the Vulcan Bowl at Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 1.

May files take no food in the adult stage.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The baseball world today missed its fabulous, rotund bad boy, rolicking Lewis "Hack" Wilson, who 18 years ago set one major and one National League record with the Chicago Cubs that are unmatched.

The carefree, fun-loving Wilson died, virtually penniless, in Baltimore, Md., yesterday at the age of 48. Death was due to internal hemorrhages with complications.

In 1930, his best year with the Cubs, Wilson smashed out 56 home runs. No National League slugger has ever equalled that mark. The same year he drove in 190 runs, overshadowing the 175 record the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees established in 1927. That stands today as a major league record.

The Dancing Heart

BY EMILY NOBLE

Chapter 24
"Lie still, Mom. It's nothing. You must lie still."
"But I heard Rosalie's voice. I know I did. I want her."
"It wasn't Rosalie at all. You know what she thinks of us. We're cheap shanty Irish. This is a slum."
"I heard Rosalie."
"You only heard that noisy Mrs.
Harrigan, and I had to push her out."
"But I'm expecting Rosalie."
Lottie snorted but could say no more as Joe came along the rooms, walking softly. His voice came in a half-whisper.
"What's the matter, Mom? You shouldn't get excited."
"It's Rosalie. She's here, Joe. I know she's here."
He bent and kissed her. "You're dreaming, Mom. You have to take it easy. Rosalie don't even know we're living. You know that."
"But I heard her. Go look. She was at the door. Go find her."
Lottie gulped. "I told her it was Mrs. Harrigan. She's always trying to force her way in."
"Joe. Go look. I heard her. I'm going to get up."
Lottie, frightened, pressed her down again. Joe said, "I'll look, Mom," and went to open the front door.

Driving License Dates Are Near

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 24—(AP)—If your last name begins with E, F or G, you better visit your nearest driving licensing examiner right away, the Motor Vehicles Department cautioned today.

You E, F and G's have until midnight, Dec. 31, to take a new driving examination. This group began taking its examinations July 1, but according to Motor Vehicles Commissioner Rosser, the E, F, and G's have been slow to report to examining stations.

After Dec. 31, an E, F, G driver caught driving without a new license will be guilty of a misdemeanor and will be fined a minimum of $25, or imprisoned for 30 days, or both.

Beginning Jan. 1, through June 30, 1949, H, I, J, K drivers will be relicensed. Other examining periods: L and M—July 1 through Dec. 31; N through Q—Jan. 1 through June 30, 1950.

R through T—July 1 through Dec. 31, 1950.
U through Z—Jan. 1 through June 30, 1951.

Deny Assertions Hiring Austrian Officials To Spy

Vienna, Nov. 24—(AP)—U. S. Army headquarters categorically denied today Russian news agency assertions that Americans are hiring Austrian officials as spies.

The army statement attacked the Russian news agency Tass for issuing a report to that effect last night in connection with the arrest of Dr. Margarethe Ottlinger, section chief in the Austrian ministry of economic planning.

The Austrian government declared "completely untrue" the assertion by Tass that Dr. Ottlinger used her official position to spy for the U. S. The American army statement called the Tass story a "complete fabrication and pure invention."

In Sound He

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—A federal judge has ruled that Jesse Jones is well enough to be questioned as a witness, after being told that the Texas banker recently stayed up until 2 a.m. playing poker and drinking whisky.

In the ruling yesterday, Judge Samuel H. Kaufman turned down a plea that it would endanger the health of the 74-year-old former head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. for him to appear as a witness in a suit.

Attorneys seeking Jones' appearance claimed that if a man's heart can stand the strain of backing a straight in a poker game with a $4,000 pot, and losing to an opponent's four fours, he can stand the strain of testifying.

An overthrow of the government or drastic curbs on labor and management. Then a host of other people might lose the free enterprise which Lewis cherishes.

Murray wants the Taft-Hartley law knocked out and the Wagner Act put in its place. But when asked if he thinks there should be a law to prevent big strikes, by injunction or otherwise, he said:

Labor and management both have enough common sense and wisdom to settle their differences without compulsion because such compulsion would lead to totalitarianism.

A 'Good Guy' . . .

(Continued from page one) he did—and he might have made a mighty name for himself. But the call upon George was wholly unexpected, and he lacked his brother's background.

However, George VI attacked his job with good-will and energy. And always by his side was his understanding and helpful Scots queen. With her aid he even overcame a grievous impediment of speech so that he could make the addresses which are part of the king's duty.

This it is that, as this trouble of illness descends on the House of Windsor, we find the king and the royal family exceedingly close to the people. Ample evidence of this was seen in the affection showered on the inmates of Buckingham Palace when Princess Elizabeth's baby was born the other day. The little prince belongs to every family in the kingdom.

The gravity of the king's malady is clearly shown by cancellation of his proposed tour of the dominions. That has been regarded as a tremendously important mission, especially in view of the changes which the empire is undergoing. Only a major difficulty could cause abandonment of this trip.

N.Y. Stock Market

New York, Nov. 24—(AP)—Stock prices were clipped again in today's market. Losses ranged from fractions to more than a point, with some issues hitting new lows for the year. Selling to establish losses for tax purposes was rated as an important market factor. Demand was hampered by lack of definite information about the policies of the new administration.

Stockholders were informed of another rich harvest of dividends but the effect on the market was negligible, to say the least.

Flourishing Garden Late In The Season

State Senator Arthur B. Corey, Greenville's Luther Burbank, famous horticulturist, followed the late famous Californian's method of causing plants to "grow in a greenhouse" when they were not supposed to grow. Today, with temperature steadily dropping, the state legislator harvested in his garage at his home, 105 Woodlawn Avenue, fresh beets, eggplant, butterbeans and radishes, and there are still vegetables in the flourishing winter garden. He practices the theory of light cultivation and keeps secret his method of fertilizing the soil. Harvesting vegetables in an open garden near Thanksgiving Day and only 27 days before winter begins is an unusual achievement in farming on a small scale, his neighbors said.

Germans To Get Beds, Coffins

Bielefeld, Germany—(AP)—Bedsteads and coffins have been put on a priority furniture production list by German bizonal economic authorities.

Every fourth German in the Anglo-American zone is without a bed, according to estimates for furniture production needs which are placed at 10,000,000 single beds. The two zones have a total population of approximately 40,000,000.

Anglo-American control authorities have approved an allocation of 185,000 cubic yards of lumber for furniture production and an additional 60,000 cubic yards for the manufacture of coffins. These figures indicate that one coffin will be manufactured for every third bed.

Coffins were among the scarcest items in many communities in post-war Germany. Reports were frequent about the dead being buried in paper sacks and coffins with removable bottoms on which the body rested in the grave while the top part was being used over and over.

Asks Parliament To Extend Draft

London, Nov. 24—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet asked the House of Commons today to extend the 12-month training period for military draftees to 18 months.

The longer term is provided in a bill to amend the national service act.

The bill also proposed to reduce the term of reserve service from six to four years.

Police Assigned Guard Theater

Dunn, N. C., Nov. 24—(AP)—Chief D. W. (Bunk) Smith today assigned extra policemen to the Dunn Theater which showed a sex movie that caused a disturbance in nearby Angier last Wednesday.

The theater here has changed its schedule to admit women at the afternoon showing and men tonight.

How To Curb . . .

For example: Should the railroad workers or coal miners be permitted to go on a strike which, if drawn out, might shut down industry or starve the country and drive it into chaos?

If that happened and riots and revolt started, the result might be
